PROBABILITIES
Friday — Sunny and cold. Low zero. High 10.

The Ontario Intelligencer

TEMPERATURES
Max. Min
Today 9 4
One year ago 29 2
Snowfall: 4.7 inches.

Authorized as Second Class Mail. Post Office Department, Ottawa.

BELLEVILLE, ONTARIO, THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 1, 1951

5c Per Copy, 25c Per Week

ONTARIO PLANS TO INTRODUCE RENT CONTROLS

Must Give Help to Europe--Eisenhower

Delivery of War Equipment Needed In Large Quantity

Head of Allied Defence Reviews European Trip

Washington, Feb. 1 — (AP) — Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower told Congress today there is "no acceptable alternative" to American help in rearming Europe."

Eisenhower, chosen to head the Allied defence forces against Russian aggression, publicly joined the debate over committing United States troops to those forces with an address to an informal joint meeting of the Senate and House of Representatives.

"We must give Europe assistance not only because there is no acceptable alternative but because if we were left standing alone, isolated like a world of communism, our system would wither away."

Momentous Decisions

Eisenhower told members that their decisions on defence and cooperation with western Europe would determine the course of civilization and whether free governments will continue to exist.

Just back from a tour of Europe, Eisenhower said there is no question of western Europe's desire to resist aggression.

"There is a spirit to resist," he said. "There is a determination to do their part—to take the risk."

He said, too, that Europe's greatest need now is for American soldiers but equipment which he said must be delivered in quantity and quickly.

As to transfer of American troops to Europe, Eisenhower said that should be done in a ratio to what the Europeans themselves provide.

Tells of Conditions

He sketched briefly conditions in individual European countries as he found them on his tour.

He said there is "no question" that the Russians "determined to face up to the threat of communism from within and without."

And he said he found the same spirit in Belgium, Holland and Denmark.

There was no question about Norway's determination to resist to the point of destruction," he said.

He said he found in Rome a stiffening of Italian morale and efforts to make that country's defence force more efficient.

Eisenhower said that he does not want to speak now about the military potential of Germany.

He said the diplomats must come up with a political platform whereby they keep in touch with each other and with the N.A.T.O. council in Paris, in an international defence force.

He said while it would be "fine and dandy" to say that there does not exist a spirit of pe-

(Continued on Page 3)

Four Planes Seek Missing Plane In North Quebec

Ottawa (CP)—The air force is joining in search operations for a missing Beaver aircraft at nearby Chibougamau airport and officials said they are prepared to throw more aircraft into the operation if the missing plane is not found by tomorrow.

Four RCAF planes from Trenton, Ont., already have been assigned to the search for the Beaver. Radio contact was lost about 300 miles north of Ottawa. Two persons are believed to be in the Beaver.

Owned by Arthur Secteau and piloted by Jerry Conlin, the Beaver has been unreported since Monday. It took off from Lake Mistassini to pick up two Cree Indians for a flight to Obalski, 100 miles east of Senneterre, Que., and return. Word from the pilot at 3 p.m. Monday said the plane was "cleared to Obalski in an hour. It did not arrive.

Air Force officials said a search master from Trenton is expected to arrive here later today. Two Trenton planes, Two Mockcliffe-based Lancasters are standing by ready to join the search.

The plane was due at Oskalon, 100 miles east of Senneterre, at 4 p.m. Monday. A Dakota and a Lancaster bomber took off from here in a snowstorm to start the search. The Dakota carried a para-rescue team.

The search planes also took emergency food supplies. Their crews were to keep in touch radio with each other and with the R.C.A.F. base at Trenton and at Rockcliffe near Ottawa.

A helicopter stood by here, ready to fly to the scene if the search is successful.

DROP BY PARACHUTE

Edmonton, Feb. 1 — (CP) — Edmonton hockey players of Edmonton's Canadian Legion fight infantry from Calgary will drop by parachute at Vernon, B.C., for their exhibition game that night with this city's intermediate team.

It will be the first delivery in history of hockey players and their equipment by parachute.

THE WEATHER

Toronto, Feb. 1 (CP) Synopsis: Storm centred over Pennsylvania is moving northeastward and Montreal has felt steadily rising winds in southern and central Ontario, Quebec and the Maritimes. An inch of new snow has accumulated since midnight in the Ottawa valley and intermittent light snow this afternoon except in the Maritimes.

Temperatures continue below zero in the west in the province with readings early this morning ranging up to 35 below in northwestern Ontario and northern Manitoba. Temperatures will move into the mild category Friday, but cold weather will continue in southern Ontario.

THIRD ATOMIC BLAST FIRED AT LAS VEGAS

Explosion Lights Sky Like Flash Gun

Las Vegas, Nev., Feb. 1 (AP)—The third atomic blast in a week lit up the pre-dawn sky northwest of here today. One witness described it as "like a huge flash gun" which photographers use.

An atomic energy spokesman confirmed that it was the third atomic test at the sprawling 5,000-square-mile test range near here.

This makes it No. 12 in the list of atomic explosions set off since the first at Alamagordo, N.M. July 16, 1945.

The U.S. spokesman would give no details of what sort of a bomb was used.

A reporter said "there was a quick, blinding flash which outlined the hills for a split second. The flash tapered off to a rosy hue and then disappeared. Six minutes later there was a rumpling noise which shook houses and rattled dishes."

The flash occurred at 5:48 a.m. Pacific time (8:48 a.m. EST).

Some 300 miles west of Los Angeles, an observer reported seeing a flash in the sky to the east at about the same time.

No Radiation Danger

The 10th and 11th blasts occurred last Saturday and Sunday, also both about 5:30 a.m. p.s.t.

The Sunday detonation was much stronger, the warning many late residents of this gambling and resort community.

Surveys determined that there was no radiation damage from the weekend blasts. The entire area was monitored carefully.

Most witnesses agreed that the flash today was more brilliant than Saturday's, and not so strong as Sunday's.

There was little excitement along the highway — lit streets here gambling rules 24 hours open all night.

At one spot, a man ran into the street crying, "It's the A-bomb." Most otherwise business went on much as usual.

Police said that 30 minutes after the blast they had received no calls from citizens, already taking in such sort of thing in stride.

Many people said they felt the vibration but did not see the flash.

The Nevada test site, A. C. declined to discuss the blast in any way.

No Details Released

Repercussions from the shock took six minutes to reach here, which would put the centre about 70 miles away. The 5,000-square-mile bomb dump range starts about 40 miles northwest of here in the desolate desert largely cleared of the few prospectors and other residents.

The range embraces parts of four counties.

Highlights of Throne Speech in Legislature

Toronto, Feb. 1 (CP)—Highlights of the Ontario Legislature Speech from the Throne:

Provision for provincial rent controls if Federal controls expire as scheduled March 31.

A bill to consolidate, extend and modernize rural telephone systems under control of the Hydro-Electric Power Commission of Ontario.

The Ontario Government urges the Federal Government to implement "comprehensive direction of our economic policies" to avoid inflation.

A promise of legislation to complement Federal legislation on universal old-age pensions as soon as the Canadian Government takes the necessary action.

Plans for "further great expansion" of Hydro-Electric generating capacity.

Forecast of continued materials shortages which forced suspension of part of the public works program launched last year.

Legislation to assure "equality of rights to employment" for all persons.

An advisory committee on forests, already appointed, will be asked to advise "continuity" on forestry policies of the government.

Establishment of a new apprenticeship school, with emphasis in the building trades.

Revision of the Boiler Inspection Act and amendments to the Workmen's Compensation Act, the Mothers' Allowances Act, the Adoption Act, and the Racing Commission Act.

A proposal to enlarge the Niagara Parks Commission to give appropriate representation to municipalities in the area.

Steps to co-ordinate provincial conservation and flood control measures with discussions now under way to reach a Federal-provincial partnership to deal with the question.

Co-operation of Provincial and Municipal Governments with the Federal Government organize a volunteer civil defence force.

Winter's Worst Storm Hits Southern Ontario and U.S.

(By The Canadian Press)

A two-day snowfall smirked traffic in parts of southern Ontario today. Trains and buses ran late and in the Toronto area motorists were stranded with hundreds in drifts which clogged suburban roads.

The snowstorm reached over into Quebec, but across Canada, winter's chief discomfort came from extreme cold. Sub-zero temperatures prevailed during the night on the Prairies, in Northern Ontario, Quebec and the Maritimes. Coldest spot reported was Armstrong in northwestern Ontario where the thermometer sagged to 46 below.

Tough weather lay ahead for eastern Quebec and the Maritimes. A rain storm, carried by a mass of cold air, skirted Southern Ontario and headed for the east. The weather bureau here looks for milder weather across the country by tonight.

Ontario's big traffic jam was in Toronto and its suburbs. Traffic slithered along at a snail's pace, particularly in the morning rush hour. The Ontario Motor League added five operators to its telephone switchboard to handle emergency calls from motorists. They were coming at better than a one-a-minute pace. The Canadian National Railways transcontinental train from the West ran about four hours behind schedule and the Canadian Pacific's transcontinental was two hours late. Both had to runs in sub-zero weather before hitting the Southern Ontario snow belt.

Chicago, Feb. 1 — (AP) — The winter season's coldest and stormiest weather showed no signs of letting up today in many parts of the United States at mid-day.

Fresh blasts of cold air struck the northern and mid-continent areas. Snow, sleet and rain pelted wide sections of the east and south. More than 80 deaths were attributed to the storm. Communications were snarled.

Texas took another beating from the wintry elements. Losses from floods in the citrus belt were estimated in the millions of dollars. Almost the season's worst storm and cold.

New cold air masses pushed across Canadian border today, sending temperatures to as low as 30 below zero in parts of the Rocky Mountain region and to near -30 in the north - central states. Sleet generally were clear over the western half of the country.

Freezing rain and sleet whipped over an area from Louisiana and Mississippi northeastward into Tennessee and Kentucky. Snow fell in the areas north and west.

Another belt of freezing rain and sleet swept areas from southern New England and New York State southward into North Carolina. Rain fell over other parts of the mid-Atlantic states.

Moderate to heavy snow fell over western New England mail and freezing rain fell in southern New England after yesterday's blizzard which measured more than four inches. The snow storm followed the season's coldest weather.

TWO PROVINCES ACCEPT POLICY OF FEDERAL GOVT.

Accept Contributory Pensions Program

Ottawa, Feb. 1. (CP)—Only two provinces — Newfoundland and Prince Edward Island—have agreed so far to constitutional amendments that would allow the federal government to inaugurate a contributory old-age pensions program and permit the provinces to enter the field of indirect sales taxes.

This was disclosed yesterday in the Commons when Prime Minister St. Laurent outlined correspondence exchanged with the 10 provincial governments. Ontario and Nova Scotia suggested changes in the wording of the amendments drafted by the Justice Department. Other provinces said they would study the amendments and reply later.

All provinces must agree to the amendments before the government can go ahead with proposals made to the federal-provincial fiscal conference last month.

At the conference, the federal government said that if the provinces agreed to a constitutional amendment it would inaugurate a contributory pension plan under which pensions of $40 a month would be paid to all 70 and over regardless of means. It also offered to share on a 50-50 basis with the provinces the cost of pensions to the needy between 65 and 69.

At present pensions of $40 a month are paid to persons over 70 and over who can prove their need. The federal government pays 75 per cent of the cost and the provinces the remainder.

Some of the provinces felt they could not shoulder the additional burden that the old age program would place on them without additional sources of revenue. They asked to be allowed to enter the indirect sales-tax field, exclusively in federal jurisdiction now.

Correspondence Tabled

The draft amendment would allow the federal government to levy an indirect sales tax of up to three per cent of the sale price of an article. It would not be applied to goods sold for shipment outside the country or to boundaries.

The correspondence was tabled by Mr. St. Laurent shortly before two members, elected in by-elections last October, were publicly conded the traditional motion calling for adoption of an address in reply to the speech from the throne.

Debate will be launched today by George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, and will be followed by Prime Minister St. Laurent, M. J. Coldwell, C.C.F. leader, and Solon Low, Social Credit leader.

Federal Govt. Urged to Remain In Rental Control

New Role for Hydro Seen In Speech From Throne

Toronto, Feb. 1 — (CP) — The Ontario government will introduce rent-controls in the province when federal controls expire at the end of March, it was announced today in the Speech from the Throne Lieutenant-Governor Ray Lawson read to the Ontario Legislature.

The 2,200-word speech, outlining legislation to be introduced at the legislature session which opened today, expressed the hope that the federal government would reconsider its decision to abandon rent control. If not Ontario would step in.

The speech forecast a new role for the Hydro-Electric Power Commission of Ontario, which now generates and distributes power. Legislation was planned to enable hydro to consolidate and modernize rural telephone lines, under hydro system lines and facilities where possible.

Reminder of Crisis

Through the speech ran constant references to the crisis in world affairs and the growing demands of Canada's defence program.

It urged control of the "inflationary and other destructive influences of these conditions." The Ontario government would do what it could to restrain them but it "expresses the hope that the government of Canada will formulate and implement such comprehensive direction of four economic policies as will preserve effectively the security and sound economy of our great nation." Ontario would help in any way possible.

Ontario viewed with apprehension the federal government's intention to abandon rent controls. It hoped that the present emergency would lead to a change in policy.

Shortage of construction materials, a result of the requirements of national defence and essential industry, led the Ontario government in the last year to suspend construction of planned public works. The Chalk River station was expected to continue.

Shortages Affect Housing

House-building in the province also reflected material shortages. In the last year some 28,000 housing units were started but the current rate of construction is down from 23,000 at the end of 1949 to 28,000 at the end of 1950.

Some of the effects of these materials to projects or priority is wholly desirable and indeed essential. Ontario will not be a party to the relationship between the need for manpower and the provision of homes for that manpower."

In a time when the world should be at peace it was frustrating to be forced to consider protection from the effects of aggression. But conditions made it imperative to prepare for national defence and the Ontario government was organizing civil defence for the province at the request of the federal government. Every co-operation would be given, it said, to a volunteer force for protection.

(Continued on Page 3)

Giant Test Made U.S. Air Defence Along Pacific

San Francisco, Feb. 1 — (AP) —The giant test of United States air defence from the Pacific coast to the Rocky Mountains began today, but the only things visible to most civilians were occasional vapor trails high in the sky.

"Invading" bombers of the Strategic Air Command are involved with defenders from the Western Air Defence Force. The "aggressor" armies are above 20,000 feet, out of sight but well within range of radar posts everywhere in the area.

The manoeuvres, which also involve many radar pickets at sea, naval and marine air units, army anti-aircraft artillery, the Air Force Reserve and the Air National Guard, will go on until Sunday night, officials said.

Its primary purpose is a test of the ability of defence forces to detect and identify attacking planes, rather than a battle problem.

Among the targets likely to be "bombed" — by radar — are the strategic areas around Seattle, Los Angeles, San Francisco Bay, Portland and Reno, Nev. Richland, Wash., atomic plants are almost certain to be "attacked."

Child Thought Nun a Penguin

Toronto, Feb. 1 (CP) — A mother said today her four-year-old daughter got on a crowded bus. The youngster took a seat beside a nun and entered into an animated conversation. At the pair left the bus the mother said to the nun: "I hope my daughter hasn't been disturbing you." Replied the nun: "Not at all, we've had a most happy time. You see, she thinks I'm a penguin."

COMING EVENTS

HEADQUARTERS OFFICERS' MESS 9th Anti-Tank Regiment party at the Mess, Friday, February 2, at 8.30 p.m. Dress: Mess kit. 5-1-c

"FAMILY PSYCHOLOGY" DON'T MISS it on Friday, February 2, in Belleville Collegiate. Lecture and film presidents. Games, bridge, euchre and dancing. Admission 50c. 5-1-c

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 2, SECOND lecture in series "Professional Opportunities for Women" at Bloomfield. Enrollment still open. For further information phone Mrs. Brode, 2-2-c. Course, $1.50; single lecture, 50c. Sponsored by Bloomfield Women's Institute. 5-1-c

RUMMAGE SALE AT ST. THOMAS Parish House, Saturday, February 3, at 2.30 p.m. 5-1-c

DON'T MISS HEARING REV. JAMES Barrie, Glasgow, Scotland, distinguished Scottish preacher and lecturer, speak on "Jesus Christ" in Bridge Street United Church, Chapel, 87 Dundas St., E., Friday, February 2, at 8 p.m. Everyone welcome. 5-1-c

REMEMBER THE YOUTH RECITAL tonight and Friday night at the Bloomfield Institute. Mrs. Ethel Everett Street, with the Rev. and Mrs. Ralph Bell, will give the program. Mr. Bray will give the solo. Admission 25c. 5-1-c

TEA, QUINTE SKATING AND Curling Club, Wednesday, February 7th, from 3 to 5 p.m. Bridge and Canadian Club to share in defraying the renowned Canadian. F1-5-7

SUNDAY SALE, SATURDAY, FEBruary 3rd, at 1.30. Bridge Street United Church Hall. Under the auspices of Bridge Street W.A. F1-5-7

Air Streams Make Queer Weather When Flying Eight Miles High

New York, Feb. 1—(AP)—You will find strange new weather when you fly as a passenger in jet planes at heights of eight miles.

Invisible, meandering tongues of air moving up to 100 miles an hour dart through bigger air currents going only perhaps half as fast. Called jet streams, they may be 300 miles wide, and 1,000 miles long. Weather men carefully map them, for they can be helpful or hindrances.

Ordinary headwinds will range up to 50 miles an hour. From takeoff to cruising level at 40,000 feet, the weather outside changes from 70 degrees in 12 to 15 minutes.

Engineers are planning jet transports, for 40,000 feet, where jets can get high speed from the least spending of fuel. Jet fuel is cheap, but it is used up fast, so winds have to be charted carefully in advance.

One problem is sudden turbulence and winds in clear air, which pilots can't see. The plane gets a sudden jolt, and may bounce up and down rather than sharp hammering sensations. Pilots call it like driving a car fast over railroad ties.

The jet streams cause one kind of headache. But they can be detected and mapped in advance, as pilots now are doing them.

These air streams occur at 10,000 feet, but more often at 30,000 feet. They are caused by the formed by the confluence of two masses of air, one polar, one tropical. They may flow for many thousand miles.

The probable temperatures must be plotted accurately, for temperature affects the speed of the jet.

At 40,000 feet, you'll find temperatures slower higher than about 40 below zero. Cabin temperatures will have to be adjusted quickly from take off to cruising height.

But you'll be above thunderstorms or valley weather. Thunderheads may reach up that high, but the cloud will be ice-crystal, not supercooled water.

200 One-Room Rural Schools In Canada Closed

Toronto, Feb. 1 — (CP) — Almost 200 one-room rural schools are closed in Canada because there are no teachers to staff them, the Canadian Education Association reported Wednesday.

In 2,500 other rural schools the teacher is not fully qualified for the position, the association announced after completing a national survey.

Ontario's shortage is made up of 82 in elementary schools, 23 in secondary schools and 203 in unqualified teachers in rural schools.

This is the name for the Legion's call to all its branches to urge compulsory training in the reserve forces, national registration and mobilization of Canada's resources to meet the present world situation.

Legion branches have been asked to hold special meetings in this first week of the new Parliament to back the campaign.

Legion Presses For Greater Preparedness

Ottawa, Feb. 1 — (CP) — The Canadian Legion urged today for compulsory military service before every member of the Commons and Senate yesterday as all political parties went a copy of the February issue of the Legionary, the Legion's monthly magazine, containing the details of "operation preparedness."

Wife Claims Husband So Intent On Philosophy She Wants Divorce

Chicago, Feb. 1—(AP)—Mrs. Dolores Sutor complained in divorce court today that her husband, Casimir, took his philosophy studies too seriously.

"He even insisted that I call him Socrates," Mrs. Sutor said yesterday. "He finally came to believe he didn't need to support his family."

(The original Socrates is reputed to have neglected his family for his philosophy.)

"My wife is Xanthippe and Mrs. Rip Van Winkle combined," supplied the husband, a 30-year-old graduate student at Northwestern University night school.

(Xanthippe was Socrates wife, whose pevishness and quarrelsome temper have become proverbial. Rip also had an ill-tempered wife before he took his 20-year nap.)

He even carried on correspondence for three years with a woman who signed her letters Plato," continues Mrs. Sutor.

(Plato was one of Socrate. male students.)

Judge Daniel A. Roberts was not to be outdone.

"Your honor," he said, "she should have signed herself Sappho."

(Sappho was an ancient Greek poetess who lived on Lesbos, the isle of women.)

"She beat me once a week," broke in Sutor, "but like a stoic, I bore it."

(Stoics are members of an ancient school of philosophy professed indifference to pleasure or pain.)

Judge Roberts ordered Sutor to pay $35 a week temporary alimony.

"I can't pay more than $20," said Sutor. "I've got to go on with my education."

"In my opinion," said Judge Roberts, "you've had too much education already."

City and District News

PATTERSON SERVICE STATION ENTERED DURING NIGHT

The Patterson Service Station on Dundas Street West, was entered some time early Wednesday night with a small quantity of chocolate bars and change from the till being taken.

Police officers making their regular checkups in the police cruiser found the break-in when they checked the premises shortly before two o'clock this morning. Entry to the building had been obtained by the thieves breaking out a small back window.

CRASHED ON LAKE

North Bay, Ont., Feb. 1 (CP)— An RCAF plane, thought possibly to be one of several engaged in a search for a missing, privately - owned Beaver aircraft, crashed on a small lake north of here. The pilot, Sgdn. Ldr. J. C. McCarthy, was uninjured, and was reported to have walked to the highway and hitched a ride into Kirkland Lake.

STORAGE WARNING

Regina. (CP)—The Saskatchewan Agriculture Department has warned farmers that tough or damp grain stored on farms may heat even during cold weather especially if insects get into it. Frequent inspections were recommended.

DID YOU KNOW?
IN OUR
"WOMAN'S POINT OF VIEW CONTEST

- There are over 100 Contest Letters received now. Get yours in early.
- During this contest, our Service Department will check your Electric Iron free.
- The price of one garment accepted in this contest first would pay for a new iron which cannot scorch.

See Your
NORTHERN ELECTRIC DEALER
VANDUSEN Bros. LTD.
339 Front St. Phone 3929

GLEN ELLIOT
FLOOR SANDING
OLD FLOORS RESURFACED AND MADE NEW
NEW FLOORS SANDED AND FINISHED
186 Dufferin Ave. Phone 24693

MARTIN'S SHOE REPAIR
FREE PICK-UP AND DELIVERY
24-HOUR SERVICE
Phone 4413 53 Everett St.

Obituary

LATE MRS. RACHAEL ROLLINS

The funeral of the late Mrs. Rachael Hollins was held from her residence at Moira to the Shannon Church at Belleville, where the service was conducted. There was a large attendance of members of her community at the church augmented by the congregation of that church. The service was conducted by Rev. G. Oldford with the prayer being said by Rev. J. Smith and the Belleville pastor, Rev. G. Kelly, expressing the sympathy of a wide circle of friends. A trio, composed of Rev. A. Walsh, Mrs. A. Walsh and Earl Smith, sang a solo. Interment was in Elmwood Cemetery. Rev. G. Oldford conducting the last rites.

The bearers were Percy Rollins, Elmer Rollins, Elmer Wood, Rev. Erwin Brown, Jay Emerson and Myles Benedict.

HARKETH MORLEY HONEYWELL, V.S. (Cannifton)

After an illness of some duration, Harketh Morley Honeywell, Veterinary Surgeon of Cannifton died in Kingston early on Thursday morning. He was a native of this county having been born at Shell, 80 years ago, being the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Israel Honeywell and has spent his entire life in this community. After completing his early and high school education he entered the Ontario Veterinary College at Toronto and graduated in 1922. He returned to Cannifton and opened a practice which he continued until health failed. He was well known and highly respected in the community and a wide circle of friends will sincerely regret his death.

He was a member of Cannifton United Church and surviving are his wife, the former Minnie Wright, and two daughters, Mrs. Charles (Pearl) Wasels of Corbyville and Mrs. Harry (Olive) Farnham of Cannifton. He was the last of his family.

Resting at the Belleville Burial Company Funeral Home the funeral announcement is made elsewhere in this edition.

LATE MRS. IDA MAY REID

The funeral of the late Mrs. Ida May Reid was held from the Belleville Burial Company Funeral Home on Wednesday afternoon. Rev. R. S. Lawson of Holloway Street United Church conducted the service in the chapel and the last rites in Belleville cemetery.

The bearers were James McDonald, A. Vallesu, B. Mason, C. Moit, B. Reid and M. Green.

TOWNSHIP CLERK 90

Stratford, Feb. 1 — (CP) Edwin Parker of Hickson, clerk of East Zorra township, will be 90 years old tomorrow. Active in municipal life for 50 years, he has served as clerk for 36 years. He has been a council member for 13 years — in five of which he was reeve — and spent one year as assessor and two as treasurer.

Imperial Service Medal Awarded Trent Employee

For 33 years Ernest Walter Sutton was an employee of the Federal Government working on the Trent Canal. Recently he received from His Majesty the King the Imperial Service Medal along with the citation which his wife is shown above admiring. — (W. W. Reed Studio.)

Campbellford, a resident of Campbellford for the past forty years, Ernest Walter Sutton has been honored by His Majesty the King George VI for his service on the Trent Canal with the Department of Transport.

Mr. Sutton has received the Imperial Service Medal from the Bridging Registrar of the Imperial Service Order along with the following citation from the Central Chancellery of the Order of Knighthood.

The Palace, S.W. 1.

"Sir: I am commanded to forward the Imperial Service Medal which His Majesty has been graciously pleased to award to you in recognition of the meritorious services you have rendered."

33 Years Service

Mr. Sutton served on the Trent Canal in the Campbellford locality for 33 years, commencing June 9, 1919. He retired on Jan. 17th., 1949. He was bridgemaster at the Black Bridge at Campbellford for seven years, lockmaster at No. 10 dam for six years, and lockmaster at No. 13 dam for almost 20 years.

A member of the 21st Battalion in the First World War, Mr. Sutton served overseas for five years. He was born in Romford, Essex, England, 87 years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Sutton have been married 45 years. They were wed in London, England. There are 10 children living, eight of whom are married. One daughter is a student-nurse in the Peterborough Civic Hospital.

Mr. Ernest Sutton of the Hydro Regional staff at Belleville, is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Walter Sutton.

Arthur Sutton, one of the carriers of the Ontario Intelligencer, is a son of Mr. Ernest Sutton and grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Walter Sutton.

Rate for Education Up Slightly Over Two Mills

Despite salary increases amounting to approximately $90,000 and debenture costs for two new public schools the mill rate for educational purposes in the city this year will be held to an increase of slightly over two mills over that of last year.

This was determined at the special budget meeting of the Belleville Board of Education when maintenance and other costs in the school system were pared to the limit in co-operation with a request from city council to hold the mill rate down.

The mill rate for the Belleville Collegiate and Vocational School will be 6.107 mills on an assessment of $18,750,000, while the public school rate was estimated at 13.97 mills on a $15,000,000 assessment. The public school rate last year was 13.8 mills, while that of the collegiate was 6.2 mills.

It was pointed out that the exact mill rate this year might vary slightly from the figures given Monday through any changes in assessment figures.

Plant Maintenance Fared

In an effort to hold the mill rate down as low as possible plant maintenance in the public school system was pared $10,800, the figure proposed for replacement desks was cut to $2,000 from $5,000. Many of the desks which were proposed to be replaced are quite old but are in the school building which they are in, it was stated. Also the amount for asphalt playforms outside schools was reduced from $4,000 to $1,400, it being decided to build but one this year. An amount of $3,700 for new lighting at one of the schools was taken out completely.

The city's share of public school costs this year will amount to $188,700.

The local levy for the collegiate and vocation school was reduced $15,000 from $106,000 to $93,000 when maintenance at the school was pared. Replacements were reduced $3,000 and the amount for repairs from $15,000 to $3,000.

The $15,000 item for repairs at the collegiate was intended for repairs to the parapet stonework which has deteriorated and is in need of replacement. The work will be laid over until a later date.

Postmaster Does Not Expect New Plan to Affect Postal Employees

Institution of the once-a-day mail deliveries recently announced by Postmaster General J. C. Waddell does not mean the discharge of any postal employees here, according to Postmaster J. C. Waddell. Date for setting the new plan into operation has not been definitely set but Mr. Waddell stated that he expected it would be in the near future.

"I am not too clear on what the new set-up will be and have written to Ottawa asking for additional information," Mr. Waddell stated. "At the present time we are continuing as we were, but I expect the new regulations will come into effect shortly."

When the once-a-day delivery plan does go into effect Mr. Waddell said the number of letter carriers in the city would be reduced, but he did not anticipate any qualified postal men at the local office would be discharged. They would simply be transferred to some other department in the postal service.

J.N. Woods Heads United Churchmen Of Bridge St. U.C.

At their 1951 inaugural supper meeting held recently, the members of the United Church Men's Club of Bridge Street United Church made plans for an active year.

Following the report of the nominating committee the following were elected for the ensuing term: President, J. M. Wood, Vice President, W. G. Slack, Secretary Treasurer, Ronald Case.

The meeting was addressed by the Rev. D. C. McTavish on the subject of "The Measure of a Man." Introduced by the retiring president J. C. Allen, Mr. McTavish dealt with the more conventional ways of judging a man, clothes with the thought that only by comparison with the "Perfrect Man" can a measure be taken. Everett S. Fairman thanked the speaker on behalf of the meeting.

A tenor solo by D. James Barkhouse accompanied by S. Alec Gordon was a much enjoyed feature.

The meeting terminated after a discussion of projects for 1951.

DOCKWORKERS GET INCREASE

London, Feb. 1 (Reuters) — More than 90,000 British dock workers will get two more shillings (30 cents) a day starting Feb. 11.

A special union conference today agreed to accept the employers' offer, which included increases of 1-2 to 10 percent for dockworkers on piece work rates.

The increase brings dock workers wages to a minimum wage of $16.17 for a 5 1-3 day week. They also have a guaranteed weekly wage whether they work or not of $11.32, which remains unchanged.

Twelve Keglers Top 600 In Business Girls' Loop

Big guns in the ladies' bowling leagues this week were D. Whalen and M. Kinlin. In the Business Girls' League, the former rolled a 699 triple, and the latter pulled up with a 635 in the Moira League. High single in the Business League was M. James with 339, and three other keglers J. Fairbairn, P. Lezault and M. Smith, took second spot, each with scores of 330.

High single in the Moira League went to A. Pullman, with a 272.

Flying Jets took seven points from the Wellington Bombers; Shmoos knocked off Kinetic Kappers on a 5-2 point score; Parkwood Heights took five from Gang Busters; Pirates whitewashed the Kickers; Kings, and Lucky Strikes did likewise to the Kinette Komets and the Go-Getters went and set five points from Whiz Bangs. That's all in the Business League.

Moira League games saw the Head Pins take five from the Five Fs; G.C.L. took the same from the Doodlers, and Duds gave Pepsi the same treatment; the Poor Shots exceeded themselves and took seven points from the Dodgers, and the Whirlers acted in the same fashion toward the Sunbeams.

Twelve bowlers rolled more than 600 in the Business League.

PORTUGUESE PLANE CRASH

Lisbon, Portugal, Feb. 1 (Reuters) —A Portuguese military Skymaster plane from Lagens base in the Azores crashed into the sea last night killing all 14 aboard.

The crash, believed caused by an explosion, occurred four miles east of Victoria Beach, Terceira Island, Azores, according to reports received here tonight from Lagens.

Many Appeals Made to Save Doomed Negroes

Richmond, Va., Feb. 1—(AP)—Attorneys for seven Martinsville Negroes sentenced to die for rape in a single session next month before the last year's bar to the execution today while requests for mercy poured into the governor's office.

The first four of the seven men sentenced for an aggravated mass assault on the women two years ago are scheduled to go to the electric chair in Jamestown. The other three are to die Monday unless the courts or Governor John Battle intervene.

A concerted effort to save the seven has brought more than 600 telegrams to the governor in the last 24 hours.

Even Moscow was heard from on the issue. A cablegram, signed by 30 names represented as leaders in music, the arts and sciences, protested against the death sentences. Some of the names were notable ones—Prokofiev and Shostakovich in music, Lysenko in science and Ilya Ehrenburg in journalism.

Other countries abroad from both sides of the iron curtain were heard from. The entire file of communications protesting the death sentence easily topped the 10,000-mark.

In Washington, pickets trudged in the cold in front of the White House—eight were there last night—as an expression of protest.

Father and Three Small Sons Are Laid To Rest

Cornwall, Feb. 1 — (CP) With a capacity congregation in attendance, funeral services were held at St. Luke's Church in Finch yesterday for Samuel Cameron, 91-year-old war veteran, and his three small sons, who died in a fire which gutted their home in Cornwall Monday.

The flag-draped coffin of Mr. Cameron was followed by white caskets carrying the bodies of William 5, Donald 3, and Keith, 2. The service was conducted by three ministers.

Members of Cornwall and Finch Branches of the Legion acted as pallbearers.

Heavy Snowfall Blankets District Drifting Reported in Country Areas

Coming on the heels of the longest cold snap of the winter, the snow which commenced to fall late yesterday has given city and district residents little indication that the turning point of winter is near at hand.

Up until noon today at least six inches of the fluffy white stuff had fallen and drifts were beginning to form in the open spaces and in the country areas.

Roadway and sidewalk snow plows were brought into action in the city early today with repeat that procedure for the most part promised for many going on their way to work. Transport and schedules would be interrupted or delayed if the storm continued.

Oh yes, about the turning point of winter mentioned earlier. Tomorrow, February 2nd, is Candlemas or "groundhog" day, when according to tradition groundhogs and bears leave their winter's nap to come out and have a look at the weather.

If he sees his shadow, back he goes for another six weeks' sleep. If the day is dull he takes it for granted the back of Old Man Winter is broken.

Fall of Snow Almost Foot Deep In Eastern Ontario

Brockville, Feb. 1 — (CP) — Snow fell heavily in this area today following an all-night storm which left a carpet of drifting white almost a foot in depth throughout Eastern Ontario.

City and highway traffic moved at a snail's pace despite the efforts of plow and grader crews to keep roads open. Long lines of transports were tied up in this St. Lawrence River town awaiting better driving conditions before moving on to Montreal and Toronto.

BIRTHS

REID — Mr. and Mrs. Roswell Reid (nee Mona Ray), are very happy to announce the birth of their daughter at Belleville General Hospital on Tuesday, January 30, a sister for Mary Lou and Richard. F1

DEATHS

HONEYWELL—At Kingston General Hospital, on Thursday, February 1st., Harketh Morley Honeywell, V.S., Cannifton, in his 82nd. year. Resting at the Belleville Burial Company Funeral Home, where the funeral will be held on Saturday, Feb. 3rd. at 1.30 p.m. to Cannifton United Church for service at 2.00 p.m. Interment Elmwood Cemetery. F1-31

DAVIDSON — At the Belleville General Hospital on Tuesday, January 30, Ezra (Ted) Davidson, of Allisterton, in his 51st year. The funeral will be held on Saturday at 2.30 p.m. from the Ketcheson funeral home, Wallace St., Belleville to Wellington Methodist church for service at 3.00 p.m. Interment Elmwood Cemetery. F1

STEWART — At Belleville General Hospital, on Wednesday, January 31st., Margaret Frank Stewart, beloved wife of George W. Stewart, in her 80th year. Resting at the Belleville Burial Company Funeral Home, where the funeral will be held on Saturday, Feb. 3rd. at 2.30 p.m. to Highland Avenue, Belleville, whence the funeral cortege will leave on Sunday, February 2nd. Service in the home at 2.30 p.m. Interment Belleville Cemetery. F1-32-33

IN MEMORIAM

VANCLIEF — In loving memory of our dear father, Frank Vanclief, who passed away February 1, 1950. The face I loved is now laid low, His loving voice is still. The heart that beat so kind in mine, Has ceased to throb at will. I often sit and think of him When I am all alone, For memory is the only thing That I can call my own. Never remembered by Lena, Gerard and family. F1

McCOLL — In loving memory of a dear husband and father, E. Albert McColl, who passed away February 1, 1950. Nothing can ever take away The memories I hold dear, Your loving wife, Daisy and family. Remembrance keeps him near. Ever remembered by the family. F1

Are You Feeling 'Down'?
After That Cold or Flu?
Try a Bottle of 404 TONIC
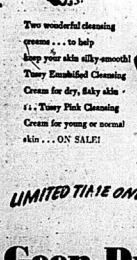
It Really Pegs You Up!
75c
DOLAN
THE DRUGGIST
Phone 138
MOTOR DELIVERY

Annual SALE!
½ OFF!
Tussy
EMULSIFIED CLEANSING CREAM
+
PINK CLEANSING CREAM
REGULAR $3.00 $1.50 EACH



Two wonderful cleansing creams . . . to help keep your skin silky-smooth!
Tussy Emulsified Cleansing Cream for dry, flaky skin . . . Tussy Pink Cleansing Cream for young or normal skin . . . ON SALE!
LIMITED TIME ONLY!
Geen-Drugs
LIMITED
FOR FRIENDLY PERSONAL SERVICE
PHONE 153 — FREE DELIVERY

PROCLAMATION

NATIONAL HEALTH WEEK

FEBRUARY 4th. to FEBRUARY 10th. 1951

THE HEALTH LEAGUE OF CANADA, the nation's great voluntary health education association, has set aside the week of February 4th., as NATIONAL HEALTH WEEK. This is a great annual crusade for health which is worthy of the support of the citizens of this community.

In urging support for this NATIONAL HEALTH WEEK observance I, at the same time, wish to urge that you also give your all-out support of the work of your various public health units who strive at all times to make this nation, this province and this municipality a healthier place. You, as an individual, can do your part by learning how to attain and retain good health.

RICHARD T. POTTER,
MAYOR.

ANNOUNCING THE OPENING OF THE LANTHORN INN
Caterers to Banquets, Wedding Receptions, Teas, Luncheons and Dinner Parties.
UNIQUE ATMOSPHERE
"GOOD FOOD AND SERVICE"
PHONE 4622

YES
WE HAVE Flashbulbs
—No. 5 ..... 18c
—No. SM. 19c
—No. S.F. 19c
—No. 11 ..... 20c
—No. 0 ..... 20c
—No. 22 ..... 23c
BUY THEM WHILE THEY LAST!
PAULEY'S
DRUG STORE
Phone 165 We Deliver

Elizabeth Arden
LUXURY
HAND LOTION
Spill-proof non-breakable plastic squeeze bottle...releases one drop at a time!
1.50 4 oz. bottle
2.50 8 oz. bottle
BLUE GRASS OR JUNE GERANIUM
Now use it as an all-over lotion. Leaves a lovely scent...yet no trace of stickiness. In wonderfully fragrant Blue Grass or June Geranium.
DOYLE'S DRUG STORE
Phone 326 — WE DELIVER

SECURITY MARKETS

Quotations furnished by BIGGAR & CRAWFORD

Members Toronto Stock Exchange

Belleville Office — Phone 3160 and 3161

Quotations at 1:00.

MINES

Aumor 340
Ascot Metals 220
Amazon Lead .372
Base Metals 61
Bralorne 675
Brunlaw 89
Buff. Ankerite 146
Cons. Smelters 145
Calgary and Ed. 11 1-4
Can. Malartic 80
Central Patricia 65
Campbell R. 1 260
Chibougamau 55
Cochenour Wil 180
Cons. Beattie 67
Dome .18
Donalda 59
East Malartic 153
East Sul. 915
Elder .55
Falconbridge 21 3-4
God's Lake 54
Golden Manitou 850
Hudson Bay 61 1-2
Home Oil 16
Hollinger 11 1-8
Inter. Nickel 42
Jason 29
Kerr Addison 18 3-4
Kirkland Lake 95
Labrador 235
Lake Shore 10
Leitch 110
Little Long Lac 85
Macassa 205
McIntyre 52 1-2
McLeod 370
Mining Corp. 20
Negus 106
New Lund 233
Normetal 78-1-4
Normetals 500
O'Brien 145
Okalta 235
Osisko Lake 160
Paymaster 70
Pamour 105
Perron 80
Pickle Crow 173
Preston E.D. 165
Quemont 29 5-8
Queenston 75
Quebec Man 271
Royallo 14
San Antonio 295
Sherritt Gordon 420
Silver Miller 119
Slocan 70
Sladen Mal. 69
Steep Rock 995
Sullivan 330
Sylvanite 125
Teck Hughes 220
Upper Canada 205
Ventures 13 3-4
Villbona 11
Waite Amulet 11 1-4
Wright-Hargreaves 182

TORONTO INDUSTRIALS

Papers—
Abitibi 24 3-4
Abitibi Pfd. 24 7-8
Aluminium 103
Consolidated 38 1-2
Great Lakes 33 1-2
Minn. and Ont. 30 1-4
International 36 1-2
Powell River 87
Distilleries—
Hiram Walker 56 1-2
Can. Ind. Alcohol 13 3-4
Dist. Seagrams 29 7-8
Canadian Oils—
B.A. Oil 33 1-2
Imperial Oil 33 7-8
McColl Front. 24
Inter. Petroleum 14 3-4
Miscellaneous—
Bell Telephone 40 1-2
Brazilian Trac. 27
Building Prod. 33 3-4
Can. Breweries, 18 5-8
Canada Cement 85
Can. Cir. and F. 16
Canadian Pacific Rly. 28
Cockshutt Pl. 28
Dom. Stores 14
Dominion Foundries, 44 1-4
Fanny Farmer 33 1-4
Ford A 57 1-2
Imperial Tobacco 12 1-2
Laura Second 14 3-4
Loblaw A 33 7-8
Massey Harris 25
Mil. Brick 163
Steel of Canada 35 1-4
United Steel 10 1-4
Winnipeg Electric 40 1-2
Inter. Metals A. 40
Con. Canners 27 1-4

NEW YORK

U.S. Steel 46 7-8

TORONTO STOCKS

Toronto, Feb. 1 (CP) — Industrials steadied at their new high levels as the session progressed on the Toronto Stock Exchange today.

Following six sessions of advance they climbed strongly at the opening and levelled off. Papers, steels, utilities, constructions, foods, textiles, refining oils and liquors showed a majority of gains. Agricultures and retail stores eased and banks and manufacturing companies were mixed.

Consolidated Smelters, a feature issue for the last few sessions, was again in the spotlight in the mixed mine metal list, jumping $2.25 to $143.25. Noranda was strong with a $1.50 gain and East Sullivan, Falconbridge and Waite Amulet were ahead. United Keno, Sherritt Gordon, Quemont, International Nickel and Steep Rock eased fractions.

Western oils were mixed. Home oil, National Petroleum and Federated Petroleum advanced while Anglo-Canadian, Central Leduc and Royallte declined. Price changes were small.

Senior golds were mixed and narrow. Junior producers eased pennies.

TORONTO LIVESTOCK

Toronto, Feb. 1 — (CP) — Most of the cattle offered at the Ontario stockyards this morning sold at steady prices. Receipts reported by the Dominion Marketing Service were: cattle, 600; calves, 10; hogs, 60; sheep and lambs, none. Left from yesterday were 100 cattle.

Common to medium heifers brought $24-$29 with a few good heifers selling at $30. Medium to good cows sold at $23-$25. Choice fed yearlings brought $29-$32.

Calves were steady at $36-$39 for choice vealers.

Hogs were mostly $33.50 for Grade A. Sows were $27 dressed.

HOGS

Toronto, Feb. 1 — (CP) — Truck hogs were $33.90 at Stratford, Ont., today. Other markets were not reported.

TORONTO PRODUCE

Toronto, Feb. 1.—(CP)—Produce prices quoted on the spot market here today:

Churning cream: No. 1 truck price 62 cents; delivered 65 cents.

Creamery prints: first grade 61-62 cents.

The egg market was firm with supplies quite here today. Country shippers quoted graded eggs, cases free: Grade A large, 43-44; A medium, 40-41; A pullet, 38-39; Grade B, 38-39; Grade C, 32.

Wholesale to retail: Grade A large, 47-48; A medium, 45-46; A pullet, 40-42; Grade B, 41-42; Grade C, 36-37.

Butter solids: first grade, 57-57½ cents; second grade, no price established.

"CARNIVAL" DINNERWARE

IN 4 RICH SOLID COLORS

That Reflect the Modern Trend

20 PIECE SET

SERVICE FOR 4 PERSONS

$7.95

Due to the tremendous popularity of this dinnerware we suggest you place your order now while our stock is complete.

STROUD'S GIFT SHOP

FRONT STREET

Gilbeys

F. & A. Gilbey Ltd., Distillers, announce the appointment of Mr. Dan Cumings as their representative for South-Eastern Ontario. Mr. Cumings has lived in Kingston for many years, with the exception of six years overseas with the Canadian Army.

Edgar Davidson Dies of Injuries Sustained Dec. 24

Madoc —(Special)— Critically injured in a two-car auto crash north of Bannockburn last December 31st, Edgar (Ted) Davidson of Millbridge, died in the Belleville General Hospital on Tuesday.

The accident in which Mr. Davidson was injured sent eight persons to hospital and instantly killed Mr. Davidson's four-year-old son Burton.

Mr. Davidson was born 41 years ago in Tudor township, being the son of the late Garnet Davidson and Mrs. Mary Davidson of Millbridge. A trucker by trade he had lived in the district all of his life. He was a member of St. Oswald Anglican Church at Millbridge.

Surviving are three children, one daughter Marilyn, and two sons, Thomas and James; his mother Mrs. Mary Davidson, four sisters, Mrs. Charles (Frankie) Donaldson and Mrs. Joseph (Bernice) McCaw, both of Millbridge, Mrs. Alex (Ruby) Hamilton of Eldorado and Mrs. Charles (Edna) Hearns of Madoc, and four brothers, Clifford and Claude of Millbridge; Morris of Bannockburn and Leslie of Belleville.

The funeral announcement appears elsewhere in this edition.

DELIVERY FEDERAL

(Continued from Page One)

simism and defeatism" in some quarters in Europe, he feels there has been a "rejuvenation" in Europe's morale.

Great Labor Pool

As to the American need of Western Europe, Eisenhower said Western Europe's skilled labor constitutes "the greatest pool" in the world and just has an "industrial fabric second only to the United States, plus more than 200,000,000 persons.

He said that if potential were transferred to the other side, the military balance of power "would be shifted so drastically our safety would be gravely imperilled—gravely imperilled."

Eisenhower said Western Europe is "so important to our future that we cannot afford to do less than our best to make sure it does not go down the drain."

Urging speed, he said, "let us not forget there is not a moment to waste."

He said the U. S. must devise a program for security that can be supported over the next 20 or 30 years or more.

He added the country must be ready at all times and " one of the important times to be ready is today."

Small Arms Production

Eisenhower said that at the present the Western European allies have little to spare of munitions production but their potential is growing.

He urged that the U. S. "have patience with our allies for "some of their problems are very great," and said France had promised to supply "25 battle-worthy divisions" by the end of 1952.

Eisenhower said it was a fallacy to believe the strengthening of Western Europe's defences would invite attack by the communists.

This was a contention Senator Robert Taft (Rep.-Ohio) has made in opposing the sending of a large United States land army to Europe.

He contended that what the western countries are trying to do "cannot honestly be considered by any other nation as a threat to its existence."

BACKFIRE SETS GARAGE ABLAZE

St. Thomas, Feb. 1, (CP)—Backfire from a grading machine set fire to the garage of Alvin Keillor, contractor, on the outskirts of St. Thomas today. Loss was estimated at $30,000.

FEDERAL

(Continued from Page One)

Inflation had created difficulties for all forms of government in Canada. However, the financial position of Ontario municipal governments was strong. Their net debt of $230,010,000 or $64 per capita last year compared with $446,000,000 or $138 per capita in 1932.

Subsidies Increase

Since 1944, provincial subsidies to municipalities had risen from 17 per cent of the municipal tax levy to 42 per cent although municipal assessments had increased by more than $4,000,000,000.

At the last federal-provincial conference Ontario had agreed to a proposal for old age pensions at 70 without a means test; and pensions for needy persons from 65 to 69 years of age. The provinces would introduce complementary legislation as soon as federal legislation was available.

Amplifying the proposal to have hydro enter the rural phone field, the premier said telephone systems in the rural areas lacked the opportunity of keeping up with technical developments. The government or its agencies now operated three telephone systems in the province — the Ontario Northland Railway's efficient trunk line system in northwestern Ontario; the Department of Lands and Forests' province wide wire and wireless network; and hydro's private system. The proposed legislation would enable hydro to assist and extend the rural systems.

Hydro Greatly Expanded

Within the last year hydro had expanded its electrical power generating capacity by more than 500,000 horsepower. Continuation of its program would give the system dependable power reserves of more than 4,000,000 horsepower by the end of this year. More than 300,000 rural customers now received hydro power. Plans for expansion would be given to the legislature.

There was a pressing need for highway expansion and modernization. Motor vehicle registration had passed the 1,000,000 - mark. Highways had to be built to stand heavy traffic demands and had to be safe for speed. Shortage of materials might affect work in the next year.

Ontario experienced great industrial expansion in 1950. More than $500,000,000 was invested in new manufacturing plants and equipment. This included more than 60 new industries and resulted in demand for 65,000 new workers. Value of mine production amounted to more than a third of a billion dollars. Ontario industry now employed 1,500,000 persons.

Studies were under way aimed at improving treatment of mental health. A rehabilitation centre for alcoholics would deal with 700 patients a year. A new apprenticeship training school was planned, especially in view of the needs of the building trades.

Stage Report Not Mentioned

In its review of education, the speech made no mention of the Hope Royal Commission report which was issued in December after more than five years study of the provincial education system.

Educational conditions were good and were improving, said the speech. School enrolments rose by 27,000; new school accommodation was provided for 36,000 at a cost of more than $30,000,000; 287 more candidates than last year entered teacher training.

School grants this year would be larger than last year's $42,500,000. Grants were being distributed on a new basis which extended more aid for capital expenditures and avoided sudden and drastic changes from variations in assessment, population or school expenditure.

Amendments Proposed

Legislation was planned for amendments to the Boiler Inspection Act, The Workmen's Compensation Act, The Mothers' Allowances Act, The Adoption Act, The Racing Commission Act, The Public Service Act and The Highway Improvement Act.

Legislation was planned to enlarge the Niagara Parks Commission and give representation to municipalities in which the park system lies.

U.N. Assembly Votes to Brand China Aggressor

Lake Success, Feb. 1 (AP) — The United Nations Assembly voted overwhelmingly today to tag communist China as an aggressor in Korea, but a warning by Britain to go slow on sanctions raised a big question as to the next step.

The assembly vote was 44 to 7—the same as the ballot in the politics committee Tuesday night. The five Soviet bloc countries were joined by India and Burma in casting the opposing votes. Eight countries abstained and one—Saudi Arabia—was recorded as not participating.

Today's action brought to an end the present phase of the diplomatic battle which was touched off by a report from Gen. Douglas MacArthur 12 weeks ago that the Chinese reds had intervened in the Korean conflict.

The assembly:

1. Decided that communist China engaged in aggression in Korea.

2. Requested a committee on collective security to study what to do about meeting this aggression, but to hold up its work if a good offices committee reports progress on a peaceful settlement.

3. Approved creation of the Good Offices Committee to consist of Assembly President Nasrollah Entezam of Iran and two others whom he will name.

4. Called on the Peiping regime to withdraw its nationals and forces from Korea and to stop fighting U.N. forces.

5. Affirmed the determination of the U.N. to continue its action in Korea to meet the aggression. It also relied upon all states and authorities not to help the aggressors.

Just before the vote, Britain's Sir Gladwyn Jebb urged the Assembly to concentrate on seeking a peaceful settlement in Korea and to go slow on sanctions against the Chinese reds.

The most important task of the U.N., Jebb said, is to study all possibilities for a peaceful settlement, leaving sanctions until last.

"Sanctions should not be applied to this Assembly for a long time to come," he said.

The Assembly began its session in relation to apply the "Cap" rule in an effort to speed adoption of the American resolution.

Extra good meals begin with extra good foods—and EXTRA GOOD FOOD is what you get in every can and package of the famous brands featured at EMPIRE. . . . You get EXTRA GOOD QUALITY — EXTRA GOOD FLAVOR — EXTRA GOOD VALUE for your money. So why take less than the best? Shop here for these STAR VALUES at down to earth prices.

SPECIAL!
CANDIES
Lemon Drops — Strawberry Drops — Butterscotch Squares
Per lb. 25c

LYNN VALLEY
KERNEL CORN
20-ounce tin 10c

SPECIAL!
Chocolate Mellows
Per Lb. 29c

BAKING SPECIAKS

RUM and BUTTER DONUTS ..... doz.	25c
PINEAPPLE SQUARES ..... doz.	39c
CHELSEA (Squares) BUNS	30c
CREAM GOODS EVERY SATURDAY
CREAM PUFFS .. ea.	10c
CREAM CUPS .... ea.	6c
CREAM CHERRY TARTS .. ea.	6c
HOME-MADE BREAD, 24-oz. loaf ...	12c
SANDWICH LOAF ...	13c

Fruits and Vegetables

MEXICAN ORANGES
LARGE 200 SIZE.
PER DOZEN 39c
These oranges are large, juicy and sweet. TRY A DOZEN OR TWO.

TOMATOES, cello pack	27c
LETTUCE, Iceberg	2 for 29c
FLORIDA CELERY (green)	2 for 25c
YAMS	2 lb. 25c
SPINACH, cello pack	25c
COLD SLAW, cello pack	10c
GRAPES, Calif.	2 lbs. 29c

Meat Department

PORK LIVER (Sliced) 1b	39c
FRESH PIG HOCKS 1b	35c
MEATY SPARE RIBS. 1b	49c
LEAN MINCED BEEF	1b 59c
BREAKFAST BACON (sliced)	1b 55c
OCEAN PERCH FILLETS	1b 43c
HADDOCK FILLETS	1b 48c
SALMON (Sliced)	1b 55c
KIPPERS	1b 34c
DRY SALT COD	1b pkg. 43c

LYNN VALLEY (20-oz. tin.) CORN — cream style	2 for 25c
HEINZ CATSUP — Bottle	25c
LIBBY'S SLICED RED BEETS—20-oz. tin	19c
CANNED CHOICE TOMATOES	2 for 35c
GOLD MEDAL (16-oz. Jar) PEANUT BUTTER	35c
SPECIAL PEARS—20-oz. tin	24c
CLARK'S (15-oz. tin) PORK and BEANS	2 for 25c
TALLS CARNATION MILK	2 tins 29c

ICE CREAM DEPT.
SAVE ON YOUR ICE CREAM BRICKS
28c PINT BRICK
2 for 55c
NEW PRICE ON ICE CREAM CONES
DOUBLE DIP CONES .. 7c
LARGE SINGLE DIP .. 5c
DOUBLE HEADER. (4 Dips) 13c

EMPIRE GROCETERIA
FREE DELIVERY - TELEPHONE SERVICE - SHOPPING SERVICE
282 FRONT STREET TEL. 2866 & 2867

"WOMEN OVER 35 CAN LOOK YOUNGER!"
says Helena Rubinstein

"YOUR HUSBAND LOOKS AT YOU WITH NEW INTEREST"

use ESTROGENIC HORMONE CREAM faithfully

Estrogenic hormones are the most effective agents yet discovered for helping women look younger! Even if your face and throat have already become old-looking through neglect, take heart! Locked in rich Estrogenic Hormone Cream are natural estrogens, the most effective aids known to beauty science for warding off signs of age and helping restore youth-giving substances. As your skin absorbs the natural estrogens, you recapture that lovely young look. At night, use it on age-revealing face and throat. Or, if you prefer, use Estrogenic Hormone Oil which contains the same precious properties. In the morning, use the oil as an invisible day-long beauty treatment.

Introductory Offer
Helena Rubinstein makes this dollar-saving beauty offer to every woman who longs for younger-looking skin.
ESTROGENIC HORMONE CREAM—4.50
ESTROGENIC HORMONE OIL—2.00
Now Only 4.50
(Please hurry—limited offer)

McKEOWN'S DRUG STORE
Phone 135 BELLEVILLE We Deliver

THE ONTARIO INTELLIGENCER

Published Daily by
Ontario Established 1841 — Intelligencer Established 1927
THE ONTARIO INTELLIGENCER LIMITED
Belleville, Ontario, Canada

Subscription Rates
By carrier in Belleville, 35 cents per week
By mail in Ontario, $6.00 per year; $3.00 for six months; $2.25 for 3 months
By mail to U.S.A., $8.00 per year; $4.00 for six months

Member of The Canadian Daily Newspaper Association; Member of The Canadian Press.

The Canadian Press is exclusively entitled to use for republications of all news despatches credited to it or The Associated Press or Reuters in this newspaper and also the local news published therein.

AIR RECORD

Winter or summer, the season makes no difference, planes continue to set up new records, proving how man's knowledge of construction of planes continues to grow and cause to be made new machines to conquer the air and reduce travelling time to a fraction of what it was not so long ago.

Man has from the earliest ages since he conquered the soil had the ambition to fly. Mythology says Icarus was the first to attempt flying and flew so high in the heavens that the heat of the sun melted the wax holding the artificial wings to his body and he fell to his death.

That dream of flying has challenged heroic youth since before the dawn of history. Today in the twentieth century one hears and reads much about aviation. Such is the result of a vision or dream of the ages that came true.

The endless quest for honors of new achievements in the air will continue as invention after invention is made by the mind and hand of man to make the air which surrounds the globe bear up giant flying craft. How fast achievement will be made over what are now barriers or obstacles can only be guessed. But the spirit of man soars and takes him on to new achievements.

Captain Charles Blair since yesterday holds the record for the whole world in accomplishment. He has flown faster from New York to London than any man has ever flown. He flew more than five miles high for a greater part of the way. That in itself is an achievement of late years as man dares more and more to fly into the empyrean, which is what the ancients called the realm of fire.

SOURCE OF HEAVY LOSS

Fire remains one of the great destroyers of life and property. Especially in wintertime when fires are necessary in every building and heating is especially at a time when the weather conditions become very severe is the danger of fire brought sharply to the attention of everyone.

Ontario's loss in 1950 was caused by 18,663 fires in which these did 113 persons, 291 persons were injured and a financial loss of $21,106,270 was sustained by the nation.

Smoking is said to have proven again to be the source of most fires.

Repetition of the losses in life and property cannot but have an effect in focussing the mind of readers on fire hazards and the need of eternal vigilance for the sake of safety and security from such disasters.

GIANTS AT WORK

There are giants in this earth and the wise man accepts the fact — although he logically attempts to control elemental forces for his own benefit. It is very possible in this second half of the 20th century that we shall learn to make or ward off rain; we shall undoubtedly learn how to produce snow if it is not already completely clear to the countryman just who will decide when and how much rain or snow we shall have at a given time. Undoubtedly another governmental bureau will handle it. But if rain and snow are not controlled, it may be controlled in the power of us to move to new locations where a group can agree on the weather it wants.

Now Nature's giants are at work. Men do not fully realize how much is due to various emergencies alone. Prolonged rains and deep snows, disastrous droughts, bitter cold and raging gales remind us there are natural forces working their will. Twenty-four hours a day and through the entire cycle of the year, the giants are at their unceasing labors. As winter works on, some of their most effective work is done quietly and steadily. Water repeatedly freezes and thaws and the action wears away bits of rock on the highlands. Winds press insidiously against mountain crests and tiny bits of matter are loosened and carried away on strong air currents.

Stand in an open woodland on a sunny day of the second month and run your hand along a decorating, decaying oak bole. Feel the softness and sponginess of the material. It is wind and rain, snow and cold, sunlight and warmth that have softened the giant tree. The tree may have been two centuries old when it toppled in a gale a generation or so. The wood fibre are now soft; the resins and salts in their cells are ready to return to the humus in which a small acorn pushed down its roots in colonial days, grew to maturity through the years and then died when its task was fulfilled. We live in a world of natural beauty; it is man that causes bloodshed and suffering. The giants are natural forces. They have been working for hundreds of millions of years and set an example of order and reason for us. Some happy day, man and the giants of earth will bring to pass a pleasant environment for all mankind. — Halifax Mail-Star.

As to be perfectly just is an attribute of the Divine Nature, to be go to the utmost of our abilities is the glory of man.—Addison.

JUST FOLKS

By EDGAR A. GUEST
(Copyright, 1951, Edgar A. Guest)

LAWYER LANGUAGE

I am bothered by the phrases lawyers often speak and write.
Them to have a legal way of proving black is white.
When I use a word I mean it but behind a lawyer's door
I find it's something different, as I've mentioned heretofore.
I chuckle as I listen to the lawyers in debate
Over what a simple sentence in a contract seems to state.
Whereas I'd thought it binding, an objection stands,
to-wit:
"De minimis non curat lex' makes trifles out of it.

As the doctors talking business so the lawyers seem to be.
They are friends I like to be with but their language puzzles me.
And when they speak in Latin,
as so frequently they do,
I am just "non compos mentis,"
What they mean I wish
I knew.

OFF THE RECORD

By Ed. REED

LOOKING BACKWARDS

GLEANINGS FROM OUR FYLES OF BYGONE YEARS

30 YEARS AGO

Feb. 1, 1931.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Walsh of Portland, Maine, are visiting relatives in this city.

Mrs. H. English of this city is visiting friends in Campbellford.

One building permit was issued in January by the City Engineer's department. It was for alterations at the Star Block on Front Street, at an estimated cost of $200,000.

Mr. G. H. French is spending the day in Colborne.

Mr. J. Knight is spending a few days in Kingston.

Members of the classes of Mrs. Bell and Mrs. Arbuckle in St. Thomas' Church Sunday School enjoyed a sleigh drive party last evening, there were about 25 present. After being out for two hours the party returned to the Parish Home where Mrs. Logie and Mrs. Arbuckle served refreshments and a social time was enjoyed.

30 YEARS AGO

Feb. 1st., 1921.

The following promotions in the Argyll Light Infantry are announced: To be Company Sergt.-Major — No. 7 Company, W. O. Wardhaugh; to be Company Quartermaster Sergt. in No. 7 Company, Sergt. W. J. Grinder; to be Sergt. No. 1 Company, Corporal W. Hanson; to be Corporal No. 4 Company, Private Logan.

The drop in the price of bread here from 24 cents to 22 cents per loaf, followed by a further drop by one baker to 20 cents, was followed by a general reduction to 20 cents. Today it was reported that a bread war is on and that bread can be purchased as low as 18 cents retail, while years 16 cents is mentioned as a low mark. No doubt the bakers will soon get together and straighten out their differences.

40 YEARS AGO

Feb. 1st., 1911.

The sum of $1,500 will be given in the Intelligencer Popularity Contest.

Mrs. Bert Joblin of Toronto is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Baker in this city.

Mr. J. B. Harker is spending a few days in Toronto.

Mr. Henry C. Emerson of Corbyville has returned from the west where he was engaged on a lecture tour for the Farmers' Institute.

Rev. J. Egan and wife of this city are spending some time in Winnipeg.

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. R. Bond have returned to Cobourg after visiting Mrs. W. Davis in this city. The driving party given by R. McCreary and W. C. Andrews was most enjoyable.

50 YEARS AGO

Feb. 1st., 1901.

Mr. Robert Wilson, Jr., has returned home after spending some time in Montreal.

Mr. William Carnew, barrister, went to Toronto today.

Mr. William Meyers of Niagara Falls is visiting friends here.

Mr. and Mrs. George Sargeant, Frank Street, entertained a number of friends at their home last evening.

Mr. John Covert has returned to Rochester, N. Y., after visiting relatives here.

Mr. and Mrs. John Everett of Windsor, Ontario, formerly of Belleville, are visiting friends here after an absence of several years.

THE PACKSACK

By GREGORY CLARK

Those of us with grey hair have seen two generations of the youth which will be ashamed of our ears swallowed up by war. Nine years of our own brief time have been overshadowed by war. The thought of another and more consuming havoc is hard to bear, and is borne in various ways.

Some of us answer that we are stupefied, a philosophic attitude. Others confess to a spirit of resignation. The number of us who appear to recognize the present situation as the consequence of human behavior is so small as to be not yet worth counting.

But to take the view that the present state of world affairs is the result of somebody else's behavior is becoming more and more difficult. It irks us terribly to think that we, as humble individuals are somehow responsible. We have been, as it were, passengers on a train. For the past two generations, we have been increasingly content to be passengers on a comfortable and interesting train, somewhere and fast. The sleepers have been cosy, both Pullman and colonist. Even the day coaches were fine. The diners have been excellent. The scenery exciting. And here we are.

Who bought the tickets?

Do we buy tickets without enquiring at least, if not naming, the destination? The fact is, our generation has enjoyed an excursion, not a journey.

And now that the excursion has landed us in a pretty ugly place, on the edge of an abyss, and with no clear idea of how we are going to get turned around forward to the place we left a few days ago, or was it years, — we are each beginning to finger our pockets to find the ticket stub and see if we can read the fine print on the back of it.

Sure, we had a couple of wrecks along the route. Many were killed, many more hurt. But the rest of us climbed right aboard again as soon as the whistle blew.

Passengers have nobody to blame but themselves if they scramble aboard a train without looking at the ticket.

Tickets, please!

English Lace Produced by New Methods

Nottingham, England— (CP)— Big panels of lace, reproducing real lace by mass production methods, are a new development of a Nottingham lace factory which will be shown at the British Industries Fair this summer at London and Birmingham.

The finer qualities of spun rayon yarns and Egyptian cotton yarn are woven on a machine which produces fine 72 - inch widths in one operation. As many as 8,640 spools of rayon and cotton are used in one panel of intricate design.

The beautiful quiet lustre which comes from the combination of cotton and rayon is enhanced even by the finished cloths are dyed in fashionable pastel shades to fit in with modern color schemes.

The larger panels are for bedspread and dinner table cloths. Smaller panel nets are made for window decoration, with a pinned type of construction that prevents the edges fraying when the sections are separated.

Mackenzie's Column:

Action Likely To Assist Hand Of United Nations

By DeWITT MACKENZIE
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

The United Nations has weathered its first life-or-death crisis by stopping the American - sponsored resolution condemning communist China as an aggressor for its armed intervention in Korea.

This action, of course, won't halt the Kremlin's efforts to communize the world. The revolution, of which red China's invasion of Korea is merely a phase, will continue apace and is likely to be marked increasingly by armed conflict.

However, the stand by the United Nations is calculated to strengthen the hand of the seekers after a free world. It undoubtedly will give the U. N. troops in Korea fresh vitality to carry out their stern assignment.

There is widespread belief among observers that had the peace organization failed to take action it would in all likelihood have meant its death.

Invitation to Aggressors

Evasion of the issue, in opinion of many, can only have placed the brand of impotence on the U. N., but would in effect have been an invitation to aggressor nations to carry on without fear.

Such an appraisal of the situation is based on sound evidence. It was on the very point of failing to deal adequately with aggression that the League of Nations committee acted.

Of course the U. N. did condemn the Nazi Reich as an aggressor last June for that country's invasion of its sister state of South Korea. The Chinese situation, however, represents the first major commission with which the peace organization has been faced.

The resolution of condemnation was fought tooth and nail in the political committee of the General Assembly by the Soviet countries and the 12 - power Asian - Arab bloc which was headed by Foreign Minister Sir Benegal N. Rau of India. The Asian - Arab bloc, clinging to the idea that it was possible to negotiate with the communists, called for a seven-country conference, to discuss peace.

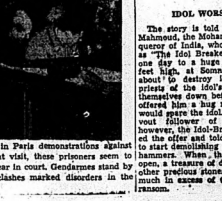
This anxiety for a conference would seem to be inspired by fears that one of the Soviet's best negotiations would produce good results. And the attitude of the Asian - Arab bloc, outside the red orbit is readily understandable, for they are sitting right under the big guns of Russo-Chinese communism.

As a matter of fact, the voting of aggression against red China doesn't close the door to negotiations. On the contrary the U. N. not only is willing to join in negotiations but actually has made provisions for such a possibility.

Third Top Red Quits Party

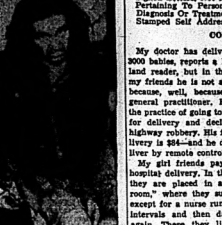
Rome, Italy, Feb. 1—(Reuters)—Another four-star Italian communist—regional secretary Umberto Scoccimarro, of Venice, Italy, had got in touch with Magnani and Cucchi, who are in hiding. Mauco has asked for police protection, the reports added.

THEY DON'T SEEM WORRIED



Facing charges of taking part in Paris demonstrations against Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's recent visit, these prisoners seem to take the matter lightly as they appear in court. Gendarmes stand by to keep order. Several serious clashes marked disorders in the capital. — Central Press Canadian.

PICTURE OF A DRAFT DODGER



His hair grown far below his shoulders, William Kinichi Ohbayashi, 44, surrenders after being handed into custody in Honolulu, Hawaii, on a charge of draft dodging. He has been sought since May, 1943. Central Press Canadian.

Ontario Trade Branch Issue New Booklet

Toronto, Feb. 1. (CP)—With the slogan, "In Ontario your plant will grow," the Ontario Trade and Industry Branch has issued a booklet outlining the advantages which the province offers.

In the words of Planning Minister Cecil Facey, who writes a foreword, the booklet is frankly aimed at encouraging and considering a branch plant in Canada." he adds:

"Because of Ontario's remarkable industrial development in the past decade; because of its unique proximity to the largest market in the United States; because of its central location for obtaining raw materials and delivering finished production it suddenly finds itself producing 50 per cent (by value) of Canada's manufactured goods. In a year, its factories pour out goods worth $6,000,000,000.

It is probable that the province will eventually rival such industrial giants as the Midlands of Britain and the Detroit-Cleveland area in the United States."

Here are some extracts from the text of the booklet, signed by F. J. Lyle, director of the Trade and Industry branch:

Ontario has the most home consumers of any Canadian province—a population of 4,512,000.

Ontario produces nearly 1,500,000,000 a year. Mining production last year was valued at $323,300,000 and Ontario's pulp and paper production was recently worth $1,000,000,000.

In number, Ontario factories are about 40 per cent of the Canadian total, and their output is valued at more than $30 new plants since the end of the Second World War.

Tonnages of bulk freight (through inland waterways) exceed the tonne of shipping through the Suez and Panama Canals combined.

The booklet, attractively done and well-illustrated, deals with markets, skilled labor, transportation in its various forms, materials, power, and services for industries.

FAMOUS BORDER

Including Alaska, the undefended border between Canada and United States territory extends more than 5,500 miles.

Personal Health Talks

By WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

Signed Letters, Not More Than One Page Or 100 Words Long, Pertaining To Personal Health and Hygiene, Not To Diseases, Diagnosis Or Treatment, Will Be Answered By Dr. Brady If A Stamped Self Addressed Envelope Is Enclosed, Etc.

COMPLETE WITH BUGGY

My doctor has delivered over 3000 babies, reports a New England reader, but in the eyes of my friends he is not a specialist because, well, because he is a general practitioner. He decries the practice of going to a hospital for delivery and declares it is highway robbery. His fee for delivery is $84—and he doesn't deliver by remote control.

My girl friends pay $300 for hospital delivery. In the hospital they are placed in a "delivery room," where they suffer alone except for a nurse running in at intervals and then dashing out again. There they lie waiting, wondering and praying for the time when their doctor—pardon me, I mean their specialist will arrive. Just as the baby is due, in pops the specialist, who orders the poor soul anesthetized, slits the outlet to hasten delivery, takes stitches to repair the wound, and bows out. The nurses then lay down the law to the mother and she goes home in a week or two, where another specialist takes on the care of the baby.

I just wanted to assure you, Dr. Brady, that there are still a few of these wonderful doctors still in practice, and I have one of them. He is the

He remains with his patient . . . and sees to it that she is never left alone. His knowledge and skill he brings about the birth normally and skillfully. . . . (Mrs. G. E.)

He may be a fine doctor in his way but I would not be caught dead with a bumper of the $3000 Chestnut Hill standing in front of the apartment. The $450 snobs (from $300 a month, by the time me) just have to have "specialists," trick specialists, of course, fashion and pretentious enough, in order to keep up with the Joneses.

I publish this reader's letter to assure you that there are still "specialists"—that there are still in practice doctors who really attend confinement cases at home. I warn readers, however, that I cannot name the doctors for them. North America, South America, the West Indies etc. comprise a large territory and a lot of doctors, and like I said and I have a profile of a bonehead to do and the greens are like huge billiard tables this winter, so you poor geeks will just have to find which doctors in your vicinity deliver babies at home yet not vanishing the panel till you stumble upon and one who does not pose (with the blessing of the A.M.A.) as a "specialist." And when you have found him, never let him go.

QUESTIONS & ANSWERS

Trombone and Tuberculosis

Have been receiving pneumothorax treatment for tuberculosis in right lung. Expect to be home in a few months. Playing trombone has been my hobby and enjoyment for 20 years. May I safely practice with the band half an hour a day and playing in concert once a week? (H. G. N.)

Answer—Is it astonishing that you ask such a question — after months of schooling in the tuberculosis sanatorium. Don't they teach the elementary principles to patients over dial 'phone, how to dodge instructions? Only the physician who knows your present state can advise whether playing a wind instrument would be good or bad for you.

Nonentities Please Notice

Communications bearing no signature or one that does not look genuine go to the waste-basket. Initials only, or while I do read a brief one, maybe would take it seriously if the writer had been honest. But I learned long ago that it is a waste of time, insolently or anonymous praise, criticism, suggestion or complaint. (Doc Brady)

The Ubiquitous Mrs. Rumsey

Please explain what harm the use of paint, varnish, turpentine and varnish or paint removers does to the old oak floors? (Mrs. G. E.)

Answer—No more harm than it does any one.

That Certain Cook-Book

Mislaid clipping from your column recommending the cook book that rates as the best in your own library. Incidentally, injection treatment of my hernia by the Jones's method . . . you recommended has proved highly satisfactory. (J. L.)

Answer—Let's Cook It Right, by Adelle Davis, published by Harcourt, Brace & Co., New York City $3, at any book store. Thank you for your incidental report.

Sodium Benzoate

Is the preservative, Sodium Benzoate, added to the foods for the general health? (Mrs. C. M. C.)

Answer—Certainly it isn't beneficial, nor is it necessary it be used in the present day and preservaingthe panel till you stum-

TODAY'S TALK

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

EXERCISE THOSE RESOLUTIONS

Used things are the most interesting. They have a story to tell, either of failure or success, and the failure story is the most dramatic, stirring and inspiring. The old coat, book or shoe, worn and worn, and might look insignificant upon the second-hand counter, has been loved and stirred a nation and been read by many a one to whom it has inspired. It would hold a value far beyond all appearances. And how much more precious is the life that is described, and presented it, to another worthy student?

Even an idea is of no value unless it is put to use. It's the same with resolutions. They are not exercised and put to work, of what value are they. A good resolution should be given air—exercised each day, until it has accomplished its purpose in giving another prop to character and a more useful life.

The greatest of musicians devote themselves to constant exercise that they might keep at the form. It is the same way with the athlete. Let him neglect that essential exercise ever so little and his chances for triumph in a crisis are greatly lessened or discarded. Now that the New Year is well under way, take care that you continue to exercise those resolutions of yours, that they may prove to be the stepping stones which they were created.

At first attempts, toward some useful end, present a certain crudeness. That is natural and expected. But with a little encouragement as continual exercise puts a new face upon those efforts, they will grow more fair at a time, and even no more than an inch a day, you must fix progress. There is nothing quite so important as a resolute mind.

In that great chapter on "Habit," by William James, he tells his reader that he should never allow an exception to occur, in the formation of a new habit to root itself in the old one. Each time we hear a person remark that "this one won't hurt me," he should resent. It pushes one back instead of forward. Stick to the exercise of those resolutions of reform. It is the same way with the

Strength for the Day

DR. EARL L. DOUGLASS

IDOL WORSHIP

The story is told of a certain Mahmoud, the Mohammedan conqueror of India, who was known as "The Idol Breaker." He came one day to a huge idol, fifteen feet high, at Somnat, and went about to destroy it when the priests of the idol's temple cast themselves at his feet before him and offered him a huge ransom if he would spare the idol. Being a devout follower of Mohammed, however, the Idol-Breaker spurned the offer and told his soldiers to start demolishing the idol with hammers. When they broke it open, a treasure of diamonds and other precious stones spilled out, in excess of the plastered ransom.

The application of this story to modern life is very apparent. Life is just as full of idols for us today as it ever was for the unthinking. Our idols are not sticks and stones but ideas, temptations, and false standards they represent us day by day and demand worship, offering us in return many varieties of hardship.

But when we spurn idolatry we find plenty of reward—and reward that we never expected to find. The peace of a quiet conscience, the approbation of friends and loved ones, the increase in our own inner powers—all these recompense a person who will neither worship an idol nor allow it to continue to exist and long for him.

News of Trenton

Members of Police Department Given $325 Increase

Trenton — (Special) — Trenton town council Monday night agreed to all members of the local constabulary including Chief John Taylor, an increase of $325 a year.

The Police Department however did not get the raise without an argument from councillor Vic Bunce, the Chairman of Finance. Mr. Ryan was in favor of a wage adjustment but not to the extent proposed by the Police Commission. His letter to the council and press is self-explanatory and when given his reasons and figures for voting against the increase granted by his fellow councillors.

Mr. Ryan's letter is printed elsewhere on this page.

Council decided to accept suggestions and recommendations of the committee set-up to sit an agreement for wage increase between the Firefighters Association and the Town. Clerk O. Larry was instructed to write a letter suggesting whereby the permanent members of the local Fire Department would receive an increase of from $1900. to $2200. annually. A clause asking that the payment be made from the new uniform yearly for each full-time fireman will be entered in the agreement. The agreement will affect firemen Jess Baker, Gordon Golightly and Gerald Lewis.

Council was unanimous in their decision to charge $600. yearly rent for the apartment above the fire hall and now occupied by fireman Baker and his family. It was suggested by Mr. Baker for answering the phone be accepted as part payment of the rent in the past the fireman occupying the fire hall premises was not asked to pay for either rent, heat, water or lights.

To be sure Trenton will hold her place in the overall civil defence plan for Canada. Councillor Bagnall was appointed to represent the council at the Canadian Legion meeting on February 1 when Canada's Preparedness is to be discussed. He is empowered to call for nominations from those present for a chairman to be finally selected by municipal council. The chairman's title would be that of "Chairman of the Civil Defence Committee."

No Objection Raised

Council raised no objection to the proposal of Mr. Frank Barry, local real estate agent who submitted plans for a sub-division to take the place of the commons northwest of the C.N.R. right-of-way and accessible over paved highway through the Wooler road allowance. Mr. Barry's letter under the letterhead of a Belleville law firm stipulated that a certain portion of the property in question would be restricted to residential and commercial purposes. The largest portion of the tract will be made available to housing. Mr. Barry's letter is given in full in this issue. The agreement will affect firemen Jess Baker, Gordon Golightly and Gerald Lewis.

Council was unanimous in their decision to charge $600. yearly rent for the apartment above the fire hall and now occupied by fireman Baker and his family. It was suggested by Mr. Baker for answering the phone be accepted as part payment of the rent in the Decision Hinged On Technical Point In Evidence

Trenton—Feb. 1 — (Special)— [illegible] V. Wink dismissed [illegible] of drunk while in charge [illegible] vehicle against Constable [illegible] of Trenton, in police court here Tuesday after the accused pleaded not guilty.

The decision hinged on a technical point featured in the evidence by both the Crown and defence in the trial of Constable [illegible] ton.

Masters told the court that he had taken four pain killing tablets prescribed by Dr. Anderson of Wooler previous to being picked up by police while sitting in his truck on Kidd Avenue on the afternoon of December 5. Dr. J. V. Rynne under questioning agreed that while the codene content of the tablets (one eighth grain to each pill) would not have any effect on a healthy, robust individual, it is possible that the odd person would have a different reaction to the drug. He testified that codene after relieving pain might have a somnial effect.

Called Absent

Two police constables, and the Chief of Police Jack Taylor stated that Masters appeared to have no drunk when brought into the station and on examination for traces of alcohol on his breath. Masters told the Magistrate he had two or three glasses of beer before in the day and took the tablets for relief of eye pains sometime afterwards.

According to police Masters was driving along Kidd Avenue when he decided to buy a few cigarettes at a street side canteen. Instead of getting out of the truck for the service however, testimony revealed Masters went asleep in the cab. He was awakened by the next hour or so later police arrived on the scene finding Masters in deep sleep respectfully heavy shaking to get him awake. At that time the motor was not running.

Dr. Rynne of testing Masters for intoxication by having him walk a tape line on the floor. The medical man admitted that Masters refused to co-operate in other tests he suggested. He said the man talked with a slur, his eyes were bloodshot, his pulse rapid and in his opinion he was intoxicated.

In handing down his decision Magistrate Wills felt that there was a possibility that the drug had affected Masters and that the accused should have the benefit of the doubt.

The sentil of beer doesn't mean anything was the Magistrate's contention in closing his remarks.

Middleton Park Residents Elect Own Administration

Trenton—Latest reports indicate that Middleton Park is a very fast growing little community going through all the pains of reaching the point of maturity but nevertheless forging ahead with ungreudented progress.

Today what was little more than a barren commons a few years back is a bustling ultra-modern community accommodating close to 1,000 all-people and expanding to house three times that many more. A recent count showed that more than 200 homes were already occupied by families of the men who form part of the personnel of both the main station and No. 2 R.C.A.F.

Middleton Park lays a quarter of a mile north of No. 2 Highway on the eastern boundary of the town of Trenton.

Advancement of community legislation has developed faster than was first expected. Today the little village with its colony full homes and wide streets has its own, civic administration which was the result of an election held last November and coinciding with the Senatorial election in the United States.

Seven Wards

The Park was divided up into seven wards and nomination meetings decided upon those aspiring for office. In all there were 36 contesting for civic position.

The intention of the election was to set up a Middleton Park Park Council. Functions of the council include:

1. To allow residents of Middleton Park a measure of self government.

2. To encourage community and social welfare.

3. To provide an authority (outside the service) to whom community problems could be referred, and by which individuals an authorized avenue of approach to the RCAF.

4. To foster good citizenship among airforce personnel and their dependents.

Appointed by C.O.

The council is composed of a chairman who was appointed by the Commanding Officer and one elected representative from each Ward.

Council's method of operation is to hold regular meetings announced for by the chairman. The purpose of these meetings is to discuss and consider matters brought to the Commanding Officer legislation or for the better government of Middleton Park.

In the election for candidates the names of women candidates were equally accepted. The ballots were sealed in an envelope delivered to each qualified voter and were picked up by the ward scrutineer. The ballots were counted by the Housing Committee who announced the results. The following were elected ward representatives.

Ward 1, S/L M. G. Holdam, Ottawa; Ward 2, W/O J. G. E. Lowry, Ottawa; Ward 3, S/L L. P. Valiquet, Portage La Prairie, Man.; Ward 4, F/O C. G. MacDonald, Regina; Ward 5 F/L J. W. McQueen, Vancouver, B.C.; Ward 6 F/L. R. Ian Hesketh, Toronto; Ward 7, LAC. L. J. Bradley, Winnipeg, Man.

Wing Commander J. J. Jordan of House No. 56 was appointed by resolution to the Middleton Park Council for the ensuing year.

By-Elections Eliminated

In all wards the candidate securing the second largest number of votes will become ward representative if the ward councillor is posted or transferred within the year. This eliminates the necessity of by-election.

Of the 426 registered voters at the nomination meeting only eight failed to cast ballots, indicating the amount of interest the election stirred up. Authorities were disappointed to find that women candidates fell by the wayside, two only being the largest number obtained by any woman.

The Middleton Park Council has already dealt with several important pieces of legislation. The construction of a ball diamond when an open well within the Park area proved a danger to the residents' children. They had the well filled in no time. Hiring of a community hall and the general security of the townsite was considered and ratified.

One-Third Finished

Although the Middleton project is a good one, third finished the shopping district, the elaborate secondary school, children's kindergarten, Roman Catholic Chapel and Protestant Chapel have yet to be established. The ultimate plan calls for a football field, race track and baseball diamond, all within the confines of the Park.

In the administrative work of the Park will be chosen for many of the key jobs. An opening is expected for a chief administrator who it is felt will be to manage the operation of the Park. A director of the community store will be needed and it is understood that tenders will be called for the job.

In addition moving picture theatre and community hall comprise employment for civilians in various vocations.

It is understood that the Middleton project is the responsibility of Flying Officer H. E. Gropp assistant to the C.A.D.O. Squadron Leader E. J. W. Higgins The testing ground will be Grouped Flying Officer from Regina, Saskatchewan has mothered his "baby" in a very special child. His effort is worthy of the highest praise and is a fitting visual tribute to the great task whose name it bears.

Flying Officer Gropp is able to allot lovely completed homes to a few families each week. His only complaint is that he cannot place every applicant immediately. With a concerned look on his face he revealed he had more than 335 unsatisfied customers on his waiting list.

Police Called To Investigate Two Accidents

Trenton (Special)—Police were called out to investigate two motor car accidents on Tuesday when auto crashes caused more than $500 in damages and considerable inconvenience to those involved.

A very icy roadway was blamed for the collision between a car driven by Gordon E. Reid, of Toronto, crashed through the window of Reg. W. Armstrong's ticket office on Dundas Street, in the middle of the town, yesterday, following a crazy slide off the approach of the west end of the river bridge. Reid, who was proceeding west lost control on his car coming off the bridge and the next thing he felt was a sudden stop and the tinkling of broken glass. The impact crashed the window frame and the shelf. Damage to the store front amounted to $300. Damage to the car totalled $200.

Fortunately there was no one in the store or sidewalk in the path of the careening auto at the time.

RECENT MODELS BEST

London, Feb. 1 — (AP) — A British aviation journal said today recent models of Russia's best jet plane can outmaneuver and outspeed the U. S. F86 Sabre jet, fastest fighter in the western world.

The magazine air pictorial estimated the Soviet Union has 1,000 super-speed jets — the Mig-15s — based in Eastern Germany alone.

It said Russia now may well have 1,000 or more" of its copy of the American B29 superfort, which can carry the atomic bomb.

Air Pictorial is published by the Air League of the British Empire.

Mr. James F. Day and Mr. William Hosmer Jr., returned to Kingston, yesterday on business.

Being Instructed

Sweet voiced operators of the Telephone Company are instructing local residents in the use of the dial system expected to go into effect Sunday, March 4th. The instructress calls you to the phone and asks if you are familiar with dialing. If you say "no" the young lady politely gives you the entire low-down in one easy lesson. Oddly enough in these modern times there are many new subscribers who have had to be tutored.

Crashes Through Window

A car driven by Gordon E. Reid, of Toronto, crashed through the window of Reg. W. Armstrong's ticket office on Dundas Street, in the middle of the town, yesterday, following a crazy slide off the approach of the west end of the river bridge. Reid, who was proceeding west lost control on his car coming off the bridge and the next thing he felt was a sudden stop and the tinkling of broken glass. The impact crashed the window frame and the shelf. Damage to the store front amounted to $300. Damage to the car totalled $200.

Fortunately there was no one in the store or sidewalk in the path of the careening auto at the time.

Mrs. Rosenplot had gone to the outdoor sale at the corner of Marmora and Dominion Streets to mail a letter and was on her way back home when in the middle of the street she apparently became excited at the approach of a truck and stepped into the side of the vehicle. Snow and ice covered the street where the accident occurred. The truck was driven by Ernest Morton, 85 West Street.

FREIGHT EMBARGOES

London, Ont., Feb. 1 — (CP) — Canadian National and Canadian Pacific railways in London today received notice to accept no more shipments — either freight or express — for the Chicago area as U.S. lines clamped on embargoes due to an unauthorized strike of American switchmen.

Aged Woman Runs into Side Passing Truck

Trenton—(Special)—Mrs. R. Rosenplot, 75, of 68 Simcoe Street, Trenton, suffered a broken leg and lacerations to her nose and face Wednesday evening when she apparently became confused while crossing the street and ran into the side of a truck. The injured woman was attended by Dr. Gordon Johnston and removed to Belleville General Hospital.

Mrs. Rosenplot had gone to the outdoor sale at the corner of Marmora and Dominion Streets to mail a letter and was on her way back home when in the middle of the street she apparently became excited at the approach of a truck and stepped into the side of the vehicle. Snow and ice covered the street where the accident occurred. The truck was driven by Ernest Morton, 85 West Street.

FOR HAPPINESS
Bluebird
PERFECT DIAMONDS
at
PAUL MERCIER
McCARTHY THEATRE BLDG.

Bulletin No. 351—January 1951

FOR SALE

WAR ASSET SURPLUS

ARMY SOX, grey, all wool, 10½ to 11½ ..... pr. 49c
STATION WAGON, slate, sheepskin lined, moccion for cabin 19.95
MAVY SCARVES — wool — full length 1.25
MAVY SWEATERS — all wool — for navy use 2.95
MAVY BLUE SERGE TROUSERS, regular cut. Reg. $3.95 ..... 2.95
MAVY BELTS — leather — web 1.25
MAVY RAINCOATS—absolutely waterproof, belted waist. 14.95
MAVY JACKETS 4.95
MAVY OFFICERS' TRENCHCOATS—gabardine — silk lined, belted waist, slash pockets 24.95
MAVY DRESS SHIRTS—U.S. type—fantastical broadcloth. 2.44
All sizes.
MAVY BONNER JACKETS — pile cotton—heavy quilted lining. 2.95
Hooded, windproof, waterproof
MAVY WHITE WOOL SWEATERS ..... Navpaka Hood. 1.95
MAVY WHITE WOOL SLACKS 2.95
MAVY BLUE SERGE SHIRTS, flannel ..... Reg. 5.95 ..... 3.95
MAVY DRILL TROUSERS — "Kingpot" — sanforized — 6 pockets. 2.95
MAVY COVERALLS—medium weight—all sizes 2.95
MAVY COVERALLS—heavy weight—sanforized. All sizes 3.95
AIR FORCE CREWCUT SERGE TROUSERS—5 pockets, all sizes 4.95
AIR FORCE CREWCUT SERGE SHIRTS 3.95

AIR FORCE POLICE CHAUFFEUR'S SHIRTS, sanforized, breast pockets, all sizes 3.95
R.C.A.F. DRESS GLOVES—cape, black leather horsehide, all sizes. 1.95
R.C.A.F. DRESS GLOVES—cape, wool lined 1.95
R.C.A.F. MACK SOX, all wool, ribbed, seamless toe 49c
R.C.A.F. PACKSACKS—waterproof straps 2.95
R.C.A.F. RAINCOATS—leather strap 3.95
AIR FORCE BLUE SERGE TROUSERS 3.95
AIR FORCE BLUE SERGE SHIRTS, open fly, fine flannel 3.95
R.C.A.F. FLYING GOGGLES—Hinckle back 1.95
R.C.A.F. FLYING GOGGLES, leather lined, double lens—all sizes 2.95
AIR FORCE OVERALLS, chrome lined 3.95
AIR FORCE RAINCOATS—plastic waterproof type, double back 3.95
U.S.A. LIGHTWEIGHT COMBINATIONS, sanforized, all sizes 2.95
U.S.A. "GUILLOU BOMBER JACKETS" 12.95
U.S.A. ARMY WOOL SHIRTS, sanforized, all sizes 2.95
U.S. ARMY GAS TROUSERS, 2 pockets, olive drab shade 1.95
U.S. ARMY GAS SHIRTS, wool cloth, long sleeves 1.95
VARSAULINS — 9 x 12 (all sizes made to measure) 3.95
CELANESE SUITS — shirts and pants 1.95
ARMY WINTER CAPS 1.95
ARMY WINTER MITTS—leather 1.95
ARMY BOOTS—double soles, horsehide leather 4.95
ARMY WOOL SERGE TROUSERS, 5 pocket ..... 3.95 up
ARMY WOOL SERGE SHIRTS 3.95
UNDERWEAR — COMBS. — all sizes, medium weight—reg. 2.95 ..... 1.95
UNDERWEAR — COMBS. — all sizes, white, cotton ..... 1.98 up
PENMAN'S "21" COMBINATION—all sizes—reg. 3.95 ..... 2.95
HEAVY WOOL SWEATERS—all sizes—Penman quality—fit to 11 ..... 3.95
CARDIGAN SWEATERS—all wool—Penman quality—all shades 3.95
GREY WOOL SWEATERS ..... Sizing ..... 36 to 46 ..... 2.95
DIAMOND SOX—all wool—Argyle design—all sizes 1.25
STANDARD ISSUE SOX—all wool, ribbed, seamless toe, pockets 49c
U.S. ARMY OVERCOATS 14.95
ARMY SLEEPING BAGS—flyer size, pillow, flannel lined, canvas, blanket 9.95
RAINCOAT CAPS, 8-oz. drabin 1.25
ARMY COMPASSES 1.25
U.S. 8-POWER TELESCOPES 1.95
GERMAN 8-POWER TELESCOPES 2.95
GERMAN 7-POWER BINOCULARS, leather carrying case 12.95
U.S. 7-POWER BINOCULARS, complete with case 12.95
7 x 50 BINOCULARS, coated lenses, complete with leather case 29.50
10 x 50 "SURVEYORS" BINOCULARS, coated lenses, complete with leather case 39.50
12-POWER TELESCOPES, British Marine type, leather bound 12.95

BEDDING DEPARTMENT

ARMY DOUBLE DECKER BUNK BEDS, complete with two new mattresses 21.50
Bolt-on-way beds, complete with new mattresses 11.95
CANVAS COTS—folding type, (less) for camp 2.95
FELIAS FOR ARMY COTS, all sizes 1.95
PILLOWS, chicken feather filled, covered ticking, reg. size 1.97
BED SHEETS, double bed size, white cotton ..... each 2.45
ARMY BLANKETS, new, all wool, app. 62 x 82 ..... 2.95
ARMY BLANKETS, like new 1.95
GENUINE KAPOCK BLANKETS, red and green, black stripe, app. 60 x 80 ..... 4.95
COTTON BLANKETS, red and green, app. 60 x 80, pure wool ea. 1.75
DOUBLE BLANKETS, grey, all wool, app. 72 x 84 ..... 3.95
BLANKETS, assorted quality, in shades, first size pieces 2.95
Free delivery ..... gallon 2.95

● 5% OFF TO CUSTOMERS PRESENTING THIS AD.
● QUANTITIES LIMITED.
● PHONE ORDERS ACCEPTED.

WAR ASSET SURPLUS

339 Front Street Phone 3750
BELLEVILLE

Taximen Still Holding Second Place in Loop

Trenton — The Trenton Taximen are still holding down second place after beating the R.C.A.F. as the result of a 5-2 win over Wellington in the Trent Valley South division league game here last night.

Up until the three quarter mark in the first round, however, the teams appeared evenly matched, if anything the boys from the Canning town were a little better. It was at this point a lighter Wellington team playing out against a heavier Trenton aggregation.

The final five minutes of the opening period proved disastrous for the Prince Edward crew when they were outscored three to one after holding the locals scoreless and missing several excellent chances.

The teams:

Wellington: Goal, Parks; defence, Mitchell, Teakey; centre, J. Scott; wings, Twigg, Corke; alternates, Blake, Leavey, Pettigrill, Porter, Holmes, Wattan, Anderson, Channell.

Trenton: Goal, Hill; defence, Campney, Carr; centre, R. Johnson; wings, C. Johnson, Bell; alternates, Blake, Leavey, Beale, Jones, A. Scott, McDonnell, Istead, Barr, Bridgeman.

Referees, Owen Hendy, John Anulen.

1st period

1 Trenton, McDonnell (C. Johnson) 15.55

2 Trenton, McDonnell (C. Johnson) 16.30

3 Trenton, C. Johnson (Bell) 17.20

4 Wellington, Pettingill 19.35

Penalties: Campney (2), Wattan.

2nd period

5 Trenton, R. Johnson (C. Johnson) 5.35

6 Wellington, Stacey (Mitchell) 15.04

Penalties: Bell (2), Wattan (2), Campney.

3rd period

7 Trenton, Campney (Beale) .30

Penalties: Blair (2), Wattan (2), Campney.

Loose Rock Kills Two Gold Miners

Timmins, Ont., Feb. 1 — (CP) — Crushed by a ton and a half of loose rock which plunged down upon them from the hanging wall of a stope in the 1,200-foot level of the nearby Preston East Dome Mines, two miners were killed last night.

Dead are Gerald Proulx, 22, Timmins, and Jacques Gaber of South Porcupine.

Mine officials said the men were operating the mucking machine to clear a drift which had been previously blasted down when the loose rock dislodged itself from the ceiling.

Ernie Devault of Timmins, working partner of the two men, escaped injury when the rock fell.

SUPREME AUTHORITY

The House of Lords is the supreme judicial authority for the United Kingdom.

Human Polar Bear Finds it Too Warm

Pittsburgh, Feb. 1 — (AP) — Dave Nichols changed his mind about swimming in the Allegheny River yesterday. On account of the heat, he said.

Nichols, an agent of the Loyal Order of Moose, is himself a human polar bear. Each year he takes an icy dip "to show the value of being in shape."

The weather man predicted sub-zero weather yesterday. Dave got ready for his annual. A break in the cold wave shot the thermometer up to 25 degrees.

"Too hot," said Dave, tucking his swim suit back in the mothballs.

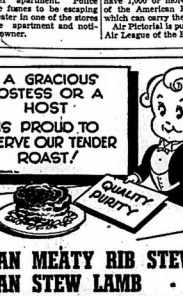
LOTS OF SPACE

Canada has 3.23 persons to the square mile, compared with 307.34 in the United Kingdom.

COULD YOU BE YOUR OWN EXECUTOR?

IF that were possible, you could be sure that your plans for your estate were carried out in accordance with your wishes. By naming The Sterling Trusts Corporation as your executor and planning with their assistance, you can make certain that your will be faithfully and efficiently carried out in a friendly spirit which may mean much to the beneficiaries. Let's talk it over without obligation.

THE STERLING TRUSTS CORPORATION
372 Bay Street, Toronto 1
88 years in Business



Savoury Rich SHORT RIBS lb 71c
Standing RIB ROAST .. lb 79c
BLADE (Bone Removed) ROAST ..... lb 69c
Small Link Pork Sausage .. lb 49c
Lean Thin PORK CHOPS lb 59c
Fresh Veal Patties .... lb 49c

LEAN MEATY RIB STEW ..... lb. 43c
LEAN STEW LAMB ..... lb. 39c
MEATY PORK NECK BONES - - - - 2 lbs. 25c

YORK BRAND PEARS 15 oz. Keifer style can 18c

HIGH GRADE CANNED VEGETABLES - JUST BEAR IN MIND, OUR SHELVES ARE STOCKED WITH EVERY KIND!

COLUMBIA Raspberries Choice quality.. 15-oz. can 29c

KRAFT MIRACLE WHIP 16-ounce jar 49c

STOKELY PEAS 15-ounce tin 17c

READY CUT MACARONI 2 lbs. 23c

SILVER LAKE SALMON ½-lb. tin 25c

FRESH CREAMERY BUTTER Lb. 63c

LIBBY'S SPAGHETTI 15-oz. tin 2 for 27c

RINSO with Bar of SUNLIGHT Large Pkg. 42c

Fruit Juice Sale
No. 2 Can GRAPEFRUIT 13c
20-oz. tin BLENDED JUICE 15c
48-oz. tin TOMATO JUICE 27c

YOU'LL ENJOY PANCAKES MADE WITH AUNT JEMIMA PANCAKE FLOUR

WISE BUYS! Fresh FRUITS & VEGETABLES WISE BUYS!

MEXICAN, Thin Skinned ORANGES, heavy with juice doz. 43c
FLORIDA, FRESH GREEN CELERY ..... bunch 17c
IMPORTED (Original Bunches) CARROTS ..... 2 for 29c

Start Your Breakfast Right GRAPEFRUIT ..... 6 for 29c
ICEBERG HEAD LETTUCE ..... 2 for 29c

Buckley's FOOD MARKET
Phone 4400-4401 Corner VICTORIA AVE. and FRONT ST.
GROCERIES ... MEATS ... FRUITS

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur McCornock, of Bongard's were recent guests in Picton, of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Alexander.

• • •

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Goodman and family, were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Davis, Bowery Street, Picton.

• • •

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Mellot were recent guests at Point Petre, of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Snider

• • •

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Kinnear and Murray, were recent guest of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Wood, Bowerman's.

• • •

Mr. John McCurdy spent a few days last week, the guest of his brother, Russell McCurdy and Mrs. McCurdy, North Lake.

• • •

Mrs. Robert Brown is spending the week in Ottawa, the guest of relatives.

• • •

Mr. Cecil Morton, of Kaslo, B.C., arrived by plane to spend a month with her mother, Mrs. Harper McElrath, who is a patient in Belleville General Hospital.

• • •

Miss Nellie Wilbur is spending the winter in St. Petersburg, Florida, and has attended the Festival of States parade in which each State was represented by a magnificent float.

• • •

Mrs. William Elliott, who has been a patient in the Belleville General Hospital for some time, is now convalescing at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. Langabeer, 66 Cedar Street.

• • •

Mrs. Lena Brohum and Miss Myrtle Benn, of the Imperial Optical staff, Toronto, spent the weekend at their home in the city and attended the Optical dance last Friday evening, at Tobey's County Gardens.

• • •

The many friends of June Scriven, 136 Dundas Street West, will be sorry to learn she is a patient at the Belleville General Hospital, where she has undergone an appendectomy.

WEDDINGS

DEMILLE—DONALDSON

A pretty, but quiet wedding was solemnized on Thursday, January 11, at 2:30 p.m., in Riverside Tabernacle, Flint, Michigan, when Doreen Donaldson, of Barry's Bay, formerly of Belleville, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Donaldson, became the bride of Earl DeMille, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur DeMille, of Flint, Michigan. The Reverend F. Jolly, pastor of the Tabernacle, officiated.

The bride was becomingly attired in a navy ensemble with navy and white accessories and wore an orchid corsage. Her only attendant was Mrs. Edna Radcliffe, who, as matron of honor, wore an attractive dark rose ensemble with grey accessories and corsage of yellow roses.

Mr. Darrell Radcliffe, of California, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, acted as best man.

Following the reception, which was held at the bridegroom's home, the young couple left for a wedding trip to Canada, and will later reside in Flint, Michigan.

THOMPSON—EVANS

Tall standards of white baby 'mums and pink snapdragons formed a lovely background at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Evans, Belleville, on Saturday, January 27, at three o'clock, for the wedding of their daughter, Kathryn Anne, who was united in marriage to William Baxter Thompson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas C. Thompson, of Belleville. The Reverend Duncan McTavish, pastor of Bridge Street United Church, assisted by the Reverend J. Goforth Hornaby, of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was radiant in her bridal gown of French lace, silk net and tulle, fashioned with molded lace bodice, long tight-fitting sleeves ending in lily-points over the wrists; Peter Pan collar. The bouffant skirt featured silk net over white taffeta, and ended in a slight train. Her full length veil of silk tulle illusion was caught to a scalloped halo of pale-pink sequins, outlined by seed pearls, and she carried a cascade bouquet of red Bettertime roses tied with white satin ribbon.

Pictured cutting their wedding cake, at a very pretty wedding, are Mr. and Mrs. William Baxter Thompson. The bride was the former Kathryn Evans, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Evans, of Belleville, and the bridegroom, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas C. Thompson, also of Belleville. — (Photo by William R. Riley.)

Miss Barbara Evans, of Sarnia, sister of the bride, was the only attendant, attractively gowned in rose-pink net over taffeta, with satin jacket, and carried a shower bouquet of pink Briarcliffe roses with blue streamers.

Mr. William Vaughan, of Belleville, attended the bridegroom, and the ushers were, Mr. Donald McGibbon, of Sarnia, Ontario; Mr. John Hadfield, of Belleville, brother-in-law of the bride.

The reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, where the bride's mother, wearing sheer crepe of powder blue with navy accessories, and corsage of pink Briarcliffe roses and white baby 'mums, received the guests, assisted by the bridegroom's mother, who was gowned in navy blue silk crepe with navy accessories and a corsage of red Bettertime roses.

Following the reception, the young couple left for Toronto, St. Catharines and the United States, and will upon their return reside in Belleville.

Out-of-town guests included, Miss Alma Baxter, Dr. Wallace Baxter and Mrs. Baxter, of Hamilton, Ontario; Mr. and Mrs. Murray Dingle, and daughters, Joan and Ruth, of Toronto, and Mr. Donald McGibbon, of Sarnia.

Elevator Girl Says Most Men Courteous

Toronto. (CP)—Whatever the critics say, most men are polite to women, according to a Toronto girl whose job brings her into contact with thousands of men every day.

In fact, handsome, brown-eyed Isabelle Bonnell sometimes wishes that the average man were a little less courteous when meeting strange females.

As supervisor of nine girl elevator operators in the 17-storey Bank of Commerce, it's Isabelle's responsibility to transport about 8,000 persons up and down every working day.

Although the four passenger elevators travel at 700 feet a minute, Isabelle during her 11 years on the job has found that polite men interfere considerably with a smooth flow of passengers.

Gentlemen waste both time and space, she explains, by waiting for women to leave an elevator first and by taking off their hats in the elevator. The ensuing delays mean angry buzzing by waiting passengers and jangled nerves for the operators.

But Isabelle doesn't really want men to act brusquely when they enter her elevators. Although gentlemen are, a nuisance, she's not really angry at them.

To prove it, she passes on this up to men who want an expert ruling on their appearance: "Watch the girl operator's face; if they curl up when you approach, you rate as quite a hunk of man. And if they curl up and she bends over and pushes them down, you're terrific!"

Stage Director Solves Problem

Toronto, (CP)—The problem of choosing between marriage and a career has confronted many young women, but it was no dilemma for Eleanor Evans. The stage director of the world-famed D'Oyly Carte Opera Company has both.

About 30 years ago Eleanor Evans was an aspiring young English concert singer whose teachers had earnestly advised her to continue her studies in Vienna.

But Derrell Fancourt, who was rapidly making his name in D'Oyly Carte's productions of Gilbert and Sullivan operas, had other ideas, chief of which was a wedding ring for Miss Evans.

Voice and Vienna lost out, if only temporarily. The new Mrs. Fancourt toured England with her husband until one day she, too, was asked to join D'Oyly Carte. Singing again, she managed to work in some concert work of her own between roles in Gilbert and Sullivan favorites.

During the Second World war Miss Evans decided to leave the company. The lure of greasepaint and footlights was too strong, however, and in 1948 she came back, this time as stage director instead of singer.

Miss Evans is charged with seeing that no modern nonsense creeps in to spoil the glitter of the beloved light operas. She drills the company chorus, trains understudies, oversees scenery and lighting and costumes and watches the troupe's speech for slang.

"It's just like having an immense family to manage," Miss Evans smiles.

COSTLY BEDS

Vancouver, (CP)—Charles Welsford the thieves who took the bronze bust of H.R. Nagy chrysanthemums in his flower shop. Packrats under a nearby storage room had lined their beds with the petals. "That's too expensive a lining," he said as he called the exterminator.

VI-TONE
FOR AFTER-SCHOOL APPETITES
Ideal for overseas packages

New Methods Used in Reform School For Girls

Gainesville, Texas, (AP)—They've reformed the School for Girls here.

Now the Texas State Training School for Girls is more like a private school than a reform school. But there will be no mollycoddling.

Help a girl help herself; give her back her self respect—that's what Mrs. Maude Burlingham, the superintendent, and her assistants want to do.

"When I came here 18 months ago," said Mrs. Burlingham, "the girls wore blue denim uniforms. Those who were being disciplined had their heads shaved and were shackles."

It's different now. Being disciplined means room detention.

"You put a girl in her room, allow her to see no one," Mrs. Burlingham said. "It may take two days, maybe four days, but that girl sends me a note saying 'Mrs. Burlingham, please come see me.' That's when you can talk to her."

An uncooperative attitude warrants disciplinary treatment. A committee of officials at the schools decides when a girl has shown such an attitude. Room detention may run from a week to a month.

Normal Clothes

The 180 girls at the school live in three brick, two-story cottages, with a housemother and her assistant in charge of each cottage.

They don't march; they stroll normally. They eat at tables which their families have sent them. If they have no family, the school finds clothes any ordinary girl would wear. They wear lipstick and other makeup if their family sends it to them.

One mild, sunny day the campus in the back grove on a hill outside Gainesville was as clean as an army camp on inspection day. The basketball team in their new bright blue uniforms were practising in the gym. No supervision. The girls know if they don't behave they can't play on the team.

Classes were on in the school building. Formal instruction is given from the third grade through high school. The school also offers classes in business, in cosmetology, in vocational nursing, in cooking and sewing, in metal and leather arts and crafts,

Canadian Team Creates New British Swimsuit

By MURIEL NARRAWAY

London—(CP)—Color combinations inspired by Canadian scenery have set a new fashion note in British swimsuit wear.

Created by a husband-and-wife team from Montreal's Snowdon district, the suits bring a "something new and different" quality into stores for years content with less spectacular models.

For 37-year-old Henry Klyne and his wife, Eileen, color and imaginative design are the first essentials in an attack on the British market.

"We both love color," Mrs. Klyne said in an interview. "We base many of our color combinations on the clear-cut brightness of Canadian backgrounds. We try to achieve the vividness of a Canadian sunrise or sunset."

The color campaign struck a snag in the early stages because the Klynes couldn't find the right kind of screen-printed materials. So they set up their own printing works and developed a new printing technique. The designing is the work of Henry, formerly a fashion designer in Canada.

Now each suit has an individual screen-printed design depicting typical London, seaside or playtime themes. Mostly strapless, the suits are pastel-shaded and printed in vivid colors.

Festival Featured

Typical of the Klyne suits is a two-piece number designed for the Festival of Britain. This shows the buildings on the festival site on the south side of the Thames and a bridge crossed by two bright-red London buses. In the background bursting fireworks shower colored stars across the suit.

Another festival scene has Trafalgar Square in one corner, topped by encircled drawings of such places as St. Paul's Cathedral and the Tower Bridge. A strapped, one-piece suit shows a London square filled with traffic and fronted by a helmeted traffic cop.

Happy to have made a success of their London venture, the Klynes still miss Canada, Canadian friendship, and Montreal's French menus. "There's no place like Montreal and we'd love to go back," said Mrs. Klyne.

The Klynes first came to England on holiday, were asked by relatives to stay, and the business resulted. They have two children, Angela and Peter.

FLUID MILK SALES

Ottawa, Feb. 1.—(CP)—Combined sales of fluid milk and cream increasing two per cent during November and the first 11 months of 1950 over in the corresponding periods of 1949, the Bureau of Statistics reported on Wednesday. Sales of 348,578,000 pounds during November brought the 11-month total to 3,802,718 pounds.

LENGTHY WORK

Richard Wagner, great German composer, wrote the music-drama "The Ring" over a period of thirty years.

Quick Relief From ARTHRITIC Pain

Are you discouraged by the day-and-night suffering you have had to endure? Has the old pain made you feel hopeless and helpless? Then here is good news for thousands of such sufferers from arthritis, neuritis, rheumatism, sciatica, lumbago, functional backache and Neuritic pain—from Lumbago, Gout and Neuralgia—use Thorogleeze's Pain-Ex and find the relief they have longed for! Over 19 million Pain-Ex's were used last year. Why not give them a chance to help you? 60c, $1.15 at drug counters. 94

Miss Elda Daniels Addresses W.M.S. Cobourg Presbyterial

Wooler — The annual meeting of the Cobourg Presbyterial of the Women's Missionary Society of the United Church of Canada was held in the United Church, Port Hope on January 25th with morning and afternoon sessions. Mrs. F. G. Hall, of Canton, presided.

Camborne Auxiliary conducted the morning worship service, the theme being "Peace."

Mrs. A. Brereton, president of Port Hope Evening Auxiliary extended a cordial welcome to the delegates and visitors, stressing the brotherhood of man in her brief address.

Money For Missionary Residences

Mrs. C. W. McMaster, treasurer, reported the total amount raised by all branches was $11,713.75. 718.65 as increase of $383.65 over the allocation. It was decided to request this amount be used for missionary residences in Chisamba, Angola, Africa and Abitusat, B.C. Sixteen afternoon auxiliaries and five evening auxiliaries exceeded their allocation.

Mrs. Elvine Evans Warkworth, Christian Stewardship Secretary, stated the 1951 allocation would be the same as last year, namely, $11,230 which was accepted by a standing vote.

Mrs. C. H. Underwood, Grafton, Mission Band secretary, awarded certificates to nine Bands and stars to others.

A brief preview of the literature for sale was given by the secretary, Mrs. May Roberts, of Colborne. Mrs. Roberts stated that five books per member must be read to be in line for the book shelf prize.

Mrs. Gordon Watts, Christian Stewardship secretary of the Dominion Board, was introduced and gave the address of the morning session speaking on co-operation, one must co-operate to carry on successfully. Each little part is so necessary and all must be working.

For 11 weeks in the summer, over 300 students, several being women, go to isolated places all across Canada to hold church services and in many other ways let these lonely people know the Christian Church cares for them.

Begin Life Anew

Other types of service are the Summer Vacation School held for two weeks in the summer where boys and girls are taught the Bible, hand-crafts and other subjects of interest to them. Three thousand dollars has been set aside for Sunday School by mail and the study papers and other supplies can go regularly to isolated areas in nine districts across Canada. 2,000 immigrants who have come to Canada look forward to the chance to start life over again, are met at the ports and given a welcome by the church and assisted in many ways. She closed her address by urging all to give of their time, ability and possessions and He will award them ten fold.

Mrs. E. K. Bradshaw of Cobourg, introduced Miss Elda Daniels, of Korea, who spoke briefly.

Mrs. Gardiner made mention of the Mrs. W. L. Smyth Memorial Fund and suggested all wishing to contribute to do so during the noon hour.

A delicious dinner was enjoyed by all in the Sunday School rooms. During the dinner hour greetings from the conference branch were extended by Mrs. F. W. K. Harris, of Peterborough, the president and from the Cobourg Presbytery by its chairman, Rev. Mr. Larke of Cobourg. Mrs. H. Allin of Castleton expressed the thanks of the delegates to the Port Hope societies.

Afternoon Session

The afternoon session opened with an impressive "In Remembrance Service" conducted by the Bethesda South Auxiliary when white carnations were placed in a vase on the altar in loving memory of the faithful members who had been called to higher service.

Miss Elda Daniels wearing a silk Korean costume gave an address on her work in that country. Her first term 1936-1941 was spent in north Korea where she taught in the Bible Institute after learning the language. When she returned to Korea in 1946 she was not allowed to enter the northern part of the country but worked in Seoul as professor of Christian education in Ewha university.

Women were not educated until about 65 years ago, now hundreds of them are studying in this university. She organized Christian social work in 1947 and trained 15 girls who made a survey of living conditions only to find extreme poverty and illiteracy. Only half of the population can read or write.

During the holidays 51 girls in teams of three were sent out to different places to survey conditions. Love in action was what they tried to show. Roads in Korea are just what the name is, cold is much the same as here but there is no fuel and thousands die of cold and hunger.

38th Parallel a Mistake

Communism does not help people as there is a vast contrast in the standard of living between the Orient and Canada. Miss Daniels thinks a great blunder was made at the Yalta conference when it divided the country in two and south of the 38th parallel. Food and textiles were in the south and electric power and minerals in the north; Russia in power in the north, began its propaganda and trouble began, Korea in 4,000 years of history never started a war and wants to govern itself. They hate the Japanese and would fight them but not then the Chinese. She thinks the United States intervention was right and had hoped would succeed then, after policing the country for a while, would withdraw and leave them to themselves for freedom is their right.

All Canadian missionaries are safe, some having been flown to Japan, but some American missionaries and Salvation Army officers working north of the 38th parallel have not been heard of. It looks as though the south will fall on missionary work in the Orient for the time being as all missionaries in China are to come home in the spring. Although the picture is dark at present God has His own plan and Korea must be in it somewhere.

Delegates Appointed

The 1952 presbyterial will be held in Campbellford. Mrs. Hawkins of Campbellford and R. C. White of Roseneath, were appointed delegates from the presbyterial to the board meeting to be held in Belleville early in April. Mrs. F. W. K. Harris, branch president took charge of the election of officers and conducted the installation. Mrs. F. F. Gardiner of Canton was re-elected president. Port Hope C.G.I.T. conducted the closing worship service.

WEST HUNTINGDON

Mr., Mrs. C. Wright Honored by Relatives

West Huntingdon — A most delightful evening was spent at Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Wright's home on Tuesday evening, when members of the Cooke and Wright families gathered to congratulate Mr. and Mrs. Wright on their 22nd wedding anniversary.

Mr. Arthur Wilson acted as chairman for a short program. Lois Cooke and Eleanor Wright contributed a duet; piano and violin selections were given by Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Stapley; Mrs. George Ashley gave a piano solo; Miss Audrey Purdy of Belleville, was heard in a delightful solo.

The Misses Eleanor Wright, Lois Cooke, Donna Stapley and Audrey Purdy gave leadership in singing a couple of songs.

Mr. George Ashley read the special address and Mr. Dan Cooke presented the honored couple with a set of dishes for which they both voiced their appreciation. Refreshments brought this pleasant evening to a close.

TAX RATE UP

Hamilton, Feb. 1.—(CP)—Mayor Lloyd Jackson yesterday predicted an increase in the city's 1951 tax rate but would not estimate the amount.

RAISE FUNDS FOR NEW MONASTERY

Citizens of Monte Cassino, famous Italian battleground of World War II, are rallying for funds to finance the building of a new cathedral to take the place of the one destroyed during the war. During the drive, this famous "Madonna of the Assumption" statue, which remained intact when the smoke of battle was cleared from the blasted area is being carried throughout the countryside on the shoulders of a selected group of townspeople, to gather the offerings of the citizenza. — Central Press Canadian.

Inkspots Take Over Top In Major 'B' League

The Inkspot team in the Major "B" Bowling League broke a first place tie this week in group standings by taking seven points from the Saco team. The two crews were tied for the group's top slot until the Inkers broke loose this week.

High triple for the night was rolled by Mickey Moreau. Moreau had a high three of 803, with his top single being 281. Second high triple was Bill Rawson's 778. He had a top single of 328 in his string. Third in the triple line was W. Colclough with 725, including a 311 single.

In other league games, the Optical crew picked up seven points from Hibbard's who defaulted. Meade-Johnson keglers made a clean sweep, taking seven from the Just Us team. Inkspots, in their game, rolled 3325 against Saco's 2813; Opticals piled up 2842 points in their defaulted game; and Meade-Johnson walloped Just Us 2698 to 2394.

JUNIOR P. B. I.

Halifax—(CP)—A "detective agency" for tracing lost garments has been set up on the Dalhousie University campus here. The office of the Dalhousie Gazette is serving as a clearing house for information lost or stolen goods.

Bull Elk Victim Of Wolf Pack

North Bay, Ont., Feb. 1 — (CP) — The carcass of a huge bull elk torn by wolves roaming the Red Bridge area, was found Tuesday on the Timiskaming highway about 20 miles north of here.

This was the latest of several reports of wolf packs hunting and killing elk in this region.

A highway survey crew found the carcass. They said the elk's spine was snapped and the hindquarters badly chewed. The kill was definitely the work of wolves they said.

6TH SIDNEY

6th Sidney—All are glad to report that Mrs. Ross Dafoe was able to leave Belleville General Hospital on Saturday and is spending a few days with her mother, Mrs. S. W. Lloyd and her sister, Mrs. Hugh Gray on the 4th of Sidney.

Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Rose were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Lott

Mr. and Mrs. Edison Sine spent Sunday in Peterborough guests of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Morley.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Heeslip, of Rose Island, were Saturday supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Scott.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Rose attended the Stirling band banquet on Saturday evening at Tobe's County Gardens.

Mr. and Mrs. Orval Berry and children were Sunday supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Scott.

Miss Thyra Rose spent Sunday at the home of her brother, Mr. Carl Rose.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Richards and family were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Sine and Mr. Egbert Sine.

Quite a number from this way attended the funeral of the late Mrs. Charlie Bolstridge at the Belleville Burial Company Funeral Home on Friday afternoon.

Mrs. H. W. Rose spent Thursday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Rose.

Mr. and Mrs. Carman Frost and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Phillips spent Saturday evening in Trenton, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Avery Martyn.

ALLAN'S MILLS

Allans Mills — Mrs. F. Wildman and Wayne visited Mrs. G. Burkill, on Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Stiles attended the card party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Mumby at Springbrook, on Tuesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Anderson of Campbellford were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fred McKeown, on Wednesday.

Mrs. S. McInroy has returned home from Belleville Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Mac Day of Tronica, spent the weekend with Mr. Will Rowe and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Barlow and Mr. A. S. McKeown were among those who spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Barnum.

Mrs. Gerald Broadworth and Mrs. Ralph Wellman were the hostesses at a Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Broadworth, for a euchre party in aid of the community centre. Several tables of progressive euchre were played and dainty refreshments served.

Birthday Party

Mr. and Mrs. Fred McKeown entertained a number of relatives to tea on Friday evening in honor of Mrs. McKeown's birthday. Mrs. John Morton, who celebrated her 89th birthday that same day. Mrs. Morton is enjoying fair health again following her recent illness before Christmas. Among the guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Reid and Marjorie; Mr. Morton Reid; Mrs. John Reid of Rylestone; Mrs. John Hallstone and Mr. and Mrs. Ted Hallstone of Madoc and Mr. Rob. Scarlett. Owing to the epidemic of mumps, Messrs. Bill and Dick Morton and families were unable to be present.

Mr. and Mrs. Buck, Mr. G. Meiklejohn and Jack, visited Mr. and Mrs. Fred Elliott, of Moira.

Miss Donna Bateman spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. A. Pigden of Madoc.

Mrs. Murrey Mason, of Almonte, spent the weekend at his home.

Miss Marilyn Murphy spent the weekend at her home, at Lindsay.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Willis enjoyed a motor trip to Niagara and Buffalo recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Burkitt and family were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harry McAdam, on Sunday W. I.

The Women's Institute members and visitors met at the home of Mrs. W. J. Barlow on Wednesday afternoon. Mrs John McKeown was in charge and opened the meeting.

A letter of appreciation was read from Mrs. Thos. Webb.

Mrs. Thos. Gordanier was in charge of the program on Home Economics and gave an address on "Lady Tweedsmuir".

Mrs. J. F. Baker conducted a discussion on "Making Use of things of little value". Mrs. Baker also put on a demonstration in rug making.

Mrs. G. Meiklejohn demonstrated several patterns of smocking and decoration of children's dressed. Mrs. A. Burkitt gave a reading on "Home".

The Springbrook Women's Institute will celebrate their 30th anniversary on Feb. 6th in the Orange Hall at Springbrook. Several institutes are being invited to attend. The meeting will be held in the afternoon.

Mrs. Mel Neal and Mrs. Al Williams will be the reception committee. Refreshments were served by the hostess and her assistants.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Grenville Meiklejohn, on February 28th.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Jeffery and family, Napanee, Mr. and Mrs. Reg. McKeown and Billie and Mr. and Mrs. L. Mumby were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. Mumby.

IMMEDIATE DELIVERY

or $5.00 WILL HOLD TILL APRIL 1st.

REFRIGERATORS

$329.50

SEALED UNIT

8 CU. FT. CAPACITY

5 YEAR GUARANTEE

RACKS ON DOOR

BILL DELINE LTD.

Distributors for

FIRESTONE — ROY — NORGE—ROGERS MAJESTIC FAIRBANKS MORSE

285 Coleman St. Phone 3211

Your Firestone Dealer

Just In Time For Valentine's Day

A LARGE SHIPMENT OF 21"

LADIES' WARDROBE CASES

WITH HANGERS — AT ATTRACTIVE PRICES

MANUFACTURERS CLEARING LINES

THESE ARE REAL VALUES.

ON SALE FRIDAY and SATURDAY ONLY

DYBLE'S LEATHER GOODS

21 BRIDGE STREET EAST — BELLEVILLE

"A GRIP FOR EVERY TRIP"

Keeps Any Complexion Lovelier

SPECIAL

PRE EASTER VALUE

SUITS

TWEED and FLANNEL SUITS — FOR BOYS. SIZES 4, 5, 6, 6X.

Reg. $14.95 to $15.95

$10.95

TINY TOT TOWN

30 BRIDGE ST. EAST PHONE 874

Test Shop A&P

...And You'll See That Your Savings

On A&P's Storewide Everyday Low Prices Are Far Greater Than On Just A Few "Week-End Specials"

There are more than 300 shopping days in the year, but an average of only 104 Fridays and Saturdays. So by offering low prices every day, instead of just on week-ends, A&P triples your chances to save money. What's more, by offering these everyday low prices on hundreds of items throughout the store, instead of just a few "specials" here and there, A&P multiplies your chances to save money many times. It's easy to see this results in much bigger savings on your total food bill. Easy to see how much bigger, too. Simply test shop A&P by getting all your food and household needs here for a week. Then compare your total bill with what you normally spend. The difference in size will be a pleasant surprise.

All Prices Shown Here, Not Merely Grocery Prices, Are Guaranteed Thurs., Feb. 1 through Wed., Feb. 7

A&P's PRICE POLICY

- Storewide low prices on hundreds of items every day . . . instead of just a few "one-day" or "week-end" specials.
- Advertised prices are guaranteed for one week, even though market prices go up.

We believe this policy helps our customers save money.

- With the correct price marked on every item, plus an itemized cash register slip . . . you know what you save at A&P.

For Shrove Tuesday

Aunt Jemima Pancake Flour	pkg	19c
Beehive Corn Syrup	2-lb tin	29c
Grove Maple Syrup	16-oz tin	49c
Ann Page Old Fashioned Cookies	pkg	25c
Custom Ground Bokar Coffee	lb	92c
Premium Christie's Sodas	1-lb pkg	27c

A&P SUPER RIGHT QUALITY MEATS

WHY PAY FOR EXCESS BONE AND WASTE? SHOP AT A&P AND GET MORE MEAT FOR YOUR MONEY, FOR EVERY CUT IS WELL TRIMMED BEFORE WEIGHING, AND THE BEEF IS CANADA'S FINEST QUALITY, RED OR BLUE BRAND BEEF.

Blade Roast	Blade Bone Out	lb	69c
Short Rib Roast		lb	72c
Flat Rib Brisket		lb	43c
Pork Side Ribs		lb	49c
Pork Kidneys	Choice	lb	25c
Bacon	Swift's rindless	½-lb pkg	34c
Wieners	Swift's	1-lb pkg	52c

Swift's 'Tender Grown' CHICKEN Milk Fed Grade A

Eviscerated	lb	69c
Necks and Backs	lb	19c
Legs, Breasts and Thighs	lb	89c
Wings	lb	59c

Old Cheese	Fine	lb	45c
Domestic	Shortening	lb	35c
Ju-Jubes	A&P Fresh Candy	12-oz pkg	32c
Jello	Jelly Powders	3 pkgs	28c
Heinz Ketchup	Tomato	13-oz bt	25c
Quaker Oats	Quick or Regular	48-oz pkg	35c
Vita "B"	Kawad	Make the	29c

Test Shop—A&P Super Markets

A&P Fruits & Vegetables

Grapefruit	Florida No. 1, 96's	10 for	49c
Rhubarb	Native Grown Hothouse, No. 1	lb	19c
Shallots	Imported, Large Fresh Bunches, No. 1	2 for	19c
Celery Stalks	Florida Pascal, No. 1	2 for	29c
Tomatoes	Fresh Hand Selected, No. 1	ceilo pkg	29c
Spinach	Fresh Green, Washed, No. 1	ceilo pkg	25c

ADVICE to the LOVELORN

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

Let your friend manage her own affairs.

Dear Miss Fairfax:

I am writing to you about the best friend I ever had. We have been friends for ten years.

The story is that there is a man with whom she is in love. She has been dating him for four years, although not steadily, and I know he doesn't love her. He wanted me, but I wasn't fool enough to go with him and wait until he got through business school, which he is attending now, and then find that he ended up marrying someone else. I told this girl that she can't trust him. He made a date with her and didn't show up, and I think if he really thought anything of her he would have called up and let her know he couldn't come. He never thought of sending her a Christmas card or writing her, and I don't see how she can love him. She will make some man a wonderful wife some day, but not him. Men are crazy about her, and she turns them down and says she doesn't love them.

Please tell her how foolish she is. She is 29 years old, and I want her to get married soon.

T. Y.

Dear T.Y.:

As I have often said, there is no more thankless job than to try and advise anyone else about a romance. Since your friend is 29 years old, she should be mature enough to make her own decisions about what she shall do, and with whom she shall go, and I doubt very much if she wants any suggestions from anyone else, no matter how good a friend.

You say this man wanted you to go with him. You also think for a minute you could possibly be a little jealous do you, now that he is going with your friend?

If you are wise, you will stop trying to run your friend's life, even though you think she may be making mistakes. Most human beings, unfortunately perhaps, prefer to make their own mistakes, rather than be saved from them by others. Certainly I would not tell your friend she is being foolish, or intrude with any other comments when I have neither been asked by her for them nor given any information that would make it possible for me to form an intelligent opinion of the situation.

Certainly invite this boy to your party

Dear Miss Fairfax:

I am 18 and while I was away this summer, I met a very nice boy three years older than myself. We went together all summer and he continued to date me after I got home. Then, all of a sudden, I didn't hear from him any more.

Now I am planning to have a party for my nineteenth birthday and would like to ask this boy. Would you please tell me if this would be proper?

L. C.

Dear L.C.:

There would be no harm at all in giving this boy a friendly invitation to your party and it would no doubt show you whether or not he still has any interest in you. If he accepts the invitation, well and good. If he doesn't of course you won't try to start up the friendship again on your own initiative, but will wait for him to make a move if he wishes to do so.

MARIO . . . in his distinctive feature about Food . . . What's Cooking?

"If only I can reach the season of the first strawberries," Fontenelle, an old Frenchman, used to say. He lived to a ripe old age, and he gave strawberries credit for his longevity. They cured him of the Spring fever and lazy ache, he said.

While frozen sliced strawberries are high in price, they are usually cheaper, and considerably better in quality, than fresh strawberries sold in the winter.

Some brands are, in fact, better than many fresh strawberries brought to market during the regular summer season. The rich heavy syrup in which they are packed is almost as good as the berries, and the fruit is uniformly ripe but not mushy. There is just enough tartness to keep the flavor completely natural.

Strawberry refrigerator cake is a gelatin dessert made with sliced frozen strawberries and whipped cream. It is put into a container lined with sponge cake or lady fingers and then chilled until the form can be sliced.

Strawberry Refrigerator Cake. Serves 6

1 package strawberry gelatin
1 package frozen sliced strawberries
1-8 teaspoon [illegible] rind
1-2 teaspoon[illegible] juice
1 cup heavy cream
12 lady fingers, split lengthwise

Thaw the frozen sliced strawberries. Drain the juice. Add to the juice enough water to make 2 cups.

Bring the liquid to a boil. Remove from fire. Add the gelatin and stir to dissolve. Add the salt and lemon rind. Put the mixture in the refrigerator and chill until cold and just beginning to jell. The mixture should be somewhat syrupy.

Beat the heavy cream until thick. Fold the cream into the gelatin mixture. Fold the strawberries into the mixture.

Line a rectangular pan or baking dish with waxed paper. Place sheets of the paper lengthwise and crosswise, so that the ends of pages extend over the edges of the pan.

Line the bottom and sides of pan with lady fingers. Pour the gelatin mixture into the pan. Top with lady fingers.

Place the pan in the refrigerator to chill until stiff. Unmold on serving platter. Cut into portions.

GOOD MANNERS

By MRS. BEECKMAN

Concerning reply cards and reception menus

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

There seems to be a difference of opinion among my relatives and friends about reply cards to be enclosed with formal wedding invitations. I'm inviting about 125 guests to my four o'clock wedding in our church and also an inviting all of them to the reception, immediately after. I thought that at that time of day (and I believe I read this in your column, too) I could plan to serve only small simple sandwiches, little cakes, the wedding cake, coffee, and champagne. But some say that if I enclose reply cards the guests will expect to have an elaborate buffet meal, whereas if I don't enclose reply cards, the simple refreshments will be considered suitable. What's the answer about this, Mrs. Beeckman.

R. M. D.

The first answer is that reply cards are incorrect, never to be indulged in for the benefit of those lazy and discourteous weaklings who haven't enough backbone to write their own reply to such a fine and important gesture as an invitation to a wedding and reception. All they need do, if accepting, is to write on the first page of a piece of note-paper:

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Allen accept with pleasure the kind invitation of
Mr. and Mrs. Jones
for Tuesday, the sixth of March
Or, if regretting, change the second line to "regret that they are unable to accept."

So you should follow the conventional and traditional form for asking for a reply to the reception invitation: R.s.v.p.

And there is absolutely no connection between asking for a reply to the invitation and the type of foods to be served. Today the common wedding receptions, whether formal or informal, the food provided is usually extremely simple . . . usually just the menu you have in mind to serve at your reception. (Sometimes ice cream or water ice is added, but this is not necessary.) The point is that at a late-afternoon reception a tea-menu is appropriate to serve, and you need have no worry about planning to serve (and pay for!) elaborate foods.

When the hostess wins the prize

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

Recently twelve of us have formed a bridge club, and each member takes her turn in having the meeting at her house and providing and serving the refreshments after the game. We decided on a definite amount to be spent on prizes, and at each meeting every member pays her quota of that amount to be spent on the prizes for the next meeting. In case the hostess-of-the-day should win the prize, would it be considered proper for her to keep it, or should she give it to the player with the next highest score?

R. M.

It should be taken for granted that the hostess will keep the prize she wins. As a club member she contributed her share to the prize, and as a player she wins the prize. And this is quite apart from the fact that she happens to be the hostess.

Club Activities

SPENCER M.B.

2nd Thurlow — Mrs. Archie Greatrix, leader for the Spencer Mission Band, entertained the members and several ladies of the community for their meeting and social time, last month.

Anne Simmons rendered "Galway Bay," and Rev. L. Scott, Shannonville, led in prayer. Miss Doris Stapley read the Scripture; Mrs. Greatrix told a lovely story; Patsy Thompson and Doris Stapley sang a duet, "Joy to the World." Rev. Scott commended the members on their work and efforts, and spoke of their singing which was well done and invited them down to help out at Shannonville some time. Doris and Margaret Thompson sang "Oh Come All Ye Faithful."

Mrs. Scott spoke briefly, encouraging them in their work.

Refreshments were served by the hostess and parents.

R. M.

Mission Band

The January meeting of the Mission Band was held after school. Mrs. Greatrix opened the meeting with Miss Kerr, teacher of S. S. No. 4, at the piano.

Anne Simmons, read the Benediction; Doris Stapley read the Scripture from St. Mark 10:13-16. Mrs. Greatrix told of the children in Japan, also a story of the "Food."

Anne Simmons gave a reading and led in prayer.

As this was the last meeting which Anne would attend, all sang "God Be With You Till We Meet Again."

FIRE DESTROYS STORES

Houston, Tex., Jan. 31 — (AP) —Houston's worst downtown fire in 20 years burned out seven stores early today.

Scores of firemen and 23 pieces of fire fighting equipment fought the blaze. Hours later it still was not under control.

The fire came shortly after an explosion and fire rocked Houston's swank Broadmoor district and destroyed the $300,000 mansion of Gus Wottam, president of the American Insurance Company.

The taste's the test for tea! Canadians buy more Salada than any other brand.

"SALADA" TEA

Cleans GLASS COOKING WARE
COW BRAND BAKING SODA

IT'S HERE! IT'S NEW! IT'S WONDERFUL!

NEW DOUBLE-QUICK RINSO WITH SOLIUM

1. GOES INTO ACTION FASTER!

You'll rub your eyes in wonder at how fast new "Double-Quick" Rinso dissolves. It really goes to work twice as fast as other leading washday products.

2. GETS CLOTHES WHITER FASTER!

You'll see the difference. Several washings in other leading washday soaps can't get clothes as white as ONE washing in new "Double-Quick" Rinso.

NEW Beatty

STAINLESS STEEL WASHER just arrived

Everlasting stainless steel is used for the inner tub of this new thermo tub Beatty washer — just like your table flatware. It won't chip, scratch or stain. Beatty, always the leader, now gives you this fine extra value.

LET US SHOW YOU ITS MANY FINE FEATURES

Let us show you everything—the Safety wringer—the famous human hand washing action which washes a tubful of clothes in 6 minutes. See the strength and lifetime satisfaction built into the smooth rugged direct drive mechanism.

Pull and the wringer stops—quicker than thought.

BEST TRADE-IN ALLOWANCE IN TOWN

SEE IT TODAY

BEATTY WASHERS ARE PRICED FROM $129.50

DAVID'S ELECTRIC SHOP

BELLEVILLE, ONT. — PHONE 659

HOUSEHOLD Beatty APPLIANCES

SWITCH TO RINSO

SAVE UP TO HALF YOUR WASHING TIME!

Now you can say goodbye to long washer runs to get clothes clean. With new "Double-Quick" Rinso you can save up to half your washing time!

New "Double-Quick" Rinso gets out more dirt than any other type of washday product. And only Rinso has Solium . . . the scientific Sunshine ingredient . . . that gets clothes whiter, brighter than new.

Even on rainy days when clothes must be dried indoors, new "Double-Quick" Rinso puts sunshine in your wash.

The Rinso now at your grocer's is the new "Double-Quick" Rinso. Get it today. It's wonderful! It's "Double-Quick"! It gives the whitest, brightest wash you've ever seen!

NEW DOUBLE-QUICK RINSO GIVES YOU THE WORLD'S WHITEST WASH

WOOLER

Young Married Couples' Group Elects Officers

Wooler — The Young Married Couples' Group held their first meeting of the new year at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Cole on Wednesday evening. Officers elected were: honorary presidents, Rev. W. G. Fletcher and Mrs. Fletcher; presidents, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Cole; secretary, Mrs. Howard Leavitt; treasurer, Mrs. Homer Leavitt; membership secretaries, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Pearson.

During the business, a name was given for the group "The Double or Nothing Club."

The secretary was appointed press reporter. There will be a small membership fee. The club accepted an invitation to hold the next meeting in the form of a hen social at the home of Rev. and Mrs. Fletcher on Feb. 14th.

Program convenors will be Mr. and Mrs. Harry Ewing and Mr. and Mrs. Wes. Down. Refreshment convenors will be Mr. and Mrs. Harold Foster and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Seneve.

A short program and recreation was conducted by Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Dorland and Mr. and Mrs. Homer Leavitt.

The guest speaker was Mr. Harry Twiss, principal of the Continuation School who gave an interesting talk on "Scotland."

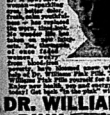
Refreshments were served by Mr. and Mrs. Jack May and Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Cole.

TRIBAL CHIEFS HANGED

Maseru, Basutoland, Jan. 31—(Reuters)— Four Bantu tribal chiefs convicted of ritual murder charges, were hanged here today. They were convicted of murdering an African woman and cutting away parts of her body and head for use as medicine.

Flesh, cut from the body, was said to have been collected by one of them to use it to strengthen his position in the tribe.

NOW—She Laughs at age

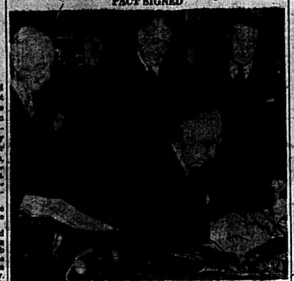


Forgetting is no longer a problem for Mrs. Ethel Hall, 70, of Brooklyn, N.Y. A new, wonderful way to relieve constipation, without the use of harsh, habit-forming drugs, makes yesterday's constipation worries seem like a bad dream. Mrs. Hall says: "I'm so glad I've found Dr. Williams Pink Pills. They're wonderful for relieving constipation. I'm so much better in every way. I'm full of pep and vitality. I'm happy and I'm grateful."

Dr. Williams Pink Pills for Pale People, 50 pills 50c. Get them today at your druggist.

DR. WILLIAMS PINK PILLS

FACT SIGNED



St. John Ambulance Association and the Canadian Red Cross Society reached an agreement defining their respective activities. The pact was signed at Rideau Hall in Ottawa in the presence of the Governor-General, prior of the Order and honorary president of the Red Cross. While C. A. Gray of Ottawa, sub-prior of the Order, signs the agreement, he is watched by, left to right: L. A. Winter of Toronto, honorary treasurer of the Red Cross; P. Vaillancourt of Montreal, Red Cross official; and Viscount Alexander.—(CP Photo.)

FOXBORO

Foxboro — The School and Home Association sponsored a successful euchre party in the public school room on Tuesday evening.

Sympathy is extended to Mr. Douglas Scott who underwent a serious operation in the hospital recently.

A number of ladies attended a brush demonstration on Thursday at the home of Mrs. Ewart Sills.

Mrs. Woodbeck is staying at the home of Miss Amelia Clarke for a time.

Dinner guests at the home of Mr. M. Switzer on Tuesday evening included Mr. and Mrs. M. Reynolds Mr. and Mrs. C. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. J. Daniels, Mr. and Mrs. Ewart Sills and Mr. and Mrs. H. Palmer.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Yorke and Mrs. Douglas Yorke, of Otlawa, spent Wednesday evening with Mr. and Mrs. W. Hodgen.

Mission Band was held on Wednesday afternoon under the leadership of Mrs. C. Arthurs and Mrs. Bernard Hollinger.

C.G.I.T. girls met at the home of Mrs. McCurdy on Friday afternoon.

Mrs. P. Parliament, of Belleville, spent Thursday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. Spencer.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Parks, of Hay Bay, were Sunday guests of Mrs. J. G. Sills.

Mr. Wallace Fleming and Helen and Mrs. A. Fleming were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. Chappelle and Sharon.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Tupper and Helen spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Inniss, of Black Creek.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Yorke and Mrs. O. Rollins spent Thursday afternoon with Mrs. William Hodgen.

Miss Marion Prindle spent Friday night with her grandmother, Mrs. A. Shaw, and Mr. and Mrs. Murray Parks and Dianna were Sunday callers at this home.

Mrs. N. Stoughton spent Sunday with her daughter, Mrs. W. Rombough and Mr. Rombough.

PICTON

Picton — Firemen were called early Thursday evening to the residence of Robert Welsh on Washburn Street where a chimney fire was soon brought under control with little damage resulting.

Mr. Carman Welbanks, of Hay Bay, has taken over the management of the gasoline station at P. E. Motors.

Mr. Jas. Jenkins, town clerk, had the misfortune to fall on Thursday, fracturing his elbow, and is confined to Prince Edward County hospital.

Mr. Fred Shannon Jr., is confined to his home with a badly injured knee cap, the result of a fall on Friday night.

Birth: In Prince Edward County Memorial on Thursday, January 25th, to Major and Mrs. Harold Corbett of the Salvation Army, a daughter, Margaret Ann.

Friends regret that Mrs. Mary Whittle is ill at her home on Mary Street.

Mrs. Bella Shane and Mrs. Mulford have the sympathy of friends on the passing of their mother, Mrs. William Glenn on Tuesday last, following a short illness with pneumonia. Burial took place in Glenwood cemetery on Thursday afternoon.

Capt. McBride, of Belleville, assisted with the weekend meetings in the Salvation Army citadel at Picton. Her sister and brother-in-law, of Kingston contributed musical numbers that were appreciated.

UNIQUE PROPOSAL

Chester, N. S.—(CP)—This Nova Scotia resort town has passed a resolution stating that owners of boarding houses should post a bond for any roomer likely to become a public charge. Legal officials, who say the proposal is unique, doubt that it will ever become law.

BLACKS WHOLESALE LTD.
DISTRIBUTORS
186 Front Street Phone 379

The Largest Selection of Valentines Is at Schwab's

HUMOROUS — FAMILY — GET WELL — SWEETHEART
JUVENILE — BIRTHDAY — ANNIVERSARY

5c to $5.00

FOR VALENTINES — IT'S

SCHWAB'S
(FORMERLY SILLS' BOOK STORE)
222 Front Street BELLEVILLE Telephone 2449

LIGHT UP with SOLEX
The bulbs that light the C.P.R. and C.N.R. Hotels — where light must be right

LOBLAWS

YOUR BEST CITRUS VALUE TODAY! SWEET JUICY
GRAPEFRUIT SEEDLESS 6 SIZE 36's 29c
CALIFORNIA SWEET SEEDLESS NAVEL
ORANGES SIZE 200 49c SIZE 176 47c
ONE SIZE AVAILABLE
CALIFORNIA CRISP GREEN
ICEBERG LETTUCE LARGE HEAD 15c
SPECIAL! CALIFORNIA FRESH BRUSSELS
SPROUTS FIRM GREEN POUND 25c
FLORIDA ROUND STRINGLESS
GREEN BEANS POUND 29c
BE BUDGET WISE—SERVE ONIONS OFTEN
ONTARIO COOKING ONIONS
3 POUNDS 10c
Excellent for Frying, Boiling, Soups, etc.
ONTARIO FANCY GRADE
McINTOSH REDS 4-QT. BASKET 65c

SPECIAL!
WESTONS GINGER SNAPS lb. 21c
A FAMOUS PRODUCT OF THE LOBLAW BAKERY RETURNS
LOBLAWS CHERRY CAKE each 59c
LOBLAWS JACK & JILL
PEANUT BUTTER 16-OZ. JAR 35c

THE FINEST IMPORTED & DOMESTIC FRUITS & VEGETABLES
SOLD AT THEIR BEST

Sauerkraut JERSEY FANCY 20-FL. OZ. TIN 17c
Beets PRIMROSE PICKLED 24-FL. OZ. JAR 23c
Peaches AYLMER CHOICE HALVES 15-FL. OZ. TIN 20c
Dill Pickles IDEAL 32-FL. OZ. JAR 33c
Domestic SHORTENING 1-LB. CARTON 35c
Allsweet MARGARINE 1-LB. CARTON 41c
Christies Ritz 8-OZ. PKG. 19c

Freshly Ground!
PRIDE of ARABIA COFFEE 92c
CANADA'S BEST COFFEE VALUE
LOBLAWS Two Cup Coffee lb. 89c

LACO MAZDA LAMPS
INSIDE FROSTED
25-40-60 WATT EACH 18c
100-WATT EACH 21c

"Oh Boy" PANCAKE TUESDAY, FEB. 6th
PANCAKE FLOUR AUNT JEMIMA 20-OZ. PKG. 19c
BUCKWHEAT FLOUR AUNT JEMIMA 20-OZ. PKG. 19c
LYLES GOLDEN SYRUP 1-LB. TIN 14c
ROGERS CANE SYRUP 2-LB. TIN 28c
BEEHIVE CORN SYRUP 2-LB. TIN 29c

READY CAKE MIXES ROBIN HOOD CHOC. OR WHITE 15-OZ. PKG. 30c
RIDGEWAYS 5 O'CLOCK TEA 1/4-LB. PKG. 58c
JIFFY PIE CRUST MOTHER JACKSONS 10-OZ. PKG. 31c
GOLDEN BAR CHEESE PLAIN OR PIMENTO 1/4-LB. PKG. 28c
WOODMANS PURE HORSERADISH 8-FL. OZ. JAR 26c
FROZEN ORANGE JUICE SIERRA EVE — IN MOST LOBLAW STORES 6-FL. OZ. TIN 29c
LIPTONS SOUP MIX TOMATO VEGETABLE 2 PKGS. 25c
STOKELYS RICE DINNER SPANISH STYLE 12-FL. OZ. TIN 18c
McLARENS JELLY POWDERS PKG. 8c
AYLMER MIXED VEGETABLES CHOICE 2 12-FL. OZ. TINS 29c
CUSTARD POWDER HARRY HORNES BOURNVILLE 16-OZ. TIN 35c
MRS. HAMILTONS MINCEMEAT 1-LB. CARTON 27c
PURE VANILLA EXTRACT PURE QUALITY 2½-FL. OZ. BTL. 19c

SURF LARGE PKG. 39c
CLASSIC CLEANSER 3 TINS 20c
PRINCESS FLAKES LARGE PKG. 33c
PALMOLIVE BEAUTY SOAP GIANT CAKE 13c
IVORY FLAKES LARGE PKG. 39c
CHIPSO LARGE PKG. 39c DREFT LARGE PKG. 38c

PRICES EFFECTIVE FEBRUARY 1, 2, 3

LOBLAWS FINEST
RED LABEL TEA
ORANGE PEKOE ½-LB. PKG. 52c
RED LABEL
TEA BAGS
PKG OF 15 19c PKG OF 30 34c PKG OF 60 67c

STORE HOURS
MONDAY, TUESDAY and THURSDAY
8.30 A.M. to 6.00 P.M.
WEDNESDAY
8.30 A.M. to 12.30 NOON
FRIDAY and SATURDAY
8.30 A.M. to 9.00 P.M.

HEINZ KETCHUP 12-FL. OZ. BTL. 25c
NUCOA MARGARINE 1-LB. CARTON 39c
SMARTS BEETS CHOICE SLICED 2 OZ. TINS 23c
TOMATO JUICE STOKELYS FANCY 2 20-FL. OZ. TINS 25c
LIBBYS PEAS FANCY TENDER KING 2 12-FL. OZ. TINS 31c
FRYS COCOA ½-LB. TIN 29c
OXO CUBES 4-CUBE PKG. 15c
BURNS SPORK 1-LB. TIN 49c
TURKISH LAYER FIGS 12-OZ. PKG. 29c
ASPARAGUS CUTTINGS SNIPPETS CHOICE 12-FL. OZ. TIN 51c
6-OZ. PKG. 17c
12-FL. OZ. TIN 19c

LOBLAW MEATS

LOBLAW QUALITY BEEF
SHORT RIB ROAST CHOICE lb. 75c
BLADE ROAST CHOICE BLADE SHOULDER ROAST lb. 72c
SHOULDER ROAST BONELESS & ROLLED lb. 72c

PRE-DRESSED CHICKEN CHOICE lb. 69c
ALSO SEE OUR DISPLAY OF CHICKEN CUTS BUY YOUR FAVOURITE PORTION & SERVE OFTEN

LEAN PEANELESS
BACK BACON END CUTS BY THE PIECE lb. 72c CENTRE CUTS OR SLICED lb. 79c
PURE PORK SAUSAGE LOBLAW COUNTRY STYLE lb. 57c

SPECIAL! SWIFT PREMIUM
FRANKFURTERS SMALL WITH SAUERKRAUT 1-LB. CELLO PKG. 53c

TASTY SEA FOOD FEATURES
CHOICE SOLE FILLETS SPECIAL! lb. 57c
CHOICE OCEAN PERCH FILLETS lb. 41c
HADDOCK FILLETS lb. 51c COD FILLETS lb. 35c

LOBLAW GROCETERIAS CO. LIMITED

WOOLER

United Church Elects Officers

Wooler — The annual congregational meeting of the United Church was held on Friday evening in the Sunday School room. After all-clad dues justice to a delicious pot-luck supper, Rev. W. G. J. Fecher called the gathering to order for a short worship service. There was also a two minutes silence in memory of the deceased members.

Reports of the various organizations were received and all showed a successful year. Mr. Ed. Nelson, treasurer, reported the total receipts were $2,952.84 and balance $120. Repairs to the exterior of the church and the new walks cost $1,445. A new furnace was installed recently.

Officers elected: secretary, A. J. Borland; envelope secretary, Miss McMaster; treasurer, Ed. Nelson; auditors, Douglas H. Fox and Charles Brown; session elerards, trustees and auditors re-elected; organist, Mrs. Karl Austin; Sunday School superintendent, Douglas H. Fox.

Mrs. C. D. Cole has returned from a visit with her daughter, Mrs. K. Hill, Burgessville, and with Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Nelson in Niagara Falls, Ont.

Mrs. C. W. McMaster, Mrs. E. Master, Mrs. H. Redcliffe, Mrs. C. Nelson, Mrs. Wilbur McColl, Mrs. Jack Cameron and Mrs. J. C. Way were in Port Hope on Thursday attending the presbyterial.

Mrs. Arthur Ruttan spent a few days last week with her daughter, Mrs. Hunter Lowe at Carman.

Mrs. Clifford Rogers returned on Friday from Peterborough where she visited her daughter, Mrs. Hugh Curry for two weeks

Miss Lela Costello Reg. N. of Brighton, conducted the monthly Baby Conference at the home of Mrs. R. Putnam on Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Armley Masters, who spent three weeks with Havelock friends has returned home.

A little daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Gunter on January 28th at the Belleville hospital.

The girls of the Homemakers' Club met at the home of their leader, Mrs. Gordon Cole, on Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. R. McMasters invited the following ladies to a plastic demonstration at her home on Monday evening: Mrs. S. Terrill Mrs. R. Putnam, Mrs. Jim Putnam, Mrs. I. Bryant, Mrs. R. Oelschlein, Mrs. R. Read, Mrs. Teal, Mrs. Mac Anderson, Mrs.

JOYFUL REUNION

Anthony Orz, Calgary machine-shop employee, gives his wife an affectionate welcome after they had been parted for 23 years. Mr. Orz left his young wife and three small sons in Hungary 23 years ago to seek his fortune in Canada. He planned to bring his family to Canada shortly after he settled in Calgary in 1926, but the depression and the Second World War intervened. Two sons now are in Canada, with the third still in Hungary. — (CP Photo.)

Henry McColl, Mrs. H. Ewing, Mrs. A. Fox, Mrs. D. Fox, Mrs. L. Richards, Mrs. N. Nelson, Mrs. J. W. Way.

BANCROFT

MILK PRICES JUMP

Bancroft — The price of milk here takes a one cent hike from 17 to 18 cents per quart, and from 9 to 10 cents per pint on the first of February. Cream also goes up two cents per pint to 30 cents.

With milk at 18 cents a quart and 10 cents a pint the local school teachers may have a hard time teaching the youngsters that a pint is half a quart and that the price of a pint is half that of a quart, since the mathematics texts that were printed before the cost of living started its upward leaps used this sort of date formula.

As wood now sells from $3.50 to $8.50 per 16 inch or single cord; slabs from $4.00 to $8.50 per cubic cord; coffee at $1.15 per lb.; tea at 90c for 90 tea bags or ½ lb. net; butter at 70c per lb.; electric power at 6 cents per kilowatt hour for the first 60 hours, and other articles in the same price range, the cost of living is decidedly on the upward swing in North Hastings.

RAWDON

Rawdon — Mrs. John Reid, Mount Pleasant-Rawdon received word of the death of her sister, Mrs. James Royce, Guelph, on January 20th.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Clancy left recently by motor for a trip to the sunny South.

Mrs. Cyrus Summers is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Forde Stapley, Madoc Junction.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Brown, Harold, entertained on Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Harold Chambers, Eldorado, Mr. and Mrs. Keith Brown and Jewel of Peterborough.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Smith received a message from his parents who were enroute to Florida last week.

Miss Marguerite Stone, Belleville, spent the weekend with Mrs. Marguerite McMullen and other relatives.

A party of young folks had a narrow escape Friday when their older model car overturned along the new highway not far from the Allan School. The car was still decorating the ditch, upside down on Sunday.

Mrs. Vera Sine spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Ross Jeffs.

Mr. Jack McMathews is ill at his home and under the doctor's care.

The Belleville presbyterial of the Woman's Missionary Society will convene on March 15th in Picton United Church for three sessions beginning at 9.30 a.m. The special addresses will be given on "Literature" by Miss Florence McNair, of Hamilton, and on "Africa" by Miss Edith M. Clark, B.A., who is on furlough. This is the first time in ten years that Picton has entertained the presbyterial. The ladies are hoping for good weather and roads.

Rev. A. E. Baker pastor of St. Paul's Carmel circuit was guest minister at Mount Pleasant United Church on Sunday afternoon. He told the children an interesting story about "The Barber's Bird" who got into trouble by keeping bad company. Mr. Baker based his message on the text "In the Beginning God." The Thomas Saries rendered a vocal selection entitled "Stilling the Tempest". About 75 were in attendance for the service.

Mr. Percy Jackman has returned home from Kingston hospital where he has been undergoing treatments for several weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Burton Mortou and daughters were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. Dayman in Peterborough. They also visited Mrs. Morton's sister, who is ill in hospital.

Mrs. Fred Thrasher is visiting her son, Mr. Ernest Mason and Mrs. Mason at Sudbury.

Festival of Praise

Rev. and Mrs. A. E. Baker of St. Paul's United Church are arranging a festival of sacred praise to be held in June under the auspices of the official board. The syllabus is now prepared and ready for the perusal of anyone who is interested. There are six entries for the juniors, six for intermediate and nine for adults. There is a small entry fee and they are open to anyone in Rawdon township who is interested.

Music Adjudicator

The object is to promote a love for sacred praise especially among the children and young people. The adjudicator will be Dr. F. J. Horwood, Royal Conservatory of music.

Gilmour's W.I.

Miss Delia Johnston was hostess for the January meeting of Wellman's Women's Institute with the president Mrs. Alfred Chumley in charge. The roll call was based on "Highway Traffic Laws" and the motto "Think Before You Speak" was given by Mrs. John Rainle.

The special topic on "Public Relations" was taken by Mrs. Burton Morton. A good program was enjoyed which included reports of the area convention held in Belleville and a report of the Federation of Agriculture conference. A contest and refreshments closed a profitable afternoon.

FIRST AID FOR BABY'S FIRST SNIFFLE

A step in time often saves alne, So he who, will take the gentle precaution at the first sniffle, sneeze or cough to rub Vicks VapoRub on baby's throat and chest. Containing warm medicinal vapors that make baby breathe freer and decongest the tract as needed to ease up stomach. Designed especially for baby's delicate system. Use Vicks Vapo-Rub at bedtime and for the next few nights. Watch baby grow strong and gain a long way toward relieving his sore throat while nature works to cure the cold. Breast-feeding Baby's Own Tablets have been used by mothers for over 35 years. Get a package today. Only 25¢ at druggists.

READER'S DIGEST TELLS WHAT LAXATIVES ARE BEST FOR YOU!

"Here's how a "fussy eater" can be regulated without pills, salts or drugs

Reader's Digest has dared print the truth about laxatives. It has warned the dangers of authorities that upset your system. Learn why—starting today after 35—it's so important to feed your body "bulk".

Includes an effective way to overcome weak elimination. It has a mild bulk-like action. Helps tone and regulate. Isn't chemical drugs—no habit.

IMPORTANT! For more thought provoking facts, send for free booklet. Entitled "How to Keep Regular Without Drugs". Address Dept. 35-SERUTAN

Now 35 SERUTAN

Special Values for THURSDAY, FRIDAY and SATURDAY

R I·D·A DRUG STORES

SAVE MONEY!

SOFT WHITE TOILET TISSUE

650 sheets to roll — I.D.A. Brand

4 ROLLS FOR 39c

BOBBY COMBS 8c, 2 for 15c
Choice of colors—regular 10c value

SHAMPOO 19c, 33c
Coconut Oil type—I.D.A. Brand, 8 oz., reg. 25c, 39c

POWDER PUFFS 8c, 2 for 15c
Soft velours—regular 10c value

MERCOLIZED WAX 87c
Cream—for skin blemishes

MEAD'S Products for BABY

Widely used and highly recommended infant foods and vitamin supplements.

PABLUM and PABENA

Pre-cooked Baby Cereals
8-oz.—25c. 18-oz.—50c.

Dextri Maltose 35c — $2.45
Oleum Percomorphum 95c—$3.99

MACDONALD'S EXPORT
Canada's Finest Cigarette
20's 36c

CANADA'S ORIGINAL ALL-FABRIC DYE
All-Fabric Tintex
PROVEN IN THOUSANDS OF CANADIAN HOMES
15¢ a package

EX-LAX The CHOCOLATED LAXATIVE
—It's not too strong!
—It's not too mild!
—It's the Happy Medium!
15c & 33c

VITAMINS for all the Family

Cod Liver Oil, B.P., Standard ... 85c
16-oz. ... 1.69
Cod Liver Oil Capsules, 100's 1.09
One-a-Day Multiple Vitamins ... 1.25, 2.50
Mead's Cod Liver Oil ... 60c, 1.25
Mead's Brewers Yeast Tablets ... 60c, 1.25
Horner's Infanol ... 60c, 2.89
Waterbury's Compound ... 1.00
Parke-Davis Abdol with Vitamin C ... 2.75, 4.95, 11.50
Keplex's Malt and Cod Liver Oil ... 90c, 1.50
Squibb B-Complex Caps. 1.00, 3.75

COUGH and COLD Remedies

PINEX CONCENTRATE 6½c
PREPARED PINEX Ready to use 45c 75c

Save on these I.D.A. Specials!
COLD TABS—reg. 25c ... 19c
IODIZED THROAT GARGLE or TABLETS—reg. 35c.. 27c

Aspirin ... 18c, 29c, 19c
Grove's Bromo-Quinine ... 29c, 49c
Buckley's Mixture ... 49c, 75c
Pertussin for coughs ... 31c, 49c
Duke Fingers for sore throat ... 10c
Mentholine ... 1.85
Karsh Throat Lozenges ... 29c
Mentholatum ... 25c, 79c
Smith Bros. Cough Drops ... 29c
Moco Ointment (mix with Mustard) ... 35c, 69c, 1.39
Ben-Gay (Baume Bengue) ... 75c
Thermogene Wool ... 49c, 79c

Vick's Va-Tro-Nol 49c
Vick's Cough Drops 15c
Vick's Inhaler ... 43c

Vick's Vapo Rub 49c
Try Vicks Vapo-Rub in STEAM for relief from coughing spasms, choking stuffiness, upper bronchial congestion — so easy — so effective.

VAPORIZERS
Kas Vaporizers ... 3.25
Others .. $4.50 and up

BRONCHIDA
I.D.A. COUGH SYRUP
Goes to work with the very first swallow.
8-OZ. 60c

4 PROVEN COLD FIGHTERS
Amazingly Fast and Effective
Dr. Chase ANTIHISTAMINE
GUARANTEED TO STOP YOUR COLD OR YOUR MONEY BACK 59c

FOR THAT TIRED, NERVOUS, IRRITABLE FEELING
Dr. Chase's NERVE FOOD
Regular 50s' Economy 85s'
69c 1.79

FELLOWS' SYRUP OF HYPOPHOSPHITES
A famous nerve and body building tonic.
LARGE BOTTLE 1.39

So often needed . . . and here's a chance to buy at a good saving!
I. D. A.
"Dependable"
Hot Water Bottle
Serviceable and reliable, this bottle is guaranteed for three years. Exceptional value at this price.
SPECIAL ... 1.49

Now! Try the NEW I.D.A. TOOTH PASTE
Tooth Paste
A PURE CLEANSER
Contains neither soap nor harmful cutting agent
ECONOMICAL 27 49
Makes teeth gleaming white.
Sweetens the breath.
Leaves teeth and mouth feeling clean and fresh.

KOTEX
Box of 12 39c
2 for ... 77c
Box of 48 $1.49

MODESS
Box of 12 40c
2 for ... 79c
Box of 48 $1.53

TAMPAX
Three Absorbencies
25c, 43c, $1.49

EPSOM SALTS 11c, 19c
I.D.A. Brand—½ and 1 lb., reg. 15p and 25c

MINERAL OIL 34c
I.D.A. Brand—heavy grade—16 oz., reg. 45c

BORACIC ACID 32c
I.D.A. Brand—One pound can, reg. 40c

COREGA 23c, 41c, 69c
Dental Plate Powder—Special

HALIBUT LIVER OIL CAPSULES 1.10
I.D.A. Brand. Special 100 for

IDAMALT 47c, 79c, 1.39
I.D.A. Extract of Malt and Cod Liver Oil. Special

DOLAN'S PHONE 138
LATTIMER'S PHONES: 876 and 877
PAULEY'S PHONE 105
DOYLE'S PHONE 326
SCHRYVER'S PHONE 49
GEEN'S PHONE 153 and 154
JEEP DELIVERY AT ALL STORES

WINTER CLEARANCE SALE

REDUCTIONS UP TO 50%

WE MUST MAKE ROOM FOR NEW SPRING MERCHANDISE

- Ladies' Station Wagon Coats Reg. to 39.98. Sale ... 19.99
- Men's Parkas Reg. to 19.95. Sale ... 13.30
- Children's Station Wagon Coats Reg. to 11.95. Sale ... 7.95
- Men's Heavy All Wool Pants Reg. to 7.50. Sale ... 4.84
- Men's Sport Shirts Reg. 5.00. Sale ... 3.34
- Boys' All Wool Breeches Reg. to 5.50. Sale ... 3.67

MANY MORE ITEMS DRASTICALLY REDUCED.

Sale Starts Friday Morning

SHER'S
+ CLOTHING
+ LINENS
+ BLANKETS

140 Front Street Opposite Capitol Theatre Phone 513

ALL SALES FINAL CASH and CARRY

FOUR ROYAL HEADS WITHOUT A CROWN

Two ex-kings and the pretender to a non-existent throne are reunited as they attended services in memory of the Princess Helena D'Orleans at the Loreto Church in Lisbon, Portugal. Left to right are Mme. Lupescu, wife of former King Carol of Rumania; ex-King Carol; former King Umberto of Italy; the Countess of Paris, wife of the Pretender to the French throne; the Countess of Barcelona and the Count, who is Don Juan, Pretender to the throne of Spain. — Central Press Canadian.

South Pacific Monarchy Grows Under U. K.'s Friendly Wing

By F. C. GRAHAM
(Canadian Press Correspondent)

Auckland, N. Z.—(CP)—While dynasties have been falling all over the world, a monarchy has been growing steadily stronger in the South Pacific in the little kingdom of Tonga. Even more novel in the modern world is the fact that Tonga, a British protectorate for 50 years, is satisfied and does not want its relations with Britain to be changed in any way.

Tonga is preparing to celebrate the 50th anniversary of the ratification of its treaty of friendship with Britain on Feb. 16, 1901.

In a statement on the treaty, the country's ruler, Queen Salote, says: "For the people of Tonga it has proved to be a blessing as, with the knowledge during two world wars that we have been protected by Britain and her dominions and her allies, we were able to proceed in safety with our normal life at the same time, I am proud to say that my country has been able to render assistance to the cause of freedom.

"It is my sincere hope and wish that the very pleasant and happy relations which have existed for the past 50 years between Great Britain and my kingdom of Tonga will continue undisturbed."

British Advice

Tonga has its own postage stamps, passports and currency. It manages its own affairs except that under the treaty with Britain it has agreed to accept the advice of a British consul and agent in its relations with other nations. The consul also approves the appointment of Europeans selected for service with the Tongan government and advises on financial matters.

Otherwise the 45,000 Polynesians in the 150 atolls and islands which make up the kingdom of Tonga, or the friendly isles, are governed by a British-type constitution with a royal dynasty, a cabinet, privy council and elected parliament.

Queen Salote has been on the throne for 33 years, though she is still only 51. Her personal popularity is immense and the celebrations of her 50th birthday last year were marked by remarkable demonstrations of loyalty and affection. Finely proportioned in her exceptional height of six feet, one inch, she is every inch a queen, gracious and gentle in manner and stately bearing.

She is a direct descendant in the 21st generation of a distinguished chief who founded the Tui Kanokubolu dynasty about 1610 and is the great-granddaughter of King Tupou I who introduced the existing system of democratic monarchy in Tonga in 1875. The queen jealously guards the existing democratic constitution.

Visits Auckland

Queen Salote speaks English with perfect accent and idiom. She pays regular visits to Auckland, N. Z., where she lives quietly and unpretentiously and is now so well-known that Aucklanders treat her as one of themselves.

The heir to the throne, Queen Salote's elder son Prince Tungi, has recently become prime minister after serving an apprenticeship in other ministerial posts. A massive man of well-over 300 pounds, he is shy, scholarly person. Educated in Australia, he has a law degree from Sydney University.

His mild healthy climate, free from malaria, well-run civil service, low taxation and freedom from dissention make Tonga indeed a happy country to live in. Every man on reaching the age of 16 is allocated by the crown an area of about eight acres on which to grow crops and a small town lot to build a house. On his eight acres he can grow sufficient to provide for his family and a little over for pocket money. There is no question of a housing shortage when coconut palm and other native plants provide an inexhaustible supply of building materials. But the Tongans who are already thinking of packing for Tonga, it should be mentioned that the friendly isles welcome white people as holidaymakers, but not as permanent residents.

EXPRESSES SYMPATHY

Toronto, Feb. 1—(CP)—Premier Leslie Frost of Ontario Wednesday night sent a telegram to Premier Maurice Duplessis of Quebec expressing regret over the bridge disaster at Three Rivers Wednesday in which four lives were lost.

Premier Frost said in his wire that Ontario Hydro Electric Power Commission is sending Bailey Bridge material to help out in the emergency.

"Anything we have is at your disposal," the telegram concluded.

RELEASED FROM TERMS

Los Angeles, Feb. 1 (AP) — Movie actor Robert Mitchum, convicted in 1949 of a narcotics charge, was released yesterday from the terms of two years' probation by Superior Judge Clement D. Nye. The court ordered the record of the case expunged. Mitchum was arrested after police said he was participating in a marijuana party.

Wildcat Walkout Putting Brake On Transportation

Chicago, Feb. 1 (AP) — An unauthorized strike of railroad switchmen highballed across the United States today, putting a brake on the country's rail transportation.

The wildcat walkout over an old wage-hour dispute, appeared more critical by the hour, hitting directly against 33 railroads in 18 major cities. It started three days ago.

Scores of other carriers felt the impact of the fast-spreading work stoppage. So did other industries. Thousands of non-railroad workers were made idle by the strike.

The government moved to end the strike. It did officials of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen. But, as they acted, new stoppages were reported.

The strike appeared to be following the pattern of the crippling strike of six weeks ago which in three days nearly paralyzed movement of passengers, freight and mail in many parts of the country. That walkout ended only after intervention of President Truman and court action.—

There was no indication that President Truman personally planned to intervene this time.

The army, which is technically in charge of American railroads, said it is planning action to deal with the walkout.

As the strike grew, the government sought court action to end it. The government also, through the defence transport administration, ordered the railroads to embargo freight which could not be moved through yards tied up by the walkout.

At the same time, the railway express agency clamped an embargo on rail-express shipments between 14 northeastern states and the rest of the country.

SCOTTISH BIRTH

John Paul Jones, the first great hero in the American Navy, was born near Kirkcudbright, Scotland.

Mayor's Regalia Festival Feature

London— (CP) — The Lord Mayor's gilded coach, with his colorful robes and insignia of office, will be on view at the Guildhall later this year, as part of the city corporation's contribution to the Festival of Britain. It will be the first time they have been shown in public.

Among half-a-dozen robes worn by the Lord Mayor, which visitors will see, will be the crimson, velvet coronation robe and the black robe used on occasions of national mourning.

The insignia will include the pearl sword which the King touches at Temple Bar, on Fleet Street, before entering the city proper. Also on view will be an 18-inch pearl mace, whose staff is believed to be of Saxon origin.

Visitors will be able to get a close-up of the Lord Mayor's famous coach, which once a year trundles from the Guildhall to the law courts in the Strand. It is noted for its exquisitely-painted panels and ornate carvings.

The city's plans also provide for a pageant of Britain depicting 19 centuries of life in London. The corporation, however, has decided that the exhibits will not be confined exclusively to history, art and tradition. The assistance of business firms and financial institutions, such as the Hudson's Bay Company and Lloyd's, has been sought in showing visitors the city as a "working centre."

Damage to city buildings by wartime bombing and the scheme for reconstruction, will also be illustrated with models and site plans.

Canadian Aid Urged For Church Missions

Toronto — (CP) — Canadian Anglicans must contribute both money and missionaries if the general public thought it wonderful that the child had been flown here for treatment, actually her case was a tragedy, for she was assuming white man's ways and could never be happy when she returned to the Arctic.

"When you turn people like Anne back, they are unhappy because they have become accustomed to better living," Bishop Marsh said. Today there were few missionaries to help the Eskimo who had come into contact with civilization readjust himself.

The Bishop said that missionaries were vital to the Eskimo to help him adjust himself to the white man's ways. The Eskimo was a stone age man, who became discontented and deteriorated when he abandoned his native mode of life.

Bishop Marsh referred to 10-year-old Anna, Eskimo girl who assisted in the opening recently of the new Hospital for Sick Children in Toronto. While the general public thought it wonderful that the child had been flown here for treatment, actually her case was a tragedy, for she was assuming white man's ways and could never be happy when she returned to the Arctic.

"When you turn people like Anne back, they are unhappy because they have become accustomed to better living," Bishop Marsh said. Today there were few missionaries to help the Eskimo who had come into contact with civilization readjust himself.

BRINGING YOU TOP QUALITY AT LOWEST PRICES

— BECAUSE —

MEAT ...IS OUR BUSINESS

Country Style SAUSAGE lb. 39c

CHOICE COOKED HAM SLICED lb. 98c

LEAN SIDE PORK lb. 43c

DRY SALT PORK lb. 39c

EGGS!

Medium Whites Grade "A" Doz. 44c

SMOKED JOWLS PORKLIVER lb. 33c

GOVERNMENT INSPECTED

BLUE BRAND BEEF

Steaks or Roasts

ROUND, SIRLOIN T-BONE WING lb. 83c

ROASTS

BLADE (Blade Out) SHORT RIB lb. 69c

OLD CANADIAN CHEESE . . lb. 49c

BLACK DIAMOND CHEESE 5 lbs. 3.35

MILK-FED VEAL

LOIN or RIB CHOPS CUBE VEAL lb. 89c

CUTLETS SIRLOIN lb. 98c

TURKEYS — BROILERS — FOWL — DUCKS

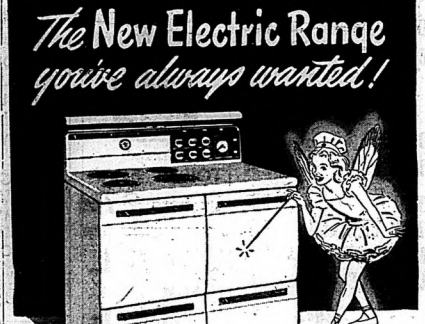
Lenten Foods FOR QUICK THRIFTY MENU-MAKING

Watch Our Windows For Daily Fish Specials!

BUEHLER'S

205 FRONT ST. BELLEVILLE PHONE 500

The New Electric Range you've always wanted!



Westinghouse

THE ELECTRIC RANGE WITH THE Miracle Oven

Here is your "dream" range, come true . . . not only a new electric range, but a completely new and thrilling experience that makes cooking a sheer delight.

Everything about this big, beautiful Westinghouse Electric Range is NEW . . . with over twenty-five important advancements and improvements . . . designed to give you more confidence, greater time-saving and more thorough dependability than you've ever known before.

Come in and see for yourself the superb new Westinghouse Electric Range . . . now on display for the first time!

$339.00 up

ASK ABOUT DAVID'S OWN, EASY CONFIDENTIAL PAYMENT PLAN

DAVID'S ELECTRIC SHOP

340 FRONT ST. BELLEVILLE PHONE 659

LISTEN TO "THIS IS THE STORY", EVERY THURSDAY AT 6.45 P.M. OVER CJBQ

PHIL OSOPHY

And a cash loan from Bellyue Finance to cover extra expenses will make your problems melt away like Winter snows!

BELLEVUE FINANCE Corp.

BELLEVILLE — TRENTON — TWEED

PHONE 2382

Russian Policy in Europe Inspired by Fear of Germans

By TOM REEDY

(AP) — A foreign diplomat in Berlin tells this story of the days when he was stationed in Moscow:

Joseph Stalin, talking with several envoys of then friendly governments, commented with a sigh:

"Germany is the greatest problem in the world."

One of the diplomats, surprised, said:

"You can't mean that. This is 1947. Germany is beaten and disarmed."

"That's the way it appears now," the generalissimo said. "But wait a while. It will not stay that way. Before long Germany again will be our worry."

The official who tells this anecdote prefers to remain unnamed but it can be said he is not prone to exaggerate.

He concludes:

"The entire Soviet policy in Europe is based on the fear of the Germans. Everything they do stems from that. The Kremlin hopes how close the German armies brought it to disaster. Just about one more real blow and the Reds would have destroyed the communists, probably for all time."

He continues:

"The Russians never indulged much in the so-called denazification after the war. Why not? Because they think nazism is Germanism and you can't knock it out of a German. All you can do is forbid it. That's what they do in the East Zone.

"Now they see the moves to rearm West Germans. To them that means rearming the nazis."

For what? Against communism. This is why, in this diplomat's opinion, the Soviet Army's official newspaper, Tasgliche Rundschau, often refers to the German problem as "the most burning question before the world powers."

Some other foreign diplomats share this reasoning:

1—By pinpointing on Germany, the Kremlin is directing all its guns against rearming the West.

2—By skirting Asiatic questions, the only losers in Korea are the United Nations forces and the numberless Chinese Reds.

"These circles are pondering now whether Stalin's fear of Germans in uniform is so great that he would trade Korea and Indo-China for security on his European doorstep.

The picture of the giant Russian bear quivering over the divided, cuckolded and embittered German and appears contradictory on the surface.

But those who share that belief point out one curious fact: The Soviets were the first to arm a police force of Germans. They built this quasi-infantry force quickly in 1949 into a 50,000-man force with light tanks and heavy artillery training. But since that time, allied intelligence sources say, the figure of 50,000 has remained static.

One conclusion is that the Soviets are yet unwilling to create an effective German military force. Those who think so note that every company of these alert units is sprinkled with watchful Russians.

On the political side in the Soviet zone, the accent is constantly on Soviet-German friendship. It's a weird kind of enforced friendship.

The Soviet troops are barracked away from populous centres. There is a wall between the great bulk of the Russians and the Germans that has been put there by the Soviets themselves.

TRY TO BURN CONSULATE

Athens, Greece, Feb. 1 (AP) — Angry mobs, remembering the war-time occupation by Italy, tried unsuccessfully for the second time in two weeks today to burn the newly-set-up Italian Consulate on the island of Rhodes.

Police quickly extinguished the blaze. Several persons were arrested and later released; but one man identified as the president of the district Ex-servicemen's Union was held.

HANDWRITTEN BIBLE

Calgary. (CP)—Rev. J. M. Watts of the Pentecostal Tabernacle here is directing a project of a handwritten Bible. With each parishioner contributing a chapter, and well-known citizens contributing a verse or two, the work is expected to be finished in three months.

Neglecting Child Brings Sentence Of Two Years

Sudbury, Ont., Feb. 1 (C
A young Sudbury man today were sentenced years in penitentiary for endangering the life of their five-year-old son through neglect.

"Even animals fight to death to preserve their young," Judge J. M. Cooper told Florence Wood, 25, and Victor Wood, 27.

They were charged with putting the life of Richard Alexander (Ricky) Wood in danger by neglecting, refusing or omitting to provide him with food, care, lodging and medical attention.

Neighbors gave evidence at the three-day trial that the child foraged in garbage cans for food and was frequently bruised from beatings he received.

"You even neglected to avail yourselves of assistance which society has put at your disposal to preserve the health of your child," the judge said. "This I cannot understand."

Mrs. Wood covered her face with her handkerchief and sobbed in the stilled court as sentence was passed. She is expecting a third child.

Her husband showed no emotion. The two were holding hands as they left the prisoner's box and were led from the court room.

Would Like to Whip

Judge Cooper told Wood that if he had the authority he would give him a lighter sentence and order him whipped so he would get out sooner and work to support his children. The maximum penalty under this section is three years in prison. It does not provide lashes.

"The state lays down certain moral codes which its subjects must observe," the judge said. "Failing to do so certain penalties are prescribed. Without these moral codes, we would rapidly degenerate to primitive laws where the survival of the fittest would prevail.

"You are degenerated to even a lower state. Even animals fight to death to preserve their young."

Judge Cooper expressed the opinion that a maximum of three years in prison was low, compared with a maximum of seven years in prison for ordinary theft and, up to life, including lashes, for robbery with violence.

"You robbed a defenceless child of his worldly rights, food and medical care," the judge declared.

WEST HUNTINGDON

WEST HUNTINGDON Y.P.U.

West Huntingdon—The Young People's Union held their regular meeting at Mr. George Post's on Wednesday evening with a good attendance. George Post presided over the program as prepared by Miss Sheila Wilson and Mr. Melbourne Moorcroft had charge of the scripture reading.

Readings were given by Gerald Cooke and George Post. Lois Cooke and Eleanor Wright rendered a duet. Mrs. John Wallace showed interesting and educational films that were much enjoyed.

Mr. and Mrs. Goldie McInroy and William Mumby attended the 40th wedding anniversary in honor of Mr. and Mrs. George Mumby, which was held at Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Mumby's home on Friday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. David Fargey and Nancy; Mr. and Mrs. Milton Shaw and Wayne, of Ivanhoe; Mr. and Mrs. Harold Thompson and Grant; Mr. Sam Fargey, were Friday evening guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Donnan and Mr. Sam Donnan.

Mr. William Reay and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Wright of Belleville were Sunday evening guests of Sarah and Arthur Wilson.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex McFaul of Bonarlaw, spent Saturday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Melville Donnan.

Mr. Melville Reid was a patient in Belleville General Hospital for a few days this week, where he had a minor operation.

Mr. Sam Donnan spent the weekend with his sisters, Tillie and Eliza Donnan, of Belleville.

Mr. and Mrs. Foster Wilson and Mr. and Mrs. Melville Reid, spent last Thursday with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Vice of Oshawa.

Miss Bessie Hollinger, Miss Sarah Wilson, Mr. H. R. Burke and Arthur Wilson were Thursday guests of Rev. and Mrs. Fred Lane of Madoc.

Wednesday evening guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lindsay Sills were Mr. and Mrs. George Ashley, Mr. and Mrs. David Fargey and Nancy and Mr. and Mrs. Burton Wallace.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Donnan spent Saturday with Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Donnan, of Napanee.

Mrs. John Jeffrey spent a couple of days recently with her father, Mr. Tweedie.

Mrs. Frank Armstrong, of Odessa, is spending this week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Melville Reid.

Mr. and Mrs. Goldie McInroy were Tuesday evening guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wood of Ridge Road.

A large number of people enjoyed the special services at Madoc last week.

THE B. I. G. STORES ARE ALWAYS READY TO WELCOME NEW CUSTOMERS — SO WHY GO DOWN TOWN WHEN THERE IS A BELLEVILLE INDEPENDENT GROCER NEAR YOU.

BELLEVILLE INDEPENDENT GROCERS B I G

SAVE!

AYLMER CATSUP 2 11 oz. btls. 37c

GREEN GIANT GOLDEN WAX BEANS 2 15 oz. tins 31c

FREE! Modern Plastic MIXING-SPOON Supply limited IN LARGE BOX OF Kellogg's ALL-BRAN

KELLOGG'S ALL BRAN 16 oz. pkg. 27c

COLGATE COLGATE'S Tooth Paste Large 29c Giant 53c

OVALTINE PLAIN OR CHOCOLATE FLAVORED Medium Large 58¢ & 98¢

JAVEX 16 oz. 15c 32 oz. 25c

PURITY OATS	5 Pound Bag 47c
KOTEX REGULAR SIZES	Package 39c
ASCOT STRAWBERRY JAM	24-oz. Jar 45c
BETTY'S ORANGE MARMALADE	24-oz. 35c
HILLCREST SWEET MIXED PICKLES	16-oz. 25c
SWANSDOWN CAKE FLOUR	Packan 44c
OXO CUBES	17c
4-STRING BROOMS	Each 95c
NUGGET SHOE POLISH	Tin 15c
TOOTHPICKS	2 Cartons 15c
FOOD SAVER WAX PAPER	100 foot Roll 37c
BROCK'S BIRD SEED	Package 23c
SPRING CLOTHES PINS - 3	Packages 29c
ROYAL YORK PEANUT BUTTER	16-oz. Jar 35c
SHIRRIFF'S TRUE VANILLA	1½ oz. 25c
READY CUT MACARONI - 2	Pounds 23c
ALLEN'S APPLE JUICE - 2	20-oz. Tins 23c
CROWN OR BEE HIVE CORN SYRUP	2 Pounds 29c, 5 Pounds 67c

CANADA MATCHES 3 Boxes 25c

ROYAL YORK ORANGE PEKOE TEA ½ lb. 45c

MAPLE LEAF TOILET SOAP 3 bars 27c

VEL lge. size 40c

DR. BALLARD'S Meal Formula 2 lb. 29c

Just Say MARGENE MARGARINE pound 39c

SHROVE TUESDAY, FEB. 6th

AUNT JEMIMA PANCAKE FLOUR	Reg. 19c 3½ Pounds 51c
AUNT JEMIMA BUCKWHEAT FLOUR	Reg. 19c 3½ Pounds 51c

B.I.G. FRESH FRUITS & VEGETABLES

Oranges, Lemons, Grapefruit, Celery, Lettuce, Carrots, Cabbages, Turnips, Onions, Radishes, Green Onions, Rhubarb, Brussels Sprouts, Potatoes, etc.

— AT LATEST MARKET PRICES —

REDNER'S GROCETERIA REDNERSVILLE Phone Mt. View 43-R-2

H. HALES OLIVE STREET Phone 1635

COLLINS' GROCETERIA 225 Station St. Phone 840

R. J. GOODFELLOW 29 Bridge St. West Phone 2181

DUCETTE GENERAL STORE FOXBORO Phone 176-J-3

F. WINDSOR & SON CANNIFTON Phone 732

WRIGHT'S FOOD MARKET 84 WEST MOIRA ST. Phone 1195

RAYMOND'S GROCERY 87 N. FRONT ST. Phone 1073

PRINGLE'S GROCERY CATHARINE & OCTAVIA Phone 474

McEVOY'S MARKETERIA 1 MOIRA ST. E. Phone 570

R. G. COULTER 109 N. FRONT ST. Phone 1113

WIMS GROCERY 165 BRIDGE ST. E. Phone 46

O. HALES Phone 3 Phone 1864 141 VICTORIA AVE.

MITCHELL'S FOOD MARKET ROSSMORE Phone 37-R-11, Mt. View

HARRY ALLEN 54 DUNDAS ST. Phone 1440

E. A. RIDLEY 113 VICTORIA AVE. Phone 488

KLEENEX SOFTER STRONGER WHITER 2 Reg. Pkgs. 39c

FOR DELIVERY PURPOSES HAVE ORDERS BY 10.00 A.M. and 4.00 P.M.

NOW Vacuum packed F-R-E-S-H CORN AT A POPULAR PRICE

GARDEN PATCH BRAND FRESH CORN

Now you can buy vacuum packed fresh corn at an economical price. The tender, golden kernels are whisked cleanly from the cob and swiftly vacuum sealed in cans bearing Garden Patch Brand Corn labels. All the peerless flavour is captured and retained, awaiting the magic touch of a can opener to release its golden goodness for your table.

Look for Garden Patch Brand Fresh Corn on your grocer's shelves. You'll find this vacuum packed corn so easy to serve, so delicious to eat — and so easy on the purse. Buy several cans of Garden Patch Brand Corn today — it's a must on any shopping list.

Prepared by the packers of Ribbon Brand Corn and Green Giant Brand Peas FINE FOODS OF CANADA LIMITED, TECUMSEH, ONT.

SECOND SECTION

The Ontario Intelligencer

PAGES 13 to 24

BELLEVILLE, ONTARIO, THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 1, 1951

Scene Of Disastrous Three Rivers Bridge Collapse Early Yesterday

Four bodies have been recovered from the icy waters below what was the Duplessis Bridge at Three Rivers, Quebec. Four big spans of the bridge collapsed with a roar like an earthquake, and cars driving across the structure were plunged into the water. In the above photo, one car is shown at the far side of where the spans hit the water. This morning, Premier Duplessis, after whom the bridge is named, said that he may order a public probe into the disaster. In the photo, one approach of the bridge is shown, and the darker spots in the centre, where the huge concrete slabs broke between the abutments and crashed into the river. Officials said that the river never freezes solid at the point where the crash occurred. — Central Press Canadian.

Assistance for Handicapped Persons Needed in Canada Says Gregg

Toronto, Feb. 1 (CP) —Labor Minister Gregg said today that Canada needs a well-rounded plan for aiding persons physically handicapped other than by industrial accidents or war wounds.

He told the first national conference on rehabilitation of handicapped persons that there is no co-ordinated plan in effect in Canada today for the benefit of those who have a handicap brought about by some event not connected with industry or with war service.

"In saying this I know of the work that has been started by one or two of the provinces and also that carried out by certain voluntary agencies. Valuable as those efforts are, there is still a great gap to be filled."

Mr. Gregg's deputy, Arthur MacNamara, also addressed the conference. The three-day meeting brought together representatives of various groups doing volunteer work for handicapped persons, of all provincial governments and of the Federal Departments of Labor, Health and Veterans' Affairs.

Mr. Gregg said in a speech prepared for delivery that there are thousands of Canadians who, because of handicaps, are unemployed or under-employed because they are believed incapable of self-sustaining employment.

"As they are at present equipped, the things they can do are so limited that attempts on their part alone to get work usually fails—or at best provide something quite inadequate. It is this group that we are chiefly concerned about. . . .

"Perhaps what we need most now are a few good simple plans that will use the utmost of our joint resources in hand and in sight in a new combined operation.

Mr. MacNamara said that the Labor Department's special placements division, working in close co-operation with welfare organizations, has found 80,000 jobs for handicapped persons from 1945 to 1950. The total last year had been 9,000-more than 170 a week.

"Let us get clearly in our mind," said Mr MacNamara, "that the handicapped person is not a useless person."

'Mike' Pearson Proposed as Ball Commissioner

Toronto, Feb. 1 — (CP) — Hon. Lester B. Pearson, Canada's Minister of External Affairs, is a possible nominee for the job of High Commissioner of Baseball.

This was reported today by Al Nickleson in a Toronto Globe and Mail sports column. He said that Edward A. Carroll, national president of the Native Sons of Canada, had suggested the Canadian diplomat's name to Vice - President Del Webb of the New York Yankees. Webb asked for more information about Mr. Pearson, a keen baseball fan.

Present commissioner is A. B. (Happy) Chandler who was unseated from his $65,000-a-year post by a vote of major league baseball club owners recently. His contract runs until next May 1.

Massive Air Attacks in Korea In Past Weeks

Tokyo, Feb. 1. (Reuters)—Lt.-gen. George E. Stratemeyer, commander of the Far East Air Force, reported today that in two weeks, to the end of January United Nations planes had launched "the most massive and sustained air attack of the Korean conflict."

More than 10,000 flights had "built a crippled the already-battered communistic communication system in North Korea" and given close support to ground troops.

Communist "concern" over the air blows to their lifelines was "reflected in their willingness to venture air-to-air combat with U.N. fighters hovering at the bridge complex of North Western Korea."

A summary issued by air force headquarters in Korea said fighter and light bomber flew more than 14,000 sorties in January and that more than 19,000 communists were killed or wounded.

Following recent criticisms about "over-accurate" claims, the air force added:

"This figure represents only those casualties actually observed by pilots. In the past these claims have proved to be much lower than the actual number of casualties inflicted."

Foulkes to Become Permanent Head Chief of Staff

Ottawa, Feb. 1 (CP)—Defence Minister Claxton announced today that Lt.-Gen. Charles Foulkes is being named the top military official of the entire defence department as permanent chairman of the chiefs of staff committee.

He will be succeeded as chief of the general staff by Lt.-Gen. Guy Simonds, 47, present head of the National Defence College.

Gen. Foulkes, because of seniority, has been acting as chairman of the chiefs of staff committee for five years but the new move appears to be in line with the American step making Gen. Omar Bradley over-all head of all the American forces.

Mr. Claxton said the reason for making the change was to increase defence activities particularly those having to do with co-operation with the other countries under the North Atlantic treaty which has been requiring more and more of Gen. Foulkes' time.

An Order-in-Council passed today says Gen. Foulkes, 48, will be charged with the job of co-ordinating the operations and training of the Canadian forces".

Australian Govt. Theatens Action Against Miners

Sydney, Australia, Feb. 1— (Reuters) — Foreign Minister Percy Spender today said Australia faces "a communist conspiracy" in the coal miners' decision to stage one-day stoppages starting next week. The ministry are protesting a recent wage award.

As the miners' central council threatened to extend the strike, Spender said that "continued defiance of the law can no longer be tolerated." The government would not be deterred by threats in its determination to uphold the arbitration system.

Unless the "conspirators" are dealt with, he said, Australia's economy will be destroyed.

The miners' central council decided on the one-day-a-week stoppages yesterday. Today it threatened to make it two days a week if the government takes legal action against the union leaders.

The council's strike decision followed similar action by rank-and-file mass meetings in protest against a recent ruling by the coal-industry tribunal ruling. The ruling said the wage rises of up to $4.48 a week should be conditional on the miners' working 10 full days every two weeks.

The tribunal banned stoppages last week. The miners face six months imprisonment or a $250 fine if they ignore the ban. The government has also threatened to invoke the Crimes Act, which would mean that troops could take over the mines.

Eight Families Driven From Flats Above Store

Montreal, Feb. 1 — (CP) — A fire of unknown origin which started in a hardware store on Laurier Avenue in the east end early today drove eight families from their flats above the store. Soon had a 2-alarm blaze.

First estimates of damage were in the neighborhood of $100,000. The building, constructed only a year ago, was a total loss.

One fireman was slightly injured.

The blaze started soon after 1 a.m. EST, and as the flames raged out-of control three alarms were sent. Residents in an adjoining building were warned to be ready to leave their dwellings, but firemen were able to confine the flames to the hardware store and the apartments above.

22 U. S. Senators Arrange For Legislation to Construct Seaway and Power Project

Washington, Feb. 1 (CP) — A group of 22 United States Senators arranged for introduction today of legislation to authorize construction of the St. Lawrence Seaway and Power Project.

The bipartisan measure has the approval of President Truman. In recent messages to Congress he has emphasized that the development is "urgently" needed to further the defence effort.

Senator Theodore Green (Dem., R.I.), in a prepared Senate speech said:

"We who now offer this (bill) do so with the conviction that the course of events has, after many years, made the benefits of the dual purpose project apparent even to the most skeptical and has so increased the urgency of our realizing those benefits that the proposal will receive the Congressional approval which it has so long and so vainly merited."

He said the project "must be built" as a strategic requirement of national security and the continental defence of the United States and Canada.

Joining with Green in the introduction were 11 other Democrats and 10 Republicans.

Similar legislation has already been introduced in the House of Representatives.

The project, first considered more than 50 years ago, would open the Great Lakes to ocean-going shipping and harness the immense hydro-electric potential of the St. Lawrence River. Canada has long been in favor of it but ratification of the project has been stalled in Congress since 1941.

Would Cost Billion

On the basis of most recent estimates the development would cost in the neighborhood of $1,000,000,000.

Green said there is "no doubt whatever" that the power the project would yield is needed and that it can be supplied at "exceedingly low cost."

Green said that with respect to the transportation phase of the seaway "controversy still lingers." But "even here, however, the case has become so strong that all reasonable men must, I think, concede its basic merit."

"Only by construction" of the seaway could the United States assure itself of a "safe and efficient" route for the importation of iron ore.

He cited the "great deposits" of high grade ore now under development in Quebec and Labrador. Transportation of this ore over the proposed seaway to the steel mills of the Great Lakes would be "vastly safer than any other alternative route of importation."

Hurls Self to Death

London, Ont., Feb. 1 — (CP)— A 37-year-old Kent county man who buried himself from a second floor window at Victoria Hospital yesterday died early today.

Coroner A. R. Routledge ordered a post-mortem examination of the patient, Gehzi Toth of R. R. 1 Pletcher. He said an inquest is unlikely.

Toth was admitted to hospital Jan. 23 and underwent surgery for stomach ulcers. The operation was successful, hospital authorities said, and Toth was on the way to recovery.

Maids Testify Sullivan's Room 'Double-Locked'

Ottawa, Feb. 1—(CP)—Chambermaids testified today in the manslaughter trial of Mrs. Marion Sullivan that the Chateau Laurier hotel room in which Mrs. Sullivan's husband died Nov. 17 had been checked seven times that afternoon and evening and each time found "double-locked."

The testimony was given in the second day of the trial of the 36-year-old Toronto woman on a charge that she killed her husband, Francis J. Sullivan, 52. An original charge of murder was reduced to manslaughter at a preliminary hearing.

The trial is before the winter assizes of the Ontario Supreme Court.

Bernadette Pare, chambermaid on duty on the hotel floor from 7:30 a. m. to 4 p. m. EST, Nov. 17, said she visited the Sullivan room about 2:30 p. m. when she inquired whether the occupants wanted the room made up, a man's voice answered her:

"No, never mind."

Noella Andre, another chambermaid, said she checked the Sullivan room six times during the evening of Nov. 17 and each time found the indicator below the door knob showed that the door had been double-locked from the inside.

Alfred Whitehead, hotel locksmith said a double-locked door could not be opened from the outside without the use of an emergency key kept in the hotel office and Lawrence Jones, hotel office manager, testified that the key is never released without his authority.

The evidence was largely a repetition of that given at the preliminary hearing.

Attorney-General Ready to Help Windsor Dept.

Windsor, Feb. 1 — (CP) — Attorney-General Porter has agreed to sponsor legislation to enable Windsor's Police Department to make annual payments in lieu of pensions to former Police Chief Claude Renaud and former Deputy W. H. Wade. This announcement was made to the Board of Control meeting by Mayor Arthur J. Reaume.

The mayor said this assurance was given to Judge Archibald Cochrane and himself on a recent trip to Toronto.

Pensions for the two former police officials were discussed by the board, but no action was taken. The question will be discussed again at next week's meeting.

Both officials were retired by the Police Commission.

At one point in the meeting, the Board voted in favor of giving the two men the pensions they had earned to date. In the case of former Chief Renaud, the monthly pension would be $85, out of a full pension of $183 which he would have received six years from now on his normal retirement date, had he been employed until that time.

Former Deputy Neale's present earned pension is $36, out of normal pension of $149, which he would have received 12 years from now.

Later the board agreed to lay the question over for one week.

SEEK ASSAILANT

Hamilton, Feb. 1 — (CP) Police sought a husky, fair - haired young man who last night assaulted a married woman walking on Catharine Street north. It was the third sex attack investigated by police in two weeks.

The young woman told officers that the man accosted her suddenly in the street, grabbed at her clothing, deranging and damaging it, then raced off into the shadows.

RAWSON BUS LINES LIMITED ARE SORRY BUT . . .

After 26 years of continuous service without any rate increases, we are forced, due to the vastly increased costs of equipment and operational expenses to amend our fares as follows:

EFFECTIVE ON FEB. 1st, 1951

As Authorized by the Board the new fares will be

3 TICKETS FOR 25c or 12 TICKETS FOR $1.00

TRANSFERS ISSUED FREE ON CASH FARES OR TICKETS.
ADULT — DROP FARE WILL REMAIN THE SAME — 10c.
CHILDREN'S FARE AND PUNCH CARDS — WILL REMAIN THE SAME

Our old tickets will be honored for 90 DAYS plus 2c with each ticket. AFTER THE 30th. of APRIL the old tickets will not be accepted.

THE FREE RIDE ON THE PURCHASE OF $1.00 SHEET OF TICKETS CAN NO LONGER BE GRANTED.

Trudeau Motors Limited

25 YEARS SERVING THE PEOPLE OF THIS AREA

SEEING IS BELIEVING

WON'T YOU COME IN AND SEE THE FINE SELECTION OF

TRUE-VALUE USED CARS

WE HAVE FOR SALE?

The finest selection of all makes and models from 1950 down to the lowest priced cars.

Operating as we do from SIX LOCATIONS, and Covering THREE COUNTIES we are able to select the Choicest Cars and offer the greatest selection.

COME IN AND LOOK THESE OVER:

1950 PLYMOUTH SPECIAL DeLUXE SEDAN
Company Demonstrator. 5,000 miles.
1949 DODGE BUSINESS COUPE.
Air conditioning. Six tires.
1949 MERCURY 4-DOOR SEDAN.
Radio. Air conditioning.
1949 PLYMOUTH SPECIAL DeLUXE SEDAN.
Radio. Air conditioning.
1949 HILLMAN 4-DOOR SEDAN.
Heater and Defroster.
1949 PLYMOUTH SPECIAL DeLUXE CLUB COUPE.
Air conditioning.
1948 CHEVROLET 4-DOOR SEDAN.
Heater and Defroster.
1948 PLYMOUTH SPECIAL DeLUXE COACH
1948 MERCURY DeLUXE COACH
1948 AUSTIN 4-DOOR SEDAN
1947 DODGE DeLUXE 4-DOOR SEDAN
1947 PONTIAC DeLUXE 4-DOOR SEDAN
1947 PLYMOUTH SPECIAL DeLUXE SEDAN
1947 FORD DeLUXE COACH
1946 DODGE DeLUXE BUSINESS COUPE
1946 PONTIAC 4-DOOR SEDAN
1946 PLYMOUTH SPECIAL DeLUXE SEDAN.
1942 OLDSMOBILE 4-DOOR SEDAN
1942 DODGE CUSTOM 4-DOOR SEDAN
1941 DODGE CUSTOM 4-DOOR SEDAN

AND OVER 100 OTHER SELECTED USED CARS TO CHOOSE FROM.

If we do not have the car you want in our Belleville stock — we may have it in our stock at Napanee — Picton — Stirling or Tweed.

Trudeau MOTORS LIMITED SALES and SERVICE

31-41 Station St. BELLEVILLE 125 Front St.

Combine Strauss, Cold War In Rebirth of German Humor

By TOM REEDY

Berlin—(AP)—Berlin's smart showmen have wrapped up Johann Strauss and the cold war into a capsule that has produced the town's biggest hit in years.

The show is a revival of the waltz king's ever-popular "Wiener Blut," with some ball-ringing twentieth century touches.

It has been sold out for a month.

Both East and West Berliners jam the ticket window for each performance.

They sit through the Strauss Waltzes and gay ballet pirouettes in dreamy retrospect of better days. The operetta flows along like Strauss until the middle of the second act.

Out of nowhere appear two drably-clad dancers of doleful mien and loose joints. They go into an eccentric routine much like the old four-a-day Vaudeville circuit business.

The audience giggles, then bursts into a roar. Feet stamping, whistling, cheering and even shouting prove the producers know their Berliners. The act brings down the house. Here's why:

The dance is a cleverly disguised version of the old "March of Radetzky." This is the martial air used for generation of goose-stepping Imperial Germany.

Priceless Parody

The slinky dancers turn into a complete fiasco. Then, as the last few bars of music are heard, they suddenly swing into the real goose step. This lasts only a moment. Their shoulders droop and they develop a furtive look as though they had just been caught stealing.

As the edge toward their exit, they turn wise looks on the shrieking audience, shake their heads and their fingers in the international "no" gesture as much as to say: "not us."

The act runs the gamut of present day German emotions—bitterness over militarism that got them into a mess, the current political argument over whether Germans should again be armed against communism, and finally the equally sharp argument with Germany over whether they want to be armed.

The act gets so many curtain calls that the cast must finally proceed with the resumption of pure Strauss operetta under some difficulties. The director recaptures the Vienna mood by quietly swinging into a ballet built around the "Emperor Waltz" which holds top rating in German hearts.

Nevertheless it isn't the Emperor Waltz that is being whistled or hummed by the audience as it leaves. It is the fox-trotted parodied Radetzky march.

STIRLING

Stirling — Recent guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sarles were Mr. Bert Sarles, of Trenton, and Mrs. Rose Taylor, of Lower Rerby, New Brunswick.

Friends of Mrs. J. H. Beatty ("Hillsboine", will regret to learn that she has been confined to her home the past two weeks through illness.

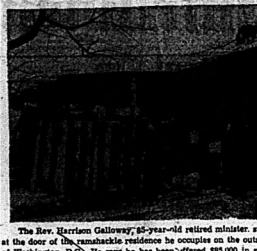
Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Belshaw are spending a few days with Mrs. William Murray, Pontiac, Michigan, and will spend several weeks in Florida.

Mrs. Janet Unnsa was a recent guest of her son, Mr. Charlie Irvine and Mrs. Irvine of Fuller.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Elliott and Mrs. W. Preston are spending some time in Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. Herb Stewart and girls were supper guests

HE'S LIVING IN A GOLD MINE



The Rev. Harrison Galloway, 85-year-old retired minister, stands at the door of the ramshackle residence he occupies on the outskirts of Washington, D.C. He says he has been offered $65,000 in stocks and bonds for the shack and land on which it stands, but he says he wants hard cash. The property backs up to the site of a $10,000,000 department store now under construction. Galloway's property was assessed at $3,700 in 1949. — Central Press Canadian.

READ

evening of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Vandervoort.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Hatton were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Goodridge of Napanee.

Mrs. Blanche Scott spent last week in Trenton.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Davidson and family spent last weekend in Toronto.

Friends join in extending congratulations to Miss Mary Sue Acre of Leaside, Ont., who has been awarded the Governor General Medal and a scholarship in proficiency in English at St. Joseph's convent, Toronto, last year. Miss McGee is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Murray McGee of Leaside, Ont., and granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Clinton McGee of Stirling.

Read—Miss Teresa McDermott, of Wolfe Island, was a weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. V. McDermott.

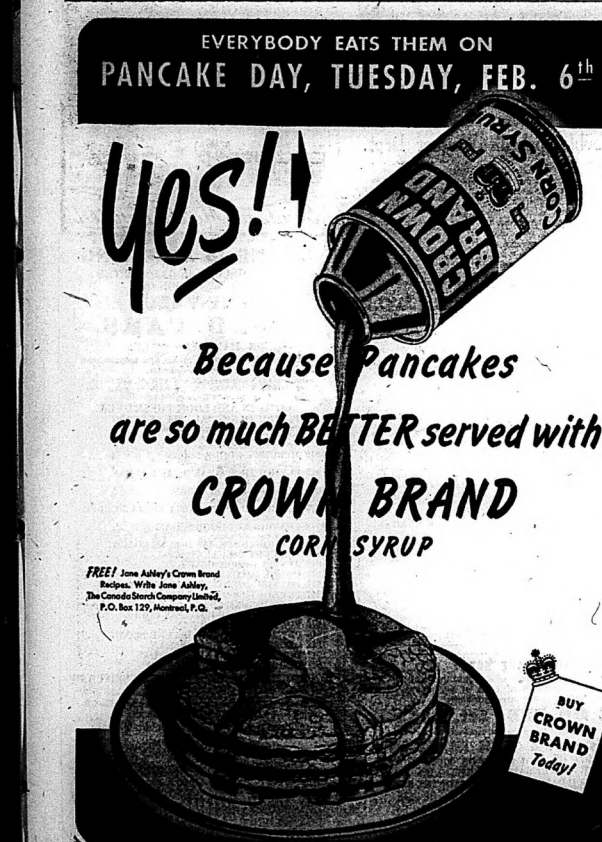
Mr. James Mackey and Mrs. Bill Durkin spent the weekend in Toronto, guests of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Mackey.

Miss Vera O'Neil, of Actinolite, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Buckley.

Mrs. John Enright is spending a few days in Tamworth with Mr. and Mrs. Clarence McGrath and family.

Miss Bernice Power had the misfortune to fall and cut her knee, necessitating several stitches to close the wound.

Mr. Pat Cronin, of Kingston, spent Sunday with Mrs. Cronin and Mr. Joseph Bennett.



Western Ontario Village Split By Two Different Liquor Acts

Grand Bend, Ont.—(CP)—A geographical problem involving liquor law administration that has agitated residents of this attractive Lake Huron resort centre appears to be solved.

The trouble arose because a dividing line has split the village's one main street into two sectors. The line places residents on the south side in Bosanquet Township, Lambton County, and those on the north side in Huron County's Stephen Township.

Now the matter has been resolved by action of Lambton County Council in giving third reading to a by-law authorizing incorporation of the village into Lambton County. The only matter left in the fact that three months must elapse before the by-law becomes effective and Huron county can object.

People on both sides of the boundary get along famously for years. Then it was discovered that Huron County came under the Old Canada Temperance Act which prohibits sale of liquor or keeping for sale.

Lambton County residents—under the Liquor Control Act of Ontario—can buy liquor, wine or beer at government stores, but are liable to prosecution if they consume these drinks outside their homes.

A few feet away, in Huron County, the situation is almost reversed. The C. T. A. does not ban liquor consumption so residents can imbibe in public but they cannot legally buy liquor in person in Huron. Instead, to be within the law, they must order from a place outside Huron County and have the beverage shipped to their home by a duly licenced delivery service.

Law enforcement officers have been thwarted frequently by these conflicting liquor regulations, and scores of Stephen Township residents on the north side of the line, complain that too much publicity is permitted by the antiquated Canada Temperance Act.

Residents of the village—which has a permanent population of 150 and a transient population of 15,000 at the height of the tourist season—feared that a continuance of present liquor laws in Stephen Township would discourage "desirable" tourists and boomers from the high summer trade, especially from the United States.

The move for incorporation followed and last November resulted in the decision to be taken into Lambton County.

Queens or Banana Boats, All Get Equal Treatment

New York — (CP) — Capt. George B. Young of Bergenfield, N. J., has one inflexible rule: when he has a date with a "Queen" he gets to bed early the night before.

As a docking pilot with a big tugboat firm, he has regular dates twice a month with the two biggest queens in the world, the liners Queen Elizabeth and Queen Mary. He is entrusted with bringing the big ships into their berths in the Hudson River and of course must be completely awake when he's on the bridge.

Young, who has had his first-class pilots licence since he was 31 and has been a docking pilot for 15 years, boards the Queens near Battery Place at the lower end of Manhattan Island, relieving the harbor pilot who has brought the ship in from Ambrose Light.

"Male gave you say the ship's master is always in charge," he says. "He does not turn the queen over to us until he's confident we know how to handle her."

The world's biggest liners are coaxed into their docks with a whistle. Young's signals from the bridge have to be picked up by a sailor and relayed to tugs on the starboard bow. Stern tugs, far out of reach of the whistle, get their signals from the ship's mighty siren. Tug pilots repeat the signals before following them so there will be no mistakes.

Careful Calculations

Everything is figured out in advance—winds, tides, weight of the ship, number of tugs needed, the pilots who handle the tugs.

"I consider the pilots as much as I do the tugs—they really know their business," says Young.

Young's job has varied. One Sunday he docked the 80,000-ton Queen Elizabeth. The next day it was a 4,000-ton banana boat.

All jobs are the same to him but he considers his toughest was when he put the big Dutch liner Nieuw Amsterdam into dry dock in Erie Basin in 1946.

"A very tough job," he recalls. "She had clearance of only 50 feet and when she swung in that dropped to 35 feet. There was no room to play. We squeezed her in, though, and when the gates were dropped the Nieuw Amsterdam's stern stuck out over the street a few inches."

Canadian Flu Precautions Recall Suffering of 1918

By D'ARCY O'DONNELL
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Ottawa—(CP)—Will flu epidemics spreading through Britain, Sweden, North Germany and Belgium eventually strike Canada where the disease caused untold suffering and close to 60,000 deaths in 1918?

That is a question Canadian medical authorities are asking while watching developments overseas. Influenza appears in different parts of the world almost every year. Each time doctors wonder if they can expect local epidemics or a pandemic — a world outbreak of the disease.

Ships plying overseas carried the flu virus to Quebec during the 1918 pandemic and within a few months every province in Canada had felt the ravages of the disease. The disease continued during 1919, 1920 and 1921, but with greatly diminished force.

Today no one will claim that Canada can be isolated, but as a precaution a close check is being made on travellers from overseas.

Doctors in the federal government's quarantine service say that a traveller might pass a medical examination on arriving in Canada. A few days later, he might have the flu. The period of incubation of the flu virus is 24 to 72 hours.

Any traveller suffering from influenza on entering the country will be take at once to a hospital and placed in isolation until he was recovered and can travel again without danger of spreading the infection.

Establish Centre

The Federal Health Department has established an influenza information centre to keep Canadian medical authorities abreast of developments in all parts of the world. The federal department's Laboratory of Hygiene has been equipped to identify quickly any specimens of virus sent to it by provincial Health Laboratories.

Medical authorities hope that these precautionary moves coupled with the use of new drugs developed since 1918 will help minimize any flu outbreak in this country.

The outbreak originated in Spain and quickly spread through Europe, hitting both Allied and German troops. The first cases reported in Canada were found among the crew of an Indian ship examined at the quarantine station on Grosse Isle, in the St. Lawrence River below Quebec. That was July 9, 1918.

The disease appeared in Quebec. It hit Montreal in September. In October, November and December it spread along lines of travel and struck at even the remotest sections of the country.

Conditions were such that it was impossible to obtain accurate statistics on the number of cases. Dr. Heagerty estimated that one-sixth of the Canadian population was attacked and that the death toll was 30,000.

Quebec Topped List

The Bureau of Statistics, on the basis of reports from the then nine provinces has estimated the death toll at 37,655. It gives this breakdown:

Prince Edward Island, 86; Nova Scotia, 1,836; New Brunswick, 1,394; Quebec, 10,137; Ontario, 10,031; Manitoba, 2,121; Saskatchewan, 3,834; Alberta, 4,003; and British Columbia, 3,404.

No record is available of the number of deaths in outlying sections of the country, but it is known that Labrador whole villages were eliminated.

In Montreal when the disease was at its height there were 201 deaths in one day. Dr. Heagerty estimated that at least 100,000 persons in Montreal suffered from the disease.

Coroners were organized in the city to make a house-to-house check on the number of sick and the need for assistance. At times whole families were ill in bed, unable to help themselves.

In some cases the dead were in bed alongside the sick.

All types of vehicles were pressed into service to carry the dead to cemeteries. The vaults were soon filled to overflowing and the coffins had to be piled along the roads in the cemeteries.

What occurred in Montreal was repeated in Toronto and in other Canadian communities on a smaller scale.

Yank Defends U.K. Retailers

London, — (CP) — Criticism from North American visitors of food-handling methods in Britain, has brought a United States citizen to the defense of the average shopkeeper in the United Kingdom.

S. C. Welner, who served with the U.S. forces during the war, and at present operating a provision business in London, deplored the attacks as "unreasonable." The British retail food supplier, he said, was doing an excellent job under the heavy burdens of his country's circumstances.

He was replying to published criticism that spoke of butchers "whacking of a chunk of meat," dropping it on the scale, placing it on newspaper and handing it to the customer.

Among other charges the visitors claimed shopkeepers often failed to use hygienic methods in handling of food, merchandising procedure was backward and refrigeration facilities were lacking.

In his defence of the merchants, Mr. Welner claimed that present circumstances were largely responsible for any short-coming compared with North American standards.

Because of the necessity of exporting the cream of the country's foodstuffs, for economic reasons, the variety of provisions offered is limited, he said.

Many shops, he said, were equipped with modern refrigeration systems would like to instal these facilities, but were unable to afford it, due to restricted income as a result of rationing.

Newspaper was used as an outside wrapper but only because of the paper shortage. The curb on dollar spending forced the merchant to improvise.

"In fact he is doing a marvellous job in face of tremendous difficulties," Mr. Welner said.

U.K. Aristocracy Loses Fight To Retain Wealth, Standing

BY SIDNEY TAYLOR

London—(Reuters)—The British aristocracy, groaning under crippling death duties and other levelling down taxation, sold many of their lands and treasures in 1950. Still more are scheduled to go in 1951.

In the struggle to pay maintenance costs and government demands last year, they broke up historic estates, let ancestral homes go back to brewers, opened castles at a shilling a look to sightseers and sent van loads of family heirlooms to the London auction sales.

At Sotheby's and Christie's auction rooms three dukes, two marquesses and a marchioness said goodbye to their precious possessions. So did nine earls, five viscounts, 10 barons and four baronets.

Under their own names, they disposed of the best part of $1,400,000 worth of old masters, jewelery, antique gold and silver, porcelain and early printed books. How much they and others, sold anonymously is anybody's guess.

If maintenance expenses are the great worry of the landed gentry, death duties are their nightmare. Since the Labor government of 1946 budget, the maximum duty payable at death on estates exceeding $5,600,000 is 75 per cent. This tremendous tax has done more than anything else to break up ducal estates. Few remain.

The Duke of Norfolk, England's premier duke and holder of titles dating back to the 12th and 13th centuries has prophesied that within three generations all Britain's large country estates will be split up or in the hands of the government.

As the first half of the century other place for a home.

For a week no one would know they were around, till one night there was a scuffle under the cabin, followed by a terrific odor that only a skunk could create. Everyone in the cabin said: "It's right under my room."

A couple of nights later the same thing happened again in the middle of the night. The choking smell kept us awake the rest of the night, and lingered for a couple of days. The skunk family had been inoffensive enough as long as they were left to themselves, but when some other animal encroached on their privacy, they let fly.

Something had to be done about it, but the question was "What?"

* * *

Finally my son hit on an idea. "I'll chase them away," he said. "I'll play them at their own game."

We watched to see what he would do about it.

Putting a handful of sulphur into a tin can, he got a match to it, and slid it cautiously under the verandah.

The fumes were pretty bad for awhile, but not much worse than the skunks. It was not long before they took effect.

The old lady came out from under the cabin, followed by the young ones...one, two, three, four. That was a language they could understand. As she led them off into the bush I could imagine her saying to the youngsters "Come on, kids. We can't compete with that." And they did not come back for more.

Found a Way of Beating Skunks at Smell Game

By E. C. Burton. In "Sylva," Official Organ of Department of Lands and Fisheries.

Have you ever been over-powered by a skunk? Of course you have at some time or another, if you have ever been long in the bush.

When a skunk makes its home close to yours it is a problem to persuade it to move on. You cannot drive it away, for it may take revenge, and in this case revenge is not sweet.

Last Summer we tried an experiment.

* * *

One day, when looking out of the window of the cabin, we saw a full grown skunk strolling around the garden.

I stepped outside, thinking that might drive it...discreetly...out into the bush. Instead of walking away from me, however, it strolled leisurely past me and disappeared under the verandah of the cabin.

A couple of days later we saw it in the garden again, coming from behind the location this time followed by four young ones fantastic little...cute little devils ...each with a warning stripe down both sides of its back just like its mother. She led the parade back to the same spot and disappeared with her family under the verandah.

* * *

From previous experience, I did not anticipate that they would be effective unless molested, but wished that they had chosen an-

Little Benny's Note Book

Ma was looking at her paper and pop was looking at his, saying. Quoth the raven, nevermore. Professor Dear Admiral Perkinbridge claims that world war 3 is just around the corner, and Professor Knowall University advising everybody to go underground immediately and start growing vegetables with gigantic seeds. Just wait and see.

I dont need any experts to tell me that another big war is practically here, ma said, and pop said, Have you been looking at recent documents over somebody's shoulder?

I've been looking over the attitude of the salespeople in the shops, and it tells me all I want to know, and more, ma said. During the last war it was simply impossible to fitch a single sole to walk on you in the stores with a polite word or a human smile, they were just too rushed and harried and at the same time so sure of their jobs. Well downtown today I found the same spirit rife among the salespeople, with civil assery a hastily conspicuous for their absence. William, another practice calls on our doorsteps. But it takes heroic times to bring out heroic natures, and the salesman at Slawters shoe store was a glorious exception. He was just as polite and patient as if there wasn't a war cloud in the sky, and I'm sure you'd be had his reward. I went in there meerly with the economical purpose of taking advantage of their sale of walking shoes, but I went out with an extra pair of quite expensive evening slippers, just to prove that good manners are never wasted, regardless of the weld situation, she said.

Yes gosh, that's the spirit that will stop wars, pop said.

Not saying whether he meant ma's spirit of the shoe salesman's.

* * *

of the common man passes into the second a British peer thinks himself lucky if he can save his favorite home—usually one of his lesser ones—by selling parcels of his land or giving them outright to the government, as Viscount Portal did.

The number of stately homes of England now open to the public at a shilling or half-a-crown a time rose in 1950 to more than 80. For the purposes of taxation they became "business premises" and the noble lords were allowed to charge expenses. A duke in modern England may be a guide to visitors in his own mansion. A duchess may have to make tea —just as an opening gesture, of course—to the crowds who want to see how the nobility live.

German Mayor Turns Cupid To Obey Land Reform Rules

Bonfield, Germany—(Reuters) —Land reform has made Mayor Reinhard Volpp turn cupid, and he's not happy about it.

"I am no marriage agency," says the jovial Volpp. But thanks to him 30 young local farmers soon may have more land and a wife apiece.

The role of marriage agent was thrust upon the unwilling mayor last October. That's when he was dividing among Bonfeld farmers part of the estate of the local lord of the manor, the Freiherr Von Gemingen, in accordance with West Germany's land reform law.

Almost 200 acres were to go to the smallholders around the village. There was only one condition—recipients had to be married.

And despite a severe man shortage in West Germany, 30 of the farmers had managed to stay single.

"It's a tragic position," Mayor Volpp explained.

"The local girls don't want to marry farmers. They prefer industrial workers—it's an easier life.

The mayor's problem was partly solved for him when a small report on the village appeared in the local newspaper.

"This drought first of all a drove of reporters descending on the peaceful village. Then, from all over Germany, letters began to arrive from would-be farmers' wives.

So far there have been more than 60 letters, Volpp said.

They came from unmarried girls, widows and refugees. Some were from farmers' daughters, many from town girls tired of living among ruins and fighting alone the rising cost of living.

Distributes Addresses

At first the mayor did not know what to do. But finally he decided to distribute the addresses of the "marriage candidates" among his bachelor farmers.

He knows the farmers, and their tastes.

"None of them can put anything over on me," he said. "I just tell them to come off it, I knew your father."

He talked each letter over with his secretary. Finally each bachelor got one or two addresses of suitable girls.

"Then I told them to get on with it," Volpp said.

Asked whether any of the farmers had married his "candidates," he replied:

"Oh, no, no. It does not go as quickly as that.

"But a lot of letter writing is going on, and one or two of the girls have been down here. One couple night even got engaged soon.

"When the first five marry, I've told them we will have a village feast."

Only one thing worries Mayor Volpp. He is a little anxious about becoming the father-in-law of the village.

"If things turn out badly, they might start to say 'we have that old yo-and-so of a mayor to thank for this," he said.

6TH TYENDINAGA

6th Tyendinaga — Moult's Neighborly Aid held a pot luck dinner and quilting at the home of Mrs. Murney Wilson on Thursday; a short business meeting was held with the new president Mrs. Lorne McKenzie taking charge.

Mrs. J. Boldrick is improving after her recent illness.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Treverton visited at Mr. Clare Weese's, Melrose, on Sunday.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Alton Goodman (nee Annie Gray) who were married on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Treverton visited friends on Sunday.

Mrs. C. Goodman spent the dinner hour with Mr. and Mrs. Lorne McKenzie and Sunday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Roy Boldrick.

THOMASBURG

Thomasburg — A number of people from Thomasburg United Church attended the different meetings during last week being held at Trinity United Church, Madoc, in connection with the second week of the Madoc at 4 Eleven Sunday School Associations evangelical campaign.

It is with sincere regret that the news of the death of Mrs. Victor Stephen, of Toronto, was learned here. Her death occurred at Toronto hospital on Sunday where she had been admitted one week previous the result of being critically injured by a car on a Toronto street, while lending a helping hand to one in distress. Mr. John Stephen of this community, formerly of the "M. and S." service station here, is an only son, while Mrs. Ernest Morton is a sister, to whom the sincere sympathy of the community is extended.

Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Carleton and Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Mumby opened their spacious home on Wednesday evening for a social evening and progressive euchre party under the auspices of Christ Church congregation, there was a very large attendance with 26 tables of cards being played and many more people who spent the evening in a social way.

Miss Elsie Richardson and Mr. F. Hosking of Oshawa, were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Richardson.

During the past week the township weigh scales which

IF AT FIRST

Montreal—(CP)—Thomas Illes, 27, Hungarian immigrant, got busy looking for a job as soon as he arrived here. He made 704 telephone calls to Montreal firms his services. On the 195th call he got a job.

TOO COLD

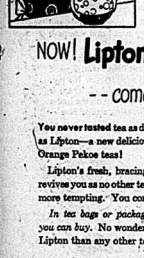
Longueil, Que. — (CP) — St. Lawrence River flood waters swirled in Wilfrid Calzeneau's home and lapped around the side of his squirming for tropical fish. When the owner discovered it the fish were almost all dead from the change in temperature.

have been in operation for many years in the village have been dismantled. For some months they have been badly in need of repair and during the severe wind storm late last November the building was blown to lean from the east to the west.

Mrs. Stanley Williams and John, of Kingston, are spending this week with their aunt, Mrs. Wesley Morton, who is ill.

Mr. Gerald Morton had the misfortune of having a valuable yearling heifer killed when it jumped in front of a truck while on the road at the Morton home, driven by Mr. Lorne Mumby. The beast was almost instantly killed.

School in the senior room reopened on Monday after a week being closed owing to the illness of the teacher, Mrs. Harrison. Friends are pleased to learn that Mrs. Harrison is much better.



NOW! Lipton's delicious new blend!

--comes in handy tea bags, too!

You never tasted tea as downright delightful as Lipton—a new delicious blend of costliest Orange Pekoe teas!

Lipton's fresh, bracing flavor cheers and revives you as no other tea does. Food tastes more tempting. You come to life!

In tea bags or packages, it's the best tea you can buy. No wonder more people drink Lipton than any other tea in the world!

Come to life with Lipton—in tea bags or packages — the finest blend you can buy!

Dispersal of British People Urged by Emigration Group

London—(CP)—A plan to disperse part of Britain's population and essential war industries through commonwealth territories that are relatively safe from atomic attack is proposed by Sir Clifford Heathcote - Smith, deputy chairman of the Council for the New Era of Emigration.

Sir Clifford in a letter to the Times describes the problem as one of the gravest and most urgent for the Commonwealth to decide.

The Council contends that the strength or even the survival of the British Commonwealth may depend on swift action in transferring the nation's industrial strength from target areas to the chief European-settled countries of the Commonwealth.

"This is far from being a crisis measure," he writes. "A better distribution of industry and population would strengthen Britain and all the Commonwealth nations, both economically and as a matter of defence."

With migrants from Britain, he adds, should go some of the many refugees and displaced persons at present scattered throughout Western Europe. In the young er countries overseas, they would become an incalculable asset to the Commonwealth.

Brinley Thomas, professor of economics at University College, Cardiff, described Sir Cliff's proposal as "unconvincing as it is realistic."

"This is an extraordinary policy to recommend at the very moment when everything depends on a situation of strength being rapidly built up in Western Europe," he said. "In other words our particular contribution to the defence of the free world would be to stage a gigantic Dunkerque.

"The proposal, he added, would undermine the very foundations of the Atlantic Treaty.

"Imagine the effects on the United States and the nations of Western Europe," said Prof. Thomas. "Does anyone seriously think that the rulers of Russia would hold back because the British Commonwealth was redistributing its population?"

Britain's destiny, he insisted, was bound up with the worldwide group of free nations, of which the United States was the corner-stone. Any plan treating Britain's security as a mere Commonwealth problem would be "unconvincing and completely unrealistic."

Thousands Ask Compensation For Brutal Nazi Operations

By HANNS NEUERBOURG

Munich, Germany — (AP) — Thousands of Germans sterilized by the Nazis have organized to demand compensation and to fight any future attempt at compulsory sterilization law.

The organization claims 3,500,000 people were sterilized by Hitler.

There are more than 2,000 in the new "Central Association of Sterilized people in West Germany" and more are joining every week. Chairman Ernst Koeniger says thousands of others are deterred from joining by feelings of embarrassment.

Koeniger's association demands equal recognition with concentration camp prisoners and war veterans as deserving public assistance. It asks a life-time pension of 80 marks ($20) a month, and life-long free medical care for all sterilization victims.

At its first public meeting in Munich, the association declared its intention to oppose any future attempt to compel sterilization for any reason—even though "medically justified."

"Who could control the application of such a law?" asked Koeniger. "The Nazi sterilization order claims to be based on eugenic reasons, too. But what became of it?"

Nazis Brutal

He charged the Nazis used the law brutally to punish or wipe out "undesirables," and that its application was more political than medical.

Koeniger, 31, was sterilized in 1933 when the Nazis accused him of hereditary feeble-mindedness. Actually, Koeniger says, he was known to the Nazis as a half-Jew.

He spent the last 7 years of the Second World War in a concentration camp.

Koeniger estimates 60 per cent of the 3,500,000 men and women sterilized by the Nazis between 1933 and 1945 were women.

Many couples were divorced because one partner was sterilized, Koeniger said.

There have been reports of some cases where fertility was restored, but Koeniger said he opposes personally any new operation performed on him—even if it would lead to "refertilization."

MARSH HILL

Marsh Hill —Mr. and Mrs. Benson Mills were recent Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Burton Coulter, of Tweed.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Ross are doing Mr. Cecil Rose' work as Mr. Rose is ill.

Mr. Donald Aide has returned home from Chatham where he was employed on the hydro.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Pilchett and Marilyn, of West Huntingdon; Mr. H. R. Burke and Miss Beatrice Hollinger, of Fuller, were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. David Hollinger.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Heasman entertained a number of friends to a euchre party on Friday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Allyn Finkle and boys were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clare Finkle of Belleville.

Radio farm forum was held Monday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Coulter.

Mr. and Mrs. John Brown and Barbara spent Sunday visiting Mrs. Brown's father, Mr. James Tydick of Perth, who is ill in bed.

FLU HITS SWITZERLAND

Berne, Switzerland, Jan. 31 — (Reuters) — Influenza cases reported to Swiss health authorities last week totalled 4,225 compared with 2,211 for the previous week. Only three deaths have been reported to date.

FRANKFORD

Canadian Legion Committees Elect 1951 Officers

Frankford — The regular bi-monthly meeting of the Frankford Branch of the Canadian Legion was held in the Legion Club Room Monday evening, with a good turnout, Comrade president Holt Madill called the meeting to order, and all stood in silence in memory of the comrades who paid the supreme sacrifice during the two great wars.

Minutes of the last meeting were read and adopted, as were minutes of the executive meeting on Monday evening. Correspondence was read by Comrade secretary Gene Lohnes. The treasurer's report and the building fund report were given.

Committee Reports

Committee reports were then given. Comrade Ken Lawrence gave a report on the card party planned for Tuesday evening, and all arrangements appeared to be in order. A report was also given on the proposed social evening for the Legionnaires and Ladies, to be held on February 14th.

Other items of vital importance to the Legion were discussed for almost an hour, and several questions were settled in a democratic manner, chief criteria of Legion business.

Officers Elected

Committees were then reviewed, and where necessary, re-arranged. This brought about many changes, and the slate of officers, committees and chairmen of committees are as follows:

President, H. J. Madill; 1st vice-president, George Montgomery, 2nd vice president, Ken Lawrence, secretary, Gene Lohnes; treasurer, Earl Rogers; Sergeant at Arms Mitford Macaulay.

Committees (first named is chairman) service bureau: Ross Huffman; sports: Ralph Molleson, Clande Preuch; transportation: Thorburt Smith, Ernest Chard, Max Crowe; permanent deeds committee: H. Madill, E. Rogers, J. McInally; club room committee: George Montgomery, Charles Harvey, (and Mrs. L. Hanna of Ladies Auxiliary); parades: A. Southworth, Milford Macaulay; membership and investigation: Herman Chard, Earl Crowe, Earl Rogers; social and publicity, Jill Rose, Kenneth Lawrence, Carman Mikel, Bill Reynolds, J. McInally. (Note: This committee replaces the two committees of last year, namely: social and building fund committees); sick and relief: Leo. Macaulay, J. Downe, G. Manning.

A contest was conducted, and was won by Earl Crowe; Comrade president Madill welcomed several veterans who were visiting for the evening. Four new members were welcomed into the Branch, comrades Everett Hall, Keith Casement, Harold Down and John Hesshell.

ASKED TO TIGHTEN LAWS

Toronto, Jan. 31 — (CP)—Premier Frost was asked Tuesday to tighten liquor laws and close all liquor outlets near churches, schools, universities and hospitals.

The suggestions were contained in a letter sent Tuesday to the premier by 17 conveners of church committees in central and southwestern Ontario.

The group also asked for restriction of current construction of liquor outlets and a ban on building of new ones; a 10:30 p.m. closing hour for liquor outlets — (some now are open until 2 a.m.); and establishment of a central control for liquor law administration.

MARMORA

Dr. H. G. Parkin Addresses Home And School Assoc.

Marmora — The monthly open meeting of Marmora Home and School Association was held on Monday evening in the public school. Mrs. Bruce Macdonald presided was in the chair. Mrs. A. F. Fraser gave a talk on Home and School literature. The slogan figures of parents and grandparents was given by principal R. C. Prentice.

Mrs. Jack Hickey played two pianoforte pieces. A picture puzzle contest was staged by James Sproul.

The speaker of the evening was Dr. H. G. Parkin who gave an enlightening talk on "Emotional Development in Children" At the close of the meeting refreshments were served.

Personals

The Rev. G./D. Young is spending a few days in Toronto.

Mrs. W. Geno is confined to her home through illness.

Miss Jan Kerr returned home from Belleville General Hospital on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kerr and Mr. and Mrs. Keith Smith left on Monday for a two weeks holiday in the Southern States and Florida.

Mrs. Ethel Peck is spending a month with relatives at Niagara Falls, N.Y.

AMBITIOUS BUILDERS

Stratford, Ont.—(CP)—Forty-seven youngsters in the Pal model airplane club here have taken over a workshop where they build anything from flying saucers to model airplanes with a seven-foot wingspread. Apprehensive mothers note that the models are almost big enough to carry baby brother away.

NEW 1951 Chevrolet

OFFERS ALL THE THINGS YOU WANT INCLUDING POWERGlide AUTOMATIC TRANSMISSION

CHEVROLET
A GENERAL MOTORS VALUE

The Smart New Styleline De Luxe 2-Door Sedan

POWERGlide
AUTOMATIC TRANSMISSION

FEATURES
OF THE NEWEST OF ALL NEW CARS FOR 1951

NEW! Longer, Lower, Wider Big-Car Look
Brilliant new styling . . . featuring entirely new grille, parking lights; fender moldings and rear-end design . . . imparting that longer, lower, wider big-car look which sets Chevrolet above and apart from all other motor cars in its field.

NEW! Even Lovelier Bodies by Fisher
With new and even more strikingly beautiful lines, contours and colors . . . with extra sturdy Fisher Unisteel construction . . . Carved Windshield and Panoramic Visibility . . . the smartest, safest, most comfortable edition of Chevrolet's Famous Bodies by Fisher.

NEW! Modern-Mode Interiors
With upholstery and appointments of outstanding quality, in beautiful two-tone color harmonies . . . with an even more attractive steering wheel embodying a new full-circle horn ring (in DeLuxe models) . . . and with extra generous head, leg and elbow room for driver and all passengers.

NEW! Safety-Sight Instrument Panel
Safer, more convenient, more efficient . . . having an overhanging upper crown to eliminate reflections in windshield from instrument lights, and lower edge of panel recessed to provide a safe, convenient location for control knobs . . . with plain, easy-to-read instruments in two large clusters directly in front of driver.

NEW! More Powerful Jumbo-Drum Brakes
(with Dubl-Life tiretloss brake linings)
Largest brakes in Chevrolet history! Extra-safe, extra-smooth, extra-durable . . . with bonded brake shoes on each wheel self-energizing for forward and reverse operation of car . . . providing maximum stopping-power with up to 25% less driver effort.

NEW! Improved Centre-Point Steering
(and Centre-Point Design)
Making steering even easier at low speeds and while parking . . . just as Chevrolet's famous Unitised Knee-Action Gliding Ride is comfortable beyond comparison in its price range . . . additional reasons why more people buy Chevrolets than any other car.

It's good to have all the things you want in a motor car, and to have them at lower cost than they can possibly be found anywhere else.

That's exactly what you'll have when you buy a new 1951 Chevrolet—Canada's largest and finest low-price car — now available with a proved, completely automatic transmission, POWERGLIDE*!

You'll own the newest car for '51 — refreshingly new, inside and out . . . with that longer, lower, wider "luxury look" that stamps it as the most beautiful car in its field.

You'll own the only car that offers you your choice of the finest proved workhorse for your standard driving, at lowest cost. And if you choose a POWERGLIDE-equipped Chevrolet with its new 105 h.p. engine, you'll enjoy driving ease you've never dreamed of. There is no clutch pedal! You simply step on the gas to go, step on the brake to stop! And that's all, in normal driving! Amazing smoothness — saves wear on driver and on car!

And you'll enjoy all Chevrolet's many advantages at extremely low cost through every month and mile of ownership. Come in today—see and drive Canada's largest and finest low-price car . . . and you'll understand why more people buy Chevrolets than any other car.

*Optional on De Luxe models at extra cost.

There is no clutch!

MORE CANADIANS BUY CHEVROLETS THAN ANY OTHER CAR!

J. B. BOYCE AND SONS LIMITED
346 - 350 FRONT STREET
BELLEVILLE, ONT.

CANADA'S LARGEST AND FINEST LOW-PRICED CAR!

THE PRICE OF COCA-COLA
INCLUDING SALES and EXCISE TAXES
7c PER BOTTLE
36c PER CARTON OF 6 BOTTLES
7c PER GLASS AT FOUNTAINS
COCA-COLA LTD.

FELLER IS ALL BALLED UP

Although Bob Feller, fireball pitcher of the Cleveland Indians, seems to have reached his carrying capacity, Hank Greenberg, general manager of the Indians, puts a 1951 ball on the busy while handing Feller his 13th contract after the pitcher signed same. Feller the only active 200 game (actually 208) winner in the majors, signed the 1951 contract for a reported $50,000, which is the same amount he is believed to have received last year. — Central Press Canadian.

Hockey Game Between Pickup Teams Enjoyed

Comic opera on skates was the fare dished out at Plaindell Community Centre the other night as the arena had its first hockey game. The pickup teams from a local lumber company, the Windowsills and the Doorjambs, with and without sticks and skates, provided the entertainment.

Outstanding in Windowsill play was Bob Christmas, who turned in a sterling effort in the nets with a three-foot snow shovel for a goal stick. Also aiding on the losing side was Jack Sills, who operated at somewhat a disadvantage as he had no skates. Best for the winners were Frank Green and Earl Gray, and the only penalty of the game was handed out to Vernon Flindall.

Publicity men for the two rival teams said yesterday that they hoped this would be only the first in a series of home-town games. The Doorjambs managed to get the odd goal in an 11-10 score, despite the gross shovel efforts of Christmas. Members of the winning team were Frank Lake, Frank Green, Claude Prior, Vernon Flindall, Ralph Stewart, and Earl Gray. On the losing side were Jack Sills, Ernie Flindall, Frank Balderis, Fred Evans, Bob Christmas, Dwayne Weese and Vern Stoughton.

The referee was Mace Rigby of Plainfield.

Purses Will be Cut if Night Racing Out

Toronto, Feb. 1 (CP) —Thorncliffe Raceway will be forced to cut purses 50 percent if the Toronto harness course isn't granted night racing this season, the Canadian Trotting Association was told Wednesday night at its annual meeting.

Thornecliffe, which distributed $200,000 in purses last year in 42 days of afternoon racing, has applied for night racing, the meeting starting July 3. The track management, however, is applying for night racing. The dates and type of racing must be approved by the Ontario Racing Commission, a government-appointed body.

H. K. Welch of Maple, Ont., was re-elected president of the CTA at last night's session. J. T. Beaudois of Thetford Mines, Que., and J. H Lock of Toronto were re-elected vice-presidents.

Executive members are: J. W. Brown of New Liskard, Ont.; Dr. C. H. Heslop of Milton, Ont.; Hugh Stewart of Peterborough, and Messrs. Hatch and Lock.

EARLY MISSION

The first Jesuit mission on Cape Breton Island was established at St. Ann Bay early in the 17th century.

Fiery, Itching Toes and Feet

Here is a clean, stainless antiseptic oil that will stop it in 30 minutes, or your money back. Then any dog you own can use it.

No action is so powerfully penetrating that the itching is quickly stopped, and in a short time you get rid of that bothersome, fiery itching. The same is true of Barber's Itch, Ringworm, Eczema and other irritating unsightly skin troubles.

You can obtain Moone's Emerald Oil in the original bottle at any modern drug store. It is safe to use—and failure in any of the ailments noted above is rare indeed.

Doyle's Drug Store

Fights Last Night

(By The Canadian Press)

Manila:—Dado Marino, 119½, Honolulu, decisioned Tanny Campo, 116, Manila (10) (contitle).

Detroit: Ike Williams, 143, Cliffside, N.J., T.K.O.'d Vic Cardell, 145, Hartford, Conn. (9).

Miami Beach: Marcel Brisbois, 148, Montreal, knocked out Vince Scapari, 151, Newark, N.J. (1).

Hawks Paced By Three-Goal Effort by Dwyer

Pembroke, Ont., Feb. 1 (CP)— Paced by Bill Dwyer's three-goal effort, North Bay Hawks defeated Pembroke Lumber Kings 7-3 in an Eastern Hockey League game here Wednesday night.

The injury - weakened Pembroke squad were no match for the second place Hawks. Lumber Kings played with two lines and four defencemen.

Pembroke took an early 1 - 0 lead in the first period but North Bay came back strong and the period ended 3-1 for the Hawks.

The other Lumber Kings' markers were scored by Frank Ringler, Hill, Ralph Orlando and Chick Cecchini. Roy Glesebrecht, Johnny Inglis and Gullick notched the North Bay tallies.

RIVERS OPEN

Although Newfoundland has many excellent salmon streams there are no leased rivers or private fishing clubs there.

Faulty Gangway Collapses, 16 Workers Killed

Belfast, Feb. 1 (AP)—A gangway leading to a ship collapsed last night, killing 16 workers and injuring 46 others.

The workers, crowding ashore at the end of a shift, fell 50 feet. Some were thrown into the water and others on to the pier beside the ship, the Juan Peron, which was being outfitted as a whale factory ship for an Argentine firm.

The ship is a vessel almost 30,000 tons, it is the largest of the type ever built and is designed to operate as an ordinary tanker during the closed season on whales.

It was the worst shipyard disaster in Belfast history. Eyewitnesses said the scene was heart-rending, with cries and groans coming from men crumpled up on the wharf. Many of the injured suffered broken legs in the fall from the long narrow gangway.

There was a loud crack when the wooden gangway parted. Most of those who fell were painters. Some escaped serious injury because they fell on the bodies of others. One youth saved himself by catching an air line leading from the ship to be dock.

Weeping wives and mothers gathered outside hospital gates. Many collapsed as the names of the dead were announced.

CROFTON

Crofton — Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Munro and Keith were Sunday guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Vangreen at Glenora.

Mrs. Douglas Alves and children returned to their home at Pleasant Bay, on Saturday after a week spent with her mother, Mrs. Victor Bongard and Jerrold.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Lawson of Brockville, were Sunday afternoon callers with Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Crook.

Mrs. Victor Bongard and Mrs. Douglas Alves and children spent Friday with Mrs. F. V. Bongard at Glenora.

Mr. and Mrs. B. Jones were in Picton on Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. William Luke and Larry of Brockville and Miss R. Luke of Oshawa, spent Sunday at their summer resort here.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Jones of Belleville were Sunday evening visitors at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. Jones.

Held Over until Saturday

ECONOMIZE at DOMINION

JANUARY SALE

So many thousands of thrifty housewives like to shop at the weekend that we are holding over the popular DOMINION January Sale until Saturday. If you are determined to keep your winter food costs down, stock up this week-end. Choose from the great variety of tasty, low-cost items on display at DOMINION. Remember, you can Save With Safety—everything at DOMINION is 100% Guaranteed.

Stock up on Quality CANNED FOODS

Save with Safety!

AYLMER — CHOICE DICED CARROTS 2 20 Oz. Tins 21c

CULVERHOUSE—CHOICE QUALITY DICED BEETS 2 20 Oz. Tins 21c

AYLMER—CHOICE QUALITY TOMATOES 28 Oz. Tin 19c

BRIGHT'S—CHOICE HALVES IN SYRUP PEACHES 15 Oz. Tin 20c

QUEEN'S ROYAL—STD. Dessert Pears 2 15 Oz. Tins 35c

"HORSEY"—SWEETENED—FLORIDA Grapefruit Juice 2 20 Oz. Tins 27c

METCALFE—IN TOMATO SAUCE PORK & BEANS 2 20 Oz. Tins 27c

J.T.L.—CHOICE—CREAM STYLE Golden Corn 2 12 Oz. Tins 19c

LYNN VALLEY—STD.—CREAM STYLE Golden Corn 2 20 Oz. Tins 25c

LIBBY'S—FANCY SAUERKRAUT 28 Oz. Tin 16c

BRUNSWICK—CANADIAN Chicken Haddie 14 Oz. Tin 23c

AUNT SALLY'S—WITH PECTIN Raspberry Jam 24 Fl. Oz. Jar 36c

VAC-O-NUT PEANUT BUTTER 16 Oz. Jar 29c

PANCAKE MIX AUNT JEMIMA 20 Oz. Pkg. 19c

BUCKWHEAT MIX AUNT JEMIMA 20 Oz. Pkg. 19c

BEE HIVE OR CROWN BRAND CORN SYRUP 2 Lbs. Tin 29c

HABITANT—FRENCH STYLE PEA SOUP 2 28 Oz. Tins 29c

B.C. PACK—FANCY KETA Salmon ½ Lb. Tin 35c ¼ Lb. Tin 19c

CULVERHOUSE—CHOICE—RED PITTED CHERRIES 15 Oz. Tin 21c

YORK—CHOICE TOMATOES 28 Oz. Tin 18c

BRUNSWICK—CANADIAN—IN OIL SARDINES 3 ¼ Oz. Tins 25c

SERVES FOUR PEOPLE Kraft Dinner 2 Pkgs. 27c

RICHMELLO—CANADIAN—FANCY OLD CHEESE Lb. 47c

READY CUT MACARONI 2 Lb. Pkg. 21c

CATELLI—CHOICE—LONG MACARONI 16 Oz. Pkg. 14c

CATELLI—IN TOM. SAUCE SPAGHETTI 20 Oz. Tin 18c

BROAD OR FINE Lancia Noodles 12 Oz. Pkg. 17c

CANDY FEATURE

JELLY BEANS Lb. 33c

GUM DROPS Lb. 33c

TABLE SYRUP OLD TYME 12 Oz. Jar 24c

OPEN ALL DAY MONDAY
Closed Wed. 12.30 Noon
Open Daily 8.45 a.m. to 6 p.m.
Sat. 8.15 a.m. to 6.00 p.m.

Values Effective Thursday, Friday, Saturday, Feb. 1-2-3 In Belleville

CHOCOLATE COVERED Mallow Biscuits 16 Oz. Cello Pkg. 35c

BRAESIDE BRAND—GRADE "A" Large Eggs Doz. 49c

BRAESIDE BRAND—GRADE "A" Medium Eggs Doz. 48c

BEEKIST NO. 1 PASTEURIZED PURE AMBER HONEY 2-LB. CARTON 28c

LYNN VALLEY STD. PEAS 2 15-Oz. Tins 23c

TASTE ITS TENDER GOODNESS! RICHMELLO BREAD WHITE and BROWN UNSLICED 12c SLICED 13c

DOMINO — 3-LB. BOX SOAP FLAKES 57c

All DOMINION Meats are 100% Guaranteed

Save with Safety!

STEAKS SIRLOIN, ROUND, WING lb. 79c

BLADE ROAST, SHORT RIB ROAST lb. 69c

FRESH PORK

SHOULDER, Shankless	lb 49c
BUTT, Well Trimmed	lb 61c
FRESH PORK LIVER	lb 33c
FRESH PORK SPARE RIBS	lb 45c
PORK KIDNEY	lb 25c
FRESH SIDE PORK	lb 45c

OYSTERS 9-OZ. Each 65c

SMOKED BREAKFAST BACON	lb 49c
PEAMEALED BACK BACON	lb 69c
SHANKLESS PICNIC HAM	lb 53c
SMOKED COTTAGE ROLL	lb 63c
SMOKED BACON SQUARE	lb 35c

WE CARRY A FULL LINE OF FISH

FRESH FILLETS	lb 33c
SMOKED FILLETS	lb 39c
SISCOES, Smoked	lb 29c
COD STEAKS	lb 29c

WE CARRY SHOPSY'S PRODUCTS

All DOMINION Fruits & Vegetables are 100% Guaranteed

FLORIDA STRINGLESS FRESH GREEN BEANS lb. 27c

FIRM RIPE TOMATOES Cello Pkg. 25c

TEXAS—First of the Season — Green Tops, NEW BUNCH BEETS 2 Large Bunches 25c

FIRM — FRESH LETTUCE 2 Large Size 27c

FRESH CRISP, LARGE SIZE CELERY STALKS 2 Large Stalks 25c

CALIF. FRESH GREEN TOP, New Bunch CARROTS 2 Bunches 25c

Our Guarantee — All merchandise sold at DOMINION is unconditionally guaranteed to give you 100% Satisfaction

Signpost of Satisfaction Your DOMINION Store

WHITE SWAN

The favorite tissue of Canadian housewives!

WHITE SWAN TISSUES

2 rolls 27¢

Rockets Miss Chance of Moving Into Top Slot of Junior Loop Being Edged by Lindsay 4-3

By JACK BROWN

The only concrete thing about the hockey game in Memorial Arena last night was the fact that you still can't predict anything about the Junior "B" series. Proof of that is the 4-3 edging the Lindsay Kinsmen handed the Rockets.

The Rocks, who seemed to be in a hangover from the Peterborough game Monday night, started out their usual rushing, but their last period drive fell short of the mark. They spotted the Kinsmen a goal in the first period, and another in the second before they started to move. In the third, with six forwards on the ice in the dying seconds, they couldn't get the tying goal.

Smiley Meronek had only three defencemen at his call last night with Bill Turland sitting out the game suffering from a sore mouth. The Kinsmen, who are big and rough, toned down their performance on foreign ice, and played a somewhat cleaner game here than they did in the Scugog centre last Friday night.

Nine Penalties

Referee Bill Reason handed out nine penalties, only three of which went to the Rockets. The locals got their first goal, when the Kinsmen were playing seven men short in the second period. Ken Schenkel and Grant Green were sitting in the box when Patty Gilmour, parked in front of the Lindsay net, took a relay from Jerry Desjardins at 14.50. He caught McGuire napping with a slap shot, and put the Rockets back in the game.

Previously, the Kinsmen had taken the lead on goals by Dick Sproat, a newcomer, and Dave Lucas. They moved two ahead early in the third period, when Bill Strahan was serving a tripping penalty with big Walt Sherrington driving one from the blue line that Peter Green swiped at and missed, and that Tripp couldn't get.

Then the Rockets roared back with Duke Doran tipping in a hard blaster that Ernie Trumble let go, and Gilmour striking again with only 47 seconds left in the game. By that time, the crowd was on its feet and rooting the roof and with five seconds left and the faceoff at the Kinsmen blue line, Bob Tripp was pulled from the nets.

The seconds ticked by, and the Rockets couldn't get a clear shot at the net. They did make things hot for Joe Mitchell crew in the last 20 minutes, but they couldn't beat McGuire.

Early in the third, it looked as if the Rockets were going to put it out of the fire, with Don Hood pulling the defence out, going in all alone, only to be fooled by McGuire. During the night, almost everyone on the forward lines had good chances, but they either hit the post with hard shots or couldn't get the puck under control.

Gilmour's two goals earned him star rating, and Ross Mason worked hard all night. Duke Doran was going good, and Ray Carey and Don Houle flew at times. For Lindsay, McGuire in the nets pulled a few fancy ones, and Sherrington played a good game on defence.

The Lindsay win tied the Scugog crew with the Peterborough Oddfellows for first place. Each now has 23 points, and the Rockets are snugged in behind with 22. Friday night, the same two teams go at it again, this time in Lindsay.

Line-ups:

Lindsay: Goal, McGuire; defence, Lucas, Green; centre, Powell; wings, Baker, Corley; subs, Sherrington, Walling, Spratt, Schenkel, Hall, Sinclair, Vasey, Tripp.

Belleville: Goal, Tripp; defence Green, Trumble; centre, Houle; wings, Carey, Brown; subs, Bond, Jardina, Gilmour, Doran, Mason, Murphy, Strahan, Mantle.

SUMMARY

1st Period

Lindsay Spratt (Hall)	5.09
Penalties: Trumble, Walling, Corley.
2nd Period
Lindsay Lucas (Corley)	9.20
Belleville Gilmour (Desjardins)	14.50
Penalties: Sherrington, Brown, Schenkel, G. Green.
3rd Period
Lindsay Schenkel	1.33
Lindsay Sherrington	6.50
Belleville Doran (Trumble)	9.33
Belleville Gilmour	19.13
Penalties: Strahan, G. Green.

Remember When

(By The Canadian Press)

Hughie Jennings, who won an American League pennant for Detroit the first year he managed baseball league team, died at Scranton, Pa., 23 years ago today. Jennings piloted the Tigers from 1907 to 1920, wining pennants in 1907, 1908 and 1909. He was succeeded by Ty Cobb.

HOCKEY
SENIOR
BELLEVILLE MEMORIAL ARENA
PETERBORO EAGLES
vs. BELLEVILLE REDMEN
Friday, February 2nd
8.30 P.M.
ADMISSION—Reserve Seats 75c
General Admission 50c; Children .. 25c
RESERVE SEATS ON SALE AT BILL COOK'S CIGAR STORE
Reserve Seat Tickets will not be held after 6 p.m. night of game.

Strategy Pays Off as Hurricanes Draw With Galt

(By The Canadian Press)

Generally the coach of a losing team, if he pulls out his goalie in the dying seconds of the game for an extra forward, gnashes his teeth in despair as opposing wingers flip another counter into an open net.

But occasionally that extra man on the attack pays off and Wednesday night in an Ontario Hockey Association Junior A game at Waterloo was one of the times.

Coach Bob Kinnear of the last-place Waterloo Hurricanes had the satisfaction of seeing the strategy pay off but the best his team could do was salvage a 5-5 draw with Galt Black Hawks.

Kinnear pulled goalie Bob Shropshire with only 27 seconds remaining and Doug Warner scored from the face-off to earn the tie. The teams went scoreless in overtime.

Galt goal-getters were Ken Wharram, Leo Cooke, with two, Tony Poeta and Garth Boyce. Ron Murphy, Claude Watters, Reg Campbell and Buddy Evans got Waterloo's other counters.

Waterloo, who have taken a few lumps in the Kinnear era this season, lost the services of defenceman Ben Jones who suffered concussion and a bruised shoulder in a tumble into the boards.

In Barrie, the runner-up Flyers climbed within a point of the league-leading Windsor Spitfires by downing Stratford Kroehlers 7-3. Stratford are fourth in eighth place.

Don Emms, Doug Towers and Real Chevrefils were all two-goal men for Flyers while Leo Lebine, Bill Hagan and Jim Morrison got one each. George Aitken and Larry Lemench scored for Stratford.

Toronto Marlboros, third place, kept pace with Flyers by defeating Oshawa Generals 6-2. Alex Delvecchia and Lou Jankowski got the Oshawa markers. Delvecchia also got an assist to tie Jankowski for the league's scoring honor.

In the only major series game Hamilton Tigers, with veteran Johnny Conlick showing the way, defeated Kitchener - Waterloo Dutchmen 9-2. The victory increased their third-place lead over the last-place Dutchies to three points.

Star centre Johnny Conlck scord three goals and assist on another. Paul Micinovich and Tom Smellie scored two apiece and Harvey Fraser and Claire Billings got a goal each.

Don Oberhaltzer and Billy Flick scored the first two goals of the game for the Dutchmen.

Buddy Hanover Wins Feature Race at Dufferin

Toronto, Feb. 1 (CP)— Buddy Hanover, owned by Walls and Hess of Morrisburg, Ont., and driven by Percy Robillard and Bud Boy owned by N. Edwards of Toronto and handled by Lex Barr won the fourth race at Dufferin Park yesterday. Each won a heat and Buddy Hanover was best in the summary.

In the first heat Buddy Hanover, alertly handled at the start, took command in the back stretch the first time round. He continued on to set a fast pace while saving ground and easily. Duchess Brooke spurted to the lead at once but was overtaken quickly by the winner, then forced the pace and made a bid in the stretch which front stretch, saved ground was not good enough and she finished second. Bad Boy was third.

Bad Boy, forwardly placed in the early stages of the second heat, moved to the lead in the thereafter but was driven out at the finish to hold Buddy Hanover safe. Elizabeth Chief, in contention throughout was third.

WISE MOTORISTS....
DRIVE IN REGULARLY FOR 5,000 MILE INSPECTIONS
AT
H. W. GOURLEY MOTORS LIMITED
And Enjoy Trouble-Free Transportation
MAKE YOUR APPOINTMENT TODAY!
H. W. GOURLEY MOTORS LIMITED
24 Dundas St. West BELLEVILLE Phone 3520

CHIPS OFF THE SPORTS BLOCK

By GEO. H. CARVER, Sports Editor

WILL THE EAGLES GET CLIPPED?

Tomorrow night's the night! The night, that is, that the Redmen hook up with flytnz-not-so-high Eagles from Peterborough at Memorial Arena. And if the wiseacres of smoke issuing from the Redmen's dressing room of late is any indication, the Eagles may have their wings trimmed on. At the same time, the other Peterborough outfit, named the Prics for some odd reason, will cross sticks with George Patterson's Nylons down in the university city.

* * *

Wally Bent's Redmen have seven games left in the schedule, including tomorrow night's wrestle with the Eagles. Of late, the Eagles have suffered a downfall, due mostly to injuries to key men. Both Bob Parnall and Bill Crowley have taken to bed, with the former being most seriously injured. Pal Perdue pens from the Lakiock City that unless some of the Eagles get winging again, it will be a tough row to hoe for the McGillis boys.

* * *

BE THERE, KIDS!

Big night for the bantams, midgets and juveniles is tonight at Memorial Arena. The kids who will represent Belleville in the OMHA shindowns will be selected by the minor hockey moguls of the city, and all midget games scheduled for tonight are out. The bantams take the ice at 6.30, the midgets follow them for another hour, and the juves take the last hour. Any of you kids who want that big chance to make the playdowns had better get your gear together and get down there early.

* * *

Selection of the teams to play off with crews from other centres does not mean that the local leagues are kaput. Word is that they'll resume in the immediate future. So get out there, you guys! And incidentally, it would not be a bad idea if some of you hockey types around town put in an appearance tonight to give the kids a little vocal support. And you will see what sort of hockey Belleville will be sending into the OMHA series.

* * *

THE BATTLE IS ON!

Incidental intelligence from our friend Jimmy Driscoll scores the way is that the police and fire laddies are rarin' to go with their hockey wars. Appareatly a joint meeting was held Tuesday of this week, and the publicist for the boys in blue buries that the coppers have a star-studded lineup ready to throw on the pond when the time comes. Most important of all is that the protection from the hustle will be donated to the March of Dimes.

* * *

James claims to have an N. H. L. hookup, and says the cruiser boys will have a lineup that includes "Turkey" Bellissero in the nets, "Gorgeous George" Lloyd, Bob Christie, "Skinny" Williamson and "Farmer" Baxter on defence, and nine forwards and centres. They will include "Clutchy" McLeod, Teeder Fullerton, Sailor McBride, Hydramatic Tasker, Shorty Parman, Speedy McKee, Chuck Fletcher, Register Rackham and Gunner Cockburn.

* * *

Questions of date, place and between-periods tertainment haven't been settled yet, and no words of wisdom have emanated from the firefighters as yet, except that they'll be coached by Captain Frank Orr. Tessa Hulvey will coach the policemen, and big James is the manager.

* * *

We have inside information that the upholders of the law are practicing in the dark, so that when the lights come on they'll be that much better. They hope. Again, the big point is that the kids benefit from the laughs, and the game deserves support. More on it later.

* * *

The Rockets lost their second game on home ice last night, going down in a 4-3 defeat at the hands of the Lindsay Kinsmen. The Rocks thus missed a chance to shoot back to the top of the loop heap, and from here on in, we points are just like a round gold to a prospector. Counting last night's game, they're in third place, with the Lindsay and Peterborough crew crowding each other on the top slot.

* * *

Last night's game was another one of those things that you can't count on. The Rockets had taken the measure of the Kinsmen in the Scugog palace (and you can take that word lightly) last Friday night, and after an exhibition like that, were primed to make it two in a row over the northerners.

* * *

But fate and luck had it marked down otherwise, and a third period drive last night failed to pay off. With only 47 seconds left in the game, the Rockets drew within one goal of the visitors, but they couldn't get the puck to within nailing distance. For a few minutes they had the fans thinking of the night they popped in four goals in less than ten minutes here against Oshawa Bees and took the decision 5-4, but this time they just couldn't make it.

* * *

Pat Gilmour was chief marksman last night, potting two of the Rockets' three counters. Duke Doran got the other one by tipping in one of Ernie Trumble's long shots. The husky Lindsay outfit, normally as belligerent as a bear on the ice, was toned down last night, possibly because of foreign surroundings.

The game in Scugovville Friday night has all the earmarks of a real result.

John McCormack Sent to Hornets After Marriage

By VIC MORRIS, Jr.
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Toronto Maple Leafs gave lanky Johnny McCormack a unique wedding present when they sent him downstairs to their American Hockey League farm club, Pittsburgh Hornets.

The team's brass announced Wednesday that he would go to the minors to strengthen the Hornets, who recently lost their top scorer, Rudy Migay.

Speculation is that the bridegroom was demoted for getting married in mid-season without permission. However, it's felt that the Leafs may recall McCormack before Feb. 15 — the last date on which Hamilton Tigers can sign players may call up players from the minor leagues.

McCormack's wedding came as something of a surprise to his team - mates. They knew he was to be married but thought he would wait until after the hockey season.

All six teams swing into action again tonight, and three of them will be jockeying for positions.

Montreal Canadiens play hosts to the Leafs, New York Rangers clash with the Red Wings at Detroit, and Boston Bruins meet the hapless Black Hawks at Chicago.

The Habs will be out to protect their two-point margin for third place while the Bruins, two points back of Montreal, will be striving to keep New York Rangers from moving into fourth place. The Hawks are gunning for their first victory in 22 games.

Detroit holds a five - point lead over Toronto for the league leadership.

Richard Still Out

Maurice (Rocket) Richard will remain out of action for the Toronto encounter. His charley horse has been slow in responding to treatment and it is unlikely that the circuit's leading goal sniper will be in action for at least three more games.

However, the Habs will have Billy Reay back in uniform. The centre missed last Sunday's Boston game owing to the death of his father at Winnipeg.

Leafs also will have Teeder Kennedy with the return of Teeder Kennedy. Montreal fans are anxiously waiting to see Kennedy and rearguard Tom Johnson hook up. The last time they met both were given match penalties and Johnson took a $75 fine.

RIVER POTENTIAL

Venezuela's rivers offer tremendous hydro-electric and irrigation possibilities.

HAVE YOU SEEN
THE
"Crossword Puzzle"
at
SHAW'S MEN'S WEAR

TRAINING FOR LEADERSHIP
A Unique Educational Opportunity For Young Men
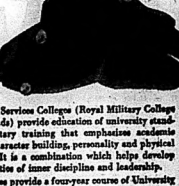
Completing High School



The Canadian Services Colleges (Royal Military College and Royal Roads) provide education of university standard plus military training that emphasizes academic proficiency, character building, personality and physical development. It is a combination which helps develop valuable qualities of inner discipline and leadership.
The College provide a four-year course of University standard in Arts and Engineering.
Sports play a large role in the activities at Canadian Services Colleges, including intercollegiate competitions.
Graduates qualify for a commission in the Active or Reserve Forces of the Royal Canadian Navy, Canadian Army or Royal Canadian Air Force.
APPLICATIONS for the term commencing September, 1951, are now being received . . . Candidates must have passed examinations generally acceptable for entry to science faculties of Canadian Universities; have reached their sixteenth but not their twentieth birthday on the first of January preceding entrance. Naval applicants, except in the case of candidates from French classical colleges, must not have reached their nineteenth birthday on the first of January.
For full details apply to:
The Registrar, Royal Roads, Royal Roads, B.C.
The Registrar, Royal Military College, Kingston, Ont.
THE CANADIAN SERVICES COLLEGES

Standard Bred Leading Breed Now in Ontario

Toronto, Feb. 1 (CP) — J. W. Brown, president of the Canadian Standard Bred Horse Society, Wednesday told the annual meeting the standard-bred in the last three years has regained its place as Canada's leading breed.

Mr. Brown was re-elected president for a second term. H. A. Dickenson of Mount Hope, Ont., was re-elected vice-president and R. S. Wilson of Toronto is secretary.

Directors are: H. B. Biggar, Fruitland; S. Todgham, Chatham; E. W. Fawn, Mitchell; Hugh Proudfoot, Fort Cotourge, Que.; Hon. W. Earl Rowe, Newton-Robinson; Dr. C. H. Hislop, Milton; Alex Parnell, London; John Lock, Toronto; B. H. Soper, Smith Falls; Dr. J. S. Ferguson, Chatham; H. E. Hatch, Maple and E. S. Macklin, Burlington.

Mr. Brown said that until 1948 thoroughbreds held a numerical advantage in Canada but that year 809 standard-bred foals were registered at Ottawa compared with 806 thoroughbreds. In 1949 the figures were 808 and 207 and last year, 644 and 317.

Seventy percent of the standard-bred registered were bred in Ontario.

Bowling

Y Bowling Alleys

Strippers	4	2427
Happy Gang	0	2008

Windstorms

If you have just ordinary fire insurance on your home it may not cover you on tornado or windstorm losses. Our comprehensive all-risk home insurance policy protects against windstorm, lightning, hail, aircraft, fire. It is cheap insurance. Call today.

FOR INSURANCE SEE

LORNE McDOUGALL
Insurance Agencies Ltd.
150 FRONT ST. PHONE 168
"Belleville's Largest Insurance Office"

Buffalo Bisons Increase Margin Beating Hornets

(By The Canadian Press)

Buffalo Bisons marched further ahead in the eastern division of the American Hockey League Wednesday night, nipping Pittsburgh Hornets 3-2 to increase their margin to 16 points over the second place Hershey squad.

Procedure was reversed in the western section, however, as the last place St. Louis Flyers outfought the league-leading Cleveland Barons to chalk up a 5-2 victory.

In other games, Providence Reds downed Indianapolis Capitals 6-2 and Springfield Indians shaded Cincinnati Mohawks 4-3.

At Buffalo, Bisons defenceman racked up all three goals.

The Bisons surged ahead 3-0 on tallies by Lloyd Finkbeiner, Bob Blake and Robin McLennan, Jack McCormack broke through Connie Dion at 8:40 of the third period, while the Bisons' Gordon Fennell was in the penalty box, and Ray Hanigan scored for the visitors at 12:45.

At St. Louis, the Flyers outfought the Barons all the way.

Two former Cleveland players Roy Kelly and Eric Pogue, led the assault that tripped the Barons. Kelly had two goals and two assists, Pogue three assists, and the line's centre, Stern White, had a goal and two assists.

Curick's Goal Wins

Vic Grig and Paul Gladu tallied the other Flyer goals, Ray Cersino and Harry Taylor were the Cleveland marksmen.

At Springfield, Leo Curick's goal in the final three minutes enabled Springfield Indians to defeat Cincinnati.

Cincinnati tied up the game 3-3 at 2:42 of the final period on Jim Moore's second tally of the game. Jerry Plamondon scored the other Mohawk marker and George Ford, Chuck Gagnon and Ken Hayden tallied the other Tribe goals.

In the first period a free for all saw Sammy Casnato of the Indians get two major penalties for fighting and a 10-minute misconduct.

At Providence, Barry Sullivan, new right winger, scored three goals.

Sullivan, obtained Monday from St. Louis for Jackie Hamilton, scored once in each period. He also was credited with an assist on goals each Terry Reardon's first period tally.

Paul Saindon and Lucien Deschenes scored the other Providence goals. Rod Morrison and Gordon Haidy connected for the Caps.

SHOE REPAIRING
BROWNS CAMPBELL STREET
BRAM HUMPHREYS
PHONE 1317
Opposite the Y.M.C.A.—BELLEVILLE

Wedding at 9, Practice at 4, for Leng John

Maple Leafs' centre, John McCormack, is seen with his brand new bride, the former Margaret Anne Gordon. The marriage, semi-secret, and attended by only some teammates and a couple of friends, took place at 9 a.m., Tuesday, in Toronto, John was at practice the same afternoon in the Garden. — Central Press Canadian.

Hockey Results

NATIONAL HOCKEY LEAGUE

Standing unchanged.

Tonight: Toronto — Montreal; Boston-Chicago; New York-Detroit.

AMERICAN HOCKEY LEAGUE

Western Division

	Won	Lost	Tie	Pts.
Cleveland	34	13	4	72
Indianapolis	24	24	2	50
Pittsburgh	21	20	7	49
Cincinnati	21	19	7	49
St. Louis	20	26	3	40

AMERICAN HOCKEY LEAGUE

Eastern Division

Buffalo	31	14	3	65
Springfield	17	28	5	39
Providence	16	26	6	38
xNew Haven	5	23	0	10

—Disbanded.

Wednesday: Providence 6, Indianapolis 2; Springfield 4 Cincinnati 2; Buffalo 3, Pittsburgh 2; St. Louis 5, Cleveland 2.

Tonight: Indianapolis-Hershey.

O.H.A. Major

Hamilton Tigers 9, Kitchener-Waterloo 3

O.H.A. Junior A

Barrie 9, Stratford 2
Toronto Marlboros 6, Oshawa 2

Galt 5, Waterloo 5

Porcupine Senior

South Porcupine 4, Hollinger 1
Porcupine 13, Iroquois Falls 4

E.C.H.L.

North Bay 7, Pembroke 3

Q.S.H.L.

Montreal 1, Ottawa 2
Quebec 1, Valleyfield 1

Exhibition Junior

Ottawa Montagnards 1, Sault Ste. Marie 7

T.A.H.A.

Quebec 1, Three Rivers 5
Nationales 3, Canadiens 5
Verdun 4, Montreal Royals 1

Maritime A-P-C Senior

Antigonish 6, Stellarton 5
St. Francis Xavier 15, Pictou 2

Cape Breton Major

North Sydney 0, Glace Bay 5

Soo-Sudbury Senior

Sault Ste. Marie Greyhounds 5, Sudbury Miners 8

Exhibition

Moncton (major) 17, Amherst (unattached) 2

O.H.A. Senior B

Queen's 2, Peterborough Eagles 14

Manitoba Junior

Brandon 2, Winnipeg Monarchs 1

Western Major

Edmonton 1, Calgary 4
Saskatchewan Junior

Flin Flon 4, Humboldt 5

Western Junior

Moose Jaw 4, Regina 5

VITAL VITAMIN

Vitamin D, obtained from fish liver oils, is necessary for formation of bone and teeth.

Four Contenders For Welter Title Says Association

The National Boxing Association Wednesday listed four principal contenders for the welterweight title in the event welter champ Sugar Ray Robinson wins the middleweight crown next month.

The N.B.A. ruled recently that Robinson will lose his welterweight title if he wins the middleweight championship from Jack LaMotta in Chicago Feb. 14.

The welterweight contenders were listed as Kid Gavilan of Cuba, Billy Graham of New York, Charlie Fusari of Irvington N.J., and John Bratics of Chicago.

Arch Hindman, N.B.A. president, made the announcement at his home here. He said the fighters were chosen after a conference with Fred Saddy, chairman of the N.B.A. ratings and championships committee.

An elimination tournament will be ordered by the N.B.A. if the welterweight title is vacated.

The Philadelphia Phillies Wednesday paid a bonus of some $60,000 to sign Ben Tompkins, University of Texas junior rated by owner Bob Carpenter as a "great prospect."

Tompkins will leave school to join the Phils. Carpenter said the 21-year-old youth was signed to a contract with the Phils' class B farm club at Wilmington, Del., of the Interstate League.

An authoritative source reported Wednesday that owner Fred Saigh of the St. Louis Cardinals seeks to cut the salary of two of his front line stars — outfielder Enos Slaughter and second baseman Red Schoendienst.

Slaughter, these reports say, has been offered a contract calling for a cut of 25 per cent, a reduction estimated at $6,300.

Saigh also has drawn a talk from Schoendienst on a reported contract calling for a 14-per cent salary reduction.

New York Rangers of the National Hockey League returned Jackie Gordon, stocky centre, to Cincinnati Mohawks in the American Hockey League Wednesday.

Gordon, called up twice within two weeks from Cincinnati, filled in when the Rangers lost Edgar Laprade and Nick Mickoski through injuries. Mickoski suffered a dislocated right shoulder and Laprade a broken leg.

Frank Sedgman and Ken McGregor, the two Australian youths who wrested the Davis Cup from the United States Wednesday won the Australian doubles title by defeating veterans John Bromwich and Adrian Quist in a torrid five-set marathon, 11-9, 2-6, 6-3, 4-6, 6-3.

Nineteen countries have challenged Australia in the 1951 Davis Cup series.

So far no entry has been received from Sweden, winners in the European zone last year.

Wednesday was the official closing date for entries but entries will be accepted by mail or cable today providing challenges were sent today.

Japan and Germany have entered for the first time since the Second World War.

Henri Bochon of Montreal, Canadian Davis Cupper, defeated Alfredo Millet of Mexico City 6-4, 6-4, Wednesday in the opening round of Havana's international tennis tournament.

Tony Trabert of Coral Gables, Fla., best Cuba's No. 1 player, Dr. Juan Welss, 6-2, 6-3.

A prize fighter in New York State would be required to submit to a brain X-ray before each bout, under terms of a bill introduced in the legislature Wednesday by Senator Harold I. Panken and assemblyman Joseph Pinkney, both Manhattan democrats.

Thirty skaters from eleven countries, including Germany and Japan, have entered the world speed skating championship at Davos, Switzerland, Feb. 10 and 11.

The world champion Kornel Major of Hungary, who refused to return to his homeland two years ago, will be skating under the colors of the International Skating Union. Countries to be represented will be Belgium, Japan, Austria, The Netherlands, France, Germany, Italy, Sweden, England, Norway and Switzerland.

Headliners from the theatrical and sports worlds will rank shoulder in a unique tennis tournament for the benefit of the American National Theatre and Academy.

The Celebrity Tennis Tournament will be held Feb. 15 at the Seventh Regiment Armory in midtown Manhattan.

Ginger Rogers, Denise Darcel, Jinx Falkenburg, Alice Marble, Nancy Chaffee and Sarah Palfrey are among the glamor girls expected to swing racquets, according to the A.N.T.A.

Joe Ferrer, Paul Lukas, Gene Tunney, Bobby Riggs, Frank Shields, Sidney Wood and Billy Talbert are among the male entrants.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR

New York, Feb. 1 — (AP) — Benny Lindsley, who'll serve as a coach for Cincinnati of the National league this season, has entered George Barr's umpire school just to learn a little more about baseball from all angles . . . that ought to be a "must" for any player with managerial aspirations and isn't a bad idea for any ball player. . .

Last Word?

Buck Bailey, Washington State College baseball coach, figures his colleagues finally have made some progress in their efforts to reach a no-tampering agreement with professional baseball . . . "First they told us our request wasn't on the agenda," Buck explains, "The next year they told us it had been tabled. A year later they said they just hadn't got around to deciding . . . but this year we finally got an answer. The Majors said 'no'."

Sports Before Your Eyes

Garden City, Kansas, claims the tallest forward line of any high school basketball team. Dean Stuart, 230-pound centre, and forwards Roger Craft and Dick Smith all are 6-6. . . John Gelbreath of the Pirates is buying a $150,000 airplane for Branch Rickey and his staff. . . The National Hockey League has decided to number its referees and linesmen, starting tonight. That will make it easier for the fans to insult them by name . . . Guess Ike-so has gained 11 pounds on the pro tennis tour—and on her they probably look good.

EXPORT
CANADA'S FINEST CIGARETTE

BONN'S BONDED USED CARS
169 DUNDAS ST., EAST — BELLEVILLE, ONT.

ALL CARS ARE WINTERIZED AND WITH GOOD USED BATTERIES.

Here you are, Folks, if you need a Good Used Car. This is the place to buy your car Where. you are really getting your money's worth.

ALL CARS ARE RECONDITIONED.

1949 METEOR SEDAN
Light Grey, heater and sun visor with only 19,000 miles.

1949 AUSTIN SEDAN
With only 11,000 miles.

1950 MORRIS SEDAN (OXFORD)
Only 2700 miles.

1948 AUSTIN SEDAN
In lovely condition.

1948 AUSTIN COACH
Good condition.

1948 AUSTIN COACH
Very low mileage.

1948 CHEV COACH
Dark Maroon, underseat heater, built in radio and sun visor.

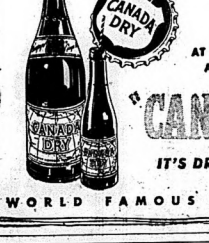
18 OTHER MODELS.
ALL IN GOOD RUNNING CONDITION.

BONN'S BONDED USED CARS
TRADE CASH TERMS
169 DUNDAS ST., EAST — BELLEVILLE, ONTARIO
18 MONTHS TO PAY

Here's what Lasting refreshment means to you!

The secret's in one little word, "dry."

In drinks, dry means not too sweet. And experts agree, only a dry drink can give you lasting refreshment. That's why world-famous Canada Dry is dry . . . not too dry . . . not too sweet.



For lasting refreshment Canada Dry —It's dry, that's why!

AT WORK OR PLAY... AT HOME OR AWAY

"CANADA DRY"
IT'S DRY - THAT'S WHY
WORLD FAMOUS FOR QUALITY

Everybody's Talking About This Great Razor Bargain!

Gillette ROCKET ONE-PIECE RAZOR

COMPLETE WITH 10 GILLETTE BLUE BLADES IN DISPENSER!

HERE'S the greatest bargain in shaving history! It's the new Gillette Rocket Razor and the amazing Gillette Blade Dispenser, now packed in a permanent Styrene travel case. This razor changes blades instantly, shaves like a dream. For tops in shaving ease and convenience, buy a Gillette Pocket Razor Set—only $1.29.

BIG $2.00 VALUE For Only $1.29

NOW IN DURABLE STYRENE TRAVEL CASE

- Instant Blade Changing
- Real Shaving Comfort
- Double-Edge Economy

Substantial Savings

GRAB (3) DAYS

Outstanding Values

AT ESQUIRE
PRICES HAVE BEEN ROLLED BACK
ESQUIRE FOR MEN — 213-A FRONT ST.

HORSE SENSE BRIDGE

By SAM GORDON
The Kibitzer

Weak spots in a hand will not hold back a good bridge pair. If they have enough for game they will seldom stop short of the goal. Not all players, however, will take the same steps to get there.

Years ago the noted bridge experts taught bridge from basics that were not sufficiently sound. To keep out of trouble they added from year to year certain restrictions for safety.

Those who learned these basics took aboard the restrictions. Not because they knew why. But because it gave them the safety they needed. And not all used the same safety restrictions.

See the tournament deal shown here:

	NORTH
	♠J 8 5 7 6
	♥K J 7 4 2
	♦K J 7 4 2
	♣5
WEST		EAST
♠A 2		♠5 3
♥9 6 3		♥10 8 3
♦A 10 2		♦Q 9 8 5
♣K 10 8 7 6 2		♣A Q 9
	SOUTH
	♠K Q J 10 4
	♥A Q 5
	♦6 3
	♣5 4 3

South and north count a total of ten tricks in their two hands; enough for game in spades. The correct bidding goes like this:

South	North
1 S	2 H
2 S	3 S
4 S	Pass

Opener shows five tricks; so more with a second bid that is not a raise; a sixth with his third bid raises. North's second three tricks with his first increase; a fourth with his next raise.

At some tables the bidding went one spade, two spades, three spades, four spades. Such players in north figure the hand too strong for a simple raise and too weak for a one-jump which is assumed to show power.

One compromises by hiding his suit; the other by overbidding. To, both sets wrong. But leopard will not change his spots and a leaper his shots. As long as he gets there he is satisfied.

Movie Column

By BOB THOMAS

Hollywood, Feb. 1 — (AP) The 10th grade students at Culver City high school are due for a jolt. They will soon be seeing the movie "Tom Sawyer" with their teacher in the starring role.

He is known as Mr. Kelly to the "teen-agers but to movie fans of a decade ago he was Tommy Kelly. Now that "Tom Sawyer" is being dusted off for a re-release, he is faced with a unique situation.

"I don't know how my kids are going to take it," remarked teacher Kelly. "They are older now than I was when I made the picture. Seeing me and hearing me called "Tommy" may be quite a surprise to them."

Today, Kelly looks much younger than his 27 years. He is still red-headed and looks only a few years older than when he played the Mark Twain hero at the age of 12. "When I came back from the war, the studios said I looked too young even to play 19-year-olds," he remarked.

No Sack of Gold

"Some people think I should have lots of money because I was in pictures," he laughed. "Not long ago I figured up my entire earnings for 15 years in the movies. It came to an average of $10 to $15 a week.

Kelly's discovery for the movies was according to the Hollywood legend. Oscar Serlin, now a Broadway producer, was interviewing a prospective actor in a New York school. The prospect didn't pan out, but the principal persuaded Serlin to look over some of the other boys. Kelly was among them and Serlin tabbed him for a possible Tom Sawyer.

Tommy tested for the role and won it. Everything after "Tom Sawyer" was an anti-climax. His studio kept the young actor idle, even though other studios wanted to use him. After 1½ years Tommy was dropped from the Selznick contract list.

Back to Teaching

"After that I played big roles in little pictures and little roles in big pictures," he observed. "I was in the Army for three years, then I came back and got my teaching credential at Loyola University."

Kelly still keeps up his dues in the Screen Actors Guild and sometimes plays roles during school vacations.

WANT FREE ELECTIONS

Bonn, Germany, Feb. 1 (AP)— Kurt Schumacher, West German Socialist party leader, urged today that any other four-power conference on Germany agree on free and secret elections to end complish reunification of all Germany. The West German government headed by Konrad Adenauer has rejected overtures from East Germany on unification talks because the communists failed to guarantee free secret elections.

AT THE BELLE — Romantic twosome. Reverting to drama in "The Secret Fury," Claudette Colbert, co-starred with Robert Ryan, is the victim of persecution from an unknown source. Her secret enemy is finally unmasked. "The Secret Fury" plays for the last times today at the Belle Theatre.

AT THE McCARTHY — Relax and enjoy it! Robert Cummings and Joan caulfield co-star in "The Petty Girl", Columbia comedy with love, youth, music and color by Technicolor. The film is now at the Odeon McCarthy Theatre.

CJBQ VOICE OF THE BAY OF QUINTE

CJBQ (1230 Kc.)

THURSDAY

8:00—When a Girl Marries
8:15—Stella Faces Life
8:30—Rhythm Rambles
8:45—Singer Music
9:00—Newscast
9:30—In the Spotlight
9:45—Hits of the Story
7:00—Dick Haymes Show
7:15—Newscast
7:30—Intermission
7:35—Record Rendezvous
8:00—Guest Chuck Wagon
8:30—Radio Market
9:00—Music Hall Varieties
9:30—The Alliance
Program of the Air
10:00—Allan's Corner
10:30—National News Summary
10:45—Dream Time
11:45—Reverie
12:00—News and Weather
12:05—God Save the King

FRIDAY

8:00—Mr. Farmer—Especially Yours
7:00—News and Weather
7:05—Up With the Sun
8:00—Newscast
8:05—Up With the Sun
10:00—Holiday Time Tunes
10:15—Sport News
10:20—Morning Devotions
9:15—Angel by the Side of the Road
9:30—Say It With Music
10:00—Homemaker Harmony
10:15—Monarch Money Man
10:20—News and Weather
10:30—Studio Chat
11:00—Stork Club
11:30—The David Rose Show
11:15—Music in the Morgan Manner
11:30—Music of Manhattan
11:45—The Bob Eberle Show
12:00—Luncheon Music
12:30—Noon News
12:40—Behind the News
12:45—Rural Route 1230
1:15—Stirring Communion Hour
1:30—Around the Bay
2:00—Special March of Time Program
2:20—Open House in Studio B
2:00—What's New
4:00—News and weather
4:10—Magazine for Women
4:30—Napanee Corner
5:00—Dinner Hour
6:00—When a Girl Marries
6:15—Portia Faces Life
Family Newsreel
6:30—Mr. and Mrs. North
6:30—CJBQ Cross Section
6:30—CBL, Danger, Mr. Dashiell
8:30—WBEN, Father Knows Best
8:30—WGR, Tracer of Lost Persons
8:30—KDKA Amateur Hour
8:00—CBL, John and Judy
8:00—CFRB, Suspense
8:00—WBEN, Dragnet
9:00—CJBC, Inner Sanctum
9:30—CBL, Wayne and Shuster
9:30—CJBC, Peggy and Lou
Jay
9:30—WBEN, We, the People
10:00—WGR, The Lineup
10:00—WBEN, Director's Playhouse
10:00—CBL, National News
10:30—CFRB, Hook, Line and Sinclair
10:30—CBL, Fireside
11:00—CBL, Sportsmen's Quiz
11:15—CJBC, U.N. Today
11:30—CJBC, Prelude to Dancing
11:30—CJBC-Winnipeg Dancing
11:30—WBEN, Tic Toc Tinsey
11:30—WGR, Man About Midnight

NETWORK PROGRAMS

THURSDAY EVENING

6:00—CBL, Melody Parade
6:00—CFRB, Bing Crosby
6:15—CBL, News; Farm markets
6:30—CFRB, John Colingwood Reads
6:30—CBL, Commentary
6:45—CBL, Music in the Air
7:00—CBL, Symphonies Club
7:00—CFRB, Beulah
7:15—CFRB, Jack Smith Show
7:30—CBL, The Metro Reader
7:30—CFRB, Club 15
8:00—CBL, Jack Benny Show
8:00—WBEN, Aldrich Family

IT WAS CATNIP

Boston, Feb. 1 — (AP) — Municipal Judge Elijah Adlow yesterday discharged a defendant charged with possessing marihuana, a narcotic.

A state chemist reported it was catnip.

The defendant, William Overton, 31, told police he smokes catnip to relieve asthma.

COUNCIL REMOVES TAX

Hamilton, Feb. 1—(CP)—City council has passed a by-law removing the four-per-cent gross revenue tax on Hamilton's street railway. Officials of the company had told board of control the tax, in effect more than 50 years, was driving the concern to "a slow death."

DOCK WORKERS HELD

Calais, France, Feb. 1 (AP) — Police arrested about 50 dock workers yesterday during demonstrations called by their pro-communist union against rearmament of Germany. About 300 workers demonstrated here, at Dunkerque and Boulogne.

CAPITOL TONIGHT

ANOTHER TWO-HIT FAMILY SHOW!

GENE AND CHAMPION LEAD CAVALRY CADETS AGAINST RANGELAND RENEGADES!

LITTLE MOBSTERS! They're Terrific in this Sock Saturday Evening Post Story!

Gene AUTRY in SONS OF NEW MEXICO

LAST SIDE KIDS KID DYNAMITE

PLUS: BUGS BUNNY CARTOON — SERIAL

THEATRE FEATURE TIMES

AT THE BELLE — "The Secret Fury" — Claudette Colbert, Robert Ryan — 2.40, 7.40, 9.40.

AT THE CAPITOL — "Song of New Mexico" — Gene Autry — 1.25, 19.00, "Kid Dynamite" — Leo Gorcey, Huntz Hall— 3.35.

AT THE McCARTHY — "The Petty Girl"—in Technicolor — Joan Caulfield, Robert Cummings — 2.40, 7.40, 9.45.

AT THE TRENT THEATRE, Trenton — "Dear Wife," Joan Caulfield, William Holden — 2.00, 7.00, 9.00. "Savage Splendor"—in Technicolor — 3.25, 8.40.

AT THE CAPITOL — Gene Autry and his wonder horse, Champion, are riding high, wide and handsome in Columbia's "Sons of New Mexico," on view at the Capitol Theatre tonight. On the same program, Leo Gorcey, Huntz Hall with the East Side Kids in "Kid Dynamite."

TWO CARRIERS DROPPED

Cobourg, Feb. 1—(CP)—Effective April 1 two of Cobourg's six mail carriers will be let out to conform with the nation-wide economy program of the federal postal department.

STARTS MONDAY

FIRST SHOWING!

ALASTAIR SIM - MARGARET RUTHERFORD

"The Happiest Days of Your Life" One of the funniest films in years!

ENTERTAINED TORONTO SHOW-GOERS THREE MONTHS AT INTERNATIONAL CINEMA

EUCHRE and DANCE
Carrying Place Hall
FRIDAY, FEB. 2nd.
EUCHRE 8.00 p.m. to 10. p.m.
DANCING to 1.00 A.M.
OLD TIME and MODERN Under the Auspices of the AMELIASBURG TOWNSHIP GIRLS' SOFTBALL CLUB
Admission ..... 50c each
Help to Support This Club!

ESTHER LILLIAN STUDIO OF BALLET
(CECCHETTI METHOD)
ENGLISH BALLROOM DANCING
For Information and Appointments
PHONE 2661-J - 3817-M or 25 HILLSIDE ST.

Community Concert Association

ANNUAL MEETING
Monday Evening, February 5th
8.00 P.M. — Y. M. C. A.
ELECTION OF OFFICERS AND GENERAL BUSINESS
EVERY MEMBER URGED TO ATTEND.

ONE NIGHT ONLY!
FULITZER PRIZE COMEDY, ON BROADWAY 4 YEARS

HARVEY

By MARY CHASE
PRODUCED BY THE QUEEN'S UNIVERSITY DRAMA GUILD
Belleville Collegiate
WEDNESDAY, FEB. 14th
TICKETS AVAILABLE FROM QUEEN'S ALUMNI MEMBERS AND AT BILL COOK'S.

PLAN TO ATTEND THE SNOW BALL
(YOU MAY BE THE SNOW QUEEN)
CLUB COMMODORE
Monday, February 5th
Sponsored by the CHILDREN OF MARY
Tickets Available at Bill Cooks. Dress Optional
Admission ..... $3.00 per couple

STARTS TOMORROW

THE HAPPIEST SONG-AND-DANCE ROMANCE THAT EVER HIT THE SCREEN!

Paramount presents

BETTY HUTTON and FRED ASTAIRE in LET'S DANCE

In Technicolor

"Annie" Hutton and Fred Astaire in a color-filled show that is an entertainment dream come true!

BELLE — A FAMOUS PLAYERS THEATRE

EXTRA! Latest World News, Colorfun Cartoon

Shows at.. 2 - 7 9.10

LAST TIMES TODAY—"THE SECRET FURY"
CLAUDETTE COLBERT — ROBERT RYAN

STARTS TODAY!

McCARTHY

is Bubbling With Youth, Music, Color and . . .

ALL IN COLOR BY TECHNICOLOR

THE MOST LUSCIOUS MAGAZINE GIRL OF ALL TIME...

SHE BECOMES SEDUCTIVELY ALIVE ON THE SCREEN...

ROBERT CUMMINGS JOAN CAULFIELD

and introducing THE 12 GLAMOROUS PETTY GIRLS with Elsa Lanchester - Melville Cooper

COLUMBIA PICTURES presents

The Petty Girl

— ALSO —
COLOR CARTOON
COMEDY — WORLD NEWS

TRENT TRENTON

NOW PLAYING

"DEAR WIFE"
JOAN CAULFIELD
WILLIAM HOLDEN

ADDED FEATURE:
"SAVAGE SPLENDOR"
In TECHNICOLOR

Daily at ..... 2.00 - 7.00 - 9.00.

POP

MR. AND MRS. — By Arthur Folwell and Ellison Hoover

PENNY — By Harry Haenigsen

I'M SO EXCITED I COULD SCREAM! GUESS WHAT HAPPENED TODAY!
I DON'T KNOW HOW SALLY DID IT!
WHO CARES! I'M SO EXCITED I COULD SCREAM!
WHO CARES! I'M SO EXCITED I COULD SCREAM!
WHO CARES! I'M SO EXCITED I COULD SCREAM

Many Theories Advanced As Likely Cause of Bridge Failure Causing Death to Four

Three Rivers, Que., Feb. 1. (CP)—Four great spans of the Duplessis Bridge, once the pride of this thriving industrial city today lay in the ice-choked St. Maurice River.

Over the lips of almost every resident, still shocked by the collapse without warning in yesterday's early-morning darkness of the $3,000,000 steel-and-concrete structure, was the question: Why?

Four men died in the disaster, the worst to hit Three Rivers since 1908 when fire destroyed half the city. Only the fact that the collapse came at a period of light traffic prevented what likely would have been a high death toll.

Normally the 50-foot-high bridge, main link with Quebec 80 miles to the east, is shuttle with automobiles and trucks.

Investigations were under way today to determine responsibility for what Three Rivers' Mayor, J. A. Mongrain, termed a "catastrophe". A provincial government inquiry was promised by Premier Maurice Duplessis, who opened the 2,000-foot-long bridge in 1948. The Premier's first reaction, given in a speech to the legislature, was: "Sabotage!". He admitted that he had no evidence immediately to support the charge.

Vehicles Tossed Wildly

Collapse of four sections of the structure came at 2:55 a.m. as a few automobiles and taxis were crossing to Cap de la Madeleine. The vehicles were tossed wildly and plunged to the ice below amid a roar described by witnesses as like that "of an earthquake".

The victims had no chance to escape as their vehicles, closed tightly against the 26-below-zero weather, plunged into the swiftflowing river. St. Maurice. For a time, the light of the submerged automobiles was seen by some survivors on the sections of the bridge still standing. Then they went out.

The Duplessis Bridge, named in honor of Premier Duplessis' father, former Three Rivers mayor, was closed for a time last February when cracks developed in the steel under-structure. Repair work went on for nearly eight months.

Many Theories

Many theories have been advanced as a likely cause of the bridge failure—in Toronto, one engineer cited arterial contraction due to cold weather could have been the reason—but recovery of the sunken spans seemed necessary before any reason could be determined finally.

The Dufresne Engineering Company of Montreal constructed the bridge, the Dominion Bridge and Iron Company supplying the steel. Engineers from both firms were on the scene awaiting recovery of the collapsed sections, those nearest to the Three Rivers end of the bridge.

The death toll was set finally at four. Police said it was possible that more bodies would be recovered, but thought it unlikely.

The known dead were listed as:

Henri-Paul Gendron, 41-year-old cash driver; Maurice Beaumier, 29; and Noel Doucet, 42, all residents of nearby Cap de la Madeleine; and Paul Fiset, Ville St. Laurent, near Montreal.

Last night, Dr. Jean-Louis Rochefort, district coroner, opened an inquest, mainly for identification purposes. It was later adjourned indefinitely.

Meanwhile, in the midst of tragedy steps were taken in an effort to bring conditions back to normal.

IT'S HERE!
THE NEW 1951
LEWYT
VACUUM CLEANER
NO DUST BAG TO EMPTY!
SMALL WHEEL PATENTED
NO UNHEALTHY LEAKING DUST!
NO TELEVISION INTERFERENCE!
NEW MAGIC "ENERGIZER"!
'DO IT with LEWYT'
DAVID'S
ELECTRIC SHOP
346 FRONT STREET
Phone 659

SEA VIGIL

H.S. Robert Robertson of Swift Current, Sask., stands watch at the controls of this snow-covered 40-mm. anti-aircraft gun aboard the Canadian destroyer Cayuga. This Canadian Navy photo was taken while the destroyer's crew was at action stations on a patrol off the west coast of Korea. — (CP Photo.)

FRIEND OR FOE?

Watching a far-off aircraft from their gun stations aboard the Canadian destroyer Sioux are AB. Joseph Schultz of McTaggart, Sask., left, and AB. Sidney Bradfort of Drumheller, Alta. This Canadian Navy photo was taken on one of the Sioux's last patrols in the Korean theatre. She since has been relieved by the Nootka and is on her way home. — (CP Photo.)

MADOC JUNCTION

BIRTHDAY HONORED

Madoc Junction — The oldest citizen of this community, Mr. Hiram Ashley, celebrated his 85th birthday Sunday. Mr. Ashley is in fairly good health and does the daily work on his farm.

During the day, several friends and relatives called to extend congratulations, and best wishes. Mr. Ashley was the recipient of many cards and gifts.

Dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ashley on Sunday were: Mr. and Mrs. Seymour Ashley, of Batawa; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Clarke, Grace, Anna Mae and Bobby.

Miss Mary Chambers is spending a few days this week in Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. Grant Stapley of Stirling, were dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Clancy on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Wannamaker and granddaughter, Carolyn Gray, spent Saturday with relatives in Belleville.

Born — On Monday, January 29th, to Mr. and Mrs. Forde Stapley, a son.

Mrs. Lake is visiting at the home of her son, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Wilson, of Peterborough.

PRIME MINISTER 69

Ottawa, Feb. 1 (CP) — Prime Minister St. Laurent celebrated his 69th birthday anniversary today, but as far as he was concerned it was just another work day.

Mr. St. Laurent had no special plans for celebration. He will attend today's sitting of the Commons and will join in the Throne Speech debate.

Despite Influenza Epidemic Nobody Can Catch A Cold

By EDWIN S. JOHNSON
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

London—(CP)—A call has gone out for 300 volunteers, aged between 18 and 40, willing to accept a free holiday with fare, board and lodgings, as well as pocket money thrown in.

All they have to do is spend 10 days in isolation and risk the chance of catching a cold.

The appeal for human guinea pigs come from the research unit of Harvard Hospital, Salisbury, Wiltshire, whose scientists for the last five years have been seeking a cure for the common cold.

So far the research workers have succeeded in producing artificially-induced colds and devised a firm technique for studying their baffling symptoms. But the specific cause or a cure for this universal trouble-maker has eluded them.

Latest disclosure of failure came as one of the worst epidemics of colds and influenza spread across the land and millions went around sniffling, sneezing and coughing and praying for quick relief from the miseries.

The setback to the government investigators centred on an experiment with a group of 13 students on the uninhabited island of Eilean Nan Ron, (Isle of Seals) off the northern coast of Scotland.

The students were taken to the island with camp equipment, stores and other necessities for a three-month stay. Divided into three separate groups for experimental purposes, they settled down in the solidly-built stone houses evacuated about 12 years ago by families unable to eke a livelihood from the barren moorlands.

No Personal Contacts

No personal contacts with the outside world were permitted. Even letters were banned. Only communication was by radio. Members of the three groups were forbidden to trespass on each other's territory.

The volunteers were exposed to every risk, normally known to bring on a cold. They took standing bet-ween cold stools in wet socks in a draught. Later they mingled with subjects inoculated with artificially-prepared virus—all to no avail.

The scientists discovered it isn't so easy to catch a cold when you try.

After the students had been on the island for 10 weeks, Dr. C.H. Andrewes and Dr. J. E. Lovelock, of the research unit, joined one of the groups. Their purpose was to find out if normal, cold-free people could be infection-carriers.

Some days later, their colleague, Dr. T. Sommerville, brought in a party of cough commandos," all suffering from violent colds. They coughed, sneezed and deliberately spread germs on every surface. The volunteers were likely to touch. Then they called on a second group, using snuff to stimulate sneezing. The germ-conveyors finally paid an anti-social visit to the third group and remained in their hut for three days.

To their surprise not one of the students caught a cold.

It was not until a mainland farer, with a rip-snorting natural cold, was brought to the island that three of the volunteers were laid low.

The scientists, however, are far from discouraged. In launching the drive for a new panel or volunteers said:

Although we haven't been lucky enough to discover an effective way of warding off the common cold, we have learned a tremendous amount. We certainly feel it is worth preserving.

400 WALK OUT OF BLAZING BUILDING

Well rehearsed fire drills are credited with saving many live in this $1,000,000 blaze which destroyed the 75-year-old Mount St Vincent Catholic College at Rockingham, N.S. The fire spread quickly through the old building but five minutes after the alarm had sounded, all 400 nuns and girl students had filed out as though it were just another fire drill. Several of the nuns tried to run back into the flames to save art treasures. — Central Press Canadian.

WIFE CUT OFF

Los Angeles, Feb. 1 (AP) — Two days before veteran screen star Jack Holt died Jan. 18 he signed a will cutting off with only $1 his long-estranged wife, Margaret, it was disclosed yesterday in probate court. Although Holt was a high-salaried actor for years, his estate consists of personal property worth only $5,000.

REDS UNDER ATTACK

Bombay, Feb. 1 (AP) —Communists came under verbal attack by Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru at the three-day convention of the ruling congress party ending at Ahmadabad yesterday. Nehru declared the congress did not seek co-operation from Indian communists "who are bent only on rebellion and armed rebellion at that."

FOR YOUR Livestock AND POULTRY NEEDS
CALL AT
McCARTHY MILLING CO. LTD.
C.P.R. Freight Shed, GEORGE ST., BELLEVILLE — Phone 1812

Backache, Rheumatic Pain So Bad--Nerves All On Edge

Couldn't Get Proper Sleep, Always Tired, Suffered Indigestion, Bad Headaches, Dizziness Gave Her Grand Relief.

MRS. MOLLY FREDERICK

Mrs. Molly Frederick, 320 Hill Street, London, Ontario, is glad to have her recent experience known to others for she is so pleased to have found Sy-nions a remedy to relieve health troubles that had bothered her almost constantly for the past six years. Here is her experience:

"I had backache so bad and my limbs, joints and muscles were so sore with rheumatic pain that my nerves would get on edge and I felt tired-out and irritable all the time. I had no appetite, was nervous and sharp at night, had no appetite and food that I did eat gave me indigestion. Often I would get such bad headaches I couldn't do my work.

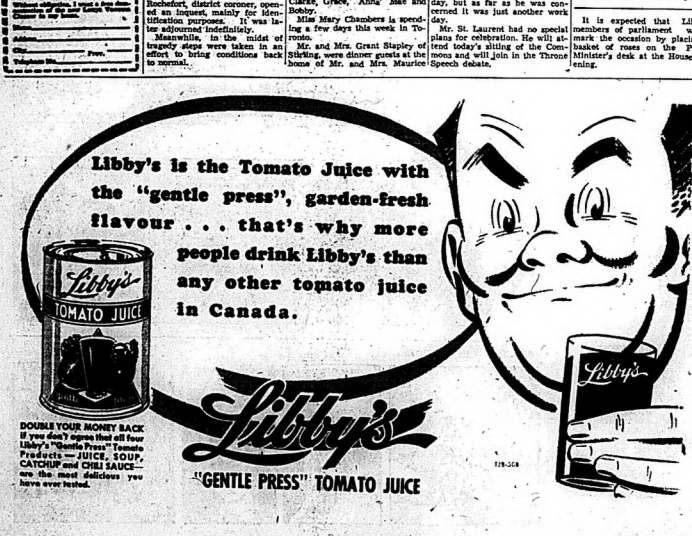
"One day I was in the drug store and told about Sy-nions. Well, I got a box of this medicine and soon after taking the first bottle I could get to sleep at night and took it regularly. Now I feel like my old self again. It's almost too good to be true, but the pain has all left my back, limbs and joints. My appetite is improved and I can eat anything having indigestion. Afterwards, also my nerves are calmed down and I am free of headaches, so I sleep more soundly at night and have ever so much more energy to do my work."

Synions is sold and recommended in Belleville at DOLAN THE DRUGGIST. Find out how it can help you, too.

INSURANCE MORTGAGE LOANS
Automobile Don'ts
Don't overtake on curves or hills or change lanes or "cut in" or pull out from curb suddenly. Don't count on the other fellow. Act for yourself. Obey traffic laws and give the usual signals.
JAMIESON BONE & CO.
163 FRONT ST. PHONE 1364

REAL ESTATE
MEMBER of the Ontario Association of Real Estate Boards and of the Canadian Association of Real Estate Boards.
GEO. N. GORMAN
166 FRONT ST. (Opposite City Hall)
REALTOR

DAVID'S ELECTRIC SHOP
346 Front St., Belleville
Without obligation, I want a free demonstration of the new Lewyt Vacuum Cleaner in my home.
Name
Address
City Prov.
Telephone No.



A.B.C. OF PERMANENT FLOORS...WALLS...
4 Smart ways to Beautify your Home
*1 "Double Duty" — high gloss for floors, indoors and out. $2.50 Qt.
*2 Top quality house paint for outside work. $2.15 Qt. DELUXE COLORS SLIGHTLY HIGHER
*3 Extra-hard for floors, interior or exterior. $2.35 Qt.
*4 Rich, interior flat finish. $1.95 Qt.
Martin-Senour finishes offer a wonderful choice of styles and colors to meet every decorating need. They are exceptionally economical — have outstanding coverage and hiding qualities, stand up to years of wear and weather. So, save to see us for the complete Martin-Senour line — paints, varnishes and enamels for every job.
Floor Coverings — Wallttiles — Paints
390 FRONT ST. STRADWICK PHONE 3288
BELLEVILLE — LIMITED

BUSINESS DIRECTORY

SERVICE

OIL BURNER and STOKER Service
NIGHTS: Phone 2928J and 1695W
RADIO REFRIGERATION
VAN DUSEN BROS. LTD.
Phone 2928 Front St. Phone 460
F1-tf

WELL DRILLING

McMILLAN and GARTLEY
(Formerly H. E. Gartley)
WELL DRILLING
Phone 819-M
BELLEVILLE, ONT.
F1-tf

B. A. E. SMILEY
Box 72 Phone 114-21
MADOC
ALL TYPES OF WELL DRILLING
AND CASING
NEW EQUIPMENT
FREE ESTIMATES — PROMPT ATTENTION
A32-tf

FARM MACHINERY

FOR QUALITY SEE
IVAN MAY
JOHN DEERE DeLAVAL
BEATTY and HARVEST PIECE
SALES and SERVICE
97 Coleman Street Phone 696
Belleville Phone 2928 Front St.
F1-tf

SAND and GRAVEL

CRUSHERS - FILL - CRUSHED ROCK - SNOW REMOVAL - DRIVEWAY PLOWING
IVAN MAY
Phone 4263 or 2305M
F6-tf

ELECTRICAL CONTRACTING — REPAIR

BELL ELECTRIC REPAIR DEPOT
9 Frontbridge — Belleville
Phone 1182
SATISFIED CUSTOMERS OUR PRIDE
F6-tf

ACCOUNTANTS

KENNETH J. SODEN
PUBLIC ACCOUNTANT — AUDITOR
Income Tax Consultant
BANK OF MONTREAL BLDG.
TELEPHONE 2818
F1-tf

W. S. STONE
CHARTERED ACCOUNTANT
AND NOTARIAL AGENT
Phone 3836
Belleville, Ontario
F1-tf

GEO. A. WELCH & CO.
Chartered Accountants
BELLEVILLE OTTAWA
Phone 4366 344 Pinecrest St.
F1-tf

ARCHITECT

W. A. WATSON, Architect
Formerly located at 246 Front Street
now at
246 FRONT STREET
(Next to Royal's Garage)
F7-tf

INSURANCE

The thought of fire loss half its terrors when you are insured with one
SANDY BURROWS
and
HOWARD FROST
Phone 2928 Front St. Phone 460
Belleville
F1-tf

HALL & HALL
ACCIDENT, SICKNESS, Fire, Automobile
228 FRONT ST. PHONE 3156-W
F1-tf

TYPEWRITER REPAIRS

THE JAMES TEXTS
LIMITED
Prompt and Efficient Repairs on All Makes of Typewriters and Adding Machines
Phone 3836
179 - 183 FRONT STREET
BELLEVILLE
F1-tf

VENETIAN BLINDS

Known and Used Throughout Canada
LUX-FLEX STEEL SLATS
SLATE
HOLWAY VENETIAN
BLIND COMPANY
2-4 Day Delivery 3 Year Guarantee
PHONE 3433 — BELLEVILLE
M3-tf

CONTRACTORS

PIT RUN SAND and GRAVEL
Delivered $1.50 Per Yard
Minimum 2 Yards or More
CRUSHED STONE, CONCRETE SAND and CRUSHED GRAVEL
Estimates on Fill Jobs
POWER SHOVELS, BULLDOZER and COMPRESSOR
PHONE 195, TRENTON
J. D. VANALSTINE
CONSTRUCTION
A54-tf

BUILDING CONTRACTOR

JOHN V. WHITE
Licensed R. C. P. HOUSEBUILDER
GENERAL REPAIRS and NEW BUILDING
OFFICE: 38 ALEXANDER ST.
PHONE
Office 813 House 3235-J
J35-tf

VETERINARIAN

DR. PAUL FOSTER
VETERINARIAN
MacKENZIE FEED BUILDING
47 Bridge St. East — Belleville
Phone 1626-W before 9 a.m. and after 5.00 p.m.
J6-tf

ROOFING CONTRACTOR

QUINTE ROOFING
(B. L. QUINCEY, Prop.)
Bonded Building-Tite Roofs—Asphalt Shingling — Coating Caulking — Waterproofing — Slate Flashing
PHONE 2480 — BELLEVILLE
J21-tf

MIMEOGRAPHING RUBBER STAMPS

THE JAMES TEXTS
LIMITED
Full equipment now covering all Stationery, Office Supplies, Duplicating, Addressing, Mailing, Typewriting, etc. Times are getting tougher, so why not let us help you?
179-183 Front St. Phone 460
F1-tf

WELL DRILLING

McMILLAN and GARTLEY
(Formerly H. E. Gartley)
WELL DRILLING
Phone 819-M
BELLEVILLE, ONT.
F1-tf

B. A. E. SMILEY
Box 72 Phone 114-21
MADOC
ALL TYPES OF WELL DRILLING
AND CASING
NEW EQUIPMENT
FREE ESTIMATES — PROMPT ATTENTION
A32-tf

FOOT SPECIALIST

H. W. ROBERSON, M.M.
ALL FUNCTIONAL DISORDERS of the FEET
Fallen Arches, Bunions, Ankles, Hammer Toes, Heel Spurs, Children's Foot Troubles, Corns, Calluses, Ingrowing Nails, Diseases of the Nails, such as Arthritis
OFFICE HOURS: 9 to 12, 1 to 5, 7 to 9
164 Front St. Phone 2
Trenton
PHONE 423-W OTHER EVENINGS

CARETAKING CONTRACTORS

GORDON A. MacEACHERN
(G. FRED MAUND Mgr.)
SPECIALISTS IN FLOOR FINISHING
WINDOW CLEANING WAXING
Washing Machines of
THE SANITARY PRODUCTS
FLOOR and WINDOW CLEANER
236 Pinnacle St. Phone 929

FLOORS and WALLS

PIDUTTI — FABBRI
TILE and TERRAZZO CO.
Cracked and worn floors made like new
WALL TILE
TERRAZZO FLOORS for Commercial Repairs on Tile and Terrazzo Floors
PHONE 3836
61 NORTH FRONT ST.
M30-tf

BUILDERS' SUPPLIES

LUMBER
ROOFING — INSULATION — SIDINGS—WALLBOARDS—MASONITE —PLYWOOD — DOORS— MOULDING — HARDWARE
E. D. SCOTT
370 FRONT ST. PHONE 1633
A2-tf

CHIROPRACTORS

ROGERS RIKDEL, D.C.
Doctor of Chiropractic
Consultations by Appointment
421½ Bridge St. East
Phone 4366
Belleville, Ont.
Office Telephone 3591
Residence Telephone 4366
J21-tf

R. A. WYATT, Ph.C.
Chiropractor and Drugless Therapist
Spec. Minerol Foam Baths with oil and alcohol rub, massage, ultra violet, galvanic, faradic, sinusoidal, manipulation, colonic irrigation, diathermy, ionization
Office in Belleville, Phone 800
OFFICE HOURS: 9 to 5
J21-tf

REAL ESTATE

BUYING OR SELLING YOUR HOME?
Phone 4652
ERIC COOPER
General Insurance — Real Estate and Business Broker.
Life Insurance Consultant
F1-tf

UPHOLSTERING

OUR BUSINESS IS
UPHOLSTERING
RE-COVERING—RE-STYLING
1951 Materials
First Class Workmanship
Estimates — No Obligation
WRITE or PHONE
TOWNE UPHOLSTERERS
Reg.
262 Dundas St. E., TRENTON
P.O. Box 325 Phone 1068
F1-tf

TENDERS

Tenders will be received until February 7th for the manufacturing of sheet metal equipment for the Wellington factory. Make out specs. at Morley Bayeux, Wellington.
F1-tf

FOR SALE

2½ FIDDLEBACK CHOICE TABLE TOPS, 2 R. & S. wardrobes, 1 bed. No. 2-3.
F1-tf

USED HEATER UNITS INSTALLED and GUARANTEED
Oil burning, hot water, forced air furnaces, with new oil burners, installed and guaranteed. Also used oil burners to fit your furnace. Terms to suit your pocketbook. Phone 2928 Front St. Belleville. Phone 460
F1-tf

BEETLE-CAT, MARK I, PONT, 14 ft. Centre board. Mast and Sail. Trailer. Will Sell Reasonable. Phone 2928 Front St. Belleville.

BAY GREEN ALFALFA, RED CLOVER, Timothy Seed. Phone 2928 Front St. Belleville.
F1-tf

ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND FEET white pine lumber, dressed, shiplap, tongue and groove. Phone 2928 Front St. Belleville.
F1-tf

DESIRABLE BUILDING LOT, 75 foot frontage. On Sinclair Street. Convenient to Public Utilities. Write Box 23, Ontario Intelligencer.
F1-tf

EXCELLENT BUILDING LOT, 75 foot frontage. Just right for a bungalow. Write Box 23, Ontario Intelligencer.
F1-tf

TWO BLACK LABRADOR SPANIELS, are nine weeks old. From Canada's best hunting blood lines. Phone 2928 Front St. Belleville. Phone or write Lloyd's Kennels, Belleville.
F1-tf

COOK STOVES, REFRIGERATORS, bought, sold, exchanged, repaired, to anyone from Toronto to each Belleville. Bell Sales Co., Phone 3211.
C30-tf

TO LET

3-ROOM HOUSE, UNFURNISHED, Phone 2928 Front St., Belleville, Ont. Phone 460 after 5.00 p.m. or apply 71 Cameron St.
F1-tf

LARGE, BRIGHT, COMFORTABLE, well-furnished bed sitting room, heated, fifteen minute bus service. All conveniences. Phone 2928 Front St.
F1-tf

ROOM AND BOARD, GENTLEMEN preferred. Private home, Phone 2928 Front St.
F1-tf

3-ROOM APT., TWIN BED, AVAILable. Write Box 24, Ontario Intelligencer.
F1-tf

HEATED BED-SITTING ROOM FOR 1 or 2 gentlemen. Hot water, shower, bus, 2 minute bus service. Phone 2928 Front St. Belleville.
F1-tf

ROOM AND BOARD, GENTLEMEN preferred. Private home, Phone 2928 Front St.
F1-tf

3-ROOM APT., TWIN BED, AVAILable. Write Box 24, Ontario Intelligencer.
F1-tf

HEATED BED-SITTING ROOM FOR 1 or 2 gentlemen. Hot water, shower, bus, 2 minute bus service. Phone 2928 Front St. Belleville.
F1-tf

LARGE, BRIGHT, FURNISHED, heated bed-sitting room, Phone 2928 Front St. Belleville.
F1-tf

LARGE KNIT, FURNISHED, heated bed-sitting room, Phone 2928 Front St. Belleville.
F1-tf

FURNISHED BEDROOM IN 3 ½ room apt. Breakfast provided if desired. Suitable for couple or 2 business girls. Phone 2928 Front St. Belleville.
F1-tf

TWO FURNISHED HOUSEKEEPING rooms. Also room and board for one gentleman. Very central. Apply 51 Pinnacle St. Belleville.
F1-tf

ROOM AND BOARD, HOME-PRIVILEGES. Phone 2928 Front St. Belleville.
F1-tf

3-ROOM APARTMENT, NEWLY decorated, well furnished. Ground floor. Private entrance. Phone 2928 Front St. Belleville.
F1-tf

3-ROOM SELF-CONTAINED APT. IN Belleville. Heated, hot water. Bell telephone. Immediate possession. Apply Box 25, Ontario Intelligencer.
F1-tf

FURNISHED ROOM, GIRL PREFERred. Phone 4184-J.
F1-tf

FURNISHED AND HEATED housekeeping rooms. Heavy fuel range, plenty of cupboard space. Phone 2928 Front St. Belleville.
F1-tf

FRONT BED - SITTING APT. PRIvate entrance, telephone, continuous hot water heat. Suitable for couple or 2 Protestant. Abstainers. 908-R.
F1-tf

DOWNTOWN FRONT BEDROOM, twin beds, 45 Victoria Ave. 4277-J.
F1-tf

2-ROOMED, FURNISHED, HEATED housekeeping flat. Small, telephone. Bell. Near to bus. Abstainers. Box 22, Ontario Intelligencer.
F1-tf

4-ROOM APT. DOWNSTAIRS. ALSO 5-room apartment downstairs; 2-room apartment upstairs; unfurnished. Apply Mrs. Dalton, 3-tf

NICELY FURNISHED BEDROOM, West Hill. Gentleman preferred. Call 2928 Front St. Phone 460, telephone 3883-M.
F1-tf

FURNISHED LIGHT HOUSEKEEPING room. Suitable for working girl. Phone 2928 Front St. Belleville. On bus line. Phone 460 after 5.00 for two girls.
F1-tf

3 OR 5 BUSINESS GIRLS TO SHARE 5-room apartment with 2 others. Phone 2928 Front St. Belleville or 2210-W after six.
F1-tf

FURNISHED ROOM, KITCHENETTE, hot-cold water. Suitable for couple. Adults only. Phone 2307-M after 6.
F1-tf

COMFORTABLE BEDROOM, ALSO room with twin beds. Board optional or kitchen privileges. Phone 2928 Front St. Belleville.
F1-tf

6-ROOM APT. NEAR AIRPORT Phone 3883-M or 2928 Front St. Belleville.
F1-tf

COMFORTABLE, BRIGHT ROOMS for young men. Use of club facilities. Reasonable rates. Also pool and swimming pool included. YMCA 20 Campbell Street, Phone 413.
S27-tf

ACCOM. WANTED

THREE OR FOUR ROOM APT. BY March 1st. Heated, Unfurnished. No children. Box 42, Ontario Intelligencer.
F1-tf

HOUSE OR APT. SUPERIOR TYPE for permanent tenant. Write references, description, terms. Write Box 27, Ontario Intelligencer.
F1-tf

CHRISTIAN COUPLE WITH MONTHold child require 3 or 3 roomed unfurnished apartment with reasonable rent. Abstainers. Box 3, Ontario Intelligencer.
F1-tf

WANTED

WANTED FULL TIME SALESMAN with knowledge of automobile business. Must be experienced. Apply in writing stating age, experience, previous employment and salary expected to Box 26, Ontario Intelligencer.
F1-tf

WANTED - MALE

WANTED FULL TIME SALESMAN with knowledge of automobile business. Must be experienced. Apply in writing stating age, experience, previous employment and salary expected to Box 26, Ontario Intelligencer.
F1-tf

OPPORTUNITY FOR GOOD SALESman. Genuine opportunity for right man. Permanent connection with International Harvester Co. Good Proposition. Apply in writing to Box 28, Ontario Intelligencer. Must be resident in this territory.
F1-tf

SALESMAN FOR BELLEVILLE to establish sales and service dealer organization. Apply, stating age, experience and salary expected. Permanent employment. Write Box 27, Ontario Intelligencer.
F1-tf

TRACTOR TRAILER DRIVER. Must be thoroughly experienced, reliable and sober. Steady employment. No others need apply. State qualifications and salary expected to Box 29, Ontario Intelligencer.
F1-tf

WANTED — FEMALE

PART - TIME HELP WANTED. Typing essential. Phone 1940.

WAITRESS, EXPERIENCED, DEPENdable, Highest wages, meals and uniforms. Apply in person only. The Guild.
F1-tf

WANTED

FURNITURE TO UPHOLSTER and repair. Free estimates. Day or night. Gordon's Upholstery. Phone 2307-M.
F1-tf

MIDDLE AGED WOMAN DESIRES position as housekeeper. Apply in person. Write Box 98, Ontario Intelligencer.
F1-tf

HOUSE OR APT. FAMILY OF FIVE. Will sign lease. Phone 2928 Front St. Write Box 12, Ontario Intelligencer.
F1-tf

TO BUY HOUSE. PREFERABLY with 3 bedrooms. Must be close to city. Phone 2928 Front St.
F1-tf

A SMALL PIECE OF LAND, 2 TO 5 acres, with or without building, suitable for small stock location and price right. Write Box 30, Ontario Intelligencer.
F1-tf

SCRAP TIRES AND TUBES, highest prices paid. Central Fuels (1951) Station, St. Thomas.
C-tf

SEND YOUR LETTER NOW TO "The Woman's Point of View Contest." Win $ prize. Write on automatic iron. For details watch Page 3 in next issue of the 120 Front St. Belleville.
M10-tf

SMALL WIND STORE PIANO IN warm apt. for use of same. Phone 2928 Front St.
F1-tf

USED ELECTRIC MOTORS and Belting equipment. Phone 2928 Front St.
F1-tf

NOTICE

Meeting of the patrons of Roslin Public School (opposite Nalloy's), Friday, February 2nd, at 8 p.m. to discuss plans of discussing the location of the additional classroom for Roslin Avondale.
School Trustee Board.
Sidney S. S. No. 2.
J21-2t

AUTOMOBILES FOR SALE

1942 WILLYS ARMY JEEP IN GOOD condition. Cheap. Phone 2928 Front St.
F1-tf

OLDSMOBILE SEDAN, 1937, PRIvately owned. New tires. Can inspect at 52 Mt. View. Apply 24 dates conditional. Apply Box 33, Ontario Intelligencer.
F1-tf

41 CHEV. COACH, GOOD CONDItion; 36 Ford Tudor, good stick-up; Chev. sedan; all winterized. Apply Phillips Auto Wrecking, Phone 1167 between 9 and 5.
F1-3t

47 DODGE 2-TON TRUCK, USED 30 months, school bus chassis; 42 International 3-ton truck, stock racks. Nos. Clinton Fuller, Tweedsmuir. Phone 204-R-13.
J21-3t

1934 DODGE SEDAN, REASONABLE. Phone 4259-M after 5 p.m.
J30-2t

50 VANGUARD SEDAN, VERY LOW mileage. Air condition heater. Low price. Also 1950 Vanguard Sedan. Hoyle's Garage, Foxboro.

48 DODGE COACH, HEATER, LOW mileage. Price $1,495. Cash, trade or terms. Hoyle's Garage, Foxboro.

49 CHEV. SEDAN, AIR CONDITIONer, Low mileage. Price $1,750. Cash, trade or terms. Hoyle's Garage, Foxboro.
J30-2t

47 MERCURY - COACH, HEATER. Radio. Spotless condition throughout. $1,250. Cash, trade or terms. Hoyle's Garage, Foxboro.

BUILDING SUPPLIES

LUMBER, SHINGLES, DOORS, sashes, millwork, trusses, builders' hardware. Houstion Company Limited, St. Paul Street. Phone 1677.
J30-1f

LUMBER, ROOFING, INSULATION, siding, wallboard, millwork, hardware. Keith Brown Lumber, 2 Dundas St. E., Trenton. Phone 1653.
J30-tf

$5,000 FIRE LOSS

Kingston, Feb. 1 — (CP) — An explosion ripped apart a charcoal broiler Wednesday and caused a fire which gutted the Town and Country Restaurant. Damage was estimated at more than $5,000.

ARTICLES FOR SALE

ONE NEW CONTINENTAL ENGINE, air cooled, 1½ h.p. Suitable for light lawnmower. Regular $125. Special $125. One portable Hydraulic Jack, 10 ton capacity. Regular $25. Apply Trudeau Motors Ltd. Phone 2211.
J31-2t

CONSOLE MODEL MARCONI RADIO in good condition. Apply 39 Church St. Phone 3883-M.
J31-2t

PIANO, GOOD CONDITION, VERY reasonable. Phone 941-W-22.
J31-2t

6-PC. WALNUT DINETTE SUITE, new condition; chesterfield, pair chesterfield chairs. Phone 3883-M.
J31-2t

BABY CHAMP RADIO, IVORY, 8 inch speaker, standard set with built-in antenna. Excellent condition. Regular $49.95. Special $39.95. Bellette St. Apt. 3, or phone 1668-M.
J31-2t

OIL SPACE HEATER $18.50; SPACE heater, battery radio complete $13.50; Quebec heater $6.50; utility table $2.50; 2 kitchen chairs, each $1.50; 2 occasional chairs, each $2.50; space heater; $17.75; Pedico 7-tube, table model radio $19.95; Admiral 7-tube table Store, 110 Front Street, Belleville. Phone 3547-W.
J30-F1-3

CAN RADIO 1946 MODEL, AI condition, Complete with aerial. Phone 941-W.
F1

HAMILTON RAILROAD WATCH, 21 jewel. Used 4 months. Will sell reasonable. Phone 3883-M.
J31-2t

1 BEAUTIFUL REAR FUR RUG 9x12 foot, $50. Phone 3471-J.
J31-2t

ONE ONLY FIRESTONE GASOLINE washer. New condition. Fully guaranteed. Phone 3211, 283 Coleman Street.
J31-2t

1 PAIR BOYS' HOCKEY SKATES, size 3. Reasonable. Phone 2928 after 6.
J31-2t

FOUR USED OIL BURNERS for sale. Priced from $55.00 up. For further details, call 3211, 283 Coleman St., Bill Dellos Ltd.
J31-2t

QUEBEC HEATER, MEDIUM SIZE, with water front. Also 30 gallon tank with water front. Both in good condition. Will sell collapsible go-cart; also baby's high chair. Apply 107; front-leat kitchen table. Apply 107 Church St.
J31-2t

SPACE HEATER, FINDLAY, LARGE size, used only 6 months, like new condition. Phone 4397.
J30-3t

WIRE CHESTERFIELD, FAIR CONdition. Phone West 2-r-22.
J30-3t

6 CU. FT. ELECTRIC REFRIGERATOR, 50-lb. freezer locker, Gurney range, fourteen-piece set Wedgwood china. 4316-J after 5.30.
J30-3t

CHROME BABY CARRIAGE AND bassinette. 221½ Water Street, Belleville.
J30-3t

PHILCO COMBINATION RADIOphonograph, 10 tubes, 12 speakers, 12" speaker, long and short wave reception, automatic record changer. Beautifully designed cabinet in walnut finish. Electric Shop, 240 Front St.
J27-tf

TRADE IN YOUR OLD ELECTRIC iron for a new Sunbeam or Silex iron. Only $4.95 cash. Trade-in price of a new iron. Van Dusen Bros. Ltd., Phone 2928 Front St.
J19-tf

NEW AND USED BATH TUBS basins, sinks, hot water tanks, all kinds of new and used plumbing and heating goods, soil pipe and fittings. Belleville Plumbing & Heating, 93 Church St.
J17-tf

SEE OUR NEW BEATTY STAINLESS steel washers at David's Electric Store, 170 Front St. We show you this outstanding washer tomorrow.
J18-tf

BUILDING CONTRACTORS

S. R. McKORT CONSTRUCTION Company. Residential and industrial repairs, alterations, water proofing, roofing, siding. Phone 2928 Front Street. Phone 3599.
J30-1f

WHITE LUMBER AND CONSTRUCtion Co. Complete home building, alterations and additions to industrial buildings. Phone Belleville 14 Front North. Phone 3477.
J30-tf

COUNTY LEVY UPPED

Toronto, Feb. 1—(CP)—A onemill increase in the county levy was approved by York County Council yesterday in setting a tax rate of 6.85 mills to raise $1,532,261 this year. The increased rate will provide an additional $300,000 from the '28 rural and suburban municipalities represented in the county.

MEYER APPEALS FOR CLEMENCY

Major-General Kurt Meyer, former Nazi field commander sentenced to life imprisonment, has appealed to the Canadian government for clemency. Originally sentenced to be shot for responsibility in the death of Canadian prisoners of war, Meyer had his sentence commuted to life imprisonment by Maj.-Gen. C. Vokes and has been in Dorchester penitentiary, New Brunswick, since 1945. — Central Press Canadian.

GUARANTEED USED CARS AT BETTER PRICES BATEMAN MOTORS
belleville

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE

EAST HILL, 3 BEDROOM CAN'S COD, living room, dining room, kitchen (built in cupboards), bathroom with tube, nice lot. $9,900. Down payment $3,500. Phone 3883-M.
J31-2t

THREE BEDROOM BUNGALOW East Hill, hardwood floors, fully landscaped lot, garage. $19,500.

NEW BANGOR STYLE BRICK BUNGalow, three bedrooms, large living room, dining room, kitchen, basement, forced air heating, oil burner. Lot 75 x 150. Price $14,500.

TWO BEDROOM BRICK BUNGAlow, hardwood floors, oil heating, garage. Price $13,500. Down payment $5,000. Balance like rent. Immediate possession.

TWO BEDROOM BRICK BUNGAlow, hardwood floors, oil heating, garage. Price $13,500. Down payment $5,000. Balance like rent. Immediate possession.

EAST HILL, NEW THREE-BEDroom Cape Cod, living room, fireplace, dining room, kitchen and bathroom, full basement, pleasant location. Price $14,500. Down payment $4,000.

EAST HILL, NEW, TWO BEDROOM bungalow with lovely sun room, living and dining rooms, full basement, oil burner, garage, complete in every detail. Price $14,500.

EAST HILL, NEW, HARDWOOD floors, large living room, fireplace, dining room, kitchen, bathroom, basement, hot water heating, garage. Price $14,500. Down payment $4,000.

WE HAVE ABOUT 20 OTHER homes for sale.

E. J. SAUNDERS
Real Estate — Insurance
Phone 3211
East Robertson Block
283 Coleman St.

D. J. Whalen, Salesman, Phone 4081-J
J31-2t

BUNGALOW, IMMEDIATE POSSESsion, 4 rooms, bath. Apply 96 Front Street, Belleville.
J31-2t

EAST HILL, NEW 3-BEDROOM bungalow, hardwood floors, tiled bath and vanity, colored fixtures, tube and extras. Full price $9,500. Down payment $2,500. Balance like rent. Phone 4169-M.
J31-2t

$4,500, COMPACT 5-ROOM STUCCO on stone foundation, 2 piece bath, 4 piece kitchen, hardwood floors, fully modern with furnace. This is a real buy.

$8,500; SOLID BRICK HOUSE ON Victoria Ave., 6 rooms, bath, living room, dining room and kitchen. Full basement.

$11,850, MODERN BUNGALOW, SIX rooms and bath, hardwood floors, tiled bath, oil heating, garage. Beautiful landscaped lot.

$16,500, 7-ROOM SOLID BRICK home, two double garages, full basement, hot water with oil heating. Lot 75 x 150. Will accept trade of homes on the East Hill

NUMEROUS OTHERS NOT LISTED, available.

ERIC COOPER
Real Estate — Insurance
Phone 4652 120 Front Bridge St. E.
J30-tf

OUTSIDE CITY, 4-ROOM INSUL brick bungalow, garage. Large lot. Low taxes. $5,000. Phone 2334-J-2.
J26-tf

WILL LOSE HOME

Vancouver, Feb. 1 (CP) — A mother of three children last night sent out a plea to two men who, by jumping bail, will cost the family their home.

Mrs. Stella Graham, 34, who came here three years ago from Winnipeg, said she will lose her $15,000 home unless John and George Mallock didn't appear when their trial on charges of conspiring to defraud Ottawa's opened here Monday. Bail totalling $40,000 was ordered forfeited to the court yesterday.

HUNTERS TO HELP

Washington, Feb. 1 (AP) — American hunters would take a leading role in a home-defence army under a bill introduced yesterday by Representative Edwin Arthur Hall (Rep. N.Y.). The bill calls for a home-guard force composed of civilian volunteers. Units of the force would be set up under the supervision of hunting and sportsmen's groups.

TENDERS

Tenders are requested for furniture and other equipment for the Dorothy Ross Nursery School, 27 Dundas St. E., Donald Avenue. Complete information may be obtained from Mrs. Ross, the Board's Secretary. Tenders will be received until 5 p.m. March 1st, and reach the Office of the Secretary, Mr. A. A. Mills, Secretary and Administrator,
THE BOARD OF EDUCATION,
Trenton, Ontario.
F1-2t

NOTICE TO CREDITORS

IN THE ESTATE OF ANNIE TAUBman, Widow, Deceased.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that any person having claim against the Estate of Annie Taubman, late of the City of Belleville, in the County of Hastings, Widow, Deceased, who died on or about the 5th day of September, A.D., 1949, are requested to send particulars of their claims to the undersigned on or before the 26th day of February, 1951, after which date the Executrix will distribute the assets of the Estate having regard only to the claims of which she shall then have notice.
DATED this 24th day of January, A.D., 1951.
LOUIS MARASKAS,
Barrister, etc.,
Front Street,
Belleville, Ont.
Solicitor for the Administratrix.
J25-F1-6

AUCTION SALE

Friday, February 2nd at 1 p.m., on the Market Square in Belleville. A very choice lot of household effects of Mr. Gannon's Estate: Chesterfield and two chairs, studio couch and one chair; bed with springs and mattress; dressers; chairs; rockers; tables; bedroom suite; kitchen cabinet; electric stove; kitchen table; floor lamp; ironing board; garden rake; lawn mower; garden tools; trunks and contents; fishing rod; two chairs; studio couch; bed and case; complete tool chest for carpenter; and many other items for sale: Cash.
NORMAN MONTGOMERY
Auctioneer
Belleville Phone 1179
J27-3t-F1

ORDER NOW FOR SPRING DELIVERY

CHESTER ROSE, Trenton, 4th line for $8.95; DWARF PEAR TREES (Dartmont or Clapp's Favorite), 4 ft. thru over choice, $2.95 each, or 2 for $5.50; DWARF CHERRY BEARING PLANTS (2 to 3 feet), size 25 for $3.95; CURRANT EXHIBITION TYPE, 2 year, 12 for $2.95; Strawberry, Red Raspberry, Black Raspberry, Yellow Transparent Gooseberry, Asparagus, Rhubarb, Fruit Trees, Ornamentals, Evergreens, Hedging, Roses, Shrubs, Vines, Perennials, Bulbs, Seed Potatoes. Write for further information. Free colored GARDEN GUIDE with every order.
BROOKDALE - KINGSWAY NURSERIES
Brownsville - Ontario

PIANOS BOUGHT — SOLD

ALL MAKES TUNED AND REPAIRED
PLAYER PIANOS OUR SPECIALTY
R. H. TYRER
PRAKEFORD
Phone 22-R-22

PAINTING and PAPERHANGING DECORATING

COUNTRY - not CITY
Phone 1120
H. EATON

MORTGAGES

BOUGHT and SOLD
Private Funds—Fast Service
FOR APPOINTMENT
Phone 4111
QUINTE MORTGAGE CO.
297 Front Street — Room 2
BELLEVILLE

W-A-N-T-E-D SHOP FOREMAN

with MECHANICAL EXPERIENCE
Apply
ASSISTANT MANAGER
BATEMAN MOTORS LTD.
Hutchinson Block
DODGE - DeSOTO CARS and
DODGE TRUCKS
315 Pinnacle Street

WANTED

ABOUT
FIVE HUNDRED FEET
GROUND FLOOR
STORAGE SPACE
Apply:
ONTARIO
INTELLIGENCER

300 FRONT STREET

Phone 4493

MACHINE TOOL DESIGNERS

Experienced Designers Required for Large Firm in Toronto.
Experience should include the designing of tools, jigs, fixtures and gauges for lathes, drills and milling machines.
Reply, stating qualifications to BOX No. 71, ONTARIO INTELLIGENCER

PERCIVAL'S ANNEX

RECONDITIONED
FURNITURE
and
APPLIANCES

ASSORTED MIRRORS — Unfinished frames,
40c to 49c

EUREKA - KANE-TYPE VACUUM. Complete with attachments. Used as floor sample. Reg. $109.50, $89.50

1 WASHING MACHINE —Fair condition.
$19.95

1 ONLY OAK BUFFET. Fair condition.
$19.95

1 ONLY WALNUT FINISHED VANITY, less mirror. Fair condition.
$12.95

KITCHEN TABLE, white enamel with black marboleum top. Knife drawer. Floor sample.
$18.75

300 FRONT STREET
Phone 4493

WHY WE SAY By Jean Monteith Pete Hoffmann

Modern brides are usually busy and quick, but many of them are also practical. The custom originated with the Romans. Guests who thought that the veil would be a protection for the bride regained evil spirits flying around during the marriage ceremony.

RAWLEIGH PRODUCTS

ARE AVAILABLE at 94 DONALD ST.
PHONE 2467R
T. A. McMULLIN
RAWLEIGH DEALER

LOANS

$50 to $2000.
FAST, COURTEOUS, CONFIDENTIAL SERVICE
TRENTON FINANCE CO. LTD.
(Above Buckley's)
297 FRONT STREET
BELLEVILLE, ONT.
Telephone 4111

TO-LET

Modern 5-Room Bungalow
EAST HILL. Possession February 15th. $65 per month.
Write to: Box 45
ONTARIO INTELLIGENCER

TRYST

By Elswyth Thane

Jennie's quick footsteps in the scullery, Jennie's precipitate arrival in the doorway, her arms full of unfolded towels—

"Lor', what a sight! What's the matter, 'asn't a ghost?"

Her eyes went to where the door still stood open, and as she looked it dropped gently back into place. Jennie gave a small surprised squeak.

"Be quiet," said Mrs. Pilton shrilly. "I didn't see anything."

Hilary faded away backwards into the nice dark dining room. This wasn't doing anybody any good. Twice over he'd put his foot in it tonight.

He retraced his steps cautiously through the hall and up the stairs. Once more his eyes rested thoughtfully on Sabrina's closed door. No. Not tonight. She might not like it, no matter how grateful he was. He went on up the second flight of stairs and passed again without mishap through his own door.

It seemed to Sabrina a long time since she had first picked the lock of Hilary's room. Did his being dead now make all the difference between a room you could break into and a room you must leave locked? It was still difficult to think of him as dead. He slowly she groped her way to illumination. In the room he wasn't dead. Something of him was there, waiting for her. Slowly the conviction grew that since George's visit—was it just her imagination?—since a little before George's visit Hilary had seemed nearer than during the spring, while he was still alive. It was as though Hilary dead was nearer.

Wandering aimlessly along the border one morning with Muffin a new kitten, under her arm and the warm fluffy sun glinting on her fair hair, Sabrina began to see daylight in darkness. Why, then, it wasn't going to be so bad, after all. He was not entirely lost just because his thick-headed, thick-skinned brother drove up out of the blue to say he had been killed out in India. She had come to a standstill, gazing blindly at the dark red Richmond roses, which were a little heavy on their stems in the hot sun. They ought to be Richmond roses in Hilary's room.

"I don't think it's whether his mother likes it or not—and anyway, she needn't ever know," she said aloud, and Muffin purred against her side like a small warm dynamo. "We'll try it. The lock again this afternoon while Aunt Effie is at Wells. And we'll open the windows and clear away the dustsheets."

An hour later Sabrina was still on her knees outside Hilary's door, hot and discouraged. The lock would not give. Hilary was sitting on the top step, and Muffin lay on his back slapping at the air with soft, ineffectual paws and giggling as kittens can—for Sabrina being deliciously tickled in the ribs by Hilary's invisible fingers, and loving it. The roses were wilting on the floor nearby.

Sabrina stopped to listen guiltily, motionless, her head turned over her shoulder toward the stairs. Someone was coming up. "Ah," said Hilary with satisfaction. "And about time too."

It was Mrs. Pilton. Sabrina, already flushed and rumpled with her failure at the lock got still redder.

"I only wanted to air out the room a bit—" she began inadequately and broke off, staring at the key in the housekeeper's outstretched hand. "Oh, Mrs. Pilton, it is kind of you!" She scrambled to her feet and took the key, and then, bending from the top step, put her arms round the woman's shoulders and kissed her cheek. "I can never thank you enough."

"I may be wrong to let you get at it," said Mrs. Pilton, "but he doesn't want you to be shut out."

"Oh—how do you know?" gasped Sabrina.

"It's hard to say, sometimes, how you know things."

Mrs. Pilton turned back down the stairs. Sabrina caught up Muffin and the drooping roses. The key turned in the lock and the door swung back under her hand.

For a moment she seemed about to cry out after Mrs. Pilton, but she herself had seen George at the window drawing the curtains while the dust-sheets glimmered early in the sudden twilight. But now sunshine flooded the window seat as usual and the shrouds had all been removed from the furniture and laid in a neatly folded pile in the corner.

"Sorry," said Hilary with real contrition. "My first mistake."

"I can't hear you—but I know you're here in this room. But how do I find you?"

"You can't," he said, standing still by the mantelpiece, watching her. "Not yet."

"Hilary—" (From where he stood half way across the room he could see the tiny pulse which beat in her thin throat.) "Hilary—who are you?"

"I am the man you would have married, if things hadn't gone wrong," he told her simply.

But her eyes went past him and her next words took no notice of his.

"Can't you talk to me?" she begged.

"Evidently not yet," he said, and wondered why, when they were already so close.

"Hilary, I am afraid."

"Not of me."

"I'm afraid of living—if you're dead. They'll always try to separate us."

"They can't do that. Nothing can."

"What did you say, Hilary—say it again—I nearly heard—"

She glanced back suddenly at the door behind her. Mrs. Pilton, who had given her the key—he doesn't want you to be shut out. Then Mrs. Pilton must know.

Gradually it dawned on Aunt Effie that Sabrina was using the room again, and that it must be with Mrs. Pilton's consent.

For a few days she hoped she was wrong, pretended not to notice, put off bringing the matter up. One night, quite late, when Sabrina supposedly had gone to bed, she remembered that she had left her gardening shears and basket out in the dew at the edge of the border and ran out to fetch them in. As she returned to the house she saw a line of light between the curtains of the room at the top of the house and she made up her mind to take a firm stand. If Sabrina was up there at this hour, reading—

(To Be Continued)

BELLE Cleaners — Launderers

SHIRTS BEAUTIFULLY LAUNDERED

48-HOUR SERVICE

Phone 55-2655 BELLEVILLE 356-362 Coleman St.

Food Tastes So Much Better WITH Blue Bonnet MARGARINE

And costs so much less to prepare!

Of course you know how delicious Blue Bonnet is as a spread for bread or toast. Fresh! Delicate! Country sweet! Why not enjoy this extra goodness in all your cooking, too?

Only Blue Bonnet Margarine comes packaged 2 convenient ways!

1. In the economical regular-type package with convenient color wafer in every box!

2. In the exclusive new Blue Bonnet Yellow Quik bag! Just press the color button . . . knead the bag . . . and delicious Blue Bonnet is colored ready to use in 2 minutes flat! No messy mixing! No dishes to wash! No waste!

Ask your grocer for Blue Bonnet Margarine in whichever package you prefer.

FLEISCHMANN'S Blue Bonnet MARGARINE

FRESH FARM-FLAVOR SEALED IN!

Product of the Makers of FLEISCHMANN'S YEAST • MAGIC BAKING POWDER and other fine food products.

EATON'S SPOTLIGHT SALE

Shirts And Pullovers

Tartan Shirts!

SPECIALLY PRICED FOR BOYS AND GRADS! SHOP EARLY FRIDAY FOR BEST CHOICE!

Shirts that have everything the boys clamour for — and offered at this low price due to our Spotlight Sale! Look at these features:

Sizes: 6 to 18 years; breast pocket; convertible collar; long sleeves; authentic Tartans: Margaret Rose, Buchanan, Royal Stewart, Cameron, Macbeth or Victoria.

EATON Spotlight Sale, Each 2.19

Cowboy Pullovers!

Specially Priced for Friday and Saturday!

JACQUARD WOVEN COTTON!

Be sure to take advantage of this outstanding buy! It's designed with a smart cowboy design which pleases young boys and is Jacquard-woven cotton, which should please mother. And the price certainly should please the family budget. Predominate shades are navy, brown or wine. Sizes 26 to 34.

EATON Spotlight Sale, Each 1.89

—Boys' Wear—EATON'S Main floor

SPECIALLY PURCHASED! JUST THE QUALITY YOU HAVE BEEN WAITING FOR!

Snowy-White Bleached Cotton Sheeting

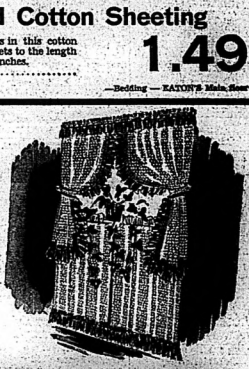
Good firm quality and weight are the principal qualities in this cotton sheeting. It takes 2¼ to 3 yards to make a pair of sheets to the length you desire. Bleached snowy white. Width about 81 inches.

EATON Special Price, Yard 1.49

—Bedding — EATON'S Main floor

Work-Saving Money-Saving

Plastic Cottage Sets



EATON Special Price, SET 1.98

You'd have to touch these pretty classic Cottage Sets to distinguish them from fine Marquisette, so cleverly is the weave reproduced — even to the fluffy dot effect. Good weight, pliable and so very easy to keep clean with a damp cloth — such a boon to a busy housewife. Solid colour, Plastic ruffles, in Red, Blue or Green for cheery contrast. Upper section about 20" x 42". Lower about 20" x 36". Good quality Cottage Sets at a very exceptional price!

— Housefurnishings—EATON'S Third floor

Special Low Prices on

Toddlers' And Children's Wear!

Limited Quantities! Please No Telephone, COD Or Mail Orders!

TWO-PIECE STYLE

Flannelette Sleepers

Soft, cosy napped Flannelette Sleepers in a light weight material with snug ribbing at wrist, waist and neck in contrasting colour. Nursery design on pocket. Footed style trousers have elastic at waist. In pink, blue or yellow. Sizes 1 to 4.

EATON Special Price, Each 97

CREW NECK STYLE

Kiddies Sweat Shirts

A favourite style with the "Lone Ranger" painted on the front. Made from cosy fleeced cotton with long sleeves. Ribbed neck and cuffs. In white, yellow or blue. Sizes 2, 4 and 6.

EATON Special Price, Each 97

HIGHER PRICED LINES

Rayon Crepe Slips

Dainty little dress-up slips of smooth rayon crepe with whirly edged ruffle at bottom. Built-up shoulders and frill, trimmed with fine cotton lace. In pink, blue, maize or white. Sizes 3 to 6.

EATON Special Price, Each 98

SMART ALL-OCCASION

Cotton Plaid Frocks

Smartly styled cotton plaid frocks with short puffed sleeves, full skirt and shirred elastic waist. Neat tie-back, sash and white eyelet embroidery trim at yoke. In red or blue. Sizes 4 to 6X.

EATON Special Price, Each 1.39

Seconds! Flannelette Crib Blankets. Two Sizes!

Classed as "Seconds" because of slight imperfections which should not affect their wearability. Downy-soft white flannelette crib blankets with pink or blue borders and whipped ends. Sizes 30" x 45" and 36" x 54". EATON Special Price, Pair ..... 1.39 and 1.89

—Infants' and Children's Wear—EATON'S Second floor

THE T. EATON Co. LIMITED BELLEVILLE BRANCH

PROBABILITIES
Saturday — Sunny, milder by afternoon. Lo.. 5, High 36.

TEMPERATURES
Max. Min.
Today 29 20
One Year Ago 35 10

The Ontario Intelligencer

BELLEVILLE, ONTARIO, FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 2, 1951 — 5c Per Copy, 25c Per Week

★★ Authorized as Second Class Mail, Post Office Department, Ottawa.

NO FROSTBITE CASUALTIES ON THIS RAID

A South Korean soldier of the R.O.K. army, who acted as guide for Canadian troops guerrilla hunting, is shown being examined for frozen feet by Lieut. D. G. MacLeod of Vancouver. The Canadians and their guides spent four nights sleeping on the rocky mountain slopes or in haystacks during bitter cold to track down a guerrilla hideout. Many suffered from chilled feet, but none seriously. — Central Press Canadian.

35 MAJOR TRAINS CONNECTING N.Y., WEST CANCELLED

'Sick Call' Strike Grows More Critical

Chicago, Feb. (AP) — Rail links between New York and the rest of the country were breaking apart today.

Elsewhere the crisis caused by the switchmen's "sick call" strike grew more critical.

With the country's economy threatened, the federal government prepared to set the walkout.

Twenty-five major trains connecting New York with the west were cancelled.

Both the New York Central and the Pennsylvania shut off vital commuter service through New York and many suburbs.

Other cities had similar problems.

Cincinnati, a union terminal officials said, will be without passenger train service within 24 hours unless the strike is ended. Normally, 111 passenger trains daily move in and out of Cincinnati.

An army spokesman said that only the Rock Island and Chicago Great Western roads are operating normally at Chicago. Others are "hobbled along" with supervisors throwing the switches.

A shutdown of eight Ford Motor Company plants across the country because of parts and materials shortages resulting from the freight train tieup was among employees out of work.

The federal government pressed to end the walkout. A federal court hearing was scheduled (a) 3 p.m. (EST) in Chicago in aid of the government's legal actions against the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen and its officers, who have not authorized the strike. President Truman was reported doing everything possible to get the strikers back to work.

Switchmen appeared ignoring the pleas of leaders of the B.R.T. officials to end their work stoppage, their action in effect wrecking a long-standing wage dispute.

As the strike grew, forcing additional layoffs of thousands of workers in basic industries, the government imposed a partial embargo on mail.

Mail, freight and express piled high as freight yards in many major cities filled with cars. Perishables were held here clamped on freight and express at many stations. The only railroads have spread to more than 48 railroads in 40 cities.

War Shipments Hit

War shipments were halted and a tie-up of fuel-oil shipments threatened a shortage for many homes. Combat rations for the forces in Korea were tied up in Chicago's freight yards.

As the government prepared for court actions, the strike grew more tempt charges were brought yesterday against the B.R.T. in Washington.

90 YEARS OLD

Hickson, Ont., Feb. 2 — (CP)— Edwin Parker, clerk of East Zorra township and active in municipal life for 52 years, today celebrated his 90th birthday.

New Atomic Test Rocks Las Vegas Proving Ground With Force of Earthquake

Las Vegas, Nev., Feb. 2 (AP) — A new atomic test rocked Las Vegas with the force of an earthquake today.

Residents said it appeared to be the heaviest of four felt here in the last week as a result of experiments at a new government atomic range on the desert northwest of here.

"It was just like a quake," said one observer. "The building rocked and the concussion blew in its swinging windows."

As in previous tests, the blast created a vast fan of Orange-yellow brilliance and faded quickly, with a core of orange noticeable as it died out.

It was timed at exactly 8:40 a.m. EST.

It took the concussion six minutes to reach here, after the brilliant flash lit the northwestern skies etching buildings in the gambling resort town and the mountains which ring it.

It was visible as a pale orange flash at Los Angeles, 300 miles away.

Since Saturday, the government has been testing atomic weapons at unprecedented nature at the new 5,000-square-mile range on the desert. The Atomic Energy Commission has been unwilling officially to comment, except to confirm that tests have been held.

The tests have been made in pairs—a fairly light explosion on Saturday; a heavy one Sunday; a fairly-light one yesterday; a heavy one today.

All Before Dawn

All have occurred just before dawn.

Presumably today's test was witnessed by some of the country's highest civilian atomic and military brass.

They are yesterday were Gordon Dean, chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission; Dr. William Webster, head of the Research and Development Board of the Defence Department; Senator Clinton P. Anderson (Dem., N. Mex.), a member of the joint Congressional Atomic Energy Commision; some high army officers and others.

Several Las Vegans were convinced it was the strongest jolt of the four.

Cashier J. O'Donnell at one of the big gambling clubs' said it "shook quite a building."

The sight loomed in the distance despite a maze of neon signs.

"After the flash, everybody was scared," he said, a policeman said: "Here it comes."

Some 75 players in the club scrambled under tables for a minute or two and then resumed. This was in contrast to previous tests, when the wheels went right on.

GOVT. MANPOWER POLICY OUTLINED BY ST. LAURENT

Says Europe's Need Is Arms Not Troops

Ottawa, Feb. 2. (CP)— The government believes that the big need in Europe now is for arms rather than troops. It does not plan to introduce conscription of manpower in Canada at this stage of the critical world situation.

That was the nub of an important policy statement made yesterday by Prime Minister St. Laurent—on his 69th birthday—as he unexpectedly injected the touchy conscription issue into the Commons Throne-Speech debate.

However, he said, that does not mean that there will not be chances in Canada's method of contributing resources to the pool of international strength if the world situation itself changes.

Mr. St. Laurent joined the debate along with the three other party leaders in the chamber received two non-confidence motions which will be voted on at a later stage.

The motions were hinged on:

1. A contention by George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, that the government has "failed" to give the country leadership, to mobilize enough forces to meet international obligations and to combat the high cost of living.

2. A censure by M. J. Coldwell, C.C.F. leader, for Canada's support of the United States position calling on the United Nations to brand red China as an aggressor in Korea.

Urged to be Aroused

Solon Low, Social-Credit leader, urged that the Canadian people be aroused to the "direst possible realization of the danger" that face them. Only then could they be expected to rise to the effort needed if free nations were to survive.

Mr. St. Laurent told the Commons:

"So far, there has been nothing brought to my attention that would indicate that the institution of National Selective Service at this time would be beneficial. On the contrary, the information we have obtained is that the best thing that can be done at this moment is "Nothing we do must mean that the situation cannot change, and it does not mean that, if and when the situation does change, it will be impossible to make the changes in the manner in which our resources are distributed or (the) pool of international strength.

"But those changes will not be recommended by this government on any other than fundamental grounds, for a quick and wholesale change of direction would be destructive of our peace and of our economy."

Mr. St. Laurent said he believes that still wider sacrifices will be made by Canadians if the nation is threatened.

He said test will come as the Canadians' commander, Lt.-Col. J. M. Stone, to decide whether he needs another 2,000 men to complete the training program decided upon last December by him and the late Gen. Walton Walker, United States 8th Army Commander.

Officers said Col. Stone is satisfied with the performance of the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry in the exercise it will not use the full time. He will be relieved by Lt.-Col. Matthew Ridgway, the present 8th Army head, and Brig. Tom Brodie, commander of the 27th British Commonwealth Brigade, that the Canadians have been attached.

If the exercise shows that there are still wrinkles to be ironed out, Ridgway will have to decide to do this before the Feb. 15 deadline.

The exercise is being carried out in the mountainous training area of Wonju, 75 miles behind and since early January. The troops left Pusan by train, the journey lasting by night and staying hidden during the day.

They will carry two blankets and one day's rations with them but the hot meal will be brought up nightly.

DESIGNED NAVAL CRAFT

London, Feb. 2 — (AP) — Sir Eustace Tennyson - D'Eyncourt, 82, prominent British architect who designed the battle cruiser Hood and other naval craft, died yesterday. He was head of the Admiralty construction which produced the first tank in the First World War.

$10 Billion Tax Increase Asked By Truman

Congress Told That More Taxes Will be Sought Later

Washington, Feb. 2 — (AP) — President Truman today asked Congress for a quick $10,000,000,000 tax increase and said he will ask still another increase later.

In a message to members, he set out this program for raising the $10,000,000,000:

1. A $4,000,000,000 increase in individual income taxes, already scheduled to yield a record $26,000,000,000 in the fiscal year starting July 1.

2. A $3,000,000,000 increase in corporation income taxes. These with excess profits taxes included, are scheduled to yield a record $20,000,000,000 next year.

3. A $3,000,000,000 increase in excise (sales) taxes — to be "concentrated upon less essential consumer goods." These taxes are estimated to yield $8,222,000,000 next year, under present tax laws.

The schedule outlined would mean a total tax take of $44,200,000,000.

More Than in 1945

This is nearly one-third more than the record collections of the Second World War when the take reached $43,000,000,000 in 1945.

The understanding among Congressmen is that the new funds for increase Truman is to request later would raise government revenues to more than $71,000,000,000.

Truman left details of how the $10,000,000,000 increase is to be made for explanation by Treasury Secretary John Snyder.

Word in informed quarters was that Snyder will ask that normal corporate income tax rates be raised to 55 percent from the present 47 percent top.

Truman nowhere named the amount of the tax increase he will ask for a "second instalment" following Congressional action on the first instalment of $10,000,000,000.

Pay-as-We-Go Basis

He pointed, however, to the fact that a $16,500,000,000 increase in revenue would be necessary to balance the $71,000,000,000 spending budget he has proposed for next fiscal year.

Truman said:

"I recommend that as rapidly as possible we increase our revenue legislation to yield additional taxes of at least $10,000,000,000 annually. Action later in the year enact the remaining amounts needed to keep us on a pay-as-we-go basis.

"If we follow this course, our revenues will keep pace with increasing expenditures, and we shall have some months in which to observe economic developments and to consider the several various questions that will need to be resolved before all parts of this year's tax program are enacted.

Congressional tax leaders have said it will be at least June before action can be completed on Truman's tax proposals.

Will Close Loopholes

Truman said Congress should seek to "close loopholes" in present tax laws and hinted he would like to see taxes imposed on corporations and income from state and municipal securities, all exempt under present income - tax laws.

He urged a "very careful" examination of tax laws, "relating to the tax-exempt securities held by holders of securities now exempt from income taxes," plus a "review of the tax status of organizations now exempt under present law."

Husband Wins Divorce Action, Gets Damages

London, Feb. 2 — (AP) — A divorce judge held today that Richarda Morrow-Tait, a comely redhead who holds the slow-motion record for a flight around the world, was naughty with her navigator.

Her husband, Norman, was awarded a divorce on grounds of her adultery with the man who charted her flight plan, Cambridge scholar Michael Townsend.

Townsend was ordered to pay Morrow - Tait £500 ($1,500) damages for alienating Richarda's affection.

Richarda, a former artist's model now 27, set off in August, 1948, to fly around the world in a single-engined Proctor. Townsend went along to map that for her.

After messing up the plane in landing mishaps in France and Cyprus they made a forced landing in the Alps in November, 1945, which washed out the plane for keeps.

Townsend gave up and returned to his studies at Cambridge. But Richarda bogged down to work at various jobs in Canada and the United States seeking funds to buy another plane and finish the trip. She finally got the money together in the summer of 1949. Townsend rejoined her for the last leg across the Atlantic.

They arrived at Croydon airport in August, 1949, just one year and a day after take - off.

Eight months later she gave birth to a boy and her husband, a civil engineer, went to see his lawyer.

GOING TO BE TOUGH

Toronto, Feb. 2 —(CP)— From now on, it's going to be tough to get a traffic ticket "fixed" in Toronto.

Senior Magistrate Thomas Elmsley said today he had given orders that only two members of the magistrates' courts staff here be dealt with by them.

It was reported that, parking tags and summonses "marked for the books" could have yielded more than $100,000 in fines last year.

Allied Assault Forces Drive Close to Red-Held Seoul

Tokyo, Feb. 3 (Saturday) — Allied forces advanced through thick fog Friday night to points north of Anyang, only 8 1-2 miles south of red-held Seoul.

Two to 2 1-2 miles south of Anyang, however, two companies of Chinese communists (possibly 400 men) counter-attacked at 10 p.m. and still were fighting at midnight.

No details were available on this relatively small red efforts to check the United Nations drive which has gained about 20 miles since it began Jan. 25. Enemy opposition has been slackening daily.

Advance patrols of the allies have been reported only seven miles from Seoul.

Heavier forces are moving up cautiously, wary against flank attacks—which are the favorite red tactics.

An Eighth Army spokesman estimated that 8,500 Chinese and North Korean communists had been killed by ground action between Jan. 25 and 31. Air reports

Button Up That Overcoat More Winter to Come

Toronto, Feb. 2—(CP)—The groundhog could have seen his shadow this morning. If he hid behind something about it several inches of snow that fell on Toronto during the last two days.

If he saw his shadow—and he could hardly miss it in the bright sunshine—legend had it that the city could expect six more weeks of winter.

But officials at Riverdale zoo said all the groundhogs there were fast asleep this Candlemas Day.

And the weather man who always takes a dim view of groundhogs as weather prophets, said: "We're in for another six weeks of winter anyway, believe me."

Punxsutawney, Pa.—(AP) — Zipper up your mackinaws and order in more fuel! There's going to be six more weeks of winter!

The Punxsutawney groundhog knows the word over at the seer of Gobbler's Knob, saw his shadow at 8:41 a.m.

THE WEATHER

Toronto, Feb. 2 (CP)—Synopsis: The storm that brought general snowfalls to Southern and Central Ontario has moved northeastward and was centred over New Brunswick early this morning. Light snowflurries are falling near Lake Huron and Georgian Bay while elsewhere skies are clear. Temperatures in Northwestern Ontario are near normal for the first time in several days. Today and tonight will be cold in Southern Ontario, but temperatures will moderate by Saturday afternoon.

Indicate Allied Forces May Halt at 38th Parallel

Washington, Feb. 2 (AP) — A reported decision to halt United Nations forces short of the 38th Parallel — if they can drive that far north — indicated today that the United States is ready to keep the way open for a possible diplomatic settlement of the Korean war.

Responsible U. S. authorities said last night that such a decision had been reached and would be transmitted to the U.N. commander, Gen. MacArthur, if it had not been already. Although they were reluctant to discuss the development even privately, the intent appeared to be to create if possible a basis for new efforts at a political settlement.

(At U.S. Eighth Army headquarters in Korea a spokesman said there would be no confirmation or denial of the reported decision. "We have got good intelligence on the enemy.")

Parallel 38 is 33 miles north of Seoul, the republic's red-held capital. Allied troops are about 10 miles south of Seoul.

The old dividing line between North and South Korea is still regarded by U.S. officials as having political significance even though it has been crossed and recrossed by both the United Nations and communist forces in the past.

Any such decision to create an arrangement might be worked out by having the Chinese communists withdraw north of the Parallel and United Nations forces remain south of it. It has been discussed in the United Nations.

Moreover, the present military situation in Korea is said to be such that experts here feel a decisive victory by either the communists or the United Nations forces is virtually impossible and if the struggle is to be ended it will have to be by other than military means.

Seaway, Power Project Must be Built for Safety

Washington, Feb. 2 (AP) — Rep. George Dondero (Rep., Mich.) said today there can be no per can be any question whether the St. Lawrence seaway is built it "must be built" for the country's safety.

"If we do not find some sure way to replace the electricity supply of iron ore, we cannot make steel and we must throw our national security out the window," Dondero said.

The ore supply in the huge Mesabi range in northern Minnesota is nearing exhaustion but newly-discovered deposits in Labrador can fill the gap, he said.

But, he added, the St. Lawrence seaway must be constructed before Labrador ore can be shipped economically to the steel plants in Illinois, Ohio, Michigan, Indiana and western Pennsylvania which now are supplied by Mesabi.

Dondero is ranking Republican member on the House of Representatives Public Works Committee which begins a hearing today on the seaway project Feb. 14. Twenty two Senators yesterday introduced similar legislation.

He told a reporter that a recent House conference had improved the legal situation of the measure because it converted chairman Cooley (Dem., North Carolina, N.Y.) of the committee into a strong supporter of the project.

WAR PLANS IN ENGLAND

Southampton, England, Feb. 2 (Reuters) — More than 800 officers and men of a United States anti-aircraft unit arrived here today for joint training with forces in Britain. They formed the first large American army unit to come to Britain since the war.

Princess Pats Open Five-Day Field Exercise

Miryang, Korea, Feb. 2 (CP)— Canadian troops tonight began a five-day battalion exercise which will decide whether they are ready to take their section in the Korean War.

The test will come as the Canadians' commander, Lt.-Col. J. M. Stone, to decide whether he needs another 2,000 men to complete the training program decided upon last December by him and the late Gen. Walton Walker, United States 8th Army Commander.

Officers said Col. Stone is satisfied with the performance of the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry in the exercise it will not use the full time. He will be relieved by Lt.-Col. Matthew Ridgway, the present 8th Army head, and Brig. Tom Brodie, commander of the 27th British Commonwealth Brigade, that the Canadians have been attached.

If the exercise shows that there are still wrinkles to be ironed out, Ridgway will have to decide to do this before the Feb. 15 deadline.

The exercise is being carried out in the mountainous training area of Wonju, 75 miles behind and since early January. The troops left Pusan by train, the journey lasting by night and staying hidden during the day.

They will carry two blankets and one day's rations with them but the hot meal will be brought up nightly.

DESIGNED NAVAL CRAFT

London, Feb. 2 — (AP) — Sir Eustace Tennyson - D'Eyncourt, 82, prominent British architect who designed the battle cruiser Hood and other naval craft, died yesterday. He was head of the Admiralty construction which produced the first tank in the First World War.

Signs Indicate Exceptional Upsurge Of Interest in Religion in U.S.

New York, Feb. 2 (AP) —Key signs today indicate a phenomenal upsurge of interest in religion in the United States.

While the evidence doesn't show that the country as a whole is more devout, it does hint that organized religion is commanding new, wider attention.

A few of the clues:

1. Seminaries are packed and some of them for the first time are being forced to turn away applicants.

2. Bible sales have nearly doubled in the last decade, increasing three times as fast as the percent in the last year.

3. A radio networks broadcast on religion last month stirred the greatest letter response in the program's 16-year history.

4. The number of newspaper and magazine syndicates handling religious features has jumped from 17 to 43 in five years.

5. Church-building is at an all-time high.

6. Most colleges and universities across the country have expanded religious curricula to meet student demands.

7. Present day touring Evangelists have attracted near-record crowds.

8. Church contributions and attendance (a basic gauge of church vitality) are at an all-time high.

Religious and inspirational books in recent years have achieved a regular place on best-seller lists.

Close observers view the sharpened religious appetite of the country:

They also see it as a possible reaction against an age of intense scientific rationalism, and a resurgent conviction that material-ism provides only a hollow hope with life's basic needs.

While church leaders applaud the increasing interest in religion they also note its potential dangers.

Since periods of stress usually spark wider religious inquiry, they say, the impulse is often partly due to fear, and possibly to psychological panic.

Then, the motive is great, they feel that many persons may be driven into erratic and unwholesome "fringe expressions" of religion, such as weird cults and mysticism.

Claims He Hitch-Hiked 12,000 Miles From New York to Korea to Enlist

U. S. Eighth Army Headquarters, Korea, Feb. 2 — (AP) — A 20-year-old man who says he came all the way from New York — 12,000 miles — to join the army was brought from the battle front today to take a physical examination.

That does not mean we will take him in," an officer said, "but it will determine for one thing whether he is a fit enough physically to become a soldier."

William Jay Newton, Jr., hitch-hiked to the front yesterday and tried to enlist in the U. S. 27th Infantry Regiment.

Newton identified himself thus: A commercial pilot in civilian life; married — his wife and two children living in California; a navy gunnery mate in the Second World War and later a year with the U. S. Air Force in 1948.

A plane he had rented at Teterboro, N. J., landed in the sea off Long Island, Newton said, and he picked up by the Polish ship Batory, aboard which Gerhardt Eisler, communist leader, escaped to Europe.

"Ever since, everyone still thinks little Willie is a red spy," Newton said.

"I came out here to shoot the communists. People back home think I'm doing a favor by not being a communist to act. They will have to change their opinion of me."

Newton's faith in his ability to get into the army wavered a bit after he was returned from the front and placed in custody of military police.

But, having worked his way to Korea on 10 cents, he "knew" he was confident he could pass army examinations.

Husband Wins Divorce Action, Gets Damages

COMING EVENTS

DON'T FORGET — THE SQUIRES Sensational U.S. Whistled Yodelling Virtuoso at 8.00 p.m. tonight. Don't miss it. F2-3

RUMMAGE SALE, ST. ANDREW'S Church Hall, Saturday, February 3rd, 2.00 p.m. Victoria Avenue entrance. F2-3

SKIING — BEST IN ONTARIO. FREE ski instruction at 10.30 - 2.30 Sunday. Refreshments at top of Wallbridge Hill. F2-3-5

"MISSIONS!" THE THEME OF RALLY to be held in Bethel Gospel Tabernacle, Alliance Tabernacle, Rev. "Doug." Perry, Boston interpreter will speak. Everyone welcome. F2-3

TOWNSEND SCHOOL UNITED Church, 8 p.m. sharp. "Professional Entertainers and Their Relations," Jack H. McQuaig, E. Comm., A.M.I. Advertising Inst. of C. and advertising Club of Belleville. Individual tickets. Auspices of fund-raising event you cannot afford to miss. F2-3

OPEN NIGHT, BELLEVILLE COL-legiate Institute and Vocational School, Wednesday, February 7th. Demonstrations and displays in Manual Training and Household Science rooms. Program sponsored by Home and School Association. Tea and home cooking by Home and School Association. F2-3-5-7

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 16, THE B.C.I.V.S. Dramatic Club presents 3 1-act plays in the Bridge Auditorium. Admission 50c. Tickets available at the door or from members of the cast. J27-F2-9-12-13-14-15-16

RUMMAGE SALE AT ST. MARK'S Parish Hall, Wednesday, February 7 at 2.00 p.m., by Group B. F1-2

TEA, QUINTE KNITTING AND Tatting Club, Parish Hall, February 7th, from 3 to 5 p.m. Sale of home-cooking and novelties. Everybody welcome. F1-2-4

City and District News

$38,549 INCREASE IN CUSTOMS RETURNS

Customs returns for Belleville for the month of January totalled $488,778 as compared with $450,229.01 for the same month last year. This is an increase of $38,548.90.

TWO CALLS ANSWERED BY FIRE DEPARTMENT

Two alarms were answered by the local fire department today, both being for minor blazes with no damage of any kind being reported.

One of the calls was to Catherine Street where an oil burner was reported to be giving difficulty, and the other was to the Coleman Street warehouse of a local construction company where a pot of tar boiled over while it was being heated.

CONVOY OF THIRTY STAGES NIGHT SCHEME

A convoy of 30 men from the RCSA Picton staged a night scheme in Madoc last night as part of their training. The convoy has been travelling in the district visiting Cobourg, Peterboro and Madoc and points where they go through phases of training. They returned to Picton today.

WILL NOT PLAY SCHEDULED GAME

The regular scheduled game of the Intermediate "A" hockey to be played in Memorial Arena tomorrow morning since there will be taken up by practice of the team selected to represent the league in the playdowns. The arena applies to Saturday, Feb. 10th. Visitors Outnumbered

EISENHOWER'S ADDRESS ON AIR AT 10.45 P.M.

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's address tonight will be carried over CJBC, the station management announced today. The speech will be broadcast at 10.45 p.m.

DOG CATCHER WORKING OVERTIME

City dog catcher Chas. Thorn was working overtime on Thursday with no less than four dogs being reported in the city pound. One of the canines picked up by the pound keeper was a hound, another was a black spaniel and two were mongrels. None of the canines had tags.

SALE AUTO PERMITS SLOWS TO WALK

The initial early seasonal spurt in the sale of auto licences and drivers' permits has slowed almost to a walk in Belleville, according to Fred T. Symons, local licence issuer, for the date only between 25 and 30 per cent of the licences ordinarily sold in this district have been disposed of.

Auto license sales through the Belleville office normally total around 7,000 in the year with drivers' permits totalling about one and a half times that number.

Sale of truck licences thus far has been particularly slow, it was stated.

6 R.D. HAS NATURAL ICE RINK IN HANGAR

Personnel of 6 Repair Depot, RCAF and their families are not worrying concerning inadequate thaw as skating and depot hockey is concerned. They have a natural ice rink of their own right on the station, comfortably ensconced in a hangar. Skating parties and hockey games are on the rink busy, most of the time.

VISITORS OUTNUMBERED MIAMI CLUB MEMBERS

Rotarian Arthur Bateman who recently returned from Miami Beach, said that the Miami Beach Rotary Club had 240 visitors when he was there, the club has a membership of 100.

LUMBERMEN WELCOME HEAVY SNOWFALL

Thursday's snowfall was welcomed by lumbermen of the northern areas of the county. While cold nights had helped the construction of ice roads to a great extent, the snow will greatly facilitate sleigh hauling. Hauling operation are now in full swing.

Old Man Winter Apparently Not Ready To Give Up Yet

Hang up those car mufflers and "long johns" a little longer for Old Man Winter is still with us.

Temperature of two below zero with a mantle of seven inches of snow and the sun coming up in a cloudless sky were all evidence of the fact this morning.

And to top it all it was Candlemas Day. The day of the groundhog who as much as poked his nose out of his winter lair was certain to see his shadow and scurry back into his hole for a six weeks' longer nap.

But despite tradition which says that on February 2nd the bears and groundhogs break their winter nap, we didn't hear a report of anyone in the district seeing either of the animals this morning. Possibly the two below zero temperature was sufficient to convince Mr. Brubn that winter was still around without even bothering to look out to see his shadow.

But at that, at least one groundhog beat the gun and started roaming before the February 2nd deadline.

Down at West Lake in Prince Edward county on Wednesday, Kenneth Clark saw the first of the horses shy away from something in the lane while he was drawing wood. Investigation proved it to be a groundhog which apparently had mistaken the date.

January Colder Than Last Year Reports Show

Old Man Weather played tricks during January Thursday, the absence of any particularly sharp zero weather he lulled residents into the belief that we were having a comparatively mild winter, while at the same time the cold his was receiving at a fairly rapid clip.

For instance. During the month just past the official one temperature recorded was just three below zero while one year ago the thermometer dropped to a low of 15.5 degrees below.

But on the other hand the high for the month was an even 50 degrees as compared with 53 degrees one January last year. It all added up to the fact that the mean temperature for the month was over four degrees cooler than last year. The mean in January last year was an even 27 degrees, while last month it was 22.9.

Precipitation during January this year was considerably less than that of last year. Last month the precipitation totalled 3.11 inches, made up of 1.78 inches of rain and 13.7 inches of snow. One year ago the precipitation was 4.72 inches or 2.33 inches of rain and 23.4 inches of snow.

Dealers Expect An Increase In Coal Prices

Coal prices in Toronto took a jump of 75 cents per ton this morning, but local sources revealed that Belleville may have an increases here as yet. Anthracite, which has been retailing at $22.00 in Toronto, will jump to $23.75, and stoker and blower coal also moved up the scale.

Locally, anthracite has been selling for $24.50 for some time, due to extra freight and other costs, and Belleville firms said this morning that an increase can be expected. "We have been expecting an advance," one spokesman said, "but nothing definite has been done here yet."

Top price in Belleville for stoker coal has been $18.75, and second grade has been selling at $16.00. Stoker coal is now selling for $18.25 in Toronto, and it is likely that local prices will advance 50 cents to 75 cents. Much of the decision on the price rise will rest on the quality from which the coal comes.

Higher Labor Costs

Dealers in Toronto cited rising labor costs throughout the industry as the reason for the jump. Increases in the price had been held back from the consumer, although the cost has been rising for them. In addition, operating costs have jumped increasingly since 1946-41. Coal boats were down eight cents then, and now cost 40 cents to the cent; rail rates had jumped 42 per cent, and miscellaneous costs, such as trucking and the like had advanced more than 300 per cent.

Thus far, local dealers have not had a meeting to discuss the proposed increases.

Asked about increases on soft coal, a spokesman for Schuster Coal Company said: "We have not increased ice is apt to run up to 50 cents, depending on the region it's from."

Metals, Office Play 5-5 Tie In Electric Loop

Sheet Metal and Office of the Northern Electric Interdepartmental Hockey League battled to an overtime 5-5 tie in a playoff game in Memorial Arena.

Down 3-1 going into the third period, Office got even on first Sheet Metal turned on the power and scored three times while holding the Office crew to one goal. Regular time ended at four-all and the teams each scored once in the overtime period to end the game in a stalemate.

Lynch with two goals and assist paced the attack with James getting a pair and Little one. Rosell was the scoring ace for the Metals with two, goals and two assists. Bush, Draycott and Salter were the other snipers with the latter getting two helpers. The teams

Sheet Metal—Goal, Hughes; defence, Longhurst, Rocebush; centre Woods; wings, Hatfield, Thornton; subs, Bush, Rosell, Salter.

Office—Goal, Aitken; defence, Kendrick, Gilmore; centre, James; wings, Lynch, Little; subs, Ellard, Woodley, Fisher.

Officials— Peter Jones, Jerry Mahoney.

POLICE BLOTTER

Two reports of petty thievery were received by city police during the past 24 hours.

The Diamond Construction Company complained of a rubber tired wheelbarrow having been stolen during the night from a job on which they were working on Burrell Street.

Again a Chatham Street woman reported that while her car was parked on Pinnacle Street at night four hub caps, the chrome wheel rings and fender skirts were stolen. The car was a late model Chevrolet.

In magistrate's court this morning two motorists were sentenced to fall terms by Magistrate T. Y. Wills after pleading guilty to charges of drunk driving. Each of the offenders was given ten days, while the other was given the conventional seven days.

A local resident who pleaded guilty to a second offence drunk charge provided a light touch of humor in the court when he asked the magistrate if he could go to his home to get the money to pay his fine of $53.

"Certainly," replied the magistrate. "The police will even provide you with a free taxi."

Obituary

MRS. MARY A. HIGGINS (Thurlow Township)

Funeral services were held Wednesday, January 31 for Mrs. Mary A. Higgins, from the Corrigan and O'Hearn Funeral Home to St. James' Major Church at Frankford, where requiem mass was said by Rev. J. O'Hearn at 9 a.m. Rev. O'Hearn also said the prayers at the graveside in St. James' Cemetery.

The bearers were Charles McNeil, Jack McNeil, William McNeil, Ross Purdey, William O'Hay and Dennis Corrigan.

Staff Member Tendered Dinner On Retirement

Fifty-two years' service in the one department of the same store was recognized by fellow employees Tuesday evening when at a turkey dinner at Lattimer's about 65 staff members of the local branch of the T. Eaton Company Ltd. gathered to pay tribute to Mr. Ernest J. Bennett-Poste, Forin Street, who retired at the first of the year.

Mr. Bennett-Poste worked for 28 years with the former Ritchie Company of Belleville and has been 24 years with the local branch of Eaton's since the Ritchie firm was taken over by that chain.

A recognized authority in draperies and on interior decorating Mr. Bennett-Poste served in this capacity with Ritchie's with which firm he had made many buying trips to Europe and to New York. He was still with the drapery department at Eaton's when he retired. Fifty-two years' service.

Wednesday evening his long service was recognized by fellow members of the store staff when he was presented with a gold wrist watch engraved with suitable engraving. The presentation was made by Harold Amos, who acted as chairman for the dinner. Mr. Amos welcomed the guests and expressed appreciation to those assisting in the success of the party.

Mr. A. M. Francis, store manager, also spoke briefly expressing the company's and his own appreciation for Mr. Bennett-Poste's long service. "He was always interested in his work and nothing was too much trouble for a customer," Mr. Francis said.

Mr. Frank Johnston of the furniture department presented a beverly bouquet of roses to Mrs. Bennett-Poste.

Entertainment during the evening included a sing song along with skits and vocal numbers by members of the store staff. Dancing was also enjoyed.

ENDORSES PLAN

Toronto, Feb. 2 (CP) —Walter Thomson, Ontario Liberal leader, Thursday night expressed general approval of proposed provincial legislation in the Speech from the Throne.

In a brief address to the Toronto and York Young Liberal Association, he endorsed the Conservative government's plan to "get into the rent control field if the federal government drops controls in April. He also agreed with the pension plan without a means test at age 70.

THREE CHILDREN RESCUED

Pickering, Ont., Feb. 2 (CP) — A clergyman and two police officers last night rescued three children from a gas filled home after their mother, Mrs. Betty Conium, managed to crawl out of the house and arouse neighbors. Rev. K. S. Braham of Rosebank United Church with Sgt. Fred White and Constable S. J. Higgins went into the house and brought out Carol, 10, Corine, 2 and Edward, 4.

No. 2 Communist Of North Korea Killed in Battle

Tokyo, Feb. 2 (Reuters)—Vice-Premier Kim Chek, regarded as north Korea's No. 2 communist, has been killed while commanding communist troops, Pyongyang radio announced today.

The broadcast from the north Korean capital gave no details of the action, which is said occurred Jan. 30.

Kim, 48, was trained in Moscow and was believed to be second only to Premier Kim Il Sung in influence in the north Korean regime. The two had worked closely together since they led guerrillas against the Japanese.

Kim Chek was named vice-premier and industry minister in September 1948. Last August he also took over as commander-in-chief of the army.

In November he was reported to be organizing communist guerrilla activity behind United Nations lines near Seoul, south Korean capital now in communist hands.

Kim was the second north Korean military leader to be killed in the field. Kam Gen, chief of the general staff, died at the front last September.

Girls Keep Sailor Prisoner in Cabin

Orrington - on - Tyne, England, Feb. 2 — (Reuters) — Two girls on a holiday here spotted a sailor in trouble and "saved" him.

They approached him and asked him to step into their beach cabin. That was the last anyone saw of him for four days. The girls kept him in a cabin.

The story of the "kidnapped sailor" was told to Northumberland county council here Wednesday night by one of its members, who urged that shacks on the beach here be destroyed. The councillor added that the shacks are often used for "immoral purposes."

U.S. DIPLOMATS MEET

Paris, Feb. 2 (AP) — United States diplomats from the other side of the iron curtain ended a three day meeting last night in which they talked over the problems of living and working with communist rule. There was no official announcement of decisions reached, and diplomatic informants said none was taken.

'Canada Inspiring Example, Symbol'

Paris, Feb. 2—(Reuters)—Canada is an inspiring symbol and an example all free countries should follow, the De Gaullist newspaper Ce Matin-Le Pays said today.

Commenting on Prime Minister Rene Pleven's visit to Ottawa, the newspaper said:

"Europeans who are tempted to give up the struggle should ponder the inspiring example that comes from Canada.

"This great nation takes all responsibilities and risks arising from its share in western defence. What Canada does, it does willingly.

"M. Pleven's visit will be a homage to this country where national solidarity between two races should be an inspiring symbol for all Atlantic nations."

Canadian Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent's recent visit to France "emphasized the perfect identity of views between our two countries. M. Pleven will further our co-operation based on our mutual and brotherly links," the news paper concluded.

Peiping Govt. 'Insulted'

Hong Kong, Feb. 2—(Reuters) —Peiping radio today described the United Nations resolution branding communist China as an aggressor as "an insult to the people's government."

This was the first Chinese reference to the resolution, adopted three days ago by the United Nations political committee and confirmed yesterday by the General Assembly.

The radio said the resolution showed the "United States imperialists" had no intention of settling the Korean War by peaceful means.

MORE TOURISTS LAST YEAR

Penetanguishene, Ont., Feb. 2 — (CP) — There were 1,237,000 tourists in Ontario last year, an all - time high and 37,000 more than in 1949, Provincial Travel Minister Cecile announced here. He spoke at a banquet honoring the 100th anniversary of the first meeting of a joint council for Tiny and Tay townships.

$60,000 Fire Loss At Hamilton

Hamilton, Feb. 2—(CP)—Fire today destroyed the homes of Thomas Halcro and Ben Curtis at suburban Hamilton Beach with total loss estimated at $60,000.

The flames had spread to two adjacent dwellings.

The Halco residence was a tourist home containing 21 rooms in two apartments and a separate cottage, also demolished.

The Curtis' home, an eight-room stucco building, also had a cottage nearby.

Firemen from three stations were called to fight the outbreak on the Hamilton Beach sandstrip.

BIRTHS

VanCLIEF — Mr. and Mrs. Donald VanClief, of Madoc, at Belleville General Hospital, on Thursday, February 1st, 1951, a son, 10 lbs. 7 ozs. P1

DEATHS

BUTTWELL — At Hastings County Home on Thursday, February 1st, 1951, Mary Arthur, widow of Henry Buttwell, in her 91st year.

Funeral from the Corrigan Funeral Home, 65 Victoria Avenue at Church Street, Belleville, on Monday afternoon at 2.30 p.m. Service in the chapel at 2 p.m. Interment Belleville Cemetery. P2

HONEYWELL — At Kingston General Hospital, on Thursday, February 1st, 1951, Catherine, beloved wife of Lt.-Col. Casselman, in his 62nd year.

Resting at the Belleville Funeral Company Funeral Home, whence the funeral will be held on Saturday, February 3rd, at 1.30 p.m., to Canniffton United Church. Service at 2.00 p.m.

Interment Elmwood Cemetery. F1-21

CARDS OF THANKS

I wish to thank all my friends and neighbors for their letters, cards, Post Office for their letters, cards, flowers and for visiting me while I was a patient in East General Hospital, Toronto. Mr. many thanks again for their kindness. Ronald J. Brown, R. R. 4, Belleville. P1

Mr. Charles Boulstridge wishes to thank his many friends and neighbors for their many acts of kindness and beautiful floral tributes, also Dr. Peloquin and the nurses and staff of the Belleville Public Hospital, during his recent sad bereavement. P1

NOW, AT LAST! PAINLESS SHAVES WITH NOXZEMA MEDICATED 3-WAY SHAVE SPECIAL 50c TRIAL OFFER 25c McKEOWN'S DRUG STORE Phone 135 We Deliver

GLEN ELLIOT FLOOR SANDING OLD FLOORS RESURFACED AND MADE LIKE NEW. NEW FLOORS SANDED AND FINISHED. 186 Dufferin Ave. Phone 24693

MARTIN'S SHOE REPAIR RUBBER HEELS WHILE-U-WAIT Phone 4413 85 Everett St.

BULOVA and GRUEN WATCH CRYSTALS Only 49 CENTS WHY PAY MORE? ELITE CREDIT JEWELLERS 201½ FRONT ST., Belleville. Watch Repairing Expertly and Quickly Done.

VICTORY COAL FROM WESTERN CANADA $16.00 PER TON DELIVERED IN BELLEVILLE WELL SIZED for Furnace, Large Heater or Stoves. and LOW IN SMOKE TRY THIS ECONOMICAL COAL Save Canadian Dollars and Employ Canadian Labor. MOIRA FUELS LIMITED

Saturday Used Car Special! 1936 PLYMOUTH SEDAN This car is in good condition and will give lots of satisfaction. It will be sold on Saturday for only $325. Over a Hundred Other Good Cars to choose from. Trudeau MOTORS LIMITED 31 - 41 STATION ST. 125 FRONT ST.

YARDLEY of LONDON 3. Luxurious Yardley Products LAVENDER SHAVING BOWL $1.25 AFTER SHAVING LOTION $1.00 INVISIBLE TALC $1.10 These are the preferred shaving aids of gentlemen who know the value of a smarty groomed face.

Geen-Drugs LIMITED FOR FRIENDLY PERSONAL SERVICE PHONE 153 — FREE DELIVERY

THERE IS A DIFFERENCE .... That is why we specialize in well finished quality products in any price range of funeral selected by our clients. PINKSTON FUNERAL HOME 60 VICTORIA AVE. at CHURCH ST. PHONE 2295 HOSPITAL BEDS TO RENT for your Valentine Feb. 14th Special new Valentine boxes are available at no extra charge Laura Secord CANDIES DOLAN THE DRUGGIST Phone 138 — Motor Delivery

I LOVE YOU VALENTINE Chocolates HEART - SHAPED PICARDY SMILES 'N CHUCKLES MOIR'S $1.35 - $1.75 - $3.50 PAULEY'S DRUG STORE Phone 105 WE DELIVER

THE WAY FOR YOU TO SAY "BE MINE ON VALENTINE'S DAY" From our collection of exquisite diamonds, this 5-diamond beauty at ... 87.50 Sure to charm, bedazzle and delight your sweetheart . . . it is a Valentine gift of a beautiful, fine quality diamond ring. Choose her's here and you are assured quality, savings and satisfaction. Angus McLee LIMITED JEWELLER SINCE 1840 YOUR CREDIT JEWELLER

Now ½ Off! Du Barry Derma-Sec by Richard Hudnut Your age begins to show first in your throat. So, help counteract the dryness and crepiness of mature skins...use extra-rich, mildly stimulating DuBarry Derma-Sec Formula! Now yours at half-price. 2.00 JAR FOR ONLY 1.00

SELDON'S THE FRIENDLY FAMILY DRUG STORE OPPOSITE McCARTHY THEATRE — PHONE 11

SECURITY MARKETS

Quotations furnished by BIGGAR & CRAWFORD

Members Toronto Stock Exchange

Belleville Office — Phone 3160 and 3161

Quotations at 1:00

MINES

Aunor 320
Ascot Metals 220
Anacon Lead 297
Base Metals 65
Bralorne 980
Broulan 89
Buff. Ankerite 136
Cons. Smelters 147 1-2
Calgary and Ed. 12 1-8
Can. Malartic 75
Central Patricia 66
Campbell R. 1 250
Centerville 60
Cochenour Wil 185
Cons. Beattie 68 1-4
Dome 19 3-4
Donalda 58
East Malartic 150
East Sul. 900
Elder 57
Falconbridge 12 1-2
God's Lake 83
Golden Manitou 655
Hudson Bay 62
Home Oil 16
Hollinger 13 1-8
Inter. Nickel 43 1-2
Jason 21
Kerr Addison 18 5-8
Kirkland Lake 95
Labrador 910
Lake Shore 10
Leitch 110
Little Long Lac 91
Macassa 205
McIntyre 63
McLeod 385
Mining Corp. 20
Negus 105
New Land 320
Noranda 79
Normetal 500
O'Brien 146
Okalta 255
Ontario Loco 157
Paymaster 70 1-2
Pamour 97
Perron 57
Pickle Crow 175
Preston E. D. 168
Quemont 29
Queenston 76
Quebec Nickel 272
Royalite 13 7-8
San-Antonio 275
Sherritt Gordon 420
Silver Miller 117
Slocan 74
Sladen Mal. 67
Steep Rock 10 1-8
Sullivan 380
Sylvanite 128
Tech. Hughes 220
Upper Canada 202
Ventures 14 1-2
Villbona 10 1-2
Walte Amulet 12
Wr. Hargreaves 100

TORONTO INDUSTRIALS

Papers—
Bathurst 36 1-2
Build. Prd. 24 3-4
Aluminium 103
Consolidated 38 1-2
Great Lakes 34 1-2
Minn. and Ont. 32
International 37
Powell River 67
Distilleries—
Hiram Walker 57
Can. Ind. Alcohol 16 3-4
Dist. Seagrms 39 3-4
Canadian Oils—
B. A. Oil 33 1-4
Imperial Oil 34
McColl Front 24
Inter. Petroleum 15 1-8
Miscellaneous—
Bell Telephone 40 1-2
Brazilian Trac. 26 3-4
Building Prod. 34
Can. Breweries 19
Canada Cement 66 1-2
Can. Cer. and F. 18 1-8
Canadian Pacific Ry. 29
Cockshutt Pl. 23 1-2
Dom. Stores 14
Dominion Foundries 44 7-8
Fanny Farmer 33 1-4
Ford A 58 1-2
Imperial Tobacco 12 3-4
Laura Secord 45
Loblaw A 34 1-8
Massey Harris 27 1-4
Mil. Brick 170
Steel of Can. 34 1-2
United Steel 10 3-4
Winnipeg Electric 41 1-4
Inter. Metals A 49 1-2
Cdn. Canners 27 1-4

NEW YORK
U.S. Steel 47 1-8

TORONTO STOCKS

Toronto, Feb. 2 —(CP)—Prices turned mixed today with industrials leading as the session progressed on the Toronto Stock Exchange today.

The industrial, base metal and western oil indexes were all at new peaks since they were first compiled in 1934. The Exchange's 1 p.m. list showed industrials up 2.63 at 320.77, golds .90 at 90.46, base metals .60 at 190.38 and western oils 1.26 at 96.59.

Trading was active and volume for the first three hours of 2,370,000 shares was about 401,000 shares more than the same period yesterday.

Industrials posted the strongest advance as they climbed ahead for the seventh straight session. Steels, papers, constructions, banks, refining oils, utilities, liquors and foods posted a long list of advances. Agriculturals, textiles, manufacturing companies and retail stocks showed a majority of gains. No group failed to advance and gains ranged from fractions to more than $1.

Calgary and Edmonton paced Western Oils higher with a $1 jump to a new peak at $12.25. Others ahead included Central-Del. Rio, Federated Petroleum, Anglo-Canadian and Pacific Petroleum.

Golds brightened after their declines of the last two sessions. Base metal producers climbed points and senior producers were mixed.

Canadian Bonds

FEBRUARY 1st

Government Bonds (By the Investment Association of Canada.)		Bid	Asked
Government of Canada Bonds
Security
2½	Feb. 1, 1953	102.05	102.30
2½	Mar. 1, 1953/54	101.45	101.70
2½	Dec. 15, 1954	99.70	99.95
2¼	July 1, 1956	97.75	98 ¼
2½	May 1, 1956/66	101.50	101.75
3	May 1, 1954/57	100.80	100.85
3	June 1, 1953/58	100.50	100.60
3	Jan. 1, 1956/59	100.00	100.35
3	Sept. 1, 1958/60	99.30	99.60
2½	Dec. 1, 1960/61	90.75	91 ¼
3	Oct. 1, 1959/63	99.75	100 ¼
3	Sept. 1, 1961/66	99.75	100 ¼
2½	June 1, 1956/68	100.75	101.25
2½	June 1, 1967/68	88.75	89.25
3	Perpetuals	99.25	99.75
Govt. of Canada Guaranteed Bonds
C.N.R.
2½	Jan. 2, 1964/67	96.00	96.75
2½	Sept. 15, 1964/69	97.00	97.75
3	Jan. 15, 1954/70	99.50	100.25
3	Jan. 2, 1961/66	99.00	99.75
3	Jan. 2, 1962	98.50	99.25
4½	June 15, 1939	112.50	117.50
4½	Feb. 1, 1946	108.75	109.50
C.P.R.
4	Jan. 1, 1942	108 ¼	110 ¼
4	Nov. 1, 1942	118.75	120.75
Prov. and Prov. Guaranteed Bonds
Ontario
2½	Nov. 15, 1945/69	93.75	94.50
3	Nov. 1, 1962/67	100.00	100.50
3	Nov. 1, 1962/63	102.00	103.00
Province Nfld.
2¾	June 1, 1961/71	93.25	94.25
3	Nov. 1, 1957/68	97.50	98.00
4	Nov. 1, 1957	113.75	115.75
Nova Scotia
3½	June 15, 1966	93.50	99.50
3½	Sept. 15, 1965	97.00	98.00
New Brunswick
2¾	Sept. 1, 1966	93.50	94.50
3½	June 15, 1962/65	100.00	100.50
Quebec
3	Sept. 15, 1962/64	97.75	98.75
Quebec Hydr.
3	Dec. 1, 1962/69	99.00	99.75
Alberta
3½	Dec. 1, 1953/57	99.50	100.00
British Columbia
2	June 15, 1964	97.75	98.75
4½	June 15, 1960	128 ¼	130 ¼
Manitoba
3	Oct. 1, 1965	97.25	98.50
4½	July 1, 1959	114.00	115.25
Saskatchewan
2¾	Oct. 1, 1962/65	102.52	Bid
4	Aug. 1, 1951/60	108.00	110.50
5	Aug. 1, 1953	108.00	110.50
5	Aug. 1, 1955	103.50	104.00

Maintenance of extra dividend payments as shown should not be assumed

Shares listed on Toronto and/or Montreal Stock Exchanges or Montreal Curb Market Bonds are offered by us as principals, shares are offered by us as agents
All offerings are subject to confirmation

A. E. Ames & Co.

Limited

Business Established 1889

Resident Representative: C. D. LOUGH, BELLEVILLE, Telephone 4268

TORONTO MONTREAL WINNIPEG VANCOUVER VICTORIA OTTAWA LONDON
HAMILTON KITCHENER OWEN SOUND ST. CATHARINES QUEBEC LONDON, ENG.

Belleville Livestock Sales Limited

(ADVERTISEMENT)

WEEKLY MARKET REPORT

A good supply of all classes of livestock met a brisk demand at the sale held on Tuesday, Jan. 30, at the sales arena. Beef cows sold from 23 to 26c per pound and canners and cutters sold at 18 to 21c a pound. Choice steers and heifers sold from 28c to 30c, Bulls (heavy) 27c per pound, light-weight bulls 20 to 24c a pound. Choice vealers sold at 39c while lighter calves sold mostly 35 to 37c per pound. Small calves 25 to 30 dollars each. Choice dairy cows and freshening sold at $325.00 each with medium kinds $275 to $300 each; plain cows around $200.00 each.

Feeder pigs around 100 pounds each sold mostly for 34 to 35c per pound. Pigs weighing 50 to 60 pounds selling for $20.00 each, good weaned pigs 12 to 14 dollars each.

On Feb. 6th there will be offered a Massey-Harris tractor nearly new, also new Case cultivator and a two furrow plow, the tractor and cultivator all on rubber.

We ship fat hogs every Monday from the sales arena and for hogs delivered we will pay the trucking, highest prices assured.

For February Investment . . .

More complete information on the shares listed below is contained in our February issue of "Investment Supp[illegible]" copies of which is available upon request.

Security	Rate	Maturity	To Yield Approx.
Government of Canada	3%	1959/63	3.00%
Government of Canada Guaranteed Canadian National Railway Company	3%	1961/66	3.03%
Province of Ontario Guaranteed Hydro Electric Power Commission	3%	1968/70	3.16%
Province of Quebec	3%	1968/70	3.16%
Province of Manitoba	3%	1968	3.17%
Province of Nova Scotia	3%	1968	3.26%
City of Montreal	3%	1969	3.40%
Montreal Metropolitan Commission	2¾%	1956	3.10%
City of Vancouver	3½%	1968-74	3.75%
Brazilian Traction, Light & Power Co.	4½%	1970	4.92%
Page-Hersey Tubes, Limited	3½%	1965	3.25%
Steel Company of Canada, Ltd.	2¾%	1967	3.15%
Abitibi Power & Paper Co. Ltd.	$1.50	Preferred	6.12%
Dominion Foundries & Steel Ltd.	4½%	Preferred	4.58%
Building Products Limited	$1.80	Common	5.45%
Consolidated Mining & Smelting Co.	$3.00+6.50	Common	7.08%
Consumers' Gas Company of Toronto	$8.00	Common	4.94%
Dominion Textile Co. Ltd.	$ .70	Common	4.67%
Ford Motor Co. of Canada Ltd.	$2.00+1.50	Class "A"	6.03%
International Metal Industries, Ltd.	$2.60+.35	Class "A"	5.96%

VANCOUVER PANORAMA

Beautiful panorama of the north shore of Burrard Inlet greets Vancouverites these crisp winter days. The snow-clad mountains provide a scenic background as the C.P.R. ship Princess Joan leaves for Nanaimo. — (CP Photo.)

Debenture Costs To Municipalities Steadily Rising

Toronto, Feb. 2—(CP)— Sales of new issues of debentures on two Ontario cities, London and Kitchener, were announced today.

An issue of $1,635,000 City of London 2¾ per cent and three per cent debentures has been purchased by a syndicate consisting of A. E. Ames and Co., Ltd.; Wood, Gundy and Co. Ltd.; Bank of Nova Scotia; Imperial Bank or Canada; Gairdner and Co., Ltd.

The debentures are due 1951-70 inclusive, and were bought at 97.357, a cost basis to the municipality of 3.28 per cent.

An issue of $1,471,800 City of Kitchener 2¾ per cent and three per cent debentures has been purchased by a syndicate consisting of Dominion Bank; A. E. Ames and Co., Ltd., and W. C. Harris and Co., Ltd.

These are due 1951-56 inclusive and were bought at 98.038, a cost basis to the municipality of 3.20 per cent.

Both entire issues have been sold by the purchasing syndicates.

Coroner Had No Suspicion Of Murder

Ottawa, Feb. 2 — (CP) — Dr. Harry Dover, district coroner, today stated under cross examination that he had no suspicion of murder when he examined the body of Francis J. Sullivan in a Chateau Laurier hotel room early Nov. 18 last.

He gave evidence for the crown in the Ontario Supreme Court trial of Mrs. Marion Sullivan, 48-year-old Toronto woman, charged with manslaughter in connection with the death of her husband.

Dr. Dover told defence counsel Royden Hughes that he noticed marks and bruises on the body of Mr. Sullivan, a Toronto lawyer, and the body was turning blue and was "cold to touch."

There were a number of possibilities in his mind as to the cause of death, he said. They included heart failure and foul play.

Mrs. Sullivan had told him, he said, that she discovered the body when she got out of bed at 1:30 p. m., Nov. 18. When asked why she had waited until 3:30 a. m. before calling for help, she replied, said Dr. Dover:

"I don't know where the time has gone."

She told him that there had been no struggle in the room. Her husband had retired at 4:30 p. m., Nov. 17, after complaining of a pain at the back of his head. She went to bed at 8 p. m. because she had a "hard day."

WILL FORWARD ENTRY

Toronto, Feb. 2—(CP)—Winnie Roach Leanzier, 25-year-old mother or three, today mailed her entry for the London Daily Mail's international swimming race across the English Channel in August.

She told a reporter she will be the first Canadian woman to try to swim it.

She placed second in the women's swim at the Canadian National Exhibition in 1947, only two months after the birth of her first child, third in 1948 while expecting her second child and second in 1949.

TANKER BLAST KILLS SEVEN

Swansea, Wales, Feb. 2 — (Reuters) — Three explosions and a fierce fire in the 8,070-ton Liberian tanker Atlantic Duchess killed seven crew members here early today and injured 17 others. Cause of the explosions was not known. The Atlantic Duchess arrived here Tuesday on her maiden voyage from Abadan, Persian Gulf.

DESERONTO

Deseronto—Mrs. Bert Mowers, Mrs. Leta O'Ray or Belleville, attended the ladies euchre held at the home of Miss Nora Fox Wednesday evening.

Mr. Leo Howard of Oshawa, visited recently at the home of his father, Mr. Henry Howard.

Mr. Syd Goodworth died on Thursday at his home in his 76th year. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. S. Goodworth, Thomas St. St. Mark's Church.

The women of St. Mark's Church held their January meeting at the rectory. The meeting was well attended and the following officers were returned. President, Mrs. Newton Thomas; 1st vice-president, Mrs. E. Robinson; 2nd vice-president, Mrs. Clare Malley treasurer, Mrs. A. B. Ross; secretary, Mrs. William Crabb; Dorcas treasurer, Mrs. A. B. Ross; delegate to annual Diocesan meeting, Mrs. F. Chamberz; substitute delegate, Mrs. R. Harvey.

It was decided to re-organize the "Little Helpers" with Mrs. S. Weasman and Mrs. D. F. Weber in charge.

At the close of the meeting refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. W. E. Kidd and a social hour enjoyed.

Ladies Euchre Club

Miss. Nora Fox entertained the Ladies Euchre on Wednesday evening, the high score won by Mrs. Harry Bender, Mrs. Gerald Fox, consolation by Mrs. M. Loffman, travelling lone hand, Mrs. Harold Topping. Refreshments were served.

FOR HAPPINESS

Bluebird

PERFECT DIAMONDS

at

PAUL MERCIER

McCARTHY THEATRE BLDG.

SPECIALIZED MOTOR SERVICE

Ignition — Carburetor — Distributor — Fuel Pump
Vacuum Systems — Windshield Wipers
Voltage Regulators — Generator — Starter Motors
Batteries — Wiring Systems
Bonded Brake Lining — Brake Drum Grinding
Brake Shoe Exchange
Bear Front End Alignment — Frame Straightening
Genuine Ford Parts and Accessories for All Ford Products
Bear Wheel Balancing
Body Understanding — 3m. Rubberized Material

AT THE

Belleville Motor Car Co. Ltd.

MERCURY — LINCOLN — METEOR DEALER
Cor. BRIDGE and COLEMAN STS. PHONE 887

"A GOOD PLACE TO DEAL"

DAVID'S ELECTRIC

"MYSTERY RECORD" CONTEST

??????????

FREE — FREE

AN ALBUM OF THE BEST IN RECORDED MUSIC GIVEN AWAY EACH WEEK.

Here's All You Do:

In the list of R.C.A. Victor Records below, pick out what you believe is the Mystery Record. You will find at least two clues that will help you to identify it. Come in to David's Electric Shop and write your name and the name of the Mystery Record on a card. There is no red tape — nothing to buy. The winner will be drawn from the correct answers each Saturday at 9.00 p.m. and will be notified by telephone.

GOOFUS
THE THING
Phil Harris with Orchestra

MELODY OF THE BREEZE
IT'S RAINING SUNBEAMS (V.R.)
(From the film "The West Point Story")
Ralph Flanagan and His Orchestra.

TAMBARINA
ONCE UPON A RHUMBA
Tony Martin and Freddy Martin and His Orchestra

TO THINK YOU'VE CHOSEN ME (V.R.)
IT'S NO SECRET (V.R.)
The Three Suns

USE YOUR IMAGINATION (V.R.) (Porter)
I AM LOVED (V.R.) (Porter)
(Both from the mus. prod. "Out of This World")
Vaughn Monroe and His Orchestra

NOBODY'S CHASING ME (Porter)
MY HEART CRIES FOR YOU
Dinah Shore with Orchestra

TAKE ME IN YOUR ARMS
BRINGIN' MY HONEY BACK TO ME
Don Cornell with Bob Dewey and His Orchestra

WALKING WITH THE BLUES (V.R.)
I'M FOREVER BLOWING BUBBLES
Gene Krupa and his Chicago Jazz

I REST I'LL HAVE TO DREAM THE GUESS
SNEETESSEE WALTZ
The Fontaine Sisters

POWDER BLUE
I'M AFRAID TO LOVE YOU
Frankie Carle and His Orchestra

SMILE, SMILE, SMILE (V.R.)
NARCISSUS
Bob Dewey and His Orchestra

DAVID'S ELECTRIC SHOP

340 FRONT STREET PHONE 650

Trudeau Motors Limited

ANNOUNCE

THE FIRST SHOWING

OF THE BRILLIANT NEW 1951

CHRYSLER AUTOMOBILES

ON

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 3rd

AND CORDIALLY INVITE THE CITIZENS OF BELLEVILLE AND DISTRICT TO VISIT THEIR SHOWROOMS AT 31 - 41 STATION STREET, BELLEVILLE — AND INSPECT

"The Finest Car in the Fine Car Field"

31 - 41 STATION STREET BELLEVILLE

Trudeau MOTORS LIMITED SALES and SERVICE

123 FRONT STREET BELLEVILLE

NAPANEE STIRLING TWEED

THE ONTARIO INTELLIGENCER

Published Daily by
Ontario Intelligencer Established 1827
THE ONTARIO INTELLIGENCER LIMITED
Belleville, Ontario, Canada.

Subscription Rates:
By carrier in Belleville, 40 cents per week
By mail in Ontario, $7.50 per year; $4.00 for six months; $2.25 for 3 months
By mail to U.S.A., $9.00 per year.

Member of The Canadian Daily Newspaper Association; Member of The Canadian Press

The Canadian Press is exclusively entitled to use for republications or all the local news printed in this newspaper and also the local news published herein.

THIS COLDER SPELL

Winter's latest spell has come with something of the vigor of oldtime winter storms with much cold weather and a more heavy fall of snow. The change in the weather may put some persons who were wandering off on the new line, thinking that the climate was radically changing, back on the road of the old intelligence.

The fall of snow while making movement more difficult did not tie up travel as some storms in even recent years have done. If this white blanket remains on the ground, it will serve useful purposes in the economy of nature, blanketing the seeds and roots against the cold and protecting the land against the drought for moisture is one of nature's needs in order to make the crops grow and to bring in the harvests.

Today with modern methods of clearance a snowstorm is not a menace in the oldtime meaning. It means little or no tie-up of transportation.

One of the surprising facts of present day maintenance of open roads is that the work of clearing away snow has become something not just for the men who work on the shovel. As a result winter has been transformed for most people. It still retains its cold but snow is not such a nuisance as it was. But it is not to be forgotten that snow is not always the very purposes, to shield and to moisten the soil in due time. Plows do the work on sidewalks and roads and lift a burden off man's arms and shoulders.

The present winter has had several storms and snowfalls of prospective similar records winter seasons, last winter, for instance being fairly mild and with considerable fall of rain.

R. R. CONDUCTOR'S PUNCH

One of the most familiar instruments carried in public is the railway conductor's punch. Everyone has as some time and perhaps many times watched the conductor punishing a ticket in order to cancel it. Now the secret is out through the medium of the Canadian National Magazine.

No two of these ticket punches are the same. Each punch has a fingerprint leaves a mark that has no duplicate. This variety in punch marks is part of the Canadian National's accounting system.

The hole which the conductor punches in your ticket today may make a star, a lady's head, a high button shoe or a top hat. In any event it will be unique, identifying not only the conductor, but also the section of the CNR's lines over which you were travelling when you handed your card to the conductor.

There are as many as 2,000 different punchmarks in use. So the railway will never run out of these punch marks for while there are so many as 2,000 in use, the complete list of 2,000 Punch marks including letters of the alphabet and animate as well as inanimate objects, such as a star, a mushroom, a half-moon, a hatchet, an anchor, a fish, the four symbols of the playing card, a horse's head and many others.

So that innocent looking little punch which is always in the conductor's hand as he is collecting tickets along the line certainly leaves enough clues to identify every little piece of cardboard that comes into his hands.

It is not to be doubted that the next time you are on the train you will take more than usual interest in the punch as you see the conductor punching your ticket.

MONEY ISN'T EVERYTHING

To hear some people talk, you'd think that if they just got their hands on a dollar bill they wouldn't care where it came from but would be free to use it as they saw fit.

In Memphis, Tennessee, the other day, a young filling station employee lost a roll of bills containing $132. He did not discover the loss until considerably later. Meanwhile the wind began blowing a hurricane around, and people at a busy intersection began surprisingly picking up $1, $10, and $20 bills.

A newspaper learned the story when Billy Minshew placed a classified advertisement about the money. Next day finders of the bills had returned $131 of the $132 to Billy. The missing $1 may still be blowing around.

It reminds a person of the story told a while ago in the Delaware Digest about a blind veteran who operates a small restaurant in Charleston, S.C. He had asked a customer the denomination of a bill for which he was to make change.

"So you ever have trouble with people giving you ones and saying they're fives?" the customer asked.

"No, sir," the veteran replied. "The only trouble I have is with people who give me fives and tell me they're ones." — Christian Science Monitor.

The increase in postal business is one of the impressive features of Canada's economic development during the past 15 years. Post Office Department delivered an estimated 2,400,000,000 items of mail annually and its net income is $80,618,402 (for year ended March 31, 1949).

Modesty is the citadel of beauty and virtue.—Demades.

JUST FOLKS

By EDGAR A. GUEST

(Copyright, 1951, Edgar A. Guest)

MAN AND BOY

I hope no boy will see in me
What in a man no boy should see,
Or hear from me, at work or play,
The speech no grown-up man should say.

I hope I never shall forget
The admiration of a boy,
Or even let him learn from me
How small and weak a man can be.

Boy's pride in men I'd like to keep
By never being mean or cheap,
I'd hate to think I was the first
To show him manhood at its worst.

OFF THE RECORD

By ED REED

"Ha, he's not here because they're moving him away from his home . . . it's because they're not moving him far enough away!"

LOOKING BACKWARDS

GLEANINGS FROM OUR FYLES OF BYGONE YEARS

20 YEARS AGO

Feb. 2nd, 1931

Mr. C. B. McCormick of Toronto is visiting friends here.

Mr. Robert Young of Montreal is visiting friends here in town.

Mr. William Ketcheson, Coleman Street, is spending a few days in Montreal.

Mr. Harold Davison, Foster Avenue, when in Peterborough on business for Ontario Motors, called in a friendly game of basketball at the Y. M. C. A. and had the misfortune to sprain the right ankle and the ligaments of the foot were badly torn. He is laid up waiting to go with the local Y's Men's team in the Eastern Ontario Basketball League, but as a result of the injury to his foot and ankle he will be lost to the squad for the balance of the season.

30 YEARS AGO

Feb. 2nd, 1921

Archdeacon G. R. Beamish and Mrs. John Ross, representing St. Thomas' Church and Rev. Rural Dean Swayne and Mrs. H. H. Scott, representing Christ Church, are in Kingston today to attend a meeting of the executive committee of the Synod of the Diocese of Ontario.

The members of the Belleville Lodge No. 123 A. F. and A. M. entertained in the Johnstown Academy last evening and the affair was most enjoyable; fully two hundred couples were present. Music was furnished by Birchdeck's Orchestra, Toronto. Lieut. Col. Herb. R. Wilson was chairman of the committee on arrangements with the following members: W. J. Hume, Master of the Lodge; J. S. McKeown, W. C. Zufelt, W. S. Adams, A. F. Allen, F. H. Chesher, J. G. Moffatt, D. Barragar, J. A. Diamond, R. D. Ponton, A. McGie, B. Bottum, R. A. Bakus, Dr. J. A. Faulkner, A. F. White and H. L. Chown, Secretary.

40 YEARS AGO

Feb. 2nd, 1911

Mr. and Mrs. A. Calhoun of Ottawa, formerly residents of Belleville, who have been visiting friends here, left today for Calgary where they will make up residence.

Mrs. Ritchie of Providence, R. I., is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Andrew McCreary, Geddes St.

The members of the Belleville Gun Club held a live pigeon shoot at the Driving Park, Wednesday afternoon. The following were the number of birds shot: M. Stork 9; J. Thompson 9; R. Zufelt 5; H. Day 8; T. Gray 11; M. Sprague 12; J. Philpott 10; R. Bell 8; R. McGuire 4, 3. Robins 8; D. Young 8.

50 YEARS AGO

Feb. 2nd, 1901

Mr. G. Hambly of Trenton was in town today.

The following were present at the organization meeting of the Belleville Board of Health: C.A. Hart, J. Panter, S. A. Moore, Dr. Yeomans, Dr. Tracy, the Medical Officer of Health, and Sanitary Inspector Downs. Mr. Moore was elected Chairman of the Board.

Mr. Fred Bullen of Des Moines, Iowa, and Mr. Ernest Bullen of Chicago, Ill., are home on a short visit.

The members of the Oddfellows' Band are arranging for a complimentary concert to their former bandmaster, W. J. Judge.

Mr. William Lee of Lindsay is a visitor in town.

Judge Fralick is presiding at Division Court in Trenton today.

THE PACKSACK

By GREGORY CLARK

A house caught fire in a village and one of the nimblest firefighters was a man equipped with one of those small tanks carried on the back, with a short rubber nozzle, which fire rangers employ in forest fire fighting. This man had a dozen of the bucket brigade running water to refill the tank as fast as he emptied it, and by smart footwork he was able to extinguish sparks on adjoining buildings, preventing the spread of fire through the community.

In London during the war I saw in a museum a gadget called the squirt. It was a popular fire-fighting device in the time of Queen Elizabeth. It was a huge brass syringe, with a capacity of about two or three quarts. Two men held the machine while a third was operating it. Their assistants carried water to them in leather buckets, and the squirt aimers would dip the nozzle into the bucket, the operator would draw the plunger and fill the squirt. Then the aimers would point it at the fire, operator would shove the plunger, shooting a dab of water into a likely spot in the conflagration.

GRANDSON APPOINTED

Nanaimo, B.C., Feb. 2 (CP)—For the first time in history, Indians of the Nanaimo band have elected a chief without passing the honor down from father to son.

The new chief, elected at an assembly this week, is Edison White, 39-year-old logger and fisherman, grandson of Chief Paul White who died three months ago.

His father George White, 80, in line for the honor under tribal custom, stood aside for the younger man. He told the meeting he felt a younger man should have the position.

The Nanaimo band has 300 members on four reserves.

THREE CHILDREN BURNED

Fort Resolution, N.W.T., Feb. 2 (CP) —Three children were burned to death here late Thursday as fire swept the wooden shack of Germain Jay Beaulieu.

The dead: Ralph Edward, 4, Libert Marvin, 3, and Mary Florence, 2.

The fire broke out about five o'clock as the children were alone in the house. Their father was out fishing and the mother was shopping.

Fort Resolution is 450 miles north of Edmonton.

SMALL STATE

Andorra, a miniature republic in the Pyrenees between France and Spain, has an area of 175 square miles.

Mackenzie's Column:

Moscow Probably Does Not Want European War

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(Associated Press Foreign Analyst)

Gen. Eisenhower's talk to members of Congress regarding defence co-operation with western Europe adds point to what it is fallacy to believe strengthening of these defences would invite a communist attack.

That appraisal immediately raises the query of why such a drastic move wouldn't draw fire from the reds. There are several facts to the answer. One is that Moscow probably doesn't want a European war now because it is far more profitable for her to hold her present line there and develop the "hot war" in Asia.

Actually Russia has everyum as much European territory as possible without resorting to an all-out shooting war. Gradual strengthening of the western defences in Europe perhaps would merely emphasize this situation and act as a deterrent to a red attack which in turn provide an incentive to assault.

However, by merely safeguarding her present territorial gains in eastern Europe, Russia is able to keep the cold and inflammable Asiatic theatre, and this scheme has become particularly fruitful since the development of Moscow's partnership with red China.

Doubly Attractive

The Asiatic project is doubly attractive. The underprivileged masses of the Orient are susceptible to communist propaganda picturing a new life. For that matter they are ripe for any sort of propaganda which promises relief from the present tragic position.

Moreover, the feeling of the fires of strife in Asia—as in the case of Korea—communism is bleeding the west and is calculated to weaken the defence of democracy in the long run.

That's the situation now, and it may well continue that way for quite a little as the situation writing. Russia has in eastern Europe 175 million people, and so that she might be able to make a quick sweep right through to the Pacific she has only one thing. That one deterrent is U.S. atomic weapon resources.

Senator Douglas Willing to Join Others For Project

Washington, Feb. 2 (AP) — Senator Paul H. Douglas (Dem., Ill.), a critic of some power projects, Thursday joined 21 other Senators in introducing bipartisan legislation to authorize construction of the St. Lawrence seaway and power development.

Douglas, who has contended that some proposed projects are uneconomical, said that he had a grain on the public purse. But he added that he does not maintain and expand the country's iron and steel industries.

Also, because a 2,000,000-to-2,000 seaway and the power project would be self-liquidating, Douglas said, the first fight over it is an investment which will be repaid."

"To that extent," he said, "it will not be an additional burden on the taxpayer and instead will be a great new asset, not only for national defense but for the international economy in general."

Douglas said that with the international seaway, "dangerous depletions and shortages" in the steel industry "may well develop."

The project, he said, is needed to supply low-cost power to defence industries. Without it, he said, the expansion of aluminum and arm states will be seriously limited.

Personal Health Talks

By WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

Signed Letters, Not More Than One Page Or 100 Words Long, Pertaining To Personal Health and Hygiene, Not To Disease, Diagnosis Or Treatment, Will Be Answered By Dr. Brady If A Stamped Self Addressed Envelope Is Enclosed, Etc.

THE RH FACTOR AND FOETAL ERYTHROBLASTOSIS

Erythro, from the Greek, means red—or pink. A "blast" is a red blood cell with a nucleus. Normal red blood cells do not have a nucleus, although they are developed from the blast—the erythroblast. When minding their own business, the erythroblasts stay in the bone-marrow where they belong. In the disease known as erythroblastosis, they get into the blood—where they don't belong. That is a significant denoting a disease process —sometimes a process without disease.

Thus, you can see how the use of one word, as a lot of medication and printer's ink, if you know what the word means. Foetal erythroblastosis, as the name implies, develops in the unborn foetus. This disease is characterized by jaundice and the appearance, in the blood stream, of erythroblasts. The name indicates dropsy is a feature. In the severe cases, death is usually inevitable. The cause of this disease is related to a conflict of factors in the blood between the mother and child. According to available information, this disease occurs once in about every 1500 to 2000 deliveries.

It occurs in women who have given birth to a baby who suffers from this disease. Usually violent reactions following the transfusions of blood from their husbands. This is where the development of the theory concerning the Rh factor in the cause of erythroblastosis.

Rhesus monkeys have a quality in their red blood cells which has been named the Rh factor in honor of Rhesus, which is the word "rhesus," 85 per cent of human beings possess this factor and they are Rh positive." The remaining 15 per cent are spoken of as Rh negative." The Rh factor is inherited as a mendelian dominant, if you know what that means.

The child born of an Rh positive father—an Rh positive. While an Rh negative mother is "carrying" an Rh positive baby, certain cells (called some of the blood of the foetus may gain access to the circulation of the mother resulting in the formation in the mother's blood of factors interpolable to the Rh factor of the foetus. The factors thus produced in the mother's blood may enter the circulation of the foetus and destroy the red blood cells of the latter—leading to the disease known as erythroblastosis foetalis. The red blood cells are replaced by "blasts".

Rh factors may be identified by a laboratory examination of the blood and this is invariably done when blood is ordered for transfusion.

Every normal baby is more or less jaundiced for a week or two after birth and this normal process should never be confused with the jaundice of erythroblastosis.

The facts involved in erythroblastosis are known to every physician who practises obstetrics —or should be. The prospective mother who may be alarmed by this article, or by what she has heard of the possibilities from other sources should consult her physician. There is hardly room enough in a page to do more than comment briefly and generally upon the subject. The interested reader could easily be filled with an article discussing all of the intricacies of the subject.

The physician will take all necessary steps to investigate the possibilities — before delivery. Transfusion is especially urgent for mothers who have already delivered a baby with erythroblastosis, and the outlook for the second is dark indeed.

QUESTIONS & ANSWERS
Maple of Stanley

I read your recent column about eating honey to get in the family way. I am trying it and would like to know how long I'll have to continue eating it. (Mrs. R. R. D.)

Answer—At least fifty years. The idea seems absurd to me—but then I'm a bit of my father's absurd to real doctors and to folks.

Cultivation of Boils

Baby has had a series of boils on buttocks—has used hot boric acid and leave a small hard bunch that won't disappear. Doctor has lanced one, given her medicine, tested urine. (Mrs. K. M.)

Answer—Rigid soap and water cleanliness, surgical cleanliness, asepsis (not antiseptic) is essential, to prevent reinfection. Study the article on boils in booklet Save Your Skin—for which send 25c and stamped self-addressed envelope.

TODAY'S TALK

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

THE MAGIC FOR THE DAY

Every day of our lives is the celebration of a miracle. We do not realize it. We think it is the most ordinary thing in the world that we should awake into each new day, empowered with vitality and energy.

One of the most inspiring little books in my library is one that was published nearly twenty years ago by the late Dr. James Gordon Finley, one of America's great orators and editors, of late years in the Chicago area. It contains but a little book was called "The Mystery of the Man's Desire," and I quote this inspiring sentence:

"To be seeing the world made new by the miracle of light in the morning of the first day, and then to awaken to it a new life for the individual soul as if each were the last day—is the daily curricle of the human heart and mind."

Consider the constant communication of the sounds, forces, and the coloring of endless chemicals and elements that compose all nature, from the atom to the star, stars to the hidden heart, and how full of wonder is the problem of the first thing of light into our consciousness, and with the message that a new day has arrived.

Never did the Infinite God reveal the glory of his creative power on this earth to awake into a new day, pregnant with fears and forebodings. His supreme gift to all was meant to be happiness.

How far the world has wandered from that primitive ideal! To most it is a never ending battle, and now he is turning it into a battlefield.

The magic of the new day, however, is known to all men. There are greater forces working in the world, of which we know next to nothing. Through all time and prayer man may still hope for redemption, evil will eclipse the earth's enemies cannot wipe out one single ray of the morning sun, nor blot out the glow of a single star. God's government is endless!

NATTY POLICEWOMEN

Yeovil, Somerset, England (CP) — Where do scarce nylons go? Somerset police know the answer. A committee recently approved the purchase of five pairs at 10s 6d. ($1.60) — for county police-women.

Strength for the Day

DR. EARL L. DOUGLASS

THE STILL SMALL VOICE

There is a wonderful story in the 19th chapter of the first Book of Kings which tells of the flight of Elijah before the threat of Queen Jezebel to kill him. Elijah had just been the center of one of the most stupendous miracles recorded in history, namely, the contest on Mt. Carmel with the priests of Baal. Yet when the wicked Jezebel sent a message to him, this prophet who had braved by himself 450 of the priests of Baal at his feet would carry him.

Then, greatly dejected and a fugitive on the barren side of Mt. Horeb, Elijah has a wonderful experience. First there is a mighty wind, "but the Lord was not in the wind." And after the wind there was an earthquake, "but the Lord was not in the earthquake." After the earthquake a fire, "but the Lord was not in the fire: and after the fire a still small voice"—or, as the marginal reading has it, "a sound of gentle stillness." And it was in the small voice of God which brought Elijah a great message.

We are always looking for God in the spectacular. Usually He comes into our lives in such a quiet, unobtrusive way that we are not conscious that He has passed the threshold of our personality.

The still small voice is conscience. The still small voice of God from those decisions which matter in our daily lives as the result of much reflection.

PROTECT YOUR FARM PROPERTY IN
The Bay of Quinte Agricultural Mutual Fire Insurance Co.
Represented by
C.W. Burr and Son
INSURANCE
210 FRONT ST. PHONE 1-244

BELTS
SINGLE and MULTIPLE DRIVE
ALL LENGTHS
V Pulleys, 1½" to 10" Diameter and Step Cone Pulleys
GEAR PUMPS — ALL SIZES
REFRIGERATION EQUIPMENT
BRENNEN REFRIGERATION SERVICE
41 HILLSIDE STREET
Phone: Day 581 - Night 4358-w
BELLEVILLE

FROM FACTORY TO YOU
BABY CHENILLE BEDSPREADS
$5.25 Each
LOWEST PRICE IN CANADA. Beautiful first quality, completely tufted, in assorted colors. Will not shrink, fade or stain. Ideal for nursery, bassinet or single bed size. Your cheque or money order is all we require. Send name and address for prompt delivery. Satisfaction or money back guaranteed. WRITE TODAY. GIVE FULL ADDRESS. TOWN & COUNTRY MANUFACTURING CO. Dept. 7 Dame, Montreal, Quebec.

CASH LOAN
FOR ANY FINANCIAL EMERGENCY
BELLVUE FINANCE
258½ Front St., Belleville
Arthur A. Wm. Wheeler, Manager
Phone: 1289
Belleville 2289
Trenton 1383
As local as the name implies

MARBOLEUM
TILE & YARD GOODS
9" x 9" 2 yds. wide
Come in and see the lovely colors or phone for our representative to call on you with samples.
ARTHUR A. SILLS and SON
Phone 1884 285 Coleman St.
BELLEVILLE

SATURDAY USED CAR VALUES!
MERCURY 1949
Four-door sedan. Light green. Radio, heater, fluid drive, undercoating. Small mileage. Excellent mechanical condition. Good tires. Guaranteed. Priced $2275.
CHEVROLET 1934
Sedan. A good car to go to work in. Priced for only $75.
DeSOTO 1936
Sedan. This car is an exception for its age. Has had excellent care and is a good car for many miles. Priced $450.
SEE THESE AND OVER 100 OTHER CARS AT
LORNE McDOUGALL
Insurance Agencies Ltd.
156 FRONT ST. PHONE 160
"Belleville's Largest Insurance Office"

Windstorms
C. A. Hagerman
If you have just ordinary fire insurance on your home it may not cover you on tornado or windstorm losses. Our comprehensive all-risk home insurance policy protects against windstorm, lightning, hail, aircraft, fire. It is cheap insurance. Call for quotation.
FOR INSURANCE SEE
LORNE McDOUGALL
Insurance Agencies Ltd.
156 FRONT ST. PHONE 160
"Belleville's Largest Insurance Office"

Four of Seven Negroes Charged With Rape of White Woman Electrocuted in Virginia

Richmond, Va., Feb. 2 (AP) — Four of seven Martinsville Negroes, denied an 11th-hour stay by the Chief Justice of the United States, were electrocuted today in the old state penitentiary here for the rape of a white woman. Three others are to die Monday.

The Negroes who were executed today in a case that has brought protests both in the United States and abroad were Joe Henry Hampton, 22; Frank L. Hairston, 21; Booker T. Millner, 22; and Howard Hairston, 21. Their three companions—Frances Desales Grayson, 40; John Claude Taylor, 34; and James Hairston, 23—are slated for execution Monday.

The four were electrocuted early this morning after George Thomas Hailey, 37-year-old white man, was executed for the rape-slaying of a 14-year-old school girl.

The case of the Negroes, which brought protests from Moscow, Peiping and other communists capitals, as well as messages from individuals and groups in the U.S., originated more than two years ago.

Unsuccessful efforts for an appeal were based on the contention the constitutional rights of the men had been abridged by that the death penalty for rape in Virginia has been reserved solely for Negroes.

Some sympathizers asked pardons for the men Tuesday when several hundred visited Governor John S. Battle. The governor replied such a request was a waste of breath.

Seized by Negroes

The crime for which they were sentenced was the rape of Mrs. Ruby Stroud Floyd, 32, wife of a Martinsville department store manager. She went into the "Shanty Town" Negro section of the city to collect for clothing she had sold.

The evidence showed that she was seized and raped by four Negroes, who called three others to join them. Each of the seven raped her, some more than once. She was bitten, scratched and seriously injured internally.

Governor Battle turned down defence lawyers in their final bid for executive clemency last night before they left for Washington. He termed the crime most brutal and aggravated and said that in none of the appeals had the attorneys sought to question the guilt of the men.

Available records do not show any white man executed in Virginia for rape alone.

The governor denied there had been any evidence of race prejudice at the trial. He noted the seven confessed and four of them repeated details of these confessions at the trial, without seeking only to brand some other one as the ring leader in the case.

The men went quietly to the chair unaware of the frantic last minute efforts to save their lives.

Toll of 150 Lives Taken by Coldest Spell in U.S.

Chicago, Feb. 2 — (AP) Winter's longest and most severe weather dealt more damaging blows across wide areas of the United States today.

But there appeared some hope that the worst of the nation's week-long spell of ice, snow, sleet and biting cold which resulted in 150 deaths was nearing an end.

The southern states, staggering from this week's icy blasts which left some areas isolated and threatened farm crops, got more cold weather.

The frigid air also renewed its attack on the cold - plagued midwest, but there was a promise of some warming.

Temperatures dropped to 35 below zero in Lone Rock, Wis. The below-zero line extended all the way to Fayetteville, Ark., where it was 14 below.

As the south looked for a break with rising temperatures, floods threatened areas in Tennessee and Kentucky. Some 3,000 were made homeless in southeastern Kentucky, where the Cumberland and Kentucky rivers overflowed.

Schools over many parts of the south and middle Atlantic states remained closed. Scores of highways and roads were blocked off.

The comparatively mild weather along the Atlantic seaboard yesterday was due for a change by nightfall, forecasters said. as cold air from the midwest and Canada headed for the area.

Boston reported 58 above last night, a record for the date, but seasonal cold weather was forecast today. The mild weather came less than 48 hours after the season's most severe cold in New England with temperatures as low as 32 below in Caribou, Me. The cold was followed by snow and rain which in turn gave way to the springlike weather.

Fresh falls of snow measured as high as 15 inches in parts of Ohio, which was hit by sub-zero readings. The sleet-inch snow fell in Western New York was whipped by winds of 40 miles an hour.

INSTAL PARKING METERS

Toronto, Feb. 2 (CP) — Eleven hundred parking meters will be installed on downtown Toronto streets, civic works committee decided Thursday. City council approved meter parking last November.

The committee approved recommendations in a report by traffic engineer R. W. Burton that installation begin in May, provided supplies of meters were available. Parking meter charges will be five cents a period, with the periods varying from 15 minutes to an hour depending on location.

Brockville Digs Out of Heavy Drifts of Snow

Brockville, Feb. 2—(CP)—This eastern Ontario city is attempting to dig itself out from under two and three-foot snow drifts today following a 39-hour snowfall. Driven by a strong northeast wind, the snow began falling shortly before noon Wednesday and continued until shortly before dawn today.

The full effect of the 22-inch fall was felt late Thursday when streets became impassible and plows were unable to clear the massive drifts because of stalled and stuck automobiles. Many residents gave up attempts to drive home from work and abandoned their cars on the streets.

Plows worked throughout the night hacking the drifts, but many side streets are still snow bound. The main thoroughfares are still heavy, but passable.

Youth Fined For Assaulting 16-Year-Old Girl

Whitby, Ont., Feb. 2 — (CP) — Cyril Moser, 19, of Halifax, Thursday was fined $25 and costs or one month for common assault on a 16-year-old Halifax girl who said she had been living with him in a bush cabin near here.

The girl said in court that Moser beat her last Saturday when she told him she wanted to move away and not live with him any more.

The girl, said by police to be pregnant, was placed in the care of the Children's Aid Society. She said she intends to return to Halifax later this week.

In court, Moser made out a cheque for $26 for her.

SAID HE HAD NO PARENTS

London, Feb. 2 (Reuters) — Pte. James Silverlock, 19, was A.W.L. last year from the Royal Army Service Corps. He told a court-martial he had no parents. Then he walked out and phoned his father, a deserter from the Navy and told him to give himself up. Yesterday a second court-martial sentenced Silverlock to 60 days' detention for leaving under oath. His father attended the trial with a prison escort.

Coal Shortage Feared in Britain

London, Feb. 2 — (AP) — A severe coal shortage — 500,000 tons more are being burned than are being dug each week — today threatened an industrial breakdown that could undermine Britain's rearmament program.

Many fear a recurrence of the coal crisis which in the winter of 1946 - 47 closed factories and threw nearly 3,000,000 men out of work.

Trying to stretch fast-dwindling coal stocks, the Labor government has ordered a 15-per-cent cut in coal deliveries to industry including defence plants and key export factories.

The government, which runs the nationalized mines, also has boosted the price of coal by five per cent and warned some power plants that they may have to shut down unless they get more coal soon. The government also cancelled 50 per cent train services of the nationalized railways.

Alarm was expressed by the Federation of British Industries.

"Avoidance of an industrial breakdown depends entirely on an increase in coal production and good weather," said Federation director Sir Norman Kipping. "If industrial consumption is continued at the present rate of about 66,000,000 tons annually, all coal stocks will be completely exhausted before the winter is over."

In the House of Commons last night the government, by a vote of 300 to 289, defeated a Conservative motion of censure that it had bungled Britain into a critical fuel shortage.

CONDEMNED FOR PROTEST

Wiesbaden, Germany, Feb. 2—(AP)—A West German father today said his 21-year-old son has been sentenced to death in communist East Germany for protesting conscription of youths for the Soviet uranium mines. Edwin Esch, a garage employee, said the death penalty had been passed on his son, Arne, under the new "offenders against peace" law enacted in the Soviet zone last December.

Friends Hold Surprise Party

Roslin —A surprise birthday party was held on Monday evening last at Roslin, in honor of Mr. Whit Slingerland and Mr. Fred Furmige of Corbyville, at the former's home.

The evening was spent playing games and a social get-together. At midnight an oyster supper was served by the guests. A large birthday cake centered the table.

Though taken completely by surprise, Fred and Whit thanked all for their lovely gifts and thoughtfulness.

Friends were present from Belleville, Corbyville, Foxboro, Moira and Roslin.

After all is said and done, how does it taste in the cup? That is what counts!

"SALADA" TEA BAGS

yield the perfect flavour.

ZELLER'S

RETAILERS TO THRIFTY CANADIANS

Money-Seeking Values for Weekend Shoppers

Goods Satisfactory or Your Money Refunded!

LINGERIE SPECIALS

Dainty Slips 1.94

SIZES 32 TO 40. Beautifully made Slips of good quality Crepe. Straight cut style. Four gores. Prettily scalloped lace trimmed at bottom. Lace trimmed at top. White. Featured at s.Special Low Price!

Ladies' Panties 37c Pr.

SMALL, MEDIUM, LARGE. Neat fitting rayon quality stripe rayon. Ribbed at leg openings. Choose from white, tearose, ice-blue. Featured at Special Low Price!

BEAUTIFUL NEW BLOUSES

SMART TO WEAR NOW AND ON TO SPRING 1.98

A TRIM FASHION-FIRST you'll enjoy wearing with slim Skirts! STYLE SHOWN: lovely "Angelskin" Crepe. Featuring flattering-to-wear "Bat Wing" sleeves; "Peter Pan" collar. Choose from fresh floral patterns in bright colours on white. Sizes 16 to 20.

SPECIAL SAVINGS TO YOU — Just arrived, fresh peppermint - flavored HUMBUGS. Delicious for young and old. Zeller's Thrift Price ..... 29c lb.

SMART NEW MILLINERY

Straw-Cloths! Felts! Many New Styles! 3.98

Black, Navy, Green, Tangerine, Coffee, Wheat, and Others!

TWO MATCHED-FOR-FASHION beauties from Zeller's newly arrived collection, that combine the softness and flattery you'll want now and later! Styles shown are Pet-Headliners in exciting new colours. See them and many, many others now on display.

NEW STYLED HANDBAGS. These are arriving daily in plastic calf, plastic alligator, bengaline, suedine and rayon, plaid. They come in many exciting colors. Zeller's thrift price 3.29

ZELLER'S LIMITED

238 FRONT STREET PHONE 399

SOURCE MATERIAL?

Daniel Defoe's "Robinson Crusoe" is thought to have been inspired by "El Criticon" written by Baltzar Marales who died in 1658.

500 Passengers On Ferry Boat Stranded 5 Hours

Levis, Que., Feb. 2—(CP)— A ferry loaded up with some 500 rush-hour passengers last night was blown right off its course and thrown on St. Lawrence River reefs in a swirling snowstorm, but two powerful government icebreakers succeeded in bringing the boat back here.

No one was reported injured in the grounding of the boat—the Cite de Quebec—property of La Traverse De Levis, Limitee, which operates the ferry service linking Quebec City with this south shore town. The Quebec bridge, several miles west from here, is the other traffic link.

No panic spread aboard the tubby, white-painted ship during the more than five hours it lay on rocks near Lauzon.

Some women wept. One man foolishly attempted to get ashore by clambering up ice blocks jamming the river. He ended but a few feet before he realized the loose floating ice was moving from under him, and made a successful dash back to ship.

Little Thought of Danger

Passengers reported there was little thought of danger while the ship, one of two operating during the winter, slipped helplessly away from the wharf here just as it was about to dock.

But when, 40 minutes later, the sound of the ship' bottom crunching against stone was heard and a "room" rank out, passengers rushed to outside decks to see what was happening.

One passenger said that when the boat struck the rocks, "my heart went up in my mouth."

"We were lucky the lights stayed on, it would have been awful if they had gone off."

The ferry boats are equipped with cafeterias, and passengers bought up everything in sight. passengers said that after the sandwich supply was gone people started eating Gospinetta, salted peanuts, boxed candles and jelly beans.

Coffee was available almost until the ship was finally dragged off the reefs, about a mile east of Quebec.

LIKE GETTING BREAD FREE!

Make the spread pay for the bread! The saving on one pound of MARGENE—about 20c! with bread for a week's downtown lunches.

MARGENE is delicious on hot toast, bread or vegetables. It is nutritious—enriched with 15,000 units of Vitamin A and 4,000 units of Vitamin D. Your family will like MARGENE, sweet, fresh flavour.

SERVE

AND SAVE

"The Secret of Flavour is Freshness!"

A PRODUCT OF CANADA PACKERS

GENUINE PHILCO 3-Speed Radio Phonograph Console

UP TO FIVE HOURS OF MUSIC MODEL 730

FINEST TONE EVER ACHIEVED AT THE PRICE

PHILCO 730. Newest Philco features, modern beauty and at a sensational new low price! Superb tone from radio and records. Philco 3-speed Record changer. Super-tone reproducer. Cabinet in rich Mahogany, Walnut or Limed Oak. Mahogany $264.50 Walnut .. $274.50 Light Oak. $284.50

EASY TERMS

DAVID'S ELECTRIC SHOP

340 Front St. Phone 659

Ask About David's Own, Easy Confidential Payment Plan

Listen in "THIS IS THE STORY" every THURSDAY at 6.45 p.m. over CJBQ.

Just In Time For Valentine's Day

A LARGE SHIPMENT OF 21"

LADIES' WARDROBE CASES

WITH HANGERS — AT ATTRACTIVE PRICES

MANUFACTURERS CLEARING LINES

THESE ARE REAL VALUES.

ON SALE FRIDAY and SATURDAY ONLY

DYBLE'S LEATHER GOODS

21 BRIDGE STREET EAST — BELLEVILLE

"A GRIP FOR EVERY TRIP"

DIAMOND RING SETS

IN BEAUTIFUL SETTINGS $50.00 to $400.00

WRIST WATCHES for Young Girls. $16.00

WRIST WATCHES for Ladies and Men with beautiful Expansion Bracelets. $30.00, $40.00 and $50.00

You have a nice Diamond Ring, but the setting is old and destroys the look of the nice diamond. For a moderate price we can have your diamond remounted in an up-to-date setting, just as good as a new ring.

CHESTS OF FLATWARE in COMMUNITY and 1847 in all Patterns

OUR WATCH REPAIRS looked after by an efficient repairer, in a short time and at moderate prices.

J. O. R. McCURDY

Phone 518 324 Front St.

CARPETS and CHESTERFIELDS CLEANED IN THE HOME

AUTOMOBILE INTERIORS CLEANED

QUINTE DURACLEANERS

BELLEVILLE TRENTON Phone 1367-J Days

Phone 4258 After 5.00 P.M.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

MARRIAGE NOTICE

EMPEY—MALES.—On Friday, January 26, 1951, at Brighton, Ont., by the Rev. A. K. Edmun, Lois Doreen Males, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Males, of Brighton, Ont., to Jack Melvin Empey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Empey, of Foxboro, Ont.

* * *

Miss Merle Ostrander was a recent guest in Picton, of her sister, Mrs. Harry Palen, and Mr. Palen.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. R. Nee were in Picton, Saturday to attend the funeral of the former's father, the late Harry Nee.

* * *

Mrs. Fred Lauder, of Oshawa, is the guest of her daughter, Mrs. R. D. Arnold.

* * *

Mr. Charles Stewart, of Rylestone, is a patient in the Belleville General Hospital, following a recent operation.

* * *

Ronald'4J. Brown has returned to Malton Compensation and Convalescent Hospital, for further treatment, after spending the weekend at his home, R.R. 4, Belleville.

* * *

OUT-OF-TOWN PERSONALS

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Putnam, formerly of Belleville, and later of London, Ont., where Mr. Putnam was branch manager for a Hamilton firm, are now residing in Buffalo, N.Y., where Mr. Putnam has accepted an executive position with new Ford Motor Company Stamping plant.

* * *

Mrs. (Dr.) M. G. Dales, Tweed, left Malton airport yesterday for St. Louis, Mo., where she will visit her daughter, Mrs. Don Bowdish, Mr. Bowdish, and baby son.

* * *

Miss Margaret Beattie, Carrying Place, Ont., has become a staff member of the Bank of Montreal, Trenton, Ont.

WEDDINGS

LOFT—DORENE

A wedding of district interest took place at Tyendinaga Indian Reserve on Sunday afternoon, when Jacqueline, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Dorene, and James Loft, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. James Loft, were married.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. R. Savary in the historic Christ Anglican church, overlooking the Bay of Quinte, where a large memorial window was placed in memory of the late Sir Oronsiekia, founder of the Independent Order of Foresters.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was attended by Miss Ina Laverne, while the groom was assisted by Mr. Joe Whetung, of Peterborough.

The bride wore a street length gown of hostess blue with a lace fitted bodice. The shoulder length veil was of the same color and she wore a corsage of white carnations and red roses. The bridesmaid was also gowned in blue, with a matching hat, and wore a corsage of roses and carnations.

The reception was held at the community hall, where the bride's mother received, wearing a dress of gray silk with lace trim, and a corsage of yellow 'mums. She was assisted by the mother of the groom who wore a suit of grey gabardine and corsage of yellow 'mums.

Dinner was served in the banquet hall to more than 200 guests.

At the head table were two three-tiered wedding cakes. The table decorations were red roses.

The couple left for a honeymoon in various parts of the U.S.A. They will live in Windsor.

GOODMAN—GRAY

A pretty wedding took place on Saturday, January 27, at 1 p.m., at St. Paul's Rectory, Roslin, when Annie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Gray, of Roslin, became the bride of Alton Goodman, son of Mrs. Gertrude Goodman, of Plainfield, and the late Mr. Goodman.

The attendants were, Miss Isobel Grey, sister of the bride, and Mr. James Goodman, brother of the bridegroom.

The ceremony was performed by the rector, the Rev. L. Arthur Page.

Club Activites

ST. ANDREW'S W.G.

The January meeting of St. Andrew's Women's Guild was held on Tuesday evening with a good number of members present. Mrs. R. Elvidge presided. The meeting opened with a devotional period, during which Mrs. L. Moore read a passage of scripture.

The business session followed when the treasurer gave a gratifying yearly report. The secretary read a splendid mask poem, notes from shut-ins for flowers received at Christmas time.

The speaker for the evening, Miss Byrd Corbett, assistant superintendent of the Children's Aid Society, was introduced by Mrs. D. L. Fleming. Miss Corbett gave an explicit and detailed account of several phases of the work being carried on by the society and spoke of how varied are the duties of those who assist in this splendid occupation.

On behalf of the Guild, Mrs. Hornsby thanked Miss Corbett for her most interesting and enlightening talk, following which, Mrs. G. Marshall favored with a piano solo, a delightful contribution to the program.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. J. Bribbin's group, while Mrs. Townsley's group had charge of the program.

Following are the 1951 officers: Honorary president, Mrs. J. G. Hornsby; past president, Mrs. W. M. Barlow; president, Mrs. H. Elvidge; 1st vice president, Mrs. W. Taylor; 2nd vice president, Mrs. A. D. McLean; 3rd vice president, Mrs. D. Kaar; secretary, Mrs. C. Ryan; treasurer, Miss J. Cunningham; flower convener, Mrs. T. Buffey; press secretary and pianist, Mrs. W. Mantle; kitchen committee, Mrs. A. Bell, Mrs. D. L. Fleming, Mrs. F. Thomson; manse committee, Mrs. R. Pigden, Mrs. J. Wilson, Mrs. V. Weir; representative to YCW, Mrs. C. Ryan; representative to board of managers, Mrs. R. M. Carmichael. Another representative will be appointed later.

HARMONY STUDIO CLUB

On Wednesday evening, the regular monthly meeting of the Harmony Studio Club was held at the home of Mrs. E. Veley with Mrs. C. M. Scott presiding. The meeting opened in the usual manner with 46 present.

Business was discussed and the following new members received their pins: Mrs. Hugh Gray, Mrs. Stewart, Shirley Ann Hunt.

The musical selections of the evening were given by pupils of different grades, who have completed their present work and are advancing to their next grade. Those taking part were, Kathleen Millard, Paul Campbell, Dianne Irvin, Bruce Dobbs, Barbara Smith, Joan Chumbley, Marilyn Hollinger, Mary Catherine Clare, Lorna Hay, Bruce Hunt, Marie Hollinger, Donald Thrasher, Barbara Thrasher, Mary Ann Cowell, and Randell Cowell.

The senior music was given by Robert Reid, who played the following: "Invention by Bach"; "Sonatina", Mozart; "Valse" Chopin; "Caprice", Grieg.

Following the close of the meeting delicious refreshments were served by Mrs. Cornish and her assistants.

CENTENARY-AIKENS' H. & S. ASSOCIATION

Centenary-Aikens' Home and School Association recently sponsored a social evening with Mr. and Mrs. Percy Cragg, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Jeffrey, Mr. and Mrs. Ross Silckle, as convenors.

Prizes for progressive euchre were won by Mrs. Ken Jones and Mrs. Cecil Hubble. Consolation, Mrs. Murray Jeffery and Charles Keary.

Dancing was then enjoyed to the music provided by Bruce Sills' orchestra and later refreshments were served to the large gathering.

BRIDGE STREET UNITED CHURCH Y.P.U.

The Y.P.U. of Bridge Street United Church met on Monday evening in the church parlor, which opened with the worship service, followed by a Bible study period conducted by the Reverend Duncan McTavish, pastor of the church.

During the business period, it was decided to have a Valentine party. Mission bags are again being handed out to all the young people.

A program, entitled, "The different translations of the Bible" brought the evening to a close.

Refreshments were served and the evening closed with 'taps'.

St. Andrew's Helpers

Roslin — The St. Andrew's Helpers met at the home of Mrs. W. White on Monday evening, with the president, Miss Doreen Cross presiding.

Psalm 67, was read by Miss Doreen Cross. Twelve members were present.

The treasurer reported a nice balance on hand. Following the close of the meeting, progressive euchre was played. Winners for the evening were Norman White and Doreen Cross.

Dainty refreshments were served by the hostess and her assistants.

Annapolis Apple Pudding Low a Favorite

BY KAY REX
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Ottawa, Feb. 2 — (CP) There may be a grain of truth in that old saw about an apple a day keeping the doctor away — at least there is from the vitamin C point of view.

Nutrition experts say this vitamin, ascorbic acid, is essential to health and growth. It also is necessary for the normal structure of teeth. And if any members of your family are showing symptoms like rheumatism you'd better start feeding them apples. Such symptoms may be caused by lack of vitamin C which is found in apples and other fresh fruit.

But don't forget that vitamin "C" is destroyed in cooking, and is most easily destroyed in soda or some other alkaline solution.

When cooking apples add as little flavoring as possible; let the natural flavor of the apples come through.

Wherever possible cook apples without peeling. But if you must peel them, drop the apples in cold water to prevent discoloration.

In a booklet which the Dominion Chamber of Commerce has put out on favorite Canadian recipes — Nova Scotia — the apple province — has been represented by Annapolis apple pudding.

"Apples have symbolized temptation since the days of Adam and Eve," is the comment at the head of the recipe. "This apple pudding will tempt the most fickle appetite."

Ingredients: six medium - sized tart apples; three tablespoons granulated sugar; 1½ cups sifted bread flour; three teaspoons baking powder; one-half teaspoon salt; one-quarter cup soft shortening; three - quarters cup granulated sugar; one egg (well beaten); three - quarters cup water or milk.

Grease a 10 by six by two-inch baking - dish. Slice peeled apples and arrange in the bottom. Sprinkle with three tablespoons sugar. Sift together flour, baking-powder and salt. Cream shortening until fluffy. Gradually add sugar, mixing until creamy. Add beaten egg. Beat well. Add dry ingredients alternately with water or milk, folding in lightly after each addition. Pour over apples. Sprinkle with combined sugar and cinnamon (one tablespoon sugar and one teaspoon cinnamon) Bake at 350 degrees Fahrenheit for 45 to 50 minutes. Serve warm cut in squares, with brown sugar sauce or with plain or whipped cream. Eight servings.

Toronto Girl Does Research In England

By MURIEL NARRAWAY
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

London—(CP)—A familiar figure in the reading room of the British Museum here is Winifred Irene Nelson, Toronto, a slender girl whose blonde good looks belie her bookish habits.

Here on a City of London scholarship, Miss Nelson plans to spend nine months doing research work in the writings of Elizabethan England and the Spain of the Armada.

It is one of her ambitions to write a book comparing the literature of the two countries during the Tudor period. Her aim would be too show differences in court etiquete, culture, literature and poetry, diplomacy and naval strategy.

"It's a big job," she admitted in an interview, "but I have the rest of my life to do it in."

Miss Nelson was born in London, but went to Canada with her family when she was five years old. Her school days have been an almost continuous story of one scholastic award after another, first in Canada and then in the United States.

Wins Gold Medal

She took her Master of Arts, and Bachelor of Arts degrees at the University of Toronto, and became a doctor of philosophy at Bryn Mawr College, Philadelphia. Among her awards are a gold medal in modern languages.

Her present scholarship expires this summer, but before returning to Canada she hopes to see something of Spain, France, Germany, and Austria. There will also be an Easter visit to Scotland and Ireland.

Meanwhile, she spends her off-time "rediscovering" London and nearby places of interest.

"I want to see as much of Britain as I can on my limited capital," she said.

Miss Nelson, now in her middle 20s, says her biggest surprise on coming back to Britain is the discovery that she's become thoroughly "Canadianized."

"Back home my family and I have always prided ourselves on being thoroughly English. Now I know we're, really through-and-through Canadian."

New Approach Meets Problem Of Delinquency

New York, (AP)—There's a new approach to the problem of juvenile delinquency.

The emphasis now, says the National Probation and Parole Association, is on early detection of maladjustment problems in individuals, and on work at top levels to build healthier and better communities.

The N.P.P.A., which is a non-profit consulting and education organization operating through field offices throughout the country, keeps close track of such trends in its work of raising standards in the whole area of delinquency treatment.

In the old days, explained Will C. Turnbladh, executive director of the Association, corrective treatment usually started after somebody caught little Willie setting fire to the house, burglarizing the neighborhood store or chasing sister with a carving knife.

And then, because it was Willie's first offense, in the legal sense, he usually was forgiven and sent home with a strict admonition to sin no more.

Questionable Pardon

"It was considered generous to pardon a first offender," Turnbladh said, "and frequently this was the worst thing that could have happened to a child. What they caught him doing wasn't by any means his first symptom of distress. Sending him home without punishment didn't cure the trouble."

Today the effort is made to watch all children closely and move in with help when Willie shows the first signs of his inner distress: great shyness and withdrawal, or aggression and bullying. Psychiatrists are almost unanimous in saying that extreme shyness is as great a symptom of maladjustment as being an active pyromaniac—and easier to straighten out.

For a long time, the N.P.P.A. director said, the experts believed most juvenile delinquency could be traced directly to underprivileged homes. They cited poverty, poor environment and improper care as prime causes. But more recent and broader studies indicate that juvenile delinquency cuts across all economic population curves: the more people, the more young wrongdoers.

EASTERN ORIGIN

The first playing cards in Europe are believed to have been introduced from the east in the 14th century.

LOUD BEGINNINGS

The old Vic Theatre in London, drama centre since 1880, was formerly a rowdy music hall.

THE KINETTE CLUB
PROUDLY PRESENT THEIR CHILDREN'S FASHION SHOW
AT THE COLLEGIATE AUDITORIUM
Wednesday, Feb. 21st
8.00 P.M.
CLOTHES BY
The Children's Shop
KINSMEN BOYS' BAND
DEAN WHALEN AT THE ORGAN ADDED ENTERTAINMENT
Tickets - - - 50c
AVAILABLE FROM KINETTES OR AT THE CHILDREN'S SHOP.

The Largest Selection of Valentines Is at Schwab's
HUMOROUS — FAMILY — GET WELL — SWEETHEART
JUVENILE — BIRTHDAY — ANNIVERSARY
5c to $5.00
FOR VALENTINES — IT'S SCHWAB'S
(FORMERLY SILLS' BOOK STORE)
BELLEVILLE
222 Front Street Telephone 2449

FIGHT Colds FAST
WITHOUT UNPLEASANT REACTIONS
TODAY — get a 25c of this fast-acting cold relief FORMULA. Specially prepared for FAST relief. Follow label directions. Try it the first time you have a cold. Ask for MUNYON'S CINNAMON CAPSULES.

15 SIZE 35c

B. B. FARRAR FURNITURE
ARE OFFERING A HUGE

OF CHESTERFIELD SUITES
ALL THE NEW 1951 STYLES.

Our buyers have just returned from the Furniture Mart in Toronto where they have purchased a carload of the latest styles and coverings in Chesterfield Suites.
We were able to buy at a great saving and are offering these to you at a special 20% Discount off Regular Price. The coverings include Friezes, Velours and Tapestries. BE SURE TO SEE THEM!
Featuring such names as SNYDER, BAEMORE, etc.
A HUGE ASSORTMENT TO CHOOSE FROM NEWEST AND MOST ATTRACTIVE STYLES AND COVERINGS
2 AND 3 PIECE SUITES AND SEPARATE CHESTERFIELDS.
20% OFF REG. PRICE
B. B. FARRAR — Furniture — 32 - 36 BRIDGE ST. EAST

Squadron Leader W. McLeish Of Trenton Station in Charge Of Search For Missing Plane

Trenton (Special) — R.C.A.F. officials at Trenton reported today that two aircraft from Greenwood, Nova Scotia, a Canso amphibian and a Lancaster were assisting at Rockcliffe before noon to join two aircraft and a helicopter from Trenton in the search for the missing Beaver with four persons on board, down somewhere in the Bourn Reservoir 200 miles north of Ottawa since Monday.

As officials began to hold fear for the condition of the two sick infants on board the lost Beaver, Squadron Leader W. A. G. McLeish, D.F.C., left for Rockcliffe base at Ottawa to take command of search matter. He took the helicopter with all necessary rescue equipment with him.

The two para-rescue "medics" sitting by the Dakota jump ship and ready to drop to the aid of the missing people are Cpl. T. W. Dawson and L.A.C. C. R. Hockett from the Trenton Air Station.

Search Without Avail

Crews of two R.C.A.F. aircraft returned to northern bases late yesterday after searching without avail an area 300 miles north of Ottawa where four persons are believed to be down in an aircraft that left Lake West Lanipi in Northern Quebec on Monday and had not been heard from since.

In the lost aircraft were Jack Lamrick the pilot, another pilot named Comtois believed to be the pilot's brother and a sick Indian couple, Mr. and Mrs. John Ne-

Last night an official at the Trenton Station said air search headquarters would be moved to Rockcliffe near Ottawa at a point nearer to the area, where the plane is believed down.

Yesterday Royal Canadian Air Force planes at Trenton, Camp Borden and Centralia were alerted to take part in the search. The Lancaster and Dakota dispatched from Trenton set down last night at Earlton and Kapuskasing "respectively and will take part in the hunt today weather permitting.

Equipment Carried

Authorities do not yet hold concern for the four on board since sufficient clothing, sleeping bags and food were carried by the plane. Condition of the sick Indians may worsen, however, if medical attention does not reach them in the next day or so.

The plane a single-engined Beaver was last reported at 3 p.m. Monday. It was not listed as missing until yesterday because the pilot was expected to wait out any bad weather.

The plane had taken off Monday from Lake West Wanipi in Northern Quebec to pick up an ailing Indian couple at a remote village and take them to hospital at Oskalaun, Quebec, 100 miles east of Senaterre.

The Air Force said the plane reached the village, which was not immediately identified and picked up the couple, but did not arrive at Oskalaun.

Called For Search

The controller of Airways in Toronto called on the R.C.A.F. for a search yesterday on the theory the plane had waited long enough for weather to clear.

The plane was owned by Arthur

Backache

Why suffer from the throbbing ache o low back pains. Try Rumacaps for quick relief. Rumacaps give wonderful help whether your backache is due to a strain from lifting or from a cold that has settled over your kidneys. Rumacaps will fix up that ache or pain—make you feel better fast. Ask for Rumacaps at your druggist's today 65c and $1.25 economy size.

RUMACAPS

Senior Woman's Church Auxiliary Elects Officers

Trenton (Special) — St. George's Anglican Church Senior Woman's Auxiliary held their annual meeting and installation of officers on Tuesday Jan. 30th in Canterbury Hall.

The meeting opened with the Litany and special prayers by the rector Rev. A. S. McConnell followed by the scripture reading.

Roll call was taken and minutes of November business meeting were read. Minutes of the last annual meeting were accepted as read and the secretary then read her annual report. Reports from other officers were heard and correspondence was read.

Mrs. Meyers, retiring president, then addressed the meeting thanking the officers and members for their co-operation making special mention of Mrs. Silverthorne, Dorcas secretary, and Mrs. McConnell Assistant Dorcas.

Mrs. London, newly-elected president assumed the chair and called on the other newly elected officers to take their places on the platform.

Officers for 1951 are as follows:

Honorary president, Mrs. A. S. McConnell; honorary vice president, Mrs. W. B. Crowe; president, Mrs. C. London; 1st vice president, Mrs. G. Meyers; 2nd vice president, Mrs. Birch; corresponding secretary, Mrs. R. Maunder; Dorcas secretary, Mrs. C. Silverthorne; assistant Dorcas secretary, Mrs. E. Cunnell; G.A. secretary, Mrs. McConnell; superintendent Junior Woman's Auxiliary, Mrs. R. Roberts; Little Helpers secretary, Mrs. G. O. Kraks; social convener, Mrs. Hill; educational secretary, Mrs. Maunder, Living Messgs, Mrs. Stacey.

Only six games remain to be played in the Trenton Cribbage League and all the teams are showing great interest in the outcome.

This series will be followed by playoffs immediately.

The Queensway team is on the top of the heap at present but a number of their teams are giving them a run for their money and a few reverses would gloriously jeopardize their position.

Trenton Teeters

The Trenton Boys' Band 50 strong will soon be decked out in brand new uniforms. The gift will come from Senator William A. Fraser who has taken a special interest in the youthful musicians who are sponsored by the local Lions Club.

Bandmaster Alfred Cooper of Trenton has been directing the boys band for several years, spending two hours weekly at practice sessions with them at the College Street Public School.

Mr. Worden Farley who has been in the Kingston General Hospital undergoing an operation on his foot has returned to his home on the York Road.

Dr. Fred L. Reid, formerly of Trenton and now with the D.V.A. at Kingston is in the General Hospital there under treatment for a heart ailment.

Among the visitors who called on Mayor Cowan of the Kingston General Hospital on Wednesday were William House, Jr., and James F. Day.

Mr. Lloyd Weese of Trenton has left on an extended holiday to Florida.

RAWSON BUS LINES LIMITED ARE SORRY BUT . . .

After 26 years of continuous service without any rate increases, we are forced, due to the vastly increased costs of equipment and operational expenses to amend our fares as follows:

EFFECTIVE ON FEB. 1st, 1951

As Authorized by the Municipal Board the new fares will be

3 TICKETS FOR 25c or 12 TICKETS FOR $1.00

TRANSFERS ISSUED FREE ON CASH FARES OR TICKETS.
ADULT — DROP FARE WILL REMAIN THE SAME — 10c.
CHILDREN'S FARE AND PUNCH CARDS — WILL REMAIN THE SAME

Our old tickets will be honored for 90 DAYS plus 2c with each ticket. AFTER THE 30th. of APRIL the old tickets will not be accepted.

THE FREE RIDE ON THE PURCHASE OF $1.00 SHEET OF TICKETS CAN NO LONGER BE GRANTED.

GOVT. MANPOWER

(Continued from Page One)

Many Sacrifices

At the same time, he warned that the efforts would call for many sacrifices by Canadians.

Mr. Drew repeated his call of last session for a Royal Commission to determine how best to cut down non-essential expenditures by the government and for a parliamentary committee to name a thorough-going study of defence matters.

He coupled these requests with a charge that there is great uncertainty that Canada has more than a "very small number" of men ready to go into the field should they be needed.

He criticized the government for alleged failure to indicate the urgency in the present world situation.

But he said he shared with Mr. St. Laurent a hope that a third world war could be avoided if free men and women "put their whole heart into the tasks before them, with the compelling sense of danger that the facts demand."

Mr. Coldwell, touching briefly on the manpower question, suggested that a thorough appraisal should be made of the country's manpower and material resources before any decision is reached on how men should be raised for the armed forces.

Pressing the C.C.F. demand for price controls, he said that step should be accompanied by a rollback of prices, but just a stabilization of prices at their high levels. Nor should there be any pegs on wages, which already were controlled, in effect, through normal bargaining procedures.

Only a Delay Claim

He believed the U.S. resolution condemning red China might interfere with U.N. attempts to obtain a cease-fire in Korea. At best, it would delay a settlement and, at worst, it might make a settlement impossible.

Mr. Low, prevented by House rules from introducing a non-confidence motion at this stage, charged that the government had been "very foolish and stupid in . . . way it has managed—or not managed—our money.

If the country did not look out the shrinkage in the value of the dollar would "destroy the spirit of independence of our people."

As for the U.N., he felt that it had failed to save the peace though he agreed with Mr. St. Laurent that the North Atlantic Alliance could deter aggression.

A. L. Smith (PC-Calgary West), whose physicians have ordered him to retire because of ill-health, stepped into the debate briefly to announce his retirement officially.

Speaker Ross Macdonald and Mr. St. Laurent, after Mr. Smith had left the chamber, said they would like to see him consult his doctors again with a view to a possible reversal of their verdict.

IN BELLEVILLE
FRED'S CAR SALES
123 PINNACLE STREET

TRUDEAU Used Cars

ARE 1—SELECTED
2—RECONDITIONED
3—GUARANTEED

THREE WORDS WITH A LOT OF MEANING.

Our Used Cars are SELECTED and INSPECTED by an Appraiser with years of experience.

RECONDITIONED in the most modern rebuilding factory to be found anywhere.

GUARANTEED by our Trudeau Guarantee which has stood behind thousands of cars from new satisfaction.

So for True Value in Used Cars, come to

Trudeau MOTORS LIMITED SALES SERVICE

31 - 41 STATION ST.
125 FRONT ST.

BILL DELINE LTD.

— Announce the Agency for —

FAIRBANKS-MORSE RADIOS AND APPLIANCES

ORDER YOUR ELECTRICAL APPLIANCE NOW BEFORE PRICES GO UP AGAIN

FAIRBANKS-MORSE Wash MACHINES

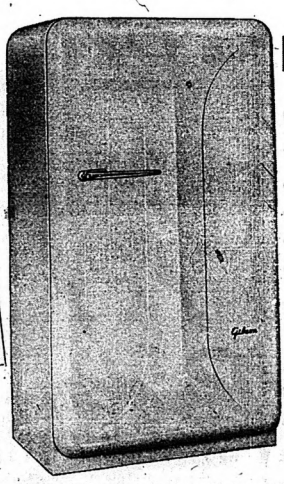
MODEL No. 45
$169.50
MODEL No. 45 WITH PUMP
$179.50
GIVE YOU Everything

- ✓ Exclusive "Aqua Roll" Gyrator protects finest fabrics . . . washes cleaner.
- ✓ Beauty you'll be proud of.
- ✓ Outside control for handy operation.
- ✓ Mechanism perfectly balanced for longer life and economy.

PLUS... Guaranteed by Fairbanks-Morse — a Company with 120 years' experience.

293
Coleman St.

FREE PARKING



GIBSON REFRIGERATOR

$399.00

- 8½ Cubic Foot
- Freezer Locker
- 5-Year Guarantee
- Top to Floor Refrigeration
- Liberal Trade-in on Old Refrigerator.

$5.00

GUARANTEES APRIL 1st. DELIVERY

"Chef-Master" RANGES

$179.00

- 4 G.E. Calrod Elements
- Fibreglas Insulation
- Automatic Oven Control
- 5 Heat Switches
- 1 Piece Porcelain Top
- Roomy Porcelain Oven

LIBERAL TRADE-IN ON PRESENT STOVE.

DELIVERY NOW OR APRIL 1st.

Phone 3311

FREE PARKING

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON OF THE WEEK

When Faith Outruns Reason

By ROY L. SMITH

The debt which the modern world owes to science is a vast one. Research and experimentation have added so much to the satisfaction that come with every hour. But there is a grave danger that we may forget the equally significant contribution that faith has to make to life. Those who have lived by faith testify that some thing come to the man who believes which never come to the man who only proves.

The Odds Were Against Jairus

The father in this week's Sunday School lesson was in the most painful situation any man ever experienced. His little daughter, twelve years old, was sick unto death. The local physicians had given her up, saying there was nothing more they could do.

Now Jairus was a man of affairs in the community, with a reputation, a position and a standing to maintain. Suddenly a wandering preacher, who was held under considerable suspicion by the majority of Jairus' crowd, if the distracted father appealed to him. It might mean that he would call down official wrath upon his head. But his anxiety for his child and his hope that the strange teacher might have the power to help, made him indifferent to anything related to his personal popularity. If Jesus could help his child he was willing to suffer anything in the way of criticism or censure from his superiors.

It Was a Hopeless Enconnaging

Delayed somewhat by the crowd, Jesus did not reach Jairus' home until the child was beyond hope. The scripture is a little vague at this point. Whether the child was actually dead or in a coma was not quite plain, and it makes little difference. Under the spell of Jesus' word of command she sat up, and took her place again among the living.

The Sunday School lesson for February 4: "The Mighty Worker." Mark 4:35—6:6.

Now, of course many moderns will say that this is only an old wives' tale, and dismiss it with that. But faith cannot be so easily dismissed. Its record of achievement is too impressive for that.

Faith is Aggressive Action

In the mind of all too many people faith is little more than credulity—a willingness to believe the impossible and to insist upon miracles in the face of facts.

Genuine faith, however, is something entirely different. It is not blind and supine acceptance of the inevitable, but an aggressive confidence in the fact of God, a certainty concerning His kindly disposition toward men, and a courageous belief in His moral nature. Couple this with a positive action and you begin to see miracles.

Thy Will Be Done

Jesus' words in the Garden of Gethsemane have been quoted many times as if they were the highest expression of Faith the world has even heard. And they are. But we have erred in thinking that Jesus was helpless and surrendered to the superior will of God because there was nothing else to be done.

When Jesus said, "Thy will be done," he meant, The will of God is going to be done and I am going to do it."

This is faith at its highest level. That kind of faith does move mountains, heal diseases, relieve poverty, and clean up rotten governments.

It is well for us to note the fact that this anxious father went clear up to the last obstacle. Then he committed the matter into the hands of Jesus. As an old Negro preacher once said, "If de Lawd tells me to go butt my head through de side of dat wall, it's my business to butt and it's de Lawd's business to go through."

NOT PARTICULAR

Johannesburg — (CP) — All the shelves size after launched into a suburban post office was a bundle of unclaimed letters. A door was broken to gain entry.

Four Provincial Legislatures Now Sitting

(By Canadian Press)

The sessions of legislatures in Saskatchewan, Manitoba and Ontario opened Thursday, bringing to four the number sitting. The Quebec house opened earlier.

The Speech from the Throne in the Ontario legislature, read by Lieutenant-Governor Ray Lawson, forecast introduction of provincial rent controls if federal regulations expire April 30 as planned.

It expressed the hope that the federal government would decide against dropping controls, but indicated that Ontario would be ready with its own if the need arose.

The speech, a general forecast of government plans, also foresaw: Further expension of hydro generating facilities; introduction of legislation to ensure against discrimination in employment, and legislation to implement any federal agreements on pensions with the provinces.

In Regina, the throne speech contained provision for constitutional amendments to permit the federal government to legislate for old-age pensioners and to allow Saskatchewan to collect an indirect sales tax.

Adjust Boundaries

The speech, read by Lieutenant-Governor J. M. Uhrich, said the C. C. F. government would also introduce a bill to adjust the boundaries of provincial constituencies for more-equitable representation.

In Winnipeg, the legislature met with a new division of members, most of the conservatives having left the now defunct coalition since the last session.

The throne speech, read by Lieutenant-Governor J. S. McWilliams, said the liberal government of Premier Campbell would seek power to acquire existing power - generating facilities in Manitoba, unless the privately-owned Winnipeg Electric Company and the municipally-owned Winnipeg Hydro System agree to a province-wide pooling arrangement for electrical power.

As in Ontario and Saskatchewan, the speech also promised legislation to implement the federal government's recent offer to pay pensions to all over 70 years old.

Attorney-General Gabriel Dumont, Minister Bourque told the legislature that Quebec's big paper industry may be able in a few years to base its production on hardwood instead of softwood.

He said experiments at the government forestry school at Duchesnay might clear the way for use by the pulp and paper industry of diseased birch instead of resinous wood, a condition which would protect Quebec's pine forests.

Two Deaths Left In Wake of Storm Traffic Slowed

(By The Canadian Press)

The heaviest snowstorm of the winter in Eastern Canada moved across Quebec and into the Maritimes today, leaving two deaths in its wake.

Although the storm is centred over New York State, it has dumped 10 inches of snow on Eastern Ontario and Southern Quebec where traffic has been slowed to a crawl.

The Dominion Public Weather office at Montreal said the snow would stop early today in western Quebec, where the final depth would be 12 or 13 inches.

Eastern Quebec, however, was in for another full day of swirling snow, and another six inches was expected to fall before the storm finished its trek into the Maritimes and northwestern United States.

Two deaths were indirectly blamed on the storm, in Toronto. Peter Iacovoni, 60, was fatally injured Thursday - night when struck by a locomotive while shovelling snow off the railway tracks near Union Station.

London, Ont., William F. Higgs, 54, dropped dead of heart seizure while shovelling snow.

While the storm was walloping southern Ontario, a cold wave held the northern part of the province in its grip. However, temperatures were expected to moderate in the north today, while cold weather remained in the south.

Train schedules were disrupted throughout the storm area, and in Montreal, Quebec and Toronto traffic was slowed and snarled.

A 24-mile-an-hour wind complicated matters for snow removal crews in hilly Quebec. The city also reported damage estimated at $15,000 in the collapse of a garage roof under the weight of the heavy snow.

In the west, weather was generally normal for this time of the year—cold, that is. Temperatures in most parts of the prairies ranged around the zero mark today.

The snow was a blessing to ski resort operators, particularly in western Ontario where there has been little snow most of the winter.

EMPIRE SOURCES

The Imperial Forestry Institute at Oxford, England, is decorated with woods from all Commonwelith timber - producing countries.

Farmers Counting Again on Weather To Help Fight

Winnipeg, Feb. 2 — (CP) — Prairie farmers are counting again on the weather to help their 1951 fight against the multi-million-dollar appetite of the grasshopper.

About 9,500,000 acres of Alberta farmland, 2,000,000 acres in Manitoba, and a lesser amount than last year in Saskatchewan, are expected to be affected by the winged pests.

This is down from last year's estimate, when all-over damage was comparatively light. Entomologists in Alberta say that 700,000 acres of land in that province were treated with poison last year and about $170,000 spent in grasshopper control.

The loss in Manitoba was practically nil, due to favorable weather conditions—cool weather and frequent, heavy rains which produced an abundance of grass. Saskatchewan's estimate isn't available, but damage wasn't anywhere near serious.

Later, prevailing winds may carry the adult insects hundreds of miles to attack nearly-ripe crops. Then the damage results when the seed pods of the crops are nipped from their long stems and are either dropped to the ground or are weakened that they fail to survive harvesting operations.

AWARDED $17,000

Welland, Feb. 2 — (CP)—Mrs. Norma Dean Johnston of Niagara Falls was awarded $17,000 from Canadian National Railways yesterday in settlement of the train-truck collision that killed her husband in September, 1949.

January Stock Prices Touch Record High

Toronto, Feb. (CP) — Stock prices touched unprecedented heights on the Toronto Stock exchange in January.

Quoted market, values of the 918 listed issues showed the greatest monthly advance ever recorded. At Jan. 31 the aggregate value of all stocks was a record $11,231,926,234, a gain of more than $1,000,000,000 since Dec. 31.

For the last year prices have advanced. Since January, 1950, the value of all stocks on the market has gained about $3,321,000,000.

The increase over the year has been steady each month with two exceptions: June, when the outbreak of the Korean war sent prices reeling for several days, and November, when the Chinese entered Korea. On both occasions the market quickly recovered.

In the month just past, all 19 divisions comprising the stock advanced. The 14 industrial groups showed a gain of $664,000,000 and the mines and west ern oils $374,000,000.

The industrials group made one of the widest gains on record in the index by advancing $3.31 points during the month to a new high of 224.00. Base metals chalked up a net advance of 23.24. Golds were up 15.85 and western oils 13.04.

WELSH WATERFALL

Perhaps the best - known waterfall in Britain is at Betys-Y-Coed in Wales where the river Lugwy plunges 60 feet.

Portraits Hung In Entrance Hall Of Legislature

Toronto, Feb. 2 (CP)—Portraits of two early Canadian statesmen recently placed in the entrance hall of the Ontario legislature typify the harmony and co-operation which has developed between the French and English-speaking people of Canada, Premier Frost said Thursday during opening ceremonies of the legislature's 1951 session.

The portraits are those of Sir Louis La Fontaine, premier of Lower Canada, and Robert Baldwin, premier of Upper Canada They have been loaned from the Chateau D.. Ramezay Museum of Montreal.

"These men played a great part in the coming of responsible government," the premier said. Co-operation begun by them now is "an accepted fact and is one of the great examples of toleration and understanding that Canada gives to the world."

Premier Frost told how Baldwin arranged for La Fontaine to be elected in a Toronto area riding in 1841 after he was defeated in his Low Canada constituency. The following year Baldwin was defeated and La Fontaine arranged to have the Upper Canada leader contest Rimouski riding in Quebec, which he carried in January, 1843.

"These acts were the beginning of the understanding and co-operation upon which Confederation was built . . . some 25 years later," Premier Frost said.

He also called attention to the mounting of portraits of 10 former Ontario premiers at the entrance to the chamber. Hanging above these portraits is the painting of the Fathers of Confederation, by Frederick Spratan Challoner, depicting the 1864 conference which led to Confederation.

OKAY TO INSTALL PLUGS

Toronto, Feb. 2 — (CP) — It's okay to install wall plug outlets in bathroom now for electric razors. The Ontario Hydro-Electric Power Commission has ditched the regulation which prohibited installation of the bathroom outlets. Razor owners were expected heretofore, to use bedroom plugs or two-way plugs in the bathroom light socket.

"WEAK" BACK?

Many say they get "cold" in the back—or the kidneys—as a result! That's why thousands keep Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills always on hand. For this reliable remedy is like two treatments in one—works faster to relieve painful backache due to faulty kidneys. Dr. Chase's Pills are a mainstay you can depend on. At

DR. CHASE'S KIDNEY-LIVER PILLS

Admiral

12½ INCH PICTURE!

Only $349.95

New 1951 TABLE MODEL

TELEVISION

Admiral sets the pace again with a brilliant, all-new, 1951, table model television set at a new low price! Big, full-sized screen provides the "clearest" picture of them all". One-knob control tunes in sharp sound and sound simultaneously. SUPER-POWERED for dependable performance even in "fringe" areas. Beautifully styled and richly finished in walnut and mahogany. Slightly higher in blonde. Convenient terms.

HITCHON RADIO

4 Bridge St. East — Phone 854

Admiral

17" TV

with DYNAMAGIC RADIO and TRIPLE-PLAY AUTOMATIC PHONOGRAPH

$750.00

world's greatest value in television!

See this beautiful console in authentic 18th Century styling by one of the country's leading designers. Channel 2 TV picture of all . . . big 150 sq. in. screen . . . easy to tune on radio . . . revolutionary improvement Admiral chassis . . . built-in Roto-Scope antenna for strong signal areas. Compare! Enjoy new Dynamagic radio, too, along with versatile "Triple-Play" automatic phonograph . . . plays all records (33⅓, 45 and 78 rpm), all sizes (7", 10" and 12"), all mixed in any order. Compare! Admiral doesn't make it unless it's good! Come see yours now! Slightly higher in mahogany. Installation extra.

BOOTH RADIO AND TELEVISION

PHONE 150 — 121 FRONT STREET

You'll Tell Your Children

about City Cleaners because of our wonderful service, so when they have grown up they will know where to send their clothes for prompt, efficient service.

CITY CLEANERS & DYERS

160 EAST MOIRA ST PHONE 2626-3030

BILL LYNCH Proprietors ROY JOHNSON

Outstanding Items from the

81st ANNUAL REPORT

A CANADIAN COMPANY FOR CANADIANS

SURPLUS EARNED IN 1950 (Providing continuance of liberal scale of surplus distribution to policyholders.)	$ 6,194,296
TOTAL PAYMENTS TO POLICYHOLDERS AND BENEFICIARIES IN 1950	$ 30,962,491
TOTAL ASSETS	$ 365,632,704
NEW ASSURANCES IN 1950 (Excluding Annuities)	$ 120,168,273
TOTAL ASSURANCES IN FORCE, DEC. 31, 1950 (Excluding Annuities)	$1,168,677,943

A copy of the complete report of the proceedings at the Company's annual meeting, held at the Home Office on February 1, 1951, will be sent on request.

THE MUTUAL LIFE

Assurance Company

OF CANADA

HOME OFFICE • WATERLOO, ONTARIO

LOUIS I. LANG, President

A. E. PEQUEGNAT, A.I.A., F.A.S., General Manager

CAMPBELLFORD

Talk on Make-Up and Purposes Of United Nations Given to Club

Campbellford.—Mrs. Marjorie Banks, president of the Women's Section of the United Nations Association of Canada, was the guest speaker at the weekly noon luncheon of the Rotary Club in Campbellford.

Past president, Gert Taylor, introduced Mrs. Banks, saying that although she came from Scotland, he saw no reason why the club should hold that against her. She came to Canada when she was 20 years of age, and has been active in the World Citizenship branch of the Home and School Association. She is well known in Toronto as a speaker on international problems, and has just recently returned from Lake Success and Flushing Meadows, where she attended a sitting of the U.N. General Assembly and the Security Council.

Against Branding China Aggressor

Mrs. Banks said "the U.N. is the only authorized machinery striving for peace. To win this peace the free nations must support the U.N. Association." Regarding the present crisis, Mrs. Banks gave her opinions on world affairs. In answer to the question, "Should we brand communist China an aggressor?", the speaker said, "a while ago I would have said yes—now I have changed my mind. If branding China as aggressor will prevent a cease-fire and settle whereby to bring about a peaceful settlement, which I believe it will, then I would strongly advise against branding her."

Loathes Communism

"The U.N. should not be bullied by the United States into branding China and so causing the Third World War," said the speaker. "I believe the U.S. is merely seeking vengeance, and this can be blamed on her youthful arrogance and domineering way. I believe China has a grievance. I am no communist! I hate communism and believe we should fight it wherever it rears its ugly head, but China should have been in the United Nations from the start, and Russia could not have used her (red China's) position to fight in the U.N."

The speaker went on to say that General MacArthur should not have crossed the 38th parallel. Negotiations for a peace should have been started then, with U.N. troops at the dividing line.

In closing her talk on the world crisis, Mrs. Banks said "Have faith in the United Nations. With Nehru of India, and Pearson of Canada at the helm I'm sure our ship will sail into peaceful waters."

Origin of U.N.

The speaker also told of the origin, function and composition of the United Nations. She said it was conceived before the end of the Second World War, and was developed by Roosevelt and Churchill at their shipboard meeting. Quoting the first paragraph of the United Nations charter, "We, the people of the United Nations, determining to save succeeding generations from the scourge of war—" the speaker said it was up to us to see that it succeeded.

It has been said that the League of Nations failed the world, but in reality the world failed the League of Nations. The league should have branded Japan and Italy as aggressors, but they did not. The speaker added that the nations of the world would have been at each other's throats long ago if it had not been for the U.N.

Sections of U.N.

She told of the various sections and committees that go to make up what we know as the United Nations. First and most important of these is the Security Council. Its job is to put down aggression anywhere. There are 11 members. Five permanent members, and six non-permanent members. One stumbling block in the Security Council, is the system of voting. A bill must have the unanimous vote of the Big Five, and a majority vote of the other six non-permanent members before passing. Russia has used the veto 46 times in all. Plans are now in the hands of the association to have this system changed.

Twenty-Seven Branches

There are 27 branches of the United Nations Association in Canada. The Toronto branch is the largest and most important. It is the only one with a women's branch, Mrs. Banks is president of the women's section. There are about 3,600 members in all, with about 1,400 in Toronto.

After the closing remarks of the speaker, the Grade XIII students of the Campbellford High School besieged her with questions, and took her to task for some of her opinions on the world situation. The spirited discussions which took place, showed the intense interest the students showed in world affairs. The students were guests of the Rotary Club at this meeting. Rotary is sponsoring a contest in which prizes will be given for the best three essays on the United Nations.

Past President N. Alex MacColl thanked the speaker for coming to Campbellford to address the club, and said he hoped they could arrange a return visit.

IMMEDIATE DELIVERY

or $5.00 WILL HOLD TILL APRIL 1st.

REFRIGERATORS

$329.50

SEALED UNIT

8 CU. FT. CAPACITY

5 YEAR GUARANTEE

RACKS ON DOOR

BILL DELINE LTD.

Distributors for

FIRESTONE — ECO

NORGE—REGENT—MAJESTIC

FAIRBANKS MORSE

285 Coleman St. Phone 3311

Your Firestone Dealer

STEP OUT IN '51

WITH A GOOD USED CAR

BILL DELINE

LIMITED

WILL GIVE

ONE MANTEL RADIO AWAY FREE

WITH EVERY USED CAR LISTED BELOW DURING THE MONTH OF FEBRUARY

1949 MERCURY COACH
1946 HUDSON SEDAN
1946 FORD SEDAN
1941 PLYMOUTH COACH
1940 FORD SEDAN
1940 PLYMOUTH COACH
1940 STUDEBAKER SEDAN
1940 HUDSON COACH
1939 PLYMOUTH SEDAN
1939 HUDSON COACH
1938 PLYMOUTH COACH
1938 FORD COACH
1938 BUICK SEDAN
1936 DODGE SEDAN

What have you to Trade?

CASH TRADE TERMS

283 Coleman Street BELLEVILLE

Brand new 1951 models

Admiral

WORLD'S GREATEST VALUE IN TELEVISION

17 INCH TV combination that's clear close-up

$750.00 WALNUT (Slightly higher in mahogany)

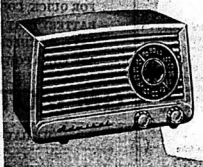
It's THE SENSATIONAL new Admiral television console combination that offers you the greatest entertainment value you can get for your home! Think of it . . . here are endless hours of pleasure for everyone, young and old, plus a cabinet of enduring beauty. Huge 17-inch TV that's clearer, brighter and more life-like than ever. Amazingly compact Dynamagic unit with powerful radio and 3-speed automatic phonograph bring you the ultimate in listening thrills. All in a stunning 18th century styled console with double doors and spacious record compartment . . . hand-finished in Walnut or Mahogany. Compare Admiral in every way, from performance to price. You can't beat it!

$529.95 WALNUT (Slightly higher in Mahogany and Limed Oak)

Now! Sit as close as you please and enjoy bright, clear, glare-free pictures from Admiral's magnificent new 17-inch TV console. No room is too small for this really BIG-picture television because of the revolutionary new Filteray tube that's clear close-up without distortion. A fully 150 square inch screen holds new thrills in viewing pleasure for you. Compare the superlative cabinet styling of these consoles . . . hand-rubbed for maximum richness in wood grain detail. Here is the model that is all you want in television performance and furniture beauty. Visit your nearest Admiral dealer today!

THERE IS NO SUBSTITUTE FOR AN ADMIRAL!

In Radio too . . . Admiral is FIRST IN VALUE... PERFORMANCE... POPULARITY!



• Exceptional value . . . the star performer of all low-priced 5-tube table radios! Surprisingly compact, exquisitely designed . . . the perfect "extra" radio for any room and a wonderful gift to anyone. You get all the famous qualities found only in an Admiral that bring you superior long-range reception with improved, full-throated tone. Choose yours from the lovely, modern plastic cabinets in 5 glowing colors. But do it now . . . don't miss this top value!

$31.95

• The radio-phonograph that is the very essence of compact table model design and modern beauty. There's a new thrill in listening pleasure in store for you when you hear the rich, golden tones of the powerful 6-tube radio and triple-play phonograph with all the newest in automatic features. And you get Admiral's exclusive new Ferro-Scope Antenna . . . 3 times more sensitive than ordinary built-in loop aerials! Gleaming mahogany plastic cabinet enhanced by smart, easier-to-tune "Searchlight" dial. See and hear it for sure!

$129.95

CANADIAN ADMIRAL CORPORATION, LIMITED • LAKEVIEW, ONTARIO

DISTRIBUTOR FOR CENTRAL AND NORTHERN ONTARIO

COCHRANE-DUNLOP HARDWARE LTD.

1385 YONGE STREET WEST, TORONTO, ONTARIO

THERE IS AN ADMIRAL DEALER NEAR YOU.

Admiral

Radios . . . Radio-Phonographs
Television Receivers
Refrigerators

Smallest Crowd in Twenty Years Watches Black Hawks Snap 21-Game Winless Streak

By NEA/REUTER

CHICAGO, Feb. 8 — (Special to The Victory) — The smallest crowd in the history of Chicago Black Hawks hockey ...

Despite some of the poorest hockey ... the division ... Detroit ... Chicago ... Toronto ... Montreal ... Boston ... New York ... Chicago ... Toronto ... Montreal ... Boston ... New York ... Chicago ... Toronto ... Montreal ... Boston ... New York

Jake Lamotta Will Weigh in Early for Bout

(By The Canadian Press)

The window-dressing aspect of the alluring middleweight title bout between champion Jake LaMotta and challenger Sugar Ray Robinson at the Chicago Stadium on the 14 will be somewhat different before the Illinois State Athletic Commission.

Both warriors, making a special trip here from New York, were present at LaMotta was given permission to weigh in at 10 a.m., two hours before the customary noon-time ceremony on the day of their sixth tangle since 1943 LaMotta's insistence for an earlier weigh-in indicated he might have trouble making weight against Robinson, who is the very picture of surrendering his welterweight crown.

Young Rickey Church at Windsor, Ont., led all jockeys for United States honors in January, conceding first place to Conn on Thursday at Hialeah race track. Church, now riding at Hialeah, booted home 22 winners during January, one more than Harold (Red) Keene at the Fairgrounds track in New Orleans.

Nat Freedman, the English soccer star who suspension from football ended Thursday, joined the Hull City club. He will make his debut for Hull in their league game against Blackburn, Rovers next Saturday.

Freedman has been in training at the Hull city headquarters ever since the English Football Association suspended him from soccer for leaving Stoke City to play in Bogota, Colombia.

Hull paid Stoke City £22,500 for Freedman.

He has played for England in 11 international matches.

Heavy snowfalls have greatly improved skiing conditions in most parts of Ontario, the Provincial Travel Department said Thursday.

Powdered snow is reported at mid season except Port Arthur and Fort William, although packed snow at the lakehead cities is fine, officials said.

The Department reported "excellent" skiing at the lakehead, Cobourg, Collingwood, Haliburton, Huntsville, Orangeville and Owen Sound. Skiing at Bracebridge, Bayfield, Dorchester, Markdale, Havelock, Midland and Peterborough are rated "good". Hamilton, Simcoe and Orillia are "fair."

South Korean marathon runners and their coach were puzzled but finished, they were not discouraged on hearing Thursday that their entries in the Boston marathon April 16 will be refused.

The Koreans finished 1 - 2 - 3 in last year's Boston race.

Dispatches from Boston quoted President Walter Brown of the Boston Athletic Association as saying he intended to reject the entries because he felt they should stay at home and fight.

"Mr. Brown may not fully understand the fact that 3,000,000 Korean youths, including our own sons, are dying for arms to fight against communist aggression," said Gen. Ki Chung Cook of the eight-man team which is training here.

The Korean Republic, proud of its athletics' clean sweep last year, gave the team special military dispensation to train and enter this year.

MEDICAL PIONEER

Homeopathy, the treatment of diseases by drugs, was introduced by Samuel Hahnemann, German physician, who died in 1843.

MARMORA

Norwood Juves Take Marmora

(Marmora— Marmora juveniles lost their home game to Norwood juveniles on their home ice on Wednesday evening by the score 8-3. The visitors showed a slight superiority in combination, although three of their goals came from individual rushes.

Morrison was their outstanding player with two goals and an assist. Brownlie and Paranuik stood out for the losers. The ice was good but the sub-zero temperature had the P.V.I. fixture at Stirling kept the crowd down to a minimum.

The Teams:

Norwood—Goal, Baker; defence, Horne, Wrightly; centre, Davis; wings, Peoples, Scott; alts, Fredericks, Morrison, Aldred, Labrash, Spencer, Hannivan.

Marmora — Goal, Killian; defence, Nicholson, Maloney; centre, Hickey; wings, Paranuik, Brownlie; alts., Logan, O'Connor, Walker, Lynch, McValin, Clemens, Drummond, Bonter.

1st Period—H. Garden, Norwood, T. Counts, Delora.

Summary:

1st Period

Norwood, Morrison	1.30
Norwood, Aldred (Morrison)	20.00
Norwood, Morrison	20.25
Penalty—Logan.

2nd Period—H. Garden, Norwood, T. Counts, Delora.

Marmora—Brownlie	3.05
Norwood, Scott (Peoples)	5.00
Norwood, Peoples (Davis)	13.20
Marmora, Paranuik (Brownlie, Hickey)	13.10
Marmora, Lynch (Clemens)	22.10
Penalties, Paranuik (3) Wrightly.

3rd Period

Norwood, Wrightly	2.40
Penalties, Fredericks, Morrison.

MONEY WHEN YOU NEED IT up to $50 to $1000
If you need extra cash, borrow from HFC—Investment FINANCE. Loans are made promptly and courteously on your own signature.
No Endorsers Needed
HFC specialties in fast service! No endorsers or bankable security. Just select the repayment plan most convenient for you. Take 6 to 24 months to repay.
Loans for Any Good Purpose
Consolidate old bills ... home repairs, taxes, doctor bills, hospital bills, and personal expenses.
WHEREVER YOU NEED IT!
HFC HOUSEHOLD FINANCE
CORPORATION
Warren Sellstrom Phone 2780
Manager
BELLEVILLE, ONT.
Hours 9 to 5 or by appointment

BANCROFT

Juniors Defeat Maynooth 3-2 In Smart [illegible]e

Bancroft—The hockey fans from Bancroft and district joined the closest game of the season when Bancroft Juniors defeated Maynooth by a score of 3 to 2 in the local arena on Wednesday night. Less than a hundred were in the rink.

Manager-coach Don Wilson had a group that played a fast game even if their passing was some tho smooth. When the going was tough the 16-year-old veteran Harold Watson was a steadying influence for his younger teammates. This factor was sufficient to give Bancroft a slight edge on the night's play.

At the eighteen minute mark in the second period Bill Davidson made a long shot from the far side of the blue line to break the 2-all tie and win the game. Neuman, Williams and Elmhurst made rush after rush in the third period but the defence was successful in breaking them up before anything happened.

The scorers were Fitzgerald and Robinson for Maynooth and Serin, Jones and Davidson for Bancroft.

Lineups:

Maynooth—Goal, Pitre; defence, H. Neuman and Buckley; centre, D. Neuman; wings, Williams and Elmhurst; alts, Green Flynn, Fitzgerald, Robinson and Mayhew; manager-coach, J. Williams.

Bancroft Juniors — Goal, Anderson; defence, Watson and Bruce; centre, Davidson; wings, Laundry and Jones; alts., O'Shaughnessy, Wigging, Reyburn, Adams, Jack-Serwin, Jim Vance, Joe Vance, Maxwell, McLaughlin and Cox; manager-coach, Don Wilson.

Referee— Tony Peters of Cot Hill. Timekeeper—Bert Comrie of Bancroft.

Top Basketball Referee Refuses To Officiate

Pittsburgh, Feb. 2— (AP)— A top basketball referee has refused to officiate at the Duquesne-Chicago Loyola game in Pittsburgh's Gardens Monday because bowling, booing fans make life too miserable.

He is Sigmund (Red) Mihalic, reported near a nervous breakdown brought on by spectators' taunts.

The red - thatched referee who'll comment on his troubles, but basketball commissioner Dave Fawcett said the situation is serious and Mihalic isn't the only official saying away from Gardens assignments.

Fawcett, who assigns whistle tooters to Pittsburgh district basketball games, said the officials are fed up with the raucous jeers coming from abusive fans at the sports arena.

"They just don't care for the reception there," declared Fawcett.

"Only recently one of my best men was the target for a pop bottle. On another occasion someone tried to trip him."

B.C.I. Basketball Teams Lose COSSA Games

In a Bay of Quinte C.O.S.S.A. basketball game played on Wednesday afternoon in Wellington B.C.I. A.V.S. Jr. were beaten by Wellington High School in an exhibition game by the score of 47-30. Only five members of the Belleville team arrived for the game because of car trouble. Without a coach or substitutes, these boys made a game out of it but Wellington had too much power. The half time score was 22-14 and the locals were 17 points behind at the final whistle of a rough scrambly game. Gasline of Wellington was top scorer followed by teammate MacGloughlin with 12. Mathews got 10 for Belleville followed by Page and Philp with eight apiece.

Lineups:

B.C.I.: Page 8, Mathews 10, Parsons 4, Philp 8, Bovay 1.

Wellington: Gasliva 20, Greer 22, Snider 5, Cronk 3, MacGloughlin 12, Bryant 4.

Picton 68, B.C.I. Seconds 2

Another C.O.S.S.A. junior basketball game was played in the B.C.I. gymnasium on Thursday afternoon. A strong Picton team trounced the B.C.I. Seconds by the score of 68-8.

The loser was never in doubt as the Prince Edward boys had too much height and power for the locals. They had many chances around the hoop. At the half, the score was 23-8 but for the rest of the game, Picton went all out in racking up 25 points while holding the B.C.I. quintet to two less.

Hinglenan and Lighthall looked good for Picton with 14 and 12 points respectively while Reynolds and Hobbs at the same team netted 8 apiece. Annis was high scorer for the Belleville team with four points.

Lineups:

B.C.I. Seconds, Doig 2, Annis 4, Varso 2, Soule, Murray, Batchelor, Campbell, Rowan, Yeates, Gault, Wagar.

Picton: Reynolds 8, Lighthall 12, Coles, Hobbs 8, Ryan, Kitchen 4, Moore, Binglenan 14, Reynolds and Armstrong.

Remember When

(By The Canadian Press)

The late Fiorello La Guardia, then a U.S. representative, attempted 20 years ago today to put a bill through congress requiring a tax of 90 per cent on sales of pro ball players bought for more than $5,000. His argument was that professional baseball was the only field in which individuals failed to profit through transfer of their services. The bill was defeated however.

LAST NIGHT'S STARS

Gordie Howe, who tallied twice, including the winning goal, as Detroit scored a 2-1 victory over New York Rangers.

Ray Timgren of Toronto, who scored his first goal of the season as Leafs defeated Montreal Canadiens 2-1.

Marcel Pelletier of Chicago, who submitted for goalie Harry Lumley and was a big factor in Hawks' 5-2 victory over Bruins, the first in 22 starts.

Milt Schmidt of Boston, who scored Bruins' two goals against Chicago.

Electrics Regain Top Position In 'A' League

Northern Electric hopped back to their old hunting grounds at the top of the Major "A" Bowling League last night at the Bowl-O-Drome by virtue of their 7-0 setback of the Esquire for Men team. The win gave them a three-point lead over the second place CNR who edged Tobe's County Gardens 4-3 in a close game.

Belleville Golf returned to form handing the Lawn Bowlers a 7-0 setback while Moore's Chiselers turned back the Callaghan's Ice crew by a 5-2 score.

Top score was Jim White with 770. Other "700" scores were, Les Lennox, 747; Jim McKenzie, 722; Wally Dingham, 721; Jim Semark 713 and Dave Tobe, 705.

Northern Electric

Esquire for Men	(0)	3106
Belleville Golf	(7)	3223
Lawn Bowlers	(0)	3044
Moore's Chiselers	(3)	3040
Callaghan Ice	(2)	3070
C.N.R.	(4)	3108
Tobe's County Gar.	(3)	3179

Standing: Northern Electric 26; C.N.R. 23; Moore's Chiselers 20; Belleville Golf 77; Callaghan Ice 76; Tobe's County Gardens 70; Lawn Bowlers 29; Esquire for Men 26.

IF YOU ARE A THRIFTY BUYER
BE SURE TO SHOP AT UPTOWN TIRE
301 Pinnacle St. Phone 2238

24 HOUR SERVICE
Parts and Repairs
BATEMAN MOTORS LTD.
DODGE and DeSOTO CARS
DODGE TRUCKS
GENUINE PARTS and ACCESSORIES
315 PINNACLE ST. Phone 2380

Ever Heard of the Animal Farmer?
During the fall, the western piko cures grass into hay before storing it.
Unlike most other animals, the piko carefully gathers grasses and spreads them to dry in the warm autumn sunshine. When they are fully cured, he stores them in a dry, easily accessible place for winter feeding.
Nature has its oddities. This series of advertisements is designed to acquaint you with some of these unusual features.
YOURS TO PROTECT
YOURS TO ENJOY
CARLING'S
THE CARLING BREWERIES LIMITED
WATERLOO, ONTARIO

ANNOUNCING the NEW 1951 DG SERIES
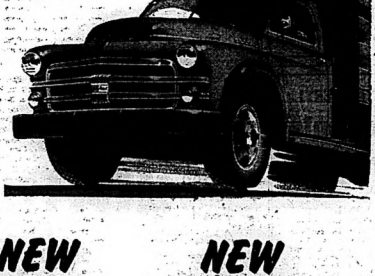
DODGE "Job-Rated" TRUCKS
the Trucks that do the most for you


More than 50 brand new features are incorporated in the new 1951 DG series, Dodge "Job-Rated" trucks — all designed to let you haul greater payloads, faster, more economically.
These new trucks are completely new in style, having a more massive, strongly appearance . . . a lower hood line for better driver visibility . . . handsome two-tone cab interiors . . . a smart, new, easily-read instrument panel.
Some of the important time and labour-saving mechanical improvements are detailed below.
In addition, design changes have substantially increased G.V.W. ratings on certain models; higher net horsepower ratings have been accomplished on all trucks from the ½ ton through 1 ton specials; a new, more efficient fuel pump with greater capacity gives freedom from flooding on start; a new, 45-ampere generator gives greater electrical capacity, to handle modern electrical accessories. And remember, your Dodge truck is "Job-Rated" by truck engineers to do the most efficient job for your particular needs.
Your Dodge truck dealer now has these great new trucks on display. He'll be happy to tell you about all of the improvements which make them the finest, most powerful and most economical Dodge trucks ever built.
NEW EASIER LOADING
Ground to floor height on all models has been reduced by use of a new rear spring design — making loading easier and improving appearance of the truck.
NEW IGNITION PROTECTION
You get better wet weather starting and operation because new molded synthetic spark plug covers prevent moisture from shorting spark plugs.
NEW GREATER SAFETY
These new Dodge trucks are the safest ever built. The lowered hood line gives greater road visibility; tapered-ground brakes provide quicker, smoother operation; new, offset windshield wipers clean almost all the windshield area; redesigned hand brake gives added safety and is easier to operate.
NEW
NEW HANDLING EASE
Now, even sharper turning . . . more comfortable steering angle . . . new, easier operating worm-and-roller steering gears. Other easier handling features include wide front tread, cross steering, shorter wheelbase.
In the ½ ton range Dodge offers a stylish, new improved panel and a sturdy, efficient express with high or low-side box. Expresses on two wheelbases are available in the ½-1 ton range in this range a 4-speed transmission is available at extra cost.
CHECK
DODGE FLUID DRIVE
Fluid Drive makes driving smoother, easier; less tiring — protects the whole driving mechanism from wearing jerks and jars. Dodge Fluid Drive is available on ½ ton and ½-1 ton models at extra cost. If you require a truck of these capacities it will pay you to test a Dodge "Job-Rated" truck with Fluid Drive.
SEE YOUR LOCAL DODGE TRUCK DEALER TODAY! for the good of Your Business — switch to DODGE "Job-Rated" TRUCKS

Movie Column

By BOB THOMAS

Hollywood, Feb. 2 (AP)—It is said that nearly everyone would like to get into the movies. The same apparently holds true for nearly U.S. city.

That was proved this week when the Wald-Krasna Producing Combine sent telegrams to the Chambers of Commerce of 199 cities, asking about location possibilities for their film "Strike a Match."

The publicity-wise producers messaged they were "seeking locale filming scenes all-star romantic drama" and asked about "colorful backgrounds, romantic appeal for present-day youth." Many of the answers came by return wire.

San Antonio offered "all that goes with sweet or lorrid youth." Charleston said it is "rich in venerable showplaces." We are at foothills of blue ridge mountains," Winston-Salem pointed out. Fargo told of its "colorful country clubs and eye-appealing cocktail lounges."

Bettie cited "extensive hydro-electric plants adjacent to large dams." Portland, Me., suggested filming after May 15, since there is no foliage on the trees.

Other responses are coming in daily, to the obvious delight of producer Jerry Wald. The film mogul said he was sincere in his attempt to find a different locale and cited his reasons:

"Not long ago, I invited the producer of the Italian film 'Bicycle Thief' to visit me in Hollywood. When he arrived after a cross-country trip, he said he was amazed. He didn't realize there was so many other cities. From seeing Hollywood movies, he had concluded there were only three American cities — New York, Chicago and Los Angeles.

"That made me realize what a rut we are in, as far as movie locales are concerned. When we first started on 'Strike a Match', it was situated in New York. I decided to junk that idea and the locale will be chosen from the cities that respond to our wire.

CJBQ VOICE OF THE BAY OF QUINTE

CJBQ (1230 Kc.)

FRIDAY

7:00—Dick Haymes Show
7:15—Newscast
7:30—Intermission
7:35—Hollywood Headlines
8:00—Yours Sincerely
Lorraine Marsh
8:15—The World in Print
8:30—Swing Fever
9:00—Bobby Hackett
9:30—Gillette Fights
11:00—News Summary
11:05—Dream Time
11:30—Intermission
Time and weather
11:35—Save the King

SATURDAY

12:00—Luncheon Music
12:30—Newscast
12:45—Behind the News
1:00—Sports Roxie 1250
1:05—Sweet Bros. Quartet Old Time
1:30—R.C.A. Victor Record
2:00—Juke Box Parade
2:30—Saturday Matinee, March of Dimes
4:00—News and weather
4:15—Saturday Matinee
5:00—Sports Review
5:15—Fran Warren Sings
5:30—Trail Valley Ramblers
6:00—Supper Music
6:15—News and weather
6:45—Around the World
Sports Review
7:00—Your Army

7:15—Presents
7:15—Newscast
7:30—The Tex Beneche Show
8:00—Singer Fortunes
8:30—Musical Mysteries
9:00—Piano Moods
9:15—Weekly Report from Parliament Hill
9:30—News and Weather
9:35—Platter Party
10:00—Country Gardens Variety Show
9:30—Platter Party
10:30—National News Summary
10:40—CJBQ Dancing Party
11:00—Sports
11:45—Newscast
12:00—Turn and Weather
12:05—Save the King

NETWORK PROGRAMS

FRIDAY EVENING

6:00—CFRB, Bing Crosby Show
6:00—CBL, Melody Time
6:15—News, Farm
6:15—CFRB, Ontario Provincials
6:30—CFRB, John Colicos
Hollywood Beauty
6:30—CBL, Commentary
6:30—CBS, We Are Ambassadors
6:45—CBL, Music on the Air
6:45—CBL, Divertissements
7:00—CFRB, Beulah
7:00—CBS, Fred Waring Pleasure
7:15—CFRB, Jack Smith Show
7:30—CBL, Safety Clinic
7:30—CBS, Canadian Short Stories
7:45—CFRB, Kate Aitken
7:45—CJBC, Foster Hewitt
8:00—CBL, Now I Ask You
8:00—CFRB, The Hardy Family
8:00—CFRB, Metropolitan Auditions of the Air
8:30—CBL, WSO Pop Concert
8:30—CJBC, CFRB, Treasury Trail
9:00—CBS, Ford Theatre
9:00—CFRB, Godfrey Talent Scouts
9:30—CFRB, Judy's Tavern
9:30—CJBC, Al Bollingers Orch.
10:00—CBS, Mr. Keene Tracer, Lite of Riley
10:00—CBL, News
10:00—CJBC, Fights
10:30—CBL, Ruby Ramoff Hour
10:30—CFRB, This is the Story
10:45—CBL, CJBC, Gen. Assembly
11:00—CBS, Linger Awhile
11:15—CFRB, On Today
11:30—CBL, Opening Night
11:30—CJBC, Prelude to Dreaming
11:30—WHEN, College Chorus

THEATRE FEATURE TIMES

AT THE BELLE — "Let's Dance" — a new musical starring Betty Hutton, Fred Astaire.

AT THE CAPITOL — "Song of New Mexico" — Gene Autry — 7.25, 10.00, "Wild Dynamite" — Leo Gorcey, Hunts Hall—8.15.

AT THE McCARTHY — "The Petty Girl"—in Technicolor—Robert Cummings, Joan Caulfield, Robert Cummings — 2.00, 7.00, 9.40.

AT THE TRENT THEATRE, Trenton — "Dear Wife"—Joan Caulfield, William Holden — 2.00, 7.00, 9.40. "Savage Splendor"—in Technicolor — 3.25, 8.30.

AT THE CAPITOL — Gene Autry and his wonder horse, Champion, are riding with the cavalry cadets in Columbia's "Sons of New Mexico," at the Capitol Theatre today and Saturday. On the same program Leo Gorcey, Hunts Hall with the East Side Kids appear in the comedy scream, "Kid Dynamite." Continuous show Saturday from 1.00, doors open at 12.30.

AT THE McCARTHY — "The Petty Girl", glamor girl of all time, is at the Odeon McCarthy Theatre with Joan Caulfield in the title role of the Columbia comedy with color by Technicolor. Robert Cummings co-stars.

EMPLOYEES RETURN

Toronto, Feb. 1. (CP)—Three thousand employees of the Massey-Harris Co., returned to work today after walking off the job an hour, early yesterday, in protest against a company wage offer.

The walkout, termed illegal by the company, was one of several to follow if Union demands are not met, leaders of the United Automobile Workers (C.I.O.-C.C.L.) said.

CAPITOL TODAY - SAT.

A GRAND SHOW FOR THE FAMILY!

CONTINUOUS SHOW SATURDAY FROM 1.00

Gene Autry and CHAMPION in SONS OF NEW MEXICO

THEIR BIGGEST SOCKCESS!

Wildest Riot These Rascals Have Ever Staged Anywhere!

EAST SIDE KIDS in KID DYNAMITE

Leo GORCEY Bobby JORDAN Hunts HALL Gabriel DELL

Plus: BUGS BUNNY CARTOON — SERIAL

STARTS MONDAY

FIRST TIME IN CITY

THE HAPPIEST DAYS OF YOUR LIFE starring MARGARET RUTHERFORD and ALASTAIR SIM

3 MONTHS AT THE CINEMA TORONTO

BE EARLY FOR GOOD SEATS.

AT THE BELLE — Betty Hutton and Fred Astaire in one of the big production numbers from Paramount's Technicolor musical hit, "Let's Dance," which opens today at the Belle Theatre. Frank Loesser wrote the score.

GUINNESS IS GOOD FOR YOU!!!

THE NEW YORK CRITICS AGREE WITH THOUSANDS IN TORONTO!

★★★★ "ALEC GUINNESS PLAYS 8 PARTS TO PERFECTION!" —NEWS

"MOVIE OF THE WEEK!" —LIFE MAGAZINE

"DELICIOUS SATIRE ... GUINNESS PLAYS WITH DEVASTATING WIT AND VARIETY" —TIMES

STARTS MONDAY

"KIND HEARTS AND CORONETS" McCARTHY

NOW PLAYING

THE GLAMOR GIRL OF ALL TIME STEPS FROM MAGAZINE and CALENDAR TO THE SCREEN!

The PETTY GIRL

COLOR BY TECHNICOLOR

Robert CUMMINGS Joan CAULFIELD with Elsa Lanchester Hedda Hopper and the 12 GLAMOROUS PETTY GIRLS

A COLUMBIA PICTURE

CONTINUOUS SATURDAY FROM 2.00

McCARTHY

SMOKE IN THE BALCONY

TRENT TRENTON TODAY & SATURDAY

Daily at .... 2.00 - 7.00 - 9.40

JOAN CAULFIELD WILLIAM HOLDEN in "DEAR WIFE"

— Also —

"SAVAGE SPLENDOR" — in Technicolor

IT'S A DATE, KIDS!

GIANT CARTOON & COMEDY CIRCUS

AT THE ODEON MOVIE CLUB SATURDAY MORNING AT 10 O'CLOCK

Doors Open at 9.30 — Come Early for Good Seats.

— ALSO SHOWING—

Final Chapter: "THREE BAGS FULL"

WATCH FOR OUR NEW SERIAL—

"Son of a Guardsman"

CHAPTER No. 1 STARTS SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 10th.

McCARTHY THEATRE

NEW MEMBERS ALWAYS WELCOME!

NO TAX

FRI. 60¢ PER PERSON

SAT. 75¢ PER PERSON

Club Vanity Fair

219 FRONT ST.

DANCING TONIGHT

and

EVERY WEDNESDAY FRIDAY & SATURDAY

MUSIC BY TRENT VALLEY RAMBLERS

ADMISSION 60c

HALL MAY BE RENTED

Phone 2316 for Reservations or 2421

V-I-S-I-T

SIDNEY INN

DELICIOUS HAMBURGS

LUNCHES — ICE CREAM

Special Home-Baked PIE

Just Past Top End of West Moira Street

JACK CARTER, Prop.

Telephone 173-W-1-4

TOPS IN RADIO ENTERTAINMENT!

"Your Army Presents"

Brought to you by the Canadian Army

STARRING

HOWARD CABLE

THE COMRADES IN SONG

TED HOCKRIDGE GISELLE

TERRY DALE

★

Be Sure to Listen! Every SATURDAY EVENING, 7.00 P.M. — CJBQ.

This program is offered to radio audiences in Belleville by HASTINGS and PRINCE EDWARD REGIMENT, BELLEVILLE, 8th ANTI-TANK REGIMENT (SP) R.C.A., BELLEVILLE

WANT TO HAVE FUN?

EVERYONE DOES

AT THE BIG

DIXIELAND and OLDTIME

JAMBOREE

SATURDAY NIGHT

TOBE'S COUNTY GARDENS

with

GRAYDON SHELDON'S OLDTIMERS

ADMISSION 75c

BROADCAST OVER CJBQ, 9 - 9.30 P.M.

Today - Saturday - Monday - Tuesday

Color by Technicolor

Betty Hutton and Fred Astaire... Best Of Their Kind... A Romantic Pair!... —In The Biggest Technicolor Musical Show Of All Time!

HUTTON ASTAIRE

Let's Dance

"Annie" Hutton and Fred Astaire are singing, dancing and romancing each other—in the musical that shouts one big word—TERRIFIC!

with ROLAND YOUNG · RUTH WARRICK LUCILE WATSON · GIGGEY MOFFETT

Produced by ROBERT FELLOWS

Directed by NORMAN Z. McLEOD

Screen play by ALLAN SCOTT

Adaptation & Dialogue by SIDNEY SKOLSKY

A PARAMOUNT PICTURE

A FAMOUS PLAYERS THEATRE

LATEST WORLD NEWS

COLORFUN CARTOON

BELLE

—ADDED ATTRACTION— SATURDAY MATINEE ONLY "REBECCA OF SUNNYBROOK FARM"

POP

MR. AND MRS. — By Arthur Folwell and Ellison Hoover

PENNY — By Harry Haenigsen

MARK TRAIL

TIPPIE AND "CAP" STUBBS — By Arthur Folwell and Ellison Hoover

LIL' ABNER — By Al Capp

BLONDIE — By Chic Young

TILLIE THE TOILER — By Russ Westover

JOHNNY HAZARD — By Frank Robbins

BRINGING UP FATHER — By George McManus

RUSTY RILEY — By Frank Godwin

OZARK IKE — By Ray Gotto

Your Individual Horoscope

By FRANCES DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

For Saturday, February 3

Those born March 21 to April 20—(Aries)—Much business progress can be accomplished under today's favorable planetary aspects. So work on this to the limit. Make plans for future as well as doing day's work well.

Those born April 21 to May 20—(Taurus)—Exercise; use that God-given right mind in proper manner. You can achieve. Healthy signs around you, but you must work it. Romance, social and home life favored.

Those born May 21 to June 21—(Gemini)—Exercise today, you can do more, feel better, if you keep an even pace. You in manufacturing, selling, advertising, building, in purchasing essential type of business, good outlook.

Those born June 22 to July 23—(Cancer)—Aspects stimulating. Don't worry or underestimate your ability and you will make a high mark. The surest way around isn't always the best, so think and act accordingly.

Those born July 24 to August 23—(Leo)—You may be tempted to jump at conclusions and have to retract words, or mistakes. Influences mixed. Use your better self come out ahead. Don't force issues for self or others.

Those born August 24 to September 23—(Virgo)—Sort of day for making plans when you combine mind and heart to solve problems. Some things look dull, uninspiring, but a little turn in the road may change the picture.

Those born September 24 to October 23—(Libra)—Don't play haphazardly. Know possibilities; have facts, figures, and use knowledge well. Care in money, business matters. Take helpful chances, think for yourself as well as rely on others.

Those born October 24 to November 22—(Scorpio)—Should not have to urge self today. Planetary outlook fine for your particular likings, personality. You can put over that deal with sensible application; good luck!

Those born November 23 to December 22—(Sagittarius)—Patience in work, with assistance will certainly be a virtue and a big lift in good results. Have the will to do your best, think and you will gain poise, time and success.

Those born December 23 to January 21—(Capricorn)—Your practical and economical nature will stand you well this type of day. There are limitations, study your outlook, pace your action carefully with Capricorn's sound mentality.

Those born January 22 to February 20—(Aquarius)—You are the fortunate one today. Stars in fine aspect for all worth-while endeavor. Any apparent doubt in ability to gain should be dispelled. You can judge wisely—do.

Those born February 21 to March 20—(Pisces)—A sane, bold front may be best attitude this mildly friendly day; but allow opposition to discourage, rather let it instil you to greater success; new moons is always propitious.

YOU BORN TODAY are determined, fond of music, art; appreciate scenery, literature. Cautious in business, new ideas; this is good if not overdone in these urgently forceful times. You can be up with the higher-precinct workers or employers if you maintain consistency. Co-operative action. Aquarius is alert, broad-minded and ready to change with new opportunity. Have care always in personal matters, guard against sudden attractions. Religion, high-minded companions will stand by you in all things.

Birthdate: Horace Greeley, American statesman, journalist; Mendelssohn, famed composer; Amos of Amos and Andy, radio stars.

(Copyright 1951, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 2, 1951 (Released by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

HORIZONTAL
1 Sketch
6 Starch, across
9 Pastry
12 Right of way
13 Fitting
14 Ireland
15 Danish north-central state
16 Note of scale
17 Form of "to be"
18 Tin
19 Portions
21 Operates
22 Fuel
25 Bright sayings
27 Garters
28 Kind of tie
29 Fine
30 Slate stain
32 Rambling, as a stage
33 Ocean
34 Indicator of direction
37 Direction
38 Road (dial.)
39 Sailor (sl.)
40 Malady
41 Mother
42 Freshwater duck
43 Pertaining to the genus Ovis
44 Pertaining to animal
46 Tree
47 Fuel
48 Pertaining to a kind of cheese
49 Pertaining to Sanskrit tree
50 Sanctioned
51 Pertaining to animal
53 Tree

VERTICAL
1 Sketch, across
2 Opalescent
3 Pronoun
4 To bring
5 Tie
6 To lay on a stringed instrument
7 Musical instrument (pl.)
8 Form of "to go"
9 Pound
10 Stained
11 Pertaining to Sanskrit
12 French for "and"
17 Caricature of Mr. Capp
20 Plain
21 A single serving
23 Kind of gun
24 Pertaining to Venus
26 Wag full of nothing
27 Vapory
29 Tidy
30 Source of poetry
31 Body of water (pl.)
32 To weary
33 To supply
34 Plain
35 Concise
36 Pertaining to money of account
37 Cook in certain manner
38 Tidy
39 More certain
40 Pertaining to Venus
41 Article of furniture
45 Short sleep
46 Judicial writ
47 Aloft
48 Therefore
50 French article
51 Japanese measure

Answer to Yesterday's Puzzle:

S	P	A	R		S	P	A		P	A	R	E
P	L	A	I	T		S	T	A	Y		S	T	U	N
T	E		P	E	A	R		O	R		E	R	A
	A	D		T			E			A	S	S	E	T
G	I	E	S		S	I	D		E	N	U	A
E	L	E		S	T	A	Y		S	T	E	E	N
		S	P	A	R			A	L	E
P	A	S	S	A	G	E		D	E	F
A	R	A		R	E	A		I	R	E
H	I	G	H	L	A	N	D		A	M	E
A	B	L	E		M	A	N		M	I	N

Copyright 1951 by The George Matthew Adams Service, Inc.

Police Hockey Squad 'Pinches' 6 R.D. Sgts., 3-2

It might be a bit of a warning to Fire Chief Vance's puck-chasing buckaroos, but it can be whispered about town now that Jim Driscoll's Police-Department rovers of the ice lanes went to No. 6 Regals' Depot on Wednesday night and trimmed the sergeants of that esteemed establishment 3-2 in a rather rugged hockey tilt.

It was close hockey all the way with the cop-pardon, police boys sparked by the physical calisthenics of one "Turkey" Pellissero in the nets smacking home a pair of counters in the first period on goals from "Pee-Wee" Paxman and "Hock 'Em" Rackham with "Mayhem" McKee drawing two assists and "Toots" Traaker another.

'Tis It Up

The air laddies however roared back into the picture in the second best and "Fats" Fuller racked through unassisted to score the only goal of the semester. The airmen, still full of vim and vigor tied up the pastime early in the final period when "Double" Cross banged one behind the Turk with help from nobody.

"Mayhem" McKee was the hero of the piece. After the teams had battled for 15 minutes, "Mayhem" slung his forty-five to the portside, muled up his girdle and skilled through to hit the hemp for the winning marker. "Hopsie" Marlood got the credit for the assist on the play.

Jim "Dippy-Doodle" Driscoll who earned that moniker hopping from coach to manager during the games, sometimes getting as both, was one of the busiest men in the hangar.

"Turkey" Pellissero and "Lawyer" Hurley, co-leaders in individual goals of shutouts for the winners while Fuller and Cassidy stood out for the sergeants.

The Teams:

Police: "Turkey" Pellissero (no relation to the mayor of N'Yawk) defence, Christie, Williamson; centre, Paxman; wings, McKee, McBride; subs, Lloyd, Cockburn, MacLeod, Fullerton, Rackham, Traaker, Mulholland and "Lawyer" Hurley.

6 R.D. Sergts: Goal, Todd; defence, Lafay, Narbonne; centre, Fuller, Wentzloff, Cross; subs, Gascoyne, Cole, Brickland, Lefranc, Cassidy, Joy, Kleitzsteiner, Russell.

CASH FOR YOUR CAR

Must be in GOOD CONDITION

BATEMAN MOTORS LTD.

215 PINNACLE ST

Phone 2380

BELLEVILLE

"Belleville's Largest Used Car Dealer"

MOIRA

Moira.—Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Welsh, Carol and Mrs. Martha Welsh, were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Dickens, Belleville.

Mrs. Fred Preston, Jean and Donna, were Thursday guests of Mrs. Preston's sister, Mrs. Donald McInroy and Mr. McInroy.

Mr. and Mrs. Angus Mumby attended the anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. George Mumby held at their son's home, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Mumby of Stirling, on Friday evening.

A large number attended the factory meeting held at Zion cheese factory on Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Morton, Thomasburg, were supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Donald McInroy, on Saturday night.

Sympathy from the community is extended to Mrs. John Holden and family, in the loss of a loving mother and grandmother, Mrs. Rollins.

Rev. Mr. Clarke was a dinner guest of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace McInroy, on Sunday.

The annual board meeting of West Huntingdon-Thomasburg charge was held in Moira United Church on Thursday, with a good attendance. The W.A. served a pot-luck dinner at 12:30, after which the business period followed with Rev. Mr. Clarke in charge.

IVANHOE

St. Andrew's Church Holds Annual Meeting

Ivanhoe—St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, West Huntingdon held their annual meeting on Wednesday evening.

The devotional exercises were conducted by Rev. W. H. V. Walker, who read Psalm 121 followed by prayer.

The treasurer's report was given by Mrs. Harold Thompson. Reports of the Ladies Aid, W.M.S., Sunday School, choir and Mission Band, all organizations showing a substantial balance.

The deepest sympathy of the session was expressed by the Rev. W. H. V. Walker, to the families bereaved during the year. He also expressed the appreciation of the session to the various organizations for their co-operation in the church's work.

Mrs. Morley Haggerty voiced the appreciation of the congregation to Rev. and Mrs. Walker for their fine leadership and their devoted and sympathetic service to the people. Mr. Walker closed with prayer and refreshments were served by the ladies.

Ivanhoe—Included in the guests at the Reid—Kirby wedding on Saturday were: Miss Myrtle Reid, Ottawa, and Mrs. Carl Rowson of Port Hope.

Master David Craig, of Belleville, spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. A. Duggan.

Miss Shirley Fleming, Reg. N., who spent the later part of the week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Fleming, left on Sunday for the Ontario Hospital, Kingston, where she has secured a position.

Miss Dereyse Vandome of Peterborough Normal School spent the weekend at her home here.

Mr. and Mrs. Keith Bray, Karen and Barry were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Harris.

The Huntingdon township Veterans' Club chartered a bus on Saturday and attended an O.H.A. game in Toronto.

The sympathy of this community is extended to the family of the late Mrs. Thomas Rollins whose death occurred at the home of her daughter, Mrs. John Holden of Moira on Sunday. Mrs. Rollins, a one time resident of Ivanhoe, was held in high regard by all friends here who regret her passing.

A cooking demonstration was given by Mr. Rodgers of Belleville at the home of Mrs. George Wood on Monday afternoon. There were 16 ladies present and at the close of the demonstration delicious refreshments were served by the hostess.

Judge Reserves Decision on Offer To Purchase Paper

Toronto, Feb. 2 (CP)— Mr. Justice R. I. Ferguson Thursday reserved decision of an application to buy the Sudbury Star and radio station CKSO of Sudbury and other assets of the late William E. Mason, publisher who died June, 1948.

The offer to purchase — which was not opposed— was made by a Sudbury group headed by James R. Meakes, publisher and general manager of the Star. Associated with him are George M. Miller, Sudbury lawyer; W. B. Flaunt, lumberman, and Judge James Cooper.

The sale is complicated because the estate comes under Ontario's Charitable Gifts Act, before his death Mr. Mason set up the W. E. Mason Foundation with the s m of $5,000,000 court was told.

A. W. R. Sinclair, counsel for the executor and prospective purchasers, said the trustees of the estate will transfer to the foundation all property received by the sale "to carry out the charitable aims cited in the will." The Sudbury Memorial Hospital was named as the principal charity.

The group offered $1,284,782 for the Star, its building, station CKSO's broadcasting and transmitter buildings and property, a garage and apartment building and a duplex.

MINERAL SOURCE

Much mineral wealth, particularly gold, is produced in Metabeleland, now part of Southern Rhodesia.

MINTO

St. Thomas' Church Holds Vestry Meeting

Minto—The annual vestry meeting of St. Thomas' Church, Rawdon, now under the pastoral care of the rector of Marmora, was held on Tuesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Colden. Rural Dean J. M. Brownlie, presided, and opened the meeting with prayer.

Mrs. Ted Preston was appointed Vestry Clerk. Minutes of last meeting were read and approved. The Stipend account was presented by Mr. Harry Geen, rector's warden, and the report of General Funds was presented by John Courtney, people's warden. Both funds were shown to be in good condition with all 1950 obligations paid in full.

Creditable Balances

The Missions report, given by Miss Edna Tanner, showed the apportionment had been paid.

This was followed by the W.A. report also given by Miss E. Tanner which reported a substantial balance after all obligations had been met.

The Cemetery Fund report was presented by Mr. John Courtney showing a creditable balance on hand.

At this juncture, the rector extended congratulations on the good balance shown on all funds.

Rural Dean J. M. Brownlie reappointed Harry Geen as his warden for 1951.

Mr. John Courtney was re-elected people's warden for 1951.

Mr. W. J. Tanner was appointed lay delegate to Synod for three years.

Thanks Tendered

Votes of thanks were accorded the wardens, also the organist Miss E. Tanner, and the caretaker of the church.

Rev. Brownlie was given a vote of thanks for his leadership of the congregation since his appointment.

In reply he thanked all on behalf of himself and Mrs. Brownlie, for kindness shown at Christmas time.

The meeting was closed with prayer. Mrs. Colden served refreshments and a social hour enjoyed.

Personals

Miss Colleen Colden is undergoing treatments in Kingston Hospital, this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Lindsay Tanner and Mrs. Morgan were Sunday evening supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Vernie Heath.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Clemens are moving to their new home in Stirling, this week.

Sympathy of the community extended Mr. and Mrs. Will Jones in the passing of their father, Mrs. Emma Harris, on Sunday morning. The funeral was held on Tuesday from their home service at the house at 2 p.m. with interment in St. Thomas Cemetery.

TINY TIM WINDOW BOX TOMATO

For pots, boxes or hanging baskets. Tiny Tim (only 3 inches high, dwarf and compact. Loaded with bright red fruit 1½ inches around. Though rather small, Tiny Tim produces delicious, meaty fruit before other house grown sorts and when chopped-in ornamental are so attractive. Colorful and delicious for pots or garden. (Pkt 20c) Order now!

FREE OUR BIG 1951 SEED AND NURSERY BOOK

DOMINION SEED HOUSE GEORGETOWN ONT.

Attention Farmers!

Bring whatever you have to the Belleville Livestock Arena. Sales every Tuesday, commencing at 1.00 p.m. Our methods of selling are the fairest for both buyer and seller — no guesswork. Government inspected scales, courteous service, large parking space south of sales barn. Hot meals served all day.

Enquiries are solicited.

PHONE 615-W

APPLIANCE and RADIO REPAIRS

WE GIVE ESTIMATES AND IF REQUESTED WILL SUPPLY YOU WITH A RADIO WHILE YOURS IS BEING REPAIRED

HITCHON RADIO

4 Bridge St. East Phone 854

INSURANCE MORTGAGE LOANS

Automobile Don'ts

Don't overtake on curves or hills or change lanes or "cut in" or pull out from curb suddenly. Don't count on the other fellow. Act for yourself. Obey traffic laws and give the usual signals.

JAMIESON BONE & CO.

163 FRONT ST. PHONE 1364

REAL ESTATE

MEMBER of the Ontario Association of Real Estate Boards and of the Canadian Association of Real Estate Boards.

GEO. N. GORMAN

166 FRONT ST. (Opposite City Hall)

REALTOR

NEW '51 TC SERIES

FARGO TRUCKS

give still more of the Features truck buyers want!

FLUID DRIVE

You can't imagine how smooth and easy truck operation can be until you've tried FARGO Fluid Drive! It provides a "power cushion" in the drive line that protects over 80 vital parts from excessive shock and strain. FARGO Fluid Drive is optional on all ½ and ¾-1 ton models.

LONGER VALVE LIFE

On the 3-ton and up—the FARGOS designed to do the especially heavy jobs—new sodium-cooled, stellite-faced exhaust valves provide extremely long valve life and better valve sealing. This greatly increased valve life means less tear-down for valve grinding and thus keeps your FARGO on the job.

EASIER LOADING

Re-designed rear springs provide a lower ground-to-floor height without affecting ground-to-axle clearance. Particularly helpful when loading heavy objects.

BETTER FUEL SYSTEM

A new, larger-capacity fuel pump delivers a greater flow of fuel without building up pressure in the lines. This means more even, more dependable power under all loads and freedom from carburetor flooding on starting.

EASIER HANDLING

This well-known FARGO feature is further improved by the addition of new worm-and-roller steering gears. FARGO is easier to handle and more comfortable to drive. FARGO's cross-type steering permits greatly reduced turning circles —both right and left.

IMPROVED IGNITION AND ELECTRICAL SYSTEM

Better bad-weather starting is assured by the use of moulded synthetic spark plug covers and a high-torque starting motor. A larger, 45-amp. generator takes care of a higher accessory load with less drain on the battery, 60-amp. and 85-amp. generators are available for special purposes.

PLUS MANY OTHER CHRYSLER-ENGINEERED FEATURES THAT MAKE FARGO TRUCKING MORE PROFITABLE!

TRUCKERS: These new 1951 FARGO trucks have been designed and built only after our careful on-the-job study of what truckers, in many fields of work, want in a truck. It is only natural, therefore, that you will find in these new FARGOS easier handling, easier loading, greater driver comfort, longer truck life—and many FARGO features that reduce trucking costs and increase trucking profits. We firmly believe these new 1951 FARGO trucks come closer to satisfying your trucking requirements than any truck in FARGO'S history.

Chrysler-Plymouth-Fargo Division
Chrysler Corporation of Canada, Limited

FARGO CHASSIS FEATURES

Rugged Frames • Tough, Shock-Resistant Springs • Strong Axles with Great Carrying Capacity • Wide Treads for Stability • Smooth-Acting, Big Frictional Area Clutches • Large, Dependable Brakes • Powerful Engines Suited to each Truck's Capacity.

FARGO CAB FEATURES

Safety, All-Steel Construction • Roomy, Comfortable Interiors • Controls Located for Maximum Efficiency and Convenience • Large Doors and Clear Floors for Easy Entrance from Either Side • Well-Insulated and Soundproofed • Excellent All-Around Vision.

CHRYSLER-BUILT FARGO TRUCKS COVER 98% OF ALL HAULING AND DELIVERY NEEDS!

Hey Kids! Lone Ranger Boots by Bata

To help the young cowboy or cowgirl to ride storms safely! Pull-on styls with real rubber spurs. Well made of good quality rubber with sturdy wide Tan with brown trim. Full colour Lone Ranger design is permanently vulcanized right into the rubber when the boot is made—won't come off or lose its brilliant colour. Don't wait for it to rain or snow . . . get a pair of these moderately priced boots at your favourite footwear store—today!

Bata GUARANTEE

All "Bata" made footwear shoes are guaranteed from defect and factory faults for one year from date of purchase unless . . . if you worn it out!

If these cowboy boots are not available in your neighborhood, write to Bata Shoes, Canada Limited, Batawa, Ontario, Canada.

YIPPEE! THEY'RE JUST LIKE THE BOOTS REAL COWBOYS WEAR!

Kent SHOES

KENT SHOE STORE

225 FRONT STREET

BUSINESS DIRECTORY

SERVICE

OIL BURNER and STOKER SERVICE
NORTH: Phone 39000 and ask 1050R
RADIO and APPLIANCE REPAIRS
VAN DUREN BROS. LTD.
228 Front St. Phone 3053
F1-48

J. J. DICKEY
Chartered Accountant
197 FRONT STREET
Jamieson Bros. Bldg.
TELEPHONE 3780

REAL ESTATE

IF YOU WISH TO BUY A HOME OR SELL YOUR PROPERTY
CALL
R. O. KEELER
(Realtor)
Member Ontario Association of Real Estate Boards
Telephone 3800-J
M34-1yr

FARM MACHINERY

FOR QUALITY SEE
IVAN MAY
JOHN DEERE DeLAVAL
BEATRICE LUNDY FARM
SALES and SERVICE
37 Dundas East Phone 4249
Evenings Phone 2305M

SAND and GRAVEL

CINDERS - FILL - CRUSHED ROCK - SNOW REMOVAL - DRIVEWAY PLOWING
IVAN MAY
Phone 4249 or 2305M
J6-1yr

ELECTRICAL CONTRACTING — REPAIR

BELL ELECTRIC REPAIR DEPOT
9 Footbridge Belleville
Phone 1128
SATISFIED CUSTOMERS OUR PRIDE
F1-49

ACCOUNTANTS

KENNETH J. SODEN
PUBLIC ACCOUNTANT - AUDITOR
Income Tax Consultant
BANK OF COMMERCE CHAMBERS
BELLEVILLE — PHONE 3240
A3-tf

W. S. STONE
CHARTERED ACCOUNTANT
BELLEVILLE and TRENTON
(Hotel Quinte Annex)
Phone 3240

GEO. A. WELCH & CO.
Chartered Accountants
BELLEVILLE — OTTAWA
Phone 4306 — 244 Pinnacle St.

ARCHITECT

W. A. WATSON, Architect
M. Arch, M.R.A.I.C.
Phone 3508 — 257 Front Street
now located at
244 FRONT STREET
(Next to Boyce's Garage)
D7-1yr

INSURANCE

Be thoroughly insured. Some half is saved when you're protected with Fire Insurance.
SANDY BURROWS
and
HOWARD FROST
LIFE and FIRE INSURANCE
11 FRONT Phone 2417 Phone 3888

HALL & EARLE
ACCIDENT and PLATE GLASS
General Insurance, Real Estate
278 FRONT ST. PHONE 1154-W

TYPEWRITER REPAIRS

THE JAMES TEXTS LIMITED
Prompt and Efficient Repairs on all Makes of Typewriters and Adding Machines
82 Dundas East
119 - 121 FRONT STREET
Phone 982

VENETIAN BLINDS

Known and Respected Throughout
LITE-FLEX STEEL OR ALUMINUM LATTICE
HOLWAY VENETIAN BLIND COMPANY
4 Day Delivery Guarantee
Phone 2325 — BELLEVILLE
M3-tf

CONTRACTORS

PIT RUN SAND AND GRAVEL
Or Crushed to Your Specifications
Crushed STONE, CONCRETE SAND and GRAVEL MIXED
Delivery or Fill Job
POWER SHOVEL — TRUCKS — COMPRESSORS
PHONE 195, TRENTON
J. D. VanALSTINE
CONSTRUCTION
A4-tf

BUILDING CONTRACTOR

JOHN V. WHITE
Successor to E. F. RUTHERFORD
GENERAL REPAIRS and NEW BUILDING
OFFICE: 86 ALEXANDER ST.
PHONE
Res 813 House 2535-J
J32-tf

VETERINARIAN

DR. PAUL FOSTER
VETERINARIAN
Office in
MacKENZIE FEED BUILDING
97 South Front St., Belleville
Office Hours:
10:00 to 12:00 Before 9 a.m. and
1:30 to 3:00 p.m.
Phone 3500
J5-1yr

ROOFING CONTRACTOR

QUINTE ROOFING
(B. L. QUINTERO, Prop.)
Gravel Built-up Flat Roofs—Asphalt Shingles—Siding Caulking
Waterproofing — Tile Floors
Phone 3980 BELLEVILLE
J31-tf

MIMEOGRAPHING RUBBER STAMPS

THE JAMES TEXTS LIMITED
Fast, efficient mimeographing all sorts of reports. Circular letters, Addressing, Duplicating, Typing. Checkers, etc. Three day service on all jobs. Rubber Stamps, Name Plates, Numbering Machines and Seals.
119-121 Front St. Phone 982
F6-tf

WELL DRILLING

McMILLAN and GARTLEY
(Formerly W. E. Gartley)
WELL DRILLING
Phone 3253-M
BELLEVILLE, ONT.

B. A. K. SMILEY
Box 72 Phone 114-21
MADOC
ALL TYPES OF WELL DRILLING
Steam CASING
NEW DRILLING RIG
PROMPT ATTENTION
A33-tf

FOOT SPECIALIST

H. W. ROBESON, M.N.
ALL FUNCTIONAL DISORDERS OF THE FEET
Pallor, Arches, Swollen Ankles, Rundown Feet, Heel Spurs, Bunions, Ingrowing Toenails, such as Arthritis, Sciatica, Backache
OFFICE HOURS: 9 to 12, 1 to 5, 7 to 8
146 FRONT ST. Phone 2-2-2
Belleville

CARETAKING CONTRACTORS

GORDON A. MacEACHERN
(G. FRED MAUND, Mgr.)
SPECIALISTS IN FLOOR FINISHING
WINDOW CLEANING — WALL WASHING
Manufacturers of
FINE MAINTENANCE PRODUCTS
FLOOR POLISHES FOR REST
238 Pinnacle St. Phone 82

FLOORS and WALLS

PIDUTTI — FABBRI
TILE and TERRAZZO CO.
GLAZED and CERAMIC FLOOR and WALL TILE
TERRAZZO FLOORS — Guaranteed Seamless on-Site and Terrazzo Tile for Prefabrication
Phone 3836
51 NORTH FRONT ST.
M30-1yr

BUILDERS' SUPPLIES

LUMBER

ROOFING — INSULATION — SIDING — WALLBOARDS — MASONITE — PLYWOOD — SASH — DOORS — MOULDING — HARDWARE
R. D. MOTT
370 FRONT ST. PHONE 1653
A3-1yr

CHIROPRACTORS

ROGERS RIEDEL, D.C.
Doctor of Chiropractic
Consultations by Appointment
42½ Bridge St. East
Suite 3 and 4
Office Telephone 3581
Residence Telephone 4356
J2-tf

R. A. WYATT, Ph.C.
Chiropractor and Drugless Therapist. Mineral Fume Baths with oil spray. Specialist in treatment of skin, Rheumatic conditions and neuro-sensitive surgery and sacro-iliac treatment.
Office and Residence
238 Coleman St., Belleville. Phone 900
LADY ATTENDANT
A31-tf

REAL ESTATE

BUYING OR SELLING-YOUR HOME?
Phone 4652
ERIC COOPER
General Insurance — Real Estate
and Business Broker
Life Insurance Consultant

UPHOLSTERING

OUR BUSINESS IS
UPHOLSTERING
RE-COVERING—RE-STYLING
1951 Materials
First Class Workmanship
Estimates — No Obligation
Visit or Phone
TOWNE UPHOLSTERERS Reg.
262 Dundas St. E. TRENTON
P.O. Box 335 Phone 1008

FEED and GRAIN

CORN DISTILLERS DRIED GRAINS
and
WOODSON MILLS LTD.
SUPPLIES ARE LIMITED, WE SUGGEST YOU ORDER NOW
Phone 806 105 S. John St.

W-A-N-T-E-D

YOUNG GIRLS
TO LEARN SEWING
GOOD PAY WHILE LEARNING
Excellent working conditions and steady employment.
THE BELL SHIRT COMPANY
205 Coleman St. CITY

FOR SALE

MODERN 3-ROOM BUNGALOW, last mill. Possession February 15th. Apply 24 Pinnacle, 179 John South City.
F2-tf

2 LIGHT HOUSEKEEPING ROOMS available for 2 girls. Also 2 bedrooms. Phone 3697-J.
F2-tf

3-ROOM UNFURNISHED HEATED APARTMENT. Available February 15. Apply 24 Pinnacle, 179 John South City.
F2-tf

APARTMENT, NEWLY DECORATED, Modernized. Very sunny. Right-hand door. Phone 3-W.
F2-tf

APARTMENT, 3 OR 4 ROOMS, 2nd floor, Fairs Honey, 2 miles east of city on Kingston. 3697-J.
F2-tf

2 UNFURNISHED ROOMS, UNHEATED. Phone 3696-J.
F2-tf

FURNISHED, HEATED, BEDROOM. Apply 69 Victoria Ave.
F2-tf

ROOM AND BOARD IN PRIVATE HOME. Phone 3-W.
F2-tf

HEATED, FURNISHED ROOM with foot plate. Suit business man or woman. Use of Shower. Close to bus stop. Phone 4346-W.
F2-tf

NICELY FURNISHED BEDROOM in new home. Suitable for gentleman. Hot water. Bus service. Phone 3697-J.
F2-tf

FURNISHED ROOM, KITCHENETTE, refrigerator. Suitable for one. Phone 3207-M after 6 p.m.
F2-tf

2 FURNISHED ROOMS. APPLY 121 St. Peter St.
F2-tf

4-BEDROOM HOUSE, WEST HILL. Apply 24 Pinnacle, 179 John South City.
F2-tf

SPECIAL FEB. SALE CLEARANCE of Electric Irons. Reg. $7.95 for $4.95; Reg. $9.95 for $6.95; Reg. $12.95 for $8.95; Reg. $14.95 for $9.95. Complete with cord, while they last. Wrays Home Furnishings.
F2-tf

2 FURNISHED ROOMS. Apply 121 St. Peter St.
F2-tf

4-BEDROOM HOUSE, WEST HILL. Apply 24 Pinnacle, 179 John South City.
F2-tf

SPECIAL FEB. SALE CLEARANCE of Electric Irons. Reg. $7.95 for $4.95; Reg. $9.95 for $6.95; Reg. $12.95 for $8.95; Reg. $14.95 for $9.95. Complete with cord, while they last. Wrays Home Furnishings.
F2-tf

SQUARE BALED HAY. APPLY H. M. HOWARD, R. R. 2, Belleville. Phone 3500-R-2.
F2-tf

300 BUSHELS CHOICE TABLE POTATOES. Phone 3697-J.
F2-tf

USED MILKER UNITS INSTALLED new pails with two single units, pump, electric motor, 220 volt, only $150.00 down. We also have single and double units for sale. Also used Grinding Mixers, Dump Boxes, Feed Carriers. Write for Dealer, 105 Church St., Belleville.
F1-tf

SHETLAND MARE pony 11½ hands. Apply Wm. Bailey, Shannonville.
F1-2tc

HAY, GRASS, ALFALFA, feed clover, timothy, in square bales, the bale. Phone 717 Stirling.
F1-2tc

ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND FEET white pine lumber. Apply Ed. Kitchener, R. R. 3, Belleville.
F1-2tc

DESIRABLE BUILDING LOT, 70 frontage, in Thurlow Township, convenient to bus stop. Write Box 43, Intelligencer, Belleville.
F1-2tc

EXCELLENT BUILDING LOT, close in, just off Dundas St., 85 ft. frontage. J. Ireland 3138.
J30-tf

TWO BLACK LABRADOR RETRIEVER male dogs, 1 year old, tracking blood lines. Male, $20. Female $15. Apply Lorne Hagerman, R. R. 3, Coop, Campbellford.
J26-2tc

COOK REFRIGERATOR, suitable for boxes, new or used. Large stock of Refrigerator parts and units. Bill Dallas Ltd., 383 Coleman St., Phone 2311.
C26-tf

TO LET

ROOM, BUSINESS LADY. PRIVATE home. Phone 3-W.
F2-tf

LARGE, BRIGHT, COMFORTABLE, well-furnished, new home, oil heated, fifteen minute bus service. Suitable for gentleman. Phone 3-W.
F1-2tc

ROOM AND BOARD. GENTLEMEN preferred. Private home. Phone 3-W.
F1-2tc

3-ROOM APT. FRONT ED. AVAILable at once. Write Box 82, Quinte Intelligencer.
F1-2tc

HEATED BED-SITTING ROOM for 1 or 2 gentlemen. Use of bath and privileges. Phone 3833-M.
F1-2tc

LIGHT HOUSEKEEPING ROOM with bath for business couple. Call 1000 Phone 1709-R.
F1-2tc

SINGLE ROOM, HOME PRIVILEGES, for gentleman. Phone 3898-J.
F1-2tc

TWO FURNISHED HOUSEKEEPING rooms, suitable for room, board for one gentleman. Very central. Apply 23 Forin St. Phone 3056.
F1-2tc

3-ROOM APARTMENT, NEWLY decorated, oil furnished, ground floor. Oil heated. Close to bus lines. Suitable for couple or 2 business girls. Phone 1654-J after 5 p.m.
F1-2tc

3-ROOM SELF-CONTAINED APT. for new modern home on East Hill. Refrigerator, electric stove, hot water. Immediate possession if required. For particulars apply to Quinte Intelligencer.
F1-2tc

FRONT 3-ROOM HEATING APT. for gentleman. Telephone, continuous hot water. Close to bus and Separate Schools. Phone Protestant, Attabetsers. 926-R.
J31-2tc

DOWNTOWN FRONT BEDROOM, twin bed. 43 Victoria Ave. Apply
J31-2tc

3-ROOMED, FURNISHED, HEATED apartment on No. 2 Highway, West Hill. Near to bus, Attabetsers, Bus 82. Phone 3500-R-2 Belleville.
J31-2tc

COMFORTABLE BEDROOM, ALSO room with kitchenette privilege. Gentleman preferred. Phone 3-W.
J31-2tc

3-ROOM APT. NEAR AIRPORT. Phone Trenton 944-J-14.
J31-tf2

COMFORTABLE, BRIGHT ROOMS for young men. Use of club facilities. Breakfast optional. Two self-catering bed sitters. Phone 413, 30 Campbell Street.
J27-tf

PERSONALS

CRESS SUNBURN SALVE FOR amazing relief. Your druggist sells it.
F1-2tc

LOST

LADY'S LEATHER WALLET CONtaining sum of money. Reward. Finder kindly call 6615-W. Stewart.
F1-2tc

WANTED — MALE

DUE TO INCREASED BUSINESS, Fuller Brush Company requires additional men. Openings now while training. If you qualify. Phone 3-W.
F2-tf

VACANCY — RAWLEIGH BUSINESS now open in Belleville and district established. Excellent opportunity for right man. Write Rawleigh's Dept. M-C-135-188, Montreal.
F2-tf

OPPORTUNITY FOR CAPABLE MAN to represent well established manufacturer of famous Food Products to call on local dealers and consumers in Belleville and surrounding district. Products include Spices, Extracts, Baking Powder, Jellies etc. Salary, commission, car allowance and expenses. Applicant made promptly to owner-advertising manager, Dominion Molasses Company Limited, 560 Lansdowne St. West, Peterborough, Ontario.
F2-tf

ROUTE MAN, YOUNG MARRIED man for local route. Permanent opportunity of good character, eligible for car. Apply Rawleigh's Dept. M-C-135-188, Montreal.
F2-tf

SALESMAN FOR BELLEVILLE district. Applicants must have some experience, not essential. Excellent remuneration, car allowance, substantial start, qualifications, acquaintance if any, Belleville area. Permanent employment. Write Box 97, Quinte Intelligencer, stating age, etc.
F1-2tc

TRACTOR - TRAILER DRIVER. Must be thoroughly experienced, have good knowledge of mechanics. No others need apply. State qualifications and wages expected to Box 88, Ontario Intelligencer.
J31-2tc

WANTED — FEMALE

WAITRESS. HIGHEST WAGES PAID meals included. Apply in person only. Apply Belmont Restaurant.
F2-tf

WAITRESS, EXPERIENCE UNNECessary. Highest wages, meals and uniforms included. Apply in person only, The Gulet.
J31-2tc

WANTED

TYPING TO DO AT HOME OR PART time outside. Phone 3727-M.
F2-3t

$2,500 MORTGAGE ON COMPLETED new home. Good location. Write Box 100, Ontario Intelligencer.
F2-3t

UPHOLSTERING TO BUILD. REpair work of all kinds. Alterations, etc. Choice to begin. Work guaranteed. Phone 234-J-13.
F29-3t1-F2

TO BUY A FARM NEAR BELLEville. Give full particulars. Possession preferred. Apply to P.O. Box 62, Hyde, Ont.
F2-3t

RELIABLE PERSON WOULD LIKE part time housework by the hour or day, 6½ per hour. Phone 3-W.
F2-2t

FURNITURE TO UPHOLSTER AND repair. Full estimates free by night. Gordon's Upholstery. Phone 4346-W.
J31-3t

SCRAP TIRES AND TUBES HIGHest prices paid. Overman Bros., 31 Station St. Phone 477.
J30-2tc

SEND YOUR KNITTING NOW TO "The Woman's Point of View Contest." Win a new Kenmore automatic iron. For details watch Page 6, Van Dusen Ltd., 203 Front Street.
J19-tf

PIANO, WILL STORE PIANO IN warm spot, for use of same. Phone 3-W.
J31-2tc

USED ELECTRIC MOTORS AND hobby equipment. Phone 4332.
J19-tf

LIVE POULTRY, HIGHEST CASH price paid. Orders solicited. Prompt attention. Apply 14 Marcus, 153 James St., Belleville. Phone 948.
M10-tf

NOTICE

Meeting of the patrons of Roslin and Rose Hall S.S. No. 4 Thurlow Township will be held on Monday, February 5th, at 8 p.m. for the purpose of discussing the matter of the additional accommodation at Roslin.
School Trustee Board,
Sidney E. R. No.
J31-2t

NOTICE

There will be a meeting of the ratepayers of Sidney S. No. 4, at Rose Hall, (opposite Rathyn), on Friday, February 9th, at 8 p.m. for the purpose of discussing the matter of the additional accommodation at Roslin.
School Trustee Board,
Sidney E. R. No.
J31-2t

FOR BETTER HOME COMFORT and FUEL ECONOMY

Call 4567
OIL BURNERS
AIR CONDITIONERS
24-HOUR SERVICE
AUTOMATIC HEATING
and AIR CONDITIONING
SALES and SERVICE
75 Station St. Belleville

AUCTION SALE

AT THE COMMUNITY LIVESTOCK EXCHANGE on the
WILLIAMS' FARM
1 Mile West of Heard's
Stirling to Campbellford Road

Every Monday

This is one of the largest auctions in Ontario. If you have any livestock to sell, bring it here. If you want to buy, come here. Everything from a cow to an ox and bring it with you.

HOT MEALS SERVED

ARTICLES FOR SALE

ACME RANGE WITH HIGH OVEN warming compartment, high speed burners, fancy chrome, 4 holes. $220.00.
F2-2t

OIL STOVE, LARGE size, Phone 2230-R.
F2-2t

BABY PRAMS, DELUXE MODELS. Two Tone Pram with 13" gears. Regular $69.95 to clear $53.95. Regular $74.95 to clear $59.95. Wrays Home Furnishings.
F2-tf

NEW CONTINENTAL KINGSIZE silk coated, 11½ h.p. Suitable for cement or other heavy mixing. Special $125. Gas Portable Sprayer, 3 h.p. Briggs & Stratton $115. Quinte Trailers Motors Ltd. Phone 3-W.
F2-tf

CONSOLE MODEL MARCONI RADIO cabinet, 8 tube, with 12" speaker. In good condition. Apply 39 Church St. after 5 p.m. Phone 1068-M.
F1-2t

PIANO, GOOD CONDITION, VERY reasonable. Phone 647-W-13.
F1-2t

4-PC. WALNUT DINETTE SUITE, like new. Also chesterfield. Both conditions. Phone 4332.
F1-2t

BABY CHAMP RADIO IVORY, 3 tubes with standard and short wave. Built-in antenna. Excellent condition. Apply 39 Church St. after 5 p.m. Phone 1068-M.
F1-2t

HAMILTON RAILROAD WATCH. 21 jewel, adjusted. Will sell, new or sensible. Phone 1407-J.
F1-2t

ONE ONLY FIRESTONE GASOLINE range, with oven. Phone 2311, 383 Coleman Street.
J31-2t

THREE USED OIL BURNERS, installed and guaranteed. Terms if desired call 2311, 383 Coleman St., Belleville.
J31-2t

ONE MOFFAT COMBINATION coal, wood and electric. Bill Dallas Ltd., 383 Coleman St., Phone 2311.
J31-2t

SPECIAL EVERCOLD REFRIGERATOR, 6 cubic feet capacity. Full year guarantee. For sale for cash or terms. Bill Dallas Ltd., 383 Coleman St. Phone 2311.
J31-2t

QUEBEC HEATER, MEDIUM SIZE. Hamilton steel range, enamel with water front; baby's toilet seat, with pail; 2 kitchen cupboards; garbage burner; brown steel plant crib, large; 2 pairs of curtains, 2 yards long. Phone 243 Bleecker Ave.
J31-2t

SPACE HEATER, FINDLAY, LARGE size, used only 4 months, like new. Phone 3-W.
J31-2t

PHILCO COMBINATION RADIO-phonograph. Excellent condition. 6 months to pay. Only $189.95. Wrays Home Furnishings.
J31-2t

BEAUTIFULLY DESIGNED CABINET for Dr. Devlin's Electric Cough Front Set.
J27-tf

TRADE IN YOUR OLD ELECTRIC iron on a new Proctor-Silex iron. Worth $3.00 on each purchase. Wrays Home Furnishings, Ltd., 239 Front St.
J19-2

NEW AND USED BATH TUBS, basins, sinks, hot water tanks, all kinds of pipe and pipe fittings, oil and heating goods, soil pipe and fittings. Belleville Plumbing & Heating, 85 Church.
J17-1m

SEE THE NEW QUALITY STANDARD steel washers at David's Electric Shop, 249 Front St. Let us show you this outstanding washer; tomorrow.
J31-2t

BUILDING CONTRACTORS

S. E. McCRORY CONSTRUCTION Company, commercial and industrial repairs, alterations, water proofing. Phone 3598.
J30-tf

WHITE LUMBER AND CONSTRUCtion Co. Ltd., for all your repairs, alterations and additions to industrial and commercial buildings. 14 Front North. Phone 3477.
J30-tf

NOTICE OF APPLICATION TO THE LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Council or Revisors of the City of Belleville, intend to apply to the Legislative Assembly of Ontario at its next session for an Act to amend the Act confirming and declaring By-law No. 6144 of the Corporation of the City of Belleville, being a By-Law to grant a Bonus to the Belleville Cordage Co. Ltd., a Bonus to provide and operate a Municipal Telephone System, and to repeal By-law No. 6145 of the Corporation of the City of Belleville, and to make the said By-law No. 6144 of the City of Belleville, valid and binding upon the said Corporation and the Ratepayers thereof, and upon the said Thomas Frederick Wallbridge and upon all other person or persons affected thereby.
DATED at Belleville, Ontario, this 3rd day of January, A. D. 1951.
ROBB, MORDEN, CASS, 13 Campbell Street,
Belleville, Ontario,
Solicitors for the Applicant.
J5-2t-13-20-27-J-2

BUSINESS LINERS

CUSTOM MADE SLIP COVERS. Chesterfields and chairs in your own material. Phone 3-W.
F2-tf

Cash for your car. Phone 3-W. Percival's, 280 Front St. Phone 4309
F1-eon-w-f-tf

AUCTION SALE

Of modern and antique household effects. Estate of Mrs. W. J. Adams will be held on the Market Square on Saturday, February 3rd, at 1.30 o'clock. Electric stove (Moffat); electric washer; chesterfield suite; upholstered arm chair; walnut bedroom suite; bridge lamps; chesterfield suite; studio couch; dining room suite; 9 pieces; small rug; 3 congoleum rugs; walnut hall rack; walnut chest of drawers; walnut tables; rocker (antique); table (antique); kitchen cupboard; kitchen table; chairs; gate-leg table; dishes; pots and pans; and other articles. Terms Cash. No reserve.
H. E. TICE
Auctioneer
Phone 1376 Auctioneer 11 Tenemas St.
J30-2t-3

ACCOM. WANTED

THREE OR FOUR ROOM APT. BY middle-aged couple without children. Box 82, Ontario Intelligencer.
J31-2t

HOUSE OR APT. SUPERIOR TYPE for responsible couple without children. Excellent tenants. Write Box 100, Ontario Intelligencer.
J31-2t

CHRISTIAN COUPLE WITH MONTH-old child require 2 or 3 roomed unfurnished apartment with bath; also rent, Attabetsers, Box 3, Ontario Intelligencer.
J31-2t

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE

2-ROOM BUNGALOW, CHATHAM St. Hardwood floors, modern kitchen, oil heated, insulated, weather stripped. Low payment $3,000. Possession February 15th.
BELLEVILLE INSURANCE Phone Carl Cox 2977.
F2-2t

NEW, MODERN, BUNGALOW, 3 bedrooms, full basement, attached garage, Lot 100 by 200. Immediate possession.
EAST HILL, 3 BEDROOM CAPE COD. Living room, dining room, kitchen, 3 bedrooms, bathroom, 4 piece tube, also bd. $9,900. Down payment $2,000.
THREE BEDROOM BUNGALOW. Living room, dining room, kitchen, fully landscaped lot, garage, $10,900.
NEW 4-PLEX BRICK BUILDING, low, three bedrooms, large living room, dining room, kitchen, bathroom, oil heated, hot water heating, attached garage, Lot 100 by 200.
NEW 2-STOREY BRICK HOME, 3 bedrooms, large living room and dining room, 4 piece bathroom, garage, $8,900. Down payment $2,000.
Basement apartment provides good revenue.
WOODLAWN, NEW, THREE-BED-room Cape Cod. Living room, fireplace, hardwood floors, modern kitchen, full basement, plastered, insulation and weather stripped, oil heated.
EAST STREET, NEW, 3 BEDROOM bungalow with lovely sun room, living and dining room, kitchen, basement, oil burner, garage, complete with all landscaping.
EAST HILL, NEW, NEARLY FINISHED, 3 bedroom bungalow, living room, dining room, fireplace, modern kitchen, sun forced air heating.
WOODLAWN, NEW, 3 BEDROOM bungalow, living room, dining room, kitchen, attached garage, hot water heating, basement, oil burner, insulated. A luxurious home, $18,900.
EAST HILL, NEW, 3-BEDROOM bungalow, oil burner, garage, fireplace, hot water heating, basement, tile bath, Queen, $14,900.
STONE AND TWO BEDROOM BUNGalow, large living room, fireplace, modern kitchen, 4 piece bath, basement, hot water heating, garage, $11,900.
WE HAVE ABOUT 20 OTHER homes for sale.
K. J. SAUNDERS
Real Estate — Insurance
Bank of Nova Scotia Building
East Room 2nd Floor
Phone 3-W
J31-2t

BUILDING SUPPLIES

LUMBER, SHINGLES, DOORS, sashes, millwork, paints, builders' hardware. Houston Company Limited, St. Paul Street. Phone 1977.
J30-tf

LUMBER, ROOFING, INSULATION, siding, doors, mouldings, millwork, paints, floors, insulating board, wood flooring. Bell, 370 Front Street. Phone 1653.
J30-tf

NOTICE

Headquarters Officers Mess 9th Anti-Tank Regiment party to be held shortly, Belleville, changed to Friday, May 18, 1951.
J31-2t

PLUMBING and HEATING

Real Estate — Insurance
E. J. BAUNDERS
Bank of Nova Scotia Building
East Room 2nd Floor
Phone 3-W
J31-2t

EAST HILL, NEW 3-BEDROOM brick bungalow, living room, dining and kitchen, full basement, insulated and weather stripped, oil heated, hot water heating, garage. Down payments, Phone 4193-M.
$4,500 COMPACT 5-ROOM STUCCO bungalow, with bath, hardwood floors.
$4,700 6-ROOM FRAME HOUSE, with bath, hardwood floors. Phone 4193-M.
$6,250. SOLID BRICK HOUSE ON 100 foot lot, 3 bedrooms, double living room, dining room, kitchen, 4 piece bathroom.
$11,850. MODERN BUNGALOW, six rooms and bath. Full basement with recreation and laundry room. Beautiful landscaped lot.
$16,500. 7-ROOM SOLID BRICK home with double garage and full basement, hot water with oil heating. Phone 4193-M for full particulars of homes on the East Hill.
OTHER PROPERTIES NOT LISTED. Apply
ERIC COOPER
Real Estate — Insurance
Phone 4652 278 Dundas St. E.
J30-tf

TOURIST CAMP 1½ MILES FROM city of Belleville on Highway No. 2. Comprising 8 cabins and Industrial frame 12-roomed house including 2 bathrooms, 2 kitchens, basement, 3 cabins; large 3-car garage with inspection pit; cabins and house on electric land including orchard and 2 wells. Owner must retire and will sell at bargain for a motel. For further information call or write Industrial Enterprises.
J29-tf

OUTSIDE CITY, 4-ROOM BRICK bungalow, garage, large lot. Low taxes, $3,500. Phone 255-J-3.
J26-tf

NOTICE TO CREDITORS AND OTHERS

IN THE ESTATE OF JAMES ALBERT CHRISTIE,
Late of the City of Belleville, in the County of Hastings, Retired Farmer.
All persons having claims against the estate of the said James Albert Christie, late of the City of Belleville, in the County of Hastings, who died on the 12th day of December, 1950, are required to send particulars of their claims to the undersigned on or before the 15th day of February, 1951, after which date the estate will be distributed having regard only to the claims of which the undersigned shall then have had notice and the undersigned will not be liable for the said estate or any part thereof to any person of whose claim he shall not then have had notice.
JAMES ALBERT CHRISTIE,
(Isabella Christie)
(Willbert Christie)
Executors.
By: ROBB, MORDEN, CASS,
Barristers, etc.,
13 Campbell Street,
Belleville, Ont.
Solicitor for the Executors.
J19-3t-F2

AUTOMOBILES FOR SALE

PLYMOUTH, 1938 SEDAN, COLOR brown. This car is in good condition throughout and would make a dependable family car. Trade-in accepted. Quinte Trailers Motors Limited.
F2-2t

1940 DODGE SEDAN, CLEAN. In good condition. Low mileage. Splendid condition throughout.
F2-2t

DODGE 1947 SEDAN, LIGHT BLUE color, Heater, Defrosters. Recently tuned up and mechanically perfect, guaranteed to protect the buyer. Trade-in accepted. Price definitely at only $1,350. We invite you to look over this car. Quinte Trailers Motors Limited. Trenton.
F2-2t

'38 CHEV. COACH. GOOD CONDITION. Phone 60 Everett St.
F2-2t

1948 AUSTIN 4-DOOR SEDAN FOR sale at $1,150. Higher car value for the excellent condition of this car. Trade-in accepted. Quinte Trailers Motors Limited. Phone 3800. Trenton.
F2-2t

1949 THAMES ½-TON PANEL. Apply Chas. Barker, c/o Lottie Jones, Foxboro, Ont.
F2-2t

OLDSMOBILE SEDAN, 1937, PRIvately owned. New tires, Gas guarantee. Will sell or trade for clean condition. Apply Box 63, Ontario Intelligencer.
J31-2t

41 CHEV. COACH, GOOD CONDITION: 36 Ford 1-ton pick-up; 32 Chev. 1-ton pick-up; 36 Chev. 1-ton pick-up. Apply Arthur Hayward, Harold St., Phone 2-21 between 5 and 6 p.m.
J31-2t

'47 DODGE 2-TON TRUCK, USED 30 months, school bus chassis; 42 International 1½-ton truck, stock with Mrs. Clayton Fisher, Thomasburg. Phone 2-21 Marlbank.
J31-2t

TENDERS

Tenders are requested for furniture and other equipment for the New Belleville Collegiate Institute, Dundas Avenue. Complete information may be secured from the office of the Board's Secretary. Tenders will be received by the undersigned up to 5 p.m., March 1st, 1951.
THE BOARD OF EDUCATION
Belleville, Ontario
L. A. Kelly,
Secretary and Administrator.
F1-3t

WARMINSTER DAIRY COMPANY LTD.

Tenders are received instructions from the Trustee, Mr. Stewart Clendon, to sell, by Public Auction on the premises, on Saturday, February 10th, 1951, at 1 p.m., the following property, namely: Mortgage For sale: Lot 6, Plan 1, Sidney Township, about one mile from Belleville, about 2 acres; buildings, cheese factory 30' x 32', 1½ story, with concrete floor and walls; 2 storey brick dwelling, 30 x 30 with 2 storey addition, one 20 x 30 with 2 storey addition, one 20 x 30 with 2 storey addition, one 20

TRYST

By Elswyth Thane

She went into the house and climbed the stairs, Bella pattering at her heels. Sabrina's room was lighted behind a closed door but Aunt Effie passed it by and came to the second flight. There Bella balked.

"Come Bella," Aunt Effie insisted; but Bella made odd small noises in her throat and stayed where she was.

Aunt Effie felt a little queer. The lights were certainly on, and so the door must have been unlocked. Gathering herself together, she went on up the stairs, laid her hand on the knob and opened the door.

"Sabrina!" she said uncertainly.

The brightly lighted room was empty.

Hilary had had time to lay down his book and retreat to the farthest corner by the chest of drawers when he heard her coming.

Aunt Effie gazed about her unhappily for a moment, and then found the master switch near the door and pressed it. She closed the door hastily descended the stairs to the passage, where Bella welcomed her as though she had returned from the North Pole.

For once oblivious of the little dog, Aunt Effie went to Sabrina's door, knocked, and put her head in. Sabrina was reading in bed, and turned a smiling innocent face towards her visitor.

"Hello, Auntie," she said. "Going to bed now?"

Aunt Effie glanced behind her into the passage and then spoke in a lowered voice.

"Sabrina—when were you in that room last?"

With only an instant's hesitation, Sabrina told the truth.

"This afternoon."

"Before dark?"

"Yes, Auntie."

"But I have just fought all the lights on up there."

With only an instant's hesitation, Sabrina tried to lie.

"Oh, yes—I did run up for just a minute on my way to bed—to make sure I'd put my book back, I mean. I must have left them on then."

It was very tiresome of Hilary to have given himself away like that.

Aunt Effie was not wholly satisfied—there was the matter of Bella—but she went on down to the living room and found her needlework in its embroidered bag with wooden handles. Then she rang the bell, and settled herself in an armchair under a lamp.

It was Jennie who answered the bell.

"Please tell Mrs. Pilton I want to speak to her," said Aunt Effie.

In a few minutes the housekeeper stood before her in the lamplight, composed and inscrutable as always.

"Did you give my niece the key to that room upstairs?" Aunt Effie began rather obliquely.

"Yes, I did. I knew it was the only way to stop her fretting."

"But you knew it was against my wishes."

"I hoped you might overlook that, if you saw a change for the better in her."

"I'm afraid I can't afford to overlook it, The day Mr. Sherstone was here and I learned—learned of his brother's death," guessed Aunt Effie with difficulty, "I decided that it would be better for the child—healthier —if she was not allowed to enter the room again. I don't feel it's natural!" Aunt Effie was uncomfortably aware of a brief flicker in the woman eyes. "Do you?" she insisted.

"That's hard to say," Mrs. Pilton said cautiously. "It might be."

"Mrs. Pilton —have you ever felt there's something — well, something strange about this house lately?"

"Most houses have something strange about them, one way or another," was all Mrs. Pilton would say to that.

"Then you admit there is something! Do you know what it is?"

"It's nothing to be afraid of, I'm sure," said Mrs. Pilton and it was almost as though she had smiled.

Aunt Effie stared at her anxiously, her needlework forgotten.

"But how do you know that? What is it?"

"I might be someone who once lived in the house—and has come home again," the woman replied simply, but Aunt Effie rose from her chair with a little cry of comprehension and horror.

"The one who was killed in India! But this is awful!" cried Aunt Effie. "I must take her away at once!"

"If I might say so," began Mrs. Pilton, and the quiet words were like a restraining hand on Aunt Effie's arm, "you ought to think twice before you try to take Miss Sabrina right out of the house. It might be dangerous to interfere."

"Dangerous to—!" That left Aunt Effie very nearly speechless. "I didn't mind very much when she began to make a—a friend of a man she would probably never meet," she floundered. "But now it's as though she had—fallen in love with—with a ghost! You should have told me about this sooner! You—you should have warned me!"

"I did my best way would be—and we didn't notice anything at all."

"But that's impossible! It can't go on! Where would it lead to?" She might outgrow it. Or he might go away. In any case, it isn't a thing you can decide about."

"I have already decided!" said Aunt Effie obstinately. "We shall leave the house at once. I shall speak to her father. We shall take her back to London as soon as possible."

"I suppose you must do as you think best," said Mrs. Pilton drily, and turned away as though dismissed. "Goodnight."

Aunt Effie watched with resolute footsteps across the hall and tapped on her brother's study door.

"Alan, I must speak to you."

He looked up at her over his spectacles, his pen poised. "Yes, Effie—what is it now?"

She came in and sat down on the edge of the chair at the end of the desk facing him, her hands pressed tight together in her lap.

"Alan—I've just had the fright of my life. I've got to leave this house at once. We've got to go back to London."

In spite of his habitual preoccupation, something of her urgency communicated itself to him. "My dear Effie—" he began, laying his pen down.

"Alan, I'm worried about Sabrina. It's that room upstairs—the one that belonged to the brother who d-died. She's got into it again. Mrs. Pilton gave her the key!"

"Well, so long as the family them?—I can't see that it matters much.

Aunt Effie looked at him hopelessly. The task of explaining to him about the brightly lighted empty room where Bella would not go, and about her unnerving interview with the housekeeper, was beyond her.

Quite unexpectedly, even to herself, Aunt Effie began to cry.

"Effie!" He was thoroughly horrified. "Effie, what in the world—I had no idea you were so upset! Here—take my handkerchief!"

At last Aunt Effie blew her nose, and visibly braced herself.

"Alan, I want to go back to Town. Just as soon as possible. We must go. For Sabrina's sake. We must get her away from that room. It's not right for her to become so—obsessed — with a dead man's things. It's—it's macabre! She might go mad!"

"I am the one," said Father, with exaggerated patience "who will go mad. Must we go all the way back to London to separate Sabrina from this—so-called obsession? Or would some other house in the district do?"

"No, no, we must go right away, Alan! Right away back to London! And I think Sabrina had better get at once to some nice school again for a while—"

"But the last time we put her in a school you distinctly told me that that sort of thing was no good to her!"

"I know," she sighed. "It's so hard to know what to do. I can never be sure—"

"How old is she?" he asked suddenly.

"Why Alan. Your own daughter! She'll be 18 in September, you know that as well as I do!"

"That's not for a school, isn't it? I might have her tutored for Girton, I suppose—"

(To Be Continued)

CUTTING INDUSTRY

Sawmills at Vancouver slice through 15,000,000 feet of lumber a year.

WE TAKE PLEASURE IN ANNOUNCING THAT WE HAVE BEEN APPOINTED AGENTS FOR

Underwood Typewriters

IN BELLEVILLE and VICINITY

ENQUIRIES INVITED.

O'NEIL SALES

OFFICE and STORE EQUIPMENT

159 FRONT STREET — PHONE 3796

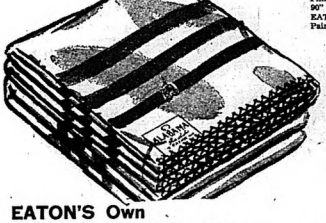
Your Best buy is an EATON brand

Eatonia Wool Blankets

Made to EATON'S strict specifications — 100% new all wool with lofty, fluffy nap, whipped singly. White with rose, blue or green borders. Weight about 8 lbs.

Size about 66" x 90". EATONIA Value, Pair 18.95

Size about 72" x 90". EATONIA Value, Pair 22.95



Eatonia Cotton Sheets

First choice of many discriminating housewives for their firm bodied texture, durability and outstanding value. Made from carefully selected long staple cotton yarns, closely woven and balanced to produce a firm weighty texture. Finished with hand-drawn hemstitched hems. Size about 90" x 104". EATONIA Value, Pair 11.50

EATON'S Own "Alabama" Blankets

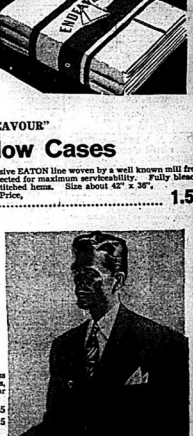
A cosy, warm flannelette blanket for sleeping comfort when the temperature drops. "Alabamas" are made with a soft, fluffy nap in the favourite 3-bar pink border on a creamy white ground. The ends are whipped singly. Size about 70" x 90". EATON Price, Pair 6.50

— Bedding — EATON'S Main floor

"ENDEAVOUR" Pillow Cases

An exclusive EATON line woven by a well known mill from yarns selected for maximum serviceability. Fully bleached, hemstitched hems. Size about 42" x 36". EATON Price, Pair 1.59

Peter Rabbit Children's Shoes



Slippers

One-strap style slipper in bright patent leather for dress up occasions. Easy-stepping, flexible, sewn Neolite soles, firm gripping rubber heels. Designed especially for growing feet.

Sizes 8½ to 12. Pair 4.25

Sizes 12½ to 3. Pair 4.45

Oxfords

A favourite walking shoe for boys or girls. In smart blucher style, made of soft calf leather with Neolite soles and rubber heels. Colors: black or brown.

Sizes 6 to 8. Pair 3.95

Sizes 8½ to 12. Pair 4.25

Sizes 12½ to 3. Pair 4.45

Boots

An excellent everyday snug fitting blucher style boot to help support the ankle. Elk leather uppers, flexible Neolite soles and rubber heels. Colours: black, brown and white.

Sizes 2½ to 6. Pair 2.85

Sizes 6 to 8. Pair 4.25

Sizes 8½ to 12. Pair 4.45

— Footwear — EATON'S Main floor

A Lovely Thought: Valentines From EATON'S

Large Colourful Selection

Be sure to visit EATON'S when buying your Valentine Cards this year. The many bright colours in artistic designs certainly should appeal to your taste. And the many themes should suit any purpose. As sketched, Each ..... .25

Other Large Range from ..... .5¢ to .35

— Cards and Stationery — EATON'S Main floor

Men's Eatonia Wool Suits

The cut, quality and styling along with excellent tailoring make Eatonia "Your Best Buy". Choose from all wool worsteds or flannels in single or double breasted styles. The jackets have machine stitched lapels. Trousers are plain or pleated with zipper closure, regular cuffs and belt loops. Colours: browns, blues, or greys. Sizes 34 to 44.

3-Piece Suit, Eatonia Value, ... 49.50

2-Piece Suit, Eatonia Value, ... 59.50

OTHER TWO TROUSER SUITS 49.50 to 72.50

—Men's Wear—Eaton's Main floor

T. EATON Co. BELLEVILLE BRANCH

PROBABILITIES
Sunday: Light snow otherwise.
Minor. Low 20, high 34.

TEMPERATURES
Today Max Min.
One year ago 11 3 below
28 16

Authorized as Second Class Mail.
Post Office Department, Ottawa.

The Ontario Intelligencer

BELLEVILLE, ONTARIO, SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 3, 1951

5c Per Copy, 25c Per Week

NEW ARMY HEAD

Lt.-Gen. Guy Simonds, brilliant field commander of the Second World War, has been appointed Army chief of staff succeeding Lt.-Gen. Charles Foulkes. (CP Photo.)

SERVICES CHIEFTAIN

Lt.-Gen. Charles Foulkes, chief of the Army's general staff since 1945, has been elevated to the new position of chairman of the Chiefs of Staff Committee. He will co-ordinate activities of the Navy, Army and Air Force. —(CP Photo.)

US Allows Certain Exemptions in Wage Ceilings

Change Will Permit Day-to-Day Adjustments

Washington, Feb. 3 — (AP) — The government's wage-salary freeze thawed out today enough to permit "merit" and "length of service" pay increases for millions of workers.

Relaxation of the rigid ceilings imposed Jan. 25 on all wages and salaries was announced last night by the Wage Stabilization Board. No General Applications

Officials emphasized, however, that the action is not a general go-ahead for across-the-board wage or salary hikes. A member of the stabilization board said it was designed entirely to permit what he called "normal day-to-day pay adjustments."

In addition to sanctioning "merit" and "length of service" increases, the ruling also gave overall approval to the employment boost wages of workers promoted from one job to another.

It also approved so-called "differential" or "premium" payments to employees transferred to a position where night work or specialized tasks call for higher pay.

The Wage Board acted after it became convinced that the general wage freeze had thrown a serious crimp into the normal job promotion policies of many industries, including those in defence work, Office Revealed

There were also these other developments in the role of stabilization officials:

1. The office of Price Stabilization lifted retail price ceilings to allow sellers to pass on to consumers the cost of an earlier wage increase granted by the board; and

2. The National Production Authority was putting finishing touches on an order expected to save 25,000 tons of aluminum in some 300 items.

Clark Kerr, a W.S.B. member, said the board received "stacks" of complaints since the general freeze was first ordered.

He described the new policy as an "interim" one, adding that it may be changed when the board devises an over-all formula.

Father of Four Instantly Killed On Trent Highway

Fred Wallis, 40-year-old father of four children, was instantly killed on the Trent highway about 7.30 a.m. today when his car skidded on the highway ice and collided with a heavy transport which jackknifed across the road in front of him.

Wallis died in the cab of his truck and workers had to pry the body loose. Police, who reported the transport, driven by Fred Elliott, jackknifed across the highway when the driver applied his brakes to avoid striking a dog in front of him.

Unable to stop as the transport slewed across the highway in front of him the Wallis truck plowed into the side of the trailer and was shoved 50 feet along the highway and ditch by the force of the impact.

Wallis was well-known in the Trent Road district where he operated a service station, five miles west of the city. He also worked as a heating engineer.

Born in Scotland

Born in Scotland, son of Mrs. Bessie Wallis and the late James A. Wallis, he came to Canada when 16 years of age. His wife is the former Ann Read and prior to establishing his business locally lived in Fraserdale in the Hudson Bay district. He was a member of the Anglican Church.

He is survived by his wife, former Alma Reise; one daughter Donna Lorraine and three sons, James, Donald and Bill, all at home. His mother, Mrs. Bessie Wallis, R.R.4, Belleville, and a sister, Mrs. Reginald Willis of Peterborough, also survive.

Winter Holds Usually-Sunny South In Frigid Embrace, Florida Gets Snow

Chicago, Feb. 3. (AP)—Winter today held the usually-sunny south in a frigid embrace after staggering the area with her hardest blows in more than a decade. Even Florida had ice and snow.

Most of the rest of the country suffered the same punishment. But Dixie, prepared only for mild winters, appeared the worst hurt.

A six-day coal of ice and snow has taken 32 lives in the south, broken power lines serving thousands of families, closed schools, and isolated dozens of communities.

For the entire country, the number of winter deaths has risen to 373. These include those dying from exposure, motor-vehicle accidents and related causes.

Crops have suffered millions of dollars worth of damage. Illinois lost its 1951 peach crop—a $5,000,000 disaster. In Indiana, cold killed the fruit trees.

Georgia's $100,000,000 tobacco crop, frosted for the second night in a row, likely will be heavily slashed and set back many weeks.

Many farmers will have to replant altogether. In Florida, the $106,000,000 citrus crop is in peril.

Natural gas, used for millions for warming their homes, is critically short. Even cities in Louisiana—where a large part of the country's gas comes from—are affected.

Some relief for the mildwest and the south, except Florida, was in store today, but not much. The main cold air that enveloped most of the central part of the country moved eastward. Temperatures began moderating slightly.

Two inches of snow fell last night at St. Augustine, Fla., the country's oldest city. And flakes came down on the Tampa-St. Petersburg area for the first time in memory.

CANADIAN TROOPS WILL JOIN U. S. CORPS IN EUROPE

Fundamental Change From Last Two Wars

Ottawa, Feb. 3 —(CP)—Canadian troops will be posted this year to the American part of Gen. Eisenhower's new European army, a fundamental change from the system which placed Canadian units within higher British formations in two world wars.

Army officials also are studying the problems connected with placing Canadian brigades, divisions and corps under U.S. command in time of war.

These developments arise from the decision to switch the army from British to American arms, a switch which is moving ahead with the official aim of making the army's No. 2 man—Ma|-Gen. H. A. Sparling—to the United States.

The transfer to U.S. arms already has started with the arrival of 5,000 American semi-automatic rifles, and it is expected here that equipment for a division will be in Canada's possession by mid-summer.

Canada has shipped a similar quantity of the British-type equipment to Holland.

It is anticipated in Ottawa that Canada will send a high-level group, regimental combat team of 5,000 to 6,000 men to Germany to be fitted into the American formations being turned over to the Eisenhower command.

Split in Two Sections

The European army will be split into two main sections, one feeding on a British supply line, the other on an American supply line. The Canadians will come under the second. In the last two wars, they fed on British lines.

It is not impossible, officials say, for Canadian units in the future to fight with the British. That is what is going to happen in Korea, where a Canadian unit battalion primarily has British type arms.

But the trend away from the old system is obvious in the studies going on of problems arising from the Canadian brigades, divisions and corps under U.S. formations.

There will be no changes in unit names and no real major changes of any sort are expected. But the army may come to use metres instead of yards and some of its Canadian units may be bigger or smaller than they have been.

Quadruplets Born In Boston, Mass.

Boston, Feb. 3—(AP)—Quadruplets—two boys and two girls —were born Friday to Mr. and Mrs. Helen Allen, 31, wife of Robert J. Allen, 36-year-old Boston policeman.

The four babies, under five pounds, were born within 15 minutes of each other. All were in good condition.

Doctors said the mother, who has two older children, is in good condition.

Dr. Andrew Ellis, attending physician, said triplets had been expected after x-rays were taken a month ago.

Quadruplets occur about once in 512,000 births.

ORDAINED PRIEST

Cologne, Germany, Feb. 3 — (Reuters) — Paul Adenauer, son of Chancellor Konrad Adenauer of West Germany, was ordained a priest last night in Cologne Catholic Archbishop of Cologne.

Industrial Shutdown Mounts As Crippling Rail Strike Spreads Across United States

(By The Canadian Press)

Repercussions of a wildcat strike of 10,000 United States switchmen were felt today to a degree in Canada.

Freight and passenger trains bound for the U.S. were curtailed in some regions, but no layoffs were foreseen by Canadian National Railways and the Canadian Pacific Railway as a result of the walkout.

In Montreal, the last Delaware and Hudson train from New York arrived early Friday, bringing Prime Minister Pleven of France from Washington en route to Ottawa. Other D. and H. trains were cancelled and the New York Central announced its trains were to be cancelled today.

Meanwhile, Trans-Canada Air Lines leaving Montreal and Toronto reported an increase in the number of people flying to the U.S. No exact figure of the number of extra passengers handled was available.

C.P.R. service to Chicago was interrupted at a point where the line switches to the N.Y.C. system. Service to the Maritimes through the State of Maine was not affected, because it is manned by Canadian switchmen.

Freight westbound for U.S. points through Windsor, Ont., and Detroit was being held up at Detroit, where it will be stored as long as the strike continues. The only line through Windsor that remained unaffected was the Chesapeake and Ohio, which had normal freight movement.

Weather combined with the tie-up to curtail freight and express shipments into Canada via the Wabash and New York Central system passing through Fort Erie.

C. N. express said the only shipments it is accepting for St. Louis, Washington, Chicago are those containing drugs, caskets, funeral supplies, war materials, medicines, or hospital and surgical supplies.

However, C.P. express said its freight service was on a "point to point" basis, with shipments being accepted for some U. S. cities and not for others.

The U.S. Army reports have been cancelled on the Toronto-New York, Montreal and Cleveland runs. But Toronto-Chicago and Toronto-Pittsburgh services between Toronto, Buffalo, N.Y., were operating with sleepers, and officials said New York-bound passengers might arrange coach travel to New York from Buffalo.

Two N.Y.C. trains, the North Star and the Maple Leaf out of Toronto were suspended Thursday. Another N.Y.C. train, the Toronto Empire State, continued to operate.

Southward Trek of Homeless Koreans Begins to Falter

Western Front, Korea, Feb. 3—(Reuters)—The great southward trek of 2,000,000 homeless Koreans is faltering. Once more refugees are turning uncertainly back to mend their homes.

They have heard rumors which have electrified them as the smell of water agitates a herd of thirsty cattle.

The rumors say their homes in Seoul north to the communist capital of Pyongyang and up to the Manchurian border are not destroyed or will be liberated by advancing United Nations troops.

But whether their homes will be waiting for them when they return, they can only guess.

Those who have already returned to their villages behind the U.N. troops have generally found their thatched mud huts flattened or burned. Only huge earthenware cooking pots give undamaged from the sea of rubble.

Those lucky enough to find their dwellings still intact must scrounge for the prime necessity of life—fuel.

Most refugees are constantly hungry; some are in last stages of malnutrition.

A 45-year-old refugee named Kim Son Ill was interviewed today as he crossed an allied convoy route only a mile from the front lines.

As shells whizzed overhead and U.N. communists dug in 5,000 yards distant, he said he was going home.

"It was as bad as being dead where we were," he said.

Action in the U.N. forces battle-liberated Seoul and that American cane had driven the communists back to the Imjin river, 30 miles beard that the communists had been driven back over the Yalu river.

A U.S. military policeman said: "The Chinese have been driven back. But they don't believe we're not driving straight into Seoul. If they did, they'd all come out and get killed. That's bad luck—but it's unavoidable."

Ill, medical corpsmen have also been puzzled by the apparently-obvious way Koreans pass by sick and dying fellow countrymen without stopping to help them.

One corpsman explained: "It is an old Korean custom that once a person sids a distressed countryman the countryman becomes his responsibility permanently."

Military Policeman Plays New Role In Korea, He's Fighting and Dying

Central Front, Korea, Feb. 3.— (AP)—The military policeman in Korea contributes his full share of valor, fighting and dying.

He wages a continuous fight against guerrillas and slippery infiltrating enemy troops. And he has seen some notable duty in the front lines.

Col. William M. Campbell, provost marshal of the 25th Division, said:

"It took this strange Korean war to make military policemen realize they were just as much a part of the fighting team as the infantry soldier. Those who did not realize it right away damn soon learned."

M.P.s fought from foxholes at Kmnu and ran the seven-mile gauntlet of fire there. On the narrow, treacherous mountain roads of Korea, military police patrols are frequently ambushed. They are the only vehicles making up enemy road blocks.

Military police fought in the historic battles at Hagaru and Koto on the northeast front and played a big part in the successful withdrawal to Hamhung.

Military police screen the streams of refugees for infiltrating enemy.

"We've popped two oxcarts in succession," recalled Sgt. John Kash, of Chicago, "with mortar shells and the other with grenades."

And Sgt. Lester Klein said: "We want to do the kind of job over here that will be remembered. When we get home and someone asks us 'what did you do in Korea?' we want to be able to look him right in the eye and say 'I was an M.P.' and be proud to say it."

STILL CAN AVOID WAR PEARSON TELLS COMMONS

Cautious Confidence Key Note of Address

Ottawa, Feb. 3 — (CP) — The free world is entering the period of greatest danger but has the means of averting war, External Affairs Minister Pearson told the Commons yesterday.

Continuous confidence was the keynote of the minister's appraisal of the international emergency, given as he stepped into the spotlight. Three-quarters of the hour-long debate on the estimates of his department was devoted to foreign field since Parliament last met.

Canada's No. 1 man in international affairs did not see a general war as inevitable. He held out some hope of an eventual settlement in Korea and Asia as a whole. And he expressed the hope that the defences of Western Europe — the greatest danger spot — can be shored up to stave off red aggression.

As he spoke to a crowded chamber, Premier René Pleven of France — one of the major countries in the North Atlantic Alliance — headed a group of international representatives in the Commons diplomatic gallery. Mr. Pleven is here on an official visit.

Mr. Pearson returned from United Nations sessions, and Western Europe is relatively weak and open to Soviet conquest. In that area lay the greatest danger at the present time.

"Here," said Mr. Pearson, "we now are entering the period of greatest danger in the 7 months ahead."

The hope of coming through safely lay in growing collective strength, and, "if we use that strength wisely, we do not need to fear." But either smug complacency or unwarranted panic would be fatal.

On the Asiatic front, Mr. Pearson had hope that the U. N. resolution branding communist China as aggressor in Korea would not bar a peaceful settlement of the Korean issue.

He expressed the U.N. try to make use of the machinery in the resolution with a view to ending the war in Korea and removing the causes of war in other areas of Asia.

Defends Canada's Move

Mr. Pearson defended Canada's support of the aggressor resolution. It was the House to defeat a C.C.F. motion of non-confidence censuring the government for the backing of the step.

(Continued on Page 7)

Will Propose Attlee Pay Visit To Premier Stalin

London, Feb. 3—(CP)— Cyril Osborne, Conservative member of parliament for Louth, gave notice today that he will ask in the House of Commons Tuesday if Prime Minister Attlee will have a personal talk with Joseph Stalin.

Osborne said he will ask if Attlee will visit Moscow at once to discuss problems of world peace with Stalin personally in the same way as Attlee discussed them with President Truman in Washington in December.

Osborne said the object of such a visit would be to "remove the threat of a third world war."

Furious Battles Rage All Along Western Sector

'Chinese Bodies All Over The Place' Says US Official

Tokyo, Feb. 3—(AP) — Allied forces today were reported less than seven miles from bombwracked, fire-blackened Seoul.

Earl D. Johnson, U.S. Assistant Army Secretary, said he visited troops within that distance southwest of the former South Korean capital. His trip indicated that U.N. elements actually were closer than seven miles.

Battles raged along the western sector late Saturday.

Johnson, during a personnel inspection tour on the 10th day of the allied "limited offensive", said he saw "Chinese bodies all over the place."

Picture Not Clear

Aside from the sector visited by Johnson, the picture of the western battle line in relation to Seoul was not clear.

One U.N. task force stabbed through to Samgo, south of the Han River, in a shooting foray behind enemy lines.

Other allied troops drove to within 4½ miles south of Anyang—a gain of more than a mile —against bitter communist resistance.

AP correspondent Jim Becker said the reds intensified counter-attacks at three points in this western area but at 7:30 p.m. Saturday U.N. forces were holding firm against an enemy which was "giving us the works," in spokesman said.

A reinforced enemy battalion hit hard at fierce Turkish troops northwest of Seoul at dusk Saturday in an effort to drive the U.N. forces from hard won, high ground. The Turks were under small-arms, machine-gun, mortar and artillery fire. The battle still raged Saturday night.

Enemy Counter-Blow

Another red counter-blow was struck against infantrymen seven miles northwest of Suwon, and a third enemy attack in company strength was still under way at 6.30 p.m. Saturday 11 miles northwest of Suwon.

In the daring Samgo raid, Sherman tanks led Puerto Rican infantrymen accompanied by armored six miles beyond the front lines. Their farthest penetration was to Samgal, seven miles south of the Han river and 10 miles south of Seoul.

Deep Main Line

The task force killed scores of terrified Chinese foot soldiers in a compilation of individual participants stories showed.

Reports made first contact with a thick belt of Chinese dugouts and foxholes still line Samgal and covering U.N. forces, indicating the main line of resistance south of the Han is deep.

Strong Advances For Eighth Time Seen in Market

Toronto, Feb. 3. (CP)—Industrials advanced for the eighth consecutive time in the short Saturday session on the Toronto Stock Exchange today.

The group climbed throughout the session and industrials as a whole ranged to more than a point. Strong advances were posted by Winnipeg Supply and Fuel and Wire B. McColl Frontenac went against the trend and dropped in brisk trading.

Base metals firmed and were again preceded by Consolidated Smelters, the week-long leader. It added about $2 to the $15.50 it has already jumped this week.

Western oils continued yesterday's strong advance and climbed over a broad front with moderate gains. Calgary and Edmonton, Federated Petroleum, Home Oil, Ronalta and Pacific Petroleum headed the list higher.

Golds turned lower after a firm opening. Senior producers' canadiractions and junior producers dipped gently.

Trading was active and volume was about 1,800,000 shares.

Cost-of-Living Index Moves Up To All-Time High

Ottawa, Feb. 3. (CP)—Living costs continued to climb in December, boosting the official cost-of-living index by 1.4 points to a new high of 172.5 from 171.1. In reporting this today, the Bureau of Statistics also estimated that wholesale prices for selected industrial and farm products are up to new heights in January. That may be an intimation of what is yet to come for consumer prices.

The cost-of-living index, a barometer of consumer costs, it was the biggest monthly increase since last June's 2.1-point climb. The group moved toward its high, record-shattering ground.

The index, based on 1935-39 prices equalling 100, now reflects price increases for meats, butter, vegetables, fuel, rents, men's wear, furniture, blankets, carpets, telephone rates, laundry, coal, health care, barbers' fees, gasoline, street car fares and newspapers.

Only two groups rose by less than a full point. Clothing was eggs, which dropped about 11 cents a dozen in December, following a sharp seasonal price decline.

It was the 10th monthly jump for the climbing index in 1950. The Bureau estimated that since August, 1939, it had increased 71.1 per cent.

Biggest of December's increases was in household operation services, which, on the impetus of higher prices for such things as furniture and telephone rates, climbed 3.4 points to a peak of 179.3 from 175.9.

The food sub-group moved up 1.4 points to 220.2 from 218.8; fuel and light advanced 1.5 points to 141.5 from 140.7; clothing went up 1.1 points to 161.3 from 160.2, and the miscellaneous volume advanced 1.7 points to 135.8 from 134.1. The housing group was influenced by higher costs for health are, barber fees, gasoline, street car fares and newspapers.

Rents were not surveyed. They remained at the level of 126.4 established in October.

In the wholesale field, the Bureau reported a 7.3-point advance in January for its composite index of 30 industrial materials, moving the barometer to 324.2 from 316.9 on Dec. 29, 1950. This index is based on 1926 prices equalling 100.

Commodities which showed a reflection of higher quotations for wood pulp, fir, hogs, lambs, steel scrap, steers, hogs and raw wool, the Bureau said.

Reports from product prices at wholesale level, were firmer, too; the composite index registered an increase of 2.6 points to 147.7 from 144.7, in the month, ending January 27, the highest figure for livestock, hides, skins, fowl, raw wool, rye, flaxseed, potatoes and onions.

THE WEATHER

Toronto, Feb. 3 (CP) Synopsis: Cold weather continues in southwestern Ontario with a forecast with readings of zero to 10 below. Intermittent light snow is falling throughout central Ontario, where temperatures have moderated by 10 to 15 degrees since yesterday. Skies are clear and temperatures about normal in northern regions.

A disturbance centred over North Dakota, will bring cloudy skies to Southern Ontario by this evening, and light snow to central Ontario tonight. Winds will moderate in southern regions this afternoon, and the milder trends will continue until Sunday evening.

COMING EVENTS

FLAN TO ATTEND SOCIAL EVENING in the Saco Club Room, 224 Front Street, Saturday night.

CARD PARTY, ST. GEORGE'S HALL, Bridge and Euchre, Monday, February 5th, 8.15. Good prizes and door prizes. Admission 50c.

PLAN NOW TO ATTEND THE Children's Fashion Show, sponsored by the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Belleville Auditorium, Wednesday, February 14th. Tickets may be obtained from any member of the Auxiliary or from Mrs. Klenkle or at the Auditorium Shop, 322 Front Street.

500 PASSENGERS SPEND FOUR ANXIOUS HOURS ABOARD DISABLED ST. LAWRENCE FERRY

Blown off her course with 500 passengers aboard, the ferry Cite de Quebec grounded on the shore of the St. Lawrence river near Levis and remained there helplessly for four hours until government tugs arrived to tow her to Levis. Passengers were worried but calm on the crowded ship as she grated on the bottom with her propeller shaft broken. Shown here is the ice-breaker N. R. McLean, which came to the rescue of the Cite de Quebec, as it towed a Newfoundland ferry in a similar but previous accident. — Central Press Canadian.

City and District News

TENT CATERPILLAR THREAT GREATENS

The forest tent caterpillar threat will be greater this year, according to Department of Lands and Forests officials at Tweed. A printed bulletin on the matter will be available at the Tweed office towards the end of March.

GROUNDHOG GETS MIXED ON DATES

The groundhog got his dates crossed, according to old-timers on the city market today. They claim that the actual Candlemas Day did not occur until this Saturday, and Mr. Groundhog could not and did not see his shadow. However they did not go so far as to say spring was around the corner.

PROGRAM TO FEATURE CITY OF BELLEVILLE

Belleville will be featured on the program "Ontario Marches On", over station CFRB Toronto, on Monday. The program is one of a series, and will be broadcast at 8.15 p.m.

LARGE FRAME BARN AT BOOLARTY BURNS

Tweed (Special) — Fire of unknown origin destroyed the large frame barn of William F. Allore of Boolarty on Friday night.

Martin Rivers, driving past the Allore farm was first to notice the blaze at 11 p.m., fire had already reached considerable proportions. Mr. Allore succeeded in getting his cattle and grain from the building. No livestock was lost. The Allore house, driveshed and machine shop did not catch fire.

BOTH LEGS BROKEN BY FALLING TREE

Bancroft (Special) — Engaged in lumber operations for Bert Barker of McArthur's Mills, Blair Hannah of Hastmere suffered fractures of both legs Monday when a tree he was falling fell on him. Both legs were pinned beneath the tree.

Dr. D. W. Anderson rendered first aid and Hannah was taken by ambulance to Toronto General Hospital.

PLENAMINS
MULTIPLE VITAMINS
With Liver Concentrate and Iron Sulphate
A convenient supplement to the Daily Diet to aid against Vitamin Deficiency and Nutritional anaemia.
50 Capsules 1.85
200 Capsules 5.75
McKEOWN'S DRUG STORE
Phone 135 We Deliver

"Open House" At Collegiate Next Wednesday

Open house at the Collegiate which is held each Wednesday night will be a combined effort on the part of teachers, parents and students. The room will be open with the form teacher in attendance, and some of the parents will assist with the visitors. Starting at 7.30 the visits to the class rooms will last for an hour, and at the same time members of the Home and School Association will be in charge of a home-cooking sale on the first floor corridor.

It is planned to have the visitors assemble in the auditorium following the class visit where a pageant to celebrate Founder's day will be staged. This is to demonstrate the progress the school has made in different departments and the participants will be students, members of the teaching staff and parents.

DID YOU KNOW?
IN OUR
'WOMAN'S POINT OF VIEW' CONTEST
- So far, no two people have the same make and model of iron.
- One lady reports that for the past 17 years she has used irons heated on the stove.
- We will allow you $1.00 a year on the trade in on a new Sunbeam.

See Your
NORTHERN ELECTRIC DEALER
VANDUSEN Bros. LTD.
239 Front St. Phone 2355

GLEN ELLIOT FLOOR SANDING
OLD FLOORS REFACED AND MADE LIKE NEW.
NEW FLOORS SANDED AND FINISHED
186 Dufferin Ave. Phone 24693

MARTIN'S SHOE REPAIR
FREE PICK-UP AND DELIVERY
Phone 4412 55 Everett St.

GOLDEN ACRES INN
WILL BE CLOSED from FEBRUARY 3rd.
RE-OPENING
MARCH 4th.

Holden's Expectorant
A valuable treatment of Coughs due to colds, affording quick relief to Bronchitis.
39c and 65c
GEEN — DRUGS
FREE DELIVERY
Phone 153

Checker Taxi Cab Fleet Sold To Local Men

Sale of the Checker Taxi with its fleet of ten cabs and the cigar and newsstand store on the Bridge Street from which it operated, has been announced by the owners, Kenneth Smith and Dave Stevenson.

The new owners of the taxi business are Horace Wright, Jack Sheridan and Alfred Lew, all well known in city. The new owners took over operation of the taxi stand on August 1st.

Mr. Wright is well known in the city, having been a member of the city police force some years ago. He resigned from the force in 1944 and later operated a hotel at Stoco. Jack Sheridan was a member of the RCAF during the last war with the rank of Flight Lieutenant and has been associated with the Sheridan Hillman on Station St. The third partner, Mr. Lew, is also well known locally, and was formerly the manager of the Kingston Music Co.

The Checker Taxi was inaugurated six years ago by Mr. Smith and Mr. Stevenson and started with but two cabs. Their fleet of cabs was rapidly increased and two years ago radio equipment was installed.

LOOK FRESH
Every Day of the Year...
It Pays Dividends.
Be well groomed and spotless-fresh for business or for fun. You'll find that regular dry cleaning keeps clothes life and can actually save you money.
CLEAN-RITE CLEANERS
Owned and Operated by Geo. Ling
57 Herchimer St.
Phone 906

New Masonic Temple Will Open With Social Evening

With their new building on Foster Avenue now completed Bellevilles Masonic bodies will stage a social evening at their Masonic Temple this evening to open their new structure for usage.

The new Temple with its fine appointments for the abommodation of the Order is a distinct credit to Belleville with modern and planning being necessary prior to the actual commencement of the building.

The task of financing and building was under the leadership of Mr. J. E. Marsh and the Masonic Building Committee; assisted by a great number of members of the Order, some grouped as general committees, building committee and furnishing committee.

With its light-faced brick exterior the new structure presents an imposing appearance. The building is of three levels, the top level being strictly for Masonic purposes.

The main floor consists of an assembly room, 43 by 63 feet with a beautiful hardwood floor, lodge room, indirect lighting, cloak rooms and adjoining kitchen with serving counter.

The lower floor has an Eastern Star lodge room with panelled ante-rooms, all with indirect lighting. Caretaker's quarters are provided in another section of the lower floor.

The entire building has forced air ventilation and is heated by an oil-fired boiler with forced hot water.

The opening of the new edifice comes at a very auspicious time as this year is the 150th anniversary of the oldest Masonic organization in the city.

Mrs. Agnes Demorest at 92 Clearly Recalls Early History, Is Keen Student of Bible

Still clear of mind, although she ally is Mrs. Kennedy B. Henry admits to being slightly "forgetful," Mrs. Agnes Demorest, patient resident of Bellevue House on Marshall Road, yesterday observed her 92nd. birthday. Mrs. Demorest is a bed patient at the nursing home.

Guest at a birthday party, which nursing home operator, Mrs. E. J. Smith staged in her honor, Mrs. Demorest recalled events of her early life which, despite her advanced age, still stand out clearly in memory.

While a young girl she recalls working in Toronto as a tailoress at a clothing manufacturing concern in the downtown district of the Queen City. At that time Toronto had a population of only 250,000 and where the provincial parliament buildings now stand was but a grain field.

"I clearly recall letting down the hem to walk across the floor on my way to work," she said.

Born on the 9th. Concession of Sidney Township in the Oak Hills district, Mrs. Demorest worked for many years at her trade as a tailoress. In this capacity she worked at Stirling, Belleville, at Rochester, N.Y., and at Toronto and other Ontario centres.

"I worked exclusively on men's suits doing custom tailoring," she said. "And the button holes were worked by hand, but I still did machine sewing."

Up to contract to present day prices, the cost of a custom tailored man's suit then ranged from $18 to $40.

Daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Magee, Mrs. Demorest moved with her parents to the Ridge Road district in Rawdon township and started to school at No. 1 S.S., Rawdon. Shortly after leaving public school she learned her trade as a tailoress at Stirling.

On Farm Near Foxboro

While working in Toronto she was married to Frank Demorest, of Foxboro and for many years helped her husband farm in the Mudcat Lane district east of the village. Mr. Demorest died in 1930.

The last of a family of eight children—seven girls and one boy—Mrs. Demorest said she had no children of her own. "But I took care of enough nieces and nephews to make up for that," she laughed.

One of the nieces whom Mrs. Demorest took care of occasion-

OXZEMA SPECIAL
NOW LARGE 10 oz. $1.00
FOR HANDS
SELDON'S
THE FRIENDLY FAMILY DRUG STORE
Opp. McCarthy Theatre. Phone 11

At Last! PAINLESS SHAVES WITH NEW MEDICATED 3 Way Shave
SPECIAL 50¢ SIZE TRIAL OFFER 25¢
LIMITED TIME ONLY
DOYLE'S DRUG STORE
Phone 326 WE DELIVER

Letter to the Editor

Late Col. Sisler Was Leader in Scout Work

9 Meyers Street
Belleville, Ont.

Editor
Ontario Intelligencer,

Some of the older Scouters in Belleville have called my attention to your write-up of the late Colonel Sisler and they regret in that no mention was made of his past association with the Boy Scouts movement in this district. They feel that they would like to have the opportunity of expressing through your columns sympathy to the family of the late Colonel B. Sisler as they recollect with deep gratitude his years of service to the Scout movement in district commissioner of the Belleville Association. It was due in no small part to his faithfulness to the "Scout Ideal" and his supervision of the wartime groups in Belleville, that the foundation of the present Boy Scouts Association was made possible.

Yours truly,
A Former Duffy
District Commissioner.

CANDLES PRESENTED

Rome, Feb. 3 — (Reuters) — Churches, religious colleges and Roman Catholic institutions from all Rome Friday presented the Pope with richly - painted candles decorated with gold-bordered silk in the traditional Candlemass ceremony in the Vatican. The candles, under a 500-year-old Papal decree, symbolize Christ as the light of the world. The Pope will give them to Cardinals, Bishops and diplomats accredited to the Holy See.

J. B. Driscoll Now Corporal In O.P.P. Force

Promotion of Provincial Constable James B. Driscoll of the Belleville detachment to the rank of corporal has been announced by District Inspector A. MacDougall.

In charge of the photography fingerprint section for No. 3 O. P. P. headquarters in Belleville, Corporal Driscoll has been with the provincial police since March in 1939. He has served with the O. P. P. at Ottawa, Perth and Barry's Bay and at Belleville.

During the war and before coming to Belleville Corporal Driscoll served for two years with the RCAF. His home town is Sarnia, Ontario.

Price of Eggs Takes Another Three-Cent Hike

The price of eggs took on another three cent hike on the local produce market Saturday when farmers quoted 46 cents per dozen for firsts. Price last week was 43 cents.

Medium were quoted at 43 cents and pullets at 43 cents per dozen.

Capon chickens sold at 60 cents per pound while spring chicken brought 35 per pound.

Attendance on the outside market was slim with apples being the most freely offered. Fancy quality McIntosh, Spys and Talman Sweets sold at $3 per bampper with basket lots at 65 cents. Fancy Snows were $3.50 per hamper and delicious the same price and cookers $2.25 per hamper.

One vendor offered lake herring and smelts at 30 cents per pound and whitefish at 40 cents.

Vegetable prices remained at last week's quotations. Potatoes sold generally at $1.50 per bag.

Pork by the quarter sold at 37 and 42 cents per pound for fronts and hinds, respectively.

Youth Sentenced On Several Counts

Bancroft—Magistrate J. L. Lloyd of Northbrook sentenced David Dunn, 18, of Whitney, to serve a sentence of one year definite and six months indefinite on seven different counts, with all sentences to run concurrently, in the semi-monthly magistrate's court in Bancroft on Wednesday afternoon.

Dunn was also sentenced to nine months in the provincial reformatory for theft of merchandise from a Whitney store. This sentence was also to run concurrently.

Trucks belonging to Joe Osetskie of Princess Lake and Earl Hawley of Bancroft, and cars that were the property of Cecil Blierworth of Bancroft and Dan Goodwin of Maynooth were taken by Dunn and a younger partner on the 25th and 26th of January. During the trip that the two made from Whitney to Bancroft they also broke into Emmet Lodge on Lake St. Peter, the summer home of Mrs. Mary Wescott on Lake St Peter and the farm home of Henry Wasmund of Wicklow township.

On the same docket Charles Alfred of Bancroft, paid $10 and costs for being intoxicated.

The third case of the afternoon one of bigamy, was laid over until February 14.

GETS NEW RING

Port Rowan, Feb. 3 — (CP) — Twenty years ago Mrs. Samuel Pitman lost her wedding ring. Today she's going to get a new one. It will be the gift of her sons and daughters, grandchildren and great grandchildren on the occasion of the 60th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Pitman.

FOR HAPPINESS
Bluebird
PERFECT DIAMONDS
at
PAUL MERCIER
McCARTHY THEATRE BLDG.

Obituary

LEO PATRICK DOYLE

Suffering a heart attack at his home, 1 Bonsell Street, late Friday evening, Leo Patrick Doyle, died in the Belleville General Hospital shortly after he was stricken. Leo was born at Marysville, Ont., being the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Charles Doyle and has resided in Belleville practically all his life.

As a young man he learned the linotype business and was employed for years by the John Lewis Company in that capacity. He was well known and highly respected. The late Mr. Doyle was an ardent angler and spent many happy hours at his favorite hobby on the Bay of Quinte. During the First World War he served his country with distinction in overseas service and on discharge returned to his former employment.

He was a member of St. Michael's Church and a member of the Holy Name Society. A quiet unassuming man he made many friends and his death will bring deepest regret in a wide circle of friends.

Surviving are his wife, the former Mildred Easton, three daughters, Mrs. George (Marie) Bell of this city, Miss Joan and Miss Margaret Doyle at home, three sons, Clifford of Belleville, Arthur and Gerald at home, two brothers, James of Belleville, Eugene of Toronto, and four sisters, Mrs. Annie Bradshaw of Toronto, Mrs. Owen O'Brien of Belleville, Mrs. Elmer Conley of Detroit, Michigan, and Mrs. Mary Asselstine of Belleville.

Resting at the Corrigan and O'Brien Funeral Home, West Moira Street, the funeral announcement is made elsewhere in this edition.

MRS. LENA BARGMAN

Stricken with a heart attack at her home, 80 Moira Street East, Mrs. Lena Bargman, died in the Belleville General Hospital early this afternoon. The deceased was a member of the Synagogue and a charter member of the Ladies Auxiliary of that congregation. She was well known and highly respected in this community.

Surviving are one son, Jacob Bargman of this city; two sisters, Mrs. J. S. Grandstaff and Mrs. N. Rosenberg of Toronto and three brothers, J. Pullan, A. E. Pullan and Morris Pullan, all of Toronto. Her husband, Jonas Bargman, died some years ago.

Resting at the Belleville Burial Company Funeral Home, Campbell Street, the funeral announcement is made elsewhere in this edition.

LATE MRS. MARY JANE STEWART

The funeral of the late Mrs. Mary Jane Stewart was held from her late residence, 77 Highland Avenue, on Friday afternoon. There were a large number in attendance and the many and varied floral tributes testified in small measure to the esteem in which Mrs. Stewart was held in the community. Rev. Duncan McTavish of Bridge Street United Church conducted the service in the home and the last rites in Belleville cemetery.

The bearers were Robert Aman, Stewart Aman, John Govier, Arthur Stewart, Everett T. Cherry and J. Wilfred Holmes.

DIES OF BURNS

Tarquinia, Italy, Feb. 3 (Reuters) — A 49-year-old New Zealander, Lance Gotillet, died in the hospital here from burns suffered when an Italian airliner crashed last Saturday. Six death brought fatalities in the disaster to 14.

AMAZING ... NEW ... SPECIAL
3 Way Shave
IT'S MEDICATED
"For the Best Shave of Your Life"
BIG 50¢ SIZE only 25¢
MADE BY HOXZEMA CO.

DOLAN THE DRUGGIST
Phone 138 — Motor Delivery

You are invited to attend
The Spring Style Showing
...ES AND GENTLEMEN)
Presented by TIP TOP TAILORS
AT THE CAPITOL THEATRE
Under the sponsorship of
THE OPTIMIST CLUB OF BELLEVILLE
Tuesday, February 6th, 1951
Afternoon 2:30 — SHOWINGS — Evening 8:30
ADDED FEATURE ... First Showing in Belleville of "THE HAPPIEST DAYS OF YOUR LIFE" (Fifteen weeks in Toronto)
Admission 50c
ALL PROCEEDS FOR BOYS' WORK IN BELLEVILLE
Door Prizes — One Lady's and One Gentleman's Suit

GREENTREES REST HOME
TRENT ROAD — BELLEVILLE OPERATED BY
Ethel O'Hearn (Reg. Nurse)
Phone 286-J-4

THOMPSON FUNERAL HOME
When we are entrusted with funeral arrangements everything is taken care of to the last detail. Our air-conditioned chapel and central location, with convenient parking, leaving nothing to be desired and you can choose a funeral at a price you wish to pay.
THOMAS C. THOMPSON
38 Everett Street Phone 63
AMBULANCE SERVICE
HOSPITAL BEDS TO RENT

BIRTHS

McTAGGART — Mr. and Mrs. Myron McTaggart, Belleville, are happy to announce the birth of their son, Kenneth Myron, at the Belleville General Hospital on Wednesday, January 31, 1951. A brother for Sharron and Neil. 72

SINES — Mr. and Mrs. Ray Sine, (nee Marguerite Cotton), R. R. 1, Stirling, are pleased to announce the birth of twins, one at the Belleville General Hospital on Wednesday, January 31, 1951. Two brothers for Ted. 72

BENSON — Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Benson, (nee Ruth Hawley), R. R. No. 1, Kingston, Ontario, are pleased to announce the birth of their son, Glen William, in Kingston General Hospital on Saturday, February 1, 1951. 2 Dr. 72

DEATHS

BARGMAN — Suddenly on way to Belleville General Hospital on Friday, Lena, beloved wife of Jonas Bargman, in her 80th year.
Resting at the Belleville Burial Company Funeral Home, Campbell Street, until late this Saturday afternoon and then at the Synagogue and Son Funeral Home, Kingston, Sunday, where the funeral service will be held on Monday at 2 p.m. Interment McCaul Street Cemetery. 72

DOYLE — Suddenly in Belleville General Hospital on Friday, February 2, 1951, Leo Patrick Doyle, 1 Bonsell Street, in his 56th year.
Resting at the Corrigan and O'Brien Funeral Home, West Moira Street, where the funeral service will be held on Monday at 2.30 p.m. Interment Belleville Cemetery. 72

WALLIS — Suddenly as the result of a car accident, on Friday, February 2nd, 1951, Ernest Wallis, beloved husband of Mrs. Wallis, 1 Ivy Crescent Road, in his 41st year.
Resting at the Belleville Burial Company Funeral Home, where the funeral service will be held on Monday, February 5th. Service in the chapel at 2.30 p.m.
Interment Belleville Cemetery. 72

IN MEMORIAM

RUTTAN — In loving memory of Jimmie, who left us February 3rd, two years ago today.
Another year has passed and gone,
Another sweet flower has withered,
A gem from the crown of heaven
Has fallen at the foot of the Shepherd —
Who said, "Come unto me."
—Ever remembered by mother, brothers, Edward, Howard, Wayne, Joan and Beverly. 72

CARDS OF THANKS

Mrs. Ken Minchen wishes to thank Drs. Empson and Cronk, also all the neighbors and friends for cards, letters and many acts of kindness while in the hospital. 72

Holoxzema

Early History of the Moira Valley

From Moira Valley Conservation Report

FARMING SINCE 1857
(Third Article)

Among the outstanding features of the development of farming during the last forty years of the nineteenth century were the rapid growth of the dairy industry, the production of barley for the American market, the gradual mechanization of agriculture and later, the general adoption of the practices such as are usual today in farming underwent a profound change in this period and by the outbreak of World War I it was established on practically its present basis.

Barley Growing, 1860 - 1896

During the later 1800's the demand in the United States for Canadian barley was not affected by the imposition of the McKinley Tariff, American brewers found barley from Ontario exceedingly good for malting and the trade grew rapidly with the extension of the brewing industry. There was also a considerable demand from brewers in the United States and high prices led many farmers along the north shore of Lake Ontario to specialize to a large extent on wheat for their cash crop. The farmers of the Moira region adopted this practice with the result that 600,000 bushels of barley were shipped from Belleville in 1876. In 1880 Hastings County produced 926,819 bushels of barley and here the production continued for some years, although the land showed signs of being less suited before the McKinley Tariff of 1890 put an end to the trade with the United States.

The cause for barley growing had serious effects on the land in many areas in Ontario and there can be no doubt that much erosion and loss of fertility in the Moira Watershed can be traced to this cause. It was probably the decline of wheat which led to the swing back to wheat growing, rather than the collapse of the barley trade. Already in 1881 farmers were complaining that wheat-growing was making their land foul and in Hastings County wheat production was cut by one third once more by 1890. In 1900 production of wheat was half what it had been twenty years since 1861, but after that date grain growing steadily declined in favour of dairying in Moira region.

Few of the other field crops grown in the watershed were of the same importance as cash crops as wheat and barley. Most of the other usual crops were grown in fair quantities, but it was only oats, grown as a cash crop, particularly favorable that any considerable amount were produced. The needs of local industry sometimes made special crops popular for a time. The growing of flax in Thurlow in the 'sixties' for the Belleville breweries and again in the 'nineties.' Still, after the World War I, hay and grain for horses was in demand in towns and villages, factories, mines and lumber camps, but as trucks replaced horses and wagons this source of cash gradually dwindled. None of the various special crops produced as present were produced in the watershed can be compared in importance to the products of the dairy.

Dairy Farming

Until 1860, the making of butter and cheese was largely a domestic industry and the dairy was often in charge of the women, with the poultry-yard and garden. Some farmers already had large dairies and employed extra hands for this purpose, but the methods used were the same as those of the ordinary farm dairy. This remained a home-made product for another twenty years or more, but factories for making cheese had already been in use across the border for several years and the first cheese factories in Ontario were set up in 1866. The movement began in Oxford County, but the Belleville district was not far behind for the "Front of Sidney Factory" was opened in the same year outside the Moira Watershed. Others soon followed and more than one cheese factory, had been opened within the watershed by 1870. There was certainly room for expansion at Wallbridge in Sidney Township in 1869 and others in Ulster in Sidney and in Thurlow in 1871. The production of cheese in 1871 from only four times that of 1861, and amounted to 1,240 tons. During the 'seventies' factories were opened all over the Watershed and there must have been at least twelve in operation in 1877. By far the larger part of the cheese production now came from the factories and although some cheese was still made on the farms its quantity grew steadily less important.

Some of the early factories were set up by individuals, who took all the risk and profit. In most cases, however, either a company was formed in the ordinary way and profits divided among the shareholders, or a larger group of farmers might combine to start a factory on a co-operative basis. In these cases a manager was often hired who furnished the plant as a skilled cheesemaker and received a small sum for each pound of cheese produced. Profits at first were then divided among the patrons according to the quantity of milk furnished by each. This co-operative system worked well on the whole and has continued in use, with some modification, until the present day.

The price of cheese on the Canadian market had risen sharply after the termination of the Reciprocity Treaty re-introduced the heavy tariff and cut off supplies from the United States. The factory movement in Ontario had been caused partly by the belief that these high prices would continue to rise. Unfortunately some of the cheese factories were badly managed to begin with, for few proprietors in Canada had any experience of large-scale methods and many did not realize the importance of keeping their plant and its surroundings in a good state of sanitation; as a result much of the cheese was of poor quality and this kept the price down at first. As conditions improved the development of a British market, with a steady improving the quality of their product some producers formed dairymen's associations in Ontario and the 'Ontario Dairymen's Association" was organized in the Belleville district in 1872. A year later, the "Dairymen's Association of Ontario" was formed by amalgamation with the "Canadian Dairymen's Association" founded at Ingersoll in 1868. The latter society lasted for six years and was then again divided into separate associations for Eastern and Western Ontario. The efforts to improve quality had a great effect and competition eliminated the less efficient factories.

A Cheese Board was also established at Belleville in 1873. These boards were intended to help the producer dispose of his product, as there was no organization for handling the greatly increased production. Cheese had hitherto been sold locally to the store keeper or a small-scale cheese dealer. The business had now become too profitable, however, that large-scale dealers soon appeared and with the aid of the boards marketing difficulties were overcome before long.

The demand for cheese-making equipment started some new industries. A cheese box factory had been opened in Belleville by 1870 and later, more specialized machinery was produced there.

In 1871, the first year for which cheese, valued at $442,760, was shipped from Belleville, and the through some of this product did not come from Hastings County, there had probably been a considerable increase in production since 1870. In 1881 the county produced 4,141,050 pounds and production had probably been higher (more than 20 per cent) in 1880. The number of cheese factories had increased also. In 1882, when agriculture in Ontario was going through a difficult period, there were already from fifteen to twenty factories scattered over the Watershed and a number just outside it. The difficulties of the 1880's led to further specialization in dairying. Production did not increase as rapidly as in the 'seventies,' but had reached 46 million pounds by 1890. Two years later there were at least thirty-three cheese factories in operation within the Moira Watershed. Some of these had been closed a few years later, but more and more cheese was being produced and the figure for 1894 is 10,467,207 pounds — an advance of 4,322,125 pounds over those of the last census for 1890.

Though other circumstances favored greater activity in dairying the chief cause was the rapid increase of the export trade. Canadian cheese was in demand in Britain and formed one of the most important items of export overseas. Cheese production was probably at its peak in Hastings County in 1892, but the year 1894 was also a good one. After that year the production of cheese began to decline, but the number in 1910 (13,279,634 pounds) — the highest recorded in any census — production now began to fall off, in spite of an increased domestic demand. There was a rally during World War I and in 1918 Hastings County produced 17,726,386 pounds of cheese. Production fell again after the war to the low mark during the 1920's to nearly ten million pounds in 1926. This figure was not equalled for another sixteen years. There was another drop in 1927 and again after 1929. Between that year, and 1937, the yearly production averaged a little over six million pounds. It rose sharply in 1937 (8,944,207 pounds) and had already risen to eight million pounds in 1949.

The following figures of dairy production in Hastings County for 1930 to 1946 give a clear indication of the fluctuations caused by market conditions and the relationship between cheese and butter production. The domestic production of cheese increased before 1939, but it still unimportant while the amount of home-made butter is comparatively large.

Dairy Prediction in Hastings County 1930 - 1946

Year	Butter - lbs. Cheese - lbs. Creamery (est.)	Factory (est.)
1930	2,000,000	6,000,000
1931	2,474,611	6,366,719
1932	2,504,408	6,141,114
1933	2,857,408	6,272,603
1934	3,125,054	5,905,161
1935	3,199,358	5,611,857
1936	3,292,208	6,218,702
1937	3,998,630	6,944,207
1938	3,267,224	7,948,509
1939	3,814,222	7,265,622
1940	2,595,027	7,587,896
1941	2,533,265	9,125,772
1942	1,909,135	10,582,402
1943	2,327,066	8,683,476
1944	2,463,246	8,886,872
1945	2,142,358	9,266,917
1946	2,024,060	8,145,021
1947	2,460,913	7,385,410
1948	2,690,066	6,087,450

* * *

The sharp rise in cheese production during the war period emphasizes the importance of overseas markets to the dairyman. There has been a steady improvement in the methods of dairy farming and of cheese manufacturing. Most of the cheese now produced in the Quinte region is of very high quality and certainly deserves even wider recognition in Ontario than it obtains at present. When visitors have learned to appreciate a local delicacy, they are apt to be surprised and not a little pleased when they can only get an inferior variety imported in most local restaurants. In view of the great extent of tourist traffic, the very real attention to good local specialties can do a good deal to strengthen demand in outside markets.

* * *

The production of butter had risen from less than 300,000 pounds in 1861 to 1,133,672 pounds in 1870. It remained at a little over a million pounds a year for about twenty years. During this period butter-making was a domestic occupation, but in the 1890's some creameries were opened and a few cheese factories began to make butter as well as cheese. By 1900 there were nine "butter factories" in Hastings county, five of them in the riding of Hastings North. The amount of creamery-made butter was very small and the total production was not much increased. Butter-making has never been very important in the Moira area and shows a tendency to fluctuate inversely with cheese production, though the greatest recorded production in any one year (3,367,224 pounds in 1938) happened to correspond with an increase in cheese production. As the figures already given show, there has been an increase in the proportion of creamery butter in recent years and there may be some further development in the future as local demand increases. Growth of industrial centers within trucking range of the Watershed may also alter the dairy set-up in the future by increasing the demand for whole milk. At present this is not great enough to have any very wide influence. In any case, cheese is likely to remain the principal dairy product of the Moira region. Trucking has already caused a slight reduction in the number of cheese factories by enabling the more inexperienced to attend their area of collection and increase the size of their plant and output. There are now twenty-six cheese factories left within the area as compared to about thirty in the early years of the century. Some of these plants have been in operation since the 'seventies.' And one or two even the 'sixties,' and some of the oldest factories are among the largest in the Watershed.

(Continued Next Saturday)

Finance Library By New Method

Toronto—(CP)—A new public library building here will be paid for by an entertainment considered unique for libraries in North America.

The Toronto Public Library's Deer Park branch in northeast Toronto is to be housed in a 20 storey building costing $473,000. The cost will be paid for within 20 years or less by rentals from three stores in its ground floor and from offices in its top storey.

The adult library will be on the second floor, and the boys' and girls' library on the second floor.

Charles M. Carrie, Library Board chairman, said it will be the first library building so finances on this principle. He said part of the capital cost will fall on the taxpayer.

GARDEN CULTURE SERIES
by HAROLD C. BECKETT A.H.A.

THE DAHLIA — A FLOWER FOR ALL

The dahlia is among our most familiar Summer flowers. As with other plants like roses, gladioli and peonies there is a National Society devoted to the promotion of dahlias in Canada.

Dahlias are robust, reliable, repaying, with minimum care, a wealth of bloom at a season when the rest of the garden is near the Autumn finish. Its sunny spot of ground that is well drained need be developed. Single dahlias are identified by a single row of petals with yellow centers.

Mignon or collarettes, sub pompons grow about 16 inches high. Peony-flowered dahlias have twisted and cuffed petals around open centres. Decorative dahlias have double flowers symmetrical in outline. Unwin dahlias bloom all Summer. Flowers are about 2 inches diameter. Cactus dahlias have fluted petals. Miniature dahlias have flowers not over 4 inches in diameter. All varieties are suitable for shrub plantings or for the perennial border.

Plant after middle of May about 2 inches deep with sprouting eye up. Place stakes about 1 feet apart. Add a little bone meal to the garden loam. Cut off bottom lateral shoots in early July leaving one shoot. Secondary lateral buds should be reduced in number. The result will be splendidly formed blossoms up to 8 inches diameter. Do not water much in early stages of growth. In July and August soak well at least once a week. Cultivate well up to middle of August. Keep plants erect and healthy by staying them with stakes with tape when a foot high. Dig tubers after a killing frost. Dry for a day then store in a cool cellar packed in peat moss.

In Spring separate the tubers leaving a part of the old stem on each root. Sprouts grow from the crown, not the tuber. Keep manure away from the roots. Do not plant too early in the Spring. Handle with care to prevent bruising. If the neck or crown is broken the tuber is worthless.

THE STANDARD CHURCH

COLEMAN STREET NEAR FOOTBRIDGE

SABBATH SCHOOL ..... 9.45 a.m.
MORNING WORSHIP ..... 11.00 a.m.
EVANGELISTIC SERVICE ..... 7.00 p.m.

WEDNESDAY, Each Week (Prayer Meeting Time over C.B.Q) ..... 7.30 p.m.
THURSDAY, Each Week—Prayer and Praise ..... 8.00 p.m.

EVERYONE WELCOME

REV. GEORGE KELLY, Pastor

WESLEYAN METHODIST CHURCH

EVERETT STREET

REV. JAMES S. A. SPEARMAN ..... Minister

10.00 a.m. — SUNDAY SCHOOL

Youth Services

at 11.00 a.m. and 7.30 p.m.

HEAR

REV. EARL BRAY

YOUTH SOLOIST and EVANGELIST

A WELCOME IS EXTENDED TO YOUNG AND OLD

GRACE CHAPEL

Basement of New Church — 87 Dundas St. E.

10.00 a.m.—SUNDAY SCHOOL
11.00 a.m.—REV. L. PRICE

8.00 p.m.—"MESSAGE OF LIFE HOUR" — CJBQ.
7.30 p.m.—EVANGELISTIC SERVICE.

TUESDAY—Prayer Meeting ..... 8.00 p.m.
FRIDAY—Young People's ..... 8.00 p.m.

EVERYONE WELCOME
REV. H. SMITH and L. PRICE, Pastors

BETHEL HALL

Corner CHURCH and STATION STREETS

MR. W. A. WATSON, M.A., of Belleville

SUNDAY SCHOOL ..... 9.45 a.m.
WORSHIP SERVICE ..... 11.00 a.m.
JUNIOR CHURCH ..... 11.00 a.m.
GOSPEL SERVICE ..... 7.00 p.m.
CJBQ GOSPEL HELLS ..... 2.00 to 2.30 p.m.
THURSDAY, 8.00 p.m. ..... Prayer Meeting
FRIDAY, 8.00 p.m.—Young People's Meeting.

ST. ANDREW'S PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Corner CHURCH and VICTORIA AVE.

Minister:
REV. J. GORDON HORNSBY

Organist:
MR. G. TEMPLE, L.T.C.M., L.Mus (Mcohil)

11.00 a.m.—DIVINE WORSHIP
11.00 a.m.—Sunday School.
7.00 p.m.—DIVINE WORSHIP

ST. MARK'S EVANGELICAL LUTHERAN

(U.O.P. TEMPLE — 371½ FRONT ST.)

Pastor ..... REV. R. N. LOSSING

SUNDAY, FEBRUARY 4th.

6.30 p.m.—CHURCH SCHOOL.
7.30 p.m.—EVENING WORSHIP

YOU ARE CORDIALLY INVITED TO ATTEND.

THE SALVATION ARMY

BELLEVILLE CORPS

MAJOR and MRS. HERB HONEYCHURCH—Corps Officers

SUNDAY, FEBRUARY 4th.

ANNIVERSARY SUNDAY

COMMEMORATING 67 YEARS' SERVICE IN BELLEVILLE

THE CITADEL—
256 Pinnacle St.

11.00 a.m.—Holiness Meeting
2.00 p.m.—Directory Class
2.30 p.m.—Sunday School
7.00 p.m.—Evangelistic meeting.
Major Honeychurch at both services.

AT THE BRANCH,
206 Station Street.

2.00 p.m.—Directory Class.
2.30 p.m.—Sunday School
7.00 p.m.—Evangelistic.
Lieut. May Walter and the Y.P. Band in charge.

THURSDAY and FRIDAY — Evangelistic, 8.00 p.m.

MONDAY, TUESDAY and WEDNESDAY — Evangelistic, 8.00 p.m.

Special Music, Messages and Other Features.

YOU ARE INVITED.

The United Church of Canada

REV. ST. CLAIR O. M. NICHOLSON, B.A., B.D.
Moderator of the General Council
REV. E. J. KENT, B.A., D.D.
Kingston, Ontario
President, Bay of Quinte Conference
REV. A. L. SIMCO, B.D.,
Trenton, Ontario
Chairman, Belleville Presbytery

BRIDGE STREET UNITED CHURCH

In the Heart of the City to Serve the City's Heart

REV. DUNCAN McTAVISH ..... Minister

SUNDAY, FEBRUARY 4th.

CHURCH SCHOOL.
9.45 a.m.—Junior, Intermediates and Senior Departments
11.00 a.m.—Nursery, Beginners and Primary Departments.
11.00 a.m.—"DESPISE NOT YOUTH."
TRAIL RANGER and C.G.I.T. WEEK.
7.00 p.m.—"THE KING WHO PLAYED THE FOOL"

HEED THE CALL OF THE BELLS TODAY
S. ALSO GORDON, Organist and Choir Leader

TABERNACLE UNITED CHURCH

CHURCH STREET — One Block North of Victoria Avenue
BELLEVILLE CHURCH

REV. P. R. HARRACE, B.A., B.D. ..... Minister

SUNDAY, FEBRUARY 4th.

9.45 a.m.—CHURCH SCHOOL.
11.00 a.m.—NURSERY, PRIMARY and BEGINNERS.
11.00 a.m.—"Christianity and Communism"
No. 5—"TOWARDS PHILOSOPHY OF DEMOCRACY"
7.00 p.m.—"MAN'S QUEST TO HIS WORK"

EVERYBODY WELCOME!

MRS. M. P. DUFF, Organist MR. TED ROBBINS, Choir Leader

HOLLOWAY ST. UNITED CHURCH

Corner Dundas and Holloway Streets
THE KEIGHBORLY CHURCH

REV. SIDNEY R. LARMER, B.A., The Minister ..... 44 Hillside St.
MAURICE SINNERY, Minister-in-Music.
MR. LIONEL BEAD, Church Organist

SUNDAY, FEBRUARY 4th.

9.45 a.m.—CHURCH SCHOOL. Classes for all ages.
11.00 a.m.—Nursery, Primary and Beginners.
11.00 a.m.—"THE BETTER REPORT WAS TABLED"
Junior Congregation, Senior and Junior Choirs.
7.00 p.m.—"YE SHALL OR NOT TO SPEAK — ARE YOU SAVED?"
PRODIGAL SON SERVICE will be resumed, next Sunday Ev'g
"Come to Worship God. Leave to follow Jesus Christ."

CHURCH OF ENGLAND

ST. THOMAS CHURCH

ARCHDEACON VEN. ARTHUR SMITH, B.A., L.Th., Rector

THE REV. H. C. HILL, B.A.
QUINTQAGESIMA SUNDAY
8.00 a.m.—Holy Communion
9.30 a.m.—Sunday School
11.00 a.m.—Matins and Sermon.
Preacher: The Rector.
Nursery School.
2.00 p.m.—Confirmation Class
4.00 p.m.—Holy Baptism
7.00 p.m.—Evensong.
Preacher: Rev. H. G. Hill
TUESDAY, 7.30 p.m.—St. Paul's

CHRIST CHURCH

REV. J. B. CREIGHAN, B.A.
Rector

QUINQUAGESIMA SUNDAY
8.00 a.m.—Holy Communion
11.00 a.m.—Matins and Sermon.
4.00 p.m.—Holy Baptism
7.00 p.m.—Evensong.
Confirmation Classes. Adults after Evensong. Children 4.15 p.m. Monday.
Ash Wednesday, 7 a.m. and 10.15 a.m. —Holy Communion.
8.00 p.m.—Evensong.
Sunday School, Christ Church Main School, 9.45 a.m.; Beginners, 11.00 a.m.; Parkdale, 2.30 p.m.

ST. MARGARET'S ON-THE-HILL

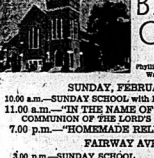
ORIOLE PARK DRIVE

Rector ..... REV. ERNEST M. CALDWELL
Organist, F. MOORE ..... Choir Director: C. P. BLAKES

QUINQUAGESIMA SUNDAY

11.00 a.m.—HOLY COMMUNION. "The Silence of Christ."
2.00 p.m.—Sunday School.
4.00 p.m.—Holy Baptism.

NO EVENING SERVICE.



VICTORIA AVE. BAPTIST CHURCH

REV. R. O. EARTMAN
Minister
Phyllis May, A.R.C.T., Choir Director
Wm. Connor, M.A., Organist

SUNDAY, FEBRUARY 4th.

10.00 a.m.—SUNDAY SCHOOL with Bible Classes.
11.00 a.m.—"IN THE NAME OF JESUS"
COMMUNION OF THE LORD'S SUPPER.
7.00 p.m.—"HOMEMADE RELIGION"

FAIRWAY AVENUE

3.00 p.m.—SUNDAY SCHOOL
7.00 p.m.—MR. LYLE RETHEDY, B.A.
Children's Choir led by Mr. Boat.
ALL WELCOME!

ALLIANCE TABERNACLE

Cor. WEST MOIRA and COLEMAN STREETS

REV. G. R. GRAY ..... Minister

SUNDAY, FEBRUARY 4th.

10.00 a.m.—SUNDAY SCHOOL FOR ALL AGES.
11.00 a.m.—MORNING WORSHIP.
7.00 p.m.—EVANGELISTIC SERVICE.
TUESDAY, 8.00 p.m.—Prayer, Praise and Bible Study.
WEDNESDAY, 3.00 p.m.—Ladies' Missionary Prayer Band.
8.00 p.m.—Missionary Meeting with Rev. Douglas Percy, Sudan Interior Mission.
1000 ft. Colored Motion Pictures of Africa.
THURSDAY, 9.30 p.m.—Alliance Program of the Air
FRIDAY, 7.00 p.m.—Children's Meeting.
8.00 p.m.—Alliance Youth Fellowship.

EVERYONE WELCOME!

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SOCIETY

(U.O.P. TEMPLE — 371½ Front Street)

SUNDAY SERVICE, 11.00 A.M.
Including Readings from the Bible and Christian Science Textbook:

Subject: "LOVE"

Sunday School is held at same hour as the Morning Service.
Testimonial Meeting First Wednesday of Each Month at 8 p.m.
THE PUBLIC IS CORDIALLY INVITED TO ATTEND THESE SERVICES

DR. A. WALTERS

Will be the Doctor on Duty

SUNDAY, FEB. 4th.

NECESSARY CALLS ONLY

Phone 1270

LATTIMER'S DRUG STORE WILL BE OPEN SUNDAY

FOR WEEKEND HEATING SERVICE

Phone 3263J — 481W

Mt. View 25-R-4

(Emergency Calls Only)

HERTING & BURDER SALES AND SERVICE

28 Bridge St. E. Phone 2577
(Associated with Moira Fuels)

THE ONTARIO INTELLIGENCER

Published Daily by
Ontario Established 1821 Consolidated Established 1871
THE ONTARIO INTELLIGENCER LIMITED
Belleville, Ontario, Canada

Subscription Rates:
By carrier in Belleville, 25 cents per week.
By mail in Ontario, $7.00 per year; $4.00 for six months; $2.25 for 3 months
By mail to U.S.A., $8.00 per year.
Member of the Canadian Newspaper Association; Member of The Canadian Press.
The Canadian Press is exclusively entitled to use for republication of all news despatches credited to it or The Associated Press or Reuters in this newspaper and also the local news published herein.

EISENHOWER BEFORE CONGRESS

American aid is necessary in the re-arming of Europe, General Eisenhower told members of the United States Congress Thursday and said their decision would determine the course of civilization whether free and democratic governments would continue to exist. He brought the encouraging impression gathered on his tour of Western Europe that there is a split to resist aggression and determination to do their part.

The general made it clear that the supreme need of Europe is equipment. He told Congress there has been a strengthening of morale in Europe, where the "greatest pool" of skilled labor in the world is to be found and where the industrial fabric is second only to that of the United States.

He stressed the urgency of speedy action in aid and sees the encouraging evidence of the potential of Europe as growing.

Gen. Eisenhower recommended a program of security measures for the next twenty or thirty years. "There is not a moment to be lost," he said.

In his mind no nation could honestly view the strengthening of Western Europe as a threat to its existence and he said he did not believe that the strengthening of Western Europe's defence would invite attack by communists.

ANIMAL HOLD UPS

Robert Stimson, the BBC's correspondent in South Africa, recently gave some amusing statistics "when he summarized the annual report of the East African railroads. These railways suffer from natural hazards that do not afflict with long-established concerns as British railways, and a footnote to the report records that last year one hundred and twenty animals were run over by trains, the casualties including twenty-one giraffes and an elephant. Reading every week, so Stimson discovered, animals interfere with railway traffic. The trouble is worst in very dry weather, for elephants and lions smell the water used for filling up the engines and come down to the line to try to get it. Africans play a big part in the running of the railway and their reports contain such phrases as: "One elephant knocked by engine while crossing line. Elephant sitted in front of engine, smoke box bent and train pipe broken." Another African states that lions hanging about the line made working difficult; on one occasion so many came that it was impossible to man the points as they were lying on them. A signal would not work because a snake had wound itself round the post and seized up the mechanism and a rhinoceros sprawled on the line and caused "some slight inconvenience." Stimson's favorite report came from the intrepid African station master who saw four lions vomiting about on his lonely little platform and telegraphed to Mairobi "Four lions on platform. Send one rifle and four rounds of ammunition."

CHRISTIAN NAMES

Time doesn't bring much change in the names of people. Even in England there is a change who reads The Times of London avidly, especially the advertisements with which its front page is covered. He makes careful note of the Christian names given to children whose births are announced there.

He finds the same old favorites still at or near the top. John leads for the boys, almost doubling the figure of David, second in line. Others in the top ten, in order, are Richard, Michael, Peter, Charles, Christopher, Anthony, Jonopher and Andrew. He notes, however, that Anthony and Andrew have replaced William and Robert in the select group. And Nicholas, in the past four years, has been trying to fit its way into it.

For girls, Ann (or Anne) leads, followed by Mary, Elizabeth, Jane, Margaret, Susan, Caroline, Sarah, Jennifer and Frances.

Most of these names are quite common to Canada also. In fact, most of them, in varying forms according to languages, are to be found in other European countries, or other countries peopled by European stock. — Windsor Star.

MIDGET TURKEYS

Poultry producers in California think maybe they've found the key to making Americans buy turkeys the year around as they buy them in November, according to Wall Street Journal.

The key is a pint-sized breed of the famous bird, custom-built to feed small families — without mountainous left-overs.

These midget turkeys, called Beltsville Whites, generally weigh in at 8 to 14 pounds when full-grown. The biggest selling conventional variety, the Broad-Breasted Bronze, averages a hefty 22 pounds.

Production of the tiny turks in 1951 may be almost double the output in 1950, when they made up 8 per cent to 10 per cent of the crop. Last year was the first time they strutted their stuff in a big way.

Enthusiasts say the small gobbler claim it will supply an answer to a chronic culinary problem faced by many American families: whether to plunk down a ten-spot or more for a standard-sized turkey — and spend a week gulping its bones clean — or to eat turkey in restaurants only.

JUST FOLKS

By EDGAR A. GUEST
(Copyright, 1951, Edgar A. Guest)

THE HARDER WAY

It's easy to be bitter and it's easy to be mean.
Without study, even children learn to swear and curse.
For the manners not admired little practice is required
But it always calls for courage to be fair.

It's easy to be selfish. Little children have the trait
And it's easy to be lazy teach them how to share.

heart and mind must both be trained.
To be honest one for honesty must care.

It takes patience to be gentle.
It takes courage to be true.
It takes self-control and practice to be strong.
We became, it's plain to see,
what we've willed ourselves to be.
For the right way's always harder than the wrong.

OFF THE RECORD

By ED REED

"All right, Dutch . . . everybody in for the night!"

LOOKING BACKWARDS

GLEANINGS FROM OUR FYLES OF BYGONE YEARS

20 YEARS AGO

Feb. 3rd., 1921

At a meeting of the Women's Christian Association yesterday the following were elected as representatives to the Board of the Belleville General Hospital: Robert Tannahill, H. W. Ackerman, George Stokes, Arthur Meikle and A. B. Collins.

The delivery of pasteurized milk only in this city is being considered by the city council.

Mrs. E. Grove of this city is visiting friends in Griffin.

Mr. John Elliott is spending today in Kingston.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Reid, Albert Street, have returned home after spending the past two months in Los Angeles, California.

One building permit was issued in January by the City Engineer's department. It is for alterations at the Star Block on Front Street, at an estimated cost of $200.

30 YEARS AGO

Feb. 3rd., 1921

The price of bread in this city has taken another drop to 14 cents per loaf, making a reduction of ten cents per loaf in less than a week. The war among the bakers continues without any indication of peace and businesses are making a substantial saving. No tickets are sold; cash is demanded.

The members of the 34th Battery will be issued uniforms this evening. The unit, which has been organized recently, is attracting many young men locally, and the training in this interesting branch of the service is underway.

Mr. and Mrs. Neil of Belleville has dropped three and one-quarter per pound during the past week.

40 YEARS AGO

Feb. 3rd., 1911

Following is a list of the Governors - General of Canada since Confederation with the date that each assumed office: Rt. Hon. Viscount Monck, July 1867; Rt. Hon. Lord Lisgar, Feb. 2nd., 1868; Rt. Hon. The Earl of Dufferin, June 25th., 1872; Rt. Hon. the Marquis of Lorne, Oct. 23rd, 1878; Most Hon. the Marquis of Lansdowne, Oct. 23rd., 1883; Rt. Hon. Lord Stanley of Preston, June 11th., 1888; Rt. Hon. the Earl of Aberdeen, Sept. 19th, 1893; Rt. Hon. the Duke of Connaught will succeed Earl Grey in September of this year.

In a hockey match last evening the Grier Cement Company's team defeated a team representing the 15th. Regiment, the final score being 3 to 0. The following composed the teams: Leigh Grier, Ross Conner, Jones Downey, Bedboro, Gerow, Symons, Peterson and Bellhouse; 15th. Regiment, — Holton, Carter, Tulle, Storms, Connolly and Fairfield.

50 YEARS AGO

Feb. 3rd., 1901

Old timers say that this winter has been the worst for sickness they have known.

Mr. R. Henry of Napanee was a visitor in town today.

Messrs. H. G. Bleecker of Sidney township, and W. J. McCamus of Belleville, have been appointed Licensee Inspectors for West Hastings.

Mr. John Bluff of Madoc has been appointed bailiff of the 6th Division Court of the County of Hastings, in the place of the late John A. Bluff.

Mr. William Benaley of Warkworth, was in town today.

Aussie-British Pork Plans Wind up in Costly Failure

By LOUIS L. LECK
(Canadian Press Correspondent)

Sydney, Australia—(CP)—Britain's Overseas Food Corporation has spent £2,000,000 ($4,700,000) and three years on a plan to provide pigmeat from here as the Peak Downs Scheme. Britain put up £1,500,000 and Queensland £625,000. The Queensland government was mainly interested in developing some of the 25-inch rainfall central country; the O.F.C. in starting a huge farm which would eventually turn out 500,000 pigs for Britain.

Members of the seven years of development are up and now with Queensland-British food corporation has decided to defer pigraising and switch to cattle fattening. Already the corporation has 17,000 cattle grazing on its 700,000 acres. The officer criticism by competitive buying of store cattle on a limited market, the corporation has started breeding its own animals.

Like the groundnut in East Africa, sorghum (cereal grain) in Queensland was going to be the big money crop. Like ground nuts, nearly everything went wrong. For the first crop, the corporation planted 3,000 acres in 10 days, an unheard-of feat. But that summer of 1948 was the driest in 60 years and then early frosts struck the total crop of 30,000 acres. The 1949 yield was only 310,000 bushels, worth £109,000, or £22,000 less than it cost to produce.

Average Yield

Last year's crop of 66,000 acres struck a long and wet harvesting here.

Europe as I See It

By Raymond R. Canon

EUROPEAN MONEY

(ARTICLE 5)

St. Gallen, Switzerland — (Special to the Ontario Intelligencer) — When one is used to dealing in dollars and cents, it is rather difficult to change countries all of a sudden. The first time I experienced such a problem was on the boat crossing the ocean. On board there were three accepted currencies — Canadian, American and English, and it was some time before we could settle on their accepted values. Just when everything had been settled, word came that the Canadian dollar was being allowed to find its own level among the other currencies. As a result we felt that all our calculations had been for nothing. The shilling had been set at fifteen cents, so we decided to leave it at that rather than have any more confusion.

When we arrived in France we found that the money there is of a rather low value so that we were able to get 420 francs for the Canadian dollar or 345 for an American dollar. A short time ago the French government officially abolished their other pieces of currency the centime, which is only worth a hundredth part of a franc. The minute value of this coin can be seen when one remembers that a franc is worth only one-third of a penny. It is surprising that the French continue to make one-franc pieces out of their low value.

* * *

Most of the French money is made of thin paper so that when one carries a pocketful of change it is usually cut to pieces by the paper. It seems rather inconvenient, but then that is not a big that everyone would have to carry a bag in which to keep the change. The French money is very colorful and increases in size in the higher denominations. On the corner of each bill is printed the grim reminder that any person counterfeiting or passing such bills will spend the rest of his life at hard labor.

American money is still in demand in France as well as in the neighboring countries and from time to time odd looking characters will come up against on the street and offer them about 400 francs per American dollar. Most tourists, however, prefer to change their money at an accepted bank and only the shadier type of financiers do very little business.

Switzerland and France are both out of a vastly different value. At present the Swiss franc is worth about eighty times as much as the French franc and in addition is as stable in its value as it is unstable. In fact the Swiss government has so much gold at present to back up their bank notes that there is more gold in the country than there is paper money. This is quite a change from the situation in Canada. Britain, because of a shortage of gold to support Canadian money. However, they feel that Switzerland will be able to avoid two costly wars has greatly influenced the financial situation here.

* * *

Contrary to popular belief the shilling does not belong entirely within the British Empire, but is found also in Austria. Its value has declined even more than the English counterpart so that today it is worth only about one-quarter of the English shilling.

The problem of post-war German currency was solved in some cities by issuing a complete new set of paper money. Before this was done the German mark had fallen to an almost worthless value in the country and had become worthless outside Germany. The Allied authorities finally established the mark at a value of about 23c but this has no exchange value at present and will be used in West Germany it-self. Strict control is kept over this currency during the short period of extreme inflation could ruin much of Germany's financial recovery after the war.

Several problems could arise from the use of two currencies. One such problem is this. The Italians and the Swiss have a bilateral agreement to reach an agreement in currency whereby 400,000 Italian lire are worth 400,000 Italian lire. An Italian with 1,000 American dollars could change them into lire for them in his own country. However, if he exchanges his lire into Swiss francs (at four francs for every dollar) and then back into lire, he exchanges this at the official rate he will receive the 400,000 lire. The higher unofficial rate of the Swiss franc. It is hard for any European government to keep its citizens from using money in terms of another currency since on a free market the money will always tend to find its own value. This is exactly what the Canadian dollar is doing now.

It is rather difficult to say just what is the opinion of Canadian currency in Europe because of the fact that it is usually over-shadowed by the American dollar. At present the Canadian dollar is about seven cents less here than its American counterpart. The Canadian dollar is tween Switzerland and Canada is not extensive. Swiss bankers and financiers are rather favorably inclined to Canadian money.

Canadian Swiss bankers confided to dealing in these various moneys, the Swiss businessmen must wait patiently for while to divide every price by two before how much I am actually paying.

THE PACKSACK

By GREGORY CLARK

A long-eared owl is not a particularly rare creature, but it is certainly exciting and bizarre thing to come across in a cedar swamp, sitting quietly on a log in the cedar trunk, and trying to look like a rag of loose cedar bark. The long ear tufts look like the eyebrows of the late Bernard Baruch, emphasizing and quivering and erecting, and its irate eyes glaring, it is some kind of indignant nature. Owls, you understand, should be heard and not seen. And you be caught in the corridor with only a towel around her could not be more than an owl with a bunch of human beings looking at it.

Our girl made a lot of tracks in the snow as we gathered from the farm on the morning to see the owl. And no doubt some curious farm boy, passing later, saw the tracks and came on to investigate. Where the party had assembly was well trodden, and no doubt the farm boy, using his normal Sherlock Holmes faculties, discovered the owl, in the cedars.

The next party to whom we gave directions how to locate the owl, arrived the next day and found it, all right. It was lying dead in the snow under the cedars, with a .22 through its breast.

Our indignation at the death of this harmless, this useful owl, may be only be exceeded by the indignation of a truer naturelover than we are who sees a buck draped over my car fender as I drive proundly home from the north 40 with venison. And that person's indignation is probably only surpassed by that of the farmer who sees her carrying home a parcel of lamb chops from the butcher's after a dear little lamb.

It would appear we are all humans. We have our loves and hates, each of which we are prepared to protect and defend with our lives. Maybe the lady who saw me bringing home the owl would have accepted I would choke to death on a jagged fragment of my own turkey. I hope so that the farm boy who shot the owl will get the hives.

Strength for the Day

DR. EARL L. DOUGLASS

WITHIN THE CHURCH AND WITHOUT

One night at a meeting in Agricultural Hall, London, Dwight L. Moody arose and said, "I see by the papers that a certain gentleman I know you . . . you are converted already. Now, I want you to get up and go out and leave room for hundreds of those sinners who are waiting outside for a chance to come in and hear the Gospel.

What a strange announcement! Can you imagine any minister making such an announcement today? Yet I would be much nearer as it always did that there are too few people in the church. Perhaps we could profitably spend its message.

We should never minimize the importance of ministering to people who are already sincere Christians, but the fact still remains that many of the people calling into the Gospel message most are never at Church on Sunday or Mission. The reason why some of the sects today are growing by leaps and bounds is because they are spiritually taking care of certain people who are being neglected by the organized Church.

Many people say there are too many sermons on Hell. Perhaps we are wrong. There are too many sinners outside the Church.

Personal Health Talks

By WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

Signed Letters, Not More Than One Page Or 100 Words Long, Pertaining To Personal Health and Hygiene, Not To Disease, Diagnosis Or Treatment, Will Be Answered By Dr. Brady If A Stamped Self Addressed Envelope Is Enclosed.

WHEN A WOMAN SHOULD BE AT HER BEST

The title of the talk about nutritional deficiency anemia (the sickness) given by Ol"—by the conductor of this column here the other day—at least the title of her ill—was 'To the Girls Who Go Gray at Forty.' Titles like that make secretaries go gray long before forty—trying to decide how to fix the article so that they or I can find it months or years from now. Well, who knows? I have practically ceased looking for things in these blankety-blank files, or rarely do I find anything in the file where it should be. Frustration—that's what filing systems are for.

The blood examination in ordinary anemia is due to some chronic disease, the use of blood-destroying drugs like acetanilide or sulfanilamide, a bleeding ulcer or to the sucker as "harmless", frequent slight headaches, or habitual exposure to atmosphere slightly polluted with carbon monoxide, shows a gradual diminution in the amount of iron coloring matter (hemoglobin) in the blood cells and the corpuscles in the blood. In the gray sickness the diminution is hemoglobin is more marked than the diminution in the number of red blood corpuscles. The red coloring matter (hemoglobin) in the blood corpuscles is the part which takes up the oxygen we breathe. It is clear that woman with the gray sickness suffers from oxygen deficiency. That's why she complains of dizzy fallings, of headaches and lack of "pep", and gets out of breath quickly with slight exertion.

The good gray girl—I tell you I have a great sympathy for her, for I have found that she is usually a person of exceptionally fine character—says she has been pale for years but lately paler than ever. Her pallor is pronounced. Her appetite is poor and she exhibits mainly pot-atoes, soups, tea and toast. She has little or no desire for meats and maybe says it is difficult to swallow such foods. She complains of "indigestion" and "gas".

The woman with hypochromic anemia appears older than she should be, not only because of her gray or graying hair but because of the wrinkles mainly of the neck and loss of much of the panniculus adiposus, the layer of fat under the skin that gives roundness, softness and beauty to the feminine form.

Due to her poor appetite or dislike for nourishing meat, milk, cream, butter, bacon, eggs, ham, pork and other good foods which she doesn't have a care for—and the "hard to digest" her half-starved metabolism draws on the fat reserve in her panniculus, just as the body may use past meals of egg straws on the calcium reserves in the bones when the daily intake of calcium is inadequate for good nutrition. Hence the good gray woman looks like—and in fact does look as good as she should, and the man or woman past middle age begins to suffer from various manifestations of physical decrepitude due to the gradual depletion of calcium over the years —brittle bones, general stiffness or loss of resiliency or elasticity, low back pain, osteoporosis, or the senile gait and credulous customers call rheumatism.

The lack of the woman with nutritional deficiency anemia is not only prematurely grayy at a time in life when a woman should be at her best—both in looks and physical fitness—but it is dry, coarse, breaks readily and is lifeless.

Do be patient, girls. We'll advise about diet and medicine in due course. If you can't wait send a self-addressed stamped envelope for pamphlet The Gray Sickness.

QUESTIONS & ANSWERS

Three Dentists, Count 'em

You're a friend of mine—I have always tried to practice what you preached and I have had painless dentists wearing gold crowns or bridges on "dead" teeth for over 20 years. I have not been near one for about forty years. So you may imagine how I feel when dentists undertake to controvert your teachings.—(Mrs.) D. B.

Answer—Three dentists, Doctor? That makes three dentists who have failed to agree. As for the others, they may all go to—Trinidan da Cunha.

Undignified

Isn't is about time for you, a professional man, to be a little dignified manner? Of course you cater to Geeks... (——— expunged).

Answer—Who called the pie color player a Geek?

Tuberculosis

Could a couple working in the San carry tuberculosis to children in the house where the adult? (Mrs.) W. G.

Answer—Not unless they have the disease in active stage.

RICH MEDAL

A Sibelius Medal to be awarded annually by the Finnish Cultural Foundation is made of 36 carat Finnish gold.

TODAY'S TALK

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

GARDEN OF THE MIND

How like a garden is this mind of ours! A garden is something that is greatly loved by the ones who create it, for it is a part of much of themselves. There are varieties, and there are always surprises, and always beauty.

On my way to my summer island cottage there is a florist shop before its crestor died, I always visited on route his wonderful garden. He was doing more than much about the man when you talked with him about flowers, you talk about it, and absorbed his enthusiasm. It came over you that here was a man who had planted seeds, set out plants, and created a miniature heaven on earth. He had also planted love—and all about you it bloomed in color-ful beauty.

I like to think of the mind as a garden, for its processes of creation are so similar to those that bring about the outdoor garden. There comes many of us have sat with a friend and noted his talk of those things which have enriched and beautified his mind, [illegible] Ark or, music, books, trees, birds, flowers—and oh so many things. Disturbed into the nook and corner of the mind of memories, and how wonderful it is to have such a friend to call their content to others.

Some people are fascinating because of their natural beauty. From them always go some message of beauty and love. I love to a book shop in the same way. I can almost feel the fine thoughts from the shelves of tables all about, rich in the power to quicken the life of any soul who will wander around in such a place. So much like a garden of the mind. We have come to be cultivated worked in, watered, and watched over. Even with this many of ours if we would make it attractive and inviting to the soul who would enter the mind as a rich soil. It needs watering and weeding. It needs to be fed it gloriously with fine examples of thoughts that have been written down for all from minds of all time. Any mind can be so cultivated as to attract lovers of its kind.

SCOTTS SCRAP BOOK

By R. J. SCOTT

PIC CONCLUDED IN TALLAHASSEE AND WILL A SCRAP OF PAPER BE BETWEEN CRACKERS

STIRLING

St. Paul's United Church Shows Successful Year of Activities

Stirling—Last Monday evening, a good attendance of members of St. Paul's United Church, Stirling, gathered for their annual congregational meeting in the church parlors. The pastor, the Reverend A. E. Baker, acted as chairman and spoke briefly of the year's work.

Mr. George Carlisle, clerk of the Session, in presenting his report, said there was a total membership of 372 persons. During the year there were 20 baptisms, 19 burials and six marriages.

Twenty members were received —eight by transfer, and 12 by profession of faith.

Total Receipts

The total receipts from the envelope system were $5,376, besides their carry over from 1949 of almost $1,000. They have a good balance on hand of $1,300 for 1951.

Mr. Harold Wells gave the report of the Trustee Board. They installed a new oil burner in the church during the year. There is trust funds of the church. These as Donohoe estate. The Y.P.U. have a fund of almost $79 for the installation of heating aids in the church at a future date.

The Young People's Union is carrying on under difficulties, but hope for better success in 1951. Last year they purchased new carpet ball sets for their recreation room.

W.M. Auxiliary

Mrs. J. B. Thompson reporting for the Woman's Missionary Auxiliary said they remitted $459 to Belleville. Membership is 50, there are 19 Life members, 49 annual members and 30 associate members. Two "Life members were called into higher service during the year.

Mrs. Cecil Macklin was the president of the organization, and on Sunday, October 8, a Jubilee service was held with Mrs. C. Mayhew, Lowery, Belleville, executive, secretary of Dominion Board, as special guest speaker. Several neighboring societies were in attendance.

Mrs. Roy Bush, ably reported for the sister society of St. Paul's. They remitted their allocation of $400 to Belleville Presbytorial. They have 17 members and seven associate members.

During the year, the visiting committee made 100 hospital calls; 88 home calls, sent 28 cards. Boxes were sent to the shut-ins at Easter and Christmas. Mrs. Gerald Brooks is the efficient secretary-treasurer.

Mission Band

Mrs. Harold Wells, with her assistant, Mrs. Harold Bird, were in charge of the Mission Band. There are two Life members and 24 annual members and fifty Remitted $46 to the Presbytorial treasurer. They used their envelopes to provide each child with a copy of "World Friends".

Baby Band

Mrs. Ida Demorest and her assistant, Mrs. Harold West, gave efficient leadership to the Baby Band department. They had 23 Life members and 42 annual members and they remitted $50 to Presbyterial treasurer. They hope to have a party for the baby party this summer as there are a number of new residents in the town.

This number of the total of $383 remitted to Belleville Presbyterial W.M.S., from the four organizations.

A Baby Band has been organized in Rednersville for the River group.

The Missionary Auxiliary of St. Paul's also has a supply fund of nearly $150 which is ready for any emergency when they are notified.

Woman's Association

This group has 19 Life members, 49 annual members and 26 associate members.

During the past year they raised over $1,700 and have a good bank balance of over $300. Two members passed into the Reward.

During the year 233 calls were made. They made several improvements to the parsonage which included an electrical refrigerator. Almost $50 was used to buy supplies for the church kitchen.

Gifts of food parcels were forwarded to Britain and they contributed to the M. and M. fund of the church.

In April a special Jubilee service was held with the president, Mrs. Walter Elliott, in charge. Life memberships were presented to 25 members by the Dominion Life Membership secretary, Mrs. T. Wilson of Toronto, Ontario. At this special service several officers of Belleville Presbytery and Dominion Council W.A., Toronto, were in attendance.

Young Married's Group

This group had receipts of almost $400 and they expended about one half of that to purchase additional church furniture. They sponsored a Silver Jubilee Mother's Day Service when a large number of Bibles were dedicated for the pews. They also portrayed five devotional services of the Bible at this service.

Mr. Cecil Macklin forwarded to Toronto from St. Paul's M. and M. Fund, $1,525 and over $168 from Carmel. They also sent in a special offering of $81 for Manitoba Flood Relief.

Sunday School

Mr. Harold Hagerman reported the Sunday School of 98 with an average attendance of 74. The receipts were over $400 and their supplies cost almost $100. They gave a donation of $100 to the M. and M. Fund, also a small donation to the Manitoba Flood Relief.

In June under the direction of the superintendent, Mr. John L. Good, a Silver anniversary and Flower service was held when the church was literally banked with lilies and other seasonable blooms. Rev. Morley Clarke gave the message based on "How a Child Should Grow in a Christian Home and Community".

The secretary, Mrs. Elizabeth Christie, of the Adult Bible Class, reported receipts of about $38. They sent flowers to the sick, gifts to shut-ins and gave a generous donation to Holloway Church, which met with a cave-in this fall.

The Wild Life Gift service netted almost $65 and this was distributed to the needy folk in various centr-

Silver Jubilee Committee

This committee had an income of over $500. They spent around $135 for pew Bibles and about the same amount for Jubilee pins. They sponsored a memorial service in June in honor of the 25th Anniversary of Union. The guest speaker was Rod. Rev. Sidney Lambert, O.B.E., now retired, but a well known beloved padre at Christie Street and Sunnybrook Veterans' Hospitals, and Dominion president of the "Kampf" Association.

Approximately 100 charter members of St. Paul's were seated in a body and in a special ceremony each received a Silver Jubilee pin. At the morning service that Sunday, two floral pedestal vases were dedicated to the church.

This Jubilee committee had a splendid balance of over $160 and this was turned over to the Centenary Fund. St. Paul's will celebrate their centennial in 1953.

First Wesleyan Church

The first Wesleyan Methodist church was dedicated in Rawdon village, now Stirling, on September 11, 1853. The Methodists had been carrying on services in school-houses and homes since 1839. In 1853 the present did not build their church until 1853.

Later in 1884, the Wesleyans, Episcopals and other groups entered a union and were known as the Methodist Church; later still in 1925, they became the United Church of Canada and now it is a very short time until the 100 years will be celebrated.

It was decided that 75 per cent of the Lenten Self-Denial fund should be used for a new floor in the Sunday School Hall and 25 per cent will go direct to the "Centenary Fund".

Junior Choir

A Junior Choir of over 60 voices have been given excellent training under the able leadership of Mrs. A. R. Baker, A.R.C.T. organist and choir leader. On Easter Sunday evening, they gave their first presentation to a crowded auditorium when they presented "Easter Lilies".

From then until Christmas these young folk had a part in every church service and excelled in several of the services they have been. On Christmas eve, Dec. 24, they gave a wonderful presentation of Christmas music and carols at the candlelight service. The 1950 officers were, secretary-treasurer Mrs. W. A. Abernethy; president, Mrs. Wm. Wilkins; ministers of the music, Mrs. Clarence Preston; gown steward, Mrs. Walter Elliott.

This group received in fees almost $150 and the expenditures were for hymn books, special sheets of music and additional gowns as their numbers grew from the original 30.

A small group of this choir who have shown special aptitude for music, have been given special training and on February 14 they will compete in the Kingston Festival section in Kingston, sponsored by the Rotarians of that city.

Senior Choir

Mr. Harold Hagerman reported the purchase of new wine gowns and caps for this group which were used in December for the first time.

They presented "The Gypsy Rover", a romantic musical comedy in three acts, at several nearby points as well as three presentations in their home town. The total receipts were $800 and they have a small balance on hand. The Senior Choir paid tribute to the splendid leadership of Mrs. A. E. Baker, who gives unstintingly of her time to promote a love of good music.

Early in Jubilee year, an organ fund was set up and it is gradually hoped that more will be added so that some day a new modern organ will be purchased. To date the total receipts are over $444. The expenses during the year were around $60. The choir loft was expanded to make room for additional singers.

Stockholder

On July 1st, [illegible] vice service was held with the director of the [illegible] and Mr. Fred Hutchinson, Deputy Grandmaster, Ontario East Loyal Orange Lodge. The combined choirs of the First Orange Lodge No. 748, took place in Stirling on March 8, 1857, so it, too, is nearing its centennial celebration.

In September the first annual non-denominational service of Rawdon Township Junior Farmers' and Rawdon Township Junior Institute was held with Mr. Ray Holland presiding. The organ of this group is "Self Help and Community Betterment".

At practically all the services, including the series in April and May, there was a splendid attendance, while at the various special services the edifice was filled to capacity. Old-timers say never in history has St. Paul's church entertained more congregations for such large crowds of worshippers from town, country, and neighborhoods.

Anniversary

The 97th anniversary was held on Sunday, October 15, with the guest speaker, A. Shuniiett, B.A., B.D., Toronto, as guest speaker. The following Tuesday Lloyd Wilson's Concert Party in Masson's Association catered to a banquet when the Hon. Leslie M. Frost, Premier, was the guest of brilliant address, urging his audience to strive for better opportunities for homes, health and ways of living.

In December, choir lovers heard a fine repertoire of Tobermory Choir, and again on Sunday afternoon and in June special honor was paid to the war dead with a host of Legion members in attendance and a color party provided by the Marmora Branch of the Legion.

The Thanksgiving service gave deep thought to the harvests and the altar was banked with fruits, grains and vegetables.

Mrs. Walter Elliott, commissioned to General Council, gave her impressions of that gathering in November.

The great events of the Advent season was portrayed in December, closing with a Watch-night service on the last Sunday in 1950 and friendly fellowship

Tribute of Appreciation

Messrs. Clifford Hatton and George Carlisle on behalf of Mrs. and Mrs. Baker on behalf of the members of St. Paul's, a very fine Dresden and purse, with thanks for their leadership and guidance during their Jubilee year.

The Bakers came to the circuit late in the fall of 1949 and during their stay have been most energetic in building up every department of church life with their special effort in the organization of a Junior Choir. It was a splendid piece of work in keeping with St. Paul's for another term of leadership.

In a closing vote of business it was agreed by St. Paul's that if the Session they would co-operate with Rawdon circuit in presenting a sacred film during Holy Week.

The W.A. members, under the leadership of their vice presidents, served refreshments to the group assembled, and all enjoyed a delightful social half hour. The members then dispersed with thoughts of the new year just begun and the Centennial two years hence.

DESERONTO

Deseronto—Great Venice spent the weekend at the home of his father, Mr. Percy Venton, Kingston.

Mrs. and Mrs. Web Wilson and family of Belleville, visited recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wilson, Dundas St.

Mr. Ted Shurgeon, of Peterborough, spent the week with Mr. and Mrs. George Wilson.

Mrs. Jenny Clark, visited relatives in Belleville and Trenton last week.

Mr. Morley Akey and Mr. Akey of Point Anne.

Mr. John Garland injured his leg at work on Tuesday.

Mrs. W. C. Laffmer returned home on Wednesday after visiting relatives in Toronto.

Mrs. Ed. Hall left on Tuesday for the west coast. He will be greatly missed by his high school class.

Hobby-Homemakers Club

The Hobby and Homemakers Club met in the home of Mrs. Newton Thomas with a large number of members present.

Mrs. D. F. Weber supervised the making of carnations. Miss Betty Merritt gave instructions for the weaving of belts and supervised the setting up of the looms for the weaving next in this project. By the end of the evening a number of very lovely belts, for summer dresses were well under way.

The hostess assisted by Mrs. D. Kimmett and Mrs. Art Sauer served refreshments.

Next week's meeting will be at the home of Mrs. A. B. Ross, with Mrs. D. F. Weber in charge and the hobby demonstrated will be "shell work". Anyone interested will be welcome.

MADOC

St. John's Anglican Church Holds Annual Meeting

Madoc—A large attendance at the annual general vestry meeting of St. John's Parish Church, Madoc, held at the rectory last Monday night, attested to the keen interest shown in church affairs.

After reading the minutes of the previous vestry meeting, E. T. Naylor, secretary-treasurer, gave his report which showed the finances in a sound and healthy condition.

Mrs. L. Hepworth gave a most satisfactory report on the business of the Ladies' Guild.

The activities of the Woman's Auxiliary were reviewed by Mrs. E. T. Naylor. After having made several contributions to various deserving projects and individuals, there remains a substantial bank balance.

William Aylesworth, treasurer of the choir, read a financial statement which showed a well-balanced budget. Mrs. A. Bruyns reported on the activities of the choir throughout the year, stating they had joined in several special services, notably a Quiz session, at Easter, and at Bannockburn, when 50 and 35 voices respectively joined in choral service. They were also responsible for the music when the annual Young United Mission services at Madoc.

Sunday School Report

The Sunday School report was read by Mrs. Bruyns. The splendid progress made under the guidance of Mrs. Moray Nickle, with the number of children increased by 30 per cent by the end of the year. The annual picnic, supper and concert in Centennial Park, Tree all having been exceptionally successful.

The activities of the Young People's Association was reviewed by Miss O. Wurm, president, showing a splendid outlook for this, the newest organization. The financial statement was given by Miss Lorraine Lessard, secretary.

Rector's Report

Rev. T. H. Good reported on his activities which showed a splendid year's work and greater response manifested by all of the parish. He commended the wardens, E. T. Naylor and Harry Tufts, and the whole organizations for their good work and thanked Mr. Naylor especially for the meticulous detail in which he handled the church business. He also complimented Mrs. Wurm and her executive on the splendid work they had carried out in the young people of the parish and said this good influence would live long in the lives of the young people; also Mrs. James Aylesworth for her most efficient pianist and complimented the choir on their achievements. A resolution was passed thanking Mrs. Stanley Hawthorne for supplying an organist on a few occasions during the year.

1951 Officers

The church officers elected for the year are as follows:

Rector's Warden, Mr. E. T. Naylor, People's Warden, Mr. Harry Tufts; treasurer, Mr. E. T. Naylor; delegates to Synod, Mr. Jack Baker, Mr. E. T. Naylor.

Ladies' Guild Officers: Honorary president, Mrs. M. Nickle; president, Mrs. B. Malone; vice president, Mrs. L. Caterer; secretary, Mrs. A. Bruyns; treasurer, Mrs. L. Hepworth.

Woman's Auxiliary: president, Mrs. E. T. Naylor; vice president, Mrs. T. Ross; secretary, Mrs. F. O'Riordan; treasurer, Mrs. Joe Miller. Dorcas secretary, Mrs. A. Bruyns.

Young People's Association: president, Miss O. Wurm; vice president, Mrs. A. Bruyns; secretary, Miss L. Caterer; treasurer, Miss L. Phillips.

Sunday School: superintendent, Rev. T. H. Good; supervisor, Mrs. M. Nickle; Senior teacher, Mrs. A. Bruyns; intermediate, Miss R. Danford; Primary, Miss S. Ward. Choir organist, Mrs. A. Aylesworth; secretary, Mrs. A. Bruyns; treasurer, Mr. W. Aylesworth.

A vote of thanks for business, Mr. William Hart spoke briefly. He congratulated the Rev. and Mrs. T. H. Good on his faithful services and able leadership, and remarked on the splendid relationships and the success of their activities, being augmented by the number of new branches and the extent of the social work undertaken and achieved by each under the guidance and leadership of the rector.

After the meeting closed, refreshments supplied by the members of the Ladies' Guild were served by the Young People's Association.

VASTLY CHANGED

Moscow, founded in 1147, became the religious capital of Russia in the 14th century.

SNOW PLOWING DRIVEWAYS
and SIDEWALKS
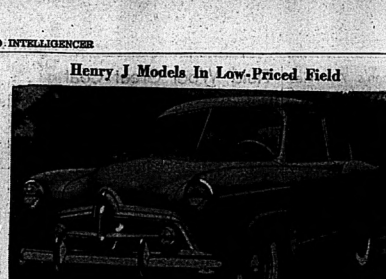
PHONE 109

Henry J Models In Low-Priced Field



Windsor, Ont. — Kaiser-Fraser of Canada Ltd. present to the Canadian public its new low-priced, full-sized motor car, the Henry J.

The Henry J four-cylinder engine and the Henry J DeLuxe six-cylinder engine. Both engines are new high-compression "Kaiser Supersonic" L-head types.

Performance tests in Canada have indicated gas online mileage up to 40 miles per gallon, using the Imperial gallon measure of Canada.

The smooth powering of the large biggage space. It offers a maximum cargo area of 50.3 cubic feet achieved through a utility feature which allows the rear seat back to be folded forward and anchored in place as part of the trunk floor.

The convenience of the folding seat feature eliminates need for the traditional rear trunk opening.

The 174½-inch over-all length of the Henry J, together with an over-all width of 70 inches, provides spacious seating room for five adult passengers with ample head room and leg room for six-footers.

Both Henry J sedan models are available with overdrive.

MARMORA

Marmora — Mrs. J. W. Nayler, of Madoc, is spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Nayler.

Delsa Group of St. Paul's Ladies' Guild held a meeting in the Rectory on Tuesday evening with Mrs. B. McGarvey presiding.

Rural Dean J. M. Brownlie and Mr. W. J. Cottrell attended the Deanery Synod Clerk's Conference in Canterbury Hall, Trenton, on Tuesday evening, when Rev. J. S. Wetmore, Field Secretary of the G. B. R. E., was the speaker and initial plans were laid for the formation of a Sunday School Teachers Association for the United Deaneries of Hastings and Prince Edward.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Doyle and Mrs. Peter Brawley visited Mr. and Mrs. John Forestell in Lindsay, on Wednesday.

MOUNTAIN VIEW

Mountain View—Mr. and Mrs. Charles Carnrike and Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Carnrike and children of Consecon were Monday supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Jones.

Mrs. Fred Purtelli, Mrs. Vaz Squire and children of Burrs were Saturday afternoon callers of Miss Lillian Sague.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Skinkle of Bellville were Monday evening guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Lough.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Sprague attended a birthday party in honor of Mrs. Warren Chase of Bloomfield which was held at the home of her sister, Mrs. Sherman Weir, and Mr. Weir at Bowermans on Saturday evening.

Miss Pauline Sprague entertained the members of the Junior United Church organization of which she is president at her home on Tuesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Anderson, Miss Lillian Anderson and Miss Ruth Wills attended a supper Thursday afternoon in Picton.

ROSLIN

Roslin—The annual congregational meeting of the Roslin United Church was held on Monday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Andy Colden.

On Wednesday evening several members of the Roslin attended a joint meeting of the Plainfield circuit at Plainfield.

St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church held their annual congregational meeting recently at the home of Mrs. William Wilt and Mr. Norman White.

The Ladies' Aid group of St. Paul's Church held a successful euchre party in the Orange Hall, on Tuesday evening.

Several from here attended a social evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Carleton, Thomasburg, on Wednesday evening.

Miss Shirley Dalton spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. Morgan. Shirley, who is a nurse-in-training at Belleville General Hospital, recently underwent an appedectomy.

$6500 IN CASH PRIZES
100 PRIZES IN THE POT!
POT OF GOLD CONTEST
TWO GRAND PRIZES $1500 EACH
SOLVE THIS SIMPLE PROBLEM NOW TO ENTER THE CONTEST
WHO MAY ENTER—Contest is open to anyone residing in Canada, excepting one person, or members of his family, of any person, who has won $300.00 or over in any contest whatsoever. Also excluded are employees of The Canadian Hobby-Craft Magazine, or members of their families.
THE PROBLEM—In the puzzle, four creatures are going after that POT OF GOLD—a hare, a tortoise, a bird and a fish. They're going to run for it, crawl for it, fly for it, and swim for it. What they don't know is that three of them are going on boards, and only one is clear.
Your job in solving the puzzle is to find out which path is open to the centre. You will simply have to trace it out for yourself and see. Then you'll know which creature can reach the POT OF GOLD.
WHO WILL REACH THE POT OF GOLD—Will it be the hare, the fish, the tortoise or the bird?
Each creature is stationed at one entrance to the maze. Every line in the drawing represents an impassable wall. Only one path, and only, leads to the centre. Which creature can reach the POT OF GOLD? A little effort now can win you one of those handsome CASH PRIZES. But you should ACT NOW!
Solution Blank
I choose the HARE ☐ FISH ☐ TORTOISE ☐ BIRD ☐ to reach the POT OF GOLD. Without obligation, send me complete details on how I may win one of those 100 CASH PRIZES in the draw at the POT OF GOLD.
Mail solution to:
Contest Manager,
Hobby-Craft Magazine
95A King St. West,
Toronto, Ontario.
Dept.: AZ1
Name
Address
Prov.
Extra MONEY FOR PROMPTNESS * Enter NOW!

SHANNONVILLE

Shannonville — Mr. Kenneth Juby and Cheryl spent a day recently with Mrs. Charles Doolittle Belleville.

Mrs. John Kent is spending a few days with her son, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Kent and Dianne, of Tuxedo.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Juby, on Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Jack Wellbanks of Belleville, Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Little and Donald.

Mrs. Lorne Uens and Mrs. William Housten are in Toronto, to be with Mr. Uens who underwent a very serious operation on Thursday at the Sunnybrook Hospital. His friends wish him a speedy recovery.

Peter Caldwell had Billy Brant and Buddy Greig as supper guests on his eighth birthday on Thursday.

Mumps are quite prevalent in the village with a large number absent from school.

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Moore and family of Belleville, were entertained to dinner, at the Rectory, by Rev. and Mrs. Ernest Caldwell, on Sunday. Mr. Moore is the organist of St. Margarets-on-the-Hill Church.

Euchre Party

Mrs. Sidney Fitzgerald entertained the Milltown euchre club on Tuesday evening. Prizes were awarded as follows: travelling lone hand, Mrs. Alvin McKenzie; consolation, Mrs. Herb. Housten; refreshments were served by the hostess and a social time was spent.

Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Vivian visited Miss Mary I. Vivian, who is a nurse-in-training at Kingston General Hospital, on Sunday.

Mrs. Ernest Caldwell and Mrs. Sidney Fitzgerald called on Mrs. Dayton Millgan, on Wednesday.

DO YOU
STAND UNPROTECTED FROM THE RAIN
WHILE YOU GET YOUR DOOR KEY?
PROTECT YOUR DOORWAY WITH A
KOOL VENT
DOORWAY CANOPY
Phone NOW for full particulars on our
SPECIAL STANDARD CANOPY
CHAPMAN KOOL VENT SALES
81 KING STREET WEST
OSHAWA — PHONE 674
OR PHONE
H. WANNAMAKER
Belleville 3235-W

Lloyd's Cleaners
ANNOUNCE A
CASH and CARRY
DEPOT
402 FRONT STREET PHONE 332-M
NEXT TO THE FIRE HALL
AS AN ADDED CONVENIENCE TO OUR CUSTOMERS.
A receipt is given with each order and all goods are insured against Fire and Theft.
HAVE YOU TRIED OUR
Flex-Forming Of Dresses
Each dress is measured when received, and, after cleaning, it is finished to these measurements. THERE IS NO GUESS WORK. If you have any trouble with shrinkage, give us a try. ALL WORK GUARANTEED.
AGENTS IN THE FOLLOWING TOWNS:
STIRLING—Bateman's Ladies' Wear.
MARMORA—Lavender's.
PICTON—Ted's Men's Wear.
WELLINGTON—Kean's Drug Store.
CROOKSTON—Bremner's.
Alterations and Repairs of all kinds. Draping, Turning Cuffs, Zippers Installed and Repaired, etc.
You'll Like Lloyd's Personal Service
FOR PICK-UP AND DELIVERY
PHONE 415

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

ENGAGEMENT NOTICE

Mrs. Herbert H. Holland announces the engagement of her daughter, Mary Jean, to Thomas Kenneth, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Burnett, of Niagara Falls, Ontario, the marriage to take place quietly the latter part of February.

* * *

Miss Susie Montgomery, of Rustic, is spending a few days with friends in Belleville.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Ridley Wallbridge, and Mr. and Mrs. James Wright, spent a few days this week in Toronto and London.

* * *

The friends of Mrs. Jack Ellis, 11 Albion Street, will be sorry to learn that she is a patient in the Belleville General Hospital.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. Ken Smith, also Mr. and Mrs. Jack Good, of Toronto, spent last weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Gregg Sutherland and Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Oliphant.

* * *

Mrs. M. L. MacPherson, 49 Alexander Street, has recently undergone an operation in the Kingston Hospital, is progressing favorably.

* * *

Friends and relatives of Jimmy Haggerty, 32 Bleecker Street, will be sorry to learn he is a patient in the Belleville General Hospital, where he has undergone an appendectomy.

* * *

Dr. Bruce Crook, of John Hopkins Hospital, Baltimore, Md., attended the College Conference of American College of Physicians held recently in Philadelphia, Pa. Dr. Crook is son of Dr. and Mrs. G. S. Crook, of this city.

* * *

Euchre and Bridge

The Contact Club of Christ Church held a bridge and euchre in the Parish Hall last evening. About thirty tables were in play, the winners for bridge being, Mrs. Josephine Fraser, Mrs. Burlington, Mrs. George Mills, and Mrs. Carr-Harris; men, Mr. F. Lazier, Mr. Cleo Colling and Mr. Murray Johnston.

For euchre, Mrs. Gayle, Miss Luella Morton, Mrs. Whalen, Mrs. C. Thompson; men, Mr. S. Galpin, Mr. W. A. Mills, and R. Posts.

All prizes were presented by the president, Mrs. J. Wray.

Refreshments were served later.

Ladies Society B. F. L and E. Installs Officers

The Ladies' Society of the B. of L.F. and E. held their annual installation of officers last Monday evening in the Orange Hall.

Mrs. J. Gallagher installed the officers with Mrs. G. Mathews as installing marshal. Mrs. A. Jordon presided at the piano. The officers installed were: Mrs. Cleo, president, Mrs. C. Burley; vice president, Mrs. W. Bond; secretary, Mrs. D. Brown, Mrs. J. Van Allen, Mrs. N. Fraser; assistant secretary, J. Laney; secretary, Mrs. J. Millgan; conductor, Mrs. J. Gallagher; chaplain, Mrs. R. Turner; guard, Mrs. H. Thomson; outer guard, Mrs. J. Wray; press correspondent, Mrs. J. Kingston; delegates, Mrs. D. Brown, Mrs. Cleo, flag bearer, Mrs. G. Bishop; pianist, Mrs. W. Grey.

After the officers were escorted to their stations, the newly elected president, Mrs. Cleo, took charge graciously thanked the officers and members for their manner, then stowed upon her and expressed her desire to uphold the traditions of the lodge with the co-operation of all concerned.

The past president's pin was then presented to Mrs. Wm. Fairbairn, and 25 year membership pin was presented to Mrs. A. Miller for which appreciation was replied in a fitting manner. Mrs. A. Gordon, was presented with an emerald set of earrings and necklace which matched at the piano in acknowledgment of her services as organist.

With officers attired in white dresses wearing corsages of red carnations, the official drill was exemplified under the capable leadership of Mrs. G. Mathews and Mrs. S. White with Mrs. J. Gallagher as captain.

Many were the compliments to the leaders for the fine manner in which the drill was carried out.

At this time, Mr. Harold Trapsell and Mr. Jack Williams rendered a duet entitled "Old Rugged Cross."

Refreshments were served under the convenorship of Mrs. J. McCormick and Mrs. W. Adams and her committee.

Music for dancing was supplied by Johnny Lloyd's orchestra.

CUTTING INDUSTRY

Sawmills at Vancouver slice through 15,000,000 feet of lumber a year.

Women's Activities

W. Huntingdon St. Andrew's W.M.S.

Ivanhoe — The January meeting of the Andrew W.M.S. West Huntingdon, was held at the home of Mrs. Harry Thompson on Thursday afternoon and was well attended.

The meeting was conducted by the president, Mrs. Morley Haggerty, who opened the program by stating a poem on the missionaries. The scripture reading found in Joshua was read by Mrs. Wm. Donegan. Mrs. Wm. Shaw led in prayer.

A fine paper on the new year was given by Mrs. J. C. Ellis. At the beginning of the year business men take an inventory and check their progress. This would be a wise thing for Christian workers-to do, forget their losses and remember the good. This new chapter written will be determined by how well the lessons taught in the past have been learned. All should pray more often and speak more kindly words.

Mrs. Milton Shaw sang "Have You Counted the Cost," with Mrs. Jessie Hall at the piano.

A reading was given by Mrs. Barton Hagerty on "Wisdom". The Study Book was introduced by Miss Bessie Fleming, who opened the study. The chapter was "Advance." The purpose of this book is to show W.M.S. members the work they are doing for if one does not know where to look he can be hope to know where he ought to be.

Interesting Reading

An interesting reading was given by Mrs. Donald Haggerty on "Beginning." The minutes of the December meeting were read by Mrs. Wm. Donegan and the business arising from them was discussed.

A life membership certificate was presented to Miss Bessie Fleming by Mrs. J. C. Ellis. It was read a brief address and past presidents' pins, Mrs. Mc(r)., made the presentation. Mrs. Fleming expressed thanks to the W.M.S. members for the honor conferred on her and said although she was not teaching would strive to be more earnest and worthy in the future.

A vote of thanks was moved to Mrs. Thompson and delicious refreshments were served.

HALLOWAY W.M.S.-W.A.

The January meeting of the Halloway W.M.S.-W.A. was held at the home of Mrs. Kenneth Mc-Gillivray on Wednesday afternoon, with a good attendance.

Mrs. Ed. Emerson opened the meeting by use of the call to worship service as outlined in the Missionary Monthly. A sentence prayer by president were, Mrs. Earl Snider, Mrs. Lorne Wellman, and Mrs. Coleman Bowerman. The roll call was responded to by the paying of fees. By the secretary each member make her own program guide for the year, a prize to be given for the best one selected at the next meeting.

Mrs. Coleman Bowerman and Mrs. C. Townsend were appointed to a telephone committee, to remind the members of the meetings. It was also decided, each member of the meeting to the roll call, must pay a fine.

* * *

W.A. Meeting

Mrs. Lorne Wellman president of the W.A., opened the meeting. Seven members answered the roll. Three ladies, Mrs. Embury Hough, Mrs. Blake McMullen and Mrs. Ross Wellman were appointed the buying committee, for the next meeting to be held at Belleville Livestock Sales, in February.

Mrs. Ed. Emerson invited the ladies to her home on February 7, to a quilting.

After the meeting closed refreshments were served by the hostess.

WOMEN'S MISSION CIRCLE

The January meeting of the Women's Mission Circle of Victoria Avenue Baptist Church, was held on Tuesday evening, at the home of Mrs. Arthur Reynolds, Charles Street. In spite of it being such a cold night, there were 30 members present. The president, Mrs. C. Campbell, presided.

The devotional period was conducted by Mrs. W. Neal, vice president of the Circle. After a short prayer, Mrs. Neal read a few verses of Scripture from the Gospel according to St. Mark, about Jesus calling His disciples, and then gave a thought-provoking meditation describing the different disciples, and what unlikely men they would have appeared today, to have been chosen for the great responsibility of first establishing Christ's kingdom in the world.

But how God can change and mould human nature—like the potter and his wheel can mold the clay—if one but yields himself to God's Divine Will and Skill.

The "Watch Tower" was given by Mrs. Eastman, and she read several brief items of news from the different mission fields.

Missionary Letter

Mrs. Rolston then read two letters from a Belleville girl, Miss Fern Gerrie, a member of the Alliance Bible Class Church here, who went last fall as a missionary to Akola, Hyerr, India. These letters were most interesting and inspiring, and they presented such a vivid picture of conditions in India today, and seemed to bring the work of these fields close to

Fluid Wool Great Coat

By FRUNELLA WOOD

AMONG all the pyramid coats (which we like very much, make no mistake, but which don't suit everybody) comes this generously wide back model with wool coat, which has with a straight line. It looks like a reversible, but the American beauty that of color down the front is really a turned back facing, as are the huge cuffs.

This sort of coat is lovely over the frocks in weather not too bitter, and can go out over short dinner dresses effectively, as well as in daytimes. The hat looks especially well with it, and so will the American beauty that of color now so popular for formal coiffures.

Adult Education Through Evening Classes

(This is the eighth in a series of articles prepared by the staff of CKCO TV. The purpose of the articles is to let you know more about the staff, aims, equipment, methods and accomplishments of your Secondary School.)

Of the many and varied ways in which the Secondary School seeks to supply the educational needs of the Bay of Quinte district perhaps one of the most useful and interesting is through its night school classes.

The night school term begins each year around the first of October and for all classes except English and Citizenship for new Canadians in radio mechanics, r..achine shop, woodworking, drafting or welding. There is for beginners and an advanced class in the latter subject. Similarly there are two classes in sewing. The strictly hobby classes are limited to drawing and painting and crafts, although the cabinet-making course is a hobby for a number of students. Finally we have two classes in basic English and citizenship for the new Canadians who have come to our community and require help to master language difficulties and also to prepare for citizenship here.

Since the students attending the classes are at different levels of achievement much of the instruction must be done on an individual basis. To make this possible classes are limited to 15 students each and waiting lists are set up after the classes reach capacity. Students are moved over from these lists into the classes as others drop out. Students who attend at least 80 percent of the classes and do satisfactory work are presented with certificates of achievement at the end of the term. These are greatly prized and in certain trades are credited on apprenticeship.

the minds and hearts of all who heard them.

Synopsis Given

The topic of the evening was presented by Miss A. Lucretia Sills, who gave a synopsis of each of the books which make up the "Reading Course" for 1951, and described them in such an interesting way that all the members will be anxious to read all of the books as soon as possible.

During the business period a letter was read from a worker on the mission fields at Brawick, thanking the Circle members for the gifts sent to each child in the mission at Christmas time.

Following the meeting, refreshments were served by Mrs. Hetherington and her social committee.

GREAT IMPROVEMENT

Despite the population increase, diphtheria deaths in Canada in 1949 totaled 79 compared with 1,-281 in 1924.

Library Corner

(By O.D.)

A FEW BOOKS FOR GIRLS

Belle of Heaven by Christopher Bick.

This is the biography of Joan of Arc. The book stresses what an ordinary little girl Joan was before she heard the "calls from Heaven". It tells the gradual way in which Joan realized she had a duty to perform, her interviews with the church authorities, her active leadership of the French forces against the English, and her death at the stake. It is written for young people and will be enjoyed by girls in Grade 8 and up.

The Doll Who Came Alive by Enys Tregarthen

Little Jyd was given a doll from Holland by a sailor. She loved it so much it became alive and could walk and talk. An example of their conversation is their discussion about "elbow grease" when Jyd was getting Janet to "wash and scrub". Good for girls up to Grade 5 or 6.

The Bear in the Wall by Marguerite De Angeli

Robin's father, Sir John, wanted Robin to become a knight during the plague in England, just before his leg. He was crazy for the art of being a knight, Robin contracted a disease that crippled up his legs. He was cared for by the good Monks and taught to whittle and to swim. Through many adventures Robin, still on crutches, earned the right to be a knight in the long name.

This is an excellent book for Grades 5 or 6 or 7.

Peter Perfect by Bernice Bryant

This book is called—a "guide to personality, and popularity for the Junior Miss". It deals with such such fundamentals as clothes, table manners, personality, hobbies, parties and how to run them. Good for all girls who are interested.

Pocket Full of Feathers by Madeleine M. Meyers.

Two girls try to help their Dad out of a financial difficulty while they are on a summer vacation. Thistle, one of the girls, decides to make files for fishing and she works up quite a business. But where the feathers come into the book. The story is also complicated by a love affair carried on by Thistle's sister named Tony Hunter. For girls in Grades 6, 7 or 8.

Nerta, Winds Blow Free by Elizabeth Howard.

This book is not in circulation as yet but will be in a week or two. It is about Eighteen which is enough to think about marriage. How father's farm in the northern United States was a station on the "Underground Railway" which helped runaway slaves from the South to escape the comparative freedom of Canada. Her father bought land for them to live and set up a receiving station for the slaves to help them on their journey. Read the rest of the story!—But it is good reading for girls in Grade 8 and up. Review Reading Service by M. G. Kiser.

This is a humorous tale of poverty and sun-bonnets and Aunt Pugg and Uncle Pugg and Bonny-Belle and Sandy and a new sewing for. It is written bright and cheerfully and will be a happy hour or so for girls in Grades 4, 5 and 6.

BUILDING BOOM

Edmonton's building boom reached a record of nearly $46,500,000, or $8,000,000 higher than 1949.

Says Farmers In Israel Upper Class

Toronto, —(CP)—Farmers are aristocrats in Israel, says a woman who spent 10 years there doing social service work.

Mrs. Avraham Harman, who came here in 1949 with her husband, who then was consul-general for Israel, says there is little difficulty interesting immigrants in farming.

She told the Toronto Pioneer Women recently that she considers this situation different from that of many countries where the farmer is regarded as an "inferior" and where life on the land is not sought after.

Israel's great need for food production and the development of every arable acre have "created a different sense of values and the agriculturists are considered to be the aristocracy."

Employment and housing remain the major problems in Israel, where as many as 15,000 immigrants arrive each month. Until housing is available, settlers are accommodated in tent-city camps, said Mrs. Harman.

By this system, they work part time to pay for their food and it is found to be a better arrangement than in old camps where the inhabitants had become attached to idle ambition and initiative.

In work with children, there still are problems of maladjustment, dislocation, difficulties in language and shortages of teachers and textbooks.

In Israel, said Mrs. Harman, "there is need for practically everything."

CWL Valentine Tea

The weather outside was unpleasant but the tea party was most delightful, at the home of Mrs. W. N. Reilly 104 Victoria avenue, when Mrs. Miss M. Fitzpatrick invited the guests to the tea room with its atmosphere of red, green and gracious hospitality and its "decor" in the Valentine motif.

The tea table was centred with a large silver bowl of white chrysanthemums, interspersed of small red cupids, hearts and arrows tucked here and there among the flowers. Red heart-shaped doilies were under the plates and the cakes and candies had lacy collars in their triple silver candelabra. At either end of the table were silver candles placed in the soft candlelight over a beautiful Scotch linen cloth.

Pouring tea during the afternoon were Mrs. E. G. Hopkins and Mrs. Miss Mildred Hudon, Whelan and Miss K. Dolan. The serving guests were Miss Hudon, Miss J. McCarey, Mrs. A. Berrigan, Mrs. H. Trapanier and Mrs. Miss Mary Hudon. Mrs. Miss Ralise and Mrs. T. Fleury replanished.

Mrs. W. Callaghan and Mrs. J. O'Connor had a most delicious supper table with their cakes baking which was quickly sold.

Of great interest to everyone were the articles which valentine chances could be had. Mrs. B. J. Burley had a collection of hand-knitting rhinestone and, sterling necklet with matching bracelet which was won by Mrs. Miss Belair. The glamor pin, in gold with turquoise stones in shape of a ballerina poised in relevé passe was in the care of Mrs. W. Allore and the happy claimant of that pin was Mary Ann Lellan. The luscious angel cake with its frothy pale pink topping of fluffy icing was won by Mrs. Beads went to Mrs. L. Allore when Miss M. Maclellan had sold all her tickets.

This successful affair was sponsored by the members of Baldwin, Bleecker and Parkwood Heights wards of the Catholic Women's League under the convenorship of Mrs. E. Logan. Mrs. Miss and Mrs. J. Boyle with Mrs. B. E. Burley as treasurer.

SISTERS ALL

By Jean Love Galloway

Canadian women who heard the network broadcast speeches of Lord and Lady Tweedsmuir from the Empire Club in Toronto, couldn't help being not a little amazed at how this husband and wife team can handle an audience. Somebody on the committee certainly came up with a bright idea when he suggested that the Lady speak too . . . And while John Buchan, junior, turned in a fairly good speech, his wife came through with a better one . . . Mind you, Lady Tweedsmuir was not asked only to "say a few words of greeting" which is the usual eye-washing with intent to brush off — but, she was given half the allotted time to discuss such a meaty topic as the present European situation.

It was indeed a compliment to dinner speakers. Ministers' wives are usually good on the platform. We often wonder if they couldn't deliver a fine sermon of a Sunday, if given the chance.

In every community, it is oh, so evident that women are good on their feet outside the home as well as in it. Men, of course, so seldom hear women speak — in public life that they aren't aware of their abilities. Let's cut down on men's speeches for all such events, make room for women sort of of thing. Let's be partners for a change. Let's put the man and his wife on the platform and let's let her get some applause in her own right, not merely accept the bouquet. It's an idea for community clubs all over.

* * *

Uncle Frontenac says the way some of them barbers use their clippers, their customers leave the shop looking as if they had stuck their heads into a pencil sharpener.

HEADACHES
COLDS
RHEUMATIC
and PERIODIC PAINS
Quickly relieved by ANTALGINE

IMMEDIATE DELIVERY
or $5.00 WILL HOLD
TILL APRIL 1st.
REFRIGERATORS
$329.50
SEALED UNIT
8 CU. FT. CAPACITY
5 YEAR GUARANTEE
RACKS ON DOOR
BILL DELINE LTD.
Distributors for
FIRESTONE — ROY —
NORGE — MOFFAT — MAJESTIC
FAIRBANKS MORSE
225 Coleman St. Phone 2311
Your Firestone Dealer

Add years of life to your watch
Your old watch can still be made to keep good time if properly serviced.
ALL WATCH REPAIR WORK DONE HERE IS ELECTRONICALLY TESTED ON A
Watch Master
EXPERT REPAIRING AT MODEST COST
Angus McFee JEWELLER
SINCE 1860
YOUR CREDIT JEWELLER

Key No.1
FOR THE GREATEST SAVINGS in FURNITURE
SEE WEDNESDAY'S PAPER

News of Trenton Brigadier Jack Genet Favors Conscription in Speaking On 'Operation Preparedness'

Trenton (Special) —Addressing a meeting called "Operation Preparedness" in the new Canadian Legion Hall Thursday night, Mr. Jack Genet, C.B.E., M.C. lashed out at Canadian citizens shirking their responsibilities. He said, "I am in favor of conscription in this country" declared the former Canadian Army Brigadier, but how are we going to introduce it he asked. Should the Canadian government, Liberal or Conservative will advocate registration. Secession in the province of Quebec won't have it, he revealed, so government can live without the support of the Province of that part of Canada.

The people of Quebec are not going to be told what to do he added, and they are entitled to their privileges under the terms of the North America Act. Mr. Genet who spent 34 years of his life in the army and saw active service in both World Wars spoke of the French Canadian soldier as an individual as a fine soldier. He said he found the French Canadians to be quick fighters when the chips were down. He remarked that the French Canadians would not be hard to get into the army by conscription measures. Mr. Genet did not like the French Canadian people for their own ideas. He contended that they did not think the same as the people in the Anglo-Saxon population.

Suggest Program

If we can't have conscription what can we do about it, he asked. He suggested that the Canadian president of the Canadian Legion introduce a three-point program. Universal military registration, Mobilization of industry and Compulsory Reserve Training for all three services. "If we sincerely believe in what we are doing" he said, "then surely we can reason out a sensible plan."

Mr. Genet stressed two points. Firstly he suggested an educational campaign starting in the basement of National Defence to prepare a training curriculum of military instruction for the higher classes of high schools and universities and a time be set aside for teaching which would be in the regular classes. It is just as important to young people of today to keep themselves physically fit and familiar with small arms and gunnery as it is to be familiar with history, mathematics or English, he warned. He believed that this system set up in Ontario schools would spread of its own accord and this could be adopted by all provinces of Canada.

He cited several collegiate institutes and schools but said that only 100 persons cadet training enrolment they have. The loyalty of these as examples of institutions eager to prepare young Canadians for any emergency. He said that the honorable military instructors be in charge of schools adopting compulsory drilling. In the days he were done he said, and the younger men of today were properly trained they would have confidence any army six to 10 months start on anything we have had in the other two wars.

Mr. Genet strongly advocated that companies like the Bell Telephone let the public know that they would not hire a man unless he had military training or had a certificate stating he was not medically fit. He said big industry had done excellent training similar to the way universities regulate labor." He felt that big industry would not have much trouble in entering into such an agreement with the government.

Up to Individual

Looking from the political side he said the Liberals were not going to give us conscription. He said that the Conservative party could offer anything either. He figured that the individual would have to promote preparedness.

Brigadier Genet recalled news story of the Young Conservative organization in Toronto favoring such a resolution asking for compulsory training in the country. "So if political parties are not going to do much about it we have got to do it ourselves," he said. He suggested that each individual go out promoting the idea among his friends and neighbors.

I don't think war is inevitable predicted Mr. Genet but it is inevitable for a soft useless people he warned. He said that "we should be prepared to say that we expected to be able to carry on as a proud nation."

"Do you mean to tell me that any red blooded Canadian is going to twice in succession run in front of a Russian or Chinaman," he asked, "Canadians have stood twice in front of the enemy for them," he pointed out. "All that is needed is a few extra bullets to dispose of their bodies," he said.

Illustrates by Story

Mr. Genet closed his rousing address by telling a story relating to get any thoughts of being influenced of Russians or Chinamen out of their minds. He described his last statement with a story that emanated from General Crerar's staff. The planning room before the break-through at Falaise Gap in the last war.

According to the story General Crerar was showing a full Russian General around the map of the plan of battle. Four Canadian divisions faced eight German divisions which were supported by another 12 divisions within 24 hours marching distance. The Russian General told Gen. Crerar he was foolish to attack. "We will we only asked," he replied General Crerar, "but we will win."

The Russian General explained that attack should not be made unless the aggressor outnumbered him two to one. He told the history recorded General Crerar was right. The Canadians not only attacked but they broke the back of the most decisive blows of the war. The speaker was introduced by Legion President Allan Vander-

Work of Health Department Outlined to Delegates

Trenton (Special) — Dr. D. S. Fuller, M.D., D.P.H. of the Ontario Department of Health gave the sixth regional conference of the sanitation personnel for region 2 of the department of the work of the Provincial Health Department during 1950 last night. Dr. Fuller was addressing twenty-four representatives who gathered in the sanitarium of the renovated Legion Hall on Thursday.

Getting down to facts and figures the health administrator revealed that Ontario's 11,000 mental cases cost the taxpayers $14,000,000 to maintain last year. He said new buildings were being extended and the new institution opening at Smiths Falls this month would make a total of 15 mental hospitals now operating in the province.

"Although the sanatoria for T.B. victims is not directly the responsibility of the Department of Health but run by a separate board", he said, "over $6,000,000 is being treated needed $6,000,000 a year." Dr. Puffer praised the work of the Trenton Sanatorium for Ontario's death rate from T.B. which is the lowest in Canada and among the lowest in the world.

The rate now is 15 deaths per a 100,000 population, Dr. Puffer said.

He warned, however, that the mortality rate should not be taken as an excuse for a let up in the effort to stamp out the dreaded disease. He pointed out that the rate of deaths was still high. "Some 260,000 residents in the province were surveyed by the X-ray units in the fight 1950," he said.

Speaks on Sanitation

Speaking on sanitation Dr. Puffer said, "The department is to treat the Department of Health as a repository of information and information without the slightest hesitation. "Friendly co-operation is the keynote of the policy of the Department of Health," he said.

Dr. Puffer reported that the 15 laboratories in Ontario made a total of 1,500,000 examinations at a cost of 43 cents for each examination. He revealed that typhoid had dropped from 1,081 in 1949 to 371 in 1950 while the cost of caring for typhoid remained at about $500,000 yearly.

Dr. Puffer explaining the reason for the continued high cost of maintenance of polio cases said the treatment was done in Port Arthur, Ontario for whom the Department of Health had maintained in a respirator since 1938. The boy, he said, had been receiving the treatment in a respect medical and nursing service 12 years.

Dr. Puffer informed the meeting that health allotments to municipalities was costing the Ontario government $6,000 monthly.

The delegates and Department of Health officials were welcomed by Councillor Ross Burtt who was acting on behalf of Mayor Kenneth Couch and the Trenton Branch of the Canadian Legion.

Delegates Present

Among those present were: Dr. R. S. Puffer, B.A., M.D., D.P.H., of the Ontario Department of Health; Dr. F. M. R. Bulmer, Ontario Department of Health; Dr. Stanley Ontario Department of Health; Dr. J. Hall, Ontario Department of Health; G. A. H. Burn, Sanitary Engineering Division, Ontario Department of Health; Dr. W. G. Tyler, Sanitary Engineering Division, Ontario Department of Health; Dr. J. G. Hunter, Prince Edward County Health Unit; N. D. Woolings, Sanitary Engineering Division, Ontario Department of Health; C. B. Harris, Prince Edward County Health Unit; A. H. Moore, Northumberland, Durham, Health Unit; T. E. Watts, Northumberland, Durham, Health Unit; Durham, Health Unit; P.S. M. Fiewelling, R.C.A.F., Trenton; Mr. Wright, Inspector for Thurlow township; E. R. Jones, Sanitary Inspector for Trenton; J. Prinzeyes, Northumberland, Durham Health Unit; C. Whitman, Sanitary Inspector, Belleville; A. M. MacPherson, Sanitary Inspector for Peterborough; C. A. Thompson, Sanitary Officer, Kingston; D. Schroeder, Sanitary Officer, Kingston; R. Cook, Lennox County Health Unit, Newmarket; A. Peterson, York County Health Unit, Newmarket; E. Spoor, Lennox, Addington Health Unit, Napanee; K. Cox, Department of Labor, Stirling; S/L. William A. Fowler, R.C.A.F., Trenton; Mrs. J. Harder, Lennox, Addington and Prince Edward Counties Health Unit, Napanee.

Snow Flew Cats Off Lamp Standard

While clearing the right away from Dundas Street last night with a snow removal tractor cut off a street light on the right hand side of Gilmour Hill pushing that part of the main through lighting in darkness. Sturgeon Leavey was driving the tractor at the time.

Personals

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Large of Charlotte town are in the city visiting yesterday of Mr. and Mrs A. R. Kendall of Cobourg. The couple were on their way to California on a holiday.

Miss Sue Beatty of Trenton is going to the Bahamas for 10 days flying down to the southern vacation land on Sunday.

Mr. Kenneth White local newspaper editor is leaving with his wife on Monday for Ottawa where he will follow his annual vocation. Mr. and Mrs. White have lived in Trenton for three years during which time they have made many friends and acquaintances. Their presence will be missed by many.

Urges Pioneering In Child Study

Kingston, Feb. 3 (CP) — Dr. William Line of Toronto, president of the World Federation for Mental Health, urged more study on social scientists to pioneer in such fields as parent education and child study, prison reform, attitudes to delinquency and to "demanding a social concept of psychiatry."

He spoke to the Ontario Psychological Association convention at Queen's University.

He said two Canadians, Brock Chisholm and Prof. Otto Klineberg, had made an outstanding contribution to world social science.

Dr. Line urged members "to give leadership in these affairs to men," and suggested improved service to mental hospital patients, more psychiatrists, child guidance clinics as two objectives.

Dr. Line is professor of psychology at the University of Toronto.

Scientist Finds Snow Radioactive But Not Harmful

Hamilton, Feb. 3 —(CP)—Radioactive qualities found in new snowfalls here definitely have been associated with atomic experiments in the U.S., Dr. Tomlinson, research fellow on the National Research Council at McMaster University said Friday.

Dr. Tomlinson has been collecting snow since last year and so at McMaster and found it radioactive. Yesterday's snowfall was the heaviest in past years or

Belleville Rockets Slip To Third Slot in Group As Lindsay Kinsmen Win 7-2

By JACK BROWN

The Belleville Rockets slipped further down the scale last night, losing to the Lindsay Kinsmen for the second time in a week. Score of the game, played on Kenaga Ice, was 7-2, with four of the Lindsay goals coming in the last eight minutes of the game, to the line 12-minute mark of the last period. It looked as if the Rockets might overcome a 3-3 margin and go on from there, but the Kinsmen suddenly took fire and rapped in three goals in a minute and seven seconds to new it up. They added their last counter with less than two minutes left to play.

Defensive lapses cost the Rockets the game last night. Time after time they failed to clear the puck from their own end when Lindsay was pressing, and the Devlines happened when the Kinsmen broke loose in that dis-astrous third. The Rocks had spotted the homesters a trio of goals, one in the first, and two in the second. Then they got moving. Showed Signs of Life

Then, goals by Pat Gilmour and Peter Green put them back into the game, and they began to show signs of life. The heavy body-breaker came in the second period when Pete Green lashed out with a check that sent four men bite line that McGuire couldn't handle. But just a minute later, Greg Herb Payne blew his whistle for an offside, and the goal was not allowed.

That seemed to be the turning point in the game, and the Rockets never recovered.

Referee Payne handed out an even dozen penalties, including a misconduct to Doug Powell of Lindsay after the Scugogger protested a minor high sticking call. Otherwise, the sentences were evenly split between Lindsay and Doug Hull, up from juvenile ranks to replace the ailing Duke Dorna, a regular Kinsmen guard from the Kinsmen boys, as did the rest of the Rockets. Hull went the hospital after the game and had a stitch taken on the inside of his lower lip. Mason was also knocked starry-eyed in the third period by a high stick, but came back later.

The Lindsay crew struck early, racking up their first counter at 4.43 of the initial period when Bruce Hall grabbed a rebound on a Wall Shervington shot and fired it past Tripp. Then, in the second period, Sinclair and Gilmour scored. The tie light before Peter Green's screen shot eluded McGuire. Soon after, Jack Murphy and Grant Green took malgrs for fighting, and Mason drew a bit for high sticking, but the Kinsmen, using four forwards, couldn't score.

Gilmour's Goal Pretty

Gilmour's goal was a pretty piece of play. Declarded Sinclair stickhandled inside the blueline, pulled the defence over, and laid the puck on Gilmour's stick. He toyed with McGuire and then fired the biscuit into the short side of the net. The teams were still playing five aside at that time.

The referee called for police help in that wild second, as Herb Baker and Harry Brown made threatening motions at each other from their respective benches. The benches in the Lindsay icehouse are right alongside one another, and it doesn't exactly lend to good feeling. The difference arose when Baker claimed one of the Rockets had nicked him with a stick and drawn blood. The referee refused to hand out a penalty, and took a roaring round of catcalls from the stands for it.

Best for the Rockets on the night were Peter Green and Gilmour, the other goal scorer. All of the Lindsay crew were bustling all night, but Karrys, Powell and Shervington were standouts.

The Lineups

Lindsay: Goal, McGuire; defence, Shervington, Walling; centre, Powell; wings, Sinclair, Schenckel; subs, Lucas, G. Green, Baker, Karrys, Hall, Wall, Vesey, Dysart.

Belleville: Goal Tripp; defence, Green, Trumble; centre, Desjardins; wings, Hull, Gilmour; subs, Durland, Manlin, Mason, Strahan, Murphy, Houle, Carey, Brown.

Referee, Herb Payne, Peterborough; head linesman, Percy McIntosh, Lindsay.

SUMMARY

1st Period

Lindsay Hall (Shervington) 4.32
Penalties: G. Green, Powell (two minors and misconduct), Murphy (major).

2nd Period

Lindsay Sinclair (Schenkel) 5.03
Lindsay Gilmour (Shervington (Karrys) 6.00
Penalties

Johnny Comick Lost to Tigers Through Injury

The league of Hamilton Tigers clinging to third place in the Ontario Hockey Association junior series, were defeated on Wednesday night, Johnny Comick, Hamilton centre and one of the league's leading point getters, was injured out of action for an indefinite length of time last night in a rough game at Waterloo.

Kitchener-Waterloo Dutchmen came out with an 8-4 decision over the Tigers and narrowed the margin between the two bottom teams in the O.H.A. to a single point.

Comick, who has been vieing with Waterloo's Billy Fluke for the league-scoring leadership, was boarded heavily in the first period by Art Hurst. He is feared to have a shoulder separation and fracture.

Billy Fick regained the scoring leadership with three goals and two assists. Don Bauer and Mickey Roth got two goals each and Ted Campbell got the other for the Dutchmen.

Claire Shillington stored twice and Don Cherry and Murray Comfort once each for Hamilton.

In the O.H.A. Senior A series all 10 teams were in action last night although the outcome of the Hamilton game had little effect on the order of the teams in the league standings.

Windsor Spitfires maintained their first-place lead with a 6-4 victory over Toronto Marlboro St. Michael's; Barrie remained a point back in second place with an 11-3 win over Kitchener Black Hawks; Guelph Biltmores defeated last-place Waterloo Hawks 12-4; the Oshawa Generals and Toronto Native Sons battled to eight place with a 7-6 win over Oshawa Generals.

Hamilton Tigers had a rough, tough affair with the teams dividing all honors, four of them majors. Elder Thomas gained the highest with a goal and two assists while Grosse scored a pair and Earl Johnson, Elmer Lamothe and Gaye Stewart got the others. Willie Marshall, Jack Waldrake, Bob Schiller and Bill Dineen each got a pair for the whose loss robbed them of a chance to move into eighth place.

The win in Barrie was the fourth straight for the Flyers. Real Chevrefils scored twice and Jerry Toppazzini got two for Barrie. Chuck Wood, Dan O'Connor, Bill Hagan, Lalibois and Jack McKnight got the others. Pete Conway and Desmarais' each split scored for Galt.

Fourth-place Guelph gained forty points on their closest challenger by pasting Waterloo. Ron Murphy with three and Herb Dickinson with two accounted for Biltmores attack. Prentice, Stoghton, Kerr, Bonnetta, Baltagsis, Fontinato and Howell shared the other goals. Warren Godfrey got the lone Hawkeyes and Warne and MacDonald scored goals each.

In St. Catharines a crowd of 3,000 saw the Teepees edge Marlboros. Bruce Gamble, Ron Stewart and Skip Teal scored for the winners. Ron Stewart, Chuck Lumsden and Doug Wheeler were the Marlboros scorers.

Al Sherrard, the Brantford forward line of Guy Henri, Ray Rose and George Allen contributed three of the five goals Bobby Bell and Myles got the others. Jaworski and Delgrody got two each for Oshawa and Alderidge got the other.

Varsity Blues Edge Queen's By 35-34 Score

Toronto, Feb. 3 (CP)— Three last-minute points by substitute centre Steve Carr enabled University of Toronto Blues to come from behind and edge Queen's University Gaels 35-34 in a senior intercollegiate basketball game at Hart House Friday night.

The victory was Varsity's first in two starts as they produced a one-way tie for first place with McGill and University of Western Ontario. It was the second straight loss for Queen's.

The Gaels meet in London tonight to meet University of Western Ontario Mustangs.

Queen's entered the game on a brain delay and hit the floor with only a brief warmup. Varsity piled up a 13-2 margin in the first quarter against the cold Gaels before the lead dwindled to 20-16 at the half.

Queen's forged ahead in the second half and led until the final minute when Carr's field goal and a foul shot resulting from a foul on his scoring play gave the Blues their margin.

The tiny Hart House floor and tight checking on both sides kept the game close. Phil Watson, Toronto's six-foot, seven-inch centre, led the scorers with 11 points. Don Griffin led Queen's with nine.

CAMPBELLFORD

Norwood Clips Campbellford In T.V. Hockey Tilt

Campbellford—The high flying Campbellford T.V. team had their wings clipped on Wednesday night, when they met the Norwood squad in the local arena, and were forced to bend by a 6 to 2 score.

Norwood carried the play from the start of the game, but could not beat Leverne in the Campbellford goal during the first period. The scoring started early in the second period, when the visiting rangers let in their first goal in the first three minutes, and followed them up with another about three minutes later, which tricked past Renwick in the Norwood nets.

The first Campbellford marker checked on every move, and could not hit their customary stride.

Lineup

Norwood—Goal, Renwick; defence, Peterson and Kelly; centre, Payne; wings, Griffin and Thompson; rover, Whitnell. Pete Gasson, Wilson, Webb, Rogers, Gilbert, Burke, Williams; spare goal, Halfyard.

Campbellford— Goal, Laverne; defence, Tanner and Peake; centre, Robinson; wings, Mason and Colle; alternates, Blake, Jeffs, Pace, Donaldson, Smith, Trumble; spare goal, Nelson.

Scoring Summary

First Period—No score.

Second Period

1, Norwood, Ferguson (Whitnell) ..... (Unassisted) 1:20
2, Norwood, Payne (Wilson) 3:21
3, Norwood, Rogers 14:29
4, Campbellford, Blake 19:35

Third Period

5, Norwood, Thompson (Payne and Griffin) 8:31
6, Campbellford, Peake 9:10
7, Norwood, Webb 10:11
8, Campbellford, Cole 15:50
9, Norwood, Payne (Rogers) 16:37
Penalties: Campbellford, Peake (3), Donaldson (2); Norwood, Whitnell, Peterson, Wilson (3), Thompson, (2).

Referee—H. O'Malley and O. Hendy of Belleville.

Town Teams Win Games In Local Loop

Campbellford, Feb. 3—Thursday night is town League Hockey night in Campbellford's arena and crowds were turned out in spite of the wintery weather saw many good games played. Second Legion took on Seymour East and Lloyd's Sport Shop tangled with Seymour West.

The town teams triumphed in both contests, 4 to 2 wins in both games, but the lads displayed an excellent brand of hockey.

The scores in both games would have been much higher if it had not been for the goal tenders on the Seymour East and Lloyd's Sport Shop. Doug Sager in the East nets played a remarkable game, pulling off some almost impossible saves. Ken Bolton (Turk) MacColl displayed excellent ability in Lloyd's goal mind and with a little more luck might have had a shutout. He came out of his end on numerous occasions and robbed the Seymour West team of a great many scoring chances.

Both games were fast and clean and were played on an ice surface that could have been used for curling.

Referees for the first game were Lionel Holmes and Wib. Blake, and the second game was by Doug Free of the Belleville Redmen and Lionel Holmes. Officials in these games gave their services voluntarily.

Legion defeated Seymour East in the first game by a 4 to 0 victory. Lloyd's Sport Shop took the second game from Seymour West by a 3 to 2 score.

Lineups:

Seymour East: Goal, Doug Sager; defence, Jack Bowen and Ken Buchanan; wings, Bill Billen and Bob Cole; centre, Abramanis.

Loucks, J. Thain, A. Radcliffe, G. Hay, D. Hagerman, J. Snarr, C. Irwin, Lyle Thain, J. Fetherick.

Legion: Goal, Pete Wilson; defence, J. Storie and J. Belford; centre, Ken Mitchell; wings, W. Mechetuk and B. White; Alternates, E. Nesbitt, J. Dooher, D. Burgess, G. Kemp, B. Oliver, B. Hendricks, F. Blake.

Lloyd's: Goal, Turk MacColl; defence, F. Bennett and C. Root; centre, Don. Free; wings, Messenger and Gerry Allerston. Gamono, Good, Gibson, Hay, Barlow, Erickson.

Seymour West: Goal, B. Scott; defence, Sheppard and Darrah; centre, J. O'Rourke; wings, C. Thain and G. Curtis; Alternates, Chambers, Rutherford, Chas. O'Rourke, McCrory, Massey, B. Hay.

How Long Does a Fish Live?

By JOHN ALDEN KNIGHT

(Noted Sportsman, Author and Lecturer, of Salmon Tables)

For some reason or other not a great deal of work has been done to determine the average life span of our game fish. We know much about propagnda and hatchery rearing; we know how to promote rapid growth; we can estimate population densities in lakes and streams; but we don't know a great deal about the probable number of years any individual fish will live.

However, there are some general rules that seem pretty close to telling the story. There are always exceptions that tend to upset calculations, but after enough of these have been seen they can be ruled out as exceptions. Only little affect on the general rule.

Temperatures Affect Growth

We know that fish which live in cold water grow more slowly than do fish which live in warmer water. Low temperatures seem to slow down the bodily functions so that they do not assimilate their food as rapidly as those that live in slightly warmer temperatures. Thus, they put on fewer pounds per year.

Conversely, warm-water fish do not live as long as cold-water fish. Their higher temperature makes them grow faster and die sooner. In other words, the warm fish reach their full growth and complete their growth and life span more quickly than do their cold-water relatives.

For instance, a three-year-old bass in the warm waters of a Tennessee reservoir is usually about as big as a six-year-old bass in the cold Wisconsin lake. By the time a Tennessee bass will possibly die of natural causes something during his fifth year, whereas the Wisconsin bass stands a good chance of seeing his seventh birthday.

The accepted method used to determine the age of a fish is by scale readings. The concentric lines or "rings" on the scale of a fish, when viewed through a microscope, will tell the biologist how many summers and winters that fish has seen.

Sink to Bottom

However, when a fish dies by natural causes he does not float to the surface as he does when fish which have been freshly killed. Instead he sinks to the bottom where he soon disappears through the agencies of scavangers and disintegration.

Many natural deaths occur during the winter and this complicates matters, particularly in northern latitudes where ice is on the surfaces of lakes and streams. It can readily be seen that scales from fish which die sport from natural causes are not easily come by.

Thus, estimates and conclusions (concerning the life spans of fish must be drawn from the records of the scales of living fish. Obviously, a great number of readings must be taken in order to obtain indicative data.

An interesting complication in the study of the life spans of the various fishes is the fact that once in a while one will be found which breaks all precedent by living twice or three times as long as the majority of his tribe.

Grows Until Death

These individual ancients are the big fellows—the tackle busters. A fish keeps growing until the very day of his death—if he's not so rapidly in his later years as he does in his youth, but growing nevertheless. For this reason the scale readings of the record catches rarely if ever compare to establish averages.

While there is not enough data to support definite conclusions in regard to fish longevity, the probabilities are that the most members of a species do not live as long as was once supposed. The large fish in lakes, such as muskellunge and sturgeon, seem to live longer than the smaller varieties.

Reliable estimates indicate that in the south-land the average life of fresh-water game fish is from three to four years. In the north the average can be increased from five to six years.

Always it must be remembered that there are the individual lunkers which break all the rules, but in general these averages are fairly accurate. If fish aren't caught in the south before they reach four years or in the north before they reach six years, a few will survive to become record breakers, but the rest will be harvested by old Mother Nature.

Eat Less Frequently

As I say, adult fish, particularly those which are cold, eat relatively little. The average life span, keep on growing until they die but they eat less frequently as they get older. For these to "go on the feed" conditions must be favorable.

When waters are low and are favorable, the peak comes with the Solunar Periods. Then is when the big boys are most likely to be interested in your offerings. A careful analysis of the vital statistics surrounding hundreds of record catches proves that this is true.

For this reason it is the wise thing to do the best we can each day to keep track of the daily Solunar Periods. A bit of forethought along this line will help you to plan intelligently each day in the open and, over the course of a season, will pay big dividends in fish.

O.H.A. Upholds One Protest Throws Other Out

Toronto, Feb. 3—(CP)— The Ontario Hockey Association executive committee, attempting to unravel a complicated tangle in one protest and dismissed another.

Ugo Bolzon, who has played every junior season with Guelph Biltmores in the intermediate A groups No. 1, was declared ineligible for further play as a result of a protest regarding residence filed by Kitchener.

In the other action the committee threw out a protest levelled against Elmira by Walkerton. Walkerton had charged that because Elmira players were living in Kitchener and thus were outside the Elmira zone under O.H.A. residence rules.

But Bolzon ruled ineligible because it was believed he did not live in Fergus under the rules of the association. Bolzon said that while he lived on a farm near Fergus he had most of his meals at his parents' home in Guelph. The Fergus games already played will not be forfeited.

Firemen Win 4th Straight In CNR League

The Firemen chalked up their fourth straight win at the Memorial Arena Thursday night as they defeated the Motive Power T 0 0 to further consolidate their hold on first place in the C.N.R. Interdepartment Hockey League.

The winners jumped into a three-goal lead in the first period on goals by Carmichael and completed, Christopher from Lupinette and Carmichael and Boyle unassisted, No penalties were handed out in the first period.

The winners increased their lead to 5 to 0 in the middle canto. Carmichael opened the scoring on Boyle's unassisted effort, Boyle scored from Cooper and Carmichael. Three penalties were handed out in the second period, Christopher, Lupinette and White.

The Firemen rammed in two more goals in the final canto on goals by Carmichael, Cooper and Lupinette from Carmichael. D. Rodgers and Boyle served the only two penalties of the period. Final score Firemen 7, Motive Power 0.

Standings as of Feb. 3rd, 1951, are:

Team	P	W	L	Pts.
Firemen	4	4	0	8
Yard Office	4	3	1	6
Yardmen	3	1	2	2
Car Dept.	3	1	2	2
Motive Power	3	0	3	0

Grants Totalling $5,500 Turned Over to Minors

(By The Canadian Press)

Grants totalling $5,500 were turned over to the league last night by the Ontario Hockey Association.

Of this sum, $1,800 was left over from last year, and $3,000 was the grant allotted the O.H.A. by the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association. The other $1,000 is the sum added by the C.A.H.A. grant by the O.H.A.

The money is divided among four districts. The Ontario Minor Hockey Association get $3,750; Northern Association, $1,500; Western Ontario Association $1,; 000, and the Rural Association $250.

In another move to support minor hockey the O.H.A. declared to waive its share of the gate receipts and pay for referees at Junior D playoffs this spring.

A team of Montreal fighters will take part in the annual New York golf show to be staged at Maple Leaf Gardens, Feb. 12.

Matchmaker Vic Bagnato said Friday he has arranged for the Montreal contingent, Jacques Plante, Frankie Fitzgerald, to take part in the show. Fitzgerald was a unanimous choice for last year's card when he defeated Maurice Hope of the Toronto Oakwood A.C.

The annual boxing show is held in aid of the Toronto Newsboys' Welfare Fund.

Frank Clair of Evansville, Ind., who coached Toronto Argonauts to the Canadian championship in his first year in Canadian football, has turned down several coaching offers in the United States, club president Bob Mosgrove said Friday.

Clair was in Toronto Thursday to confer with Mosgrove and Moran said he will return shortly to sign a new three-year contract with Argos.

Goalie Harry Lumley of Chicago Black Hawks is recovering from intestinal disorder and is expected to be available for Maple Leafs in Toronto tonight. Lumley was replaced in the nets in the opening minutes of Wednesday night with Boston Bruins' Marcel Pelletier, after Milwaukee goalie. The Hawks went on to beat the Bruins and stay a 21-game losing streak.

Coach Dick Irvin, Doug Bentley, with a pulled groin muscle, and Lee Fogolin, with a broken hand, will be unable to play.

Manager Hlinky Palermo on Friday night like Williams will defend his lightweight title in Detroit.

Williams has three bouts lined up before he defends his crown. He fights Joe Micelli for the third time Feb. 13 at Philadelphia. Gary Logan at Boston Feb. 19 and Arthur Persley at Providence, R.I., Feb. 23.

His last title defence was against Freddie Dawson in December, 1948. The World Boxing Asso'ciation has ordered Williams to defend his crown before March 31.

FRANKFORD
Hornets Strengthen Hold Top Spot Bowling League

Frankford — Frankford Bowling League neared the end of the third round of the schedule Thursday evening in Trenton, and saw the development after last night's bowling. The Hornets strengthened their hold on the top spot by taking all four from the Monarchs. The Screwballs moved into second place by taking all four from the Monarchs, by taking seven from the Sharpshooters, who had currently been burning up the league. The Alley Cats gained a point by taking all four

Belleville Team In T.V. Game Edges Locals

Trenton — (Special) — Amid tons and tears of the home fans Belleville Merchants of the Trent Valley League defeated Trenton 4 to 3 in a scheduled match here at the arena last night.

The fans and manager Dick Bridgeman in particular, disapproved in no uncertain terms of the refereeing of Heady and Aquino. Decisions, however, remained as handed out and the visitors stated off the ice victorious. There was considerable name calling and the situation only needed the slightest provocation to incite riot. Some Trenton supporters more crusty than others even followed Belleville players to their cars with threats and cat calls.

The game itself was a fast-moving affair. Trenton was leading at the end of the first period, held the Mercantyn to a tie in the middle session but lost out under pressure in the final quarter.

Scott for Trenton and Semark for Belleville supplied the necessary punch for their respective teams while the Storm, Bone combination for the winners garnered the deciding goal.

Penalties, comparatively light in the first two periods, mounted in the third session when the referees sent no less than seven men to the penalty box to cool off.

Trenton officials argued hotly about three disallowed goals. The officiating was handled by three referees despite all the protesting.

The teams:

Belleville — Goal, Green; defence, Hurst, Reeves; centre, Cousins; wings, Delaney, Semark; alternate, Barrett, Adams, Bone, Storms, Yorke, Hatfield.

Trenton — Goal, Hill; defence, Carr, Campney; centre, McDonald; wings, C. Johnson, Pilon; alternate, Reid, Thrasher, Jones, Scott, Black, Istead, Bridgeman, Barr, Cantwell.

Referees — Heady, Campbellford; Aquino, Batawa.

HORSE SENSE BRIDGE

By SAM GORDON
The Kibitzer

The simplest looking hands are not always the easiest to make. Although the tricks are there to be had, the timing may be off. The opponents may get in their defeating licks too soon for you.

This does not mean that the bidding was wrong, or that a lower contract should have been accepted. The fault may be in a division of cards that was entirely unexpected, or some odd lead.

An unanticipating defeating act may result from control of some suit by an opponent, or by some combination in which your values were duplicated, or by some plan of play that went sour.

There was the deal you see here:

	NORTH
	♠9 8 7 6
	♥K J 7 4 2
	♦K 6 5
	♣J
WEST		EAST
♠A 2		♠5 3
♥9 6 5		♥10 8 3
♦A 9 2		♦10 8 3 2
♣K 10 8 7 6 2		♣A Q 9
	SOUTH
	♠K Q J 10 4
	♥A Q
	♦Q 10 9
	♣5 4 3

South was declarer at four spades. West started out with an opening lead of his diamond ace. Compare the south hand with dummy and see what gives.

One loser in the suit of trump. No losers in hearts. One loser only in diamonds with the ace out of the way, but the loser in the club suit. Only three losers and the contract looks safe.

But hold your horocope. When west takes his diamond ace and leads another diamond it is a signal to his partner. It shouts out loud that west can ruff the third round of diamonds.

Therefore, pulling trumps right now can be disastrous. Opponent will take the first trump lead. East will get in with a high club and return a diamond that west can ruff with a dinky spade.

So, a desperate counter move must be attempted. Cash a trick at once with heart ace and lead heart queen, overtake with dummy heart king, and lead heart deck on this stuff the south third diamond.

Now trumps can be led with safety. If west takes it and leads a club you can ruff a diamond return high and thus lose only what you first intended. A plan too late can seal your fate.

AT THE BELLE — Fred Astaire, the world's top dancer, is co-starred with Betty Hutton in Paramount's musical "Let's Dance" now at the Belle Theatre. Betty Hutton is co-starred in the hit picture.

Movie Column

By BOB THOMAS

Hollywood, Feb. 3 — (AP) "Guess I'll have to go back to the stage," said Percy Kilbride in his famous slog-song drawl.

Kilbride is the sharp-nosed little man whose portrayals of bucolic characters have brightened many a picture. He had a long career on the stage before coming to Hollywood for "George Washington Slept Here" in 1942. After that he was widely used by producers who needed a comedy lift for their pictures.

Then he played Pa Kettle in "The Egg and I." A series of pictures on Ma (Marjorie Main) and Pa Kettle was started. That established him in the public eye and assured him of at least two pictures a year.

But a reaction has set in. When producers consider Kilbride for roles, they say "Naw, can't use him; he's too identified as Pa Kettle."

It's not so bad with Marjorie (Main)," he observed. "She has a studio contract and they use her in other roles. But I haven't a studio."

There have been some reports that Mickey Rooney is through jazz greats.

AT THE McCARTHY — Don't look now but Robert Cummings and Joan Caulfield are in love in "The Petty Girl" —Columbia's comedy with color by Technicolor opening today at the McCarthy Theatre.

Community Concert Association

ANNUAL MEETING

Monday Evening, February 5th

8.00 P.M. — Y. M. C. A.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS AND GENERAL BUSINESS

EVERY MEMBER URGED TO ATTEND.

ESTHER LILLIAN STUDIO OF BALLET
(CECCHETTI METHOD)
ENGLISH BALLROOM DANCING
For Information and Appointments
PHONE 2661-J - 3817-M or 25 HILLSIDE ST.

THEATRE FEATURE TIMES

AT THE BELLE — "Let's Dance" — A Technicolor musical — Fred Astaire, Betty Hutton — 2.45, 5.00, 7.15, 9.40.

AT THE CAPITOL — "Sons of New Mexico" — Gene Autry — 2.30, 5.00, 7.30, 10.00. "Kid Dynamite" — Leo Gorcey, Huntz Hall, East Side Kids — 1.10, 3.50, 6.40, 9.20. Last complete show 8.50.

AT THE McCARTHY — "The Petty Girl" — In Technicolor — Joan Caulfield, Robert Cummings — 1.05, 3.20, 5.40, 7.55, 9.55.

AT TRENT THEATRE, Trenton — "Dear Wife" — Joan Caulfield, William Holden — 2.00, 4.40, 7.35, 10.00. "Savage Splendor" — In Technicolor — 3.20, 6.00, 8.55.

AT THE CAPITOL — Errol Flynn has the starring role in "Rocky Mountain," Warner Bros. adventure epic, opening at the Capitol Theatre on Thursday, February 8th, for its first Belleville showing. Newcomers Patrice Wymore and Scott Forbes head the featured cast of the film directed by William Keighley. On the same program for your added enjoyment, Laurel and Hardy in their funniest comedy, "The Bull Fighters."

MON.-TUES.-WED.

AS ENGLISH AS TWEEDS AS COMFORTABLE AS BROGUES

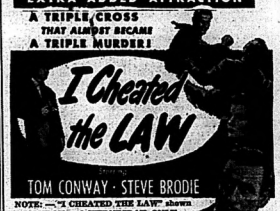
The Happiest Days of your Life

STARRING ALASTAIR SIM MARGARET RUTHERFORD

3 MONTHS AT THE International Cinema TORONTO

EXTRA ADDED ATTRACTION

A TRIPLE CROSS THAT ALMOST BECAME A TRIPLE MURDER!



TOM CONWAY · STEVE BRODIE

NOTE: — "I CHEATED THE LAW" shown MONDAY and WEDNESDAY ONLY

LAST TIMES TODAY GENE AUTRY and THE EAST SIDE KIDS

CAPITOL

Today, Mat. Prices to 5.30

DANCING AT CLUB CEDARS

EVERY SATURDAY NIGHT

DAN FAIRMAN

AND HIS ORCHESTRA

VOCALS by ETHEL SMITH

Phone 2276-J-21 for a table now and have your table reserved at no extra cost.

ALL CLUB STYLE DANCING

Regular Admission

CONTINUOUS SHOWS TODAY MATINEE PRICES TILL 5.00

MORE GORGEOUS THAN EVER in the TECHNICOLOR

ROBERT CUMMINGS JOAN CAULFIELD

The Petty Girl

A COLUMBIA PICTURE

Starts MONDAY—

A Delightful case of MURDER!

THE FABULOUS STORY OF A GAY ASSASSIN WHO JUST HAD TO KILL ALL EIGHT OF HIS RELATIVES SO HE COULD BECOME A DUKE!

The LADDER BANK Organization presents

KIND HEARTS and CORONETS

in TECHNICOLOR

DENNIS PRICE · VALERIE HOBSON JOAN GREENWOOD · ALEC GUINNESS

PS WE BELIEVE YOU WILL FIND THIS ONE OF THE FUNNIEST BITS OF SCREEN MIRTH YOU'VE EVER ENJOYED— ALEC GUINNESS WILL DELIGHT YOU WITH HIS CLEVER PORTRAYAL OF EIGHT PEOPLE— (THE UNLUCKY EIGHT RELATIVES!)

2 HITS! ADULT ENTERTAINMENT

The SCREEN'S FIGHTING EXPOSE of the PAROLE-PEDDLING PLOT!

MICHAEL TWOMAN EVELYN O'SHEA-BEY-ANKERS

An Odd Production

AN EAGLE LION FILMS RELEASE

McCARTHY THE SHOW PLACE OF BELLEVILLE

YOU'RE MISSING PLENTY IF YOU DON'T COME TO THE BIG

JAMBOREE TONIGHT

DIXIE LAND OLD-TIME

TOBE'S COUNTY GARDENS

FEATURING GRAYDON SHELDON'S OLDTIMERS

IF YOU CAN'T COME, LISTEN TO CJBQ — 8.00 to 8.30 P.M.

Dancing TONIGHT and Every Friday and Saturday

TO THE LATEST DANCE STYLINGS

THE Commodores Orchestra

CLUB Commodore EXHIBITION PARK BELLEVILLE

NO TAX

FRI. 60¢ PER PERSON

SAT. 75¢ PER PERSON

C'mon Everybody! Let's Go!...

TO THE SCREEN'S BIGGEST ENTERTAINMENT BALL OF THEM ALL!!!

and ROLAND YOUNG · RUTH WARRICK · LUCILE WATSON · GREGORY MOFFETT · ROBERT FELLOWS · NORMAN Z. McLEOD

Produced by Directed by

COLOR CARTOON — NOVELETTE

LATEST WORLD NEWS

BELLE ELMORE VANCE THEATRES

PLENTY OF FREE PARKING

CONTINUOUS TODAY FROM 1.00

TRENT TRENTON CONTINUOUS SHOWS TODAY

JOAN CAULFIELD WILLIAM HOLDEN in "DEAR WIFE"

ADDED HIT "SAVAGE SPLENDOR" in TECHNICOLOR

POP

MR. AND MRS. — By Arthur Folwell and Ellison Hoover

PENNY — By Harry Haenigsen

MARK TRAIL

TIPPIE AND "CAP" STUBBS — By Arthur Folwell and Ellison Hoover

LI'L ABNER — By Al Capp

BLONDIE — By Chic Young

TILLIE THE TOILER — By Russ Westover

JOHNNY HAZARD — By Frank Robbins

BRINGING UP FATHER — By George McManus

RUSTY RILEY — By Frank Godwin

OZARK IKE — By Ray Gotto

Your Individual Horoscope

By FRANCES DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

For Sunday, February 4

March 21 to April 20—(Aries)—Friendly day on whole except for money or other displeasure from brothers, neighbors and kin. Best will week days. You can achieve a lot in all good deeds, gain through prayer, charity.

April 21 to May 20—(Taurus)—Day may not be all one would desire in personal way but other interests of more importance than personal wishes are favored, so mind them. A good day generally.

May 21 to June 21—(Gemini)—Authors, students, scientists and who make strong use of brain today for needed work are especially sponsored by the Mercury rays. Church, charity, children's schools.

June 22 to July 22—(Cancer)—Probably unselfish today and you will be happy, helpful to others and to good causes. Forget any petitions or jealousy that may crop up. Attend your church, pray for our leaders.

July 24 to August 22 —(Leo)—Some excellent aspects, now, particularly for government and military interests and the public's welfare. Courage heightened. Spiritual devotions should come first to start day right.

August 23 to September 22 —(Virgo)—Encouraging influences in activities you like and for which you have talent or training. Fine period for writers, journalists. Remember duty to God, pray earnestly for world peace.

September 24 to October 23—(Libra)—Need notation to Taurus. Join those in helpful church activities, all giving aid to our armed forces and government powers. Criticize less, help more should be our slogan now.

October 24 to November 22 —(Scorpio)—Practical matters, essential tasks are under helpful aspects but Mars' position warns against pointless aggression, bickering. Fine Venus rays for artistic things, home, family interests.

November 23 to December 21—(Sagittarius)—Your Jupiter (luminous aspect) sends a sensible not to avoid risky money deals. Make this a true Sunday in thought and action. Smile.

December 22 to January 21—(Capricorn)—Saturn today in excellent array encourages conferences, new worthy matters, hard work is essential. Day should aid in activities concerning military forces needs. Pray, rest, too.

January 22 to February 20 —(Aquarius)—Being discouraged or impatient won't do. Calm reckoning, pleasant discussion will bring unusual happy returns now if you are in worthy endeavor. Healthy recreation, good fun in order.

February 21 to March 20—(Pisces)—Legal entanglements or money-foremost interests are taboo. Day favors all honest essential work, encourages improved military strategy, sound planning. Start day at church.

YOU BORN TODAY: A patient, determined, innately genial somebody who reasons calmly, intelligently. Can reach a high place in the world if you cultivate and rightly apply your knowledge, versatility, and if you do not change too often, position or friends. Restlessness an enemy, watch it. Aim at Higher education always and stay soundly ambitious. Choose associates carefully and be not influenced merely because you like someone. Religious devotions great comfort, stabilizer always.

Birthdate: Mark Hopkins, educator, president Williams College; Georg Brandes, Danish critic.

(Copyright 1951, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 3, 1951 (Released by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

HORIZONTAL
1 Ice cream cones
6 Make canoe
12 River of Italy
13 Tie
14 Girl's name
15 Fuss, scene
16 Antlered animal
18 It's meant
19 Tropical fruit
21 A British school
22 Part of day
24 Wife of Geraint
27 Negative
28 Country
29 Cereal
30 Impudence
32 Fifty (Rom. num.)
33 Reduce 34 Fruitless
35 Mostly asleep
36 Ireland
37 To send forth
40 Part of boat
41 Author of Uncle Tom's Cabin
42 To send forth
43 Fuel
44 Part of speech
45 Death notice
46 Ingénue
47 Formal salutation
48 Variety of cheese
51 A negative
52 Connected to
57 Liquid measure
58 Child for adoption
59 Tie
60 To weary
61 To decay
62 Sun god
63 Through
64 Standing
65 To make

VERTICAL
1 Tibetan gazelle
2 Pictorial gem at top
3 Fruit
4 Plural of a
5 Word of affirmation
6 Shallow stream
7 Color
8 Ethical principle
9 Upon
10 Paid notice
11 It is here
12 Ring
13 Competition
15 Unit for weather
17 Kind of seals
20 Sinews
23 Former Indian
24 Optical instrument
25 Ice cream
26 Go slow
27 Sweet potato
28 Depression
29 Bone
30 Tie
31 To come into
32 Part of body
33 Lady of rank
34 Cotton cloth
35 Sandarac tree
36 Shrine
37 Rivers
38 Part of scale
39 To perform
40 Sea eagle
42 Forest
43 To mount: obs.
44 Tie
47 Direction
48 The Islands
49 Mountain
50 Preposition
51 Ireland
53 Tie
54 Tie
55 Tie
56 Tie

Answer to Yesterday's Puzzle

D	I	N	E		D	I
A	R	T	I	S	T	I
L	I	L	A	C	A	F
		D	O		S	T
S	T	I	N	G		S
A	S	C	E	N	D
S	O	E	H	O		D
E	N	D		E	R	A
		A	R	I	A
		P	A	R	O	D
O	B	E		S	E	E
D	E	S		P	I	E

Always.

FEWER MINERS

A total of 588,000 coal miners in Britain in 1950 was the lowest figure of any year since 1900.

Notes From St. Petersburg

By NELLIE ARTHUR

St. Petersburg, Fla. — After a quiet interlude following Christmas and New Year we are now enjoying a lively time, the celebration called the Festival of Parties including this week from Jan. 13 to Jan. 20. It is usually held much later in the season but city procedure found that, when it was held in April or even in March, many tourists did not stay for it. They seem to have been wise in their choice of weeks as there are many people here. Although we have had a colder winter than usual and all growth is backward, yet, when the sun shines, which is every day, on the blue waters of Tampa Bay, St. Petersburg and all its surroundings is a beautiful place.

Jan. 22—For many of the events of this past week an admission charge of from one dollar to two dollars was charged although there were many interesting free events. Down along the bay front, there are several parks. In almost one corner of the airport is called Waterfront Park. At the northern end of this is a large section used by the St. Louis Cardinals when they come to spring training in March. It is surrounded by a high wire fence. Along the baseball area is a large grandstand which can seat 8,500 people and next to the grandstand are large bleachers. The ground in the centre is smooth and green except where the grass is worn off on the bases, especially home base. Behind the grandstand is a large open space which is a free parking ground. All this is called the Al Lang Field after an elderly citizen of St. Petersburg who, years ago was instrumental in getting the first Major League to train here. Most of the Festival events of the week were held here.

Of interest to many tourists and home folks was the Aquacade held Saturday afternoon and Saturday evening and Monday evening at Round Lake, which is a small lake in the downtown area, a little called Lang Mirror Lake. Here there was exhibition diving and swimming and vaudeville acting from the deck of a show boat all under glimmering lights accompanied by appropriate music.

Another interesting entertainment was given Tuesday afternoon when some Florida citizens of its students put on a circus — to music by their own band. There were all kinds of acrobatic figures, balancing, walking the tight rope, ladies on the horses, pinwheels, trapeze work, and humorous clown manoeuvres in imitation.

The same afternoon a 'Queens' Review' and Fashion Show was held in Lang Field. The grandstand was about half filled, most of those present being tourists. The ladies seemed much interested in the style show displayed by models although the price of them was beyond the pocket books of many. Then the queens, who had already been chosen by their state societies, and who were dressed in splendid evening gowns, walked, one at a time, down the narrow platform, curtsied to the judges, and then walked gracefully back and took up their station in the open space in front of the dressing tent. The judges made their decisions as they watched but this decision was not made known until Thursday night when the one chosen as queen of the Festival was crowned by the mayor at a ceremony at the Coronation Ball in the coliseum. She was the queen of Louisiana a sprightly little brunette of 18 years, of graceful carriage, and pleasing personality. She will enjoy a trip to Havana, Cuba, in company with "Miss St. Petersburg" and "Mrs. St. Petersburg", both of whom were chosen at another review in Lang Field.

On Sunday afternoon, Jan. 14th, a great meeting was held in Lang Field. After the early morning service in Paul Rorten's Methodist Church, we waited an hour for the cafeterias to open at 11:30 and then had our dinner and drove around to Lang Field. We found the parking ground behind the grandstand entirely filled with cars and no parking space left in the neighboring streets and a great crowd lined up toward the narrow rear entrance to the grandstand and another crowd lined up toward the front entrance. Each of the parking place three blocks away was occupied and joined the crowd in the standing line. At one o'clock this rear entrance was opened and let in the crowd which pushed up into grandstand which we found filled all but the high top row at the back. We were fortunate to get seats here. Although the south wind blew strong up there with nothing behind us but some heavy wire fencing, we wrapped our heads in our scarves and prepared to withstand the coolness in the shade of the big roof. The sun shone brightly over the playing field and over the crowds in each bleacher and, over the other grandstand sloping six deep out in the field in a circle behind the baseball diamond, all dressed in white and blue. Here were the seats reserved for the male choir of the "Billy Graham Evangelists Inc." company, the preacher himself, Cliff Barrows, the song leader Cliff Barrows, the pianist, and the associate evangelist.

Billy Graham was born Nov. 7, 1918 in Charlotte, North Carolina. He is a university graduate and a minister of religion. He is over 6 feet tall, is handsome and has a shock of fair hair which tosses when he gesticulates and talks earnestly and convincingly and has a powerful clear voice. There was a choir of 700 voices sitting in front of the platform, recruited from the city churches for the occasion. There were all kinds of ministers sitting on the other side of the platform, among them our own minister Rev. Ernest Bennett, Anglican, Methodist minister, Dr. Allan, and Rev. Ben Hall, and three of whom were sponsors of this meeting.

After some singing by the choir led by Cliff Barrows, Mr. George Shea sang "The Love to Tell the Story" in his fine baritone voice. Then at two o'clock Billy Graham arose and gave the first radio broadcast in which he told his unseen audience of the spiritual awakening must take place if America is to overcome her enemies. John Wesley's preaching to the masses in England in 1738 never equalled Graham's diction. He spoke these words for the broadcast quite rapidly but very earnestly.

After the broadcast then the real service began, which was like that in any church; the opening hymn, the prayer, the solo, the scripture reading by the choir and then when the music ceased, they stood in lively time to their seats. Introducing each period of history an announcer related the main events and dates of that period. Florida was a Spanish province and in 1821 when it was sold by Napoleon to the United States. At that time the country was all forest and undeveloped except around the old city of St. Augustine. In so short a time how it has grown into a prosperous state of great cities and cultivated land!

At the end of the pageant after the students had all marched out, the various school bands marched in on the field making a gay display of banners and music, red and white, maroon and gray, all against the dark background of the evening sky and the palms and pines and black waters of the bay. Then they lined up on the field in the form of the map of Florida. Then the school choir of 700 came in again and filled in the map. What an array of bright colored uniforms! Then they sang "The Star Spangled Banner."

On Friday afternoon Jan. 19th the great Festival Parade was held down at the waterfront. Our newspaper the next morning said 150,000 persons saw it. There were floats, bands and music of McDill air force band of Tampa and the Sunshine City band of St. Petersburg.

The Wallaceburg, Ontario, Kiltie Band was here for several days, sponsored by Webbs City, called forth many cheers from the watchers. Its pipers were loudly sounded wild and sad but stirred the blood of the old Scots and was in contrast to the bolder, louder notes of the brass bands. The floats with their gaiety and music of all nations were beautiful and spacious and the queens, each with a great prehistoric animal with long neck which swayed back and forth. Queen Elsie Ann's float—The—float was called "The Past and Present." On it a band of girls played a very old kind of train with high narrow cars and engine puffing smoke. The Kentucky float represented some high city apartments with balconies on each base. The Kennel Club's float had two large greyhounds straining in the leash. All the floats were of gay colors on white background. Each queen sat on her throne with green bench and was pushed along by two young men in Junior Chamber of Commerce dressed in Mardi Gras or masquerade costumes. The Italian queen, Miss Barbara Allen, representing Louisiana, wore a small silver crown. All the queens were very gracious as they each in turn waved and threw kisses to the bystanders. Miss Elsie Ann Queen of St. Petersburg" were also gracious and pleased with the honor bestowed on her. She was however, rode on one of the floats and not on a horse.

Saturday morning the last event of this gay festival week took place in the various square dance exhibition by the girls of Southern belle in full satin gown, big hat and parasol and a scare crow. The whole Festival seems to have been a great success. The city was crowded with visitors. Everyone seemed happy and the weather was bright and without a cloud or threat of rain.

Personals

The following from Belleville and vicinity have registered at the Chamber of Commerce, St. Petersburg this season: Misses Nora, May and Margaret Hayes in December; Mrs. Sargent and Mrs. French early in November; Mr. and Mrs. E. K. Taylor, Brighton in November; Mrs. Frost, Frankford early in December; Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Graham, Belleville and Toronto in December; Miss Loretta Woodcock, Belleville in December; Mrs. Charles Walters arrived in St. Petersburg Jan. 8.

RAWDON

Rawdon — Mr. Marvin Sine, Oshawa, spent the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Sine.

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Thompson and family stockdale, and Miss Gertrude McMullen, Belleville, visited their parents, Mr. and Mrs. John A. McMullen, on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Carman Reid and children of Trenton, spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Sid Williams.

Born: At Sine Maternity Home, on Monday, January 29th, to Mr. and Mrs. Forde Stapley, Madoc Junction, gift of a son.

Mrs. S. Sea is in Kingston Hospital.

The carmel Adults Group convened in Jubilee Hall with about 50 in attendance. Mr. Russell Pyke presided over the meeting with a good program of vocal and piano solos and readings were given.

Plans were made to cater at the Williams' sale in March. An invitation was accepted to visit Wellmans. The February meeting will be a sleigh-riding party with the hall a starting point.

Mr. R. Strickland, of the West End Grocery, spent many nights of his life in the province of Saskatchewan.

The refreshment committee were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bailey and Mr. and Mrs. Archie Bailey.

BUSY AIRPORT

The Copenhagen airport is equipped to handle 50 landings and departures every hour.

MOUNTAIN VIEW

Neighbors, Friends Shower Young Couple With Gifts

Mountain View.—On Wednesday evening, a number of friends and neighbors met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Brunet, to tender a shower to their son, Mr. Douglas Brunet, and his bride.

Mr. and Mrs. Brunet were seated at the dining table which was spread with a lace cloth.

Miss Mary Keeble read an address and Misses Maureen and Pearl Neal, carried in a gaily decorated basket laden with numerous gifts.

After the gifts had been unwrapped and duly admired, Mr. and Mrs. Brunet both thanked their friends.

A social hour was then enjoyed with delicious refreshments being served.

CENTENARY

Centenary—The annual congregational meeting was held at Centenary Church on Wednesday night with a good attendance Rev. J. C. McCallum opened the meeting with a short devotional period. The business of the last year was transacted. All branches of the church work showed a good year. The various treasurers gave their reports showing a good balance on hand in all cases. The choir of the W.A. served refreshments.

Miss Elaine Bain was a week-end guest at the Slavin home.

Mr. and Mrs. Ken Jones, Alkenbrack, entertained a number of couples on Tuesday evening. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Frank Tucker and girls; Mr. and Mrs. Everett Phillips and Ivan; Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Carey, Mr. and Mrs. George Read, 4th line; Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Woods and Dawn, and Mr. and Mrs. Harleigh Hart and children Centenary; Mr. and Mrs. Murney Jeffrey and Mr. and Mrs. Harleigh Hamilton, and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Moon, Albert's district; and Mr. and Mrs. Art Calvert and Anna, Canniton.

Mrs. R. Hart and Mrs. R. Thrasher were luncheon guests of Mrs. H. Campbell, Belleville, on Wednesday.

ARDEN

Arden—Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Loyst, Mr. Ray Loyst, of Oshawa; Mrs. Laura Martinson, of Belleville; Miss Pauline Carey, of Colborne, also Mr. Gerald Archer, of Belleville, spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. William Loyst.

Mrs. Lena Gallop is spending two weeks with friends at Napanee.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Cartier, also Mr. and Mrs. Mel Woodcock and family, of Colborne, spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. W. Woodcock.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Mosk and family, also Mr. and Mrs. John Francis of Kingston, visited friends here, Sunday.

Mrs. Charlotte Loyst has returned home after spending a month with her sister, Mrs. Annie Loyst, Flinton.

Mrs. Carol Francis, of Kingston, has returned home after spending a week with her parents Mr. and Mrs. William Loyst.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gaylord visited the former's mother, Mrs. David Woodcock and Mr. Woodcock on Saturday.

Mrs. Ellen Loyst, of Henderson, is spending sometime with her sister, Mrs. Lionel Scott.

FAMOUS BRAIN

Albert Einstein was 36 years old when he produced his first paper on the theory of relativity in 1905.

NOTICE OF CHANGE OF NAME OF CERTAIN STREETS IN THE CITY OF BELLEVILLE

NOTICE is hereby given that on Monday the 26th of February, 1951, at the hour of eleven o'clock in the forenoon, at the County Court of the County of Hastings in the City of Belleville, application will be made to change the names of certain streets in the said City as follows:

Herchimer Street to be re-named Graham Street
Ridley Avenue to be re-named Ridley Crescent
Wellington Crescent to be re-named Bowell Crescent
Bowell Road to be re-named West Street
Stewart Street to be re-named Earl Street
Miller Street to be re-named Mitchell Street
Centre Street to be re-named Mitchell Street
Wellington Street to be re-named Stokes Street
Church Street to be re-named Pinnacle Street
Pine Gardens re-named Mikel Avenue
Bertram Gardens re-named Porter Avenue
Hunsewood Gardens re-named Hyde Park Avenue
Bertram Hill re-named Bertram Street
Hastings Drive East and Hastings Drive West re-named Hastings Drive
Mechanic Street, Interlaken re-named Ann Street
Gilbert Street re-named Herchimer Street
Ivy Road re-named Wellington Street
Ivy Road Extension to No. 2 Highway re-named Vimy Road
First Street re-named Bogle Street
Second Street re-named Cedric Street
Third Street re-named Casino Street
Fourth Street re-named Lancaster Street
Fifth Street re-named Lancaster Street
Sixth Street re-named Atlantic Street
Kingston Road No. 2 re-named Dundas Street East.

BY ORDER of the County Judge, this Notice shall be published once in the Ontario Gazette, once a week for four successive weeks in the Ontario Intelligencer, a newspaper published in the City of Belleville.

DATED at BELLEVILLE THIS 15TH DAY OF JANUARY, A.D. 1951.

R. A. PRINGLE, K.C., City Solicitor. J. WILFRED HOLMES, City Clerk.

R. T. POTTER, M.D., Mayor. 130-27-T-2-16

MURRAY BLACK
MODERN PLUMBING AND HEATING
ESTIMATES GIL BURNER AND STOKER REPAIRS
ALL WORK GUARANTEED SUPERVISION
PHONE 1719-J

BEAT JACK FROST — ORDER TODAY!
"A FUEL FOR EVERY PURPOSE"
GENUINE "BLUE" COAL
JET BLACK BRITTSON ANTHRACITE
CANADIAN HARD COAL
STOKER — COKE — BRIQUETTES — WOOD
GRADE "A" FUEL OIL
PROMPT, EFFICIENT SERVICE
HARRY SMITH ICE & FUEL
152 PINNACLE STREET PHONE 2972

LORNE McDOUGALL
Insurance Agencies Ltd.
150 FRONT ST. PHONE 168
"Belleville's Largest Insurance Office"

INSURANCE MORTGAGE LOANS
Automobile Don'ts
Don't overtake on curves or hills or change lanes or "cut in" or pull out from curb suddenly. Don't count on the other person looking after himself. Obey traffic laws and give the usual signals.
JAMIESON BONE & CO.
163 FRONT ST. PHONE 1346

COAL — COKE — OIL
AND CHARCOAL
PREMIUM QUALITY ANTHRACITE
GRADE "A" FUEL OIL
LYNCH COAL COMPANY
77 FRONT STREET PHONE 469

BOOTH RADIO
RADIO — TELEVISION
121 FRONT ST. SALES & SERVICE PHONE 150
Authorized HOOVER Sales and Service.
"Please Remember Our Service is Guaranteed"

LaPALM THE MOVER AND STORAGE
LOCAL and LONG DISTANCE
Trent Road, Belleville (Every Load Insured) Phone 4712-4713

SALMITA CONSOLIDATED
16 PAGE BROCHURE
Containing Complete
Official Report with Photographs in Full
Natural Colour
YOURS ON REQUEST
MAIL THIS COUPON NOW
WILLIAMS & MAX
BROKER - DEALERS
57 Bloor Street West, Toronto 5, Canada
Please send me a copy of "The Salmita Consolidated Story," without cost or obligation.
NAME
ADDRESS

DOBBS FLEISCHER
WE DO OUR BEST AND CHECK IT TWICE, THEN HEAR FOLKS SAY "HOW VERY NICE."
Dobbs PLUMBING - HEATING
Electrical APPLIANCES
PHONE 130-J

GET SET FOR SPRING
COMPLETE Service Jobs on All Tractor Makes!
Your tractor is a big investment. Why try to service it yourself and take a chance on high repair bills later when we have factory trained men to do the job? Replacement now of a few low cost parts can save tremendous expense later on. Complete checkup, including ignition, engine tune, oil, cooling and electric system, etc.
IF YOU'RE IN THE MARKET FOR A NEW TRACTOR WE SUGGEST YOU SEE THE NEW ALLIS-CHALMERS MODELS at TRUDEAU'S
Trudeau MOTORS LIMITED
SALES and SERVICE
NAPANEE STIRLING TWEED PICTON
21-41 Station Street Belleville 125 Front St.

Your Individual Horoscope

By FRANCES DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

For Monday, February 5

March 21 to April 20—(Aries)—The task may be hard, the burden heavy but with good living and prayer you can hold your head high and gain many credits. Keep trying, be confident, sincere.

April 21 to May 20—(Taurus)—Beware of bartering with questionable people and their schemes; attend daily principles. You have a clever mind, use it rightly and you will achieve desired goals.

May 21 to June 21—(Gemini)—You can succeed if you apply self early with your natural ability. Draw the line on contention, moodiness, even if others indulge and the distraction is trying.

June 22 to July 23—(Cancer)—Inauspicious influences for certain financial and business efforts; also for some personal and domestic affairs. Be calm, lean toward kindness for better relations, happiness.

July 24 to August 22—(Leo)—Interesting day if you spend energy wisely. Mark time in places, concentrate on study of your tasks. If upsetting incidents appear, say a prayer, don't quarrel but debate for reason's sake.

August 22 to September 23 — (Virgo)—Fine opportunity for you sound-minded Virgoans. Seek your goal, ask reasonable favors. Expect good reaction and it comes easier. News can further your efforts.

September 24 to October 23—(Libra)—Good rays, especially for needed improvements, government items handling foods, mass essentials. Be honest, take your just share, no more. Profiteering harms everyone.

October 24 to November 22 — (Scorpio)—Even though stars are stimulating, check things well before acting. Your prestige is at stake so don't get overheated, manners, action, speech count. Otherwise assets are clear.

November 23 to December 22—(Sagittarius) — Heart interests, family matters, romance, affairs can be generally gratifying if you are true to your better self. Link business with pleasure only when one helps the other.

December 22 to January 21 — (Capricorn)—Take things as they come rather than try forcing issues. Do not overestimate your ability. If you stop to think before you act you will save time, energy, and other values.

January 22 to February 20 — (Aquarius) — "Don't count your chickens till the are hatched," is not only true to solve all problems alone. However, seek and take only sound advice. Trying to fix you have something to say.

February 21 to March 20 (Pisces)—Fine influences for all well planned endeavors, including investments, real estate, planning. Cheerfulness with humor will dispel irritation, hasten happy conclusions.

YOU BORN TODAY: May have scientific leanings, perhaps literary ability, or you may be a first class mechanic. You have innately good qualifications for high achievement but must urge yourself forward constantly and not drag out of competition because of setbacks. Obstacles do not really dismay you. You should learn and advance through experiences, trial and error. More lasting success is earned the hard way. Have faith in your ability, in God's help, and keep hopeful, cheerful.

Birthdate: Andrew Jackson, one-time U.S. vice-president; Sir Hiram Maxim, engineer, inventor; Geo. Washington Carver.

(Copyright, 1951, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

BUSINESS DIRECTORY

SERVICE

OIL BURNER and STOKER SERVICE
NIGHTS: Phone 2538M and 1999R
RADIO and APPLIANCE REPAIRS
VAN DUSEEN BROS. LTD.
329 Front St. Phone 3503
F1-tf

J. J. DICKEY
Chartered Accountant
187 FRONT STREET
Jamieson Bon. Bldg.
TELEPHONE 3780

REAL ESTATE

• IF YOU WISH TO BUY A HOME — OR SELL YOUR PROPERTY — SEE
E. O. KEELER
(Realtor)
Member Ontario Association of Real Estate Boards
Telephone 3826J
M34-1y

FARM MACHINERY

FOR QUALITY SEE
IVAN MAY
JOHN DEERE DeLAVAL
McMILLAN and LUNDY FENCE
SALES and SERVICE
57 Canniffton Road Phone 4260
Evenings Phone 2963M

SAND and GRAVEL

CINDERS - FILL - CRUSHED ROCK - SNOW REMOVAL - DRIVEWAY PLOWING
IVAN MAY
Phone 4263 or 2263M
J9-1y

ELECTRICAL CONTRACTING — REPAIR

BELL ELECTRIC REPAIR DEPOT
9 Footbridge Belleville
Phone 1185J
SATISFIED CUSTOMERS OUR PRIDE
J9-1y

ACCOUNTANTS

KENNETH J. SODEN
PUBLIC ACCOUNTANT — AUDITOR
Income Tax Consultant
BANK OF MONTREAL BUILDING
BELLEVILLE — PHONE 3548
J18-tf

W. S. STONE
CHARTERED ACCOUNTANT
20 Bridge St. East
(Hotel Quinte Annex)
Telephone 3503

GEO. A. WELCH & CO.
Chartered Accountants
BELLEVILLE — OTTAWA
Phone 4306 244 Pinnacle St

ARCHITECT

W. A. WATSON, Architect
M. Arch., M.R.A.I.C.
Formerly located at 249 Front Street
now located at
244 FRONT STREET
(Next to Boyce's Garage)
D7-1y

INSURANCE

The thought of fire loses half its terrors when you're protected with our Fire Insurance.
SANDY BURROWS
and
HOWARD FROST
LIFE and FIRE INSURANCE
240½ PINNIE ST. — PHONE 4626

HALL & EARLE
ACCIDENT and PLATE GLASS
General Insurance, Fire, Automobile
278 FRONT ST. PHONE 1154-W

TYPEWRITER REPAIRS

THE JAMES TEXTS LIMITED
Prompt and Efficient Service on All Makes of Typewriters and Adding Machines for Rent
179 - 181 FRONT STREET
Phone 882

VENETIAN BLINDS
Known and Respected Throughout
LITE-FLEX STEEL OR ALUMINUM SLATS
HOLWAY VENETIAN BLIND COMPANY
2-3 Day Service Guarantee
PHONE 3322 — BELLEVILLE
M34-tf

CONTRACTORS

PIT RUN SAND and GRAVEL
Delivered, $1.20 Per Yard
On Crusher 3 Yards or More
CRUSHED STONE, CONCRETE, SAND and GRAVEL CRUSHING
Estimates on Fill Jobs
POWER SHOVELS, BULLDOZER and COMPRESSORS
PHONE 195, TRENTON
J. D. VanALSTINE
CONSTRUCTION
A4-tf

BUILDING CONTRACTOR

JOHN V. WHITE
Successor to F. F. RUTHERFORD
GENERAL REPAIRS and NEW BUILDING
OFFICE: 58 ALEXANDER ST.
PHONE
Office 913 House 3535-J
J25-tf

VETERINARIAN

DR. PAUL FOSTER
VETERINARIAN
Office in
MacKENZIE FEED BUILDING
67 South Front St., Belleville
Phone 1225-J Office 125
Hours: 1:30-2 and 7-8 a.m. and after 5.00 p.m.
J25-1y

ROOFING CONTRACTOR

QUINTE ROOFING
(B. L. QUINCEY, Prop.)
Graded Built-up Flat Roofs—Asphalt Shingling — Gutters — Leaders
Waterproofing — Tile Floors
PHONE 3880 — BELLEVILLE
J31-tf

MIMEOGRAPHING
RUBBER STAMPS
THE JAMES TEXTS LIMITED
Fast, efficient work covering all needs: Reports Circular Letters, Statements, Price Lists, Notices, Charters, etc. Three day service on all forms of Printing, Numbering Machines and Speedball Pens.
179-183 Front St. Phone 882
F9-tf

WELL DRILLING
McMILLAN and GARTLEY
(Formerly W. E. Gartley)
WELL DRILLING
Phone 619-M
BELLEVILLE, ONT.

B. A. K. SMILEY
Box 72 Phone 114-21

MADOC
ALL TYPES OF WELL DRILLING
NEW EQUIPMENT
FREE ESTIMATES — PROMPT ATTENTION
A28-tf

FOOT SPECIALIST
H. W. ROBESON, M.M.
ALL FUNCTIONAL DISORDERS OF THE FEET
Fallen Arches, Swollen Ankles, Heel-Pain, Shin Splints, Ingrown Nails, Bunions, Corns, Calluses, Blisters, Callouses, Arthritis, Bursitis, Sprains.
OFFICE HOURS: 9 to 12, 1 to 5, 7 to 9
215 Front St. Phone 3503
Belleville
PHONE 453-W OPEN EVENINGS

CARETAKING CONTRACTORS
GORDON A. MacEACHERN
(G. FRED MAUND, Mgr.)
SPECIALISTS IN FLOOR FINISHING
WINDOW CLEANING — WALL WASHING
Manufacturers of
FINE SANITARY PRODUCTS
FLOOR POLISHERS FOR RENT
235 Pinnacle St. Phone 928

FLOORS and WALLS
PIDUTTI — FABBRI
TILE and TERRAZZO CO.
GLAZED and CERAMIC FLOOR and WALL TILE
TERRAZZO FLOORS — Guaranteed
Repairs on Tile and Terrazzo
FOR QUOTATIONS — Phone
Phone 3836
51 NORTH FRONT ST.
M30-1y

BUILDERS' SUPPLIES
LUMBER
ROOFING — INSULATION — SIDING — WALL BOARDS — MASONITE — PLYWOOD — SASH — DOORS — MOULDING — HARDWARE
E. D. MOTT
370 FRONT ST. PHONE 1853
A3-1y

CHIROPRACTORS
ROGERS RIEDEL, D.C.
Doctor of Chiropractic
Consultations by Appointment
42½ Bridge St. East
Suite 3 and 4
Office Telephone 3501
Residence Telephone 4256
J3-1y

R. A. WYATT, Ph.C.
Chiropractic and Drugless Therapeutic Minerals and Vitamins spinal analysis and adjustments with special attention to spine and pelvis. Radioscopic examination, manipulation and massage. Consultation and examination by appointment.
388 Coleman St., Belleville, Phone 900
LADY ATTENDANT
A31-tf

REAL ESTATE
BUYING OR SELLING YOUR HOME?
Phone 4652
ERIC SOOPER
General Insurance — Real Estate and Business Broker.
Life Insurance Consultant

UPHOLSTERING
OUR BUSINESS IS
UPHOLSTERING
RE-COVERING—RE-STYLING
1951 Materials
First Class Workmanship
Estimates — No Obligation
WRITE or PHONE
TOWNE UPHOLSTERERS
Reg.
262 Dundas St. E. TRENTON
P.O. Box 355 Phone 1008

FEED and GRAIN
CORN DISTILLERS DRIED GRAINS
Are available at
WOODSON MILLS LTD.
SUPPLIES ARE LIMITED. WE SUGGEST YOU ORDER NOW.
Phone 806 105 S. John St.

OIL BURNERS
(LIMITED NUMBER)
POPULAR and ECONOMICAL MAKE with
FIVE YEAR FUEL OIL CONTRACT
BY MAJOR OIL COMPANY
Phone 1818
IF NO ANSWER
Phone 4073-W

FOR SALE

ON MOIRA LAKE, 1½ STOREY furnished cottage on 66 ft. lot, including 3 bedrooms, living room, kitchen on ground floor; sleeping porch and bedroom on second floor. Fireplace, hot water heating, garage. For further information apply Box 97, Intelligencer.
F2-10-17

ROGERS 90 HOMEBREWER HOI-ER reverberated circulating oil heater with 60,000 B.T.U. input, complete with 6 feet of stove pipe. Phone Picton 469 J.
F2-tf

500 ROSEBUSH CHOICE TABLE turnips. Plain or waxed. Apply Box 3, R. R. 2, Belleville, Ont. Phone 966-J-3.
F1-3t

USED MILKER UNITS INSTALLED in your barn for $260, complete with two single units, hose, stall cocks, pail and pump. Have used outfits of various makes for sale starting $150 and up. Guaranteed. See this equipment at J. W. French, Phone 6424-W, Canning or Consecon, Belleville.
F1-tf

CHEVELAND MAMMOTH RED CLOVER, timothy, in square bales, 1950 crop. Phone 6r Stirling.
F1-2t

HAY, GREEN ALFALFA, RED clover, timothy, in square bales, 1950 crop. Phone 6r Stirling.
F1-2t

DESIRABLE BUILDING LOT, 70 frontage. On Sinclair Street. Convenient to Bridge. Write Box 42, Ontario Intelligencer.
F28-2t

CHESLEY CHESTERFIELD suite in good condition, 2 pieces, 1 set Bridge Set, $5 for both. Phone 3-J-3 Frankford.
F28-2t

TWO BLACK LABRADOR RETRIEVER bitch puppies, 6 months old, from Canada's best blood lines. Reasonably priced at $25. Phone or write Lloyd's Kennel Shop, Phone 2-J-3 Frankford.
F28-2t

COOK STOVES, REFRIGERATORS on hand, new or second hand, to choose from. Terms or cash. Bill Bros. Ltd., 283 Coleman St. Phone 3311.
G30-tf

TO LET

2 LIGHT HOUSEKEEPING ROOMS Suitable for 2 girls. Also 2 bedrooms. Phone 3-J-2.
F2-3t

COMPLETE 4-ROOMED INSULATED house, Private driveway, water and bath. Apply 179 Dundas St. East, Trenton. Phone 1-J-3 after 5 p.m. Thirty-five dollars monthly. Immediate possession. C. Spry.
F2-3t

3-ROOM HEATED APARTMENT with bath. Suitable for business couple. Electric stove and electric refrigerator. Phone 3-J-3 Frankford.
F2-3t

FURNISHED APARTMENT, private rooms, bath, heated, garage. Central location. Phone 3-J-3 Frankford.
F2-3t

ROOM AND BOARD, HOME PRIVILEGES. Phone 2276-R.
F2-3t

MODERN 3-ROOM BUNGALOW, East Hill. Immediate Occupancy. $100 per month. Write to Box 41, Ontario Intelligencer.
F2-3t

3-ROOM UNFURNISHED, HEATED, sanitary apartment. Available Feb. 15. Apply Farrar Furniture, 32 Bridge St. East.
F2-3t

3 LARGE ROOMS, HEATED and furnished. Suitable for business couple. Phone 3-J-3 Frankford.
F2-3t

FURNISHED APARTMENT, PRIVATE entrance, bath, heated, garage. Central location. Phone 3-J-3 Frankford.
F2-3t

ROOM AND BOARD, HOME PRIVILEGES. Phone 2276-R.
F2-3t

MODERN 3-ROOM BUNGALOW, East Hill. Immediate Occupancy. $100 per month. Write to Box 41, Ontario Intelligencer.
F2-3t

3 UNFURNISHED ROOMS, UNHEATED. Phone 3-J-3 Frankford.
F2-3t

FURNISHED, HEATED, BEDROOM. Apply 49 Victoria Ave.
F2-3t

BOARD AND ROOM IN PRIVATE home for 2 boys. 179 John St. Phone 3547-J.
F2-3t

HEATED, FURNISHED ROOM FOR hot plate. Suit business man or woman. Use of phone. West Hill. Close to bus stop. Phone 4346-W.
J29-tf

NICELY FURNISHED BEDROOM IN new home with all conveniences, hot water. Bus service. Phone 3547-J.
F2-3t

FURNISHED ROOM, KITCHENETTE, bathroom. Close to bus line. Phone 2307-M after 6 p.m.
F2-3t

3 FURNISHED ROOMS. APPLY 121 N. Front St.
F2-3t

4-BEDROOM HOUSE, WEST HILL. Hardwood floors, oil heat, attached furnace. All conveniences. Available March 1st. Phone 4346-W.
F2-3t

1 FURNISHED BEDROOM IN PRIvate home, Private entrance, Central location. Suitable for business person preferred. Must be abstainer. Apply Box 81, Ontario Intelligencer.
F1-3-5-7-9

ROOM, BUSINESS LADY, PRIVATE home. Phone 3-J-3 Frankford.
F2-3t

ROOM AND BOARD, GENTLEMEN only. Private home. Phone 2276-W-4.
F1-3t

5-ROOM APT., TRENT RD. AVAILable on March 1st. Apply Ontario Intelligencer.
F1-3t

LIGHT HOUSEKEEPING ROOM with household privileges. Suit 2 girls or business couple. West Hill. Phone 1799-R.
F1-3t

SINGLE ROOM, HOME PRIVILEGES, some meals. Gentlemen preferred. Abstainers. Phone 3586-J.
F1-2t

3-ROOM SELF-CONTAINED APT. IN new home. Private entrance. Bus. Radiant heating. Complete bathroom. Refrigerator furnished if required. Full particulars to Box 17, Ontario Intelligencer.
F1-4t

2-ROOMED, FURNISHED, HEATED apartment in quiet home. West Hill. Available March 1st. Phone 39, Ontario Intelligencer.
J31-tf

COMFORTABLE, BRIGHT ROOMS for young men. Use of bath, optional or kitchen privileges. 706-R.
F2-3t

6-ROOM APT. NEAR MARKET. Phone Trenton 964-J-14.
J18-tf

COMFORTABLE, BRIGHT ROOMS for young men. Use of bath, facilities, gymnasium, shower, and kitchen privileges. Phone 9-M or 40 Campbell Street, Phone 412.
J27-tf

PERSONALS

UNWANTED HAIR ERADICATED from any part of the body with face-saver, a remarkable discovery by Dr. Ed. Pinaud, Paris. Contains harmful ingredients. Will destroy the hair root. LOR-BEER Laboratories Ltd., 1123 Granville Street, Vancouver Island, British Columbia.

CRESS BUNION SALVE FOR bunion relief. Your druggist sells it. Cress.
F1-3mt

WANTED — MALE

ROUTE MAN, YOUNG MARRIED man for panel delivery, established route of particular character, eligible for bond. State age, experience and references. Apply Box 21, City Intelligencer.
F2-3t

MEN'S ATTENTION, EXTRA Skilled Canadian company requires SALES-MEN for Home Products, Insecticides, Disinfectants, Cosmetics, Specialties, etc. Full or part time. Will also be considered. Write at once for full particulars. Only successful applicants. Car or truck necessary. Canadian Home Products Corporation, Products Ltd., Ottawa, Ont.
F2-3t

CIVIL SERVICE EXAMINATIONS PREPARE NOW FOR FALL EXAMINATIONS. Write M.C.C. Civil Service School, 501 Hall Bldg., Winnipeg, Man.
A15-z-tf

FOR INCREASED BUSINESS, full or part time, and substantial additional sales income, preferably while traffic if you qualify. Phone 4548-W.
F2-3t

OPPORTUNITY FOR FOOD SALESman. Opening for salesman with established food line. Apply Farrar Furniture, 32 Bridge St. East, Belleville, Phone 3847-J.
J30-F1-3

RETAIL GROCERY, Restaurant and Hotel Trade in Belleville and surrounding district. Applicant must be resident in this territory. Must have car. Salary, commission and bonus. Permanent position. Apply in writing giving full particulars and qualifications and enclose recent photo to Box 94, Ontario Intelligencer.
F1-3t

SALESMAN FOR BELLEVILLE district to solicit orders for Canada's finest line of Christmas cards. Liberal remuneration. Apply, giving experience if any, education, past and present employment. Write Box 2, Ontario Intelligencer. All replies confidential.
F1-3t

WANTED — FEMALE

WAITRESS. HIGHEST WAGES PAID meals included, uniforms supplied. Apply in person only, Apply Belmont Restaurant.
F2-3t

WANTED

YOUNG MARRIED WOMAN DEsires position after 6 p.m. Experienced mass cash but would consider other types of work. Write Box 102, Ontario Intelligencer.
F2-3t

2 RAILROAD BOARDERS TO RENT room, twin beds, and laundry done. Phone 1098.
F2-3t

ATTENTION FARMERS! WE WILL be pleased to pick up dead or crippled farm animals. We pay highest prevailing prices. For immediate service telephone collect, Canada Fertilizers Limited, Napanee 3258, Hurling 353.
T2-etu-tf-z-tf

TYPING TO DO AT HOME OR PART time outside. Phone 3-J-3 Frankford.
F2-3t

$9,500 MORTGAGE ON COMPLETED home. Good proposition. Write Box 100, Ontario Intelligencer.
F1-3t

TO BUY A FARM NEAR BELLEville with stock and implements preferred. Apply to P.O. Box 57 Elgin, Ont.
F1-3t

RELIABLE PERSON WOULD LIKE part time housework by the hour or day, 60c per hour. Phone 3-J-3 Frankford.
F2-3t

SCRAP TIRES AND TUBES. HIGHest prices paid. Crawford Metals, 31 Station St. Phone 676.
F1-tf

SEND YOUR LETTER NOW TO "The Woman's Point of View Contest." Win a new Kenmore automatic iron. For details watch Page 9 in Dunn Bros. Ltd., 329 Front St., Belleville.
F18-tf

PIANO, WILL STORE PIANO IN your home for use of same. Phone 2344R.
N30-tf

USED ELECTRIC MOTORS AND hobby equipment. Phone 4135.
S18-tf

LIVE POULTRY. HIGHEST CASH prices paid. Your consignments solicited. Apply at Marmora, 155 James St. Belleville. Phone 3-J-3.
M19-tf

BUSINESS OPPORTUNITIES

EXCEPTIONAL OPPORTUNITY FOR man with car, some selling experience, good financial standing to call customers. Can start at once. $3,000 a year clear. Our Patented products with little or no competition sell easily on 1 minute demonstration. Commission and bonus. Unlimited territory. Permanent lucrative profits. Mr. Hoffer, Pres., West Co. Ltd. Cornwall, Ont.
P1

LOST

LADY'S BLACK RAYON BENGALine purse containing considerable money and valuable papers. Lost between Lodge's and corner of Front and Victoria Avenue. Urgently required. Liberal reward. Phone 3107-W.
F2-3t

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE

3-ROOM BUNGALOW, CHATHAM St. Hardwood floors, modern kitchen and bathroom. Basement. Down payment $2,000. Possession February 15th.
BELLEVILLE INSURANCE AGENCIES LTD.
Phone Carl Crosby 3077.
F2-3t

NEW, MODERN, BUNGALOW, rooms and bath with shower, built-in cupboards, oil heating. Central. Real bargain. $6,000. Phone 3586-J.
F1-2t

TOURIST CAMP 11½ MILES FROM city of Belleville on Highway No. 2, overlooking Bay of Quinte. Large frame 13-roomed house including 2 bath, with all conveniences. 5 cabins; large 3-car garage with 2 bedrooms above. Also 2 cabins and lunch counter on large cherry bushes. This would make a lovely spot for a motel. For further information apply to Box 40, Ontario Intelligencer.
F2-3t

OUTSIDE CITY, 4-ROOM INSULated bungalow, garage, large river lot, low taxes, $3,500. Phone 3502-J-2.
J26-tf

AUCTION SALE

Community livestock auction sale every Wednesday afternoon at Community Auction Sale Barn 2 miles S. of Brighton. All stock must be at sale by 1 o'clock on afternoon of sale.
OSCAR C. MORGAN
Auctioneer
Phone 345, Brighton
M25-ae-tf

BIG BUSINESS
The Canadian Post Office delivers more than 1,000,000,000 pieces of mail every year.

ARTICLES FOR SALE

BEATTY COPPER TUB WASHER, re-built like new. Excellent condition. Regular price $150. Clothes line agitator washer clothes clean in 3 to 5 minutes. Reg. $69.50. David's Electric Shop. 346 Front St.
F2-tf

STRAND COAL AND WOOD RANGE White enamel Splendid condition. Reasonable. Apply 10 Geddes St. Phone 1700-R.
F2-3t

2 GOOD TRUCK TIRES AND TUBES 700-20. Phone 3-J-3 Frankford.
F2-3t

1 REMINGTON TYPEWRITER, 10 inch carriage. Like new. Phone 220 Frankford or write Box 1, Frankford.
F2-3t

PURE CHAIR ROCKER WITH spring cushion. Full length about size 2. Phone 706-R.
F2

8 x 10 BRODDER HOUSE, BRODDER Frost, size 8 x 10 Arrangy. Brand Groves, R. R. 2, Belleville.
F2

OIL SPACE HEATER $15.00. EXPLOsion mantel battery radio complete $12.50. Quebec heater $6.50; utility table $4.50; Findlay fornacette heater $17.50; Findlay Pullet table console radio $16.50. Furniture Exchange, 170 Front St.
Belleville, Phone 3847-J.
J30-F1-3

ACME RANGE WITH HIGH OVEN, heavy nonporcelain, high speed element. Forty dollars. Phone 2783-W.
F2-3t

QUAKER OIL STOVE, LARGE size. Phone 3280-R.
F2-3t

SMALL FRAME, DELUXE MODEL. Two only. Bunshine and Lloyd. Regular $49.50 for $39.50. Farrar Furniture, 32 Bridge St. East.
F2-3t

CONSOLE MODEL MARCONI RADIO in good condition. Apply 29 Charles St. Phone 1361. Apt. 2.
F1-2t

PIANO, "GOOD CONDITION, VERY reasonable. Phone 647-W-12.
F1-3t

BABY CHAMP RADIO, IVORY, 3 tube with standard and short wave. Built-in antenna. Regular $49.50 edition, 4 months old. Apply 32 Bridge St. East. Farrar Furniture.
F2-3t

TRADE IN YOUR OLD ELECTRIC iron on a new Sunbeam or Silex iron. Apply to Box 3, Ontario Intelligencer, or a new Iron. Van Dusen Bros., 329 Front St.
F2-3t

NEW AND USED BATH TUBS and sinks. Also a complete line of all kinds of new and used plumbing and heating goods, coil pipe and fittings, Rockburn Plumbing, & Heating, Phone 2717-J-4.
F1-3t

SEE THE NEW BEATTY STAINLESS steel washers at Dunn's Electric Shop, 340 Front St. Let us show you this outstanding washer tomorrow.
J16-tf

BUILDING CONTRACTORS

C. R. McCRORY CONSTRUCTION Co. Industrial, commercial, residential, recreational and specialty. Insulation. Free estimates.
Phone 2-J-4 Frankford.
J30-tf

WHITE LUMBER AND CONSTRUCtion Company for home building, alterations, repairs, roofing, industrial, domestic and office buildings. 14 Front North. Phone 3477.
J30-tf

BUILDING SUPPLIES

LUMBER, SHINGLES, DOORS, sashes, millwork, paints, builders' hardware. Huston Company Limited, St. Paul Street. Phone 1777.
J30-tf

LUMBER, ROOFING, INSULATION, millwork, masonite, plywood, wood sash, doors, moulding, hardware. Wm. Hunt, 370 Front Street. Phone 1853.
J30-tf

NOTICE

Applications will be received until February 10, for Cheesemaker for cheese factory at Wellman's Corners. Apply to P. Carr, Stirling.
J29-31-F2

AUCTION SALE

Of modern and antique household effects, Saturday, Feb. 3rd, at 2 p.m. Will be held on the Market Square on Bridge Street, Belleville, the property of Mrs. Ethel Mitchell, electric refrigerator; electric washer; electric sewing machine; electric table lamps; chesterfield suite; studio couch; chesterfield chair; 2 pc. living room suite; 2 pc. bedroom suite; small rug; 3 Congoleum rugs; walnut wall rack; walnut chest of drawers; 2 walnut tables; rocker (antique); table (antique); 2 kitchen tables; kitchen cupboard; 2 kitchen chairs; dining suite; 3 dressers; 2 iron beds; mahogany bureau; arborite table; vacuum (Royal); 4 end-tables; jardinere; 2 mirrors; 2 pictures; sewing machine; sisal; bedding; dishes; kitchen utensils; and other articles. Terms Cash. No reserve.
MRS. ETHEL MITCHELL — OWNER
ROY PRICE
Auctioneer
Phone 1276 11 Yeomans St.
J30-F2-3

ACCOM. WANTED

THREE OR FOUR ROOM APT. BY March 1st. Reliable business gentleman. Box 42, Ontario Intelligencer.
F1-3t

HOUSE OR APT. SUPERIOR TYPE accommodation, for married without children. Excellent tenants. Write Box 43, Ontario Intelligencer.
F1-3t

CHRISTIAN COUPLE WITH MONTHold child require 2 or 3 roomed unfurnished apartment. Must be reasonable rent. Abstainers. Box 3, Ontario Intelligencer.
J22-2t

AUTOMOBILES FOR SALE

'36 FORD DELUXE SEDAN, WINterized. Good motor. Apply 49 Victoria Ave.
F2-3t

'1943 WILLYS ARMY JEEP IN GOOD condition. Cheap. Apply 145 Trenton.
J23-25-27-em-tfn-z-tf

1940 DODGE SEDAN, CLEAN, IN good condition. Low mileage. Splendid engine. Phone 3187-J.
F2-3t

'39 CHEV. COACH, GOOD CONDITION. Phone 3-J-3 Frankford.
F2-3t

1940 THAMES ½-TON PANEL, 10,000 miles. Good condition. Apply Farrar Furniture, 32 Bridge St. East, Phone 3847-J.
F2-3t

OLDSMOBILE SEDAN, 1937, PRIvately owned. New tires. Can guarantee this car to be in first class condition. Apply Box 63, Ontario Intelligencer.
F1-3t

41 CHEV. COACH, GOOD CONDItion. Will sell or trade for 2 ton. Chev. sedan; all winterized. Apply Phillips Auto Wrecking, Front St., Phone 2197 between 9 and 5.
F1-3t

TENDERS

Tenders are requested for furniture and other equipment for the new Public Library Building to be built on Bridge Street. Specifications may be obtained at the office of the Board's Secretary. Tenders will be plainly marked as such and must reach the office of the Secretary, Belleville Public Library Board, by Saturday, Feb. 10, 1951.
THE LIBRARY BOARD OF CORPORATION
E. A. Kells
Secretary and Administrator.
F1-2t

TIRE & BATTERY SERVICE

UPTOWN TIRE and BATTERY — IGNITION — Vulcanizing. 101 Pinnacle St. Phone 2128.
J30-tf

PAINTING and PAPERHANGING DECORATING COUNTRY and CITY
Phone 1120
H. EATON

PIANOS BOUGHT — SOLD

ALL MAKES TUNED AND REPAIRED
PLAYER PIANOS A SPECIALTY
R. H. TYREE
FRANKFORD Phone 32-R-22

ARTISTIC PICTURE FRAMING
FRED B. HUDSON
168 Bleecker Ave. Belleville

FLEXI-FLOOR
RUBBER TILE
9" x 9" x 3/32"
28 BEAUTIFUL COLORS
Sold or Installed by
ARTHUR A. SILLS and SON
225 Coleman St. Phone 1584
BELLEVILLE

MUIR'S
ROOFING and FLOORING
GENERAL REPAIRS
98 PINE STREET
PHONE 1288

MORTGAGES
BOUGHT and SOLD
Private Funds—Fast Service
FOR APPOINTMENT
Phone 4111
QUINTE MORTGAGE CO.
297 Front Street — Room 2
BELLEVILLE

W-A-N-T-E-D
SHOP FOREMAN
with MECHANICAL EXPERIENCE
Apply
ASSISTANT MANAGER,
BATEMAN MOTORS LTD.
Distributors of
DODGE - DeSOTO CARS and DODGE TRUCKS
315 Pinnacle Street

WANTED
ABOUT FIVE HUNDRED FEET
GROUND FLOOR
STORAGE SPACE
Apply:
ONTARIO
INTELLIGENCER

GUARANTEED
USED CARS
AT BETTER PRICES
BATEMAN
MOTORS
BELLEVILLE

NOTICE

Meeting of the patrons of Roslin and Kaludis Public School Section No. 1, Thurlow will be held in the Eagle Heritage Cheese Factory on Thursday, February 8, at 2 p.m., 1951, will be cancelled until further notice.
W. C. HALL, President.
F2-3t

NOTICE

Red Cross Society annual meeting, Ameliasburgh Township Hall, 8 p.m. Andrew Church Hall. Reports for 1950 and election of officers. Mrs. Gertrude Hall, Belleville, will be special speaker from the Canadian Red Cross Society will be present.
F2-7

NOTICE TO CREDITORS AND OTHERS

All persons having any claims against the estate of Margaret Clark Widow, deceased, who died on the 19th day of January, 1951, are required to file particulars of same with the undersigned Solicitors on or before the 15th day of February, 1951, after which date the estate will be distributed by the undersigned having regard only to the claims of which it shall then have had notice.
DATED at Belleville, this 24th day of January, 1951.
COLLINS & CUSHING,
P. O. Box 148
Belleville, Ontario.
Solicitors for the Executor.
J30-31-F2-10

NOTICE TO CREDITORS AND OTHERS

IN THE ESTATE OF ERNEST HAROLD WILSON, Mail Carrier, Deceased.
All persons having claims against the estate of the above-named deceased, late of the Township of Thurlow, in the County of Hastings, who died on the 10th day of January, 1951, are hereby notified to send in the undersigned on or before March 1st, 1951, their names and full particulars of their claims, immediately after the said date the estate will be distributed having regard only to the claims of which the undersigned shall then have notice.
DATED at Belleville, this 30th day of January, 1951.
EDWARD E. FOLLWELL,
17 Bridge St. East,
Belleville, Ontario.
Solicitor for the Executor.
F2-10-17

NOTICE TO CREDITORS AND OTHERS

IN THE ESTATE OF JANE HAWLEY Widow, Deceased.
All persons having claims against the estate of the above named deceased, late of the City of Belleville, who died on the 10th day of January, 1951, at about the 10th day of January, 1951, are hereby notified to send in the undersigned on or before the first day of March, 1951, their names and full particulars of their claims, immediately after the said date the estate will be distributed having regard only to the claims of which the undersigned shall then have notice.
DATED at Belleville, this 31st day of January, 1951.
EDWARD E. FOLLWELL,
17 Bridge St. East,
Belleville, Ontario.
Solicitor for the Administrator.
F2-10-17

NOTICE TO CREDITORS AND OTHERS

IN THE ESTATE OF LEO MARTIN, Deceased.
All persons having claims against the estate of the above named deceased, late of the City of Belleville, who died on the 31st day of December, 1950, at about the 31st day of December, 1950, are hereby notified to send in the undersigned on or before the 1st day of March, 1951, their names and full particulars of their claims, immediately after the said date the estate will be distributed having regard only to the claims of which the undersigned shall then have notice.
DATED at Belleville, this 31st day of January, 1951.
EDWARD E. FOLLWELL,
17 Bridge St. East,
Belleville, Ontario.
Solicitor for the Administrator.
F2-10-17

WHO CAN DO IT?

Electrical Contractors

WIRING and FIXTURES
W. E. OLIPHANT, 292 FRONT ST.
Wiring. Fixtures.

MUSIC

RESIDENT PIANO TUNER, BRUCE A. HILL, Phone 114, Rte. 1166.

TIRE & BATTERY SERVICE

UPTOWN TIRE and BATTERY — IGNITION — Vulcanizing. 101 Pinnacle St. Phone 2128.

PAINTING and PAPERHANGING DECORATING COUNTRY and CITY
Phone 1120
H. EATON

BEFORE YOU BUY SEE TRUCK and FARM SUPPLY
OPEN EVERY DAY — ALL DAY

FOR BETTER HOME COMFORT
and
FUEL ECONOMY
Call 4567
OIL BURNERS
AIR CONDITIONERS
24-HOUR SERVICE
AUTOMATIC HEATING
and AIR CONDITIONING
SALES and SERVICE
78 Station St. Belleville

ORDER NOW FOR SPRING DELIVERY

CHINESE ELM, 12-inch size, 198 for $6.95; DWARF FRAN TREES (Chartreuse) or (Golden Glow), 2 for $3.95; DWARF SUPREME WEEPING MULBERRY, 3 to 4 feet, $2.95; TREE HEDGING OF ARBORVITE 12 to 18-inch size, 25 for $3.95; GIANT EXHIBITION PEONY ROOTS in white or pink, 2 for $1.95; PLUM TREES, Sweet Eating Instead, Lombard or Grand Duke, 5 ft size, $2.95 or 7 for $5.00. Free colored GARDEN GUIDE with every order.
BROOKDALE - RIDGEWAY NURSERIES
Bentleyville - Ontario

PERCIVAL'S ANNEX
RECONDITIONED
FURNITURE
and
APPLIANCES

ASSORTED MIRRORS — Unfinished frames.
10c to 49c

EUREKA TANK-TYPE VACUUM. Complete with attachments. Floor sample. Reg. $109.95.
$89.50

1 WASHING MACHINE —Fair condition.
$19.95

1 ONLY OAK BUFFET. Fair condition.
$19.95

1 ONLY WALNUT FINISHED VANITY, less mirror. Fair condition.
$12.95

KITCHEN TABLE, white enamel with black marbleoum top. Knife drawer. Floor sample.
$18.75

300 FRONT STREET
Phone 4493

REAL ESTATE
MEMBER of the Ontario Association of Real Estate Boards and of the Canadian Association of Real Estate Boards.
GEO. N. GORMAN
166 FRONT ST. (Opposite City Hall)
REALTOR

WHY WE SAY By Bob Morgan Pete Heffman

The term lady is one of respect today —but it usually meant a "loved maid" a few hundred years ago. Lady is derived from the French words laid for last and dige for dah! for dough. A lady was really the keeper of the household who put the dough ready for baking bread.
J-3

TRYST

By Elswyth Thane

"Yes, Clirion might do all those nice Cambridge things," he agreed Aunt Effie vaguely. "And then there was that Swiss school I told you about the last time we talked schools, the one that teaches them skiing along with all the usual things."

"Well, I don't know, Effie—What's that place pretty expensive?"

"You said it was at the time, big this is a special case, dear. I do think that to get her right away from England for a while is—"

"Very well, I'll think about it."

"But you must do something at once. Alan, there's no time to go on thinking about it! I'd better write to the Swiss school in the morning and ask if they can take her."

"Well, all right, if you think that's best."

"And a letter to Mrs. Shenstone about giving up this lease," added Aunt Effie with satisfaction. "It's nearly as if you knew everything you'd agree with me that it is the only possible solution."

Sabrina went down to breakfast the next morning in a very cautious state of mind, determined to hear more about the lights in Hillary's room. But father was behind his paper as usual, and Aunt Effie seemed quite normal; remarked on the fine day and that she had letters to write.

Sabrina went out into the garden to fetch flowers for the library vases, and collected Muffin on her way upstairs. When she set him down on the door she went at once to the window seat jumped up on the iron-warmed cushions, rolled over to have his stomach rubbed, and began to purr loudly.

She watched him a moment, amused. His passion for Hillary's society endeared him to her. She envied him too, in his complete familiarity with the invisible presence which roused in herself no fear or strangeness.

"You are all your friend Hillary to be more careful about these lights," she addressed Muffin severely as she opened down yesterday's newspaper to lay the picked flowers on, and began to arrange them in the vase to be changed. "Aunt Effie's mind was just settling down again, and now he's gone and got her unsettled."

"I'm sorry about last night," said Hillary, unrepentant. "But I always did like lots of light."

Sabrina returned from the bathroom with a vase full of fresh water in each hand. She placed them on the desk and began to fill one with roses and one with tall delphiniums which raised their azure blue spires to touch her shining head.

"Have you any idea how pleasant it is for me to see you come into this room with your arms full of flowers?" he remarked irrelevantly.

She was wrapping up the faded flowers neatly in the newspaper to take downstairs. She put the newly filled vases back in their places, and took a damp cloth out of the desk drawer.

"I must say he's a tidy person to keep house for," she remarked. "No cigaret ash scattered about, no laundry to send away, no—"

She stood still, looking down at the seat of the armchair under the reading light. A book she had never taken off the shelf. And the loose silk cushion was crushed down into the corner against the arm.

"Wrong again," said Hillary uneasily. "I'm getting careless. I meant to put it back."

Behave sensibly, Sabrina, she told herself, he can see you. Because as though it was not unusual of him to leave things lying about. Be tactful, Sabrina.

Almost automatically she reached for the cushion and plumped it and set it back in place. Then, more slowly, she picked up the book he had been reading. It was black, with its title in gold letters—"True Ghost Stories."

"We haven't read this one Muffin," she remarked casually and only her eyes betrayed her, large and brightly blue, with lids held high. "I wonder if it's any good."

"Well, I didn't find it very helpful," Hillary admitted, sobering her gameness. "I was hoping to learn something about the technique. The trouble is they all take their business too seriously. It's too bad I haven't got some chains to rattle!"

She searched the shelves briefly and returned the book to the empty space it had left, then went on with her dusting, silent and very thoughtful.

The mischief and forgotten book was the third tangible evidence of his actual presence in the room, without counting Muffin's behavior. And each time the same suffocating excitement pervaded her, which contained no element of fear. Each time too he seemed almost to emerge a little from invisibility.

The days went by uneventfully, and she kept house for him. No dust collected on the polished surfaces of his mahogany and the cushions were always shaken out and set by the fire in the proper housemaid's angle. He found that if he persistently left the book on the table it was usually read it. Or sometimes she had already read it, and would call Muffin what she thought of it. Most of her conversation with Muffin included Hillary as well.

And Hillary, watching her, knew that he was in love with this little excluding as surely and as deeply as though he had come back whole in his many body and found her living here in his home—a love so strong and inevitable that even death had not robbed them of each other. A mistake had been made somewhere and one bullet got astray to drop him in the desert. Then reparation was swiftly made, too, as far as it could go. He had returned to Nuna Farthing, and slowly the distance between them was narrowing, by her instinctive trust and faith in him, by his increasing comprehension of himself as he now was.

One morning early Sabrina met the postman on her way down to breakfast. There was a copy of "Antiquity" for Effie, and a large square envelope with a Swiss stamp for Aunt Effie.

Sabrina felt a little start of jubilation at her own surprise and said to herself: I believe Aunt Effie's plate—"Who's in Switzerland, Auntie?"

"Oh, Alan, it's come," said Aunt Effie, trying to catch his eye before "Antiquity" absorbed him.

"What's come?" said Father, slitting the wrapper.

"The letter from Switzerland. I told you I had written. This is the answer."

She tore it open with a glance at Sabrina, who was helping herself to kidneys and bacon at the sideboard hot plate. There was a printed booklet on expensive shiny paper, and a rather long typed letter. Sabrina gave it a curious look as she sat down and began her breakfast in silence.

Finally—

"Alan, everything seems to be all right," Aunt Effie announced with satisfaction. "Would you like to read the letter?"

"Not particularly," said Father from behind Antiquity.

"There's a list of things to be bought," said Aunt Effie.

"I don't doubt it," said Father, "I think we'd better go up to town by the first of the week."

Sabrina's sensitive nerve centers registered swift alarm.

"Why?" she said, and looked from one to the other. "Why go up to town?"

"To buy clothes and things," Aunt Effie said to her pointedly—much too brightly. "You'll like that, won't you dear?"

"I don't need any more clothes Sabrina's heart had begun to beat thickly all by itself.

"But you will to go to Switzerland," said Aunt Effie, and Sabrina stared at her incredulously. "Oh, I didn't tell you!" Aunt Effie went on uneasily, knowing well that she had not. "We thought it would be nice for you to have a few months at that lovely school near Geneva. It's time you brushed up your French I'm sure, and besides they teach skiing, and then you're right at hand for all that wonderful music, and the mountain air must be very healthful after this heat—"

"What are you talking about?" gasped Sabrina. But somehow she knew already. She had been through this sort of thing before. "I'm not going to any school. I'm too old for school."

"Oh, no, not for this one! And besides—"

"I won't leave this house!" said Sabrina in a small pinched voice, sitting very still. "I'm happy here —happier than I've ever been. I won't go."

"Perhaps I was wrong to call this exactly a school," said Aunt Effie hastily, "it will be more like a nice holiday abroad with friends, I'm sure, you'll make friends at once—"

"Father!" In desperation, Sabrina rose from her chair and snatched Antiquity out of his hands, so that he looked up at her in astonishment, over his spectacles. "Father, please don't send me away from here! Please say I haven't got to go!"

"Now, I don't want any hysteria," said Father firmly. "Your aunt has gone into the matter very thoroughly by now, I should imagine, and I think we had better not discuss it."

But you can't just send me all the way to Switzerland without discussing it!

Father rose, with his full teacup in one hand, and held out the other for Antiquity.

"When you have quite finished making a scene, Sabrina," he said coldly, "thank you." He took the magazine out of her unresisting fingers and departed with dignity to his study, carrying his tea.

"There!" said Aunt Effie reproachfully, "Now he won't come out for hours. Sit down and eat your breakfast Sabrina."

"Please Auntie, I—"

"You haven't touched your plate. It's wasting good food."

With her eyes blinded, she sat down obediently when she was told. Aunt Effie's plate was, and Aunt Effie had piled up her mind with the terrible obstinacy of the habitually indecisive. Nothing but the end of the world would save her dreadful fate out of the hands which Aunt Effie had set her heart on.

When at last she was able to get away from the table, she climbed the stairs to her own room and stood limp just inside the closed door, feeling beaten and sick and bewildered—and worst of all trapped. The impulse to escape surged up in panic. How if, when they came to take her away, she could not be found! Her small square cube came up. Yes, of course—there was still time to disappear.

She seized a hat from the wardrobe, threw a coat over her arm, hurried to the dressing table for her handbag. One's weekly allowance piled up at Nuna Farthing where there was no need to buy flowers or books or cakes for tea. She had accumulated something over two pounds. One could get a job as a waitress or something. . .

She was on the door she paused. There was something else. Her luggage. You had to have luggage in order to get into a hotel. She turned back, pulled the dressing case out of the wardrobe and flung overnight necessities into it. Then, with her hat dragged down to the best she could, she tiptoed to the door and down the stairs. Aunt Effie would be in the kitchen now, doing the ordering. If one could get out of the front door and catch the bus at the crossroads. . .

(To Be Continued)

Federal Rent Controls In Effect Until April 30

Ottawa, Feb. 3 —(CP)—Don't let your landlord—or anyone else —tell you that Federal rent controls end March 31. They don't. They end April 30.

Many persons, public figures among them, believe the Federal ceilings expire at the end of the Federal fiscal year—March 31 However, when the Federal government extended rent control last year it did so for a 13-month period—to April 30 this year.

That was done because most Canadian leases expire on that date, with the next day—May 1 —the country's traditional moving day.

The Victoria & Grey Trust Company

ANNOUNCE

NEW LOWER PRICES

on

SAFETY DEPOSIT BOXES

NOW ONLY 3.00 and Up per year

- ACCESSIBLE AT ANY TIME DURING OFFICE HOURS.
- A SAFEGUARD FOR IMPORTANT PAPERS AND VALUABLES.

PHONE 4006 FOR PARTICULARS

THE VICTORIA & GREY TRUST COMPANY

G. H. TRILL — Manager

HOURS:

Daily 9.30 a.m. to 4.00 p.m. Saturday 9 a.m. to 1 p.m.

160 FRONT STREET PHONE 4006

BELLEVILLE

Advances Plan To Bolster British Economy

London,—(CP)—Lord Brucs of Melbourne, chairman of the Finance Corporation for Industry and former Prime Minister of Australia, has offered the British government what he termed "a sure-fire" plan to overcome the nation's economic crisis.

He told members of the National Union of manufacturers that the socialists could have his remedy for the asking. But urgent action would be necessary to meet a situation he believed was the most serious in peacetime history.

The answer, Lord Bruce said, was to frame a two-year emergency program involving among other measures drastic reduction in public expenditure, abandonment of further nationalization; increased industrial output and a curb on wage increases.

Once drawn up, the program should be submitted for endorsement at a general election to be called without delay. Coupled with this proposal, Lord Bruce suggested an undertaking should be given by the political parties that at the close of the two-year emergency period there would be another appeal to the country.

One of the other planks in the proposed program calls for reorganization, re-equipment and modernization of industries already nationalized. Priority would be given to coal and transportation. At the same time, plans to bring the rest under effective state control would be scrapped.

More Advice

Following are some of the other suggested provisions:

1. Taxation reductions to relieve the burden on industry and provide an incentive to the individual.

2. No increase in wages during the two years, unless greater economic production justifies increased boosts.

3. Re-examination and extension of hours of work where it is established that increased output can be achieved by the refinement to the worker.

4. Prohibition by law of strikes and lockouts.

5. Drastic action to restore discipline in the docks and strict control to their responsible leaders.

6. Reduction in expenditures on the social services and continuance of the understanding for limitation of profit distributions.

Lord Bruce said the program might appear startling. But a point had been reached where Britain's economy was unable to sustain expansion of the ideals of the welfare state. A halt had to be called.

PICTON

Industrial Promotion Subject Of Talk to Chamber of Commerce

Picton—Industrial promotion starts with local enthusiasm and any effort must have the full support of those concerned, stated Howard Gomery, secretary-manager of the Kingston Chamber of Commerce, in an address on industrial promotion at Prince Edward Chamber of Commerce meeting Wednesday night. The speaker ably dealt with features which are necessary to attract industry and suggested various types which might fit into a community such as this. He suggested various departments and organization which would be helpful in securing industry.

Introduced by Sheriff H. J. Collver, Mr. Gomery was thanked for his address by Gordon Campbell, a past president, accompanying Mr. Gomery from the Kingston Chamber were Leo Le-Fleur, Jack Edler and Alfred Gaunt. Mr. Edler delighted the crowd with a number of Scottish songs.

President Dr. C. S. Slack expressed thanks to members for their co-operation during the year. He expressed regret at the resignation of secretary Phil Dodds, and reviewed some of the many activities of the Chamber during the year.

Presented with Clock

K. I. Mitchell, treasurer, was presented with an electric clock in appreciation of his services. Past President Colin Carter voicing the appreciation of the members. The George Publow prize, an outboard motor, was presented to Douglas Walmsley by J. Donald Baxter, M.I.A. This was given for the most skillfully landed fish in the Trenton Fishing Hall of Fame contest.

A. Grant of the Quinte's Isle Tourist Association was given by Dr. L. Macle who outlined plans for 1951. Some of the work accomplished during the first year of operation. L. B. Calnan, chairman of publicity, told how the Chamber had supported many local endeavors and sponsored the Santa Claus parade. John Arnaud, membership chairman, reported 276 members last year.

Directors elected were C. S. Slack, Jack Le Heup, Bruce Marvin, Harold Cleave, E. W. Hendrason Sam Gentile, L. Mackle, Jesse Mason, George Fraser, K. W. Henderson, Nixon Welsh, L. Yanover, H. B. Tully, Joseph Johns, A. B. Hosey, Barry Anderson, Sam Gentile, L. Mackle, president; Bruce Marvin, Association and Federation of Agriculture; Past Presidents Colin Carter, L. B. Calnan, F. D. Baxter, Gordon Campbell, Fred Stafford, T. E. Williams and the Mayor, F. C. Cooper.

Committee chairman who are ex-officio members of the Board of Directors are K. I. Mitchell, finance; Jack LeHeup, roads; Sam Martin, tourist development; L. B. Calnan, industrial development; Bruce Marvin, Tourist

PROBABILITIES
Tuesday: Snow in evening, colder. Low zero, high 15.

The Ontario Intelligencer

TEMPERATURES
Max. Min.
Today 32.5 —1
One year ago 20 9

★ ★ Authorized as Second Class Mail, Post Office Department, Ottawa.

BELLEVILLE, ONTARIO, MONDAY, FEBRUARY 5, 1951

5c Per Copy, 25c Per Week

BIG INCREASE IN U.S. SALES TAXES ASKED

U.N. Tanks Ram Deep in Hit-Run Forays

Blast Red Forts, Kill 8,000 Enemy In Two-Day Drive

Artillery, Planes Help, Advance on All Fronts

Train Hits Car, William Anderson Dies in Hospital

Suffering fatal injuries when his auto was struck by the engine of a Canadian Pacific Railways freight, at the Cemetery crossing, Trent Road, William Anderson, 47, R.R. 3, Belleville, died in Belleville General Hospital, this morning, one hour after the accident.

Anderson, operator of a small farm on the Trent Road, was driving north on his own lane toward the highway when as he crossed the track his car was struck by the engine of the freight in charge of Engineer J. N. Rogers, of Smiths Falls.

The force of the impact lifted the auto about 50 feet over the right of way fence and into an adjoining yard. Anderson was pinned under a partially opened door when the occupants of the scene. He was rushed to hospital in Bush's Ambulance but died half an hour after being admitted.

An eye witness standing on the highway waiting for a bus stated that Anderson apparently had not seen the approaching train as his car did not slow up prior to the accident. The engine struck the car broadside completely wrecking the right side of the vehicle.

It was reported that Anderson suffered a milk each morning to one of the city dairies. He was thought to be on his regular morning trip to the city when the accident occurred.

Following the accident the train ground to a stop but the engine had crossed the highway crossing and the train had to be split to allow highway traffic to proceed.

A preliminary inquest into the Coroner G. S. Cronk was opened this Monday afternoon and adjourned till next week.

Travels 12,000 Miles, is Found Medically Unfit

Eighth Army Headquarters, Korea, Feb. 5 (Reuters) — The Eighth Army has decided that it does not want William Jesse Newton, 25, who hitch-hiked 12,000 miles "to kill a few communists." He was declared medically unfit.

Newton, who last year ditched a hired aircraft in the Atlantic and was picked up by the Polish liner Batory, limped into a muddy front-line reinforcement post in Korea last week. He said he had thumbed his way from New York to the fighting line "to clear my name of the taint of communism."

He was sent back to Eighth Army headquarters to enlist formally.

But an army spokesman yesterday announced: "Newton has been medically examined and does not qualify for the standards set for enlistment."

CRIPPS HEADS FABIANS

London, Feb. 5 (CP) — Alling Sir Stafford Cripps accepted today the presidency of the Fabian Society, intellectual core of the British socialist movement. He is the second president of the Society's 66-year history. He succeeds his aunt, Beatrice Webb, who died in 1943.

By OLEN CLEMENTS

Tokyo, Feb. 5. (AP)—The biggest allied tank force of the Korean war rammed deep into communist territory today in hit-run killer raids on the western front and then withdrew.

The tanks carried out within five miles of devastated Seoul. It was the closest allied thrust to the old South Korean capita since United Nations forces pulled out January 4.

Four other armored columns cut sharply into red areas. Behind a thunderous bombardment by warplanes and artillery, the tanks blasted Chinese and Korean reds out of hillside forts. The fighting raged at times at such close quarters that some reds were ground to death under tank treads.

A division spokesman estimated that the two main columns, striking up the main road to Seoul and on a lateral road six miles farther west killed 500 reds and wounded 1,500.

On the central front, allied forces in a simultaneous attack gained four miles in four hours and were continuing to advance. These troops pushed four miles north of Hoengsong, 10 miles north of Wonju.

Kill Over 8,000

New casualty tolls were piled up on the enemy all along the front, adding to the big Sunday total in which the U.S. Eighth Army estimated at 8,635 red dead and wounded from counter-offensive alone. Of those, 7,947 were on the western front.

Allied warships and far-ranging fighters and bombers added to the casualty toll. Navy and air force officials early total casualty estimate. The warships hit both coasts. The Canadian destroyer Athabaskan supported west coast bombardments.

The Eighth Army estimated that total" red casualties along the front, and in rear areas since Jan. 25 through Friday were 34,359, of whom 20,813 were killed. The army announcement said 12,856 were wounded and 889 were captured.

The figures for Monday's bloody 24 hours added considerably to that toll.

Lt.-Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, United States Eighth Army commander, watched the new counsault within a few hundred yards of the front.

The big punch fell on Chinese reds dug in on the hills around Anyang, nine air miles south of Seoul. Rolling behind a terrific aerial and artillery blasting, the tank force took Anyang's smoking ruins almost unopposed and slashed on northward.

(Continued on Page 3)

Koreans Climb 1,400-Foot Slope To Carry Hot Meal to Canadians

With the Canadians in Korea, Feb. 5 (CP) — Sure-footed Korean scaled a steep 1,400 foot slope in midnight darkness to bring hot meals to their fire fighting comrades of the 2nd Battalion, Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry, perched on the right flank of a brigade which is fighting a withdrawing action to the west from the t. e of the supply route.

Stone retaining walls "manned" by Canadian soldiers 13 years ago. The chaplain known as "Father Tom" to hundreds of Eskimos in the Bering Straits area, and who plans to return to the island of Little Diomede, three miles from the Soviet Island of Big Diomede, when his tour of duty

'MAGGIE' READY TO SAIL DESPITE SABOTEURS

Sand, Brass Filings Discovered in Engines

Halifax, Feb. 5. (CP)—The aircraft carrier Magnificent prepared to sail from here today for war games despite a saboteur attempt to crippled an "inside" job.

Sand and brass filings were discovered in her engine room bearings practically on the eve of her sailing for Bermuda. Navy spokesmen said it is possible the job was done by malcontents among her crew and promised an investigation "to the end". There was no indication the alleged saboteur had political motives.

Admiral E. R. Mainguy, chief of Naval Staff, on board Magnificent said it may have been done by some roving who, for example, didn't want to part with his girl friend just yet.

Mainguy statement said merely: "preliminary enquiry into the case of suspected sabotage on H.M.C.S. Magnificent indicates was done by some person or persons who wished to delay sailing of the ship.

"Examinations reveal that no damage has been done to the ship's main machinery."

One official said the Maggie saboteurs may have got their idea from similar incidents aboard the British warships Vengeance and Theseus at Portsmouth last year. Sand and filings had been found in the main bearings of those vessels just before they were scheduled to sail on exercises.

Trouble Two Years Ago

Nearly two years ago there was trouble aboard the Maggie while she was in the Caribbean cruise. In March, 1949, 32 aircraft control ratings disregarded an order which the U.S. Navy complained of long hours and short shore leave. They refused to perform duty aboard the destroyers Athabaskan and Crescent during the same cruise—also one-third of Crescent's crew mutinied while in Shanghai, China. The Athabaskan is escorting Maggie in today's voyage.

Commodore Kenneth Adams, commander of the 18,000-ton flattop, warned the 300 officers and men Saturday in a parade that those found guilty at martial likely will follow investigations now in progress by the Navy and R.C.M.P. Guilty culprits would be subject to civil action before crown courts.

One thing was certain, in the minds of most harbor-front authorities here today. Maggie hasn't been closely familiar with the engine room and there was time to carry out the job. Only personnel with access to her engine spaces were the engine room staff and civilian employees known as "dockyard maties".

LIFE ESTATE OF $1,572,198

Toronto, Feb. 5. (CP)—Edward D. Godderham, prominent in Canadian financial circles, left an estate valued at $1,573,198, it was disclosed today. Succession duties are estimated at $510,000.

270 Men of Destroyer Sioux Back From Korean Waters Greeted by Cheering Throng

Victoria, B. C., Feb. 5—(CP)—The 270 men of the destroyer Sioux had their first proper day of peace today after seven months of war.

The 2,500-ton warship, dressed up in a new coat of paint, yesterday slid into Esquimalt navy base here on a bright Sunday afternoon to be greeted by a cheering throng of 18,000.

It was on July 5 that the destroyer, with her sister ships Cayuga and Athabaskan, had sailed for Korea to fight under the United Nations banner.

Fifty thousand nautical miles later—35,000 of them steamed in the Yellow Sea—Sioux came back to the biggest welcome since the king and queen were here in 1939.

She may be home only several weeks. The crew speculates that after her routine six-week refit she will return to Korea to relieve the Athabaskan. The Nootka relieved, the Sioux and Huron will spell Cayuga soon.

There was no doubt that the navy—and Canada—thought the Sioux had done her job well. Cmdr. Paul Taylor of Victoria, the captain, said the ship had received congratulatory messages not only from navy officials but from people right across Canada. They had been pouring in ever since the Sioux had left for home.

Asked if he thought the Canadian destroyer flotilla was doing a valuable job in the Pacific, Cmdr. Taylor said: "We wouldn't have been working so hard if we hadn't been valuable."

Did Patrol Work

In recent weeks, the Sioux patrolled off the mouth of the Yalu River, the main border between Korea and Manchuria. The Chinese had been expected to attempt to stop troops and supplies to North Korea over the Yellow Sea. The Sioux made sure that none tried to run the blockade.

(Continued on Page 9)

New Battle Pattern Based On New Weapons, Techniques; New Army Can Outfight Larger

—U. S. GEN. COLLINS

Washington, Feb. 5 — (AP) — Gen. J. Lawton Collins said today it is not necessary to match Russia "division for division" because with new weapons and techniques the United States Army could "deal with" hordes of men and masses of tanks coming across Europe.

One of the new weapons, which the army chief of staff cited as being "not many years away," is a guided missile with an atomic warhead.

In a copyrighted interview with the magazine "U. S. News and World Report" published today, Collins summarized some of the new weapons and lessons learned in Korea. His appraisal of effectiveness of the new weapons was highly optimistic.

In effect, Collins outlined a new battle pattern based strongly on new weapons and techniques but still far from being a blueprint for so-called "push button" warfare.

His theme as he outlined it is that the new army can outfight a far larger force not similarly equipped.

In backing his contentions, Collins pointed to the speed with "working with the air force on the business of having enough transport to get proper support so that we can move one division "approximately 10,000 to 20,000 troops" in one lift."

He described a tank grenade fired from a launcher attached to

(Continued on Page 3)

Evidence Indicates Military Leaders Moving to Off-Set Reports of Red's Army Strength

Washigton, Feb. 5—(AP)—Are American military leaders taking a new look at Russia's war machine and finding it a little less awesome?

Why is it that high policy makers feel that, for reasons of both domestic and international psychology, the story of red army might has been overplayed?

The answer may be some of each.

What is there in the current military situation of Russia which, if over-emphasized, could warp judgment?

In recent weeks there has been disposition by military leaders to emphasize some of the weaknesses offsetting some of the concern in the United States over the apparent enormous strength of the Soviet army. They feel that the "numbers" approach is misleading, red army divisional strength is misleading—175 Soviet divisions facing a possible 14 and a future 40 divisions of the western powers.

In testimony to congressional committees and elsewhere it is being explained that a red army division, at full strength, is about half the size of an American, Canadian or British division—9,000 compared with 18,000. Moreover, there is a belief that red army divisions may be below authorized strength by 1,000 or 2,000 men.

It may be assumed there are other segments of the Russian picture of interest to United States analysts.

Estimates, probably based in part on reasonably-good military intelligence, credit Russia with a huge stock pile of tanks and artillery.

Types From Second War

But those need not all be big assets. The 40,000 or 58,000 tanks which some estimate the Russians possess probably include a large, even major percentage of types of the Second World War. Antitank weapon development has progressed since then.

Moreover, true mass production is something that Russia is only beginning to learn. To stop a production line for certain weapon and re-tool it for turning out a new model to meet changed requirements seems to be far easier a problem for Russia than for the huge industries of the United States.

What about the atomic armament race?

There may be important significance in the fact that since President Truman announced on Sept. 23, 1949, there was "evidence" that within recent weeks an atomic explosion occurred in the U.S.S.R." there has been no further reports of such explosions.

That any additional explosions would have been detected is almost certain.

Against this long pause after Russia's only reported atomic detonation is the contrast provided by the American tests in Nevada—four atomic explosions within a week.

CRACK APPEARS IN RAIL STRIKE BUT FEW RETURN

50 United States Lines Are Affected

Chicago, Feb. 5 (AP)—Some cracks have appeared in the strike of about 12,000 American Railroad switchmen, but a general walk-out-to-a-man movement still was not in sight today.

Nearly all the approximately 50 United States lines affected by the "sick" walkout over a longstanding wage-hour dispute had little or no relief from the virtual tie-up of important terminal operations in Monday 100 of the country's major cities.

More embargoes on shipments were imposed or extended, more industries were feeling the pinch of vanishing supplies of raw goods for processing while finished products piled up on their shipping docks; and morp men were being laid off. The government embargo on mail continued.

One of the first breaks in the walkout which began six days ago came yesterday in the rail centre of Atlanta, Ga. There the New York, New Haven and Hartford, a vital link between New York and New England, was forced to cancel all its service. With all rail operation serving New York virtually paralyzed, the city faced a possible shortage of fuel and such foods as fresh fruits and vegetables.

Many reported 'Sick'

At Minneapolis and St. Paul, Minn., where some switchmen went back on their jobs Saturday, the Northern Pacific and the Chicago and North Western reported them on the "sick" list again yesterday.

Last week, a Union official said the men who returned to their jobs there were repudiating all the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, and that the four brotherhoods have asked a 40-hour week at their present pay for 40 hours, plus some overriding rules changes.

Federal Mediation Board, which is conducting the negotiations, announced last night it had scheduled a meeting with union leaders today in writing the settlement proposals which their members will accept.

DOG GIVES ALARM OF FIRE

Schomberg, Ont., Feb. 5 (CP)—Roxy, a pet dog, awakened a family of seven early today as fire raced through their house, three miles east of here, Henry Hilliard, his wife and five children were unable to save any belongings. Fire Chief Schoenberg is 30 miles north of Toronto.

Cars, Radios, TV, Sets Will Face Up to 25 PC Levy

Increases Also Proposed On Income, Liquor Taxes

Washington, Feb. 5 (AP)—The administration today asked congress for vastly-bigger excise or sales taxes in the United States, including levies of 20 per cent on automobiles and 25 per cent on television and radio sets.

The program also calls for a jump of four per cent in individual income-tax rates, adding $4 in tax on each $100 of income after deductions and personal exemptions.

The proposed excise increases would mean a boost of 15 per cent—from seven to 20 per cent—on auto levies and 15 per cent—from 10 to 25 per cent—on television and radio sets. The tax would be imposed on the manufacturer's price.

Cigarettes Included

The present $8-a-gallon liquor tax would be raised to $12, and beer tax would jump $1 a barrel to $12, the seven-cent-a-pack cigaret tax would go up to 10 cents and the gasoline tax would be doubled, to three cents.

Treasury Secretary John Snyder outlined these proposals to the House of Representatives Ways and Means Committee as part of the administration's first installment $10,000,000 tax boast.

The plan calls for a $4,000,000,000 increase in individual income taxes, a $3,000,000,000 hike in corporation income taxes and a $3,000,000,000 raise in excise (sales) taxes.

President Truman told congress last Friday the first round hike will be followed by another request for an increase of about $6,500,000,000 later this year.

Capital Gains Tax

Other basic proposals laid before the House Committee by Snyder:

A boost in the capital gains tax from a flat 25 per cent to 37½ per cent. The present tax applies only to profits from assets held six months or more. The proposal would require a minimum holding period of one-year to qualify for the capital gains tax and for the 50 per cent limit on tax.

A Corporation income taxes — An increase of eight percentage points in normal income tax for corporations, adding $9 in tax for each $100 of profit.

The result would lift the rate from 25 to 33 per cent on corporations with profits below $25,000, and 47 to 55 per cent on those with higher profits.

Corporations with profits in the excess class would continue to pay an extra 30 per cent on the amount deemed "excess."

(Continued on Page 3)

BAN CEMENT SHIPMENTS

Taipei, Feb. 5 — (AP) — The Chinese Nationalist Government has banned shipments of cement to the Portuguese colony of Macao for fear they might be sent on to Red China. The government decided, however, to allow cement to Hong Kong provided authorities there can guarantee use only in that British colony.

'Father Tom' Escaped Russians in '38, Goes Back Within 3 Miles of Reds

Anchorage, Alaska, Feb. 5 (AP) —A United States Army chaplain with a price of 2,000 rubles on his head plans to return to within a few miles of the Soviet island where he escaped from the Russians in 1938.

Chaplain (Capt.) Thomas Cunningham, S.J., stationed at Elmendorf Air Force Base here, told his story to the Anchorage newspaper Alaska Star of escaping from Russian guards at bay until the Jesuit escaped to an ice floe where he was picked up by the rest of the rescue party.

Capt. Cunningham said he had not told his story for publication before because he did not want to cause "a rift" between the U.S. and Russia.

with the army ends.

The Jesuit missionary made his way to Russia's Big Diomede Island in 1938 when his skin boat overturned near his Alaskan outpost of Wales.

He was captured by Soviet soldiers and found safety by a Russian military court of spying.

Eskimos from the missionary's native village of Wales, Alaska, through the top of the hut jail where he was imprisoned and held the Russian guards at bay until the Jesuit escaped to an ice floe where he was picked up by the rest of the rescue party.

Capt. Cunningham said he had not told his story for publication before because he did not want to cause "a rift" between the U.S. and Russia.

28 Persons Feared Dead in Crash In Cameroons

Lagos, British West Africa, Feb. 5 (AP)— All but one of 29 persons aboard an Air France Skymaster are believed to have perished Saturday when it struck a mountainside en route from Douala, French Cameroons, to Kilamey, Nigeria.

A French Air Force plane reported spotting the burned-out wreckage of the four-engined craft 8,500 feet up on slopes of Mount Cameroon, 13,000 foot volcano. There appeared to be only one survivor. A military rescue party today was on its way to the scene.

The plane reported trouble in its last message shortly before the crash. Weather reports indicate there was a severe thunderstorm in the area at the time.

The plane carried 23 passengers and a crew of six. No Canadians or Americans appeared on the passenger list.

Alert Canadians To Nation's Defences

Kirkland Lake, Ont., Feb. 5— (CP) — More than 150 persons by a standing vote approved the Canadian Legion's program designed to alert the Canadian public to the necessity for immediate preparation of Canada's defences.

Resolutions were passed at the public meeting calling on the federal government to provide for national registration, mobilization of industrial resources, for defence production and compulsory training in the reserve forces.

THE WEATHER

Toronto, Feb. 5 (CP) — Synopsis: Cold air now covers all southern Ontario and is pushing slowly southeastward across central districts. This morning in the cold air over northern Ontario temperatures reported 53 below zero this morning. Light snow is falling in central and southeastern districts and snow flurries are occurring in southwestern Ontario.

A storm is developing over Wyoming and is expected to move into central Manitoba and southwestern Ontario Tuesday afternoon and evening, and to central regions Tuesday evening.

COMING EVENTS

"MISSIONS" THE THEME OF RALLY to be held Wednesday, 8 p.m., at Bridge St. United Church. Speaker Rev. Gordon Manktelow, Toronto. Secretary Interior Mission, also showing of 1,000 ft. of colored moving pictures. Special music. Everyone welcome. F25.

OPEN NIGHT, BELLEVILLE COLLEGIATE Institute and Vocational School, Wednesday, February 7th, Classrooms, shops, laboratories and displays 7.30 to 8.30. Auditorium presentation sponsored by Home and School Association 8.45. Sale of home cooking by Home and School Association. Public invited. F2-5-6

VALENTINE TEA AND SALE OF work, Trinity Ladies' Guild, Duke of Wales School on Wednesday, February 14th, from 2.30 to 4 p.m. Tea tables of Prince of Wales Home and Trinity Sunday School. Everybody cordially welcome. F2-13

COMMUNITY LENTEN SERVICE. Sermon by Rev. Father Lacroix, Temple United Church. Speaker Rev. Father Dempsey. F2-12

COMMUNITY CONCERT ASSOCIATION presents Nikolai Lopatnikoff, cello piano duo. Collegiate Auditorium, Friday, February 9th, 8.30. Good prizes. Admission 75c. Everybody welcome. F2

BELLEVILLE CHAPTER NO. 58, ST. Lawrence Ladies' Guild, Sale of cooking, aprons and candy, Wednesday, Feb. 7, 2 p.m. in St. Christ Church Parish Hall. F2-13

EUCHRE EVERY MONDAY EVENING Saco Club Rooms, by Ladies' Auxiliary, Canadian Legion, 8.00 p.m. Good prizes. Admission 25c. Everybody welcome. F2

City and District News

SKIERS ON TRAILS OVER WEEKEND

Taking advantage of the week's heavy snowfall and ideal weather, many over the week-end by Belleville and district skiers were out in full force at the Hastings County Ski Club run at Wallbridge Hill.

Skiers were also out in good numbers on Saturday to enjoy the ideal skiing conditions but the big crowd of enthusiasts turned out Sunday.

BELLEVILLE TEAMS WIN AND LOSE

Bill Bell's Big 'A' midget hockey team journeyed to Napanee on Saturday afternoon and went down to defeat by a 6-4 score before the town youngsters. The Belleville bantams played in the second half of the twin bill administering a 7-1 defeat to the Napanee kids.

QUEEN'S ALUMNI AT "OPEN HOUSE"

A large number of Queen's Alumni attended the "Open House" held by the university over the weekend.

SPLINTERS PIERCE BOY'S THIGH

Roy Goodsell, 5-year-old Trenton lad, suffered injury Sunday afternoon when he tobogganed into which he was riding struck an obstruction and splintered, several of the splinters piercing the boy's thigh. The lad was taken to Dr. C. Donald Dr. C. Bruce Donald who ordered him to Belleville General Hospital.

TYROLARIS
The First Antibiotic Containing Mouth Wash
PLEASANT TASTING, EFFECTIVE, REFRESHING
A new approach to Oral Hygiene
8-OZ. $1.00
McKEOWN'S DRUG STORE
Phone 125 We Deliver

V-I-S-I-T
SIDNEY INN
DELICIOUS—HAMBURGS
LUNCHES — ICE CREAM
Special Home-Baked PIE
Just Past Top End of West Moira Street
JACK CARTER, Prop.
Telephone 173-W-1-4

MARTIN'S SHOE REPAIR
FREE PICK-UP & DELIVERY
24-HOUR SERVICE
35 EVERETT STREET
Phone 6613

GLEN ELLIOT FLOOR SANDING
OLD FLOORS RESURFACED AND MADE LIKE NEW.
NEW FLOORS SANDED AND FINISHED.
186 Dufferin Ave. Phone 34683

FOR HAPPINESS
Bluebird
PERFECT DIAMONDS
at
PAUL MERCIER
McCARTHY THEATRE BLDG.

AMAZING . . . NEW . . . SPECIAL
3 Way Shave
IT'S MEDICATED
"For the Best Shave of Your Life"
BIG 50¢ SIZE only 25¢
IT'S TOO SOON THAT MAKES WHEN YOU SHAVE
MADE BY NOXZEMA CO.
Geen-Drugs
LIMITED
FOR FRIENDLY PERSONAL SERVICE
PHONE 153 — FREE DELIVERY

Many Inspect Masonic Temple On Social Night

Members of the Masonic Order, their families and friends along with some invited guests inspected the new Masonic Temple on Foster Avenue and enjoyed a social evening as guests of the order on Saturday night. The committee in charge conducted cards and dancing but so great was the crowd more than 1,300 attended, the cards were dispensed with after a few games and the visitors wandered through the rooms admiring the beautiful new home for Masonry in this city. Herb Tamblyn played the Hammond organ and Charles Cawker on the piano provided the musical background.

The assembly was broken up in small groups and with a guide were shown through the building and all admired the splendid furniture, the spacious rooms, especially the lounge room and the beautiful halls. A orchestra under the direction of Bruce Sills provided music for the dance. A buffet lunch was served by the committee.

An interesting feature of the evening's entertainment was the drawing of a raffle for prizes sponsored by the Belleville Shrine Club, the lot being drawn by Mrs. Bert Docter. The ticket was drawn by D. L. Storey, president of the club, the lucky winner being Mrs. Lela Nelson of Victoria Avenue.

Boy Athletes Of Five Schools In Competition

Boy athletes of five public schools of the city entered into group competition at the Y.M.C.A. on Friday afternoon as part of a special program held during the teachers' meeting.

The boys were informally greeted by Jim Bell, boys' work secretary who extended the welcome of the "Y" and gave them a brief talk on the history and purpose of the Y in the community.

The boys were divided into teams representing the individual schools. Special events directed by Walter Hall assisted by George Buyes and John Campbell consisted of a varied physical program which will be an interschool swim meet.

Relays and races and the swimming competitions provided close competition. Queen Mary School took the lead with 48 points with Prince Charles coming second with 42. Queen Victoria was third with 40 and Queen Alexandra and St. Michael's followed in the order named with 35 and 33 points respectively.

A pleasing sequel to the events and program was that on Saturday morning 20 boys applied for membership in the Y.

C. B. Morgan Heads B. of Q. Country Club

Mr. Clare B. Morgan was re-elected president of the Bay of Quinte Golf and Country Club at the annual meeting held over the week-end.

Other officers for 1951 are, vice president Dr. George Faulkner, who is also a director of the Ontario Golf Association; secretary-treasurer, T. A. Carruthers; chairman of finance, Stan. Fox; house chairman, Frank Taylor; membership chairman, James Walker and chairman of games, and captain, Ted Parker.

Charles Pidutti, professional of the club for the past few years, will again act in that capacity.

During the meeting plans were discussed for increase of membership.

Obituary

ROBERT ANDREW (Andy) REID

A farmer and cattle drover in Thurlow township for many years, Robert Andrew (Andy) Reid died in the Belleville General Hospital after an illness of three weeks. He had resided at Bellings township 62 years being the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Robert James Reid and has lived his entire life in this community. He was farming in early life and some years ago moved to Thurlow township, where he farmed for a few more years was a cattle drover in the district. He was well known and highly respected in his community.

A member of Front Road United Church, he is survived by his wife, the former Maggie May Thompson, one daughter, Mrs. Doris Thompson, of Belleville, three sons, Kenneth at home, Maurice of Thurlow, Clare of Belleville, three brothers, Robert Reid of Lonsdale, Ernie and Percy of Toronto and four sisters Mrs. Beatrice Hickman of Windsor, Mrs. Clara O'Rourke of Toronto, Mrs. Claude Vallieu of Austin, Man. and Mrs. Alma Urch of Carrollton.

Resting at the Belleville Burial Chapel, Front Road, Thurlow, Belleville Street, the funeral announcement is made elsewhere in this edition.

WILLIAM WELLINGTON ANDERSON
(Sidney Township)

As a result of a collision between cars driven by Clarence Frizzell, two miles west of the city on Monday morning, William Wellington Anderson, R. R. 3, Belleville, Lot 5, Con. 1, Sidney Township, died in the General Hospital a short time after the accident. He was born at Prince Edward County, 47 years ago being the son of Shelby B. Anderson and Caroline Grass, and has resided at his present address for the past 20 years. Previously he resided in Belleville and Detroit, Michigan and came from the American city to start farming, where he resided.

A member of the United Church, he is survived by his parents, his wife, the former Daisy Morris, and two sisters, Mrs. E. R. (Gwen) Wills of Toronto and Mrs. O. C. (Flora) Owen of Belleville.

Resting at Belleville Burial Company Funeral Home, Campbell Street, the funeral announcement is made elsewhere in this edition.

MRS. JANE ANN SMITH

Mrs. Jane Ann Smith, formerly of 18 Betse Street, died in Kingston yesterday in her 83rd year. A daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Rosser, she had been in ill health for some time, and had lived in Belleville most of her life. Mrs. Smith was a member of the United Church. She is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Ethel Mallory, of Weston; two sons, William, of California, and Albert, of Cleveland, Her husband, William, died in 1949.

Resting at the Thomas C. Thompson funeral Home, Everett Street; funeral announcement is made elsewhere in this edition.

FRANCIS CLINTON McAVOY

Following an illness of one week, Francis Clinton McAvoy, 48½ Bridge Street East, died in the Belleville General Hospital early this Monday morning. He was born in Thurlow township 41 years ago being the son of Thomas McAvoy and Ellen McGrath and has resided in Belleville for the past ten years. Previously he resided at Canniffon. The late Mr. McAvoy was well known and highly respected, in the community and was a valued employee of the American Optical Company for many years.

He was a member of St. Michael's Church and also a member of the Holy Name Society. Surviving besides his parents are three sisters, Misses Mary, Nora and Agnes all of this city.

Resting at the Corrigan and O'Brien Funeral Home, West Moira Street, the funeral announcement is made elsewhere in this edition.

LATE LEO PATRICK DOYLE

The funeral of the late Leo Patrick Doyle was held from the Corrigan and O'Brien Funeral Home this Monday morning to St. Michael's Church. Requiem Mass was celebrated by Rev. J. Buckley and the last rites as entombment was made in St. James' cemetery vault. There were a large number of all ranks of the business life of the city in attendance and the floral and spiritual tributes testified to the esteem of the deceased.

The bearers were William Ogden, Cecil Gilbert, Frank Millar, Edward Stewart, Hugh Galway and William Doyle, Sr.

LATE HARRETH M. HONEYWELL

The funeral of the late Harketh Morley Honeywell of R. 5 was held from the Belleville Burial Company Funeral Home to Canniffon United Church for service on Saturday afternoon. There was a large attendance of relatives and lifelong friends. Rev. W. Merrick conducted the service and also the last rites as entombment was made in Foxboro vault.

The bearers were George Sharp, Harry Brenton, Edward Brenton, Frank Winder, Jack Smallhorn and William McPherson.

Faulty Cord On Electric Radiator Cause

Fire damage to the office of the Russell Products Company, 201 Coleman Street, resulted Saturday night when a faulty cord on an electric radiator is believed to have set fire to the woodwork. The fire damage was held to the ground floor office but some smoke damage occurred in the upstairs apartments.

The fire department received four alarms notifying them of the fire. Provincial police driving past in their cruiser noticed the smoke and radioed their office to him in the alarm, while a tenant in one of the apartments who returned home to find smoke in the apartment also called in the alarm.

"It was miraculous that the blaze took place at ten o'clock instead of at two or three in the morning," stated fire chief Gerald Vance. "Had the blaze taken place later in the night it undoubtedly would have gained considerable headway before it was noticed."

Record Crowd Attends Dance At the 'Y'

A record-breaking crowd of 216 young people attended the Saturday night dance sponsored by the Y.M.C.A. under the chairmanship of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Grandame and Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Ross.

The dances have proved extremely popular in its attendance increasing at the rate of 25 weekly. Music is supplied by Bill Reynold's orchestra and prizes for dancing distributed.

The Sunday night fireside meeting packed the rooms to the doors with the feature attraction being a motion picture of the world's series. Other features were the Y Boys' Choir, accordian numbers by Dale Rokosh and vocals by Ron McBride.

The Boys Choir will sing over CJBQ next Saturday from 9 to 3.30 p.m. under the direction of Mrs. Leo Callaghan.

Tonight the Y'ettes are holding a sleighing party, leaving the Y at 7.45.

Suffers Burns On Hand, Wrists

Suffering second degree burns to his hands and wrists when the blow torch he was using to thaw out waterpipes exploded in his hands, Adrian Cruji, proprietor of the Belle Cleaners, was admitted to Belleville General Hospital Saturday afternoon.

Zero weather of the past week had frozen water pipes at Mr. Cruji's cottage at Rednersville and he had left the city to thaw them out. Without warning the torch exploded, the flames badly searing his hands and wrists.

The cottage which Mr. Cruji had recently completed building did not burn.

Legion Supports Program of Preparedness

Support is being given by Belleville Branch 59, Canadian Legion to the Dominion's Command program of preparedness. The local branch has asked Frank Follwell, M.P., to support "Operation Preparedness" and to use his influence in getting the government to impose immediate national registration, institute compulsory service in the reserve forces, mobilize industrial resources for war production, and broaden physical standards to let veteran immigrants into the reserves.

The Legion members heard Mr. K. Ross, a member of the reserve force, urge endorsement of a program to make the public conscious of the lack of proper defences and training facilities in Canada. A committee of Angus Duffy, Malcolm Robb and Mr. Ross was formed to contact local service clubs to enlist their support and handle any other matters.

Membership was reported by Henry Becker to be nearing the doubled mark.

Columbian Squires Present Evening Of Entertainment

Last Friday, the Columbian Squires of St. Michael's parish presented an evening of dramatic and musical entertainment under the direction of Rev. J. J. Connolly, Father Prior of Circle 419.

The chairman, Robert Burke introduced the first of the three one-act plays, "Three Bishops Candle Sticks", adapted from Victor Hugo's "Les Miserables". In this play, the role of the kindly bishop was capably taken by Douglas Doyle and that of the convict by Les Finnegan. Ernest Poirier and Delbert O'Sullivan were cast as the bishop's sister, and Marta, a poor child. The gendarmes were Douglas Foley, Zdenek Kvarda, and Wayne Fox.

The second play of the evening, was entitled "John Shanahan, Me Boy". The part of the Reverend John Shanahan, was taken by Joseph Deryaw. Ronald Sullivan and Thomas Hartford played the roles of Sister Mary John and Sister Mary Paul, in the convent. Thomas William Johnson, as Aloysius, made a very convincing young orphan and sophisticated Doctor and Mrs. Mulcahy were well impersonated by Zdenek Kvarda and Wayne Fox.

In the final play of the trio "A Lesson From the Candy", the misguided attempts of the Barton family to encourage Andrew Carson's proposal to Rose Marie, ended in disaster. Bernard O'Neill as Mr. Barton; Bill Daly and Mrs. Barton, Pat Kelly as Bets David Deryaw as Anthrew Carson and Glen Rupert as Rose Marie. The lily maid, provided the audience with an enjoyable interlude.

Three groups of boys supplied music between the dramas, singing "Sweethearts for Sale", "Darling", and a "Capital Ship". "The Thing", featuring Bill Daly and Pat Kelly.

The door prize, a twenty-six piece set of Wm. Rogers and Son flatware was drawn for by the Very Rev. L. B. Garvin and won by Miss Vina Cronin.

Chorus:

"When Irish Eyes are Smiling" Robert Burke, Dennis Hughes, David Kelly, Glen Rupert, Bill Mahaney.

"The Thing", Martin Halloran, Paul Harris; Jack McFee, the storekeeper; Joe Mullins, the wife; John Berrigan, St. Peter; Jack Downey, the Angel; Choristers: Donald Cunningham, Garry Lee, Richard Parker, David Roseberry.

"A Capital Ship": John Boban, Robert Burke, Dennis Hughes, Wayne Fox, Jack Garvin, Dennis Hughes, Steven Jenkins.

Stage settings were under the direction of John Doran, Jack Doyle, Joseph Chapell, and Leo Callaghan.

Richard D. Jones Brotherhood Week Speaker

Richard D. Jones, an ordained minister in the Methodist Church and executive director of the Canadian Council of Christians and Jews, will speak in Belleville during Brotherhood Week. The Week will be from Feb. 18th to 25th.

Mr. Jones will speak four times on Tuesday, February 20th., at the collegiate, at the Kiwanis Luncheon, Business College, and at Bridge Street United Church. He will address the school students at an assembly at 9 o'clock in the morning, move to the luncheon at 12.15, speak at Albert College at 3.00 p.m., and address the Men's Club at the church at 6.15 p.m.

The council director has travelled extensively throughout the world, and served in the merchant marine during World War II. He was stationed in Italy and was appointed director of the council in 1947. He was a member of the Canadian delegation to the World Brotherhood Conference in Paris last year.

Brotherhood Week has been endorsed by both Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent and President Truman. Purpose of the council and of the special week is "to promote justice, amity, understanding and co-operation among Protestants, Catholics and Jews."

Additional endorsements have come from Hon. L. M. Pearson, Hon. Brooke Claxton, Hon. G. Edouard Rinfret, and others.

OPEN HOUSE
AT THE Belleville Collegiate & Vocational School
WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 7th
7.30 p.m.
- SHOP IN OPERATION.
- TEACHERS IN THEIR CLASSROOMS, — 7.30 p.m. to 8.30 p.m.
- DISPLAYS OF PUPILS' WORK
- GAMES IN GYMNASIA
- PROGRAM IN AUDITORIUM, 8.45 p.m.

Sponsored by the HOME and SCHOOL ASSOCIATION
Home Cooking Sale by Home and School Association—
Its one Financial Effort of the Year

BIRTHS

McMURTER — Mr. and Mrs. Wm. McMurter, (nee Marjorie Farnham) are happy to announce the birth of their son, Michael William, at Belleville General Hospital on Thursday, Feb. 3, 1951, 7 lbs., 11 oz. Both fine. P3

DEATHS

FICKE—At the House of Providence, Kingston, on Saturday, February 3rd, 1951, Reverend Joseph Major Ficke, aged 71 years.

Resting at the Corrigan and O'Brien Ordnance Street, Kingston, whence the funeral will be held on Tuesday, February 6th, to St. Mary's Cathedral for Pontifical Requiem High Mass at 10.00 a.m.

Interment St. Mary's Cemetery in spring.

SMITH — At Kingston, February 4th, in her 83rd year, Jane Ann Smith, widow of William Smith, formerly of 18 Betse Street, Belleville.

Resting at the Thomas C. Thompson Funeral Home, 35 Everett Street, for service in the chapel, Wednesday, February 7, at 2 p.m.

Interment Belleville Cemetery. P3-21

ERICKSON — At her home, 1943 Bloor Street, Toronto, on Sunday, February 4th, Jessie M. Ketcher-son, widow of Howard Bleecker Erickson, and sister of Harry R. Redner, Amherst, and Mrs. Gladys M. Hall of Toronto.

Funeral service will be held in the Corrigan and O'Brien Funeral Home, Toronto, on Tuesday, February 6th, at 3.30 p.m. Interment Belleville on noon train Wednesday, February 7th. Arrangements by Belleville Cemetery at 3.00 p.m. P3

REID — At Belleville General Hospital on Sunday, February 4th, Robert Andrew (Andy) Reid, of Concession Thurlow Township, in his 81st year.

Resting at the Belleville Burial Company Funeral Home, where the funeral will be held on Wednesday, February 7th, at 2.30 p.m. to Front Road United Church at 3.00 p.m.

Interment St. James' Cemetery vault. P3-21

McAVOY — At Belleville General Hospital, on Monday, February 5, Francis Clinton McAvoy, aged 48, of 48½ Bridge Street East, Belleville.

Resting at the Corrigan and O'Brien Funeral Home, West Moira Street, where the funeral will be held on Wednesday, February 7th, to St. Michael's Church for Requiem Mass at 9.00 a.m.

Interment St. James' Cemetery vault.

ANDERSON — At the result of an accident on Monday, February 5th, William Wellington Anderson, R. 3, Belleville, in his 48th year.

Resting at the Thomas C. Thompson Funeral Company Funeral Home, whence the funeral will be held on Wednesday, February 7th. Service in the chapel at 3.30 p.m. P3

IN MEMORIAM

LIVINGSTONE — Death came to my father, Robert Livingstone, 17 years ago, February 5th, 1934. We are still mourning for him and we do miss him as very much.

—Year remembered by his daughter Loutia and family. P3

BULOVA and GRUEN
WATCH CRYSTALS
Only 49 CENTS
WHY PAY MORE?
ELITE CREDIT JEWELLERS
191 FRONT ST., Belleville
Watch Repairing Expertly and Quickly Done.

ANTIHISTAMINES
Will help stop colds, if taken at the first sign of a cold.

Neohetramin	1.00
Dr. Chase's	59c
Frosst's	45c, 60c
Kriptin	39c, 1.25
Anohist	59c, 1.25
Resistabs	49c, 1.25

DOLAN
THE DRUGGIST
Phone 138
MOTOR DELIVERY

LLOYD'S CLEANERS
NOW HAVE A
CASH & CARRY DEPOT
402 FRONT ST.
NEXT TO FIRE HALL
PHONE 332-M
For your protection, a receipt is given with each order, and all goods are insured against fire and theft.
FOR PICK-UP AND DELIVERY
PHONE 415
YOU'LL LIKE LLOYD'S PERSONAL SERVICE

VICTORY COAL
FROM WESTERN CANADA
$16.00 PER TON
DELIVERED IN BELLEVILLE
WELL SIZED for Furnace, Large Heater or Stove. and LOW IN SMOKE
TRY THIS ECONOMICAL COAL
Save Canadian Dollars and Employ Canadian Labor.
MOIRA FUELS LIMITED

New! Exclusive with Toni!
MIDGET SPIN CURLERS
for perfect neckline curls for easier, far faster!
Special curlers for those specially hard-to-curl curls at the neckline. A welcome addition for use with the plastic curlers you now have.
Get Yours Today in This New SPECIAL VALUE TONI REFILL KIT
- Regular Toni Refill
- Toni Creme Rinse
- 6 Midget SPM Curlers
$1.88 Value
All these for only
$1.59
SELDON'S
THE FRIENDLY FAMILY DRUG STORE
(Opp. McCarthy Theatre) Ph. 11

Now...use it as an all-over lotion!

Elizabeth Arden
Luxury Hand Lotion
Use it freely, from head to toe. Makes your hands, your arms, your elbows, your whole body as soft as velvet. It leaves a subtle scent... yet leaves no trace of stickiness.
Elizabeth Arden or Jane Cornelius Hand Lotion in new spill-proof, non-breakable plastic bottles... a slight squeeze releases one precious drop at a time.
4 oz. bottle 1.30 . . . 8 oz. bottle 2.20
DOYLE'S
DRUG STORE
Phone 324 Motor Delivery

SECURITY MARKETS

Quotations furnished by BIGGAR & CRAWFORD

Members Toronto Stock Exchange

Belleville Office — Phone 3160 and 3161

Quotations at 1:00

MINES

Aunor 325
Aunor Metals 228
Anacon Lead 300
Base Metals 73
Beaverac 89
Brouhan 88
Buff Ankerite 160
Cons. Negaunee 149 1-2
Calgary and Ed. 12 3-4
Can. Malarctic 76
Central Patricia 63
Campbell R. 1 250
Chesterville 59
Cochenour Wil 190
Cons. Beattie 68
Dome 18
Donalda 58
East Malartic 145
East Sull. 950
Elder 97
Falconbridge 13
God's Lake 51
Golden Manitou 660
Hudson Bay 62
Home Oil 16 1-2
Hollinger 14
Inter. Nickel 42 1-4
Jason 22
Kerr Addison 18 7-8
Kirkland Lake 94
Labrador 823
Lake Shore 10 1-4
Letish 106
Little Long Lac 87
Macassa 200
McIntyre 53 1-8
McLeod 360
Mining Corp. 19 1-2
Negus 100
New Lund 210
Noranda 79 1-4
Normetals 500
O'Brien 154
Okalta 270
Osisko Lake 150
Paymaster 84 1-2
Pamour 100
Perron 57
Pickle Crow 173
Preston E. D. 160
Quemont 47
Queenston 72 1-2
Quebec Man. 274
Sylvalite 14
San Antonio 272
Sherritt Gordon 425
Silver Miller 123
Siscoe 73
Sladed Mal 66
Steep Rock 860
Sullivan 380
Sylvanite 133
Tech Hughes 215
Upper Canada 190
Ventures 15 1-4
Villbona 11
Waite Amulet 12 1-8
Wr. Hargreaves 180

TORONTO INDUSTRIALS

Papers—
Abitibi 34 3-4
Abitibi Pfd. 25
Aluminium 100 3-4
Consolidated 37 1-2
Great Lakes 10 1-2
Minn. and Ont. 31 1-4
International 56 1-4
Powell River 68

Distilleries—
Hiram Walker 56 1-2
Can. Ind. Alcohol 14 1-8
Dist. Seagrams 30 1-4

Canadian Oil—
B.A. Oil 33 3-4
Imperial 39 1-4
McColl Front. 24 1-2
Inter. Petroleum 15 7-8

Miscellaneous—
Bell Telephone 40 1-2
Brazilian Trac. 27
Building Prod. 34 1-2
Can. Breweries 19 3-8
Canada Cement 72
Can. Car and F. 17 1-4
Canadian Pacific Rly. 29
Cockshutt Pl. 28 1-2
Dom. Stores 13 3-4
Dominion Foundries 45 1-4
Fanny Farmer 33 1-4
Ford A. 58 3-4
Imperial Tobacco 12 1-2
Laura Second 14 3-4
Loblaw A 31 1-2
Massey Harris 57 3-4
Mit. Brick 150
Steel of Canada 34 1-2
United Steel 10 1-8
Winnipeg Electric 43
Inter. Metals A 48 1-2

NEW YORK

U.S. Steel 47 3-8

TORONTO STOCKS

Toronto, Feb. 5 (CP)—Western oils were the strong spot in today's trading on the Toronto Stock Exchange with nearly all issues advancing.

The rest of the market tended to weak spots with some issues varying during the day from slight gains to slight losses and vice-versa.

Oil gains included Pacific Pete 43 cents; Anglo-Canadian 15; Atlantic 15; Calvan 20; Central Leduc 15; Federal Pete 10; Garnet 14; Gaspe 10; Home 23. In the refinery Imperial added 3-4.

Base metals showed some afternoon recovery power after earlier weaknesses.

On the industrial list Canada Cement dropped $3 during the afternoon while Canadian Dredge gained more than $4. Winnipeg Electric was ahead 5¢ cents, a shaving of earlier gains. Anglo-Canadian was active and ahead. Brazilian and CPR tended off.

In the senior golds Hollinger was up 1 5-8 and Giant Yellowknife also was ahead.

PRODUCE MARKET

Toronto, Feb. 5 (CP)—Produce prices quoted on the spot market here today:

Churning cream: No. 1 truck price, 62 cents; delivered, 65 cents.

The egg market continued steady and unchanged here for day. Country shippers quoted grade extras, cases free: Grade A large, 43-44; A medium, 41-42; A pullet 38-39. Grade B 38-39; Grade C 32. Wholesale to retail: Grade A large, 47-48; A medium, 45-46; A pullet, 41-42; Grade B, 41-42; Grade C, 36-37.

Butter solids: First grade, 57½ cents; second grade, price not established.

TORONTO LIVESTOCK

Toronto, Feb. 5—(CP)—Prices were steady on all grades at the Ontario Stockyards today. Receipts reported by the Dominion Marketing Service were: Cattle, 2,700; calves, 220; hogs, 460; sheep and lambs, 130. There was no holdover from last week.

Good to choice weighty steers sold for $31.50 to $33. Medium to good light steers and heifers were $29-$31 and common sold down-ward to $25. Medium to good cows were $24-$28 and good bulls were $27-$28.50. Feed yearlings brought $30-$34.50.

Calves were strong at $37-$38 for choice and prime grades. Good at $39. Common to medium vealers were mostly $30-$35.

Hog prices were unchanged.

Lambs sold steady at $38 for good ewes and wethers and bucks brought $33. Cull ewes $30-$33 good ewes and wethers and bucks $21.

BUFFALO LIVESTOCK

Buffalo, N.Y., Feb. 5 (AP) Cattle 800; Canadian steers averaging 1180-lb cleared, at 34.50; Canadian steers weighing 1235-lb brought 34.50; Canadian steers averaging 1000-lb sold at 34.00; Canadian heifers weighing 760-lb brought 32.50; good Holstein cows 21.00-22.00; good dairy type heifers for dairy purposes 26.00; good weighty haulage bulls 25.00-27.50; top 28.50. Calves 400; good and choice handyweight calves 41.00-43.00; to good 36.00-40.00; culls and strongweight bobs 22.00-36.00. Hogs 1050: Good and choice hogs 24.00-25.00 freight; sheep and lambs 200: Market not established.

WOOD PULP FROM NORWAY

Halifax, Feb. 5 (CP) — New Brunswick, a province rich in forest products, will soon be receiving a cargo of wood pulp from Norway.

The Norwegian freighter Lyngenfjord is in Halifax with pulp and other cargo aboard. After unloading some of her cargo here she will proceed to Dalhousie, N.B.

It is understood the pulp is for International Paper Company at Dalhousie and is being brought from Norway because of a temporary shortage of timber. It is not known whether more is on order.

SAY YOUNG JEW SHOT

Jerusalem, Feb. 5.—(AP)— Israel protested last night to the mixed Armistice Commission that an Arab legionaire sniper fatally shot a Jewish immigrant here Yesterday, the second such killing in 10 days. Jewish authorities complained that a Jordan Border Patrol member perched atop the old city wall near Damascus gate, fired into an abandoned house in no-man's-land recently taken over by three families. The bullet killed a young Jew.

BIGGAR & CRAWFORD
Members Toronto Stock Exchange
10 KING ST. EAST, TORONTO
ANNOUNCE THE APPOINTMENT OF
MR. JOHN D. RYAN
AS MANAGER OF THEIR BELLEVILLE OFFICE
35 BRIDGE ST. EAST PHONE 3160

Say U.S. Ready To Offer Japan Guarantees

Tokyo, Feb. 5 (AP)—Authoritative sources said today the United States is prepared to offer Japan this guarantee; after the treaty: her sovereignty through a peace treaty:

Any attack on Japan would be considered an act of aggression against the U.S. itself; such an attack would result in a U.S. attack against the "root of aggression."

The U.S. plan means that, if Russia attempted an invasion of Japan, Russian targets could expect to feel immediately the full power of American might—possibly including the atom bomb.

The proposal represents the first offer to extend to an Asian country the kind of guarantee which the U.S. has given its Atlantic pact allies.

Quebecers in India Tour World by Motor

New Delhi (CP) —An engineer and his wife from Canada on a one-year round-the-world tour in an automobile, "just to see the sights."

Engineer Jacques Hebert and Mrs. Hebert, of Montreal, found, finding themselves jobless, they decided to go around the world instead of just around Montreal. They left home June 24, 1950, and have been on the move ever since.

The Montrealers motored to San Francisco and sailed to Yokoyo, Hong Kong, and Saigon. There they took to the road again through Singapore and central-infested forest routes, "but nothing happened to us and we received nothing but kindness wherever we went. A ship took them across the Bay of Bengal to Madras and they drove the length of the Indian sub-continent. They will go through Pakistan, Iran, Iraq, Syria, Turkey, Austria, Switzerland and France before sailing again for Canada.

For Hebert, this is a third trip. Last time, he toured round north and South America.

"The world looks peaceful and people are very kind," Hebert said, adding that "such round-the-world trips enlarge one's outlook and add to his experience."

The two have not met politicians of Asian countries of the countries visited "because politics is not in our line."

Chance for Anyone Willing to Work

Kitchener, Feb. 5 — (CP) — Canada is "the land above all others offering a chance to anyone willing to work," says Walter Pavlik, former member of the Czechoslovakian Parliament and a fugitive from a communist prison camp. He is now living here.

With the terror of the red coup in his homeland still fresh in memory, he finds Canadians do not appreciate the danger of communism.

"It can happen here," he says, "communists will wait a lifetime for the chance to strike."

OVERCOME BY COLD

Meaford, Ont., Feb. 5 (CP) — Kenneth Rice, 24-year-old Meaford taxi driver, tramped two miles through deep snow drifts after his car bogged down in a snowdrift on a sideroad. Without a hat or an overcoat in six-below-zero weather, he fell exhausted in the snow on a highway.

A passing motorist, Walter Bumstead of Meaford, found him lying on the road and brought him to Meaford. Dr. J. C. Finely said Fox was suffering from severe frostbite on the face, ears and hands, and from shock.

BLAST RED

(Continued from Page One)

But the four miles beyond Anyang were bitterly contested. One staff officer told Associated Press correspondent Jim Becker that the column got into "a hell of a battle," and added:

"We killed a hell of a lot of them."

Anyang fell spearhead, and another 30 miles to the west, Suwon, fell. Suwon is where officers called "a double envelopment" within a double envelopment."

The U.S. plan means that, if Russia attempted an invasion of Japan, Russian targets could expect to feel immediately the full power of American might—possibly including the atom bomb.

The proposal represents the first offer to extend to an Asian country the kind of guarantee which the U.S. has given its Atlantic pact allies.

An Eighth Army spokesman said the three - pronged thrust "may be described as the greatest exploitation of armor during the Korean War."

"However, the approach of our tank columns toward Seoul should be regarded as of no particular significance at this time."

Two of the columns had returned to the 38th parallel line, a third was "on its way back." The co-ordinated thrusts deep into red territory were designed to "inflict as much damage as possible and then retire."

Becker wrote:

"I flew over the smoking front lines and watched the tanks and infantry plunge up the road. The tanks looked lazy from the sky. They rolled up a hill between sharp-sloped hills that formed defiles. The reds poured down automatic weapons and mortar fire."

The spearheads thrust northward toward burned-out Seoul. Three columns of tanks after Turkish and American units buried back fierce communist counter-attacks.

The third thrust was a hit-run raid on Pyongtaek-Ni-ri road, a lateral to the main Suwon-Seoul highway 10 miles to the west.

Fighter-bombers and artillery turned the ordinarily-quiet country-side into a smoke-choked inferno. Some reds died under the tanks' treads.

A briefing officer at Eighth Army Headquarters said the Chinese had slipped between 10,000 and 15,000 troops into the area south of Seoul. Air observers reported truckloads of reds were moved up under cover of darkness.

The build-up indicated that the reds might launch an offensive Tuesday — Chinese New Year's. But if they had such plans, the raids by the Allied air columns might have spoiled them.

The entire length of the 45-mile front stretching inland from the Yellow Sea was aflame Sunday night and Monday. The reds attacked to the sounds of blaring bugles and shrilling whistles.

Allied artillery smashed the counter-thrusts, described as the heaviest since the Chinese hit the "limited offensive" 12 days ago.

During the ground action, American and British warships pounded the Inchon area on Korea's west coast in a "continuing bombardment." The ammunition ships were blown up.

Supporting and screening the bombardment were the Canadian destroyer Nootka, the Royal Navy frigate Black Swan and the New Zealand frigate Tutira. The Tutira destroyed a floating mine.

On the east coast, the U.S. destroyer English "completely dispupted" an attack by two reds sampans at an unspecified coastal battle-point. An air spotter messaged the ship: "You saved our necks."

In Washington, the Navy announced the American minesweeper Partridge had struck a mine off the Korean coast Friday and sank. Four were reported killed, four missing and seven wounded.

Britain Retaliates For Restrictions On U.K. Officials

London, Feb. 5—(Reuters)—Britain today banned Hungarian diplomats from going more than 18 miles outside London and warned that other action will be taken against Russian diplomats if the position of British embassy staff in Moscow grows worse.

The action against the Hungarians is a reprisal for a similar ban on British diplomats in Budapest.

Kenneth Younger, Minister of State for Foreign Affairs, was questioned in the House of Commons today about the Hungarian ban on British diplomats.

He answered that Elek Bolgar, Hungarian minister here, has been informed that he and his staff will not be permitted to travel more than 18 miles from Hyde Park corner, in the centre of London without obtaining written permission from the foreign office.

Earlier Younger stated that British representatives had been the movements of Soviet diplomats if there is any further deterioration in facilities offered to British embassy officials in Moscow.

Younger said there are no restrictions on Soviet diplomats at present.

CARS RADIOS. TV

(Continued from Page One)

Corporations Bill

The proposal — estimated to hit $23,000 corporations, as compared with some 50,000,000 persons affected by the individual income tax changes — would lift the ceiling on combined normal and excess profits taxes from 52 to 70 per cent.

Excise taxes — On autos, lift the rate from seven to 20 per cent of the manufacturer's price to raise $85,000,000 a year in revenue.

On distilled spirits — Raise the rate from $9 to $12 a gallon, (from $1.80 to $2.40 on a standard, 80-proof-gallon from a 100 proof whisky.)

Snyder also called for an extensive plugging of tax "loopholes." This would add an unspecified sum, estimated by "hundreds of millions of dollars each year" to perhaps billions, to the $10,000,000,000 extra sought from the other tax proposals.

HEALTH MINISTER DIES

Capetown, South Africa, Feb. 5 (Reuters)—Dr. Henry J. Shilton, South Africa Minister of Health and Social Welfare, died here early today.

Sials, 71, had been ill in hospital since December. He was elected to parliament in 1924.

DECCA 33⅓ R.P.M.
LONG PLAYING RECORDS
CALL ME MADAM with ETHEL MERMAN 5304
MILLS BROTHERS BARBER SHOP BALLADS 5050
MILLS BROTHERS BARBER SHOP BALLADS Vol. 2 5051
GORDON JENKINS PLAYS MUSIC OF JEROME KERN.. 5276
LOUIS ARMSTRONG PLAYS NEW ORLEANS JAZZ 5279
LOUIS ARMSTRONG PLAYS FOR A JAZZ CONCERT .. 5280
DORSEY BROTHERS JAZZ CONCERT 1934-1935 6016
FRED WARING PLAYS RODGERS and HAMMERSTEIN II 5293
BACK ROOM PIANO with FRANK FROEBA 5043
CARMEN CAVALLARO PIANO CONCERT 5017
GUY LOMBARDO AND THE TWIN PIANOS 5002
SONGS OF THE VELD, VOLUME 2 5083
ANNIE GET YOUR GUN, with ETHEL MERMAN 6001
CARMEN JONES with ORIGINAL BROADWAY CAST 6014
BLOOMER GIRL with ORIGINAL BROADWAY CAST . 6015
SONG OF NORWAY with ORIGINAL BROADWAY CAST . 6002
BING CROSBY COLLECTOR CLASSICS. SERIES.
DAVID'S ELECTRIC SHOP
340 FRONT STREET PHONE 659

Boy Breaks Leg When He Falls Beneath Sleigh

Marmora — A painful accident occurred to Beverly McCoy, young son of Mr. and Mrs. Alex McCoy of Marmora township at 11 a.m. on Friday. He fell between the tongue and brace of his father's sleighs as the latter was hitching up his team. He fractured his right leg above the ankle. He is being attended by Dr. H. G. Parkin at his home after having an X-ray examination at Belleville.

Wardens Installed

The installation of Donald Robertson as Rector's Warden and Carl Heath as People's Warden took place on Sunday morning in course of service at St. Paul's, Rural Dean J. M. Brownlee, who officiated, delivered a sermon in which he blended thoughts on health with thoughts on the cardinal virtue as associated with Quinquagesima Sunday.

New Radium Plant To Produce Radon

Ottawa, Feb. 5—(CP)—A set-up in demand in Ontario for radon, a short-lived radio-active gas used in the treatment of cancer, will be met by the construction of a new $100,000 radium plant in Toronto, the health department announced today.

Used exclusively in the treatment of cancers near the surface of the body, radon reduces the amount of highly-expensive radium required in cancer-control treatment.

The costs of the new project will be divided between the federal and provincial governments.

KILLED AT ROAD BLOCK

Colorado Springs, Colo., Feb. 5 (AP)—Army and state authorities identified the driver as Sgt. Lew Ann, 26, a 140-pound former welterweight boxing champion. He was examined at a hospital and jailed pending questioning. The victim was Cpl. David L. Dexter, 22.

BACKACHE?
When every sudden move brings shorts sharp twinges—it's time you let Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. Thousands find quick relief from backache, pain like this, kidney and liver ills. By combining 2 tradi-tional medicines in 1—Dr. Chase's unique kidneys and liver for faster relief. as
DR. CHASE'S
KIDNEY-LIVER PILLS

Atlantic - Born Gales Race Across Western Europe

London, Feb. 5—(Reuters)—Atlantic-born gales, snow and floods raged across western Europe today in the wake of 24 hours of storm-filled violence.

In Britain, gusts reaching 74 miles an hour lashed the Scilly Isles and floods spread over several parts of southern England.

Nine British seamen, one of them suffering from diphtheria, spent a night of terror in the 410-foot coaster Drakedene, trapped on the rocks in Plymouth Sound. Only superb seamanship saved it from being smashed to pieces.

The 3,000-ton naval landing craft stalker which broke away from a frigate yesterday in the area's worst storm of the year, today was being towed to west Scotland.

Meanwhile a fruitless 17-hour search was continued in raging seas for three fishermen in a small boat.

Three inches of snow fell in northern England and at one place in Scotland the main road was blocked by snow.

KOREANS CLIMB

(Continued from Page One)

mountainside.

A convoy of trucks with food, pack ratrions, mail and the first issue of the battalion's mimeographed news sheet, Maple Leaf, was led into the area after dark by Captains Gordon Turnbull of Toronto and Del Harrison of Calgary.

They went ahead with handkerchiefs tied to their weapons. Lights were banned, since the area is only 4,000 yards from line.

Two of the convoy's vehicles came to grief, toppling off a narrow lane and overturning in a paddy-field six feet below. The most serious casualty was the only superficial wound received by villages.

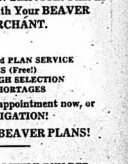
The unit's chief interpreter, Lee Jung Ok, 21-year-old refugee student of Seoul University, was hit on the head by a rock as the night's password—the only English they used.

With hot ration containers, water cans, cartons of pack rations and mail strapped to their backs, they trudged straight up steep slopes where the rifle platoons were located.

CQMS. Ed Morris of Edmonton plans to acquire a pair of the Koreans' rope shoes.

"With 175 pounds on their backs, they climbed better than I, who was just guiding them," he said.

Stout-hearted Pte. Andy Gray, Stutli's company cook, who is fighting his third campaign, also made the climb to issue the hot stew he had prepared for the men.

YOU'LL BE THE BELLE OF THE BALL
—AT THAT VALENTINE DANCE if you send your formal to us for that extra special care in dry cleaning.


CITY CLEANERS & DYERS
160 EAST MOIRA ST. PHONE 2626-3520
BILL LYNCH Proprietors ROY JOHNSON

Make Your Own Home a REALITY!
THROUGH BEAVER PLAN SERVICE! Plan now —AT NO COST— With Your BEAVER LUMBER MERCHANT.
Ask About:—
FINANCING
PLAN BOOKS and PLAN SERVICE
COST ESTIMATES (Free!)
SAVING THROUGH SELECTION
PREVENTING SHORTAGES
Telephone 4365 for your appointment now, or come TODAY. NO OBLIGATION!
PLANNING PAYS! BEAVER PLANS!
LITTLE BUILDER says!
"Your family will stay home for their fun when you make your basement into a game room." See us today for dependable materials.
AT YOUR SERVICE TO GIVE YOU SERVICE.
BEAVER LUMBER COMPANY LIMITED
101 Church Street Phone 4365

Key No.1
YES!
IT'S TRUE
NEVER-TO-BE-FORGOTTEN
BARGAINS
SEE WEDNESDAY'S PAPER

THE ONTARIO INTELLIGENCER

Published Daily by
Ontario Established 1841 — Intelligencer Established 1927
THE ONTARIO INTELLIGENCER LIMITED
Belleville, Ontario, Canada

Subscription Rates:
By carrier in Belleville, 25 cents per week
By mail in Canada, $7.00 per year; $4.00 for six months; $2.25 for 3 months
By mail to U.S.A., $8.00 per year.

Member of The Canadian Daily Newspaper Association; Member of The Canadian Press.

The Canadian Press is exclusively entitled to use for republications of all news despatches credited to it or The Associated Press or Reuters in this newspaper and also the local news published herein.

NEW CITIZENS

Canada has welcomed 450,000 new citizens to her shores since the close of the Second World War, and the prospect is that 150,000 more will arrive in the Dominion during the present year.

With the help of the Canadian people, these new arrivals will be able to adjust themselves to life in the New World and to start their careers in this country of which so many have dreamed down the ages.

Canada should be a proud nation as she looks upon those who seek to make their home in the Dominion and become citizens in co-operate in making this fortunate land reach the highest possible destiny in a democratic world.

What hopes are in the hearts of these newcomers can be understood by Canadians whose families have been settled in this country for some years or for one or more generations. There are many fine examples for new citizens to follow as they watch others who have settled and made homes here in the years gone by.

Young men in the younger free nations of the earth many fine examples of newcomers of the past who have come to fill a large place in the democratic way of life. The pioneers were fine stock and their descendants are able to show to the newcomers something of the opportunities and responsibilities of those who are to become new citizens.

THE PEDESTRIAN WHO REBELLED

Ottawa Journal has brought to the attention of the public to the situation and annoyance of having an automobile driver bring his car to a stop directly blocking a crossing of pedestrians. The writer says, the letter writer says, at a stop street where "the driver observes the stop sign but halts his car smack in front of the pedestrians." It goes on to tell that one pedestrian was intimidated by the situation in as often a pedestrian's characteristic. "A young lady was half way across the intersection when a driver stopped his car so that its rear doors were directly in front of her.

"Being a lady, she retreated. But fire must have flashed from her eyes. She opened the door in front of her, walked across the back of the car, opened the other door and proceeded on her way without a backward glance and leaving those doors wide open.

"The things that driver said were worth hearing, and the laughter and jibes he had to endure from the small crowd which had witnessed the performance."

The Journal notes that few have the courage of their convictions at a high enough level to follow the example set by the young lady. "But it is something to occupy us in our day dreams."

The rebelling pedestrian had at least a quick wit, which took advantage at a second's notice of the opportunity offered her to make a comment in the form of a gesture which was surprising, to say the least, and full of meaning.

CANADA'S CONSUMPTION OF LIQUOR

According to compilations of the Dominion Bureau of Statistics there has been a sharp increase in the consumption of alcoholic beverages in Canada in recent years.

These figures say 6,969,000 proof gallons of spirits were consumed in 1950 as compared with 3,108,000 in 1937, 187,442,000 gallons of beer as compared with 60,230,000 thirteen years earlier, and 4,894,000 gallons of wine as compared to 3,166,000.

That is a great lake of liquor, no doubt about it, but there are many factors to be considered in extenuation. There are two or three million more Canadians than in the thirties to do the drinking, we have far more tourists than in those pre-war depression times, and in 1950 Canada enjoyed a great degree of prosperity. Also prohibition high taxes on liquor few people were "dry" because of lack of means.

Nevertheless many Canadians will be disturbed by these statistics, will wonder whether in fact we are not as a nation spending more on liquor than we can afford, drinking more than is good for us. And these figures, it needs to be realized, are figures of apparent consumption—not necessarily statistics of the money spent on intoxicants which fail to mention that two-thirds of the liquor bill went to the tax collectors. — Ottawa Journal.

Our greatest glory consists not in falling but in rising every time we fall.—Goldsmith.

Poets are all who love and feel great truths, and tell them. — Bailey.

JUST FOLKS

By EDGAR A. GUEST
(Copyright, 1951, Edgar A. Guest)

CHECK UP

Checking me, the doctor said,
"Rather weak about the head;
Mind inclined to disobey
Orders given, night or day;
Will power? Scarcely none at all;
Eyes still read the letters small;
Heart condition, fairly good;
Pulse still beating as it should;
Blood count normal. Pressure gauge
Shows one hundred, plus your age;
Arteries to the touch—
Hardened some, but not too much;
Healthy teeth (the few your own);
Almost perfect muscle tone;
For all foods that you enjoy.
The digestion of a boy.
You tell your self I can:
You are no 'eight ulcer' man;
No infection in your throat;
Trace of dandruff on your coat;
Wouldn't worry over that.
Possibly a bit too fat.
Slow down; it's the pace that kills;
Don't forget to take your pills;
Six months more, come back, and then
I will check you up again."
"Thank you, doctor. Did you say,
I could eat three meals a day?"

OFF THE RECORD

By ED REED

"Don't tell me your meat isn't tough . . . how do you suppose my boy developed such strength in his jaws?"

LOOKING BACKWARDS

GLEANINGS FROM OUR FYLES OF BYGONE YEARS

20 YEARS AGO

FEBRUARY 5th., 1931

Mr. G. H. Stewart and Mr. F. Corrigan are spending a few days in Toronto.

Mrs. Frank Munro, of Windsor, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hector Ross in this city.

Ald. John Fisher has resigned as a member of the city council owing to pressure of other business. It is likely that the vacancy will be taken by Mr. W. J. Looker, a candidate in the last election, who is in line for the office. Ald. Fisher was chairman of Industries.

The mercury has been below zero last night.

Mr. J. C. Irwin is spending a few days at his home in Campbellford.

The junior nurses-in-training at the local hospital enjoyed skating party last evening at the invitation of entertained at the home of Miss Dorothy Sallsbury, Bridge St. West.

10 YEARS AGO

FEBRUARY 5th., 1921

Mr. C. J. H. Jordinson, a former resident of this district, now of Green Bank, Ont., in writing to The Intelligencer says that he is always pleased when the "paper from home" arrives.

Two citizens were fined $2.00 each and costs in the police court this morning for driving their automobile faster than the law allows on the streets. Magistrate Masson stated that the practice must stop and that in future the penalty will be more severe.

License Inspector Frank Napahan was in Madoc yesterday on official business.

Messrs. B. Doolittle, F. Wright and H. Post of the local office of the Bell Telephone Company, attended the Bell Telephone Co. dance in Kingston last night.

25 YEARS AGO

FEBRUARY 5th., 1906

The play "The Old Homestead," which apparently "goes on forever", will be the attraction at Griffin's Opera House on the evening of February 8th.

The Board of Management of the Corby Public Library met last evening for organization and the following officers were elected: Chairman, Arthur McGinnis; secretary-treasurer, H. J. Clarke; chairman of finance committee, Mayor Harry Ackerman; chairman of committee on supplies, Charles N. Sulman; librarian, A. R. Walker. The board is composed of the following: Mayor Ackerman, appointed by the council, Arthur McGinnis, Dr. Yeomans and S. S. Lazier, appointed by the Board of Education, S. J. Gardner, H. J. Clarke and Chas. N. Sulman, appointed by the Separate School Board, P. J. Wims.

50 YEARS AGO

FEBRUARY 5th., 1901

At the annual meeting of the Hastings Loan and Investment Society the following directors were elected: Sir Mackenzie Bowell, Rev. Ame Campbell, John Bell, W. P. Hudson, W. H. Biggar, S. Burrows and Dr. Sekins. At a later meeting of the directors, the following officers were elected: President, Sir Mackenzie Bowell; vice-president, John Bell; auditors, E. H. Bird and J. P. Thompson.

It is reported that a syndicate is at work quietly in arranging for a trolley line from Brockville to Belleville and passing through all the towns and villages en route.

The country roads are badly blocked with snow and the attendance at the Sunday school is way unusually small.

A horse belonging to J. Arts of Thurlow Township, ran away on Bridge St. this afternoon, but was caught before much damage was done.

THE PACKSACK

By GREGORY CLARK

It is about time shrewd newspaper editors started to run daily woodcraft columns along with the domestic science columns, the bride corner and the daily household hints.

How to survive in the wilds may soon prove to be the most important knowledge of all. Even our national leaders start referring in matter-of-fact tones to the possibility of living underground when some of the biggest cities in San Francisco are organizing systematically for civil defence; and when the government erects barrage balloons around our Chalk River atomic energy plant, it might be time for somebody in each household to start figuring the shortest route out of town, and the likeliest spot in the countryside on which to pitch a tent. For the kind of shemozzle which gradually emerges as a possibility before our astounded eyes these days, as we listen to our statesmen, wiseacres, pundits and political witch-doctors, is the sort of shemozzle which suddenly the right senses would want to encounter in a rapid, dizzy, hysterical city. Cities and industrial towns were the chief targets of the last war. They will probably be the sole targets of the next one. Armies, navies and air forces are now practically helpless without industry to supply them. The machine, you might say, has got us where it wants us.

The happiest people on earth right now must surely be those who owe no dependence to any kind of machinery whatever. A few days ago, I was up the shore of Lake Superior, and was telling a solitary Cree Indian family. Their nearest Indian neighbor was maybe twenty-five miles away. I found myself looking upon them in their wilderness habitation with a sinking sense of envy. True, they had some white men's supplies—sugar, a gun, some ammunition, canvas parkis.

But in the trees around their shack were festooned the twisted white rabbit skins from which they would fashion their blankets; beaver, fox and lynx furs were on the frame against the cabin walls; a leg of caribou hung from the eaves. They haven't got much; but it may be more than we have, at that.

SLIGHT IMPROVEMENT

London, Feb. 3—(Reuters)—A slight improvement in the condition of Bernard Cardinal Griffin has been noticed during the last 24 hours, a statement said last night. The Roman Catholic church Thursday called for prayers for the Archbishop of Westminster after a deterioration in his health due to a heart attack and high blood pressure.

WILL NOT GO TO ITALY

Marseille, Feb. 3 (Reuters) — The Crown Prince of Abyssinia, homeward bound from Marseille, refused last night to board an Egyptian ship when he heard she would get into Genoa, Italy. Prince Merid Azmasch Asfa Wassen, eldest son of Emperor Haile Selassie, said he would find a vessel to take him to Alexandria without visiting Italy — his country's former enemy.

OUR TOWN

By Jack SCOTT

IN THE RING

This newspaper's annual amateur boxing tournament gets under way tonight. Two blood thirsty wife and I will be out there rooting for the losers and enjoying the debacle of some pretty fine boys trying to kill each other.

It's always a thrill to sit in the crowd and cheer on the little guys, especially those little guys who never have a chance, but keep coming in and keep swinging.

I don't watch the round house spun, but those kind of boys never really lose a fight and you know this if you've seen them in action.

I remember one year there were two kids in particular, one of them a plump Chinese boy. They came from some place up in the interior. Neecha or Xndecko or some name like that. Their train had been held up for several hours by slides and when they docked under the eaves they looked tired and they were dazed by the hard lights and the big crowd.

Both boys wore long, kneelength white cotton shorts. You just knew that their mothers had whipped them up on a Singer. They wore brown, amateur-style training shoes and were sewn back rubes in your life and, sure enough, they both laughed. It was pretty hard not to laugh.

The kids were fighting a couple of days apart, so they got pairs of trunks and the real boxing shoes and that crisp style they pick up at the Chinese laundry. They are fine kids, too, but we were with the boys from Cheecha or somewhere else.

They never had much chance. They had a lot of guts, a lot of socking, nothing but guts. And the city kids were cool and slick and professional and the boys we cheered were beaten from the start, especially the Chinese boy who bled terrific.

But when they left the ring, eliminated from the tournament, there was a warm glow in the heart of acclaim. They had fought all the way they knew how and they grinned out at the crowd.

The Victims

Whenever there's a tournament like this we get letters to the press from people who think we're wrong to have kids in a boxing ring.

You can't blame them in some ways. The fighting racket professionally is a vicious, savage business. Few men, Gene Tunney or Jimmy McLarnin there are a thousand men who have given their heart and brains for a title, or one moment.

I remember a former champion of the world who would come up to the sports department of a newspaper in Toronto and say, People in the sports world will know who I mean. He was nearblind. He was punch drunk, a knobs of muscle. He mumbled

CP Neglecting To Cover News Charge Levelled

Toronto, Feb. 5—(CP)—The Ontario Federation of Labor charged Saturday that the Canadian Press was so anxious to squelch union activities in its editorial staff that it was neglecting vital news.

A resolution passed unanimously at the Federation's annual convention said that CP is a move to "the domination of the employees' had "depleted its staff in the labor-management co-operative field and in the press coverage of the United Nations."

The resolution specified only the Canadian Labor Congress condemnation of press opposition to the American Newspaper Guild, a CIO-CCL affiliate, but speakers said the motion should be broad enough to deal with the press lords of this country."

Throughout the history of the United Nations organization, the Canadian Press co-operative news agency of the Canadian Daily Newspapers has provided comprehensive coverage of the U.N.'s work. CP's reports comprise those of the Associated Press — the worldwide co-operative serving United States newspapers — and of Reuters news agency, the British Commonwealth co-operative, in addition to covering the CP staff representatives assigned as necessary to events of particular Canadian interest or significance.

FOUND STRANGLED

Smiths Falls, Ont., Feb. 3—(CP)—Mrs. Elsie Hinkel, 70, was found strangled last night, her belt looped around his neck and tied to a doorknob. The body of George W. Hinkel—who would have been 12 today—was discovered by his mother. She said he apparently had been playing cowboy.

Personal Health Talks

By WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

Signed Letters, Not More Than One Page Or 100 Words Long, Pertaining To Personal Health and Hygiene, Not To Disease, Diagnosis or Treatment, Will Be Answered By Dr. Brady If A Stamped Self Addressed Envelope Is Enclosed, Etc.

OLD TIMERS BEWARE POPULAR INTELLIGENCE

Medical and lay fuddy-duddies who still pretend to believe or actually believe cold, dampness, draft, insufficient clothing, wet feet, sudden change, bad weather or bad climate causes or in any way contributes to illness, other than chilblain, frostbite or freezing, should be as interested as I am in the following communication from a reader:

Dear Mr. Brady:

I have been a reader of your column for years and have followed your teachings in my everyday life.

I believe most firmly in your theory (theory nuts, eye, it is as established fact) that C-R-I is spread by contact with infected individuals and that "drafts" "exposure" etc., have nothing to do with it.

I myself have gone out with my hair wet and bare legs in snowstorms and done many other similar "foolhardy" things when they seemed convenient with no damage to my health whatsoever.

I have also raised my three sons in a similar manner. So far their health is excellent—far superior to that of children whose mothers were afraid a wool from head to foot whenever the temperature falls noticeably or the season is between October and May. Our children have been encouraged to tell us when they are cold.

Of course this "carelessness" of ours in "exposing ourselves" exposes us to a good deal of criticism, but the children know if they want to put on more clothing and they dismiss the idea with a good-humored "Nah!"

Very truly,

Letters like this one are few and far between. The extraordinary thing about it is that the reader uses her head and her better typewriter to report progress and that is all to the good. Her letter is a delight.

I publish this readers letter as a warning about cultists, especially of prices, and our legislators are wondering what to do about it, but while they are debating it becomes the duty and privilege of every human being among us to exercise the last greatest of all controls—Self control!

Recently a local New York department store published in all the city newspapers a full page advertisement entitled "Things We Are You Buying So Much, New York?" The advertisement showed how they were giving themselves to the buying of un-needed things because of the pressure of fear. As in other words to fear buying, which will mean things unobtainable to everyone. Hoarders do an injustice to themselves and to all others.

I congratulate this store! They put the good of all above the good of itself. There is enough for all in this western world to take care of everyone, even after the sacrifices essential to preserve our way of life and, we pray God, the freedom of the world as well.

Never before in our history has our moral strength and self control been so generally challenged. Our enemies would like to know that we are not equal to the emergency and we have always been equal to every emergency, even when we did not. That advertisement of a great New York store was a warning to the selfish few.

Consider what our fighting boys are expected to endure, and how. We are asked to give up, in order to preserve the things which make life worth while, we will still experience the highest standard of living in the world. Our wealth will enable feed a good part of the globe.

Fear buying is slow to tends to higher prices. Buy what you need —and no more. We are all "on the spot" we need to pull equally together. Nothing is so devastating to a nation's economy as stupid hoarding. Even in the army for a just and lasting peace, but only as we pull as one.

Mackenzie's Column

Bitter Quarrel Over Princely State of Kashmir

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(Associated Press News Analyst)

The Korean war has served to obscure a bitter international situation of which the world can ill afford to lose sight: That is the quarrel between India and Pakistan over possession of the neighboring princely state of Kashmir.

There is in this Kashmir affair the makings of a war which might change the face of Asia. Currently the dispute is under discussion by commissioners in a matter of fact it has reached a deadend owing to the utter failure of the two sides to bring the two countries together.

Gravity Emphasized

The gravity of the position was emphasized a fortnight ago by Premier Liaquat Ali Khan of Pakistan. He told a press conference in Karachi:

"If the (U.N.) Security Council is interested in preserving peace, and I am sure it is interested, it should apply its mind to Kashmir. It is such a vital issue."

A few days previously the Commonwealth Prime Minister, Clement Attlee, in London, had told the House of Commons that the world was being disquieted when the Indian peninsula was divided into two independent states of predominantly-Hindu India and predominantly - Moslem Pakistan. The Princes were permitted to select the countries to which their states should be joined. So Hindu states went with India and Moslem states with Pakistan — except for Kashmir, which presented a special problem.

The ruler of Kashmir, Maharajah Sir Hari Singh, is a Hindu while the vast majority of his subjects are Moslems. He elected to join Hindu India, but naturally his Moslem people wanted to become a part of Moslem Pakistan.

The local solution of course is to hold a plebiscite, and the U.N. tried to arrange one. However, this obviously would result in a Moslem victory and India wouldn't agree to such a proceeding.

India charges that Pakistan sent troops into Kashmir and thereby committed aggression. Pakistan claims the Indians are sending Hindus into Kashmir to increase the Hindu voting power.

The only winner thus far in the cockeyed mix-up is Maharajah Sir Hari Singh. He still retains his title, pending a settlement of the dispute.

The prince's rule cannot long endure, for Kashmir will have to join either India or Pakistan. The manner in which this is achieved is a matter of world concern.

TODAY'S TALK

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

SELF CONTROL

Our newspapers are filled with discussions about controls, especially of prices, and our legislators are wondering what to do about it, but while they are debating it becomes the duty and privilege of every human being among us to exercise the last greatest of all controls—Self control!

Recently a local New York department store published in all the city newspapers a full page advertisement entitled "Things We Are You Buying So Much, New York?" The advertisement showed how they were giving themselves to the buying of un-needed things because of the pressure of fear. As in other words to fear buying, which will mean things unobtainable to everyone. Hoarders do an injustice to themselves and to all others.

I congratulate this store! They put the good of all above the good of itself. There is enough for all in this western world to take care of everyone, even after the sacrifices essential to preserve our way of life and, we pray God, the freedom of the world as well.

Never before in our history has our moral strength and self control been so generally challenged. Our enemies would like to know that we are not equal to the emergency and we have always been equal to every emergency, even when we did not. That advertisement of a great New York store was a warning to the selfish few.

Consider what our fighting boys are expected to endure, and how. We are asked to give up, in order to preserve the things which make life worth while, we will still experience the highest standard of living in the world. Our wealth will enable feed a good part of the globe.

Fear buying is slow to tends to higher prices. Buy what you need —and no more. We are all "on the spot" we need to pull equally together. Nothing is so devastating to a nation's economy as stupid hoarding. Even in the army for a just and lasting peace, but only as we pull as one.

Strength for the Day

DR. EARL L. DOUGLASS

TOO MUCH APOLOGY

It never pays to apologize for our religious faith. The man who is ashamed of the faith into which he was born will soon find that everybody is ashamed of him. He will find himself left severely alone unceremoniously and will have little comfort with which to heal his bleeding heart when he goes among people.

The story is told of how, during the First World War while Rheims was being bombarded, a Salvation Army worker ran with his family in the cellar of their house, and as the bombs fell overhead his heads, quietly led them in prayer. Suddenly the door was flung open and a German officer carrying a revolver rushed into the house followed by a soldier with a fixed bayonet. The Salvation Army worker did not look up but quietly continued his prayer. When he was finished, the officer put his revolver down, approached the Salvation Army worker and, with tears streaming down his cheeks, showed him a picture of his wife and child—en. "Will you pray for them," he asked, "that they may be kept from all harm while I am away?" The worker roughed it then, in seasons when life is being lightly regarded, pause before incense piety and bow head and heart in reverence.

REFUSED TO LOAD

Newtonards, Northern Ireland, Feb. 3 — (Reuters) — Dock workers at the little port of Mawri have always looked forward to Dutch ships because of the glass of gin they receive when they handle their cargoes. But the master of one ship, the Noorstadt, failed to keep up the custom Friday. The men refused to load

TRENTON

Searchers Comb Countryside For Missing Man

Trenton (Special) —Searchers combed the countryside around Glen Miller yesterday in an effort to locate Joseph A. Coveney, 46, who has been missing from his home in the village since last Tuesday.

According to the provincial police a shopping bag containing groceries and belonging to Coveney was found sitting on the Glen Miller bridge crossing the Trent River. There is a hole in the ice under the bridge where the swift running current at that point does not freeze. It is believed Coveney, who has suffered spells of despondency at various times in the past could have jumped or fallen off the bridge into the opening.

Tracing Coveney's movements since he left home Tuesday police found that he had visited the unemployment insurance office in Trenton and later had visited a doctor. Tuesday night he was seen on the Trenton Frankford bus and shortly after eleven o'clock got off at the west end of the Glen Miller bridge. He has not been seen since.

Theory is that a body beneath the ice in the river would continue downstream and probably be carried out into the Bay of Quinte by the current.

Coveney's wife and two children live at Glen Miller.

Fire Damages Warehouse

A fire that could have brought disaster to the town of Trenton was quelched by Trenton firemen in zero temperatures last Friday.

Smoke in great quantities was rolling out from the McDonald Hardware warehouse when the brigade arrived on the scene. A hurried investigation showed fortunately that the flames had gained little headway and were running up the wall inside the door. A few blasts from the water pressure system and the danger was over.

Damage to the building was slight. The contents were not hurt.

The McDonald warehouse is located in behind the Bywater block in the downtown section. Large amounts of paint and other highly inflammable merchandise is stored there.

Origin of the fire could not be determined.

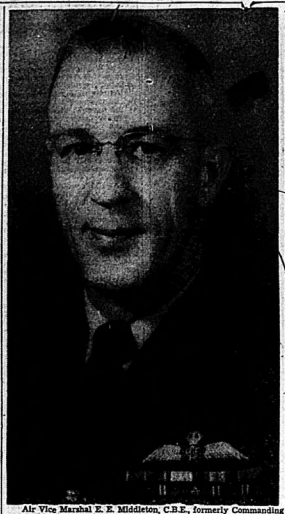
Mr. and Mrs. Max Waldorf left by motor car for a month's holiday in Florida.

Messrs O. M. Newton, Mark Tripp, Delbert McNall and Councillor Claude Graham, left yesterday by car for a trip to California and other points south and west.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Mallory of Trenton returned home last week following a holiday in Florida.

Fireman Catches Fish

Fireman Jess Baker was paid off for his trouble on Saturday when he hooked three good-sized pickerel in his shanty out on the ice at the mouth of the Trent River.



Air Vice Marshal E. R. Middleton, C.B.E., formerly Commanding Officer of the Trenton Air Station after whom the Middleton Park project was named in recognition for outstanding duty while in the service. The former air chief is now secretary-manager of the Ontario group of the Air Cadet League with headquarters in Toronto.

Release of Krupp and Other German War Criminals Criticized by British Press

London, Feb. 5 — (AP) British newspapers, ranging from Tory to Communist, reacted with editorial bowls of pain during the weekend to the release of munitions maker Alfred Krupp and other German war criminals from prison.

Most of the criticism of the pardon action of the United States High Commissioner, John J. McCloy, was carried in the Sunday press. Today's edition of the communist Daily Worker joined the chorus.

The pro-labor Sunday Pictorial said:

"They opened the gates of a German prison yesterday, and they turned loose a man with blood on his hands . . . the blood of British soldiers, of Russians, of Americans and Frenchmen, of Poles and Dutchmen and Belgians. The blood of millions."

The Pictorial described how Krupp and his brother kissed for the photographers and commented: "And if millions of mothers should think this was a kiss of death, who will blame them?"

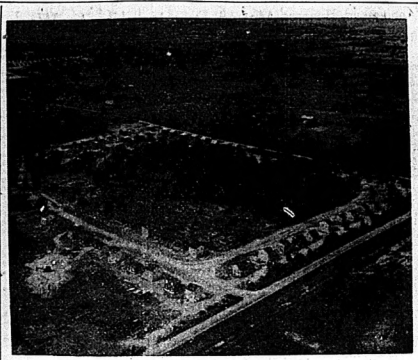
The co-operative communist newspaper Reynolds News, carried an article by F. Elwyn Jones, a member of Parliament who was one of the British prosecutors at Nuernberg. He quoted U. S. Supreme Court Justic Robert H. Jackson, then chief war crimes prosecutor, as saying then:

"It has at all times been the position of the United States that the great industrialists of Germany were guilty of the crimes charged in the Nuernberg indictment quite as much as its politicians, diplomats and soldiers."

Lord Beaverbrook's empire - minded Sunday Express carried a four-column cartoon showing monstrous - looking war criminals filing out of prison. A sign on the wall said: "Please collect your weapons and cash on the way out." The British soldier is telling an American who holds the gates open: "Now I suppose they will have us in court for wrongful imprisonment."

$35,000 FIRE LOSS

Toronto, Feb. 5 (CP) — Fire caused $35,000 damage to a grocery store at the corner of Yonge and Yorkville Streets in north-central Toronto early Sunday. The blaze destroyed large quantities of fresh food and perishable goods in the storage rooms of the Pickering Farms Supermarket.



Middleton Park, the thriving Air Force town on the eastern boundary of the town of Trenton, now has its own administration and a population of more than 1,000 people. Construction continues at top speed as the project nears being half-way finished. Present plans call for 827 homes and an ultimate 3,500 population.

Wreck of Missing Beaver Aircraft Found on Lake

Ottawa, Feb. 5 (CP)—Hampered by a snowstorm in early efforts, a Norseman aircraft today may attempt to fly from Senneterre, Que., to Lake Tessier, some 200 miles north of Ottawa, to bring out the bodies of four victims of an airplane crash.

Wreckage of the plane—a Beaver aircraft owned by the A. Fecteau Transport Company of Senneterre—was found by the R.C.A.F. yesterday after a four-day search. The Beaver had last been heard from a week ago when it attempted a routine, 80-mile flight from Father Lake to Askelano.

The crumpled plane had plummeted through the ice of Lac Tessier, wedging itself partly beneath the frozen surface.

Presumed dead in the crash was Gilbert Comtois, 33, a bush pilot with the Fecteau company; his brother Elezar, 27, co-pilot, and two Indian passengers, Mr. and Mrs. John Neepoush.

An R.C.A.F. Dakota plane piloted by FO. G. L. Bernardin of Montreal sighted the wreckage Sunday and later, a helicopter flew to the scene from nearby Rockcliffe.

However, by the time the helicopter arrived, a Norseman aircraft owned by the Fecteau company already had arrived. The helicopter returned to Rockcliffe, leaving the Norseman to locate the bodies and take them to Senneterre for burial.

Late last night, however, an amateur radio operator, L. A. Petch of Hull, said he had picked up a message from Senneterre saying that the Norseman had been forced to fly back to Senneterre because of a snowstorm. It would attempt to bring out the bodies today, weather permitting.

There were conflicting reports as to whether the bodies have actually been located. However, an air force spokesman said that the absence of any sign of life at the wreckage placed it "beyond doubt" that the four had perished.

It was 52 below zero in the area the night the plane crashed.

Word reached here via Val d'Or, Que., was that the wreckage was sighted on the surface of Lake Tessier, some seven miles north of the Oskelaneo River, about 11 a.m. Sunday and parts of three dead persons were visible from the air. There were no tracks leading away from the crashed plane.

The body of pilot Gilbert Comtois could be seen half out of the plane. The body of his brother, and assistant pilot, Elezar, was not seen. However the bodies of the two Indians were visible.

The Indians were being taken from Lake Capithgamau in the Mistassini River area for treatment at Oskelaneo.

Crew of the four- engined Lancaster from the Trenton Air Station taking part in the pre-plane search out of Rockcliffe in Ottawa sighted the missing Beaver on the surface of Lake Tessier yesterday.

Since there were no signs of life noticed around the crash the para-rescue team was not called to drop. Close investigation of the wreckage was made from the Helicopter of the Air Rescue branch from Trenton and piloted by Flying officer Don Lewis of Barry, Ont.

In the plane that first sighted the wreckage was Flying Officer G. Bernadier, pilot of Montreal, Flying Officer F. G. Hammond, co-pilot of Ottawa, Flight Lieutenant R. L. Patenaud, radio-navigator of Ottawa. The para-rescue team included Corporal T. W. L. Dawson of Ottawa and L.A.C. C. B. Lockett of Timmins.

Artist conception of the three distinct types of accommodations available to R.C.A.F. personnel ranging from airmen to top rank flyers and their families. The extra housing has alleviated to a certain extent the shortage of accommodations in Trenton and district.

CHILD CRUSHED TO DEATH

Toronto, Feb. 5—(CP)—Three-year-old Carol Anne McKay was accidentally crushed to death today under a heavy tractor driven by her father, J. M. McKay of nearby Malton.

Mr. McKay said the child was on the rear platform of the tractor. As he went to back up the vehicle, she jumped to the ground. A rear wheel ran over her.

HOW TO RELIEVE COUGHS... FALSE CROUP

Rub warm oil on throat, neck and chest. Massage each. Cover with warm flannel. At druggists' for 85 years. 49-B

DR THOMAS' ECLECTRIC OIL

Now- PUT YOURSELF ON YOUR OWN PAYROLL WITH Personal Planning

Ask today for your copy of "Personal Planning" at your neighbourhood branch of the B of M. There's no obligation . . . except to yourself.

WHAT Personal Planners ARE SAYING

". . . now I think we can really live and save with Personal Planning"

". . . appreciate commonsense method of handling money."

". . . proved to us we are going in the right direction in Personal Planning."

". . . up-to-date and practical."

BANK OF MONTREAL
Canada's First Bank

BRANCHES in BELLEVILLE and DISTRICT to serve you
Belleville Branch, Front & Bridge Sts.: HENRY BECKER, Mgr.
Frankford Branch: RUSSELL HOGG, Manager
Napanee Branch: EDWARD POWELL, Manager
Picton Branch: JOHN A.R. ARNAUD, Manager
Stirling Branch: ALLAN GREENLEY, Manager
Tweed Branch: JOHN A. THOMPSON, Manager

WORKING WITH CANADIANS IN EVERY WALK OF LIFE SINCE 1817

Fashion Show by Tip Top Tailors LTD.

SEE THE NEWEST STYLE TRENDS FOR MEN AND WOMEN

MODELLED BY A GROUP OF CANADA'S LEADING FASHION MODELS

AT: THE CAPITOL THEATRE

TIME: 2:30 P.M. and 8:30 P.M. (during afternoon and evening performances.)

DATE: FEBRUARY 6th. 1951

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

MARRIAGE NOTICE

BENSON—TURNER— At Northlea United Church parsonage, Toronto, on Friday, February 2, 1951, by Rev. D. C. Amos, Isobel Turner, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Patrick Turner, of Regina, Sask., and granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Allen Bailey, of Stirling, to Harry Benson, son of Mrs. Benson, of Ivanhoe, and the late Mr. William Benson.

Aid. Claude D. Tice and Mrs. Tice celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary on Sunday.

Mr. Fred Elgie, who has been ill for several weeks in the Belleville Hospital, is now convalescing at home, and progressing favorably.

* * *

Mrs. Mabel Gamey, of Toronto, is visiting her sister, Mrs. F. Elgie, Everett Street, for two weeks, after which she will leave for Delray, Florida, where she will be the guest of her sister, Mrs. William Fick.

* * *

Ex-Mayor H. J. Allin and Mrs. Allin attended the Rotary Festival of Music reception held at the Royal Military College, Kingston, on Sunday afternoon, where they had the pleasure of meeting the music adjudicators, Mr. Gordon Thorne, of Cheshire, England; Mr. William Glock, of London, England; Mr. Filmer Hubble, of Winnipeg, Manitoba, and Dr. Healey Willan, of Toronto.

* * *

Mrs. William J. Davis, Maple Leaf, Ont., wife of Reeve W. J. Davis, of Bangor-Wicklow and McClure, is recovering from a major operation in Belleville General Hospital. She is progressing favorably and her condition over the weekend was good, according to hospital authorities.

* * *

OUT-OF-TOWN PERSONAL

Mrs. Donald Rowe, 150 Front Street, Trenton, is progressing favorably after her recent operation.

* * *

AUTOMOTIVE PIONEER

Pasadena, Calif., Feb. 5.—(AP)—Richard Henry Collins, 83, automotive pioneer and one of the founders of General Motors, died Sunday. Collins formerly was vice-president and a member of the General Motors board of directors, and general manager of the buick division, president of Cadillac and Oldsmobile divisions, and president of the General Motors Export Company.

Sunbeam
DOUBLE AUTOMATIC
IRONMASTER
WRITE THE
"WOMAN'S POINT OF VIEW"
CONTEST
Covering These Three Points:
1.—The iron you now use
2.—Your opinion of the Sunbeam Iron — favorable or unfavorable.
3.—What features would entice you to exchange your iron for a new one.
YOU MAY WIN A
Sunbeam Iron
Mail your Replies to Your Northern Electric Dealer
VANDUSEN Bros. LTD.
220 Front St. — BELLEVILLE
All letters become the property of Van Dusen Bros. Ltd.

WEDDINGS

BENSON—TURNER

On Friday, February 2, a wedding of interest was solemnized in Northlea United Church parsonage, Broadway Avenue, Toronto, by the Reverend Donald C. Amos, when Isobel Turner, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Patrick Turner, of Regina, Sask., became the bride of Harry Benson, son of Mrs. Benson, of Ivanhoe, and the late Mr. William Benson.

The bride was charmingly attired in a grey English worsted suit, pink flower hat, with pink and brown accessories and corsage of pink roses. Mrs. Earle Darrah, of Belleville, attended the bride, wearing a taffy tan Frostman's wool suit, white straw hat, with black and white accessories and corsage of yellow roses.

Mr. Earle Darrah, of Belleville, attended the bridegroom.

Following the reception which was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Garnet Bailey, Glenmarin Avenue, Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. Benson left for a wedding trip to Florida. Upon their return they will reside at Ivanhoe.

Prior to her marriage, the bride was entertained at a miscellaneous shower given by Miss Dorothy Dobbs; a dinner party given by Mrs. and Mrs. Earle Darrah, and presentation of silver tea service by the staff of the Ontario Hydro Electric Power Commission. A presentation and dinner party at the Queen's Hotel, was also given by the girls of the Hydro Commission.

McGAUGHEY—WILKINSON

Trenton.—With Monsignor D. A. Cullinane officiating at the wedding took place at 9:30 Saturday morning in St. Peter's Church, Trenton, Miss Annie Wilkinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Wilkinson, Jacques Burg, Yorkshire, England, was united in marriage to Leonard McGaughey, son of Mr. and Mrs. I. A. McGaughey, of Trenton.

The bride was attended by the groom's sister, Miss Jean Anne McGaughey, and the groomsman was Mr. Thomas Boyd.

The happy couple left on a motor trip and upon their return will reside in Trenton.

Women of the Moose Hold Social Evening

On Wednesday evening, the Women of the Moose held their regular euchre in the Saxe club rooms under the chairmanship of social service Marg. Mallette and Florence Carwell. Prizes were won as follows, ladies, Mrs. Crewson, Mrs. Harris and Mrs. Burke, Lone hand, Mrs. Crewson; men, Mr. K. Crewson, Mr. Lenoxy, Mr. McWilliams, Lone hand, Mr. McWilliams.

On Thursday evening, a number of the Women of the Moose got together for a social evening, with Marg. Mallette and Peggy Mintz as conveners. Euchre was played with following taking prizes, F. Carufel, I. Reed, D. Calbury, R. Greenwood, Miss Plaxe and M. Calbury.

Delicious refreshments were served by co-workers. Everyone attending brought food for needy families and it will be delivered by Peggy Mintz.

BREAD UP CENT

Fort Erie, Feb. 5 (CP)—Bakers announced today a one-cent boost in the price of bread bringing the cost to 18 cents a loaf.

Fortieth Wedding Anniversary Honored By Many Friends

Harold.—About [illegible] relatives and friends gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. [illegible] Mumby, Harold Street, on Friday evening, to honor Mr. and Mrs. Parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Mumby, on the occasion of their 40th wedding anniversary.

Among the guests were, Mr. and Mrs. Mumby's three sons and six of their seven grandchildren, Mrs. Mumby's father, Mr. Jesse Barlow, and six of Mr. Mumby's and five of Mrs. Mumby's brothers and sisters.

Rev. J. M. Brownlie acted as chairman, for a short program. Musical numbers were contributed by Mrs. Lindsay Tanner, Ruth and George Mumby, and appropriate selections were read by Mrs. Morley Barlow and Mrs. Albert Caskey.

Among those who expressed the congratulations of the gathering were two of Mr. Mumby's uncles, Anne and Charles Mumby. An address was read by Mrs. Percy Mumby and the latest couple were presented with one of several gifts.

The home was tastefully decorated with spring tulips and a handsome wedding cake and candles adorned the table.

Bountiful refreshments were served and Mr. and Mrs. Mumby were wished many more years of married life.

Beehive Jackets, Governess Dresses Feature Show

Paris, Feb. 5. (AP)—Beehive jackets and governess dresses were displayed when Jacques Griffe celebrated the opening of his new salon on the swank Rue Royale, at the old address of Captain Edward Molyneux, who closed down the fashion house in November.

Griffe seems to inherit Molyneux's restrained taste, along with his salon, for most of his clothes in the spring line are made in simplicity of line and subdued coloring with English designer always favored.

His beehive jackets are waist-length affairs with fullness gathered into a small circular yoke the shape of a Peter Pan collar. Sleeves are bidden under all the fullness. Pencil-slim skirts go with these jackets which are made in heavy linen or black faille.

Griffe's "governess dresses" are simply reserved for evening and are reminiscent of the type worn by governesses in the early 1900s. They have demure "officer" collars and double breasted button fastening down a bodice which fits the torso nearly to the knees before winging into fullness.

The up-and-coming young designer, Alwynn, shows one number called "Plenard" (Spinach), in coarsely-woven khaki-colored wool that has extra-wide kimono sleeves decorated with two colossal patch pockets.

Some of the oddities displayed were suit jackets worn back to front. The back of the collar cut sharply across the neck in front and lapels closed at the nape of the neck.

PLUNGES THROUGH ICE

Penns Neck, N.J., Feb. 5—(AP)—Four children were drowned yesterday as a sled plunged through ice in a frozen pit. One of the victims died while trying to rescue the other members of the party.

Copenhagen Clock World's Best Maker Devoted Life to Work

Copenhagen, (Reuters) — The world's most accurate clock, which will gain only four-tenths of a second in three centuries is nearly ready to be installed in the town hall by[illegible].

The lifework of Jens Olsen, who died before it was completed, the clock weighs four tons and has more than 110,000 different parts.

The clock in Strasbourg Cathedral, hitherto regarded as the world's finest, has an inaccuracy of eight seconds in 100 years.

The Jens Olsen clock contains 12 mainsprings. The main dial, in the centre, shows the time on a 12-hour face as understood by the man-in-the-street.

If he should not be satisfied with the answer in the man-made division of the day into 24 equal hours (local mean time) Jens Olsen's clock will give it to him in sidereal time—the time as measured by the stars. A day and night measured in sidereal time is slightly shorter than a man-made 24 hour day.

Another dial shows the hour in solar time—the time as measured by the sun.

These times are each slightly different from each other and the differences, although unimportant in normal usage, are vitally important to navigators of plotting their positions by observations of the position of the sun or stars.

Elsewhere on the clock can be read off the local mean time for nearly every part of the world.

Other Features

The Olsen clock also shows:

1. The time of sunset and sunrise each day.

2. The state: the date of the month, the name of the day, the name of the month and the year. The mechanism operating this takes leap years into account and includes a wheel which takes 4000 years to revolve once round its axis. The fastest rotating wheel takes 10 seconds to complete one revolution and the slowest takes 25,000 years.

3. Positions of the main stars. The mechanism here has to be adjusted every 3,000 years to take accumulating minor corrections into account.

4. The relative positions of the sun, earth and moon.

5. Eclipses of the sun.

The clock is governed by a specially made electric mechanism.

Danish watch-makers describe the clock as "the eighth wonder of the world."

Author Destroyed Rejected Story, Offer Came Too Late

Toronto, — (CP) — A former school teacher in New Brunswick took exception to a story returned to hand about her own experiences and sent the manuscript off to a New York publisher.

She told how she met a man and married him. Back from his honeymoon, she discovered her husband was a widower with six children ranging in age from one year to 12 years. She related how she coped with the surprise and what happened. The story had a happy ending.

Margaret Aitken, in her Toronto Telegram column, recently described what happened to the book manuscript after it went to New York.

"The U.S. publishers liked the story. It was original, alive and vital. It was also badly written, verbose, awkward and too, too wordy. They told the author so and suggested she might get professional writer to do a job on the book. They never heard from her again.

"Recently a representative of one of the largest or the U.S. magazines (a subscriber of the book paying for fiction) dropped in to see the above-mentioned New York publishers. The magazine man moaned and groaned about the shortage of vital, original fiction.

"The publisher suddenly remembered about the Canadian woman's story. He mentioned it. The magazine man said that was exactly what they wanted and they could easily have the writing shipped into shape.

"The publisher was promptly put in for the New Brunswick girl. A surprised voice listened to the magazine man's request that she send her book up immediately, by mail, special delivery. I don't know if money was mentioned, but, if so, it was probably around $10,000.

"There was a long, long silence down there in New Brunswick. Then a weak, trembling voice came over the line:

"' When the publishers said it was badly written, I destroyed my book.' "

CHURCH WILL OBJECT

Halifax, Feb. 5 (CP) —Any change in the criminal code to ease restrictions on gambling will be "vigorously opposed" by the Church of England in Canada, Canon W. W. Judd of Toronto said here.

The general secretary of the Church's council of Social Service told a congregation last night that this opposition will include any move to legalize provincial lotteries.

FINDS BODY OF MAN

Oakville, Ont., Feb. —(CP) — W. S. Halloway of Hamilton, a photographer out looking for winter scenes Sunday found the body of a middle-age man partly buried in snow in a ravine near a bridge three miles east of here. Toronto police identified the body as that of John Maleo of Hamilton, said to have been last seen Jan. 31. Dr. W. M. Wilkinson, coroner, said the man apparently died three days ago from exposure.

Early Spring Print

By PRUNELLA WOOD

WE LIKE this woman's dress, and wonder why more aren't made along such slenderizing, cool lines. It is a one-piece model which has a jacketed look, emphasized by a tailor lined peplum in front, which carries two deep pockets.

The print is geometric print motif using burnt orange and charcoal gray, and the orange is picked up to edge the standing mandarin collar, the edges of the turn-back cuffs. The entire peplum is lined with crisp orange fabric which makes it round modishly over the hips, beneath the snug self fabric, print belt.

Bras Now Out in Open

Los Angeles, Feb. 5. (AP)— Unmentionables? Not any more.

The plunging neckline and bare shoulder dresses have brought brassieres out in the open, and manufacturers are making them to be shown.

The annual corset, brassiere and lingerie show yesterday featured built in velvet, satin, taffeta and similar fabrics. They are made for pastel shades in bright colors instead of traditional pastels.

BOYS DROWN IN POND

Reading, Pa., Feb. 5—(AP) — Two small boys drowned in a sewer drainage pond yesterday. Authorities said the narrowly escaped the same fate, told police they had gone onto the ice-covered pond to pick up coins thrown there by older boys.

Women Workers Help Patients by Recreation

Selkirk, Man., (CP) — Five women headed by Mrs. Walter H. Rice of Winnipeg, have developed a program of recreation therapy at Selkirk mental hospital.

"Volunteers in mental hospitals represent something very special to the patient," Mrs. Rice says.

"The volunteer is a concrete symbol of public acceptance. Without this acceptance, the patient must face a particularly difficult task upon leaving the hospital, one that is not necessary to people recuperating from other illnesses."

The Selkirk project grew out of a visit by Mrs. Rice to Topeka, Kans., in 1948. There Mrs. Rice became interested in helping mental patients at the state hospital. She gave classes twice a week to patients on finger-painting and clay modelling.

In July, 1949, Mrs. Rice met a group of relatives of patients in the Selkirk hospital. When she found that no volunteers were handed together to help patients, she set to work. Soon she had Mrs. Sylvan Leipsic, Miss Olga Sudoma, Miss Irene McLellan and Mrs. Anne Yarish enrolled.

When the women made their first trip to the hospital with boxes of magazines, books and cigarets, patients and staff were "astonished and delighted", Mrs. Rice recalls. With the approval of the hospital superintendent, Dr. Edward Johnson, weekly visits began.

Many Gifts

They took the patients all forms of recreational equipment, including games, records and a record-player. At Christmas more than 1,000 gifts were donated.

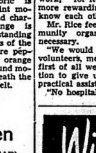
"We work with approximately 100 of the more than 1,100 patients in the institution," Mrs. Rice says. "On alternate weeks we have a dance for women.

"I should say we play, not work, for it becomes more and more apparent that we get to know each other better."

Mr. Rice feels the help of community organizations now is necessary.

"We would like to have more volunteers, men and women, but first of all we need an organization to give us some continued practical assistance.

"No hospital has too many recent books and Selkirk is no exception. We could also use records and musical instruments, because there is plenty of musical talent amongst the patients.

ONE TABLESPOONFUL
Such a little Javex makes such a big difference


Just add one tablespoon full of Javex to 2 gallons of warm water. Sponge walls, floors, woodwork, dishes, bathtub, stain-free and sweet-smelling!
3-31
Javex
CANADA'S MOST USED
BLEACHING
WASHING
CLEANSING Fluid
AT YOUR GROCER'S—
IN 4 CONVENIENT SIZES

Win your share of $500,000
NAME THIS CAKE

1st Prize $2,000
2nd Prize $1,000
3rd prize $500 4th prize $300
5th prize $150 6th prize $50
PLUS 100 other $10 Cash on Consolidation Prizes!
READ THIS RECIPE
This is a beautiful cake —three layers of delicate orange, iced with pale green frosting, decorated with flowers of orange slices, leaves of dark green cherries.
½ cup Jewel shortening
1 tsp. salt
2 eggs
grated orange rind
3 cups sifted cake flour
4 tsp. baking powder
½ cup orange juice
1 tbsp. lemon juice
½ cup milk
Cream shortening and Jewel. Add sugar, salt. Cream till fluffy. Add eggs, one by one, beating well after each. Mix in orange rind. Sift together flour, baking powder. Add alternately with liquids. Mix well. Turn into 3 well-greased 8" round cake pans. Bake in moderate oven (350°F.) about 30 minutes or until cake shrinks from sides of pan and is golden brown. Pour equal amounts of lemon icing into each. Bake 25 minutes at 350°F.
Frosting
2 egg whites
1½ cups sugar
3 tbsp. corn syrup
¼ tsp. salt
¼ cup cream of green cherries
1 tsp. vanilla
¼ cup cream rind
colouring
Place egg whites, sugar, water, salt, cream of tartar in top of double boiler. Place over boiling water. Beat till frosting stands in peaks, about 7 min. Remove from heat. Add vanilla, grated rind, food colouring. Beat 1 min. Decoration: Cut orange slices about ¼" thick. Slash from outside to centre. Shape like a rose, place on cake. Decorate with leaves of cherry slices.
SWIFT'S Jewel SHORTENING
DIGESTIBLE AND NUTRITIOUS TOO!
Swift Canadian Co. Limited

HERE'S A HAPPY CONTEST that's full of fun! You can win a huge cash prize, just by naming this cake! It's a thrilling cake to bake—fluff-light and delicious like every cake you make with Jewel, Swift's famous quick-creaming shortening!

Here's what you do to enter this easy Jewel contest. Look at the picture. Read the recipe. Think of a suitable, original name. Send in all the names you think up and let the judges decide which is a winner. With each entry send one Jewel carton top. Good right away—get Jewel at your dealer's today! Jewel is uniform because it's homogenized!

CONTEST RULES

1. Print your name for this cake, your street and number, your city, your province, and your weight on 1c postcard or sheet of paper. Address the Cake Editor, Contest P.O. Box 31, Terminal A, Toronto, Ont.
2. Contest is open to residents of Canada, except employees of Swift Canadian Co. Limited, its subsidiary companies and members of their families.
3. All entries become the property of Swift Canadian Co. Limited. 4. Mail all entries before midnight of March 17, 1951. 5. Prizes awarded for suitability and originality. 6. No one contestant may win more than one prize. In case of tie, prizes will be awarded by lot. Judges' decision is final. 7. Results will be announced in Swift Canadian Co. Limited

DISTRICT MANAGER
CLIVE L. WHITE
50 BERTRAM BLVD. BELLEVILLE, ONT.

You are invited to attend
The Spring Style Showing
(Ladies and Gentlemen)
Presented by TIP TOP TAILORS
Under the sponsorship of
AT THE CAPITOL THEATRE
The Optimist Club of Belleville
Tuesday, February 6th, 1951
Afternoon 2:30 — SHOWINGS — Evening 8:30
ADDED FEATURE . . . First Showing in Belleville of
"THE HAPPIEST DAYS OF YOUR LIFE"
(Fifteen weeks in Toronto)
Admission 50c
ALL PROCEEDS FOR BOYS' WORK IN BELLEVILLE
Door Prizes — One Lady's and One Gentleman's Suit

She Feels RIGHT!
Enjoy a SPARKLING Good "Keep-Fit" Cereal!
● Here's how you benefit when you eat Post's Bran Flakes regularly. You guard against "irregularity" often caused by lack of bulk foods in what you eat. And, you wake up fortified morning appetite. The answer? Post's — the better Bran Flakes — are GOOD TO EAT.
Supplies Bulk You Need in Your Diet
Post's Bran Flakes help provide laxative action nature's way.
Since this "Keep-Fit" cereal is made with other parts of wheat, you get wholesome wheat nourishment as well.
Tomorrow, begin the regular use of Post's Bran Flakes. Nut-sweet—deliciously different. Serve for breakfast and in many other appetizing ways. You'll be delighted with this tested recipe. Try it.
A Product of General Foods
Grandest FIG● BRAN MUFFINS You Ever Tasted!
¾ cup milk
1 cup Post's Bran Flakes
½ cup finely cut dried figs*
½ cup sifted flour
3½ teaspoons baking powder
¼ teaspoon salt
3 tablespoons sugar
1 egg, well beaten
3 tablespoons melted butter or other shortening
● Pour milk over bran and let stand 5 minutes. Add figs cut fine, measure, and baking powder. Sift flour once, measure again. Add salt and sugar to flour mixture and mix well. Add flour, butter to bran and egg mixture. Stir only enough to dampen all flour. Bake in greased muffin pans in hot oven (425°F.) for 20 to 30 minutes. Makes 10 muffins.
*prunes, dates or raisins may replace figs.
Post's BRAN-FLAKES
WITH OTHER PARTS OF WHEAT

ADVICE to the LOVELORN

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

He asked her to wait—now he calls

Ever have to wait for something you panted to have, instead? Then nothing else in life seemed worth having or doing?

Ever go along day after dreary day with your eyes fastened on a point in the future that you thought marked the end of your patient waiting and the beginning of joyous fulfillment?

And then, after all the waiting and the patience, have you ever had the devastating experience of seeing happiness slip away from you at the very moment you had every reason to believe it was there for your taking?

If you have, then you can understand exactly how the girl feels whose friend tells her pitiful story in the following letter. You can understand about her, too, can tell her what to do?

"I am writing about friend about whom I am deeply concerned that I'm afraid if some solution isn't found she will become neurotic," the letter begins and goes on to say:

"She is a very attractive girl in her late thirties who has always had to work to help support others, and so never had the opportunity to marry. For several years she has been employed by a man whose wife has been a helpless invalid. When this man's wife first became an invalid, the doctor told him that she would live at most six months. When he learned this, he asked this girl if she would marry him when he was free, as he loved her deeply. She promised that she would.

Mutual Agreement

"The illness dragged on, however, and it was not until recently, after seven years, that the wife died. During all this time, the girl waited faithfully. There never was any talk of marriage, at least in any sense of the word; they just had a mutual agreement.

"Toward the end of the seven years, the man seemingly began to turn against her. The struggle between fits of proclaiming his deep love for her and keeping the whole thing off. Since his wife's death, and after she has sacrificed all these years, he says that he seems inclined to want to get out of their agreement. He doesn't put it in so many words, but seems to indicate it by these queer moods.

"Of course he has been understandably upset by all these years with this illness, but all the plans that he talked over with the girl seem to be shelved now, and he talks of going away, with no mention of including her in any of his future plans.

"Does it seem likely that a man who considers himself decent and honorable would do this thing to my friend after insisting all these years that he wanted to marry her, and asking her not to go with anyone else? Or is this a natural reaction from the years of strain which will disappear after he has had time to adjust himself?

"I'm afraid the girl will lose her mind if he doesn't marry her after a suitable interval. She has come to me with her problem and truthfully I do not know how to advise or comfort her. What would be your advice?"

Can't Figure Out Attitude

Now the first thought I have in regard to this situation takes the form of a question. That question is, how well, actually, does this girl know this man?

If the question sounds a bit strange, in view of their seven years' friendship, let me hasten to say that it is perfectly possible she might have associated with him all that time without ever really getting to know him. And it strikes me that she can't really know him, if she is so totally unable to figure out his attitude now.

As I see it, there are just two ways of accounting for the man's recent behavior, both of which the friend has already mentioned in her letter. One is that he is in such a state of nervous and emotional collapse after the gruelling years through which he has just passed that all his thinking has been thrown into complete confusion. As the saying goes, he "doesn't know where he is" about anything. What he says about going away, suggests that his greatest desire at present is to escape from everything and every one associated in his mind with his long period of turmoil and tension. The other is that his feelings have changed for some reason and he no longer wants to marry the girl. Afraid to tell her in so many words, he chooses the easier, weaker way of trying to brush her off.

To my way of thinking, if the girl knew him as intimately as seven years of friendship would suggest, she should have some idea, at least, which of these two possibilities were the more likely. If she has always known him as a man of strong character, who would be honest, sincere and trustworthy in any sort of situation, she might well assume the first of them to be correct, and make up her mind to give him the time he needs to get back to his normal self again. On the other hand, if she has ever had cause to believe him otherwise: If she has observed things in the way he conducts himself whether in business or personal relationships, that have at times given her uneasy doubt; then she might have good grounds for suspecting the second possibility. In this case, my advice would be for her to ask him flatly if this is so.

Patience, Self-restraint

Under the first supposition, what she will need is just a little more of that patience she has had to practise so long. And to patience she will have to add self-restraint, so that she will not try to hurry him through his difficult time of readjustment nor press him for decisions or attitudes of which he is not now capable. All this will be hard, of course; but surely not nearly so hard as before, when things dragged on with no end in sight.

But if, on looking back over the years, she finally comes to the conclusion that only a completely frank statement of fact from him will clear matters up, and she gets an answer that dashes all her hopes of the happiness on which she has set her heart, she will have to gather the strength to take herself in hand. Surely a woman who has had the endurance to hold unswervingly to a single purpose for seven years, can summon that same power of endurance to accomplish a new purpose—that of building a new life for herself.

Luxurious Lingerie

Durable nylon tricot slip

By GRACE THORNCLIFFE

ELEGANT though this nylon tricot slip is, it is geared to give plenty of wear with a minimum of upkeep. Permanently pleated net (double over the bust) is at top and hem. Lace banding is used in decorative fashion at the top and banding the pleated flange at the hem. The color is tea rose with lace dyed to match.

GOOD MANNERS

By MRS. BERCKMAN

Bride's "spinster dinner" same idea of greeting as "shower" for single

Dear Mrs. Beec

What is a "spinster dinner"? I've just received a note of invitation to a spinster dinner from a friend of mine who is to be married soon. But, since I am married, I wonder if I'm supposed to be invited. Please explain.

Viola M

In some localities the bride-to-be—who is the spinster—gives a "spinster dinner" for her friends the way the groom-to-be—who is the bachelor—gives a "bachelor dinner" for his friends. And very often these two dinners are given on the same evening. But "spinster" applies to the hostess and "bachelor" applies to the host . . . and the guests at either dinner may be married or unmarried. (Wedding attendants are always invited to these dinners, and often wedding attendants are married.

Invitations to a dance given by several couples

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

Three other couples and my husband and I are planning to give a quiet formal dance at the Country Club, and we would like to have engraved invitations. In what order should our names be engraved on the invitations? And will you please give the correct form for the invitation? (We particularly wonder about how to indicate to whom the replies are to be mailed.)

Phyllis W.

If, as I judge, the couples giving the dance are of the same generation, the names should be engraved in alphabetical order. (But if there is considerable difference in age, the names of the older couples should, courteously, be given first.) This is the form:

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Allen
Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Graham
Mr. and Mrs. Charles Williams
Mr. and Mrs. David request the pleasure of your company at a small dance on Saturday, the seventh of April at ten o'clock

The Dale Country Club
R.s.v.p.
Mrs. Charles Williams
123 Fourth Street

One friend the best man; other friend, the head usher

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

I am a bridegroom-to-be, and we are planning to have a large formal church wedding. I have no brother to be my best man, but I have two very close friends with whom I went to college, and I would very much like to have both as "best men." Would this be correct?

George B.

No, sir, this isn't correct. However, since your wedding is to be a large formal wedding, you will have a group of ushers, and you will ask one to take the responsibility of being the head usher. So I suggest you invite one friend to be your best man, and the other to have the also-important position of head usher.

BEAUTY

"Walk in' Beauty"

The hip-swinger is an exhibitionist.

Some day when you are out sleuthing for gay and decorative dry goods, stop in your tracks and watch the shopping world go by. Take note of the various methods used by the sisters to get where they are going. There are many ways of walking, most of them wrong. A woman may find it easy to practise posture principles when standing or sitting, but she may be all wrong when it comes to the matter of locomotion.

Consider the waddler. Her trouble is that she doesn't keep her feet close enough together. From the waist upward, she swings. Her torso, shoulders and arms seem to be pulling her legs forward. The effect is awkward and clumsy. She should have enough self-respect to pull up her backbone, walk with spirit and grace. The habit means that muscles that should be used will become flabby, fat cells will accumulate, and her figure will be ruined.

There is the knee-bender whose walk is jerky. The hip is the thing to be brought into action, not the knee. This manner of getting places might well be called the jumping-jack method.

Many cuties think it is arty to mince along, taking little short steps, as if they were small children. They bring the toes down first instead of the heels. This causes unnecessary fatigue, and it is not pretty.

In contrast we have the woman who pounds along. You will notice that she carries much of her weight with the upper portion held fairly far back, so that her weight is not properly distributed, body lines are out of balance. It is impossible for this type to appear smart and well-dressed. The most MARIO . . . in his distinctive feature about Food . . . What's Cooking?

It's been nearly ten centuries since physicians prescribed hamburgers for colds.

Not only medical practice but hamburgers have changed in the meantime. Hamburgers then were simply chopped meat served in a sauce somewhat like our own meat sauce.

Meat sauce with spaghetti and Parmesan cheese is a universally popular dish which a homemaker can cheerfully prescribe for the family table any time.

In today's recipe the sauce, the cooked spaghetti and cheese are baked together until the cheese has browned. As a time saver, prepared tomato sauce is used.

Avoid overcooking the spaghetti or it will be sticky and starchy. The meat may be all beef or a combination of beef and veal, if desired. Spaghetti and meat sauce prepared in this manner should be served piping hot directly from the baking dish at the table.

Baked Spaghetti and Meat Sauce
Serves 4.

Vegetable fat
1-2 cup finely chopped onion
1-2 teaspoon finely chopped garlic
1-2 cup finely chopped green pepper
3-4 lb. ground beef
1-2 teaspoon oregano, chopped
2 eight ounce cans tomato sauce
1-2 pound thin spaghetti
Salt—pepper
1-4 cup grated Parmesan cheese
Salad oil
Paprika

Melt 2 tablespoons fat in a heavy saucepan. Add the onion, garlic and green pepper. Saute until onion turns yellow.

Add the beef and oregano. Add 1 teaspoon salt and 1-4 teaspoon ground black pepper. Cook slowly until meat loses red color, stirring frequently. Add the tomato sauce and simmer 5 minutes. Skim off excess fat.

Plunge the spaghetti into 3 quarts rapidly boiling water to which 2 tablespoons salt have been added. Stir well. Cook 8 to 10 minutes or until just tender. Drain. Rinse well in very hot water. Drain well.

Turn the spaghetti into a greased baking dish. Pour the meat sauce over the spaghetti. Sprinkle cheese on top. Sprinkle lightly with paprika and with salad oil.

Place in a moderate oven 375 degrees 20 to 25 minutes or until cheese is browned.

Fashion Flashes

ONE OF THE BEST wardrobe pals we have seen this season is a slender sheath of sheer gray wool tucked from low oval neckline to hem. The steel-gray matching belt is studded with rhinestones.

CRISP fabrics, such as silk taffeta, are very much in the limelight for evening. Navy blue taffeta for a fitted coat. Full of skirt, and slim through the bodice, it is worn over a matching sheath dress with lace top.

IT'S FUN to invest in a black silk jersey sheath—sleeveless, deep of neck, and with a halter top—and then dress it up with stoles, overskirts and various tops and blousettes. Makes for a wide variety of changes at a modest outlay.

SURFACE INTEREST continues to mark good millinery. White hatter's plush, clipped and then ridged to give a circular, overall effect, is used for a neat cloche that is tipped slightly at either side, and trimmed with white velvet ribbon that ties at the top in a bow.

IT TAKES SEVERAL components to make the fabric of some of the new swim suits. For instance, we saw a strapless, one-piece suit that looked like a handknit in a shell pattern, but was actually made of a fabric that included wool, rubber, nylon and cotton.

NATURAL-COLOR wool jersey has been worked into an ever-so-smart dress that falls in easy folds from neck to hem. Folds are held at the waist with a red cobra belt. Long sleeves and pockets are hidden in the skirt folds.

500 CHICKS LOST BY FIRE

Dorking, Ont., Feb. 2 (CP)—Fire from an overheated brooder stove Friday night destroyed a colony house and 500 two-week-old chicks on the farm of Gerard McDonald near here. The blaze was discovered after Mr. and Mrs. McDonald returned from a dance in Macton.

MARMORA

Marmora — Mrs. L. R. Bourne (nee Joan Shannon) left on Friday to return to her home in Victoria B.C.

Circle Two of St. Andrew's Women's Association held a "Gypsy Tea" and bake sale at which there was also fancy work, in the church hall, on Friday afternoon.

Mr. John Kennedy is a patient in St. Joseph's Hospital, Peterborough.

Mrs. R. E. Maloney, Mr. Paul Maloney and Miss Rita Maloney were in Toronto on Friday, and attended the Ice Follies.

LATTA

Latta — Mrs. W. E. Tummon, Foxboro; Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Prewer and Donna, of Belleville, visited on Mr. and Mrs. Harry McCready on Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Ron Lott and Mrs. W. Elliott called at Belleville General Hospital on Monday afternoon to visit Mrs. Thompson and Mr. Reid.

Elliott, who are patients there.

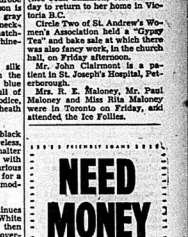
Mrs. A. Wallace left Tuesday for Oshawa. She had been at Mrs. James McCreary's for some time and will now live with her son.

The Rhythm Ranch Riders entertained a large audience in the Hall on Wednesday evening. Proceeds were in aid of the

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Chisholm and Shirley and Mrs. Fred Hall spent the weekend in Whitby and Toronto.

FAMOUS BRAIN

Albert Einstein was 26 years old when he produced his first paper on the theory of relativity in 1905.



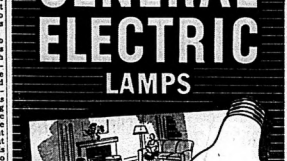
If your need is really real, your request sincere and help you to secure quickly the best type of loan for you. Don't be shabby or red-tape at Niagara Finance . . . many loans being made in 20 minutes. Four loan plans have been designed for your convenience and repayments can be spread over many months. Rates are reasonable and loans up to $1,000 are life-insured at no extra cost. Don't hesitate in writing for you whenever you call . . . and the friendly quick service will surprise you.

NIAGARA FINANCE COMPANY LTD.
A Name and Service known to Thousands
W. R. PERRY Local Manager
34 Bridge Street East
Phone 4665

WAKE UP MORNINGS LIKE A CAVE MAN

Get relief from constipation—indigestion. Positive results from NATURE-AIDS. Proven by tens of thousands. FRUIT-A-TIVES contain extracts of fruits and herbs.

GENERAL ELECTRIC LAMPS



Try this "light test" in your living room

Try reading in every chair in the room. Wherever you have difficulty reading, add more or larger G-E lamp bulbs.

CANADIAN GENERAL ELECTRIC COMPANY LIMITED

Cosmetics Cost Money!

Look Lovely! You can buy the finest quality lipsticks, creams and face powders with the money saved on MARGENE . . . $120.00 to $30.00 per year for the average family.

MARGENE is delicious on hot toast, bread or vegetables. It is nutritionally enriched with 15,000 units of Vitamin A and 4,000 units of Vitamin D. Your family will like Margene's sweet, fresh flavour.

SERVE

AND SAVE

"The Secret of Flavour is Freshness!"

A PRODUCT OF CANADA PACKERS

Letters Are Pouring In To Say

New, Better than ever Sunlight makes more suds . . . faster!

Yes . . . everybody agrees . . . it's the finest, fastest-working Sunlight they've ever used!

No wonder NEW Sunlight's bigger flakes dissolve faster—it's all pure! That's why it makes more suds faster. And, those dirt-chasing suds really make quick work of any soap and water job.

YES, NEW SUNLIGHT GETS WASHES WHITER

YES, NEW SUNLIGHT GETS DISHES, POTS AND PANS BRIGHTER

That extra-snappy Sunlight sends dirt s'flying in a jiffy. And, because it's all pure it's kind to everything it touches. Get all pure, extra-snappy Sunlight today and see for yourself.

YES, NEW SUNLIGHT MAKES WORK LIGHTER

Get New SUNLIGHT Today!

BULLETINS FROM BIRDLAND

BY WINIFRED E. WILSE

ASSORTED COLORS

Much excitement greets any brightly colored bird courageous enough to put in an appearance at this cold, snowy time of year, when Canada's bird population is at its lowest. The sunny south has attracted the vast majority of birds born here during summer heat; and those remaining are mostly the inconspicuous kinds. Even the male goldfinch is no longer yellow, but a greyish green. Birds breeding in the far north that spend the winter in settled Canada are pretty well camouflaged to suit the climate; it is difficult to spot a snow bunting in its white costume splotched with black and tan.

At any season, brown predominates, for the large sparrow family must be included, besides thrushes, wrens, brown thrashers, and...while brown creepers. Quite a number of Canadian birds are black and white, as several species of woodpecker, a warbler, and a chickadee. Grey is a favorite color here too, as the catbird, the chimney swift, the slate-colored junco, and some vireos. The fact is, our birds are not usually as brilliant as those found in the tropics.

How glad we are when the season for the return of the warblers comes around! Not only are they very colored, but are marked conspicuously and interestingly, one with splashes of yellow on a grey and white background, another with flame-color patches on black plumage. Blue, chestnut, orange, green — few with any one solid color — these sprightly little jewels of Birdland are a joy to the eye.

We count also as good Canadians the gorgeous scarlet tanager, the handsome grosbeaks, both rose-breasted in the wonderful black and white suit, and evening, in attractive yellow, black, and white, the vivid orange and black Baltimore oriole, the bright blue, black, & white plaid blue jay, the colorful cardinal.

The iridescence in the green of the tree swallow and the tiny ruby-throated hummingbird, in the blue of the bluebird, indigo bunting, and barn swallow, in that mixture of green and purple of the grackle — all these are not just a pleasure to the eye, but a marvel.

How do such beautiful colors come about? Even the scientists find that difficult to answer. They say browns, yellows, reds, and blacks are due to the coloring matter, or "pigment," in the vane of each feather. But blue, and nearly all green feathers contain brownish pigment in a little case, beneath which lies a layer of conelike prisms that catch and change the brown to blue or green.

SCOHARIE

Scoharie— Mr. and Mrs. Will Shaw, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Shaw and Wayne, Ivanhoe, where Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Will McGee.

Mrs. Donald Jandrew and Brenda were Friday guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Stone.

Mrs. John Shaw returned to the home of her sister, Mrs. Welbanks, Picton, after a few days with her daughter, Mrs. Ralph Stone and Mr. Stone.

Rose Foster arrived home Friday night from Toronto for the weekend.

Miss Margaret Collier, South Bay, spent the supper hour on Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Harry Foster and Rose and accompanied them to Belleville Sunday evening when Rose returned to Toronto. Miss Collier was going to Toronto for a week's holiday with friends to attend the Ice Follies.

The Live Women's Circle are planning a pot luck supper at Greer Church, Thursday evening, Feb. 8th.

Patsy and Henry Leavitt were among the young people enjoying a bus trip to Toronto on Wednesday when they visited the "Happy Gang" and saw the "Ice Follies".

Mrs. Harry Foster called on Mrs. Lewis Greene Monday afternoon and found her much improved.

MADOC

Madoc—Mr. and Mrs. Keith Smith, Miss Helen Smith, of Peterborough, spent Sunday with Mrs. Everett Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. Al Lucas and Miss Linda, of Belleville, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. B. Tanner.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Wellington and their son, Alex, and Mrs. Wellington, of New York, visited Mr. and Mrs. George West, on Sunday.

A number of young people of Madoc and vicinity attended the Ice Follies, in Toronto, on Thursday night, having chartered a bus for the trip.

CURRENCY UNIT

The bolivar, equal to 30 cents in United States money, is the unit of currency in Venezuela.

Belleville Merchants' Directory

CONTEST

The Merchants Advertising on This Page Are Co-operating in this Contest Which Gives its Readers an Opportunity of Winning a Weekly Prize of $5.00

$5.00 FREE Every Week

HERE'S HOW YOU WIN:

Each week in one of the advertisements a word will be "Scrambled." Read the advertisements, find the scrambled word, unscramble it, and send it with the name of the advertiser in whose ad, it appeared to the "Contest Editor," Ontario Intelligencer, Box 190, Belleville. All answers must be in by the THURSDAY following publication, and winner will be announced the next week in the Business Directory. The winner will be drawn from among the correct answers, and a cheque for $5.00 mailed promptly. No members of the staff of the Ontario Intelligencer or their families are eligible for a prize.

LAST WEEK'S WINNER

Mrs. Elizabeth Clark

MADOC — ONTARIO

SCRAMBLED WORD

BELLEVILLE

IN THE ADVERTISEMENT OF

UPTOWN

TIRE and BATTERY SERVICE

301 PINNACLE ST. — PHONE 2288

COMPLETE LINE OF SMALL WATERCRAFT

Agents for

EVINRUDE OUTBOARD MOTORS

BOATS

A COMPLETE LINE OF SMALL WATERCRAFT

Made in Peterborough by the CANADIAN CANOE CO. LTD.

Belleville Agents for EVINRUDE OUTBOARD MOTORS

The Motor with all the finest features

UPTOWN

TIRE and BATTERY SERVICE

301 Pinnacle St. Phone 2288

BELLEVILLE

WALLPAPER

BRIGHTEN UP YOUR HOME WITH

- Modern Doors
- Ramsay's Paints
- Wallpapers
- Floor Coverings
- Venetian Blinds

EARL DARRAH

Wallpaper and Paints

56 BRIDGE ST. EAST

(Opp. the Post Office)

WATCH REPAIRS

WHY SEARCH FOR

GOOD WATCH REPAIRING

We know what makes 'em Tick, and how to Repair 'em when they don't.

PAUL MERCIER

McCarthy Theatre Bldg.

Phone 3353

AUTO SPRING SERVICE

We Supply and Install All Makes of CAR, BUS and TRUCK

SPRINGS

RE-ARCHING A SPECIALTY

24 Hours of Service

PHONE 69, DAY 4468-W, NIGHT

FOLEY FOUNDRY AND MACHINE CO., LTD.

368 Front St. BELLEVILLE

REPAIRS

WHEN IN NEED OF REPAIRS

Call 83 — Belleville

MACHINE SHOP — WELDING ELECTRICIANS

Steel, Brass, Aluminum, Wire, Electric and Gas Welding Supplies —

Gas and Equipment— Bottled Gas — Sales

THE GREENLEAF CO.

19 Foundry St. Phone 83

Repairing for Belleville and Vicinity for Over 65 Years

TIRES

IT'S TIME TO RE-TIRE YOUR CAR

DRIVE IN NOW FOR TIRES FOR EVERY PURPOSE.

DELINE'S TIRE SHOP

253 Coleman St. Phone 3311

AUTO ELECTRIC

WE SPECIALIZE in Complete Carburetor, Windshield Wiper and Ignition Service

MAGNETO REPAIRS

- Accurate Data
- Modern Equipment

QUINTE BATTERY SERVICE STATION

4 Dundas E. Phone 3450

HEATING

STOKERS — OIL BURNERS — AIR CONDITIONING

PLUMBING & HEATING CONTRACTORS

DOBBS

PLUMBING & HEATING LIMITED

12 Victoria Ave. Phone 3304

CLEANERS

BE MODERN

MODERN CLEANERS and DYERS

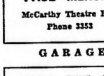
Phone 2277

EXCLUSIVE "FORMULA" CLEANING

GO MODERN

GARAGE

MOTOR TUNE UP?



CLASS "A" MECHANICS ONLY

or MAJOR OVERHAUL?

GENUINE PARTS AND ACCESSORIES FOR ALL FORD PRODUCTS

BELLEVILLE MOTOR CAR COMPANY LIMITED

Bridge & Coleman. Phone 887

MOTORS

ELECTRIC MOTORS

We carry a large stock of NEW and USED MOTORS — BLOWERS — EXHAUST FANS — SPECIALTY ING FANS PEDESTAL FANS — CEILING FANS, DESK FANS and BENCH GRINDERS.

We are also the agents in this district for CENTRY MOTORS and we carry a large stock of parts for all makes of motors. We have a well equipped shop for repairing any electric motor and are ready to buy, sell, exchange or repair any make of motor at any time. ALL WORK GUARANTEED.

NO JOB TOO LARGE — NO JOB TOO SMALL

Phone: DAY or NIGHT 789

R. P. ORNE'S

ELECTRIC MOTOR SERVICE

360 BLEECKER AVE. BELLEVILLE

SPORTS

STEPHEN LICENCE LIMITED

299 FRONT STREET

WINTER SPORTS FOR WINTER

See our HOCKEY STICKS and HOCKEY EQUIPMENT

Bicycles and Wheel Toys for Winter and Spring

Accessories — Tires — Tubes — Lamps — Bells — Baskets.

BUILDING

LUMBER ROOFING INSULATION

E. D. MOTT LUMBER & BUILDERS' SUPPLIES

370 Front St. Phone 1633

GARAGE

Now . . . YOU CAN BUY

REPAIRS and ACCESSORIES CONVENIENT PAYMENTS

on the GMAC PLAN

— ENQUIRE TODAY —

H. W. GOURLEY MOTORS LIMITED

24 Dundas Street West BELLEVILLE

Phone 3570

AUTO REPAIRS

AUTO

GLASS

SEAT COVERS

ALL TYPES AUTO ACCESSORIES

TUFFCOTE

THE NEW PLASTICIZED AUTO FINISH

SHERRY AUTO PARTS

143 PINNACLE ST.

Phone 1489

DAIRY

BODY BUILDING MILK and CREAM

REID'S DAIRY

Phone 2240

JOB PRINTING

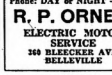
JOB PRINTING

FOR WEDDING INVITATIONS BUSINESS FORMS or PRINTING ANY KIND

Phone 4600

JOB PRINTING ONTARIO INTELLIGENCER

MEAT



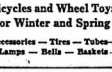
WHEN YOU BUY MEAT for QUALITY, FRIENDLINESS, CLEANLINESS

Shop at

BLACK'S MEAT MARKET

23 Bridge St. E. Phone 1761

RADIO REPAIRS



GUARANTEED RADIO and WASHER REPAIRS

FOR "BETTER" SERVICE CALL

BOOTH RADIO

121 Front St. Phone 150

PLUMBING

SINK SPECIAL!

Steel Enamel FLAT RIM SINKS

Size 16" x 24" x 6" with DUPLEX STRAINERS

While They Last!

$9.50 each

CHAS. L. HYDE & SON LIMITED

292 Front St. Phone 28

LAUNDRY

9 LBS. DRY CLOTHES WET WASHED IN 20 MINS. For 50c

DRIED READY FOR IRONING 60c

WASHED and COMPLETELY FLUFF DRIED IN 1 HOUR 70c

Fresh Bleach Supplied if Required

Pick-up and Delivery Service

30-MINUTE ECONOMY LAUNDRY

19 FOOTBRIDGE

Phone 914

RADIO REPAIRS

RADIO REPAIRS THAT MAKE YOUR RADIO WORK LIKE NEW

"The home of General Electric in Belleville"

T. A. TUCKER & CO.

217 Front St. Phone 772

ELECTRIC

FOR ALL

ELECTRIC WIRING

and

APPLIANCES

SEE

W. H. OLIPHANT

(NEXT TO LOBLAW'S)

Phone 1209

GARAGE

CHEVROLET OLDSMOBILE CADILLAC

Genuine General Motors Parts. Accessories

COMPLETE GARAGE SERVICE

J. B. BOYCE AND SONS LTD.

348-350 Front St. Phone 704

No Finer Garage Service Anywhere "At Any Price"

SERVICE STATION

GAS 'N' OIL . . . ?

TRY OUR B.A. SERVICE STATION for GAS — OIL — GREASING

BONN MOTOR SALES

163 Dundas St. E. Phone 4500

USED CARS

IF YOU DON'T KNOW AUTOMOBILES KNOW YOUR DEALER

WEST END MOTOR SALES

KINGSTON ROAD

Phone 3766

DRUG STORE

PRESCRIPTIONS

Accurately and Carefully Filled

OUR MODERN Sipedsanry and Qualified Druggists assure you of PERFECT SATISFACTION

See our complete line of —Toiletries — Cosmetics — Stationery

SCHRYVER'S PHARMACY

226 Front St. Phone 43

AMBULANCE

BUSH'S

AMBULANCE SERVICE

Two Completely Equipped Ambulances

24-HOUR SERVICE

HOSPITAL BEDS — WHEEL CHAIRS TO RENT.

Operated by the

BELLEVILLE BURIAL CO.

FUNERAL HOME

PHONE 3190

Six Priests Said Sent to Prison In Czechoslovakia

Prague, Feb. 5 (AP)—Six Roman Catholic priests were reported today to have been sent to prison for treason and espionage in the fifth group trial of clergymen to be held in Czechoslovakia within 10 months.

The official news agency said they drew terms ranging from 6 to 12 years after a hearing conducted in Prague state court during the last few days.

The agency reported that other defendants, whose number it did not give, were sentenced to prison terms varying from three to nine years.

The group, the agency said, "carried out the criminal policy of the Vatican, which was to drag our people back to capitalist exploitation."

16 Governmmt And 11 Private Bills Introduced

Toronto, Feb. 5 (CP) — Ontario's legislative machinery was primed for operation, when 16 government and 11 private member bills were introduced and given first reading yesterday.

Some of the government bills are expected to be moved for second reading Monday.

Among the bills were proposals to:

Increase grants by municipalities to training schools and boost provincial support of the Roman Catholic training school.

Control stone, sand and gravel quarries on Crown lands.

Amend procedure governing town planning by-laws.

Include non-teaching school employees in the law requiring compulsory medical examinations for teachers.

Give broader powers of regulation and investigation to the Ontario Racing Commission.

Other government bills introduced dealt with day nurseries, appointment of solicitors as justices of the peace, provision for another judge in Wentworth County, maintenance orders for deserted wives and children, sale of land in subdivisions, unclaimed articles, township school sites, educational education, municipal sales of industrial lands and civil service pension plans.

Private members' bills introduced yesterday will be up for await appointment of a committee to deal with them. Appointment of a committee to consider sessional committees will be discussed Monday.

Field Newspaper Being Issued For Canadians

With the Canadians in Korea, Feb. 5—(CP)—The first issue of a field newspaper produced by Canadian Army Korea Union Hill Street Sunday—the street being a Korean mountainside where the Patricia's have their HQ.

Named the Maple Leaf like predecessors produced in Italy, Belgium and Britain during the last war, the paper is being edited temporarily by Maj. Don Grant of Vancouver, L. Cpl. A. R. M. Davis of Vancouver and Cpl. Cartoonist Cpl. Kerry Dunphy of Carleton Place, Ont., contributes a column titled Dunphy Digs Dirt and Besides unit gossip, the paper carried a report on the world news. It is mimeographed.

An editorial note says it is hoped Canadians in Korea will be forthcoming soon: "A daily news is currently being cabled to Tokyo for inclusion in commonwealth news broadcasts each night. Since our radio facilities do not enable us to receive this, an effort is being made to keep the unit sent straight to us and news from home will be published in this paper. Sport scorers will be included."

TINY TIM

WINDOW BOX TOMATO

For pots, boxes or baskets only. Tiny Tim is a dwarf tomato that grows 6 inches high, loaded with clusters of bright red fruits. Ideal for table decoration. Pkt. 25c.

Tim grow you fabulous yield of 6 to 8 pkts. packed with seeds of 6 best tomatoes for open or outdoor culture. Pkt. 25c.

FREE with $50 YEH SEED ORDER

DOMINION SEED HOUSE
GUELPH, ONT.

"PLAYING BALL" THE HARD WAY!

Away up in Labrador you don't let a little thing like sub-zero weather and howling winds keep you from your favorite sport . . . even if it is softball. When the U.S.A.F. and R.C.A.F. servicemen at Goose Bay decided to play a challenge ball game recently they just pulled on their parkas and mitts, scraped on their snowshoes, cleared a couple of tons of snow off their baseball diamond and went to it, with Canucks emerging as winners, 5-0. The Americans had encountered extreme difficulty in mastering the art of running with snowshoes which didn't really lend themselves to the fast trip from the plate to first base. Consequently many a hit was nipped in the bud before the runner could get adjusted and in control of his pedal extremities. In the above photo, Leading Aircraftsman D. R. Berner of Hamilton, Ont., is seen taking a cut at a high one while the unidentified U.S.A.F. catcher awaits the arrival of the ball. The umpire is Col. R. V. Williams of the U.S. Air Force. — Central Press Canadian.

RAWDON

Mrs. Percy MacMullen Gives Fine Talk on "Agriculture".

Rawdon—Mrs. Ed Kent was hostess for the February meeting of River Valley Women's Institute. Despite the snow storm and the adverse weather conditions, there were 22 members and five children in attendance.

The president, Mrs. Don Donohoe conducted the opening devotional and business.

Mrs. J. L. Donohoe reported one new member and read the minutes and report of treasury. The Secretarmit book was displayed and Mrs. Roy Bush asked for pictures and clippings of the Valley community. She hopes to complete the book in early spring.

Three ladies offered their homes for quiltings each to be responsible for one quilt.

Mrs. Harold Morgan will be convener for 'Home and Country'. The members not in attendance at the meetings will receive theirs by mail.

The March meeting will be held at River Valley school house in the evening and each lady is asked to bring refreshments. The roll call will be "What to do When Tireazers" . . . Suggestions for the program will be in charge of Mrs. Percy Utman and Mrs. Clarence Kent.

Mrs. John Kane read a letter re the district project of a scholarship. Plans to be discussed further. She also gave a report of the "Information Rally" held in Peterborough. She gave the rotation of officers and annuals and it will be River Valley's turn to entertain the District Annual in 1952.

A letter of greeting from Mrs. Porteous to new W.I. provincial president, was read.

Helps School Children

Mrs. Reg. Coombes, teacher at the local school, was asked to give some suggestions as ways of helping the school children. She suggested paper drapes for windows, records, scrap books, painting materials, artificial flowers, and a prize for perfect attendance.

The program was based on "Agriculture" and the co-convener, Mrs. Fred McDonnell, presided. The roll call "Destruction of weed seeds" met with a splendid response and suggestions and various good methods were presented. article "Pie for the Threshers" . . . Mrs. Sheldon McIntosh read an article which was an interesting story of real life.

The convener of agriculture, Mrs. Percy MacMullen, gave a 20 minute resume of "Problems Confronting Agriculture in Ontario"

She dealt with the subject under six headings . . . the farmer was taken for granted, advertising, farm help, weeds and time. She said in part—"If agriculture is to succeed in this day and age it is up to the women of the Institutes to read and study and work together with their husbands in order to win a worthy place in the world today." In a recent printed article by the writer stated "The Farmers' Association is a better and more aggressive organization since the women took their feminine interest to the group.

Agriculture Basic Industry

Agriculture is the basic industry and the large population of Ontario could not exist without the food produced on the farms. The speaker urged that food be exported to other lands and so combat communism and its evils. Speaking on nutrition it has been found by experts that each person needs the products from at least two acres of land in order to maintain good health.

Soil

Soil is the foundation of the nation and institute members are urged not to exploit the farms but to look ahead for coming generations and conserve both, soil and trees. The motto for Home and Country is worth remembering.

It takes 400 years to make an inch of soil, so farmers should grow more grass crops and not allow the good earth to run off in the soil.

Those who till the soil know it is up to them to do all they can in the way of planting their crops and preparing the seed bed and then they must have an abundance of faith in Divine Power that the crops will grow and mature. Another point is the use of commercial fertilizers, co-operatively will help to solve the soil problem.

The world takes the farmer for granted. He is expected to produce food which could be bought cheaply, whether he produced it at a profit or loss. No one cares if the farmer, his wife, his sons and daughters, have any remuneration for their labor. If they will produce food on a non-profit basis all is well and good.

Mrs. MacMullen gave direct instances of unfairness to the farmer and contended that the farmer's wife should be privileged to set her own price for the eggs she sells. After all, she pays the other chaps their price for all the articles she purchases.

Middleman Reduced

In reports of Farm Forums they all agree that middlemen should be reduced to a minimum. Many forums urge low quality goods, attractively packaged and priced accordingly in order that the low income consumer could have nourishing food. The speaker gave a picture of the big discrepancy between scratch grain, laying mash and what is realized for a dozen of eggs and then in comparison to the prices the consumer pay after the eggs are graded. She urged the organization of Farm Forum groups where the farm family can discuss their problems and assert themselves for reasonable prices and a decent profit. Everyone knows it is a far better arrangement for all when the prices of everything are at a medium level.

Advertising

Mrs. MacMullen said "manufacturers spend huge sums for advertising and I have displayed several large ads to prove her point, but good nourishing food is taken for granted.

Take Canadian cheese, what isn't more of it served at rural banquets? Why isn't is packaged in small parcels direct from the factories ready for the consumer?

Good wholesome nourishing butter—how many consumers ask their quota of one pound per person per week regularly?

How many women use substitutes without studying the nutritional value? Does a few cents saved make up for the loss in value to their family? How many farmers are guilty of selling their cream and losing substitutes?

Some day perhaps an all dairy substitute equal in price and quality will come on the market. She also gave a picture of he food value of a dozen eggs and good Ontario apples. She concluded a farmer should be able to enjoy all kinds of nourishing food for he has it at first cost.

Labor-Systems

The best farm help are the boys and girls who grow up on the farms and know the how, when, and why of it all. She gave a picture of the new loafing barns for cattle in western Ontario, and the new one recently erected on the High Shore Road, east of Picton. There barns and various other modernized equipment is all helping to solve this problem but it isn't likely the farmer and his family will ever be able to have a 40 hour week

No farmer should expect all of his family to remain on the land. There are always those who fit better into other occupations and if that is their choice, then they should not be coaxed to remain on the land.

The weed that grow by the wayside and on the farms of careless neighbors are a constant menace. Every year farmers have to combat new weeds, new diseases and new pests that prey on agricultural crops and livestock. There are many labor-saving sprays, medicines and treatments on the market today. Here is where the farmer's wife can help as she can study this in her leisure work.

Each farm family will have to solve the time problem to their own satisfaction. They will have to decide if they are going to be always rushed or if they are going to take time to read, study and broaden their outlook.

Despite all these problems, you have more independence on the farm than anywhere else. The farmers of today are stewards of the land and some day it will be passed on to others. She quoted excerpts from various young people's essays, each one about farming. A young chap from Peterborough said, "a farmer's son is one of the luckiest fellows in the world."

The farm family can enjoy nature at its best, they work as a unit and are free from the strain of industry duties, no clock to punch and no heavy traffic to and from work.

Then, too, they see the results of their labors and get a great deal of satisfaction of achievement. The speaker said a great deal more on this vital subject which proved that "farming" is the best independent life in America.

After the program closed the hostess and lunch committee served fruit, tread, jellies and tarts.

Several ladies brought a gift for one of their members who is ill in hospital.

Mrs. Roy Bush voiced thanks to the hostess for hospitality, to lunch committee for delicious refreshments, and to the agricultural convener for her program and educational measure.

TWO FATALLY BURNED

St. Johnsbury, Vt., Feb. 5—(AP) A brother and sister were fatally burned Sunday when an oil burner exploded and flames swept through a five-family house in nearby Lyndonville. The victims were Marsina Rae Mandeau, 5, and her brother Douglas, 2.

Chou Declares U.N. Resolutiou 'Null and Void'

Tokyo, Feb. 5 — (AP)— Red China's premier today said the United States "and its accomplices" have blocked the road to peace in Korea with their United Nations resolution branding the Peiping regime as aggressor.

Chou En Lai, second in command in communist China, said in a broadcast reassert that Peiping considers the U. N. resolution "illegal, slanderous and void."

His warned that Peiping "will absolutely pay no attention" to the U. N. "good offices" committee set up to try to find a basis for peace.

This was the first official Chinese communist reaction to the U. N.'s aggressor resolution, adopted at Lake Success Thursday by an assembly vote of 44-7. The statement was broadcast by Peiping and monitored here.

This program, Chou added, would drive "the people of Asia, Europe and the world into the abyss of war."

The premier described as "righteous actions of the Chinese people" the Peiping intervention in the fighting in United Nations "volunteers."

All the nations under the "accomplices" can give cannot save the U. S. "from disastrous defeat in Korea," Chou boasted.

The Peiping premier concluded that the only way to resume the march down the road to peaceful settlement in Korea was "to strive for the fulfillment of this resolution" and "to strive for rendering it an utter failure."

270 MEN

(Continued from Page One)

Lieut. Neil Norton of New Westminster, B.C., said: "The law of averages did us proud."

Flying Officer Donald Fred Lubin of Chilliwack, B.C., explained: "We were pretty lucky. You don't usually get over 50,000 miles without something bad turning up."

Cmdr. Taylor and Norton, the navigator, had guided Sioux safely through a storm of flakside off the West Korean coast, through shallow, mine-infested waters to Inchon harbor and then to Sasebo.

The destroyer had helped to cover the Chinampo evacuation and had provided anti-aircraft ammunition for the bombing of Inchon. She had boarded and investigated countless junks, bombarded mines, patrolled coast and convoyed. All this through the bitter cold of winter.

Good Christmas Eve

"We felt pretty good Christmas eve," Cmdr. Taylor said in his cabin shortly after the ship had docked. "We fished a British fighter pilot out of the sea and picked him up. We also had time to took on supplies and 23 bags of Christmas mail from a British ship."

RCAF Mustang fighters screeched down from Comox airbase on Vancouver Island to escort the destroyer up Juan de Fuca Strait and then swung into harbor. Whistles and sirens screamed a welcome for—including the cruiser Ontario—delivered a homer.

Then she took the salute from Commodore H. F. Pulle, acting flag officer Pacific coast, on the harbor entrance. As she swung around the Ontario's jetty and moored astern of the Ajax on pier, the huge crowd on the wharf began to cheer. The cheering was passed on until the destroyer made fast.

Bedlam Broke Loose

When the two gangplanks were lowered bedlam broke loose. Sailors tore "over the brow" and into the throng, fighting their way towards wives and sweethearts.

At the same time the wives rushed for the ship on the other gangplank. Some couples found each other in the confusion, others didn't speak, and one or the other had to work his or her way back ashore.

Hundreds of kids swarmed over the ship, raising and lowering the guns, and generally clambering over the anti-aircraft weapons. The destroyer was a big plaything in general. They yelled orders into the loudspeaker no sailor had ever heard before. They climbed barely survived the onslaught.

Twelve men had become fathers while their ship sailed westward.

The crew will get special 14-day leaves, plus travelling time, starting almost immediately. The Ontario, meanwhile, will enter drydock for her refit.

C-LP BALL BLEW UP

Brantford, Feb. 3. (CP)—Firemen here today extinguished fire in the home of Mrs. G. Cumin for the cause of an explosion she reported. They found a golf ball. It had rolled under a gas stove after absorbing heat for some time, blew up.

A VICTIM OF OLD MAN WINTER'S VENGEANCE

There doesn't seem to be any relief in sight yet for residents of both Canada and U.S. who have been suffering from one of worst cold waves to hit continent for some time. A six-day coal of snow and ice has taken more than 200 lives in U.S. while in Canada fires attributed to cold weather outbreak have claimed 17 lives and caused over a million dollars in damage. A victim of winter's wrath, seen above, is ice-coated fireman, Capt. Neil MacLean, of Winnipeg, Man. —Central Press Canadian.

Worst Winter Storm in Florida In 50 Years

Chicago, Feb. 5—(AP)—The worst wintry storm to hit the southern United States in 50 years has left the area with damage in the millions of dollars.

Some cities isolated and with business paralyzed for as long as four days have just begun to add up their losses. In Florida alone, the driving, near-freezing rain which whipped the state for 18 hours was blamed for the deaths of an estimated 3,000 to 5,000 cattle.

Some estimated the loss in livestock alone at more than $1,000,000. Livestock men said many of the cattle that might otherwise have survived the storm were trampled to death as the herds stampeded for shelter.

Most of the citrus crop escaped damage and vegetable growers were believed not hard hit, but freezing temperatures were reported again today as far south as northern Florida. Generally, though, temperatures were above those of the last few days.

Miraleigh, hardest hit state, listed 16 deaths from the storm. Louisiana, where the temperature dropped to as far as 12 below, had nine deaths.

Natchez, Miss. was bestirring itself again for the first time since the storm cut off all outside communications four days ago. No estimate of the damage there has been made.

Nashville, Tenn., also was returning to normal although it was the hardest-hit city.

As temperatures climbed back to normal levels throughout the south, the northern plains area and northern Maine were again in the sub-zero zone. Readings below zero were reported at parts of Minnesota, Wisconsin, Iowa and northern Maine.

GIRL AWARDED GILT CROSS

Toronto, Feb. 3.—(CP)—K 13-year-old Judy Guilfoyle for rescuing a child who was accidentally knocked off a dock by a big dog, has been awarded the gilt cross for lifesaving, the Canadian Council of the Girl Guides Association announced today.

Donna Donaldson of 616 Battle Street, Kamloops, B.C., jumped fully-clothed into Paul Lake last July 10 and brought little Joanne Critchfield safely ashore.

Hormone Used To Fatten Poultry May be Harmful

-Washington, Feb. 5—(AP)—A congressional committee has been authority to inquire whether a synthetic hormone used to fatten poultry for market can cause humans eating the fowl to become sterile.

The hormone, known as stilbestrol, is widely used by poultry men to fatten chickens and turkeys rapidly. A bird picks up a pound or so in weight a few weeks after a hormone pellet is inserted in its neck.

The question being studied is whether humans eating the treated fowl can absorb enough of the hormone to affect their ability to produce children.

Canada has prohibited use of stilbestrol in fattening poultry and livestock intended for human consumption, and the Canadian health ministry has warned that eating treated poultry may produce "injurious results."

A special committee of the House of Representatives investigating use of chemicals in food products already has received the testimony of a stilbestrol manufacturer that the hormone cannot induce sterility in humans.

But the committee recommended further investigation and Congress last Friday renewed its authority to probe this and other uses of drugs in chemicals in growing foodstuffs and livestock.

The committee's chairman, representative James Delaney (Dem. N. Y.) noted there are claims before congress asking the government to pay for a quantity of breeding mink who are asserted to have lost their ability to reproduce because of being fed the remains of poultry which had been treated with Stilbestrol.

If BACKACHE is Holding You Back

It's Dodd's You May Need!

When your kidneys act up and backaches, aches—get and use Dodd's Kidney Pills. Dodd's Kidney Pills quickly and safely help restore your kidneys to normal action—help relieve backache and that "tired-all-the-time" feeling by helping the kidneys. Ask your druggist for Dodd's Kidney Pills, look for the blue box with the red band. 136

Dodd's Kidney Pills

Clementis Said To Have Fled Czechoslovakia

Prague, Feb. 5 (Reuters) — Vladimir Clementis, deposed Czechoslovak foreign minister, has been absent from his office in the State Bank in Prague since Monday, reliable reports said.

His absence has started a widespread rumor that he has escaped from the country.

He was given a managerial post in the bank after his dismissal from the government last March.

Two months after Clementis was dismissed as foreign minister, a Slovak communist party congress in Bratislava accused him of being a "class enemy" of Russia when the Russian-German friendship pact was signed in 1939.

Nurses Injured As Car Strikes Electric Freight

Welland, Feb. 5 (CP) — Three nurses were injured early Saturday when their car ploughed into the electric freight train at Fonthill, four miles north of here.

The injured, taken to the Welland hospital, are Miss Ida May Maddox, 32, possible hip fracture, and a power of internal injuries, condition serious; Miss Irene Rich, 39, lacerations to face and right knee, condition fair, and Miss Ruth Simmons, 30, driver of the car, gash on left side of face, requiring 10 stitches, and bruises to hip and wrist.

The car struck the slow-moving northbound freight eight or nine cars behind the engine. It was reported to be travelling at the right of way and was jammed between the engine and a power unit. Crewmen used crow bars to extricate the injured nurses.

They were proceeding to Welland from their homes at Fonthill.

FATALLY INJURED

Galt, Ont., Feb. 3 — (CP) — Frederick Hall, 57, of Galt, was fatally injured Friday while working at the Preston Wood working machinery plant at Preston.

With other men he was loading a heavy machine on a truck when it tilted and Rush received a blow on the head. He died without regaining consciousness. An inquest will be held here next Thursday.

Born in Plattsville he had lived here 50 years.

Cash
$50 to $1000

No Endorsers Required

Household Finance specializes in fast, confidential service. Borrow $50 to $1000 on your own signature. No endorsers or bankable security.

Need money for Home repairs? Medical bills? Taxes? Cash for clothes or for any good purpose can be yours at Household Finance.

You select a repayment plan especially suited to your income. Take 6 to 24 months to repay. For a prompt cash loan—friendly service—a sensible repayment plan—phone or visit Household Finance today!

MONEY WHEN YOU NEED IT

HOUSEHOLD FINANCE
CORPORATION
121 Front Street
Warren Building Phone 2788
BELLEVILLE, ONT.
Hours 9 to 5 or by Appointment

Is He a Valuable Conservationist?

Yes! The setter has been specially trained to cooperate with the hunter in harmony.

The natural instinct of the setter is to hunt. By developing this instinct and learning to retrieve, he becomes a valuable conservationist. In the field he seeks out lost and crippled birds for his master. The setter helps prevent needless loss and unintentional over-shooting.

Conservation of our wildlife is a must if we are to enjoy it. Nature unspoiled is yours to enjoy . . . it's yours to protect.

YOURS TO PROTECT...YOURS TO ENJOY

CARLING'S
THE CARLING BREWERIES LIMITED
WATERLOO, ONTARIO

Maurice Rocket Richard Back This is Bad News For Rest Of National Hockey Loop Clubs

The holiday is over for five National Hockey League clubs. The Rocket is back.

The inevitable result is that Montreal Canadiens, a bunch of nice fellows when Maurice Richard is missing from their lineup, won't be letting anyone push them around in the near future.

Boston Bruins, the first club to face Canadiens since Richard recovered from a severe charley horse, had the point demonstrated to them with some clarity Saturday night when the Rocket fired three goals in less than five minutes, later he picked up an assist on his club's fourth tally as Canadiens blasted the Bruins 4-1.

Taking fair warning, Detroit Red Wings provided a perpetual escort for the Rocket Sunday night and kept him off the scoresheet, But Richard saw enough of the puck to set up two Montreal tallies as the clubs played to a 3-3 tie. And, while everyone watched the Rocket, teammate Elmer Lach slipped in the fifth Canadien tally.

Capsulized win and tie enabled them to improve their tenuous grip on third place by increasing their margin over fifth-place New Bruins from one point to three. The Bruins blew a five-goal lead Sunday night and settled for a 3-3 tie against Toronto Maple Leafs.

Leafs Move Up

The Leafs, 6-3 victors over the tail-end Chicago Black Hawks moved within three points of the pace-setting Red Wings while the Hawks consoled a slim home-town crowd of 7,877 Sunday night by tying New York Rangers 4-4.

Always a marked man Richard was terrific in both weekend games. His first-period hat-trick in Montreal, a parity in N. H. L. play, saw him score on the only three shots he was allowed to get away in the entire 20 minutes.

His linemates shared the time-light accounting for every Montreal goal in two games. Bert Olmstead fired a third-period marker in Montreal on passes from Richard and Lach. Ed Sandford's goal for Boston was an anti-climax.

Al Dewell, Lach scored twice and Olmstead netted the third, Fern Flaman, Metro Prystai and Syd Abel counting for the Wings. Gordie Howe, N. H. L. scoring leader and Richard's rival for an all-time right-wing berth, was held to a single assist.

The hard-luck Black Hawks lost centre Gus Bodnar and defenceman Bill Gadsby through injuries in their Toronto tilt. Bodnar suffered a concussion when he fell into the boards after a check from Leaf winger Ted Kinasa, while Gadsby aggravated a leg injury. Both will be out indefinitely, along with defenceman Jack Stewart and Lee Fogolin.

Two Quiet Goals

Sloan, Sid Smith, Howie Meeker, Cal Gardner, Danny Lewicki and Max Bentley fired the Toronto goals, while Jim Conacher, Bodnar and Roy Conacher tallied for the Hawks, who were in the game until the Leafs fired two flukie goals in the final period while they were short-handed.

Against the Rangers, a flock without a shepherd since ace centre Edgar Laprade suffered a broken leg a few weeks ago, the Hawks built up a 3-0 lead, then watched it dwindle. Ray Powell, Doug Teicig, Bill Mosienko and Don Morrison scored for Chicago while Ree Sin-lair scored twice and Penti Lowe and Don Raleigh completed the Ranger total.

Paul-Ron Sandford and defenceman Ed Kryzzanowski gave Bruins their three-goal lead against Toronto in the first period, but Lewicki and Smith pared it to a single tally in the second frame. Then Joe Klukay's unassisted marker with four minutes left to play gave the Leafs their tie.

PIERCING LEG PAINS

Are your leg pains like a knife driving through the flesh? Do they make it hard for you to straighten your leg? Thousands recommend Templeton's "T-R-C", for quick relief of piercing, stabbing Sciatic pain. You too, can get relief with T-R-C's. 50c $1.25 at drug counters. 7-41

Hockey Results

NATIONAL HOCKEY LEAGUE

	Won.	Lost.	Tie.	Pts.
Detroit	29	11	10	68
Toronto	27	11	11	65
Montreal	18	22	11	47
Boston	16	22	12	44
New York	13	20	16	42
Chicago	12	29	10	34

Saturday: Chicago 3, Toronto 6; Boston 1, Montreal 4.

Sunday: Toronto 3, Boston 3 (tie); Montreal 3, Detroit 3 (tie); New York 4, Chicago 4 (tie).

Wednesday: Montreal-Toronto; New York-Boston; Chicago-Detroit.

AMERICAN HOCKEY LEAGUE

Western Division
Cleveland	34	23	5 73
Pittsburgh	23	29	7 53
Indianapolis	21	30	5 53
Cincinnati	21	21	7 49
St. Louis	22	26	3 47
Eastern Division
Buffalo	31	16	3 65
Hershey	25	21	3 53
Providence	18	26	4 40
Springfield	17	30	5 39
x-New Haven	13	31	4 30
x-New Haven withdrew from league.

Saturday: Pittsburgh 2, Buffalo 4; St. Louis 3, Cincinnati 1; Cleveland 4, Indianapolis 1; Providence 4, Springfield 3.

Sunday: St. Louis 4, Cincinnati 1; Hershey 6, Buffalo 2; Providence 4, Springfield 3; Pittsburgh 2, Indianapolis 1.

Tuesday: Pittsburgh-Cleveland; Indianapolis-St. Louis.

Pacific Coast

Saturday

Seattle 2, New Westminster 8
Victoria 3, Tacoma 3

Sunday

Tacoma 4, Seattle 3
Vancouver 4, Portland 6
United States League

Saturday

St. Paul 5, Tulsa 2
Milwaukee 3, Omaha 7

Sunday

Denver 3, Milwaukee 4
Tulsa 2, St. Paul 3
Omaha 5, Kansas City 3

(Saturday)

Maritime Major
Halifax 2, Saint John 1

Quebec Major
Valleyfield 3, Ottawa 4

O.H.A. Junior A
Stratford 6, Galt 4
Guelph 4, Oshawa 4
Waterloo 6, St. Catharines 5

Northern Senior
Hibbing 3, Fort Frances 11

Manitoba Junior
Winnipeg Black Hawks 2, Brandon 2

Saskatchewan Junior
Flin Flon 4, Saskatoon 6
Humboldt 6, Prince Albert 9

Western Major
Regina 1, Calgary 12

Western Canada Junior
Calgary R. Crows Nets 9
Medicine Hat 2, Moose Jaw 3

Exhibition Junior
Lethbridge 4, Edmonton Oil Kings 3

Mainline-Okanagan
Vernon 5, Kamloops 7
Penticton 3, Nanaimo 7

Western International
Kimberley 4, Spokane 11
Trail 2, Nelson 4

International League
Detroit Auto Club 2, Toledo 9
Chatham 5, Grand Rapids 1

Eastern League
Boston Olympics 5, Atlantic City 4

Exhibition
Ottawa R.C.A.F. 7, Lake Placid Roamers 7

E.C.H.L.
Hull Volants 4, North Bay 3
Cornwall 8, Pembroke 7

Sunday

Ontario Junior A
Toronto Marlboros 2, Toronto St. Michael's 1

O.H.A.
Modtreal Royals 1, Three Rivers 14
Montreal Canadiens 1, Quebec 5

Quebec Major
Ottawa 1, Sherbrooke 5
Montreal 7, Valleyfield 11
Quebec 1, Valleyfield 2

Ontario Major
Toronto Marlboros 5, Toronto St. Michael's 2

CHIPS OFF THE SPORTS BLOCK

By GEO. H. CARVER, Sports Editor

WON'T BE LONESOME!

With the regular playing schedule just over the horizon, enthusiasm for the junior Rockets, the Belleville O.H.A. squad has knuckled down to serious practice over the weekend. The Rocks's went through a stiff workout for upwards of two hours with Coach "Smiley" Mernerk donning a uniform and skates and getting out there with his proteges. From the way the kids were going they seem to have picked up some of the slickness apparent in their last two starts and with Oshawa Bees scheduled here for Wednesday night, the Rocks will have to be on their toes. The Bees are breathing down their necks in fourth place and Wednesday night's tilt is an important one for both teams.

* * *

The Redmen, who have been impotent around the foeman's nets in their last two games and have had their share of sour illluck, will sharpen their shooting eyes tonight in Memorial Arena when they will go pushed through a stiff practice grind. They trek to Kingston Wednesday to take on the upsurging Nylons, whose hockey spells are on that second place slot and from here in the Patterson crew will be hard nuts to crack. The Petes entertain the Queen's Gaels tonight, while the Eagles are guests of the Nylons, and that should be a battle. As we mentioned here far the Kingston crew is aiming but sharply for the second place slot and Eagles are just as determined to hang on to it. Should be quite an affair.

* * *

MINORS READYING

All three minor hockey squads went through their paces at the Arena Saturday morning with the selected squads being put through their paces by the respective coaches. All three teams have drawn a bye into the O.H.A. quarter-finals and are mentioned here for along any time.

Fourteen teams will go to the barrier in the Juvenile "A" series and in this neck of the'woods, Belleville, Oshawa and Peterborough have drawn byes. Kingston will declare a group winner. It is likely Jim Ellsworth's squad will be pitted against the Kingston crew with Oshawa and Peterborough battling in the other section.

In the Midget "A" Series, sixteen teams will vie for honors with this part of Eastern Ontario represented by, Belleville, Kingston, Oshawa and Peterborough. Again it is fair to assume that the Kingston-Belleville, Oshawa-Peterborough series will transpire.

The same situation exists in the Bantam "A" series with 14 provincial squads going to the wire for provincial honors. Again, Belleville, Kingston, Oshawa and Peterborough have drawn byes.

* * *

BANTAMS WIN!

Speaking of the minors, the Belleville Bantam entry went to Napanee on Saturday afternoon under the supervision of Al Kelleher and won their first game on "foreign" ice. They came home with a 7-1 win over the Gibbardville youngsters. Fred Hagerman sparked the city kids with a pair of goals, with Larry Black, George Ferguson, Don Pringle and Ab. Wright getting in on the goals. The first line squad of Wright, Gill, St. Louis, Pringle and Bevar banged home two goals in 47 seconds, so it appears the team has plenty of scoring punch.

* * *

LADIES' BASKETBALL!

An Industrial ladies' basketball league is in full swing at the Y.M.C.A. these Wintry weeks, with games played on Wednesdays from 6-8 p.m. The games are free and the public is cordially invited to see these thrillers. Last week the Stenographers with the Deacon entry, Business Girls outplayed the Northern Electric lassies and Picton trounced the Belleville Nurses. Deacons, a new entry in the city are rapidly improving over their early season form and are'gradually rounding into shape. Most valuable players selected last week in order of merit were: Marjorie Cousins, Joan Faulkner and Barbara Robson.

* * *

DOTS 'N FLASHES!

Maurice "Rocket" Richard will be the hero of the Montreal Forum fans on Saturday, February 17th. on "Hockey Night." The boys and gals of Montreal are presenting the flash with a host of gifts including an automobile .... Clare B. Morgan was re-elected as prexy of the Bay of Quinte Golf and Country Club at the annual get-together ... "Smiley" Meronek, Rockets' coach, hasn't forgotten all the cunning and tricks that made him a National Hockey Leaguer .. "Smiley" looks a bit inflated about the midriff but he showed his lads not a few tricks during the weekend practice — Wellington has drawn a bye in the Bantam "D" series, with Tweed ditto in Bantam "C" — Madoc, Tweed and Stirling are playing off in Midget "C" with Wellington drawing a bye .... The Bantam — Tweed clashes with Madoc and Marmora meets Stirling in the first round which must be complete not later than February 10th. .. Peterborough Eagles have been granted a tournament for the injured Parnell by the Ontario Hockey Association .. The parent body also ordered that senior clubs must have a winner by March 10th. for Allan Cup eliminations .. It voted financial aid to the O.M.H.A. to the tune of $2,750. Western Ontario gets $1,000, the N.O.H.A. $1,500 and the Ontario Rural Hockey League, $250. .. Rumor along Softball Row has it that three sponsors are ready to talk business if the entries go "O.A.S.A." .. More about that later .. Gourley Motors roared out in front in the Men's Commercial Bowling league with a 7-0 win over O'Neill Sales, to give them a ten-point lead at the top of the loop standings. Charlie Picton, popular pro at the Bay of Quinte Golf and Country Club, will again be around this season .. Chas. is second-to-none in this part of the golfing world when to comes fi keeping the greens in first-class condition.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, Feb. 5 (AP)—Big Ed Walsh says he's 70 years old, looks like a man in his 50s and talks like a young fellow of 30 or so—full of ambition, ideas and beans. If you don't recall his record, Ed started pitching in the American League when that circuit, in the words of Charlie Dryden, consisted of "Ban Johnson, the spit ball and the Wabash railroad." He continued until his arm went dead in 1915, pitching 65 games and winning 40 of them for Chicago White Sox in 1908 ...he still argues that his arm was just tired and he could have come back after a year or two of rest...in fact, Ed says, "I rested it two years then won 18 games in Connecticut. I still could go out there and pitch three innings in one of those old-timers' games if it wasn't for bursitis."

Young Ideas

Walsh did a lot of talking at the National League's 75th anniversary party, and one thought he advanced was that clubs which complain about a shortage of pitchers ought to go out and manufacture ... "How many strong-armed outfielders do you see coming up?" Ed asked. "Plenty of them, so you make pitchers out of them. I could do it. I did it when I was coaching at Yale and Notre Dame—I even made a pitcher out of Ted Coy...Get some old-time pitcher to teach them control and to keep the ball low to the batter's weakness; then if you crouch down to hit, throw high and get them out ...I always tell them don't be afraid to hit a batter on the kneecap or the calf of his leg—I knocked plenty of them down."

Stee-rike

Also at the anniversary party, Billy Evans, Detroit general manager, took time out to comment on a huge picture depicting "baseball in the horse-and-buggy days"...It showed the umpire standing about 10 feet to the side of the plate as a pitch was being delivered... "I wish Bill Klem could see that," commented Billy, who used to be an ump himself... "I'd really get a rise out of him by saying he used to stand that way to see the outside pitch ... But, no kidding, we almost did work that way when we worked alone."

SKATING TONIGHT

BELLEVILLE

MEMORIAL ARENA

Buffalo Bisons Lose to Hershey, Hornets Advance

(By The Canadian Press)

The American Hockey League had another full-schedule weekend with four games Saturday and a similar number Sunday.

At Buffalo Sunday, Hershey Bears blasted Buffalo Bisons 6-2 to reduce the Bison's lead in the eastern division to 12 points while at Providence, Jack McGill's overtime goal gave the hometown Reds a 4-3 decision over Springfield Indians.

At Indianapolis, Pittsburgh Hornets came from behind in the third period and went on to win in overtime, 2-1, over Indianapolis Capitals while at Cincinnati, St. Louis Flyers downed Cincinnati Mohawks 4-1.

In the Buffalo game, Jerry Brown set the pace with two goals; other Hershey scorers were Ernie Kullman, Dave Creighton, Ed Harrison and Frank Mario. Grant Warwick bagged both Bison goals.

At Povidence, McGill's overtime goal lifted Indians out of the League's eastern division cellar and put them one point ahead of the Indians in their battle for the third and last play-off spot.

Hornets in Tie

At Indianapolis, Pittsburg Hornets' overtime victory pulled Hornets into a tie with Caps for second place in the western division.

At Cincinnati, St. Louis Cincinnati's Nemesis, smared the sinking Mohawks with their fifth straight loss. St. Louis held one-goal margins in both the first and second periods, Cincinnati's only counter coming at 14:02 of the second when Bert Hirschfeld scored.

The Flyers solidified their lead at 9:58 of the finals as Jackie Hamilton flicked in his second tally, Jean Lamirande put the game beyond recall for Hawks with St. Louis' final counter. Cliff Simpson got the other St. Paul goal.

Saturday's scores; Providence 4 Springfield 3; Indianapolis 4 Cleveland 4; Pittsburgh 8 Buffalo 4; St. Louis 3 Cincinnati 1.

They'll Do It Every Time By Jimmy Hatlo

YOUNG MEN ARE NEEDED IMMEDIATELY

AS

RADIO-RADAR, AIRCRAFT, INSTRUMENT AND ARMAMENT TECHNICIANS

in the

Royal Canadian Air Force

To meet the responsibilities of the times, more men are needed now—in all branches of Canada's expanding Air Force. There are immediate openings for men age 17 to 40, with Grade 8 education or better.

There is special need for men to train as Radio-Radar, Aircraft, Instrument and Armament Technicians. If you can qualify, you can start now your career in the great field of modern aviation. The training is thorough: the opportunities are good!

—ACT NOW—

SERVE CANADA AND THE CAUSE OF FREEDOM

SEE THE CAREER COUNSELLOR AT THE ADDRESS IN COUPON OR MAIL THE COUPON

GET FULL PARTICULARS ON THE OPENINGS AND OPPORTUNITIES IN THE RCAF AT ONCE

R.C.A.F. RECRUITING UNIT
83 York-Street TORONTO, ONT.
Phone: PL-5636 or 5637

Please mail me, without obligation, full particulars regarding enlistment requirements and openings now available in the R.C.A.F.

NAME (PleasePrint) .....
STREET ADDRESS .....
CITY ..... PROVINCE .....
EDUCATION (by grade and province) .....
..... AGE .....

HOCKEY

JUNIOR

BELLEVILLE MEMORIAL ARENA

WEDNESDAY, FEB. 7th

8.30 P.M.

OSHAWA BEES vs. BELLEVILLE ROCKETS

ADMISSION—Reserve Seats 75c
General Admission 50c; Children .. 25c

RESERVE SEATS ON SALE AT BILL COOK'S CIGAR STORE

Reserve Seat Tickets will not be held after 6 p.m. night of game.

Marlies Score Double Victory Over St. Mikes

(By The Canadian Press)

A couple of weeks ago, someone dreamed up the idea of a Sunday doubleheader between the major and junior 'A' squads of Toronto Marlboros and Toronto St. Michaels to bolster the flagging Sabbath attendance at Maple Leaf Gardens.

It was a successful afternoon for everyone but Marlboros, who shortened a double defeat. Yesterday there was a return engagement and the Dukes got their revenge.

The junior Marlboros, whose fall from first to third place began with their loss to the Irish, moved within two points of the top rung by reversing the verdict, 2-1. Their big brothers, who have a Dominion title to defend, picked up four points on the front-running St. Michael's Monarchs with a 3-3 victory. They have another more polite to go before they catch the leaders.

The junior 'A' victory helped t'em pick up a point on the slarming Guelph Biltmores, who stretched their unbeaten league streak to five games by tying Oshawa Generals 4-4. The Toronto place Bills now trail Marlboros by four points.

In other junior activity, the tall-end Waterloo Hurricanes upset St. Catharines Teepees 6-5 while Stratford Kroehlers moved into a seventh-place tie with Galt Black Hawks by whipping the Hawks 6-4.

Scoring Star

Stratford's Cord Myles was the weekend's individual scoring star as Lloyd Gilmour's Stratford Kroehlers handed Black Hawks their eighth defeat in 10 starts George Lewis and Don Cowle got one apiece, and Bob Bailey rabbed the hat trick with a minute long shot into the empty net when the Hawks pulled their goalie.

Johnny Slesarev, Mike Buchanan, Ken Wharram and Pete Conacher were the Galt marksmen.

Oshawa broke a six-game losing streak in tying Guelph. Kenny Kitchener Westmount; governors, Ross Hinton, Toronto Scarborough; J. A. Travias, Toronto Dundale; E. A. Rossiter, Windsor Rockland.

Playing what he called "lousy" golf, Lloyd Mangrum of Chicago Monday won the $10,000 Tucson Open Golf tournament with an 11-under-par total of 269 for 72 holes. Mangrum, Toronto Scarborough; Jack Burke, Jr., of Houston, Tex., and Lew Worsham, of Oakmont, Pa., tied for second with totals of 271.

The Canadian Thoroughbred Horse Society, which conducts yearling sales at Toronto's Woodbine Park, has named Toronto industrialist E. P. Taylor as its president for 1951.

Reports given at the annual meeting showed James Speers of Winnipeg as the leading breeder for 1950, with Mr. Taylor as the leading owner. Top sire was Bunty Lawless, bred and owned by Willie Mortimer of Toronto.

Johnny Conlek, centre for Hamilton Tigers in the Ontario Hockey Association major loop, will be out of hockey for the rest of this season as a result of an injury suffered when he crashed into the boards during a game in Kitchener Friday night. X-ray examinations showed that Conlek has a shoulder separation and a chipped bone.

Lethbridge Maple Leafs had their work cut out to beat Berne squad 8-8 in a fast hockey match at Berne, Switzerland, Sunday.

At Seattle, dark-haired Sonya Klopfer, a 16-year-old from Brooklyn, N. Y., Saturday won the United States Ladies' Figure Skating Championship relinquished a short time ago by Yvonne Sherman of New York.

And across the Atlantic at Zurich, Switzerland, Jeannette Altwegg, British champion, won the European women's figure skating title Sunday. Jacqueline du Bief, French champion, was second and Barbara Wyatt, Britain, third.

At Mount Trembiant, Que., Andy Tommy of Ottawa, last year's winner of the Taschereau downhill ski race, came through again to win the 16th annual running of the race over the weekend. His time was Art Tommy, took second place honors.

University of Washington hustlies Sunday captured the fifth international collegiate meet at Banff's Mount Norquay layout.

Washington State College was second and University of British Columbia third.

At East Lansing, Mich., Ottawa's Don McEwen ran a 4:11.1 mile in the anchor lap at the Michigan State relays Saturday night to give Michigan a world's indoor dirt track record in the distance medley relay.

The Michigan time for the combination of a quarter-mile, half, three-quarter mile and mile run

Eight Junior Golfers Will Go To U.S. This Year

(By The Canadian Press)

Eight junior golfers from Ontario will be selected later this year to compete in the United States this summer.

Charles S. Watson, president of the Ontario Golf Association, announced Saturday that the Ontario juniors will compete a team of eight players representing the Junior Golfers' Association of Washington, D.C.

Watson told the annual meeting of the Ontario Golf Association that a return match between Ontario and Washington Juniors will be played in Ontario in 1952.

This year's tournament will be played over the Columbia Country Club course at Washington, with the tentative date set for the week of July 26. The teams will be composed of two 14-year-olds; two 15-year-olds; two 16-year-olds; and two 17-year-olds. The captain of players will be selected on their showing in the Ontario Junior Championship scheduled for early July.

Watson confirmed reports that consideration is being given to increase prize money in the Ontario Open Golf tournament from $10,000 to $15,000.

Watson said there would be no official action until the annual O.G.A. meeting in Montreal next Friday.

Delegates also were told that a series of Junior golf clinics started in Toronto last season, will be expanded next year to province wide summer and that it is hoped all O.G.A. courses will have official listings by the end of this month.

Reports showed that the Association now has one of its most successful seasons in 1950. Dollar dues collections exceeded $11,790 and tournament entry-fee report showed assets of more than $8,000.

G. F. Stevens of Toronto Thornhill Club was elected president of the O.G.A. He succeeded R. D. Young, of Toronto St. Georges.

The new executive:

Vice-presidents, Robert Abbott, Petrolia; Frank H. Hind, Toronto Lilington; Paul F. Robert, Toronto Rosedale; honorary secretary-treasurer, Ken Kearns, Kitchener Westmount; governors, Ross Hinton, Toronto Scarborough; J. A. Travias, Toronto Dundale; E. A. Rossiter, Windsor Rockland.

Playing what he called "lousy" golf, Lloyd Mangrum of Chicago Monday won the $10,000 Tucson Open Golf tournament with an 11-under-par total of 269 for 72 holes. Mangrum, Toronto Scarborough; Jack Burke, Jr., of Houston, Tex., and Lew Worsham, of Oakmont, Pa., tied for second with totals of 271.

Clubs Not Selling Hockey Properly Says Conn Smythe

Boston, Feb. 5—(AP)—Managing director Conny Smythe of the Toronto Maple Leafs told a press conference here last night that club officials are not promoting the game properly.

"We have the product," he said, "but we aren't selling it or promoting it properly."

He said that only five teams in pro hockey are making money and the losers are dropping huge sums trying to keep the game alive.

He said that such great players as Maurice Richard of Montreal Canadiens and Gordon Howe of Detroit Red Wings are not being promoted. He describes them as two of the finest right wingers in many years in the National Hockey League.

He didn't think the salaries of players had hurt professional hockey. In fact, he didn't believe the players were getting large enough salaries.

BUSY AIRPORT

The Copenhagen airport is equipped to handle 50 landings and departures every hour.

HOW TO RELIEVE COUGHS... FALSE COUGH
He still warm it into neck and chest. Massage much. Cover with warm flannel. At druggists' for 35 years. 60
DR. THOMAS' ECLECTRIC OIL

NEOLITE SOLES
BROWN'S CAMPBELL STREET
BRAM HUMPHREYS
PHONE 1317
Opposite the Y.M.C.A.—BELLEVILLE

Calumets Come From Behind To Down Kings

Pembroke, Feb. 5 (CP) —Overcoming a 7-1 deficit mid-way through the second period, Cornwall Calumets strengthened their hold on first place in the Eastern Canada Hockey League with an 8-7 win over Pembroke Lumber Kings Saturday night.

The Kings held complete sway through the first one and a half frames, with Thain Simon and Mel Slater each notching two, and Roy Gleesebrecht, Jim Maxwell and Jack Dibbs also scoring. Coach Jim Dehenny got Cornwall's lone first-period goal.

Then Cornwall leaped the boom. The singles came from Bert Lilly, Gus Lebrun, Al Kelly and Wally Garand while Penneny, who already led the league in goals, added a third period hat trick to bring his total for the game to four goals. Garand's shooting gave Cornwall with only 28 seconds remaining.

The Kings held complete sway through the first one and a half frames, with Thain Simon and Mel Slater each notching two, and Roy Gleesebrecht, Jim Maxwell and Jack Dibbs also scoring. Coach Jim Dehenny got Cornwall's lone first-period goal.

Then Cornwall leaped the boom. The singles came from Bert Lilly, Gus Lebrun, Al Kelly and Wally Garand while Penneny, who already led the league in goals, added a third period hat trick to bring his total for the game to four goals. Garand's shooting gave Cornwall with only 28 seconds remaining.

Don Gehrmann reeled off the fastest indoor mile in Boston's track history — 4:07.9 — for his 37th consecutive triumph with a 10-yard decision over Fred Dwyer Saturday night at the A .A. meet.

Jack Sosh, catcher for the Ogdensburg Maples of the class C Border League, has been promoted manager of the club, president Gerald E. McEvoy announced Sunday.

Sosh a resident of Reading, Pa., will replace Dave Bancroft who piloted the Maples the last four seasons. The club finished in seventh place last year and won a play-off series with Ottawa, now in the triple A International League.

Jackie Robinson has signed his Brooklyn Dodger contract for a reported $35,000 salary, about the same money he got last year.

Rip Collins, Ed Conlow and Al Mamaux were elected to the International League's Hall of Fame today by the circuit's baseball writers.

Collins, a first-baseman, started with Rochester in the early 1930's before moving up to the St. Louis Cardinals. He was with Toronto Maple Leafs in 1944. Conlow played in the International League from 1912 to 1913. He played in more than 2,100 games, a league record. Mamaux, one-time Brooklyn pitcher, was a successful manager of Newark.

At Montreal, Robert Grant III, New York, Saturday won his sixth Canadian rackets championship, defeating R.A.A. (Bimby) Holt of London England, 5-15, 15-5, 15-3, 15-2.

Promoter Joe (Toots) Mondt said Sunday that former heavyweight boxing champion Max Baer will sign a $100,000 contract next week for a 26-week wrestling tour.

Rinks from Buckingham, Que., Saturday defended the Governor-General's Trophy, emblematic of double-rinks curling championship of Canada.

The Ottawa district champions took the match and tied the others to defeat two rinks from Lachute, Que., Montreal district champions, 22-20 in the aggregate total.

The University of Western Ontario Mustangs won their second straight Senior Intercollegiate Basketball game this season by London Saturday when they whipped a week-shooting Queen's University quintet 66-44. The loss for the Gaels was their third straight and practically eliminated them from the race.

$ CASH LOAN
FOR ANY FINANCIAL EMERGENCY
BELLVUE FINANCE
256½ Front St., Belleville
71 Dundas St., W. Trenton.
Phone:
Belleville 3162
Trenton 1253
As local as the name implies

MARMORA

Brintons Hold Margin in North Section of T.V.L.

Marmora — Brintons maintained their lead in the northern section of the Trent Valley League through defeating Marmora 12-7 on the latter's rink on Friday evening. Richar for the winning team scored three goals and laid one assist. Eakins got three goals and two assists. Huard scored twice and had two assists. For the losers Lavender and Trumble got two goals apiece. Nayler retired in the third period through an injury. The game was fast and clean and was witnessed by about two hundred spectators.

Teams:

Brintons: Goal Byers; defence Riches, Berardi; centre Eakins; wings, Richlark, Lawson; Alternates, Reid, Anderson, Willshaw, Huard, McCuaig, Crowder.

Marmora: Goal Borland; defence Marmora, Brown; centre, Stewart; wings Lavender, Trumble; Alternates, Manile, Brooks Jones, Nayler, Smith, Gray, Doyle, McInroy.

Referees: J. McKenna, A. Christie, 6 RD Trenton.

Summary

1st period

Brintons, Huard (Crowder) 5.10
Brintons, Eakins 7.35
Brintons, Lawson (Eakins) 8.23
Marmora, Brooks (Jones) 11.58
Britons, Eakins 16.00
Brintons, Anderson (Willshaw) 17.14
Penalties— Maynes, Nayler, Richlark.

2nd period

Brintons, Reid (Willshaw) 5.20
Marmora, Stewart (Trumble) 9.30
Marmora, Trumble (Stewart) 10.09
Brintons, Riches (Huard) 12.26
Penalties—McInroy, Richlark.

3rd period

Marmora, Lavender (McInroy) 1.50
Brintons, Riches (McInroy) 2.35
Marmora, Lavender (Stewart) 3.46
Brintons, Crowder (Huard) 4.15
Brintons, Riches (Huard) 14.25
Marmora, Lavender (Stewart) 15.00
Brintons, Huard (Eakins) 15.55
Marmora, Gray (Manile) 17.20
Brintons, Eakins (Riches) 19.40
Penalty—Richlark.

Weekend Stars

(By The Canadian Press)

Maurice Richard, Montreal, whose three goals Saturday gave the Montrealers a 4-1 decision over Boston.

Ray Elchatz, New York, whose two goals assisted the Rangers to a 4-4 tie with Chicago Black Hawks.

Milli Schmidt, Boston veteran, whose two assists aided the Bruins in their 3-3 tie with Toronto Maple Leafs.

Elmer Lach, Montreal, whose two goals enabled the Canadiens to play to a 3-3 tie with Detroit Red Wings.

BIG YEAR AHEAD - - - By Alan Mavor

JOCKEY CULMONE, (AND WILLIE SHOEMAKER) HAVING EQUALED WALTER MILLER'S RECORD OF 368 WINNERS, HAVE A BOOK TO TAKE AHEAD IF THEY HOPE TO REGAIN KING 2-YEAR TOTAL.

AFTER GETTING HIS RECORD IN GOOD MILLER FOLLOWED UP WITH 372 WINNERS IN 1937, WHICH STILL STANDS AS 3RD HIGHEST WIN TOTAL.

Distributed by King Features Syndicate

Guly's Ext:nd Lead in Mens' Commercial League

Gourley Motors leaped into a ten-point lead in the Men's Commercial Bowling League on Friday night, taking seven points from the O'Neil Sales in a decisive win. Their seasonal rivals the Firemen eked out a 4-3 victory over Rockets to slip back into second place, while Star Welding also slipped a notch after dropping seven points to the Legionnaires.

Howe and Hagerman dropped the limit of seven to Welding Gases while Moose Lodge were seven-point winners over Balzy Brothers. Alemite edged Bosiak Signs 4-3 in a close match.

V. Sagriff was top scorer with a triple of 882 while other high scores were made by A. Randle, 761; R. Burt, 739; J. Thorne, 733; L. Lucciola, 725; D. Ashley 710; J. Vachar, 703; J. Cottles, 682; R. Hill, 690 and D. Lee 656.

The standings: Gourley Motors 93; Firemen 83; Star Welding 83; Alemite 80; Rockets 78; Moose Lodge 74; Welding Gases 72; Bosiaks 66; Balzy Bros. 54; O'Neil Sales 46; Legionnaires 44; Howe and Hagerman 13.

FEWER MINERS

A total of 688,000 coal miners in British in 1950 was the lowest figure of any year since 1900.

Paratroopers Hit Silk But Lose To Hometowners

Vernon, B.C., Feb. 5 —(CP) — Eleven steel-nerved, battle ready paratroopers leaped Saturday on to a lonely Okanagan Valley farm near this British Columbia hockey hotbed.

They retreated under heavy enemy fire, shorn of their hockey honors but otherwise uninjured.

The well-geared 11, members of the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry, made their jump without a hitch. But they didn't take their objective. They lost an exhibition hockey game 8-5 to Vernon intermediates.

The paratroopers, who make home camp at Calgary, hit the silk from a C-47 RCAF transport at 1:45 p.m. in overcast weather. One by one they drifted on to the snow-covered farm and gathered up their fighting equipment —goal pads, skates and sticks.

Waiting army trucks whisked them off to Vernon army camp.

There they made rendezvous with six non-jumping teammates who were flown up by Penticton, B.C., and taken the rest of the way by truck. Last minute offensive planes were checked.

They then advanced to meet the enemy—a team of hockey stalwarts from this interior city, about 180 miles northeast of Vancouver.

The intermediates went into high gear, scoring two goals within three minutes of the first period. The paratroopers pushed them back and pulled up with two goals. Vernon went ahead two again minutes later.

The intermediates caught up their heavy artillery and scored the only two goals in the second period. They traded punches on the four markers in the third.

Hockey's Big Seven

(By The Canadian Press)

Gordie Howe of Detroit continues to hold down first place in the National Hockey League's individual scoring race, but Montreal's Maurice Richard took the spotlight during the weekend.

Richard, out of the line-up for two weeks with a charley horse, came back with a vengeance to score three goals and a similar number of assists to move into third place, one point behind second-place Max Bentley of Toronto.

Howe has 58 points, Bentley 47 and Richard 46. Richard's 31 goals are tops while Howe's 33 assists are the mark in that department.

The leaders:	G.	A.	Pts.
Howe, Detroit	25	33	58
M. Bentley, Toronto	18	31	47
Richard, Montreal	31	15	46
Abel, Detroit	19	24	43
Lindsay, Detroit	18	19	37
Sloan, Toronto	31	20	41
Schmidt, Boston	18	23	41

N.H.L. Leaders

(By The Canadian Press)

Standing: Detroit, won 29, lost 11, tied 10—68 points

Points: Howe, Detroit, 58

Goals: Richard, Montreal, 31

Assists: Howe, Detroit, 33

Penalties: Mosdell, Detroit, 97

Penalties: Ezinicki, Boston, 111 minutes.

Senior Hockey Group Standing

	Won.	Lost.	Tie.	Pts.
Peterborough	19	7	1	39
Eagles	17	9	2	36
Nylons	14	10	1	29
Belleville	10	16	0	20
Queen's	5	18	0	10
Gananoque	2	5	0	4

New Brunswick Rink Wins Grand Aggregate Award

Quebec, Feb. 5 (CP) — Skip E. J. St. Pierre and his Edmunston, N.B. rink hold the lion's share of the spoils from Quebec's 33th international bonspiel.

St. Pierre skipped his rink to victory in the Lieutenant-Governor's competition emblematic of the Quebec international championships, and then copped the grand aggregate award for winning the most games—10.

The champions from New Brunswick defeated P. Roel of Quebec Curling Club, 13-11, to win the Lieutenant-Governor's trophy.

St. Pierre had come from behind an 11-10 score in the last end when he scored three stones to win.

The victory resulted in a tie between the two teams for the grand aggregate with nine victories and one loss apiece. St. Pierre won the grand aggregate playoff 11-1.

A total of 120 rinks competed in the week-long curling competition, which started last Monday.

Ontario rinks came out on top in two of eight other finals played Saturday.

London, Ont., skipped by R. E. Wilson, won the International Goodwill with a 14-4 victory over Toronto High Park, skipped by F. G. Husband.

IF YOU ARE A THRIFTY BUYER
BE SURE TO SHOP AT UPTOWN TIRE
301 Pinnacle St. Phone 2222

QUALITY ● PRECISION ● DURABILITY ● PERFORMANCE

BALL AND ROLLER BEARINGS
ALL TYPES ALL SIZES

YOU'LL ENJOY
Winchester Mildness
TODAY — TOMORROW
EVERYDAY!
Yes, Winchesters are extra mild . . . delightfully fresh, and have a particular flavour that you'll always enjoy.

Blended Light Blended Right
Winchester CIGARETTES

HORSE SENSE BRIDGE

By SAM GORDON
The Kibitzer

The least understood bid in bridge is the bust response to a takeout double. Even those who know the correct answer seem to be hazy about the reason for it, or so it seems.

An immediate double of an opening one bid is for takeout. It orders partner: "If my next opponent does not intervene with a bid, you must absolutely take me out with a bid."

Responses follow this order of choice: Any unbid four card major; no-trump with two stops in opponent's suit; any unbid four card minor; lowest ranking unbid suit regardless of how many cards in it.

If he has no honest choice of the first three, he must use the fourth choice. It makes no difference how few cards he may have in the four suits. He is reduced to this extreme emergency bid.

If opponents have bid spades or hearts or diamonds, his choice in the fourth step must be clubs. If opponents have bid clubs, his choice in the last resort must be diamonds.

So, his response in the lowest ranking unbid suit must first be taken to show a bust hand. If he has more, it can be shown later, if the need is found. But first, it is assumed to show a bust hand.

It can happen, therefore, that the bust response suit may contain only three cards, or even less. But it gives the doubler a chance to change, if necessary, to the suit he prefers.

South opened with a bid of one heart. West doubled. Now when East held the hand shown here:

♠J 6 4
♥10 5 4 3
♦Q 3 2
♣10 8 7

East jacks four cards in unbid spades also in unbid diamonds. The heart suit was bid. So, the east response here should be two clubs.

West must assume east has a bust hand; weak clubs; maybe fewer than four clubs. He assumes this until he hears again from east.

Assume no more than what a signal admits.

Six Fatalities In East Canada Over Weekend

(By The Canadian Press)

Six fatalities, most of them in mishaps arising from winter activities, were reported in Eastern Canada during the weekend.

A Canadian Press compilation of the total for February's first weekend showed three deaths in Ontario, two in Quebec and one in New Brunswick.

Not included in the list were four persons whose bodies were thought to be in the wreckage of a bush plane found yesterday in the ice of a lake in northwestern Quebec. It is believed they died last Monday when the plane plunged into the lake.

Injuries suffered in a skiing accident Friday proved fatal Saturday to Dr. M. E. Adams, 51-year-old dentist from Magog, Que.

A smelt fishing trip near Saint John, N.B., ended in death for Reginald W. Pope, 33. His automobile broke through the ice on the Kennebecasis River Saturday and sank in 60 feet of water.

Exposure was blamed for the death near Oakville, Ont., of John Malco of Toronto. A Hamilton photographer found Malco's body partly buried in snow in a ravine.

James York, about 80, was fatally injured when struck by an automobile while walking in a snowstorm near Penetanguishene, Ont.

Donald Beamer, 44, was killed near Oakville, Ont., when he fell under the wheels of a truck that was trying to pull Beamer's truck out of a snowbank.

Mrs. Achille Hanson, 79, died of injuries suffered in a fall in her Montreal home.

Headaches due to...
Constipation
Yield quickly to...
All-Vegetable Laxative
Tonight take all-vegetable NR Laxative Tablets for clear out thoroughly and pleasingly in a few hours, often relieving headaches. Makes you feel brighter. It is purely vegetable. NR is in two strengths. Regular NR and NR Junior 50 tablets.
Nature's Remedy
NR
TAKE NR TONIGHT
Tomorrow ALRIGHT

Hospital Burns In Sydney, N.S., Patients Removed

Sydney, N.S., Feb. 5 (CP) — Glowing embers were all that was left today of fire-devastated St. Rita's hospital.

Despite the combined efforts of firemen and hundreds of volunteers who were baffled by high winds and falling temperatures, the four-storey structure burned to the ground late last night.

The 57 patients were safely evacuated in 10 minutes but today this steel city of some 30,000 was left with only one public hospital, already full before the fire. Now beds must be found for the homeless patients from St. Rita's.

For a time the fire threatened Mercy Hospital, a maternity home, and some of the refugee patients were removed from it as a precautionary measure.

Damage to St. Rita's, operated by the Sisters of St. Martha, is expected to exceed $200,000.

The sudden outbreak was discovered by two nurses and the evacuation began at once. If the adult patients couldn't walk, bed and all was carried out.

St. Rita's was built in the early part of the century. Plans were underway for a new St. Rita's but work had not started on the proposed 150-bed structure.

Several persons were overcome briefly by smoke but there were no serious injuries.

Besides Sydney and City hospitals, the nearby Point Edward Memorials hospital and the Dominion and Coal Corporation's emergency hospitals were the only available refuge for those sorely ill.

Ted Rose's Death Due to Accident Jury's Verdict

Madawaska, Ont., Feb. 5 (CP) — A verdict of accidental death was returned Friday by a coroner's jury who inquired into death of 10-year-old Ted Rose. He was found dead in a shallow grave last Oct. 25 with a bullet wound in his head.

Alex Yankovitch, 13, told police he tripped over a wire and his rifle discharged accidentally Oct. 22 while on a hunting trip with Ted. The bullet hit Ted in the head. Yankovitch dragged the body to a covered hole in the ground beside a log and covered it with earth and leaves.

The body was discovered three days later by one of several hundred rifle marchers out for Ted. When Yankovitch returned from the hunting trip the day of the shooting, he said that he had decided to continue hunting before returning home.

He told that story until after the body was found. Then he said he had been afraid to tell the correct story at first because he thought he would have to go to jail.

The coroner's jury recommended that in view of the actions of Yankovitch after the shooting that he be examined by a psychiatrist and that he be placed in the care of the Children's Aid Society until 18 years old.

Hirohito Gets First New Car in 16 Years

Tokyo, Feb. 5—(AP)—Emperor Hirohito has brought a 1951 Cadillac—his first new car in 16 years.

The imperial household explained to the Japanese people that the new car "will economize on gasoline and will not be extravagant."

The emperor has been getting along with four 1935 model British Daimler-Benz limousines.

Breaks 19 Windows With Bag of Bricks

London, Feb. 5—(Reuters)—An unidentified man went on a glorious brick-throwing spree in the heart of London today.

He ran along Cockspur Street, just off Trafalgar Square, carrying a bag of bricks. As he ran he plunked them one by one neatly through the plate-glass windows of the shipping firms which line the street.

When he ran out of bricks he used the butt of a revolver.

He had broken 19 windows before police arrested him.

NEW SECRETARY

Hamilton, Feb. 5 (CP) — The Ontario Baseball Association Saturday appointed Tom Clyde of Hamilton as secretary pro tem to fill the vacancy left by the recent death of William Hyde, also of Hamilton, secretary for 27 years. The association's annual meeting will be held in London, Ont., April 6 and 7. An executive meeting is in Hamilton Feb. 17 will consider an agenda for the annual meeting and appoint a treasurer.

IT'S A WAR OF GIVE AND TAKE

From the turret of his tank, Sergeant Doyle Smith of Livingstone, Tex., looks over the situation in a Korean village into which his juggernaut has just barged. It was the fifth time in a week that this village changed hands and the siege is looking for, and expecting, trouble. Resistance to the U.N. advance has stiffened, but losses of Chinese and North Koreans are reported very high. — Central Press Canadian.

CJBQ VOICE OF THE BAY OF QUINTE

CJBQ (1230 Kc.)

MONDAY

5:00—When a Girl Marries
5:15—Portia Faces Life
5:30—Who Am I?
5:45—Supper Music
6:00—News
6:15—News and weather
6:30—In the Spotlight
6:45—Saddle Rockin' Rhythm
7:00—Dodd Haymes Show
7:15—Local News
7:30—Piano Courses, Dave Minor
7:45—Dinner Hour Music
7:45—March of Dimes, Piano Moods
8:00—Guy Lombardo
8:30—Radio Theatre
9:00—Inter Service Club Canteen
9:15—Bill Arnold Sees by the Papers
9:30—Symphony of Strings
10:00—Music Corner
10:30—National News Summary
10:45—Dream Time
11:45—Reverie
12:00—News and weather
12:35—Good Day Sweetheart

TUESDAY

4:30—Mr. Farmer Especially Yours
5:00—Chez Ami Quartet
7:05—Up With the Sun
7:30—Up With the Sun
8:00—Newscast
8:05—Up With the Sun
8:30—Piano Courses — Dave Minor
8:45—Sports News
9:15—Morning Devotions
9:25—Chapel by the Side of the Road
9:30—Say It With Music
10:00—Homemaker Harmonies
10:15—Monarch Money Man
10:20—News and Weather
10:30—Studio Chef
11:00—Stork Club
11:30—Did You Remember?
11:45—Tom Warren Sings
12:00—Music of Manhattan
12:15—Russian Cavaliers
11:35—Hit of the Day
12:00—Organ Music
12:30—Newscast
12:45—Behind the News
12:55—Rural Route 1230
1:15—Tweed Community Hour
1:20—Around the Bay
2:00—Special March of Dimes Program
2:30—Radio Room in Studio B
2:50—What's New
4:00—Negro Spiritual
4:30—Highlights for Women
4:45—Guilford Community Hour
5:00—When a Girl Marries
5:15—Portia Faces Life
5:30—Who Am I?
5:45—Supper Music
6:00—Dinner Dances
6:15—Newscast
6:30—Sports Slants
6:45—Paul Smith Sings
7:00—Dick Haymes Show
7:15—Newscast
7:30—Dave Fisher
7:30—Goodrich Ranch Boys
8:00—Sunny King Show
8:30—Ronnie John-son
9:00—Doctor Kildare
9:30—Belleville Municipal Band
10:00—Myrna Lorrie Ranch Riders
10:30—National News Summary
10:45—Dream Time
11:45—Reverie
12:00—News and weather
12:05—Good Save The King

NETWORK PROGRAMS

MONDAY EVENING

8:00—CFRB, Bing Crosby Sings
8:00—CBL, News: Farm Forum
8:15—CFRB, John Colingwood Reade
8:30—CFRB, Life in the Air
8:30—CBL, Leicester Square
8:30—CBC, Dishwash-ers
7:00—CFRB, Beulah Show
7:15—CFRB, Jack Smith Show
7:30—CBL, Dixieland Jam
7:30—CBC, Comedy of Errors
7:45—CBL, Music Hath Charms
7:45—CBC, Kate Aitken
8:00—CFRB, Hollywood Playhouse
8:00—CBMW, Railroad Hour
8:00—CBL, Quirks
8:15—CBC, Tony the Troubador
8:30—CBL, Godfrey Talent Scouts
8:30—CBC, Opportunity Knocks
9:00—CBL, Firestone
9:00—CBC, National Farm Forum
9:30—CFRB, Double or Nothing
9:00—CFRB, Radio Theatre
9:00—CBC, Youth Discovers
9:00—CBMW, Telephone Hour
9:30—CBL, Symphonic Encores
9:30—WBEN, Band of America
9:30—CBC, What's the Story
10:00—WBEN, Boston Blackie
10:00—CBL, CBC, News
10:15—CBC, Dance Webb, Isaac
10:30—CBL, Financial Ad-dress
10:30—WBEN, Top Records
10:30—CFRB, This is the Life
11:00—CBL, Music by Meyer
11:00—CFRB, Gene Autry
11:15—CBC, U.N. Today
11:30—CBL, As You Like It
11:30—CBC, Prelude to Dance
11:30—WBEN, Dave Garroway

STIRLING

St. John's Ladies' League Presents 'Swamp House'

Stirling — "The Swamp House," a mystery comedy drama in three acts presented in Stirling theatre on Tuesday night by members of St. John's Ladies' League, was well given to a large audience.

The story of the play concerns a dilapidated old mansion, situated in the heart of a Louisiana swamp lands, a house that is supposed to be haunted but in which live Maria Velour, a beautiful young girl; Martin Velour, her crazy and mysterious uncle, and Mama Boo, a deaf and dumb woman with hypnotic powers.

Across the swamp, a large gathering of black people have congregated for their monthly religious meeting and the sound of their drums make one think of darkest Africa and witchcraft.

Various Characters

Into this setting comes Donald Clark, a young writer, his brother, Larry, and Larry's fiancee, Penelope Carr, Larry's girl friend, who have lost their way while driving to the Mardi Gras in New Orleans and seek lodging for the night. Although at first refused, Donald Clark, eventually persuades Marie Velour, to whom he is greatly attracted, and her uncle, to permit them to stay. Their weird experiences with a ghost, which appears at midnight; Donald's narrow escape from death by stabbing at the hand of the crazed Martin Velour, and the final discovery of the hiding place of a fortune, provide many tense and laughs throughout.

There were seven members in the cast and all did their part exceedingly well, and are as follow:

Marie Velour, a beautiful girl in distress, Miss Katherine Wright. Martin Velour, her crazy and mysterious uncle, who was very successful in the role, Mr. Hamilton. Donald Clark, a romantic young writer, Robert Phillips. Larry Clark, Donald's young brother, James Wright. Mrs. Clark, mother of the boys, Mrs. Burton Woodbeck. Penelope Carr (Larry's girl friend), a teen-ager, Miss Grace Carleton. Mama Boo, a Mulatto woman, Mrs. A. Ross. Chloe, a pretty young negress, Mrs. R. Pennington. Bamba, a husky young negro, George Noble.

The scenes were introduced by Mr. Fred Houchin, and Mrs. Harry Morrow presided at the piano, preceeding the performance and during the intermission.

Between the first and seconds acts, Mr. William Reynolds sang "The Open Road," and "The Desert Song."

The play was directed by Mrs. Robert Phillips.

Following the entertainment the members of the cast were entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. Phillips.

AT THE BELLE — Bouncing Betty Hutton is back again in Paramount's entertainment packed Technicolor musical "Love Dance," now playing at the Belle Theatre.

PICTON

Two Boys Risk Lives to Save Their Nephew

Picton— Dashing into a room filled with fire and smoke, Tommy Dunlop 10, rescued his nephew, Kerry Dunlop, 2 years, on Saturday. Blinded by smoke, he managed to locate the child when it coughed, and after carrying it across the room, handed it to his uncle, Harold Dunlop, 14, who was about to enter the room.

The fire completely gutted the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Dunlop, Jr., The mother had crossed the road to telephone a doctor as the child had not been well. Mrs. Alton Williams, a neighbor, saw smoke coming out of windows and gave the alarm. Mrs. Dunlop raced to the house but her nephew was gone and had rescued the child.

Mr. Dunlop is a cook with the Royal Canadian School of Artillery here and was absent at the time. The fire is believed to have started in the living room from an unknown cause. The family lost all their possessions, having only the clothing they were wearing.

The fire department was slow in responding and experienced difficulty in getting sufficient water. There are three houses together and lack of wind helped prevent them from igniting.

DRINK PLENTY OF MILK

Waterloo, Ont., Feb. 5—(CP)—When it comes to drinking milk, Waterloo citizens are right up there with the best of them, in the opinion of Dr. C. K. Mader. He told the board of health that last year Waterloo used an average of 11,242 pints a day, or one pint for every person, a rate which "compares favorably with any other community in Ontario."

AT THE CAPITOL, — Laurel and Hardy are a pair of torrid toreadors who have yet to meet their first live bull in their hilarious new 20th. Century-Fox laugh fiesta, "The Bullfighters," which opens Thursday, February 8th., at the Capitol Theatre. On the same program, the first Belleville showing of Warner Bros. adventure epic, "Rocky Mountain," starring Errol Flynn with newcomers Patrice Wymore and Scott Forbes.

THEATRE FEATURE TIMES

AT THE BELLE — "Let's Dance" — A Technicolor Musical — Fred Astaire, Betty Hutton — 2.45, 5.50, 7.23, 9.46.

AT THE CAPITOL — "The Happiest Days of Your Life" — Alastair Sim, Margaret Rutherford — 7.15, 10.00. "I Cheated the Law" — Tom Conway, Steve Brodie — 5.45.

AT THE REGENT — "Kind Hearts and Coronets" — Valerie Hobson, Alec Guinness — 1.15, 4.25. "Parole, Inc." — Michael O'Shea, Evelyn Ankers — 2.55, 7.10, 10.25.

AT TRENT THEATRE, Trenton — "Kind Hearts and Coronets" — 2.40, 5.35, 8.30. "Thelma Jordan" — Barbara Stanwyck, Wendell Corey — 3.45, 7.00, 10.15.

Entirely in TECHNICOLOR
The Color-Musical That Shouts Out One Big Word...
TERRIFIC!
That "Annie" gal and that wonderful dancing guy...what a pair!
Betty HUTTON and Fred ASTAIRE
Songs!
"Anything You Can Do I Can Do Better"
"Let's Dance"
"Piano Dance"
"Oh, Didn't He Ramble"
"Swing Trot"
"Shoes With Wings On"
"Sunday Jumps"
"Hoctor Protector"
"Let's Face the Music and Dance"
Color by Technicolor
In LET'S DANCE
A Paramount Picture
BELLE
LATEST WORLD NEWS
COLORFUN CARTOON
FOR THE MOST EXCITING SHOW THIS YEAR—WATCH FOR CHARLTON HESTON · VIVECA LINDFORS · LEORA DANA · SCOTT McKAY · DeFORE · JAGGER
DARK CITY
A Paramount Picture
BELLE

CAPITOL TONIGHT
FIRST BELLEVILLE SHOWINGS
AN EDUCATION IN LAUGHS!!!
THE HAPPIEST COMEDY TEAM IMAGINABLE
THE HAPPIEST DAYS OF YOUR LIFE
3 MONTHS AT THE International Cinema TORONTO
—ADDED HIT—
THRILLS! ACTION! SUSPENSE!
I Cheated the LAW
TOM CONWAY · STEVE BRODIE
"I CHEATED THE LAW" Shown MONDAY, WEDNESDAY ONLY
TUESDAY, FEB. 6 — MATINEE and EVENING
FASHION SHOW — 2.30 and 8.30
Auspices of THE OPTIMIST CLUB
ON THE SCREEN — 4.00, 7.10 and 10.00
"THE HAPPIEST DAYS OF YOUR LIFE"

Starts Today!
A hilarious study in the gentle art of MURDER!
THE FABULOUS STORY OF A GAY ASSASSIN
J. ARTHUR RANK presents
VALERIE HOBSON
DENNIS PRICE
JOAN GREENWOOD
ALEC GUINNESS
KIND HEARTS AND CORONETS
A MICHAEL BALCON PRODUCTION
Released by EAGLE-LION FILMS
HE poisons Uncle Henry drowns Cousin Ascroyne blows up Uncle Rufus pierces Aunt Agatha shoots Uncle Ethelred explodes Cousin Henry
P.S WE BELIEVE YOU WILL FIND THIS ONE OF THE FUNNIEST BITS OF SCREEN WHANGY YOU'VE EVER ENJOYED— ALEC GUINNESS WILL DELIGHT YOU WITH HIS CLEVER PORTRAYAL OF EIGHT PEOPLE (THE UNLUCKY EIGHT RELATIVES)
(ADULT ENTERTAINMENT)
— ADDED FEATURE —
STOP HER!
She's the BRAINS behind the nation's worst crime plot!
"PAROLE, INC."
MICHAEL O'SHEA · TURHAN BEY · EVELYN ANKERS
An Orbit Production
AN EAGLE LION FILMS RELEASE
McCARTHY
SMOKE IN THE BALCONY

TRENT
TRENTON
Today & Tuesday
Daily 2.00 - 7.00 - 9.00
(ADULT ENTERTAINMENT)
VALERIE HOBSON
ALEC GUINNESS
in
"Kind Hearts and Coronets" THELMA JORDAN"
(ADULT ENTERTAINMENT)
BARBARA STANWYCK
WENDELL COREY

POP

MR. AND MRS. — By Arthur Folwell and Ellison Hoover

PENNY — By Harry Haenigsen

MARK TRAIL

TIPPIE AND "CAP" STUBBS — By Arthur Folwell and Ellison Hoover

Your Individual Horoscope

By FRANCES DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is according to the stars.

For Tuesday, February 6

March 21 to April 20—(Aries)—Mars and other planets strongly favor learning, sound reaction from and for energetic, well-directed effort. Curb emotions, bottle ill temper and go after what you think you can handle.

April 21 to May 20—(Taurus)—Thoroughness, accuracy are requirements this uncertain day. Build from facts, know what you are about, and do without much ado. Your natural capability can serve well here.

May 21 to June 21—(Gemini)—Your ambition and will to do things worth while is half a good battle won, the other half is good common sense and acting. Accept and carry out critical as well as easy problems calmly.

June 21 to July 22—(Cancer)—You will find things lining up on your side quicked if you use tact and intelligence. Any conflicting tendencies should not be hard to handle, especially with your sound sense.

July 24 to August 22—(Leo)—Hold your fire till you are sure you are using it rightly. Share will be time and need for "heavy ammunition" in its place. Be careful in personal affairs, domestic problems.

August 23 to September 22—(Virgo)—You are under the day's fortunate aspects. Configurations point to favorable reactions (if you are in line). Business, home affairs can be most satisfactory, as can romance, marriage.

September 24 to October 23—(Libra)—With proper concentration on important matters you can turn in an excellent day. Vital issues pertaining to security, health loved ones need careful watching, handling.

October 24 to November 22—(Scorpio)—Many excellent influences. Take problems in your usually clever way, but avoid being too sure, set or worried. Remember, part of day's game, even though work is hard, is smiling!

November 23 to December 22—(Sagittarius) — Avoid emotional upsets. It takes two to make an argument and the other fellow isn't always wrong. Have sensible caution handling money, contracts, making decisions, statements.

December 23 to January 21—(Capricorn)— Curb any tendency to a spending spree, doing things in spur of moment or becoming upset at reverses, we all have them. Differing with others can bring out loopholes, weaknesses to know.

January 22 to February 20 —(Aquarius)— With proper attention to duties, home problems you can weather day's possible irritation, maybe new contention. Your bonus: kindness, strength of purpose and willingness are essential.

February 21 to March 20 — (Pisces)—No closely unfavorable inclinations, neither are there all helpful ones. Plan things well in thought. Be alert but don't overdo, keep that happy medium, and ooo eye open always.

YOU BORN TODAY: sympathetic nature, can become fine doctors, nurses, teachers. Higher education and religion will certainly help you greatly in all life's roads. You have ability to achieve. Keep at your job until it is well done. Don't be afraid to seek advice and alter tendency to try to do things alone. Be especially careful if you are not fully informed. Kindness can influence you in most instances, but you innately resent orders; being prodded.

Birthdate of: Sir Henry Irving, English actor; Hyman Navarre, screen actor, singer.

(Copyright, 1951, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

MONDAY, FEBRUARY 5, 1951 (Released by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

HORIZONTAL
1 Sirius
6 Hiatus
8 Pay attention
12 Persian off
13 Man's name
14 Eye amoeba-like
15 Bird (pl.)
17 Tiller
18 To languish
19 Aperture
21 Part
23 Formerly
24 Land
26 Condiment
28 A boat
31 Within
32 Sin
34 Sod and
35 Clock in place of ship
36 Extract of malt
38 Sailor's bag
39 Measures of weight
41 Kind of boat
43 Edible fern
46 To speak
47 First to
48 Mystic art
50 Fish hatcher
52 Rowing implement
54 Cereal grass
55 Makes
56 Sheltered side
57 Incline
58 Compass point
59 Inclined walk

VERTICAL
1 Haste: ed
2 Brahmapootran king
3 Large marsupial rodent
4 Spoke
5 Fifteen
6 Fluid
7 While
8 Messiahs
9 Ate (pl.)
10 Fifteen
11 Direction
12 Epic poetry
16 Fabled
20 Tree
22 Two of a kind (pl.)
23 Spender
24 Storage container
27 Number
27 Mexican tree
29 Sea-Based god
30 Sweet potato
33 One skilled with a rod
35 Sea lizards (pl.)
37 Ere
38 Name of canal
40 Rose
42 Tidy
44 Arrived
44 Genus of maples
46 Bivalve mollusk
48 Pointed instrument
49 Eccentric
51 To weep
53 Conjs. love

Answer to Saturday's Puzzle:

O	B	E	Y		P	A	G	A		B	R	O
O	R	D		J	A	S	P	E	R		A	U	A
A	D		S	T	A	R		S	O	P
		D	O		P	I	P	E	R		P	E	P	A
A	L	E	D		S	H	I	E	L	D		S	I	R
S	P	A	R	E		P	A	S	H	A		S	P	Y
F	O	R	T	E		B	I	S	C	U	I	T
		S	E	W	E	D		S	I	N	K		S	T
G	E	E		G	E		H	E		P	I	G	A
S	T	E	M		S	E	D	G	E
			O	S	E		A	T	O		P	A
O	L	E		R	O	A	R		A	B	E	L
T	E	N		H	E	A	D		D	I	A	L

SHARED OUT

Seigneries in old French Canada were subdivided among the feudal tenants whose holdings averaged 100 to 600 acres.

LI'L ABNER — By Al Capp

BLONDIE — By Chic Young

TILLIE THE TOILER — By Russ Westover

JOHNNY HAZARD — By Frank Robbins

BRINGING UP FATHER — By George McManus

RUSTY RILEY — By Frank Godwin

OZARK IKE — By Ray Gotto

MARMORA

Mrs. Urena Pinner Cuts Ribbon, Opens New Piaza Theatre

Marmora — The heavy snowstorm prevailing proved no deterrent to the success of the opening of Marmora's new theatre, the Plaza, on Thursday evening. A. F. Fraser, president of the Marmora District Chamber of Commerce, was in charge of the ceremonies. The theatre, which seats 450 was packed to the doors. Many Speeches

Congratulatory speeches were heard from Reeve Irwin McCoy, Marmora and Lake Township; Reeve C. H. Ruskard, Deloro Village; R. G. Walsh, general manager of Deloro Smelting and Refining Company Limited; Reeve Vincent M. Lynch, Marmora Village. These were followed with remarks by Albert Maynes, owner; Mrs. Albert Maynes and Bob, their son, who is the proprietor.

Esteemed Resident Cuts Ribbon

The cutting of the ribbon, signifying the opening of the theatre, was performed by Mrs. Urena Pinner, Marmora's oldest resident, the 97th. anniversary of whose birth occurs on March 18. Mrs. Pinner was presented with a bouquet of red roses by little Linda Glover, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vaughan Glover. Various congratulatory telegrams were read, including some from Cleveland, Ohio.

ALBURY

Albury — Mrs. Harry Adams, Mrs. M. Adams, and Mrs. Hugh Weese spent Thursday afternoon quilting at the home of Mrs. S. C. Peck.

Glad to report Mr. Byron Bowerman able to be home from the Belleville hospital after having pneumonia. All wish him a speedy recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Beuford Peck were among the guests entertained to a supper euchre at Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Chase's on Saturday evening.

Several ladies were entertained to Wearever Brush party at the home of Mrs. Ed. Pine and Mrs. Lawson Way assisting on Tuesday.

Mrs. Kenneth Weese spent a couple of days with her aunt, in Odessa.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Russell are spending a few days in Toronto.

4TH THURLOW

4th. Thurlow — The church service on Sunday morning at Bethany was in charge of the Young People with Mr. Claude Bell of Albert College, as guest speaker.

During the service the junior choir rendered two numbers and a new communion table was presented to the church from the Young People's Society and Woman's Association.

Rev. W. R. Merrick took dinner on Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Thomson.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Garrison motored to Ottawa and Buckingham, Quebec, and spent the weekend there with relatives.

Mrs. Henry Cooke, of Stirling, and Master Brian Cooke spent Wednesday with Mr. and Mrs. Grant Cole.

Mrs. Norman Hall, Sr., of Belleville, was a dinner guest one day last week of Mrs. Fred Garrison.

A number from this line attended the quilting and pot luck dinner at the home of Mrs. Clayton Eggleton on Thursday last.

TWEED

Tweed — Mr. Carl House returned to his teaching duties at Tweed High School on Wednesday after being absent a week through illness. Mr. T. E. Moffat, supervising principal of the School Area, took his classes during his absence.

"Bud" Price, who was recently injured in a car accident between Tweed and Actinolite, returned from Belleville General Hospital and is convalescing at the home of his wife's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bowers in town. His condition is greatly improved.

Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Sager returned home to Toronto after spending the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. J. Church and other friends in town.

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Barnett have returned home after spending a few days in Toronto with their daughter, Mrs. Walter Dobson, Mr. Dobson and children.

Mr. Robert Fleming has returned to his home from Belleville General Hospital. Mr. Fleming had the misfortune to fall while assisting with the loading of logs near Queensboro, fracturing his left hip.

Mrs. Terrence Rashotte has returned home after visiting with Mr. and Mrs. J. Johnston and family in Peneteng, Ont.

Miss Rosemary Meraw, Reg. N., and Paul Odette, of Peterborough, spent the weekend with the former's mother, Mrs. E. L. Meraw, in town.

Mrs. M. G. Dales left Toronto on Thursday by plane for St. Louis, Missouri, where she will visit for some time with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Bowlah and their young son, David Arthur.

Mrs. Gordon Woodcox underwent a serious operation in Belleville General Hospital, on Tuesday of this week.

Mr. Harold Fosier underwent a minor operation in Belleville General Hospital on Wednesday. His friends will be glad to know that he will be back home in a few days.

Hilton McTaggart is confined to his home suffering from a [illegible], his friends will be sorry to learn.

Harry Spencer is a patient in Belleville General Hospital, undergoing medical observation.

RAWDON

Rawdon — Mr. and Mrs. Walter Warren were guests at an "At Home," given by Campbellford I.O.O.F., No. 248, and the Rebekah Lodge, in memory of Thomas Wilday, the founder of Oddfellowship. Mrs. Warren assisted with the program and delighted with two vocal solos.

District Deputy Grand Master Walter Warren presented 25 year Veterans' Jewels to four members and gave the special address.

Born at Belleville General Hospital, on Wednesday, January 31, to Mr. and Mrs. Ray Sine (nee Margaret Cotten), of Rawdon Township, the gift of twin sons.

Mr. and Mrs. James Warren, Bethel, and Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Warren, Stirling, attended a farewell party in Frankford, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Warren before their departure to Kingston to reside. Mr. Albert Warren has accepted a position as teacher in a new, modern 17-room school in that city.

Mr. Rodger Stewart, operator at the Department of Transport Radio Range, in Rawdon Township, in the Mount Pleasant community, has been appointed technician at Windsor and will be transferred to his new position at an early date. Mr. Stewart has been employed here for the past five years.

Surprise Party

Last Friday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Reg. McGee, of Wellman's, were tendered a surprise at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Graham, and were the recipients of a table lamp, end table and smoker from the Wellman's community before their departure to Stirling to reside.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Warren entertained Rev. and Mrs. A. E. Baker (St. Paul's, Carmel) on Sunday, and Rev. Mr. Baker took charge of the three services on Rawdon circuit.

Bethel Women's Association held their January meeting in the church hall and the ladies spent the afternoon quilting. Mrs. Thomas Laycock presided over a short business session and took charge of the devotional, assisted by Mrs. S. J. Elliott. Refreshments were served at the close of the afternoon.

On Friday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Murray Johnston entertained Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. James Johnston and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Warren.

FRANKFORD

Frankford — Miss Elda Daniels, a missionary from Korea, spoke to the ladies on conditions in that country at the present time. A full report on the convention will be given at the February meeting of the W.M.S.

The new Legion club room was open to the public for the first time Tuesday evening, as the Legion men and ladies held a euchre and cribbage party. A large crowd was on hand and the Legionnaires report a very successful evening. In fact it was so successful that they will be running another on Tuesday evening, February 5th.

Approximately 20 members of the Frankford United Church choir journeyed to Campbellford, Friday evening to hear a concert presented by the Video-Rites and the Commodores in the Campbellford United Church. The Video-Rites are the internationally famous Bell Ringers, and the Commodores are a renowned male quartet.

The "World Day of Prayer" special service will be held in the Anglican Church on Friday afternoon at 2:00 p.m., February 9th. The meeting is interdenominational, and all ladies of the village are cordially invited to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Cory, of Belleville, and Mr. Charles Cory, of Toronto, visited Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Spencer on Sunday.

Several members of the Frankford United Church attended the annual meeting of the Cobourg Presbytery of W.M.S., held in Port Hope United Church on Thursday afternoon. Among those attending were Mrs. Leslie Frost, Mrs. W. Morrow, Mrs. Carscadden, Mrs. C. Powell, Mrs. G. Spencer, Mrs. A. Stickle, Mrs. R. MacEachern, Mrs. G. Montgomery, Mrs. C. Bennett and Mrs. F. Charlesworth.

WALLBRIDGE

Wallbridge — Miss Jenny Kiernan spent a day recently with Mrs. R. A. Lucas, of Belleville.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Harris spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Harry Pound and Mr. and Mrs. Ross Pound.

At the time of writing the snow plows are kept busy ploughing the roads after the day's snowstorm on Thursday.

The euchre and dance at the Orange Hall sponsored by the L.O.L. was largely attended on Friday night last.

A few W. I. members attended the meeting held at the Community Hall at Mrs. Stone apartment on Thursday evening, as the roads and snow storm were bad.

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Wannamaker entertained a few of their friends on Monday last when they celebrated their 8th. wedding anniversary.

HARDWARE

FOR ALL YOUR REQUIREMENTS.

DOOR — GARAGE — CABINET — BATHROOM

Gleaming Chrome — Brass Satin.

ARTHUR A. SILLS and SON

285 Coleman St. Phone 1584

BELLEVILLE

FIRE

Can Happen

Have you insured your home AND ITS CONTENTS fully? How about your new T.V. set? Your wife's fur coat? Are you covered adequately in view of the increased inflationary value of everything! Now is the time to check—not after a fire loss. Call today.

FOR INSURANCE SEE

LORNE McDOUGALL Insurance Agencies Ltd.

150 FRONT ST. PHONE 168

"Belleville's Largest Insurance Office"

CASH FOR YOUR CAR

Must be in GOOD CONDITION

BATEMAN MOTORS LTD.

315 PINNACLE ST

Phone 3301

BELLEVILLE

"Belleville's Largest Used Car Dealer"

SPECIALIZED MOTOR SERVICE

Ignition — Carburetor — Distributor — Fuel Pump

Vacuum Systems — Windshield Wipers

Voltage Regulators — Generator — Starter Motors

Batteries — Wiring Systems

Bonded Brake Lining — Brake Drum Grinding

Brake Shoe Exchange

Bear Front End Alignment — Frame Straightening

Genuine Ford Parts and Accessories for All Ford Products

Bear Wheel Balancing

Body Undersealing — 3m. Rubberized Material

AT THE

Belleville Motor Car Co. Ltd.

MERCURY — LINCOLN — METEOR DEALER

Cor. BRIDGE and COLEMAN STS. PHONE 887

"A GOOD PLACE TO DEAL"

EFFICIENCY in itself is a Source of Great Revenue

GEORGE S. MAY COMPANY Business Engineering

Eastern Division

122 Bay 42nd Street, New York 17, N.Y.

Established 1925

INSURANCE MORTGAGE LOANS

Automobile Don'ts

Don't overtake on curves or hills or change lanes or "cut in" or pull out from curb suddenly. Don't count on the other fellow. Act for yourself. Obey traffic laws and give the usual signals.

JAMIESON BONE & CO.

163 FRONT ST. PHONE 1364

For a furrier with coats made of lapin or mink YELLOW PAGES will find him Quick as a wink!

YELLOW PAGES OF YOUR TELEPHONE DIRECTORY

Something to Buy — Sell or Rent?....

TAKE THE BULL BY THE HORNS!

Use CLASSIFIED ADS

• FOR QUICKER ACTION

• FOR CONSISTENT RESPONSE

Use CLASSIFIED ADS—

The Economical Way to • SELL • BUY • RENT • EXCHANGE

ADS

ADVERTISE

REGULARLY IN THE ONTARIO INTELLIGENCER COLUMNS . . . THEY'RE READ BY THOUSANDS OF YOUR POTENTIAL PROSPECTS. OUR FILES ARE FILLED WITH SUCCESS STORIES OF HAPPY SELLERS (AND HAPPY BUYERS, TOO) WHOSE NEEDS HAVE BEEN MET AND OFTEN SURPASSED THROUGH CLASSIFIEDS. EXPERIENCED CLASSIFIED AD. WRITERS WILL ASSIST YOU IN WORKING OUT THE RIGHT AD. FOR YOUR PARTICULAR NEEDS.

New or Used Articles

CAN NOW BE ADVERTISED IN OUR CLASSIFIED COLUMNS

PHONE 4600

BUSINESS DIRECTORY

SERVICE

OIL BURNER and STOKER SERVICE
NIGHTS: Phone 2925M and 1956R
RADIO and APPLIANCE REPAIRS
VAN DUSEN BROS. LTD.
329 Front St. Phone 2925
F1-tf

REAL ESTATE

IF YOU WISH TO BUY A HOME OR SELL YOUR PROPERTY
E. O. KEELER
Realtor
Member Ontario Association of Real Estate Boards
Telephone 2870-J
M34-1y

FARM MACHINERY

FOR QUALITY SEE
IVAN MAY
JOHN DEERE Twine, AVAL BEAUTY and LIFETIME FENCE
SALES and SERVICE
37 Dundas West Phone 4361
Evenings Phone 2365M

SAND and GRAVEL

CINDERS - FILL - CRUSHED ROCK - SNOW REMOVAL - DRIVEWAY PLOWING
IVAN MAY
Phone 4263 or 2365M
J6-1y

ELECTRICAL CONTRACTING — REPAIR

BELL ELECTRIC REPAIR DEPOT
9 Footbridge Belleville
Phone 1180
SATISFIED CUSTOMERS OUR PRIDE
J9-1y

ACCOUNTANTS

KENNETH J. SODEN
PUBLIC ACCOUNTANT and NOTARY
Income Tax Consultant
Phone 3007 — 10 TRUMAN BLDG.
BELLEVILLE — PHONE 3342

C. A. STONE, B.A., C.A. (Hons.)
W. S. STONE
CHARTERED ACCOUNTANT
209 PINNACLE STREET
(Hotel Quinte Annex)
Telephone 3533

GEO. A. WELCH & CO.
Chartered Accountants
BELLEVILLE OTTAWA
Phone 4308 244 Pinnacle St.

ARCHITECT

W. A. WATSON, Architect
M. Arch., M.R.A.I.C.
Formerly located at 386 Front Street
Now at
344 FRONT STREET
(Next to Bryce's Garage)
D7-1y

INSURANCE

The thought of fire loses half its terror when you're insured with SANDY BURROWS
and
HOWARD PROST
LIFE and FIRE INSURANCE
249½ FRONT ST. — PHONE 693

HALL & EARLE
ACCIDENT and PLATE GLASS
General Insurance — Fire, Windstorm
370 FRONT ST. PHONE 1184-W

TYPEWRITER REPAIRS

THE JAMES TEXTS LIMITED
Prompt and Efficient Repairs on All MAKES of MACHINES
Typewriters and Adding Machines for Rent
179 - 183 FRONT STREET
Phone 3552

VENETIAN BLINDS

Known and Respected Throughout Canada
LIFE-PLEX STEEL OR ALUMINUM SLATS
HOLWAY VENETIAN BLIND COMPANY
3-5 Day Delivery — 3 Year Guarantee
PHONE 2552 — BELLEVILLE
M5-tf

CONTRACTORS

PIT RUN SAND AND GRAVEL
Delivered $1.20 per Yard
On Order 2 Yards or More
CRUSHED STONE, CONCRETE, SAND and CRUSHED GRAVEL
Delivered $1.50 per Yard
POWER EQUIPMENT — BULLDOZER and COMPRESSORS
PHONE 195, TRENTON
J. D. VanALSTINE
CONSTRUCTION
A4-tf

VETERINARIAN

DR. PAUL FOSTER
VETERINARIAN
MacKENZIE FEED BUILDING
67 South Front St., Belleville
Phone 1825-M before 9 a.m. and after 5.00 p.m.
J8-1y

ROOFING CONTRACTOR

QUINTE ROOFING
(B. L. QUINCEY, Prop.)
Bonded Built-Up Tar and Gravel — Asphalt Shingling — Cooling Caulking — Waterproofing — Spray Painting
PHONE 3880 — BELLEVILLE
J31-1f

BUILDING CONTRACTOR

JOHN V. WHITE
GENERAL REPAIRS
LET US BUILD YOU A NEW HOME.
Quotations Gladly Furnished
Expert Workmanship
58 Alexander Street
PHONE
Office 813 House 3533-J
J25-tf

MIMEOGRAPHING RUBBER STAMPS

THE JAMES TEXTS LIMITED
Fast, efficient work covering all forms: Price Lists, Letterheads, Statements, Cards, Ledgers, Circulars, etc. Also typing of stencils for all types of Rubber Stamps. Prompt service.
179-183 Front St. Phone 893
F8-tf

WELL DRILLING

McMILLAN and GARTLEY
(Formerly W. E. Gartley)
WELL DRILLING
Phone 618-M
BELLEVILLE, ONT.

B. A. K. SMILEY
Box 72 Phone 114-21

MADOC
ALL TYPES OF CABLE DRILLING AND CASING
NEW MACHINE
FREE ESTIMATES — PROMPT ATTENTION
A25-tf

FOOT SPECIALIST

H. W. ROBBSON, M.M.
ALL FOOTWEAR MADE TO ORDER OF THE FEET
Fallen Arches, Bunions, Ankles, Hammer Toes, Thick Nails and cases arising from Improper Fitting of Artificial Limbs.
Examination Free
Office Hours: 10, 11 to 2, 7 to 8
142 Front St., Corner Victoria
PHONE 453-W OPEN EVENINGS

CARETAKING CONTRACTORS

GORDON A. MacEACHERN
(G. Fenton Mgr.)
SPECIALISTS IN FLOOR FINISHING
WINDOW CLEANING — WALL WASHING
Manufacturers of
FINE FLOOR PRODUCTS
FOR POLISHERS FOR RENT
338 Pinnacle St. Phone 629

FLOORS and WALLS

FIDUTTI — FABBRI
TILE and TERRAZZO CO.
GLAZED CERAMIC FLOOR and WALL TILE
TERRAZZO FLOOR — Guaranteed Repairs to Tile and Terrazzo
FOR ESTIMATES
Phone 3552
51 NORTH FRONT ST.
M30-1y

BUILDERS' SUPPLIES

LUMBER

ROOFING — INSULATION — SIDINGS — WALLBOARDS — PLYWOOD — SASH — DOORS — MOULDINGS — HARDWARE

E. D. MOTT
370 FRONT ST. PHONE 1633
A3-1y

CHIROPRACTORS

ROGERS RIEDEL, D.C.
Doctor of Chiropractic
Consultations by Appointment
42½ Bridge St. East
Suite 5 and 6
Office Telephone 3291
Residence Telephone 4256
J2-1y

R. A. WYATT, Ph.C.
Chiropractor and Drugless Therapist. Mineral Fume Baths with oil and alcohol rub. Examination of tissue cells. Radioclast examination, manipulative surgery and electrotherapy used for sinus condition.
386 Coleman St., Belleville. Phone 900
LADY ATTENDANT
AJ1-tf

REAL ESTATE

BUYING OR SELLING YOUR HOME?
Phone 3552
ERIC COOPER
General Insurance — Real Estate and Business Broker.
Life Insurance Consultant

UPHOLSTERING

OUR BUSINESS IS
UPHOLSTERING
RE-COVERING—RE-STYLING
1951 Materials
First Class Workmanship
Estimates — No Obligation
WRITE or PHONE
TOWNE UPHOLSTERERS
Reg.
263 Dundas St. E., TRENTON
P.O. Box 335 Phone 1008

FEED and GRAIN

CORN DISTILLERS DRIED GRAINS
are available at
WOODSON'S MILLS LTD.
SUPPLIES ARE LIMITED. WE SUGGEST YOU ORDER NOW.
Phone 806 105 S. John St.

BUSINESS LINERS

CUSTOM MADE SLIP COVERS. Choose the covering in your own home. All work done by me in our own workshop. Budget terms Percival's, 380 Front St., Tel. 71-wm-w-f-tf

ACCOM. WANTED

CHRISTIAN COUPLE WITH MONTHold child urgently require 2 or 3 room unfurnished apartment with private bathroom. Apartment 2, Ontario Intelligencer. F2-3t

HOUSE OR APT. SUPERIOR TYPE accommodation for couple without children. Excellent references. Write Box 47, Ontario Intelligencer. F2-3t

FOR SALE

OPPORTUNITY, BEAUTIFUL BABIES, Mixed Litter, Pedigree Sire, Silver, Silver Dapples, Sable, Blue Merles, Brownie, Collie Kennels, 1999 Princess St., Kingston. Phone 24480. F2-3t

REGISTERED HOLSTEIN COW, 9 yrs., Clarkson breeding, due to freshen April 20th. Also 2 heifers, due to freshen soon. Apply Ernest Sine, Stirling, R.R. 2. F2-3t

MASSEY - HARRIS 12 FOOT SEED drill. Good as new cream worker, horse, 16 gal. Phone 2365M. F2-3t

60 YEARLING LEGHORN HENS. Phone Thurlow 21-R-22. F2-3t

SQUARE BALED HAY. APPLY R. M. Rose, Phone 2365M, Belleville, or 396-W-1. F2-3t

BOILER, 80 HORSEPOWER SCOTCH, government inspected for 100 lbs. working pressure, with Steam Gauge, in fine clean condition. Going cheap. Apply Box 177 Stirling. F2-1t

HAY, GREEN ALFALFA, clover, timothy, in square bales. Phone 2365M, Belleville. F1-4t

EXCELLENT BUILDING close in, just off Bridge St., 25 ft. frontage, 3 Dwelling Units. 238-S

COOK STOVES, REFRIGERATORS, ice boxes, new or used. Large stock to choose from. Terms to suit. Bill Zeitsu Ltd., 383 Coleman St. Phone 3211. G30-tf

TO LET

4-ROOM APT., UNFURNISHED, UNheated. Private entrance. Self-contained. Bus stop. Available May 1st. Stay as long as 61 Reid's Municipal Campsite. Phone 2365M, Belleville. F2-3t

ROOM FOR 1 OR 2. BOARD OPTIONAL or light housekeeping privileges. Phone 2365M. F2-3t

3 LARGE FURNISHED ROOMS. Apply Ontario Intelligencer. F2-3t

BEDROOM, EAST HILL. CLOSE TO bus stop. Suitable for gentleman if desired. Use of phone. Phone 2365M, Belleville. F2-3t

ONE GIRL BOARDER SHARE ROOM $2 a week, also 2 light housekeeping rooms. Phone 2365M. F2-3t

HEATED, 2-ROOM GROUND FLOOR apartment, 141A Evans St. Phone 3007-M. F2-3t

FURNISHED BEDROOM IN NEW home. Suitable for gentleman. Phone 2365-M. F2-3t

3 LARGE, BRIGHT ROOMS, HEATed, unfurnished. Continuous hot water heating. Phone Thurlow 21-R-22. F2-3t

COMPLETELY REMODELLED UPPER house, Private driveway, water heater, oil heat, 3 rooms and bath, block north of West College. Thirty-five dollars monthly. Immediate possession. C. Sprague. F2-3t

3-ROOM HEATED APARTMENT with bath, over McCabe's Jewellery Store. Electric stove and electric refrigerator. Phone 2365 or 2421. F2-3t

3 LARGE ROOMS, HEATED AND furnished. Suitable for business couple. Box 177 Stirling. F2-1t

FURNISHED APARTMENT, FOUR rooms, bath, heated, garage, fully heated. Box 104, Ontario Intelligencer. F2-3t

ROOM AND BOARD, HOME PRIVILEGES. Phone 3371-J. F.J-3-2

MODERN 5-ROOM BUNGALOW, East Hill. Immediate occupancy. $65 per month. Write to Box 43, Ontario Intelligencer. F2-3t

3-ROOM UNFURNISHED, HEATED, apartment. Available February 15. Apply 30 Bridge St. East or phone 2365J. F2-3t

HOUSE, 3 ROOMS, NEWLY-DECORated, at Mountain View, near Trenton Highway. Phone View 2-R-12. F.J-3-2t

APARTMENT, 3 OR 4 ROOMS, 3-PC. bath. Fairs Hoops, 2 miles east of city on Kingston road. F2-3t

3 UNFURNISHED ROOMS, UNHEATed. Phone 3338-J. F2-3t

THREE ROOMS, HEATED, BEDROOM. Apply 69 Victoria Ave. F2-3t

ROOM AND BOARD IN PRIVATE home for 2 people. Phone 3371-J or near Bridge. F2-3t

HEATED, UNFURNISHED HOUSE with hot plate. Suit business man or woman. Use of bathroom. Close to bus stop. Phone 4346-W. F2-3t

NICELY FURNISHED BEDROOM IN new home. Suitable for gentleman. Hot water. Bus service. Phone 4186-W. F2-3t

FURNISHED ROOM, KITCHENETTE, continuous hot water. On bus line. Phone 3533. Apply 6 Pinnacle St. F2-3t

3 FURNISHED ROOMS. APPLY 131 Bridge St. East. F2-3t

4-BEDROOM HOUSE, WEST HILL. Hardwood floors downstairs, hot air furnace, oil heat. Possession 1st or 15th March 1. Phone 813-J. F2-3t

1 FURNISHED BEDROOM IN PRIvate home. Breakfast provided if desired. Garage available. Gentleman preferred. Apply 30 Bridge St. East or phone 2365J. F2-3t

3-ROOM SELF-CONTAINED APT. IN new modern home on East Hill. Radiant heating. Complete bathroom. Hot water supplied by oil burner. Full possession to May 1st. Ontario Intelligencer. F1-4t

3-ROOMED, FURNISHED, HEATED apartment. Self-contained. West Hill. Near to bus. Abstainers. Box 181, Ontario Intelligencer. F1-4t

8-ROOM APT. NEAR AIRPORT. Phone Trenton 1-R-21. F1-4t

COMFORTABLE, BRIGHT ROOMS for young men. Use of club facilities, gymnasium, bowling alley, swimming pool included. YMCA, 30 Campbell Street. Phone 415. E27-tf

BUILDING SUPPLIES

PLUMBING SUPPLIES, SINKS, bath tubs, toilets, basin, soil pipe and all kinds of fittings. Prices reasonable. Bay Hill Supply Co., Ltd., 49 Station. Phone 417. F2-1t

LUMBER, SHINGLES, DOORS, sash, millwork, cement, insulation, hardware. Houston Company Ltd., Trenton. Phone 1-W-21. F30-1t

LUMBER, ROOFING, INSULATION, sidings, wallboards, masonite, plywood and doors, moulding hardware. E. D. Mott, 370 Front Street, Phone 1633. F30-1t

WANTED — MALE

NIGHT CLERK NEAT APPEARance; good personality. Experience on Optics. Experienced preferred. Apply in person, Hotel Quinte. F2-3t

GOOD OPPORTUNITY FOR RIGHT man to be established in a good business handling one of the most famous Kitchen Products in Canada. Must have car and references. Permanent position. Write Immediately to Dept. WC-B-122-136, Montreal. Apply, 250 St. Rock Street, Montreal. F2-3t

VACANCY — RAWLEIGH BUSINESS now open in Belleville. Splendid established. Excellent opportunity. Full time, steady work. Rawleigh's Dept. WC-B-122-136, Montreal.

DUE TO INCREASED BUSINESS, we have an opening for additional salesman. Permanent job while training if you qualify. Phone 4240-W. F2-3t

SALESMAN FOR BELLEVILLE, electrical appliance and radio store, experienced only, steady position, permanent with good selling appearance. Apply in own handwriting, stating age, experience if any, salary, and present employment. Write Box 37, Trenton Intelligencer. All applies confidential. F31-4t

WANTED — FEMALE

3-ROOM APT. AVAILABLE TO PERson for minding children while mother works. Phone 4203-W. F2-3t

WAITRESS, HIGHEST WAGES PAID. Meals included. Apply in person. Apply in person only. Belmont Restaurant. F2-3t

WANTED

TYPING OR BOOKKEEPING TO DO in own home. Phone 4345-W. F2-3t

MARRIED LADY REQUIRES PART time work, preferably afternoons, available afternoons until six and all day Saturday. Apply Box 46, Ontario Intelligencer. F2-3t

SCRAP IRON, PAPER, RAGS, ETC. Highest prices paid. Phone 477, Crawford Scrap Iron Station 97. Always buying. F2-3t

SCHOOL GIRL DESIRES BABY SITting after school, evenings and Saturdays. Phone 3118. F2-3t

YOUNG MARRIED COUPLE WISHES part time work on shares. Could start at once. Apply Box 44, Ontario Intelligencer. F2-3t

YOUNG MARRIED WOMAN DESires position after 6 p.m. Experienced in office work. Apply Box 45, Ontario Intelligencer. F2-3t

2 RAILROAD BOARDERS TO SHARE room, twin beds, and laundry done. Phone 3338-J. F2-3t

RELIABLE PERSON WOULD LIKE part time housework, 2 days a week or day, 60c per hour. Phone 3223-R. F2-3t

SEWING MACHINE OPERATORS. Apply Mr. Wooden, Point of View Contest. Win a new Sunbeam automatic Mixer. For details watch Point of View Booth, No. 3, at the Exhibition Grounds. F2-3t

PIANO. WILL STORE PIANO IN warm apt. for use of same. Phone 2344M. F2-3t

USED ELECTRIC MOTORS AND hobby equipment. Phone 4133. S18-tf

LIVE POULTRY HIGHEST CASH prices paid. Call or write stating attention. Apply M. Marcus, 152 James St., Belleville. Phone 3533. M10-tf

LOST

KEY CASE, PERMIT, SATURDAY. Glen Ray Corporation. Kindly phone 724-W2. Reward. F2-3t

NOTICE

Meeting of the patrons of Roslin Rural School Area No. 4 Thurlow, which will be held in the East Hastings Cheese Factory on Monday, the 19th February 8, at 2 p.m., 1951, will be cancelled until further notice.
W. C. HALL, President.
F2-3t

NOTICE

In the matter of The Municipal Act being R.S.O. 1937, Chapter 266, Section 621, Sub-Section 1 and in particular Section 407, Sub Section 3(c) thereof, and in the matter of the change of names of certain streets in the Township of Sidney, and situated in Lots 26, 27 and 28, Concession I on the said Township.

Jones Street to Lee Avenue
William Street to Lee Avenue
James Street to Harder Avenue.
Notice of Application is hereby given.

Notice is hereby given that on the 26th day of February, 1951, at the hour of ten o'clock in the forenoon at his chambers in the Court House in the City of Belleville, the Judge of County Judges' Criminal Court of the Hastings will consider a proposed by-law of the Council of the

Jones Street to Lee Avenue
William Street to Lee Avenue
James Street to Harder Avenue
in the Township of Sidney to Harder Avenue and will hear both advocating and those opposing the change.

Dated at the City of Belleville this 19th day of January, 1951.
R. VANDERVEEN,
Clerk,
Sidney Township.
J22-2t-F2-1t

BUILDING CONTRACTORS

S. B. McCRORY CONSTRUCTION Company, residential and industrial repairs, alterations, concrete and insulation. Free estimates. 118 Front Street. Phone 3691. F30-1t

WHITE LUMBER AND CONSTRUCtion Company for home building, alterations and repairs. Also industrial, domestic and office buildings. 14 Front North. Phone 3477. F30-1t

BEFORE YOU BUY

SEE

TRUCK and FARM SUPPLY

OPEN EVERY DAY — ALL DAY

ARTICLES FOR SALE

3-PC. WALNUT DINETTE SUITE. Like new. Cost $240, sell for $125. Phone 4618-W. F2-3t

SET OF GIRL'S WHITE TUBE skates, size 2. Phone 3166. F2-3t

3-PC. DAVENPORT SUITE, CHAIR and table, two Wayne Home Furnishers. Box Front St. F2-3t

SNOWSHOES, BABY CARRIAGE, chrome finish, Good condition. Mrs. Clifford McCoy, 18 North Park Gardens. F2-3t

MAP HOOKETS AND SPIKES for Used 2 seasons. Phone Thurlow 21-R-22. F2-3t

QUEBEC HEATER, IN SPLENDID condition. Fire box 11½ inches. Phone 3127-W. F2-3t

BEAUTY COPPER TUB WASHER. Like new. Electric motor condition. Famous Beauty clothes action agitator washes clothes clean in from 6 to 8 minutes. $62.50. David's Furniture, 340 Front St. F2-3t

1 REMINGTON TYPEWRITER, 1 inch carriage. Like new. Phone 228 after 5 p.m. F2-3t

ACME RANGE WITH HIGH OVEN, warming compartment, high speed burner. Like new. Phone 3533-J. F2-3t

BABY PRAMS, DELUXE MODEL, 2 only, Sunshine and Lloyd. Regular $79.50, sale price $59.50. R. B. Farrar Furniture, 23 Bridge East. F2-3t

BABY CHAMP RADIO INVORY, 5 tube with short wave. Phone 3533. Built-in antenna. Excellent condition. Apply 30 Campbell Street or 30 Colette St., Apt. 3, or phone 1668-J. F2-3t

TRADE IN YOUR OLD ELECTRIC iron on a new Sunbeam or Silex iron. Worth $2.00 on each purchase of a new iron. Bay Hill Supply Co., Ltd., 239 Front St. J19-tf

NEW AND USED BATH TUBS, sinks, toilets, hot water tanks, all kinds of new and used plumbing and heating goods, sell pipe and fittings. Anderson Plumbing & Heating, 45 Church. J17-1m

SEE THE NEW BEATTY STAINLESS Steel Automatic Electric Washing Soap, 340 Front St. Let us show you this outstanding washing machine. J16-tf

AUTOMOBILES FOR SALE

FORD 1938 TUDOR SEDAN. A REAL good car. Color black. Good mechanical condition. Priced right. Priced to sell quickly at $395. Terms if desired. Phone 2344M. F2-3t

MILLMAN MINX SEDAN, 1949. A choice English car. Really like new. Only 15,000 miles. Color dove grey finish. Good tires. Come in and inspect this car. Priced to sell at $1,295. Terms if desired. Phone 2344M. Trade-in accepted. Trudeau Motors Ltd. Phone 2344M. F2-3t

1943 WILLYS ARMY JEEP IN GOOD condition. Cheap. Phone 134 Trenton. J22-2t-T(-cm-1h-f

1940 DODGE SEDAN, CLEAN IN excellent condition. Low mileage. Reasonably priced. Phone 3533-J. F2-3t

GLIDEMOBILE 1948 SEDAN. A demonstration will satisfy you that car is a good one. Price $1,195. It carries our personal guarantee. Terms if desired. Phone 2344M. Trade-in accepted. Trudeau Motors Ltd. Phone 2344M. F2-3t

1949 THAMES 1-TON PANEL, 10,000 miles. Good condition. Apply Chas. Hughes, R.R. No. 2, Little Florist, Trenton. F2-2t

PERSONALS

CRESS BUNION SALVE FOR burning relief. Your druggist sells Cress. F1-2t

CAUSING CONCERN

Ottawa, Feb. 5.—(CP)— Narcotic addiction among Canada's younger set, including teen-agers, is causing some concern among officials charged with stamping out illicit traffic in this country.

Federal health department officials note that in the last couple of years ago addicts mainly were in the 25-to-45 age group. But in the last two years there has been a noticeable lowering of the age. Prosperity, a large supply of illicit heroin on the market and the search for new thrills are blamed by officials for the increase.

THERE'S NO TURNING BACK

Poignant scenes like this, showing two children huddled against their mother for warmth, are common in Korea today as civilians seek desperately to get away from the terror of war and the menace of communism. Many are evacuated by sea to inland refugees, but there is never enough transportation for all. — Central Press Canadian.

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE

THREE BEDROOM BRICK BUNGAlow, living and dining room, kitchen with many cupboards. Call today to see this home. Immediate delivery at $11,500.

MODERN, THREE BEDROOMS, LIVing and dining rooms, kitchen and bath, full basement, oil heat, garage. East Hill. Down payment $3,100. Immediate delivery.

MODERN, THREE BEDROOM BUNgalow with spacious rooms, never occupied.

TRENT RD. TWO BEDROOM NEW bungalow, large living room, kitchen and bath, full basement, low taxes. Down payment $1,500.

WORTH AVE. 3-BEDROOM BUNgalow, full basement, garage, full basement, furnace.

EAST HILL, MODERN 3 BEDROOM bungalow, fireplace, $2,000. $3,000 down.

EAST HILL NEW, 3 BEDROOMS, living, dining and dinette room, full basement, oil heat.

ANN HILL, 4-BEDROOM BRICK, low, living and dining room, sun room, full basement, oil burner, garage, $12,900.

WORTH AVE., 2 BEDROOM BRICK bungalow, garage, $10,500.

HIGHLAND AVE. SOLID BRICK 4-bedroom bungalow, full basement, oil burner.

DUFFERIN AVE. RADIANT HEATED modern home, 3 bedrooms, $14,000.

DUFFERIN AVE., LUXURIOUS 3-bedroom brick bar-lounge, etc.

SMALL 4-ROOM BUNGALOW, on 50x150 lot, 1½ miles from town. We have many OTHER EXCLUsive listings.

E. J. SAUNDERS
Real Estate Insurance
219 Front St.
East Entrance Bridge
Phone 2844
D. J. Whalen, Salesman, 4081-J
F2-6-8

TWO FAMILY DWELLING, BRIDGE Street West, living room, double kitchen, 3 bedrooms, 4-piece bathroom, 3 bedrooms with kitchenette, living room, dining room, kitchen, large lot, garage, all-newly decorated. $9,000.

INSIDE BRICK DWELLING, FRANK Street, 3 self-contained apartments downstairs, modern bathroom, Price $4,500. Terms. Easier than rent. Mortgage. Early possession.

SOLID BRICK OUTSIDE CITY limits. Made into two apartments. Each has 3 bedrooms, living room, dining room, kitchen, 4-piece bath, Canullon Road, Large lot. Immediate possession. Price $7,500.

SEMI-DETACHED BRICK DWELLing, Bridge West, 3 bedrooms, all conveniences, oil heated, never occupied as two-family dwelling. Price $8,500. Down payment of $90 per month. Price $8,000.

NEW BRICK DUPLEX, EACH TWO bedrooms, modern three-piece bath, living room, dining room, kitchen, laundry tubs, oil floor furnace, lot 50x150. Price $12,000.

WELL BUILT APARTMENT houses in good locations.

HAROLD B. WILSON
Real Estate
O. D. Clapp, Sales Representative
Phone 2344 — 3030-J
Kreage Bldg. F2-7-9

WARMINSTER DAIRY COMPANY LTD.

I have received instructions from the Directors of the above Company to sell, by Public Auction on the premises, on Lot 23, Concession 1, Sidney Township, 12 miles south of Peterborough, Wednesday, February 14th, 1951, at 1 o'clock sharp, the following: Almost new, building, cheese factory 20 x 30 ft., with concrete floor and roof; also 3 adjoining buildings, one 20 x 30 ft., one 20 x 24 ft., and one 12 x 20 ft., used for storage of equipment; good Delaval churn; 2 steel vats; 2 pasteurizers; 1 cream separator; 1 electric motors; electric motor; pulleys, piping and fittings; steam boiler; 2 acts scales; also good 2-compartment delivery truck, model 1946, 10 ft. hydro, telephone, about 40 acres of land.

Terms: Mike and Arthur Newcombe Auctioneers, Peterborough, Ont.
For further information, telephone 4115 or residence 24028.
F2-5

5000 VISIT QUEEN'S

Kingston, Ont., Feb. 5.— Five thousand persons visited Queen's University during its second annual open house program Saturday. Eighteen buildings were opened and exhibits and demonstrations in arts, science and medicine kept visitors interested. Six hundred students acted as guides and demonstrators.

APPLICATION TO PARLIAMENT

NOTICE is hereby given that the Incorporated Synod of the Diocese of Ontario will apply to the Legislative Assembly of the Province of Ontario at the next Session thereof for a Special Act authorizing and confirming a Deed of Trust executed by the Synod of the Diocese of Ontario to the Trust Corporation of the Diocese of Ontario, conveying certain lands to the Bell Telephone Company of Canada.

ALL AND SINGULAR that certain parcel or tract of land and premises situate, lying and being in the City of Belleville in the County of Hastings and Province of Ontario, and being composed of part of Lot 23 on the south side of Church Street, according to Henry Carey's Registered Plan of the City of Belleville, said parcel or tract of land being more particularly described as follows:

COMMENCING at an iron bar planted on the southerly limit of Church Street, distant 66 feet from the said Lot 23, 166 feet from the easterly limit of Bridge Street and 132 feet from the southerly limit of Holloway Street;

THENCE EASTERLY parallel with the said southerly limit of Church Street, 33 feet, more or less to an iron bar in the said easterly limit of Bridge Street, distant thereon 132 feet from the place of beginning;

THENCE SOUTHERLY parallel with the said easterly limit of Bridge Street, 132 feet, more or less to the northerly limit of Holloway Street;

THENCE WESTERLY parallel with the said southerly limit of Church Street, 33 feet, more or less to an iron bar in the said easterly limit of Bridge Street, distant thereon 132 feet from the place of beginning;

THENCE NORTHERLY parallel with the said easterly limit of Bridge Street, 132 feet, more or less to the place of beginning.

DATED at Belleville, this 29th day of January, 1951.

Solicitor for Applicants.
J31-f3

WILL VISIT TRUMAN

Rome, Feb. 3 — (AP)— Premier Alcide de Gasperi will meet President Truman in the United States before the end of February, it was reported in Italy last night. The premier's trip will be made after his meeting with Premier Rene Pleven of France, which is scheduled for Feb. 12 and 13.

ORDER NOW FOR SPRING DELIVERY

CHINESE ELM, 12-inch size, 166 for $5.50; Hybrid Poplar, 12-inch size, (Hazlet or Clapp's Favorite), 3 ft. size, 100 for $5.00; Caragana, 12-inch size, 100 for $5.00; Russian Olive, 12-inch size, 100 for $5.00; Scots Pine, 10 for $3.50; Giant Hybrid Poplar, 6 ft. size, 10 for $3.00; Willow, 6 ft. size, 10 for $3.00; Willow, 6 ft. size, 10 for $3.00; Willow

TRYST

By Elswyth Thane

They missed her at Nuns Farthing, of course, by the time. Hillary heard them calling her in the garden, in the passage, and began to wonder too.

At 5 o'clock Mrs. Pilton came up and looked in at his door, to see if Sabrina had fallen asleep up there. With one inscrutable glance round the empty room, she closed the door and went away again.

A little later he went out and sat on his stairs, listening. While he sat there, shamelessly waiting to eavesdrop, Aunt Effie came upstairs and went into Sabrina's room. In a few minutes she came out again and hurried downstairs towards the study. Hillary followed to the top of the lower flight.

"Alan! Alan!" cried Aunt Effie at the study door. "Her dressing case is gone, and her toilet things! She packed them up! She's run away! Now will you ring up the police at Wells and give them a description? Say we'll be there directly after dinner. I'll go and bring the car round now."

Packed a bag and bolted, wondered Hillary, but decided he was unconcerned.

He hung about the stairhead while they ate a hasty and unhappy meal, and before they had finished he ran down through the lower hall and got into the rumble seat of the waiting car.

In a few minutes they came out. Aunt Effie took her place behind the wheel, and they drove away.

The hood was down, and fragments of their conversation floated back to Hillary on the road. Aunt Effie blamed herself for not handling the girl more personally in the matter of the school in Switzerland, and reiterated her intention to get Sabrina out of the house as soon as possible. Hillary was enlightened. Threatened with school against her will, Sabrina had run away. . .

The police station at Wells was only mildly concerned about Sabrina's mysterious disappearance. They took the viewpoint that a girl of nearly 18 who had calmly packed a bag and walked out in broad daylight with at least two pounds in her purse was not in any immediate danger. They were pretty sure that she had not been seen at the railway station and she was not at any of the hotels, but they were making further inquiries and would probably have something to report in the morning. They advised Aunt Effie to go home and get some rest and be prepared to come and collect the girl when she turned up safe and sound the next day.

Baffled and silenced by the bland efficiency of the law, Aunt Effie and Father returned to the car and drove away in the direction of Nuns Farthing. But without Hillary. He was far from satisfied, and he meant to drift around the local station and a bar or two, picking up local gossip.

He met Tim to the Swan, which was probably the only hotel Sabrina was likely to know about in Wells, and when the manageress' back was turned he inspected the register without success. He glanced into the dining room and the lounge and as he expected drew blank. He then went down the road and the social scale and finally fetched up in a pub bar where a dart game was in progress.

Various ancients had grown gregarious over their mild and bitter, and the entry of a constable just come off duty was greeted with a small stir. Had the missing lady been found, they wanted to know. No, she had not.

"I saw un, I did," volunteered an old boy in the corner with a bubbling pipe.

"Did you, now?" said the constable, humoring him. "Where would that be?"

"Pretty creetur, she were, too," mumbled the old man into his beer. "Nigh broke her neck, she did, gettin' on the bus. Luggin' a great 'eavy bag like that."

"What bus?" said Hilary involuntarily, drawing nearer.

"How do you know so much about it?" suspected the constable.

"'Erself, 'ere, were down at the railway station. 'E 'ard 'em ask-ing about people takin' tickets for London an' that. I said, 'No London in it,' I said. 'She took the bus for Glastonbury,' I said. So 'Erbert said—"

"How was she dressed, this girl you saw?" The constable was interested now.

"Might be somethin' blue," said old Tom with nonchalance, and buried his face in his beer. "Pretty creetur," he added, half emerging. "But wants fattenin'—" He disappeared again, into his beer.

"Blue," said the constable. "That's right. Carrying a bag. Glastonbury bus. Well, no harm in letting them know at the station.

But Hilary had slipped out the door ahead of him and was hurrying towards the square where the last bus for Glastonbury was loading. He waited on the curb till its gears went home, and then sung on through the open back door and dropped into a seat near the rear.

It was quite dark when they got to Glastonbury, and the Pilgrim Inn was dim and quiet. He walked into the deserted hall, and with a quick glance round stepped into the office and sought the register. The last signature of the day amused him. Mary Smith, he read, and beside it No. 27.

Still smiling, he went upstairs and found the number on a door and listened. Not a sound. He walked through the painted wood-en panels.

Sabrina was asleep in the tumbled bed, one fragile arm outflung.

He bent over her with mingled thankfulness and anxiety, and his troubled face relaxed. She stirred a little, and settled more comfortably into the pillow. Very cautiously he straightened the covers and drew them over her. Then he retired to a rather uncomfortable looking chair by the window, rested his crossed feet on the bureau, and took up his vigil.

He had found her, and she was safe, but what came next? An alarming sense of his own helplessness was gnawing on him towards night. Whatever happened, he could only stand by and watch. But from now on, he dared not let her out of his sight. Suppose he lost her. It came as rather a shock to him that he had not, apparently, developed any sort of second sight which would guide him to her again, across the world. If once he lost touch with her, or let least with the family, it might be years before he saw her again —centuries—

But she needed him. He was so sure of that. She belonged to him. It was his job to look after her. But how?

Someone was ringing the night bell, and banging on the street door. There was a stir downstairs. Sabrina slept through it, smiling.

Arrival of distraught family, thought Hilary. Let her have her sleep out, why can't you? Go to bed and shut up till morning.

There was a tapping on Sabrina's door, and she sat up, startled.

"It's 8! right," he said gently. "Who's there?" called Sabrina tremulously.

"It's me, dear—Aunt Effie. Open the door."

"You might as well let her get it over," Hilary advised, preparing to surrender his chair.

Sabrina got out of bed and snapped on the light and unlocked the door.

"You naughty girl, how could you worry us so? We had to ring up the police station at Wells!" Aunt Effie came in and shut the door behind her.

"I'm sorry." Sabrina returned to the bed and sat up in the middle of it with the covers pulled round her, looking very small and forlorn.

"Somebody saw you getting on the bus for Glastonbury, or I really don't know what we should have done, we might have worried all night long—"

"I'm sorry, Auntie. I meant to post you a letter in the morning to say I was all right."

"But what were you going to do, dear, out in the world all alone?"

"I don't know — I thought of trying to get a job—"

"A job!" cried Aunt Effie, as though she had said a rattlesnake.

"Well, I only had two pounds seven, and so—"

"But surely you meant to come back home tomorrow."

"No."

"But why? Your fa- it's all because you didn't want to go to school, but surely—"

"I didn't want to leave Nuns Farthing."

"But you did leave it, when you came here!" Aunt Effie pointed out triumphantly.

"I know. I — I was wrong."

"Well, I'm glad you see that now, at least. Sabrina, darling, promise me you'll never run away again!" But Sabrina was silent, her arms locked round her bent knees, staring at the foot of the bed. "And I'll make you a promise, too," Aunt Effie hurried on persuasively. "I'll promise not to say anything more about Switzerland, unless you decide you really want to go. Is that a bargain?"

Sabrina turned a faintly hopeful face towards her aunt.

"Do you mean that, Auntie?"

"Of course I do! If I'd any idea you felt as strongly as all this about not going—well, we just won't say anything more about it, shall we? No more going — no more running away!"

"That's not good enough, Sabrina," Hilary warned her. "Make her promise you won't have to leave Nuns Farthing."

But Sabrina, heavy with exhaustion, and being naturally a truthful girl, saw only that her lifelong dread of school could be forever dispelled.

"I promise," she said.

"And I promise!" said Aunt Effie brightly. "Now, your father and I have taken rooms here for the night, so we'll go and we'll all drive home together in the morning. There are two lovely beds in my room, Sabrina, wouldn't you like to come in there and be cozy?"

"No, thank you, Aunt Effie. I've unpacked here."

"Good night, dear. Shall I put out the light?"

"Yes, please."

Aunt Effie kissed her affectionately, and snapped out the light and went away. Sabrina got up to lock the door behind her, and crawled back into bed and pulled the covers well up over her head.

Hilary restored his feet to the bureau and settled back to think. He knew as well as anything that Aunt Effie's crafty bargain still left the way open for her to take Sabrina away from Nuns Farthing as soon as she chose, and he was sure that she would lose no time about it now, unless—

(To Be Continued)

Itch...Itch...Itch

I Was Nearly Crazy

Until I discovered Dr. D. D. Prescription. Almost instant relief. Stops itching, burning, scaling. Clears skin right up. Don't suffer. Get greaseless, stainless, medicated D.D.D. Prescription today. Trial bottle, 35c. Extra strength, 60c. Ask your druggist for D.D.D. Prescription (accessory of skin stronghold).

BEAR SYSTEM SERVICE

WHEEL ALIGNMENT
WHEEL BALANCING
Available at the
BELLEVILLE MOTOR CAR CO., LTD.
MERCURY - LINCOLN DEALER
Cor. Bridge and Coleman Sts.
Phone 827

Peggy's Beauty Salon

IS PLEASED TO ANNOUNCE that we have secured the services of SHIRLEY STEWART, who has 9 years experience in professional beauty culture, and has recently taken special instruction in hair cutting and styling from Adalphe Ellis of New York.

PHONE 4121 FOR LATEST IN '51 HAIR STYLES.

GERALDINE ROSE (Prop.)

MOST POPULAR "MAN ABOUT TOWN"

The most paralyzing bus and trolley strike in New Jersey's history gave a Newark taxi driver the pick of waiting fares. Directed against the Public Service Co-ordinated Transport Co., the tie up affects 1,600,000 riders, as well as inter-state bus commuters. Newark's public schools were closed also as a result of the walkout staged by the AFL transport workers. — Central Press Canadian.

Say Guns Ruin Chances for Bayonet Charges

On the Western Korean Front, Feb. 5.—(Reuters)—Turkish troops object to the powerful artillery support they've been getting recently, claiming it ruins their chances for bayonet charges.

Capt. Colin McNaught, a British artillery officer, yesterday said he ranged British 25-pound field guns against communists dug in on snow-covered hill positions north of Suwon where the Turks are advancing.

He asked a Turkish colonel: "Is this satisfactory?" McNaught said the reply he got was: "You know all this artillery is really unnecessary."

The Turkish colonel then resumed sharpening his bayonet.

Final Three Of Seven Negroes Are Executed

Richmond, Va., Feb. 5 (AP) — The State of Virginia closed the book today on the "Martinsville seven" with the electrocution of the final three in the state penitentiary here.

A last-minute plea to a United States Supreme Court Justice was futile and the three men walked to their deaths in this basement execution chamber in the space of 45 minutes between 7:30 and 8:15 a.m.

Their four companions in the mass rape of a Martinsville white woman were executed Friday morning. There, too, lawyers had made an 11th hour plea to save the negroes from the electric chair.

Just as Friday's executions were carried out, the three today were in an atmosphere of dispassionate calm. None of the demonstrations that marked clemency efforts for the seven throughout the United States and abroad was in evidence.

Thus the state carried out the directive of the circuit court of Martinsville, first handed down May 24, 1949. In the 20-month interim, five reprieves were granted while the case was carried through the state and federal courts—four times to the U.S. Supreme Court of one of its justices.

The seven were convicted in circuit court Judge John Claiborne Taylor, 24, James Luther Hairston, 23, and Frances Desales Grayson, 40. Executed Friday were Joe Henry Hampton, 22; Frank L. Hairston, 21; Booker T. Millner, 22; and Howard Hairston 21.

Storage Yards Filled With Cars Due to Strike

Toronto, Feb. 5 (CP) —Efforts of a United States railway strikemen's strike continued to spread in Canada today.

A spokesman for Canadian National Railways said last night storage yards over at least 400 miles of track were being used largely to store freight intended for U.S. points but held up because of the strike. At Wyoming, Ont., between Sarnia and London, 170 cars were stored.

The Canadian Pacific Railway's only remaining connection between Toronto and New York was the Empire State Express, operating between Buffalo and New York.

The CNR said its Maple Leaf, running on the Lehigh Valley line, still was operating.

HEAVY DEATH TOLL

London, Feb. 3 (Reuters) — Deaths from influenza and pneumonia totalled 9,212 in the eleven weeks to January 27 in the main towns of England and Wales, official statistics revealed today. In the week ended January 27 influenza deaths totalled 1,239, compared with 1,099 the previous week; pneumonia deaths were 790 compared with 843.

"SCOTT'S SCRAP BOOK" By R. J. SCOTT

Save During This 2 Day Special Selling at EATON'S

Just What You Have Been Waiting For!

Take Advantage of This Exciting Offer!

Well-Styled Girdles and Corselettes

On Sale While Quantities Last!

NEMO "ADJUSTABLE WAIST"

Nylon Girdles

EATON Special Price, Each 7.50

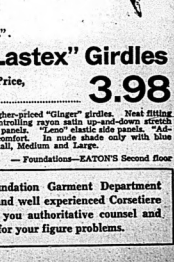
Smooth nylon taffeta semi-step-in style with slide fastener closing and "Adjustable Waist" feature for comfort. "Leno" elastic side panels and gussets, firmly boned front and nylon panels. In nude shade only. Average and Full Hip fittings. Sizes 27 to 32 in the group. Odd and even sizes included.

NEMO "WONDERLIFT"

Corselettes

EATON Special Price, Each 8.95

Save on these well-made garments of good, sturdy cotton corset cloth. Firmly boned back and inner belt for good control, knitted elastic side panels and gussets, built-up shoulders with wide elastic straps. Neat side hooking closing — nude shade in average and short average lengths. Sizes 36 to 44 in the group. Odd and even sizes included.



NEMO "GINGER"

Satin "Lastex" Girdles

EATON Special Price, EACH 3.98

"Seconds" of much higher-priced "Ginger" girdles. Neat fitting pull-on style with controlling rayon satin up-and-down stretch elastic front and back panels. "Leno" elastic side panels. "Adjustable Waist" for comfort. In nude shade only with blue stitching. Sizes: Small, Medium and Large.

— Foundations—EATON'S Second floor

NEMO "SENSATION"

Elastic Girdles

EATON Special Price, Each 3.39

A true copy of your favourite "Cheer" and "Trims" girdles, yet so low priced! Made from two-way stretch "Supplespun" elastic, carefully styled with expert workmanship. In nude shade with white trim. Average length. Sizes: Small, Medium and Large.

EATON'S Foundation Garment Department has a trained and well experienced Corsetiere who will give you authoritative counsel and correct fitting for your figure problems.

THE T. EATON CO LIMITED
BELLEVILLE BRANCH

PROBABILITIES
Wednesday: Cloudy, snow and rain. Continuing mild. Low 38, High 52.

The Ontario Intelligencer

TEMPERATURES
Max. Min.
Today 21 8
One year ago 30 19

★ Authorized as Second Class Mail, Post Office Department, Ottawa.

BELLEVILLE, ONTARIO, TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 6, 1951

5c Per Copy, 25c Per Week

BATTLE RAGES AGAINST REDS' MAIN DEFENCES

Man Found Dead After Hammer Attack on Woman

Mrs. M. Wolfe, Newmarket, Suffers Head Injuries

Newmarket, Ont., Feb. 6 (CP) — The body of Charles Ward, 60, of Toronto, was found early today in a food-deep creek here, two hours after Ward allegedly attacked Mrs. Mary Wolfe, 53-year-old woman, with a hammer, Newmarket is 35 miles north of Toronto.

Mrs. Wolfe said she and Ward had planned to be married in March and to buy a rooming-house in Toronto.

She told police she and her suitor were seated on a kitchen couch in her second-floor apartment on Main Street about midnight while her daughter, Rosemarie, 10, slept in a nearby bedroom. She said that, when she requested his departure, he struck her with the hammer. She suffered cuts and bruises to her face and head.

Attacked with Hammer

"He suddenly raised a hammer and, without a word, rained blows at my head," Mrs. Wolfe told police. "I shielded myself with my arms and the blows glanced off. I pleaded with him to stop. I screamed, but he kept hitting me."

The commotion aroused Rosemarie, who struck at Ward with her flats and feet and forced him to flee to the street. Barefoot and clad only in nightclothes, the girl pursued him to the street and spotted out to a passer-by, Harvey Gibney.

"That man tried to kill my mother!"

Gibney took up the chase and other citizens joined in.

Ward eluded pursuit by running south on Main Street and then, cutting along the creek bank. He apparently stumbled down an embankment and fell, or collapsed, in the water.

Constable Jim Leeder found his body 30 feet downstream from the spot where his footprints in the snow ended. He said the body apparently had been carried along by the current.

Bleeding From Wounds

At the start of the pursuit, Mrs. Wolfe, fearing for her daughter, staggered down the hall from her apartment and collapsed on the sidewalk. She soon was covered with blood from her head wounds She kept screaming, "a man tried to kill me" and "Rosemarie is my daughter!"

"He was planning to get married in March," Mrs. Wolfe said. "Charles wanted to get married right away but I had to wait for business affairs here before we went to Toronto."

She said he was putting up almost all the money to buy the rooming-house. Ward was a retired farmer.

"He was so nice to both of us. He was like a big brother to Rosemarie, always bringing gifts. Last night he kissed her when she went to bed."

Rosemarie told police she missed the hammer after a visit by Ward on Sunday. She said she asked Ward where it was and he said he did not know. Police said they believe the hammer might have been hidden under the couch.

Mrs. Wolfe, a Quaker, said she and Ward had planned a trip to Toronto today to look at the roominghouse.

Wrapped in a flowered cotton housecoat and holding one hand to her swollen face, she told reporters she had met Ward a year in Toronto several months ago.

"He was so kind to me," she said. "He was a nice man."

BRITISH EXPORTS UP

London, Feb. 6—(CP)—Britain exported 35 per cent more cars last year than in 1949 and Australia and Canada were the top export buyers, it was announced Monday. British car makers built 523,515 cars and 363,702 commercial vehicles during the year—a 25-per-cent increase over 1949.

100,000 Workers Idle by Strike

Detroit, Feb. 6 — (AP) — The United States auto industry dipped into rapidly dwindling material reserves Monday to keep production going.

Despite some easing of the rail-road situation there still were well over 100,000 workers idle or working short shifts and it was another bad day for output.

But the railroad switchmen's strike wasn't all. Hudson Motor Car Company was forced to send home 15,000 employees shortly after noon because a minor fire set off the sprinkler and a strike making idle 11,000 Kaiser-Fraser employees continued.

The total available estimate placed the total of at least partially - idle auto workers across the United States at 134,800.

General Motors, leading the layoff list, reported it had 51,000 employees completely idle in 12 plants and another 29,500 on less than eight-hour shifts.

Quebec Liberal Leader Calls For Inquiry

Quebec, Feb. 6— (CP)—Liberal Leader George Marler today gave notice of a motion in the Quebec Legislature calling for an impartial inquiry into the collapse of the Duplessis Bridge at Three Rivers last week.

The Liberal House leader said such an inquiry by "persons of unquestionable capability and impartiality" is needed to establish the cause of the collapse of the $5,000,000 bridge which cost four lives.

In two other motions of which he also gave notice Mr. Marler asked the government for copies of all reports made to the government last year about damage done to the bridge in Feb. 1950.

He also called for copies of all correspondence or communications last year between the government, officials and Dufresne Engineering Company Limited and the Dufresne Engineering Company Limited about the Duplessis Bridge.

Mr. Marler told newspaper men that in the public interest the Liberal opposition wants an inquiry into the bridge disaster that will not "whitewash" anyone.

Researchers Develop Vest-Pocket Detector for Radiation

Vancouver, Feb. 6 — (CP) — A vest-pocket radiation detector, which could be worn by workers in the field and civilians in A-bomb-threatened cities, has been developed in a Vancouver laboratory.

George Hill, a research director, claimed today that he and his associates have perfected an instrument that has been under test at about $1 each.

"It can be made compact enough to be carried in a vest-pocket, lapel, wallet or handbag.

"The detection and warning device could be carried by soldiers in battle and it would be possible," said Hill, for a medical officer to tell immediately how much radiation, if any, a soldier had unconscious man had absorbed.

Hill also forecast that future backyard bomb shelters, built for protection against A-bombs, may be constructed of an inexpensive cement mixture.

He said his special mixture, developed after months of research, results, and to a certain extent completely repels, the dread gamma rays which are given off in an A-bomb burst.

Tremendous thicknesses of steel and concrete have long been held the only practical protection to radiation, Tests have shown, however, that only four inches of the special cement may do the job.

A cheap individual detector has been the goal of many scientists, Hill said, however, that there is no known chemical which reacts to gamma radiation.

He said he has found that chemical indication of gamma radiation is possible.

The indicator consists of a pyrex tube about three inches long, containing indigo dye and chloroform. The dye is a normal chemical indicator dye used for analytical work.

When even a minute quantity of gamma rays pass through the dye, a small amount of hydrochloric acid is formed, Hill says, and the dye gradually turns to yellow and then to the color of crystal.

(Continued on Page 4)

CRIPPLING STRIKE NEARING AN END IN SEVERAL CITIES

Workers in N. Y. Area Return to Their Jobs

Chicago, Feb. 6 —(AP) — The crippling railroad strike ended in the New York area today, spokesmen for major carriers said, and the week-long walkout appeared nearing an end in several other cities.

"This was bigger than Bikini," Roberts said.

There were no reports of injuries, residents having been forewarned of the possibility of disarming shocks.

In Los Angeles, some 300 miles distant, windows rattled in residences and on the campus of the University of California at Los Angeles 24 minutes after the flash. Sound travels about 1,000 feet a second.

Sound Waves

Scientists have said that sound waves might be felt as far away as 1,000 miles if atmospheric conditions were present to permit the concussion to bounce off layers of dust or air.

Television cameras picked up the flash through a fog in Los Angeles and relayed it to their watchers.

Las Vegas Police Capt. George Thompson called today's shock "the worst yet."

The Atomic Energy Commission would confirm only that a test had taken place.

The while light was seen in Oakland, on the edge 'of San Francisco Bay, where one witness described it as terrifying. Oakland is some 450 air miles from Las Vegas.

An irregular sort of white cloud spread over the horizon to the northwest, above the Frenchman Flat area, where the atomic tests are being conducted. It was different in appearance from any seen in the previous four tests seen and heard here.

Las Vegas Strategic were felt following by about 5½ minutes the now-familiar blinding white flash in the pre-dawn sky.

The Atomic Energy Commission, in an unprecedented outlet announcement, had warned residents to stay away from windows. Highways were lined by hundreds who left their homes for a clearer view and to escape any flying glass.

Clusters of watchers on street corners in the Southern part of the fireworks spread over the northwest sky at 548 a. m. PST (8:48 a. m. EST).

There is much speculation over what is behind the blast those who are inclined to atomic weapons of some sort.

Dr. Edward Teller, aviation editor of the Los Angeles Examiner, said he had learned that the test was actually only a "trigger" for the H-bomb. The Atomic Energy Commission began work on the hydrogen bomb more than a year ago but has said nothing of its progress.

Hartt said that the H-bomb itself will be tested in the Pacific within nine or 10 months. Experts have agreed that the H-bomb could be set off only by an atomic explosion.

Two Distinct Shocks are Felt In Fifth A-Blast at Los Vegas, Much Speculation Over Test

Las Vegas, Nev., Feb. 6 (AP)— Windows shattered early today in this southern Nevada city as two separate shocks from the fifth atomic test in 11 days rocked the city.

Police reported big show windows in two automobile agencies splintered by sound waves.

Clete Roberts, Los Angeles news commentator who saw the mid-Pacific atom tests at Bikini, watched today's from the bandit of Cactus Springs, on the edge of the government's 5,000 square mile testing-range.

"This was bigger than Bikini," Roberts said.

There were no reports of injuries, residents having been forewarned of the possibility of disarming shocks.

In Los Angeles, some 300 miles distant, windows rattled in residences and on the campus of the University of California at Los Angeles 24 minutes after the flash. Sound travels about 1,000 feet a second.

Sound Waves

Scientists have said that sound waves might be felt as far away as 1,000 miles if atmospheric conditions were present to permit the concussion to bounce off layers of dust or air.

Television cameras picked up the flash through a fog in Los Angeles and relayed it to their watchers.

Las Vegas Police Capt. George Thompson called today's shock "the worst yet."

The Atomic Energy Commission would confirm only that a test had taken place.

The while light was seen in Oakland, on the edge 'of San Francisco Bay, where one witness described it as terrifying. Oakland is some 450 air miles from Las Vegas.

An irregular sort of white cloud spread over the horizon to the northwest, above the Frenchman Flat area, where the atomic tests are being conducted. It was different in appearance from any seen in the previous four tests seen and heard here.

Las Vegas Strategic were felt following by about 5½ minutes the now-familiar blinding white flash in the pre-dawn sky.

The Atomic Energy Commission, in an unprecedented outlet announcement, had warned residents to stay away from windows. Highways were lined by hundreds who left their homes for a clearer view and to escape any flying glass.

Clusters of watchers on street corners in the Southern part of the fireworks spread over the northwest sky at 548 a. m. PST (8:48 a. m. EST).

There is much speculation over what is behind the blast those who are inclined to atomic weapons of some sort.

Dr. Edward Teller, aviation editor of the Los Angeles Examiner, said he had learned that the test was actually only a "trigger" for the H-bomb. The Atomic Energy Commission began work on the hydrogen bomb more than a year ago but has said nothing of its progress.

Hartt said that the B-bomb itself will be tested in the Pacific within nine or 10 months. Experts have agreed that the H-bomb could be set off only by an atomic explosion.

MacArthur is Believed Urging Use of Nationalists Troops Against Chinese Communists

By RUSSELL BRINES

Tokyo, Feb. 6 (AP) — Gen. MacArthur is believed to have recommended to Washington that Chinese Nationalist troops be used against the communist Chinese forces in Korea and elsewhere.

He consistently has believed that Chiang Kai-Shek's army should be used in broadened warfare against the Communists, informed sources said today.

The informants indicated MacArthur believes the Nationalists should be supported in a thrust against the Chinese mainland as well as being used in Korea if available.

It is believed here that Chiang Kai-Shek's proffered offer to send Nationalist troops into battle against the North Koreans was declined in order to avoid giving the Chinese communist an excuse to enter the campaign. That reason military men say, is no longer valid.

Assessment of communist strength in south China ranges from a contention that the Nationalists could walk into it to belief here that the reds are rebuilding their southern forces.

In any case MacArthur is understood to feel that even the threat of a Nationalist attack would force the communist would draw off sizable communist forces from the northeast. This in turn would proportionately reduce the pressure on allied forces fighting in Korea.

No responsible officer has said that, with the present manpower shortage, the allies can match all of Korea or even a substantial portion of the soil of Seoul. The Chinese still have a vast superiority in numbers.

This is not consistent with MacArthur's strategy both to bolster his forces with Nationalist troops now available and to use them as a diversionary or offensive force to pull the concentration of most effective red power.

Recent Snowfall Blocks Sideroads

Toronto, Feb. 6 — (CP) Heavy snowfall in most sections during the last few days blocked sideroads and hampered farming operations, the Ontario Agricultural Department said today in its weekly crop report.

However, the snow was welcomed in areas where, until recently, the ground has been bare and exposed to winter. In those districts, farmers had expressed concern that repeated thawing and freezing would harm pastureland.

Wood-cutting has been keeping farmers busy in Grenville county and some other sections.

Expects Cooking Utensils to be In Good Supply

Toronto, Feb. 6—(CP)— J. H. McIlroy of General Steel Wares said today that cooking utensils will be in adequate supply and expected to remain so in full supply during the next year, in spite of metal shortages.

Mr. McIlroy, General Steel Wares' vice-president in charge of sales, addressed delegates to the Ontario Retail Hardware Association's 46th annual convention and exhibition.

He said that during the Second World War the federal government "realized the importance of these items to the health of Canadian families." He added that it had no reason to believe official thinking would be any different in the event of another period of controlled consumer goods.

15-POINT DEFENCE PROGRAM BARED BY MINISTER

Cost Five Billions, Runs for Three Years

By DOUGLAS HOW
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Ottawa, Feb. 6, (CP)—Canada is embarking on a $5,000,000,000 three-year defence program with the main emphasis on an air force of 40 squadrons and 3,000 planes. The bill is more than one-quarter of the cost of the Second World War t this country.

A 15-point defence program, bared to the Commons last night by Defence Minister Claxton, far surpasses anything peacetime Canada has known.

It means Canada will become the third air power in the western world under the division of responsibilities agreed on by 12 Atlantic Pact powers. Only the United States and the United Kingdom will rank ahead.

Eleven of the 40 active and reserve squadrons—three navy and 19—will be posted to Europe with some 800 air force men as an air division that will be Canada's main fighting contribution to Gen. Eisenhower's integrated force.

In the next fiscal year, starting April 1, Canada proposes to dispatch to Europe a fighter wing —three squadrons—and an army brigade group of about 6,000 men along with hundreds of "millions of dollars worth of arms, including thousands of wireless sets, radar, anti-aircraft guns and other equipment.

Two other segments of the unfolding government program to meet the emergent international situation were disclosed to the Commons yesterday.

(Continued on Page 7)

Mrs. Sullivan Held Nine Hours For Questioning

Ottawa, Feb. 6 — (CP) — Sgt. Albert LeBlanc of the Ottawa city detective bureau told the Supreme Court today that Mrs. Marion Sullivan was held for nine hours before she made a questioning by police before she was charged with murder in connection with the death of her husband.

Sgt. LeBlanc was giving evidence for the Crown in the trial of Mrs. Sullivan, Toronto woman, who now faces a charge of manslaughter, reduced from murder at a preliminary hearing.

Rowell Lalahley, associate defence counsel, objected to the police procedure, of keeping the accused in custody for such a long period of time was "highly improper."

(Continued on Page 3)

Sordid Situation Uncovered in Arrest of Nine

Kitchener, Ont., Feb. 6 — (CP) Nine youths were arrested last night in what Police Chief Alfred Patrick describes as a clean up of one of the most sordid situations uncovered here in recent years.

Involved in the charges are about a dozen girls, all in their teens. The girls, some of whom admitted until Friday, of shoplifting offences, will be turned over to the Children's Aid Society, police said.

Seven of the youths have been charged with contributing carnal knowledge and two with contributing to juvenile delinquency. They appeared before a justice of the peace today and were remanded until Friday.

The offences date to last summer, police said. Oldest of the youths is 24 and the youngest 16. In most cases, the charges stem from association of one man with one girl although in the case of one of the accused, the charge refers to relations with three of the group.

57,000 Red Troops Killed or Wounded In Past 13 Days

Enemy Tanks More Active Than for Several Weeks

Tokyo, Feb. 6 (AP) — Powerful allied tank-infantry columns piled into the central Korean defence line south of Seoul today and fought a day-long pitched battle.

The Chinese celebrated their New Year's day with the first show of red tanks in this phase of the Korean war.

The fighting raged almost to the outskirts of Seoul.

The battle was duelled with the Allied Columns. Artillery thundered and United Nations planes roared down on the red forces.

Chinese and — aircraft fire flooded from one Marine Corsair over the front lines.

Chinese Reinforce Lines

The Chinese were bringing reinforcements across the frozen Han River and mounting what appeared to be a big effort to halt allied jabs. In 13 days the allied threats have killed or wounded 57,000 red troops.

The Chinese possibly even were launching their own long-expected offensive against the allies south of Seoul. If so, they were striking on the opening day of the Year of Rabbit.

"There no longer is any doubt about the whereabouts of the enemy," said an allied intelligence officer. "They are right here where we are."

The fighting flares five miles north-east and two miles northeast of the deserted village of Anyang. The village is nearly nine air miles south of Seoul.

Hills overlooking the valley running north from Anyang were alive with red troops. Korean communists were mixed with the Chinese.

Red Resistance Bitter

AP correspondent Jim Becker said red resistance was bitter at that only the western column of two allied drives made progress Tuesday. This column drove five miles northwest of Anyang, five miles from Seoul and over its Monday thrust when it ran into a red tank trap.

The tanks stalled behind in the paths of both allied columns. The first motor spearhead column was trying to drive up the main road north of Anyang toward Seoul.

On the eastern flank, allied forces pushed ahead another two miles early Tuesday, bringing their total gain to Tuesday's six miles. They captured the villages of Hakkam and Chowon, north of the jump-off point at Hoengsong.

The allied troops in the west were forced to retrack over much of the ground they ranged Monday after a big tank assault of the Korean war.

(Continued on Page 3)

Women Have More Headaches Than Men, Married Fewer Than Single

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE

New York, Feb. 6—(AP)—Married people have fewer headaches than the literal kind—than the single ones.

This is one finding in a survey of who gets headaches and why.

Educated people get more headaches than the less-educated, it shows. Women have more headaches than men. Young people have more than middle-aged persons. Housewives suffer more than women farmers get the fewest. Medical students have the worst off, and lawyers rate high, too.

The headache survey, one of the most thorough studies of its kind, was made by Dr. Henry D. Ogden, clinical assistant professor of medicine at Louisiana State University School of Medicine.

His survey covered 6,000 persons, by questionnaires and interviews. They included hospital patients, college students, businessmen, housewives, executives, physicians and other professional workers, medical students, Roman Catholic priests and sisters.

Dr. Ogden said 64.8 per cent said they suffered from headaches, from time to time, more than one. Pain occurred most often (72.6 per cent of the time) in the forehead. Few had pain more than once a week. But one per cent had them every day. The migraine type, perhaps the severest kind of headache, was not common (1.3 per cent).

One significant thing was that people with headaches had more respiratory troubles, including colds and sore throats and allergies such as hay fever and asthma, than people free of headaches.

Dr. Ogden suspects that many cases of forehead pain aches are due to tension. He says doctors with six teachers and the Board of Governors of the Canadian Chartered bus will leave bus terminal, Front street, Belleville, at 8:30 a.m. sharp on Saturday, February 10th, for the 3 to 9 p.m. Sale of homemade goods in the Belleville Armouries.

OPEN NIGHT, BELLEVILLE Collegiate Institute and Vocational School, Wednesday, February 7th, 8:30 p.m., at approximately 7:30 Principal's address. Mr. Ross E. Curry, M.D., D.P.H. director of the Hastings County Health Unit, will speak on the "Co-operation of P.T.A. with Health Unit." Mr. Ross Hubbard will speak on "Parents and Teachers Unite to come and hear this timely topic." Refreshments will be served. Tickets available at door, $1.50.

THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 8TH AT 8 P.M. in Mary Ward Hall, Public Home and School Association Parent-Teacher Group meeting. Guest speaker, Mr. Fred Symons will conduct an open forum on relations with six teachers and the Board of Governors present to answer questions.

COME AND HEAR REV. HOPE Smith at Ameliasburg Town Hall, Wednesday evening, Feb. 7th, broadcast resumed over CKWS Wednesday evening, Feb. 7th, every second week. Listen in tomorrow night.

TOMS AND SCHOOLS OF THE AIR broadcast resumed over CKWS Wednesday evening, Feb. 7th, every second week. Listen in tomorrow night.

COMMUNITY LENTEN SERVICE

Wednesday, March 28, at Trinity United Church. Speaker, Rev. Hope Smith.

COMMUNITY CONCERT, FEBRUARY 9th, Friday, Gruadan Duo (piano duets).

VICTORIAN ORDER OF NURSES

Benefit Bridge and Euchre, March 8.30 p.m., at approximately 7.30 Principal's address. Mr. Ross E. Curry, M.D., D.P.H. director of the Hastings County Health Unit, will speak on the "Co-operation of P.T.A. with Health Unit." Mr. Ross Hubbard will speak on "Parents and Teachers Unite to come and hear this timely topic." Refreshments will be served. Tickets available at door, $1.50.

THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 8TH AT 8 P.M. in Mary Ward Hall, Public Home and School Association Parent-Teacher Group meeting. Guest speaker, Mr. Fred Symons will conduct an open forum on relations with six teachers and the Board of Governors present to answer questions.

Flood Denounces Seaway Project As Unnecessary

Washington, Feb. 6 — (AP) — Rep. Daniel Flood (Dem. Pa.) Monday denounced the proposed St. Lawrence seaway as a project that cannot be justified on a national defence or any other basis.

Flood, who represents an important hard-coal section of northeastern Pennsylvania, told the House of Representatives in a speech:

"I had thought it was axiomatic that we cannot have our butter and guns too. Yet that is exactly what the electric power and president's recommendation for the proposed St. Lawrence waterway is trying to accomplish.

"At a time when we are faced with perhaps the greatest crisis ever to confront this country . . . we are asked to embark upon this fantastic undertaking . . ."

The cost of the project, said Flood, would total more than $1-000,000,000, would cause a diversion of materials and labor needed for other defence purposes, and "would bring about an economic dislocation to a great part of our country."

President Truman has urged congressional action on the seaway. Bills to authorize it have been introduced in the House and Senate. But it has been dead as far as I can remember, since it first came up in Congress 10 years ago. Since then Congress has balked at having the project which Canada favors.

THE WEATHER

Toronto, Feb. 6 (CP) Synopsis: Mild weather will be felt in most districts today and tomorrow but snow and rain. A widespread area of low pressure in the mid-western states is encircled by the usual counter - clockwise winds. Associated with and following the disturbance will draw warm moist air from the south today bringing rain to the lower lakes region and snow elsewhere. As the disturbance moves eastward the presence Wednesday north winds will bring a general upward drop in temperature and cessation of the rain and snow.

COMING EVENTS

TEA, QUINTE SKATING AND Tennis Club, Wednesday, February 7th, from 3 to 5 p.m. Sale of homemade cooking. Tea served. Everybody welcome.

City and District News

S. LOUTHIER DIES IN EASTVIEW

Word has been received in the city of the death of Mr. S. Louthier, of 347 General Street, Eastview, Ottawa, Mrs. Louthier, the former Germaine Dunsdie, was well-known in Belleville as a member of the Victorian Order of Nurses staff for many years.

NO PRICE INCREASE IN HAIRCUTS EXPECTED

There will be no increase in prices of haircuts, shaves and other tonsorial necessities in the city, a prominent member of the Belleville Barbers' Association said today. Towards end Ottawa Barbers' Associations are holding meetings tomorrow to discuss price increases.

CAPT. HYSLOP CADET TRAINING OFFICER

Captain Len J. Hyslop administration and training officer for the Hastings and Prince Edward Regiment (Reserve) for the past several years, has been appointed cadet training officer of the Eastern Ontario Area, Canadian Army. It has been announced. A former veteran of the Hasty Feet, Captain Hyslop, who is well known here for his active part in the training of Canada's Speed Force, before assuming his new appointment.

APPOINTED SECRETARY OF INSPECTORS' GROUP

George Whitman, city sanitary inspector, was named secretary of the Eastern Ontario Region at the recent regional conference of Sanitary Inspectors held in Trenton. Mr. Whitman was also named Ontario representative to the Canadian Institute of Sanitary Inspectors.

EXCAVATIONS UNDER WAY FOR GAS TANK

Jack-hammer staccato echoed along Front Street today, but this time no sewer serenity was being disturbed. The action was taking place on the lot of the Trudeau Motor Sales where excavations for a large gasoline tank are under way.

MERCHANTS WIN FROM WELLINGTON 10-7

Belleville Merchants of the Trent Valley League defeated the Wellington team on the latter's ice last night by a 10-7 score. Earl Cousins was the hero of the piece, scoring five goals and being credited with two assists.

A. J. Davis Named New Chairman Of Commission

At the inaugural meeting of the Recreation Commission held recently at the City Hall, A. J. Davis, general secretary of the YMCA was elected unanimously as the first chairman of an organization that promises to enjoy progress in this city. H. N. Bleecker, manager of the Bank of Montreal, was elected as vice-chairman and Danny Deacon as secretary-treasurer.

Other members of the commission are Enos David, representing the Board of Education, and Richard Cowan, Mrs. Calder and William Van Tassel representing the citizens. Mayor R. T. Potter is the representative from the City Council.

The Mayor and Enos David were appointed a committee to propose names for the advisory board to the commission, while a special committee of William Van Tassell, Stan Price, assistant city engineer and Fire Chief Gerald Vance was appointed to make a survey of existing and contemplated playgrounds and also to prepare plans for the improvement to present and the need of new equipment.

The board will meet on the first Friday of each month.

POLICE AREAS FORMED

Pickering, Feb. 6 — (CP) — Two police areas were established last night by Pickering township council. The northern section of the municipality will be under control of the provincial police and the southern section under township clerks. Members of the Police Department who now use their own cars will be supplied with radio-equipped police cruisers under the new arrangement.

C. of C. Directors Would Appreciate New C.N.R. Station

The directors of the Belleville Chamber of Commerce—and undoubtedly many others—would appreciate a new Canadian National Railways station in the city and a recommendation will be sent to Donald Gordon, president of the C.N.R. has gone forward from the local organization.

The recommendation from the local Chamber of Commerce to the C.N.R. president points out that the local station was built years ago for a city which was less than half the size which Belleville is today. It was designed to meet the needs of a past generation and is wholly inadequate to meet present day requirements for efficiency, comfort and convenience.

It is pointed out the only comforts at the station consist of a few benches and a pay telephone while washroom facilities are totally inadequate.

Also the platforms are too short to serve the long trains now in use and passengers riding in chair cars and pullmans are frequently obliged to alight on the open tracks and walk a considerable distance along the tracks before reaching the platform.

It is emphasized that Belleville is an important divisional centre on the C.N.R. and has grown rapidly, the population being 18,000, an increase of 60 per cent over that of ten years ago.

The directors of the Belleville C. of C. feel that the local C.N.R. station is wholly inadequate to present day conditions and recommend that steps be taken now to secure a modern station, plans of which the local C. of C. and the C.N.R. can be proud and which will meet present requirements and also provide for the continuing expansion of the city.

POLICE BLOTTER

Theft of approximately 35 eight-gallon milk cans from the Pinnacle Street plant of the Consolidated Dairies premises was reported to local police today. Mr. Ellis, manager of the plant, told police that the cans had disappeared some time within the past week. The plant has been operating for that period.

A local motorist parked his car near the city hall yesterday only to have snow and ice fall from the roof and damage it to the extent of about $10. He was referred to the city comptroller.

A Stayner, Ont., man was picked up on the street for panhandling and was booked as a vagrant.

In police court Robt. Allen, Water St., appeared for sentence on an assault charge and was sentenced by Magistrate T. Y. Wills to one month in jail.

MINE EXPLODES

Tokyo, Feb. 6 — (AP) — A floating mine exploded Monday as it was being towed into Shimonoseki harbor on Japan's west coast. The blast wrecked 36 houses, killed a baby and injured eight persons.

By-Law to Request C. N. R. To Remove Pinnacle Street Tracks is Referred Back

A by-law, which if passed, would have sought to force the Canadian National Railways to remove their tracks from Pinnacle Street, failed to reach the voting stage at city council Monday afternoon.

Two weeks ago council passed a recommendation that negotiations with the railway be commenced with the view of the railway tracks being removed from the local thoroughfare and yesterday the by-law was presented by the city solicitor as being the best way to get action on the matter.

The majority of councillors frowned on the by-law which would have made it unlawful for the railway to operate a train on their Pinnacle St. tracks after June 30th of this year.

"If council is really serious about the tracks being removed I thought we'd better get the by-law giving the railway permission to lay the tracks would be the only way to get action," City Solicitor R. A. Inglis explained.

Passed in 1872

The original by-law giving authority to the railway to lay the tracks was passed back in 1872.

"Everybody would like to see the tracks removed but we can't do it without a tremendous cost to the city," Alderman Hyde noted.

"Yes, but we can't do it this way," Alderman Sidney Thrasher said.

Alderman Thomas suggested that the railway be handled on a plane of the city benefited given by the operation of the CNR divisional point in the city.

"The introduction of diesel engines will reduce the number of divisional points," he pointed out, "and I would not like to see Belleville lose out."

Alderman Haig said that passing of the by-law would put the city in a ridiculous position and suggested that it be referred back to the traffic committee.

Short Session

The council meeting was one of the shortest in recent years with all business being wound up in slightly more than one hour. The meeting was called for four o'clock and was over shortly after five.

Vestibule doors will be provided for inside the main entrance doors at the city hall at a cost not to exceed $100 after it felt that provision of such doors would result in a considerable fuel saving.

Daylight Saving for the coming season was appaved the city to advance clocks from April 29th to September 30th.

The city will combine the position of dog catcher and that of janitor for the police station and the market square rest room. The comptroller was also authorized to advertise for applicants. The comptroller was also authorized to purchase an inter-communication system for city hall office after calling for tenders.

Council Concurs

Council concurred in the recommendation of the Chamber of Commerce that the Canadian National Railways build a new railway station at Belleville.

A letter commending Belleville for the local fire department for their work relative to fire prevention week was read before council. The letter was from the Ontario Fire Marshal W. J. Scott. Belleville had received honorable mention for its program, it was stated.

New lights were recommended for Herchimer St. Street between Yeomans and Sidney Streets and also on Catherine Street in the same area.

Alderman Haig noted that $53,000 worth of Belleville General Hospital debentures had been sold recently at a price 98.67, the sale being made to the highest bidder.

Motion Passed

Alderman Porter introduced his motion with respect to a city manager system of government for the city. Council passed the motion which called for a special committee to be set up to investigate the matter and to report back to council. If council then considers the system would be advantageous to the city the matter will be placed before the electors.

Moira Street West will be made a through street on recommendation of the traffic committee. This would mean that "stop" signs would be erected on Coleman St. at the Moira Street intersection.

In the future the private householder will be called upon to pay for the cost of digging up sewer laterals when necessary from the residence to the main street sewer. Previously the city had paid the cost of this work but the property line to the main sewer.

Alderman Thomas said that under the new regulations the city would pay for all flushing and rodding of sewer laterals up to three times per year but if it becomes necessary to dig up the lateral because of blockages, the householder would have to pay the shot.

Only Fair Way Claim

He stressed that this was the only fair way of doing the work as it was not right for a tax payer on the west street to help pay for the cost of digging up a private lateral in another part of the city. The majority of other municipalities in the province followed this principle," he said.

Alderman Rollins wanted to know what the course would be if the lateral blockage was the result of a too heavy load in the main sewer.

This attitude was also taken by Alderman Butler who said he had seen blockages which had been the result of this cause.

Alderman Thomas noted that this cause would mean but a temporary blockage. He said he was referring to permanent blockages, such as caused by tree roots.

But Alderman Lammins did not agree even with this. He said the unfair part of the suggested principle was that all trees are on the city property and that 90 per cent of the lateral blockages are the results of roots.

"Yes," admitted Alderman Thomas, "but in the great majority of cases is the city suggested cutting the trees the residents would object. They want the trees there for shade."

Cost to the city of the work last year which this year will be paid for by the home owners was in the neighborhood of $4,000, it was stated.

WOLVES NOT PLENTIFUL

Toronto, Feb. 6 — (CP) — Ontario wolves — the four - legged kind — are either not so numerous or have learned to avoid traps better. In 1949, trappers collected $57,977 in bounties on the pelts of 2,727 wolves. Last year bounties of only $57,927 were paid for 2,584 pelts, it was announced yesterday.

Holloway St. Church Nearly Free of Debt

The Sunday School room of Holloway Street United Church was filled to capacity on Wednesday evening, when the congregation gathered for an evening of Christian fellowship and refreshments together their achievements in the various organizations during 1950.

A bountiful pot-luck supper convened by the Woman's Association was followed by a hymnsing led by Mr. G. E. Dobbs.

Mr. Lyle Twiddy was chairman for an interesting program which opened with prayer led by Rev. S. E. Lamins.

Miss Penny Cavers sang a delightful solo "The Teddy Bears' Picnic", accompanied by her mother.

Pastor's Report

Mr. Larman in presenting the year's reports, paid tribute to all those whose devotion had meant much to the church during the year of Kingdom enterprise within the church, making it possible to begin the second half of the century, full of faith and courage to carry on its witness and the world." The total church membership now is 777, with the treasurer's report showing $10,740 raised during the year, of which $5,000 was contributed by Missions. The church is now entirely free from debt with the exception of the Memorial Fund which will be dispersed in the near future.

Mr. C. I. Frederick, clerk of the Session, presented their report and asked one minute's silence in memory of those who had passed to their Eternal Home during the past year.

A cornet solo by Master James Phillips was enjoyed at this point in the program.

Guest Speaker

Mr. Larman introduced the guest speaker of the evening, Rev. Dineen McTavish, of Bridge Street United Church, who brought an inspiring and enjoyable message. The thanks of the group was expressed by Mr. Fred Wilson.

Mr. Milton Burtt extended a vote of thanks to the ladies of the W.A. for convening the supper, of which Mrs. Burt Moorman, the president replied.

The report of the nominating committee presented by Mr. John Shaw, resulted in the following members being added to the Board of Stewards:

Messrs. L. Twiddy, H. Townshend, J. Nelson McKibbon and J. F. Ketcheson.

Mr. Clifford Templer, A.T.C.M., will take over his duties as organist and director of the choir commencing with Sunday 18 March.

The salary of the minister was substantially increased.

The Friendship Circle and the singing of "Blest be the Tie That Binds", brought the meeting to a close with the benediction being pronounced by Mr. Larman.

$300,000 CLUB BURNED

Sudbury, Feb. 6 (CP) — The $300,000 Sudbury Granite Club was destroyed by fire early today. There was no one in the building.

Cause of the fire has not yet been determined. Nearby residents said they were awakened shortly after 1 a.m. to find the upper portion of the building on fire. By daybreak there was nothing but a pile of smoking ruins.

Obituary

LATE FREDERICK WILLIAM WALLIS

The funeral of the late Frederick William Wallis was held from the Belleville Burial Company Funeral Home on Monday afternoon. The service in the chapel was conducted by Archdeacon Arthur Smith, who also said the last rites in Belleville Cemetery. There was a large number in attendance at the service.

The bearers were William Mowatt, Angus Duffy, Stan Mallard, George Blessing, Gordon Carveth and Garth Harding.

Ash Wednesday Not as Early Again This Century

Ash Wednesday, the first day of Lent, will be observed on February 7th, and it will not be as early again this century.

It was before in the 20th century (1940) and twice in the 19th century (1883 and 1918). It was on February 3rd in 1856 it was on February 6 and in 1845 and 1913 February 9th. The earliest date of the century, full of faith and courage to carry on its witness and the world." The total church membership now is 777, with the treasurer's report showing $10,740 raised during the year, of which $5,000 was contributed by Missions. The church is now entirely free from debt with the exception of the Memorial Fund which will be dispersed in the near future.

Mr. C. I. Frederick, clerk of the Session, presented their report and asked one minute's silence in memory of those who had passed to their Eternal Home during the past year.

A cornet solo by Master James Phillips was enjoyed at this point in the program.

Guest Speaker

Mr. Larman introduced the guest speaker of the evening, Rev. Dineen McTavish, of Bridge Street United Church, who brought an inspiring and enjoyable message. The thanks of the group was expressed by Mr. Fred Wilson.

Mr. Milton Burtt extended a vote of thanks to the ladies of the W.A. for convening the supper, of which Mrs. Burt Moorman, the president replied.

The report of the nominating committee presented by Mr. John Shaw, resulted in the following members being added to the Board of Stewards:

Messrs. L. Twiddy, H. Townshend, J. Nelson McKibbon and J. F. Ketcheson.

Mr. Clifford Templer, A.T.C.M., will take over his duties as organist and director of the choir commencing with Sunday 18 March.

The salary of the minister was substantially increased.

The Friendship Circle and the singing of "Blest be the Tie That Binds", brought the meeting to a close with the benediction being pronounced by Mr. Larman.

BIRTHS

LEWIS — At Mrs. and Mrs. R. A. Lewis, R. R. 2, Belleville, and happy to announce the birth of a son, February 3rd, 1951, at the Belleville General Hospital, on Saturday, Feb. 3rd, 1951, a daughter, Ruth well. Fe

ROSS — To Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Ross, 34 Bridge Street, East, at the Belleville General Hospital, on Tuesday, February 6th, 1951, a daughter, Ruth well. Fe

DEATHS

CHANGE OF NOTICE

McAVOY — At Belleville General Hospital, on Monday, February 5, Francis Clinton McAvoy, 48½ Bridge Street, East, beloved husband of Mrs. Ethel McAvoy.

Funeral Service at Corrigan and O'Brien Funeral Home, West Bridge Street, whence the funeral will be held on Thursday, February 8th, at 2.30 p.m. Mass at St. Michael's Church for Requiem Mass at 9.00 a.m.

Entombment St. James' Cemetery, Lindsay. Fe-2

SMITH — At Kingston, February 4th, in her 83rd year, Emma Ann Smith, widow of William Smith, formerly of 18 Bridge Street, Belleville.

Funeral Service at C. Thompson Funeral Home, 74 Bridge Street, East, Belleville, at the chapel, Wednesday, February 7th, at 2 p.m.

Interment Belleville Cemetery. Fe-31

REID — At Belleville General Hospital on Sunday, February 4th, 1951, Andrew (Andy) Reid, 124 Concession Street, Township, in his 83th year.

Resting at the Belleville Burial Company Funeral Home, Whence the funeral will be held on Wednesday, February 7th. Service in the chapel at 1.30 p.m.

Interment River View Cemetery. Fe-31

ANDERSON — As the result of an accident on Sidney, February 5th, William Wellington Anderson, aged 78, R. R. 1, Belleville in his 78th year.

Resting at the Belleville Burial Company Funeral Home, where the funeral will be held on Wednesday, February 7th, at 2.30 p.m. Interment Belleville Cemetery. Fe-31

IN MEMORIAM

ASSELSTINE — In loving memory of my dear mother, Emily Asselstine, who passed away on February 6, 1946.

There's a sad but sweet remembrance, There's a memory fond and true, There's a heart that beats with love for you.

And a heartache still for you.

Lovingly remembered by her son Burton. Fe

LINER STOPS AT BOMBAY

Bombay, India, Feb. 6 — (Reuters) — Port authorities today stopped the 24,000-ton luxury liner Chusan, coming from Australia, from entering the port.

She lay a mile from Bombay docks with 13 of the 800 passengers ill with flu. The Chusan was bound for Hong Kong. It left London Jan. 23.

CHLORADENT AMMONIATED
Mouth Wash and Liquid Dentifrice
Contains Chlorophyll — Nature's Deodorant
IN THE MOUTH GENERATES AMMONIA
8-oz. 75c
16-oz. $1.25
McKEOWN'S DRUG STORE
Phone 135 We Deliver

"WILD BIRD FEED"
5 LBS. 25c
BISHOP SEEDS LIMITED
173 FRONT STREET
(Opposite the City Hall)

GLEN ELLIOT FLOOR SANDING
OLD FLOORS RESURFACED AND MADE LIKE NEW
NEW FLOORS SANDED AND FINISHED
186 Dufferin Ave. Phone 24683

FOR HAPPINESS
Bluebird
PERFECT DIAMONDS
at
PAUL MERCIER
McCARTHY THEATRE BLDG.

MARTIN'S SHOE REPAIR
FULL SOLES and HEELS
Free Pickup and Delivery
Phone 6418 88 Everett St.

VALENTINE Greeting Cards
LARGE VARIETY HUNDREDS TO CHOOSE from
Make your selection early and in comfort from our large display.
Reasonably Priced
5c to $1.00
Geen-Drugs LIMITED
FOR FRIENDLY PERSONAL SERVICE
PHONE 153 — FREE DELIVERY

IT'S EASY TO SEE—
—why so many people are sending all their clothes to CLEAN-RITE Cleaners. Modern equipment and skilled workmen assure you of the best in cleaning service.
NEXT TIME, TRY
CLEAN-RITE CLEANERS
Owned and Operated by Geo. Ling
57 Herchimer St.
Phone 906

VALENTINE CHOCOLATES
IN BEAUTIFUL
Heart-Shaped BOXES
SMILES 'N CHUCKLES or GANONG'S
$1.35 to $4.00
Phone 11 WE DELIVER
SELDON'S
THE FRIENDLY FAMILY DRUG STORE

Last Call...
ONLY 234
HOCKEY STICKS LEFT
PICK 'EM UP CHEAP!
THESE WILL BE SOLD REGARDLESS OF COST. GET A COUPLE AND ENJOY THE REST OF THE HOCKEY SEASON.
OVER 150 OF THESE WILL BE SOLD FOR LESS THAN ONE DOLLAR EACH.
FIRST COME GET THE BEST CHOICE.
STEPHEN LICENCE LIMITED
299 Front Street Phone 985

Its whipped-cream texture cleanses so quickly!
Melodie COLOGNE
— as fine as any world famous exciting evenings!" — says
Elsa Schiaparelli
RENOWNED FASHION MODEL
Melodie
FOR PRECIOUS MOMENTS
Melodie Compressed Powder $1.10
Melodie Lipstick $1.00
(In fashion's latest shades!)
Melodie Cologne $1.50 and $2.50
Melodie Perfume $3.50 to $6.00
PAULEY'S DRUG STORE
Phone 105 — WE DELIVER

Obituary
LATE FREDERICK WILLIAM WALLIS
The funeral of the late Frederick William Wallis was held from the Belleville Burial Company Funeral Home on Monday afternoon. The service in the chapel was conducted by Archdeacon Arthur Smith, who also said the last rites in Belleville Cemetery. There was a large number in attendance at the service.
The bearers were William Mowatt, Angus Duffy, Stan Mallard, George Blessing, Gordon Carveth and Garth Harding.

DR. W. A. BEATTIE
Will be the Doctor on Duty
WEDNESDAY, FEB. 7th.
NECESSARY CALLS ONLY
Phone 4577

Keep GERMS away from baby!
BABY'S nursing bottles must be sterilized. That's why Pyrex nursing bottles are ideal for baby's feeding. Get all you like and they won't break! Easy to sterilize and chill-proof. Special fat spout permits quick filling. Get Pyrex nursing bottles today!
Made by Corning Glass Works.
CORNETTE REPLACEMENT — if broken from dishwasher about
PYREX NURSING BOTTLES
8-oz. 25c
4-oz. 19c
EVENFLO 15c
EVER-READY 15c
COMPLETE WITH NIPPLE
NURSRITE 39c
DAVAL ANTICOLIC .. 39c
BABEEZ 39c
RIGO 10c
COMFORT 5c
NIPPLES—all makes.
SEE OUR ASSORTMENT OF VALENTINE CARDS
DOLAN DRUG STORE
THE DRUGGIST
Phone 138 Motor Delivery

Sliced Bread Up to 18 Cents
Cost of living went up another slight notch in the city today with the price of bread advancing generally by a cent per loaf for the sliced variety. The unsliced bread will sell at one cent less.
The increase is in keeping with the announcement a week ago by the large Toronto bakeries that the new price going into effect today. The new price was also effective in Belleville, branches of the above firms stated.
One local bakery, however, today were still selling at the former price. They said they were adopting a "wait and see" attitude before following in line with the other bakeries.

HAD NEEDLE IN LIVER
Petersburg, Feb. 3. (CP)—A 300-pound pig owned by Clarence Knechtel lived for months with a full-sized needle projecting from its liver. The needle was found when the pig was butchered and the liver handed to Knetchtel.

DOYLE'S DRUG STORE
will be
OPEN WEDNESDAY

Eczema Ardan's Fluffy Cleansing Cream
An exquisite cream that you whisk on and off in seconds because of its light, whipped cream texture. A favorite with models, actresses and beautiful women everywhere. 1.50
Follow this Basic Beauty Ritual
CLEANSE with Fluffy Cleansing Cream, 1.50 and 4.25
REFRESH with Ardena Skin Lotion, 1.25 to 11.50
SMOOTH with Ardena Velva Cream, 1.50 and 4.25
DOLAN DRUG STORE
THE DRUGGIST
Phone 138 Motor Delivery

SECURITY MARKETS

Quotations furnished by BIGGAR & CRAWFORD
Members Toronto Stock Exchange
Belleville Office — Phone 3160 and 3161

Quotations at 1:00.

MINES

Aumor	315
Actol Metals	225
Hasaga Lead	206
Base Metals	97
Bidgood	1.83
Brantan	37
Buff. Ankerite	125
Cons. Rebellion	147
Calgary and Ed.	12 3-8
Can. Malartic	77
Central Patricia	62 1-2
Campbell R.	1.364
Chesterville	20
Cochenour Wil.	180
Cons. Sudbrin	53
Dome	18 1-4
Donalda	63
East Malartic	150
East Sul.	923
Eldey	1-4
Falconbridge	13 1-2
God's Lake	48
Golden Manitou	665
Hollinger Ex	90 1-2
Hunt. Off.	18 1-2
Hollinger	15 3-8
Inter. Nickel	41 1-2
Kerr Addison	15 1-2
Kirkland Lake	93
Labrador	818
Lake Shore	10 1-8
Lattch.	106
Little Long Lac	83
Macassa	200
McIntyre	63 3-4
McLeod	1.00
Mining Corp.	19 1-2
Negus	38
New Lund	205
Noranda	79 3-4
Normetal	1.50
O'Brien	143
Obalta	20
Osisko Lake	150
Parmaster	67
Pandor	10
Perron	35
Pickle Crow	173
Preston E.D.	156
Quemont	28 1-2
Quemcafe	70
Quebec Man	275
Reydin	1.00
San Antonio	275
Sherritt Gordon	405
Silver Hunter	1.95
Sisco	73
Sladen Mal.	53
Sleep Rock	905
Sullivan	245
Sylvanite	1.28
Teck Hughes	230
Upper Canada	197
Ventures	14 1-4
Villbona	10 1-8
Wayne	13 1-2
Wr. Hargreaves	180

TORONTO INDUSTRIALS

Agnew
Abitibi pf.	36 3-4
Aluminium	100
Consolidated	17 1-2
Great Lakes	23 1-2
Minn. and Ont.	13 3-8
International	57 1-2
Powell Rivr.	66 3-8
Distillories
Hiram Walker	56 3-4
Can. Ind. Alcohol	16 1-4
Dist. Seagrams	30 1-4
Canadian Offe—
B.A. Oil	39 1-2
Imperial Oil	34 3-4
McColl Front.	34 5-8
Inter. Petroleum	15 1-2
Miscellaneous
Bell Telephone	40 3-4
Canadian Cement	19 1-2
Building Prod.	24 1-2
Can. Breweries	19 5-8
Canada Cement	29
Can. Car and F.	17 1-4
Canadian Pacific Ry.	22 3-8
Cockshutt Pf.	28
Dom. Stores	13 3-4
Dominion Textile	69
Fahny Farmer	32 3-4
Ford A.	58 1-4
Imperial Tobacco	13 1-2
Laura Secord	14 3-4
Loblaw A.	33 3-4
Massey Harris	66
Mil. Brick	170
Steel of Canada	34 1-2
United Steel	10 1-8
Winnipeg Electric	43
Int. Metals A	48
Cdn. Canners	27

NEW YORK
U.S. Steel 46 1-2

PRODUCE MARKET

Toronto, Feb. 6 (CP)—Produce prices quoted on the spot market here today:

Churning cream: No. 1 truck price, 62 cents; delivered, 63 cents.

Butter solids: First grade, 62 cents.

Prices were steady and unchanged at the egg market and supplies were in good volume. Country shipments quoted graded eggs, cases free: Grade A large, 43-44; A medium 40-41; A pullet 36-39; grade B 38-39; grade C 32. Wholesale to retail: Grade A large 47-48; A medium 45-46; A pullet 40-42; grade B 41-42; grade C 36-37.

Butter solids: First grade 57½ cents; second grade, prices not established.

RUSSIA'S NEWEST NOTE

Paris, Feb. 6. (AP)—Russia's newest note to the three western powers "doesn't close the door to negotiations but doesn't open it any wider," a government official said today.

The note is under study at the French Foreign Ministry.

BUFFALO LIVESTOCK

Buffalo, N.Y., Feb. 5 — (AP)—Cattle 850; good Holstein cows 23.00-25.00; good light Utility type heifers for slaughter 34.00 — 37.00; good weighty sausage bulls 23.00-27.50.

Calves 100; good and choice handyweight calves 45.00-48.00; medium to good 38.00-44.00; culls and strongweight bobs 34.00-37.00.

Hogs 450; market not established. Sheep and lambs 300; N.Y. State mixed lambs cleared at 38.00.

TORONTO STOCKS

Toronto, Feb. 6 — (CP) Prices dipped in almost all sections of the market today, but with diminishing offerings of stocks at the lower points Index 10 points were confined to fractions, and some recovery power appeared in the afternoon.

Papers were nearly all down. Great Lakes taking a $1.50 drop. Algoma and Dominion Steel B were steel losers. Winnipeg Electric and C. P. R. were off in utilities with Bell and Brazil slightly ahead.

Fleet Air was a strong spot with a 25-cent gain. Canadian Vickers advanced 50.

Base metals were weakest with most changed downward. Smelters gained $1.

The western oil list, too, had heavy reductions. Anglo Pure lost 25 cents and Pacific Pete 20. Anglo - Canadian also suffered.

Golds were quiet, though Hollinger continued active in the seniors and slightly higher. Wright Hargreaves added five cents. Macleod lost 15. Pyrobiher was active, down 10 cents.

MRS. SULLIVAN

(Continued from Page One)

The charge arises out of the death of Francis J. Sullivan, Toronto lawyer, in a Chateau Laurier hotel bedroom late Nov. 17 or early Nov. 18.

Under direct and cross-examination, Sgt. LeBlanc said Mrs. Sullivan, during the period of custody, had asked to see her son, 21-year-old Francis J. Sullivan, but this permission was not granted.

Son at Station

The son was at the police station at the time.

"But you were bound-that you were going to keep them apart," said Mr. Lalshley.

"Oh, naturally," replied Sgt. LeBlanc.

At one point, Mr. Lalshley stated that the evidence Sgt. LeBlanc was giving today was not the same as that given before the court yesterday.

"It may not be the same word for word," said Sgt. Leblanc.

Chief Justice J. C. McRuer, who is hearing the case along with a 12-man jury, interjected:

"It would appear, Mr. Lalshley, as though you were trying to weaken the evidence of this witness."

Mr. Lalshley replied: "But he has just said the evidence is not exactly the same, my lord."

"What about that matter," asked the chief justice, "are not inclined as a rule to believe a witness whose testimony is changed word for word. It is not humanly possible for a person to memorize word for word. Counsel, he has said on a previous occasion."

Again Refers to Evidence

At another point, Mr. Lalshley referred to a statement made by Sgt. LeBlanc that Mrs. Sullivan had appeared "upset" when she was asked to submit to a fingernail examination.

He recalled that at the December preliminary hearing Sgt. LeBlanc had not referred to the fact that Mrs. Sullivan appeared upset.

"Was there any reason for not mentioning that at the time," asked Mr. Lalshley, "Your memory of the case was fresher at that time, surely?"

Sgt. Leblanc replied:

"Yes, I suppose that is correct. I have worked on nothing else but this case since Nov. 18."

"Then, the fact is this is something you have recalled in the meantime," said Mr. Lalshley.

"Yes, I think that is a fair way of putting it," the witness replied.

GETTING FEW POINTERS

Stratford, Feb. 6—(CP)—Stratford Soldiers of the Canadian Hockey Association Junior A group are getting a few pointers about the puck game from an all-time National Hockey League great—Bill Cowley of Ottawa.

He is here to give Coach Pinky Lewis a hand in teaching the Kroehlers the finer points of the game. Cowley was a N.H.L. all-star choice four times and winner of the Lady Eyng Trophy twice.

S. Hersenhoren, Wife Shaken up As Car Skids

Well-known Toronto violinist Samuel Hersenhoren and Mrs. Hersenhoren, 17 Lowther Ave., Toronto, escaped with shaking up Monday afternoon when the vehicle they were driving skidded into the Belleville city grader on Dundas Street.

The Toronto couple, on their way to Kingston where Mr. Hersenhoren was scheduled to play Monday evening, were proceeding east when almost directly opposite the Hastings County Jail their car skidded and collided into the grader.

The grader, driven by Maxwell Jeffrey, Front Street, was being turned around and was crosswise of the eastbound lane. Hersenhoren apparently failed to see the grader in time and his car skidded 90 feet before striking the machine. His vehicle was damaged to the extent of $1,500 while the grader was damaged $75.00.

Mr. and Mrs. Hersenhoren were taken to hospital but remained on to Kingston after a checkup.

Emerson Hodgins Heads Tweed Fair Board

Tweed—Emerson Hodgins was elected president of the Tweed District Fair Board for 1951 at the annual meeting, succeeding Dennis Hillman, who moves up to the honorary president's position. Hodgins is also executive vice president, Ross Ketcheson, second vice president, Glenn Sager, secretary, and Henigan Rush, treasurer.

The election was conducted by the warden of the county, H. M. Clute.

On the financial side, treasurer Hodgins has reported that despite wet weather, the statement showed that the fair ended in the black for the first time, including a balance on hand at the beginning of the year of $330.99 totalled $3,899.50. Bulk of this was made up of donations of $788, gate receipts $356.40 and grants of $654.

Small Balance

The report showed that the year's fair showed a balance of $17.54. Receipts were also made up of proceeds from advertising and rental, light advertising concession and membership fees. Net weather grants and wet weather insurance.

On the expenditure side, more than $1,000 went for cuts, prize money, more than half that amount for labor and improvements, bank charges amounted to $571, printing cost $400, entertainment was tagged at $340, the horse races cost $235, the salaries amounted to $165.

Reports were given concerning the district meeting attended by Emerson Hodgins and Dennis Fleming, and the Tweed group decided that for by their 1951 date, even though it clashed with the Fall Fair, the Napanee fair.

Best Cattle Exhibit

Mr. Hodgins also reported that a fine horse show was held in 1950 despite rain, and Ross Ketcheson asked better accommodation for cattle in 1951. More and better cattle were exhibited in 1950 than ever before. Votes of thanks were expressed to Bob Wheeler and the ladies branch of the society for improvements in the refreshment booth and in the pavilion, and to the Board itself by the retiring lady president, Mrs. F. Graham.

The board, on motion by Ross Ketcheson and Hillman LaBarge, voted to continue its sponsorship of the field crop competition, and thanked Mayor Sheriff Lightner Company, through Wallace Johnston, for the recent improvements to the grounds.

New president Hodgins climaxed the meeting by asking for the co-operation of the members during 1951, and predicted that the fair could be made even better in the future.

MEAT GOES TO BRITAIN

Wellington, N.Z., Feb. 6—(AP) —Five thousand tons of New Zealand meat originally marked for shipment to the United United States, probably will go to hungry Britain instead.

Because the last cut in the British meat ration, New Zealand's cabinet minister of meat is sending the meat to Britain instead, despite a resultant loss in dollars badly needed here.

An announcement approving the proposal is expected soon.

DON'T COUNT SHEEP DRINK VI-TONE
Ideal for overseas packages
VI-TONE

Annual Meeting Library Levy Termed 'Penurious' By Director of Library Service

The present levy of 50 cents per person in the city of Belleville for the maintenance of the Corby Public Library is not enough, according to Angus Mowat, director of Public Library Service for Ontario. Mr. Mowat, who visited the local library in May, 1950, stated that a library can achieve "quite good efficiency" with a one dollar per capita levy, and "partial efficiency" at seventy to eighty cents per capita.

The director's summary of the local library was contained in the phrase: "A penurious budget — shortage of staff and inadequate quarters". He is quoted at length in the annual report of the library issued this week.

72,586 Books Circulated

The reposrt states that 1950, as a library year, "was a fairly attractory one", but the total number of books circulated for home use spotted at 72,586. This number was an increase of 745 books over 1949. Any decreases were offset by an increase of 1,113 in the non-fiction circulation of the adult department. In the same section there was a decrease of 192 in fiction circulation.

Library statistics show that there are 20,632 books on hand, with 1,043 being added during 1950, and 743 withdrawn.

Operations of the boys' and girls' department were described as "disappointing", because of a decrease in circulation during the autumn months of 1950. This was due, it was felt, to staff shortages more than anything else and some classroom visits of the schools to the library had to be curtailed. Circulation was "picking up well after the summer lull", the report stated.

Lack Book Accommodation

The reference division of the library, catalogued as one of the most important services by the report, is also suffering for lack of books and also have a very limited accommodation for them, the report states. The pamphlet and clipping file has been neglected because of a lack of a filing cabinet," result of this has been that in order to provide reference service, the library has had to rely heavily on the inter-library loan service of Queen's and the University of Toronto.

In addition to the standard services, a film bank has been set up and distribution is looked after by the library. There are about 80 films in stock, with 38 the possession of the Film Council. Two projectors and three screens have been purchased and a film workshop was conducted to acquaint the public with the use and care of projection equipment and the films.

Also an added feature is the record library, made possible by the donation of $500 by a local service club.

T.ed by Clubs

Associations using the library as a meeting place include the Camera Club, the Model Railway Club, the Film Council, and the Stamp Club.

The breakdown of books on hand shows that by far the greatest division is adult non-fiction. The total here is 10,103; fiction books number 6,303 and 4,226 juvenile are available for boys and girls. The total number of borrowers during the year was 6,912.

Receipts of the library totalled $13,- 133.95, and expenditures were $13,074.09, leaving a balance at the end of the year of $59.86. Two grants, one from the city of $9,997 and the other from the province, of $1,343.93, were included in the receipts. Other income was derived from a 1949 balance, the Corby Trust and actual money received at the library.

Officers for 1951

Chairman of the board for 1951 is Dr. J. R. Scott, aided by A. J. Black in the vice-chairman's post and Miss Olive Delaney, head librarian, as secretary-treasurer. Chairman of finance is L. A. Kells, Mrs. A.C. Locke heads the property committee, and the book committee is made up of Mrs. Locke, S. P. Cunningham, M. M. Tackett, and Miss Delaney. Other members of the board are J. E. Bateman and Dr. J. W. Kinnear. Dennis Hillman is auditor. Included more than $3,000 for new books, almost evenly split between fiction, non-fiction and juvenile classifications; more than $1,300 for light, heat and water; almost $7,000 for salaries, and various miscellaneous accounts.

Twelve Men Face Serious Charges

Kitchener, Ont., Feb. 6—(CP)— Twelve men were arrested here last night on charges of having carnal knowledge and contributing to the delinquency of five girls between the ages of 12 and 14.

Police Chief John Patrick said seven of the men are held in jail and five were released on bail.

The girls were taken to police headquarters for questioning and they identified the 12 men, police said.

The five girls were also involved in a shoplifting ring, said Chief Patrick. Over a period of several months they had stolen $300 worth of clothes and trinkets from downtown stores.

He said the men and girls had met at clubs and dance halls.

GABBY STREET DIES

Joplin, Mo., Feb. 6 — (AP) Charles (Gabby) Street, former major league baseball player and manager, died in hospital today. He was 68.

Street, manager of St. Louis Cardinals in 1930, is said to have been in a weakened condition since an operation last summer.

WHEN IN TRENTON DURING LENT
DROP IN AT RIVERVIEW
FISH and CHIPS
WE FRY ONLY THE CHOICEST OF PACIFIC HALIBUT.
WE DELIVER
15 Front St. —TRENTON
Phone 1481
LUNCHES—SUNDAES
GOOD COFFEE

LOOK AHEAD! BUY NOW!
THE GIRL OF YOUR CHOICE DESERVES A CHOICE RING.
SELECT NOW, A SMALL DEPOSIT WILL SECURE IT FOR THE THE DAY YOU NEED IT.
TRULY GREATEST BARGAINS IN THE LATEST STYLES OF DIAMOND RINGS
A BEAUTY For
At $150.00
ELITE CREDIT JEWELLERS
301½ Front Street Phone 1379

Canadians Get First Taste Snow, Sleet in Korea

With the Canadians in Korea— Feb. 6 (CP)—Canadian troops in Korea last night got their first taste of snow and sleet since they arrived in the war torn country last November.

It cast a blanket of snow over all its trenches which the Princess Patricia's Light Infantry Battalion dug for their five-day training exercise, "Operation Maple Leaf." The scheme will determine for Lt. Col. J. R. Stone, battalion commander, whether his men are ready to be committed for action.

The snow whitened the slopes of a mountain from which the Patricias are defending a theoretical withdrawal down its main supply route.

It simplified detection of enemy patrols. Artillery and mortar fire were unleashed every time approaching outlines were silhouetted in the snow.

The defenders experienced a worrying moment early today when a strong "enemy" force under Lieut. Rick Constant of Montreal infiltrated from behind after launching a surprise attack in Chinese communist fashion.

Using fake bugle calls, signals and whistle bursts as signals, Lieut. Constant's men crept through the defenders' rear echelons and to within 100 yards of Col. Stone's headquarters as was a spirited action was fought. The enemy force, which had blackened their faces and wore rubber shoes to prevent detection, then withdrew.

Col. Stone said in an order during the night that the battalion's defence of the area accomplished its purpose of protecting the withdrawal and will evacuate its position in the first light tomorrow. The thinning-out begins at 5 p.m. today tonight.

Col. Stone flew over the mountain positions, yesterday. He said the battalion's defence had been as top-flight, self-reliant soldiers. He said they knew how to do a job and they are doing it.

The general was in the front lines Monday observing the thrusts of his tank columns.

The 23-day-old limited offensive has wedged large numbers of Chinese forces south of the Han river. Military men said the forces are in an untenable military position from which only a handful can get to Seoul, to the Yellow Sea.

They predicted that the next 48 hours should show whether Reds plan to try to fight their way out or pull back to the north bank of the frozen Han river.

New Foe Weapons

Captured equipment indicated the Chinese reds have rushed up anti-tank weapons as a result of recent successes by Allied armored tank forces. These included 3.5-inch rocket launchers as well as the first captured on the western front, and anti-tank mines.

Russian-made anti-tank grenades and TNT charges specially prepared for use against tanks also were captured.

In the air, U.S. Fifth Air Force fighters and bombers flew more than 400 sorties Tuesday in support of ground forces. B-29s dropped 240 tons of bombs on Kanggye, a large transporting centre 20 miles south of the Yalu river.

British Sunderlands joined marine fighters and bombers from the light carrier Bataan in hammering red ground forces. Australian and New Zealand fighters also took part in the widespread action.

$5,000 FIRE LOSS

Colborne, Feb. 6 — (CP) Fire in the propeller shop of factories above the Colborne garage yesterday caused $5,000 damage. The proprietor, Edward Wagner, was working in the garage unaware of the fire.

Last Thing Communists Want Is People of Canada Aroused To Sense of Danger - - Sale

Toronto, Feb. 6 — (CP) Russia's deadliest weapon is the cold-blooded principle that it is easier to make men slaves by snuffing out free thought than by force of arms, Rhys M. Sale today told the annual convention of the Ontario Retail Hardware Association.

"The last thing the communists want is to have the people of Canada aroused to a sense of danger and made ready to fight for their freedom," the president of the Ford Motor Company of Canada declared in his second public denunciation of communism in recent weeks. Such preparation by Canada or any other free country upset one of the basic principles of Soviet planning.

The mind-stunting Russia are busy right now in every country they can, Mr. Sale told the he said.

Canada had her share. "Some fat in public office, making no secret of their Moscow affiliations! Some actually control a few of our labor unions, openly or behind the scenes. Some have a voice in organizations which pretend to champion the cause of the masses.

"Sheer hooey" the speaker branded the communist argument that people joined their ranks "to fight against the monster of capitalism that tramples the poor working people into the slime."

"The communists picture the heads of industry and business as greedy cowards who slink behind the scenes of war, while the sons and brothers and fathers of the working people go forth as canon fodder," he said.

"But the communists take good care not to mention that the sons and brothers and fathers of industrialists and businessmen fight and shoulder to shoulder with those of their employees. They take good care not to call attention to the fact that the casualty list of battle is no respector of persons, and that gallantry and sacrifice know neither class nor creed nor race."

57,000

(Continued from Page One)

100 to 1 Casualties

Lt.-Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, Eighth Army commander, said Allied forces have inflicted casualties on the enemy at a rate as high as 100 to 1 since late January.

Ridgway said the Allies have the power to push a strong column deep into enemy territory. But the main rhetorical question could be gained by that.

Ridgway described the American, British, Turkish, Greek, French, Dutch and South Korean in the United Nations forces as top-flight, self-reliant soldiers. He said they know how to do a job and they are doing it.

The general was in the front lines Monday observing the thrusts of his tank columns.

The 23-day-old limited offensive has wedged large numbers of Chinese forces south of the Han river. Military men said the forces are in an untenable military position from which only a handful can get to Seoul, to the Yellow Sea.

They predicted that the next 48 hours should show whether Reds plan to try to fight their way out or pull back to the north bank of the frozen Han river.

WEDNESDAY MORNING
SPECIALS
CHILDREN'S RUBBER
Bootlets
Black or brown — smart looking pull-over style bootlets that should give excellent protection. All rubber — lined and with buckled strap over instep. Sizes 7 to 11. HALF DAY SPECIAL.
Pair 1.59
SALE! BOYS'
Overcoats
Good looking single and double breasted models — in tweeds and wool coatings. 10 only, so you'll have to hurry! Sizes 23 to 31 in the lot. Clearing, Wednesday morning.
Each 4.98
Reg. 22.50 — 'Teen Age Coats
Smart, youthful styles for the 'teen ager, 12 to 14X years. All wool fabrics in smart belted back models or with all round belt. Choose from blue, green or wine. With rich imitation Persian lamb trim. HALF DAY SPECIAL .....
Each 13.98
REDUCED! GIRLS'
Plaid Coats
Of smart, gay colored all wool plaid coatings in popular princess style lines, favored by the 'teen age crowd. Quilted lining — sizes 14 - 14X only. Full length, in popular style. Reg. 27.50. HALF DAY SPECIAL.
Each 13.98
SPECIAL!
Rayon Slips
Dainty slips of rayon or rayon jersey. Both lace trimmed and tailored styles. White or colors. Fine quality, medium and large. Grand value for early shoppers Monday morning.
Each Only 99c
ESMOND INDIAN
Blankets
Excellent size of 60" x 80". Use them for car rugs — for couch throws. Of soft napped cotton — soft and thick in typical Indian style designs in big color choice. And look at the special low price for Wednesday morning.
Each 3.69
COTTON MESH
Dish Cloths
Woven mesh dish cloths, about 15" square — in cream color with multi-colored checks. Come early for your needs. HALF DAY SPECIAL
Each 11c
Shop at Lipson's and Save
LIPSON'S STORES LTD.

THE ONTARIO INTELLIGENCER

Published Daily by
Ontario Established 1841 — Intelligencer Established 1927
THE ONTARIO INTELLIGENCER PRINTING CO. LTD.
Belleville, Ontario, Canada

Subscription Rates:
Delivered in Belleville, 25 cents per week
By mail in Canada, $7.50 per year; $4.00 for six months; $2.25 for 3 months
By mail in U.S.A., $8.00 per year.

Member of The Canadian Press: The Canadian Press is exclusively entitled to use for republications of all news despatches credited to it or The Associated Press or Reuters in this newspaper and also the local news published herein.

APPEAL TO TOURISTS

Traveller vehicle permits issued to visitors to Ontario from the United States last year reached a new record for all time, namely 1,237,111, according to the Department of Travel and Publicity. The increase over 1949 was 3.01 per cent.

Growth of travel is indicated by comparison of the numbers of entries in the years preceding the Second World War, when they were 828,222 permits in 1937 and 754,568, in 1938 and 119,302 in 1939. From 581,979 in 1940 the number declined to 190,135 in 1943, after which the totals rose to 292,637 in 1944 and 553,720 in 1945. There was an impressive rise in 1946 when the total was 903,096 and then on upward to reach the highest last year. Last year the increases were in every month except February, April and May.

This impressive total gives some indication of the flow of travel into Canada from the United States with practically steady progress upward.

How far the development of the tourist trade can go is of course unknown but there are signs that it will not fail to expand more and more. Canada has a land of great variety and this naturally creates the very widest appeal for the great many millions of the people of the United States and of other countries in America and tourists from the other side of the Atlantic.

'LENT

Lent is at hand, the period of forty days in which the people of the Christian world devote their attention to contemplation of the suffering and sadness of Jesus and of the spiritual forces which so profoundly are at work in their lives. Through the ages of the Christian era Lent has always occupied a prominent place. In the Christian churches the weeks of the Lenten season are celebrated with services which stress the need of the spiritual outlook on life.

The season now ushering in has left a powerful influence upon the lives and minds of many of the people. There is deep searching of the heart, meditation and prayer and the lessons of the Life of Christ and His influence upon the ages past and yet to come are a lifelong influence upon the lives of the great numbers of the people. It is the time when the thoughts are turned inward upon the heart, with results that influence countless lives for time and eternity.

BRITAIN'S G-MEN

Britain's G-men are the doctors and scientists who make up the Institution of Aviation Medicine—the branch of the Royal Air Force working on the medical problems of high-speed flying, says Britain's News Letter.

One of the most important of these problems is the effect of gravity; in making tight turns, loops and dives, the body assumes several times its own weight, and this multiplication is expressed in terms of "Gs." Thus, 5g means that gravity has caused the body to assume five times its own weight. Too many "Gs" cause a black-out as the blood is forced into the legs and abdomen and away from the brain.

The R.A.F. G-men have now designed a G-suit which weighs less than three pounds. Over the thighs and lower legs are bladders which are automatically inflated by air pressure produced by aeroplane engines. The suit is being tested in a centrifuge building by human guinea pigs under operational conditions. It is reported that Mr. Winston Churchill, when shown the design for indoor air-raid shelters, urged that the inventor be put inside it, and a bomb dropped on it. The G-men are following this precept with their own devices.

The Institute of Aviation Medicine has also produced a new type of parachute for use at great heights to enable the pilots to descend as fast as quickly as possible speed with the parachute riosed, but opening at 10,000 ft, by the contraction of a sensitive barometric capsule.

SCOTTISH COUNTRY DANCING

One of the most widespread communal activities in Scotland nowadays is Scottish country dancing. Since the last war new branches of the Scottish Country Dance Society have sprung up all over the country, from the Highlands to the Lowlands, and the B.B.C. has played a great part in stimulating this revival. Every Thursday evening a lesson on Scottish country dancing is broadcast and this is followed by a program of Scottish dance music.

These broadcasts are the most popular of all programs heard in the Scottish Home Service, and to spur the band to its best efforts members of the local Scottish Country Dance Society come to the studio to take part in the dances. Numbers of bonny lassies and lads, wearing the kilt, perform the complicated figures, and in countless homes the family, if not actually dancing, is tapping its feet to the music.

Scottish dance music is given in two ways. There is the traditional style, played by an accordion or melodeon and several fiddlers, and the more sophisticated type, given by a small string band, or by a full orchestra and piano. Each has its share when the score or more bands available take their turn in providing Scottish dance music. — Stratford Beacon-Herald.

JUST FOLKS

By EDGAR A. GUEST

(Copyright, 1951, Edgar A. Guest)

TWO LESSONS

I quoted from the Scripture to a parson
Who asked if I would talk for them the following Sunday night.
Said it: "Here's a commandment against that which you suggest:
'For six days shalt thou labor and the Sabbath is for rest'."

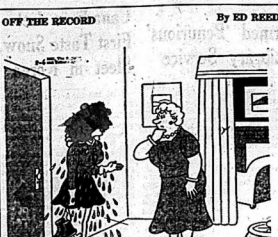
Now the Good Book can be quoted for whatever you and you choose,
But the clergyman for a layman with a minister to use.

For this is what is answered
And he had me, I admit):
"See Luke, the fourteenth chapter, of the ox caught in the pit."

Two lessons have been taught me and the first is not to cite
The Scripture to a parson who would rest on Sunday night;
And the other lesson this is, when on Sunday told
A on ox that's deep in trouble I should go and help him out.

OFF THE RECORD

By ED REED



"Sure the ice was strong enough . . . if only I wouldn't always attract such a crowd of men around me!"

LOOKING BACKWARDS

GLEANINGS FROM OUR FYLES OF BYGONE YEARS

20 YEARS AGO

Feb. 6th., 1931

Corbyville bottling room and plant employees' hockey teams played a fast game at Simpson's rink last evening and the bottling room team won. The following composed the teams:—Bottling Room, — Barrage, Smith, Jack Murray, Murray, Roy; subs, Bells and Gusy; Plant Team, — A. Eves, G. Turley, Whiting, James Murray, Kaiser, Mac-Donald; subs., R. Ibey and J. Stewart.

Mr. Glen McLaughlin, manager of the Canadian Fuel Company, is spending a few days in Toronto.

Mr. Stephen Licence has returned home from Toronto where he attended the annual convention of the Sports Goods and Bicycle Association.

Mr. Carl Hagerman of the Radio Shop, spent yesterday in Toronto on business.

10 YEARS AGO

Feb. 6th., 1921

Mr. A. H. Bailey is attending a meeting of produce merchants in Montreal.

Mr. Joseph Fobear of Tweed was in town today.

The bowling was carried on by the local bakers' will soon end. Today the score of head is stationary at 14 cents retail and 12 cents wholesale. The bakers are meeting this afternoon to settle the price and it is said then they are ready to be reconciled after the week's slashing of prices.

Last night at the Front Street rink the John Street Church Tuxis team wholloped the Bridge Tuxis Boys, — Leavens, Bongard, Cook, Arnott, Merriam and Kerr; "Y" Group, — Smith, Hudson, Follwell, Jeffrey, Miles and Wells. The referee was Angus Buchanan.

40 YEARS AGO

Feb. 6th., 1911

The Rev. A. L. Geen, ably assisted by a choir from St. Agnes School, conducted service at the House of Refuge on Sunday.

The regular monthly meeting of the Belleville Life Underwriters Association was held yesterday at James Wallace's restaurant. The officers elected for this year are as follows: President, R. F. Butler; Vice President, D. Stocker; Board of Management, R. F. Butler, D. Stocker, John E. Parks, Fred Ketcheson, J. W. Butterfield, Ira Secord and H. E. Mc-Roche.

Mile E. Stubbs, who for some time has been in charge of the millinery department at the Ritchie Store, has left to reside in Hamilton.

50 YEARS AGO

Feb. 6th., 1901

The annual meeting of the Orange Lodge of Hastings County was held yesterday at Tweed and the following officers were elected: County Master, William White, Tweed; County Deputy Master, S. J. Clarke, Corbyville; County Chaplain, W. Craig, Tweed; County Recording Secretary, Robert Duffin, Belleville; County Treasurer, W. C. Bell, Belleville; D. of C. J. W. Beatty, Bogart; County Lecturer, E. P. Clarke, Corbyville; County Deputy Lecturer, Sandy Rodgers, Bogart.

Mr. Fred Osborne has left to reside in Montreal where he has accepted a position.

Mr. T. Craig of Toronto, formerly Captain of the Reserve Hero, was in town today.

AUSTRALIA WILL CELEBRATE

Colombo, Ceylon, Feb. 5 (Reuters). —Prime Minister Robert G. Menzies of Australia announced today he has invited the Commonwealth Prime Ministers to Australian jubilee celebrations May 9 to mark the 50th year of the Australian Federal Parliament.

Menzies is returning home from the Commonwealth Prime Ministers' conference held in London.

BODY DISCOVERED

Toronto, Feb. 5—(CP) — The body of a 68-year-old man was found beneath a Toronto Island Street viaduct Sunday and police said they found a letter in his pocket telling him he no longer owned the house in which he was living.

Police said the letter, from a Burks Falls, Ont., notary public, told the man his wife's will had left her property, including the house, to 6 sister.

OUR TOWN

By JACK SCOTT

BY THE SEA

Let us beat the drum today for one of the most entertaining and rewarding shows to be seen anywhere in the world, a thrilling daily performance attended by almost nobody, ever.

The show in question is Vancouver's aquarium, a kind of never-never strip of land to nine-tenths of our population yet eagerly to be discovered and explored.

No other port I've ever visited — and I've seen my share — is so ignored and unappreciated by its owners as this.

I mention it just never occurred to most people that ten-odd miles or harbor-front (on the city side alone) lie within a short bus ride of their front doors or that it is crammed with romance, the atmosphere of faraway places, the lovely stink of adventure.

There's no admission price. All you need is a dash of imagination.

Or perhaps it's just that we've lost the ability to walk, for walking is the only way to properly discover Vancouver's gateway to the world.

My own suggestion, and a project I began last January, is to take a series of Sunday afternoon strolls, rain or shine, from one end of the harbor to the other. There are plenty of "Keep Out" signs, you'll find, and I wouldn't promise to escape all of them, for the law, but you'll find an easy-going hospitable atmosphere on the wharves.

If you work eastward from Coal Harbor, for example, you'll see the big halibut boats (did you know that one-third of the world's halibut comes from here?), the herring seiners, the trollers, all in a swaying forest of masts; the fishnet sheds and docks, the busy gulf boats, the tugs and towboats and salvage vessels, the ferry boats, the busy little ferry the box cars up the coast.

As you move east you come into freighter country. Right now there's more than two dozen deep sea ships loading grain and lumber, apples and ore, for the ports of the world; ships from Holland, Italy, Japan, the United Kingdom, Norway (the cleanest), Greece (the dirtiest), Panama, and so on.

Never was there a more generous invitation to get away from your landlubber's rut.

Salty Type

I can't remember enjoying myself so much as last Sunday when I joined a friend for a stroll in addition to the piers, mentally attired in a weather-beaten old pea-jacket and with a cocky little skipper's cap.

A bus takes you down to the dock-side and you can feel your appetite for romance sharpen as it carries you through the fast and back streets to Ballantyne and Lapoints and the other piers that jut into the narrowing channel of the harbor.

My companion, hereafter, referred to as "old shipmate," is like myself, a man with an insatiable capacity for the sounds, sights and odors of the waterfront. I've raved about this fellow. If you passed him in the street you might think of him as just another drudge. He looks as if he might be a tiny bit terrified of his boss, harried by the dizzy shadow of small debt, brow-bested by his wife and otherwise a typical product of this age.

Ah, but catch him leaning on the rail at Pier B-C, watching them swing a cargo into the hold of an old freighter! Suddenly there's a swashbuckling look about him. The faint perfume of kelp sets on him like a goblet of rare bouquet. He'll shout, shout or an outgoing tramp stirs his sluggish blood like a wind from a deep sea and in silk.

Sure, he gets sick on the Victoria ferry, but he sails the sewer seas every lunch hour and every Sunday morning.

Grey Vista

It was raining when we made our first stop, but that only added an element of romanticism to what might seem, on the surface, a dismal scene.

Out of the harbor mouth grey water blended into grey sky and the whole world was silent and lonely. The rain pock-marked the leaden water, and the only sound was that of our trench coats and walked out along one shark. .

We were standing on the base of one of the immense grain elevators and watched the wheat pour cole and warm through a dusty, musty smelling and giving out a light dust. The stuff looked good enough to be a relief for the hungry.

Just a few feet off the pier, a tone darker than the grey of the sky, an old freighter leaned against the wharf. She was Dutch and had climbed aboard, at the invitation of a deck hand, at Rotterdam, Holland, by way of the U.K. The gulls, seeming whiter than usual, wheeled and screamed in the drizzle.

All of it was like thumbing through a familiar but always interesting and well-thumbed book.

It surprised me a little, having seen a good deal of travel, to find that the dockside was the magic of the scene remains. The capacity to dramatize the ho-hum and make scenes as strong as ever, even after you've been over those horizons.

I'm a bit suspicious of the theories of this wonderful town to realize again that an infallible tonic for the jaded spirit is a walk around the corner. I suggest that you get bundled up against the weather next Sunday and we'll do our exploring together.

Mackenzie's Column

Country Holding Balance of Power Can Hold Peace

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(Associated Press News Analyst)

Gen. Eisenhower has made a political faux pas, while he doesn't deny the danger of war "the task today is one of keeping the peace" and his entire statement invites analysis. Just what is the requisite for the maintenance of peace in a world which is bitterly divided against itself?

We must start, I think, from the premise that any bloc of countries, which has completed conquest by aggression must possess the balance of economic and military power. And by the same token, the maintenance of peace depends on possession of the balance of military and economic power by the peace-makers.

Need Balance of Power

The corollary to this is that if the Soviet bloc can overrun the continent, it can overrun the continent; likewise if the democracies hold the balance of power they can maintain peace, because nobody is going to invite certain disaster for the structure.

At this juncture the democracies are in the world's economic strength. It is all told, so great that they could gain power in cession the balance of power would be tremendously altered. It might be changed in Moscow's favor that she could succeed in her ambition to carry world revolution for the establishment of communism.

Ruhr Complication

This picture is complicated by the fact that Western Germany has within her borders the fabulously rich coal and steel resources of the Ruhr.

The importance of the Ruhr may perhaps be best summed up by saying that it was largely on account of it that Germany was able to launch two world wars only a generation apart—and come to be a winning them. Small wonder that Germany's future is a matter of grave concern to both the Western Allies and to Russia; equally small wonder that the Ruhr is a storm center and one of the greatest bones of contention between the Soviet bloc and the democracies.

RESEARCHERS

(Continued from Page One)

Persons exposed to radiation would be able to tell immediately from a study of the data and films that have received by comparing the films with the dose and interpreting the meaning of every shade.

Hill explained that 400 roentgens is considered a "mean lethal dose."

Current models, made in Britain and the United States, require the active devotion of a film supplying a few drops on a special table, which is then manually operated operation. The films do not show the degree of exposure until the dark-room expert with Hill's detector would know he was in a contaminated area and would be warned to leave at once.

The detector is also of use in the machine application. It could be used in the X-ray laboratory where a film can be put in a machine at a glance whether they have been exposed to dangerous amounts of radiation.

The indicator is cumulative, that is, it registers the total dose received by the film or the carrier in exposures hours or days apart, with the time over which the dye has reached.

TOP AWARD

Winkler, Man. —(CP)— With a yield of 13.08 tons of sugar beets to the acre Peter Nikolic of Kronsgart won the Manitoba Sugar Company award for highest yield in the 1950 beet competition. Farmers here planted 1,300 acres to beets in 1950.

Personal Health Talks

By WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

Signed Letters, Not More Than One Page Or 100 Words Long, Pertaining To Personal Health and Hygiene, Not To Diseases, Diagnosis or Treatment, Will Be Answered By Dr. Brady If A Stamped Self Addressed Envelope Is Enclosed, Enc.

JUST PLAIN WHEAT IS GOOD TO EAT

In a talk titled Do have Some More Wheat the other day I endeavored to explain how vital it is for the national nutrition that every well-managed household be supplied with a bin of plain wheat for use as a staple of everyday diet.

Plain wheat makes an excellent chew, in place of chewing gum or tobacco, For people with teeth I mean. Of course, if you are a dental cripple it is scarcely worth while trying to stave off the encroachments of malnutrition unless and until the missing teeth are restored or replaced with functionally efficient dentures.

It is absurd that our national economy—as one given to calling a spade a spade—should refer to the delectable unadulterated flour and breads, cakes and other things made of it, as "refined foods" when nature has been foisted upon you all your life by the great milling interests, so that you actually believe plain wheat, cracked or ground at home fresh every day or by the individual let in the near-by village who grinds enough for family regular requirements, is not quite fit for your "delicate" digestion. Now that you have been "educated" to a vocabulary of expletives seems singularly appropriate. Distinctly unsuitable for your health and vite you have been indoctrinated about "refined foods" and especially do not name them as I want to keep your blood pressure in a white heat-ed"), with the morbid notion that flour is not fit for human consumption unless it has been "processed," bleached, refined, degerminated, fortified, doctored and otherwise modified. To realize how thoroughly the food fakers have done the job one has only to scout around in search of real whole wheat flour—from which nothing is removed in the grinding or milling" and to which nothing is added.

Tell me, Stupes, why in thunder do the responsible try to make capital of the sickly surgery of "fortifying" the name-brand flour-power world (filled with dashes of this and that vitamin and/or mineral)? Is it to appease the "health authorities" who have lately learned that the public is fed up on white-food along with refined white sugar? Or is it to keep you gullible customers content to keep on the type of everyday diet that accounts for the national malnutrition?

It would be remarkable if by any chance you remember the basic statistics here several times —two classes of children in school, one class receiving more vitamin B to supplement their regular daily diet, the other class continuing on their everyday diet as usual. The children getting the extra vitamin ration studied, better, learned more quickly, received better classwork, made better examination marks than the children who received no vitamin ration.

Wheat is the richest food source of vitamin B.

Nothing can the monopolists afford to let you complacent customers acquire such a radical notion of what is fit to eat!

QUESTIONS & ANSWERS

Come Off It

There was brought to my attention this morning an article written by Dr. Wm. Brady on Personal Health and Worthwhile. Please send any literature you may have on the subject and oblige. A Personal. (L. A. J.).

Answer—Yours received and contents noted. Sorry, sir, but I cannot do it. I feel that if you will provide a self-addressed envelope, properly stamped as you please, and ask for it in writing we'll send a pamphlet on Boils. Or send a 3c stamp and ask for Dr. Brady's Suffer From Piles. But do not use a clipping, please.

Mysterious Island

Missionary friends on inland in the Atlantic Ocean say many natives suffer from worms and anemia—sometimes practical and economical. (W. W.)

Answer—Send them the book-let titled Unbidden Guests, Blood and Health—25c each and a stamped self-addressed envelope. If the island is tropical perhaps Public Health Service, Washington, D.C., can help. Ask your government publications which would be useful to the missionaries.

Clinic Lice

Why not expose in your column the horrible "charity clinics" run by the local health units? Get the places to exploit the sick—they tell a poor woman she probably has worms and proceeds her to come to their offices for treatment. Then she and/or son is a reputable doctor for examination and learns there is nothing wrong. (Mrs. S. R.)

Answer—All I know about it is what I read in your letter. Can't the reputable doctor do something about it?

TODAY'S TALK

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

TRIBUTE TO A FRIEND

One's own personal world shrinks as one grows older. Friends die a little, when a friend leaves us. Something precious is snuffed out of our lives, but the sum total of memory. I felt this anew when my friend Charles H. Schmidt recently closed his earthly career.

I knew this friend for nearly a quarter of a century as a neighbor of mine, and many were the hours we spent together in the book den. He was a talented writer and produced many books and articles which were the result of his personality. He wrote a widely-read newspaper column, as well, but he stood alone as an authority on Pirates and Pirate Treasures. One of his finest collections in existence. But he loved all work in the pit. He loved his friends—and they were numerous, scattered far and wide.

The greatest happiness that Charlie Driscoll gained, I am sure, was in printing his friends. I think it was his greatest characteristic. He was forever saying nice things about those whose worth and character were outstanding. I envied his friendship. He was one of the selected few that I knew who could depend on for loyalty and encouragement.

Born in Kansas on a farm near Abilene, he experienced the rugged somewhat bitter childhood, but it only served to make him a better and courage to reach out and climb upward, as he did in a remarkable manner. In his earlier years were spent as a newspaper reporter and editor and he distinguished himself as such, but always that human and understanding touch endeared him to those who knew and loved him.

Charlie hated shoddy practices and he was outspoken in his opinions. I have often witnessed his fearless stand on these occasions. He was as honest as God's Kansas soil. Always with a frown, and when he left the soil behind he took a crop of friendship with him along with him into the larger opportunities beyond. His heartfelt wish and love for daughters will miss him most—but a host of friends will miss him, too. I have one less genuine friend.

Strength for the Day

DR. EARL I. DOUGLASS

HABIT FORMATION

Many years ago the great American psychologist William James wrote a chapter on habit. We can sometimes what has become of that chapter. Many varieties of habit have been advanced today by psychologists, and William James, who seemed such a genius when he died a decade ago, is now little more than a name on a book list.

James took the position that life is a bundle of habits. Every action in life deepens some habit. Rip Van Winkle, who when he took another drink said, "We won't count this one," did not realize that although, as James said, a merciful heaven would not count it, it was being counted in the cells of his nervous system, from now.

Likewise, with every thought every impulse, and every act habit is being formed. First we make our habits and then our habits make us.

Nothing is harder than for a person in middle age or beyond to break a life-long habit. But it is equally true that it is difficult plastic. Certainly until one reaches middle age or thirty years of age, habits can be made or unmade with comparative ease. And every young person should realize that what he or she is doing is a habit in middle life depends on the seriousness with which good habits are formed in youth. It is better to take time to form a good habit now than to try to break a bad one twenty years from now.

News of Trenton

Give Telephone Operator Medal, Newspaper Features Her Story

been bestowed upon a woman

Trenton — (Special) — Highest honors have been bestowed upon a woman who as a young girl stuck to her switchboard the night of terrifying explosions when the British Chemical plant blew up and shook the entire countryside last before Armistice Day in World War I.

Add together a dynamite explosion, a medal for bravery and a successful career in the telephone world and you have the reason why "The Michigan Bell" a leading telephone publication in United States devoted an illustrated feature to a woman, who will be remembered by many residents of both Trenton and Belleville.

The story titled "Portrait of a District Traffic Assistant" is written about Eva Curtis Dyer, the sister of Mrs. Harry B. Day of 26 Cedar Street, Belleville. Her nephew, Mr. James F. Day, resides with his wife on 207 King Street, Trenton.

Lives in Michigan

Now the former district resident lives at Pontiac, Michigan, where she has been active in the exacting job of district traffic assistant for the telephone company and has earned the respect and praise of her employers and the people who work under her.

The following appeared in the December issue of The Michigan Bell under the by-line of M Walby.

"From the day she was trained as a telephone operator to her present-day job, Eva Dyer's life has been dramatically marked by one experience after another.

Among her experiences are her rise up the ladder of success in the telephone world, a dynamite explosion and the receipt of a medal for bravery.

36 Year's Experience

There's little about the "operating end" of the telephone business Eva hasn't known. This Pontiac district traffic assistant has 36 years experience in back of her life.

At the age of 20, Mrs. Dyer began her lifetime career in the working side of the switchboard in 1914 in Belleville, Ontario. The town, located 113 miles from Toronto and known as a mecca for vacationists, then boasted 1,000 telephones.

But it wasn't long before things began to happen. Eva was soon made a supervisor and the Belleville office was changed from a magneto (crank type) telephone system to the common-battery (lift-the-receiver) type of service.

The office consisted of 12 positions and handled toll and local calls.

It was during World War I that Eva distinguished herself as an operator and became the first woman in all of Canada to receive the medal of the Order of the British Empire.

On loan from the telephone company to the British Chemical works at Trenton as a PBX operator, Eva was working Thanksgiving Day, 1918. And things began "popping". A portion of the plant housing TNT caught fire and exploded, creating panic on the factory grounds as well as in the town.

Remained at Post

Remaining at her post, Eva manned the switchboard until the hundreds of calls which flooded it were answered—for awhile it appeared as if the whole countryside were alerted for the disaster, so quickly did the calls rile up.

A few months later, imperial recognition was given the heroine of the Trenton disaster, when the government announced "that the medal of the Order of the British Empire has been conferred upon . . . Eva G. Curtis. . . for the conspicuous bravery and courage on the occasion of the fire and explosion at an explosives factory in Trenton, Ontario.

When the furor was over, and the war came to an end, Eva returned as an operator for the Bell System in Toronto. After a short time she was again appointed a supervisor.

But her stay in Toronto was short-lived because Eva was soon to cross the international boundary when she began, once more, as an operator in The Bell's Pontiac office. This was in February, 1921.

New Traffic Assistant

Before long she won the title of supervisor again and continued her rise through the ranks to become an assistant chief operator, chief operator and then district traffic assistant.

In Pontiac Miss Curtis married a sweetheart she had met while she worked at the Chemical Plant in Trenton. A veteran of the First World War her husband Norman G. Dyer of the village of Queensboro near Madoc, Ontario, died suddenly in 1945.

The Dyers had no children and Mrs. Dyer carried on to rise to great heights in the telephone empire.

CAST, PROPERTIES FLOWN

New York, Feb. 5(CP)—Because of the rail strike the entire cast and properties of Montreal's Gratien Gelinas' play "Ti-Coq," opening here this week had to be flown from Chicago during the weekend.

Theatrical people said today it was believed the first time a play had been moved bag and baggage between cities by air.

MISSION TAKEN OUT

London, Feb. 6 — (AP) — Britain said last night that she will take her military mission out of Ethiopia. The mission has been in Ethiopia since it was liberated from Italian control in 1941. The decision to withdraw was based on Ethiopia's progress in organizing her own affairs on a peacetime basis, and the increasingly-heavy demands of British manpower and financial resources.

Rex Davey Heads New Committee On Recreation

Trenton, (Special.)—At the first meeting of the Board of Directors of the Trenton Recreation Committee officers the Board of Control for 1951 were elected: Chairman, Rex Davey; Chairman, Dr. V. Byrne; Secretary, Mrs. Eva Smith; Treasurer, Vern Wannamaker.

The possibility of having the house on Bain Park occupied by a tenant who would watch the premises throughout the winter months was discussed. It was decided to hold another Recreation Week from May 21 to May 26 inclusive. Council will be asked to sanction the holding of the sports week.

Councillor Norman Banfield has met with another accident.

At the Legion Hall last week he tripped on a raise between two floors and twisted his ankle. Examination showed the ankle to be sprained.

Last year the unlucky councillor hurt his knee in a fall.

He is laid up at his home on 20 Mercier Street.

Air Force Moves

Flight Lieutenant George Kirley of Trenton R.C.A.F. Station has been moved to 426 Squadron and leaves immediately for Montreal where he will take a conversion course on North Stars. He is expected to join the Korea airlift as soon as he has finished his new course.

Radio Officer Flying Officer Johnny Wilson is another officer to be transferred to No. 426 Squadron. He, too, may be posted to active airlift duty.

Flight Lieutenant J. K. Young has been posted from Training Command of the Trenton Station to Air Force Headquarters in Ottawa.

Squadron Leader G. Sutherland has been shifted from one command to Training Command Headquarters.

Sgt. Farr Takes Toughening Up Course

Sgt. Bill Farr of the Air-Rescue Branch at the Trenton Air Station is now down in the Southern United States taking a toughening up course with the U.S. Army forces.

The plucky parachute rescuer finds himself climbing mountains in Colorado, enduring the hardships of training in the desert in Texas and for diversion, taking part in schemes in the Everglade swamps of Florida.

Sgt. Farr has led para rescue teams in successful operations from the Trenton Air Station.

Main Corner Covered

The corner of Elgin and Front Streets was covered with water on Saturday when large quantities of water escaping from a broken hydrant flooded the main corner until workmen working all night and until six o'clock Sunday night stopped the leak. It is believed that frost cracked the water main and caused the pavement to heave in front of W. W. Weaver Service Station.

Water service between Elgin and Middle Streets was also cut off for two hours on Sunday while repairs were being made.

Mayor Coach Home From Hospital

It will be another two weeks before His Worship Kenneth Couch will be allowed to leave his home. The Chief Magistrate who returned to Trenton from the Kingston General Hospital on Sunday is still under the doctor's care and will have to return to the hospital for another check-up in a month's time.

The Mayor was taken down with a cold early in January and has been on the sick list ever since.

Councillor Ross Burtt, chairman of Streets and Sidewalks, and the committee who headed the polls in the last municipal election is carrying on for Mr. Couch.

STUMBLE ASHORE

Southminster, England, Feb. 6 — (Reuters) — Three fishermen stumbled ashore yesterday after 30 hours adrift in a gale-tossed boat while planes and ships scoured the coasts for them. They left for a quiet morning's fishing early Sunday but were swept out to sea in a storm. They managed to get back ashore when the tide turned. They caught no fish.

LORNE PARK CHURCH BURNED

Toronto, Feb. 6—(CP)— Fire early today destroyed St. Paul's Anglican Church at Lorne Park, a western suburb of Toronto. Damage was estimated at $15,000.

Lack of water hampered firemen. Firemen said otherwise three quarters of the small, frame building could have been saved.

Four Nominated For Civilian Administrator

Trenton — Four were nominated for the important post of Civilian Defence Administrator for the town of Trenton at a meeting in the Legion Hall last Friday when Councillor Norman Banfield representing the town council told a scattered gathering the grim realities another world war could heap on the civilian populace of Canada. Councillor Banfield asked the meeting to suggest candidates, announcing that the defence leader would be chosen from a number of capable men put up for the office by a series of meetings to be held to acquaint the public with the seriousness of the situation.

Those nominated for the top civilian defence post included: Chief Constable Jack Taylor, Bill Collerjohn, Fred Harris of the R.C.A.F. and Thorne Spear.

Mr. Banfield pledged to support the civil defence chief and the municipal council for financial assistance or any other aid once the administration was set up. He asked for the co-operation of every citizen. He promised that the whole community would have to make more sacrifices. He said that civilians had to choose between survival or destruction.

Stressing the need for prompt action in establishing a civilian defence organization Mr. Banfield contended "It's hard for us to realize the seriousness of the situation since we've been so free, so safe and so happy go lucky for so many years."

He warned that we were now vulnerable to being attacked.

Second of Boston Quadruplets Dies

Boston, Feb. 6 — (AP) — The second of Boston's famous Allen quadruplets died early today at Children's Medical Centre.

Timothy, who weighed two lbs. and three ounces at birth last Friday, died of respiratory trouble doctors said.

Karen, who weighed slightly more than one pound, died Sunday night.

Hospital officials withheld the news from the mother because "she was still broken up over Karen's death."

Canada Joins Rubber Congress

Ottawa, Feb. 6—(CP)—Canada, as a large producer of synthetic rubber and a big consumer of the natural product, is an interested participant in a 10-country rubber conference which opened in London yesterday.

A trade department spokesman said two officials from Canada House, London, are officially representing Canada at the talks to review the supply and demand position of natural and synthetic rubber.

The meeting was convened in London by British following consultations with France and the United States. The possibility of shutting off rubber supplies from communist nations is believed one of the aims.

Mrs. Astor Wilks Dies Leaving Vast Fortune

New York, Feb. 6 — (AP) — Mrs. Matthew Astor Wilks, 80, widow of the fabulously-wealthy Hetty Green and, in her own right, one of the world's richest women, died last night in New York hospital.

A tall, austere woman, Mrs. Wilks shunned publicity like her famous mother who at her death in 1916 had amassed a fortune estimated at $100,000,000. Mrs. Wilks' own fortune was estimated at $125,000,000.

She was the widow of Matthew Wilks, great-grandson of the first John Jacob Astor. Before their marriage, Mrs. Green made her future son-in-law sign a waiver to her daughter's great estate.

In youth, Mrs. Wilks was guarded closely by her dominating, money-minded mother. And after 17 years of marriage to Wilks, which ended in widowhood in 1926, she became a virtual recluse.

Since Mrs. Wilks and her brother Col. Green, both died childless, the huge concentrated fortune now must pass out of the immediate family. The nearest relatives are cousins.

Priest Battles Fire in Church Single-handed

Linwood, Ont., Feb. 6 — (CP) — A fire in the new St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church here was fought single-handedly last night by Rev. Peter Eilert, parish priest, until the village firemen arrived.

The blaze broke out in the oil burner room and was first noticed by those attending a Catholic youth organization dance in the parish hall. Father Eilert fought the blaze with a fire extinguisher while the dancers spread the alarm.

Father Eilert rescued the Blessed Sacrament from the tabernacle as flames licked through the floor under the altar.

The interior of the church superstructure was completed last summer. The fire caused several thousand dollars damage. Linwood firemen were summoned back shortly after midnight when the blaze broke out a second time.

Linwood is about 18 miles northwest of Kitchener.

Pontiff Urges Intensive Efforts

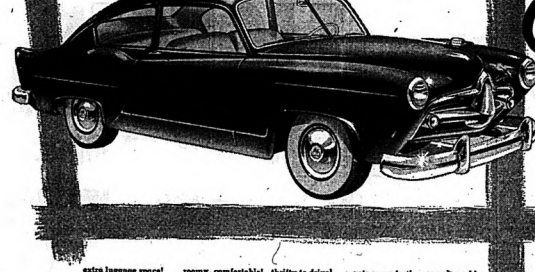
Vatican City, Feb. 6 (AP) — Pope Pius on the eve of Lent today urged pastors and Lenten preachers to intensify their efforts to bring to Roman Catholicism those far from it.

In an annual address the Pope a. Bishop of Rome, addressed himself primarily to churchmen there. But his words by inference were extended to other great cities and to the countryside throughout the world.

He recalled his 1950 Christmas message to the world in which he urged an apostolate to reconquer for the Catholic Church the "weak, the languid and the vacillating."

here is Kaiser-Frazer's new low-priced, full-sized car, the....

Henry J



extra luggage space! Almost twice the luggage capacity of any sedan at any price! 51 cubic feet when rear seat is folded forward!

roomy, comfortable! Plenty of head room, leg room for at least five big passengers. Front seat 54½ inches, rear 56¾ inches!

thrifty to drive! Owners report up to 40 miles per gallon and more, under normal driving conditions.

gets away fast! 0 to 50 MPH in 10 seconds! 0 to 60 MPH in 14 seconds!

easy to park! The perfector in body trolls, narrow driveways, tight parking spots.

It's here today at your K-F Dealer's . . . the car you've read about and been waiting to see. It's a big car. It's a roomy car yet it costs less to buy . . . less to drive . . . less to maintain. See the most important new car in Canada . . . the Henry J—the car for you, the car for your whole family.

"Today, at your K-F Dealer's, you will see what we believe to be the most important car that has been produced since the automobile became a necessity of daily living. It meets the needs, the wants, the purchasing power of all Canadians as no other car has done. It is the car that you and every Canadian family can afford to buy, to operate, to maintain . . . and be proud to own!"

costs less to buy—less to drive—less to maintain

KAISER-FRAZER OF CANADA LTD.

KAISER-FRAZER SALES, SERVICE AND PARTS ARE AVAILABLE ACROSS CANADA AND THE UNITED STATES

DULMAGE MOTORS LIMITED

112 Station Street Belleville Phone 3360

PHIL LOSOPHY

TIME FLIES AND THERE'S NO WAY OF CLIPPING ITS WINGS

When those bills pile up — Don't wait another day — GET A CASH LOAN AT

BELLVUE FINANCE Corp.

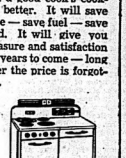
BELLEVILLE — TRENTON — TWEED

PHONE 3262

THE IDEA OF APPLIED SCIENCE

Yes sir, an up-to-date range can make an ordinary cook's cooking good and a good cook's cooking better. It will save time — save fuel — save food. It will give you pleasure and satisfaction for years to come — long after the price is forgotten.

Just as I was telling your wife, anyone can cook on a GENERAL ELECTRIC RANGE.



SEE THIS MODEL and OTHERS AT

T. A. TUCKER CO. LTD.

Phone 772 217 Front St.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Mrs. Harold Detlor, of Stirling, is progressing favorably after her recent operation in the Belleville General Hospital.

* * *

Among those from out-of-town who attended the funeral of the late Mr. Fred Wallis held yesterday at the Belleville Burial parlors were, Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Young, Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Mallory of Trenton, R.R. 3; Mrs. Ernie Mason, Mrs. Charles Wilson and daughter, Audrey; Mr. Thomas Irwin, Mrs. Lenoy and Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Hunt, of Belleville, R.R. 2.

* * *

Mrs. Herbert McCabe was a guest at the Ontario Women's Liberal Association luncheon held last Saturday at the Royal York Hotel, Toronto, at which Rt. Walter Thomson, M.P., was guest speaker. She was appointed as a member of the Advisory Council of the National Liberal Federation of Canada.

* * *

OUT-OF-TOWN PERSONAL

Mr. Milton Ross, Corbyville, has returned from an extended trip to the Pacific Coast, and other western points.

WEDDINGS

REID—KELLAR

On Saturday, January 27, at 11 o'clock, a pretty and well attended took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kellar, Fulker, Ontario, when their young daughter, Helen Audrey, became the bride of William John, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Reid, of Ivanhoe. The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Boyd Beckel, of Ivanhoe.

Mrs. Floyd Ray, of Thurlow, wearing hunter's green crepe with insets of lace, with a corsage of yellow chrysanthemums, during the ceremony "I Love You Truly", and during the signing of the register, "O Promise Me".

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white floor-length gown of brocaded organza with matching mitts. Her fingertip veil of tulle fell from a headdress of matching organza. She carried a hand bouquet of pink roses and bouvardia.

The bride's only attendant was Mrs. Dean Dafoe, of Foxboro, gowned in a floor-length dress of forget-me-not blue taffeta, with sweetheart neckline. Her shoulder-length veil fell from a headdress of tiny blue flowers. She carried a hand bouquet of deep rose feathered carnations.

Mr. Dean Dafoe, brother-in-law of the bride, was groomsman.

The bride's mother, wearing green printed crepe with a corsage of gardenia, assisted by the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Harold Reid, wearing beige gabardine suit with a corsage of deep red carnations, received the guests.

Following the wedding dinner the bride and groom left by motor for Toronto and Detroit, the bride travelling in a pearl-grey suit with black accessories and a corsage of gardenias.

The groom's gift to the bride was a chest of silver and scatter pin set with matching earrings, and to the groomsman, a wallet. The bride's gift to the groom was a black leather Gladstone bag; to the bridesmaid and soloist, china cups and saucers.

Guests were present from Peterborough, Ottawa, Port Hope, Halloway, Thurlow, Foxboro and Ivanhoe.

Mr. and Mrs. Reid will reside in Belleville.

WILLMAN—HULSMAN

Sacred Heart Church, Marmora, was the scene of a pretty wedding on Saturday morning, February third, when Ellen Johanna (Annie), daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Hulsman, Marmora township, became the bride of Harold Wesley Willman, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Willman, of Marmora.

The ceremony was performed and the Nuptial Mass celebrated by the Rev. J. A. O'Neill.

The wedding music was played by Mrs. Joseph Murray.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an ankle-length gown of net over blue taffeta, with matching headdress and shoulder-length veil. She carried a bouquet of red roses.

Miss Dorothy Hulsman was her sister's bridesmaid. She wore an ankle-length dress of pink taffeta, with net bodice and Peter Pan collar, and a headdress of pink roses and lily-of-the-valley. She wore a corsage of red roses.

Joseph Hulsman, brother of the bride, was groomsman.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, when 60 guests were present. The bride's mother received in a grey crepe dress with corsage of pink roses. She was assisted by the groom's sister, Mrs. Harold McGee, who wore black moire taffeta and corsage of yellow roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Willman left later for Belleville, where they will reside. The bride was wearing a wine coat and grey accessories.

Out-of-town guests were from Trenton, Belleville, Stirling, Peterborough, Madoc and Bonarlaw.

Club Activities

ENERGETIC CLUB

The Energetic Club of Holloway Street United Church held their regular meeting in the church parlors on Friday last. The Rev. B. Larmon read the scripture meditation.

Following this a brief business period was held in which a letter of acceptance for the invitation to read from the Mr. and Hour Club, of Bridge Street United Church.

Alice and Grant Stickle and their group had charge of the program, in which a tea party was held, followed by cookinole. Those who won were, ladies high, Jean Ostlingdyke; men high, Ron Jones and consolation, Vivian Oran.

A social half hour followed which was much enjoyed.

AMBASSADOR SWORN IN

Washington, Feb. 6 — (AP) — Stanton Griffis was sworn in yesterday as the first United States Ambassador to Spain in the last five years. Griffis, normally envoy to Argentina, told reporters he plans to sail Feb. 10 for Gibraltar and will motor from there to Madrid.

CANOPY COLLAPSES

Memphis, Tenn., Feb. 6 (AP)— W. A. Caradine found out too late how much damage the storm had done to a 40-foot wooden canopy. The structure, weakened by ice and snow, collapsed and killed the 64-year-old man yesterday. He climbed up yesterday to investigate.

'Pencil Point' Dresses Shown At Paris Show

Paris, Feb. 6. (AP)—Slender "pencil point" dresses that get narrower [illegible] "illusion" coats, were [illegible] spring fashions displayed yesterday by Robert Piguet.

"The "illusion" coats looked like a sack from the front view and a loose box coat from the back. They were simply belted jackets that had panels falling loose from the shoulders at the back.

Outsize lapels—only one lapel to each model—were shown on narrow box coats, and tight-waisted coat-dresses.

Most of the lapels are in glazed white linen but one coat-dress in black, falls had its lapel in white stopped taffeta to match gloves worn with it.

The evening he showed a frilled crinoline in white nylon. To illustrate how pliable it was, the mannequin wearing it carried a small packet in which the dress could be packed.

Piguet's "pencil point" line was seen on slender tunic and mock-tunic dresses.

The mock-tunic numbers looked like plain slim dresses from the back but had two stiff panels falling from the waist to evoke the look of a tunic from the front view.

He uses the "pencil point" technique for hobble evening dresses.

Fashions shown by Grez, whose designing has a sturdy reputation for chic, look more feminine than were in direct contrast to those shown by other designers so far. She shows a great deal of Grecian drapery in fine wool, silk jersey or chiffon. Her skirts look quite slender but in reality have blocks of fullness or bias fullness displaced at the back or front.

TREATED LIKE HUMAN BEING

Kingston, Ont., Feb. 5—(CP)— The true purpose of prison is not only to keep in safe custody those committed to its care, but to train its prisoners for bitter future citizenship, the Canadian Psychological Association was told Saturday by Joseph McCulley, Federal Deputy commissioner of penitentiaries.

J. Alex Edmison, executive secretary of the John Howard Society, told the association's annual convention that 20 years ago the concept left penitentiary nursing the institution, He added:

"Today, that is changed. He goes out praising the institution because he is treated now like a human being."

Forbidden Foods Now Made Safer for Salt Victims

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE

New York, (AP)— For people forbidden foods with salt, a physician offers a way of letting them eat almost anything they want.

There are hundreds of thousands of people who can't or shouldn't take salt because of high blood pressure, heart conditions, or kidney troubles. They sometimes can't touch meat, eggs, cheese, fish, beets, celery and other foods that naturally contain large amounts of sodium.

Others must be careful how much of these foods they eat.

Boil Out Salt

The salt can be taken out of these forbidden foods by repeated boiling, with little loss of flavor, says Dr. George G. Ornstein, of New York City. These dishes, and others naturally low in sodium, make up a "palatable, varied and nutritious diet."

Dr. Ornstein developed the method after a stroke forced him to avoid salt. He has described it to scientific meetings, and has a book forthcoming on the method and many sample meals.

Salt is sodium chloride, and the sodium is the main troublemaker in high blood pressure and heart conditions, he said. To get such a diet, blood pressure comes down, there is less danger of rupture of weakened blood vessels and less hardship on overworked or faulty kidneys.

Some people only have to avoid adding salt to their foods. Others must cut down on foods naturally rich in sodium. But they also should get enough protein from meat and fish, to keep up general health.

Cuts Sodium

Dr. Ornstein said his method gives a person 2,500 to 3,000 calories a day, at least 1 1-2 ounces of protein, and cuts the sodium down to 50 milligrams—about 1-560 of an ounce. The maximum amount of sodium per day regarded as safe in high blood pressure conditions is 150 to 200 milligrams, he added.

The boiling takes out sodium to make forbidden foods safe, cutting the sodium content down to 15 to 20 per cent of the original amount, he said. Usually it takes three boilings, the first lasting half an hour, the other two only long enough to bring the water to a boil. Each time, the water is discarded and fresh water added.

A simple chemical test of the water after the third run shows when most of the sodium has been removed. It's important, of course, to use tap water low in sodium.

The boiling causes little change in taste, and little loss of protein or fat from chicken, lean beef, or other foods, Dr. Ornstein said. He has worked out recipes for meat dishes, hot tomato sauce, soups and desserts.

Patients Kept Working

Thirty patients learned to prepare these foods and follow the diets. They kept working at their jobs as housewives, advertising agent, contractor, lawyer, manufacturer, sales manager, policeman, shoe salesman, tailor, waiter and other occupations.

In all of them, the size of the heart was reduced, they didn't get tired easily, and blood pressure went down if they stuck to the diet, he said.

The low sodium diet is only part of the treatment to help a person with heart trouble or high blood pressure stay well and active, but it is unquestionably an important part, Dr. Ornstein said.

BUNKS FOR ALL RANKS

Victoria, B.C., Feb. 6 (CP) — The Canadian Navy destroyer Sioux, first Commonwealth, ship to have bunks for all ranks and a cafeteria style of messing, has proved herself a "magnificent success" as an experimental vessel, Cmdr. Paul Taylor, her captain, described the destroyer when she returned to her Esquimalt, B.C., base Sunday.

Rev. F. R. Harback Speaks to Good Companions Club

Despite the small number of Good Companions present last Friday evening an interesting and worthwhile meeting was held.

Rev. F. R. Harback chose as his topic two experiments of the church, giving brief outlines of the "Religion Labor Foundation" and the "National Council of Christians and Jews". Mr. Harback stressed the fact that these were both experiments and no one could know whether they would be successful. But the main thing is that the church is willing to try new ideas, and in a good many ways the real advances are made by the church; real advances across racial barriers, economic barriers and religious barriers. He told the Club that a National Brotherhood week is to be held soon.

The business meeting presided over by the president, consisted of plans for the box social to be held in the next meeting.

Carpet Bowling followed by a delicious repast completed the evening.

Compromise Method Secret of Sucess

Saskatoon, (CP)—"If women compromise, a career and marriage do mix," says Dr. Mary Anna Nicholson. "And women compromise better than men."

Twenty years a medical practitioner in Saskatoon, Dr. Nicholson and her husband, Dr. Norman Wright, are having for Bridgetown, Barbados. Dr. Nicholson expects to specialize in anaesthesia cases there.

She is a graduate of the University of Toronto and a former president of the Canadian Federation of Medical Women.

Her chief interests are anthropology and the racial customs and status of women.

MARIO . . . in his distinctive feature about Food . . . What's Cooking?

Chickens are now seasoned, while they are alive in the coop. To improve the flavor of chickens before sending them to the market, some poultrymen are injecting their broilers with remarkable flavoring ingredient, monosodium glutamate. This is the white crystalline powder called M.S.G., which intensifies the natural flavor of soups, stews, gravies, chopped meat and a host of other foods; or fowl, or hens that have been in egg production, are a relatively cheap main course. They require long slow simmering in moist heat, which yields a full bodied rich chicken broth.

The loose fat which is present in fowl should be cooked slowly until it is melted and, then used in as many ways as possible.

In today's recipe the rendered chicken fat is used to make the fricasse sauce, to make the fritter batter and finally to fry the fritters.

Hot chicken broth which is not used at once should be cooled to room temperature before being placed in the refrigerator, in order to avoid spoilage.

Chicken Fricassee, Rice Fritters Serves 6.

1—5 lb fowl
1 large onion
1 tablespoon celery
Salt—pepper

Chicken or vegetable fat
All-purpose flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 egg well beaten
1 cup milk
1 cup cooked rice
2 tablespoons finely chopped parsley

Wash fowl. Remove any pin feathers. Singe, Place fowl in a large pot. Cover with cold water. Bring to a boil. Add onion and celery. Add 2 teaspoons salt and 1-4 teaspoon pepper. Simmer, do not boil, until drumstick is tender, about 2 1-2 hours.

Skim off all fat from broth. Add to loose fat from fowl. Cook over a slow flame until solid fat is melted down. Strain.

Put 3 tablespoons fat in a saucepan. Stir in 3 tablespoons flour. Gradually add 2 cups hot chicken broth. Simmer slowly 20 minutes. Add salt and pepper to taste.

Sift together 1 3-4 cups flour, baking powder and 1-2 teaspoon salt. Combine egg, milk, 1 tablespoon chicken fat, rice and parsley. Add to dry ingredients. Stir only until a coarse batter is formed.

Drop fritter batter by tablespoons into a large pan containing 1-inch melted fat. Turn to brown on both sides.

Pour hot sauce over chicken on serving plates. Place fritters alongside chicken.

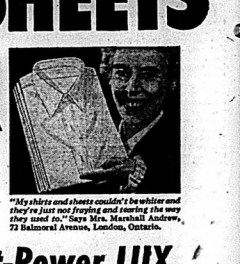
You will be delighted with this fragrant tea

"SALADA" ORANGE PEKOE

"IT'S TRUE!" says Mrs. Marshall Andrew

SHIRTS AND SHEETS COME WHITER LAST LONGER

washed 10 minutes in NEW Jet-Power LUX than those washed 20 minutes with other washday products!



"My shirts and sheets couldn't be whiter and they're just not fraying and tearing the way they used to." Says Mrs. Marshall Andrew, 72 Balmoral Avenue, London, Ontario.

COSTS LESS TO USE... YOU GET MORE SOAP THAN IN ANY OTHER WASHDAY PRODUCT

new! LUX for all the family wash

Key No.1 TOMORROW NIGHT'S PAPER TELLS THE STORY. BELLEVILLE'S BIGGEST FURNITURE VALUES

Hits the Spot! These days are afternoon tea days

Wintertime — summertime anytime, a cup of tea in the afternoon is so comforting — cheering — so sociable.

Have it every afternoon at home or in any restaurant.

AFTERNOON TEA

TEA TIP One pound of tea provides a family of six with tea every meal for two weeks.

Your Friendly Pick-'n-'e-Up

15-50

Never before such WASHDAY POWER with such WASHDAY SAFETY

No other soap gets dirt out faster—and gets it out so safely. New Lux saves half the washday wear and tear . . . adds months to the life of shirts and sheets, towels and table linens!

Why pound the life out of your wash—use New Lux in your washing machine.

Eight of Nine Fingerprints Were Those of Accused

Ottawa, Feb. 6 — (CP) — An Ottawa police identification expert Monday was called by the Crown to testify in the trial of Mrs. Marion Sullivan on a charge of manslaughter.

Cpl. Eric McDonald told of examining the Chateau Laurier Hotel bathroom in which the body of Francis J. Sullivan, husband of the accused, was found early Nov. 18.

McDonald said he examined two whisky bottles, a soda bottle, and several drinking glasses found on a tray on one of the hotel room dressers.

Fifteen print smudges were found on drinking glasses, but only nine were found suitable for identification. Eight of the nine were found to be fingerprints of the accused, alleged by the Crown to have killed her husband.

An original charge of murder was reduced to manslaughter at a preliminary hearing.

Cross - examined by defence counsel Roydon Hughes, McDonald said an attempt was made to recover fingerprints of Mr. Sullivan in the bathroom adjoining the room.

Mr. Hughes declared:

"You made no such examination because no one up to that time had suggested to you that Mr. Sullivan might have been taken ill in the bathroom."

McDonald stated, after re-examination by Crown Attorney Roeul Mercier, that it would not have been possible to obtain prints from a porcelain tub in the bathroom. At the time of his examination — some hours after death had occurred — the side of the tub had been soaked over with wet towels found lying nearby.

Altogether, the Crown called 7 witnesses in the trial's morning session before the Winter Assizes of the Ontario Supreme Court.

Two of these were Sgt. Sam Ervine and Constable Harold Hudson, Ontario Provincial Police officers from Perth, Ont. They told of halting the car in which Mrs. Sullivan was returning to her Tweedsmuir home after the tragedy.

She had received permission to leave Ottawa from Dr. Harry Dover, coroner. Mrs. Sullivan left the capital about noon, Nov. 18. She was taken into police custody a few hours later at Innerville, Ont., about 35 miles west of Ottawa.

The officers said three persons were in the car with Mrs. Sullivan. They were Francis J. Sullivan, Jr., her son; Augustine Gough of Ottawa, and another Ottawa woman.

Two Important Bills Introduced In Legislature

Toronto, Feb. 6—(CP)—A bill to increase payments under the Workman's Compensation Act was introduced in the Ontario legislature Monday by labor minister Daley and given first reading.

The bill would reduce the waiting period for benefits from seven to five days and increase from $3,000 to $4,000 the maximum annual wage of which compensation can be paid. If passed, these changes would go into effect next Jan. 1.

Some of the recommendations in the royal commission report on compensation by Mr. Justice W. D. Roach were included in the amendment proposed by Mr. Daley.

The liability of an employer under the Workmen's Compensation Act would also be increased by the bill—from 75 to 100 per cent. At present, an employer who is individually liable can apply to have his liability commuted for an amount equal to 75 per cent of the periodical payments.

Burial expenses of workmen killed in accidents would be boosted from $125 to $200 and no maximum would be set on payment for transportation of the victim's body for burial. The lump sum paid to the widow would be increased from $1,000 to $2,000.

The second government bill introduced by Forests Minister Scott was given first reading. It would increase the maximum annual salary for the provincials from $10 to $15 for tenants or owners of railway lands.

C. H. Millard (CCF—York West) proposed a bill to provide that any municipality not having a local option by-law in force would have to vote before establishment of a liquor, beer or wine store, provided no such store is now established.

APPROPRIATE GIFT

Auckland, N.Z. —(CP)—When Constable A. Tollich of the Auckland force became the father of triplets, fellow policemen selected a gift and handed to the proud father and mother — a washing machine.

CRIPPLING STRIKE

(Continued from Page One)

Speaking with President Truman's approval, he told the rail workers that the walkout could hurt the United States "more than all the communist armies in Korea put together."

Earlier, W. P. Kennedy, president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, said a survey showed "hundreds and hundreds" throughout the country are responding to my appeal" to return to their jobs.

Some Walkouts

But even as some carriers reported men returning to work, there were "sick calls" walkouts on othe lines. There also were additional track inspections. Embargoes of mail, express and freight continued.

And more workers in rail-related industries were made idle. More than 250,000 have been forced to leave their jobs since the stoppage began last Tuesday morning. The number included some 130,000 automobile workers made idle or on a short work-week.

Thousands of workers in other industries and factories across the United States are threatened with layoffs if the strike continues. An estimate 12,000 switchmen are off the job.

There were no indications of an early break in settlement of the old dispute between the carriers and the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen and three other operating rail unions. Efforts continued in Washington by the National (Railway) Mediation Board to effect an agreement on wages, hours and working conditions.

The switchmen, with the three other unions, engineers, conductors and firemen and enginemen, all seek pay raises and a 40-hour work week for yard workers at no cut in pay from the amount received for 48 hours' work.

15-POINT DEFENCE

(Continued from Page One)

They were:

1. Immediate creation of a National Advisory Council on manpower to help the government make the best use of this resource in the growing labor shortage.

Second-Mortgage Out

2. Immediate withdrawal of second-mortgage assistance to persons wishing to build their own homes, a move aimed at curtailing building of private homes with a view to keeping both labor and materials directed to essential projects.

The three government disclosures took the spotlight from a Throne-Speech debate which produced expressions of both approval and condemnation for Canada's action in the recent United Nations debate over red China's intervention in Korea.

Gordon Graydon (PC—Peel), Foreign Affairs spokesman for the Progressive Conservative Opposition, said Canada was right in supporting the United States resolution branding communist China as an aggressor in the Korean war.

Percy Wright (CCF—Melfort) said Canada was wrong in saying that support because the resolution was premature and of little value unless supported by punitive action.

Other speakers in the debate included Joseph Dechene (L—Athabaska), John Blackmore (SC —Lethbridge), Wilfrid Lacroix (L—Quebec-Montmorency) and Mrs. Gen. D. R. Pearkes, V.C. (PC—Nanaimo).

Word of the creation of an advisory council on manpower came from Labor Minister Gregg. The body would suggest plans for "the most effective utilization in the national interest of the present and potential and woman working force in Canada."

It will consist of 27 members, representing labor, employers, government, agriculture and veterans. Their names will be announced shortly. Co-chairman will be Arthur MacNamara, deputy minister of Labor, and Norman Robertson, clerk of the Privy Council.

Distribute Workers

Mr. Gregg said the greatest care will be taken to see that the available working personnel, particularly in skilled trades, are distributed in the most effective way among the armed forces, de-

RHEUMATIC PAINS

When every joint seems to ache and hot pads, liniments and salves fail to bring a comfortable position that rests your back, Rheumatic pain is your enemy. Don't just resort to suffer with headache, rheumatic pains, Neuritis, Neuralgia or Lumbago. Don't! Remember this: In 3 minutes or less you can be quickly Rumacaped to help you relax and relief comes! Ask for Rumacaps at your druggist's today. 60s and $1.25 economy size. 2-29 fence production and civilian activity.

RUMACAPS

He already has announced that compulsory direction of manpower is not planned at this stage of the world emergency.

Resources Minister Winters announced the move to curtail household building activity. Under it, loans under the National Housing Act will be limited immediately to 80 per cent of the lending values [illegible] January, 1950.

[illegible] the suspension of a [illegible] for which an additional [illegible] of the original loan could be obtained as a second mortgage under the act. The provision was authorized in 1949 to help home-builders meet rising costs which had boosted the amount of required down payments.

However, housing still will get a priority second only to the defence effort, Mr. Winters said.

Highlights

Mr. Claxton's speech forecast a great acceleration of the defence program.

The highlights:

1. The forces now 63,000 strong, will be built up to 113,000, and it should be possible to do so if current recruiting rates—3,000 in January—hold up.

2. The R.C.A.F. will expand to about 35,000 men from 20,000; train 3,000 Canadian and European air crew a year; spend more than the other two forces put together; stress regular fighter squadrons in creating 21 new squadrons as fast as Jet planes become available.

3. The Navy will have 100 ships—it has about 30 now and about as many more on order—and double its present strength of 10,000 to handle convoy and patrol duties and defence of the Canadian coasts. By build-up, although overshadowed by the R.C.A.F., is of big importance.

Division For Army

4. The army will continue to keep up to roughly a division in combat strength—a division has 18,000 men—which is what it now has; but will organize some new units, particularly anti-aircraft.

5. Canada will turn over to Europe enough British-type armament for about four divisions—she has sent enough for one to Holland—and replace it with American-type gear made here and in the U.S.

6. About one-quarter or a joint Canadian-American early-warning radar screen will be built in Canada, using the most modern and powerful apparatus.

7. It will cost $64,500,000 in the next fiscal year to foot the bills for the R.C.A.F.'s big air training program, one that will train 1,000 Canadian and 1,100 British and European airmen annually. The money will be spent to open airfields, but many Harvard training planes are hire instructors.

8. Dispatch of ground troops to Europe should start within the next few months, unless the troops —from the 10,000-man special force—have to go to Korea. They will be rotated with no man staying overseas longer than a given period, probably a year.

Mr. Claxton's speech was a major declaration of policy, highlighted by announcement of the historic decision to stake Canada's defence emphasis heavily on air power.

The 40 squadrons compare to the 48 Canada fielded in the second World War. Twelve of them will be part-time reserve squadrons, the rest mainly regular force fighters, each with roughly 25 jet fighters, either short-range F86 Sabres or, long-range CF100s.

Debate Proceeds

In the Throne Speech, Mr. Graydon said the United Nations would have set up differing standards for determining aggression as between big and small powers if it had failed to brand China as an aggressor in Korea.

He noted that there had been no hesitancy about declaring North Korea an aggressor last June, and added:

"A display of great courage when little nations are involved, and conversely, a demonstration of hesitancy and 'jump-footing' when big powers are implicated, would have meant that the United Nations was betraying the very principles for which it was instituted."

Mr. Wright suggested the U.S. resolution lost sight of the fact that Russia was the real aggressor. He doubted whether the resolution could be followed up by sanctions because that would make it difficult to avoid a spread of the conflict.

Mr. Lacroix expressed his disapproval of conscription of men for overseas service. Any conscription campaign could only result in impairment to Canada's defence effort.

Gen. Pearkes urged the government not to go too far in the "Americanization" of the Canadian army, though he approved plans to arm Canadian troops with American weapons.

Receive Short Course

He told of seeing American reservists receive only 18 days of refresher training before going to the Korean front.

He asked Canadians who may be critical of Gen. MacArthur to keep that in mind.

The Americans were members of the National Guard and reservists, veterans who had put themselves down for use in an emergency said Gen. Pearkes. Their short 18-day course resulted from American unpreparedness and the need for them as replacements for the American 2nd division in Korea.

"I hope," he said, "the day will never come when Canadians with only an 18-day refresher course will be sent into a theatre of war.

Gen. Pearkes said he has no intention of trying to put forward an alternative to the government's plans to increase the strength of the armed forces by voluntary enlistments.

"I realize that the government is responsible for the method it adopts in order to meet this situation.

Because the responsibility rests with the government—and even though I might hold different views—I think it would be detrimental at this time to advocate a method different to what the government is ready to adopt."

Now on Display...

New Silver Anniversary

Pontiac

WITH SENSATIONAL AUTOMATIC TRANSMISSIONS

1926 1951

SEE IT TODAY

A GENERAL MOTORS VALUE

Come in and See why Feature for Feature and Dollar for Dollar you can't beat a Pontiac!

GM POWER Glide

SENSATIONAL NEW AUTOMATIC TRANSMISSION AVAILABLE ON STREAMLINER DELUXE MODELS

New sensational driving comes to the low-price field in all 1951 Pontiac Deluxe models. Here's the wonderful ease and economy of POWERGLIDE Pontiac pre-engineered. There is no clutch pedal in POWERGLIDE Pontiac you ever need touch. Just step on the gas, and POWERGLIDE Pontiac moves away smoothly, completely automatic. And every shift, for POWERGLIDE is a torque converter transmission, is delivered effortlessly, increased. Your car's life is longer in POWERGLIDE Pontiac models.

POWERGLIDE is optional equipment at extra cost on Streamliner Deluxe models.

THE MOST BEAUTIFUL THING ON WHEELS . . . with distinctive new Gull-Wing Styling!

TWO SENSATIONAL AUTOMATIC DRIVES . . . POWERGLIDE on Streamliner Deluxe, HYDRA-MATIC Drive on Chieftain and Streamliner.

SILVER STREAK PERFORMANCE . . . two engines, powerful straight eight or dependable, economical six.

LUXURIOUS NEW INTERIORS . . . beautiful new fabrics, new color harmonies, comfortable deep-rest seats.

NEW, IMPRESSIVE SWEEPSTREAM FENDER TREATMENT . . . protected by massive wraparound bumpers.

SWEEPVIEW VISION . . . wide windows, extra broad curved windshield, slim corner posts.

BODIES BY FISHER . . . strong, rugged, beautifully styled and built of all steel.

EYE CONTROL INSTRUMENTS . . . entire panel easy to see, easy to read.

YEAR-AROUND COMFORT CONTROL . . . perfected twin-duct heating and ventilating.

PACK-AWAY TRUNK . . . extra-large, fully-lined with self-locking counter-balanced lid.

BUILT TO LAST 100,000 MILES . . . in the Pontiac tradition of economical, dependable service for a long, long time!

GM HYDRA-MATIC Drive

THE EVER-POPULAR AUTOMATIC TRANSMISSION NOW MADE EVEN FINER!

HYDRA-MATIC, the automatic drive that has been acclaimed by motorists for over two years as the finest step on the gas drive that's ever been offered. Step on the gas in any HYDRA-MATIC Pontiac and you're away in a second, delivered with a velocity and ease that's positively unbelievable! And this year HYDRA-MATIC is even smoother, more responsive, more flexible! And the new HYDRA-MATIC'S flashing performance, ensuring smoothness, is the world's finest automatic transmission plus a great drive . . . that's considered drive control!

HYDRA-MATIC Drive is optional equipment at extra cost on Chieftain and Streamliner models only.

P-501A

H. W. GOURLEY MOTORS LIMITED

24 DUNDAS STREET WEST

BUILT IN CANADA • PROVED IN CANADA • FOR CANADIANS

WON "OUTSTANDING ATHLETIC" TROPHY

It is doubtful if any athlete has ever brought more honors to the University of Western Ontario than Bob McFarlane, 23-year-old medical student who has been named winner of the Lou Marsh Memorial trophy for 1950, outstanding Canadian athlete of the year. Bob, a London boy, is shown left with Western track coach Murray McNie. Besides playing football for Western's perennial Intercollegiate champion Mustangs, Bob carried Western's colors to the Olympics and to many meets in United States and Europe, and owns a flock of Canadian records. — Central Press Canadian.

R. McFarlane, Mustangs' Great Track, Football Star Named 1950 Winner Lou Marsh Trophy

Toronto, Feb. 6 — (CP) — Robert M. (Bob) McFarlane, University of Western Ontario's great football and track star, today was named winner of the Lou E. Marsh Memorial Trophy for 1950.

The 22-year-old native of London, Ont., was the unanimous choice of four judges as Canada's outstanding athlete in 1950 and the winner of the trophy awarded in memory of the Toronto Daily Star's sports editor who died in March, 1936.

It is the third honor bestowed on the brilliant medical student and athlete for his achievements last year. He was recently awarded the Norton Crowe Memorial Medal as Canada's outstanding amateur athlete and the J. W. Davies Trophy as the Dominion's leading track and field athlete.

The Marsh Trophy is open to both amateur and professional athletes. Last year's winner was marathon swimmer Cliff Lumsden of Toronto. Barbara Ann Scott, former world's figure skating champion who won the trophy in 1945-47-48, is the only person to be awarded it more than once.

Set Five Track Records

McFarlane, a member of Canada's 1948 Olympic team, ran with outstanding success in 1950 to establish consideration for the trophy. He set five Canadian track records and defeated Olympic champion Mal Whitfield of the United States and Arthur Wint of Jamaica. He was a member of three winning relay-teams in top-flight meets and competed with distinction in the U. S., Britain, Ireland and Holland.

He played a leading role in helping Western retain its intercollegiate football championship and was an easy winner of the league's individual scoring championship. He was named to The Canadian Press All-star Intercollegiate team and to the second squad of its Eastern Canadian All-stars.

Brilliant Student

The bushy - browed, six-foot-two McFarlane hasn't let sport interfere with his studies. He has led his medical class every year and will be graduated as a doctor in June.

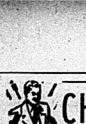
He isn't sure yet whether he'll be able to continue with his training once he graduates. He expects to be busy interning for a career in surgery and plans to marry Pat Henderson, dietician at a Kitchener, Ont., hospital, in June.

"Football is definitely out," says Bob. "I don't know about track."

NEW
The Amazing Liquid Lawn Saver
GREATLY IMPROVED APPEARANCE
50 SoLEX
For Lush Green and Vigorous Growth

BLACKS WHOLESALE LTD.
DISTRIBUTORS
196 Front St. Phone 379

HOCKEY
JUNIOR
BELLEVILLE MEMORIAL ARENA
WEDNESDAY, FEB. 7th
8.30 P.M.
OSHAWA BEES vs. BELLEVILLE ROCKETS
ADMISSION—Reserve Seats 75c
General Admission 50c; Children .. 25c
RESERVE SEATS ON SALE AT BILL COOK'S CIGAR STORE
Reserve Seat Tickets will not be held after 8 p.m. night of game.



By GEO. H. CARVER, Sports Editor

BEES HERE TOMORROW EVE!

Get disgruntled but determined hive of Oshawa Bees flit off from their Motor City hockey apiary this evening to do battle with the Rockets of this village in an important Junior "B" tussle. The Bees are a trifle disgruntled because didn't the lowly Port Hope Panthers step into their home hive last Friday night and administer a neat if not gaudy 2-1 setback on Vic Burr's hopefuls at the time when the pair of points would have been more welcome than a bonus at income tax deadline.

So the temporary stingless Bees are not feeling too well about the matter in this junior "B" setup. Things have not been going as well as they might the last week or so, and it is possible the Bees of Burr are nearing the desperation point as far as victories are concerned.

And that to the fact that the Rockets are due for another about-face in their ice-lane cavortings, and the aim and substance should be a rip-roaring tilt. The Rocks were dizzy-doodling very nicely in their last two practices, roaring in with all fire aflame, and poking home goals like nobody's business behind Messrs. Tripp and Barclay. So look out for fireworks come Wednesday evening.

* * *

TIMMY AT THE HELM!

The Belleville Merchants, egad, emerged with a pair of victories from their three starts last week, and the variets do tell us, that the reason is mainly because there is a new skipper at the helm. None other than Timmy Williams, forsooth, who has been teaching the lads a trick or two and as a result they came through handsomely for the Redmen winger on two occasions. The Merchants tussled last night in Wellington with the old home town squad, but at this writing the score is not known.

The new coach took over some ten days ago, and right away the unexpected happens. "Buckeye" Hurst is now staying on the ice longer than usual while the upfronters are showing plenty of fighting spirit. Al. Kelleher, publicity demon, general factotum, assistant to the assistant secretary and grand visier of the dressing room, while the team is in action, informs us that Timmy is getting plenty of hockey from the boys . . . and he's like doing what he says. Well, that's something, at least. If they maintain their present speed and ability, they may yet prove a potent factor in the Trent Valley League.

* * *

ANGLERS AND HUNTERS!

The Hon. Harold Scott, Ontario Lands and Forests minister gave the Ontario Federation of Anglers and Hunters some pertinent information at the recent annual conclave held in Ottawa.

While noting an increase of 69.9 per cent in blue pickerel catches by commercial fishermen, the minister added the Canadian and U. S. authorities are co-operating in an effort to find the reason for the "alarming decrease" of lake trout in the Great Lakes. Lake Huron which yielded 2,000,000 pounds in 1936 gave up but 3,000 pounds in 1947.

Despite the drop in lake trout the value of fish taken was nearly eight million dollars, a 17½ per cent increase over the previous year.

Twenty - seven hatcheries will be in full production this coming summer in Ontario, the minister said. Ontario has made great progress in rearing the "cannibalistic muskinonge" to the fingerling stage before releasing them in suitable waters.

During 1950, Mr. Scott pointed out, 431,149,713 commercial and game fish ranging from fry to yearlings, had been released in Ontario waters.

Preliminary figures, he went on, indicated that about 229,000 non-resident anglers had purchased licenses in Ontario during the year.

Lands and Forests officers are "cracking down" on regulations violations as is evidenced in the minister's statement that there had been 2,547 convictions of fish and game act violaters with two trucks and 16 motor vehicles seized from law breakers.

"In one case," he pointed out, "a hunter was fined $1,150.00 for killing two female moose and two female deer, while an angler was fined $100 for taking speckled trout in the closed season".

Turning to hunting, the minister said a survey of moose in Ontario had been under way for two years but until it was completed no decision would be reached. A zoning of the province had been suggested.

"I can promise this," the minister said, "if we find a few townships with a top moose population, we have no intention of funnelling large numbers of hunters into those areas."

Figures showed that in 1950, 15,000 non-residents and 50,000 residents purchased deer licenses and indications pointed to one hunted of every three obtaining a deer.

Wolf bounties paid by the province endine March 31st, 1951, showed a slight decline. Total bounties paid was 2,544 wolves killed with bounties amounting to $50,927.

Back to fishing for the moment, the minister said Lake Erie produces about 50 per cent of all the commercial fish caught in Ontario. The industry employs some 4,000 men and value of equipment is $6,000,000. More than 30,000,000 pounds of fish are taken yearly in the provinces with a value of $4,000,000.

Bodnar Does Not Remember Hitting Twine in Toronto

Toronto, Feb. 6—(CP)—Gus Bodnar of Chicago Black Hawks shot the puny puck behind his goalie Leafs' goalie Al Rollins Saturday night before 13,000 fans, but he doesn't remember doing it, a doctor said yesterday.

The 27-year-old Fort William, Ont., forward suffered a severe concussion when Leafs' Tod Sloan checked him into the boards, Dr. Jack Murray said.

The impact resulted in a temporary blackout which wiped the third period and the goal from Bodnar's memory. He is reported to be in "satisfactory" condition but may be sidelined for an indefinite period.

Toronto won Saturday's game 6-3.

Toronto Leafs Serious Danger To Detriot Wings

Montreal, Feb. 6—(CP)—In two jumps, Toronto Maple Leafs have reached a point in the National Hockey League where they are a serious danger to Detroit Red Wings.

Three weeks ago the Leafs were well - behind the pace - setting Wings. Two weeks ago they drew to within five points and now they are just three points down.

Leafs combined two wins and a tie last week to bring them up to 65 points. Over the season they have won 29, lost 11 and tied 11 while Wings have won 29, lost 11 and tied 10.

Detroit's Gordie Howe, Toronto's Max Bentley and Montreal's Maurice Richard are one, two, three in the scoring race again. Howe has 84 points made up of 25 goals and 59 assists and Bentley 47 points from 16 goals and 31 assists.

Richard also remains top goaltender with 21, having moved to within one point of Bentley after getting back into action.

The defenders registered no shutouts last week. Detroit's Terry Sawchuk and Gerry McNeil of Montreal remain tied in that department with seven and six respectively.

Toronto took over New York's spot as the most penalized club with 629 minutes but Bill Ezinicki still is the league's bad-man with 111 minutes in the cooler.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON Jr.

New York, Feb. 6—(AP)— Milton Eisenhower, Penn State College president, who is said to be on the list of prospects for the position of baseball commissioner, really must love baseball . . . during the busiest part of the period when he was taking over the Penn State job last fall, Eisenhower still had a lot of spare and hand-shaking, official appearances, etc., to make, but he preferred round of golf with his brother, Gen. Ike, to listen to the world's series on the radio . . . and his chauffeur, Sammy Blazer, reports that the president will won't stop for lunch when they're travelling if it means interrupting a baseball broadcast. But he tells Sammy run into a roadside stand for a hamburger and milkshake . . . When contestants on last Saturday's track meet were having difficulty getting out of the line because of a rail strike, Yale coach Bob Giffengrad posted this notice in a hotel lobby: "Any non-walking bone do not have to report for practice today."

Keeneland has boosted the value of the Blue Grass stakes, No. 1 prep event for the Kentucky Derby, to $25,000 added, which Lexington will think is really something for a non-profit race track which draws its crowds from a 100-mile radius . . . Ernie Landgraf, veteran north Atlantic League president, has a special kick out of the National League's 75th anniversary party. Landgraf, once a big time scrapper boy, recalled delivering a message to James J. Blaine in the ancient hotel where it was held . . . Harvard publicity agent Hank Lahey says what should hockey coach Cooney Weiland do? His two sophomore goalies, Nate Corning and Edward Richardson, have played six games each with varying identical records, allowing 20 and 19 goals respectively.

BORDER INSPECTION

Amherst, N.S. —(CP) — A 24-hour check on all loaded trucks coming from Nova Scotia from New Brunswick has been established by the Nova Scotia Highways Department to guard against overloading.

They'll Do It Every Time

By Jimmy Hatlo

Ab Demarco Still in Lead Of Scoring Race

New York Feb. 6 (CP) — Ab Demarco, veteran centre of Buffalo Bisons, continues to pace the American Hockey League scoring race.

Although he missed three games because of injuries, Demarco holds a commanding lead of 12 points with a total of 80 points on 30 goals and 50 assists.

Demarco's teammate, Grant (Knobby) Warwick, is second with 68 points on 19 goals and 49 assists, followed by Fred Thurier of Cleveland with 67.

Wally Hergesheimer, Cleveland rookie, maintains his goal lead with six, although he missed scoring last week. Jack McGill of Providence is tied with Demarco for the lead in assists, each with 50.

Harry Dick, rugged Buffalo defenceman, last week added four minor penalties to his total to increase his total time spent in the penalty box to 166 minutes.

Among the goaltenders, Gil Mayer of Pittsburgh has an average of 2.22 on 111 goals allowed in 50 games. Johnny Bower of Cleveland had his fifth shutout of the season to tie with Mayer in that department.

FINNISH ENVOY TO CHINA

London, Feb. 5 — (Reuters) — Hugo Valvanne, first Finnish minister to the Chinese People's Republic, arrived in Peiping last night, the new China News Agency reported. Finland recognized China's Communist government last August and decided to exchange envoys with Peiping. Valvanne also serves as minister to India.

SKATING TONIGHT

BELLEVILLE MEMORIAL ARENA

YOU USED OUR LAY-AWAY PLAN FOR CHRISTMAS—
Now—
Use Our Lay-Away Plan
FOR SPRING
MAKE YOUR BOY OR GIRL HAPPY WITH A
NEW BICYCLE
SEE OUR DISPLAY OF NEW BICYCLES.
BALLOON — STANDARD — JUNIOR — JUVENILE and SIDEWALK BICYCLES
A SMALL DEPOSIT AND WEEKLY PAYMENTS WILL DELIVER YOUR BICYCLE FULLY PAID FOR IN THE SPRING
STEPHEN LICENCE LIMITED
299 Front Street Phone 985

Hockey Results

(By The Canadian Press)

MARITIME MAJOR

Moncton 4 Halifax 3
Charlottetown 3 Saint John 3 (tie)

CAPE BRETON SENIOR

Sydney 3 North Sydney 2

OHA SENIOR B

Queens 3 Peterborough 18

WESTERN MAJOR

Regina 2 Edmonton 4

PORCUPINE MINES SENIOR A

Iroquois Falls 2 Porcupine Combines 21 (at Timmins, Ont.)

United States Meets Japan In First Round

Melbourne, Australia, Feb. 6—(Reuters) —The United States will meet Japan in the first round of the North American zone 1951 Davis Cup competition. The draw was made here today.

Japan is making her first postwar challenge for the trophy, now held by Australia.

Canada, Cuba and Mexico, also entered in this zone, all received first round byes.

Winners of the U.S. vs. Japan clash meet Mexico in the second round.

The U.S. lost the trophy to Australia last August.

Twenty-one countries, including Germany, challenged in the European zone.

The draw, for the first round was as follows:

Switzerland vs Luxembourg, Yugoslavia vs Germany, Norway vs Egypt, Finland vs Brazil, The Netherlands vs Monaco.

Britain, South Africa and Austria drew byes into the second round, while the quarter finalists in last year's competition automatically passed in the second round of the draw. They are Sweden—the 1950 European zone winners—Denmark, Poland, Italy, Ireland, the Philippines, Belgium, and France.

The second-round line-up in the European zone will be:

South Africa vs. Italy; Switzerland or Luxembourg vs. Poland; Yugoslavia or Germany vs. Denmark; Norway or Egypt vs. Belgium; Finland or Brazil vs. the Philippines; The Netherlands or Monaco vs. Ireland; Britain vs. France; Austria vs. Sweden.

Under a new rule made last July not more than four countries outside Europe are allowed to compete in the European zone. The Philippines, South Africa, Egypt and Brazil gained these places.

BRONCHIAL COUGH
Are you kept awake by a nerve-racking bronchial cough? Is phlegm so tightly packed in your bronchial tubes, so unsure of coughing seems akin to dislodge it? Templeton's RAZ-MAH capsules are especially made to loosen phlegm, so it comes away easily and you are relieved of coughing and wheezing. Get Raz-Mah for quick relief. 60c, $1.35 at druggists. Ext

With the country-wide lamentations over the loss of Canada's "Old-fashioned" winters still ringing in our ears, I'm happy to note the frantic planning and actual construction of artificial ice rinks, now going on in several of our Ontario communities. Changing climate, or weather, have caused a major crisis for the game of hockey, due to the lack of natural ice. Facilities for practice and play have been drastically limited, resulting in a serious drop in hockey interest, thereby endangering the game.

New Rinks the Answer

In many Eastern and Western cities, youngsters have turned their loyalties to the energy elsewhere, with the result that basketball and other games have benefited.

Following the example set by several cities, Toronto recently plans four artificial rinks, the first Alexandra Park arena in two weeks time. According to Alderman William Davidson, Chairman of the Parks Board, the four rinks (each consisting of a skating surface and hockey-cushion) will cost nearly $400,000. Ultimately, the plans call for direct revenue from the users of the rinks, to enable the Toronto Parks Board to operate the service on a self-supporting basis.

All in all, a worthy project—the most desirable seen in years for hockey lovers with an eye to the future.

Racing's Slot-Machine Bill

Currently, the United States Senate is deciding if the "Johnson Bill", calling for the abolition of betting on against the transmission (across State lines) of any kind of racing news, will turn out to be a worthy weapon to help eliminate the syndicate bookmakers and their illegal betting. If the "Slot-Machine Bill" goes through, the repercussions will affect Canada simultaneously. According to Frank Armstrong, editor of the Daily Racing Form (Toronto), the Bill would strike a heavy blow to his publication and to the other racing mediums which are transmitting legitimate racing facts and figures. Mr. Armstrong states: "It is my opinion there is no syndicate bookmaking in Toronto. Anyway, where could a man bet a thousand dollars around here and be sure of a pay off."

If the Bill becomes law, Canadian racing enthusiasts may have to drop all interest in American tracks, and even racing classics such as the Kentucky Derby will suffer accordingly. What's the answer, Mr. Armstrong, for the size of the fee?

Argo Plans—1951

President Bob Moran of the Dominion Champions tells me that most of the 1950 players will be back in the line-up when the gridiron calls again.

Frank Clair will coach, Al Dekdebrun will return as Quarterback and the Dunlop boys will partner with Krol, Curtis, Whaley, Toogood, Wertlake and others. The Argo officials are seeking just three American imports for next season's campaign and a backfielder. If the imports are good enough to make the grade, well they'll play. If not, the Oarsmen will carry on in the victorious 1950 pattern.

National Health Week

Nowadays we are all so much on the go that most of us are apt to give too little attention to the finest asset we possess—our good health. We don't eat properly, we don't take the right amount of rest and fresh air, and in many other ways we fail to look after that delicate mechanism, our body. That's why National Health Week is right now is a timely reminder of just how important it is to live just that much better all year round. Below are some valuable health rules suggested by the Health League of Canada. Let's follow them closely. Remember . . . "The First Wealth is Health."

- Eat right for health—follow a balanced diet.
- Get at least eight hours sleep daily.
- Exercise moderately in the open air—unless your physician advises otherwise.
- Avoid becoming over weight, but if dieting is necessary, diet only under the instruction of your physician.
- See your physician and dentist regularly for complete examinations.

ESO-5-1
Specially prepared by a prominent Canadian sports authority for
O'Keefe's BREWING COMPANY LIMITED

B.C.I. Cage Teams Split Twin Bill In COSSA Play

In a Bay of Quinte COSSA basketball doubleheader played at BCI gym, yesterday afternoon, the B.C.I. juniors walloped a team from Campbellford 91-35 while in the opener the Collegiate Institute seniors edged B. C. I. juniors 18-16 Semi-finals in Campbellford 25

After playing at fastest and smartest type of basketball against Trenton last Friday, the B. C. I. Seniors pulled a complete reversal of form and in a regular league game yesterday they downed a rather hapless Campbellford team by the score of 91-25.

This is the highest number of points scored by a team from B. C. I. in a good number of years. The B.C.I. team from start to finish played an always moving, fast breaking brand of ball and were full value for their win. Their tremendous scoring machine was a thing of beauty to those who watched the game. They outran, outshot and decisively outplayed their visitors from Campbellford.

In the first half the B. C. I. team shot to a 50-8 lead and it appeared as if nothing short of a miracle would stop the B. C. I. team from reaching the century mark. Doug Soole spearheaded the powerful attack in the first half scoring twelve points while Don Dolan banged home ten.

The B. C. I. team got off to a bad start in the second half and scored only two points in the first four minutes. However, the great B. C. I. scoring machine soon got underway and scored thirty-nine points during the rest of the game to gain the 91-35 victory.

Doug Soole, one of the B.C.I. forwards was all-away with scoring honors by throwing twenty-two points through the hoop. The remainder of the B. C. I. team also widely distributed. Keith Cameron and Jack Shields were next in line with twelve points while McClay, Kane and Dolan threw in ten apiece.

The only player on the visiting Campbellford team to score in the double-figure class was Bedard who contributed twelve points.

Line-ups:—

B. C. I. 91—McClay 10, Kane 10, Davis 2, Soole 22, Cameron 12, Dowsett 4, Shields 11, Dolan 10, Barclay 5, McIlreith 1.

Campbellford 35 — Simpson 2, Bibby, Kelly 4, McCall 12, Root 6, McNaughton 1, Bennett.

Campbellford Jrs. 18, B.C.I. 16

In the first game of the twin bill, a direct result from the first one game was evidenced. Both teams were lacking in the fundamentals of basketball. The offensive play lacked drive and speed and except for a few flashes at the end of the final quarter the whole contest was dull.

At the end of the first quarter, the visiting team from Campbellford held a 6-3 margin which they stretched to a 9-8 lead at the half.

As the third period got underway, Campbellford went out and obtained a 15-8 lead. At this point coach Irwin injected Billy Harback, a new player, forward into the contest. Why Harback was not given a chance in the first half is still a mystery to this writer for when he entered the game, the B.C.I. team showed a little spark. Dill scored two quick baskets and Harback, only to pull the B.C.I. team only one point off the pace. However Heath, a crazy centre threw in a quick basket to give the visitors a 17-14 lead with only a minute or so remaining in the game. Then when a B.C.I. player tried to steal the ball from the visitors, a foul was committed, the shot was made and B.C.I. had lost an 18-16 decision.

Only two players showed anything at all in the line of basketball talent for the visitors. Those two were Lellet who was the best man on the floor (he also scored 6 points) and Heath who led Campbellford in a scoring way by hooping eleven points.

Harback and Dill were the pick of the losers while Bovay went well in spots.

Lineups:—

Campbellford 18 Lellet-6, Heath 11, Shepherd, Pye, Barman 1, McFarlane, Bird, McAlpine, Riff, Jones.

B.C.I. 16: Bovay, Dill 6, Page 4, Farmer, Harback 2, Goyer, Philp, Reynolds, Houston, Marden 2, Matthews 2, Hagerman.

DONATES BEAUTY SPOT

Hastings, England — (CP) — Major A. Cardinall Seyer of this Sussex resort has donated 215 acres of cliff-side beauty spots to Hastings council. A "lover's seat" is included in the gift.

Britain Future Source of Supply Of Hockey Players

London, Feb. 6—(CP)—Take it from a keen student of the game, hockey day in night when Britain no longer will look to Canada or other distant fields for her top-flight hockey talent. She has a future source of supply right on her own playing fields.

The optimistic prediction comes from Robert J. (Doc) Bodrick, Montreal's gift to the old country, in his book 'Ice Hockey,' just published (Nicholas Kaye).

The author who led London's Streatham club to a national league title last season, during his stay in England on a post-graduate medical course, is convinced Britain eventually will develop a crop of native-born and trained players equal to the severest test of international competition.

"I am certain," he writes, "that with an active push in progress in six to eight years each rink would provide several players good enough to take a place on their senior team and good enough to make Britain's Olympic threat."

To attain that goal, however, he believes a long-range program of planning will be necessary, directed by influential groups in co-operation with rink management and backed loyally by the fans. Steps which he lists as must be taken to ensure that interested youngsters get sufficient ice-time, competition and sound coaching.

Fights Last Night

(By The Associated Press)

Portland, Me.—Richard La Starza, 182, New York, stopped Richard Wilson, 189½, Wichita, Kas., (6).

Wilkes-Barre, Pa.: Rocky Castellani, Luzerne, Pa., outpointed Bobby Lloyd, Kingston, Pa. (10).

Hershey, Pa.: Charlie Angelo 158, Providence, R.I., George (Tiger) Roberts, 163½, Philadelphia (10).

Baltimore: Vinnie Cidone, 158, New York, stopped Milt Larkin, 156, Beacon, N.Y.-(2).

Huntington, West Va.: Noel Humphreys, 147, Charleston, West Va., outpointed Tommy Edwards, 138, Denbar, West Va. (10).

San Francisco: Jesse Flores, 136, Stockton, Calif. decisioned Joey Velez, 137, Spokane, Wash. (10).

NAMED ACTING COACH

Kitchener Feb. 6 (CP)—Lloyd Gratton, coach of Kitchen's senior shirts, an Ontario Hockey Association Junior B entry, has been named acting coach of the proposed Kitchener entry in the OHA Junior A series for next season.

He will work with Frank Nelbert, acting manager, and J. W. McCutcheon on a committee to select players for the team.

It is planned to set up a company to operate the team and a survey has indicated that at least $15,000 will be available for stock purchase in the projected company.

FORE!

London, —(CP)— Bowlers in London's Walthamstow district have strong arms. Authorities have asked the local bowling club to try to reduce the risk of accidents to passersby from bowls which roll off the green.

DUNLOP
"EXTRA GRIP" TIRES
Trudeau MOTORS LIMITED
SALES and SERVICE
NAPANEE — STIRLING — TWEED — PICTON
31-41 Station St. — 352 Front St.
BELLEVILLE

IN DERBY SPOTLIGHT - By Alan Mavor

Canadiens Play Inter-Squad Game At Simcoe

Simcoe, Ont., Feb. 6 (CP) — Montreal Canadiens of the National Hockey League played an inter squad game here last night before a crowd of 1,200.

Dick Irvin, coach, led Rocket Richard and Paul Masnick, with two goals each, defeated the Reds 7-4.

Herm La Fortune, a Simcoe player, performed in the nets for the whites and turned in a first-rate job. Glen Harmon, Hal Laycoe and Elmer Lach were the other scorers for the Whites.

Billy Reay, Butch Bouchard, Tom Johnson and Norm Dussault scored goals for the reds.

MAY BE UNSEATED

Oshawa, Feb. 6 (CP). —Alderman William Noble may be unseated from Oshawa city council because he took a job as city clerk of East Whitby township.

Noble took the job Saturday and the question of his right to remain a member of the council was raised Monday night by Alderman Finley Defoe.

Alderman Noble said action to amend the Municipal Act was being taken and would clarify his status. He explained that he was not an employee of Oshawa but of a separate municipality.

HALLDORSEN LEADING

Minneapolis, Feb. 6 (AP) — A burst of seven counters for last week has put Les Halldorsen of Tulsa six points into the van of United States Hockey League scoring leaders with a total of 66.

Halldorsen counted a goal and six assists, and is leading the circuit in the latter department with 49. His nearest competitor, Cal Stearns of Kansas City, has a 62 total on 21 goals and 41 assists.

Ian MacKintosh of St. Paul has the most goals, 32.

LEAFS WILL FLY

Toronto, Feb. 6 (CP)—Toronto Maple Leafs will probably charter aircraft to travel between National Hockey League cities if the strike in the United States rules out railway transportation, general manager Conn Smythe has indicated.

Before leaving Florida, where he was on vacation last week, Smythe said the team would fly from its weekend Boston engagement if necessary. Presumably this would apply to other points in the NHL circuit.

As it turned out, however, Leafs were able to get out of Boston by train.

VISIT LAKE SUCCESS

Markham, Feb. 6 — (CP) — A delegation of 11 students from high schools in northern York county and Ontario county leaves tomorrow for a four-day visit to the United Nations at Lake Success. The trip is sponsored by the District Headmasters Association.

GUARANTEED
USED CARS
AT BETTER PRICES
BATEMAN
MOTORS
BELLEVILLE

CAMPBELLFORD

Fans, Officials Honor Veteran Hockey Players

Campbellford, Feb. 6 — More than 700 fans were on hand at the arena here on Friday evening to honor two veterans of T. V. L. hockey, and to see an excellent game played by the two oldest teams in the league.

Campbellford defeated Stirling by an 8 to 1 count in a thrilling game which was not as one sided as the scores would indicate.

This, however, was more than a game of hockey. It was a night the club had chosen to honor their two veteran players, Wm. Blake and Basil (Robbie) Robinson. The two men have been in T. V. L. hockey for more than ten years each, and Robinson started his hockey career with the Stirling team.

During the intermission between the second and third periods, both teams lined up and the president of the Trent Valley League, Art Duncan, addressed the fans and told a little of the history of the two men.

Presented With Gifts

He presented each with a gladstone travelling bag, purchased through donations from the team, the executive and fans and businessmen in the town.

Mr. Duncan also handed each player a sizeable cheque, the gift of C. H. (Bud) Mumford of Campbellford. Mr. Davidson has supported the local teams for years, and has provided trophies and has contributed in other ways to make the team what it is today.

Deputy Reeve Ouch Mason said a few words to the crowd on behalf of the public officials. Mr. Mason is the council representative on the Community Arena Board. Mr. George Braham of the hockey club executive, and Mr. Joe Smith of the Arena Board also addressed the fans, and Campbellford "Pip and Bambi" for their efforts during the past ten years.

After the game, a reception was held in the Orange Hall for the two men. President of the Campbellford Club, Ross Richardson, introduced Mr. Duncan, president of the T. V. L. Mr. Duncan paid tribute to the two players.

He said Campbellford and Stirling were the two oldest teams in the league. Both started hockey in 1910. He said also that the T.V.L. is now the largest and oldest hockey league in the Province.

Mr. Duncan also thanked Coach Richard and Paul Masnick, with Tom Johnson and Norm Dussault scored goals for the reds.

Stirling: Goal, Bates; defence, R. Donnan and Hunter; centre, Wright; wings, McCrory, Robson; Stirling, Stapley, Bartels, Tanner, Sills, Phillips, O'Brien and D. Donnan.

Campbellford: Goal, Laverne; defence, Tanner and Trumble; centre, Robinson; wings, Mason, Cole; Alternates, Blake, Herrington, Taylor, Snider, Jeffs, Dunk, Peake, Smith. Spare goal, Nelson.

Summary

First period

1 Campbellford, Cole (Robinson) 1.48
2 Stirling, Robson 2.46
3 Campbellford, Blake 4.56

Hockey Clubs Will Use Air Transportation

(By The Canadian Press)

Most of the National Hockey League clubs will use air transportation to meet schedule commitments if the country-wide railroad strike continues, a survey showed Monday night.

New York's Rangers said they will fly if necessary to Boston for their game against the Bruins Wednesday.

The Bruins have no schedule worries for the next few days, ...ey play at home Wednesday, Saturday and Sunday nights before going on the road.

Detroit said it had no immediate plans but if the strike continues "presumably" the Red Wings will fly to Chicago for a Thursday night against the Black Hawks.

The Chicago management said the club already has the private transport twins in emergencies and will continue to do so. The Black Hawks' next game is in Detroit Wednesday night.

The 1951 Ryder Cup matches between the top 10 professional golfers of the United States and Great Britain were awarded Monday at Pinehurst, for the first week of November.

Ryder Cup play started in 1927, and has been held nine years with the U.S. and British alternating as host country. American teams have won six of the nine matches. The last time British team was at Pinehurst, England, in 1935. The war caused a lapse from 1937 to 1947.

Paul McGarry, manager of Toronto Balmy Beach, will accept the Imperial Oil Trophy for Carl Galbreath, the league's most valuable player last season. Galbreath is in the United States now and won't be able to accept the award personally.

The OHA senior league will operate again this season with three teams —Beaches, Windsor Rockets and Sarnia Imperials.

SITUATION URGENT

Owen Sound, Feb. 6 — (CP) — Mayor R. C. Bargen of Owen Sound, vice-president of the Ontario Association of Mayors and Reeves, Monday moved the provincial government to relieve municipal costs of education and social services' costs.

Mayor Sargent in a wire to Premier Frost said the "situation is

Amusement and beer classed as far east champs

Former heavyweight boxing champion Jack Louis and Cuban heavyweight Ossello Arcel will square off and go training Monday for their 10-round fight in Miami Wednesday night. The 36-year-old Louis, weighed 208 pounds. Agramonte, 23, is much younger than the former champion, considered his training and scoring is barring partner Johnny Fowler. In the fourth round of a scheduled 10-round practice match.

Baseball and radio officials Monday discussed means of preventing minor league attendance on broadcasts of major league games. Radio and television were blamed for a portion of the 9,000,000 drop in minor league attendance last season.

Two leagues, Southwestern, Alabama State, Rio Grande Valley, East Texas and Tobacco State, have folded since the 1950 season. Only new league — the Alabama-Florida—has been added to leave a total of 53 active minor leagues.

Defenceman Tommy Manastersic of the Montreal Canadiens in the National Hockey League has been loaned to the Vancouver Canucks of the Pacific Coast League.

Canuck owner Coley Hall said Monday Manastersicki will join the team Wednesday, leaving for Britain here for the remainder of the season and must pay out his $7,-000 salary.

OPERATE WITH TIERS LOANS

Toronto, Feb. 6 (CP)— The Ontario Rugby Football Union will hold its annual meeting here Feb. 17.

Paul McGarry, manager of Toronto Balmy Beach, will accept the Imperial Oil Trophy for Carl Galbreath, the league's most valuable player last season. Galbreath is in the United States now and won't be able to accept the award personally.

The OHA senior league will operate again this season with three teams —Beaches, Windsor Rockets and Sarnia Imperials.

SITUATION URGENT

Owen Sound, Feb. 6 — (CP) — Mayor R. C. Bargen of Owen Sound, vice-president of the Ontario Association of Mayors and Reeves, Monday moved the provincial government to relieve municipal costs of education and social services' costs.

Mayor Sargent in a wire to Premier Frost said the "situation is

EXTEND HIGHWAY

Montreal, — (CP) — Quebec's famed No. 11 Highway from Montreal to the Laurentian resort cities will be broadened to four lanes all the way from Cartierville bridge to Mont Laurier in the near future, said Ernest Gohier, chief engineer of the Quebec roads department.

LONGEVITY SYSTEM

Toronto, — (CP) — James G. Wilson, formerly lacrosse star, is 82. He laughed when asked the secret of longevity and said "never go out more than six nights a week, seldom eat more than four meals a day and never take a drink, except by yourself or in company."

TAKE WORK OUT OF HOUSEWORK WITH THE Beatty FLOOR POLISHING OUTFIT

ELIMINATES HANDS AND KNEES DRUDGERY
No more hands and knees drudgery when you use this polishing outfit. Wax is applied evenly, easily with the Beatty Wax Applier. Then the Beatty Polisher brings a new lustre to your floors. Come and let us show you how to use it. Types of floors benefited with the Beatty polishing outfit.
DAVID'S ELECTRIC SHOP
340 Front St. Phone 659
Ask About David's Own, Easy, Confidential Payment Plan.
Listen to "THIS IS THE STORY". Every Thursday at 6.45 p.m. over CJBQ.

NEOLITE SOLES
SHOWN BY CAMPBELL STORE
BRAM HUMPHREYS
PHONE 1317
Opposite the Y.M.C.A.—BELLEVILLE

Penalties—Pace, D. Donnan. Second period

4 Campbellford, Blake	4.50
5 Stirling, Hunter.
Third period
5 Campbellford, Herrington	10.47
6 Campbellford, Smith	18.13
7 Campbellford, Blake	17.18
8 Campbellford, Robinson	19.03
9 Campbellford, Mason (Cole)	19.42

Penalties — Robinson, Mason, Docher, Smith, Bastedo, Robson, Hunter, Bartels.

Referees: Barrett and Carson of Belleville.

Delivering Dollars when needed most!

IN 1950, The Great-West Life delivered $28 million—and it's reported in detail—to policyholders and beneficiaries. These dollars helped older people to retire, helped widows to live. They provided much needed ready cash for emergencies to countless children and their children. Mortgages were paid off. Young people were aided in getting an education. Hospital and surgical expenses were paid. There were dollars when they were available in time of need because foresight and thrift had provided protection, in addition to a further $23 millions was added to the funds held to meet future payments as policyholders.

During the year, Great-West Life representatives arranged for $259,000,000 of new life insurance and annuities on the lives of 157,000 people in Canada and the United States. The total protection owned by our 470,000 policyholders is now $1,671,000,000. The carefully invested assets, which are held to meet all obligations to policyholders, grew by $27 millions during the year and amounted to $385,000,000 at the end of 1950.

The figures, which appear below, are indicative of the development and progress achieved by the Great-West Life in 1950.

	1950	1949
New Business	$ 259,000,000	$ 228,000,000
Insurance in Force	1,671,000,000	1,507,000,000
Assets	385,000,000	357,000,000

THE GREAT-WEST LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY
HEAD OFFICE—WINNIPEG, CANADA
YOUR FUTURE IS OUR BUSINESS TO-DAY!
Belleville Representatives
A. L. BURKE E. E. PRITCHARD
Box 329 Phone 965 Belleville

BELLE Cleaners — Launderers
SHIRTS BEAUTIFULLY LAUNDERED
48-HOUR SERVICE
Phone 55-2655 BELLEVILLE 356-362 Coleman St.

HORSE SENSE BRIDGE

By SAM GORDON
The Kibitzer

Most bridge players, like poker players, blame all their losses on bad cards. What actually happens is this: They list the nest they can on poor hands and gain the least possible on good hands.

You can get a prolonged run of poor hands. What do you do in a case like that? Do you force them to the limit? If you do, expect to lose more than you should.

You can get a run of big hands when everything clicks. What do you do in that case? Do you be conservative and play them like safes? If you do, expect to win the least that you should.

An expert combine had been away from the game a long time. The other night he re-joined the old group. Despite the number of dandy cards he held the end of the evening found him a bid loser.

There was the horrible complaint that his partners threw him down. Or that when he held the good cards he had no luck. Or nothing to fit. Not once did he consider that he was at fault.

He was the dealer in south in the spread shown here:

	NORTH
	♠A J 10
	♥A 2
	♦A J 10 3
	♣5 3
WEST		EAST
♠K 8 7		♠6 5 4
♥A 3		♥J 10 5
♦9 7 4 2		♦Q 8 7
♣8 5		♣J 10 9 7
	SOUTH
	♠9 2
	♥K 9 8 7 4
	♦K 6
	♣A K Q 6 2

The bidding went like this:

South	West	North	East
1 C	1 S	2 D	Pass
Pass	2 H

As a result his pair ended at a part score in diamonds when a game in no-trump was there to be had. The moment they did not reach a no-trump game was because south did not give north additional chance.

South excused his pass by saying he did not have spade stoppers for a bid of two no-trump. Also that his hand looked too weak for a bid. He did think that would take him to the level of three.

There is something wrong with what such a player knows. He has a poor knowledge of evaluation. What he needs is my explanation.

MARMORA

Locals Break Losing Streak With 8 - 5 Win

Marmora — Marmora's T.V.I. team broke its losing streak on Monday evening in winning against Norwood in the Marmora rink 8-5. For the winners Trumble and Jones starred, the former having three goals and the latter two goals to his credit. Payne, Whitnell and Webb starred for the losers. The game was fast and clean and was played on good ice before a crowd of two hundred and fifty spectators. Teams:

Norwood: Coal Berwick, defence Rogers, Wilson; centre, Griffith; wings, Payne, Thompson; Alternates Fennell, Stevenson.

Gilbert, Williams, Webb, Ferguson, Whitnell.

Marmora — Goal, Borland; defence, Mayne, Doyle; centre, Stewart; wings, Lavender, Gamble; Alternates, Brooks, Mantle, Jones, Goodchild, Loveless, Hay, Smith.

Referee: J. McKenna and A. Christie, S R.D. Trenton.

Summary

First period
Marmora, Brooks (Gray)	4.44
Norwood, Webb (Griffith)	8.00
Marmora, Trumble (Lavender)	11.30
Penalties—Gray, Kelly, Fennell.
Second period
Marmora, Jones	8.40
Marmora, Trumble (Loveless)	15.05
Marmora, Loveless (Goodchild)	17.04
No penalties.
Third period
Marmora, Lavender (Stewart)	2.18
Norwood, Whitnell	4.00
Norwood, Payne (Griffith)	5.00
Marmora, Trumble	7.00
Norwood, Payne (Griffith)	8.48
Marmora, Trumble (Maynes)	18.00
Marmora, Jones (Mantle Maynes)	19.00
Penalties—Whitnell, Wilson.

Pappas "Bills" Drop 13 Points To Brockville

By BOB ROSS

Last night at the Brockville Collegiate, Brockville Intermediate "B's" piled up a thirteen-point lead against Pappas Building Supplies of Belleville and held on to win the first of a two-game home series total points-to-count basketball-till. The locals put on an exhibition of ball playing worthy of their high past honours but had difficulty in adjusting themselves to the floor conditions. The Quinte Basketball Association appointed J. Edwards and Aubrey Fudge as officials and they were praised by both teams for the fine calling. The score was 44-31.

The game started with the Brockvillians taking the lead right. The locals fast their way and managed to tally half the score of the "B's" with Faulkner hitting for 4 counters for the "Bills" and Kyle of the "B's" tallying 6 pts. Brockville led at the quarter 14-7.

"Bills" Improve in Second

The second quarter showed a very definite improvement in the "Bills" behalf. The scoring improved but the quality showed to be Brockvillians' that the game wasn't going to be a walk-a-way. Robinson netted four for locals swishing five points while Murphy led his scored with three points. The locals out-scored the "Brocks" 10-8 and trailed by only 5 points. Score, Brockville 24, Belleville 17.

"To be or not to be?" was the question of the second half. Brockville answered the question by pumping home 7 points to the "Bills" 4 points, in a very tight low-scoring quarter. Two of the total points were foul shots and that signifies the type of good ball played. In spite of the fact that tally both teams portrayed good ball handling and smart playing. Score 29-21, "B's" down.

The final quarter told the same story, the locals just couldn't score inspite of their many fine attempts. The "Brocks" had their times and the "Bills" had theirs in the final spotty 10 minutes. Spotted displayed ability for Pappas getting five points and Dusby collecting seven for the Brockville squad.

The two teams meet again on Thursday evening with the Brockville "B's" holding the total point lead when the game starts. The locals will be working out very hard and hope to be able to win on their own floor where they have the added support to score this year. Game time 8.30. Line-ups:

Brockville: Turner 5, Paul 7, Murray 2, Kyle 7, Running 6, Leonard 2, Newton, Bryant, Kossis, Ross, Danby 2.

Belleville: Spotted 7, Seymour, Kelsey 4, Robinson 5, Jones, Lockyer 3, Garrow, Watkin 2, Pappas, Massey, Faulkner 8, Batchelor 2, Muldred 2.

Petes, Nylons Win Senior Tilts

Bees Sting Links

Peterborough Petes gained two points over third Isles city rivals the Eagles in senior hockey circles last night when they swamped the Queen's University Combine 12-3 while the Eagles were shooting a 7-3 setback at the hands of the third-place Kingston Nylons.

In junior "B" circles the Oshawa Bees crept two points closer to the Belleville Rockets when they defeated the Peterborough Links 6-3 in Oshawa.

Fortune-Tellers Busy as China Greets New Year

Hong Kong, Feb. 6 (AP)—Chinese fortune-tellers did a thriving business today as the year of the rabbit was ushered in by the traditional rattle of firecrackers.

The soothsayers disagreed on just what the new year would bring, but they all agreed on 12.

There would be trouble, but not as much as last year, which was the year of the tiger.

The fortune-tellers made a lot of forecasts.

Some predicted more war. Others said less. None predicted peace.

The 2,000,000 Chinese in this British Crown Colony welcomed the new year joyously. But in common with China the year are trying, as the nationalists did before them, to abolish the old calendars.

Things like firecrackers and paper dragons have nearly disappeared from China in the interests of a "greater future" ministers for the communist government.

CJBQ VOICE OF THE BAY OF QUINTE

CJBQ (1230 Kc.)

TUESDAY

6:00—Whom a Girl	11:30—Show
6:15—Sports	11:45—Show Time
6:30—Hank Payne Cbs	12:00—Melody Ranch
6:45—The Ad 11	12:30—Show
7:00—Supper Club	12:45—Show
7:30—Treasury Star	1:00—Show
8:00—Mystery Theatre	1:15—Show
8:30—Show	1:30—Show
9:00—Doctor Kildare	1:45—Show
9:30—Show	2:00—Show

WEDNESDAY

8:30—Weekly Forum Cbs	11:30—Music of Man-
9:00—News by request	11:45—Bob Eberle Show
9:15—Breakfast Club	12:00—Luncheon Music
9:30—Daywatch with	12:15—Luncheon Music
9:45—Daywatch the Soil	12:30—Show
10:00—Show	12:45—Show
10:15—Show	1:00—Show
10:30—Show	1:15—Show
10:45—Show	1:30—Show
11:00—Stand by the	1:45—Show
11:15—Stand by the Road	2:00—Show
11:30—Say It With Music	2:15—Show
11:45—Say It With Music	2:30—Show
Show	2:45—Show
12:00—Homemaker Mel-	3:00—Show
12:15—Homemaker Mel-	3:15—Show
12:30—Church Money	3:30—Show
12:45—Show	3:45—Show
1:00—News and	4:00—Show
1:15—Radio Chef	4:15—Show
1:30—Radio Chef	4:30—Voice of Bands
1:45—Show	4:45—When a Girl
2:00—Show	Marries
2:15—Show	5:00—Portia Faces Life
2:30—Show	5:15—Hop Ah 11
2:45—Show	5:30—Report Woods
3:00—Show	5:45—Front Page

	6:15—News and weather
	6:30—Lum and Abner
	6:45—Gabriel Heatter
	7:00—Dick Haymes
	Show
	7:30—Report and Weather
	7:35—Press Confer
	7:45—Lum and Abner
	7:30—Prayer Meeting
	8:00—Show
	8:15—Piano Moods
	8:30—Hay Hoch Pro-
	8:45—Show
	9:00—Show
	9:15—Show
	9:30—Match
	10:00—Kim's Corner
	10:15—Report Sum-
	Summary
	10:45—Time
	11:45—Reverie
	12:00—News and weather
	12:05—God Save the King

NETWORK PROGRAMS

TUESDAY EVENING

6:00—CBL, CFRB, Farm	7:45—Beneath Green
6:15—CFRB, Sing-	7:45—CFRB, Kate Si-
along	mms
6:15—CBL, News, Farm	8:00—CBL, Nation's
Market	Capital
6:30—CFRB, John Col-	8:00—CBL, Variety
lingwood Reads	Theatre
6:45—CFRB, Lorne Mc-	8:00—WHEN, Cavalcade
Knight	8:00—CFRB, Mystery
7:00—CBL, Music in	Theatre
the Air	8:30—WHEN, Fanny
7:00—CFRB, Sunshine	Brice
Sue	8:30—CBL, Toronto
7:00—WHEN, Nelson	Symphony
Eddy Show	9:00—CFRB, Life With
7:00—CFRB, Beulah	Luigi
7:15—CFRB, Sarah	9:00—WHEN, Bob Hope
Show	9:00—CBL, Parade of Bands
	9:30—CBL, Fibber
	McGee and Molly

	9:30—CFRB, Guy Lombardo
	10:00—CBL, Guy Maddison
	10:00—CBL, Canadian
	Cavalcade
	10:00—CFRB, National
	News
	10:00—WHEN, Big Town
	10:30—CBL, Don Cor-
	10:30—CFRB, Stars
	Are Funny
	11:00—CBL, Universe
	11:15—CJBC, UN Today
	11:30—CBL, Let's
	Remember
	11:30—CFRB, Music for Dreaming
	11:30—CBL, Melody
	from the Sky

Movie Column

By BOB THOMAS

Hollywood, Feb. 6 (AP)—He was a jolly looking little man who seemed as if he could be somebody's favorite grandfather. When he spoke, he had the clipped accent of an English drawing-room actor. This was Poodles Hanneford, still the most noted bareback rider in show business.

Poodles seemed strange in an exotic costume which he wore in a fantastic epic called "The Golden Horde." This setting is merely a winter diversion for him. Come Spring, he'll start his broad-backed horses circling around the ring again and hit the road.

The show-business veteran admits to being "in my 50s" now, but still performs his somersaults on and off the moving horse.

"Course I don't do some of the things I did when I was younger, like backflips from one horse to another," he admitted.

"But I still do my other tricks. My blood pressure is normal, my heart sound and I still have the old pep. So why shouldn't I stay with the act?"

His Share

In his decades in the ring, Poodles has had his share of hazards. "I've broken my ribs, my arms, nearly everything but never my legs — knock wood," he said.

Poodles was somewhat amazed when he found his chair on the movie set marked "Edwin Hanneford." That's his real name, but nobody ever calls him that.

FUR BUYING IN BRITAIN

London, Feb. 6 — (Reuters)— Foreign bidders ousted many British buyers from the first of London's winter fur sales which opened yesterday. The 100-per-cent purchase tax on fur coats sold in Britain was the reason. Prices for the $4,200,000 worth of skins were 20 per cent higher than four months ago. Buyers from Canada, the United States, Germany and Italy attended the sale.

AT THE BELLE—Betty Hutton and Fred Astaire sing and dance the sensational "On Them Duders" number from Paramount's full-colored Technicolor musical "Let's Dance," which ends at the Belle Theatre tonight.

AT THE CAPITOL

Margaret Rutherford, star of "Happiest Days of Your Life," which is now showing at the Capitol Theatre tonight and Wednesday after an engagement of three months at the International Cinema, Toronto, was born in London on May 11, 1892, and was educated at Wimbledon High School and Raven's Croft. She studied for her A.R.C.M. and L.R.A.M. (Elocution) diplomas before being engaged as a teacher of pianoforte and elocution.

She then decided to take up a stage career and—stuffed acting at the Old Vic, where she made her first appearance in December 1925, as the "Fairy with the Long Nose" in the pantomime "Little Jack Horner." She then played at Croydon and Oxford Repertory Theatres and also with the Greater London Players.

In the West End, Margaret Rutherford has appeared in numerous plays including "Robert Prince Spirit," (in which she played for one year), "Alice in Wonderland," "Perchance to Dream" and the long run of John Dighton's farce "The Happiest Days of Your Life." During 1944 she was touring for E.N.S.A. on the continent in "Love From a Stranger." She made her New York debut with John Gielgud in "The Importance of Being Earnest" in 1947.

Margaret Rutherford first entered films in 1946 in "Dusty Ermine." She has since appeared in numerous films including "Talk of the Devil," "Beauty and the Barge," "Atlantic Crossing," "The Pendulum," "Yellow Canary," "Blithe Spirit," "Her Favorite Husband" (filmed in Rome) and her latest film "The Happiest Days of Your Life" in which she repeats her successful stage characterization of the headmistress, Miss Whitchcraft.

Margaret Rutherford met her husband, Lieutenant J.B.S. Stricker Davis when they were appearing at Oxford Repertory together in 1931. They make one of the happiest acting partnerships of today; never being more contented than when they are acting together on stage or screen. Miss Rutherford likes the unusual when she is not acting and chooses for a holiday or a pastime something quite different from what she has been doing "for a living." Her favorite pursuits are reading and walking.

On the same program Wednesday only a fast action thriller "Cheetah the Ape" starring Tom Conway and Steve Brodie.

FORBADE STRIKES

Cairo, Feb. 6 — (Reuters) The Egyptian government last night forbade strikes on pain of imprisonment and fines.

Today & Wednesday

A DELIGHTFUL CASE OF MURDER!

KIND HEARTS and CORONETS

VALERIE HOBSON DENNIS PRICE ALEC GUINNESS

ADULT ENTERTAINMENT

2 HITS!

A SENSATIONAL SHOCKING!

"PAROLE, INC."

MICHAEL TWEAD KEITH

with CHESTER MORRIS • LYN THOMAS • BEN WELDEN

McCARTHY THE SHOW TRACK OF BELLEVILLE

TRENT THEATRE TRENTON

TODAY ONLY— 'Kind Hearts and Coronets' (ADULT). 'Thelma Jordan' (ADULT)

Daily ..... 2.00 - 7.00 - 9.00

WEDNESDAY and THURSDAY—TWIN HITS!

"IT'S A GREAT FEELING" IN TECHNICOLOR

DENNIS MORGAN DORIS DAY JACK CARSON

—ALSO— "CHAIN LIGHTNING"

HUMPHREY BOGART ELEANOR PARKER

KANSAS RAIDERS

Starring Audie MURPHY • Brian DONLEY Marguerite CHAPMAN • Scott BRADY

Technicolor

—TONY CURTIS • RONALD REAGAN • A UNIVERSAL-INTERNATIONAL PICTURE

Starts THURSDAY at the McCARTHY

CAPITOL TONIGHT ONLY

FASHION SHOW ... 8.30 SCREEN SHOW 7.00 - 9.45

FIRST BELLEVILLE SHOWING!

Today and Wed.

THE KING AND QUEEN OF COMEDY

THE HAPPIEST DAYS OF YOUR LIFE

3 MONTHS at INTERNATIONAL CINEMA TORONTO

STARRING MARGARET RUTHERFORD AND ALASTAIR SIM

ADDED FEATURE ATTRACTION, WEDNESDAY ONLY!

"I CHEATED THE LAW" TOM CONWAY STEVE BRODIE

Tonight TIP TOP TAILORS FASHION SHOW

Auspices OPTIMIST CLUB

— ALL SEATS 50c —

STARTS THURSDAY

WARNER BROS. PRESENTS

ROCKY MOUNTAIN

ERROL FLYNN PATRICE WYMORE SCOTT FORBES WILLIAM KEIGHLEY

Also: LAUREL and HARDY in "BULLFIGHTERS"

Take a good look at this man

... because you'll see a lot more of him in the future. We predict he will be one of the most powerful "rugged-and-romantic" personalities ever to hit a motion picture audience.

He was discovered by Hal Wallis, who introduced you to such stars as Humphrey Bogart, Errol Flynn, John Garfield, Burt Lancaster, Kirk Douglas and Wendell Corey.

His name is CHARLTON HESTON.

In "Dark City," he plays the part of Danny ... the kind of man you'll find behind the bright lights of any city. His brand of violence is the most dangerous of all, to the men who hate him ... and the women who love him. He's a "pay-off man" in the new underworld that preys on every American citizen!

Living his role with realism and ruthlessness, Charlton Heston takes you through the shadows of a world you never knew existed.

Take a good look at this man ... you'll never forget the first time you see him in

DARK CITY

Belle

STARTS WEDNESDAY

NEWS — CARTOON — NOVELETTE

BETTY HUTTON FRED ASTAIRE IN HARRY OWEN'S BIG BAND NOVELTY "LET'S DANCE" IN TECHNICOLOR WILLIAM THOMAS • DEE HARMES

TODAY ONLY! SHOWS AT 2.00 - 7.00 - 9.10

POP

LI'L ABNER — By Al Capp

MR. AND MRS. — By Arthur Folwell and Ellison Hoover

BLONDIE — By Chic Young

PENNY — By Harry Haenigsen

TILLIE THE TOILER — By Russ Westover

MARK TRAIL

JOHNNY HAZARD — By Frank Robbins

TIPPIE AND "CAP" STUBBS — By Arthur Folwell and Ellison Hoover

BRINGING UP FATHER — By George McManus

RUSTY RILEY — By Frank Godwin

OZARK IKE — By Ray Gotto

Your Individual Horoscope

By FRANCES DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

For Wednesday, February 7

March 21 to April 20—(Aries)—The unusual and artistic take affairs are tops today along with your interests and shorts get use on purpose. You can gain by hon- endeavor, intelligent handling day's duties.

April 21 to May 20—(Taurus)— sensiveness taboo. Military in- ests need especial watchful ss; caution in handling informa- on. Matters for which you have ient, home, personal problems ider benefic rays. Good day.

May 21 to June 21—(Gemini)— ot all friendly for mental work, stry, journalism, other writings, t patience and fortitude will lp greatly. Financial transac- ns, sound investments, most structural improvements.

June 22 to July 22—(Cancer)— our best planning day so far is month, your Moon, Venus and piter excellently aspected. All ncial, useful business and work erests greatly favored. You can ance—do it!

July 24 to August 22—(Leo)— our Sun's aspect warns about ay cars by travel, building ining, handling of machinery, tools, hicles. Day will be responsive, ainful but good efforts, sensible anagement.

August 23 to September 22—(Virgo)—May get highest returns where least expected, but by through accuracy and care- management. Professional and istic fields, household and do- estic interests especially favor-

September 24 to October 23—(Libra)—Your new ruler this ty season of Lent, it is one's imminent duty to make extra sacrifices, to do more praying than ever before for lasting world peace. A good day to try your best.

October 24 to November 22—(Scorpio)— Mar's aspect stresses need for kindliness toward the less talented, less worry if you would have more productive re- sults all told. Fine rays for good taste and right incentive.

November 23 to December 22—(Sagittarius)— Your Jupiter in very benefic aspect, as is Venus and the Moon. Aim to get on well in private affairs and in daily work. Be careful not to irritate others, or yourself and you can reach top.

December 23 to January 21—(Capricorn)—Not all smooth for some matters but you are industri- ous and can be wisely patient, too, so much is up to you whether you achieve or just fret and fall be- hind. Good day for initiative.

January 22 to February 20—(Aquarius) — Both Uranus and Neptune promise much accom- plishment for you who stick faith- fully to honest obligations, elimin- ate unessentials and realize the fine advancement possible.

February 21 to March 20—(Pisces)— Should be productive day for your work, sound invest- ments, real estate, most govern- ment matters and urgent interests. Manufacturing essentials can be gainful. Confidential issues hon- ored.

YOU BORN TODAY: A pros- perous-looking group of aspects ahead for you folks, if you have system, plan schedules sensibly and use your talents to advantage. You will have opportunity now to show your ingenuity and just how well you can handle things. There will be many new and different interests to manage, put into pro- ductive channels for gains. A trend also towards practically, construc- tive albeit restful activity—both important. You have fine natural gifts. Improve, use them rightly every day.

Birthdate: Millard Fillmore, 13th U.S. pres.; Chas. Dickens, famed novelist.

(Copyright, 1951, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 6, 1951 (Released by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

HORIZONTAL
1 Edible seed
4 To season
8 Bathtub
11 Make mistake
12 Glacial ridges
13 Chronicle
15 Outcast
17 Lubricant
19 Kind of fish
20 Light- heaviness
21 Sly stroke
22 Fly
24 As it stands
25 Tie
26 To decline
28 Gaelic
29 Vassal
30 Wanted
32 Mimosa cain
33 Thing in law
35 Prefix
37 Ambery
38 Ogle
40 Sketches
41 Masonry
42 Mountain tool
43 Man's name
44 Native metal
45 Ado
46 Distant
48 Japanese measure
49 Paid athlete
50 Chemical suffix
52 Container
53 Carpenter tool
54 Tree
55 Cosmos
56 Chart
57 Encountered

VERTICAL
1 Estheses
2 Tell
3 Lime
4 Out-and-out
5 Leading composer
6 Sacred tree
7 Region of which ancient Troy was capital
8 Fish
9 River of Europe
10 Hankering
14 Kind of fish
16 Dress
18 Pronoun
21 Amusement
22 Drunkard
23 Mournful
27 Sea eagle
28 Kind of Eskimo
31 Chess piece
33 Depression
34 Fish spray
35 Brook's title
36 Sailor
39 Medicine- making
40 Sewing implement
42 Tonic
43 To defecate
45 To factor
47 River
48 Carried on horse's back
50 Son of the wind
51 Take as one's own
52 Juice of the fruit
53 Affirmative
54 To cut down

46 A liver
47 The seasons
48 Occupied a chair

51 Canine love
52 Hindu title
53 India

Answer to Yesterday's Puzzle

S	L	A	P		O	A	P		H	E	E	L
P	E	R	A		A	S	A		O	O	L	K
A	G	A	I	N		G	O	U	N	D
		R	O	O	M			O	N	E	E	D
S	T	O	P		S	H	E	L	V	E	S
			B	O	D	Y		G	U	I	D	E
D	O	G			I	D	L	E
I	N			P	L	A	N			M	A
R	I	S	E		E	N	E	M	I	E	S
			P	E	P	P	E	R
G	L	A	R	E			R	A	N	D	O	M
A	G	G	R	O		G	E	N	I	A	L
E	R	E	C	T		C	A	R		C	H	A
N	E	E	D			M	A	N		P	A	N

Copyright 1951 by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.

Education Costs And High Prices Fodder for Debate

(By The Canadian Press)

High prices, costs of education and a procedural matter provided the main fodder for debate Monday in the legislatures of three provinces.

The three — Saskatchewan, Manitoba and Ontario—were the only ones sitting. Quebec's House, the only other one of the 10 in session, resumes today.

In Regina, the Throne-Speech debate opened with a plea by Peter A. Howe (CCF—Kelvington) for reimposition of price controls and a roll-back of present prices.

Directing his suggestion at the Federal government, Mr. Howe said high prices are hitting persons with fixed incomes while big business is receiving benefits in the form of high profits.

He particularly called for action to stop the downward trend of farm prices while the cost of living rises.

"If we exploit those who work the land, that exploitation must be passed on to the land," he said.

In Winnipeg, Premier D. L. Campbell stated that the Manitoba government will pay $400,000 more in annual grants toward the cost of secondary education.

However, Errick Willis, Progressive Conservative and official opposition leader, said extra grant still does not "satisfy the needs of education."

Mr. Willis moved a vote of non-confidence in the government—a motion which if upheld would mean defeat of the government—contending it had "failed to make adequate provision for the needs of education." Debate was adjourned before a vote was taken.

First Division

In Toronto, the legislature encountered its first division of the three-day session. The Progressive Conservative government had indicated it had the support of the Liberals in upholding by a vote of 55 to 22 a motion to adjourn. The CCF and two Labor-Progressive members voted against the government.

The matter arose after E. B. Jolliffe, C.C.F. leader, took issue with the government for attempting to start debate on the principle of a bill. Mr. Jolliffe argued that the House hadn't had enough time to study the measure.

The government agreed to postpone debate on the bill and then moved adjournment after little more than one hour of the sitting. Mr. Jolliffe argued that the legislature should go on and discuss the only other matter of business on the order paper — C.C.F. motion calling for extension of provincial voting rights to municipal elections. The C.C.F. forced a formal roll-call vote before the House was adjourned.

BONARLAW

St. Mark's Church Holds Oyster Supper

Bonarlaw.—On Wednesday evening of last week St. Mark's Church held their annual oyster supper and social evening in the parish hall, and in spite of cold and stormy weather, there was a splendid attendance.

With splendidly cooked oyster stew as a first course, and various kinds of pie dessert, escalloped potatoes, platters of meat, jellies, pickles, salads, and bread and butter between, made up a sumptuous repast much in keeping with former St. Mark's suppers.

After the supper, a large number remained for a game of progressive euchre which was under the supervision of W. J. Barlow. The winners were Mrs. Grenville Mehlkejohn and George E. Thompson.

AIR AMAZON

The adopted daughter of the late Kemal Ataturk of Turkey, Maj. Sabiha Gokcen, 36, will soon join United Nations forces now fighting in Korea. A combat flier against the rebellious Kurds in 1935, and one-time chief instructor of the Turkish civil air force, Maj. Gokcen will fly combat with Turkish units in Korea. — Central Press Canadian.

STIRLING

Mr., Mrs. W. Bowen Quietly Celebrate 50th Anniversary

Stirling.—Mr. and Mrs. William Bowen, celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary quietly at their home last Tuesday.

Mrs. Bowen, was the former Annie Young, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Robert Young of Port Hope, and Mr. Bowen was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Bowen, of Cannifton, in Thurlow Township. They were married at Brighton and have lived in Stirling for the past 50 years.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Bowen are enjoying good health and their friends join in wishing them many more years of health and happiness.

MADOC

St. Peter's Church Holds Annual Meeting

Madoc. — The congregational supper and annual meeting of St. Peter's Presbyterian Church, Madoc, was held on Wednesday evening.

After a bountiful supper and "Family Worship" led by the minister, the Rev. M. W. Heslip, the reports were presented. Following the session report, the one from the growing Sunday School was most interesting.

The Seed Sowers' Mission Band was given by Miss Carolyn Reid and Miss Barbara Bannister; the Women's Missionary Society by Mrs. D. Blakely and Miss Anne Van Kleek; The Ladies' Aid, by Mrs. Harriet Sharpe; St. Peter's Women's Club by Mrs. Carl McCoy; choir by Mrs. Ken Nicol; managing Board by Mr. George West.

Mr. West was congratulated on serving as treasurer for 38 years and was re-elected. New managers appointed are, Mrs. David Blakely, Mr. Tom Rupert, Mr. Ken West and Mr. John Bailey.

FROZEN CORPSE FOUND

Kirkland Lake, Ont., Feb. 5 — (CP) — The frozen corpse of Richard Gervais, 74-year-old retired railroad man of Milberta village, about 18 miles west of New Liskeard, was found today by a mail man.

He was lying face down just inside his home. He had a load of wood in his arms and the fire was out.

Cause of death was not known immediately.

CAMPBELLFORD

Four Traffic Mishaps Blamed On Slippery Roads

Campbellford—Four traffic accidents gave police here one of their busiest weekends of quite a while. Slippery streets were blamed for most of the accidents.

The first occurred on Friday afternoon, when Fred Bennett, driving south on Bridge Street, and Leo Sherridan driving in a car owned by Keith Bound, and travelling east on Market Street, met at the intersection. Mr. Bennett said he was unable to stop his car at the intersection because of the ice covered roads. Considerable damage resulted to the front and sides of both vehicles.

On Saturday night about 8 p.m., a car driven by Stanley Lamond of Seymour township struck a taxi driven by David Bowen of Campbellford. This took place on Front Street north. Mr. Bowen was travelling north on Front Street when he was struck by the LaLond auto. Considerable damage to the left side of the taxi resulted, but the LaLond car escaped with a damaged fender.

On Sunday afternoon, Mr. Eldon Bannon of 444 King Street, Peterborough, was visiting a friend in the Campbellford Hospital and parked his car on Front Street. There is a slight curve at this point, and a car driven by Mr., George A. McDonald, of 52 Fraser Street, Ottawa, was travelling north, Mr. McDonald lost control of his car and it skidded on the icy pavement and struck the parked car owned by Mr. Bannon, causing damage to the side of the body, the wheel and tire and fenders on the left side. The McDonald auto was damaged about the rad, fenders, grill hood and bumper.

On Sunday evening about 11.30 Mr. Harold Cameron of Codrington, Ont., was travelling south on the Grand Road, just inside the corporation, when a small English type car passed him and cut him off. Mr. Cameron swung his ton truck to the right side of the roadway to avoid hitting the tiny auto, and crashed into the ditch, striking a pole used as a support for hydro poles on the opposite side of the road. These supporting poles are placed opposite the hydro line, and attached by a heavy steel stretched across and above the roadway. The support pole was broken off, and the front end of the truck damaged. Mr. Cameron walked to the local police station with his wife to report the accident. The smaller car did not stop, and the police force must now be aware of the accident he had caused.

No one was injured in any of the four accidents, although damage may run as high as $1,200. Chief Constable Geo. H. Hardy investigated all the mishaps.

WOULD FIGHT REDS

WILLIAM JESSE NEWTON

After a 12,000-mile hitch-hike to a command post in Korea, William Jesse Newton of Temple City, Calif., was accepted for front line duty. Newton made headlines last year when he set his seapiane down beside the Polish liner Batory outside New York. At Southampton, England, he was turned over to Flt. Lieut. Jack Hall, who hopes to fight reds to clear his name of any communistic taint. — Central Press Canadian.

Briefs From Britain

(By The Canadian Press)

London (CP) — Army recruits who are not so hot at arithmetic are being encouraged to learn to add and subtract by regular competition at the dartboards.

Cambridge, England (CP) — Cambridgeshire is seeking 11 unmarried policemen. Bachelors are preferred because houses cannot be found for married men.

Colchester, England (CP) — Foxes killed 200 laying birds on Essex farms in two weeks. Now organized shooting parties are scouring the countryside at weekends.

London (CP) — Power cuts don't stop the big Guinness clock in Piccadilly from keeping perfect time. The firm foresaw what might happen and spent $1,200 on having the clock fitted with special controls.

Bristol, Eng. (CP) — Councillor W. H. Hencher said "we are considering renting downstairs apartments to deaf people in future. Groups of deaf tenants have complained they could hear every sound upstairs and most of the upper floor residents has a club foot.

Skegness, England (CP) — A bunnied hare escaped capture by joining in a soccer game in this Lincolnshire town. The hare ran between the players and outwitted a pursuing greyhound.

London (CP) — Bookmaker Alf Hicks received a letter from a client with the postmark dated for the next day. The bets lost, so there was no temptation to say I didn't receive them in time," said Alf.

Banbury, England (CP) — The fire, squad at this Oxfordshire town raced to action stations. But there was no fire. Melting snow had short-circuited the alarm system.

London (CP) — A 16-year-old boy who embezzled $105 to buy books was ordered to repay the money. The boy was sentenced after viewing the evidence: "He has very good taste. This is an extremely comprehensive library."

Kettering, Eng. (CP) — To put out a slender area of ratepayers in the Northamptonshire town offered kippers and haddocks.

London (CP) — More than 30 government ministers and officials waited outside the Mansion House in the rain after a misprint for motorcars to take them home. One was left waiting more than an hour—Transport Minister Alfred Barnes.

Bristol, Eng. (CP) — Ben Heathman stood in a line-up all night to enable his fiancee, Mavis Jones, to buy a dress at a sale. Mavis couldn't be in the line-up herself —she was busy serving in the store.

London (CP) — Now it's the cost of listening that has gone up. Leading companies have increased the price of grandpa's records from 50 cents to 60 cents. Better quality records cost $1.40.

Colchester, Essex, Eng. (CP) — People are still living in a medieval watchtower on an estate here. The tower is 60 feet high and has five storeys. One family has lived there for 22 years.

London (CP) — The sunbirds, small birds of brilliant plumage, need the sun. So the cages of the sunbirds at the Regent Park Zoo are being moved to face the sun.

Little Benny's Note Book

Ma sent me around to the market for eggs and lemmons, and the next time she sent me I was on my stummick on the living room floor reeding my new Liberry Book and she said, Do you meen you haven't gone yet for hand eggs?

I was just thinking of starting, ma, I said, and she said, Well of all the lazy, procrastinating boys, you're absilutely incurable.

G, ma, I'm sorry, I said, and I am. Then please convert your sorrow into practical action and get back here with my eggs and lemmons before I can say Jack Robinson.

I didn't meen I was sorry about the eggs and lemmons, ma, I meant I was sorry about being incurable, I said, Jimminies, ma, if I'm incurable it meens I can never get over being lazy no matter how hard I try, because incurable meens I cant be cured by good resolutions or anything else, even including medicine. Groozalem, ma, if I'm incurable, that meens it's not even my fault, I said.

Now look here, young man, you're as brite and able as any boy that ever lived, ma said. With an ounce of application you can do anything you set your mind on, she said, and I said, G, ma, that's a big compliment. Thanks, ma, do you really meen you think I'm grate? I said.

Oh my goodness, I think you're exactly like your father, that's what I think, ma said.

Being the biggest compliment of all, and I went around to the market feeling better instead of worse, and the only reason I didn't come strait back without stopping was on account of meeting Sam Cross and Glasses Magee in the middle of a fierce argument and I had to wait to see if I'd have to help a fite.

Which it didn't.

DESERONTO

Mrs. Bert Mowers, Belleville, was in town on Saturday attending the funeral of the late Mr. Syd. Goodworth.

Mrs. Leonard Bell, Depot Harbor, Ont., attended the funeral of Syd Goodworth.

Mrs. Alex Clark, of Napanee, was a caller in town on Saturday.

Mrs. Percy Watson, Toronto, is spending a few days at the home of Mrs. S. Goodworth.

Mr. Alex Gray, Toronto, spent the weekend at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Norm. Watson and family.

Lucky Winner

Mrs. John Edwards, Thomas St., was the lucky winner, on Mother Pageant, Saturday evening, and, winning a lovely diamond ring.

St. Mark's Guild

The Ladies held their February meeting at the home of Mrs. H. H. Fraser with a good attendance, even though the weather was stormy. The president, Mrs. C. Knight, was in charge. It was decided to hold a home cooking sale in the former office of Deseronto Gas on Feb. 17th.

After the business meeting, delicious refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. C. Knight, Mrs. A. S. Walker, and Mrs. H. Bender, a social hour was enjoyed.

Oddfellows Euchre

Held a euchre on Friday evening. Those who attended enjoyed a very good evening. High score for ladies won by Mrs. Graham; consolation, Mrs. A. E. Walker; travelling, Mrs. C. M. Luffman; Men's, Mr. A. Pennell.

Refreshments were served by the social committee under Mr. Art Hill.

Euchre Party

The Ladies' Guild, of Tyendinaga, held a euchre, at the home of Mrs. Clarence Brant, a good crowd attended, with eight tables in play. Hi score for ladies won by, Mrs. D. McNamara; consolation, Mrs. Ernie Goodwin; travelling, Mrs. Danny Maracle. Men's, Eddie Bannon, consolation, Gordon Hamilton, Mr. Archie Graham.

Refreshments were served, and a good time was had by all.

The Yacht Club of Deseronto, held their regular euchre, on Thursday night, the high score won by, Mrs. Floyd Martin; travelling, by Mrs. Jean Hicks; consolation by Mrs. Pennell; door prize, Mr. Pennell; dainty refreshments were served.

MARMORA

Marmora — Mrs. H. Phillips is visiting her daughter, Mrs. D. Nixon, in Woodbridge.

Kathy Ann, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Gray, was a patient in Peterborough Civic Hospital last week.

The Rev. G. D. Young attended sessions of the Synod of Central Canada, in Toronto, last week.

Mrs. Gordon Gray spent last week with her sister, Mrs. George McCaw, in Belleville.

The Rev. Young was called to the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Vanvelkenburg on Wednesday afternoon, to a chimney fire. Little damage was done.

Mrs. Donald McCarvey and young daughter visited relatives in Belleville last week.

Mrs. William Candy and Miss Marilyn Boughner were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Hickey last week.

Mr. Frank Grant underwent a serious operation in Belleville General Hospital on Saturday.

Mrs. D. Wahl, formerly in charge of the operations of the Bethlehem Shop Corporation, received acquaintances here on Saturday.

Mrs. D. Courneya and son, Breen, of Elgin, and Miss Joan O'Connor, Reg. R. of Kingston, spent the weekend with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. D. O'Connor.

Born — In Belleville General Hospital on Thursday, February 1st, to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hulsman (nee Ruth Nayler) of Belleville, a son.

Marmora Agricultural Society is again sponsoring a Junior Farmers' Calf Club. Date of a meeting for reorganization purposes is to be announced shortly. Frank Stone Assistant Agriculturist Representative for Hastings County, will be in charge of the meeting.

St. Paul's Ladies' Guild held a euchre party in the Parish Hall on Wednesday evening. The winners were: Charles Cronkright and Mrs. Gladys Leonard.

Mr. Wilbert Bedore was admitted to the D.V.A. Hospital in Kingston, on Thursday.

PICTON

Picton—Dr. A. H. Walton is spending a few days in Toronto, the guest of his son, Dr. Kingston Walton, Sr., and his sister, Mrs. Ryckman.

Mr. Harry Hunt has accepted the position as accountant with P. E. Motors.

Mrs. Thomas Milligan returned on Saturday after spending a week with Mr. and Mrs. Ray Milligan and Sharon in Trenton.

The children of St. John's school were treated to a theatre matinee on Thursday afternoon at the Regent where they saw pictures of the Holy Year pilgrimage to Rome through the kindness of Mr. George Cook.

Miss Myrtle Williams has accepted a position in the insurance office of Harry Pyne. Mrs. Ola Cryrnes, formerly in that office, has taken a position in Belleville.

Miss Etha Rozomiak of Black Creek spent the weekend with Miss Athella Gibson.

SENSITIVE TO ATOM BOMB

Following several atomic explosions in Las Vegas, one gambling club owner became worried when his dollar slot machines started throwing jack-pots wild. In an effort to correct this, Jeri King was detailed to examine a one-armed bandit for radio-activity with a geiger counter. The geiger counter didn't provide a clue, however, to the slot machine's vagaries. — Central Press Canadian.

BURR'S

Burr—The community pot-luck supper proved a happy event on Thursday evening. About 50 sat down at a long and abundantly-filled table.

A sing-song, games and brief programs afforded congenial pastime. A silver collection was taken.

Mr. and Mrs. Ken Wood, Robert and Virginia were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Don Osterhout, Brenda and Darryl.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Osterhout were on Thursday evening dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Will Adams of Wellington.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross Burr were Saturday tea and evening guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ken Belleville. Recent guests at the same home were Mr. and Mrs. S. P. LaFontaine and Shan of Detroit. Mr. and Mrs. LaFontaine were enroute to Montreal where they were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Dan LaFontaine and family and to St. John, N. B., where Mrs. Burr's guests of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Anderson and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Burr entertained at dinner Friday evening Mr. and Mrs. E. Rose of Belleville. Recent guests at the same home were Mr. and Mrs. S. P. LaFontaine and Shan of Detroit. Mr. and Mrs. LaFontaine were enroute to Montreal where they were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Dan LaFontaine and family and to St. John, N. B., where Mrs. Burr's guests of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Anderson and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Burr entertained at dinner Friday evening Mr. and Mrs. E. Rose of Belleville. Mr. and D. Harns and Mr. and Mrs. Ross Burr.

Mrs. Frank Osterhout opened her home Tuesday to members of the W. A. in March. A pot luck the W. A. for the purpose of dinner was enjoyed.

quilting the autograph quilt. It is Mr. and Mrs. Ken Van Cott planned to have it on display at were Sunday guests of Mr. and the silver anniversary dinner of Mrs. Tom Morden.

QUINTE
APPLIANCES and REFRIGERATION LTD.
FOR REFRIGERATION SERVICE.
DOMESTIC — Call 2255.— COMMERCIAL

APPLIANCE and RADIO REPAIRS
WE GIVE ESTIMATES AND IF REQUESTED WILL SUPPLY YOU WITH A RADIO WHILE YOURS IS BEING REPAIRED
HITCHON RADIO
4 Bridge St. East Phone 854

FOR YOUR Livestock AND POULTRY NEEDS
CALL AT
McCARTHY MILLING CO. LTD.
C.P.R. Freight Shed, GEORGE ST., BELLEVILLE — Phone 1312

INSURANCE MORTGAGE LOANS
Automobile Don'ts
Don't overtake on curves or hills or change lanes without an "out lin" or pull out from curb suddenly. Don't count on the other fellow. Act for yourself. Obey traffic laws and give the usual signals.
JAMIESON BONE & CO.
163 FRONT ST. PHONE 1364

DION THRESHERS

THESE MACHINES WILL BE IN SHORT SUPPLY—SO—DON'T DELAY IN PLACING YOUR ORDER
PRINGLE and COOPER
COCKSHUTT Sales and SERVICE
147½ Front Street Phone 3358
Distributors for IEL Chain Saws and Krause Plows

BONN'S BONDED USED CARS
169 DUNDAS STREET EAST — BELLEVILLE, ONT.
ALL CARS are WINTERIZED AND WITH GOOD USED BATTERIES.
Now, Folks, if you need a good Used Car — Here is the place. Open Six Nights in the week.
1949 METEOR SEDAN. A good heater and sun visor. With only 19,000 miles.
1949 AUSTIN SEDAN. With only 11,000 miles.
1948 AUSTIN SEDAN. Low mileage.
1948 AUSTIN COACH Low mileage.
1948 CHEVROLET COACH.
Undercoat heater, built-in radio and sun visor.
1950 MORRIS OXFORD SEDAN. With only 2,700 miles. Was used as salesman car.
1946 FORD PANEL TRUCK This car is worth seeing.
1942 NASH SEDAN.
1941 CADILLAC SEDAN.
1940 WILLYS SEDAN.
1940 CHEV. COACH
1938 PLYMOUTH SEDAN
1938 CHEV. COACH
1937 DODGE SEDAN.
1937 DODGE SEDAN.
1936 CHEVROLET COACH
1936 CHEVROLET SEDAN.
A Good Many Cars — all in good running condition.
BONN'S BONDED USED CARS
TRADE — CASH — TERMS
or What Have You?
AS HIGH AS 18 MONTHS TO PAY.

ARMSTRONG'S
ASPHALT TILE
9" x 9" x 1/8" or 3/16"
18 BEAUTIFUL COLORS.
Sold or Installed by
ARTHUR A. SILLS and SON
Phone 1584 285 Coleman St.

FIRE
Have you insured your home AND ITS CONTENTS fully? How about your new T.V. set? Your wife's fur coat? Are you covered adequately in view of the increased inflationary value of everything? Now is the time to check—not after a fire loss. Call today.
FOR INSURANCE SEE
LORNE McDOUGALL
Insurance Agencies Ltd.
150 FRONT ST. PHONE 168
"Belleville's Largest Insurance Office"

SCOTT'S SCRAP BOOK By R. J. SCOTT

BUSINESS DIRECTORY

SERVICE

OIL BURNER and STOKER SERVICE
NIGHTS: Phone 2922M and 1959R
RADIO and APPLIANCE REPAIRS
VAN DUSEN BROS. LTD.
329 Front St. Phone 3955
F1-tf

REAL ESTATE

IF YOU WISH TO BUY A HOME OR ON FARM CONSULT
E. O. KEELER
Realtor
Member Ontario Association of Real Estate
Telephone 3050-J
M34-1y

FARM MACHINERY

FOR QUALITY SEE
IVAN MAY
JOHN DEERE DeLAVAL
BEATTY and LUNDY FENCE
SALES and SERVICE
27 Charlotte St. Phone 4361
Evenings Phone 2365M

SAND and GRAVEL

CINDERS - FILL - CRUSHED ROCK - SNOW REMOVAL - DRIVEWAY GRAVEL
IVAN MAY
Phone 4363 or 2265M
J6-1y

ELECTRICAL CONTRACTING — REPAIR

BELL ELECTRIC REPAIR DEPOT
9 Foothills Drive Belleville
Phone 1189J
SATISFIED CUSTOMERS OUR PRIDE
J9-1y

ACCOUNTANTS

KENNETH J. SODEN
PUBLIC ACCOUNTANT — AUDITOR
Income Tax Consultant
Phone 3077W 331 MONTREAL BLVD.
BELLEVILLE Phone 2525
G12-tf

W. S. STONE
CHARTERED ACCOUNTANT
209 ALBERT STREET
BELLEVILLE
Telephone 240

GEO. A. WELCH & CO.
Chartered Accountants
BELLEVILLE OTTAWA
Phone 4308 244 Pinnacle St.

ARCHITECT

W. A. WATSON, Architect
M. Arch, M.R.A.I.C.
Formerly located at 268 Front Street now located at
344 FRONT STREET
(Next to Boyce's Garage)
D7-1y

INSURANCE

The thought of fire loses half its terrors when you're associated with SANDY BURROWS
and
HOWARD FROST
LIFE and FIRE INSURANCE
240½ FRONT STREET Phone 483

HALL & EARLE
ACCIDENT and PLATE GLASS
General Insurance Counsellors
378 FRONT ST. PHONE 1184-W

TYPEWRITER REPAIRS

THE JAMES TEXTS LIMITED
Prompt and Efficient Repairs on All MAKES of Typewriters & Typewriters and Adding Machines
Phone 3-9
179 - 183 FRONT STREET
BELLEVILLE

VENETIAN BLINDS

Known and Respected Throughout Canada
LIFE-FLEX STEEL AND ALUMINUM SLATS
HOLWAY VENETIAN BLIND COMPANY
8-9 Day Delivery — 3 Year Guarantee
PHONE 3522 BELLEVILLE
M5-tf

CONTRACTORS

PIT RUN SAND AND GRAVEL
Delivered or Will Haul by Truck
Or Order 9 Yards or More
CRUSHED STONE, CINDERS, SAND and CRUSHED GRAVEL
Estimates Free. Fill Jobs
POWER SHOVELS, BULLDOZER and COMPRESSORS
PHONE 195, TRENTON
J. D. VanALSTINE
CONSTRUCTION
A4-tf

VETERINARIAN

DR. PAUL FOSTER
VETERINARIAN
Office in
MacKENZIE FEED BUILDING
47 South Front St., Belleville
Day Phone 1422
Phone 1235-M before 8 a.m. and after 5.00 p.m.
J5-1y

ROOFING CONTRACTOR

QUINTE ROOFING
(B. L. QUINCEY, Prop.)
Bonded Built-up Flat Roofs—Asphalt Shingling — Cedar Shingling
Waterproofing — Tile Floors
PHONE 3880 BELLEVILLE
J31-tf

BUILDING CONTRACTOR

JOHN V. WHITE
GENERAL REPAIRS
LET US BUILD YOU A NEW HOME
Quotations Gladly Furnished
Expert Workmanship
58 Alexander Street
PHONE
Office 912 House 3333-J
J12-tf

MIMEOGRAPHING RUBBER STAMPS

THE JAMES TEXTS LIMITED
Fast, efficient work covering all forms: Rental Agreements, Estate Statements, Circulars, Ledger Sheets, Cheques, Delivery Slips, Invoices and all types of Rubber Stamps. Repairs to Rubber Stamps, Seals, Stencils.
179-183 Front St. Phone 892
F6-tf

WELL DRILLING

McMILLAN and GARTLEY
(Formerly W. E. Hartley)
WELL DRILLING
Phone 619-M
BELLEVILLE, ONT.

B. A. K. SMILEY
Box 72 Phone 114-21

MADOC
ALL TYPES OF WELL DRILLING
Also
NEW EQUIPMENT
FREE ESTIMATES — PROMPT ATTENTION
A32-tf

FOOT SPECIALIST

H. W. ROBESON, M.M.
ALL FOOT DISORDERS TREATED BY THE FEET
Fallen Arches, Weak Ankles, Hammer Toes, Thick Nails and cases of foot ailments. Also Scientific Shoe Fitting.
OFFICE HOURS: 9 to 12, 1 to 5, 7 to 8
144 Front St., Opposite Capitol
Phone 403-W OPEN EVENINGS

CARETAKING CONTRACTORS

GORDON A. MacEACHERN
(G. FRED MAUND, Mgr.)
SPECIALISTS IN FLOOR FINISHING
WINDOW CLEANING — WALL WASHING
Manufacturers of
FINE FLOOR PRODUCTS;
FLOOR POLISHERS FOR RENT
330 Pinnacle St. Phone 829

FLOORS and WALLS

PIDUTTI — FABBRI
TILE and TERRAZZO CO.
FLOORS and CERAMIC TILE on WALL TILE
TERRAZZO Marble Chips — Guaranteed Repairs on Tile and Terrazzo
FOR ESTIMATES
Phone 3836
51 NORTH FRONT ST.
M30-1y

BUILDERS' SUPPLIES

LUMBER

ROOFING — INSULATION — SIDINGS — WALLBOARDS — WOOD — PLYWOOD — SASH — DOORS — MOULDINGS — HARDWARE
E. D. MOTT
370 FRONT ST. PHONE 1653
A3-1y

CHIROPRACTORS

ROGERS REDEL, D.C.
Doctor of Chiropractic
Consultations by Appointment
42½ Bridge St. East
Suite 3 and 4
Office Telephone 3591
Residence Telephone 4236
J3-1y

R. A. WYATT, Ph.C
Chiropractor and Drugless Therapist. Mineral Fume Baths with oil and alcohol rub, sacro-iliac strain rolls. Radioclast examination, manipulative surgery and adjustments. Consultation and examination for sinus condition.
Phone 3-2-6 Belleville, Phone 900
LADY ATTENDANT
A31-tf

REAL ESTATE

BUYING OR SELLING YOUR HOME?
Phone 4252
ERIC COOPER
General Insurance — Real Estate and Business Broker.
Life Insurance Consultant

UPHOLSTERING

OUR BUSINESS IS
UPHOLSTERING
RE-COVERING—RE-STYLING
1951 Materials
First Class Workmanship
Estimates — No Obligation
WRITE or PHONE
TOWNE UPHOLSTERERS
Reg.
261 Dundas St. E., TRENTON
P.O. Box 335 Phone 109

FEED and GRAIN

CORN DISTILLERS DRIED GRAINS
are available at
WOODSTOCK MILLS LTD.
SUPPLIES ARE LIMITED. WE SHOULDN'T YOU ORDER NOW.
Phone 806 105 S. John St.

DIPLOMATIC SQUABBLE

Toronto, Feb. 6 — (CP) — A diplomatic squabble is developing between Toronto and the adjacent suburb of Swansea. The village council discovered last night that it has been providing garbage collection service and sewage disposal for a house on which the city has been collecting taxes. Village Clerk Norman Ivy said one wall of the house is in Swansea. Council immediately ordered a letter sent to the city demanding an agreement on taxation of the house or the services would be discontinued.

FOR SALE

HARDWOOD, BODY: BEECH, BIRCH, and Maple, dry, 2" thickness, random lengths to suit purchaser. P. G. Box 70, Napanee, Ont.
OPPORTUNITY. BEAUTIFUL SABLE mink, registered, bred, pregnie due March 17, $100.00. Show winning champion. Cathy Ruston, Phone 2nd 990 Princess St., Kingston, Ont.
REGISTERED HOLSTEIN COW 5½ years, due to freshen end of May. Calfhood fed. Frank A. Hall, Bloomfield.
F3-3t
MASSEY - HARRIS 11 DISC SEED drill. Good as new. Team work horses. C. McLaren, Shannonville.
F3-2t
45 YEARLING LEGHORN HENS. Phone Frankford 21-R-21.
F3-2t
BOILER, 80 HORSEPOWER BOILER, government inspected for 100 lbs. pressure. Needs some tubes, otherwise in first class condition. Can see at a bargain. Phone Picton 209-R.
F3-2t
HAY, GREEN ALFALFA, RED clover, timothy, mixed. Phone 45e bale. Phone 177 Stirling.
F1-6t
EXCELLENT BUILDING LOT, 100 ft. on Dundas St., 45 ft. in frontage, 7, Ireland Ave.
F30-1f
COOK STOVES, REFRIGERATORS for Home and Camp. Good stock to choose from. Terms or cash. Dellie Lake, 282 Colonial Ave. Phone 3311.
G30-1f

TO LET

LIGHT HOUSEKEEPING ROOM FOR 1 or 2. East Hill. Downtown. Continuous hot water, Phone Belleville 2-R-21.
F3-2t
FURNISHED ROOM. MEALS OUT. Close to downtown. Women only. Phone 1153-M.
F2-2t
HEATED, 3-ROOM GROUND FLOOR apartment, 141A Ann St. Phone 3097-M.
F6-tf
4-ROOM APT. IMMEDIATE POSSESsion. Hot water heating. Apply Ed. Redmerville, Apply Reuter's General Store, St. View 43-J-3.
F6-3t
ROOM AND BOARD. ON TWO floors. Continuous hot water. Phone 3651-J.
F6-6t
BED-SITTING ROOM FOR 1 OR 2. Board optional. Light housekeeping privileges. 796-M.
F5-3t
3-ROOMED BRICK HOUSE LOCATED on Hill Street, Frankford. Has large Norge space heater, newly decorated throughout. Rent $30 a month. Apply 171 Victoria Ave, between 5-7 p.m.
F5-3t
FOR BALANCE OF WINTER, ON NO Bridge St. East, Belleville, 4-room partly furnished cottage, all modern. Hot water heated. $47 per month. Phone Belleville 3-J-23 or Belleville Court.
F5-3t
ROOM AND BOARD FOR 2 GIRLS. Warm room in new home. Laundry privileges. Hot water heating. Continuous hot water. Phone 3319.
F6
FURNISHED BED-SITTING ROOM and kitchen, with range, Suit 2 working girls. Use of shared bath. East Hill. Phone 366-M.
F6-2t
LARGE FRONT BEDROOM, TWIN beds, suitable for two girls. Phone 3-J-21.
F6-2t
3 - ROOMED SEMI - DETACHED house, basement, furnace. Albert St. 866 per month. Phone 1435-J.
F6
SINGLE ROOM IN PRIVATE HOME. Gentleman preferred. Phone 2432-R between 6 and 7.
F4-3t
4-ROOM APT., UNFURNISHED, UNheated. Private entrance, Self-contained. Apply Mrs. Robert Rorke, Corbyville, Ont. Rorke's Tourist Cabins, 12 Victoria St. Phone 3-J-23.
F6-2t
3 LARGE FURNISHED ROOMS. Very central. Apply Kaldwey's Grocery. Phone 3-J-21.
F6-2t
BEDROOM, EAST HILL. CLOSE TO bus stop. Breakfast and evening meal if desired. Use of phone privileges. Phone 3-J-21.
F5-2t
ONE GIRL BOARDER SHARE ROOM. 20 a week, also 2 light housekeeping rooms. Phone 3-J-21.
F5-2t
FURNISHED BEDROOM IN NEW home. On bus line. All conveniences. Phone 3-J-21.
F5-2t
BED-SITTING ROOM. SEMI-PRIvate bath. Kitchen. Suitable for 2 girls. Phone 2242-R.
F5-2t
2 LARGE, BRIGHT ROOMS, HEATed. Suitable for business. Pine Street. Phone 667-W.
F5-2t
3-ROOM HEATED APARTMENT with bath, and 2-room heated office. Electric stove and electric refrigerator, $90 per month. Phone 3421.
F3-3t
3 LARGE ROOMS, HEATED AND furnished. Suitable for business couple. East Hill. Phone 3-J-21.
F3-2t
FURNISHED APARTMENT. FOUR rooms, bath, heated, garage. Apply Mrs. Bell, Box 106, Ontario Intelligencer.
F2-3t
3-ROOM UNFURNISHED, HEATED, apartment. Private entrance. $25 a month. Apply Farrar Furniture, 32 - 34 Bridge St. E.
F2-3t
APARTMENT, 3 OR 4 ROOMS, 3-PC. bath. Water and utilities paid. City on Kingston Rd.
F3-3t
FURNISHED, HEATED, BEDROOM. Apply 42 Ann Ave.
F2-3t
ROOM AND BOARD IN PRIVATE home for 2 people. 179 John Street near Bridge.
F2-3t
HEATED, FURNISHED ROOM WITH bath. Suitable for 2 girls or couple. Use of home. West Hill. Close to Bus 613-J-2.
F2-3t
NICELY FURNISHED BEDROOM IN new home. Privileges. Telephone. Suitable for 2 girls. Phone 3-J-21.
F1-3t
FURNISHED ROOM, KITCHENETTE, continuous hot water. On bus line. Phone 2397-M after 5 p.m.
F2-3t
4-BEDROOM HOUSE, WEST HILL. Hardwood floors, oil heat, hot water furnace. All conveniences. Available March 1. Phone 613-J-4.
F2-3t
2-ROOMED FURNISHED HEATED apartment, 191 Bridge St. East. Suitable for 2 adults. Inquire next door.
F2-3t
COMFORTABLE, BRIGHT ROOMS for gentlemen. Use of club rooms, lounge, gymnasium, showers and swimming pool included. YM.C.A., 30 Campbell Street. Phone 615.
F27-tf

WANTED — MALE

NIGHT CLERK. NEAT APPEARance, good education. Experience not necessary. Preference to veteran. Apply in person, Royal Connaught Hotel.
DUE TO INCREASED BUSINESS, Fuller Brush Company requires additional sales representatives while training if you qualify. Phone 4242-W.
SALESMAN FOR BELLEVILLE district. Applicants should have selling experience not essential. Excellent remuneration, permanent connection, marital status, qualifications, experience and references required in letter of application. Write Box 27, Ontario Intelligencer. All replies confidential.

WANTED — FEMALE

STENOGRAPHER, SINGLE, FOR collection department in finance company. Permanent position with excellent working conditions and benefits. Our employees are aware of this advertisement. Telephone 3840.
EXPERIENCED YOUNG WOMAN for general housework. Sleep in. Good for right person. Apply 53 Bridge St. West.
WOMAN WITH CAR TO DEMONstrate Topper Wave, everything. Phone 3-J-21. Box 27, Ontario Intelligencer.
WAITRESS, EXPERT WAGES PAID. Meals included, uniforms supplied. Part only. Apply Mrs. Hamilton. Apply Belmont Restaurant.
2-ROOM APT. AVAILABLE TO PERson for night duty. Must be good mother works. Phone 4203-W.

WANTED

STUDIO COUCH. IN GOOD CONDITION. Phone 794-R-2.
TO MAKE LADY CONCERN, WILL the party who purchased a Hamilton railroad watch, engraved O'Sullivan kindly call 4367-M. Urgent.
FARM TO RENT WITH 6 OR 10 cattle rental or half-on shares. Can option to buy preferably, good suitable dairy farm. Apply Box 28, Ontario Intelligencer.
TYPING OR BOOKKEEPING TO DO in own home. Phone 3-J-21.
MARRIED LADY REQUIRES PARTtime position in grocery store, available afternoons, Saturday or all day Saturday. Apply Box 29, Ontario Intelligencer.
SCRAP IRON, PAPER, RAGS, ETC. Highest prices paid. Phone 3-J-21. Crawford Metals, 31 Station St. "Always buying and selling."
SCHOOL GIRL DESIRES BABY SITting duties. Evenings and Saturdays. Phone 2118.
YOUNG MARRIED COUPLE WISHES good farm to work on share. Child supply some cattle of own, if so desired. Reply to Box 30, Ontario Intelligencer.
YOUNG MARRIED WOMAN DEsires position after 5 p.m. Experienced sales clerk and cashier, also older other types of work. Write Box 105, Ontario Intelligencer.
2 RAILROAD BOARDERS TO SHARE room, twin beds, and laundry done. Phone 3-J-21.
SEND YOUR LETTER NOW TO "The Woman's Editor" about the test. Win a new Sunbeam automatic iron and a week's vacation for 2. Van Dusen Bros. Ltd., 329 Front Street.
PIANO. WILL STORE PIANO IN warm apt. for use of same. Phone 2344R.
USED ELECTRIC MOTORS AND hobby equipment. Phone 424-J.
LIVE POULTRY HIGHEST CASH prices paid. Call, write or phone 125 attention. Apply R. Marcia, 125 James St., Belleville. Phone 3-J-21.
M15-tf

LOST

KEY CASE, PERMIT, SATURDAY, Glen Roy Creameries. Kindly phone 784-W. Reward.
F3-2t

BUILDING CONTRACTORS

S. R. McCRORY CONSTRUCTION Company. Estimates, supply and repairs, alterations, water proofing. Insulation. Free estimates. 139 Front Street. Phone 3596.
J30-1f
WHITE LUMBER AND CONSTRUCtion Company. Complete building service. Let us add that room, garage, industrial, domestic or office to your home. 14 Front North. Phone 3477.
J30-1f

AUTOMOBILES FOR SALE

37 FORD SEDAN, NEW MOTOR. Heater. Air wheels. Very clean. Reasonable. Phone 4373-J or apply 43 Howard St. after 7.
F2-3t

PERSONALS

CRESS SUNION SALVE FOR amazing relief. Your druggist has Cress.
F1-24t

ACCOM. WANTED

TWO OR THREE BEDROOM HOUSE with basement, in or near Belleville or Trenton. Apply Box 31, Ontario Intelligencer.
F3-2t
CHRISTIAN COUPLE WITH NEWborn child urgently require 2 or 3 room unfurnished apartment at reasonable rent. Abstainers. Box 2, Ontario Intelligencer.
F3-2t
HOUSE OR APT. SUPERIOR TYPE accommodation wanted for couple and children. Excellent tenants. Write Box 47, Ontario Intelligencer.
F3-2t

BUILDING SUPPLIES

PLUMBING SUPPLIES: SINKS, bathtubs, toilets, basins, soil pipe and fittings. Priced reasonably. Buy-Rite Supply Co., 49 Station St. Phone 477.
LUMBER, SHINGLES, DOORS, sashes, millwork, basement, building hardware. Houston Company Limited, St. East. Phone 3-J-21.
J30-1f
LUMBER: ROOFING, INSULATION, siding, wallboard, plywood, sash, wood lath, doors, mouldings. Phone 1853.
Save, 2 St. Mort. 270 Front Street.

ARTICLES FOR SALE

CREAM, STEEL, VENETIAN BLIND, 24 x 72, $5. Phone 2206-R, 24 Station St.
F6-2t
SEWING MACHINE, PORTABLE electric, also Singer drop-head machine. Phone 3-J-21.
Mitchell's Sewing Machine Repair Service, 2 W. Moira.
F5
SEVEN-PC. DINING ROOM SUITE, chesterfield, chesterfield chair, all in good condition, $325. Phone 3-J-21.
F5-2t
BLUE STUDIO COUCH, NEW ELSIE covers, $30. Phone 691.
F5
SEWING MACHINE — CABELIGHT chrome finish, good condition. Mrs. Ross Wright, 18 North Park Gardens.
F5-2t
95 SAP BUCKETS AND SPILES. Phone Frankford 21-R-22.
F1-2t
GYROMIC HEATER, IN SPLENDID condition. Fire box 11½ inches. Phone 3-J-21.
F5-2t
BEATTY COPPER TUB WASHER with pump. Used little. Good condition. Famous Beatty stainless steel agitator washes 6 pairs overalls in from 6 to 8 minutes. $69.50. David's Radio Shop, 340 Front St.
F2-tf
1 REMINGTON TYPEWRITER, 3 inch carriage; Like new. Phone 2242 anytime, 9 and 5.
F2-2t
BABY CHAMP RADIO, IVORY, 6 tube with standard and short wave. Like new. Phone 3-J-21 between 5 and 10. 4 months old. Apply 87 Chatham St. Phone 3-J-21 between 5 and 10.
F2-2t
TRADE IN YOUR OLD ELECTRIC iron on a new Sunbeam or Steam Queen. Will be allowed on price of a new iron. Van Dusen Bros. Ltd., 329 Front St.
J19-tf
NEW AND USED BATH TUBS, baths, sinks, hot water tanks, all kinds of new and used plumbing supplies. Soil pipe and fittings, threadings. Rockburn Plumbing & Heating.
J15-tf
SEE THE NEW BEATTY STAINLESS steel washer at David's Radio Shop, 340 Front St. Let us show you this outstanding washer tomorrow.
J15-tf

Two Inspectors Claim Cruelty Shown Horses

Brantford, Ont., Feb. 6—(CP)—Lumber camp operators in the Algoma district are accused of widespread cruelty to working horses, in reports compiled by two inspectors of the Ontario Humane Society.

"Conditions today are 100 per cent worse than they were a year ago," said Leslie Leivers, a member of the society, while Mr. and Col. George Reid, head of the society, will see Agriculture Minister Kennedy in Toronto next week to lay the information before him.

"Mr. Kennedy asked us to come back with the facts," Mr. Leivers said. "I found evidence any other part of the province has such a cruelty record as many of these lumber camps."

The reports cover visits made to 28 camps. Eleven of the camps were described as in bad shape so far as care of work horses was concerned. Seven horses were ordered destroyed. One owner will be brought into court on a cruelty charge this week.

At five camps, the horses were without food, and one owner had no feed except for his animals. In three camps, harness had been repaired so often with bailer twine or wire was cutting the horses. Twice collars were found choking animals. In one camp the owner abandoned two horses in the bush.

"If these are the conditions that exist in the camps we are able to reach, one can only imagine what conditions are in those camps we can't get into," Mr. Leivers said in his report.

"The government gets revenue from these lumber companies and should give some support to our work. We intend asking the government for financial assistance."

Reid, a veteran of 30 years in Algoma district, to cover all of them would take more money than the society possesses, he said. But the society's objective is to reach every camp.

"Our inspectors have found good camps, and we are glad to find them and give them credit. One civil picture is worse than ever," Mr. Leivers said.

"THE THING"

Holy Island, England —(CP)— By tradition residents of this island off the Northumberland coast refuse to use the word "rabbit." They call it "the thing." A shopkeeper here is Mr. Pigg on the mainland but to the islanders he is Mr. Thing.

REFRESHER COURSES

Durban, South Africa —(CP)— African chiefs are to have refresher courses on their role as tribal rulers, the courses to be held at Eshowe, Zululand, will be designed to improve the knowledge of chiefs and subchiefs in administration, hygiene and agriculture.

W-A-N-T-E-D
Experienced Bookkeeper capable of taking charge of office.
Apply: Box 27
ONTARIO INTELLIGENCER

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE

ON BOSWELL, NEW BUNGALOW, 5 rooms, 4 bedrooms, oil heated. $4,500.
SHELLY STREET, NEW BUNGALOW, 5 rooms, hot water heating, hardwood floors. $6,500.
NORMA MONTGOMERY
Belleville — Phone 1170 F6
$4,975. 6-ROOM STUCCO HOUSE. Same is clean and good state of decoration.
$7,350. 5-ROOM MODERN BUNGALOW, hardwood floors, oil heat, garage. Down payment $2,300. Balance monthly.
$9,500. GOOD 6-ROOM BRICK home, large living room, dining room, kitchen, 2 bedrooms, 4-pc. bath, full basement, laundry tubs and furnace.
$11,900. VERY NICE BUNGALOW. Every modern convenience, hot water heating, oil burner, fully landscaped.
ERIC COOPER
Real Estate — General Insurance
238 Bridge St. E. Phone 4623
F5-tf

THREE BEDROOM BRICK BUNGALOW, East Hill, large living room and kitchen, full basement, tile bathwith many trees. Call today to see this pleasant home. Down payment $2,500.
MODERN THREE BEDROOMS, LIVing room, dining room, kitchen and bath, full basement, good location, hot water heating. Down payment $2,500.
NEW RANCH TYPE BRICK BUNGALOW, hardwood floors throughout, oil heated.
THREE BEDROOM BRICK BUNGALOW, large living room and kitchen, full basement, oil burner, hot water heating.
NORTH SIDE, 3 BEDROOM BRICK BUNGALOW, hardwood floors.
HIGHLAND AVE. SOLID BRICK 4-BEDROOM HOME, hot water heating.
DUFFERIN AVE. RADIANT HEATED BUNGALOW, 3 bedrooms. $15,000.
VICTORIA AVE. LUXURIOUS 4-bedroom home. Immediate possession.
WEST HILL, 4-BEDROOM BRICK home, 2 fireplaces, hot water heating.
RIDLEY COLLEGE AREA, FRANK Jarvis. $23 price. $4,500.
EAST HILL, 4-BEDROOM HOME, low recreation room, garage. $10,500.
BRIDGE ST. EAST, 4 BEDROOMS, hot water heating. $14,500.
EAST HILL, MODERN 3-BEDROOM, Ginaw room, many extras. $13,500.
SMALL 4-ROOM BUNGALOW, ON Bridge St. East. $4,500. Terms.
WE HAVE MANY OTHER EXCLUsive listings.
R. J. SAUNDERS
Real Estate Exchange
219 Front St.
East Basement Block
Phone 2349
D. J. Whalen, Salesman, 4081-J
F5-6-8-9

PIANOS BOUGHT — SOLD

ALL MAKES TUNED AND REPAIRED
With Prompt and Efficient Service
R. H. TYRER
FRANKFORD Phone 13-R-22

PAINTING and PAPERHANGING
CLEAN WORKMEN — GO ANYWHERE — PROMPT SERVICE
KEITH CHAMBERS
PHONE 499 MADOC
REVERSE CHARGES

WANTED TO BUY

House on Pinnacle or Coleman Streets
State Price and Location.
Apply: BOX 12
ONTARIO INTELLIGENCER

PAINTING and PAPERHANGING DECORATING
COUNTRY and CITY
Phone 1120
H. EATON

MUIR'S ROOFING and FLOORING

GENERAL REPAIRS
98 PINE STREET
PHONE 1288

FOR SALE

6-ROOM BUNGALOW
Close to downtown — WEST HILL — fully insulated. Immediate possession. Low taxes.
$3800.00
Will accept a late model car as down payment.
WRITE: BOX 107
ONTARIO INTELLIGENCER

NOTICE

Notice is hereby given to the municipal electors of the Township of Tyendinaga that, in accordance with the statutes on that behalf, I have appointed Monday, the 19th day of February, at the Township Hall, Melrose, on Monday, February 12, 1951, at the hour of One o'clock p.m. for the purpose of nominating a fit and proper person to represent the said municipality in the Legislature of Ontario as a member of the Twenty-second Parliament. And I do hereby further notify the electors aforesaid that, if a poll be required, the same will be opened on Thursday, the 22nd day of February, 1951, between the hours of nine o'clock in the forenoon and five o'clock in the afternoon of the same day.
And I do hereby further notify the electors aforesaid that I have appointed the Township Hall, Marysville and Road in the said Township of Tyendinaga, on Monday, February 19th and will be open from 2 o'clock p.m. to 6 o'clock p.m. and no longer.
Given under my hand this 2th day of February, 1951.
J. J. CALLAHAN,
Returning Officer.
F5

NOTICE TO CREDITORS AND OTHERS

IN THE ESTATE OF ELIZABETH FALLON, Widow, Deceased.
All persons having claims against the estate of the above named deceased who died on or about the 11th day of January, 1951, at the City of Belleville are hereby required to send by mail or deliver to the undersigned on or before the 15th day of March, 1951. After the said date the executors will distribute the assets of the said deceased only to claims of which notice has been given.
Dated at Belleville this 2nd day of February, 1951.
CAMERON & SPRAGUE,
P. O. Box 278,
Belleville Bank Building.
Belleville, Ontario.
Solicitors for the Executors.
F6-13-20

AUCTION SALE

Friday, February 9th, starting at 1 o'clock sharp, at the farm of Lloyd Badgley, Sidney, half-way between Frankford and Wooler. Lot 5, Con. 1. Sidney. The following will be served at noon by a ladies' auxiliary: 1 team horses, weighing 2 head seven; 11 shoats; one 90 tons hay; 100 bushels of oats; 1 Massey-Harris tractor on rubber, blows, 3 furrow; 1 Massey-Harris manure loader; one John Deere corn binder; one tractor, two wheel on rubber; one Massey-Harris 3 furrow plough; one set of harrows; one set of single harrows; one set of double harrows; one land roller; one 2 section set of land wheel harrows; one 2 section set of land wheel harrows; one 2 section set of land wheel harrows

TRYST

By Elswyth Thane

"He contemplated the only answer in the world. If Aunt Effie could somehow be convinced that he was no longer in the house. But merely for him to keep still and not upset Della was not enough. If he could somehow operate himself publicly from Nine Farthing, Sabrina might be allowed to stay on there in peace.

By taking the earliest possible bus next morning Hilary arrived home before the others, who travelled by car after breakfast.

When Sabrina ran up to his room he was already there, and it never occurred to her that he hadn't left it. He could tell by her face that last night's false security still existed. He wondered how long that would last.

Father gave it away at luncheon, by announcing that he had arranged to take rooms in Wells for the next month at least, instead of going to Rhyll with them tomorrow.

"Tomorrow!" said Sabrina incredulously.

"I shall be able to use the Wells library then, until my book is ready for the printer," Father explained.

"But you said I didn't have to go!" cried Sabrina. "Aunt Effie your promised!"

"I promised about Switzerland" Aunt Effie conceded cautiously. "But when I thought you were going, I made arrangements to give up the lease here."

"What!"

"This week."

"Pint—" Sabrina looked blankly from one to the other.

"I wasn't going to tell you just yet," admitted Aunt Effie. "Not until you were rested, that is, but now that you know, you might as well start packing directly after luncheon. I thought with luck we might catch the 3 o'clock train in the morning. Your father wants the car left here, of course."

"Then it's over," said Sabrina hopelessly, not looking at them. "I've lost for ever."

"What dear? We thought of looking at places at the seaside for a month later on. Just you and me and Bella, you'd like that wouldn't you?"

"That Swiss school," said Sabrina, looking down at her plate. "Was it a convent?"

"Why —on," said Aunt Effie. "I was thinking it need be no nice to be a nun," said Sabrina simply, as though talking to herself.

"What!" said father, so that Aunt Effie jumped and dropped her fork. "You, dear born here, Sabrina—a fellow you've never seen goes and dies out in India and you want to be a nun! That's nonsense. You're going to forget all about it at once—forget this house and everything in it! I don't know when I've been so unreasonable," he added more quietly, smitten by her smallness and whiteness, so motionless in her chair. "But I expect my daughter to grow up into a sane, healthy-minded woman, with the right ideas about marriage and children. There's no reason on earth why I shouldn't see you married to some decent fellow and safely a mother before I die."

"Was she happy with you?" asked Sabrina in the dead silence which enveloped his final world.

"Naturally she was," said Father, without hesitation, but his eyes as they rested on his daughter were guarded and hostile and bleak. "Why shouldn't she have been?"

"When why did she die?" queried Sabrina unreasonably, and there was a small gasp from Aunt Effie at the other end of the table.

"Because she had a fall just before you were born," he stated with brutal simplicity. "You were born too soon. It killed her."

"Alan—!" Aunt Effie faltered into silence as that bleak, angry gaze came round to her.

"Sabrina's old enough to know these things," he asserted. "You should have told her long ago."

Sabrina left the table without a word, and went to her room and sat down there, sick and cold and faint. Her face felt rigid and drawn, as though she had never smiled, and never would again.

Muffin came and got into her lap, digging in his claws, but she took no notice of him.

When Aunt Effie came up at tea time, bringing a large sultana cake, Sabrina rose mechanically and began as requested to fill it with the contents of the chest of drawers. Aunt Effie noticed with relief that at least she wasn't crying, and went away again, more or less on tiptoe.

Sabrina came down to dinner when she was called, and sat through the meal in silence, staring at her food, deaf to remonstrances. After dinner she went back to her room and began to walk up and down the floor aimlessly, her hands locked together.

About 10 o'clock Aunt Effie looked in the door and advised her to get a good sleep as they had to be up early tomorrow. Obediently Sabrina undressed and got into bed.

It was 7 o'clock when she woke Doggedly she washed her face and brushed her hair and dressed herself and laid out her toilet things and nightgown away in the dressing case and went down to breakfast. Her head felt very hot and much too big, her hands were icy, and her knees wobbled. All her will power was in her stoic mind. She must eat that awful meal, she set dry eyed, chin down a cup of hot tea. It was no good behaving like a baby, making scenes. And she mustn't look a fright with crying when she went up to tell Hilary goodby.

When Father and Aunt Effie rose from the breakfast table she rose too and climbed the two flights to Hilary's room shakily, holding to the bannisters all the way.

Hilary had been pondering the matter of self exorcism, and arriving nowhere. At last he consulted the dictionary without much hope.

"Exorcise: to clear (a person or place) of evil spirits; to purify or set free from malignant influences." he read.

All this rather hurt his feelings and got him no further. Evil spirits were not malignant he consoled "exorcise" was the wrong term.

But the idea was growing on him that Sabrina, since she was making herself ill and unhappy, must be encouraged to get clear of the whole thing, including himself, if she could at least for a time. He had decided not to attempt to interfere with her departure, nor influence her to continue her futile fight to be near him. This meant loneliness and readjustment of his days at Nine Farthing, but he felt it would be best for her.

Conceivably, she would find her own way back to him some day, by the home she would have a bad name—he would see to that—and herself would be allowed to have it to themselves. A long, long wait for him, perhaps; years of unmeasured time in endless solitude. Presumably he would grow no older. And she? Sabrina—old!

Suddenly he was more afraid for Sabrina than he had ever been for himself in a perilous lifetime. What was ahead for her? Where would she turn in her loneliness and confusion? They would encourage her to marry some fool like George or like her father. She would be frightened—she would not understand —she would not know that he was waiting—she would make mistakes and be miserable. . . .

The same sort of panic he had known that night at the club, when he heard his own death announced by Denby, welled up in him again, as he beat frantically against the invisible barriers of his own helplessness. Anything could happen to Sabrina now, and he was powerless even to catch her tears on his lips. It set him pacing the floor, at grips once more with immense will to man that have to rescue Sabrina, setting out alone into the world again, lost, betrayed, bewildered. And he had to let her go. There was no way to keep her here, and he had no right to try. Oh, God, keep her safe— you meant her to be safe. Then he was suddenly reconsolance had shown him that departure was imminent, but he was not quite prepared for her stricken look and feverish eyes, now that she stood leaning against the closed door as though she had no strength left to stand alone.

"But you haven't lost me, you know," he told her reassuringly, like a man who puts aside his own anxieties to soothe a sick child. "I'll see to reading luggage labels, I know exactly where you'll be in London. I'll keep track of things always. You must feel like this. I don't know yet what happens, but this isn't the end, you can be sure of that—"

White-faced, silent, defiant in her fearlessness, she stood looking at him, and, starting at the mantelpiece, began to tend it for the last time; picked a fallen rose petal from beneath the vase on the mantelshelf—with her handkerchief wiped an imaginary speck of dust from a silver candlestick—straightened the silk cushion in the chair where the book about ghosts had lain—adjusted a fold of the curtain beside the sunny window —set where Muffin loved to lie—cast a critical eye over the immaculate polished surface of the desk, setting the blotter true by the fraction of an inch—touched lightly with a caress one of the spiking book-ends he had bought highly of—moved on into the bed room end and paused at the high best of drawers to straighten Alice's picture. And as she turned away from it, with the tears in her eyes fell on the collar box beside the silver frame.

The collar box. Her mind flew back to the day of the treasure hunt, when the loose catch had first interested her, exploring drawers—winged collars for evening wear—and in the centre space something small and flat, a round cold, like a snake. .

"Sabrina," said Hilary apprehensively, watching from across the room.

She stretched out both hands to the collar box, drew it forward to the edge, and opened the lid. A silver pin through her and she saw again the little black gun in its rest. To think she had almost forgotten it, when perhaps it was the answer to everything. Perhaps that was why it was here. Surely if she died now, here, in the room, Hilary's arms would close round her at last. And then she needn't leave him —ever. . . .

"Sabrina, don't touch it— it's loaded—it will go off—"

She laid hold of the handle firmly—cold, like a snake— and lifted the gun out of the box.

"Sabrina, you've got to hear me! Put it back! You've got to go on living—even if you seem to lose touch with me—"

Inevitably her finger found the safety catch and pressed it with a small click.

"But they're right, Sabrina, I'm not good for you! You'll grow up, you'll live your life, and then when it's fate we'll be together again. Sabrina—don't—!"

She did not hear him. She had never heard him. She was looking down at the gun in her hand, fearlessly now with a sort of curiosity. Slowly the muzzle was turning in towards her body.

Caution, prudence, reason, all left him in a rising terror of losing her forever. Moving instinctively on the split second as he had done a hundred times in his life before, he lunged across the room and knocked the gun on to the floor by sweeping his hand through hers—so that she was left staring at her empty fingers and at the gun where it lay on the carpet at the edge of the bed.

"Hilary!" she whispered, and her frenzied eyes searched the room again minutely, without success.

"I had to stop you," he said apologetically. "There is some sort of pattern. Don't ever meddle with it."

"Hilary, wherever you are, you've got to come back and help me!"

"I did come back," he said.

"Don't let them do this to me! Don't let them take me away! I'm safe here With you — I'm afraid to go—"

"I know, sweetheart—I know." "Afraid, afraid, Hilary, can't you hear? Dreadful things can't happen to me here—please let me stay!"

"Not like that, Sabrina — that won't help."

"You don't answer," she said hopelessly, and put both hands to her throbbing temples. "I can't hear you. You won't help me. What shall I do?"

Aunt Effie's voice, too bright, too brisk, too firmly implying that all was well with the world, floated up the stairs.

"Sabrina! We're waiting!"

"What shall I do?" she said again, between her hands.

There was no answer he could give but silence. He withdrew backwards to the window seat, feeling with infinite care, and sat down there remotely, striving now to eradicate himself from her consciousness, now that one moment's reckless contact. He had done all he could, he did not dare do more.

She gazed about her a moment longer forlornly. She went to the desk and picked up his little brown pipe with caressing fingers.

"Could I take this with me?" she said. "Hilary—please?"

But he sat very still on the window seat, cutting himself off from her deliberately.

Aunt Effie called again, from the foot of the stairs.

"Sabrina! Your father's in a hurry!"

With a sigh she replaced the pipe on the desk and left the room empty-handed, shoulders drooping, head bent.

A docile automatism, she collected her hat and coat and bag from Della's bidding and went down to where the car was waiting. Hilary—please!

PROBABILITIES
Thursday: Sunny, colder. Low zero, high 15.

The Ontario Intelligencer

TEMPERATURES
Max. Min.
Today 37 31.5
One Year Ago 22 3
Snow and Rain: 19 inch.

Authorized as Second Class Mail, Post Office Department, Ottawa.

BELLEVILLE, ONTARIO, WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 7, 1951

5c Per Copy, 25c Per Week

82 KILLED AS TRAIN PLUNGES OVER TRESTLE

Allied Tank Units Advance to Hills Guarding Seoul

Reds Digging in for New Stand South of City

Russian Charges Of US Aggression Rejected by U.N.

By MAX HABBELSON

Lake Success, Feb. 7 (AP) — The United Nations political committee today overwhelmingly rejected Russia's charges that the United States had committed aggression against China.

Only the five Soviet bloc countries voted to support the charges. Forty-nine countries opposed the proposal. Yugoslavia, Burma and Indonesia abstained.

Russia's charges of aggression were based upon the presence of the U.S. Seventh Fleet in the Strait of Formosa.

The 80-country committee also turned down a Soviet demand that the Security Council be asked to prevent the U.S. Air Force attacks on Chinese territory. The U.S. has contended the U.N. forces in Korea have dropped some bombs on Chinese territory accidentally and has offered to pay damages.

The vote on the second resolution was five to forty, 30 against and two (Afghanistan and Yugoslavia) abstaining.

The committee's action disposed of the Soviet-Canadian declarations which were levelled at the U.S. while the U.N. considered similar accusations against propagandist North Korea and communist China.

A motion will be made this afternoon to suspend indefinitely consideration of an American item on the future status of Formosa. This will complete the committee's agenda carried over from last fall.

Cold Wave Heads For Southern, Eastern States

Chicago, Feb. 7 — (AP) — A cold wave, arrival date by weather bureau forecasters, moved from northwest winds, covered most of the central part of the United States today and headed for the southern and eastern states.

Temperatures dropped to as low as 23 degrees below zero in the Red Lake Falls, Minn., area.

The weather bureau in Washington issued cold-wave warnings for Ohio, Kentucky, Tennessee, West Virginia and Western Pennsylvania today. Much colder weather was forecast for the Atlantic states for tonight and Thursday.

Forecasters said the fresh outbreak of cold air was not as severe as that which gripped the weather which hit the midwest, sending temperatures to 40 below zero.

While the midwest shivered in the sub-zero weather, most of the east and south enjoyed comparatively mild temperatures.

THE WEATHER

Toronto, Feb. 7 (CP) Synopsis: Snow fell in the last night and today except near the shores of Lake Erie and Lake Ontario where some rain was reported. The disturbance causing the widespread snowfall has now moved eastward to Quebec. In the wake of this storm bitterly cold air is again moving into Ontario. By Thursday temperatures will have dropped almost as far as the zero mark of the last week. Skies will clear in this cold air except in the lee of the Lake Huron.

Tokyo, Feb. 7 — (AP)—Allied ground forces smashed forward today with three powerful tank columns to the last hills guarding the plains of shattered Seoul.

American infantrymen drove reds from a hill three miles west of Anyang. Forty reds were bayoneted and another 50 shot in full back as they fled.

The Chinese and Korean reds were digging in for a new stand on the ridges just south of Seoul. At their backs was the Han river, still an ice-covered way of retreat for the reds but now on the verge of thawing.

On the central front, United Nations forces with South Korean aid in the lead pushed northward toward the old parallel 38 border.

On the east coast, Korean forces secured high ground three miles east and west of five miles south of Kangnung, a coastal road town 17 miles south of 38. Allied naval power blasted the reds in Kangnung itself.

Regain Initiative

The whole complexion of the war had shifted since Feb. 1 when the Allies had regained the initiative in their 14-day-old "limited" offensive and the reds were giving ground.

Allied artillery was in position to pour shells into the old Korean capital of Seoul, abandoned Jan. 4 for the second time in the Korean war by anti-communist forces.

The drive straight up the centre of Korea was pushed by five columns. It threw off Belgian-led North Korean 5th Corps which had massed along the Hoengsong-Hoengsan highway for a possible renewal of the red drive down the valley centre of South Korea.

The first striking forces fanned out from Hoengsong, about 50 miles east of Seoul, and pushed South Korean and American patrols ranged within five miles of Hongchon, a junction 20 miles east of 38.

Red Casualties Mount

Allied planes roared down low and artillery thundered, piling up the toll of red casualties which had passed the 50,000-mark in the 16-day action.

The Chinese, building their new defence line just south of the Han, were being reinforced constantly across the frozen river on plank bridging. All the steel bridges spanning the river that runs through Seoul's southern outskirts were down.

Terrifying Screams Heard Above Crunching, Grinding of Twisted Steel

(By CHARLES F. CAPALDO and FRANCES LEARNED)

Woodbridge, N.J., Feb. 7—(AP) —A bright-red commuter train flashed toward New Jersey's north shore residential area last night.

It was coming over the new trestle. Then . . .

A quiet section of town, a tempting stretch of track and a grinding, tearing crash in the winter night.

Silence—just a billowing cloud of dust and dirt mingled with searing steam from the Pennsylvania Railroad Express—followed by piercing, chilling cries.

Eighty persons died. Those who survived the crash were extremely lucky.

Mrs. Isabella Carlington of Asbury Park is one of these.

"I was thrown out of the window, smashing my face and landed in three feet of mud. A man's leg was lying alongside of me and I got up and fled," she said.

Mrs. Josephine Rydon, clutching a bloodied rag to her head, said she was saved "by landing on a big pile of dead."

They talked as acetylene torches bit their way through twisted metal in the grim aftermath of floodlights.

"It happened so quickly that nobody had time to shield their faces," said Cavanaugh of Sea Girt added.

"A few minutes nearly cut in half by glass splinters . . . the man next to me lost his arm. . . ."

Then what of those who didn't get out?

Most were business men, tired from the day's work. Others were office girls, secretaries, women shoppers, some kind of folks you'll find on any commuter train.

But when the crash came:

"Like a bunch of wild animals trying to free themselves from upset cages," was the way Arthur Lee described his car.

"People were clawing and punching each other to get clear of the wreckage. I saw one woman go down on the floor; I think she was trampled to death."

A pitiful line of wives and mothers and fathers and relatives crowded morgues and hospitals for word of loved ones.

Others—the legion of the waiting, awaiting telephone calls from some word—sat and hoped miles from the scene.

GOVT. UNDER FIRE FOR FIRST TIME IN LEGISLATURE

Frost Criticizes Curb on House Loans

Toronto, Feb. 7—(CP)— Ontario's Progressive Conservative government comes under fire today for the first time this session when opposition leader E. B. Jolliffe launches the Throne Speech debate.

It is expected the C.C.F. leader will consider his address by moving a vote of non-confidence in the government. Premier Frost will reply for the government, a vote on Mr. Jolliffe's motion, however, will not come until the end of the Throne Speech debate, which is expected to extend beyond a week.

Mr. Jolliffe yesterday:

1. Heard Premier Frost express "entire disagreement" with a federal government decision to curb housing loans.

2. Was given a liquor control board report showing $196,790,174 in beer, wine and liquor sold in the fiscal year ended March 31, 1950.

3. Was told by the premier that the government's horse racing controls were hampered because it has no jurisdiction over gambling at race tracks.

Mr. Frost termed a "retrograde step" the 25-per-cent reduction in building loans under the National Housing Act announced by Federal Reconstruction Minister Winters Monday.

"Of all things to cut back, I think housing should be the last," the premier said. The federal government should have instituted a priorities system, rather than reduce housing loans.

Liquor Sales Up

The Liquor Control Board report, tabled by Provincial Secretary Welsh showed sales of $88,816,695 in liquor, $31,300,232 in beer and $4,383,272 in wine. The liquor sales were up 7.1 per cent over the previous year's total.

(Continued on Page 9)

20 Firemen Hurt Battling Blazing Gasoline Tank

Houston, Feb. 7 — (AP) — A spectacular gasoline fire along the Houston ship channel was brought under control today after it burned an all-night fight by nearly 200 firemen. About 20 firemen were injured.

Flames rose 300 feet in the air after a gasoline grass fire set fire to a 24,500 - gallon gasoline tank last night.

R. C. N. Coming up With New Type of Small Fighting Ship To Defend Harbors, Waters

Ottawa, Feb. 7 — (CP) — The navy is coming up with a new type of small fighting ship as a key factor in defence of Canadian harbor and coastal waters, especially against midget submarines.

The Canadian - designed ship, informed a seaward defence vessel, is an integral part of plans announced by Defence Minister Claxton to bring a 100-ship, 20,000-man navy into being within the next three years, roughly a doubling of manpower and tripling of existing ship strength.

Fulfilment of those plans would, it is believed, rank Canada fourth as an Atlantic Pact navy behind Britain, the United States, and probably France. In the last war, the Canadian Navy at its peak had 95,000 men and 375 warships.

The core of the expanded peacetime navy will be 23 destroyers and destroyer - size anti-submarine escort vessels. The new seaward defence craft would be the smallest league but it will fit nicely into the character of the RCN, for as a small-ship, anti-sub navy preparing for coastal and convoy protection in war.

The character of the navy isn't being changed by the new program. It is simply being strengthened for the role it has been assigned since 1945. None of the new ships to be built will be larger than destroyers. About 14 ships will be the $6,000,000 anti-sub escort vessels, seven now ordered.

There will be no new aircraft carriers or cruisers beyond recommissioning of the Uganda, now in mothballs at Esquimalt, B. C.

A considerable amount of the new program will be devoted to the seaward defence craft, which will be something similar to the dashing little British motor torpedo boats used for close-in attack in the last war and the Halifax, 110-foot motor craft which Canada used as sub-hunters.

But the Throne Speech also hints, but it is understood the ships will be used to stand guard outside harbors and in important approach waters such as the St. Lawrence River and the straits around Vancouver Island.

The new ship type indicates that Canadian yards will get orders for between 30 and 40 more ships than the 37 now on order.

Jail Matron Says She Noticed 'Very Nasty-Looking Bruise' On Accused's Left Upper Arm

Ottawa, Feb. 7 (CP) — A jail matron testified in court today that as far as she knew, Mrs. Marion Sullivan did not suffer a fall from her prison cell in the week she was under arrest.

Mrs. Phyllis J. Neale, night-duty matron at the Carleton County jail, testified in the Ontario Supreme Court trial of the 49-year-old Ottawa housewife, charged with manslaughter in the death of her lawyer husband.

Previous testimony was that a police woman noticed several bruises and scratches on Mrs. Sullivan's body, early Nov. 19 when she was charged with murder. The charge later was reduced to manslaughter. Mrs. Sullivan spent a week in jail before she was released on $2,000 bail. Mrs. Sullivan's Explanation

Mrs. Neale said Mrs. Sullivan explained the bruises by stating that she'd "guess" she received them in a tumble from her cot, but the jail matron said she probably would have heard anyone tumbling from her cot while she was on night duty.

Mrs. Neale said she noticed a "very nasty-looking bruise" on Mrs. Sullivan's upper left arm on the morning of Nov. 22 last.

The matron was the 33rd Crown witness to be called in the trial, arising out of Crown allegations that Francis J. Sullivan struck Mrs. Sullivan on the head and body before he died in a Chateau Laurier Hotel bedroom late Nov. 17 or early Nov. 18.

Another Crown witness, Miss Vera Vincent, of Kingston, Ontario medico-legal laboratory analyst, said she examined towels in the room. She found the hotel bedroom and found stains on a bathroom towel, a face and towels, a large bath towel, a bed mat, a bed sheet and a strip of bed sheeting.

Yesterday, police woman Edna Harry said she searched the bedroom after the death early Nov. 19. In doing so, she noticed large bruises on the upper left arm, three marks which appeared to be scratches on the right shoulder and bruises on the right limbs.

Mrs. Crowe today questioned another jail matron, Mrs. Bernice Moore, in order to obtain more detail of the bruises.

Mrs. Moore told the court she accompanied Mrs. Sullivan downstairs from the jail cell on the 3rd floor when Mrs. Sullivan grumbled and slumped down on the stairs and remarked to the matron: "It is so easy to be injured."

Britain Orders Large Number Of Jet Planes

London, Feb. 7—(AP)—Britain has ordered "very large numbers" of faster jet planes than any now in service with the R.A.F., the House of Commons was told today.

Air Secretary Arthur Henderson said he also hopes to disclose soon whether this country will obtain some of America's 87 Sabre jet fastest fighter plane now in regular military use.

(The plane now is being built at the Canadair Ltd. plant in Montreal for the R.C.A.F.)

Henderson told parliament last week a proposal for obtaining F86s was "under examination". The Sabre jet is rated at about 670 miles an hour.

Prime Minister Attlee told the House last week Britain has placed orders for a new four-engined jet bomber still on the secret list.

In reply to questions, Henderson said this is a "long-distance high-altitude" plane. He gave no further details.

Britain also is rushing production of a two-engined jet bomber, the Canberra. The U.S. air force is thinking of buying some of this type.

Court Splits up Prison Life Of Two Men

Kitchener, Ont., Feb. 7 — (CP) Magistrate J. R. H. Kirkpatrick today sentenced two men convicted of the same theft to separate institutions. The men, Gilbert Dalton, 21, and William A. Delaney, 25, pleaded guilty to the $1,500 safecracking robbery of the Lyric Theatre safe here early Jan. 26. Both are from Hamilton and formerly lived in Timmins.

Larivier was sentenced to two years less a day in the Ontario Reformatory and Delaney was given two years in penitentiary on charges of shopbreaking and theft.

In passing sentence the magistrate remarked "by splitting you up in this manner, you may get a better chance to rehabilitate yourselves."

The men were arrested in a Toronto hotel Jan. 29 when a hotel detective noticed them carrying a large amount of money in a dirt while tidying the room.

TRAVELLED LONG WAY

Peterborough, Feb. 7 — (CP) — Milman Willacy Crowe estimated Tuesday that he had travelled more than 100,000 miles in the 20 years he has been covering his 54-mile rural route.

PROPOSED AERIAL STRENGTH UPHELD IN PARLIAMENT

Wartime Air Minister Supports Government

Ottawa, Feb. 7 (CP) — Canada's wartime air minister told the Commons last night that he "leaves the government's proposals to boost this country's aerial strength.

Hon. C. G. Power, who broke with the cabinet in 1944 over a decision to conscript men for overseas service, said he approves the plan for a 40-squadron air force. But the government's five-year program is a long way towards winning another war.

But he wondered whether the people were satisfied with this comprehensive of air power.

He added:

"I say that because during the Second World War there were persons in this country and in the United States of Commons who, notwithstanding the achievements of our air force, were not convinced that Canada was doing her part in the war until the casualty lists started coming in from Italy."

Mr. Power also highlighted a sagging Throne-Speech debate.

Before he stepped into the debate, another Liberal — David Croll from Toronto Spadina — was on the dangers of rearming western Germany. This question should be approached with the greatest caution, and the still-vivid memory of what an armed Germany cost the world in blood and tears not so many years ago."

As the debate waned, the House by a voice vote rejected a CCF motion.

(Continued on Page 9)

Brockville Teachers Receive Increases

Brockville, Ont., Feb. 7.—(CP)— The Board of Education last night approved a new scale of salaries giving Brockville teachers increases of about $500 yearly. Raises to some 70 teachers of the collegiate and public schools will amount to approximately $35,000. The increases are retroactive to Jan. 1.

The minimum salary for a public school teacher is now $1,800 and the maximum is $3,800. The minimum collegiate salary is $2,500 and the maximum is $5,000.

DROPPED 'DEAD AT FUNERAL

Nederland, Tex., Feb. 7 (AP)— Mrs. Elvina Robin, 66, collapsed dead in a funeral parlor yesterday two days after burying the body of her husband, Henry Robin, 77, who died Monday. The couple had been married 48 years.

Bounces off Tracks On Newly-Opened Piece of Railway

Engineer Blames Crowded Coaches, Road for Tragedy

By ART EVERETT and MARTIN POST

Woodbridge, N.J., Feb. 7 — (AP) — A crowded commuter train plunged off a newly-erected trestle last night, killing 82 persons and injuring about 500.

The rush-hour crackup was the worst in the United States since 1918 when 115 were killed in a Nashville, Tenn., wreck, and more disastrous than 1943 accident outside Philadelphia that took 80 lives.

It was the third major train wreck in the metropolitan area in less than a year. A total of nearly 200 died in the three crackups.

In mid-morning, the list of known dead stood at 79, with three bodies still unidentified.

On orders of New Jersey Gov. Alfred E. Driscoll, the state's attorney general, Theodore Parsons, started an investigation. He reached the scene early today, and sent an assistant in a hospital to question the critically-injured engineer of the wrecked train.

The 11 - car train — "The Broker" — bounced off the tracks with a roar and tumbled into a twisted mass of wreckage early this evening.

In Newark, the Federal Bureau of Investigation said it was investigating to determine whether sabotage was involved."

The railroad, conducting its own probe, said it could offer no immediate explanation for the cause of the wreck.

500 Injured

About 500 persons were injured as the 11-car train—"The Broker" bounced off the tracks with a roar and tumbled into a twisted mass of wreckage.

It was headed to the aisles with homebound commuters —mostly from New York—on their way to Red Bank, Long Branch, Asbury Park and other communities on New Jersey's sandy south shore.

Engineer Joseph H. Fitzsimmons, a veteran of 33 accident-free years on the road, blamed the overcrowded coaches and the new trestle for the tragedy.

Fitzsimmons said at least one railroad detective—who did not give his name—relayed word from the engineer on the speed of the train. The detective said it was going 50 to 60 miles an hour before the Broker" crashed at 5:43 p.m. EST.

The new track was swung about 50 feet from the old one to clear the way for a big highway now under construction.

The Pennsylvania said six trains passed over the new trestle safely before "The Broker."

The railroad said the trestle itself was not a factor in the accident, despite the engineer's statement.

Order Investigation

Governor Alfred E. Driscoll of New Jersey ordered an investigation to pin down the cause. The New Jersey Public Utilities Commission, at once launched a probe, as did the railroad.

Mayor August Greiner of Woodbridge said he thought the trestle buckled beneath the train's weight. But the trestle did not collapse.

(Continued on Page 9)

COMING EVENTS

WOMEN OF THE MOOSE CARD Party, Saco Club rooms, Thursday, February 7th 8.30. Good prizes. Admission 25c. Lunch admission 25c. 7f

TUESDAY'S KEY "DOUG" FROST at Alliance Tabernacle, will show pictures of the 60 days of a session of Sudan Interior Mission. Special singing. Everyone welcome. Offering to aid S.I.M. Alliance Youth Fellowship. 7f

ALL LADIES ARE INVITED TO attend Red Cross Blood Donor service in Holloway Street Church, Friday, February 9th, 2 p.m. Interdenominational.

THE PRAYER SERVICE FOR GIRLS' Auxiliary Girl Guides, Rangers, Brownies and C.O.I.T. will be held in Bridge Street United Church, February 8th, Silver collection. 7f

COMMUNITY CONCERT ASSOCIATION presents Wanda Landowska, Polish harpsichord and clavichord artist, Tuesday, February 20th, Belleville Collegiate Auditorium, 8.15 p.m. Tickets at Bell's Music Store. 7f-14

COMMUNITY CONCERT, FEBRUARY 8th, Friday, Canadian Duo (piano and cello.) 7f-14

Say Train Was Travelling Twice Authorized Speed

Woodbridge, N.J., Feb. 7 — (AP) — Authorities said today that a crowded commuter train plunged into a new trestle-bridge twice its authorized speed when it roared off the rails here last night, killing 82 persons.

Approximately 500 others were injured in the death-dealing wreck, worst in the United States in more than a quarter century.

Middlesex county Assistant Prosecutor Alex Abbr, conducting one of half-a-dozen, said the train was high-balling at 50 miles an hour on the 1,000-foot long, newly-built trestle.

He said the train's engineer, Joseph Fitzsimmons, interviewed in his hospital bed, admitted he was travelling that speed, although the railroad had ordered a 25-mile-an-hour limit over the trestle section.

Fitzsimmons was quoted as saying he had slowed down from 60 miles an hour, but had not further retarded his speed because he found no caution signal.

NEW ROCKETS TESTED

Sydney, Australia, Feb. 7 (Reuters) — Entirely-new types of guided missiles will be tried out by British experts on Australia's vast rocket range at Woomera, Sir Alec Clifton, British supply ministry expert, said yesterday. Sir Alec, chief of the ministry's guided missiles group, said: "What we are really doing is re-planting the human brain in flying machinery — and that is no mean job."

City and District News

FASHION SHOW HELD BY OPTIMIST CLUB

The fashion show held yesterday by the Optimist Club at the Capitol Theatre, was said this morning to have been a decided success by club officials. The show, held under the name of Tip Top Tailors, featured both men's and women's fashions. The apparel was displayed by professional models from Toronto in two showings, one in the afternoon and the other in the evening.

REV. H. C. SECKER GIVEN NEW APPOINTMENT

Appointment of the Rev. H. C. Secker as rector of the parish of Stirling and Frankford with Glen Miller, has been announced by the Most Rev. John Lyons, metropolitan archbishop of Ontario. Mr. Secker has resigned his post as rector of the Adolphustown parish. The change becomes effective March 1st.

BODIES OF STARVED BIRDS FOUND IN PARK

Several dead birds apparently sparrows were seen today in Victoria Park, victims of the cold and starvation. The bodies were scarcely more than feathers and bone, and were found under trees bordering the mouth of the river.

25 B.C.I. STUDENTS IN JUDGING CONTEST

Twenty-five B. C. I. F. S. students will enter the Grain Judging Competition at Stirling recently. The group competed as Juniors and were judged from the Grade IX and Grade X Agriculture classes. John McComb, G12D, won the Junior competition with a total of 746 points, and also won the coaches prize. Lyall Leavens of A10 was second place with a total of 740, and Kenneth Kerr of A10 won eighth position with a total of 721. Of the Grade IX students, Gary Cranston was first with a total of 689, while Earl Bolt, 13th place. Jack Craig and Earl Boldrick were 15th and 16th with totals of 683 and 681. This is the second year B. C. I. & V. S. students have competed in this competition, and it is expected it may become an annual event for the Agriculture classes.

NEW INSPECTOR IS INTRODUCED

A new high school inspector for the Ontario Department of Education was introduced to the Joint meeting held at the collegiate Wednesday evening, when he discuss formation of the proposed Bay of Quinte High School District. The meeting was addressed by Mr. S. D. Rendall, high school inspector and special representative of the Department of Education.

Formation of a district high school district was first proposed two years ago when it was seen that additional accommodation would be needed for students in Belleville and district attending the high school. Accommodation at the collegiate is now crowded and additional accommodations are a "must" within the next two years.

Four Solutions

Opening the meeting Mayor R. T. Potter noted that the problem was a serious one and a solution must be found for high school students. He said in conversation with Mr. Rendall he had learned that there were four possible solutions to the problem.

First, the city could remain as it is and allow the surrounding townships to build their own secondary schools. This would mean the city would receive a capital grant of 70 per cent. The move would be opposed by the city ratepayers who would disrupt the local collegiate and would be costly for the city.

Second, it was proposed was the formation of a joint electoral school board with the county to build secondary schools in the city and in the rural municipalities. Under this plan if new buildings were necessary a 35 per cent capital grant would be given. If an addition was constructed in the city and a 70 per cent grant if built in the county.

Cost Spread Over Area

If such a plan was adopted the municipality in which the school was built would have the assessment cost spread over the entire area on an assessment basis.

The Mayor said that it was expected the present provincial grants for secondary schools would be continued. Construction of the school by the township is the second solution. This would mean a yearly saving of about $12,000 in debentures.

The third solution meant the formation of a high school district with only urban municipalities appointed by the councils of the various municipalities. Each municipality would then have its own public school board while if a new school was required the same system of grants as in the second proposal would apply.

The fourth solution would be purchase of education on a contract basis. This would mean the city would continue its secondary education to the rural pupils and would mean erection of a new school on which a grant of 35 per cent would be received.

Lead to Trouble Claim

On the other hand if the township built the school a 70 per cent grant would apply and the townships could sell education to the city. This would lead to considerable trouble, it was stated.

Mr. Rendall went into further detail on the four proposals but still did not go deeply into the financial aspects of the various proposals. He suggested that a smaller committee could be formed to go into details and get facts following which the financial side of the question could be discussed. At such a time he volunteered every assistance possible.

He reviewed the formation of the present South Hastings High School District under which Sidney township and the village of Frankford were buying their education from Belleville. Included in the area is Thurlow and part of Tyendinaga and Ameliasburg townships.

Problem of Accommodation.

The system had worked very satisfactorily but now had come the new problem of accommodation, which was growing steadily more acute. The collegiate was now crowded and would be overcrowding by 1952 or 1953.

The city had guarded itself against over-crowding by advising the rural municipalities that possibly rural students could not be accommodated after a certain date, while the South Hastings High School Board had become alarmed and has to do something about the matter.

In passing Mr. Rendall noted that there were 12 other suburban school districts such as this in which the rural municipalities purchase their education from the city and which will eventually get the same problem as faced by that of providing additional accommodation.

So far, however, no so-called "suburban" area in the province has joined a district high school. Thus it was important that Belleville make a wise decision so that, generally speaking, it closely watched by other boards.

Sufficient Assessment

In discussing the possibilities of the rural municipalities constructing their own school, Mr. Rendall felt that the rural area had sufficient assessment to do this. The school constructed would have to provide accommodation for from 400 to 450 pupils. It would be a general high school not offering full technical or vocational courses. Such courses are offered and been built in the province under this plan.

On completion of the school the local collegiate would immediately lose about 400 pupils which would mean considerable room and would create a sore between the municipalities. The collegiate affected would be the vocational school, where classes must be kept overcrowded for cost-effective operation. A vocational school such as in Belleville must have roughly 500 students, it was stated.

An Invisible Wall

Under the present system of pupil grants, rural pupils would go to their own school and the same for the city. The result would be an invisible wall which would keep pupils in their own area.

On the other hand if a new school were built by the rural municipalities there would be emphasis on agriculture which possibly would be desired by the present Belleville Board.

However, Mr. Rendall advised against the rural municipalities building their own school. If Belleville was larger he would say go ahead but they could get along without the rural pupils. Also he advised against the two boards when one would do.

"In the view of constantly rising costs of education this would be wrong," he said. "Also there would be two other things to consider; the loss of full vocational education and the vulnerability of the city area to annexation. In the latter event the city would lose the rural pupils as students and assessment."

Must Co-operate

"The only way out is to cooperate wherever possible. School boards cannot pay up to $5,000 for teachers who would teach only small classes. Once again the trend is toward more pupils where fuller courses are and necessary efficiency and economy."

Mr. Rendall said that the second proposal of a joint board of education for the whole district with high school and secondary schools could be termed "going the whole hog." Such a system had its advantages in that special courses and city maintenance staffs would be available in rural public schools. He expected this proposal would be the most elementary school grants would be continued.

He did not urge such a system as some of the municipalities may possibly not be ready for it but noted that from an educational standpoint it would be ideal.

Second Choice Good

Formation of a high school board with one secondary new school to be constructed in the rural area was suggested by Mr. Rendall as "a second choice and a good choice."

Again he emphasized that present urban and rural school grants would remain the same while if the new school was built in the rural area a grant of 70 per cent in capital costs would be received as compared to 35 per cent if built in the city.

Under the fourth proposal or by contract agreement the move would be for the rural municipality to agree to purchase its education from the city for a long period of 20 debentures on the new school. With the new school constructed in the city there is only 35 per cent would be received which would mean that both urban and rural school grants would remain the same.

System Would Not Work

On the other hand the rural municipalities could build their own school and have city pupils attend classes in the country. This system would never work out unless it was thoroughly co-ordinated on engineering professional and curriculum basis.

"I feel that your solution is to the second or third proposal," Mr. Rendall said, "but possibly Belleville would study any move from the high school district because this would mean a return to a public school board."

In closing Mr. Rendall urged that all that children could be left is "a way of making a living" or a good education. In making a decision he urged that school services not be duplicated, that there be no over-lapping and that there be continued co-operation between the city and rural municipalities.

Question of High School Area Discussed at Meeting, Four Solutions Offered

Four different solutions to the problems of providing accommodation at the Belleville Collegiate Institute and Vocational School were presented at the meeting held by a joint meeting of committees representing local and district municipalities and education boards.

The meeting, held in the library of the collegiate was for the purpose of presenting facts relative to the formation of the proposed Bay of Quinte High School District. The meeting was addressed by Mr. S. D. Rendall, high school inspector and special representative of the Department of Education.

Formation of a district high school district was first proposed two years ago when it was seen that additional accommodation would be needed for students in Belleville and district attending the high school. Accommodation at the collegiate is now crowded and additional accommodations are a "must" within the next two years.

Four Solutions

Opening the meeting Mayor R. T. Potter noted that the problem was a serious one and a solution must be found for high school students. He said in conversation with Mr. Rendall he had learned that there were four possible solutions to the problem.

First, the city could remain as it is and allow the surrounding townships to build their own secondary schools. This would mean the city would receive a capital grant of 70 per cent. The move would be opposed by the city ratepayers who would disrupt the local collegiate and would be costly for the city.

Second, it was proposed was the formation of a joint electoral school board with the county to build secondary schools in the city and in the rural municipalities. Under this plan if new buildings were necessary a 35 per cent capital grant would be given. If an addition was constructed in the city and a 70 per cent grant if built in the county.

Cost Spread Over Area

If such a plan was adopted the municipality in which the school was built would have the assessment cost spread over the entire area on an assessment basis.

The Mayor said that it was expected the present provincial grants for secondary schools would be continued. Construction of the school by the township is the second solution. This would mean a yearly saving of about $12,000 in debentures.

The third solution meant the formation of a high school district with only urban municipalities appointed by the councils of the various municipalities. Each municipality would then have its own public school board while if a new school was required the same system of grants as in the second proposal would apply.

The fourth solution would be purchase of education on a contract basis. This would mean the city would continue its secondary education to the rural pupils and would mean erection of a new school on which a grant of 35 per cent would be received.

Lead to Trouble Claim

On the other hand if the township built the school a 70 per cent grant would apply and the townships could sell education to the city. This would lead to considerable trouble, it was stated.

Mr. Rendall went into further detail on the four proposals but still did not go deeply into the financial aspects of the various proposals. He suggested that a smaller committee could be formed to go into details and get facts following which the financial side of the question could be discussed. At such a time he volunteered every assistance possible.

He reviewed the formation of the present South Hastings High School District under which Sidney township and the village of Frankford were buying their education from Belleville. Included in the area is Thurlow and part of Tyendinaga and Ameliasburg townships.

Problem of Accommodation.

The system had worked very satisfactorily but now had come the new problem of accommodation, which was growing steadily more acute. The collegiate was now crowded and would be overcrowding by 1952 or 1953.

The city had guarded itself against over-crowding by advising the rural municipalities that possibly rural students could not be accommodated after a certain date, while the South Hastings High School Board had become alarmed and has to do something about the matter.

In passing Mr. Rendall noted that there were 12 other suburban school districts such as this in which the rural municipalities purchase their education from the city and which will eventually get the same problem as faced by that of providing additional accommodation.

So far, however, no so-called "suburban" area in the province has joined a district high school. Thus it was important that Belleville make a wise decision so that, generally speaking, it closely watched by other boards.

Sufficient Assessment

In discussing the possibilities of the rural municipalities constructing their own school, Mr. Rendall felt that the rural area had sufficient assessment to do this. The school constructed would have to provide accommodation for from 400 to 450 pupils. It would be a general high school not offering full technical or vocational courses. Such courses are offered and been built in the province under this plan.

On completion of the school the local collegiate would immediately lose about 400 pupils which would mean considerable room and would create a sore between the municipalities. The collegiate affected would be the vocational school, where classes must be kept overcrowded for cost-effective and efficient operation. A vocational school such as in Belleville must have roughly 500 students, it was stated.

An Invisible Wall

Under the present system of pupil grants, rural pupils would go to their own school and the same for the city. The result would be an invisible wall which would keep pupils in their own area.

On the other hand if a new school were built by the rural municipalities there would be emphasis on agriculture which possibly would be desired by the present Belleville Board.

However, Mr. Rendall advised against the rural municipalities building their own school. If Belleville was larger he would say go ahead but they could get along without the rural pupils. Also he advised against the two boards when one would do.

"In the view of constantly rising costs of education this would be wrong," he said. "Also there would be two other things to consider; the loss of full vocational education and the vulnerability of the city area to annexation. In the latter event the city would lose the rural pupils as students and assessment."

Must Co-operate

"The only way out is to cooperate wherever possible. School boards cannot pay up to $5,000 for teachers who would teach only small classes. Once again the trend is toward more pupils where fuller courses are and necessary efficiency and economy."

Mr. Rendall said that the second proposal of a joint board of education for the whole district with high school and secondary schools could be termed "going the whole hog." Such a system had its advantages in that special courses and city maintenance staffs would be available in rural public schools. He expected this proposal would be the most elementary school grants would be continued.

He did not urge such a system as some of the municipalities may possibly not be ready for it but noted that from an educational standpoint it would be ideal.

Second Choice Good

Formation of a high school board with one secondary new school to be constructed in the rural area was suggested by Mr. Rendall as "a second choice and a good choice."

Again he emphasized that present urban and rural school grants would remain the same while if the new school was built in the rural area a grant of 70 per cent in capital costs would be received as compared to 35 per cent if built in the city.

Under the fourth proposal or by contract agreement the move would be for the rural municipality to agree to purchase its education from the city for a long period of 20 debentures on the new school. With the new school constructed in the city there is only 35 per cent would be received which would mean that both urban and rural school grants would remain the same.

System Would Not Work

On the other hand the rural municipalities could build their own school and have city pupils attend classes in the country. This system would never work out unless it was thoroughly co-ordinated on engineering professional and curriculum basis.

"I feel that your solution is to the second or third proposal," Mr. Rendall said, "but possibly Belleville would study any move from the high school district because this would mean a return to a public school board."

In closing Mr. Rendall urged that all that children could be left is "a way of making a living" or a good education. In making a decision he urged that school services not be duplicated, that there be no over-lapping and that there be continued co-operation between the city and rural municipalities.

Slave Disadvantages

Alderman Wilbur Countryman asked why an addition to the present collegiate could not be built rather than the construction of a new school. He said a new school building would result in extra cost for an additional gym, for auditorium and for shops, teachers and administration. He felt that any extra grants secured through construction of a new school in the country would soon be eaten up through additional costs.

Mr. Rendall replied that the question was a good one. But larger schools had their disadvantages.

The high school meant a longer distance for students to come while on the contrary a second collegiate would not be practicable. It would mean that students could be fed in to the present one. He said he would mean that the junior pupils would be closer to parents and also the rural communities want a better deal in agriculture. He granted that agriculture courses at the city is little less if an addition were built but in any event additional staff and equipment would be needed. Also there was not sufficient room in the city for additional pupils at the collegiate.

Question Asked

Alderman Clarke asked, regarding assessment if the proposed school formed, what effect if maintenance costs would be charged according to assessment and if the present $1 million dollar assessment was 18 millions as compared to 30 millions in the rural area, which would come into the high school district.

Mr. Rendall replied that a survey would be made in detail Mr. Rendall replied that a survey view of the matter indicated that the high school district set-up would cost city about $6,000 more per year. Each pupil would cost to build and then it would save $12.- per year due to the larger grant. "I feel that Belleville would save money over the years," he said. "It would get $40 more grant per pupil and 70 percent on capital costs instead of 35 percent."

Could Not Answer

County Assessor Harry Harrison, when asked if the new high school as recommended in the Hope Commission report were built in the county Mr. Rendall could not answer the question but suggested that the city assessor he would make no mistake to have a high school district as large and as wealthy as possible within the limits of transportation and other factors.

Alderman Haig asked if a new school was built in the rural area if Alderman Countryman would have on the city school. Mr. Rendall replied that because of the withdrawal of 12 to 15 teachers until such a time as the city would grow to fill the new high school its own students. This would be a saving in the annual appropriation of between 30,000 and 35,000 persons.

Mr. Haig also asked why the difference of capital grants in the construction of new schools in the city as compared to that in the country. Mr. Rendall said the rate was partly based on the assessment of industries in any municipality but the real reason was an effort on the part of the department to keep the high school mill rate about even in city and country.

Have to be Adjustment

Arnold E. Campbell, chairman of the Belleville Board of Education, asked what would happen by the way of capital grant if a school built by the suburbs was later annexed to the city. The answer was that this was a matter, which had to be taken up but in any event there would have to be an adjustment of some kind.

Frank Cushing, Separate School representative on the Board of Education, asked what size of school would be required if one was built in the rural area and also what would be the cost.

Mr. Rendall replied that if the school was built by the rural area accommodation for about 450 pupils would be required and the cost would be roughly be $650,000. On the other hand if the school were built by the high school district accommodation for about 700 students would possibly be sufficient and the cost would be reduced to about $350,000.

"In this way," he said, "you would get the needed and the original cost would not be so heavy."

He went on to say that in this event the younger pupils could go to the rural school nearest and then later to the particular school providing the type of education required. It would mean the vocational school at the collegiate would be kept up; the new school would have general shop and agriculture and no pupil would be penalized by going to the rural school.

Committee Set Up

Following the question period,

Former Printer of City Recalls Early Difficulties With Floods

James (Jim) McKenna, of Syracuse, N.Y., looked through the window of the Ontario Intelligencer composing room this morning and swept a quick glance over the ice-locked docks, and then started delving into his memory.

Belleville-born Mr. McKenna was formerly a pal of Printer Merrill with the old Belleville Sun and later worked on the job department of the Intelligencer. He is on a brief visit to the city and district renewing old acquaintances, among them Mr. Charles Hardwick, foreman of the Ontario Intelligencer composing room staff.

"That ice-filled river," he said, "reminds me of the time back in 1900 when we had one of the big floods. I was working at the Sun office located on the site of the present home of the Royal Bank, "when the force of the water and ice broke the main water pipe in the river bed and cut off all to the eastern part of the city."

"We in the Sun were held up, but fortunately the Intelligencer Church, was also flooded at first day. Then we had to turn the paper by hand. Charlie Henry and Joe Gibson handled a big crank and slowly wound the big handle. This went on for a week or more."

Mr. McKenna recalled the staff of the Sun of that day, Bill Rees was job foreman, Bob Thompson pressman and foreman. News editor was Dick Bell, Jack Dempsey a reporter and Cameron Brown manager.

PICTON

Fall From Mow Proves Fatal To O. W. Carson

Picton — Critically injured as a result of a fall Monday from a haymow at the farm where he was employed, Orval W. Carson, 53, East Lake Road, died shortly after in the Picton hospital. He suffered a severe head injury.

Mr. Carson had been employed on the farm of George Collier for the past 10 years. He had been working with Mr. Collier in the barn and had just finished the throw down some hay. A short time later he was found unconscious on the floor of the barn. He had fallen about 11 feet.

A native of Prince Edward county, Mr. Carson was unmarried. He is survived by three brothers and a sister. The funeral was held Thursday with interment being made in Kar Cemetery at North Gower.

Mayor Potter asked that a special meeting be set up to go into detail so that a decision could be made before June 30th. Aldermen Haig and Clarke moved that the represent city council with Arnold E. Campbell, representing the board of education. Reeves of the various townships affected and the chairman of the high school boards would also be included on the committee.

The date March 15th was set as a tentative date for a further meeting to go into details on the matter.

SIMPLE FLAG

Venezuela's national flag has three horizontal stripes of equal width—yellow, blue and red.

Obituary

GERALD A. ARMSTRONG (Frankford)

Funeral services for Gerald Arnold Armstrong, who died Saturday in Frankford, were held Monday, February 5, from the Rowe Funeral Home, at 2:30 p.m. Rev. Roy McKechney officiated, and interment was in Frankford Cemetery.

The bearers were Jas. Armstrong, Bruce Armstrong, George McDonald, Stewart Foster, Roscoe Gunter, and Harold Wheeler.

Mr. Armstrong, who died in his 35th year, was born in Sidney township, son of Arnold Armstrong and the late Grace Harrison. Before coming to Frankford, he lived in Peterborough for 12 years, and had been in ill health for nine months. Mr. Armstrong was a member of the United Church, and a garage mechanic by trade.

Surviving are his wife, the former Anne Maloney; one daughter, Patsy Ann, nine; one son, Arnold, two; two brothers, George (Sarah) McDonald, Frankford; and Mrs. Roscoe (Hazel) Gunter, Trenton.

MRS. ANNIE F. HUMMELL

Mrs. Annie Florence Hummell, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Harry Brown, 30 Catherine Street, on Tuesday. Born in Matilda township, in Dundas county, Mrs. Hummell was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Bell, the late Mary Burns. She died in her 70th year after an illness of one year.

Mrs. Hummell, a member of the Ameliasburg United Church, lived in Belleville for five years. Previous to that, she lived at Morrisburg.

Her husband, William Hummell, died five years ago.

Surviving are her father, Edward Duvall, of Morrisburg; one daughter, Mrs. Harry Brown, Belleville; three sisters, Mrs. Mary Ulman, Morrisburg; Mrs. Ellen Hawley, Morrisburg, and Mrs. Lillie Jones, Syracuse, N.Y.; three brothers, Frederick and James Duvall, both of Cardinal, and William Duvall, Morrisburg.

Resting at the Belleville Burial Company Funeral Home, 27 Campbell Street; funeral announcement is made elsewhere in this edition.

T-R-Y-E

DIXIE INN BAR-B-Q

18 WEST BRIDGE ST.
(in Kelaway Block)
Phone 1-9999

WHOLE BARBECUED CHICKEN

Chips, Rolls — Piping Hot $2.00

FULL COURSE MEALS,
Daily — 50c and $1

LUNCHES — HAMBURGS
FISH and CHIPS—35c

FRESH FISH Served Daily During Lent.

"NEO-CHEMICAL" FOOD TONIC

A Pleasant Tasting, Complete and Economical VITAMIN and MINERAL FOOD SUPPLEMENT

1st SIZE 30 DAYS $1.35 2nd SIZE 90 DAYS $2.95 3rd SIZE 180 DAYS $4.95

DOLAN

THE DRUGGIST

Phone 138 Motor Delivery

BULOVA and GRUEN WATCH CRYSTALS

ONLY 49 CENTS

ELITE CREDIT JEWELLERS

301½ FRONT ST., Belleville.
Watch Repairing Expertly and Quickly Done.

"made for each other"...

LUXURIA cleansing cream

LUXURIA skin lotion

FREE 10 day trial size of Skin Lotion absolutely wrapped with Luxuria Cleansing Cream 1-50

HARRIET HUBBARD AYER new york

DOYLE'S DRUG STORE

Phone 326 We Deliver

FOR HAPPINESS

Bluebird

PERFECT DIAMONDS

at

PAUL MERCIER

McCARTHY THEATRE BLDG.

SANAIR

Fresh as a fragrant breeze

NEW Air Deodorizer in the distinctive squeeze bottle.

• Kills unpleasant odours quickly
• Leaves pleasant scents: Lavender, Rose and Mint-o-pine
• There's a scent for your climate (Evergreen, Rose and Violet)

Economical

SANAIR $1.00
8 oz. refills .59¢
approx. 2,500 squeezes

FREE — For a Limited Time Only!

1 SANAIR 8-OZ. REFILL with each $1.00 size SANAIR.

1.59 VALUE FOR ONLY 1.00

GEEN — DRUGS

FREE DELIVERY Phone 133

NEW MEDICAL DISCOVERY

MELCALOSE TABLETS

To Correct Constipation

EASY TO TAKE NO GRIPING
NO HARSH PURGING

65 tablets $1.25

McKEOWN'S

DRUG STORE

Phone 135 We Deliver

GLEN ELLIOT FLOOR SANDING

OLD FLOORS RESURFACED AND MADE LIKE NEW NEW FLOORS LAYED AND FINISHED

186 Dufferin Ave. Phone 24632

MARTIN'S SHOE REPAIR
SKATE SHARPENING

SKATES SHARPENED LENGTHWISE

206 Everett St.

TUBEROUS

BEGONIA BULBS

GLOXINIA BULBS

EASY TO GROW!

Bishop Seeds LIMITED

173 FRONT STREET
(Opposite the City Hall)

Douglas Harry Wins Top Honors At Judging Seed

Stirling, Feb. 7 (Special)—For the third consecutive year Douglas Harry, son of Gordon R. B. S. carried off top honors in the Hastings County Junior Farmers' Seed Judging Competition, held at, Stirling community hall.

Scoring 775 points out of a total of 850 Douglas carried off the James W. Haggerty championship trophy. Second place was John McComb, R.R. 2 Bellleville who won the special prize of $15 donated by the Hastings county council to be used to buy a seed judging trophy next year. John also won the H. R. Tompkins silver medal for the highest first in judging small seeds and in weed identification.

The A. C. Dempsie prize went to Robert Mallory, R.R. 3 Trenton and the Hastings County Crop Improvement Association special prizes were won by John McComb and Geo. Pollock.

Fifty young men competed in the contest in being the largest and most keenly contested competition for a number of years.

The Quinte District seed judging team picked this year are Earl Laverty, Trenton, Jas. Halvey Homan, Douglas Cotton, Robert Mallory, Allen Wallace, Robert Munro, Ken Kerr, Robert Bush and Bruce McPherson.

Standing in the various classes was as follows: Seniors, Douglas Harry and Gerald Clancy, Intermediates, Bruce Bolton, Jas. Pollock, Glen Wilson, Harvey Homan, Robert and Earl Wilson, Lyle Swan. Juniors, 1st ten, John McComb, Lyall Leavens, Merle Moore, Douglas Cotton, Robt. Mallory, Allan Wallace, Robt. Munro, Ken Kerr, Robt. Bush and Bruce McPherson.

JET DEMONSTRATED

Montreal, Feb. 7 — (CP) The modern jet fighter F-86-3 rolled and powered over Tuesday at close to the speed of sound — approximately 600 miles an hour at sea level — before some 100 members of Parliament, Senators and newspaper men.

The demonstration, first in Canada, was given at the airfield of the Canadair plant at nearby Cartierville.

Defence Minister Claxton was among those who came from Ottawa for the display and also in the Senate assembly lines, now turning out the planes, known as Sabres, in rapid succession.

VICTORY COAL

FROM WESTERN CANADA

$16.00 PER TON

DELIVERED IN BELLEVILLE

WELL SIZED

For Furnace, Large Heater or Stoker

and

LOW IN SMOKE

TRY THIS ECONOMICAL COAL

Save Canadian Dollars and Employ Canadian Labor.

MOIRA FUELS LIMITED

BIRTHS

HALL — At Ronald Harold, son of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Hall, on Saturday, Feb. 3rd, 1951, to announce the birth of their son, Ronald Scott Hall, at the Belleville General Hospital, on Wednesday, February 7th, 1951.

CARSON — At West Lake Cabins, C2R1, West Moira Shore, is happy to announce the arrival of their son, at the Belleville General Hospital, on Thursday, Feb. 1st, 1951. Mother and daughter fine.

DEVINE — Bruce and Mrs. Jack Devine, wish to announce the birth of their daughter, Nancy Elizabeth, at the Belleville General Hospital, on Sunday, February 5th.

DEATHS

CHANDLER — NOTICE
McAVOY — At the Belleville General Hospital on Monday, February 5, Frank Clinton McAvoy, 46 Dundas Street East, in his 70th year. Resting at the Corrigan and O'Brien Funeral Home, East Hall, where funeral service will be held at 2.30 p.m. Wednesday. Interment Mount Royal Cemetery. Please omit flowers.

ANDERSON — At her residence, Montreal, on Tuesday, February 6th, Ethel Cunningham, wife of Mr. Bruce Anderson.
Funeral service at the D. A. Collins chapel, 3610 Sherbrooke West, on Thursday, February 8th, at 2.30 p.m. Interment Mount Royal Cemetery.

HUMMELL — At the home of her daughter, Mrs. Harry Brown, 30 Catherine Street, on Tuesday, February 6th, Annie Florence Duvall, widow of William Hummell, in her 70th year.
Resting at the Belleville Burial Company Funeral Home, where the funeral service will be held on Thursday evening, February 8th, at 8.00 o'clock. Interment in Ameliasburg on Thursday to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Brown, 30 Catherine Street, Belleville, on Friday, February 9th, and then to St. James' Church, Ameliasburg, where funeral service at 2.00 p.m.
Interment Morrisburg Cemetery, Friday.

IN MEMORIAM

HINCHLIFFE — In loving memory of a dear father and grandfather, E. Idella Hinchliffe, who passed away Feb. 7th, 1950.
Three years have passed since then,
Memories fade with time,
But God took her home—it was His will
But in our hearts she'll live still.
—Ever remembered by son Ray and family.

CARDS OF THANKS

Mr. and Mrs. John Holden, Wellington, wish to express their sincere thanks with grateful appreciation the many kind and thoughtful expressions of sympathy of friends and neighbors during the illness and passing away in the loss of a loving mother, also for the many floral tributes and spiritual bouquets. Special thanks to Dr. Ketcheson.

Mrs. Leo Doyle and family wish to thank their many friends, relatives and neighbors for their kind expressions of sympathy, acts of kindness and floral tributes during the illness and passing away of a loving husband and father, especially Dr. Ross, also Corrigan and O'Brien Funeral Home, for the kind consideration.

RADIO HISTORY

The first coast-to-coast radiocast in Canada was on the Diamond Jubilee of Confederation in 1927.

VALENTINE CHOCOLATES

IN BEAUTIFUL Heart-Shaped BOXES

SMILES 'N CHUCKLES or GANONG'S

$1.35 to $4.00

Phone 11 WE DELIVER

SELDON'S

THE FRIENDLY FAMILY DRUG STORE

HAVING WATCH Troubles?

LET McFEE'S WATCH EXPERTS FIX IT!

ALL WORK GUARANTEED

Angus McFee JEWELLER LIMITED SINCE 1865

SECURITY MARKETS

Quotations furnished by BIGGAR & CRAWFORD

Members Toronto Stock Exchange

Belleville Office — Phone 3160 and 3161

Quotations at 1:00

MINES

Aunor 320
Ascot Metals 224
Atlanta Leaf 294
Base Metals 68
Bralorne 665
Broulan 87
Buff. Ankerite 130
Cons. Smelters 166 3-4
Calgary and Ed. 12 3-8
Can. Malartic 73
Centrel Patricia 63
Campbell R. I 260
Chesterville 58
Cochenour Wil 178
Cons. Beattie 64
Dome 18
Donalda 61
East Malartic 141
East Sul. 940
Elder 55
Falconbridge 12 3-8
God's Lake 49
Golden Manitou 665
Hudson Bay 81
Home Oil 17
Hollinger 14 3-4
Inter. Nickel 41 1-4
Jason 21 1-2
Kerr Addison 18 5-8
Kirkland Lake 93
Labrador 920
Lake Shore 10 1-4
Lorlch 107
Macsim 209
McIntyre 63 1-4
McLeod 365
Mining Corp. 19 1-4
Negus 102
New Lund 213
Norcen 79
Normetals 520
O'Brien 145
Okalta 275
Osisko Lake 185 1-2
Paymaster 67
Pamour 95
Perron 87
Pickle Crow 171
Preston E. 3.55
Quemont 28 1-2
Queenston Man 70 1-2
Quebec Man 270
Royalites 14 1-2.
San Antonio 3.75
Sherritt Gordon 415
Silver Miller 123
Sladco 73
Sladen Mal. 66
Steep Rock 900
Sullivan 345
Sylvanite 120
Trok Hughes 215
Upper Canada 200
Ventures 14 1-2
Villbona 10 1-8
Waite Amulet 13
Wr. Hargreaves 185

TORONTO INDUSTRIALS

Papers—

Abitibi 54 1-2
Abitibi Pfd. 24 7-8
Aluminium 98 1-2
Consolated 27 1-2
Great Lakes 34 1-8
Minn. and Ont. 30 1-2
International 37 1-8
Powell River 68 7-8

Distillers—

Hiram Walker 58 3-4
Can. Ind. Alcohol 14 1-2
Dist. Seagrams 31 1-4

Canadian Oils—

B.A. Oil 34
Imperial Oil 35 1-8

FIRST

The original and by far the largest mutual investment fund in Canada is

CANADIAN INVESTMENT FUND

We recommend its Special Shares

R. D. SYKES and COMPANY
Bank of Toronto Building
166 Sparks St. OTTAWA
Telephone 3-3161

McColl Front. 24 1-8
Inter. Petroleum 15 3-4

Miscellaneous—

Bell Telephone 40 5-8
Brazilian Trac. 26 1-8
Building Prod. 34
Can. Breweries 19 1-2
Canada Cement 69
Can. Cas. and F. 17
Canadian Pacific Riy. 28 1-2
Crown Cork 24 3-4
Dom. Stores 13 3-4
Dominion Foundries 44 1-4
Fanny Farmer 32 3-4
Ford A. 58 1-2
Imperial Tobacco 12 5-8
Laura Secord 35 1-4
Loblaw A. 32
Massey Harris 58 1-8
Mil. Brick 170
Steel of Canada 34 7-8
United Steel 10 3-8
Winnipeg Electric 42

U.S. STOCKS

U.S. Steel 46 5-8

TORONTO STOCKS

Toronto, Feb. 7 (CP) — Industrials led the higher ground on the Toronto Stock Exchange in today's quiet trading. Base metals retreated and western oils and golds remained about where they were. Volume at 1 p.m. was 1,196,000 shares.

A strong liquor list, with Walker, Corby A. Distillers-Seagrams and Canadian Breweries touching new highs for the year, was a feature of industrials.

Consolidated Smelters was up $1.35 despite a weakness in base metals, and Quemont was also ahead. Wells-Amulet featured trading with a $1.50 advance to a new high for the year of $13%. Steep Rock slipped 50 cents and Sherritt-Gordon 10.

Western oils had only minor changes either way.

Hollinger was off in senior golds. Macdonald lost 15 cents in the juniors.

TORONTO LIVESTOCK

Toronto, Feb. 7 — (CP) — Cattle prices firmed at the week's advance at the Ontario stockyards today. Receipts reported by the Dominion Marketing Service were: cattle, 250; calves, 100; hogs, 370; sheep and lambs, 10. Left from yesterday were 100 cattle.

Medium to good weighty steers sold for $32-$32.50. Common to medium light steers and heifers were $26-$31 and medium to good cows brought $24-$26.50. Common to medium bulls were $24.50-$27.50 and fed yearlings sold at $30-$33.50.

Calves were firm at $30 and for choice vealers. Common to medium were $30-$38.

Hogs sold at $34-$34.25 for Grade A. Sows were $28 dressed.

BUFFALO LIVESTOCK

Buffalo, N.Y., Feb. 7 (AP) — Cattle and, Good holstein cows 22-23.50; cutters 21-22; fat yellow cows 13.50 and below; good dairy type heifers 24-27; common heifers 19-23; good weighty sausage bulls 27.50-28.50.

Calves 150; good and choice handyweight calves 45-46; medium to good 38-44; culls and heavyweight bulls 34-37.

Hogs, 200; Good and choice 23.50-24.50; good sows 450 to 600 pounds 17-18.

Sheep and lambs 200; N.Y. State fed lambs cleared at 38.85.

PRODUCE MARKET

Toronto, Feb. 7.—(CP)—Produce prices quoted on the spot market here today:

Churning cream: No. 1 truck price, 62 cents; delivered, 65 cents.

Butter solids: First grade, 52 cents.

Prices were steady at the egg market today. Country shippers quoted graded eggs, cases free: Grade A large, 44; A medium, 41-42; A pullet, 39-40; grade B, 39-40; grade C, 32. Wholesale to retail: grade A large, 47-48; A medium, 45-46; A pullet, 41-43; grade B, 41-43; grade C, 36-37.

Butter solids: first grade, 57-57 1-2 cents; second grade, price not established .

HOGS

Toronto, Feb. 7 (CP)—Truck hogs were $23.75 at Stratford today.

Other markets were not reported.

Retired North Bay Man Charged With Slaying Wife

North Bay, Ont., Feb. 7 — (CP) — 69-year-old retired North Bay business man Thomas H. Murphy today was charged with the slaying of his wife.

Murphy, a shy man, whom acquaintances said "lived to himself," heard the murder charge read in magistrate's court by Magistrate M. G. Gould. He was not asked to enter a plea and was remanded in custody until Feb. 14.

Police clamped down an airtight silence on the circumstances of the case and few details are known.

However, Police Chief John W. Pilgrim, told reporters today that Mrs. Murphy "appeared to have been beaten on the head with a blunt instrument."

Body in Basement

He said that the body was found in the basement of Murphy's comfortable brick home at 760 McIntyre Street West Monday afternoon by himself and Inspector Ivan Thurlow.

"There was some blood in evidence," he said.

The body was found in a large storeroom in the basement, clad in an expensive fur coat and full attire.

The basement was "very tidy," Chief Pilgrim said. The remainder of the house was "immaculate."

He refused to say where police believed the woman was killed, other than the presumption that she was murdered in the house.

The crime is believed to have been committed sometime Monday.

Asked about the nature of the murder instrument, Chief Pilgrim said: "We have a weapon."

Murphy is believed to have reported the crime and surrendered to police yesterday.

Chief Pilgrim said it was not clear in the case of the bathroom house the woman was slain. When police arrived, the upper part of the house was in disorder but there was blood on the cellar steps.

The chief said there was no indication of a struggle.

Lived Quiet Live

Neighbors said the childless couple lived a quiet life. Murphy was a well-known amateur horticulturist and his wife appeared to be taken up with her home and garden. They seldom entertained.

The house on west-end McIntyre Street, was purchased 12 years ago by Murphy who moved to North Bay from the Ottawa district. Since his retirement two years ago as manager of the North Bay branch of the Keyes Supply Company, he had acted as a part-time liaison officer between northern Ontario branches and the company's Ottawa headquarters.

Reports centred around the presumption that the crime was committed with a hammer.

Murphy is reported to have "talked easily" with police constables.

Chief Pilgrim declined any comment on the circumstances surrounding the arrest. However, it was learned reliably that Murphy confided in a friend yesterday, who convinced him that he should give himself up to the police.

Neighbors knew the Murphys as quiet, respectable couple who

Livestock Brings Good Prices At Auction Sale

Community livestock auction sales are continuing to bring good prices for animals according to the weekly crop report published by the Ontario Department of Agriculture.

Last week in Northumberland county a heifer weighing over 1,800 pounds brought $450 which was stated to be a record for the area. Horses also are bringing good prices while any kind of a promising calf sells for $25 or more.

In Hastings there is a brisk demand for export cattle while the rise in local hog prices has forced the price of little pigs from $12 to $16 each depending on age. One farmer reported receiving over $200 for two pigs for slaughter.

Apples have been moving very slowly out of storage, but canned good stocks in factory warehouses are less than in a good many years.

Fields are well covered with needed snow affording protection to meadows and winter grains. Soil moisture has been noted for registered seed during the past two weeks.

Beef Steer Price Sets Chicago High

Chicago (AP)—Beef steers set an all-time commercial market record high price yesterday at $34 a hundred pounds at the Union Stockyards.

Lester Schillinger, Naperville, Ill., was the feeder who sent in two loads of top-prime Herefords averaging 1,450 pounds each. At a total weight of 50,750 pounds the 35 steers in the shipment sold for a gross total of $21,319. The previous commercial record was $34.75, paid Nov. 7, 1949, and repeated the following Dec. 14.

Health Program Harried by Views Kiwanians Told

Establishment of a health program is harried by the many views of people in positions to support or oppose it, Dr. John F. Wells, medical officer of health and director of the Prince Edward County health unit told members of Kiwanis at their luncheon yesterday.

"Many people, feeling that they are being practical economists," he said, "attempt to evaluate the potential results of a health program in dollars and cents, and oppose or support expenditures on this basis." He continued that individuals who take a long view of the situation are more likely to support it than those who take the short view. Various circumstances may also affect support of a program.

Ah! Enter Ink Situation

The young father of a family may support a health appropriation in the elderly bachelor; the tenant may find himself at odds with his landlord; expenditure of money directly by the owner of the business may be cleared or may turn him against the proposition. All these enter into the situation, and all have an effect on its future, as do the men in public life who "believe simply that a dollar saved is a prospect which calls for increased taxation in the future," regardless than one for tax reduction, and publicly govern themselves accordingly."

The impracticable part of a scheme embracing the principle that the provision of a full time public health organization closes up gaps in the community's medical service," Dr. Wells continued. He said that any imperfections in the present medical system would have to be corrected before the introduction of medical men under state medicine. "Neither is the solution to be found in welfare statism," he said.

The basic aim of public health is "twofold," Dr. Wells stated. "First, the elimination of preventable infectious diseases, and second, the protection of people against contracting disease when they are exposed to it are the steps," he said.

"Your people have recently approved the establishment of a full time health agency in your city," he continued, "in due course you will undoubtedly become fully conscious of the fact that public health education is the chief weapon in the armamentarium of your medical officer of health. His foremost hope for success lies in gaining and retaining your interest and cooperation." Dr. Wells was introduced by John Thornbury and the thanks of the club were expressed by E. Guss Porter. Everett Coleman presided at the luncheon. Attendance prize donated by Ralph Clapp was won by Walter Best.

Splasher Misses Verbal Barrage

Splash-happy drivers had a field day today as they plowed through slush-covered streets, scattering water and dirty snow almost to pavement, edge.

One irate lady gave a piece of her mind to unlistening ears as a transport driver wheeled his truck around the Front-Bridge Streets intersection.

A cascade of water and slush sprayed the lady's coat, and she in turn sprayed the atmosphere with language that would make a parade ground sergeant go green with envy.

But the driver was out of earshot and the verbal sweetness was wasted on the morning air.

ABANDON HOMES

Geneva, Switzerland, Feb. 7 — (Reuters) — The people of Simplon village, on the famous mountain pass into Italy, have abandoned their homes and taken refuge in a church because of a new avalanche threat. They spent last night there praying. More than 12 feet of snow has fallen at Simplon in the last few days and masses of snow are slithering slowly downwards.

Rebuffs Annoy Seedy Transient

He was a bit tattered and slightly torn in spots, and his disposition was not of the best.

One of those rare specimens seen nowadays, a knight of the road, he had received a poor welcome in Belleville. He said his name was George Crump, address anywhere. He arrived in the city last night via a box-car pullman but there was no civic reception awaiting him.

Rebuffs at the hands of two or three housewives when he asked for a "handout" had soured him on the city, and "I'm leaving the d.... place for good".

He borrowed a couple of cigarets from an inquisitive reporter and slowly splashed his way toward the railroad tracks.

TAKES OVER POST

Toronto, Feb. 7 (CP)—Commissioner W. H. Stringer of the Ontario Provincial Police said today that Staff Inspector R. V. McNeill will take charge of the O.P.P. Peterbrough district temporarily when Inspector Carl Farrow leaves to become chief of police in Windsor.

CRUSHED TO DEATH

Toronto, Feb. 7 (CP)—Thomas Carter, 31, was crushed to death last night between a street car and a Toronto Transportation Commission work car that he had helped couple together. Carter tried to re-adjust the coupling just as other workmen signalled the street car to start pushing.

WHEN IN TRENTON DURING LENT

DROP IN AT

RIVERVIEW FISH and CHIPS

WE FRY ONLY THE CHOICEST OF PACIFIC HALIBUT.

WE DELIVER

15 Front St. — TRENTON

Phone 1481

LUNCHES—SUNDAES

GOOD COFFEE

tot-toons

Clothes make the child! And that's the rule. You'll find that ours Are best for school.

SPECIAL FEATURE!

VIYELLA

PANTS & SKIRTS

$2.65 and $2.98

WHEEL ALIGNMENT
WHEEL BALANCING
Available at the

BELLEVILLE MOTOR CAR CO., LTD.

MERCURY - LINCOLN DEALER
Cor. Bridge and Coleman Sts.
Phone 827

Tiny Tot Town
30 BRIDGE STREET EAST
PHONE 874
BELLEVILLE, ONTARIO

GIFT BUYS for your Valentine

Just Arrived! A Special Valentine Selection of Stunning Cedar Chests

FEATURING MODERN AND PERIOD DESIGNS. SEE THESE VALUES IN OUR SPECIAL VALENTINE WINDOW.

20% DOWN—
$2.00 a Week

BE YOUR VALENTINE'S VALENTINE!!
Easy Terms!!

1951 STYLES

Complete Price Range From 44.50 UP

SEE OUR WINDOWS

LIPSON'S FURNITURE HOUSE

249 FRONT ST. BELLEVILLE TELEPHONE 1672

SALE OF FLOOR COVERING

In order to carry a complete line of Draperies and Dry Goods, we are clearing our entire stock of Floor Coverings.

Congoleum, Rexoleum Deluxe and Bureleum Rugs

PRICED FOR QUICK SALE

INLAID LINOLEUM On canvas back. Sq. yd. 1.50

CONGOLEUM 3 yards wide. Sq. yd. 75c

CONGOLEUM RUGS 9 x 12. Each 10.95

REXOLEUM DELUXE RUGS 9 x 12. First quality only. Each 9.50

REXOLEUM Standard Quality 6 x 9. Each 2.50

ARMSTRONG QUAKER 1 rug only. 9 x 12. Reg. 18.00 ..... 12.95

Rexoleum Deluxe 3 yards wide. 2 patterns only. Square yard 65c

SPECIAL — DISCONTINUED LINES OF PLASTIC 36" wide. 7 patterns. Reg. yd. 65c, NOW 50c

BUY YOUR COVERINGS FOR SPRING NOW AT THESE PRICES. We will store them until needed.

QUALITY MERCHANDISE FOR LESS AT

FRANCIS HOUSE FURNISHINGS

296 Front St. (Opp. Victoria Ave.) Phone 2643

"THE HOME OF ELNA SEWING MACHINES IN BELLEVILLE"

Phone 2643 for a Free Demonstration in Your Home.

YOU'LL BE THE BELLE OF THE BALL

—AT THAT VALENTINE DANCE if you send your formal to us for that extra special care in dry cleaning.

CITY CLEANERS & DYERS

160 EAST MOIRA ST. PHONE 2626-3039

BILL LYNCH Proprietors ROY JOHNSON

THE ONTARIO INTELLIGENCER

Published Daily by Ontario Established 1849 — Belleville Established 1857
THE ONTARIO INTELLIGENCER
Belleville, Ontario, Canada

Subscription Rates:
By carrier in Belleville: 25 cents per week.
By mail in Ontario: $7.00 per year; $3.50 for six months; $2.25 for 3 months
By mail to U.S.A.: $9.00 per year.
Member of the Canadian Press, Member of Newspaper Association; Member of The Canadian Press.

The Canadian Press is exclusively entitled to use for republications of all news despatches credited to it or The Associated Press or Reuters in this newspaper and also the local news published therein.

ODD APPEALS

Senior Major John Philp, Salvation Army Welfare Director in Toronto, revealed in his 1950 report some of the ludicrous appeals made to his department.

A man requested that the Army rent and equip a farm for him. He had decided that "it would be healthier for my family to live in the country." In addition, he would appreciate The Salvation Army loaning him $2,000 so he could get a head start.

A confused bridegroom-to-be had bought an expensive engagement ring, but had made only a small down payment. He and his fiancee were now ready to be married. He had therefore ordered a $75 suit for the great occasion. Could the Salvation Army meet the outstanding payments on the engagement ring, and underwrite the cost of the wedding suit and the wedding ring?

A young man holding a good job with a department store admitted he had been "living high." He had borrowed money from a finance company, but a new difficulty had arisen. In addition to the regular payments, the holidays would be coming up in the middle of the month. He hoped that the Salvation Army could pay off the loan he was carrying and, in addition, finance his elaborately-planned holiday in Muskoka.

Major Philp did not reveal how he handled these cases. He just laughed good-naturedly.

THE LITTLE PRINCE

Britons heard on their radios recently an interesting story of the life of the little Prince Charles of Edinburgh who was two years old last November. The story was told by one of the best of the war correspondents of the B.B.C., Godfrey Talbot. The Prince lives in Clarence House, facing the Mall, in a fine and magnificently wide tree-lined carriage way that leads from Admiralty Arch to Buckingham Palace. He leads a very normal life and behind the high walls of Princess Elizabeth's home he often spends blissful hours making mud pies in the sand.

Small for his age, fair haired and with dark blue eyes, he is both friendly and self-possessed and, said Talbot, "great friends with the chauffeurs and maids and chief of Clarence House. He knows all the policemen — and the names of the policemen outside the house — and hails them personally when he goes out." Prince Charles' conversational powers are well advanced for a two-year-old though he mixed up the words "Princess Anne" and commonplaces with "Baby sister." He is very proud of the new addition to the family and one of his treats is to be allowed to hold her on his lap. The two children share the nursery with a third member, a Corgi puppy called Sugar who has to submit to rather a lot of overwhelming affection from his young master.

Prince Charles is frequently seen in St. James's or Green Park, both of them handy just door to his house, and he is also very fond of sitting on the wall overlooking the Mall to see the Household Cavalry ride by. He finds it even more exciting to watch a procession in which his mother is taking part—and waves imperiously to her when she appears. Almost everything he does is vigorous for he is a very energetic child who loves exploring and is never still for a moment. If he follows his mother's example he will start riding in a year or so and already a black Shetland pony called Cloudy is ready and waiting to carry the little boy who is second in line of succession to the British throne.

AROUND THE KITCHEN STOVE

Lyrical prose and understandable poetry have been written regarding nickel-trimmed, parlor base burners with isinglass doors revealing leaping, colorful flames above knotty chunks of hardwood. Since less heat is made and the pastoral scene exhilling the humble kitchen range. Oldtime wood-burning ranges are on the way to join bookjacks, buffalo robes and horse blankets. We would not be a boulder in the path of progress; gas, oil and electricity are homely efficient and considerably easier so far as work is concerned.

Half a century ago the kitchen was a place for preparing food and eating it; families lived, for the most part, supper over. One in the family evening there was something friendly, comfortable and reassuring as the family was all together. Boys and girls did their homework lessons. Lads were known on occasion to consult the Adventures of The Lone Canadian Trail behind a dog-eared geography. A big, brass-bowled kerosene lamp on its up-and-down-chain hung from the ceiling. Father sat in his battered morris chair before the open oven door reading the journals and the papers; mother moved slowly back and forth in her favorite Boston rocker, knitting, darning, sewing and answering questions on how to spell hard words and what was the capital of Saskatchewan. Two dented copper kettles sang and chuckled above the red-orange flames of ash and hickory.

There was nothing particularly spectacular or exciting about it — just warmth, security and family unity in those long-ago days before radio, atom bombs and pictures through the air came into our lives. When a human history of America is written, recognition will be given the kitchen stove. In its warmth, men and women made their plans and spoke their dreams of the time when they would be travelling distant roads on life's high adventure. — Ottawa Journal.

JUST FOLKS

By EDGAR A. GUEST
(Copyright, 1951, Edgar A. Guest)

ASH WEDNESDAY

Now, the season known as Lent
Time for prayer and fasting meet,
Forty days and forty nights
To give up the vain delights,
And since sorrow all must share,

For its agony prepare.
For the soul's good this we do:
Faith in God above renew.
With eternal life its goal,
Seek for Heaven to fit the soul.

OFF THE RECORD

By ED REED

"As to your references . . . we'd like to see others recommend you for a job besides your butcher, grocer and milkman"

LOOKING BACKWARDS

GLEANINGS FROM OUR FYLES OF BYGONE YEARS

20 YEARS AGO

Feb. 7th., 1931

Mr. Kenneth Wilson of the Bank of Montreal here, has been transferred to the bank's branch at Simcoe.

Dr. E. Eagleson of Madoc was in town today.

Miss Sabra M. Phillips, Reg. N., has returned to the city after spending two weeks with friends in Windsor and Detroit.

The thermometer registered 40 degrees below zero last night.

Will the local market today eggs sold at 25 cents to 28 cents per dozen; butter 35 cents per pound; wheat $1.10 to $1.15 per pair. Two loads of hay sold at $11, per ton and cordwood sold at $11. per cord.

30 YEARS AGO

Feb. 7th., 1921

Dr. McCulloch will leave tomorrow to spend a few days in New York City.

Mr. S. D. Lazier has left on a business trip to Winnipeg.

Mr. John J. Deegan, G. T. R. conductor, has resumed his duties on the Belleville and Trenton branch after an absence of several months.

The curling rink started all over again today and bread is selling at twenty cents per loaf.

The Gover brothers of Belleville, six feet in number, have a challenge to meet any one family of a similar number in a hockey match. As yet no offers to accept the challenge have been received.

40 YEARS AGO

Feb. 7th., 1911

A team of horses attached to a sleigh owned by William Hone, is of this city ran away on Front Street this morning and created some excitement. Fortunately there were no passengers in the sleigh at the time. The horses were caught before further damage was done.

Mr. and Mrs. John G. Phipps left today for their home in Winnipeg after visiting relatives here.

Mr. Archie Cochrane has passed the second year examinations, and Mr. Eddie O'Flynn has passed the first year examinations at Osgoode Hall Law School, Toronto.

Mr. Charles MacDonald of Montana is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James MacDonald, Colleen Street east.

50 YEARS AGO

Feb. 7th., 1901

The annual meeting of Loyal Orange District No. 2 Quinte Hastings, was held at Madoc and the following officers were elected: Wor. District Master, William McMahon; Wor. Deputy District Master, J. Cook; Wor. District Recording Secretary, J. Rhoden; District Financial Secretary, W. Fourtinberry; Treasurer, A. Rousborn; District Chaplain, F. O. Diamond; D. of C., Wor. Brother Leonard; Asers. R. Wood and G. Keene.

Mr. Richard Pringle has been elected Chairman of the Board of Education for this year.

Mr. meeting of the Belleville Historical Society will be held on the evening of Feb. 9th.

THE PACKSACK

By GREGORY CLARK

Walking through the main streets at noon yesterday, ninety five per cent of the people both male and female, appeared to be dressed to death in the bitter cold.

The five per cent who looked as equal to the climate were the workmen, truck drivers and others who were dressed in canvas coats with lamb collars, and heavy sweaters or shirts under them; and wearing caps with ear flaps.

The clothing styles of Canada are apparently dictated by a handful of manufacturers in the soft and cloak industry meeting in St. Louis, Mo., or somewhere about that latitude. Most of these gentlemen are probably high enough up in the garment industry to live their own lives in California or Florida, in flowered shirts and plaid jackets of the Royal Stewart tartan.

It is a curious thing how universal this dictation of clothing styles is. You can visit, in succession, New York, London, Paris, Rome—and everybody is dressed, in fact, the same. What is stranger still, you can then visit the small towns of all these countries and the little prov-incial towns all across Canada, and see all over the United States, Europe, Australia and doubtless South America, and every living soul is identically clad in the same dictated suits, coats, dresses, depending, of course, on the season.

It is only when you get back into the little villages, and on the fringes of the backwoods, which, of course, are to be found in Europe as well as in America, that you find people free enough to dress as they like and in accordance with the climate, and be hanged to the dictators. Indeed, here and there in remoter parts, or a prosperous merchant from time to time, or pulp cutter, a bearded ranger from a trapper, or a prosperous merchant from the back concessions, can usually be seen dressed in comfort.

And it is somehow pitiful these days, to see countless thousands of us suffering tortures of the cold all because of our slavish obedience to dictators every bit as silly as Mussolini, Hitler and Stalin, who have resulted to make minikins of us all.

Were some bank president or prominent chartered accountant step out in parks, flight boots and a jag with ear flaps, and set us all free?

Wine Drinking On Increase In Australia

Sydney, Australia (CP) — Immigrants from Europe are boosting the sale of Australian wines.

Annual consumption of wine in Australia now is estimated at about 12 pints a head, compared with 4.8 pints before the Second World War. The increase in domestic consumption partly offsets the higher British tariffs on the Australian product.

British import duties on "fortified" Empire wines now are about 10 times as high as in 1939, and the margin of preference over foreign wines has fallen from 50 per cent to 20 per cent. Sherry and British rates are said to have reduced wine imports to less than half the pre-war figure.

Experts say the best Australian wines cannot compare with the older European types, but that the average standard of wine is higher than the cheap "Vin Ordinaire" of Europe. Good table wines are also produced here at prices much lower than in England.

OUR TOWN

By JACK SCOTT

HOW IT GOES

How are people getting by on the income?

Hem: "The thing I hate to give up most of all is having another baby. It hurts me to say that, but I make. I decided I will not undertend my present children to feed more."

Hem: "The children of lower income families such as mine are being raised on macaroni, hamburger and bread and they are not getting sufficient fresh fruit, vegetables or milk."

Hem: "I see red when I find my husband neglecting his teeth for financial reasons."

Hem: "He's scraping by but we live in constant dread of emergencies or unexpected costs. It happened to us five weeks ago. One daughter sprained her arm, the second contacted a skin infection and then my husband had to have a cyst removed. There went our careful budget. I now go out baby sitting to help us out of debt."

Hem: "I work as a butcher by day and a cashier by night. What I have become known to my friends as "Anything-for-a-Buck" MacKenzie."

Hem: "We are cutting down on everything, particularly food. I cut such things as heart, tongue, shanks, rabbit and ox-tails. Budgeting means an income of $60 a week is like trying to find a way out of an endless squirrel cage. It sometimes drives me to brood on getting half-soles on Junior's shoes."

Hem: "It is, indeed, a wearing to maintain a family. It is only through sheer guts that we get at all. My wife and I have not been out together now for more than two years."

Hem: "When I hear people with small families grumbling about their lot in life, I want to laugh. We have ten kids. I don't dare tell them how I feel about them. People would think I was a communist."

Quick Glimpse

These are excerpts from more than 200 letters I received from Vancouver, Edmonton, Ottawa and Peterborough in the last week.

These letters deal with the very personal and very important question: What the baby's cost of living has done to Canadian families. That subject will occupy this column for the next three or four days.

The letters came to me because I asked for them. I've been increasingly absorbed in the un-told story of the self-denial and quiet agony of everyday Canadians struggling to cope with today's prices.

More than a month ago, in a column headed "How Goes It?" I asked if you would write me your personal experiences.

I wanted to find out what it costs an average family for food, what they're saving for the future, how they're staring out of debt, what the spiralling expenses of day-to-day life have done to our standard of living, what they think should be done about it.

The response to this question confirms my suspicion that, with the possible exception of World War Three, the family Budget is getting top priority in the nation's worry.

Well, it's the kind of subject that rarely makes news. The cost of living is front page stuff. What it means to the Jones family rarely breaks the surface of the news.

But I'm going to devote at least a quick glimpse of that story and I propose to let them speak for themselves.

Most of the writers ask for anonymity. A Vancouver mother, big guy in my life is doing the best he can; why hurt and humiliate him?" A Toronto man writes, "I can't even afford to complain." And so only the written initials will be used when we get down to cases.

No Utopia

Some quick generalities emerge from out of this immense stack of mail.

There is a genuine reluctance to complain. "I know that many rations they have in England," writes a Mrs. J. L., "and so I know that we have no reason to complain and now, at the peak of our earning power, we have yet to feel any sense of security."

Many, many letters speak of dipping into savings to keep from going into the red. "In the last two years," says one typical letter, "We've drawn heavily on our savings, sold our bonds and borrowed to the hilt on our insurance. I'm ashamed to admit that."

The writers describe many kinds of "solutions." One man describes a daily period of Yogi-like meditation to erase the worry of today. He calls it "mind-control." Another struggle tomorrow with some realistic suggestions.

We'll take a closer look at the life examples of how it goes.

Mackenzie's Column: Non-Conformist Yugoslavia and Russia Feuding

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(Associated Press News Analyst)

Western Europe is watching with fascinated fascination the developments of strife between the Soviet Union and non-conformist Yugoslavia.

Marshal Tito, the Yugoslav dictator himself, has announced bluntly that Russia and her satellites are plotting to "swallow" Yugoslavia. He says this country has been and is being menaced by armies totalling 600,000 men.

These charges have been thrown down between all-highest Moscow and ideologically-rebellious Tito and may not be long delayed. The economist, British weekly, points out that "Tito's most serious present difficulty is a shortage of food, which would seem to call for imports. If he is attacked it will be before the harvest."

That is a deduction which looks like justifiable speculation. However, it may be qualified with the fact that the United States is in process of shipping $70,000,000 worth of food to hard-hit Yugoslavia and that some of it already is being distributed.

Why the Interest?

And what is the interest of the western powers in a Yugoslavia which isn't afraid to defend itself against Moscow as the source of all good?

The answer is that Yugoslavia (if in the western camp) would, theoretically, be a valuable military key, form a powerful right flank for the western allies in defending Greece and Turkey in Europe but the Aegean and Mediterranean theaters.

It is of more than passing interest that an army spokesman recently declared in the public press for the first time that Yugoslavia would look to the west for aid in the event of war. Whether they wanted to or not, the western allies very likely would be drawn into such a conflict.

An interesting and encouraging aspect is that despite the grave dangers hanging over her, Yugoslavia isn't squawking. A few days ago Tito's general staff issued a firm that-his armies are "ready to withstand aggression."

Perhaps this is the reason why key western diplomats in Europe, meeting in Paris last week, expressed the belief that there wouldn't incite an invasion of Yugoslavia this year, and termed Russia's recent war in Korea as a "diversion."

Snow Fighter King Retires in B. C.

Vancouver (CP) — Vancouver's "King of the Snowfighters" has retired.

Michael (Big Mike) Abrahamson was Canadian National Railways roadmaster and a colorful figure through 46 years of railroading in B.C.

The Vancouver mansion was born in Mandal, Norway. He worked as a laborer when the Canadian Northern was built through the Rockies and B.C. By the time the steel hit Vancouver, he was roadmaster.

His biggest fight came a year ago when he was in charge during the Fraser Canyon near Boston Bar. He worked almost without sleep for 10 days before the slide was cleared.

Oil-Coal Toye Building Burned in Kingston

Kingston, Feb. 7 (CP) — The century-old Toye Building, housing a wholesale grocery business, a coal concern and the Royal Canadian Horse Artillery Club rooms, was gutted by fire early today with damage estimated at close to $125,000.

The fire, of undetermined origin, was said to have started in the club rooms shortly before 4 a.m. and spread rapidly through the three-storey building.

Firemen fought the flames, driven by a 30-mile-an-hour wind, for almost two hours before bringing it under control.

Personal Health Talks

By WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

Signed Letters, Not More Than One Page or 100 Words Long, and Stamped, Addressed Envelope Enclosed, Will Be Answered by Dr. Brady if a Stamped Self Addressed Envelope is Enclosed, Etc.

BLOOD TRANSFUSION

Transfusion of blood really amounts to transplantation of tissue. It has been demonstrated on numerous occasions that tissue transplanted from one species to another are always destroyed by the recipient, sometimes with dire complications.

With the exception of skin used in grafts — tissues transplanted from one to another of the same species usually do not "take." Even in skin grafting, skin removed from other areas of the body of the person undergoing the graft is far more preferable than skin from another person.

Blood transfused into a human from a lower animal not only acts as a foreign and incompatible tissue but may lead to fatal consequences. Even blood transfused from one human to another may be useless and dangerous unless the type of blood is the same in both individuals.

Blood from a donor of different type than the recipient "clumps" in masses and may lead to plugging of the fine blood vessels with serious and even fatal results.

"Matching" of blood is based largely upon the element of clumping when the test specimens of blood are intermingled. Certain types of blood are incompatible with others for the reason that the chemical substances contained normally in the blood react antagonistically to the chemical substances of the others, leading in turn to the phenomenon of clumping.

Blood transfusion is often the only hope of saving a life and the necessity and urgency involved in the matter is such that every effort must be made to prevent accidents in the process. Hence the need for the test to determine the "type" of blood possessed by both donor and recipient.

Human blood is classified into four different types known as O, A, B and AB. In Anglo-Saxon areas 43 per cent of the people are tax type O, 42 per cent has type A, 10 per cent has type B and 5 per cent has type AB.

The antagonistic qualities of blood are found in the cells and the plasma (fluid portion). Very little harm may result in many instances when a donor of the plasma of the recipient does not clump the cells of the donor — as sometimes occurs.

For this reason, in an emergency, type O blood may donate blood to any of the other types with little or no danger. Under similar reasons, members of type AB may receive donations from any of the others. Where time and circumstances permit, transfused blood is carefully matched with the recipient's, not only as to types or groups but also with regard to other factors.

The symptoms and incompatible transfusion reaction may vary from extremely slight signs to death. Difficulty in breathing, pain in the back and nausea and vomiting may usher in the symptoms. Chill and fever may follow and, if the patient survives, jaundice may ensue. Failure of kidney function and unconsciousness may mark the beginning of the end which sometimes is deferred for two weeks or more.

In these modern, enlightened days, these complications should never happen. Thousands of transfusions are given daily all over the world — with complete safety. Occasional slight reactions are readily coped with by appropriate treatment.

Blood transfusion is now about fifty years old — as a scientific procedure. The past five years has witnessed its great advance. It surely classifies as one of the greatest boons to ailing mankind.

QUESTIONS & ANSWERS

Bulging Eyes

My eyes bulge terribly. Can anything be done to help this without surgery? Would an operation to correct it affect the eyesight? (F. W.)

Answer—At this distance I can't guess. Any bulging of the eyes is one sign of Graves' disease (exophthalmic (protrusion of eyeballs), characterized by the bulging of the eyeballs, staring look in eyes, fine tremor, excessive pulse rate, nervousness, irritability, nervous system, but little or no apparent enlargement of the thyroid gland. Diagnosis and treatment demand the personal attention of the physician.

Between High School and College

You wrote most interestingly of the good work that could be done between high school and college. Why don't you compose a pamphlet about it? It would be a contribution to education. (M. W.)

Answer—Frankly, I don't know how to organize my many subjects sarcastic. But it doesn't require a pamphlet. I with I had spent a year between leaving a drygoods store, attending a service station and working for my dad, waiting table or working as a hotel bellboy—any job that would teach me something about getting along with people. I had none of that in my background when I graduated from high school directly into medical school. So for the first ten years of practice I nearly starved.

TODAY'S TALK

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

FIRSTS

All through this life of ours are scattered our firsts. Some notable experiment that go to make up the character and personality that is ours. The first manifestation of our affection, which of course goes to our parents. The first love affair. The first job. Our first love letter. Our first book.

Then there is the first earning of our dollar, the first conscious effort we ever made to do something unique in the world, with a mind of our own, and with knowledge that we have a right to express that mind as we will. I recall the first time I drove a rail into a board with a smiling carpenter by my side. He took the hammer out of my hand and hit it squarely with the hammer. That was a long time ago.

I was very young when I finished reading "Little Women" by Louisa Alcott's "Old Fashioned Girl." It was a long time before I read another book for I felt sure that no other would ever approach this first in interest. But, later thousands of them did!

With what pleasure we recall our first visit to notable places about which we have heard or read, and our first reactions upon meeting a famous person. I recall a happy evening spent at Bonnycastle Hall with Lord Nelson, the great founder of the Kansas City Star, then as now one of the great newspapers of the country. He took me into his den and showed me the desk on which he framed first edition of his paper —a small four page tabloid size— and told me how it was started. Then he remarked: "I began it with a pencil and a pair of shears." After his death this newspaper was sold back to his employees for the sum of $10,000,000!

My first "Believe It or Not" cartoon by the late Bob Ripley was an after thought. He was working cartoonist who ran out of ideas one day and substituted a drawing that would intrigue the reader. It did—and later graduated into his life work. We wonder if we know all our firsts will turn out. They have revolutionized many a life. How important they are!

Strength for the Day

DR. EARL L. DOUGLASS

THE TOP OF THE NEWS

Those who listen to Fulton Lewis, Jr., the brilliant radio commentator, know that he always ends his broadcast with the statement: "That's the top of the news as it looks from here."

Some weeks ago he was speaking about the necessity for spiritual health in our nation, if we are to survive the grave days of crisis in which we live. He says there are his words: "Let us remember that statement, for there are wrought by prayer than the world dreams of. That's the top of the news as it looks from here."

Mr. Lewis may not have noticed the significance of his statement when he put the quotation about prayer and his closing broadcast words together. It's always the top of the news that more things are wrought by prayer than the world dreams of. The fact that God is willing to listen to human prayer that he puts-at the disposal of those seeking help His divine power and love, is of more importance than all the news that ever appear in any newspaper. God's willingness to answer prayer is the top of the news every day of every year. And Mr. Lewis is right in his appraisal of our present spiritual lack. Unless and until we receive the help that comes from sources, we shall be unable to face our problems with composure and sufficiency.

AFTER 10 YEARS LEASE EXPIRED

AT OUR ANNEX STORE
300 FRONT ST.
Opposite Victoria Ave.

EVERYTHING MUST BE SOLD

SAVINGS UP TO 50%

NOTHING RESERVED
BARGAINS GALORE

SAVINGS UP TO 50%

MUST VACATE! 4 FLOORS OF FURNITURE

GREATEST FURNITURE SELLING EVENT IN YEARS

EASY TERMS AT PERCIVAL'S

2 Piece Chesterfield Suite

A roomy two-cushioned sofa and matching chair covered in hard-wearing beige Frieze covering with silk frieze trim on both pieces. All its features of superior construction. Made to sell for 329.50. Priced to save you 160.00.

REG. 329.50

169.50

Drop Leaf Table and 4 Chairs

FLOOR SAMPLE

Five pieces, this walnut-finished drop leaf table in Duncan Phyfe style is extremely popular. Occupies little space with leaves down and with leaves up provides plenty of dining area. Chairs are walnut finished with upholstered seats.

REG. 79.50

34.50

3 Piece Chesterfield Suite

All three pieces covered in attractive good wearing frieze. Sofa and Chair in turkey red, with matching chair in green. All full spring construction in an up-to-date modern design.

REG. 289.00

198.00

Tri-Lights & Shades

Attractive standards and bases of chrome or bronze finish. Standard type, 3-way reflector, plus 3-candle type sockets. A wide choice of plastic or silk shades to make this a wonderful purchase complete. A real buy at this low price. Tri-light and shade.

REG. 21.50. COMPLETE

14.88

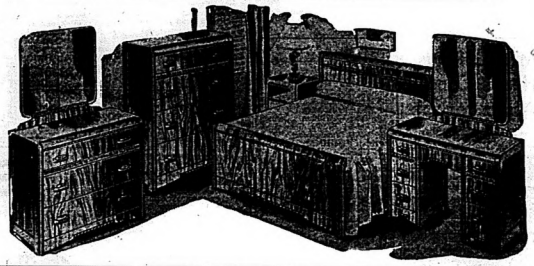
3 Piece Kroehler Chesterfield Suite

"CUSHIONIZED CONSTRUCTION"

This three-piece Chesterfield Suite features the elegance of design and tailoring that only Kroehler can achieve. Made with Kroehler Cushionized Construction for long lasting comfort. Upholstered in a high grade Repp in a shade to harmonize with any interior.

REG. 295.00

189.50



4 Pc. Genuine Walnut Bedroom Suite

DISTINCTIVELY MODERN. An inspiration in beauty and economy! A four-piece bedroom suite that will give you years of service. Generously proportioned, well-constructed pieces. Waterfall style, rich walnut veneer with clever tracings. Three-drawer dressér and six drawer knee-hole vanity have beautiful plate glass large mirrors. Four Drawer Chest and Double Bed complete the group.

Reg. 229.00. 29.90 Deposit—Balance in Weekly or Monthly Payments

149.50

SAVINGS UP TO 50%

WALNUT COFFEE TABLES

The new Modern Pie Crust type—finished in lovely walnut. Must be seen to appreciate this low price.

7.88

WALNUT SMOKING CABINETS

These upright walnut finished smokers or smoking cabinets are just the thing for Dad. Has handle made to make moving easy. Has spacious cupboard for storage, tobacco, pipes, etc. Attractive turned legs.

REG. 11.95.

7.88

5 PIECE CHROME SUITE

To make your dinette or kitchen shine. Heat resistant plastic top table with chrome legs and four sturdy chrome chairs with plastic upholstered seats and backs. Choice of colors.

REG. 99.50

49.50

9.90 Deposit. Bal. in weekly or monthly payments

3 Piece Chesterfield Suites

About 20 suites in this group. All over velours. Attractive colors, patterns, styles, all modern. Be sure to see these first, to see real value.

Values up to 349.50. 3 PC.

189.50

100 ONLY CHROME CHAIRS

A special purchase made these smart chrome chairs at a low price such as this possible. Sturdy Chrome Chair covered in good wearing plastic, in a choice of attractive colors.

REG. 10.95 — Each

7.89

WALNUT END TABLES

(NO DELIVERY)

Large good looking walnut finished End Tables. Attractive curved legs with lower shelf. Sorry, no delivery when we sell these at this new low price.

REG. 7.95

4.89

3 PIECE BEDROOM SPECIAL

Continental Bed—Spring Filled Mattress—Dresser

Just the thing for that spare bedroom or for the teen-ager's bedroom. Special includes any size bed, plus spring-filled mattress and a beautiful light finished Dresser with spacious drawer and large size mirror.

REG. 99.50 — 3 PIECES

69.50

Phone 4493

PERCIVAL'S

Phone 4493

3 PIECE BEDROOM SUITE

69.50

Full size bed, chiffonier and vanity with large, good quality mirror. All three pieces finished in good looking walnut. Attractive hardware.

REG. 109.50

MR. & MRS. BEDROOM SUITE

A very large suite with Mr. and Mrs. Dresser, Chest of Drawers and Full Size Bed, in lovely finished walnut. Everybody would agree that this is a little out of the ordinary at such a ridiculously low price.

REG. 169.00 — 3 PIECES

99.50

COMPLETE CONTINENTAL BEDS

Constructed band Springs with a better than average spring-filled mattress makes this an outfit that at this low price makes it a "Must."

REG. 69.50

44.50

SPRING-FILLED MATTRESSES

ODDS and ENDS

We have cleaned out our entire stock of mattresses at both stores and these are floor samples. End of lines. Some are soiled, but otherwise not wear-affected.

Values up to 39.50 18.88

Values up to 59.50

32.50

CEDAR CHESTS

Genuine walnut, large sized Cedar Chests. Attractively designed with Tennessee Red Cedar lining.

REG. UP TO 69.50

34.50

KNEE HOLE DESKS

Attractively finished in walnut. Large size tops with four and six side drawers.

REG. 34.50

14.95

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

ENGAGEMENT NOTICE

Mr. and Mrs. Richard C. Hewson, Belleville, Ontario, wish to announce the engagement of their daughter, Marjorie Eleanor, to George Frederick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Manley C. Ward, Belleville, Ontario, the marriage to take place in Christ Church, March 3rd.

Miss Lenora Bateman was a weekend guest in Allan's Mills, of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Bateman.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Thompson of this city, were in Peterborough and attended the recent Acklson-Youdell wedding.

Mrs. John Alfred, of Shannonville, who has been a patient in Belleville General Hospital, following an operation, is now convalescing at her home.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. Graham were among those who recently sailed from Boston to Barbados on the Canadian Steamship "Lady Nelson".

Visitors in the city over the weekend were Mrs. Ethel Conrad of the late Mr. Leo Doxsee of Mrs. Elmer Conley (sister), Belleville; Mr. and Mrs. Theodore (sister); Mr. Eugene Doyle, (brother); Mrs. Bostock and Mrs. Field, Mr. Frank Bradshaw, Mrs. Percy Cavanagh, all of Toronto, and Miss Esther Eastell of Ottawa.

Euchre Party

A good crowd was in attendance at the euchre party held in the Seco Club rooms, Monday evening, sponsored by the Ladies' Auxiliary, Canadian Legion, with Comrade Percy Hall acting assistant to Comrade E. Haley.

Those winning prizes were, ladies, Mrs. Hill, Mrs. Mackenzie; Mrs. Simmons and Mrs. Conway; men, Mr. E. Sunderland, Mr. Harry Petrie, Mrs. Milne and Mrs. Kay. Lone hands: ladies, divided between Mrs. Mackenzie and Mrs. Conway; men, divided between Mr. G. Lucas, and Mrs. F. Carscallen.

Choir Members Honored

On Sunday evening, the members of the Bridge Street Church choir gathered in the church parlor to honor three former members: Miss Pearl Campbell, Miss Beulah Handley and Mr. T. Colclough.

After a sing-song, led by Miss Norma Aitkins, the members of the choir were entertained by Mr. C. Wishart, who gave an interesting account of his recent trip abroad, illustrated by colored pictures.

Mr. Alec Gordon spoke briefly in appreciation of the faithfulness of the honored guests-to the work of the choir and Mr. T. Buchanan presented them with engraved hymn books.

Following the presentation refreshments were served by the social committee.

OUT-OF-TOWN PERSONAL

Mr. Seymour Hamilton, of Mountain View, was a guest of his former pastor, Rev. T. Smith and Mrs. Smith, of Milford, last Sunday.

WEDDINGS

ACKISON—YOUDELL

The marriage of Marie Youdell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Youdell, of Toronto, to Mr. Donald Ackison, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Ackison, of R.R. 3, Smith, was solemnized by the Rev. C. G. Lloyd in the vestry of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, Peterborough, Friday evening.

The bride wore a navy dress with inset yoke of white studded with rhinestones and a navy hat with white brim and white gloves. Her corsage was of red roses.

She was attended by Mrs. James Carver, who was dressed in an all navy dress and matching hat and corsage of roses.

Mr. Harry Thompson, of Belleville, attended the groom.

A small reception was held afterwait at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. E. Fruner, 478 Aylmer Street.

The bride and groom left on a wedding trip to Toronto, Buffalo and Cleveland and when they return they will live on Swanston Drive.

McAVELLA—HARRIS

On Saturday morning, at nine o'clock, the Church of St. Michael the Archangel, Belleville, was the scene of a lovely wedding, when Helen Theresa Harris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Harris, of Belleville, was united in marriage to Thomas Joseph McAvella, formerly of Campbellford, Ontario, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. McAvella of Campbellford. The Reverend Father J. J. Buckley, officiated before a background of snapdragons and white stocks.

Miss Collette O'Keefe provided the wedding music, and the soloists were, Mrs. Thomas Sanders and Miss Joan McAvella, sisters of the bridegroom.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was charming in her bridal gown of white satin with veil of tulle illusion held by a coronet of seed pearls. She carried a shower bouquet of Briarcliffe roses and white hyacinth petals.

Miss Elizabeth Harris, of Belleville, attended the bride, gowned in yellow taffeta with brown accessories and corsage of yellow rose. She carried a nosegay of gladioli and fern. Mrs. Arnold Dicola, of the R.C.A.F., Trenton, assisted the groomsmen, and the ushers; Mr. Thomas Sanders, of Campbellford, Mr. Alan Gordon, of Belleville.

The reception was held at the Golden Acres Inn, where 43 guests were received by the bride's mother in the black crepe evening accessories, and a corsage of pink carnations. Upon their return they will reside in Belleville, Ontario.

Out-of-town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. T. J. McAvella, Miss Joan McAvella, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Sanders—Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Outingdyke, Mr. and Mrs. W. Masterson; Miss Collette O'Keefe, all of Campbellford; Mr. and Mrs. M. Walker, of Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. Coffey, of Read, Ontario.

Prior to her marriage, the bride-elect was feted by a miscellaneous shower given by Mrs. H. Carr-Brant; Miss Kathleen Short entertained at her home for the bride with a miscellaneous shower.

Many beautiful gifts were in evidence, showing the high esteem in which the bride is held.

NOW! Toni TWICE AS EASY! TWICE AS FAST!

SPECIAL OFFER 33 Value, ONLY $2.79

NEW TONI SPIN CURLERS

No rubber bands—all plastic—all-in-one! Grips . . . spins . . . locks with a flick of the finger. Makes every curl perfect—as twice as easy and twice as fast!

GENTLE TONI CREME LOTION

Toni Waving Lotion is different! An exclusive gentle formula with matchless results. No other home permanent waves hair so gently and leaves it so soft and spongy, so easy to set and style.

TONI REFILL KIT	$1.25
New TONI SPIN CURLERS	2.00
New TONI CREME RINSE	.25
REGULAR VALUE	$3.50
SPECIAL OFFER ONLY	$2.79

LATTIMER'S DRUG STORE

Phone 876 - 877 We Deliver

Local Church Women Prepare For 'Day of Prayer'

A number of women met recently in Holloway Street United Church to prepare for the "World Day of Prayer" service which will be held there next Friday afternoon, and at which meeting Mrs. Major Hopsychuck will be the guest speaker, and Mrs. F. Houston, of Bridge Street United Church, the soloist for the afternoon. Mrs. G. Coulter presided.

On this the first Friday in Lent, millions of women around the world have one consolation, "The World Day of Prayer." This day is kept in the heart of Africa; in the frozen reaches of Baffin Land; in the bristling port cities of Latin America; in isolated villages of the Orient, as well as in thousands of communities in the United States and Canada.

There is no barrier of language, distance, color or creed, on the World Day of Prayer, as when a common approach to the Father. The love will offering is given chiefly to Christian literature and other missionary projects. All local church women are urged to attend this meeting and enjoy the fellowship of interchurch relations.

VICTIM OF NARROW BRUSH WITH DEATH

What was to have been the beginning of an eagerly awaited fishing trip ended in death of Elias "Winkie" Rautian of Toronto and near-death of 50-year-old Roy Brodie, Toronto fire captain, seen with nurse Alice Woldmik in hospital at Parry Sound, Ont. While attempting to push plane out of deep snow on trout lake so that Rautian could fly to nearby Parry Sound and phone his wife of their safe arrival, the craft suddenly picked up speed, catching Brodie on its tail. It then crashed, throwing him unconscious to the ground. By the time he regained consciousness his friend was dead. Forty hours later Brodie was rescued by search party. — Central Press Canadian.

Miss L. Riggs Heads Concert Assoc. for '51

The annual meeting of the Belleville Community Concert Association was held in the Y.M.C.A., on Monday evening and was well attended by members of that organization.

Mr. Ed. Buchanan, the treasurer, reported the Association now has a surplus of over $400.

Mrs. F. J. Bradley outlined present and future plans of the Association, besides introducing five new members who had been chosen as workers for the forthcoming campaign to be held in the early part of March. A nominating committee presented the slate of officers and directors for the 1951-52 season, who are as follows:

President, Miss Leona Riggs; vice presidents, E. Ormonde Butler, G. E. Currie, E. R. Hinchey and Dr. A. C. Locke; secretary, Miss Olive Delaney; treasurer, Ed. Buchanan; assistant treasurer, Mrs. Enid Ponton; committee chairmen—concert arrangements, Mrs. E. O. Butler; reception, Mrs. H. S. Robbins and Mrs. O. Pinkston; ushers, Alfred Evans; publicity, Eugene Lang; campaign manager, Mrs. F. J. Bradley and dinner chairman, Miss Helen Sullivan.

Artists committee—Mrs. J. W. Deacon, Alec Gordon, Clifford Templer, Donald LaFrance, Donland Houston, Mrs. E. G. Kennedy and Miss Phyllis May.

Directors — William Connor, Mrs. Robert Brown, John Pascon, W. B. Vandervoort, W. J. Morrison, Alec Gordon and Mrs. H. R. Gibson.

A special vote of thanks was given to Mr. John Deacon, the retiring president for his excellent work he had done while holding that office, also to Mrs. F. J. Bradley, the campaign chairman, for her untiring efforts to the Association during the course of the season. Many others were also given votes of thanks for their well appreciated co-operation to the Association during the last year.

COST UP 25 PER CENT

Toronto, Feb. 7 — (CP) Educational authorities yesterday announced a 25-per-cent jump in the cost of general supplies for administration of Toronto's public schools and collegiates. Changes in textbooks will account for a $51,000 increase, while a five-point program to expand music curriculum will have to be scrapped. Toronto spent $18,000,000 on education in 1950.

Women's Activities

AIKENS' W.M.S.

The February meeting of the Aikens' Women's Missionary Society was held at the home of Mrs. Ben Marshall. Due to the stormy day, there was a smaller attendance than usual.

The business opened with a poem, "A New Year's Call", with Mrs. C. McMullin presiding, the theme being, "The Silent Presence". Several verses of Scripture were read, also a poem, "Silence", written by Dr. Kagawa, of Japan, and Psalm 23, read in unison. Eleven members answered the roll call.

The business part of the meeting then followed. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. S. Spafford. The program committee is to consist of Mrs. M. Jeffrey, Mrs. W. Bailey, Mrs. L. Grills, Mrs. A. Latta. The president reminded the members of the World Day of Prayer which would be held on Friday, February 23, at the home of Mrs. Kenneth Jones.

A letter was also read by Mrs. Marshall from the committee of the Dominion Board stating that the U.S.S. on the Yukon had established a missionaries' residence at 506 Jarvis Street, Toronto, and the committee recommended that as a fitting memorial to the late Mrs. Smythe Christian life and work, a room in this home be furnished and marked with a suitable inscription, at a cost of, at least $250. This will be done through individual contributions. This item was discussed and it was decided that any member wishing to contribute money could bring it to the next meeting.

The president thanked the hostess for the use of her home, also the program committee for their fine program.

Mrs. G. Smith, as convener, gave the 5th chapter of the study book, her assistants being Mrs. Ben Allen, Mrs. G. Wellman, Mrs. P. Hamilton, Mrs. R. Marshall and Mrs. D. McComb. This chapter dealt with a survey of the schools and colleges in Japan to which the United Church contributes funds and missionaries, to show how great is their contribution to the education of youth, to enlist Japanese young people as followers of Jesus Christ, and as leaders in the Christian Church.

Another poem by Dr. Kagawa, read by the president, and after Mrs. Percy sang the Japanese hymn, "Holy Spirit Pray", the meeting came to a close followed by a half hour of a social get-together.

ST. JOHN'S W.M.S.

The February meeting of St. John's United Church Women's Missionary Society, Tweed, was held in the Sunday School room on Thursday afternoon, with a splendid attendance and a very stormy day.

The Worship Service opened by the president, who presented the theme "His Silent Presence", and several verses of scripture among them, "Be Still and Know That I am God". Psalms 46: 11.

The poem "Silence", written by Kagawa of Japan, a modern Christian saint, was well given by Vilhjalmur Stefansson was a good advertisement for the meat industry. For an entire year he lived — and almost died, he claimed that he felt better at the end of the year than at the beginning.

Undoubtedly he wouldn't have felt so exhilarated if he had to pay a dollar and a half a pound for porterhouse steaks and a dollar and a quarter for lamb chops.

Smoked sugar-cured ham is probably the most economical of the better cuts of meat at the present time. The waste in bone and fat is relatively small. The nature of the meat permits it to be sliced thin and still provide generous portions.

Baked sugar-cured ham is easy to prepare, since most brands now require no pre-soaking before cooking. To give it a crisp sugary coat, rub brown sugar into the fat side before the cooking is completed. If the sugar melts away in spots, add more of it where needed to complete the glazing.

Baked Ham, Puree of Peas. Serves 6.

5 lb. shank half of smoked ham
1-2 cup brown sugar
1 teaspoon dry mustard
1-2 teaspoon powdered cloves
1 tablespoon butter or vegetable fat
1-2 cup finely chopped onion
1 teaspoon finely chopped garlic
1 1-2 cups quick cooking green split peas
1-4 cup light cream
Salt—pepper

Preheat oven at 325 degrees Put the ham, fat side up, on a wire rack in an uncovered roaster. Roast, allowing about 25 minutes per pound cooking time.

Mix brown sugar, mustard and cloves. About a half hour before cooking is completed, remove ham from oven. Cut diagonal slices in the fat. In opposite directions, to form diamond shapes. Rub the sugar mixture into the fat. Return the ham to the oven to finish baking.

Melt the butter in a saucepan. Add the onion and garlic. Saute lightly. Add the peas and 3 cups of hot water. Simmer slowly until peas are very soft about 1 1-2 hours. Cook over a low flame and stir frequently or peas will scorch.

Force the peas through a colander or food mill.

Stir the cream into the peas. Add salt and pepper to taste. Reheat peas over a very slow flame in a double boiler.

Arrange slices of ham over peas on serving plates.

Miss Frances Harris, Psalm 23 was read in unison.

Several members lill in hospitals and elsewhere were remembered in prayer by Mrs. C. Barnett. All were reminded to attend the Presbyterial held in Picton on March 23. Several missionary readings were given by Mrs. C. Kerr, Mrs. Fred Foster and Mrs. T. Elliott, Mrs. Wallace Provost sang a pleasing solo, Mrs. Lincoln Elliott read an enjoyable letter from missionary, Miss Millicent Howse. Another poem by Kagawa to the youth of his own land, was read by Miss Harris.

WEST HUNTINGDON W.M.S. AND W.A.

The February meeting of the W.M.S. and W.A., of the West Huntingdon United Church was held at the home of Mrs. Phillip Carr, West Huntingdon, with a good attendance.

The meeting was opened by the president, Mrs. William Grant. The theme was "His Silent Presence".

Business was taken care of by the president. Scripture, the 23rd Psalm was repeated by all. A poem was read by Mrs. George Ashley, "Silence".

Presentation of Life membership to Mrs. Ambrose Wright; solo by Mrs. William Grant; reading by Mrs. Clayton Wright.

Guest speaker was Mrs. Donald Farrow.

Mrs. Frank Hammond on behalf of the ladies, gave a vote of thanks to all, who took part and also to the hostess, Mrs. Phillip Carr.

A social half-hour was enjoyed by the ladies.

BUSY CHANNEL

Tonnage of shipping through the Copenhagen Sound is higher than that through the Suez Canal.

FOR YOUR CONVENIENCE

LLOYD'S CLEANERS

HAVE OPENED A

CASH & CARRY DEPOT

402 Front St. Phone 332M

NEXT TO THE FIRE HALL

FOR

PICK UP AND DELIVERY

Phone 415

You'll Like Lloyd's Personal Service

WALKER STORES LTD. Present

NEW PRINT VALUES

IN BRIGHT SPRING DRESSES

Spring just isn't without a gay print dress that takes you here, there and everywhere in colorful, light-weight ease and good looks. Our new print group fills the bill to perfection — in a variety of styles, colors and print motifs. And above all — in the low, low price tags they wear!

Printed Rayon Crepe

Several styles to choose from in these lovely printed crepe dresses. The latest Spring shades—sizes 12 to 14.

5.95 Each

Printed Rayon Crepe

Pretty as a picture, Printed Crepes in bright Spring colors and gay figured and floral designs. Sizes 11 to 17.

9.95 Each

PHONE 329 Walker Stores, Limited 286 FRONT ST.

MARIO ... in his distinctive feature about Food... What's Cooking?

SPECIAL 3 DAYS ONLY

BRAND NEW 1951 CLASSIC

Complete with 7 Attachments.

ONE YEAR GUARANTEE

32.50

PHONE BELLEVILLE 3360-M

ELECTROLUX Beautifully Rebuilt

COMPLETE WITH ATTACHMENTS MANUFACTURED BY STATE

One Year Guarantee. Orders Taken in Strict Rotation.

ONLY $19.95

Sold on Demonstration Only to Ensure Complete Satisfaction.

STATE VACUUM STORES

I would like a free home demonstration of a fully guaranteed rebuilt Electrolux or Columbine vacuum cleaner.

Name
Address
City Prov.
Phone

STATE VACUUM STORES LIMITED

104 SPARKS STREET OTTAWA

ADVICE to the LOVELORN

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

Those boys in uniform

"Two months ago," writes a young woman of eighteen who signs her letter "Sally," "I met a very nice sailor at a party. You might say it was love at first sight.

The young man was twenty, and, after the fashion of many light-hearted seafarers, he devoted his stay in the girl's neighborhood to giving her an intensive rush. In fact, he made such a thorough job of it that, she says, "he told me he loved me very much, and wanted to marry me as soon as he got back from overseas."

Unfortunately, this eighteen-year-old was not sufficiently wise in the ways of sailors to take all this with appropriate casualness and the important grain of salt. So when he shipped out on the high seas of protestations of love, promising to write her soon and often, she committed the common error of being a girl in similar circumstances. Instead of telling him, "Drop me now; you're nice, but have me forgot" and waving him cheerily out of her life, she began to make watching for the postman her chief interest.

And now—"It has been three weeks, and I haven't heard from him," she writes mournfully. "I can't sleep and I can't eat. I don't care about going anywhere, all I do all day is think about him. I just don't seem to pull myself together. Do you think I should try to forget him, or keep on hoping and pray that in time I will hear from him? I know he would be very hard to forget, because I love him so much."

Now I see something that a lot of girls are going to experience in the next year or so—or, more happily, perhaps even even longer period unless the world suddenly straightens up and gets down to the business of making peace. So I think it would be very timely to pass on to this girl, and all the others who will be going to pay those cheery meet sailors, and soldiers and airmen, the advice contained in a letter recently received from a wife who, in the war of only a few years back, had her own experiences of falling hard for a man in uniform, believing it would be impossible to forget him. While her experience is rather unique in that she acted far more happily than things of this sort are apt to do, since then these lessons and even it some beats truths that she feels would be helpful to girls today, if they can only be smart enough to accept them.

Realism Foolishness

Here are some of the things she wrote me:

"When I was 18, I met a man of 30. He was a soldier, a boy friend's brother, and he was a Navy uniform. I fell for him. Looking back now, I realize how silly I must have been to think I had fallen in love at first sight with a good-looking fellow in his country uniform, when I didn't really know the person inside it.

"Of course I didn't let him know how I felt, and all during his leave I sat around the house too wretched and heartbroken to even think of going out with any other boy as long as I lived.

You see, Sally? Other girls, like you, have thought they had a case of "love at first sight". And this girl didn't even have the satisfaction of being noticed by the man. So her sailor went back to sea without having given her a second glance, and she proceeded to make herself thoroughly miserable, thinking about him constantly and telling herself, just as you're doing, that it would be impossible to forget him.

"But," she goes on to say, "I found out it wasn't as impossible as I thought. He was away quite some time, and then I heard from his brother that he wanted me to write him a letter. I did, but I was careful of what I put into it. I wrote him a friendly one, telling little bits of news I thought would interest him. And he never answered."

No letters, either, Sally. Just like you.

But then, all of a sudden, the war was over, the sailor came home and his brother brought him around again. Well, you're guessing right. They started to fall in love this time, got married, and are busily engaged in living "happily ever after".

Forgetting Not Impossible

Now I'm not suggesting, Sally, that your story is necessarily going to have the same happy ending. It might, by some miracle, of course, but frankly the odds are heavily against it.

But what I want you—and the other girls—to remember out of this wife's experience is, first, that what she says about its not being as impossible to forget as you think it is, and, second, the following little paragraph which closed her letter. It puts that business of "love at first sight" right into its proper place:

"What you first feel for a person isn't love," she says; "it's infatuation and a matter of just looking at someone and deciding you love him. It takes time, and understanding, and a lot of other things. It goes much deeper than just good looks. It's the person himself."

So pull yourself together, Sally, and stop making yourself sick over your boy in a sailor suit, no matter how handsome and charming he was. If he meant all those sweet things he said, you'll be hearing from him, one of these days. And if he didn't, and you don't hear from him, forget him.

Or, even better, just remember you met a nice chap in a uniform once, who was a long way from home and going even farther, and who doubtless, though he may not even have known it himself, was homesick and more than a little bit frightened. Remember that you had a nice time together, and that being friendly with you probably helped him a lot, and that it was fun while it lasted. And then forget all the rest.

FORBIDDEN TO BELONG

Brussels, Feb. 6 — (Reuters) — Civil servants today were forbidden to belong to the communist party or any other organization opposed to Belgium's consolidation or the laws of the Belgian people.

Becoming Ribbon Hats

Wearable little cloches

By GRACE THORNCLIFFE

RIBBON builds a nice bridge between the felt hats of winter and the straw of early spring. Mink brown with a flesh colored veil is the motif for the first number. The double turned back brim is piped in pink and decorated with three jeweled buttons. The navy blue cloche seamed into sections has red and green belting ribbon bands which come from the seaming at one side, and are drawn over the top and seem to slip through, finishing in tabs at one side.

GOOD MANNERS

By MRS. BEECKMAN

[illegible]

"Of Courtesy, much less Than Courtesy-of-heart or Holiness, Yet in my walks it seems to me That the Grace of God is in Courtesy."
— Hilaire Bellock, Courtesy.

Entertainment-gesture of groom's parents

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

Our son is engaged to be married, and, since he is our only child, we have not had any direct experience about engagement and wedding plans. Will you please tell me what is the proper thing for us to do in regard to showers? Also, is it proper for my husband and me to entertain the bridal party. (We are people in moderate circumstances.)

M.

No need for you to be at all concerned about giving a bridal shower for your son's fiancee. . . it is not considered good taste for the family of the groom (or the family of the bride either) to give a shower, for it gives the impression of a too-obvious promotion for gifts.

It would, however, be delightful and thoughtful for you and your husband to give a tea . . . or other simple party in honor of your son's fiancee, inviting only the wedding attendants or, if convenient, relatives and intimate friends of the couple. Or, if you wish, you may wait and give a dinner before the wedding rehearsal or a supper afterward. this is very often the gesture made by the prospective groom's parents.

Signature of unmarried lady

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

I am a girl 19 years of age. "A" says that when I write a letter to a stranger (for example, when I write this letter to you) I should sign my name Miss Mary Smith, since this would tell the receiver of the letter how to address a letter to me. But "B" says that "Miss" should not be written before my name. Who is right?

M.

"B" is right. It is not correct to include a title in a signature. If you think that it is necessary, you may correctly write the title in parentheses before your name: (Miss) Mary Smith.

Self-Introductions

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

This is a question that has always bothered me, and again last evening I wondered about the proper procedure; when I am at quite a large party and the hostess or host hasn't had an opportunity to introduce me to all the guests, is it proper for me to introduce myself?

Bill S.

Certainly . . . and yes, indeed! Some people and particularly some men) introduce themselves with such a charming grace that they make an unforgettable impression, and start a gallop along the road to developing a friendship. The first part of the self-introduction should, of course, be informative: " My name is Bill Sherwood. I'm a friend of our cordial host, Tom . . . he and I went to school together, and we're both so nice we've always been friends! Is that enough of an introduction of me so that you will be willing to tell me your name?"

When girl rises in introductions

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

When a girl is introduced to a boy, should she rise?

Claire W.

When a boy is introduced to a girl . . . a girl is introduced to a girl, Claire, not a girl to a boy . . . the girl does not rise. But she usually does rise when she is introduced to another girl . . . and she always should rise when she is introduced to an older person.

BETTER THAN FINES

Keene, Dennsylvania — (CP) — Children who break traffic regulations here are ordered to go to the police station where they have to read the highway code and then write an essay on the subject.

Featuring Fine Fabric

Beige wool fleece coat

By GRACE THORNCLIFFE

WELTED seams are used to fine advantage in this coat, the product of a very distinguished designer. Wonderfully warm wool fleece in warm beige is the fabric. The color is a nice full for sazy, brown, black or red accessories. There is no detail on this rich-looking coat other than the decorative seams that have the pockets worked right into them. The collar can be worn entirely closed or entirely open. Pushed up or pulled down, the sleeves are equally attractive.

Sometimes grey hair brings a stale of rebellion.

A hair shaft is composed of a horny, transparent substance; it is like a glass tube; within it is the pigment cells that determine whether one will be blonde, red, brunette or redhead. Nobody has yet discovered of what this element consists. Why it disappears nobody knows.

A shaft starts to whiten at the roots, showing that the color loss starts with the new structure that is emerging from the scalp in overlapping scales. The sensible step, when greyness appears, is to give extra attention to the care of the scalp.

Shampoos with a bland soap or creamy agent should be had every week. The dazzling should be preceded by a ten-minute friction—moving the scalp about, lifting the flesh pleasantly to stimulate circulation. It is a good idea to apply hot mineral oil the night before the shampoo to soften the scalp and to activate the sebaceous glands. Often, when greyness starts, the glorious crown becomes dry and the shafts break at the touch of a comb.

Brushing is necessary, no matter what the condition may be. It does a good house-cleaning job, removing surface dust and making out dead shafts. The bristles cannot possibly detach live ones. The brush should be narrow, with bristles set in groups, so it can be cleaned easily.

Much hairdressing goes on about pepper-and-salt locks. One hears, "If it would only turn grey all over." There will attend to that, but one should realize that this type of coloring carries charming lights and shadows, is really attractive.

BEAUTY

When the hair turns white

There are women who take on a new loveliness when the years place upon them a silver halo. This is particularly true when they have eyes of rich, brown, velvety appearance, and skins that have retained youthful texture and becoming coloring. It is also true that white hair forms a softening frame when beauty has started to fade, when facial lines have appeared. So it is not always a good-looks liability.

Women react differently to the appearance of the first frosted threads. Sometimes it is just a little pain in the heart. "Oh, well, I am getting on. After all, it doesn't matter." Sometimes it brings a state of rebellion. "Why must time be so cruel?" That usually means that sooner or later there will be sessions with dyes or temporary rinses.

Just why the hair turns, nobody knows. It can happen in the thirties, or as late as the seventies.

Fashion Flashes

STILL GOING strong is the dress of wool jersey. Equally smart for luncheon or late afternoon is a softly handled dress of rich-dyed wool jersey with surplice neckline and wide, tailored belt of gold kidskin.

EVER AND EVER smarter is the fine lace dress. Designed for resort wear now, and for spring later, is a late-afternoon or dinner-gown of white pleated lace over a stiffened faille, lace-covered underskirt. Off-the-shoulder neckline is low, and skirt is very full.

IN KEEPING with the mode for gray in all tones, one model at a recent showing wore pumps and gunmetal gray kid suede with a big handbag to match. Very new and good-looking.

LOOKS LIKE another season for navy, but perennial favorite. Double faced navy blue cotton makes a handsome glove, with appliqued decoration in the small cut-out designs on the zig-zag cuffs—typical of the smart new fabric gloves.

STRIKING for southern resort wear is a suit of white faille with the jacket with padded hipline and double-breasted closing at the waist, below a waist-length, wide, shawl collar of natural white fox. Under the jacket is a dress with square-cut neckline fastened with brilliant buttons.

HELD PERFEC HAND

Timmins, Ont., Feb. 5—(CP)—A 22-point cribbage hand turned up five other nights in a game between Mr. and Mrs. James Price. Mrs. Price held three five's and the jack of spades. The cut brought up the five of spades.

Crisp Rayon Taffeta

By PRUNELLA WOOD

THIS really elegant ensemble for the small junior size, up to 15, combines crisp, sleek texture rayon taffeta with black velveteen.

The plaid is made of brown, beige and black, and is used for both the sleeveless frock and the coat lining. Black braid details the dress collar and the coat, and the dress cuffs and buttons are black patent.

As can be readily seen, the full length reefer coat is not limited to wear with its ensembled dress, but can go out with any best-dress, by day or night.

POULTRY DOWN

Halifax, — (CP)— The Nova Scotia Agriculture Department reports more than 1,123,000 pounds of poultry were marketed in Nova Scotia last year, a decrease of about 300,000 pounds. But 122,000 cases of eggs were handled compared with 111,000 in 1949.

HAVE NEW HOME

Preston, Ont., Feb. 5—(CP)— Mr. and Mrs. Robert Robertson, who lost their eight-year-old daughter in a fire that destroyed their home last March 1, now have a new home, the gift of their community. The new little home is completely furnished and has an oil stove.

Build 13 Schools In Lonely North

Prince Albert, Sask., (CP) — Education prospers in scattered and isolated settlements of Saskatchewan's northland.

Children of metis, miners, trappers and government men get the same standard of education as children in southern parts of the province.

Department of Education has built 13 new schools in the last five years.

Beauval, Buffalo Narrows, Candle Lake, Cumberland House, Desare Beach, Lac la Loche, Montreal Lake North End, Pelican Portage, Green Lake, Sandy Bay, Snake Bay and Stony Rapids boast new schools.

Older ones are still operating at Isle La Crosse, Goldfields, Chitek Lake, Pelican Narrows, Sandfield and Cumberland Portage.

T. H. Waugh, superintendent of schools for the far north, says three new schools will probably take the place of old ones in 1951.

Children are taught by competent teachers, says Mrs. Waugh.

In addition to their regular studies, they are taught cooking, sewing and housekeeping.

"Their education is very encouraging," Mr. Waugh said. "And this March, samples of metis academic and handicraft work will be displayed in Prince Albert."

YOU'LL LIKE

P.F. "DIGESTIVE"

. . . a slightly sweet meal biscuit . . . suitable for serving on so many occasions.

Mr. Pooh & Mr. Frean

For Afternoon Tea

or an Evening Snack

Try Digestive with ale cheese.

25¢ In "Decorator" 8 OZ. PACKET

PEEK FREAN'S

MAKERS OF

Famous Biscuits

NIGHT COUGH ruining your sleep?

Here's FAST 3-WAY RELIEF!

Don't toss or turn from night coughing due to colds. Get Smith Brothers!

1. Soon dry throat tickle
2. Soothe your raw membranes
3. Help loosen phlegm

SMITH BROTHERS BLACK COUGH DROPS 10¢

CO-STAR OF RETRO-GOLDWYN-MAYER'S "GROUNDS FOR MARRIAGE"

9 out of 10 Screen Stars use Lux Toilet Soap

20 Doukhobors Help to Fight Fire

New Westminster, B.C., Feb. 7 (CP)— Penitentiary guards last night saw something they never expected to witness: Doukhobors fighting a fire.

Twenty of the radical Sons of Freedom played a small hose into flames which destroyed a $20,000 building, part of the Doukhobor compounds within prison walls.

A number of "Freedomites" are serving terms in the penitentiary for arson and conspiracy after dynamiting last spring in the Kootenay Valley area of British Columbia.

Cause of the fire was a mystery.

"I can't say how it happened," said Warden R. S. Douglas. "There will be an investigation."

While some Doukhobor helped fight the fire, other sect members were lined up against it's prison fence and watched by guards.

HALF OBJECTIVE OBTAINED

Hamilton, Feb. 7.— (CP) More than half of the $225,000 objective set by the Y. M. C. A. to complete its building project here, had been collected, President J. H. Tallman said Tuesday.

Don't be HALF-SAFE

by VALDA SHERMAN

Many motorists changes take place in your body. Yes, the glands under the eyes become sensitive and a new type of peroxide action begins to darken your hair—if they reach your dress—causing the telltale telegraphing.

You'll find the problem throughout womanhood. It's bad enough during the time of this perspiration. You must now use a protection that stops the perspiration itself before it reaches it and rules—your can.

As doctors know, not all deodorants stop both perspiration and odor. But Arrid does! It has been proved that the new cream Arrid stops the perspiration 1 to 2 days safely (keeps underarms dry) and stops odor, too. Arrid's antiseptic action kills odor on contact—prevents formation of odor up to 48 hours and keeps your sheer-est frocks and shirts safe for shirts. safe for shirts. safe for shirts. Don't risk half-safe deodorants. So Arrid-safe! Use Arrid. It is safe with Cream-ease and it will not dry out and it's so pleasant and easy to apply. Get Arrid—Canada's largest selling deodorant—today!

Sidney Twp. Council

Wallbridge Ont., Feb. 7, 1951

The Council of the Township of Sidney met pursuant to adjournment on the above date. All members present.

The minutes of the January meeting were read and confirmed.

Mr. George Day waited on council re drainage on Avondale side road.

Moved by H. Morrow, seconded by C. Frost.—That Reeve Grills, B. Harder and the road superintendent, be a committee to deal with this request.—Carried.

The clerk was instructed to obtain from Gore and Storrie, consulting engineers, a plan of watercourse on Wright Avenue.

Moved by H. Morrow, seconded by C. Frost —That Road Voucher No. 2 for $1,992.74, relief accounts and February pay sheet be paid.

Messrs. Hugh Gray and Everett Phillip waited on council relative to assistance on Community Centre at Stone Church, 4th Con.

A deputation from the 4th Con. spoke to the council requesting road improvement on the hill in that Con.

Councillors C. Frost and H. Hamilton were appointed delegates to the convention of Rural Municipalities of Ontario.

Reeve L. Grills and Councillor B. Harder and road superintendent, were appointed delegates to the Good Roads Convention. These conventions are held in Toronto the third week in February.

Moved by C. Frost, seconded by B. Harder—That Reeve Grills attend Judge's Chambers at 10 a.m., Feb. 26, re changing the names of certain streets in Sidney Township as absorbed by City of Belleville.

Moved by B. Harder, seconded by H. Hamilton—That H. Frink, 23 Sidney Street, be given a rebate of $21.13 on 1950 taxes when full amount of taxes are paid.

Moved by H. Morrow, seconded by C. Frost—That the clerk be instructed to draft debenture by-law to defray the cost of building additional public school accomodation in S.S. No. 2 at Avondale for meeting of Council, Thursday, February 15, at 8 p.m. at Wallbridge.

Two by-laws were given three readings and numbered 1276 and 1277, for appointing assessors for 1951 and to borrow money for current expenditures.

Moved by H. Hamilton, seconded by C. Frost—That council adjourn to meet at call of the Reeve.

R. Vanderwater,
Clerk, Sidney Township.

HAWKS HUMBLED

Pembroke, Feb. 7 — (CP) — Backed by the stellar goal-tending of Dave O'Meara, Pembroke Lumber Kings Tuesday night humbled the Pelengio's North Bay Black Hawks 7-2 in a scheduled eastern Canada hockey league fixture.

Jim Maxwell and Lorne Freemark were top marksmen of the night with a pair apiece, while Roy Giesebrecht, Mel Slater and Jack Demers added the Pembroke slugging.

For the bay, Fred Valenti and Bill Dwyer were the scorers.

Claims New Optometry Bill To Curb 'Exorbitant Prices'

Toronto, Feb. 7.—Irving Baker, president of the Ontario Association of Optometrists, charges misrepresentation of a bill the association seeks to have passed by the Ontario legislature. He said the only objective of the change in legislation is the protection of the public from exorbitant prices. The association said "exorbitant" is. The Act seeks autonomy for the association in the same sense that doctors and dentists govern their own members.

He said the new act does not change what exists at present in regulating those who examine, prescribe and dispense eye-glasses except to seek ability to control the association's own members. Standards of practice are already established by law.

"No fewer people will be able to practise, and there is no monopoly sought either, in this or in the sale of spectacles," the association head said.

"What we want is to have the optometrical board (a board now set up to control the profession) made responsible to members in the field, who are qualified practitioners," Mr. Baker said, adding that at least two court decisions had held that qualified optometrists constituted a profession.

As it stands now, a registered optometrist and a qualified medical practitioner are the only ones qualified to examine, prescribe or dispense eye-glasses. An optician is registered to dispense only.

There is an exempting section which permits the sale of glasses, such as in five and 10-cent stores, but in such cases there is no examination, no prescription and no dispensing. People pick up glasses available and do their own fitting without assistance of staff.

Mr. Baker said one of the objectives of the organization is to curb what he called "bait" advertising. He described this as advertising which encouraged people to go to places for glasses because the advertised prices were attractive. "But when they are done, they get something far more expensive than they bargained for without getting their money's worth, in some cases."

The reason he could give for opposition to the optometrists' attempts to establish their own rulings body, Mr. Baker said, was that there have always been some who opposed the association. "They are looking to the commercial rather than the professional side," he said.

He explained that the proposed changes in the act would give full recourse to the courts to any person held by the governing body to be guilty of infractions. Those guilty under the proposed legislation would be punishable, including punishment by suspension. No thought or intention of controlling prices but if a member appeared to be charging rates that seemed out of line, the governing body could check him.

Third Red Leader Quits in Italy

Rome, Feb. 7—(AP)—A third communist leader in the communist stronghold of Reggio Emilia today left the party in protest against its stand that Italian communists will not fight against Russia.

He was Dr. Riccardo Cocconi, former Partisan commander, who said his resignation was in support of Valdo Magnani and Aldo Cucchi, two communist deputies from Reggio Emilia. They walked out of the party because, they said, they believe Italian communists should defend their country against all aggressors including Russia.

Dr. Cocconi has been a communist since 1936.

MARMORA

C. W. League Holds Grandmothers' Night

Marmora — The January meeting of the Canadian Women's League was held in Sacred Heart Hall on Sunday evening with a good attendance. The president, Mrs. C. Cook, was in the chair. The meeting opened in the usual manner after which the correspondence was dealt with. The meeting took the form of "Grandmothers" night and 15 grandmothers were present and welcomed by the president.

Treasurer's Report

The treasurer's report was given by Mrs. B. McTaggart, showing a substantial balance on hand. She also reported the success of the dance sponsored by the league on January 19th. Plans were discussed for catering to the O.D.D. dance to be held on February 22nd. It was decided that the Holy Name Society and the C.W.I. would hold their March meeting on the same evening and join later for refreshments and a social hour.

The Rev. Father O'Neill then addressed the meeting briefly.

Mrs. J. Black took charge of the program and recited a poem, "Valentine for Grandma"; Mrs. P. Brawley gave a reading entitled, "Grandma", and Mrs. Brawley and Mrs. J. J. Ethier danced an Irish Jig.

Mrs. Hugh Brady sang, "Sunshine of Your Smile," and "Believe me if all These Endearing Young Charms", with Mrs. J. Black at the piano.

Mrs. Bernard Hughes gave a reading entitled, "Good Management" and Mrs. Carl Heath also gave a reading, "Granny." Mrs. J. Black recited Drummond's poem "Le Vieux Pempo."

Prizes Presented

Prizes were then presented to the grandmothers as follows: Oldest grandmother, Mrs. B. Gaffney; youngest grandmother, Mrs. Dervin Bedore; most recent grandmother, Mrs. Teresa Warrin; one with most grandchildren, Mrs. David Quinlan, who has 16 grandchildren. All joined in singing, "They Are Jolly Good Fellows," after which delicious refreshments were served by the ladies of Group 9.

Miss Jean Cook and Miss Monica Allore, of Peterborough, spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cook.

Mr. Joseph Maloney, of Peterborough, spent the weekend at his home here.

Mr. Pat Shannon, of Oshawa, spent the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Shannon.

ATHLETIC NORWEGIANS

Oslo—(CP)—More than 73,000 Norwegians are members of industrial sports clubs which are affiliated with the Norwegian Athletic Association.

ALLAN'S MILLS

Charles Stewart Heads Ryleston Cheese, Butter Co-operative

Allan's Mills — Ryleston Cheese and Butter Co-operative Ltd., held their annual meeting for 1950 on February 3rd with a splendid attendance of patrons. The statement for the year was total lbs of milk 3,203,315; total lbs of cheese 265,878; total lbs of butter fat 98,015. Total money for patrons (bonus included) $17.205.93; average price per lb cheese 29.79; average milk per lb cheese 12.04; average price per lb fat paid patrons 73.36; average lbs whey butter fat 6.235; Dominion Government premium on cheese $3,100.75.

Mr. Charles Stewart is president and Mr. Fred Barnum secretary-treasurer.

FENCE KRUGER PARK

Capetown—(CP)— To prevent poaching and damage to nearby farms South African national park will be asked to fence the South African government and the famous Kruger National Park. The Transvaal provincial administration will be asked to subscribe to the project.

The Largest Selection of Valentines Is at Schwab's

HUMOROUS — FAMILY — GET WELL — SWEETHEART
JUVENILE — BIRTHDAY — ANNIVERSARY

5c to $5.00

FOR VALENTINES — IT'S

SCHWAB'S

(FORMERLY SILLS' BOOK STORE)

222 Front Street BELLEVILLE Telephone 2449

It's Here! Lipson's Big

AFTER INVENTORY CLEARANCE

After taking Inventory we find ourselves with many lines that are limited in quantity—or have a broken size range — others may be slightly counter soiled, etc. These items and lines we are sacrificing at UNHEARD OF LOW PRICES to make way for New Spring Merchandise now on its way! Never have sayings been more pronounced than during this big AFTER INVENTORY CLEARANCE — below we have listed but a few of the many attractions going at prices that are SIMPLY SENSATIONAL — look for others throughout the store. Big values for every member of the family! But it means early shopping on your part! Come at 9.00 a.m. sharp — TOMORROW!

BOYS' POLOJAMAS
Reduced to Clear 2.98
Soft cotton polojamas — famous Zimmerknit in sturdy weave. These come with gaily striped tops — and plain colored trousers. Trousers have ribbed cuff for snug, neat wear — to fit at waist. Round neck-style — long sleeves. Sizes: small, medium and large.

MEN'S and WOMEN'S POLOJAMAS
After Inventory Clearance. Suit .. 3.79
Here's a big opportunity to save substantially on these popular style sleeping garments. Tops are in gay stripe patterns — choice of round necks or neat collars. Bottoms in plain colors. Sizes: small, medium and large. A big color selection.

BOYS' SATIN BOMBER JACKETS
After Inventory Clearance, Each ... 7.88
Just what every young fellow wants —sleek, satin bomber jackets, priced for quick clearance! In wine, blue or brown-quilted lined, ripper front and finished with warm mouton (dyed, processed lamb) collar. Sizes 32-30 only. Regular price was 9.95.

70" x 84" Flannelette BLANKETS
ANOTHER ROUSING SALE FEATURE — soft, wooly napped flannelette blankets in those neat blue and pink plaid designs. Whipped singly —ready to use. Better stock up with a few pairs while this low price prevails. 4.25 Pr.

CLEARANCE RACK OF SOILED BLOUSES
Regular to 5.95 ..... 1.98
Look at the savings in this group — only the fact that these are slightly soiled would you get them at anywhere near this low price! White and pastels — long and short sleeves —tailored and dressy types. Broken size range. Save on two or more —but come early!

LOOK! CHILDREN'S SNOWSUITS
Regular to 15.95 ..... 7.88
Selection includes both gabardine and warm woollens. 3 piece styles —in two-tone effects, with fancy trim on jacket front. Zipper closure. Sizes 3-4-5 years only! Big saving at this sale price!

REG. 29.95 WOMEN'S COATS
Clearing at Only 18.78
Broken size range — fashionable, all wool coats, in grey or black — regularly 29.95, clearing at only 18.78 each in this big sale. Both belted and loose fitting styles, beautifully styled and smartly finished. No doubt about the value at this price. It means prompt shopping.

MEN'S CARDIGANS
A sturdy, finely knit cardigan in a good wearing mixture — choice of wine, blue or brown only — sizes, medium and large. Splendid weight for wear around the house or slipping on under one's coat. Reg. 3.98. After Inventory Sale, EACH 2.98

Lipson's STORES, LTD.

WRAY'S FEBRUARY SALE 2nd BIG WEEK

Every Article Advertised an Authentic Bargain

MANUFACTURER'S CLEARANCE MANUFACTURER'S

CLEARANCE MANUFACTURER'S CLEARANCE CLEARANCE

5-Pce. Suite Genuine Walnut

EXTRA SPECIAL!!

Well-Filled White Felt Mattress FREE with Each of these Cribs

27 x 54—Natural Wood finish. Complete with mattress 34.00
27 x 54—Honeywood finish. Complete with mattress 42.00
27 x 54—Honeywood finish. Complete with mattress 19.25
27 x 51—Steel Crib in walnut finish. Complete with mattress 29.50
27 x 51—Steel Crib in walnut finish. Complete with mattress 27.00
27 x 51—Steel Crib in natural finish. Complete with mattress 25.00

EACH OF THESE CRIBS IS A REAL BUY AND SHOULD BE SEEN TO BE APPRECIATED.

KROEHLER SPECIAL This Week

2-PIECE CHESTERFIELD —grey frieze, suntan finish.
239.50

2-PIECE CHESTERFIELD —Victoria design. Solid walnut frame. Beautiful Brocatelle.
165.00

WRAY'S HOME FURNISHERS

306 Front Street AUTHORIZED KROEHLER DEALER Phone 40

Hope to Revive Lumber Industry

Coldwater, Ont. — (CP) Plans for a reforestation survey may result in revival of the lumbering industry in historic Huronia, 100 miles north of Toronto.

The Ontario government has agreed to carry out the survey this summer in North Simcoe district including Medonte township in which Coldwater is the largest village.

Newmille at Midland, Penetanguishene, Victoria Harbor, Waubashene, Port Severn and other Georgian Bay points have ceased operation. Provision of alternative employment has been only partially successful and the prosperity of North Simcoe has suffered.

Municipal leaders hope to see the area reforested in stages. A conservation authority may be granted. If application proceeds rights and other provisions can be incorporated in the scheme to satisfy the municipalities involved.

Current moves have served to revive tales of the Coldwater district's early days when virgin forest covered the area.

Five Cents Per Acre

Coldwater was a village 150 years ago when land was valued at five cents an acre. An Ojibway chief, Aisance, lived here and his tribe called the settlement Gisi-Nsu-Se-Bing, meaning "cold river" or "cold water" and thus originated the name Coldwater.

At one time the village was the hub of a 9,800-acre Indian reserve.

It was also one of the stages used for water transport by British military authorities in the 1820s.

Starting in 1828 the government built a mill, store, school and houses in Coldwater and district. The only white people allowed on the reserve, which stretched as far east as Orillia, were officials serving the Indian agent.

Ten years later the area was given over to white settlers and the Indians removed to islands and tracts of land including Beausoleil Island and the Hama Reserve, north of Orillia.

Jacob Gill, who built the government mill at Coldwater in 1830 has many descendants in this district. The mill has been operated continuously to this day and has been particularly busy during the present winter. It gets its power from the Coldwater river.

In 1855 a sailing vessel was built at Coldwater of Medonte timber and called the Reindeer. She was loaded with white oak and sailed direct from Coldwater to Liverpool.

GOVT. UNDER FIRE

(Continued from Page One)

Net trading profit after expenses of $5,418,996, amounted to $28,564,007 and money from permits and fees swelled this to $30,780,787, surplus of $30,800,000 was remitted to the provincial treasurer. The Dominion government received $62,256,093 in customs and excise duties, malt duties, and taxes on domestic beers and wines.

During the year, permits of 4,116 persons were cancelled. A total of 814,566 individual permits were issued.

Premier Frost said that lack of provincial jurisdiction in both gambling and communication facilities was a main problem in controlling operation of race tracks and bookmakers. The cure to the problem lay with the federal government, he said during debate on a bill to amend the Racing Commission Act. Principle of the bill was approved.

Federal controls over communication systems such as telephone, telegraph and radio made it difficult to strike at illegal bookmakers. As well, the federal government decided what legal gambling would be allowed at race tracks, he said.

The Premier referred to last summer's provincial police probe of gambling in Windsor, Ont., where he said police found some places with 50 or 60 telephones.

"We may investigate, track down and take action, only to have the communications services restored," he said.

Widen Power

The bill under discussion would widen the racing commission's powers over all classes of race track activity and allow it to take administrative, rather than legislative, action.

J. G. White (PC—Kenora) who made the motion in reply to the Throne Speech, asked for establishment of a new government department to deal with Northern Ontario affairs. He suggested the province could set a Minister for Northern Ontario districts, which depended more on government supervision than did Southern Ontario counties.

G. F. Villeneuve (PC—Glengarry), who seconded the motion, called on the province to press for an early start on the St. Lawrence Seaway and Power Development.

BOUNCES

(Continued from Page One)

Attorney - General Theodore Phalen, who read a signed statement from one passenger, Robert Thaler, who said he saw a burning journal box on the fourth car of the train before it left Newark — its last stop, before the wreck.

Thaler told Parsons by telephone this car's undercarriage may have collapsed as it whipped across the trestle.

Alive but injured, the 37-year-old Flintstone, said from a hospital cot:

Speed Not to Blame

"The moment my engine passed over the trestle and lurched sharply I felt the rest of the cars would never make it.

"I hit the trestle at about 25 miles per hour and the speed of the train certainly couldn't be blamed for the crash. When I started to sway, I applied the brakes, but it apparently was too late."

The train pulled out of Jersey City at 5:10 p.m. EST. It was more crowded than usual because another commuter line, the Jersey Central, was knocked out by the switchmen's "sick call" strike. Many central commuters elbowed in with the estimated 900 passengers who daily ride "The Broker".

It hit the trestle, the engineer fighting the brakes to try and control it.

"I heard him throw on the air brakes three times as she came down a grade and onto the temporary tracks," said passenger Irving W. Teeple.

Doing Level Best

"He was doing his level best to hold her back."

"It just went bounce, bounce, bounce—and then there was a terrible noise," said another passenger, Norman Mertz.

The big engine left the tracks and plunged in an arc to the pavement of a street below, in this city of 27,000 persons, 30 miles south of New York.

Behind it, the first five cars of the train went this way and that in a jumble of jagged steel. Some of them turned over in the thick mud of the embankment. Others stayed upright; grotesquely twisted across the rails or along the embankment.

Passengers were tossed about inside the coaches like dice in a cup. Many were mangled to bits under the grinding weight of sharp, broken metal.

Others survived or died in tomb-like crevasses of steel, as some of the cars were bent into a U-shape by the terrible force of the crash. It took about seven hours—until after midnight —to dig and saw the last one clear.

PROPOSED AERIAL

(Continued from Page One)

noo-confidence motion, standing since the House reopened six days ago. It charges the government made the United States resolution calling on the United Nations to denounce red China as an aggressor in Korea.

In a rare occurrence, the CCF did not call for a recorded vote on their motion, which had been widely criticized in the debate. W. H. Herridge (CCF-Kootenay West), calling for reimposition of price controls, revived the debate before action could be taken on a Progressive Conservative motion criticizing the government on various aspects of its prosperous program.

Possibilities Foded

In the debate, Mr. Croll said German rearmament posed these possibilities:

1. This move may prompt Russian aggression; 2. A rearmed West Germany may try to conquer the east to bring about unification of Germany; 3. A rearmed Germany may decide to join the Russians against the western world; 4. Western Germans may refuse to fight communist-dominated countryside.

The Toronto member, who enlisted in the Second World War as a private and emerged a Colonel, said the North Atlantic powers still are dealing "with a (German) people who are unrepentant, unrepentant, who consider themselves unfortunate victims and whose chief object at present is to figure out the winning side and get on it."

Canada surely wanted nothing of "shoddy, left-over" German generals who would produce "a replica of Hitler's army."

Mr. Power said there still are some Canadians who were battle-minded, division-minded and the like. Since the government was launching a $5,000,000,000 defence program, members should give their views because this program passed unchallenged.

Dr. Raoul Poulin (Ind.-Beauce) suggested Canada should keep her armed forces at home and use the billions to be voted for defence to bulwark this country's boundaries against external attack. While no Canadian would refuse to defend his own country there should be opposition to conscription for overseas service.

Power Politics Claim

Mr. Power, recalling that he had opposed Canada's association with the old League of Nations 30 years ago, said that Canada and her North Atlantic partners have returned to power politics which they once condemned, in an effort to preserve the uneasy present day peace.

Giving his approval to the North Atlantic Alliance, he said it no longer could be claimed that the United Nations could bring peace or could prevent aggression by a major power. At the same time, he felt the North Atlantic Alliance should be placed in its true light—formation of a power bloc.

His reasons for approving a big air force included a belief that Canadians had built up a great reputation for feats in the air and in training air personnel and that there was less danger of deterioration of morale among air force men stationed in a foreign country than among other services.

Also, there was great mobility in an air arm and, when it came to last-ditch fighting, there always was a chance that the air force could get out and fly back to Canada.

Mr. Power also advocated creation of a special House committee to examine expenditures under the government's mammoth $5,000,000,000 three-year defence program.

But he did not want, he emphasized, a committee empowered to call military personnel as witnesses, as advocated by the Progressive Conservative opposition. He felt it would be "unfair" to ask service chiefs to express views on government policy, responsibility for policy must rest with the government.

Other Speakers

Other speakers in the debate included R. R. Knight (CCF—Saskatoon); J. A. Ross (PC—Souris); Robert Fair (SC—Battle River); and J. L. MacDougall (L—Vancouver Burrard).

Mr. Ross criticized the government's defence effort and said Canada should have 210,000 men in uniform if she was going to match the program of the United States. The country's reserve forces were in a "very, very unsatisfactory" condition.

Mr. MacDougall suggested Canada would be wise to encourage her cadet corps. These groups would provide much of the manpower for the armed services. He said that even Defence Minister Claxton probably was not satisfied with the reserve forces at present. The best of Canada's young men had to be attracted to the reserve forces if they did not go into the active service.

Mr. Fair called for immediate government action to reduce the cost of living. He said high labor costs, excessive government taxations and large margins of profit were responsible for current high costs.

Mr. Knight called for support of the C.C.F. motion criticizing the government for backing the United States resolution branding communist China an aggressor. He hoped Canada would not make a second mistake and support sanctions against China. This would close the door to peace with China and might lead in progressive steps to a world war.

Team Goes Native On Research Trip

Capetown—(CP)—R. A. Hamilton, a young English anthropologist, and his Czech wife left here in a station wagon recently "going native" in central Africa.

They plan to live for a year among primitive African tribes whose life has not yet been influenced by the white man's civilization, to follow up the research of missionary and explorer, David Livingstone. They will live among the descendants of the Ngoni tribe which trekked north from Natal 120 years ago to escape the rule of the Zulu Napoleon, Chaka.

The Ngoni, an aristocratic tribe, conquered and absorbed the Maravi and other central African tribes and have preserved their identity to some extent by banning marriage between Ngoni women, and men of the conquered tribes.

Mr. Hamilton is writing a thesis on his research for a doctorate at the School of Oriental Studies, London University.

Mrs. Hamilton will help him with his research by having access to childbirth and initiation ceremonies where only women are allowed.

MANY ARMY RESERVES

London, Feb. 6 — (Reuters) — Britain has 2,856,364 army reserves, War Secretary John Strachey said in a Parliamentary reply yesterday. About 235,000 of them are being called up for two weeks this summer in a test mobilization.

IMPORTANT LINK

To aid mining development, a 347-mile all-weather highway was finished between Whitehorse and Mayo, Yukon, in 1950.

ROCKETING INTO 1951 !

The Superb "98"

OLDSMOBILE

A GENERAL MOTORS VALUE

Illustrated—DeLuxe 4-Door Holiday Sedan

Inspired Beauty and Unequalled Performance ... with Improved Hydra-Matic!

Illustrated—DeLuxe Holiday Coupe

Oldsmobile's great "98" Series makes a triumphant entry into 1951 and offers to Canadians new models of sheer magnificence! Here, beyond question, are the most glamourous motor cars ever built. The "98" Deluxe Holiday Sedan —breath-taking new styling for the four-door body type! The "98" Deluxe Convertible Coupe—rich and beautiful, inside and out! And the "98" Deluxe and Standard Holiday Coupes, offering all the dash of convertible styling with the safety of a solid steel top!

Inside, Oldsmobile "98" gives you new interiors, superbly styled for more room, more view, more comfort for you!

And every new "98" is built to perform just as magnificently as its beauty would lead you to expect! There's famous "Rocket" power, now even higher in compression for 1951, with many brilliant new engineering features. And teamed with the great-hearted "Rocket" Engine in every model, there's Hydra-Matic Drive, eleven-years-proved and now even finer than ever, with "instant-reverse"!

For full particulars including that of availability see your Oldsmobile dealer today!

*Hydra-matic Drive optional on all Models at Extra Cost.

J. B. BOYCE AND SONS LIMITED

346 - 350 FRONT STREET BELLEVILLE, ONT.

Money FOR ANY GOOD PURPOSE $50 $500 $1000

At Household Finance you may borrow extra cash promptly for any good purpose ... to pay doctor or dental bills, repair bills, taxes, or any unexpected money problem.

Code No. Signature Only

HFC specialises in fast service! You get the money you need on your own signature—without endorsers or bankable security.

Select Your Repayment Plan

You can take 6 to 24 months to repay. Remember—you select the repayment plan that best fits your needs. Phone or see Household Finance for friendly, helpful service backed by 75 years' experience.

HFC MONEY WHEN YOU NEED IT!

HOUSEHOLD FINANCE

Conduct your business on Loans

Belleville Office

121 Front Street

Warren Building Phone 3760

BELLEVILLE, ONT.

Hours 9 to 5 or by appointment

GIVE Cold-Sick Child this Pleasant LAXATIVE relief

To help break up sour, stifling cold-misery and relieve Nature's Distress Signals (Sour Stomach, Peevishness, Lack of Appetite, Nervousness, Restlessness, Sleeplessness) that often accompany head colds, give Baby or Child (over 2 years) Dr. Hand's Pleasant Tasting Laxative Tablets. Use only as directed. Get a package at druggists or by mail from manufacturer of a reliable product.

Children's Own TABLETS

PHOOEY!!
—TO HIGH PRICES—

The Cost of Living Index is at Its Highest
The Prices at the B.B.C. are at Their Lowest!!

IF YOU'RE SMART! YOU'LL SHOP AT THE B.B.C.

MEN'S ALL WOOL
SCARVES
IN 5 SHADES.
ONLY
59c

MEN'S WHITE COTTON
Handkerchiefs
IDEAL FOR EVERY DAY USE
12c Each

MEN'S RAILWAY CAPS
Striped or Solid Blue
ONLY
39c

MEN'S ALL ELASTIC
BRACES
IN 4 COLORS.
ONLY
39c

MEN'S DRESS TIES
REGULARLY $1.50
ONLY
49c

MEN'S JOCKEY
SHORTS AND TOPS
47c Each

MEN'S COTTON
DRESS SOCKS
Reg. 99c
39c

MEN'S PULLOVER MITTS
HORSEHIDE
ONLY 1.49

MEN'S OVERALLS
ROCKET BRAND.
Sanforized Triple Stitch. Zipper Front
ONLY
3.99

MEN'S WORK SHIRTS
FLANNELETTE
Sizes 14 - 17. Large Body Sizes.
ONLY
2.49

MEN'S GABARDINE PANTS
SIZES 30-44
Still the best price in town.
ONLY
5.49

SPECIAL!!
MEN'S 100% PURE
Nylon Hose
WILL NOT SHRINK.
BEAUTIFUL SOLID SHADES.
Sizes 10½ - 12 Only.
LONGS 99c
SHORTS 89c

MEN'S MOLESKIN
WORK PANTS
FOR THAT HEAVY JOB. Get them while these prices last.
ONLY
2.99

MEN'S
PENMAN'S "95" UNDERWEAR
Your last chance to get "95" at these prices.
ONLY
5.79

MEN'S
OVERALL WORK PANTS
Sanforized, triple stitch, lace, belted or straight back.
ONLY
3.19

LADIES'
SLIPS STRAIGHT CUT.
½" Lace Trim
ONLY
99c

LADIES'
NYLONS
42 GAUGE
Full Fashion. First Quality.
ONLY
99c

LADIES'
BLOOMERS
Another Special on Cotton Bloomers.
ONLY
19c

SPECIAL!!
SKIRTS
WOOL JERSEY and WOOL PLAIDS.
Dirndl waist only. Sizes 14 - 20.
1.99

LADIES'
SMOCKS
Beautiful cotton smocks in 3 alluring shades.
ONLY
1.99

LADIES'
SHORTIE COATS
Reg. 15.95
ONLY
8.95

LADIES'
NYLON BRASSIERES
Sizes 32-36
ONLY
99c

CHILDREN'S CORDUROY OVERALLS
in 5 Shades.
ONLY
1.99

CHILDREN'S PARKAS
COTTON GAB.
Sizes 24 - 32 only
7.95

CHILDREN'S BOYS'
COTTON GABARDINE
Two-Tone
Windbreakers
3.99

CHILDREN'S COTTON and WOOL
PULLOVERS
Sizes 24-34
ONLY
99c

CHILDREN'S BOYS' PANTS
TWEEDS
Sizes 26 - 34
2.59

CHILDREN'S COTTON
PLAIN SHIRTS
Sizes 12 - 14
1.39

JUST A FEW OF THE MANY TREMENDOUS BARGAINS YOU'LL FIND AT THE ONE AND ONLY ONE!!

385 FRONT ST. Across From The Firehall PHONE 2239J

BELLEVILLE BARGAIN CENTRE

SECOND SECTION

The Ontario Intelligencer

PAGES 11 to 20

BELLEVILLE, ONTARIO, WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 7, 1951

German Rearmament Is Chief Threat to Peace Says Note Received From the Kremlin

Moscow, Feb. 7 (AP) — New Russian notes on a proposed Big Four meeting reiterated that German rearmament is the chief threat to peace, but they leave the door open for talks on other world problems—in the council for foreign ministers as set up by the Potsdam agreement.

The Washington officials invited the call for a "council" meeting as meaning Russia would exclude discussion of Far Eastern questions unless Communist China was represented. Since Potsdam included China on the council for such discussions.

(The United States does not recognize the red China regime and would not agree to its inclusion in the talks, Washington officials said.)

The Russian notes, latest in an exchange of Soviet-Western notes which began last October, were made public last night. They were delivered Monday to the United States, Britain and France.

The last western communications had asked if the Soviet Union would agree to a meeting of the Big Four foreign ministers, the causes of world tension rather than German problems alone.

Discussion of "other questions"

If the Soviet reply was "positive" by the council of foreign ministers' deputies, the conciliation manner provided for by the Potsdam agreement."

Not Opposed

The note said the Soviet government does not oppose convening a preliminary meeting of representatives of the United States, Britain, France and the U.S.S.R. in Paris to work out a conference agenda. But at this meeting "consideration of substance questions included on the agenda should not" be discussed, Moscow's note said.

After a careful study of the note, experienced western diplomats here said such a preliminary meeting of the Big Four now is possible. They questioned whether any further clarification of the Soviet position by diplomatic note exchange would be needed since it could be sought at the proposed Paris meeting.

(Representatives of the U.S., Britain and France are conferring on the next step in Washington. There are indications they might soon propose a list of conference subjects.)

N.Z. Shipment Of Meat to U.S., Canada Delayed

Auckland, N.Z., Feb. 7 (CP) — The projected shipment of 5,000 tons of New Zealand meat to Canada and the United States has been postponed for the present, it was announced today.

Reason for postponement was given by the New Zealand Meat Producers' Board as a desire to avoid disturbing American trade by sending shipments before the slaughtering season.

The meat originally destined for North America now will be sent to Britain to help ease the acute meat shortage there. Officials denied, however, that the change is the result of representations from the British government which agreed on the proposed Canada-United States shipments.

QUIET HOUSE

Cleaning out files in his Commons office is A. L. Smith, Progressive Conservative M.P. for Calgary West. Mr. Smith, 65, retired because of ill health, September 1st, 1945, was many friends on both sides of the House with his home-spun philosophy. — (CP Photo.)

Back-to-Work Movement Spreads but Many Switchmen Remain off Jobs in Key Cities

Chicago, Feb. 7 — (AP) — The critical and costly tie-up of United States railroad transportation appeared easing today as more striking switchmen joined in the back-to-work movements which started yesterday.

There was not a full - scale return across the country marking the end of the "sick call" walkout which started Jan. 30, but indications were that the crippling weekdong stoppage was nearing an end in many parts of the United States.

Several bright spots appeared on the troubled rail front following the first major break yesterday when the bulk of the switchmen returned to work.

Service was speeded up on major lines in the New York and New England areas. It was near normal in many other cities, and many carriers expressed hope for normal service soon as the back-to-work movement spread from city to city.

But there were some dark spots, too, in the over-all picture.

There were a couple of new — although small — walkouts. And not many trains were moving in some of the key rail centres—notably Chicago, St. Louis, Cleveland, St. Paul and Minneapolis.

The delay in a full return to work delayed the recall of thousands of workers in rail-related industries. More than 250,000 had been made idle in the 3-day walkout because of the rail work stoppage. Approximately 12,000 switchmen were involved in the walkout.

Despite the apparent growing back-to-work movement, the federal transport administration in Washington ordered trucks to give top priority to movement of vital government shipments and to help break the log jam of undelivered mail.

A railroad spokesman in Washington yesterday said that "any idea that the show is over is completely erroneous." He said that for every group that goes back to work "there's another bunch that goes out."

Basic cause of the dispute are long - standing wage - rise demands by the switchmen which have led to walkouts in the past.

The carriers' are holding to terms of an agreement signed last Dec. 21, calling for a 25-cent hourly wage hike for yard service employees and a 10-cent raise for road service workers.

Will Take Weeks To Unsnarl Rail Shipping Tie-up

New York, Feb. 7 (AP) — The production and shipping mess caused by the railroad tie-up will take weeks for steel people to unravel, the Iron Age, metal-working trade weekly, says today.

Movement of vital raw materials has been blocked, it reports, and finished steel urgently needed by manufacturers has been frozen in the shipping yards.

The publication says that more than 100,000 net tons of steel have been lost. This cannot be made up later, it added, because "the industry is straining its productive equipment almost to the breaking point to meet the double-barreled demand of military and civilian users."

Steelmaking operations this week were placed at 96.5 per cent of rated capacity, down 4.5 points from the previous week.

Lost output slated for defence or essential civilian orders will have to be scheduled later, the Iron Age says, pointing out that "this means that other orders which had been already scheduled will have to be pushed aside."

Spy Klaus Fuchs Must Serve Full Sentence to 1961

London, Feb. 7—(Reuters)—Bespectacled atom spy Dr. K. Fuchs must serve his full 14 years penal servitude sentence for giving production remission, the Daily Graphic reports today. He should be free by 1961.

The Graphic says after three months discussion between British and United States atomic policy advisers it was decided three plans to free him to continue atomic research must be dropped because of the prospect of public outcry in Britain and America. Details of the three plans were: Release him on parole to work at atom station at Harwell; take him from prison each day to a university; allow him to work in jail.

Heats quickly—stays hotter—irons faster. Start ironing in 30 seconds after you connect it. Reaches full, high heat for heavy damp linens in 2½ minutes. The only automatic iron with a Thumb-Tip Heat Regulator up in the handle, cool, easy-to-set, conveniently marked for all types of fabrics. Cool, wrist-resting handle

WRITE THE "WOMAN'S POINT OF VIEW" CONTEST

Covering These Three Points:

1.—The iron you now use

2.—Your opinion of the Sunbeam Iron.— favorable or unfavorable.

3.—What features would entice you to exchange your iron for a new one?

YOU MAY WIN A

Sunbeam Iron

Mail your Replies to Your Northern Electric Dealer

VANDUSEN Bros. LTD.

329 Front St. — BELLEVILLE

All letters become the property of Van Dusen Bros. Ltd.

August 'Quake Killed 1,500, Damage $50 Million in India

Bombay, —(Reuters)—Revised estimates of the earthquake which rocked the eastern India province of Assam last August place the death toll at 1,526 persons. The property loss is conservatively estimated at $50,000,000.

Fifteen thousand square miles of hills, dales, jungles and farmland were affected by convulsions in the earth's crust, and some of the world's rarest wildlife perished in the earthquake and floods that followed.

Scores of hill streams changed their course, vast lakes appeared from nowhere and landslides buried hundreds of villages.

Panicky tribesmen in the Assam hills looked to heaven and appealed to the gods to curb their anger. Some, following a traditional tribal custom, buried their dogs into the overflowing rivers to appease the river gods.

Even Mount Everest, world's highest peak, is said to have been pushed higher as a result of the earthquake, although the Indian geologist are loath to reluctant to confirm this.

Dr. Ramachandra Rao, prominent geologist of Calcutta, said: "According to the latest survey the accepted height of Everest was 29,002 feet. Its present height is anybody's guess pending a fresh survey."

Hit on Anniversary

The earthquake occurred the night of Aug. 15, third anniversary of India's independence. It was one of a series of calamities that during the year, including floods, drought, landslides, riots and forced migration.

No disaster on a similar scale had taken place since Krakatoa island in the Dutch East Indies disappeared in the last century.

There was disagreement over the epicentre, which appears to have been located six miles inside Tibet off the left shoulder of India. No survey of that region has been made.

Loss of life in Assam was not proportionate to the violence of the earthquake, largely because the destructive waves were preceded by a shock which gave people one minute to rush out of their houses. In addition, the hilly region which bore the brunt of the quake is sparsely inhabited.

The peculiar aspect of the quake was that more lives were lost and more damage caused by the aftermath of the tremor than during it.

The quake tore hills asunder and tumbled many of them down, blocking the network of streams and rivers which criscrosss this region. Water backed into huge lakes for several days. Then billions of tons of pentup floods overwhelmed their natural dams and roared down on the country, sweeping away everything in its path.

The worst-hit town of any size was North Lakhimpur, with a population of 10,000. There's not a single house standing crect

Form of Controls Must Fit Economic Conditions

Montreal, Feb. 7 (CP)—Donald Gordon, chairman and president of Canadian National Railways, said Tuesday night that there are dangers associated with runaway prices and that any form of controls must be appropriate to the economic conditions of today and the foreseeable future.

Controls can only supplement and not supplant the process of holding civilian demand within the range of available civilian supply, said Mr. Gordon in his address, as a private individual, before the ninth annual conference of the Canadian Retail Federation.

Communist fifth columns would rejoice at an upward jump in prices and would "work diligently to speed up the whirling spiral of wages and prices if it gets started."

The problem of lost purchasing power would fall on "the weaker and unorganized elements in our society and on those who have been prudent and thrifty.

At the same time, "dogmatic statements either for or against government controls of whatever degree during a period of emergency are not conducive to clear thinking."

"Runaway inflation is so destructive that any method of stopping it, no matter how difficult and clumsy it may be, is surely the lesser evil."

MANY EMPLOYED

Washington, Feb. 6 — (AP) — The census bureau reported last night that 59,010,000 persons were employed in civilian jobs last month, the greatest number ever for the month of January. The number of employed dropped 1,298,000 from the December level, however.

Canadian Ground Forces In Korea Ready to Move up, Take Place in Front Lines

With the Canadians in Korea, Feb. 7 (CP) — Their training virtually completed, the Canadian ground forces in Korea are ready to move up to the front from their present location in southern Korea, their commander said today.

Lt.-Col. J. R. Stone, commanding the 2nd Battalion, Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry, issued the word at the end of "Exercise Maple Leaf" — a five-day scheme devised by Col. Stone to test the fitness for battle of his troops.

The troops have not been informed officially yet, but the imminent prospect of the move is common knowledge in the ranks. Col. Stone is expected to address them at a battalion parade before their departure from the area in which was carried out the indoctrination program agreed upon between Col. Stone and the Lt. Gen. Walton Walker of the United States Eighth Army.

There may be time for one more battalion exercise before the deadline for moving up, the commanding officer said. There is a possibility that this may be an "attack rehearsal" using live ammunition.

As the administrative echelons geared their activities for the projected move, there was speculation as to when the first reinforcements may be expected.

Notified that five officers and about 75 other ranks are due each month as reinforcements, the battalion—which could absorb them and more—is wondering whether the move is to come duty will find it under strength. Exercise Concluded

The exercise just concluded — a delaying action and withdrawal —was carried out without live ammunition.

The exercise ended at first light today when the companies consolidated briefly on a holding line along a river after thinning out their lines by night on the mountain slopes they had held for the last four days commanding a main supply route.

Tired, dirty and sporting five-day growths of beards on their training-hardened faces, the Patricias were nonetheless cheerful as they marched back to their camp near Miryang.

Company cooks had a breakfast of freshly-fried eggs, bacon and coffee waiting, while rear-echelon parties had lit the stoves in the tents, and heated up water for shaving, cleaning mess tins encrusted with a five-day residue, and showers for those wanting to clean up before turning in to catch some much-needed sleep.

The troops have been excused duty for 24 hours to rest and smarten up before resuming their training.

Meanwhile, a battalion critique of the training manoeuvre was scheduled for later today for officers and NCO's who participated in the exercise. Notes will be compared between Col. Stone's force and the "enemy" under Lieut. Rick Constant of Calgary, whose job was to harass the withdrawal.

SEVEN YEARS LATER

Prestwick, Scotland—(CP) — The transport ministry announced the requisitioning of three roads here. Then it was discovered the roads had become part of Prestwick airport's main runway seven years ago.

70 years with one purpose ...policyowners' security

North American Life reports continued financial strength to its 140,000 policyowners at the close of its 70th year. The enterprising Canadians who founded the Company in the horse and buggy days of 70 years ago had but one purpose—the lifetime security of the policyowners and their families. That singleness of purpose has been a guiding principle since 1881.

Every day North American Life policyowners are benefiting from their protection in this Mutual Company. In 1950, policyowners and beneficiaries received $7,812,866, bringing the 70 year total of policy benefits to over $165,000,000. For the future, the Company holds over $144,000,000 in assets to meet obligations to policyowners who own life insurance and annuities totalling over $621,000,000.

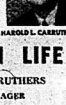
The 70th Annual Report at a Glance

New Assurance and Annuities arranged	$ 88,550,772
Net Life Insurance and Annuities in force (Increase $67,632,265)	$621,588,890
Total Premiums Received	$ 17,506,557
Payments to Policyowners and Beneficiaries	$ 7,812,866
Liabilities to Policyowners and Others	$136,611,374
Special Reserves and Surplus Funds	$ 7,419,321
Total Assets (Increase $11,719,910)	$144,030,695

The complete Annual Report will be mailed upon request.

The Company is pleased to associate its life underwriter with this message. Like good neighbours, they have made their specialized services available to further the security of the Company's policyowners.

(Pictured is the leading representative in 1950 for this district.)



HAROLD L. CARRUTHERS

NORTH AMERICAN LIFE

HAROLD L. CARRUTHERS
DISTRICT MANAGER
203 East Robertson Block

RADIOS REFRIGERATORS VACUUM CLEANERS

DAVID'S ELECTRIC SHOP

ANNUAL Sale

HIGH QUALITY

Used Appliances

If you are looking for a good Used Appliances, here is your opportunity to save dollars. All these appliances are in excellent condition, and must be sold to allow us more space.

BEATTY COPPER TUB WASHER
EXCELLENT CONDITION.
69.50

WESTINGHOUSE 8 CU. FT. REFRIGERATOR
One year old. Guaranteed like new.
359.50

ADDISON COMBINATION RADIO-PHONOGRAPH
AM and FM, automatic record changer.
269.50

HOSTESS 6 CU. FT. REFRIGERATOR
GOOD CONDITION
169.50

KELVINATOR REFRIGERATOR
GOOD CONDITION
129.50

LATE MODEL ELECTROLUX VACUUM CLEANER
Excellent condition. With attachments.
69.50

These are but a few of our stock of Used Appliances

WE HAVE MANY MORE VACUUM CLEANERS, CONSOLE RADIOS, MANTEL RADIOS, RANGETTES.

DON'T MISS THIS CHANCE

—to purchase one of these appliances on easy terms through DAVID'S Own, Confidential Payment Plan.

DAVID'S ELECTRIC SHOP
340 FRONT STREET PHONE 659

RADIOS REFRIGERATORS VACUUM CLEANERS

Canadian Man Behind Scenes On Big NBC Show

New York—(CP)—A grey-haired former Canadian Army officer, James Harvey, who took a brief fling at the movies before making good on the networks, is helping to run NBC's radio extravaganza "The Big Show".

The Ontario-born Harvey still talks in army terms when he discusses the Sunday night feature in NBC's Centre Theatre, where he is assistant director.

His job is to work as general assistant to producer-director Dee Engelbach; co-ordinating arrangements and helping to line up the glittering array of guest stars who exchange badinage with mistress of ceremonies Tallulah Bankhead.

"Fifth, an inter-com headset strapped on, Harvey relays cues from Engelbach to Miss Bankhead, the guest stars and the lighting engineers.

"It's just like a tank," says the 43-year-old Harvey about his communication system.

He's happy with the show, too. "With the strategy of Engelbach and the tactics of Miss Bankhead 'The Big Show' is one of the most successful combined operations in the history of radio," he says. "I'm delighted to be part of it."

Born at Niagara-on-the-Lake, Harvey attended Ridley College in St. Catharines, Ont., where he first evinced an interest in show business. He acted in "Pyramus and Thisbe," and subsequently produced Aristophanes' "Frogs," which he held to be suitable for the boarding-school audience.

After prep school Harvey attended McGill University in Montreal, graduating in 1933 with a bachelor of commerce degree. He was active in college dramatics. Produced an annual musical revue, and played three years of Varsity football although he weighed only 132 pounds.

Left Oil Business

As a bachelor of commerce, Harvey took a three-month fling at the oil business, found it distasteful, and headed for Hollywood.

In the next two years he made the painful discovery that a college degree counts for little, no matter how successful, is no guarantee of obtaining movie roles. In Hollywood, however, he got behind the scenes in radio, and that subsequently stood him in good stead.

On his way to a radio job in Detroit, Harvey was stranded in Texas. He took a brief job as driver of a nitro-glycerine truck in the oilfields.

In Detroit he did some producing and directing for station WWJ before he went to Toronto, and produced a number of important shows for the CBC, including the "CBC Summer Theatre" and "Percy Faith Programme."

In 1938 Harvey left the CBC to form his own package agency, Harvey Productions, Inc. At one time he had six radio shows out of Toronto, on the CBC and independent stations.

The following year he volunteered for active service with the Canadian Armored Corps. He rose from trooper to lieutenant and his captaincy in the field. He refers to the mention in dispatches in his war record as having been awarded "for saving a bottle of Scotch" while crossing the Rhine.

In 1943, Harvey joined NBC. He originated "Living—1942." He directed a D-Day anniversary program and he finds it particularly novel that he, a Canadian, drew critical acclaim for a July 4 documentary.

Pioneer Dogs of Australia

Australia's gratitude to the sheep which first made her rich should not be greater than her gratitude to her dogs, declares Gavin Casey, London, Chilton.

It is the courageous, hard-working kelpie sheep-dogs and Border collie, and even nowadays it is hard to get into an argument as to whether or not some dingo blood was mixed in into the breed when the first dogs were brought over the line.

Of course, is Australia's [illegible] dog. He is a sleeky vicious animal which has no bark, but howls mournfully at night, and roller-bowls in mobs, mutilates sheep for the sheer fun of it. The dingo is a beautiful animal with an ugly nature. He will breed with domestic dogs, but, as far as anyone can remember, the result of a dingo-cross has never been satisfactory.

Anyway, the argument about kelpies and dingoes will probably go on forever, and whichever opinion may be correct, he record of Australia's kelpie is a magnificent one. He is leaner and lighter than most of the sheep breeds of the old world. He is not shorthaired, like a heeler, but his coat is light and not very long. The pads of his feet are hard, and suited to long days of running in hot, gravelly ground through those inland back-swards that supply last mile. He is an austere dog, with dignity, like all good working dogs, and he does not like being made to look foolish. He is utterly spoiled by too much petting or too much food.

Among the sheep-men who are his masters he never gets too much to eat or too many demonstrations of affection, but they like and know he gets, fair, just treatment. He also has, and knows he has, the best conditions. He is quiet, decent men who are his partners. In the greatest and richest sheep industry in the world.

The other great Australian working dog is the cattle-dog, and these are well represented by the breed known as Queensland blue heelers. If the life of the Australian sheep-dog may be said to consist mostly of hard work and fast intelligent decisions, that of the heeler is made up of these same things, plus a spice of reckless adventure.

The heeler lives dangerously, at high speed. It is possibly because of this that, while he has all the self-respect of the kelpie, he is a more lovable creature, more playful and frolics and wayward behaviour in his leisure moments. But when he is on the job, he earns his fun and, like the kelpie, he saves men and horses.

A dog will wheel a running bullock back to the herd by nipping at his flying heels, and the running dog will never be licked. He can drop flat on to the ground in the split second during which a pair of massive hooves whizz right over his head. Then he can be seen in his full stride again and nipping at the heels of the beef-on-the-hoof within a few yards.

If a bullock is a really bad one, a man on a horse, with a swidging stockwhip sending pistol-shots through the air, will probably join in. But if the bullock is so very bad that even the man and the horse cannot handle him, the dog's turn may come again.

If his boss gets into actual danger, the Queensland blue heeler will take his enemy by the nose. He will fix his long fangs into the nostril of a great, enraged beast a hundred times his weight, and hang on until the bullock has had enough of excruciating pain. In such a battle, the dog swings like a pendulum, and takes stunning knocks from the hard earth and the bullock's hard front hoofs—but if he lets go before the steer has had time to think things over, it will only be because he had a poor grip in the first place. He will take a bit of bullock with him in his jaws.

Most of us who are fond of dogs regard them as the gay friends of our leisure hours. But these two great Australian workingdogs show canine capacity at its best. The animals share man's toil and his danger, and do it with almost human intelligence and dignity, and with more than human gameness, willingness, and courage.

Australia's gratitude to the sheep which first made her rich should not be greater than her gratitude to the dogs. They are the ones who made it possible to handle her vast flocks and herds without an impossibly costly amount of human labor.

20 Tons of Elephant Tied up by Strike

Grand Rapids, Mich., Feb. 6—(AP)—The rail strike is an inconvenience to Ruth, Marcella, Little Babe, Little Jewel, and Trilby.

The five are cramped up here —all 20 tons of them—in a railway baggage car which should now be in Cleveland.

And at this time the New York Central representatives here aren't saying when the five—they're elephants—can leave.

The elephants, stranded here since Saturday, are part of the cast of the Saladin Shrine Circus.

But things aren't too bad.

Henry Demuth, the trainer, said the elephants are good-natured as long as they are fed and watered.

"Believe me, I see that they get plenty," Demuth said.

Buglers Go Into Battle Blowing 'Gary Owen'

U.S. 1st Cavalry Division, Korea, Feb. 6—(AP)—Those Chinese buglers are going to get a taste of their own music. The reds have a way of blowing bugles at the outset of an attack, so Col. William A. Harris, of Athens, Ga., has issued bugles to each battalion in the 7th Regiment of the 1st Cavalry Division.

He has instructed his men to go into battle blowing "Garry Owen" —the old Irish drinking song.

WINTER SPORT

Port Arthur, Ont. —(CP)— A new winter sport may be in the making—shooting wolves from airplanes on the ice-covered lakes of northwestern Ontario. Reg Windsor, Ontario government wild-life inspector here, and other officials are considering the plan.

THE 1951 OLDSMOBILE Series "98" introduced by General Motors offers a sleek new design and is powered by an improved "Rocket" engine with increased compression ratio. Hydra-Matic Drive; GM's fully automatic transmission, is available as an option at extra cost. Mounted on a 122-inch wheelbase, the Oldsmobile Series "98" features a new body suspension system utilizing leaf springs in the rear for greater riding ease. Shown here is the Series "98" Holiday Sedan.

STIRLING

Stirling — Mr. Rogey Stewart, operator at the Department of Transport Radio Range, at Stirling, for the past five years, has received word of his transfer to Windsor as a technician. His many friends, while regretting his departure, will be pleased to learn of his advancement.

The monthly meeting of the Trent Valley Scout leaders was held in the high school on Tuesday evening. Scout and Cub leaders were present from Trenton, Batawa, Frankford and Stirling.

Mr. Art Jackson of Trenton, Field Commissioner for this district, addressed the meeting, stressing the further development of Scouting in Canada.

Members of Stirling Citizens Band and their wives and friends numbering some 70 enjoyed a turkey dinner and dance at Tobey's County Gardens last Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Herb Stewart, Sandra, Brenda, Valerie were guests on Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Herb Taylor at Hilton.

Miss Eleanor Wells, of Toronto, spent a recent weekend at her home.

Mrs. J. S. Whitehead spent a day last week with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rutherford, Campbellford.

Miss Jeandot Villefortz, a student at Trinity College, Toronto, was home for the weekend.

Mrs. C. W. Duff of Drumbo, Ont., spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Spry.

Mr. Ross Bradshaw, of Bowmanville spent the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Bradshaw.

Dance Prize Winners

Several from Stirling attended the dance at Springbrook on Friday evening, sponsored by the ladies of the Orange Lodge. Mr. S. McIntosh won the electric clock and Mr. Don Reid the comforter.

Mr. Tom Paterson, of Toronto, University, spent the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Patterson.

Miss Pora Rodgers has left for Montreal for the three month training in the Children's Memorial Hospital.

Mrs. Burton Woodbeck received a badly sprained arm from a fall on Mill Street, on Wednesday night.

Miss Ruth Rose, who is attending Ontario College of Education, in Toronto, was home for the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Ray and family were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Ray, Belleville.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Clements, of Harold, moved to the former John Richardson property on Front Street last week.

Wing Commander and Mrs. Frank Hillock of Ottawa, spent the last few days at "Hillsholme" guests of the former's aunt, Mrs. J. H. Beetty.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Irish and family, of Belleville, spent Wednesday with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Irish.

Mr. George Pollard, who is spending the winter months on the staff of the Eastern Ontario Dairy School at Kemptville, spent the weekend at his home here.

SALEM

Salem—Mr. and Mrs. Fred Robinson were dinner guests on Sunday of last week of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Parrott, Kingston Rd.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Selder, Napanee, called on Mr. and Mrs. George Silla, recently.

Mrs. Thos. Leslie and Mrs. J. Haight spent Sunday with Mrs. Walter Parry, Northport.

Mrs. S. Haight, of Belleville, spent the weekend at her home here.

LIKE GETTING 3 PAIRS OF KIDDIES SHOES FREE!

Kiddies' shoes a problem? Buy MARGENE and save $20.00 to $30.00 a year . . . enough to pay for 3 pairs of Kiddies' shoes.

MARGENE is delicious on hot toast, bread or vegetables. It is nutritious — enriched with 15,000 units of Vitamin A and 4,000 units of Vitamin D. Your family will like MARGENE'S sweet, fruit flavour.

SERVE

AND SAVE

"The Secret of Flavour is Freshness!"

A PRODUCT OF CANADA PACKERS

ECONOMY 14-OZ. REGULAR 8-OZ. SIZES

Kellogg's BRAN FLAKES

Guaranteed FRESHER to You!

Only Kellogg's says: "Double your money back if you don't agree these Bran Flakes are fresher!" (Send empty carton to Kellogg's, Dept. 4A, London, Ont.)

Bigger Flakes—Crisper, too!

No other bran flakes are Kellogg-size and so crispy in milk! Delicious way to get extra bulk to help you "keep regular"!

That's why we've switched to Kellogg's BRAN FLAKES

News of Trenton

Unemployment Down 14 P.C. From Same Period Last Year

Trenton—(Special)— According to the latest figures unemployment in Trenton and a 500 square mile area surrounding the town has dropped better than 14 per cent under the total of 735 persons jobless in the same period last year. Today there are 625 men and women in Trenton and district without work and drawing insurance benefits.

A breakdown of the records shows that 525 men are seeking work while 100 women are looking for jobs. The drop in the unemployed women amounts to practically fifty per cent and is due to extra work created by night shifts of local textile firms.

Bulk of the persons out of work the report reveals are unskilled workers. However, the number of construction workers unemployed this year exceeds the number registered for insurance this time in 1950. A shortage of reinforcing steel and the weather are blamed for the slackening in private building enterprise.

The local office of the National Employment Service has the following tradesmen available for work: bricklayers 11; carpenters 67; cement and concrete finishers 2; painters 19; plasterers 1; plumbers 4; and other specialists 2.

Have Odd Jobs Done

A spokesman for the local office has especially requested residents that have odd jobs to be done have them attended to immediately while there is extra skilled labor at hand. People who put off attending to the incidental jobs around the home now are liable to find their jobs still undone when the Spring building opens up.

The Service has been having no difficulty placing men in heavy industry. The demand is greater than the supply for lathe operators, tool and die makers and metals tradesmen.

Managing the office in Trenton for the area is J. W. A. Russell formerly a Major and acting Colonel with the Canadian Army Service Corps. Under him is a staff of seven.

Police Court

Yesterday's court session was short and sweet although the sentences handed out by Magistrate T. Y. Wills were anything but.

Four men appeared and four were sentenced. All of them were unable to raise the necessary fine money. All of them pleaded guilty.

Two of the offenders admitted second offence drunk counts. William McGuire was asked to pay $53 or spend 30 days in jail. Hubert Holland accepted the same penalty when he could not raise the amount that would open the gate to freedom.

First offenders John Stewart and Oswald Peverelle took the eight days in Belleville jail.

Parking violators who failed to recognize summonses paid $1 fines and $2.50 costs. They included Canadian General Insurance, General Motors Products, Hastings Music Company of Belleville and Hugh R. Park.

Pickerel For Charlie Flood

A paper mill worker Charlie Flood brought home a nice and a very sound pickerel beauty yesterday from a session of ice fishing in the shanty out on the bay.

Re-open St. John's Airport

Officials of the Trenton Air Station announced yesterday that plans have been made to reopen the air force station at St. John's, Quebec.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Simmons and family are spending a few days in Toronto.

Mr. Ezra Smith, manager of the Trenton Chamber of Commerce left for Montreal yesterday to attend a conference of the Chamber of Commerce managers and secretaries.

Canterbury Hall Supper

More than 100 persons were present at a demonstration supper at Canterbury Hall last night when about $50 was collected for the St. George's Anglican Church Yeoc group.

Ice Harvest Underway

At present there are 15 men engaged in cutting and packing ice for the Ellis Company of Trenton. The point where the harvesting is in full swing lies off the "Birth shore of the Calhoun mill for south of Bay Bridge Street. The operation is expected to take two weeks.

"Ice is the best in years" says Gillie Ellis who reported cutters were gathering good clear 17-inch cakes.

SMALL COUNTY

Rutland, with 170 square miles, is the smallest county in England outside the county of London.

Clean Your REFRIGERATOR for 1/2 cent a week!

Boiling soda banishes food odors and aromas by emulsifying the greasy film that holds them. Keeps interior and ice cube trays fresher and fresher. Just sprinkle a little baking soda on a damp cloth and wipe all inside surfaces every week.

COW BRAND BAKING SODA

COMBINE WORK, PLAY

Hockey-playing parstroopers of the P.P.C.L.I. prepare to board an R.C.A.F. plane to keep a date for a hockey game at Vernon, B.C. To boost their number of "drops," the men parachuted in. Standing, left to right, are: Lieut. B. E. Harper, manager; Cpl. R. Waluszka, Pte. P. A. Cripps, Cpl. G. C. Schansohem, Sgt. D. C. Roe, Pte. C. L. Gronette, and Lt.-Col. N. C. Wilson-Smith. Kneeling are Pts. W. LaRoche and B. Chow Kam. — (CP Photo from National Defence.)

CAMPBELLFORD

Council Awards Salary Raises To Employees

Campbellford — Salary increases for town employees occupied a goodly portion of the regular meeting of the Campbellford town council in the council chambers on Monday evening. Mayor J. E. Ayrhart presided, with all council members present. Clerk J. F. McGregor and treasurer Eldon Iley had their salaries increased from $1250 per year to $1,500 per year. In addition to this they received a small bonus at Christmas time.

The salaries of Chief Constable George H. Hardy and Constable W. E. Cargin were raised from $1,900 and $1,800 respectively to $2,300 for the chief and $2,100 for the constable. This still leaves these men as two of the lowest paid policemen in any town of comparable size in the province. In addition to his regular salary, Chief Hardy receives an allowance for his car of $17 per month.

Councillor F. M. Rutherford of the Police committee recommended the increase on the grounds that the government grant of $1,200 for the police force would be increased another 25 per cent by the hike in wages. This fact, coupled with the high cost of living prompted council to act on his recommendation.

Workmen Raised

Councillor Maybee suggested that town workmen be paid 90c per hour, instead of the 60c per hour now paid. This will go into effect as of the first of February. Other raises granted town officials will be retroactive to January 1, 1951.

The salary of the town foreman, Wib Blake, will remain at its present level until Mr. Blake has been in the employ of the town for a period of one year, at which time it will be reviewed again.

The by-law providing for the changing of a number of street names in the town received its first and second reading, and after all requirements of the statutes have been carried out, it will be turned over to the Department of Municipal Affairs for approval, after which it will receive its third reading, if approved.

A request from a property owner, for the town to turn over the deed to a lot granted from the town some time ago was discussed, but council will take no action on this until the legal committee investigates the conditions of all lots purchased from the town since the passing of a by-law in 1946 providing for construction on lots purchased to start within a specified time. The committee will make a report at the next regular meeting.

Name Building Inspector

A by-law naming the town assessor, Mr. Harry Townsend as building inspector received its third reading. The property committee was granted power to authorize issuance of permits, except in extreme cases, where there is a direct complaint from a citizen concerned in the matter, in which case the matter will be taken up with the entire council.

Mr. Craig Beattie, whose cereal mill burned with a loss of about $30,000 recently, asked council, council, complaining that the firemen could have saved portion of the building, which had just recently been constructed. He said he asked especially to have a line of hose placed on this part of the structure. Instead of the front portion, which was already doomed. "Then too", he said, "the firemen, who responded quickly to the call, were unable to operate a nearby hydrant, and had to return to the fire hall to procure more hose to attach to a hydrant further away." The hydrant in question turned out to be one of three located in the town which has a left hand thread. These are scheduled to be changed in the spring to the right hand thread variety.

Did Not Want to Sue

Mr. Beattie said that while a number of citizens had urged him to sue the town for the poor fire protection, he said he did not want to do that, and in fact, was not asking for any compensation. He said he merely wanted to bring the matter to the attention of the council, and if they considered doing anything about the matter, he would be very pleased.

Mayor J. E. Ayrhart, said he could sympathize with Mr. Beattie in this case as did the majority of council, but he did not know what action could be taken until the town solicitor looked into the legal aspects of the matter. This was left with the legal committee and they will report on it at the next regular meeting.

Council does not want to establish a precedent in this case, by compensating a citizen for a fire loss, but they are anxious to do all in their power for the unfortunate Mr. Beattie.

A tax abatement of two dollars and eighty cents was granted Mr. Harry Simpson, and after passing of the pay sheet, council adjourned.

FOUR CHILDREN BURNED

Marks, Miss., Feb. 7 — (AP)— Four children ranging in age from four months to three years, were burned to death yesterday in a farmhouse blaze caused by sloshing kerosene in a wood stove.

DRINK Coca-Cola SHOP REFRESHED

CAMPBELLFORD

Robinson Sparks Hockey Victory With Four Goals

Campbellford, Feb. 7—A small crowd in the arena here Monday evening saw the Campbellford T.V.L. team defeat Peterborough, St. Peters by a 9 to 2 score.

The Campbellford squad appeared to be working for a shutout for their relief goalkeeper, Nelson. They held Peterborough off the score sheet until half way through the third period. The game was very cleanly played but lacked any of the spectacular brand of hockey that is usually associated with most T.V.L. games.

Four of Campbellford got his first goal of the season, while veteran "Robbie" Robinson got four and assisted on another.

Lineups:

Peterborough: St. Peters: Goal, McGrath; defence, Foster, Bierwick; centre, Basciano; wings, Russelle, Ryan; alternates, McDonald, Parsons, Forstell, O'Connell, Wells.

Campbellford: Goal, Nelson; defence, Tanner, Trumble; centre, Blake; wings, Campbellford, Pace; alternates, Robinson, Doocher, Mason, Griffis, Peake, Smith, MacMillan. Spare goal Laverne.

Summary

First period

1 Campbellford, Robinson (Mason) 6.10
2 Campbellford, Robinson (Mason) 6.41
3 Campbellford, Jeffs (Daniels) 18.59
Penalties—Smith and Bierwick.

Second period

4 Campbellford, Blake (Pace, Herrington) 12.22
5 Campbellford, Robinson (Mason) 16.46
6 Campbellford, Robinson (Doocher, Peake) 18.35
7 Campbellford, Dunk . (Tanner) 19.34
Penalties—Doocher, MacMillan, Byrnes.

Third period

8 Peterborough, Foster (Wells) 4.14
9 Campbellford, Pace (Herrington) 13.02
10 Peterborough, Russelle (McDonald) 14.27
11 Campbellford, Doocher (Robinson, Mason) 18.05
Penalties—Doocher, Pace.
Referees: Tommy Cousins and Percy Grey of Marmora.

WILL RETURN TO TORONTO

Toronto Feb. 7 (CP) — Provincial Police staff inspector E. Y. McNeill, acting Windsor police chief will return to headquarters in Toronto upon completion of his Windsor duties, an O.P.P. official said today.

A Canadian Press story Feb. 5 reported unanimously that Inspector McNeill had been appointed to a post at Peterborough.

Stork Wins Race With C.N.R. Train

Innesfree, Alta., Feb. 7 (CP) — A westbound CNR passenger train from Winnipeg was delayed here yesterday for 25 minutes because the stork won a race to Edmonton.

A passenger, Mrs. C. A. Wilson, of Edmonton, gave birth to a baby girl aboard the train on the Innisfree siding, 85 miles east of Edmonton. Mother and daughter today are reported in "fine" condition.

Conductor Percy Winter of Edmonton reported his train was running "a little late" when the stork caught up with it.

Two nurses were in attendance —one a passenger and the other the wife of the Innisfree station agent.

Sacos Cut Lead In Major 'B' League

Sacos were riding high in the Major "B" Tuesday Bowling League at Recreation Alleys last night rolling up an imposing total of 3384 to hang a 7-0 defeat on the Mead Johnson crew. They gained two points on the league leading Inkspots.

Meanwhile the newspaper lads were setting back the Optical crew with a 5-2 defeat while the Just Us gang took seven points from the Hibbards Electric crew. Hibbards "fielded" but two players.

Peoples and Batchelor of Sacos were high scorers of the night with triples of 774. Joe Legault rolled a 711 and M. Moreau of the Inkspots tripled an even 700.

The scores:

Sacos	7	3384
Mead Johnson	0	2668
Just Us	7	2655
Hibbards	2	1970
Inkspots	5	2336
Opticals	2	2476

HISTORIC SOCIETY

The oldest scientific society in Britain is the Royal Society, was founded in 1654.

FREE 1951 SEED AND NURSERY BOOK
SEEDS, PLANTS, BULBS, FRUITS, ETC. PLAN EARLY TO PLANT PLENTY DOMINION SEED HOUSE GEORGETOWN ONT.

FOXBORO

Inspector R. Macklem Speaks to W.I. On Education

The last Tuesday evening the regular monthly meeting of the Foxboro W.I. was held in the home of Mrs. Arthurs and Mrs. N. Chambers with Mrs. Simmons presiding.

The meeting opened in the usual manner with 35 in attendance.

Mr. Macklem, the guest speaker, was introduced by Mrs. M. Shorey and he gave a fine and instructive address on "Education". He said, "Education teaches good citizenship, co-operation trains us for a job; gives knowledge, refinement and culture." A question period followed.

Mrs. Simmons voiced a vote of appreciation to Mr. Macklem.

Mrs. Eggleton led a lively singsong accompanied by Mrs. Burleigh at the piano. Musical selections by Carol Stewart, Mrs. Chambers, and Mrs. Burleigh, were interspersed by readings.

Mrs. Hubble, leader of "Home Economics" spoke on "Food for Children", and Mrs. Hollinger drew attention to "Health Week", with some highlights to be remembered.

Following the business period and an interesting contest on "Birds", refreshments and a social time were enjoyed.

The February meeting will be held in the Foxboro Public School.

MANY ROOMS

Knole House, the seat of Lord Sackville in Kent, is said to have a different room for every day of the year.

DATE MEMO
Keep hair silken soft and glamorous
Lustre-Creme Shampoo
WITH LANOLIN
Leaves hair soft . . . perfect for home permanents.
Tubes 33c & 59c
Jars 59c & $1.00

You can trust this GREAT REMEDY
FOR FAST RELIEF OF COLD MISERIES WITHOUT UNDESIRABLE AFTER-EFFECTS
BROMO QUININE TABLETS COLD
FOR LA GRIPPE AND COLDS
CONTRE LA GRIPPE MAUX DE TÊTE ET LES RHUMES
THE GROVE LABORATORIES, INC. TORONTO, ONTARIO, CANADA
BROMO QUININE COLD TABLETS
Save money — buy the large family size.
Millions today know that genuine Bromo Quinine Cold Tablets are effective . . . that they are dependable for fast relief of cold miseries . . . yet leave no undesirable after-effects.
Relieve your cold with this time-tested remedy — proved through over half a century. You'll be amazed how quickly these tablets help clear "stuffy head" and nasal congestion, lessen fever, ease muscular pain and relieve intestinal sluggishness. That's because they combine six cold-fighting ingredients with precious Quinine, in a medicinally compounded formula that fights colds internally. Ask your druggist today for Genuine Bromo Quinine Cold Tablets.
None Genuine without the signature of E. W. Grove
BROMO QUININE
COLD TABLETS
A PRODUCT OF THE GROVE LABORATORIES, INC.
10-31-0

TODAY'S BEST BUY!
NEW IMPROVED! MORE SUDS
VEL
BEST VEL YET!
MORE CLEANING POWER
MILDER THAN SOAP
Better Buy VEL! Guaranteed Better these 5 Ways
1 VEL cuts dishwashing time in half. No streaks. No soap scum. No dishpan ring.
2 VEL cuts grease faster even in cool, hard water.
3 VEL is milder to hands by actual test than any products made for washing dishes and fine laundry.
4 VEL is safer for woolens. Dissolves completely in lukewarm water.
5 VEL keeps nylons "Forever Lovely". Just dip in lukewarm VEL suds, rinse and hang up.
VEL keeps woolens Softer, Stockings Sheerer
Gentle washings in VEL and lukewarm water keeps woolens softer, lovelier. No shrinking.
No matting. Stockings and undies stay brighter, last longer, washed in VEL.
Better Buy VEL · Guaranteed Better · Better Buy VEL · Guaranteed Better

Montreal Canadiens Trying To Win First Game of Year Against Maple Leafs at Home

Know anything more dangerous to the reputations of National Hockey League goaltenders than Maurice (Rocket) Richard?

Gordie Howe, you say? Well, maybe, but how about Richard with the added incentive of a $100 bonus for every goal he scores this season over 35. He now has 21.)

Pretty powerful, what? Now add to that the fact that the Rocket will be playing in Toronto tonight against the Maple Leafs, easily the most-hated rivals of Montreal Canadiens.

Toss in the point that third - place Montreal is still trying to win its first game in Toronto this season — and you have the reason Leaf coach Joe Primeau is so cautious in his comment on the team's chances tonight.

"Canadiens will be tough tonight with or without Richard and I want all of you to realize the importance of this game," said Primeau in his office. "We've done well against Canadiens this season, but they are improving rapidly and you can look for a tough game."

In 10 games Toronto has won eight, tied one and lost one to Montreal this season.

Canadiens' Coach Dick Irvin was confident of victory when the team arrived in Toronto.

"You can add another loss onto the Toronto record around 10:30 Wednesday evening," he predicted.

While Toronto and Montreal are tangling, two other games will be on. New York Rangers, trying to get out of fifth place, will visit Boston Bruins, while the league - leading Detroit Red Wings will entertain the last-placed Chicago Black Hawks.

Cannot Change Much

The standing can't change much as a result of tonight's games. The most that could happen would be for Toronto to pull within a point of Detroit in the two - team competition for first place. New York would tie with Boston. However, if Montreal, in third place with a three-point lead over the Bruins, is safe for tonight while Chicago, eight points behind New York is certain in the cellar.

Black Hawks, who ended a long winless streak last week, will be playing without the services of their scrappy centre, Gus Bodnar, who suffered a shoulder injury in a Saturday night game at To-

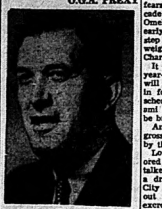
SKATES SHARPENED LENGTHWISE

BROWN'S CAMPBELL SERVICE BRAM HUMPHREYS

PHONE 1317

Opposite the Y.M.C.A.—BELLEVILLE

GORD STEVENS NEW O.G.A. PREXY



president, above, is Gordon Stevens, Thornhill. Annual meeting disclosed that the tournament business had been a successful one and the booking of prize money for the Ontario open from $850 to $2,000 was cited. Junior clinics will be expanded this year across the O.G.A. territory, it was stated.—Central Press Canadian.

ronto.

Bodnar is recovering in hospital from an injury which will probably go down as one of the most unusual in league history.

Bodnar scored his 100th N.H.L. goal just a few minutes before he fell into the boards. That would be a thrill for any player but the fact is he doesn't remember.

Partial amnesia has obliterated those few minutes from his memory and he can't recall scoring the goal. Another result is that if he hadn't been injured he probably would have ended up in the penalty box instead of hospital, Referee Hugh McLean had the finger on him for a hooking penalty. Apparently Gus had his still hooked in an opponent's sweater and it suddenly jerked free hitting him in the face and knocking him backward to the ice.

Fights Last Night

(By The Associated Press)

Omaha, Neb. — Harold Jones, 140, Detroit, outpointed John Williams, 142, New York (10).

White Plains, N.Y. — Tony Amato, 156, Guttenberg, N.J., outpointed Sonny Levitt, 153 1-2, New York (8).

HOCKEY

JUNIOR

BELLEVILLE MEMORIAL ARENA

WEDNESDAY, FEB. 7th

8.30 P.M.

OSHAWA BEES vs. BELLEVILLE ROCKETS

ADMISSION—Reserve Seats 75c
General Admission 50c; Children . . 25c

RESERVE SEATS ON SALE AT BILL COOK'S CIGAR STORE

Reserve Seat Tickets will not be held after 6 p.m. night of game.

Motorists...!!

GET GENUINE

General Motors Parts & Accessories

and retain the original superior quality built into your General Motors Car or Truck.

— CALL US TODAY —

LARGE STOCKS FAST SERVICE

H. W. GOURLEY MOTORS LIMITED

"YOUR FRIENDLY GENERAL MOTORS DEALER"

24 Dundas Street West BELLEVILLE Phone 3520

Louis Favored In Bout Tonight With Agramonte

By BEN FUNK

Miami, Fla., Feb. (AP) — Joe Louis, as trim-looking as the fearsome Brown Bomber of a decade ago, is favored to knock out Ossella Agramonte of Cuba in an early round tonight and move a step closer to a return heavyweight title match with Ezzard Charles.

It is even money here the 36-year-old former world champion will stop the 190-pound Cuban in four rounds or less in their scheduled 10-round fight at Miami Stadium. The bout will not be broadcast or televised.

An attendance of 15,000 and gross gate of $50,000 was forcast by the promoters.

Louis was smiling, good-humored and jubilant as he relaxed as he talked to reporters yesterday in a dressing room at the Magic City Gymnasium. When he went out for his final limbering-up exercises, he dropped the smile and tackled his work in dead seriousness.

Both Louis and Agramonte were scheduled for light workouts The Cuban didn't show up. His wife, Lucia, whittled down to 206 pounds by months of hard and faithful training, was there on the dot and went through his shadow-boxing and bag-punching routine with the old dead-pan expression under the watchful eye of trainer Manuie Seamon.

There didn't appear to be an ounce of superfluous weight on his wide, massive frame.

Joe expects to enter the ring tonight weighing between 207 and 208 pounds. That's just what he weighed for the second fight with Billy Conn in 1946 and Joe says he's in the best shape since that time.

Could he beat Charles now?

"Well," Joe replied, "I'll just say this 'much: Ezzard would have to be a better fighter than the first time I met him if he beat me now."

Hockey Results

(By The Canadian Press)

OHA Junior

Waterloo 2, Marlboros 4
Galt 6, Oshawa 4
Barrie 4, St. Michael's 2

ECHL

North Bay 7, Pembroke 7
Hull 3, Cornwall 6

Maritime Major

Halifax 3, Charlottetown 5
Eastern Intercollegiate
McGill 8, Laval 5

Cape Breton Major

Glace Bay 4, Sydney 8

OHA Intermediate A

Simcoe 7, Tillsonburg 4
Port Hope 10, Lindsay 3

OHA Junior B

Kitchener 10, Stratford 2
Niagara District Junior B
Stamford 5, Hamilton Aerovox 4

Niagara District Intermediate B

Grimsby 8, Welland 5

OHA Senior B

Collingwood 11, P-M Flyers 3
North Channel
North Channel - Algoma Senior
Desbarats 6, St. Joseph's Island 4

A.P.C.S.

Picton Meriques 8, New Glasgow Bombers 5

Maritime Exhibition

Saint John Beavers 13, Digby Ravens 3

Western Major

Calgary 4, Saskatoon 7

Sunday Bay Junior

Port Arthur Bruins 10, Port Arthur Flyers 1

Manitoba Junior

Winnipeg Monarchs 3, Winnipeg Black Hawks 6

CHIPS OFF THE SPORTS BLOCK

By GEO. H. CARVER, Sports Editor

DON'T MISS IT:

The Oshawa Boys who suddenly realized their stingers were still effective after a series of defeats turned in vengeful wrath on their ancient foes the Peterborough Lions the other night and plastered a 6-1 defeat on Ben Kingston's pards. Or maybe the fact that "Soup" Campbell, who was slightly off the beam with his information, told them defeat at the hands of the Lions meant elimination from the play-offs, had something to do with it. In any event the Bees buzzed right back into the picture with a welcome victory and tonight they'll be gunning for another at the expense of the Rockets in Memorial Arena.

And tonight's game is as important as the ring at a wedding. The Rocks have but two games left after this evening's till while the Bees have the same number. A win for the visitors will put them within two points of the Rockets while a Meronek victory will clinch a one-two-three slot for the Rockets, with 28 points.

The Men o' Meronek are in fine fettle for the fray and are confident they can take the measure of the Motor City crew. On the other hand the return to form of the Bees has bolstered their morale no end and tonight they'll be a fighting bunch of puckists out for hockey blood and victory. Should be a neat and nifty till.

* * * *

SO THAT'S IT!

So now it can be told.

Kingston Nylons are making a strong bid to enter the Allan Cup playdowns, and this one Ian Rodden who toils on a newspaper 50 miles east o' here. He admits the upcurving Nylons who have won five, lost one and tied one in their last seven starts have yet to see the ancient war, or at least in the hockey battles leading to its capture.

* * *

However, and it looks very much from here that they will accomplish the fact, the Nylons have to finish in second place in the group standing in order to qualify for the honor of attempting to wrest the battered pewter from its present resting place and bring it to Kingston. And they might do that.

There's just the matter of knocking off the Peterborough Petes and then kicking aside other Ontario senior aspirants. After that we presume, all they have to do is brush aside other Canadian mug-seekers, and presto, the mug is there's. Anybody wanna bet?

* * *

The high-flying Peterborough Petes, we understand went on a scouting trip to Stoutsville and came home with honors even after an 11-inning battle. The score was six-all. But there was a very serious look on the collective face of the Petes, our operator informs us. It may have been the cold weather, or perhaps the fact they had been tied, but it could have been other reasons.

* * *

However to get back to the Nylons, who have suddenly sprung into the publicity limelight, the Patterson crew are rampaging along the district ice - lanes like a gas-wacky jet plane, sweeping aside everything that comes their way — except the Petes. Tonight, the Redmen, short of their scalps, as Mr. Rodden informs his readers, visit the re-vitalized Kingston squad to do battle in a senior group fixture.

* * *

The "poor amazed" Redmen who have become the target of Mr. Rodden's pen since his liking for the Nylons burst suddenly into the full of bloom of love — Spring is wonderful — will probably scrape the bottom of the Roddenian barrel of adjectives should they happen to go down to defeat. And who knows, as Don Miguel's thinly veiled hint suggests, "they may be only fooling." But if they happen to fray the Nylon buckaroos, how about it, Mike?

* * *

After all, old top, the Redmen might have eyes on that Allan Cup spot. It would make a handsome decoration placed in a prominent spot down here overlooking the Bay of Quinte watching the smoke fillies from the wigwams of the Redmen. And flanked by their trusty tomahawks which took the best hockey blood of the foemen including the Nylons.

And who knows, Miguel, they might be resting their loins for that series of strenuous battles down the playoff trail. They have been in-fourth place so long they would be lonesome in any other spot. And besides what's wrong with fourth place? Nobody bothers them. They go out and grab enough points to make the spot secure and sit back and watch the rest of the colt sweat it out for the honor to try for a piece of pewter none of them is good enough to win. So don't worry about these Redmen, Mike. They will end up somewhere if only at their own funeral.

* * *

QUITE A HURDLE!

Peppas "Billie" ran into a bit of a snag down Brockville way the other night in the first game of their points-to-count first round Intermediate basketball series. The down-casters, displaying a fine passing game and court ability outshot the Bills by thirteen points and bring the return tilt here tomorrow night in the second game of the series. However the Bills are confident they can overcome that margin with the advantage of playing on their own floor. It should be a thrilling court duel between these fast-stepping squads and basketball fans should not miss the game. Starts at 8.30. BCI gym.

WILL HOLD HEARING

Omaha, Feb. 7 (AP) — Ron Cook, United States Hockey League president, will hold a hearing here Thursday on the conduct of Omaha's Pete Durham in a game at Kansas City Sunday night.

Durham, hot-tempered Omaha defenceman, was involved in a stick-swinging incident with Dutch Delmonte of the Royals. Durham drew a match penalty which calls for automatic suspension pending a hearing.

The hearing was set for Thursday since Kansas City and Delmonte will be in Omaha for a game that night.

Durham's suspension kept him out of tonight's game at Tulsa, which Omaha won 7-4.

Bucs Not Happy With Contracts Offered by Club

Pittsburgh, Feb. 7 —(AP) — Branch Rickey's new payroll formula for his Pittsburgh Pirates has some of the players saying—at least for the moment—"thanks, but no thanks."

Unsatisfactory contract offers have provoked howls from at least 10 Bucs who think the club is able to pay more money, but the former hasn't budged general manager Rickey. The boys may be squawking now but Rickey expects no holdouts.

This is Rickey's pay formula: "All good players will be paid generously and all other players will be paid fairly."

Rickey believes players should get juicy incomes only for producing a winning team—not because the club happens to be in good financial condition, which Pittsburgh Club is.

Sports editor Harry Hock of the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph put it this way:

"If it takes hungry players to win ball games, rest assured that Branch Rickey will see to it that there will be no overfed sleek cats on his payroll."

OUTPUT

Total installed capacity of hydro plants in Canada in 1950 was 12,854,833 horsepower.

LEAFS WIN EASILY

Zurich, Switzerland, Feb. 7 — (CP)—Lethbridge Maple Leafs Tuesday night swamped the Zurich ice hockey club 11-2 in a fast, cleanly- played game before a crowd of 7,500.

The victory ran the unbeaten string of Canada's Olympic hockey contenders to eight games. It gave them 18 wins against five losses and a tie in their 60-game exhibition tour of Europe. The Canadian's had previously beaten Zurich 3-1 in a game Jan. 14.

IF YOU ARE A THRIFTY BUYER BE SURE TO SHOP AT UPTOWN TIRE

301 Pinnacle St. Phone 2226

TAKE YOUR PLACE WITH MEN LIKE THESE...

Soldiers of the Sky

Paratroopers of the Infantry Corps...

Yes! There is a place in the Canadian Army Active Force for young men able and willing to train as paratroopers in the Royal Canadian Infantry Corps. Alert, quick-thinking, physically fit men are needed now to become members of highly trained teams.

To be a paratrooper, you must have high physical stamina, an eye for adventure, and the ability to think and act quickly. If you have these qualities, then this is your opportunity to join this proud company of men — the soldiers of the sky.

Act today — now, when Canada needs you. Report immediately for active duty and start your training as a paratrooper.

TO ENLIST YOU MUST:

1. Be a Canadian citizen or British subject.
2. Be between 17 and 20 years of age.
3. Be single.
4. Meet Army test requirements.
5. Volunteer for service anywhere.

REPORT RIGHT AWAY TO:

Wolfe House, Palace & Charlotte Sts., OTTAWA.

No. 2 Personnel Depot, Artillery Park, Princess St., KINGSTON, Ont.

No. 4 Personnel Depot, Shorley Park, Dundas Drive, TORONTO, Ont.

No. 5 Infantry Basic Training Centre, Elizabeth St., LONDON, Ont. Annex-a

Help make Canada strong

JOIN THE CANADIAN ARMY ACTIVE FORCE NOW!

For sparkling entertainment, listen to "The Voice of the Army" — Wednesday evenings — Dominion Network

General Manager Of Boston Bruins Criticizes Smythe

(By The Canadian Press)

Walter Brown, general manager of the Boston Garden, said Tuesday that "Connie Smythe doesn't know what he's talking about when he says hockey isn't promoted properly in Boston."

Smythe, President of Toronto Maple Leafs, said at a press conference Sunday that Boston hockey interests weren't making the most of the big area from which crowds might be drawn.

"I don't believe there is a city in the world that can equal Boston in the promotion of hockey," Brown told a hockey luncheon.

"I don't think Smythe knows what he is talking about. I think we here in Boston do a great job of hockey promotion, and that's more we are not going to stop promoting it as long as I have anything to do with it. Boston, in my opinion, is one of the world's greatest hockey cities."

Manitoba's annual bonspiel, with its 348 entries, got under way Tuesday with only one upset in the open draw.

The highly-regarded Cliff Hudson of Winnipeg Strathcona dropped his opening game, 13-12, to S. Britton of Headingley in the Birks competition—one of the two major events in 'spiel.

Stan Musial said Tuesday he is somewhere in the "neighborhood" of $100,000 to swing his bat for St. Louis Cardinals this year.

The 1950 National League batting champion was not about naming any specific figure which might embarrass his negotiations with Cardinal Owner Fred Saigh.

But asked about reports that he is demanding $100,000, Musial replied:

Well, somewhere in that neighborhood."

Veteran pitcher Dick Fowler became the 31st player to join the Philadelphia Athletics 1951 roster when his signed contract was received Tuesday.

Fowler, a native of Toronto, retired from active play in the middle of last season, suffering from bursitis of the arm.

A week ago President Truman, in his congratulatory letter to the National League on its 75th anniversary, voiced the hope "may the sun never set on baseball."

Tuesday, the National League announced the 1951 playing schedule containing a record number of 309 night games with St. Louis Cardinals setting the pace with 83 archlight tilts.

Santa Anita's epidemic of mishaps added another name Tuesday when jockey Ray York was thrown from his mount, sustaining a fracture of the collar bone.

The 15-year-old rider was thrown heavily at the start of the sixth race when his mount, On the Spot, stumbled. The horse was not hurt.

64 Eligible For Preakness On May 19th

Baltimore, Feb. 7 — (AP) — Sixty-four top three-year-olds are eligible to enter the $50,000-added Preakness Stakes set for May 19 at Pimlico, the Maryland Jockey Club announced today.

At the top of the heap are Battlefield and Big Stretch, successive sophomores last year. Missing from the list is Uncle Miltie, an early favorite for three-year-old honors this year, but he still can be entered as a supplementary nomination.

Battlefield stood out in last summer's campaigning with victories in the Hialeah Juvenile, the youthful, Tremont, sapling and Foothill stakes as well as the Saratoga Special and the Belmont Futurity.

Big Stretch was an impressive second to Battlefield in the Belmont Futurity and grew a big following by taking the 1 1-16-mile Pimlico Futurity after encountering interference twice.

Only one filly was nominated for this running. It was Belair Stud's Jalousia, second in the Demoiselle and the Selima last fall to Duval Headley's champion two-year-old filly, Aunt Jinney.

The Preakness, bracketed by the Kentucky Derby and the Belmont Stakes to make up the traditional triple crown, carries only half the packed money of its running mates.

Prominent eligible other than Battlefield, Big Stretch and Vitacola include S. B. Mason's Top Market; Mrs. Sarah Cheiti's Lord Putnam; Brownell Coomb's Brentwood; King Ranch's Black Douglas and Maxwell Hall brother to Assault, 1946 Preakness winner; T. S. McCall's General Staff, idled in the Pimlico Futurity; Alfred G. Vanderbilt's Good Loser; C. V. Whitney's Mameluk; Woodvale Farm's Away Away, and Sam E. Riley's Rugbyrama.

Filchock Signs 1-Year Contract With Edmonton

Edmonton, Feb. 7 —(CP)— Frankie Filchock, star quarterback with Montreal Alouettes for the last two years, yesterday signed a one-year contract as backfield coach of Edmonton Eskimos of the Western Interprovincial Football Union.

Manager Al Anderson made the announcement last night. Negotiations between the club and Filchock were completed in Eastern Canada. No details of the contract were divulged.

It is understood that Filchock was signed as the eventual successor to coach Annis Stukus, already signed for a third season. Stukus has repeatedly said he wishes to return to his former positon after he leaves Edmonton after the 1951 season.

Filchock is not expected to see much action this season unless Lindy Berry, here last season from Texas Christian University, doesn't return.

The Montreal club had previously announced that it was willing to release Filchock provided he be assisted in finding an coaching job.

BANCROFT

Pontiacs Avenge Tweed Defeat With 12-6 Win

Bancroft — Smarting from a 8 to 5 loss in Tweed on Saturday night Bancroft Pontiacs roared back on Monday night to double the count, when they took Tweed Kinsmen by a score of 12 to 6 in Bancroft on Monday night.

Starting with a bang the Pontiacs quickly ran in four goals in the first period and then obtained the same number in the second and third periods. The Tweed spurt of four goals in the final session came too late to cause much anxiety in the local camp, although their play to date both teams seem to play their best games on home ice as Tweed did not show the form of the previous game.

Rugged Play

Slicks were often high, with the result that there were two facial injuries. In the second period Graham of Tweed took a stick in the jaw and had to receive attention from a local doctor. Wm. Hall of Bancroft received an eye cut in the third from another flying stick. Both had to be taken to Bancroft Red Cross hospital but were released later in the evening.

The referee, Frank Thompson of Tweed, and the linesman, Bert Sedore of Bancroft, were not in a critical frame of mind during the game. Joe Kavanagh who served two minor penalties in the second period was the only occupant of the penalty box.

Besides being the only offender in the game, Joe was one of the heroes when he performed the hat trick as he scored three fast ones in succession during the third period. Meraw who scored the second goal for the Kinsmen and received assists on the first, third and fourth, led his team mates in scoring points.

During the second and third periods a hot water ice flooder, the brain child of Stewart Stringer and Cecil McAlpine of the Pontiacs, received its first official trial, during a regulation game. The experiment was highly successful and the ice at the start of the third was as smooth and hard as at the first of the game.

Tweed goals were scored by Curry (Meraw), Meraw, Gehan (Meraw), Rivers (Meraw), Cotton (Curry) and Curry (Rivers). Bancroft scorers were N. Brough (Kavanagh), E. Brough (N. Brough), R. Maxwell, Comrie, Stringer, R. Maxwell, Pilgrim, Kavanagh, Comrie and Kavanagh (3).

Lineups:

Tweed Kinsmen: Goal, Courtyral; defence, Gehan and Cotton; centre, Curry; wings, Meraw and Reynolds; alts., McGhee, Gehan, Moore, Courtyea, Sherry, Reid, Begley, manager coach, Guy Hughes.

Bancroft Pontiacs: Goal, Young; defence, Stringer and Brue; centre, E. Brough; wings, N. Brough, Kavanagh; alts., E. Maxwell, Delabourit, R. Maxwell, Comrie, Pilgrim. Fox, J. Maxwell, Delyea, coach, Don Simpson, manager Fred Delyea.

Hastings-Addington League Standings—February 5, 1951

Team	P.	W.	L.	T.	P.
Bancroft	10	8	2	0	16
Tamworth	9	5	3	1	11
Tweed	10	4	6	0	8
Madoc	10	4	6	0	8

100-YEAR-OLD SEAL FOUND

Toronto, Feb. 7 — (CP) — A 100-year-old seal once used to stamp records of nearby Vaughn township has been discovered in the basement of an old house at Richmond Hill. Old documents show that a John Ellis, of Toronto, was paid five pounds, five shillings for making the seal, whose design is still sharp and clear.

SUDBURY STOLE SHOW AT HUNTSVILLE JUNIOR SKI MEET

Five jumpers from different towns participating in Huntsville event are, left to right: R. Clarence Watson, Haileybury; John Amery, Port Hope; Rennie Patterson, Ft. William; Clarke Munro, North Bay; Ian Blalklock, Peterborough. — Central Press Canadian.

Schools and ski clubs which have been blessed with abundant snow won lion's share of the trophies at recent Huntsville ski meet. Occasion was the Ontario junior provincial and interscholastic ski championship, and it was a walk away for Sudbury Tec. The school's first team captured Munro trophy and placed eight men in the first nine of cross-country event. Here, Clarke Munro, North Bay, jumps 85 feet, which helped him pile up points to win Nordic championship (jumping and cross-country.) — Central Press Canadian.

Peggy Mahaffy of the Huntsville Ski Club holds cup and medal won for slalom and downhill events. North Bay Collegiate finished second to Sudbury in team competition.—Central Press Canadian.

Barrie Flyers In First Place Of Junior Race

(By The Canadian Press)

Barrie Flyers winged into first place in O.H.A. Junior A standings last night by downing Toronto's St. Mike's 4-3. The win gave Flyers a one-point edge on Windsor Spitfires.

Toronto Marlboros moved into a tie for second place by taking Waterloo Hurricanes 4-2, while Galt Black Hawks chalked up their third home game victory in whipping Oshawa Generals 8-4, thereby staking an uncontested claim to seventh place.

The three saw the Big Ten's leading scorer, Generals' Lou Jankowski, fatten his average with three goals, even though Galt was running closer to early-season form, Ken Wharram, Pete Conacher and George Gosselin grabbing a pair each. Alex Delvecchio got Oshawa's fourth.

A seesaw routine featured the Barrie-St. Mike's clash, with first Flyers and then Toronto ramming in three goals in rapid succession. Barrie's Jerry Toppazzini shattered the deadlock after the Jack White-Doug Towers-Real Chevrefils lead was matched by the Duke's Hal McNamara, Ed Plato and Willie Marshall.

Freshman goalie Bud Smith's efforts, smart as they were, failed to block Marlie's Parker MacDonald, Ron Stewart, Eric Nesterenko, and Ron Hurst, while Fred Pletsch was the only man on the last-place Waterloo gang to find the net.

Hurricanes' marked superiority in the first two periods faded after Marlies began to open up.

No O.H.A. major games were played last night. Toronto's St. Mike's seniors tangle with Hamilton Tigers and Toronto Marlborough meet Kitchener-Waterloo Dutchmen tonight. Guelph's junior A Biltmores play Stratford Kroehlers tonight as well.

CALUMETS WIN GOING AWAY

Cornwall, Feb. 7.—(CP)—Cornwall's Calumets got stronger with each period and ended up with a 6-3 eastern Canada Hockey League victory over last-place Hull Volants here Tuesday night.

After each team had scored in the first, Hull moved ahead 3-2 in the second. Stoher's second goal of the night tied the score for Hull in the third but a couple of minutes later Gus Lebrun registered the first of three Cornwall goals within 2 1-2 minutes and clinched the contest.

Two misconducts were levied. In the first period, Rolly Landry of Hull got 10 minutes for shooting the puck at referee Arnie Peterkin. Calumet's Pete Long got the same punishment for using abusive language in the third.

President Opens Full Inquiry Into Rhubarb

Montreal, Feb. 7 (CP)—President Clarence Campbell of the National League Tuesday opened a full investigation into an attack on referee Hugh McLean in Toronto Saturday night in a scheduled clash between the Toronto Leafs and Chicago Black Hawks, Toronto won the game 6-3.

The exact nature of steps to be taken have not been made public.

McLean banished Chicago's Jim Conacher for slashing in the third period, touching off a loud Chicago protest.

When the outcry became too vigorous, McLean ordered Chicago coach Ebbie Goodfellow to leave his team's bench. Goodfellow refused and McLean then penalized the Hawks for delaying the game unnecessarily.

Hawk players and officials then swarmed on the ice en masse. In the ensuing scuffle, another player, Roy Conacher, brother of the striking McLean and was banished with a game misconduct penalty and an automatic $50 fine.

Phibbs Declared Eligible to Play With Western

London, Ont., Feb. 7—(CP)—Bob Phibbs has been declared eligible by the board of reference of the Canadian Intercollegiate Athletic Union.

The Western Mustang basketball star, whose eligibility was questioned by the University of Toronto, following a western cage victory over the Blues was given a clean bill of health by "The Supreme Court" of intercollegiate sport.

Phibbs, who is taking a post-graduate course in business administration, was graduated from Western in 1940. Last season he played basketball with Tillsonburg Trojans. While completing his business course at Western this year, he has part-time employment as director of the Alumni Association and Secretary of the Western Ontario Secondary Schools Association.

Professor N. C. Hart, president of the board of reference, said that Phibbs was okayed by a majority vote of the board of reference while consists of representatives from Varsity, Queen's McGill and Western.

RELIGIOUS SECTION

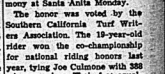
A poll in Finland showed one out of five town dwellers indifferent to religion, but only one in 10 rural dwellers.

Shoemaker Will Be Given Award

Arcadia, Calif., Feb. 7 (AP) — For outstanding ability as a jockey, Wes Willie Shoemaker will be given the annual George Woolf statuette at a public ceremony at Santa Anita Monday.

The honor was voted by the Southern California Turf Writers Association. The 19-year-old rider won the co-championship for national riding honors last year, tying Joe Culmone with 388 winners apiece. Their feat equalled the 44-year-old record held by Walter Miller.

Mrs. Genevieve Woolf-Cayer, widow of the turf's famed "iceman," a former Western Canada rider who was killed in an accident here several years ago, will present the statuette to Shoemaker. The award is a miniature of the life-size statue of Woolf which stands at the paddock of the track.



By SAM GORDON
Bridge Columnist

Why a bridge duffer loses is easy to see. All his good hands run into the ground. He is never sure what his action should be when it comes to the following round.

There is the deal shown here:

NORTH
♠A J 10 8
♥K 9 8 3
♦A J 10 3
♣4 3

WEST
♠K Q 8 7 6
♥A 5
♦9 5 4 2
♣8 7

EAST
♠5 4
♥J 10 7 6
♦Q 8 7
♣K Q 10 9 7

SOUTH
♠9 3 2
♥Q 8 4
♦K 6
♣A J 6 5 2

The bidding went like this:

South	West	North	East
1 C	1 S	2 D	Pass
Pass	Pass

Asked why he passed, south made three answers, which are four high cards, of which two are sure tricks, and a suit in clubs that is at least biddable. These are the basics for an opening of one club.

In tricks he has a count of seven; two more than he promised, in high cards he has given one more than he promised. In clubs his suit is rebiddable; good enough to bid twice without support.

His two extra tricks can increase two levels in bidding. His one extra high card can make one voluntary no-trump bid. So, he needs no urging to make a bid on the second round. He does he need force.

Not only has he enough for a voluntary club rebid at the level of three, but his tricks are enough to reach the game level of four, which a bid by east might have made necessary.

Aside from this, a takeout to a new suit by partner is forcing for one round. He must bid again. His pass was a palooka pool.

Movie Column

By BOB THOMAS

Hollywood, Feb. 7 (AP)—Sharman Douglas has abandoned the international social whirl for a $150-a-week job in Hollywood.

Not long ago Miss Douglas was the glamor girl of the United States Embassy in London, where her father, Lewis Douglas, was Ambassador to Britain. Today she lives alone in an apartment near Hollywood and is intent on a career as a public relations counsellor for R.K.O. Studios.

"Of course, I don't know whether I'll end up a career girl", she remarked. "That depends on how I like the job and how it likes me. But it certainly is interesting and I'm anxious to make a go of it."

Glamor Girl

Miss Douglas' official title is "liaison between the Gabriel Pascal unit and R.K.O." Producer

Club Vanity Fair
219 FRONT ST.
DANCING TONIGHT
and
EVERY WEDNESDAY
FRIDAY & SATURDAY
MUSIC BY TRENT VALLEY RAMBLERS
ADMISSION 60c
HALL MAY BE RENTED
Phone 3316 for Reservations or 2431

DUTCH MILL INN & MOTEL
Rooms with private baths. Semi-private or with running water.
DAILY and WEEKLY RATES.
Our RESTAURANT is famous for Steak and Chicken Dinners.
Open 24 Hours a Day
TRENTON Phone 2172

Belgians See Canada Land Of Opportunity

Brussels—(CP)—Canadian immigration officers, installed in a new office building in the heart of Brussels, are wrestling daily with an average backlog of 2,000 applications from Belgian residents anxious to settle in Canada.

Jack Robillard, chief of the Canadian Immigration Bureau here, said prospective settlers had been streaming in since negotiations were relaxed on the entry into the dominion of European settlers.

"We were forced to take new offices, increase our staff, and that is still not enough for the job," he said.

Mr. Robillard estimated that 8,000 emigrants would be sent from Belgium to Canada during the next 12 months. During January alone his office issued 5,000 application forms with an average of 150 completed inquiries returned daily. Roughly half of the applicatons were ultimately approved with a percentage of the remainder held over for possible changes in Canada's labor requirements.

Many of the applications come from displaced persons as well as Italian subjects working in Belgian coal mines.

Mr. Robillard said the majority seeking a new home in Canada were agricultural workers. The list, however, included artisans, technicians, tradesmen and domestic servants.

"Applicants from Wallonia, the highly - industrial provinces in southern Belgium, invariably express a preference to settle in the French-speaking communities of Canada. Those from the Flemish areas in the north mainly favor the prairie provinces where they hope to establish themselves on their own farms.

Pascal is going to make the film version of George Bernard Shaw's "Androcles and the Lion."

"I first went to work last Thursday and I'm not quite sure what I'm supposed to do," she admitted. "I do know that I am going to work with Jean Simmons, who is starring in the picture. I will help her meet people out here and assist in her publicity."

Talk of the Town

The success of Martin and Lewis' "At War With the Army," despite knocks by the critics . . . the general upturn in movie business, thanks to better product and the wide boom . . . The Elizabeth Taylor - Stanley Donen hand-holding, right out in the open . . . the continuing excellence of the Tallulah Bankhead ale show . . . and is Jack Benny going opposes it on another network worried?

OIL KILLS SEABIRDS

Folkestone, England—(CP) — Because of oil waste discharged from ships hundreds of birds are dying on the Kent coast, Razorbills garnered, greatest number, redthroated divers, guillemot and ordinary gulls are among the victims.

THIS ONE IS LOADED...
.....With SUSPENSE!.....
.....With ROMANCE!!.....
.....With ACTION!!!.....
TAKE A GOOD LOOK AT THIS MAN... You'll Remember Him!

"You're As Tough As They Come, Mister—But You All Wind Up The Same Way... Alone...And Dead!"
introducing CHARLTON HESTON
And Starring ELIZABETH SCOTT VIVECA LINDFORS DEAN JAGGER DON DeFORE
DARK CITY
A Paramount Picture
WED. - THURS. - FRI.
WORLD NEWS
COLOR CARTOON
NOVELETTE
BELLE
A FAMOUS PLAYERS THEATRE

CJBQ VOICE OF THE BAY OF QUINTE

CJBQ (1230 Kc.)

WEDNESDAY

8:00—When a Girl Marries
8:15—Portia Faces Life
8:30—Who Am I?
8:45—Supper Music
9:00—Dinner Time
9:15—News and weather
9:45—Saddle Rockies
10:00—Rhythm
10:30—Dick Gilbert
11:00—Music of Manhattan
11:45—Carmen Cavallero
11:55—Hit of the Day
12:00—Luncheon Music
12:30—Newsreel
12:45—Behind the News
1:00—Ma Perkins
1:15—Downtown Community Hour
1:30—Piano Course
3:00—Around the Bay
3:15—Special March of Dimes Program
3:30—Women's Hour
4:00—News and weather
4:10—Magazine of Music
4:30—Parade of Bands
5:00—When a Girl Marries
5:15—Portia Faces Life
5:30—Who Am I?
5:45—Supper Music
6:00—Sports Review of the Army
6:30—Hockey Match
10:00—King's Corner
10:30—National News Summary
10:45—Dream Time
11:00—Music
11:55—News and weather
12:03—God Save the King

THURSDAY

6:15—Newscast
6:30—In the Spotlights
6:45—This is the Story
7:00—Dick Haymes Show
7:15—Newsreel
7:30—Bob Hawker
7:50—Record Rendezvous
8:00—Stirling Church Wagon
8:30—Stan Harbert
9:00—Music Hall Varieties
9:30—The Alliance Program of the Week
10:00—King's Corner
10:30—National News Summary
10:45—Dream Time
11:45—Reverie
12:00—Sign off
Weather
12:05—God Save the King.

AT THE BELLE — Don DeFore doesn't realize that this pleasant meeting with Elizabeth Scott and Charlton Heston is full of intrigue in Paramount's "Dark City," coming today to the Belle Theatre.

NETWORK PROGRAMS

WEDNESDAY EVENING

6:00—CFRB, Bing Crosby
6:15—CBL, News; Farm Markets
6:15—CFRB Headliners
6:30—CFRB, John Colingwood Reads
6:45—CBL, Music in the Air
7:00—CFRB, Beulah
7:00—CBL, Hockey; Shields, inner Sanctum
7:30—CBL, A Poet Looks at War
7:30—CFRB, Count of Monte Cristo
8:00—WBEN, Hills of Ivy
8:00—CBC, Ozzie and Harriet
8:00—CFRB, Mr. Chameleon
8:00—CBL, "Albert Herring"
8:30—CFRB, Take a Chance
9:00—WGR, It Pays to be Ignorant
9:00—CFRB, Voice of the Theatre
9:00—WBEN, Groucho Marx
9:05—CKEY, Parade of Bands
9:30—WGR, Bing Crosby
9:30—WBEN, Mr. District Attorney
9:30—CFRB, Limerick Show
9:30—CFRB, Boston Blackie
10:00—CBL, National Barn Dance
10:00—CJBC, Latin Americans Serenade
10:30—WBEN, Right to Happiness
10:30—CFRB, This is the Life
10:30—CFRB, Dennis Matthews, Stanist
11:00—CBL, Oklahoma Symphony
11:15—CFRB, T.N. Today
11:30—CBC, Prelude to Dreaming
11:30—WBEN, Music to Remember

Little Benny's Note Book

Reddy Merfy was down at the corner talking to Mr. Flannery and the policeman on account of Reddy's father being a politician and having policemen for friends, and I was talking to Puds Simkins in front of my house, and I said, That darn Reddy Merfy thinks he's grate. I'd give a hundred dollers for some good way to get even with that darn guy, I said.

Well hay, I can tell you a good way, and it'll cost you a lot less than a hundred dollers, Puds said. You've got a dime, so why dont you buy a ice cream cone and then eat it right in front of Reddy, and I'll pretend you're actually giving it to me instead of giving it to Reddy, and Reddy wont dast do anything about it with Mr. Flannery standing rite there to protect you, Puds said.

Sounding like a swell revenge on Reddy, and we ran around to the little stationary candy store and I got 2 nickel cones with my dime, and went and stood rite next to Reddy and Mr. Flannery, and I said, G, I cant eat both of these cones, I guess I better give one to somebody.

Give it to me, why dont you? Puds said, and I said, sure, here.

And I handed him one, and Mr. Flannery said to Reddy, Well, Allo-wishes, this seems to be your lucky day after all. If you didn't have sutch a bad toothache you'd feel pritty sad not having an ice cream cone yourself, he said, and Reddy said, Gosh, it herts my face to even think about it.

Me thinking, Heck, and I started to walk away with Puds, and Puds said, Well, do you want this cone back after I been licking the whole top . . . on account of it so Reddy would think you were serious?

I should say not, what's you think I am, a vulture? I said.

Being the end of my 2nd cone and my revenge.

DISCRIMINATION TOPIC

Vancouver—(CP)—Rare discrimination in employment will be discussed at the first joint labor institute here on March 4, The combined effort by both local councils of labor congresses is sponsored by the Vancouver joint labor committee to combat racial discrimination.

Colorful Village Is Hub Of Rangeland in Central B. C.

Alexis Creek, B. C.,—(CP)— About 70 persons show up, 80 per cent of them Indians. Time Indian ride as far as nine miles from the Anahim reservation to see the Saturday night pictures.

"The Indians sure love cowboy pictures and if there is no wild west picture they just won't come," says Mrs. Cliff Carlton, husband of the local storekeeper.

Mr. Carlton, who during the winter is district manager for a Chilcotin fur company, is also the local magistrate.

Jackson Dodd is one of the many cowboys who work on the cattle ranches. He has a two-room log cabin near the village. It was there he brought his bride from Nottingham, England, when he returned from five years' service in Europe.

Except for those five years, Dodd has never left the Chilcotin country.

Winter has closed over Alexis Creek now and ranchers are out with sleds feeding their cattle.

This small settlement has the only hospital in the Chilcotin, a Red Cross outpost opened a year ago. The original hospital had been given to Alex Graham, founder of the village and the man who opened up the Chilcotin country more than half a century ago.

Alexis Creek, however, is not named after Alex Graham but after Alexel, famed Indian chief of the Chilcotin tribe.

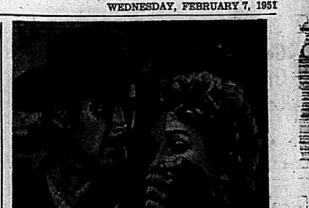
Less than a year ago, a new school was built to replace the log shack. Herbert Dayton, the teacher, has 13 pupils, spread from every grade from one to eight.

Two General Stores

There are two general stores, one run by Mrs. R. K. Lee and her son, Tom. The family operated a store at 150-mile house in the Cariboo in the gold rush days.

Ed Pigeon, who once left the village to hunt and was back in 15 minutes with a deer, runs the other store.

Capitals in Pigeon's store, they have a movie Saturday night.



AT THE CAPITOL — Errol Flynn leaves his leading lady, Patrice Wymore, speechless in this scene from the Warner Bros. outdoor drama, "Rocky Mountain," due at the Capitol Theatre on Thursday for its first Belleville showing. Scott Forbes and Guinn Williams have featured roles in the film directed by William Keighley. On the same program Laurel and Hardy in their funniest comedy, "The Bullfighters."

AT THE McCARTHY — Audie Murphy, right, playing the role of young Jay Cooke, Northwest-Intermediary, exciting new Technicolor release, "Kansas Raiders," opening Thursday at the Odeon - McCarthy Theatre, is shown as he becomes a member of William Quantrill's band of Civil War raider outfit in this scene from the action-film. Brian Donlevy, centre, portrays Quantrill in "Kansas Raiders," and is shown being guarded by his outlaw gunmen, played by Scott Brady, left. Marguerite Chapman is the lone feminine member of the film's cast.

THEATRE FEATURE TIMES

AT THE BELLE — "Dark City" — Introducing Charlton Heston — with Lizabeth Scott, Don DeFore — 2.40, 7.40, 9.36.

AT THE CAPITOL — "The Happiest Days of Your Life" — Alastair Sim, Margaret Rutherford — 1.20, 5.45. "I Cheated the Law" — Tom Conway, Steve Brodie — 3.25, 7.30.

AT THE McCARTHY — "Kind Hearts and Coronets" — Valerie Hobson, Alec Guinness — 2.12, 8.22. "Parole Inc." — Michael O'Shea, Evelyn Ankers — 3.55, 7.30, 10.05.

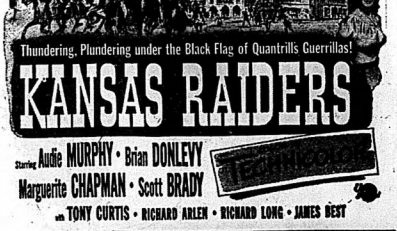
AT THE TRENT THEATRE, Trenton — "Kind Hearts and Coronets" — Valerie Hobson, Alec Guinness — 1.00, 4.28. "Thelma Jordan" — Barbara Stanwyck, Wendell Corey — 2.45, 7.00, 10.10.

PROFITABLE VENTURE

Teignmouth, Devon, England — (CP)—Friends smiled when V. F. Cannon started breeding mink five years ago. At a Hudson's Bay Company mink show in London recently, Cannon won 15 awards including that for the best pelt in the show, a royal pastel.

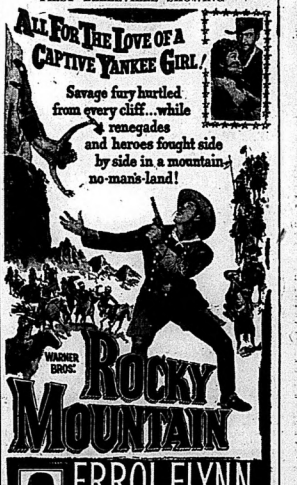
LAST TIMES TODAY
KIND HEARTS & CORONETS
ALEC GUINNESS. (ADULT ENTERTAINMENT)
ALSO
Parole Inc.
MICHAEL O'SHEA

Starts THURSDAY—



The West's most reckless Outlaws, turning their deadly guns on Lawrence, Kansas in their historic guerrilla raid!
Thundering, Plundering under the Black Flag of Quantrills Guerrillas!
KANSAS RAIDERS
TECHNICOLOR
Starring Audie MURPHY • Brian DONLEVY
Marguerite CHAPMAN • Scott BRADY
with TONY CURTIS • RICHARD ARLEN • RICHARD LONG • JAMES BEST
—ALSO—
COLOR CARTOON
EYEWITNESS
WORLD NEWS
McCARTHY
—SMOKE IN THE BALCONY—

TRENT
TRENTON
TODAY and THURSDAY — TWO HITS!
"IT'S A GREAT FEELING" DORIS DAY DENNIS MORGAN
Daily at ..... 2.00 - 7.00 - 9.06
Humphrey Bogart — "CHAIN LIGHTNING"

THUR. - FRI. - SAT.
FIRST BELLEVILLE SHOWING
ALL FOR THE LOVE OF A CAPTIVE YANKEE GIRL!
Savage fury hurtled from every cliff...while renegades and heroes fought side by side in a mountain-no-man's-land!


WARNER BROS.
ROCKY MOUNTAIN

ERROL FLYNN
AND STANDOUT NEW LOVELY LADY... SCOTT FORBES
PATRICE WYMORE
HIT No. 2
THEIR FUNNIEST!
CAPITOL
ENDS TODAY!
"THE HAPPIEST DAYS OF YOUR LIFE"
"I CHEATED THE LAW"
LAUREL & HARDY
The Bullfighters
Plus Late Hits
Feb 1st-9th

POP

LIL ARNER — By Al Capp

MR. AND MRS. — By Arthur Folwell and Ellison Hoover

BLONDIE — By Chic Young

PENNY — By Harry Haenigsen

TILLIE THE TOILER — By Russ Westover

MARK TRAIL — By Ed Dodd

JOHNNY HAZARD — By Frank Robbins

TIPPIE AND "CAP" STUBBS — By Arthur Folwell and Ellison Hoover

BRINGING UP FATHER — By George McManus

RUSTY RILEY — By Frank Godwin

OZARK IKE — By Ray Gotto

Your Individual Horoscope

By FRANCES DRAKE

Look in the section in which you know what you want. Don't fall into inertia at any time to flounder. Be specific, "on the ball," you will fare better.

For Thursday, February 8

March 21 to April 20—(Aries)—May be some changes in work or business conditions. Have eyes open, mind ready; much good can be done in this period. Avoid words that turn to bickering. Be calm in everyday matters.

April 21 to May 20—(Taurus)—Mixed sort of day, can be good, then may be the opposite at periods. Don't stress your points too forcefully. Later part of day best yet for contacts. Be healthily friendly.

May 21 to June 21—(Gemini)—Excellent day for new and well planned business, clarify ventures, finances about which you are well informed. This pair favors the personal affairs, courtship, social gatherings.

June 22 to July 23—(Cancer)—Most times other than routine and daily chores need more care, accuracy. Plus any tendency to take on obligating spending in excess of budget. Rest in free hours for tomorrow.

July 24 to August 22—(Leo)—Fine planetary indications for your work. Handling contracts, utilities, manufacturing, electric and mason workers, food producers and dentists should thrive anew. Be honest, fair.

August 23 to September 22—(Virgo)—Evenness of action and temper will do more to round out a successful day than anything new. Personal affairs can affect your progress, so watch yourself. P.M. most things become easier.

September 24 to October 22—(Libra)—Stars in active aspects for keen, energetic effort. Be sure double effort at whatever your work. You have talent for profession, science, mechanical work and should use these assets daily for attainment.

Birthdate: John Ruskin, noted writer, critic; Wm. Tecumseh Sherman, American general; Jules Verne, famed writer; Lana Turner, actress.

(Copyright, 1951, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 7, 1951 (Released by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

HORIZONTAL
1 Counterfeit
5 To amend
11 Big celestial body
12 To relieve
13 Greek goddess of healing
15 Fabric
17 Abhorrence
18 Pigpen
19 A direction
20 Jiggles
21 Fissile isotope of uranium
22 Force out violently
24 Mulberry
25 Mulberry genus
26 Measure of weight (Fr.)
28 North Syrian seaport
29 Goddess of discord
30 Kind of cheese
31 Hawaiian chant
32 A volume
34 Ocean (poet.)
35 Certain
36 Continent (abbr.)
37 To denude
40 Short spear
42 Short gasp of simple character
46 101 (Rom. num.)
48 Sound for a musical instrument
49 Pinnacle
50 Fragile
51 Region of Switzerland
52 Direction east of southeast
53 Has a sore
54 Fly high, as a kite
55 Painful spot

VERTICAL
1 An intimate
2 Ascend
3 Atmosphere
4 Ventilate
5 Bird of the rail family
6 Sea eagle
7 Sleeve
8 Tree
9 Ejects at vulgarity
10 Roman number
11 Ramble (obs.)
14 Fastens
16 A deadlock
19 Followed
21 Mountain pass
23 Corn
27 Command
28 An act of aiding in law
29 Sacred image
30 Mark
31 Dominions
33 Compass point
34 Negative reply
36 Rodent
38 Relief in a wall
39 A thin curve
41 Sea eagle
43 Kind of masonry (pl.)
45 Presses
46 Egyptian goddess of motherhood
47 To commit mistake
48 Article
51 Caudal (pl.)
53 Symbol for chromium

Answer to Yesterday's Puzzle

P	I	K	A	D	A	I	R	Y		A	P	E
E	R	I	N		O	R	A	L		P	A	R
T	A	R	A		S	H	E			A	R	E
			J	I	N	G	O		B	I	N	G
S	H	I	N	E		B	A	R	O	N	E
A	I	M		D	E	E	D		F	I	N
C	A	S	S	O	C	I	N	E		T	I	N
			H	O	L	E		H	I	P	A
T	H	E	S	I	S			A	R	I	S	E
O	R	A	L		A	R	I	D		N	E	W
A	L	L	A	H		E	L	I	A	S
L	O	A	F	E	R		E	A	S	T	E	R

U. K. Residents Storm Offices To Obtain Passage to Canada

London — (CP) — British residents are responsible to Canada's all-out drive for new settlers at a rate of more than 700 applicants a day.

The current rush has been spurred by the Canadian government's offer of assisted sea and air passages. But most would be emigrants say they are seeking escape from the continued burdens of austerity, restrictions on housing and lack of opportunity.

Officials of the Canadian Immigration Department in London said they were being swamped with applications from all parts of the United Kingdom. And they expect an increased flow of inquiries with the introduction of the assisted sea-passage scheme this month.

Many of the prospective settlers are persons who sought refuge in Britain during and immediately after the war. After being driven from their homes and deprived of their possessions by the German invasion, they are anxious for an opportunity of re-establishing themselves. Their attitude is that if there is another war they would rather be in Canada than Europe.

Of the large groups interviewed by Canadian immigration officers most mentioned the hope of finding better jobs and the difficulties of housing as their reason for wanting to leave.

Will Build Home

"I've been looking for a home for more than two years," said Frank Henry Bird, London, carpenter, who plans to settle in Ontario.

"I am willing to build a house with my own bare hands if they will only let me. After all it's my trade and I can do it. In Canada, at least, I shan't need a permit to do the obvious."

Kenneth Hammond, a Birmingham businessman, said he was going to Canada "because I can't see much future for my trade here. There were too many controls."

"But I am willing to try my hand at anything else, if necessary," Hammond added. "I'll go wherever there is a good job at fair wages. I shall make my home where I make my living."

Farm-worker Jack Osborne of Bristol, said he was migrating to Ontario to make a career of farming. His wife and 15-months-old daughter are going with him.

"To be anything more than a farm laborer in this country it seems that one has to go to the public schools," said Osborne. "I have a job lined up on a farm at Gormley, near Toronto, and I have every hope of becoming a farm foreman. To do that in England I would probably need a degree in agriculture."

Takes Five Cops To Put Woman Into Scout Car

Detroit — (CP) — Mrs. Louise [illegible] apparently takes [illegible] seriously.

Police said she went berserk in a department store because she didn't like something she read.

She threatened to bop a newsboy with a bottle, smashed glasses and overturned tables.

Patrolman John Cwiklinski said he managed to get Mrs. Ross in his scout car, but she promptly kicked out the side windows.

He enlisted the aid of a cab driver, who drove the scout car to the station while Cwiklinski battled to subdue his prisoner.

Five more policemen were needed to take her into the station.

Judge O. Z. Ile placed Mrs. Ross on six months probation and ordered her to make restitution. She pleaded guilty to disturbing the peace.

SIOUX RETURNS

"Thousands cheer as the destroyer Sioux returns to Victoria, after serving nearly seven months in the Korea theatre. The ship is shown about to berth at Esquimalt Navy base. — (CP Photo from National Defence.)

Students Learn Leadership In Western Town

Naramata, B. C. — (CP) This town on Okanagan Lake is small but to United Church people and educationists, it means big things.

Last summer 70 young persons from all across Canada came here to learn Christian living at the two-year-old leadership training school.

Six young men who attended the first session have decided to become ministers. Five of the girls are working in Indian schools. Another is studying to go to Africa. Others have gone home better equipped to serve their churches and their communities.

Rev. Robert McLaren is principal of the school, which is open to all races and creeds. The board comes to $35 a month and it's free if you're broke.

"What can only be done," Mr. McLaren said, "because of the assistance we are given in our work.

"Orchardists donate fruit, farmers send along vegetables. They realize the worthwhileness of the school and want to assist in the work."

An Alberta coal company donates a car of coal each year. A. E. Grauer, president of the B. C. Electric Company, donated a bus.

More than 1,000 persons have visited the school since it opened.

NAME IS THE SAME

Seattle, Feb. 7 — (AP) "That's right," said lawyer Robert C. Royce, when questioned about filing of a divorce suit. The filing read:

"James M. Martin vs James M. Martin."

"The complaint is correct," the lawyer said. "The lady's name is James M. Martin. So is her husband's."

Mrs. Martin asks restoration of her maiden name, James M. Peace.

AGRICULTURAL SHORT COURSE

Sponsored by the ONTARIO DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE in co-operation with the HASTINGS COUNTY JUNIOR FARMERS.

Place—Orange Hall, Cannifton

Date—Friday, February 9th, 1951

Time—1.15 to 4.00 p.m.

Subject:—"HAY HANDLING and HARVEST EQUIPMENT"

Speaker:—PROFESSOR J. R. SCOTT of the Agricultural Engineering Department of the Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph.

Everyone is invited to attend this one-day Short Course.

HONORABLE T. L. KENNEDY, Minister of Agriculture

A. C. DALRYMPLE, Agricultural Representative Hastings County

New Zealanders, Scots Prepare To Celebrate Move of Last Century

By J. C. GRAHAM
Canadian Press Correspondent

Auckland, N. Z.—(CP)—While Scots in Nova Scotia are preparing this year to commemorate the centenary of the departure of highland settlers for the southern dominions, the people of Waipu here are raising money for a memorial to the settlers who founded the town in 1853.

Waipu, centre of a thriving farming district in the northern peninsula of New Zealand, is still largely inhabited by descendants of the Scottish pioneers who sailed under Rev. Norman McLeod from Nova Scotia a century ago.

To mark the centenary, the people of Waipu will erect a museum and rest room in the centre of the town. It will be a building of the kind settlers built during their 30-year sojourn in Nova Scotia. The walls will be limestone, the roof of grey slates and at one end will be a broad fireplace with the crane, cauldron and firedogs which the housewife of the time knew so well.

In the building will be documents, photographs and chattels brought by the settlers. Under photographs of the six original ships which the settlers built in Nova Scotia—the Margaret, Highland Lass, Broadalbane, Gertrude, Spray and Ellen Lewis—will be the names of the travellers and their descendants. Also kept in a roll of honor will be names of those who have died in the wars. Films of the centenary celebrations will bring the museum's record of 10 years up to date.

Word Was Law

The history of the pioneers is largely the history of Rev. Norman McLeod, who in 1817 disagreed with the Church of Scotland and left with his friends for Nova Scotia. There they lived for 30 years and among them his word was law.

At the age of 71 he led his people on again to Australia and then to New Zealand. In August of this year the Scots who stayed in Nova Scotia will commemorate the departure of the first ship, the Margaret, from St. Ann's Harbor. It is expected that representatives of the people of Waipu will attend.

The Scots did not find Australia to their liking and early in 1853 the first 140 landed at Waipu. By 1860, 867 had arrived.

Waipu will thus mark the centenary of the migration at New Year, 1953, over a year after the celebrations in Nova Scotia. They plan as part of the commemoration to renew links with their kin who remained in Nova Scotia.

Poked up Fire, Back of Fireplace Falls into Street

Beddau, England, Feb. 7 (Reuters) — William Courtney yesterday acted the fire in his kitchen to make his kettle boil faster.

The back of the fireplace, a section of the wall, and the 10 - foot chimney stack all promptly fell out into the street.

Then the kettle boiled.

Said Courtney as he surveyed the damage — after a cup of tea to steady his nerves:

"This house was condemned years ago . . . we (himself, his wife and four children) are hoping the council will give us a new one now this has happened."

UPHOLDS JUDGMENT

Toronto, Feb. 7 — (CP) — The Ontario Court of Appeal Tuesday upheld a civil judgment of theft against Joan Stockdeer, 21-year-old Madoc girl.

A part - time beauty shop operator in Lindsay, Miss Stockdeer was sued by Charles Spencer, Madoc creamery owner, for $270 which he claimed she stole from his dairy office over a period of six months when she came to buy butter for her father.

In a written judgment, Mr. Justice J. T. Henderson said:

"No jury properly charged could come to any other conclusion than the jury trying this case."

FIRE

Have you insured your home AND ITS CONTENTS fully? How about your new T.V. set? Your wife's fur coat? Are you covered adequately in view of the increased inflationary value of everything? Now is the time to check—not after a fire loss. Call today.

FOR INSURANCE SEE

LORNE McDOUGALL Insurance Agencies Ltd.

159 FRONT ST. PHONE 165

"Belleville's Largest Insurance Office"

COAL — COKE — OIL

AND CHARCOAL

PREMIUM QUALITY ANTHRACITE

GRADE "A" FUEL OIL

LYNCH COAL COMPANY

77 FRONT STREET PHONE 400

BOOTH RADIO

RADIO - TELEVISION

SALES & SERVICE

121 FRONT ST. PHONE 150

Authorized HOOVER Sales and Service.

"Please Remember Our Service is Guaranteed"

SPECIALIZED MOTOR SERVICE

Ignition — Carburetor — Distributor — Fuel Pump
Vacuum Systems — Windshield Wipers
Voltage Regulators — Generator — Starter Motors
Batteries — Wiring Systems
Bonded Brake Lining — Brake Drum Grinding
Brake Shoe Exchange
Bear Front End Alignment — Frame Straightening
Genuine Ford Parts and Accessories for All Ford Products
Bear Wheel Balancing
Body Undersealing — 3m. Rubberized Material

AT THE

Belleville Motor Car Co. Ltd.

MERCURY — LINCOLN — METEOR DEALER

Cor. BRIDGE and COLEMAN STS. PHONE 587

"A GOOD PLACE TO DEAL"

QUINTE

APPLIANCES and REFRIGERATION LTD.

FOR REFRIGERATION SERVICE.

DOMESTIC — Call 2255 — COMMERCIAL

YOU HAVEN'T SEEN THE BEST TELEVISION

UNTIL YOU'VE SEEN THE NEW

Electrohome

THE STRIKINGLY MODERN CABINET IN WALNUT OR AUTUMN LEAF MAHOGANY by Deiltraft

Will grace the smartest living room.

12-inch SPEAKER Gives Undreamed of Tone Reproduction

16-inch RECTANGULAR BLACK TUBE Gives Steady Non-Glare Picture

INSTALLED COMPLETE, WITH HIGH GAIN ANTENNAE

$599.95

HITCHON RADIO

4 BRIDGE STREET EAST BELLEVILLE

WINTERTIME is OVERHAUL time

Machinery Care is Part of Good Farming

After a heavy season — particularly if your tractor is several seasons old — a complete overhaul will make your engine work "like new." This is the best time of year to have your tractor overhauled

BECAUSE—

- We can give you faster service
- You can spare your tractor now
- You won't have to wait next spring
- You reduce the chance of a breakdown during rush seasons

Our factory-trained mechanics work on your tractor. Schedule your job by phone, or stop in and talk to us.

TUNE IN the National Farm and Home Hour Every Saturday—NBC

ALLIS-CHALMERS SALES AND SERVICE

Trudeau MOTORS LIMITED SALES and SERVICE

NAPANEE — PICTON — STIRLING — TWEED

31 - 41 Station St. Phone 3600 BELLEVILLE 125 Station St. Phone 3693

INSURANCE MORTGAGE LOANS

Automobile Don'ts

Don't overtake on curves or hills or change lanes or "cut in" or pull out from curb suddenly. Don't count on the other fellow. Act for yourself. Obey traffic laws and give the usual signals.

JAMIESON BONE & CO.

163 FRONT ST. PHONE 1364

BUSINESS DIRECTORY

SERVICE

OIL BURNER and STOKER SERVICE
NIGHTS: Phone 2023M and 1959R
RADIO and APPLIANCE REPAIRS
VAN DUSEN BROS. LTD.
329 Front St. Phone 2052
F7-tf

REAL ESTATE

IF YOU WISH TO BUY A HOME OR SELL SOME PROPERTY Call
E. O. KEELER
Phone 4619
Member Ontario Association of Real Estate Boards
Telephone 2650-J
M24-1y

FARM MACHINERY

FOR QUALITY SEE
IVAN MAY
JOHN DEERE DeLAVAL
BEATTY and LUNDY FENCE
SALES and SERVICE
37 Oakalton Road Phone 4269
Shannon Phone 2804

SAND and GRAVEL

CINDERS - FILL - CRUSHED ROCK - SAND - REMOVAL - DRIVEWAY PLOWING
IVAN MAY
Phone 4263 or 2365M
J9-1y

ELECTRICAL CONTRACTING — REPAIR

BELL ELECTRIC REPAIR DEPOT
9 Foothridge Belleville
Phone 1189J
SATISFIED CUSTOMERS OUR PRIDE
J9-1y

ACCOUNTANTS

KENNETH J. SODEN
PUBLIC ACCOUNTANT — AUDITOR
Income Tax Service
BANK OF MONTREAL BLDG.
BELLEVILLE — PHONE 3181
J18-tf

W. S. STONE
CHARTERED ACCOUNTANT
208 PINNACLE STREET
(Hotel Quinte Annex)
Telephone 2440

GEO. A. WELCH & CO.
Chartered Accountants
BELLEVILLE OTTAWA
Phone 4306 244 Pinnacle St

ARCHITECT

W. A. WATSON, Architect
M. Arch., M.R.A.I.C.,
Formerly located at 200 Front Street is now located at 344 Dundas Street
(Next to Dorset Garage)
D7-1y

INSURANCE

The thought of fire loss half its terrors when you're protected with our Fire Insurance.
SANDY BURROWS and HOWARD FROST
LIFE and FIRE INSURANCE
349½ FRONT ST. PHONE 482

HALL & EARLE
ACCIDENT and SICKNESS
Casualty Insurance. Fire, Automobile
278 FRONT ST. PHONE 1154-W

TYPEWRITER REPAIRS

THE JAMES TEXTS LIMITED
Prompt and Expert Repairs on ALL MAKES OF MACHINES
Typewriters and Adding Machines for Rent
179 - 181 FRONT STREET
Phone 892

VENETIAN BLINDS

Known and Respected Throughout Canada
LYFE-FLEX STEEL OR ALUMINUM SLATS
HOLWAY VENETIAN BLIND COMPANY
2-3 Day Delivery — 3 Year Guarantee
PHONE 2233 BELLEVILLE
M5-tf

CONTRACTORS

PIT RUN SAND AND GRAVEL
Delivered $1.20 Per Yard
On Orders of 5 Yards or More
CRUSHED GRAVEL AND STONE
Delivered Prices
Estimates on Fill Jobs
PHONE SHIVELS, BULLDOZER and COMPRESSORS
PHONE 195, TRENTON
J. D. VanALSTINE CONSTRUCTION
A4-tf

VETERINARIANS

DR. PAUL FOSTER
VETERINARIAN
Office in
MacKENZIE FEEDS BUILDING
47 South Front St., Belleville
Day Phone 1422
Phone 1823-M before 8 a.m. and after 5:00 p.m.
J6-1y

ROOFING CONTRACTOR

QUINTE ROOFING
(B. L. QUINCEY, Prop.)
Bonded Builders' Roofs—Asphalt Shingling — Coating Caulking — Waterproofing — Tile Laying
Phone 3880 — BELLEVILLE
J21-tf

BUILDING CONTRACTOR

JOHN V. WHITE
GENERAL REPAIRS
LET US BUILD YOU A NEW HOME.
Quotations Gladly Furnished
Expert Workmanship
58 Alexander Street
Phone 2536-J
J23-tf

MIMEOGRAPHING RUBBER STAMPS

THE JAMES TEXTS LIMITED
Fast, efficient work covering all needs: Constitutions, Letters, Statements, Cards, Badges, Envelopes, etc. Save time by duplicating. Call 17, Belleville, Ont., or 179-183 Front St. Phone 892

WELL DRILLING

McMILLAN and GARTLEY
(Formerly W. E. Gartley)
WELL DRILLING
Phone 619-M
BELLEVILLE, ONT.

- B. A. K. SMILEY
Box 72 Phone 114-21

MADOC
ALL TYPES OF WELL DRILLING AND CASING
NEW EQUIPMENT
FREE ESTIMATES PROMPT ATTENTION
A23-tf

FOOT SPECIALIST

H. W. ROBESON, M.N.
ALL FUNCTIONAL DISORDERS OF THE FEET
Fallen Arches, Swollen Ankles, Hammer Toes, Bunions, Corns, Calluses, Painful Heels, Children's Feet Receive Careful Attention
OFFICE HOURS: 9 to 12, 1 to 5, 7 to 9
164 Front St., Upstairs, Capitol Theatre Building
PHONE 453-W — OPEN EVENINGS

CARETAKING CONTRACTORS

GORDON A. MacEACHERN
(G. FRED MAUND, Mgr.)
SPECIALISTS IN FLOOR FINISHING
WINDOW CLEANING — WALL WASHING
Members of Maintenance of FINE SANITARY PRODUCTS
FLOOR POLISHERS FOR HIRE
338 Pinnacle St. Phone 639

FLOORS and WALLS

PIDUTTI — FABBRI
TILE and TERRAZZO CO.
GLAZED and CERAMIC FLOOR and WALL TILE
TERRAZZO FLOORS — Guaranteed Resists Acids and Abrasion
FOR FREE ESTIMATES
Phone 2100
51 NORTH FRONT ST.
M30-1y

BUILDERS' SUPPLIES

LUMBER

ROOFING — INSULATION — SHINGLES — WALLBOARDS — ASBESTOS — MOULDING — HARDWARE
E. D. MOTT
370 FRONT ST. PHONE 1633
A28-tf

CHIROPRACTORS

ROGERS RIEDEL, D.C.
Doctor of Chiropractic
Consultations by Appointment
42½ Bridge East
Suite 3 and 4
Office Telephone 3591
Residence Telephone 4258

R. A. WYATT, Ph.C.
Chiropractor and Drugless Therapist. Minor ailments of children as well as alcohol rub, coagulation of tonsils. Radiation and Electrotherapy. Inhalation surgery and suction treatment for sinus conditions.
288 Coleman St., Belleville. Phone 960
LADY ATTENDANT
A31-tf

REAL ESTATE

BUYING OR SELLING YOUR HOME?
Phone 4652
ERIC COOPER
General Insurance — Real Estate and Business Broker.
Life Insurance Consultant

UPHOLSTERING

OUR BUSINESS IS
UPHOLSTERING
RE-COVERING—RE-STYLING
1951 Models
First Class Workmanship
Estimates — No Obligation
WRITE or PHONE
TOWNE UPHOLSTERERS Reg.
262 Dundas St. E., TRENTON
P.O. Box 335 Phone 1008

FEED and GRAIN

CORN DISTILLERS DRIED GRAINS
are available at
WOODSON MILLS LTD.
SUPPLIERS ARE LIMITED. WE SUGGEST YOU ORDER NOW.
Phone 806 105 S. John St.

RIGGED WITH GRENADE

Milan, Italy, Feb. 7 (Reuters)—Police said last night that a big arms dump they found here was rigged with a two - pounds booby trap ready to kill any stranger who touched it. It was the fifth dump found in Milan in the last two weeks. Police believed the arms were stolen by members of the communist party.

ANCIENT SITE

A church in East Grinstead, Sussex, stands on the site of an earlier church that was built in 850 A. D.

FOR SALE

ONE PAIR FIRESTONE SNOW TIRES size 5.50 x 17. Dog, Wallbridge, R. R. 3, Belleville. Phone 2-r-21, St. View. F7-3t

SPRINGER COWS, A 3 LAKESFIELD JERSEY COW, A 3 YEAR OLD HEIFER. 1878-R3. F7-3t

OPPORTUNITY. BEAUTY parlor, chairs, permanent, hood, dryer, machines, dresser, etc. Kingston. Apply Box 27, Picton. F7-3t

REGISTERED HOLSTEIN COW 3½ years, fresh, vaccinated, milking 40 pounds per day. Also 2 heifers, T.B. certified. $350. Frank M. Hall, Consecon. F7-3t

BOILER, 80 HORSEPOWER BOILER guaranteed inspected for 100 lbs. pressure. Needs some mind, cheap. Will take in trade for cattle. Apply Box 27, Picton. Phone Picton 99[illegible]. F7-3t

BAY, GREEN ALFALFA, RED clover mixed hay. Phone 114-31 Stc Isle. Phone 777 Stirling. F7-4t

MADOC
ALL TYPES OF WELL DRILLING AND CASING
NEW EQUIPMENT
FREE ESTIMATES PROMPT ATTENTION
A23-tf

EXCELLENT BUILDING LOT, 100 x 150 ft. Just off Bridge St. E. 75 ft. frontage. 2 Ireland 2136. F28-3t

COOK STOVES, REFRIGERATORS, 2 heaters, new and used. Large stock to choose from. Terms or cash. Ross Trent St., Frankford. C26-tf Phone 3311.

TO LET

EXCEPTIONALLY NICE FURNISHED bedroom in private home. All conveniently modernized. Use of sunroom. Floors. Garage available. Use of telephone. Apply Box 27 Times, 167 Front St., Belleville. Ont. Ontario Intelligencer. F7-3t

2 OR 3 UNFURNISHED, HEATED, rooms, share bath, continuous hot water. Phone 2-r-21. F7-3t

MODERN SELF-CONTAINED APT. Electric refrigerator and coal stove. Phone 3906-R. F7-tf

ROOM AND BOARD IN PRIVATE home. Bus stop. Continuous hot water. Phone 3651-J. F7-tf

2 LARGE UNFURNISHED, UNHEATED rooms with bath. Apply 2 Dufferin Street. Phone 1083-J. F7-3t

HOUSE, 4 BEDROOMS, 30 x 18 living room, kitchen, bath. Central modern conveniences. Completely new decorations throughout. 5 miles from city. Large enough for 2 families. Phone 2118-W. F7-3t

4 UNFURNISHED, HEATED ROOMS and monthly, light included. Phone 1062. F7-3t

ONE 3-ROOM DOWNSTAIRS APT. 84 Station St., also 3-room apartment 86 Station St.; one 4-room apartment 88 Station St. Apply 84 Station St. F7-3t

ONE BEDROOM IN NEW HOME, suitable for young business man. Phone 3-r-21. F7-3t

4-ROOM HEATED APT. FURNISHED. Phone 2726-W. F7-3t

COMFORTABLE ROOM IN APT. Suit business girl. Breakfast if desired. Use of conveniences. Phone 2772-W, apply 167 Front Street, 2nd floor, stairs, after 6 p.m. F7-3t

UPPER DUPLEX, WILLIAM St., heated, newly decorated, living and dining room, 3 bedrooms, modern kitchen and bathroom, sun porch, hardwood floors, stove and fridge. $70 per month. Available immediately. Apply 2 Bay St. Phone 2-r-21. F7-3t

LIGHT HOUSEKEEPING ROOM FOR 1 or 2. East Hill. Downtown. Continuous hot water. Phone 2-r-21. F6-3t

FURNISHED ROOM, MEALS GOT. Close to downtown. Women only. Phone 2155-W. F6-3t

HEATED, 3-ROOM GROUND FLOOR apartment. 161A Ann St. Phone 2097-W. F6-3t

4-ROOM APT. IMMEDIATE POSSESsion. Suit business couple. Apply at Rednersville. Apply Reiner's Restaurant, Trenton. F6-3t

BED-SITTING ROOM FOR 1 OR 2. Board optional or light housekeeping. Phone 2-r-21. F6-3t

3-ROOMED BRICK HOUSE LOCATED East Hill. Hot water heated, newly decorated throughout. Suitable for large Xmas present. Apply 101 Victoria Ave. between 4 and 6 p.m. F6-3t

FOR BALANCE OF WINTER, ON NO. 2 Highway, one mile west of Belleville, 4-room partly furnished cottage, electric heating, hot water supplied. $47 per month. Phone 2918-W-2. Apply 2 Bay Shore Court. F6-3t

FURNISHED BED-SITTING ROOM and kitchen, with range. Suit 1 or 2 working girls. Furnished room. East Hill. Phone 360-M. F6-3t

LARGE FRONT BEDROOM. TWIN beds. Suitable for 2 girls. 167 Front Street. F6-3t

LARGE ROOM IN PRIVATE HOME. Gentleman preferred. Phone 2425-R between 4 and 7. F6-3t

4-ROOM APT., UNFURNISHED, UNheated, private entrance. Self-contained. Apply 2 Bay Shore Court, May 1st. Apply Quinte Industrial Centre, 16 Victoria Ave. No telephone calls. F6-3t

2 LARGE FURNISHED ROOMS. Very central. Apply Kellaway's Restaurant, Picton. F6-3t

BEDROOM, EAST HILL. CLOSE TO bus stop. Suit business girl evening meal if desired. Use of phone. Gentleman preferred. Phone 166-W. F5-3t

ONE GIRL BOARDER SHARE ROOM $8 a week, also 3 light housekeeping rooms. Phone 2618-R. F5-3t

FURNISHED BEDROOM IN NEW home, close to bus. All conveniences. Phone 2893-M. F5-3t

BED-SITTING ROOM. SEMI-PRIvate bath. Close to Belleville facilities. Phone 2345-R. F5-3t

3 LARGE, SUNNY ROOMS, HEATED, unfurnished. Continuous hot water, bathroom. Flue Street. Phone 466-W. F5-3t

HEATED, FURNISHED ROOM WITH private entrance. Suit business girl. Phone 2-r-21. Phone 2-r-21. Use bus stop. Phone 2-r-21. F5-3t

3-ROOMED, FURNISHED, HEATED apartment to quiet home. Rent $50 per month to adults. Apply 2 Bay Shore Court. F5-3t

6-ROOM APT. NEAR AIRPORT. Phone Trenton 864-J-14. J18-tf

COMFORTABLE, BRIGHT ROOMS for rent. Use of bath, phone, laundry facilities, refreshing, heated swimming pool included. Y.M.C.A. 20 Campbell Street. Phone 61. S27-tf

LOST

GREY KITTEN, VICINITY OF Charles Street. Phone 4-r-11. F7

WANTED — MALE

RADIO TESTER, ALIGNMENT men and technicians. Central Ontario territory. Permanent position for top radio technicians. 5 day week. Insurance benefits. Pension plan. Good opportunity for advancement. Apply Box 27, Picton. Ont. Phone 99[illegible]. Picton 99[illegible]. F7-3t

WANTED, MAN TO CUT WOOD on shares. Phone 2-r-21. F7-3t

VACANCY — RAWLEIGH BUSINESS established. Excellent opportunity for reliable man. Write Rawleigh's Dept. W-[illegible]-[illegible]. F7-3t

MARRIED MAN, CAPABLE OF operating dairy and mixed farm, milking machine, tractor and other implements. Good house and wages. Apply Box 27, Picton. Ont. Phone 99[illegible]. Picton 99[illegible]. F7-3t

23, ONTARIO INTELLIGENCER for further information and particulars. Wages, experience, family and approximate age desired. F7-3-c-wed-tf

NIGHT CLERK HEAD OFFICE assistance. Good personality. Accurate typist. Experience necessary. Apply in person, Hotel Quinte. F7-3t

DUE TO INCREASED BUSINESS, the Quinte Industrial Centre has additional sales help. Special pay while training if you qualify. Phone 4345-W. F7-3t

WANTED — FEMALE

WOMAN CAPABLE OF TAKING mother works. Phone 2238-W. F7-3t

STENOGRAPHER, SINGLE, FOR collection department of financial institution. Permanent position with excellent salary and employee benefits. Our employees know of this advertisement. Telephone or write Box 27, Picton. Ont. Phone 99[illegible]. Picton 99[illegible]. F7-3t

EXPERIENCED YOUNG WOMAN for general housework. Sleep in if desired. Permanent. Continuous hot water. Phone 3651-J. F7-tf

WOMAN WITH CAR TO DEMONstrate new cosmetic. Permanent. Pleasant work. Apply Box 27, Picton. Ont. Experience. F7-3t

WAITRESS, HIGHEST WAGES PAID Meals supplied. Apply Quinte Dairy only. Apply in person only. 167 Front Street. F7-3t

2-ROOM APT. AVAILABLE TO WOman for minding children when mother works. Phone 4345-W. F7-3t

WANTED

SUMMER COTTAGE OR A LOT ON which to build. Phone cottage. In reply please state if available at once or in the spring. Apply Box 27, Picton. Ont. Phone 99[illegible]. Picton 99[illegible]. F7-3t

WILL BUY NEW OR USED FEATHER mattress. Will pay for quality. Phone 2-r-21. Bel. Ont. Ontario Intelligencer. F7-3t

BATTERIES! BATTERIES! IRON and metals wanted. Highest prices paid. Harry A. Safe and Son, 52 Station St. Phone 2-r-21. F7-3t

TO BUY FOR CASH, WELL-BUILT, strictly modern house, East Hill, 3 bedrooms, large living room, hardwood floors, full basement. Write Box 2, Ontario Intelligencer. F7-3t

FURNITURE — UPHOLSTERY AND repairs. Free estimates. Phone any or day. Phone 2196-J. Gordon's Upholstery. F7-3t

FARM TO RENT WITHIN 8 OR 10 miles of Belleville. Must be in good condition to buy privately, good soil, suitable for dairying. Write Box 27, Ontario Intelligencer. F7-3t

TYPING OR BOOKKEEPING TO DO in own home. Phone 2-r-21. F7-3t

MARRIED LADY REQUIRES PART-time position in grocery store, preferably Saturday. Phone 2-r-21. all day Saturday. Apply Box 27, Ontario Intelligencer. F7-3t

SCRAP IRON, PAPER, RAGS, ETC. Highest prices paid. Phone 2-r-21. Crawford Metals, 51 Station St. Phone 2-r-21. Bel. Ont. F7-3t

SCHOOL GIRL DESIRES BABY SITting after four p.m. evening. Phone 2-r-21. F7-3t

SEND YOUR LETTER NOW TO The Ontario Intelligencer, Box 27, Picton. Ont. Phone 99[illegible]. Picton 99[illegible]. F7-3t

ARTICLES FOR SALE

1 DROP SIDE DAY BED, 6'; 1 OAK buffet, $9. Phone 2378-J. F7

PRINCESS PAT COOK STOVE, 6-hole, with reservoir. Phone 2-r-21. Bel. Ont. F7-3t

CREAM, STRIPE VENETIAN BLIND, 54 x 62. $8. Phone 2296-R. F6-3t

SEWING MACHINE, PORTABLE, Singer, practically new. Like machine. Priced reasonable. Apply 167 Front Street. Phone 2-r-21. F6-3t

SEVEN-PC. DINING ROOM SUITE, chesterfield, chesterfield suite, 2 chairs, $25. 30 Wilkie St. F6-3t

BLUE STUDIO COUCH, NEW SLIP covers, $40. 167 Front St. F6-3t

SUNSHINE BABY CARRIAGE, Like new. Phone Stirling 2-r-11. Clifford McCoy, 18 North Park Street. F5-3t

80 SAP BUCKETS AND SPILES Used 2 seasons. Phone Thurlow 2-r-11. F5-3t

QUEBEC HEATER, IN SPLENDID condition. Phone 2-r-21. Bel. Ont. F5-3t

ELECTRIC COPPER TUB WASHER, $50. Phone 2-r-21. Bel. Ont. F5-3t

ELECTRIC WASHER, NEW AGITATOR washes clothes clean in 3 minutes. Excellent condition. Fine, fluffy rinse. Safe drain. Electric Shop, 340 Front St. F5-3t

REMINGTON TYPEWRITER, 18 inch carriage. Like new. Phone 2-r-21 between 2 and 3. F2-3t

BABY CHAMP RADIO, IVORY, 3 bands, $25. Phone 2-r-21. Bel. Ont. F2-3t

Built-in antenna. Excellent condition. Fine, fluffy rinse. Safe drain. Electric Shop, 340 Front St. F2-3t

TRADE IN YOUR OLD ELECTRIC stove on a new Moffat Super Sheet Iron. Worth $2.00 on each purchase of $10.00 or more. Phone 2-r-21. Bel. Ont. F2-3t

NOTICE TO CREDITORS AND OTHERS

IN THE ESTATE OF JOTHAM WOOD, Late of Tweed, Deceased.

All persons having claims against the estate of the above-named deceased, late of the Township of Sidney, in the County of Hastings, Prince Edward, who died on or about the 10th day of January, 1951, are required to send particulars of their claims to the undersigned on or before the 1st day of March, 1951, after which date the estate will be distributed having regard to the claims only of which notice has been received.

Dated this 30th day of January, 1951.

HAROLD R. WILSON
Solicitor for the Administrator.
J31-Fr-14

NOTICE TO CREDITORS AND OTHERS

IN THE ESTATE OF MARY D. WOOD, Late of Tweed, Deceased.

All persons having claims against the estate of the above-named deceased, late of the Township of Sidney, in the County of Prince Edward, who died on or about the 10th day of January, 1951, are required to send particulars of their claims to the undersigned on or before the 1st day of March, 1951, after which date the estate will be distributed having regard to the claims only of which notice has been received.

Dated this 30th day of January, 1951.

HAROLD R. WILSON
17 Bridge Street E.
Belleville, Ont.
Solicitor for the Administrator.
J31-Fr-14

NOTICE

Red Cross Society annual meeting, Thursday, February 8th, 7.30 p.m. St. Thomas' Church Hall. Address 1850, plans for 1851. The public is very welcome. Mrs. Ian Cameron, special speaker from the Canadian Red Cross Society will be present.
F2-7

AUTOMOBILES FOR SALE

'39 MODEL "A" FORD COACH, 4 new tires, fair condition. Reasonable. Phone 2-r-21. Bel. Ont. F7-3t

1936 CHRYSLER 4 DOOR SEDAN. Refinished in black. Good mechanical condition. Priced for quick clearance price. On display at Trudeau Motors, Station St. F7-3t

35 REO SEDAN, $275; 39 FORD Coupe, $395; 39 Ford Sedan, $395; also $30. Wallbank Motors, Front St. F7-3t

1952 PLYMOUTH 4 DOOR SEDAN. This car is in exceptional condition and has been driven by a very careful owner. Priced for quick clearance. Must be seen to be appreciated. On display at Trudeau Motors, Station St. F7

'46 CHEVROLET, FLEETLINE 4 door sedan, fully equipped, in first class condition. Priced reasonable. Phone 4273-J or apply 49 Howard St. after 7. F7-3t

BUILDING SUPPLIES

PLUMBING SUPPLIES — SINKS, bath tubs, toilets, taps, valves and fittings. Priced reasonable. Apply Quinte Supply Co., 49 Station St. Phone 477. F7-tf

LUMBER, SHINGLES, DOORS, sash, flooring, insulation, plywood, hardware, Houston Company, 227 Front St. Phone 1577. F7-tf

LUMBER, ROOFING, INSULATION, sidings, wallboards, masonite, plywood, hardware, paints and cement. Ware, E. D. Mott, 370 Front Street. Phone 1633. J30-tf

BUSINESS LINERS

CUSTOM MADE SLIP COVERS. Drapes for your new home. All work expertly done in your home. Phone 2-r-21. Mrs. Percival's, 280 Front St. Phone 4300 week ends. J21-m-w-f-12

WOOD SAWING DONE WITH power saw. Phone 2-r-21. Bel. Ont. F7-3t

APPLICATIONS

Will be received by the undersigned up to 5 p.m., Friday, February 9th, for the completed position of Dog Catcher and Pound Keeper for Belleville. Duties and Regulations may be had from
R. D. BATEMAN,
Comptroller.
F6-2t

CASH FOR YOUR CAR
Must be in GOOD CONDITION
BATEMAN MOTORS LTD
315 PINNACLE ST.
Phone 2300
BELLEVILLE
"Belleville's Largest Used Car Dealer"

WANTED
TO BUY
House on Pinnacle or Coleman Streets
State Price and Location.
Apply: BOX 12
ONTARIO INTELLIGENCER

FOR SALE
6-ROOM BUNGALOW
Close to downtown — WEST HILL — fully insulated. Immediate possession. Low taxes.
$3800.00
Will accept a late model car as down payment.
WRITE: BOX 167
ONTARIO INTELLIGENCER

'Madly in Love' With Barbara Says Man Held

Toronto, Feb. 7 (CP) —A tall, shabbily-dressed man who said he was "madly in love" with Barbara Ann Scott tried to force his way into the figure skater's apartment here late last night.

Joseph Maconse, 33, of Quebec, was arrested and charged with trespassing at night.

Other tenants in the building on Toronto's northern outskirts subdued Maconse as he tried to fight his way into the apartment shared by Barbara Ann and her mother after ringing all the doorbells in the building and screaming that he must see Barbara Ann. He was held until police arrived.

Finlay M. MacPherson, who lives in the apartment above the Scotts went to the door of the building when his buzzer was pressed.

He said Maconse tried to force his way past. When MacPherson tried to stop the man he was grabbed by the throat and bitten on the arm. Maconse then rushed by the pair and reached the door of the Scott apartment just as Mrs. Scott opened it.

He managed to get his foot inside the door and remained that way while the Scotts, Maconse and other tenants arrived and grabbed him. They held him until police arrived.

North York police said a man had been bothering Barbara Ann for some time. He had been making her regularly on the telephone, asking her to go out with him and even threatening to come and get her.

Miss Scott, the world championship figure skater was practising at the Toronto Skating Club — a man forced his way inside in an attempt to talk to her. He was ejected, but no police action was taken.

Not First Time

Mrs. Scott said "last night wasn't the first time Maconse had called and pestered Barbara, the skater and her mother first moved here from Ottawa the man appeared and asked to see Barbara Ann, she said.

"I told him she wasn't in and he said he'd wait. Then I told him she was out of town and he said he'd wait anyway. I refused and didn't want to leave. But he finally did.

"Tonight when he tried to get it he said, 'if you give me my money I'll go.'"

Police said later they had been investigating the mysterious telephone calls for some months, but first reported them.

After questioning Maconse, they said he told them he was "madly in love" with Barbara Ann. He said he had slipped every picture of her he had ever seen and that they had "been made for each other."

Maconse had pictures of Barbara Ann in his wallet and told police he had dozens of them pasted up in his room.

Still, police said, would say about the matter was that "we had a rather unpleasant visitor."

CLOCK TOWER SPLITS

New Delhi, Feb. 7 — (CP) — The top of a 70-year-old clock tower split in two here today, fell with a crash into a teeming bazaar and killed at least 20 persons and two women. About 15 others were injured. The clock, which remained intact, stopped when the upper part of the tower fell—at 10:15 a.m.

AURIOL TO VISIT STATES

Le Havre, France, Feb. 7 (Reuters) — President Vincent Auriol and his wife sailed today aboard the liner Ile De France for the United States. President Auriol, on a state visit to the United States and Canada, will be accompanied by about 50.

WANTED
ABOUT FIVE HUNDRED FEET GROUND FLOOR STORAGE SPACE
Apply:
ONTARIO INTELLIGENCER

MORTGAGES
BOUGHT and SOLD
Private Funds—Fast Service
FOR APPOINTMENT
Phone 4111
QUINTE MORTGAGE CO.
297 Front Street — Room 3
BELLEVILLE

REAL ESTATE
MEMBER of the Ontario Association of Real Estate Boards and of the Canadian Association of Real Estate Boards.
GEO. N. GORMAN
166 FRONT ST. (Opposite City Hall)
REALTOR

WHY WE SAY By Bob Morgan Point Hope

The Reason thought that the last tooth that I took out in that session of work of which it became the crown or cap on old age. However, the tooth appear of very diverse ages in different individuals. They can appear at any time from the age of 14 to 45 and 45 per cent of the people never cut them at all.

ORDER NOW FOR SPRING DELIVERY
CHEESE KLIM, 12-inch size, 166 for $36.00; DWARF TREES (Mixed for hedges or Spy or Cortland); DWARF APPLE TREES (Mixed Delicious and Wealthy); 3 ft. size, very choice, $3.50 per dozen; 4 ft. size, $4.50 per dozen; 5 ft. size, $5.50 per dozen; 6 ft. and 7 ft. inch size, 25 for $1.50; GIANT EXHIBITION FRONT ROSE BUSHES, white or pink, 2 for $1.25; PLUM TREES, Burbank, Pembina, Prunus, Red or Grand Duke, 5-ft. size, $2.50 each.
Free colored GARDEN GUIDE with every order.
BROOKDALE - KINGSWAY NURSERIES
Newmarket — Ontario

For Sale
"L" CASE TRACTOR
"D" CASE TRACTOR 1943
"S" CASE TRACTOR 1943
RB JOHN DEERE TRACTOR, 4 years
"C" CASE TRACTOR
"D" ALLIS CHALMERS TRACTOR
"D" CASE TRACTOR
"E" CASE TRACTOR
OLIVER 70 TRACTOR, 2 yrs.
10-20 INTERNATIONAL TRACTOR
CASE HAY LOADER, 2 Years
CASE PICK-UP on Rubber, 4 yrs.
CASE STATIONERY BALER
INTERNATIONAL TWINE BALER, 2 years.
All of the above sold with a guarantee.
Elliott's Farm Equipment LIMITED
STIRLING. — Phone 2190

WALL - FLEX RUBBER WALLCOVERING
Beautify Your Kitchen and Bathroom.
28 BEAUTIFUL COLORS.
ARTHUR A. SILLS and SON
235 Coleman St. Phone 1584
BELLEVILLE

YARD FOREMAN for RETAIL LUMBERYARD
Previous experience desired, plus knowledge of woodworking machines. Must be a steady worker and capable of handling men.
This position offers excellent working conditions and an opportunity for advancement.
Give full particulars in first letter, stating salary required.
Apply to BOX 59
ONTARIO INTELLIGENCER

Crimson Holiday

By Jane Holsinger

COPYRIGHT 1951 BY NEA SERVICE, INC.

There are fortunately, few women like Lavinia Grenable, who smudge the formidable old house that she dominated, she was unconsoling, terrible and sinister. She lived, as she died, vividly.

On that Thursday before Easter Sunday she propelled her luxury-sized form inside her wheel-chair into the private den behind her first floor bedroom and rang for her secretary.

She faced the mirrored walls flanking the door in the corridor the French doors opening onto the brick terrace and ravine were behind her. She had a slight frame, still withered, but showy, clothed in the invariable black dress; a long shawl covered her paralyzed limbs.

She wore her white hair in a high-piled mass arranged formally about a face so completely expressionless and bland in color that at first glance it was almost a mask—until one looked at her eyes. They were pale, narrowed, vicious slits sparked with violence. Looking deep into those cold ice blue depths stirred memories of childhood vehicles and goblins sweeping through thunder-filled skies.

There was a knock, the door opened and Geraldine Palmer entered the room. She came swiftly and with an astonishingly graceful ease, accustomed, after nearly a year with Lavinia, to both the outward and inner violence of the old woman. Not even the thickly carpeted and over-mirrored den could disturb Geraldine after those months.

"You rang?" Tall, slender, self-possessed, her gray eyes never flickered as they met her employer's.

Geraldine betrayed no sign of nervousness beyond the quick gesture with which she smoothed her hair off her forehead. Her hair was the one bright, fresh color in the whole somber house. It was light auburn, almost frankly red.

"Of course I rang" Lavinia snapped. Her hands moved in a snake-like manner as she pulled her wheel chair to the centre of the room. Those eyes scanned the secretary mercilessly.

"Tell Courtney and Andrew I want to see them at once."

"I don't think Court is home," Geraldine said.

"No one asked you to think. Where did he go?"

"He left [illegible] just before lunch."

She was silent a moment. Then she said, "And Andrew. Of course you know where Andrew is. You know so much more about my affairs than I do. Is he sober yet?"

Geraldine moved fluidly to the terrace doors. "I saw him on the terrace with his Aunt Elizabeth and Mr. Farwell a few minutes ago. There's Court's car in the drive now," she offered.

Lavinia lurched her wheel chair toward the doors. They opened with the automatic release. "Get out!" she ordered. "I want to talk to them without eavesdroppers."

Without a backward glance she gave a chair a strong thrust and rolled out onto the terrace. . . .

The old Grenable house sat on the highest rise in the ground overlooking Old Elm Road, guarding the left turn where the road swung away from the lake and curved inland through the wooded section west of Hillton.

To the north Fort Sheridan's tower pointed a golden finger skyward in the late afternoon sun. Lake Michigan lay directly east. The last touches of frost were giving way in the ravines and the gay, exciting blue of spring spread across the sky, reflecting deep in the lake where sky and water became one.

Lisa Farwell turned her car off the blacktop running parallel with the lake and swung down the familiar, winding road home.

A Old Elm Road was well named, with its thick stand of elms canopied under the sky.

Ordinarily the great arch of trees overhead and rolling countryside with its scattered houses stirred a joyousness in her, a sense of well-being and belonging. But today when she came out on the hill with its view of lake and fields she was moved again with that faint and irritating uneasiness that the Grenable house, like its owner, dominated everything around her.

Premonitions were silly, and of course she didn't believe in them. Lisa reminded herself sharply. Today should be the most wonderful day in her life, the first day of her engagement to Courtney Grenable.

Court's dark, crisp hair and quick, white smile contrasted with Lisa's own bloodless and lingering laughter. Court could charm his way out of the most intricate of situations, while Lisa must pause to ponder, if their short and harried courtship had served to prove anything beyond their love, it had established the difference between them.

But, as Lisa told Court, that made the romance all the more exciting. But Lisa couldn't forget Lavinia, Court's mother. Even Court grew silent when she was mentioned. Lisa's father had put it too neatly this morning at breakfast:

"To marry a Grenable is to marry Lavinia."

That morning Lisa Farwell had come into the big, sunny room where the three walls inland there was the fresh smell of water when the wind was right. The windows had been open this morning and the newly awakening earth in the south gardens was like a perfume. The whole world shone with a sweetness.

Lisa had brushed a strand of yellow hair that had slipped out of its restraining band to tickle her father's nose when she leaned over to kiss him as he ate his breakfast.

"Thank heavens," Henry Farwell sighed, "you haven't succumbed to the latest female craze. Every woman in town looks like a shorn sheep."

"I might still," she warned. "Court thinks they're cute."

Her father passed his cup for more coffee, creamed it, sugared it, tested it carefully and then put down his cup. "You went to the dance last night."

It wasn't a question and she knew in the way they had of sharing each other's thoughts, that he had guessed.

"Yes," she said evenly. "He asked me to marry him. I said I would."

She hadn't wanted to tell him so abruptly, But they were not accustomed to secretive ways. they had been without her mother too many years now, alne in all, for her not to sense his moods, his emotions, and his hopes.

She had known for a long time he would not want this to happen. He didn't say anything, but she knew how he felt. And she knew the reason he felt that way: Lavinia Grenable.

"I've loved him for a long time Dad," Lisa said simply.

"I know," he said. "I've seen it coming."

Suddenly he looked very tired a gray, drained expression settled on his face. Henry Farwell was not a big man physically, but his easy way with people, and his steady and sometimes disconcerting gray eyes lent the illusion of bigness, a bigness of inner self.

And in Lisa now, watching him push back his chair and rise slowly with a strange tenseness, there came the shock of seeing him almost shrink before her eyes. It seemed that in that minute he grew old.

"Lisa," he said, "my dear, I have never pretended. I have only tried to guide rather than lead you. Perhaps I have been wrong. Don't marry Court Grenable!"

"Please!" she implored. "Don't say anything you'll be sorry for. I couldn't bear it." She started to leave.

"Wait," he said gently. "I have nothing against the man. What ever you find in him to love must be good, and if there is good to love in Court he would be a chance for your happiness. But there can be no happiness with Lavinia Grenable.

"I know—she's supposed to be dreadful," Lisa agreed flatly. "I also know that everyone in Hillton dislikes and distrusts her after what she did to Andrew. But, Dad, I'm not marrying Court's mother!"

It was then that Henry Farwell said the thing that Lisa remembered most vividly:

"You would be marrying into the Grenable family. You would have to take your place rightly among them, and to marry a Grenable is to marry Lavinia."

Lisa had nothing with which to fight his words, excepting her love for Court. She had loved Court even before they had started running around together. She had loved him always.

She had loved Court when he had been dashing across the countryside in his red coat with his two black and whites in the Hillton Run every year, and when Lisa was only old enough to skate with the junior crowd on Ellsworth's Pond, or to drink hot chocolate with rosy-nosed Tim Ellsworth at the rink landing, while the grown-ups danced through the lavish parties Senator and Lavinia Grenable gave before Court's father died.

Senator Norton Grenable had died the same year Henry Farwell lost his wife and then a more quiet way of life descended on the neighborhood. Lisa was remembering these things painfully.

(To Be Continued)

MAIN CAUSE

Diseases of the heart are principal causes of death in Canada, more than double that from cancer and other tumors.

FRUIT-A-TIVES MAKE YOU WELL KEEP YOU WELL

Get relief from constipation—indigestion. Positive results from FRUIT-A-TIVES proved by tens of thousands. FRUIT-A-TIVES contain extracts of fruits and herbs.

EATON'S SPOTLIGHT SALE

Bedding and Linens

Big Feature Value! Hemmed

Cotton Sheets Double-Bed Size

Splendidly woven sheets secured from a Canadian mill at a sale price that should sweep them out in short order! Don't miss getting a supply, and, if you're wise, you'll buy for future needs. Smooth, firmly-woven, snowy white and neatly hemmed, they're excellent quality. Size about 81" x 99".

EATON Spotlight Sale, Each

7.59

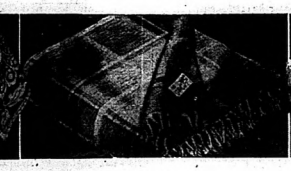
— Linens and Bedding — EATON'S Main floor

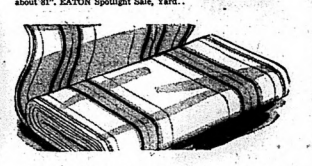
See the Value Here!

Cotton Sheeting

Those who recognize value should order this 81-inch wide sheeting in quantity. A smooth, firm, medium weight, woven of even bleach cotton yarns for good service. Each pair of sheets requires about 5½ to 6 yards, so note the saving you make by sewing your own. Double bed width, about 81". EATON Spotlight Sale, Yard..

1.29





Full Dinner Size

Scotch Lace Cloths

Don't miss securing one or more of these lovely ecru, cotton lace cloths — such offers come but rarely! Woven in fine combination stitch, the lacy floral pattern has decorative, double-scalloped edge. Full dinner size, about 70" x 90". EATON Spotlight Sale, Each .....

4.39

To Please a "Canny" Buyer

Wool Tartan Motor Rugs

Authentic Tartans on well woven, wool Rugs! Splendid quality, made with fringed ends and oblainsale in Robertson, MacQueen, Macfie, Gordon, or 42nd., Black Watch. Size about 54" x 66". EATON Spotlight Sale, Each .....

5.98

Fleecy! Comfortable! Low-Priced!

Rayon and Wool Blankets

Soft Rayon and Wool for warmth and wear plus the low sale price emphasizes the wisdom of buying now for savings — Blankets are bound with gleaming "Celanese" Rayon Satin. Colours: Rose Dust, Blue, Green, Goldtone or Cedar. Size about 60" x 80". EATON Spotlight Sale, Each .....

6.29

Fine, Firm Weave! Imported

18" Linen Towelling

Be wise, buy yards of this good quality linen towelling, it should give excellent service! Brilliant, multi-coloured cotton stripes make a cheery border. Use it for Towels, Rollers, Mat Sets, etc! About 18 inches wide. EATON Spotlight Sale, Yard .....

.45

Excitingly Sale-Priced!

Chenille-type Spreads

Spreads loaded with waves of velvety, cotton baby tufting — snowy white with choice of floral medallion or flower-basket motifs in multi-colours. Also beautiful solid colours of Rose, Blue, Green, Turquoise, Mauve or Wine. Heavy cotton grounds. Size about 80" x 100". EATON Spotlight Sale, Each .....

10.29

A Real Money-Saver!

Striped Bath Towels

Another exciting purchase, priced for big savings! Big bath-size cotton terry towels, well worth buying by the half dozen pairs! Well woven with gay striped borders of Rose, Green, Blue, Gold or deep-looped white ground. Size about 22" x 42". EATON Spotlight Sale, Pair .....

1.29

Cotton and Rayon

Luncheon Sets

Beautiful colours in handsome Rayon and Cotton brocaded Luncheon Sets imported from Belgium and featured at a definitely low price. All over floral pattern finished to be reversible. Neatly boxed, cloth about 64" x 84", with 8 napkins. Colours: Ivory, Green, Goldtone; Peach. EATON Spotlight Sale, 9 piece set .....

7.99

Decorative Colours

Loop-Twist Bath Mat Sets

Thick, soft Bath Mat Sets with deep looped surface and sturdy cotton backs, oval-shaped finished with fringe. Colours: Green, Dark Green, Turquoise, Powder Blue, Dusty Rose, Blaine, Maize, Grey, Wine, Pink or Lime. Mat size about 21" by 33". EATON Spotlight Sale, Set .....

3.98

THE T. EATON CO. LIMITED
BELLEVILLE BRANCH

The Ontario Intelligencer

PROBABILITIES

Friday: Clear, very cold. Low 10 below, high 10 above.

TEMPERATURES

	Max.	Min.
Today	2	6b
One Year Ago	31	11b

Authorized as Second Class Mail, Post Office Department, Ottawa

BELLEVILLE, ONTARIO, THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 8, 1951

5c Per Copy, 25c Per Week

TOLL MAY REACH 90 IN N.J. TRAIN WRECK

Rescue workers are shown (centre) removing the body of one of the persons killed when the Pennsylvania Railroad commuter train, "The Broker" with standees in every car, plunged down a 50-foot embankment. At least 81 persons were killed in the wreck and 95, estimated Injured. Many persons were pinned under the wreckage for hours, and it is expected more names will be added to the number of dead.

Western Ontario Digs Out After Wednesday's Storm; 20 Below Tonight Forecast

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

A snowstorm whipping southeastward off Lake Huron and Georgian Bay today continued to make highway travel difficult in the western portion of Southern Ontario, especially in the London and Stratford areas.

Provincial highways in those sections were reported "heavy," with a high wind causing drifting in the wake of the plows, while many roads in rural areas were blocked.

Elsewhere in the province, the weather was clear and cold. Moderation was forecast for southern areas by late Friday or early Saturday, with the outlook for continuing cold in the north, east and west.

A day's hours after the storm started late yesterday, railway plows were into action in the Stratford district for the first time in more than a year. At times through the evening, highway plows halted when the swirling snow prevented operators from seeing their way.

Eight inches of dry, powdery snow fell in the Stratford area. The wind speedily swept it into deep drifts. At the same time, the temperature dropped to about zero.

School buses serving the Stratford Collegiate Institute completed only part of their regular runs last night. Others did not start, but expected to make partial trips again. Many rural students spent last night in the city.

Provincial and county snowplows resumed their battle with the drifts at dawn.

All rural mail carriers started out on their routes today but few expected to reach all the homes on their usual rounds.

Twenty - seven - inch stormbound high school students spent last night at the Ontario home of George Dorm, 3½ miles north of Exeter. Still Stranded

With the storm continuing to rage, they still were stranded today, although plows were trying to break through the drifts on No. 4 highway.

Mr. Dunn said in a telephone interview that although food supplies at the farm house had run out the students, who stayed an all-night party, were "still fine and jolly."

Weather observers at Malton, near Toronto, said the northwest wind was picking up moisture from open water in Lake Huron and Georgian Bay and carrying it to heights at which it became chilled and fell as snow.

The storm today did not extend to the Niagara Peninsula or to region south of Lake Simcoe, where highways were bare in centre-bare with occasional icy sections, free did it affect them, so, although drifting was reported in a few miles to the north.

It moved heavily at Barrie, 75 miles north of Toronto.

Many centres numbers 20 and snow thawed yesterday awoke to find today's temperature below zero. There, was a general temperature drop of more than 35 degrees.

Decidedly Cold

The overnight low was nine below zero in Ottawa, three below at Toronto, 15 below at Muskoka airport, 20 below at North Bay, 19 below at Sault Ste. Marie, 27 below at Fort Arthur, 28 below at Kapuskasing and 32 below at White River. Windsor's reading was two above zero and London's three above.

The temperature plunged 44 degrees in eight hours at Brockville. Thermometers read 42 above zero at 4 p.m. Wednesday and seven below zero at midnight.

The minimum tonight is expected to be zero at Windsor, St. Catharines, St. Thomas and Hamilton; five below at Toronto, for St.

(Continued on Page 8)

United Nations Soldiers Battling Hunger Among Korean Civilians

On the Western Front, Korea, Feb. 8 — (AP) — Only a few miles behind the front lines where United Nations soldiers are battling communists, the United Army takes time out each day to fight another enemy — hunger.

Korean civilians, flocking back to their homes as fast as the U.N. command frees them from red, are being fed by an American army detachment.

The detachment, headed by Maj. R. T. Shugart is located in Yoptgoye, a ramshackle Korean village about five miles east of Suwon.

"Civilians come from miles around to get rice from us," Shugart said. "We are feeding 10,000 of them right now and the number increases daily."

The milling lines of these hungry victims of war begin forming each day at dawn. Until dusk they file by tables where their names are checked. Then they are handed enough rice for two days.

"We give the adults a pound and the children a half a pound," said Shugart.

The rice is trucked in each day from Chonan, 20 miles to the south, where the army is operating a rice milling plant to process the food staple of the Orient.

Whole families wait patiently in the lengthy queues, bundled up against the chill winds.

Many of these pitiful, helpless people have returned in the wake of the advancing allies only to find their homing reduced to rubble and their rice fields pock-marked with the debris of war. They smile gratefully as they tuck their rice allotments into gaily-colored sacks.

"We couldn't very well let them starve," Shugart said.

FROST CRITICAL OF STATEMENTS MADE BY LIBERALS

Attacks Forestry Policies of Party

Toronto, Feb. 8 (CP) —Farquhar Oliver, leader of the legislature's 13-man Liberal group, is scheduled to enter the Throne Speech debate today to answer charges made by Premier Frost.

The Premier, in a strongly-worded speech yesterday criticized recent statements on education by Liberal spokesmen, and attacked the forestry policies of the Liberal administration which went out of office in 1943.

Mr. Oliver may also voice a motion of non-confidence in the government, to add to the motion of censure made by CCF opposition leader E. B. Jolliffe in yesterday's Throne Speech debate.

Mr. Jolliffe's motion as an amendment to the reply to the Throne Speech—said the government had failed to meet municipal tax needs, promote improved farm marketing legislation, disclose a reason for the "watering down" of the Dominion-Provincial housing program or halt waste of natural resources.

Premier Frost led off the Throne Speech debate for the government by setting out his policy for dealing with the 300 recommendations of the much-debated Hope Royal Commission report on education.

The legislature, he said, should consider "broad subjects" on which general agreement is reached agreement. But no radical change was needed to improve education in the province and the government felt itself "in no way bound" by the commission's recommendations.

(Continued on Page 8)

Lone Gunman Secures $1,474

Montreal, Feb. 8 — (CP) — A lone gunman held up the Peel and St. Catherine Street branch of the Bank of Nova Scotia today and escaped with $1,474.

Witnesses said the bandit was unmasked, but had his face "plastered up" and wore a handlebar moustache.

Bank officials said the loot included $405 in mutilated bills which were to be turned back to Bank of Canada for destruction.

Teller Robert B. Plante told police that the man shoved a revolver through the wicket and held out a paper bag, demanding: "All your money."

Shell Explodes Five Munitions Workers Killed

St. Paul L'Ermite, Que., Feb. 8 (CP) — Five munitions workers were killed here Wednesday when a large calibre shell exploded at the Canadian Arsenals plant.

Names of four of the five men killed were released by the trade department in Ottawa. The dead are:

Angelbert Fortin, L'Assomption, Que.; Norbert Desrochers, L'Achigan, Que.; Edouard Verinas, Terrebonne, Que., and Norman Charbonneau, Montreal.

The name of the fifth man was withheld pending notification of next-of-kin.

The blast thundered throughout this village located just off Montreal Island and 15 miles east of Montreal proper. Residents from surrounding communities reported they heard the explosion from as much as five miles away.

Canadian Arsenals officials said the men were working in a small operations building when the blast ripped through the plant and the shell exploded.

J. D. Chisolm, works manager, said he was about a mile away from the explosion when it occurred and knew nothing of this details.

Trade Minister Howe, in charge of Canadian Arsenals, said at Ottawa the explosion occurred when the five men,— four operating and an assistant — were filling a large-calibre shell.

Col. Gordon Ogilvy, consultant of explosives with the Crown-owned company, left Wednesday for St. Paul L'Ermite to conduct an investigation.

Explosion Kills Six Men at St. Paul, Minn.

St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 8—(AP)—At least six men were killed and more than score were injured, many of them critically, in a blast that ripped open the mineral, building of the sprawling Minnesota Mining and Manufacturing Company plant today.

Three victims were dead on arrival at Ancker (City) Hospital and three others were brought to the Ramsey County morgue from the blast scene on St. Paul's east side.

Cause of the explosion was not determined.

An early report from the Ramsey county coroner's office gave the number of dead as 15. This report said there were 80 injured in hospitals and six or seven more bodies that we can't get out."

60 Men in Building

A supervisor said there were 60 men in the six-story building when the blast came as the shifts of workmen were being changed. Several workmen said they heard reports there was a gas leak in addition.

The company manufactures, besides "Scotch tape," industrial abrasives, sandpaper, and the evaporatives and undercoating materials for automobiles.

Medical examiner of the dead were described as "mangled".

The explosion-shattered area set up in the nearby general offices of the firm to treat those with minor hurts. Those more seriously injured were taken to Ancker (City) and private hospitals.

Supplies Exhausted

Two hours after the blast Ancker Hospital reported its supply of blood for transfusions was exhausted and emergency calls for more were issued.

Fire that broke out was quickly brought under control and extinguished by most of St. Paul's firefighting equipment called to the scene.

The blast broke several thousand windows. The explosion was felt two miles away.

100,000 Alerted To Bush Fires

Melbourne, Australia, Feb. 8—(Reuters) — More than 100,000 firefighters were on the alert for bush fires in Victoria state. Local fire authorities said the fire danger was high, with searing winds from baked desert lands sweeping the state, and the temperature approaching 100 degrees.

Few if Any of 60 Injuries On Sullivan's Body Possible In Fall, Pathologist States

Ottawa, Feb. 8 (CP) — Dr. Max Klotz today stated that few if any, of the many bruises and injuries found on the body of Francis J. Sullivan could have been suffered in a fall.

The Ottawa pathologist continued to give testimony for the Crown in the Ontario Supreme Court trial of Mrs. Marion Sullivan, 48-year-old Toronto woman, charged with manslaughter in connection with the death of her 52-year-old lawyer husband.

The key Crown witness who performed an autopsy on the body on Jan. 4, last week, has exhaustively cross-examined by defence counsel Roydon Hughes.

Describing the many bruises and abrasions found on the body, Dr. Klotz stated:

"The wide distribution of the injuries and the large number of them causes me to wonder whether any of them could have been self-inflicted."

Under examination by Crown Counsel R. J. Agnew, Q.C., of Sudbury, Dr. Klotz said he believed Mr. Sullivan had been dead from six to 12 hours when Dr. Harry Dover, coroner, examined the body at 4:30 a.m. EST, Nov. 18.

The Crown alleges that Mr. Sullivan was beaten about the head and body before he died some time late Nov. 17 or early Nov. 18 in a Chateau Laurier Hotel bedroom.

Yesterday, Dr. Klotz told the court he found at least 60 injuries on the body, including bruises to the back of the head, two black eyes and numerous marks, bruises and scratches about the face, trunk and legs.

Chief Justice J. C. McRuer broke into today's examination to question Dr. Klotz closely on the state of rigor mortis.

Dr. Klotz replied that "that Dr. Dover had to break rigor mortis which was found to some extent in the lower limbs when he first examined the body. What would that indicate to you, Doctor?"

Dr. Klotz said rigor mortis in the lower limbs and upper portions and works down to the lower extremities.

Course of Rigor Mortis

"The process of rigor mortis is to stiffen the muscles, and it usually begins to become complete, but it is variable, it might take six hours or it might take 12. On the average it is about eight,' Dr. Wilkins referred to a laboratory technician's testimony yesterday that tests showed certain percentages of alcohol in the blood, urine and stomach contents of the dead body.

These percentages, said Dr. Klotz, would indicate that there had been a mild or very moderate degree of intoxication before death.

Continuing, Dr. Klotz said he believed it probable that injuries to Mr. Sullivan's head were mainly responsible for fatal hemorrhaging in the left cerebellar hemisphere.

NON-CONFIDENCE MOTION ENTERED BY C.C.F. PARTY

Renews Demands For Price Controls

Ottawa, Feb. 8 (CP)—The C.C.F. party put a growing demand for reimposed price controls before the Commons yesterday in the form of a motion of non-confidence.

The motion, criticizing the government on the specific issue of living costs, was introduced by W. H. Herridge (CCF—Kootenay West) and quickly won support from the other C.C.F. members, Stanley Knowles (Winnipeg North Centre) and R. R. Knight (Saskatoon).

It was the second C.C.F. non-confidence motion thus far in the week-long Throne-Speech debate. The first, defeated on a voice vote, criticized the government for supporting the United States resolution calling on the United Nations to denounce red China as an aggressor in Korea.

Claude Jodoin, Ford plumper-ed for price controls, a front-rank Progressive Conservative, Howard Green (Vancouver-Quadra), criticized the government's handling of the Korean crisis as "one of the most disgraceful episodes in Canada's history."

He called for dispatch of the entire 10,000-man special force to Korea now. Fort Lewis, Wash., to Korea to help end the fighting there, Canada also should increase the C.C.F.'s demand for a Pacific Defence organization.

Other speakers included Raymond Bruneau (L—Prescott), Arthur Laing (L—Vancouver South) and Auguste Maltais (L—Charlevoix).

(Continued on Page 8)

3 Men Injured As Car Rams Side of Train

Hamilton, Feb. 8 — (CP) Two men are in hospital and one other slightly injured when their car rammed the side of a T. H. & B. freight train at Scotland, Ont., this morning.

Driver of the car, Walter Batook of Scotland, was taken to Brantford General Hospital with a broken cap and undetermined head and chest injuries.

A passenger, William Cassell, was also taken to hospital with cuts on the face and head. Injured in the second passenger, Glen Hootoon suffered cuts and bruises.

The car struck when more than half the 52-car train had passed the crossing. The train was on its way from Waterford to Brantford. Conductor was Edward Hartz of Hamilton.

SHOTGUN BLAST FATAL

Hamilton, Feb. 8 — (CP) Jack Mendonald, 21, took a full shotgun blast in his stomach and died a few hours later near Bronte, died in hospital today.

His 12-gauge double-barrel gun was accidentally discharged as he climbed a fence while hunting foxes near his home.

Return to Work Or Face Dismissal Says Army Order

Rail Strikers Given Until Saturday at 4 P.M.

Washington, Feb. 8 (AP) — The United States Army served notice on striking railwaymen today that they will be dismissed unless they report for work by 4 p.m. Saturday or can prove they were physically unable to work.

At the same time, the army placed in effect hourly wage increases effective as of last Oct. 1, for men who have had no increase since September, 1948.

Army secretary Frank Pace, Jr. announced the order shortly after President Truman had instructed that the army take necessary action for full operation of the railroads. Truman told a press conference striking railroad workers had run out on an agreement like a bunch of Russians.

Interim Increase

The army said the wage increase would be of an interim nature pending final settlement of the dispute between railroad ... nagement and unions over ... ther working conditions.

The wage boosts provide 12 1-2 cents an hour more for yardmen and five cents an hour additional for employees in road service.

The army order said the army will recommend congressional legislation to assure resumption and continuance of normal, rail service if the unions and the operators fail to settle their differences "within a reasonable time."

The army order is based upon authority received from Truman last Aug. 25. The army took technical control of the principal railroads at that time to end a strike.

Work of Small Group

The army order said the work stoppages which began in December and broke again in March 30 are "unlawful actions of a relatively small group."

Invoking at this time are contempt-of-court actions against the Brotherhood of Trainmen, based on allegation the union has disregarded court orders against a strike.

Truman volunteered his remarks at the press conference.

At the height of the strike 12,000 switchmen were out, 250,000 were idle in other jobs and 700,000 of the country's 2,000,000 freight cars were tied up. The switchmen, affiliated with the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, are a 40-hour-week week at 48 hours pay and changes in working rules.

PLANETS IN TRIANGLE

New York, Feb. 8 — (AP) — The planets Venus, Jupiter and Mars were lined up in a triangle last night and the ruddy planet Mars stood in a position above the Hayden Planetarium said was "most unusual." Jupiter is now the skies in the New York area but the Planetarium said it was not the result of the celestial oddity from other sections of the country.

Princess Patricias Enjoy Lazy Day After Strenuous Maple Leaf Exercise

By WILLIAM BOSS
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

With Canadian Troops in Korea, Feb. 8. (CP)—Lieut.-Col. H. Stone, officer commanding the Patricias in Korea, today flew to the battle front on invitation from Brig. Tom Brodie, commander of the 29th British Commonwealth Brigade, to see how the Canadians' approaching integration with his troops is going.

Col. Stone is not expected to return before Saturday, and his absence virtually removes the possibility of another battalion exercise before the demobilization period ends.

The Patricias slept until afternoon yesterday, enjoying a lazy day after "Exercise Maple Leaf". Some even shaved in bed.

Battalion headquarters celebrated the exercise's success with an impromptu mess dinner featuring Canadian shrimp cocktails, consomme, asparagus, canapes and roast stuffed turkey. Everything except the turkey came in gift parcels.

The day also saw the Korean porters who had hauled supplies to mountainbound troops during Exercise Maple Leaf paid off. A victory parade was conducted by paymaster Capt. John Shaw of Ottawa and Sgt. Jack Bergen, of Edmonton, strictly on army lines.

It resulted in one of the strangest documents ever forwarded to Canadian army headquarters in Japan. It was signed with the five Koreans signed in Korean script for a total of 208,000 won—the equivalent of $208 at the legal rate of exchange. Yet, even by Korean standards, the pay was generous, especially when accompanied by the two cigarets each that Sgt. Bergen distributed as a goodwill gesture.

Two more small pairs of United States army combat boots arrived yesterday. They had been requested by Col. Stone as support to the Canadian army boot for mountainous work. Henceforth, the Patricia will have a pair of U.S. combat boots and a pair of Canadian boots.

The battalion critique on Exercise Maple Leaf will be conducted in Col. Stone's absence by Maj. Gordon Henderson of Calgary, his battle adjutant.

Bulletin

THREE KILLED AT CROSSING

Manilla, Ont., Feb. 8 —(CP) —Provincial Police said three persons were killed today when a car driven by one was struck by a Canadian National Railways train three miles west of here.

Manilla is 50 miles northeast of Toronto.

At least one other person was reported injured.

Police said the victims were bound from Lindsay, 15 miles east of here, to Midland. It was reported made up of a locomotive and combined baggage car and passenger coach.

The dead were tentatively identified by police as Gerwin Gaslin, 77; Tim Lachan, 76; and Mrs. Strachan, 73.

The injured person, Mrs. Gaslin, 75, was taken to hospital at Lindsay. It suffered cuts of head, with bruises and shock. Police said she was in the front seat with her husband, believed to have been the driver.

School Chum Says McCrae Eager to Flee

Mt. Clemens, Mich., Feb. 8 (CP) — A school chum of John Rodney McCrae, 16, who is on trial for the first degree murder of Joey Housey, 6, testified yesterday that McCrae was eager to flee as police began to question him about the murder.

"He asked me and Joe Phillips to run away with him," Thomas Welling, 16, of St. Clair Shores, Mich., told the jury of seven men and six women. "He said it was getting a little hot around here."

McCrae reopened the question when both sat on a bench at a football game three days after the killing, Welling said.

Phillips, also of St. Clair Shores, said he saw McCrae driving the family car the day Joey disappeared. Police charged McCrae picked the Housey boy up in the car.

Wreck Death Toll Now Stands at 83

Woodbridge, N.J., Feb. 8 (AP) — Railroad workers today dug into newly-fallen snow—frozen solid by biting cold—to remove the last wreckage of the Pennsylvania commuter train which plunged into a ravine and claimed belief all victims had been found.

Police Chief George Kesting said that he and his men on Tuesday night's disaster—the third major rail wreck in the New York metropolitan area within a year —probably will remain at 83 if seven persons still in hospital are in critical condition.

He said there had been no reports of anyone missing and added that workers did not expect to find any more bodies as they dragged away the debris.

COMING EVENTS

COMMUNITY CONCERT, FEBRUARY 9th, Trenton Memorial Hall, Pte. Wayne and celeb.! 7f-41

RUMMAGE SALE AT ARMOURIES Saturday, February 10, at 2:30 p.m. Sponsored by Ladies' Auxiliary Red Cross Association. 7f

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 9, "HOW THE Mighty Have Fallen" Address, Listening in Hit Radio Talk by Rev. Dr. Hugh Stevenson, B.A., B.D., Minister of Bloor Street United Church, Toronto, Sight and Sound Recital by Bert Bridge, Bloor Street United Church, Trios, eight part Choir, Solos, Duets, Male and Mixed Choruses, Community Singing and Advertising Club of Belleville. 7f

QUINTE WOMEN'S INSTITUTE IS holding a Euchre, Bridge and Dance Tuesday, February 13, 8.00 p.m. Everybody welcome. 7f-42

VICTORIAN ORDER OF NURSES Banquet, Holloway Street Church, Friday, February 23rd, 6.30 p.m. At approximately 8.30 p.m. T. V. Curry, M.D., D.P.H., director of the Ontario Division, Canadian Red Cross Society will speak on the Red Cross Blood Transfusion Service. Tickets "Victorian Order" Interested persons are invited to come and hear this timely topic and enjoy a congenial dinner. Tickets available at door $1.25. 7f-8-10-12-15-22

City and District News

TWO UNLICENCED DOGS PICKED UP

City dog catcher Chas. Thorn picked up two unlicenced dogs in the city yesterday and took, are at the city pound awaiting an interested owner. A male Pom was picked up in Lime and Sand district, while a male Collie puppy was picked up near the Capitol Theatre.

PETER HOROICA ONE OF WINNERS AT FESTIVAL

Peter George Horoica, Bella, was awarded first place and a second certificate for his mark of 77 in the piano solo class for boys under seven at the Eastern Ontario International Rotary Festival of Music at Kingston.

ATTENDS MEETING C. C. SECRETARIES

Freeman Burgess, secretary manager of the Chamber of Commerce here is attending the national conference of Chamber of Commerce secretaries in Montreal. The conference which started on Monday concludes today. Speakers were Major General F. P. Worthington, civil defence coordinator and Major General G. C. Howard, of the Canadian Industrial Preparedness Association.

Anthracite Coal Up $1.50 Per Ton

The predicted increase in anthracite coal in Belleville came this morning. The coal will now sell for $26, a jump of $1.50 over the old price. The backwheat size anthracite rose $1 in price.

The price jump followed a move in Toronto last week, when coal prices were advanced. At that time, anthracite was retailing for $1.50 less than it was here. The difference, dealers explained, was made up in freight and other charges. The Toronto price was advanced only 75 cents, and thus the coal Belleville citizens will buy now will be some cases cost $2.25 more per ton.

Soft Coal Unchanged

No increase has been noted as yet locally in the price of soft coals, but one dealer stated this morning that there will undoubtedly be a hike when actual increases are received from the mines. Thus, only anthracites and western Canadian coals were affected today.

Dealers emphasized last week that much of a difference in Toronto and Belleville prices lies in the locality factor. The coal industry, coupled with increases at the mine which were not passed on to the consumer, is responsible for the boost. In addition, operating costs are mounting began, labor and other miscellaneous items had risen.

Coldest Weather Of Season Seen In This District

Yep, it was a really short spring season!

After a week of frigid temperature Belleville and district residents were enjoying yesterday's mild spell despite the sloppy conditions underfoot. But the sloppy weather conditions were short-lived as there was evidence of ice on open water and roofs this morning.

Late yesterday afternoon the temperature commenced to drop and it kept right on degreeing all night until this morning it registered the coldest experienced in the city this winter. At one time daylight the thermometer at the Bonnie house registered 24 degrees below zero and there it hung until well after sunrise.

But even colder temperatures were recorded in other parts of the city. One resident on the West Hill said his thermometer said 11 degrees below while a woman living near the north station said her thermometer dropped clear out of sight.

She looked out on her north verandah and saw the mercury curled up at the bottom of the closet examination showed that this reading was the lowest it would go.

PRO "59"
The New, Soft Bristle
PRO-PHY-LAC-TIC
TOOTH BRUSH
MORE BRISTLES (3 times more)
FINER BRISTLES (Softer for Gums)
Cleans Deeper — Massages Safer...
59c
McKEOWN'S DRUG STORE
Phone 135 We Deliver

MARTIN'S SHOE REPAIR
FREE PICK-UP AND DELIVERY
24-HOUR SERVICE
Phone 4413 85 Everett St.

QUICK COOKING BEANS
Lb 10c
10 lbs. for 90c
(No delivery at this price)
BISHOP SEEDS LIMITED
175 FRONT ST.

FOR HAPPINESS
Bluebird
'PERFECT DIAMONDS
at
PAUL MERCIER
McCARTHY THEATRE BLDG.

Something to shout about! For the price of the Refill Kit alone (and of course you know that it contains everything you need for an "extra" home permanent, except curling-rods) . . . you get a Refill Kit plus a generous-size bottle of Egg Creme Shampoo, the gentle liquid creme that makes your hair extra receptive to a wave! Save on this special offer . . . buy hair beauty at a bargain price!

Geen-Drugs LIMITED
FOR FRIENDLY PERSONAL SERVICE
PHONE 133 — FREE DELIVERY

Superintendent Of City Parks Is Appointed

GORDON G. NICHOLSON

For the first time in history, Belleville has a man to head up its parks this year. He is Gordon G. Nicholson, former superintendent at Cobourg for four years.

Mr. Nicholson, a war veteran, is well suited to carry out a program of maintenance and repair in the Cobourg parks since he arrived there from Kingston, Woodstock, Stoney Creek and England. The wanderlust caught him when he was young and before he was through, he had seen most of the United States and Canada.

In his application to the Belleville commission, Mr. Nicholson claims to have a "very good knowledge of flowers, annuals, perennials, shrubs, trees and grasses," and has studied flowers all his life. In addition, he has made a study of landscaping, understands the setting up and operations of ball diamonds and can do all building repairs.

Mr. Nicholson owns his own pickup truck, spray painting equipment, and owns all his own tools for mechanical work and paint equipment. He has a knowledge of bookkeeping and typing, as does his wife, and is prepared to set up fire works displays up to $500. He was trained by T. W. Hand, experts for this work.

The Cobourg man will take over locally early in April, and has the permission of the Belleville commission to help his Cobourg successor until the latter can get on his feet.

Leader in Adult Education to Speak

Dr. J. R. Kidd, associate director of the Canadian Association for Adult Education, Toronto, will be the speaker at the Queen Alexandra Home and Home Association meeting. He is the fifth speaker in the series under the general heading "Child Growth and Development." His topic will be "Citizenship; Child Development in the Home and International Responsibility." His visit has been arranged by A. J. Davis, General Secretary of the YMCA.

An authority in the field of adult education, Dr. Kidd is the executive secretary of the Joint Planning Commission which also relates the adult activities of over 50 national organizations. He is also a leader in the field of visual education and has many published works in this and other areas of adult education.

POLICE BLOTTER

Fred Telford, 81 Frank Street, escaped injury last evening when he was knocked from his bicycle while at the corner of Dundas Street and the Deacon Shirt Company factory.

Wilfred Reid, Johnston Street, told police that he was driving east when he failed to see the bicycle ahead because of approaching light. His car struck the rear of the bicycle slightly damaging it but the rider escaped with a shaking up.

Slippery streets were responsible for two minor auto accidents with fenders and a telephone pole being the chief sufferers.

For the second time within 24 hours an out of town motorist had his car parked near the city hall when a large icicle fell from above damaging the top of his auto.

MARRIED AT 7 AND 5 YEARS

Los Angeles, Feb. 8 — (AP) — He was married when he was seven and his bride-to-be was five, but they didn't start living together until she was 11. That was the testimony yesterday of Sada Gabriel, 44, a caterer, as he won a divorce from his wife, Shanone. Gabriel said their Mohammedan marriage took place in Dubok, Iraq, in 1913. He accused his wife, now living in Chicago, of deserting him and taking their three children in 1936.

Radio 'Hams' Discuss Methods Of Reducing Interference With TV

Blamed by local owners of television sets for much of the interference which is disturbing programs on their machines, amateur radio operators in the Belleville-Quinte Amateur Radio Association with their sets in an effort to overcome much of the interference with TV sets in the district. Shielded transmitters and filters aimed at the elimination of interference were demonstrated.

The increasing number of TV sets in the district has created a serious problem for local "hams" in that they have been blamed for a great deal of the interference. Actually, however, the "hams" are responsible only for a small portion of the interference as many other types of equipment also cause trouble for TV owners.

The "hams" pointed out too, that they are licensed by the Department of Transport to operate on frequencies which unfortunately are harmonically related to the TV channels used.

Stewart Ireland, engineer with Stewart - Warner explained how the TV picture is produced and demonstrated how amateur interference interfered with the picture. Then a number of local "hams" explained how they had eliminated interference in their equipment. Gordon Turney, Reg. Varcoe, John Grant, Gene Hicks, Harold Enright, Harold Carruthers, Ron White and Jim Jarvis, all local "hams" spoke on the result of their experiments. This had been done at the cost of considerable time and expense.

Summary of the various methods used in overcoming interference was made by J. Jarvis, chairman of the "hams" TV interference committee. Mr. Jarvis said that his committee was ready at any time to assist the amateur in eliminating interference.

Several local radio servicemen attended the meeting and loaned equipment for demonstration.

The meeting expressed appreciation to Mr. Ireland and Mrs. Marie Whitton who served refreshments to the members.

37 of 88 Hastings County Students At U. of T. Taking Arts Course

Figures released in the annual president's report of the University of Toronto for the year ending June, 1950, show that 88 Hastings County students were registered at the university last year. Of this number, the largest of all, the total was made up by students registered in the faculty of arts—37.

Only seven faculties were not represented by Hastings students. They were household science, forestry, music, law, medicine, dentistry, hygiene and child study. Running next in line after arts was the faculty of applied science and engineering, in which Hastings was represented by, 12 students.

Running a close third was the Ontario College of Education, where 11 graduates of Hastings secondary schools were training to be teachers. Nine were in training to be doctors, seven were registered in the faculty of graduate studies, and four were studying to be dentists.

Of the remaining eight students three pick were registered in the school of nursing, and two were taking instruction in architecture and social work. The last one was a student taking extension courses from the university, majoring in English. He is a slow and tough but often the only way to get a university degree without college.

Hastings had the edge over their neighboring counties. Only ten students left Lennox and Addington to go to Varsity, due probably to the proximity of Queen's at Kingston. But Northumberland, to the western side, sent 57 to the Toronto halls of learning, with 54 Prince Edward total.

Prince Edward county, to the south, waved goodbye to 13 high school graduates on their way to Toronto to get more education. Thus, the four counties closest to Belleville graduated 233 students to a total of 5,527 pupils from outside Toronto who attended university there during 1950.

Weather Bureau Balloon Found

A United States weather bureau balloon and radiosonde released earlier in the day from the Buffalo weather station was picked up yesterday by Patrick Buckley on the Lake Ontario shore.

Mr. Buckley had heard a plane pass over and a few moments later he saw what he thought was a parachute descending to the earth.

Provincial Police at Belleville were notified and investigation proved the parachute to be a small paper-one used by the United States weather bureau for the safe descent of radio weather reporting equipment. Instructions on the box containing the radio equipment asked that it be shipped back to the station from which it was released. The balloon picked up by Mr. Buckley had been released early yesterday morning from Buffalo, N.Y.

The box containing the radio sending equipment is fastened to a small balloon which ascends about 12 miles before it goes sailing with the wind. While in the air the machine automatically broadcasts weather information including temperature and moisture in the air.

When the balloon ascends to approximately 12 miles the balloon bursts and the radio equipment comes down safely under the paper parachute which opens automatically.

INCREASED DEMAND

Australia's coal consumption is around 18,500,000 tons a year and steadily increasing.

OUR SINCERE THANKS

To all those who helped with their talent and the loan of property to make the Spring Style Show the success it was.

THE WINNERS OF THE SUIT DRAW:
MRS. SAGER, Belleville—No. 392340.
MRS. PAUL HIBBARD, Belleville—No. 392317.

THOSE LOANING PROPERTY WERE:
LIPSON'S FURNITURE HOUSE; JOHN R. BUSH FUNERAL HOME; THE KIWANIS CLUB.

OUR THANKS ALSO TO
DEAN WHALEN and GLENN TAMBLYN for providing the music, afternoon and evening. Also to MISS CATHY MYERS of CJBQ for her commentation.

THE OPTIMIST CLUB OF BELLEVILLE

Woman Leaps Into Detroit R.

Windsor, Feb. 8. (CP)—A woman, believed to be Mrs. Emma A. Williams, 39, of Detroit, jumped to her death from the Ambassador Bridge toll gate shortly after midnight Tuesday night.

Angelo Mantinian, 27, Detroit, spotted the woman standing coatless by the railing on the Canadian side. Before he could stop his car and reach the woman, she leaped over the railing into the Detroit river, 150 feet below.

Tentative identification was made from papers found in the woman's purse which was left in a car.

NEW DRUG SUPERIOR

New York, Feb. 8 — (AP) — The American Heart Association reported Wednesday night that a new drug known as tronexan has been found superior in the control of blood clotting disorders, including coronary thrombosis. Allyn Seeley and Dr. Lee Alanos scientific laboratory shows tronexan "has a quicker, more lasting effect and less apparent side affects" than any drug previously available, the association said.

POPE'S APPEAL FOR ORPHANS

Vatican City, Feb. 8—(AP)—The Pope in his third annual Lenten message to the Catholic school children of the United States urges them to help the orphaned and needy children of the world. The pontiff asked American Roman Catholic school children to contribute to the "Bishop's Fund for Children."

FEBRUARY 14th.
VALENTINE'S DAY
TREAT YOUR SWEETHEART TO A
HEART - SHAPED
BOX OF CHOCOLATES
$1.35 — $1.75 — $3.50
Also
MOIR'S—SMILES 'N CHUCKLES — PICARDY — ROWNTREE'S in Valentine Wraps.
PAULEY'S
DRUG STORE
Phone 105 We Deliver

Obituary

WALTER ALEXANDER ISTEAD

Suffering a heart attack before beginning his day's work at Riggs Garage, Walter Alexander Istead, 52 North Front Street, Belleville, died suddenly this Thursday morning. Mr. Istead was well known in this city, where he has resided for many years. He was an motor mechanic and had been employed in different shops in the city but had been employed at the Riggs Garage for the past 17 years. During the First World War he played a prominent role with the Air Force and Provincial Bands.

He was born in Bloomfield in Prince Edward County, the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Istead and came to this city as a young man. He was a member of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church.

Surviving are his wife, the former Grace Curtis, one daughter; Mrs. Gordon (Delores) Storey of Peterborough, and one brother Clarence Istead of Bloomfield.

Resting at the Belleville Burial Company Funeral Home, Campbell Street, the funeral announcement is made elsewhere in this edition.

JOHN WELLINGTON EMERSON

After an illness of one month, John Wellington Emerson of West Huntingdon died at the home of his son, Wellington Emerson, early this Thursday morning. He was born in Tyendinaga township, 90 years ago, the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Emerson. He has resided all his life in Hastings county for one year, but for many years resided at Moira, where he was well known as a farmer and lumberman.

He was a member of the United Church and fraternally was affiliated with Ellis Lodge No. 392 for many years.

Surviving are four sons, Thomas Emerson of West Huntingdon, Wellington of Massinaga, Arthur, of Moira and Ross of Tyendinaga, two daughters, Mrs. John (Evelyn) Morton of Belleville, Mrs. Myrtle Emerson of Belleville, one sister Mrs. Robert McGee of Madoc. His wife, the former Jessie Wilson died some years ago.

Resting at the Belleville Burial Company Funeral Home, Campbell Street, the funeral announcement is made elsewhere in this edition.

MRS. NETTIE PRESTON

Frankford '— Stricken with a heart attack, Mrs. Nettie Preston, died suddenly at her home in Frankford early this Wednesday morning. She was born in West Huntingdon, 69 years ago, being the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Thompson. For the past six years she has resided in the village, where she was well known and highly respected. Previous to that time, she lived on a farm in Sidney township.

The late Mrs. Preston was a member of Grace Methodist Church in Murray township and surviving are three daughters, Mrs. Ross (Mabel) Plumpton, of Wooler, Mrs. Harold (Pearl) Front of Sidney, Mrs. Clinton (Hazel) Case of Stockdale, two sisters, Mrs. George Pollard of Stirling, Mrs. Ernest Pooley of Winnipeg, three brothers Blake Thompson of Murray township, Earl Thompson of Ottawa, Roy Thompson of Belleville and eight grandchildren. Her husband, Floyd Preston died four years ago.

The funeral announcement is made elsewhere in this edition.

EARL M. BULMER
(Yellowknife N.W.T)

Picton — Son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward C. Bulmer of the village of Wellington, Earl Maurice Bulmer, 25, was killed Tuesday in an plane crash near Yellowknife, N.W.T., according to word received by his parents.

Bulmer was a passenger in a twin-engine Arawak aircraft piloted by Gerry Denison of Vernon, B.C., who was also killed.

The plane is reported to have crashed shortly after taking off from Yellowknife Bay, North-west Territory. The aircraft's fuselage was observed yet, but behind the pilot's seat after it had smashed into a tiny shack. Three occupants in the shack escaped serious injury. Bulmer was a forest ranger, and previously had been a member of the R.M.P. He was born in Saskatchewan.

Survivors are his parents, a brother Roy in Trenton, a sister Jean who is nurse-in-training at Peterborough and a brother Gordon at home.

LATE EDGAR (TED) DAVIDSON

Edorado—The funeral of the late Edgar (Ted) Davidson, of Millbridge, was held on Saturday afternoon in Fox's United Church, with the Rev. Mr. Good, of Madoc Anglican Church officiating. The church was filled to capacity showing the many kind friends and neighbors the deceased had. Floral tributes were, varied.

Mr. Davidson had been a patient in the Belleville Hospital for the past 14 days, due to a motor accident in which his little son was killed. The death of Mr. Davidson came as a great shock to all, as he was expected to be released from the hospital in a week's time.

Interment was made in Fox's Cemetery with Rev. Mr. Good in charge.

LATE MRS. JANE ANNE SMITH

The funeral of the late Mrs. Jane Anne Smith took place from the Thomas C. Thompson Funeral Home on Wednesday afternoon. The service in the chapel was conducted by Rev. Duncan McTavish of Bridge Street United Church, who also said the last rites in Belleville cemetery.

The bearers were James Wallace, Albert Taylor, W. T. Taylor, C. Young, J. B. Edmonds and George Kerr.

LATE FRANCIS CLINTON McAVOY

The funeral of the late Francis Clinton McAvoy took place from the Corrigan and O'Brien Funeral Home to St. Michael's Church this Thursday morning. Requiem Mass was celebrated by Rev. J. Buckley, who also said the last rites, entombment being in St. James' cemetery vault. There was a large turnout and many floral and spiritual offerings testified to the esteem of the deceased.

The bearers were William Norris, Howard Fox, "Mickey" Morgan, Jack McAvoy, William McAvoy and Vernon Pascoe.

LATE ROBERT ANDREW (Andy) REID

The funeral of the late Robert Andrew (Andy) Reid took place from the Bellville Burial Company Funeral Home on Wednesday afternoon. The service in the chapel was conducted by Rev. Oscar Wagar assisted by Rev. C. Clarke. Interment in River View cemetery at Shannonville with two ministers taking part.

The bearers were Earl MacFarlane, Charles Scott, D. Millligan, R. Bell, C. Mitchell and H. O'Neill.

LATE MRS. JESSIE M. KETCHESON

The committal service at Belleville cemetery for the late Mrs. Jessie M. Ketcheson who died in Toronto, was conducted by Rev. Duncan McTavish on Wednesday afternoon.

LATE WILLIAM W. ANDERSON

The funeral of the late William W. Anderson was held from the Belleville Burial Company Funeral Home on Wednesday afternoon. The service in the chapel was conducted by Archdeacon Arthur Smith. He also conducted the last rites in Belleville cemetery.

BIRTHS

DUNLOP — To Cromp Captain and Mrs. G. F. Dunlop, R.C.A.F., Station, Trenton, on Monday, February 5, 1951, at the Belleville General Hospital, twins, a daughter and a son. 70

SHERIDAN — Mr. and Mrs. James T. Sheridan, (nee Ruth Kelly), Napanee, Ont., are happy to announce the birth of a daughter on February 5th, 1951, at the Kingston General Hospital. A sister for Michael. 70

DEATHS

ISTEAD — Suddenly at Riggs Garage on Thursday, February 8th, 1951, Walter Alexander Istead, of 52 North Front Street.
Resting at the Belleville Burial Company Funeral Home, Campbell Street, where the funeral will be held on Saturday, February 10th, at 1.30 p.m. to Moira United Church for service at 2.00 p.m.
Interment Tyendinaga Cemetery. 70

PRESTON — Suddenly at her home, Frankford, on Thursday, February 8th, Nettie, beloved wife of Floyd Preston, in her 70th year.
Funeral service will be held from the residence on Saturday, February 10th at 2.30 p.m. Interment Trinity United Church cemetery, Frankford. 70

ANDERSON — At her residence, 9 Maitland Avenue, on Tuesday, February 6th, Jessie Maitland, beloved wife of W. Britton Anderson.
Funeral service at the D. A. Collins chapel, 343 Charlotte Street, West on Friday, February 9th, at 2.00 p.m. Interment Mount Royal Cemetery, Montreal. 70

IN MEMORIAM

BAILEY — In loving memory of our dear mother and grandmother, Mrs. Jennie Bailey, who passed away eight years ago on February 8th, 1944.
We cannot bring the old days back,
Your hands we cannot clasp,
But memory keeps you near us,
Always remembered by daughter, Fern and family. 70

At the First Sign Of a Cold
Take
RED CAPS
The Original ALL RED Capsules
THEY WILL STOP IT!
29c
SEE OUR ASSORTMENT OF VALENTINE CARDS
DOLAN
THE DRUGGIST
Phone 138 Motor Delivery

VALENTINE CHOCOLATES
IN BEAUTIFUL
Heart-Shaped BOXES
SMILES 'N CHUCKLES
or GANONG'S
$1.35 to $4.00
Phone 11 WE DELIVER
SELDON'S
THE FRIENDLY FAMILY DRUG STORE

LOOK AHEAD! BUY NOW!
THE GIRL OF YOUR CHOICE DESERVES A CHOICE RING.
SELECT NOW. A SMALL DEPOSIT WILL SECURE IT FOR THE THE DAY YOU NEED IT.
TRULY GREATEST BARGAINS IN THE LATEST STYLES OF DIAMOND RINGS
A BEAUTY For $150.00
At
ELITE CREDIT JEWELLERS
301½ Front Street Phone 1379

SECURITY MARKETS

Quotations furnished by BIGGAR & CRAWFORD

Members Toronto Stock Exchange

Belleville Office — Phone 3160 and 3161

Quotations at 1:00.

MINES

Aunor 325
Ascot Metals 226
Anacon Lead 281
Blaw Knox 63
Bralorne 630
Brocalan 87
Buff. Ankerite 135
Cons. Smelters 148 1-4
Calgary and Ed. 12
Central Patricia 62 1-2
Campbell R. 1 250
Chesterville 58
Cochenour Wil 176
Cons. Beattie 62
Dome 17 5-8
Donalda 60
East Malartic 144
East Sul. 930
Elder 32
Falconbridge 12 1-2
Gold Lake 40 3-4
Golden Manitou 660
Hudson Bay 60 1-2
Home Oil 17
Hollinger 16 5-8
Inter. Nickel 41 1-4
Jason 20
Kerr Addison 18 3-4
Kirkland Lake 893
Labrador 915
Lake Shore 10
Leitch 107
Little Long Lac 80
Macassa 1000
McIntyre 63 1-2
McLeod 385
Mining Corp. 19 1-4
Negus 102
New Lund 215
Noranda 79
Normetals 220
O'Brien 140
Okalta 267
Obalco Lake 153
Paymaster 67
Pamour 93
Perron 56
Pickle Crow 173
Preston E.D. 5.00
Quemont 28 1-2
Queenston 70
Quebec Man 272
Royallite 14 1-2
San Antonio 265
Sherritt Gordon 415
Silver Miller 128
Sisco 34
Sladen Mal. 62
Steep Rock 600
Sullivan 333
Sylvanite 121
Teck Hughes 225
Upper Canada 195
Ventures 14 1-4
Villbona 10
Wallce Amulet 12 7-8
Yk. Harajeaves 177

TORONTO INDUSTRIALS

Paperboard
Abitibi 55 1-4
Abitibi Pfd. 34 7-8
Aluminium 97
Consolidated 37 5-8
Great Lakes 33 3-4
Milton and Ont. 30 1-4
International 56 1-4
Powell River 68 3-8

Distilleries—
Hiram Walker 56 3-4
Can. Breweries 10 3-4
Canada Cement 67 1-8
Can. Car and F. 17
Canadian Pacific Ry. 28 1-4
Cockshutt Pl. 28
Dom. Stores 14
Dominion Foundries 44 1-2
Fanny Farmer 32 1-2
Ford A 56 1-4
Imperial Tobacco 13,3-4
Laura Secord 14 3-4
Loblaw A 32 1-2
Massey Harris 59
Mill. Brick 170
Steel of Canada 34
United Steel 10 1-8
Winnipeg Electric 45
Inter. Metals A 46
Cdn. Canners 28 5-8

NEW YORK

U.S. Steel 46 1-8

TORONTO STOCKS

Toronto, Feb. 8 (CP)—Winnipeg Electric, after a fast-moving first-hour, settled down around $45 for a gain of $2.25 in today's Toronto stock exchange trading. In the opening flurry it had reached $46, following yesterday's announcement of new being taken over by the Manitoba government.

Power Corporation, with Winnipeg Electric holdings, steadied around $27.25 for a gain of $2.25 after touching $28.

Otherwise the market was quiet, with little change in the over-all picture, and gains and losses scattered fairly evenly across the board.

Canadian Dredge dropped $1.50 after losing 70 cents. Massey-Harris exchanged a 50-cent gain for a 25-cent loss. Canadian Vickers gained $1.50. Bell Telephone was ahead and C.P.R. off.

In base metals Noranda added $1.25 for a new high of $80.25. Smelters and International Nickel were unchanged. Steep Rock wavered between a 10-cent gain and a 10-cent loss. Gainers included Sherritt-Gordon, Silver Miller, Gold Manitou, Mackenzie and Quemont were slightly off.

Western oils were mixed and quiet.

Hollinger and Giant Yellowknife returned in golds. Siscoe was active, up 11 cents at 86 cents.

BUFFALO LIVESTOCK

Buffalo, N.Y., Feb. 8 (AP) — Cattle 100; good holstein cows $2.00-23.50; dairy type heifers for slaughter 24.00 - 27.00; good weighty sausage bulls 25.00-27.50. Calves 100; good and choice handyweight calves 45.00-46.00, good 38.00-44.00, medium and strong-weight bobs 34.00-37.00. Hogs 250; market not established. Sheep and lambs 100; market not established.

TORONTO LIVESTOCK

Toronto, Feb. 8 — (CP) — Prices were steady on the small supply of cattle at the Ontario stockyards today. Receipts: cattle, 10; calves, 10; hogs, 100; sheep and lambs, 200. Left from yesterday were 70 cattle.

Medium to good cows were $24-$26.50. A few good heifers sold at $31-$32 with common downward to $28.

Medium to good calves were steady at $35-$35.50.

Grade A hogs were mostly $34, $34.50. Sows were $28 dressed.

There were no sheep and lamb sales.

HOG PRICES

Toronto, Feb. 8 (CP)—Trucklots were $34.75 at Stockyards today.

Other markets were not reported.

HOLD FIRST DRILL

New York, Feb. 8 (AP)—New York school children, whose parents had asked them not to worry about in their day than fire drills, yesterday went through their first drill against A-bomb attack. About 890,000 youngsters ducked under their desks in 900 city schools at a signal that a simulated atom attack was underway.

POLICE PROBE REPORT

Pickering, Ont. Feb. 8 (CP)—Pickering township police today investigated a report that two 11-year-old girls struck a nine-year-old girl over the head with a lunch pail on the way home from school yesterday. They are said to have taken off her shoes and stockings and left her alone in a ditch, in sub-zero temperatures half a mile from her home.

PICTON

Playoffs Open Tonight Next Tue

Picton — Picton District Hockey League swings into the playoffs next Tuesday night. The semi-finals will be two out of three games with overtime if necessary. Of the five teams in the league, Wesley has bowed out of the picture, leaving Army, Athol, Milford and Mordens.

Athol and Army, tied for first place in the league, play a sudden-death Thursday night to decide top spot. A loss for Athol necessitate a game Monday night with Mordens to decide second place.

The league has ruled that Stacey and Potter, Athol and Mordens players, who were declared ineligible to play due to participation in games at Wellington, may rejoin their teams for the play-offs. Milford has been drafted into Army playoffs and Mordens has out-of-town players, so that four good teams will battle for the Earl Bramsell trophy held by Athol.

Army and Athol are favored over Mordens, Tuesday night. Mordens defeated Army twice during the season, Porter and Chalmers. This was tied up in the second game by Mason from Bell and Guyatt in the final period. Army displayed fine team play in the last game but little opposition.

Milford had an 11-2 win over Wellington team, a homebrew outfit, who have fought gamely all season against more experienced teams. They bowed out of the hockey picture for the year.

Operating Loss At Hospital Is $11,543.41

Picton—An operating loss of $11,543.41 for the past year, was reported at the annual meeting of Prince Edward County Hospital Board, Tuesday night. Total operating revenue was $77,634.58 and operating expense, $89,177.99.

Non-operating revenue which represents grants, interest on endowments, donations and memberships amounted to $17,051.52. Reserves for depreciation on plant and equipments $644.52, and buildings $1,149.03, left a balance of $3,714.65 carried to surplus account, treasurer R. B. Small reported. Chief items under operating expense was $53,186.73 for salaries and $13,402.45 for supplies.

Assets included $17,488.92 in accounts receivable, investments $170,476.91, endowments $165,-963.08, buildings and equipment $24,672.33, endowments and investments represent legacies and can be used only for building purposes.

1,174 Patients

There was a total of 1,174 patients admitted during the year; 974 discharged, 75 deaths, 492 operations, 1,685 X-rays.

Superintendent Miss A. Arnold explained the shortage of hospital beds and the over-crowding. She reported a staff of 38. Dr. W. A. Jones, radiologist of Kingston General Hospital is in the X-ray department each Friday for special screenings under the direction of Dr. John Pearce, a blood bank has been established.

Board President H. R. MacDonald felt that the hospital should receive generous municipal support. Mrs. S. W. D. Hart, chairman of the Ladies Hospital Auxiliary reported income of $1,147. There has been much sewing done and supplies purchased. A pair of booties is given mothers of all babies born in the hospital.

Nesbitt McKibbon suggested a hospital tax rate in the county would be a help. He spoke also on cigarettes, cosmetics and theatre admissions.

Directors elected were H. R. MacDonald, Miss Felona Barker, H. B. Tully, Mrs. Cockburn, with H. M. Hicks and Norris Whitney as auditors.

Ralph Gibson County Master Of Orange Lodge

Picton — Prince Edward County Orange lodges held a very successful annual meeting at Wellington on Tuesday. Ralph Gibson of Picton was elected as County Master. He succeeds Ira Hagton, who resigned to accept the invitation from the Watertown, N.Y., Chamber of Commerce as Watertown Orangemen to celebrate the Battle of the Boyne. The next annual meeting is to be held in Picton. The ladies of the Orange Lodge served dinner.

M. Norton was elected as Deputy County Master; elected MacDonald, chaplain; L. N. Mc-Faul, recording secretary; Charles Reid, Sr., treasurer; M. Dempsey, financial secretary; R. Jeffery, first lecturer; J. Rabbie, second lecturer; C. Howard, marshal. The officers were installed by Past County Master Edward Rolston.

WESTERN

(Continued from Page 1)

20 below at Trenton; 30 below at North Bay; 35 below at Moosonee and 40 below at Kapuskasing.

Southern States Hit

Chicago—(AP)—Icy blasts from the midwest cut a wide path across eastern and southern states today, sending temperatures down to freezing in northern Florida and to near zero in Virginia.

The frigid weather continued in the north central region and the mercury dropped to 34 below in Wisconsin. It was sub-zero over much of the mid-continent.

High winds and biting cold stabbed the northeast U.S. area, turning roads to icebeds, snapping utility wires and snarling transportation.

In upper New York, blinding snowstorms, swept by 35-mile-an-hour winds, stranded cars, and heaped drifts on roads. Schools closed in many areas.

The cold wave as far south as Maine and adjoining areas still reeled from freakish storms that yesterday flooded homes, tore down part of a school-building project and blacked out electric service in some towns.

HUNT FOR 10,000 FAIRS

Glasgow, Feb. 8 — (Reuters)— Police all over British Isles today were seeking 10,000 pairs of nylons, stolen from Renfrew airport near here yesterday. The nylons, which have been flown to the United States, have a black market value of $22,400.

Y's Men Make Tour of Hospital

The Y's Men's Club took its regular meeting to the Belleville General Hospital to see at first-hand the operation of the institution. Arthur Bateman representing the Board of Governors extended a welcome to the club and emphasized the desire of the governors to have every possible suggestion from the members for the improvement of the service of the hospital.

The superintendent, H. W. Wakefield, introduced the staff members, Miss Dorothy Peets, Miss Margaret Allenby, Miss Edith Aston, Miss Helen Watt and Ormand Benson. He explained that the hospital had many inadequacies as well as good features which would be observed as the members toured the building.

Planned for Future Needs

He reminded the Y's Men that, while the hospital now contained 200 patients, any construction must be thought of in terms of 400 beds. For this reason the $70,000 spent on the laundry has been planned for the future expansion, he added. It was, in his opinion, one of the best in Canada and carried a load of one and one half tons of laundry a day.

On the other hand, he commented, the kitchen had grown far beyond the capacity of the present facilities. He emphasized that the hospital serves more meals daily than any restaurant in the city. Plans for a new kitchen had been planned in 1940 but had not materialized, for one and the replacement of gas with coal stoves had not helped the food service. He also spoke of the lack of refrigeration and proper cooking facilities made such things as menu service impossible though desirable, he added. The efforts of Miss Marion Boyd and her staff assured the best preparation of the finest food possible, he stated.

Pointing out that the hospital was big business, Mr. Wakefield explained the development of adequate storage space to take care of $300,000 worth of supplies a year, and do it economically.

$38,000 Pharmacy Turnover

The $80,000 turnover in the pharmacy annually, made this department a business of good size, he continued. He reminded the Y's Men that indigent patients required medicines as well as the paying patients yet frequently there was no money available. "Every penny of necessity were supplied without cost," he said.

In the laboratories, the superintendent explained, 65,000 tests were carried out each year. Many of these were done as a provincial government service in addition to the tests for patients, he explained.

In preparation for the tour which followed, all parts of the hospital Mr. Wakefield gave explanation to the developments in the boiler house, with its multiple equipment leading to economical operation. He pointed out that the physiotherapy department was performing a very important function. He also noted that the hospital possessed two complete oxygen tents. He assured that the group would find interest in the operating room and its equipment and requested the members to be as observant as possible in every aspect of the tour and to feel free to question wherever desirable.

Y'man Archie Boyd expressed the thanks of the club and president Hyde reminded the members of the visit of the Peterborough Y's Men next meeting. The stock subscribed and fully paid amounts to $1,888,350 and the general reserve fund stands at $1,-200,000.

The Victoria and Grey Trust Co., has a branch in Belleville under the managership of G. H. Trill. Other branches are in Owen Sound, Cannington, and Peterborough. Head office is at Lindsay.

Victoria and Grey Assets Higher

Lindsay, Feb. 8 —The balance sheet of Victoria and Grey Trust Co., an amalgamation of the Victoria Trust and Savings Co., of Lindsay, and the Grey and Bruce Trust and Savings Co., of Owen Sound, shows assets of $39,202,878, an increase of $3,000,000 over the combined assets of the two companies a year ago.

Profits before taxes amounted to $414,000 against combined profits of $366,000 in 1949. Guaranteed investment certificates and deposits are up $1,400,000. Capital

WHEN IN TRENTON DURING LENT

DROP IN AT

RIVERVIEW FISH and CHIPS

WE FRY ONLY THE CHOICEST OF PACIFIC HALIBUT.

WE DELIVER

15 Front St. — TRENTON Phone 1481

LUNCHES—SUNDAES

GOOD COFFEE

"WHAT WOULD YOU LIKE TO HAVE NEXT" CONTEST

MONEY $$$$ MONEY $$$$ MONEY

TO QUALIFY SIMPLY STATE WHAT YOU HOPE WILL BE

YOUR NEXT MAJOR PURCHASE

IN THE NEAR FUTURE — such as a Washing Machine, Refrigerator, Television Set, Electric Range, Vacuum Cleaner, New Car, Oil Burner, Radio, Furniture, House, Etc.

STATE ARTICLE OR ARTICLES HERE .....

THEN MARK ONE OF THE NUMBERS BELOW which you think is the lucky one. If you guess right, you will receive a CRISP TWO DOLLAR BILL.

1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10

Send Entries to

"CONTEST HEADQUARTERS" — P.O. BOX 96, BELLEVILLE

ALL ENTRIES MUST BE RECEIVED by SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 10th., at 3.00 p.m., at which time the lucky number will be drawn.

Careful Trim - Priced Right

QUALITY MEATS

MEATY
RUMP ROAST - - - - lb. 79c
STANDING
RIB ROAST - - - - lb. 79c
LEAN BONELESS
ROUND STEAK - - - - lb. 85c THICK
RIB STEW - - - - lb. 43c
LEAN
LAMB STEW - - - - lb. 39c
FRESH PORK
NECK BONES - - - - 2 lbs. 25c

Lenten FISH Suggestions

SALMON STEAKS - - - - lb. 59c
FRESH COD FILLETS - - - - lb. 35c
SEA HERRINGS - - - - 2 lb. 35c
LAKE TROUT - - - - lb. 49c
OCEAN PERCH FILLETS - - - - lb. 41c

GROCERIES

WHITE LABEL (1½-lb. tin)
CLOVERLEAF SALMON - - 41c
1-LB. CARTON
PARKAY MARGARINE - - 38c
(PACKED BY AYLMER)
CREAM STYLE CORN - 2 20-oz. Tins 25c

SPANISH, 15-oz. tin 19c
RICE DINNER .....
READY CUT MACARONI .. 2 lbs. 23c
NAVY WHITE BEANS 15c
LARGE GRAIN RICE 19c
(In Cello Bag)

Heinz Cooked, 15 oz. 15c
SPAGHETTI 15c
PURE (16-oz. bottle) MAPLE SYRUP 49c
HEINZ RED, 15-oz. KIDNEY BEANS ... 19c
PAR-O-DICE, 15-oz. tin CHERRIES 23c

AYLMER BABY FOODS 3 tins 21c

DYSON'S DILL PICKLES 24-ounce Jar 39c

DOMESTIC SHORTENING Lb. 37c

STRAWBERRY JAM 32-ounce Jar 44c

Fresh Fruits and Vegetables

MEXICAN (size 200's) doz. 43c
ORANGES .....
IMPORTED (Original bunches) 2 for 29c
CARROTS .....
CELLO PKG. 25c
SPINACH .....
ICEBERG 2 Heads 27c
LETTUCE .....

FLORIDA, CRISP BUNCH 17c
CELERY .....
GOLDEN YELLOW BANANAS ..... lb. 19c
EMPEROR GRAPES ..... 2 lbs. 29c
FIRM HARD (Cello. bag) TOMATOES .....

Buckley's FOOD MARKET
Phone 4400-4401 Corner VICTORIA AVE. and FRONT ST.
GROCERIES ... MEATS ... FRUITS

VI-TONE is so good . . . and it's so good for you. When it's time to renew energy—it's VI-TONE time! Everyone loves its chocolate flavor.

Ideal for overseas packages

• ALL DISCONTINUED LINES

DINNERWARE

CLEARING AT 1/2 PRICE

STROUD'S GIFT SHOP

208 FRONT STREET

WITH THESE 3 BIG ADVANTAGES:

1. Single, Large Rotary Brush —Waxes or Polishes evenly, leaves no ridges or dividing lines.
2. Low-Slung Extended Chassis —makes you to polish under radiators and low furniture without stooping.
3. Balanced Control — guides easily. Will not "drift" or "pull away" during operation.

T. A. TUCKER CO., LTD.

217 Front St. Phone 772

THE ONTARIO INTELLIGENCER

Published Daily by
Ontario Established 1854 Consolidated 1907
THE ONTARIO INTELLIGENCER LIMITED
Belleville, Ontario, Canada

Subscription Rates:
By carrier in Belleville: 30 cents per week.
By mail in Ontario, Quebec: $7.50 per year; $4.00 six months; $2.25 for 3 months
By mail in Canada: $8.00 per year.
Member of The Canadian Newspaper Association; Member of The Audit Bureau of Circulations.

The Canadian Press is exclusively entitled to use for republications of all news despatches credited to it or the Associated Press or Reuters in the paper and also the local news published herein.

OPERATIONS IN MALAYA

Communist bandit casualties in Malaya are rising sharply through the tactics employed by Sir Harold Briggs, director of operations. Troops are concentrating along the fringes of jungles and draw the terrorists into the open as they cut off their food supply. Without the protective covering of jungle conditions the guerrilla warfare soon loses its effectiveness.

Vital factors in the campaign against the bandits are given as the heartening response to calls for volunteer guards and auxiliary police.

Up to the end of 1950 there have been placed in 81 settlements areas as many as 78,000 persons and there are plans for 144 additional areas for 290,000 more persons. There have been resettled nearly 120,000 Chinese squatters and plans are made to settle 300,000 more.

There are now "about 30,000,000 men in the Home Guard recently amalgamated with civil units to preserve manpower.

BRITISH WOMEN IN INDUSTRY

The place of women and girls in industry in this second half of the twentieth century is indicated in Britain, where today nearly one out of every three workers is a woman. Latest figures show the continued increase in the number of women workers coming into industry. The total strength of women today at work in British industry is given as 7,900,000.

"This is an increase of about 300,000 in the past two years. This is important especially now in the period when the rearmament program has started. Three months ago it was estimated that a total of a million British workers would be needed to arm the factories over the three years covered by the defence plan. However, since then there has been a considerable stepping up in the rearmament plan, $7,901 million which will call for roughly the equivalent of twelve billions in dollars.

British plans call for nearly a million of workers in the production of war material. Of these workers a large proportion naturally have to be women. The reason is that Britain has already fairly well scraped the barrel for manpower. There is and has been little or no unemployment in the British Isles and the last reserve of labor is in womanpower. The extent of this may be roughly gauged by comparison with wartime statistics. At the peak of the last war some 8,800,000 women were engaged in civil employment, the services and civil defence.

A 55,000 increase in the working population of Britain last November according to the Ministry of Labor has brought the total up to 23,558,000, which is an all-time record. This means that close to one in every two inhabitants of Great Britain is now at work, either in civil employment or the services. There are now 23,000 women in the armed forces.

SOUVENIR HUNTING

"There is something really intriguing about the rush for souvenirs occasioned by the scrapping of a lot of ancient locomotives and railway cars in the United States," says the Sault Ste. Marie Star. It points out that under the planning in the Old Country a good many of the museum pieces will be scrapped, locomotives such as those dating from the passenger coaches of 1912, that type cut up into compartments which can be entered only by the outside rather than from the corridor running the length of the coach. On the scene will come dozens of Diesels and thousands of box-motored cars for freight and passengers will make their appearance.

It happens that there is always somebody ready to buy and so the British railways expect to unload every one of the cars.

An interesting story is told by an official. He says the smokestack of an old engine was sold to a man who had nearly suffocated thousands of times from its soot as a reminder of the revolver between the counsel and Jessie. That might now be his umbrella stand in his hall, he remarked.

Strangely enough is this hunt for relics even if they are as big as an engine or as small as a smokestack.

I believe that any man's life would be filled with constant and unexpected encouragement if he makes up his mind to do his level best each day and as nearly as possible reaches the high-water mark of pure and useful living.—Booker T. Washington.

Meditation is that exercise of the mind by which it recalls a known truth, as some kind of creatures do their food, to be ruminated upon till all the valuable parts be extracted. — Bishop Horne.

JUST FOLKS

By EDGAR A. GUEST
(Copyright, 1951, Edgar A. Guest)

"TEN BESTS"

Among the "ten bests" far and wide
Are some that don't appeal to me.
In "tenth best dressed" I'd take no pride,
There's something I would rather be.
Fine raiment worn by gentlemen,
On tailor and the purse depends.
I'd rather rank among the ten
Of all I know: "The best of friends."

"The ten best golfers of the year"
It's much too late for such a thrill.
My name so listed won't appear
For want of strength and lack of skill.

More pride and pleasure I should find
Could this distinction come to me:
Among the "bests" of every kind,
I'd rather best of grandpas be.

I'm sure that it would gladden me—
If this slight honor I could gain:
By nurses and doctor, voted be
The best of patients under pain.
But best of all the "bests" I'd rest
Could it be said by every test,
I'd serve our country and its flag
And give to freedom's cause my best.

OFF THE RECORD

By ED REED

"Girl ready . . . here comes a timid looking couple."

LOOKING BACKWARDS

GLEANINGS FROM OUR FYLES OF BYGONE YEARS

30 YEARS AGO

Feb. 8th., 1921

Members of the first form of St. Michael's Academy held a very enjoyable sleigh drive last evening, followed with a dance. Miss Gertrude Ryan was the chaperone.

Miss Grover and Miss Damude, V. C. N. nurses, were in charge of the well baby clinic at the city hall yesterday. Forty eight infants were present with their mothers.

Mr. Roy Atkin is spending a few days in Toronto.

40 YEARS AGO

Feb. 8th., 1911

Mr. C. R. Scantlebury went to Deseronto today on business.

Mayor Harry Ackerman presided at the police court proceedings this morning, owing to the absence of the magistrate.

Christ Church Parish Hall will be formally opened shortly. Bishop Sweeney of Toronto and Rev. Abbott Smith of Montreal will be present.

Two club matches were played at the curling rink last evening. Both matches were very contested, especially between the rinks skipped by Arthur McGie and Harry Morgan, when an extra end had to be played in order to break the tie, which resulted in a win for the McGie rink. The rinks and scores were as follows: W. Griffith, A. G. Vermilyea, C. H. Vermilyea and H. A. Morgan, skip, 15. O'Connor, A. B. Schryver, T. E. Ketcheson and Arthur McGie, skip, 11.

50 YEARS AGO

Feb. 9th., 1901

The following from this city are in attendance at the Provincial Y. M. C. A. Convention in Kingston: John Wilson, D. Bleecker, George Ferguson, Alex. McGregor, F. L. Pickell, R. Record, W. W. Chown, W. B. Riggs, C. B. Scantlebury and A. T. Petrie.

The new $4. bills are not popular at the bank of the Quinte are so printed that they may be taken easily for $1. bills. Look out for them if you ever get that much money.

Mr. F. W. Brenton is in Montreal on chesse business.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Symons entertained a number of friends last evening at their home.

OUR TOWN

By JACK SCOTT

THE WIVES SPEAK

(This is the second in a series of columns on how people are coping with today's cost of living.)

About two-thirds of the letters before me are from women.

The problem of keeping within the family's budget seems a more intimate more aggravating one to women than to men, possibly because it's women who leave it to their wives to make the necessary adjustments.

A Mission barrister writes that "to live with any degree of modest comfort under $350 a month and any saving is out of question. Still, I don't think we've felt the pinch too badly."

His wife, who enclosed a letter of her own, took a quite different view.

"My husband states our case in rather optimistic manner," she writes. "He doesn't worry much about clothes or food. As long as he doesn't feel cold or hungry and has clothes for his back he is not worried. But I do. And I don't think we're the only ones in the struggle women have in maintaining the standard of living that these times make necessary."

This sentiment is echoed by several other women. Here is a letter from one man, G. H. of Cove Cliff, who has apparently found out what it means. He is a tool and die maker with a family of two children and a monthly income of $300.

"For a number of years I used to buy my own clothes, my wife," he writes, "but about nine months ago, because of increasing demands on my time, I left the buying of it. We are still living from week to week without any immediate hope of a raise in sight. I'm hesitant to resume the financial management."

Dreary Life

Many of the women who wrote me are convinced (and, I think, rightly) that they have it harder than the men.

"A man at least gets out of the house and sees other people," writes Mrs. J. "For the housewife life can pall into a series of days all alike and without hope that they will ever be any more lively."

The housewife ironically describes her life in terms of a classified advertisement:

WANTED — Woman to clean, cook and wash 8 hours a day. Must be cheerful, good looking, with martyr complex. Must be able to exist on small pay, nourishing meals at 16 cents per person per meal. Must be able to wheel a baby carriage, a vacuum cleaner or burlap sacking, old curtains, etc. Must be a soul of wit and brilliant entertainer, able to act as hostess with cracked cups and empty larder. No time off, no holidays, no pay.

This lack of any lift in the routine of living seems a major irritant with the housewife.

The wife of an assistant manager of a Vancouver insurance company puts it very well.

"My husband's average weekly income is $63," she writes, "and we can't even afford a maid. Perhaps it's because we have four little people running around wanting not show leather, only pairs of food to store up enough energy to run around some more and wear out more shoe leather.

"If we cut out everything except actual existing perhaps we'd be better off. But then, you see, if you feel you can't afford an occasional show and a splurge on a really good concert, or if you can't offer your friends a hot rum on a chilly night and sit around and talk about the high cost of living . . . gosh, what's the use of working at all?"

Another housewife, Mrs. D. G. of Peterborough, expresses the kind of frustration that many feel living that these times make necessary.

News of Trenton

Steel Framework of Middleton Park School Shifted by Gale

Trenton (Special) —Struck by the high wind on Tuesday night the steel framework of the new ultra modern Middleton Park Secondary School shifted and part of the huge superstructure now leans at a precarious 45 degree angle. The weight of the heavy girders at the top buckled the lower beams suspending them. Construction schedule has suffered a severe set-back as the majority of the steelwork will have to be torn out and replaced by newly-fabricated materials.

The school being built at a cost of $800,000 is a part of the Middleton Park 327 house RCAF village going up on Trenton's east boundary. The educational centre is situated at the north end of the park.

General contractor for the school is the Russell Construction Company of Toronto with the Central Bridge Company of Trenton sub-contracting the steelwork. The Toronto firm also has the contract for erecting 230 houses in the air force settlement.

It is the practice of steel fabricators to temporarily bolt the framework as girder by girder the superstructure is fitted into place. When the framework is finally erected and plumbed the bolts are replaced by rivets. The Middleton Park framework had not been completed although it was well underway.

Damage has not been estimated but is expected to run into six figures besides holding up other construction for several weeks.

6 R.D. Hockey Results

At Belleville yesterday four RCAF teams clashed in two scheduled games.

In the first ARS. (Aircraft Repair Section) edged Headquarters 4 to 3. Smith, with two and Bellefleur and Lalonde tallied for the winners while Koch, Attrill and Turner counted for the losers. Murphy, Dickson, Wagner and McCorky each collected an assist for ARS.

In the second the Combines trounced the NCO's with a 5-0 shutout. Scorers for the non-commissioned officers were: Runchy, Theobald, Spence and Segbjard with two.

Backed Into Fence

Bill McMechan of 38 McColl Street reports that some person in a car backed into his fence and damaged it to the extent of $25. Police are looking for the offender.

Dog Killed

A dog owned by Mr. Boyle of 101 Ontario was found to be dead on arrival at Dr. G. H. Stones' office on Tuesday. A taxi struck that canine while it was crossing Front Street.

Carpenter Hurts Self

Failing downstairs recently Charlie Brown hurt his right side and has not been able to work since. He has been laid up in the house for 10 days.

Theatre Booth Renovated

Booth of the Trent Theatre has been completely overhauled and equipped with an entire new sound unit and late model projector. A new screen was installed on the stage at the same time. Glibb Martin, the manager, has been at the same post for nearly 15 years.

Carrying Place Legion Meets

On Tuesday night Carrying Place Branch 509 of the Canadian Legion held a meeting in the Parish Hall there.

Preparedness was the main topic of discussion and the unit passed a motion favoring compulsory service in the Reserve forces. Also the Carrying Place body favored National Registration and mobilization of industry.

A telegram was sent to Federal Member of Parliament, Dr. Robertson and Mr. Tustin asking them to back up the Legion's recommendations at the forthcoming session.

Plans were made for a euchre party for February 16th.

Personals

Mrs. J. W. Farley and daughter Miss Anne Farley, who is in training for a nurse in Toronto left today to spend a few days with friends in Ottawa.

Rev. T. H. Good, Madoc, Elevated To Priesthood

Trenton (Special) —Rev. T. Harvey Good, of Madoc, has been elevated to the priesthood. Formerly of England, Mr. Good came to Canada one year ago and was ordained deacon in St. Thomas' Church, Belleville, in February, 1950. His elevation to the priesthood saw the ordination service taken by Rev. John Lyons, archbishop of Ontario, in St. George's Church.

Mr. Good was born in Ireland was educated in Cork and Dublin, and granted his thological degrees by St. Paul's College, in Yorkshire, England. When he arrived in Canada he was appointed rector of Madoc.

His work in England connected him with the Missions to Seamen in the west coast ports, and he later moved to the headquarters of the Mission, in London. There was a large attendance of clergy and many members of the Madoc congregation were at the ordination.

Attending the archbishop was his chaplain, Rev. A. S. McCorquodell. Ven. Archdeacon Arthur Smith officiated at the holy communion service, assisted by Rural Dean Brownlie. Attending from Madoc were Mr. and Mrs. William Hart, Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Naylor, Mr. William Naylor, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Miles, Dr. and Mrs. A.G.M. Bruyns, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Aylesworth, and Mr. and Mrs. C. Barton.

New Agreement Signed by Union And Company

Trenton (Special) — The textile Workers' Union of America (CIO-CCL) today announced signing of a new agreement with the Downs-Coulter Company, providing for a general wage increase of 7.7 cents per hour.

The agreement also calls for provisions for cost-of-living adjustments, pay for six statutory holidays for all employees, and an additional day after three years of service. Also included is a company-paid insurance plan covering employees and their families. The agreement provides for the union shop and check-off of union dues.

A company official, James Uttley, said this morning that the new agreement would be signed next Thursday, and that joint statement would be issued by union and management at that time.

RADIO HISTORY

The first coast-to-coast radio network in Canada was on the Diamond Jubilee of Confederation in 1927.

Mr., Mrs. A. Bowers Recipients of Fine And Useful Gifts

Foxboro—A number attended the shower and reception at Wallbridge Town Hall, on Friday evening, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Bowers (nee Doreen Carter), who were recently married.

They were presented with a set of dishes (for six; flatware for six; electric toaster, lamp and toaster.

Dancing and euchre were engaged in and refreshments were served.

Dominion has dozens and dozens of suggestions to help you plan tasty, thrifty Lenten dishes your family will welcome . . . and which provide plenty of variety and nourishment. You can depend on Dominion . . . everything you buy is 100% guaranteed. Shop and save at Dominion—the Signpost of Satisfaction.

"WIDE VARIETY OF Tasty, thrifty Foods for Lent!"

HEINZ
QUALITY PRODUCTS FEATURED THIS WEEK

HEINZ—IN TOMATO SAUCE—COOKED
SPAGHETTI 15 Oz. Tin 14c

HEINZ — IN CREAM SAUCE—COOKED—WITH CHEESE
MACARONI 15 Oz. Tin 17c

HEINZ—PURE TOMATO
KETCHUP 12 Oz. Bottle 25c

ADDS ZEST TO ANY MEAL—HEINZ
CHILI SAUCE 13 Oz. Bottle 33c

FRUITS—MEATS—VEGETABLES
HEINZ—JUNIOR OR
Infant Foods 3 3 Oz. Tins 27c

Fruit and Vegetables

ONTARIO FANCY GRADE
McINTOSH APPLES 6 Qt. Basket 59c
IMPORTED, FIRM, RED
RIPE TOMATOES 14 Oz. Cello Carton 25c
NEW BRUNSWICK, No. 1
POTATOES . . . 10 lbs. 27c
FRESH SHREDDED VEGETABLE
SALAD MIX 8 Oz. Cello Bag . 10c
FIRM, GOLDEN YELLOW
RIPE BANANAS . . lb. 17c

FISH FOR LENT
MAKE DOMINION STORES YOUR HEADQUARTERS

FRESH FILLETS	lb. 33c	PICKEREL FILLETS	lb. 69c
WHITE FISH	lb. 49c	SISCOES	lb. 29c
LAKE TROUT	lb. 49c	SMOKED FILLETS	lb. 39c
FRESH PIKE	lb. 35c	SMOKED HADDIES	lb. 43c
FRESH COD	lb. 29c	SMOKED HERRING	lb. 45c
FRESH HADDOCK	lb. 35c	HOLLAND HERRING	Keg. 1.95
SKATE WINGS	lb. 29c	SALT COD	lb. pkg. 45c
SMELTS	lb. 49c	SMOKED KIPPERS	lb. 31c
SOLE FILLETS	lb. 62c	SB SALMON	lb. 59c
PERCH FILLETS	lb. 49c	COHOE SALMON	lb. 79c

Guaranteed Meats

SHOPSY'S
COOKED CORNBEEF
CELLO WIENERS
COCKTAIL WIENERS
BOLOGNA
SALAMI
GARLIC SAUSAGE

BACON	SMOKED SIDE	lb. 49c
	PEARMEALED BACK	lb. 69c
LAMB	LEGS MEATY	lb. 75c
	FRONTS LEAN	lb. 49c
	RACKS	lb. 59c
FRESH PORK SHOULDERS		lb. 51c
FRESH BUTTS		lb. 63c
SPARE RIBS		lb. 45c
SIDE PORK		lb. 47c
PORK LIVER		lb. 33c

Values Effective Thurs., Fri., Sat. Feb. 8th, 9th & 10th In Belleville

BRAESIDE BRAND—GRADE "A"—GUARANTEED FRESH
LARGE EGGS DOZEN IN CARTON 47c — DAILY LOW PRICES

RICHMELLO OLD CHEESE	CANADIAN TANGY	Lb. 47c
CATELLI CHOICE SPAGHETTI	2 16 Oz. Pkgs.	29c
FANCY PINK SALMON	BRITISH COLUMBIA PACK 1/2 Tin	41c
KRAFT READY DINNER	SERVES FOUR IN A JIFFY 2 Pkgs.	27c
KRAFT VELVEETA CHEESE	PLAIN OR PIMENTO 1/2 Lb. Pkg.	31c
CLARK'S VEGETARIAN BEANS	IN TOMATO SAUCE 2 20 Oz. Tins	31c
TOMATO—VEGET.—SCOTCH BROTH CLARK'S SOUPS	2 10 Oz. Tins 17c
BRUNSWICK—CANADIAN—IN OIL SARDINES	3 1 1/2 Tins	25c
PLAIN OR RELISH—CREAM BAUMERT CHEESE	4 Oz. Pkg. 23c
BEEKIST NO. 1 AMBER HONEY	2 Lb. Tins	28c
CLOVERLEAF—JELLIED TUNA FISH	7 Oz. Tin 39c
HOT CHOCOLATE BEVERAGE FRY'S COCOA	8 Oz. Tin	29c
AMERICAN BEAUTY FANCY SHRIMP	5 Oz. Tin 39c
SHORTENING DOMESTIC	Lb.	35c
READY CUT MACARONI CHOICE	2 Lb. Pkg. 21c
MARGARINE MARGENE	Lb.	41c

YORK—CHOICE QUALITY
ASPARAGUS CUTTINGS 12 Oz. Tin 20c
YORK—IN TOMATO SAUCE
LIMA BEANS 2 20 Oz. Tins 27c
YORK—CHOICE
TOMATOES Large 28 Oz. Tin 18c
GLENWOOD—CHOICE—IN SYRUP
LOMBARD PLUMS 2 12 Oz. Tins 25c
HOT BREAKFAST CEREAL
VITA-B 20 Oz. Pkg. 31c 12 Oz. Pkg. 16c
VALENTINE PARTY FAVOURITE!
Conversation Lozenges 8 Oz. Cello Pkg. 23c

BUTTER WAFERS
BARKER'S CRAX 8 Oz. Pkg. 18c
FOR YOUR PET—HEALTH FOOD
DR. BALLARD'S 2 Lb. Tins 27c
AUNT SALLY
RASPBERRY JAM 24-oz. Jar 36c
AUNT SALLY
STRAWBERRY JAM 24-oz. Jar 39c
CLOVER LEAF
SOCKEYE SALMON 1/2 lb. 41c
S.O.S. PADS - - 14c

"Blue Bonnet Flavor Makes all the difference"

On bread, toast and vegetables . . . in pan-frying and baking . . . let your family enjoy the extra-fine flavor of Blue Bonnet Margarine! Fresh, delicious, canning sweet! Just as delicious when melting-hot as when fresh from the refrigerator! So nutritious, too! Combines the natural goodness of choice farm products with the 16,000 units of Vitamin A added to every pound! And what a money saver! Give your family all they want and still stay within budget bounds!

and Blue Bonnet Margarine is now YELLOW QUIK

Sunny Yellow Margarine in 2 minutes flat!

It's so easy — each fun — to color Yellow Quik Blue Bonnet!

Press the Button . . . knead the bag . . . Blue Bonnet is yellow — ready to use!

No messy mixing bowls . . . no dishes to wash . . . no waste of time or margarine! Be sure to get Blue Bonnet in the amazing new Yellow Quik bag!

Also available in regular style package with color wafer.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Mrs. Nelson Hannah, of Foxboro, is a patient in the Belleville General Hospital.

• • •

Mr. and Mrs. James McKenna, of Solvey, N.Y., are spending a few days in the city as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Wallis, Geddes Street.

• • •

Miss Isabel Clarke was a week-end guest in Picton, of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Clarke, King Street.

• • •

Mr. and Mrs. F. Cory were guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Spencer, Frankford, recently.

• • •

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Goodfellow and Billy, of Mount Olivet, were recent guests of friends in the city.

• • •

Theo Wheeler, on Wednesday, attended the Bride's Fashion show and tea, modelled by the season's debutantes, at Eaton's Georgian Rooms, Toronto.

• • •

Mrs. David T. McDonald, Trent Road, who recently underwent an operation at the Kingston General Hospital, is progressing favorably.

• • •

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bird and Johnny, and Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Alexander and family, spent last Thursday and Friday in Toronto, and while there attended the Ice Follies.

• • •

OUT-OF-TOWN PERSONAL

Mr. George Kidd, of Trenton, was the guest recently of his parents, Dr. and Mrs. C. C. Kidd, Brighton.

Quinte Skating Tennis Club Holds Delightful Tea

Yesterday afternoon the Quinte Skating and Tennis Club held their annual tea, and despite the weather, it was a splendid success with many attending during the afternoon.

Mrs. Gordon Davies and Mrs. R. L. Cowan received the guests at the door, while Miss Lillian Sprocket was tea room hostess.

Presiding at the tastefully appointed tea table which was centred with lovely spring flowers and flanked by silver candelabra, were Mrs. H. F. Potter and Miss Ivy Dickens; Mrs. J. A. McIntosh and Mrs. Georgia Smith; Mrs. C. Hales and Mrs. T. W. Law.

The home cooking table with its delicious confections was convened by Mrs. H. C. Brown, Mrs. G. M. Davidson and Mrs. D. Cowley; and the novelty table, with its array of 'whatnots' by Mrs. Wilbur Fox; Mrs. Robert Myles, and Mrs. R. J. Warren.

Mrs. T. B. Black was treasurer, and Mrs. H. W. Wakefield was in charge of the chicken dinner which was won by Mrs. Mitchell, of St. Agnes Manor. The lucky draw for the lovely knitting bag was in charge of Mrs. Robert Myles and won by Mrs. H. Mott.

The dainty tea was served and replenished by the members of the club, and delightfully convened by Mrs. Harold Smith, Mrs. Everett S. Fairman; Mrs. A. Wilkes and their committee.

B.C.I. Teachers Take Part in Panel Discussion at 'Open House'

Parents and students thronged the corridors and classrooms on Wednesday evening to observe the Collegiate and Vocational Institute section, to visit the classes and to discuss progress with the teachers. The occasion was "open house" and it was a combined effort on the part of the Home and School Association and the teachers with the pupils assisting in many ways.

A brisk business was done in the sale of home cooking as a project to raise funds for the financial needs of the association.

The visitors assembled in the auditorium where a program had been arranged to honor the founder of Home and School, the late Miss Courtice. The school band directed by Mr. A. Cooper provided several musical numbers as a prelude to the stage presentation including a medley from South Pacific. Marilyn Barnes sang three vocal selection accompanied by Mr. C. Templer.

Scope of Subjects

On a stage decorated with red and white streamers, a group of students arranged in the centre demonstrated the scope of each class, which a pupil may choose. These included music, art, home economics, commerce, machine shop and agriculture. To the left of the students was a representation of parents and to the right several members of the teaching staff, the heads of the various departments.

Mr. G. F. Currie was chairman for the occasion and welcomed the parents. He expressed his appreciation to the staff members for their participation to the scholars for their excellent support, and to the Home and School for its co-operation.

Mrs. Rose David, vice-chairman of the School Board voiced the pride that was felt in such a fine institution. He explained that the school was crowded to its accommodate so many students, but the board was looking for ways and means to alleviate this condition, and he was sure common sense would prevail and a solution would be found.

Mrs. F. R. Harback, president of the association thanked the many people who had assisted in the preparation for the evening, and introduced the panel and pageant entitled "Educational trends in this century."

Half Century of Work

The president explained that it was over a half century since the first Home and School Association was formed, and it has laid the foundation for the child's physical and educational life by the study of the child, socially, intellectually, physically and spiritually. According to Dr. Laycock Home and School is the biggest business in the world.

Those teachers who were participating in the panel discussion each spoke on the influence his particular phase of education provided.

Mr. Norman Smith pointed out how vocationally-educated, personnel fills one of the most important needs of the present world. It went further than that and tried to show the student how to get along with life and his aim was to teach boys how to live, and how to earn a living, and to reach their hearts as well as their hands and head.

Mr. Meyer explained that the modern commercial course provided up-to-date business machines and tried to duplicate actual business practice in an office.

Mr. Phillips spoke on agriculture which is a modification of the industrial course.

English Basic Subject

English was the first of the academic subjects and was discussed by Mr. Linton Reed, who said that English is basic as no subject can be taught without it. The principal objective in the study of English is to encourage the students to think clearly for themselves, to be able to express themselves so that they may be heard and not echoed.

Mr. D. Stirling explained that the mathematics emphasis has been changed to bring on practical matters. The teacher tries to create a desire to solve problems and to have the satisfaction that comes with achieving success.

Mr. Leslie Reid spoke on social studies expressing the opinion that students enjoy getting a knowledge of facts and accurate information. It was important for a teacher to know his subject thoroughly as the point of view which the pupil receives depends to a great extent on the teachers' attitudes.

Mr. Archibald explained that there is no formal teaching of religion in secondary schools, but it is hoped, incidentally by reading of the laws that govern the universe, and the Creator. He reminded the audience that the education of today is the civilization of tomorrow.

Mr. J. Musgrove, director of guidance spoke briefly on that subject. Parents who took part were Mr. H. Seldon, Mrs. R. McGinnis, Mrs. Maxim, Rev. F. R. Herback and Mr. Alcorn.

At the conclusion of the program Mr. Archibald thanked the several youth organizations was formed, each bearing a flag, and a hymn of dedication was sung.

Women's Activities

BRIDGE STREET JUBILEE EVENING AUX.

The Jubilee Evening Auxiliary met in Bridge Street Sunday School, on Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock.

Mrs. [illegible] Scott's group served [illegible]alentine decorations [illegible]rooms cheerful and [illegible] Happy hours of fun evening.

Miss Pearl Campbell, the president, took charge of the business meeting. Her opening thought was a quotation, "Let God have your life. He can do more with it than you can."

It was decided to send the Auxiliary's share of the Portia White concert receipts at once to be used for special work of the W.M.S.

$1,500,000 for Liquor

Mrs. Calhag gave a brief temperance report and called attention to the fact that $1,600,000 are spent each day in Canada for liquor.

Miss Clazie read from some letters she had received from Christian Japanese workers. These all expressed gratitude for gifts of food and clothing which they had received and shared with their friends and families.

The writers stressed the point that the spiritual interest of the senders meant as much or more than the gifts.

Mrs. McCabe's group presented the program. A lovely solo was sung by Miss Lorraine Hopkins. Mrs. Fraser read portions of scripture which showed how women of the Bible used their talents.

Miss Florence Down gave a splendid talk on "Christian Stewardship". Her opening thought was a great awful truth, "People get awfully interested in the work of the Northern Baptist Convention of the U.S.A. It spoke of allocations, budgets, envelopes, study books, missionary appeals, and meetings.

People really get tired from many other things, physically, mentally and spiritually.

"In our present state we have crisis, opportunity and urgency. If we want to live in a world governed by the principles of life which Christ came to teach, all Christians must put forth every effort to strengthen the work of the Christian church."

The Women's Missionary Society needs many more workers and money to care for these workers.

The estimate for 1951 is $1,080,000 to maintain the present work. Our share is $650 which is raised by membership fee and free-will giving.

"Let us re-dedicate ourselves and all we have and are to our Master, Jesus Christ, and let us be tired in the right way."

In conclusion, Miss Down read the church Moderator's New Year message to the W.M.S.

Value of C.G.I.T. Activities Stressed at M-D Banquet

Canadian Girls in Training observed a special week of services with a mother and daughter banquet at Tabernacle United Church on Tuesday evening, when all the groups in the city congregated to fill five long tables. The hall was beautifully decorated with blue and white streamers radiating from the centrepiece in the ceiling across the entire room. The color scheme was carried out on the tables where a doll dressed in the white blouse and navy skirt of the C.G.I.T. formed the centrepiece. The decorations were achieved by Mr. and Mrs. Jerome, and arrangements for the banquet were in charge of Mrs. G. V. Weir and Mrs. H. B. Vance. Mrs. Ralph Morden represented the Girls' Work Board and chairman for the occasion was Miss Shirley Fox.

Miss Loretta McDougall was song leader for a delightful interval of music with Mrs. Taylor Franklin accompanying at the piano.

Toasts were proposed to The King to the mothers by Miss Marjorie Tyrrell, replied by Mrs. Herbert Fox; to the C.G.I.T. by Mrs. Weese, responded to by Miss Fern Purnell, the Sunday School by Miss Margaret Wilson with Mrs. A. Mackie replying; and to the church by Miss Verla Nelson responded to by Rev. F. R. Harbeck.

Work Started in 1915

Mrs. George Young, wife of the pastor of the United Church in Marmora, was the principal speaker of the evening. Introduced by Mrs. R. Morden, the speaker told how the C.G.I.T. work would like to refer to her talk as "Reminiscing" and recalled her first experiences as a Canadian Girl in Training in a remote part of Alberta.

"We were an extremely happy group of girls," she said. "The work started in 1915 with a search to find a church program for girls. It grew very rapidly and thirty years later ten thousand girls went to C.G.I.T. camps in Canada. Now more than three thousand girls with three thousand leaders. The C.G.I.T. still offers a many-sided program which you will not get "in any other place." These Canadian girls are in training for Christian living. Their activities include missionary work, music, drama, useful projects, outdoor activities and study. Their worship service is one of the most beautiful of the week. Here we have an opportunity for service, for the practise of democratic living, a knowledge of the Bible, an experience in worship. They learn new skills, make new friends, and learn ways of living in neighborliness. "It is a good thing to foster mother and daughter meetings. It means sharing an experience, and a strengthening of family ties."

"You can always find time for the things you really want to do," Mrs. Young told the girls. "You will alway have to choose what activities you must do, and you must decide which you want and then do it with all your heart."

To the mothers the speaker advised encouragement for the girls in taking responsibilities in the group. She asked the mothers to co-operate with the leaders.

Meet Use Talents

"It is not the material things that matter," Mrs. Young continued, "but the mental attitudes we use to adjust to the times. We must use our talents or they will diminish. We can learn to be understanding, sympathetic and helpful people. There is a job for every age group in the church You are needed and wanted."

Appreciation to the speaker was expressed by Miss Nan Elvins.

Special guests for the occasion were ministers of the churches represented, the superintendents of the Sunday Schools and their wives. Table games were directed by Miss Thelma Schlievert, and the singing of "Taps" brought the banquet to a close.

On Sunday the C.G.I.T. attended church services in their respective congregations with their leaders, and on Friday they will participate in the prayer service at Holloway Street United Church.

DIRECT RELIEF JUMPS

Toronto, Feb. 8 — (CP) — Although during the peak period 220 more persons were on relief, direct relief costs jumped $140,000 in Toronto in 1950.

Club Activities

BRIDGE STREET Y.P.U.

On Monday evening, the Bridge Street United Church Y.P.U. met for their Mission's program, under the leadership of Betty McGowan. The meeting opened with a Bible study period conducted by Rev. D. McTavish. Florence Foster played and led the worship service.

An interesting story of the life of Walter Russell Lambuth, World Christian, was read by Mabel Russell.

During the business period, plans were made for the young people to attend the annual skating party at Stirling.

Loretta McDougall then led an enjoyable social hour.

Refreshments were served and the evening closed with "Taps".

MOHAMMED'S TOMB

Karachi, Pakistan, Feb. 8 (AP) — Egypt's Ambassador Abdul Wahab Azzam Bey today appealed to all Moslems around the globe to join in saving the tomb of the prophet Mohammed at Medina from collapse. Twelve pillars of the tomb have been reported on the point of toppling, and the entire structure is threatened.

NICE CLIMATE

The average annual temperature in Vancouver is about 50 degrees.

Year in year out quality has always been and will always be the first consideration with

"SALADA" TEA

shop at BLACK'S MEAT MARKET for MEAT THAT'S A TREAT
23 Bridge St. E. Phone 1761

SPECIALS

LEAN SLICED BREAKFAST BACON	lb. 49c
SMOKED SHANKLESS PICNICS	lb. 55c
BURNS CHATEAU SMOKED HAM	lb. 69c
SPARE RIBS	lb. 49c
PURE PORK SAUSAGEMEAT	lb. 45c

— TENDER BEEF —		— FRESH KILLED PORK —
BLADE ROAST	69c	FRESH HAMS	60c
SHORT RIB	69c	BUTT ROAST	60c
ROLLED PRIME RIB	80c	SHOULDER ROAST	49c
ROUND, SIRLOIN, WING	83c	LOIN CHOPS	69c
HAMBURG STEAK	59c	SIDE PORK	50c

WE CARRY A FULL LINE OF FISH FOR LENT.

PHONE 1761 — FREE DELIVERY — 23 BRIDGE ST. E.

So easy! Gives floors a bright, long-lasting wax shine without any polishing!

JOHNSON'S GLO COAT

Stays bright! Glo-Coat

Is water-repellent. It can be damp-mopped again and again with clear water without washing away the protective wax shine!

"Johnson's" and "Glo-Coat" are registered trademarks.

S. C. Johnson & Son, Ltd.
Brantford, Ontario

COCONUT ALL-BRAN MUFFINS

No creaming, no egg-beating—one easy mixing with Kellogg's quick way!

1 cup Kellogg's All-Bran
½ cup milk
¼ cup soft shortening
1 egg lightly beaten
2½ teaspoons baking powder
¼ cup sifted flour
1 cup shredded coconut
½ teaspoon salt
¼ cup sugar or ¼ cup corn syrup
1 egg
2 tablespoons soft shortening

1. Combine All-Bran and milk in mixing bowl.
2. Sift together flour, baking powder and salt into same bowl; add sugar (or golden syrup), egg, shortening and ½ cup coconut. Stir only until combined.
3. Fill greased muffin pans ⅔ full; sprinkle with remaining coconut. Bake in preheated oven (400°F.) about 25 minutes.

YIELD: 12 medium-sized muffins, 2½ inches in diameter.

Canada's most famous cereal health food — made in Canada's most modern kitchens!

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN

IT'S HERE! IT'S NEW! IT'S WONDERFUL!

NEW DOUBLE-QUICK RINSO GIVES WORLD'S WHITEST WASH

1. NEW DOUBLE-QUICK RINSO WITH SOLIUM GOES INTO ACTION FASTER!

2. GETS CLOTHES WHITER FASTER!

Rinso

NEW DOUBLE-QUICK Rinso
so safe for clothes
...so kind to hands

Now you can save up to half your washing time

NOW YOU DON'T have to run your washer for long periods. New "Double-Quick" Rinso with Solium actually goes to work twice as fast as other leading washday products. Tests prove that several washings in other leading washday products can't get clothes as white as "Double-Quick" Rinso will in just ONE washing. And only Rinso has Solium to get clothes whiter, brighter than ever. Get "Double-Quick" Rinso today.

WHY IS YOUR APRON SO MUCH WHITER THAN MINE?

MINE IS RINSO WHITE!

ADVICE to the LOVELORN

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

She wants a life of her own—let her have it.

One of my readers writes to take issue with me on opinion I expressed several weeks ago.

The case in point had to do with a husband who objected to his wife in public, never gave her a considerate word of any description, and otherwise was building up an inferiority complex in her. So, on that basis, I was constantly telling him about his faults, on that apparently they lite together was a series of arguments and quarrels. Since these they had not been married even as long as a year, I felt they still had time to get together on compromising their difficulties, if they really wanted to, and advised them to try.

The reader who protested this advice said that instead of succeeding that the two wall awhile and see if they couldn't adjust to each other, I should have told the young wife to leave her husband at once. After all, she was based on the fact that she had the same sort of husband, and that in all the years she had been married to him, he never improved.

All Work—No Pleasure

"I loved my husband very much when I married him," she writes me, adding, "now, I don't know. I've tried to feel cold and hard and rebellious inside. I gave all my love, help and plenty of hard work and sacrifice, but my home life was always lonely and cold, with utter indifference. He won't believe in any pleasure, only in work and study.

"Our children never were happy in their home, either. He never gave them affection, praise or understanding, but expected them to be paragons of virtue in their behavior and didn't hit him, or they brought low marks home from school, he would blame me and beat them unmercifully. If I had left him right at the beginning, before we had our children, maybe today I would be a very happy woman."

This woman had more on her mind than just a wish to be rid of herself on what she had read in my column. She is also very much upset about the future her husband is planning for the years after his approaching retirement.

Wants Country Life

"He wants to go away from everybody and everything and bury himself in the country and take me with him. He cannot and will not understand why I just can't or won't go. Why should I be miserable for the little time I have left of my life? I have love of beauty and laughter. I can sew, decorate and have ideas that are hidden within me. I believe I could make me if I succeed, in spite of my 50 years (I was married when I was 17). I don't want to bury myself in the woods! I like people. What would you suggest?"

What I would suggest is something that I am sure has been apparently has not considered before now. That is, that she give up her husband to the woods, has been carrying around with her all these years and see what she can do to make an interesting life for herself. If there is even one year before her husband retires, she has time to find out whether or not she can put any of these ideas to work successfully.

Have Outside Interests

Besides this, she should get out and around more than she seems to have been doing, and take part in activities where she can be with people, which is what she says she likes to do. Once she had made herself an independent and satisfying social life, and perhaps found an outlet for her creative ideas, she would be in a far better position to decide what she wants to do when her husband retires. It might even be that as her livelier life made her a more interesting person, her husband might suddenly begin to look at her in a different light and be more ready to consider her wishes in planning the future.

If this didn't happen though, there would of course be nothing to prevent them from going separate ways when the time came.

There is not a reason in the world why this woman should continue to be lonely and miserable. She has plenty of years ahead of her which can be happy if she has the initiative and real desire to make them so.

A MEAN THIEF

Rome, Ga., Feb. 7 — (AP) — Here is the latest and meanest gouge in petty larceny. A man pinched a coin on the floor of blind Catherine Phillips' news stand this other day, Mrs. Phillips said. "Oh, I dropped a nickel." As she began to search for it with her hands, he snatched her change box and ran.

BABY'S BOTTLE
Milk Modified with
COW BRAND BAKING SODA

BEAUTY

Pulled calves and spindle shanks

Heavy massage will help to reduce the calves.

That feminine legs come in an infinite variety is apparent to any observing eye. There are thick and thin ones, short and long ones, those that are curved and those that are knock-kneed. What can be done about these members of physical education and bones of figure-normalizing exercises so that these cases are not hopeless. Chaggee for the better part, yes, but there are bow and knock-knees are problems for the attention of medical specialists.

Strangely enough, the same exercises that smooth out fat cells will fill out the legs of the skinny lassies. What they do is to stimulate the circulation and process of strengthening the muscles. On firm, resilient muscles, fat cells haven't a chance.

We offer some exercises that have proved effective. They accomplish a presto-change set in a few weeks, or even a few months. One must be persistent, keep on the job, have a regular time set aside each day for a work-out.

If your legs are not precisely what you would have ordered, had you had anything to say about the matter, try this one:

Stand tall, with chest up, tummy in, hands extended out on a straight line from the shoulders for balance, feet ten inches apart. Lower the torso slowly until the buttocks rest on your heels. No fair touching the floor with your fingers! Up on the toes very slowly; down again and up again. When you feel tired, stand tall and take half a dozen deep breaths. You may take a tumble or two, but what is that in the great cause of good cause of good looks? Nothing at all.

Lie on your back, arms out at the sides. Keeping the shoulders flat on the floor, pull both knees up to the chest. Then roll your knees from side to side. This movement is particularly adapted to the purpose of diminishing the measurements of heavy thighs, it also will have a favorable effect upon hips that are like the spreading chestnut tree.

To develop thin legs, walk tippy-tie. Lift your body as high as you can. You will be conscious of a strong pull on all the leg muscles. Walk on your toes when mounting stairs. Don't overlook the fact that the lighter the shade of your stockings, the larger your legs will appear to be.

Heavy massage will help to reduce fatted calves. Sit with one leg on a low stool. Anoint the hands with lanoline or cocoabutter. Then take up the calf and roll it between thumb and fingers to break down the fat cells. Stroke up and down, then hammer and thump.

GOOD MANNERS

By MRS. BEECKMAN

Test question for your manners.

Are your manners so good and so sure that you are able to put up pleasantly with bad manners?

To sign or not to sign—that is the question?

"Dear Mrs. Beeckman:
Is it ever correct to sign one's name to a Valentine?
S. H. M.

Yes! If a Valentine is sent as a greeting of friendship, and there is no connotation of romance or "heart interest", there is no reason why it should not be signed, just as any other friendship-greeting-card would be signed. As a matter of fact, very many of the Valentines this year are designed for just this "friendly Valentine" sending. For example:

"A bit sentimental?
Why shouldn't I be,
About one who's been
Such a good friend to me!"

It's a challenge . . . to write a thank-you note for an unwelcome gift

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

I'm really ashamed to write you . . . but I do so much need your help that I'm going to "confess" and ask your advice. My question is this: Do you think that I am wrong in writing a thank-you note for a Christmas present I just loathe? . . . I have the money, but, this gift was a left-over gift. I have delayed writing my thanks because they won't seem be sincere, (Also, as a matter of fact, I have not as yet received the promised note for the Christmas present I sent to the person I refer to above.)

M. B.

Yes, I do think you are in the wrong not to write the thank-you note that you really should write, however for this gift, even if you "loathe" the gift and suspect it's a "one-an-gift". If so, for in your life-time you haven't had to write a thank-you note for an unwelcome gift, the chances are you'll have to some time or other . . . so why not gallantly accept this challenge with a grown-up point of view and write your note at once?

Just dare yourself to write a gracious note . . . it can be done, I'm sure you! For you can (1) put enthusiasm into your words to thank for the thought, and (2) mention the gift by name, and thinking of some feature, or at least one feature, about which you can comment with some degree of enthusiasm. For instance, the color: "It is such a pleasant shade of blue, and will go well with a new blue dress I have"; or

Women ushers at afternoon concert

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

Our local woman's club is sponsoring a concert to be given on a Sunday afternoon soon, a benefit for a local charity. We are planning to have several of the club members "usher" at the concert. There seems to be a difference of opinion as to what type of dress they should wear, and whether or not they should wear hats. What do you advise?

W.

These ushers should wear simple afternoon dresses . . . street-length . . . of a color not too light; and small hats. To identify themselves as ushers, they might wear identical type corsage or cards with "Usher" printed on them, or even arm bands.

Married in England . . . to send announcements now.

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

I am a citizen of this country. I have been living in England for several years, but have now returned to this country. Shortly before I left England, I was married to a man who is also a citizen of this country. Because of business he will not be able to return here for some months. But I would-like to send formal announcements of our marriage to all our relatives and friends here and abroad. Must I wait to send these until my husband returns here?

Elisabeth M.

No . . . send these announcements as soon as possible. No reason to postpone this until your husband returns.

Three wedding questions

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

1. When the bride at an informal church wedding is to wear a street-length dress with three-quarter-length sleeves, should she need to wear gloves?

2. Should the white carpet be used in the aisle?

3. Is it necessary that she have someone to give her away?

E. C.

1. No. . . this is a matter of preference and convenience.

2. No. . . this is not necessary, since the bride is wearing a street-length dress, and the wedding is informal.

3. For the answer to this question the bride-to-be should consult with the minister who is to perform the ceremony as to the regulations of the denomination.

A Fur Scarf
WILL SAY
"I love you"
ON
Valentine's Day

Buy your lady-love a Valentine of four season luxury, that will warm her heart the year 'round. Choose from this special selection — Mink, Kolinsky, Squirrel, Mouton. Priced to suit your budget.

Choice Quality CANADIAN RANCH MINK, 2 to 4 skin scarfs. Priced from $72.00

RUSSIAN KOLINSKY (dyed)—4-skin scarfs. Giant sets $84.00

Fine quality RUSSIAN SQUIRREL (dyed) SCARFS — silver grey and dark brown. 2 to 8 skin arrangements. Priced from $17.50

A beautiful set of 2 SKIN STONE MARTENS. Choice quality $140.00

BUDGET TERMS.

ASHLEY FURS

294 Front Street BELLEVILLE

"WALK UPSTAIRS AND SAVE"

Fashion Flashes

YOU'LL BE seeing ever-so-smart and elegant ensembles of cotton. Crisp cotton is used for an easy, full-length grey coat that is lined in the gray and yellow plaided cotton of the dress. There are huge turn-back cuffs of the plaid fabric. The dress has a triple cuff at the strapless neckline. . .

STAYING HOME o' nights is nice, what with all the handsome at-home togs. Very dressy is a tunic coat of white brocade, fitted through the waistline, with black velvet lapels and a double row of wide-spaced black velvet buttons. With it are black velvet slacks.

HERE AND THERE we note the reversible coat for spring. One such model is a one-button loose coat—one side is plum-colored iridescent ottoman, the other side of navy faille.

COMING UP fast as a very popular fabric for resort and spring wear is shantung—heavy silk shantung being favored. Natural beauty in shantung is used for a handsome ensemble consisting of a boxy jacket and a sleeveless dress with a box-pleated skirt.

ON THE GO once more is the light travel coat—generally pale beige, or light gray, with big shawl collar of white or lynx-dyed white fox, or with big cuffs of the fur. Good dyed-fox suits or dresses and an ideal garment for the limited wardrobe.

EXQUISITE evening dresses are winging south. Pale rose taffeta, its pattern accented by beads and rhinestone sequins, is used for a sheath gown with a halter neckline and a big whoosh of net for the side-back of the skirt.

DEMOCRATIC STRIDES

Responsible government had been achieved in all of British North America except British Columbia shortly after 1849.

6TH TYENDINAGA

6th Tyendinaga — Mr. and Mrs. Walter Treverton entertained Mr. and Mrs. Roy Boldrick, Earl and Eileen, Mr. and Mrs. Alton Goodman and Mrs. C. Goodman, Saturday evening.

The snow plows were out on their roads for the first time this year after the snow storm Wednesday night and Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Alton Goodman spent Sunday with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Gray of Roslin.

Friends are sorry to hear Mr. V. Joyce is not well.

Mr. and Mrs. Lorne McKenzie and boys and Mrs. C. Goodman spent Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. J. Goodman, Centenary.

Winter will be here for a while yet as brush saw his shadow on Friday.

Mrs. Charlie Treverton spent Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. Ed. Treverton, 4th Thurlow.

IT'S TIME TO JOIN WALKER STORES

KENWOOD BLANKET CLUB

Choose any one of the lovely shades in Kenwood's beautiful 1951 range. Make a small down payment as low as $2.00 and weekly payments of $1.00 until the blanket is paid for.

DROP IN TODAY AND See the 1951 KENWOOD BLANKETS AND OBTAIN FULL PARTICULARS ABOUT OUR KENWOOD BLANKET CLUB.

PHONE 329 Walker Stores, Limited 286 FRONT ST.

BUEHLER'S
CONSISTENTLY BRING YOU . . .
Meat Buys
EVERY DAY OF THE YEAR

GOVERNMENT INSPECTED
BLUE BRAND BEEF
SIRLOIN
T-BONE
WING STEAKS
lb. 85c

ROUND STEAK
RUMP ROAST
lb. 83c

MEATY
Spare Ribs lb. 49c

SLICED
Pork Liver lb. 33c

COUNTRY STYLE
SAUSAGE
FRESH MADE DAILY
lb. 39c

CHOICE
MILK-FED VEAL

ALL MEATS 100% GUARANTEED WELL TRIMMED

SIDE PORK lb. 45c

SMOKED
BACON SQUARES lb. 33c

BREAKFAST
BACON SLICED lb. 53c

LEAN BUTTS PORK lb. 63c

GRADE "A"
FOWL 5-6 lb. Average lb. 53c
TENDER GROWN
CHIX . . . . lb. 69c
DUCKS and TURKEYS

SPECIAL!
DAILY FRESH
MUDCATS lb. 37c

SALMON
TROUT . lb. 53c
SEA
HERRING lb. 19c

SMOKED
FILLETS lb. 42c
FRESH
FILLETS lb. 35c

BUEHLER'S
205 FRONT STREET BELLEVILLE PHONE 500

NON-CONFIDENCE

(Continued from Page 1)

Asked to Pull Weight

In the Senate, Senator A. K. Hugessen (L—Quebec) suggested that the Russians might be planning an attack on Yugoslavia, and urged the free nations to make clear that such an attack would mean war with the west.

In the Commons, Mr. Green suggested Canada had not yet pulled her weight in the Korean war with the statement that "there has been very little in the events of the last six months about which Canadians can be proud."

One of the trained battalions of the regular army should have been sent to Korea at the outset of that conflict, Canada had missed an opportunity to stand beside the U.S., the country upon which she would have to depend if she were attacked.

While the C.C.F. members called for controls, Mr. Laing said he believes that resumption of full and complete controls "could well be the end of free enterprise in Canada."

Mr. Bruneau suggested the payment of a pension to the disabled and the establishment of a "youth" ministry which would constitute a vocational guidance school for youngsters with ability but without the money for training.

Mr. Maltais called for the adoption of a national flag and said Canada must play her part in the international crisis.

Mr. Green urged:

1. Canada send the 10,000-man special force now training in Fort Lewis, Wash., to Korea to help end the fighting there.

2. Canada press for a Pacific Defence Pact, similar to the North Atlantic Treaty.

Member Urges Action

3. Action to strengthen the reserve army.

4. Steps to inaugurate a conscriptory old-age pensions system.

5. Prompt action to deal with the cost of living and inflation.

Mr. Green said he sometimes considers the rising cost of living and inflation as serious as the war situation. The government's statement that it would ask for stand-by legislation to impose controls, if necessary, had simply had the effect of driving prices higher.

FROST CRITICAL

(Continued from Page One)

He suggested no action on education policies where commissioners had shown "sharp disagreement."

Government policies had made great improvement in education, Mr. Frost said, and nothing indicated "that a radical change now would enable us to do better than we are now doing or continue to do."

Echoes Charres

Premier Frost echoed charges made Tuesday by J. G. White (PC Kenora) that the former Liberal government had permitted wide export of unprocessed pulpwood from Northern Ontario. His government intended to protect forests but faced the problem of "100 years of good and bad forest management — mostly bad."

The premier said present Liberal policy varied on the question of the Hope education report the provincial Liberal platform had promised to implement it but the Liberal member for Brant former Premier Harry Nixon, wanted his party to disclaim responsibility for it.

Mr. Frost said his administration had reduced debt per capita from $123 under the Liberal government to $112 at present. Hydro resources had been increased from 1,000,000 to 3,750,000 horsepower since the war.

The premier denied Mr. Jolliffe's charge that the Throne speech contained no promise of legislation to help the farm population. The government's broad wide improvements in both rural telephone and hydro service, he said.

C. C. F. Leader Critical

Mr. Jolliffe criticized "belated" action by the Ontario government to assure federal rent controls, scheduled to expire April 30. The housing program, inaugurated a year ago with federal, provincial and municipal co-operation, was "rapidly approaching breakdown." New home building was far behind the required 33,000 new units annually.

Ontario had "failed miserably" in building hospitals in post-war years when material supplies were good, the C. C. F. leader said. He also criticized the government for having Dana Porter hold the two cabinet posts of Attorney - General and Education Minister.

Mr. Jolliffe urged action to develop St. Lawrence River power projects and said that if the development were not made by 1956 or 1957 industrial expansion might be "choked at the most critical point."

The government had failed to realize that inflation affected municipal government income, which depended on taxes on property, far more than it hurt provincial government income. He urged a provincial - municipal conference to reach a new agreement on taxation.

On High Level

Premier Frost told the legislature that administration of justice was on a high level in the province and he deplored some of the recent criticism against law-enforcement agencies.

"We very carefully scrutinized the situation in Windsor," he said, referring to last year's investigation of law enforcement in the border city.

The investigation showed that some people were "complacent" but that "nothing was fundamentally wrong," the premier added: "basically it was not dishonest."

Correspondence outlining the efforts of provincial and federal governments to control illegal bookmaking syndicates by striking at their communications systems was tabled in the legislature by Premier Frost.

Copy of one letter, by Federal Justice Minister Garson, referred to discussions by the Ontario Attorney-General's department, his own department and officials of The Bell Telephone Company and the two Canadian telegraph companies.

Mr. Frost said an answer was being sought to the question of how police could stop illegal use of communications facilities without implying interference with freedom of communications.

Strengthen Criminal Code

A letter by the Ontario premier to Senator Esiie Kefauver, chairman of the USS. Senate Crime Investigation Committee, remarked on the inability of Ontario and Windsor police to obtain co-operation of Detroit police in tracing an international wire service linking Detroit and Windsor.

(The letter, dated Nov. 23, was followed on Dec. 2 by a co-ordinated raid by provincial and Detroit police on a suspected race-wire service in the two cities.)

Attorney-General Porter told a reporter today that Clifford McLagone, deputy attorney-general, was in Ottawa and negotiations were under way to strengthen the Federal Criminal Code to prevent use of telephones by bookmakers and other gamblers.

The premier also told the legislature that his government would not proceed with the construction of liquor outlets at the expense of building material needed for housing.

Replying to a question by W. H. Temple (CCF—Toronto High Park) the premier said applications for new liquor licences will be closely scrutinized in view of steel and other shortages.

MOTORIST KILLED AT CROSSING

Hamilton, Feb. 8. — (CP) — Albert Rosenski, R. R. 4, Fenwick, was killed last night when A.T.H. and R. passenger train struck his car at a level crossing. He was alone in the car.

Eye witnesses said the car failed to stop despite the swinging wig-wag signal.

BABY'S CRY IS NOT ALWAYS TEMPER

DISTINGUISH between baby's cry of pain and cry of temper. The "pain cry" is often isolated attempts. The fat forehead furrows due to gas on stomach or bowels or from constipation. Give baby Dr. Hand's Pleasant Tablets at once. Special Free Booklet reports — the Soda they work every time. Get 1 on the number of nine children. Stronger than paste tablets, and Baby's Own Tablets have been very mild medicine in raising them to be healthy children that they are. At most any children's druggist's. Write for free booklet. Don't wait — give them Baby's Own Tablets and in very short time the fever disappeared and the baby was very normal again.

Equally effective for constipation, upset stomach, colic, diarrhea, simple fevers and ailments of babies. Quickly relieve sour stomach. No "sleepy stuff" to dull the child. Get a package today. Sickness often comes in the night. Use at drug stores. Money back if you are not satisfied.

ONE LOCATION ONLY — ONE LOCATION ONLY

WAR SURPLUS STORE — Phone 217

192 Front Street — BELLEVILLE, ONT.

CANADA'S LARGEST CHAIN OF WAR SURPLUS STORES.

ARE CLEARING OUT THEIR COMPLETE WINTER STOCK TO MAKE ROOM FOR NEW SPRING MERCHANDISE. TO ACCOMPLISH THIS SALE

We are Offering Spectacular Saving in this Huge

Storewide Clearance

WAR SURPLUS OVERALLS — BRAND NEW! Large Sizes Only — 1.95

TRENCH COATS — GABARDINE — Silk Lined. Military Style. REG. $29.95 — 19.95

WORK BOOTS — PANCO SOLE — 2.98 ea.

OPENING SPECIALS — PILLOW CASES — FULL SIZE — 39c Ea.

OPENING SPECIALS — GABARDINE TROUSERS — VALUES to $12.95 — Sizes 32, 34, 36, 38, 40 — 4.95 Pr.

OPENING SPECIALS — SLEEPING BAGS — PILLOW ATTACHED — 6.95 Ea.

OPENING SPECIALS — ARMY TUNICS and GREATCOATS — 89c Ea.

LADIES' NAVY Trenchcoats — Sizes 14-16 only — 4.95

PAINT — Made by CANADA PAINT — Cream Only. — 59c Qt.

LIGHTERS — Copy of Famous $6.50 Model. FULLY AUTOMATIC — 98c Ea.

WINTER WEIGHT UNDERWEAR — What Value! — 1.49 Pr.

DRESS and SPORT SHIRTS — Values to $3.95 — 1.98

ARMY SHIRTS — REGULATION — All sizes — 2.98

WINTER WEIGHT DOE-SKIN SHIRTS — Plain and Check — 1.98

U. S. JUNGLE HAMMOCKS — Original Cost $40.00 — BRAND NEW — 6.95

AIRFORCE SHIRTS — SANFORIZED — Two Breast Pockets. Shoulder Straps. All Sizes — 3.49 Ea.

LEATHER BOMBER JACKETS — Sheeps' Lined. Mouton Collar — 24.95

AIRFORCE MELTON PANTS And TUNICS — All Sizes — 4.95

WORK SOX — PENMAN'S — 35c & 39c Pr.

PAINT — ALL COLORS — 2.95 Gal. — Buy Now and Save

SWEAT SHIRTS — ALL COLORS — 1.49 Ea.

LEATHER JACKETS — Size 36 Only — 8.95 Ea.

BARGAINS IN HARDWARE

6' STEEL TAPES ... 19c
BREAD KNIVES Stainless Steel ... 39c
CIRCULAR SAWS, 7", 8", 10". Each ... 1.89

ARMY HAVERSACKS ... 9c
NAVY SWEATERS ... 99c
RAZOR BLADES 100 for ... 79c
WHITE HANKIES, ea. ... 11c
AMMO. BOXES ... 1.00

DRESS SOCKS ... 29c
BRIEFS. TOPS ... 49c
WORK GLOVES. Leather Face ... 55c
LEATHER SKI CAPS ... 59c

OFFICERS' SINGLE BEDS — Made by Simmons — 7.95 Ea. — MATTRESS TO FIT $6.95 Each

ARMY BLANKETS — EXTRA HEAVY — 3.39 Ea.

FRANKFORD

Arena Packed For Carnival Of Lions Club

Frankford — The Frankford Lions Club carnival proved by far the biggest event seen in the village in recent years. The arena was packed to witness a dazzling display of fancy and figure skating, presented by Misses Toby Kaiser and Peggy Brown of the University Skating Club in Toronto. Toby endeared herself in the hearts of the community last year, and it was by unanimous request that she again appeared this year. Her friend, and skating partner, Miss Peggy Brown made a fine and lasting impression on those present, as she gracefully performed her solo.

Vic Hutfmas and his comedian partner provided many a thrill and laugh as they gave a hilarious demonstration of barrel-jumping.

Following the acts, costumes were judged, as the contestants skated around the arena. The number of entries of older skaters was not as plentiful as in other years, but there seemed to be a larger number of younger people in costume. In any event, it was a most difficult task for the judges to decide the winners, among the fine parade of costumes.

Races were run off in record time and produced a great number of entries. Following the races public skating was enjoyed for well over an hour.

PRIZE WINNERS

Door Prizes

No. 1 Don Phillips, 2 Keith Mikel; 3, Mrs. Vickie Babey; 4 Carman Westlake. The No. 3 winner was not present at the time of the drawing.

Costume Prizes

Girls fancy costume: 10 years and under, Jean Caldwell; boys 10 years and under, Bruce Loney; girls, 10-16 years, Beth Bonisteel; boys, 10-16 years, Harold Baker; Women's, Edythe Babcock; Men's, Arnold Stickle; Girls comic costume, 10 years and under, Carol Bonisteel; boys, 10 years and under, Brian Hazell; girls, 10-16 years, Gaye Bonisteel; boys, 10-16 years, Allan Patrick; Ladies, No entries; Men's, Keith Bush.

Carnival Queen: Mrs. Frank Loney.

Speed Skating

Girls under 8, Lennie Rowe; boys, under 8, Garry Staples; girls, under 10, Beth Bonisteel; boys, under 10, Garry Harrington; girls, under 13, Sheila Patrick; boys, under 13, Donald Smith; girls, under 17, Terry Bennett; boys, under 17, John Bennett; ladies, over 18, Mrs. Gordon Elder; men, over 18, Jim Howard.

Married couples race, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Loney.

Single couples race, Gaye Bonisteel and Bob Burkitt.

Largest family on the ice, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bonisteel and family.

Oldest person on the ice, Keith Bush.

Dance Held

The annual Masonic formal dance was held in the Community Hall Wednesday evening, with well over two hundred couples attending, despite unfavorable weather. The Commodores orchestra from Belleville provided an evening of top quality music. A number of prizes were awarded on spot dances, as well as a special door prize. Refreshments were served in the banquet room/foyer during the dance. The members of Frank Lodge No. 127 report that the dance was the most successful they have ever sponsored, both financially and in attendance.

Mr. George Spencer is spending a few days in New York City visiting his son.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Bleecker are spending a week in Ottawa, visiting their daughter, Mrs. Ward Stiles.

FISHING GROUNDS

Newfoundland, 1,040 miles from the Irish Coast, was known to British fishermen long before Virginia was colonized.

46 Transports Stalled

Brockville, Feb. 7 (CP)—Forty-six transport trucks, 27 of them eastbound and 19 headed west, were stalled in this eastern Ontario city for almost two hours today when a transport skidded and jackknifed on the main thoroughfare blocking traffic.

After stopping the trucks found it impossible to get going again and were forced to wait until city employees freed each one individually by placing sand and gravel on the road. The last truck got under way shortly after eight o'clock.

Coca-Cola adds zest to lunch

Jane Ashley's Crown Brand Recipes FREE
Write Jane Ashley, The Canada Starch Company Limited, P. O. Box 129, Montreal, P. Q. CBJ7

NESCAFÉ

SAVES YOU UP TO 40¢ A POUND ON COFFEE BILLS

Here's why:

1. From the 4 oz. jar—enough coffee for 200 cups—makes as many cups as a whole pound of ordinary coffee.
2. Big family size jar saves even more.
3. No waste with *Nescafé. You make delicious roaster fresh coffee right in the cup—and only what you need.
4. Never goes stale. Nescafé is specially processed to stay fresh down to the last spoonful!

DRINK NESCAFÉ AND ENJOY THE FINEST CUP OF COFFEE YOU EVER T-A-S-T-E-D

Right this minute more people are drinking NESCAFÉ than all other instant coffees combined

*Nescafé (pronounced NESCA-FAY) is the exclusive registered trade mark of Nestlé's Milk Products (Canada) Limited to designate its soluble coffee products which is composed of equal parts of pure soluble coffee and added pure carbohydrates (dextrin, maltose and dextrose) added solely to protect the flavour.

LOBLAWS

LOBLAWS FINEST ORANGE PEKOE

RED LABEL TEA BAGS PKG. OF 15 19c PKG. OF 30 34c PKG. OF 60 67c

LOBLAWS BROWN LABEL TEA BAGS PKG. OF 30 29c

A FAMOUS CAKE RETURNS LOBLAWS CHERRY CAKE EACH 59c A QUALITY PRODUCT OF THE LOBLAW BAKERY

SPECIALLY ICED CHOCOLATE DELIGHT CAKE EACH 33c A QUALITY PRODUCT OF THE LOBLAW BAKERY

WESTONS CREAMY CRACKERS PLAIN OR SALTED 16-oz. Pkg. 27c

WESTONS SALTINES 14-OZ. PKG. 29c

STORE HOURS
MONDAY, TUESDAY and THURSDAY
9.00 A.M. to 6.00 P.M.
WEDNESDAY
8.00 A.M. to 12.00 NOON
FRIDAY and SATURDAY
8.30 A.M. to 6.00 P.M.

SNOWFLAKE MARSHMALLOWS	1-LB. CELLO. BAG	39c
Stokelys TASTY KING PEAS	FANCY 12-FL. OZ. TIN	17c
AYLMER CHOICE PEAS 4-6 SIEVE	20-FL. OZ. TIN	15c
AYLMER FANCY GOLDEN KERNEL CORN	2 14-FL. OZ. TINS	33c

• LENTEN SUGGESTIONS •

STOKELYS RICE DINNER SPANISH STYLE	2 15-FL. OZ. TINS	33c
LIBBYS SPAGHETTI IN TOMATO SAUCE WITH CHEESE	2 15-FL. OZ. TINS	25c
KRAFT DINNER	2 PKGS.	27c
GOLDEN BAR CHEESE PLAIN OR PIMENTO	1/2-LB. PKG.	28c
MONARCH CHEESE	1-LB. BABY ROLL	43c
3 MINUTE CROQUETTES SALMON & RICE	16-OZ. PKG.	29c
SMALL SHRIMP GULF SELLE w/ BUTCHER	4-OZ. TIN	39c
Caledonia Fancy Pink Salmon 1-LB. TIN	1/2-LB. TIN	23c
	41c
FANCY RED SOCKEYE SALMON	1/2 TIN	41c
BRUNSWICK CHICKEN HADDIE	14-OZ. TIN	23c
BRUNSWICK SARDINES	3 TINS	25c
CROSSED FISH SARDINES	TIN	23c
BULK MACARONI SHELLS or READY CUT	2 LBS.	21c
CLARKS VEGETARIAN BEANS	2 14-FL. OZ. TINS	23c
HEINZ VEGETARIAN BEANS	2 14-FL. OZ. TINS	33c
McCORMICKS SALTINES	16-OZ. PKG.	29c
HEINZ MACARONI IN CREAM SAUCE AND CHEESE	15-FL. OZ. TIN	17c
Dr. Ballards Health Food For Dogs	2 15-OZ. TINS	27c
DR. BALLARDS MEAL FORMULA	5-LB. PKG.	29c
DR. BALLARDS MEATIES	2 PKGS.	29c
Champion DOG or CAT FOOD	2 15½-OZ. TINS	25c
APPLEFORDS FOOD SAVER WAXED PAPER	100-FT. ROLL	33c
Colgate DENTAL CREAM LARGE TUBE	29c GIANT TUBE	53c
SUNLIGHT SOAP	2 CAKES	23c
GIBSONS TISSUES	2 PKGS.	39c
JOHNSONS PASTE WAX	1-LB. TIN	59c
OXYDOL LARGE PKG.	40c GIANT PKG.	79c
MAPLE LEAF TOILET SOAP	2 CAKES	17c
SWIFTS CLEANSER	2 TINS	25c
JAVEX CONCENTRATED JAVEL	14-FL. OZ. BTL. 15c	VEL 39c
IVORY SOAP	10-OZ. LARGE CAKE	17c
IVORY SNOW	LARGE PKG.	40c
PALMOLIVE BEAUTY SOAP	2 REGULAR CAKES	19c
CONCENTRATED SUPER SUDS	LARGE PKG.	39c

LOBLAW GROCETERIAS CO. LIMITED

• OGILVIE PRODUCTS •

OGILVIE READY CAKE MIX PILLSBY, GOLD CHOCOLATE	LARGE PKG.	33c
OGILVIE GINGERBREAD MIX	14-OZ. PKG.	29c
OGILVIE T-BISCUIT MIX	20-OZ. PKG.	43c
OGILVIE Royal Household FLOUR	5-LB. BAG	35c
OGILVIE MINUTE OATS	24-OZ. PKG.	34c
OGILVIE VITA-B CEREAL	36-OZ. PKG.	29c
OGILVIE TONIK WHEAT GERM IN MOST LOBLAW STORES	14-OZ. PKG.	50c

PRICES EFFECTIVE FEB. 8, 9, 10

Garden Fresh
FRUITS & VEGETABLES

ONTARIO GROWN FANCY GRADE McINTOSH RED APPLES 6-QT. BASKET 65c

ONTARIO HOTHOUSE RED RHUBARB lb. 19c A REAL SPRING TONIC

ONTARIO GROWN RUTABAGAS WASHED & WAXED POUND 4c

ONTARIO GROWN CARROTS NO. 1 GRADE WASHED 3 POUNDS 19c

CANADA NO. 1 NEW BRUNSWICK POTATOES 10-LB. PKG. 29c 15-LB. PKG. 39c

BE BUDGET WISE—SERVE ONIONS OFTEN

ONTARIO COOKING ONIONS 3 POUNDS 10c EXCELLENT FOR FRYING, BOILING, SOUPS, ETC.

Frisco's Chef's Salad Packed Fresh Daily 7-oz. 19c

Quality First
LOBLAWS MEATS

• CHOICE FRESH CHICKEN CUTS •
BUY YOUR FAVORITE PORTION AND SERVE OFTEN

LEGS	LB. 92c	BREASTS	LB. 89c
WINGS	LB. 65c	BACKS	LB. 25c
PRE-DRESSED CHICKEN	CHOICE		LB. 69c
CHOICE BOILING FOWL			LB. 53c
PURE PORK SAUSAGE	LOBLAW COUNTRY STYLE		LB. 59c
CHOICE PORK KIDNEYS			LB. 27c

• FRESH DELICATESSEN ITEMS •

JELLIED FRUIT DESSERT	DELICIOUS 12-OZ. PKG.		27c
FRANKFURTERS SPECIALLY SWIFT, PREMIUM	SMALL WITH SAUERKRAUT	1-LB. CELLO. PKG.	55c
FRESH OYSTERS	JERSEY, BEST FOR SCALLOPED	9-OZ. JAR	67c

FROSTED SEA FOOD FEATURES

ECONOMY — VARIETY — FLAVOUR — FOR LENTEN MEALS — For economical Lenten menus plan on tasty fish. Every portion is frozen and packed in Loblaws fine selection of quality frosted fish. Every portion is frozen and packed at the peak of freshness thereby retaining all the goodness of freshly caught fish.

COD FILLETS SPECIAL	lb. 33c	HADDOCK FILLETS	lb. 51c
SOLE FILLETS	lb. 59c	SMOKED FILLETS	lb. 43c
CHOICE OCEAN PERCH FILLETS			lb. 41c

RAWDON

Lady Brooks Sends Greetings From Ireland

Rawdon—Mrs. Percy Marshall received an airmail letter dated February 5th, from Lady Cynthia Brooks, wife of the Prime Minister of Northern Ireland. Lady Brooks sends greetings to all the ladies she met yesterday at the meeting in Belleville on May. She referred to her stay in Belleville as one of the highlights of her Canadian trip. Lady Brooks is beginning an itinerary of the local women's Institute meetings on February 12th, and says "so you can be thinking of us, we will of you".

Hay Shortage

Again we quote from her letter "We had a horrid summer and lot of rain this winter. Now we have a bad shortage of hay and corn and in fact they have even had to bring in hay from Norway . . . We ourselves are OK as we made a lot of silage and so we run a grand dryer too and were able to dry some of the corn and find it is not too bad after all. Roots are too warm here and we have had much more winter weather than usual. Please send warm messages to all Institute members and to friends I have in Belleville".

The meeting referred to was a meeting of all Institute members in Hastings, Northumberland, Prince Edward, Lennox and Addington held in Holloway Street United Church on May 8, 1950; in honor of Mrs. Sayre, president of the Associated Countywomen of the World, and Lady Brooks of Ireland.

WOOLER

Wooler — Mr. and Mrs. Claude Thompson of Kingston were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Holbrook.

Mr. and Mrs. N. N. Haggerty were in Toronto on Thursday attending the opening of the Ontario Legislature as guests of W. A. and Mrs. Goodfellow.

Mrs. E. M. Wessels who is spending the winter in Brighton, was in town for a few days last week visiting Mr. and Mrs. Herb Wessels and other friends.

Mr. Leo McAuley was in Toronto over the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hubble, of Peterborough were weekend visitors of Mr. S. T. Perfull.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Putnam were in Toronto over the weekend and were guests at the Brown-Gilbert wedding on Saturday.

Miss Eunice K. Conshaf, of Frankford, spent the weekend with her grandmother, Mrs. W.A. Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Peister, of Codrington, were weekend guests of Wooler friends.

A large number of Wooler people attended the Masonic Dance in Frankford on Wednesday evening.

At a meeting of the property owners in the village held in the Town Hall on Thursday evening, it was decided to have street lights in the village.

A film strip "The Little Camel" was shown at the United Church Sunday School on Sunday. Mr. Wayne Tompkins was in charge and read the story. A projector has been purchased.

MARMORA

Marmora — A successful euchre party was held by St.* Paul's Ladies' Guild in the dining room of the Royal Hotel on Monday evening, there being 12 tables in play. The prize winners were: — Jack Hermon and Mrs. Robert Hoyle; Mrs. Miller held the lucky ticket in the cake drawing.

Lieut. Peter Harkness and Mrs. Harkness of Trenton, spent Monday with Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Shannon.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Benn, of Campbellford, were recent visitors with relatives here.

WOOLER

Agricultural Society Elects 1951 Officers

Wooler — The annual meeting of the Wooler Agricultural Society was held in the Town Hall on Monday evening with the president, Mr. Gordon Cole, presiding.

The financial statement showed a balance of $430. The secretary's salary for 1951 is to be $50. Mrs. R. Putnam and another lady official were appointed delegates to the Toronto Convention.

Officers

President, Gordon Cole; vice - president, Wesley Down; secretary - treasurer, Carman Richards; auditors, N. N. Haggerty, R. Putnam.

Directors:

Wesley Down, Carles McColl, Homer Leavitt, Leo McAuley, Howard Arthur, Ross McMaster, Alfred Gooding, Lyle Leavitt, Henry McColl, Wilber McColl, Gordon Cole and Harry Murray.

Lady Associate Directors:

Mrs. L. E. Bowerman, Mrs. P. Gooding, Mrs. H. E. McMaster, Mrs. A. G. Austin, Mrs. J. J. Way, Mrs. Wesley Down, Miss Charlotte McColl, Mrs. R. Putnam, Mrs. L. Leavitt, Mrs. Henry McColl, Mrs. Gordon Cole, Mrs. Carman Richards, Mrs. Wilbur McColl and Mrs. Homer Leavitt.

WHITE'S DISTRICT

Whites District — Mr. and Mrs. Walter Jones and Miss Sylvia Bilham were Tuesday evening guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Curtis of Johnstown. They also watched a television set at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lorne home of Mr. and Mrs. Lohnes.

Mrs. George Arthurs and Billie were Wednesday dinner guests of Mrs. Walter Jones.

Miss Joan Jeffery of Aiken's district was a weekend visitor of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Rush. Mr. and Mrs. Murney Jeffery were Sunday dinner guests at the same home.

The many friends of Mr. Fred Wallis were shocked to hear of his sudden death on Friday afternoon. Much sympathy is extended to the family by the community. The funeral service was held on Monday afternoon at the Belleville Burial Funeral Home with Archdeacon Arthur Smith of Belleville, officiating. The floral tributes were many and showed the high esteem in which the deceased was held in this community. A large representation of friends from the district attended. Interment was in Belleville Cemetery.

Service was held at Wesley Church on Sunday afternoon with members from White's Church joining in the service. The Rev. A. C. McCallum officiated and the junior choir assisted with "Breathe on Me Breath of God", as an anthem.

Master Bruce Hunt was a Sunday visitor of his uncle, Master Gary Arnott.

Mr. Ernest Held of Kemptville Agricultural College spent the weekend at his home.

Mr. George Youker, of Belleville, was a Sunday supper guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Jeffery.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Brown, of Belleville, were Sunday tea guests of Mr. and Mrs. D. Bowers and family.

SHANNONVILLE

Shannonville. — Recently the ladies of the Home and School Association entertained 49 children to a party in the school room. They played all sorts of games after which refreshments were served.

Euchre Party

The monthly euchre of the Home and School Association was held in the school room on Friday evening, with seven tables playing. Prizes were awarded to ladies, Mrs. Bruce Reid, Mrs. Percy Howard. Mrs. Walter Brant; men, Messrs. Gerald Louis, Fred Thompson, Albert Reid. Lone hand prize went to J. Jerome, who had five lone hands.

Miss Margaret White, who is with the Bell Telephone Co., Toronto, is spending her vacation at her home here.

Mr. Vack [illegible], of Gracefield, Quebec, has weekended in the [illegible]

Mrs. [illegible] Terrington entertained friends to dinner on Wednesday evening in honor of her mother, Mrs. J. Larone's birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Vivian were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Keirl.

Mrs. E. Farnsworth of Belleville, visited recently with Mrs. John Wilson and Mr. Harry Farnsworth.

Mrs. John Alfred, who underwent a serious operation in the Belleville Hospital, has returned to her home.

Mrs. Clarence Mastin attended the funeral of her aunt, the late Mrs. J. Simpson, at Moneymore, on Saturday.

Mrs. Earl Thompson, who is employed in Picton, spent the weekend at her home here.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wilson were recent guests of their nephew and niece, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Moyes, Belleville.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hagerman, Avondale, were guests of the latter's mother, Mrs. E. Larone, on Saturday.

Mrs. M. Davis and Rocky, of Belleville, spent Wednesday with Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Johnston.

Mrs. Allen Baldwin, Toronto, has been the guest of her mother, Mrs. B. Hinchey.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Burrows and Mrs. Irene Raney, were Sunday dinner guests of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Burrows, Belleville.

The Home and School Sewing Circle met at the home of Mrs. A. Kilburn on Monday evening, with eight members present. Arrangements were made for a Valentine tea to be held at the home of Mrs. Jerry Dafoe, on Tuesday, February 13, from 2:30 to 4:30, with euchre during the evening. At the close of the business meeting the hostess served dainty refreshments after which the ladies continued their sewing.

Mrs. Isabel Topping and Frances, spent several days at the home of the former's daughter, Mrs. Ridley Wallbridge, and Mr. Wallbridge.

6TH SIDNEY

6th Sidney—Mrs. Vera Sine of Stirling, spent the weekend with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Sine.

Mrs. J. A. Lott was a supper guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Chapman, Belleville, on Saturday.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Carr, on the arrival of a baby boy.

Mr. William Dafoe is visiting his brother, and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Dafoe.

Master Marshall Wick, of the O.S.D., Belleville, spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Faul.

Miss Ann Farmer spent the weekend with Miss Joanne Purvis.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Coulter entertained about twenty friends on Friday evening. All report a very pleasant evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Scott attended the funeral of the late Mr. Gerald Armstrong, on Monday afternoon at the Rowe Funeral Home, Frankford.

Miss Rhea Rose and friend of Frankford, were Sunday evening guests of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Rose.

Mr. and Mrs. Adrin Babcock and daughter, of Frankford, were Sunday supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Scott.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Sine were Sunday supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Bird, 4th Sidney.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross Dafoe and Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Lott were Sunday supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Carman Frost.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Richards and family, were Sunday afternoon callers of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Sine and Mr. Egbert Sine.

Mrs. S. W. Lloyd, 4th Sidney, is spending a few days at the home of Mr. Ross Dafoe.

Mrs. J. A. Loucks is spending a few weeks with friends in Belleville.

The NAVEL means NO SEEDS!

Only Navel Oranges are truly seedless! No seeds means no waste . . . no straining . . . quick to serve.

Sunkist

CALIFORNIA Navel ORANGES

FIRST FOR JUICE—and Every use!

At Your BELLEVILLE BIG INDEPENDENT GROCERS

Fresh Fruits & Vegetables

Oranges, Lemons, Grapefruit, Celery, Lettuce, Carrots, Cabbage, Turnips, Onions, Brussel Sprouts, Potatoes, etc.

— At Latest Market Prices —

Green Giant Corn Niblets

2 14 oz. tins 35c

LIBBY'S COOKED Spaghetti 2 15 oz. tins 27c

HABITANT Pea Soup 2 28 oz. tins 31c

FANCY PINK Salmon ½ lb. tin 27c

BRUNSWICK SARDINES - 2 Tins 17c

CATELLI READY-CUT MACARONI - 16-oz. Package 16c

KRAFT DINNER - - - Package 14c

LIBBY'S SAUERKRAUT - 2 28-oz. Tins 35c

RICE - - - - Pound 19c

VELVET CAKE AND PASTRY FLOUR 5 lb. bag 39c

Heinz TOMATO KETCHUP 13 oz. bottle 25c

The NEW MAPLE LEAF SOAP FLAKES Family Pkg. $1.02

Interlake Merlaka TOILET TISSUE 2 rolls 27c

SUCCESS LIQUID WAX - - - Pint 63c

DOMESTIC SHORTENING - - - Pound 37c

CATARACT CHOICE DESSERT PEARS - - - 2 15-oz. Tins 37c

SHREDDED WHEAT - - - 2 Packages 31c

Heinz TOMATO SOUP 2 10 oz. tins 25c

COLGATE BEAUTY SOAP 2 bars 19c

DOLE'S FRUIT COCKTAIL - - - - 20-oz. Tin 37c

AUSTRALIAN SULTANA RAISINS - - - - Pound 20c

ROYAL YORK SHELLED WALNUTS - - - - 4-oz. Package 25c

MOP HANDLES - - - - - Each 30c

POST'S SUGAR CRISP PUFFED WHEAT - - - 2 11½-oz. Packages 37c

QUAKER CORNMEAL - - - - Package 22c

PITTED DATES - - - - - 1 Pound Package 24c

NEILSON'S COCOA - - - ½ Pound 29c - Pound 49c

ROBIN HOOD GINGERBREAD MIX - - - - Package 31c

JELLO JELLY POWDERS - - - 3 Packages 29c

LIGHT BULBS - - - 25, 40, 50 Watt 18c 100 Watt 21c

BON AMI (Cake or Powder) - - - - Each 15c

DRANO - - - - - - Tin 29c

REDNER'S GROCETERIA
REDNERSVILLE Phone Mt. View 43-R-2

H. HALES
OLIVE STREET Phone 1635

COLLINS' GROCETERIA
225 Station St. Phone 540

R. J. GOODFELLOW
89 Bridge St. West Phone 218Y

DUCETTE GENERAL STORE
FOXBORO Phone 175-J-3

F. WINDSOR & SON
CANNIFTON Phone 732

WRIGHT'S FOOD MARKET
84 WEST MOIRA ST. Phone 1195

RAYMOND'S GROCERY
87 N. FRONT ST. Phone 3572

PRINGLE'S GROCERY
CATHARINE & OCTAVIA Phone 474

McEVOY'S MARKETERIA
1 MOIRA ST. E. Phone 570

R. G. COULTER
109 N. FRONT ST. Phone 1112

WIMS GROCERY
165 BRIDGE ST. E. Phone 46

O. HALES
Phone 3 Phone 1864
141 VICTORIA AVE.

MITCHELL'S FOOD MARKET
ROSSMORE Phone 37-R-11, Mt. View

HARRY ALLEN
54 DUNDAS ST. Phone 1440

E. A. RIDLEY
113 VICTORIA AVE. Phone 438

New, white, pleasantly perfumed

Colgate Beauty Soap

COLGATE... leaves your skin with a lingering, lovable fragrance.

COLGATE... Beauty Soap's rich creamy lather leaves your skin really clean, soft.

COLGATE... soothes your skin with lanolin and cold cream.

Colgate Beauty Soap

Sani-Flush CLEANS TOILET BOWLS WITHOUT SCOURING

SANI-FLUSH Tin - - 29c

Super Suds

SUPER SUDS lge. pkg. 40c

SECOND SECTION

The Ontario Intelligencer

PAGES 11 to 20

BELLEVILLE, ONTARIO, THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 8, 1951

Little Chance United Nations Will Apply Sanctions Against Communist China at Session

Lake Success, N. Y., Feb. 8 — (CP) — The chances of the United Nations adopting or applying sanctions against communist China appear small.

The United States has not abandoned its original proposal for a study of possible economic and diplomatic sanctions, but is not pressing for an immediate meeting of the 14-member collective measures committee, of which Canada is a member.

The group may meet next week. Informed sources say, when all members have designated their representatives. Canada will be represented by E. G. Riddell, head of the permanent Canadian delegation.

Secretary - General Trygve Lie is expected to have all the names by next week, to call the first of the meeting provided for in the American resolution adopted last week by the General Assembly which branded communist China as aggressor in Korea.

Britain has taken the most outspoken position against study or application of sanctions now. Sir Gladwyn Jebb, British delegate, told the Security Political committee that no sanctions should be applied until all chances of negotiation with red China are exhausted.

The Canadian view is understood to be that the collective measures committee can act as a brake rather than a spark to any rash sanctions moves.

The United States is understood to have a plan of action for the group which would entail splitting it up into three sub-committees to study economic, diplomatic and "other" possible sanctions.

May Refuse

The full committee will comprise Britain, the United States, France, Australia, Belgium, Brazil, Burma, Canada, Egypt, Mexico, the Philippines, Turkey, Venezuela, and Yugoslavia. Even before the committee is called together, it is expected that Burma and Yugoslavia, who opposed the U. S. resolution branding red China as aggressor, may refuse to take part.

The position of the American delegation is interpreted to be one of insisting on U. N. sanctions study — in the light of American public opinion's demand for action — while realizing that there is little possibility of getting enough U. N. support for sanctions.

The League of Nations encountered difficulties in dealing with sanctions. The league in 1933 condemned Japan for aggression in Manchuria, but did not go on to impose sanctions.

Warden Blames Douks for Fire In Compound

New Westminster, B.C., Feb. 7— (CP)—The prison warden today blamed "rampaging Doukhobors" for a $20,000 fire in a compound at the Federal Penitentiary here.

The fire which followed an explosion early last night swept a one-storey administration building, housing an office and hospital ward.

Doukhobors are obviously to blame," said Warden R. S. Douglass, "I'll hold an immediate investigation."

He said when prison firefighters reached the scene hoses had been sliced in half, and the building was a mass of flames.

About 100 Doukhobors, serving long-term sentences for arson and bombing raids in the Kootenays, were held in the compound.

Douglass said he will investigate the possibility that a time bomb may have been planted in a storeroom.

The Doukhobors had access to the room during the day, but not at night," he said.

Four patients in the hospital ward were carried to safety by firemen. None was injured.

Twenty of the Doukhobors, members of the militant Sons of Freedom, helped battle the fire while the others were herded against a prison fence under guard.

New Westminster firemen aided prison firefighters in quelling the blaze.

The main penitentiary building, housing hundreds of prisoners, was not in danger.

Sabotaged hoses, however, slowed the firemen long enough for the flames to engulf the compound.

Falls Down Manhole Looking for Hat

Toronto, Feb. 8 —(CP)— William Brown saw his hat blow down a manhole into the Toronto subway yesterday.

Then he fell down the manhole himself looking for it.

All he suffered in the fall were cuts and bruises.

The hat was recovered.

LUNAR OCCULTATION

Toronto, Feb. 8.— (CP) That "big diamond" many Western Ontario residents saw hanging on the moon last night wasn't a chunk of the earth blown sky-high by atom bomb tests.

Dunlop Observatory said the unusually big star was a "lunar occultation of Venus" and caused when the moon came between the earth and Venus at 6.49 p. m. Immediately before this Venus looked particularly bright and very near.

The observatory spokesman said lunar occultations were fairly rare and that another could not be spected this year or next with Venus. It might happen with several other bright stars, however.

BABY SCALDED

Lindsay, Feb. 8 — (CP) — A three-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fergus Cuddihy was treated for a scalded face yesterday after she pulled a hose from a washing-machine.

Election Creeps Into Debate In Saskachewan

(By The Canadian Press)

The first talk of election to creep into debate in legislatures across Canada has come from Saskatchewan.

In Regina yesterday, Premier T. C. Douglas indicated he would be prepared to call a provincial election, if necessary, on the issue of the C.C.F. party's foreign policy.

The C.C.F. premier said he felt the people of Saskatchewan would fight to defend freedom but were not prepared "to send their sons to be slaughtered in foreign fields to bolster up discredited regimes."

"I'm so confident that the people of Saskatchewan want peace with justice that I, for one, am prepared, if it's necessary, to test opinion of the people of this province on this very important question."

The last election in Saskatchewan was in 1948 and the life of the present legislature still has another year to run. There was no indication whether Mr. Douglas was hinting at the possibility of a vote this year.

While the Saskatchewan house was discussing foreign policy, legislatures in three other provinces were dealing with domestic issues.

In Ontario, R. Ballie, C.C.F. and official opposition leader, launched the Throne Speech debate with a motion of non-confidence in the Progressive Conservative government of Premier Leslie Frost.

The motion charged the government with failure to hold a provincial-municipal conference on municipal tax needs, to promise improvement in farm marketing legislation, failure to produce a plan to remedy the breakdown of the federal-provincial housing program, and failure to cease wasting the natural resources of the province.

In Quebec, the discussion centred on the college last week of the Duplessis bridge with loss of four lives.

Premier Maurice Duplessis accused George Marler, Liberal house leader, of seeking to "poison public opinion" by demanding an inquiry into the disaster.

The premier reiterated that it is his "sincere belief" that sabotage was behind the collapse of the eastern end of the bridge.

He said he favors a complete inquiry into the affair but that investigations must await inspection of destroyed sections of the bridge when they are raised from the frozen St. Maurice River.

Debate on the Liberal motion for an inquiry was adjourned by Henri Vachon, Union Nationale member for Wolfe. The adjournment was expected to be indefinite.

In Winnipeg, Premier Douglas Campbell announced that the Manitoba government will take over the Winnipeg Electric Company as part of a plan to "equalize" the cost of power in the province.

The premier, who draws most of his legislature from the Liberal-Progressive party, outlined a plan to beat a developing power shortage.

Traffic Officer Struck by Car At Intersection

Toronto, Feb. 8. (CP)—Philip E. Smith, of suburban Lansing, was arrested Tuesday night on charges of leaving the scene of an accident, not reporting an accident and careless driving, following a rush-hour traffic mixup at the north-end corner of Eglinton Avenue and Oriole Parkway.

Constable Walter McLean, on traffic duty at the intersection, was taken to hospital with arm injuries after he was hit by an automobile police identified Smith as the driver.

Increase 11 Scarce Raw Materials Asked

Washington, Feb. 8. (AP)—The United States, France and Britain have invited about 20 western countries to join in setting up international machinery to increase production of 11 scarce raw materials and allocate their use.

The countries invited, which represent the chief producers and consumers, will be asked to set up six international agencies to deal with these raw materials: cotton, wool, sulphur, copper, lead and zinc, tungsten and molybdenum and manganese, nickel and cobalt.

The invitations mark the first concrete step toward a return to wartime allocations groups which tried to distribute svailable supplies fairly among all nations needing them.

PERSONAL CHOICE

The chemistry of each person's skin slightly changes the character of perfumes.

Conservatives Seek Censure Vote on Govt's Handling Of Critical Meat Shortage

London, Feb. 8 (AP) — The Conservatives, seizing on the unpopularity of Britain's almost-meatless larder, today sought a parliamentary censure vote on the Labor government's handling of the present critical meat shortage.

It was the third attack against Prime Minister Attlee's government in a week. Winston Churchill's Conservatives failed by 10 votes last night in an attempt to overthrow the cabinet on the issue of steel nationalization. Last week Labor withstood a Tory attack on the current coal shortage.

Conservative strategy apparently is based on a belief that if the government holding office by only a slim majority can be unseated and new elections held, the temper of the electorate will favor a Conservative victory.

Attlee's Socialists, confident after victory on the steel nationalization ballot, predicted they also would win on the meat issue.

However the national outcry over the fresh meat ration, sharply cut recently to eightpence (about 10 cents) a week a person, is causing admitted concern at Labor Party headquarters.

For weeks Britain's newspapers have lashed the government for failure to provide enough meat. Housewives and butchers have staged demonstrations and petitioned the government.

Supplies from Argentina—Britain's chief meat source—tapered off last June. The two countries have been haggling ever since over prices.

The Independent Times, in an editorial typical of the national press, said: "The ministers would be more than foolish if they merely tried yet again to justify the inexcusable miscalculations which have brought the meat ration to the lowest level yet endured in this country."

By the vote the Conservatives apparently lost their last chance to block the measure in parliament. Some 52 iron and steel firms are due to pass into government hands February 15.

Canadian Banks Said Safest

Winnipeg, (CP) — Canadian banks are the safest in the world, says Rev. William McWalter. They are never likely to go broke.

And Father McWalter ought to know. He was a bank inspector before his ordination.

Now bursar of St. Paul's College here, Father McWalter addressed a meeting of the National Office Management Association. His subject was a "Banker's Place in Business".

He says many Hollywood actors have savings accounts in Canadian banks because they offer a greater measure of security.

Trudeau Motors Limited

THE HOME OF

Trudeau True-Value USED CARS

Every car is tested and cleaned. Repairs made to motor, chassis, brakes, steering, tires, etc. Frame and body work done. Then we affix our "Trudeau Warranty" to the windshield, designating the car, truck, or Tractor as a True Value unit.

REMEMBER: TRUDEAU CARS ARE — SELECTED —RECONDITIONED
— GUARANTEED

CHECK THIS LIST:—

1950 PLYMOUTH SPECIAL DELUXE SEDAN
Surf Green. Air conditioning. Sun Visor. Slip Covers. Company Demonstrator. Driven less than 5,000 miles.
1949 DODGE BUSINESS COUPE
1949 MERCURY 4-DOOR SEDAN
1949 PLYMOUTH SPECIAL DELUXE SEDAN
Air Conditioning. Radio.
1949 HILLMAN 4-DOOR SEDAN
1949 PLYMOUTH SPECIAL DEL. CLUB COUPE
1948 CHEVROLET DELUXE 4-DOOR SEDAN
1948 PLYMOUTH SPECIAL DELUXE COACH
1948 MERCURY DELUXE COACH
1948 AUSTIN 4-DOOR SEDAN

— Trucks —

1950 FARGO ½-TON EXPRESS. New.
1949 DODGE ½-TON EXPRESS
1949 FARGO ½-TON EXPRESS
1948 MERCURY ½-TON PANEL
1947 FORD ½-TON PANEL
1946 DODGE 1-TON PANEL
1947 FARGO ½-TON EXPRESS
1946 FARGO ½-TON EXPRESS
1938 DODGE 2-TON STAKE

AND OVER 100 OTHER SELECTED USED CARS TO CHOOSE FROM.

If we do not have the car you want in our Belleville stock—we may have it in our stock at

NAPANEE — PICTON — STIRLING or TWEED

25 YEARS SERVING THE PEOPLE OF THIS AREA.

Trudeau MOTORS LIMITED SALES and SERVICE

31-41 Station St. BELLEVILLE 125 Front St.

Estate Planning and Administration

Management of Investments entrusted

T. H. DREDGE

LOCAL REPRESENTATIVE

The ROYAL TRUST COMPANY

BELLEVILLE AGENCY

176 GEORGE STREET • TELEPHONE 287

All enquiries and business handled in strictest confidence

IT'S HERE!

THE NEW 1951

LEWYT

VACUUM CLEANER

NO UNHEALTHY LEAKING DUST!

NO TELEVISION INTERFERENCE!

NEW MAGIC "ENERGIZER"!

- 4-WAY FICTERED AIR!—Unhealthy dust can't leak out into air you breathe!
- NEW MAGIC "ENERGIZER" automatically maintains full Cyclonic suction!
- NEW NO. 30 CARPET NOZZLE Gets embedded dirt, even dog hairs . . . with less carpet drag!
- NO DUST BAG TO EMPTY! Lewyt empties as easily as an ash tray!
- IT'S QUIET—NO ROAR! Can't interfere. Hear radio, television as you clean!
- DRAWS PAINT, wrecks Resilenes, de-nushs closets . . . dusts furniture . . . sweeps floors!

NOW-LOW DEAL TERMS! Light, easy to use . . . no storage problems! Costs no more than ordinary vacuum cleaners!

'DO IT with LEWYT'

DAVID'S

ELECTRIC SHOP

340 FRONT STREET

Phone 659

DAVID'S ELECTRIC SHOP
340 Front St., Belleville
Without obligation, I want a free demonstration of the new Lewyt Vacuum Cleaner in my home.
Name.....
Address.....
City..... Prov.
Telephone No.....

OCEANS of VALUES

for Delicious... Nutritious LENTEN MEALS

— FISH —

SMELTS, No. 1	lb 35c
OCEAN PERCH FILLETS	lb 43c
COD FILLETS	lb 38c
HADDOCK FILLETS	lb 48c
SALMON (Sliced)	lb 55c
DRY SALT COD, 1 lb. pkg.	43c

MEAT DEPT.

ROUND or SIRLOIN STEAK	lb 89c
FRESH SIDE PORK	lb 53c
MEATY RIB STEW	lb 41c
LEAN MINCED BEEF	lb 59c

FRESH FRUITS & VEGETABLES

GREEN CELERY (Florida)	2 for 23c
TOMATOES, Mexican Cello.	29c
LETTUCE, Calif. Iceberg	2 for 29c
SPINACH, Cello. Pack	25c
GRAPEFRUIT (dark pink)	4 for 25c
BANANAS (Golden Yellow)	lb 19c
CARROTS (Washed)	3 lb 14c
CABBAGE (firm, hard heads)	ea. 10c
MEXICAN ORANGES	doz. 39c

The finest, juiciest orange today. And at the lowest price. Large, 200 size.

BAKERY DEPARTMENT

MALTED MILK CHOCOLATE CAKES ..... ea. 39c
CHELSEA BUNS ..... ea. 30c
LEMON DONUTS ..... doz. 25c

THE NEXT TIME YOU GO SHOPPING, STOP and LOOK AT OUR BAKERY WINDOW. See the many tempting varieties of baked goods displayed. THEN! Come in and with a single purchase be convinced that our products have that HIGHEST QUALITY combined with the LOWEST PRICES.

Make your Lenten meals delicious and nutritious .. appetizing surprises that are welcome changes in the family's diet. It's easy — and it's economical — when you do your food buying at EMPIRE. It's easy because our shelves and tables are filled with a vast variety of palate pleasing foods for meatless meals. It's economical because we make every price a low price every day.

Values Galore

EXTRA SPECIAL! MEPHISTO WOOD SMOKED SARDINES - - - 2 for 19c (Only While They Last)

GIBSON'S TINTED TISSUE 25c
POPPING CORN, Cello Bag ..... lb 19c
ARTIFICIAL VANILLA (Blue Ribbon) 16-oz. bottle 29c
PICKLES, Sweet Mixed, 16-oz. Jar 25c

SPECIAL! CHOCOLATE MELLOWS - - - per lb. 29c

CANNED TOMATOES. Choice Quality ..... 2 tins 35c
PEAS (Country Kist. 15-oz. tin .. 2 for 25c
CORN, Whole Kernel, 20-oz. tin 19c
CORN, Cream Style, 20-oz. tin ..... 2 for 25c

SPECIAL! SAIR (New Crop) PITTED DATES - - per lb. 19c

CHINESE CHOW MEIN NOODLES 27c
BEAN SPROUTS 29c
For Tasty Gravy, Chow Mein, Soups or Salads
CHOP SUEY VEGETABLES 39c
WAGSTAFF STRAWBERRY JAM 16-oz. Jar 47c
BEETS. (Libby's. Sliced) 20-oz. tin 19c

RED ROSE, High Quality RICE - - - - per lb. 17c

PEACHES. (Aylmer Choice Quality). 20-oz. tin 29c
APPLE SAUCE. (Choice Quality) 20-oz. tin 19c
PEARS. (Choice Quality). 20-oz. tin 24c
TANGERINE JUICE. 20-oz. tin 16c
(5% Sugar.) A delightful, new, tangy citrus fruit juice drink)

CLARK'S PORK & BEANS. In Chili sauce. 15-oz. tin ..... 2 for 25c

EMPIRE GROCETERIA

FREE DELIVERY - TELEPHONE SERVICE - SHOPPING SERVICE

282 FRONT STREET TEL 2866 & 2867

MARSH HILL

United Church Holds Annual Meeting

Marsh Hill—The annual meeting of Marsh Hill United Church was held recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Allyn Finkle, in the form of a pot-luck supper.

The Rev. F. W. Flatt opened the business part of the meeting. The Scripture lesson was read from Romans 12, after which, Mr. David Hollinger, Sunday School superintendent, was in charge of the Sunday School re-organization. An encouraging report was also given by Mr. Berson Mitts, which showed a good balance on hand. The Sunday School had been held 44 times during the year with an average attendance of twenty-one.

Various Reports

Various reports were given by the Missionary secretary, Mrs. E. B. Finkle; by Mrs. Fred Campbell, temperance secretary, and Mr. Walter Lindenfield, teacher of the Adult class. Mr. E. B. Finkle, treasurer, also gave his report, and that of trusteeship by Mr. Berson Mitts, which showed a balance of $62, which accrued from the sale of the old church seats and installation of the new pews. Mr. Leslie Finkle gave the Aid and Mrs. Hazel Mitts and Melindale reported from the W.M.S. and the Baby Band, stating that $26 over the allocation had been sent in; that there are five Life members of the Baby Band. Mrs. Fred Campbell, recording secretary, gave a full report of the work done during the year.

Church Officers

The church officers are as follows—Session, Gardiner Mitts, (honorary elder), Allen Bleecker, Allyn Finkle, W. Lindenfield and Berson Mitts. Committee of Stewards included: Ben Bleecker, F. Campbell, E. B. Finkle, D. Hollinger, Fred Hessman, Roswell Reid and Roscoe Vanderwater. Treasurer, E. B. Finkle; treasurer of the M. and M. Fund, Mr. Leslie Finkle; personage board, Mrs. F. Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Searles, Col. Roscoe Vanderwater; visiting committee, Mrs. Bleecker, Mrs. Searles, Mrs. Bartindale, Mrs. Coulter, Mrs. Campbell and Mrs. Hollinger. The offertory stewards, Allyn Finkle, Dave Hollinger, Garnet Searles and Harry Coulter, Usher, Frank Lough.

Sunday School Officers

The Sunday School officers were —superintendent, Mr. D. Hollinger, assistant superintendent, Mr. Fred Campbell; secretary-treasurer, Lois Mitts, librarians, Doreen Bartindale and Barbara Brown; pianist, Mrs. Mitts; missionary and Home Department, superintendent, Mrs. E. B. Finkle; temperance supt., Mrs. Fred Campbell; teachers, Roxy Bee, Mrs. Berson Mitts and Barbara Brown, assistant; Junior teacher, Mrs. Allyn Finkle, assistant, Leslie Finkle; girls' teacher, Mrs. G. Bartindale; Adult teacher, Mr. W. Lindenfield, assistant, Mr. Berson Mitts.

Mrs. E. B. Finkle was appointed an assistant teacher for the Sunday School.

Mr. Walter Lindenfield spoke briefly, voicing appreciation, on behalf of the congregation to the Rev. and Mrs. Flatt for their leadership, and Mr. W. Lindenfield, on behalf of the congregation, moved a vote of thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Finkle for opening their home for the meeting.

WARN OF EPIDEMIC

Western Front, Korea, Feb. 7—(AP) — An army intelligence source said today a Chinese red army headquarters has been set up in Seoul to warn residents to stay indoors because of an epidemic.

The nature of the disease as not earned, There have been reports, however, that typhus has struck some units of the Chinese communist forces.

OBLIGING 'MURDERER'

A murder scene is acted here with the alleged murderer as the leading man. In one of the most spectacular murder cases in New York State history, Joseph Paoness, 40, shows how he claims to have killed Robert Leonard, 14-year-old schoolboy, whom he lured to an abandoned barn near Poughkeepsie, N.Y. Paoness said he belonged to a German secret society and, in murdering the boy, was obeying the orders of his senior in the society, Alfred von Wolfersdorf, charged with murder along with Paoness. A police officer takes the place of the murdered boy who was found shot through the head. — Central Press Canadian.

CASTLE GHOST

The childhood home of Queen Elizabeth, Glamis Castle, is haunted by the ghost of the White Lady of Glamis."

MELROSE

Melrose — The Junior Farmers sponsored another euchre and dance in the township hall on Wednesday evening and were much pleased with the larger crowd and increased proceeds which they will use to defray rink expenses.

The new skating [illegible] been in the several times [illegible] fore for the young hockey enthusiasts. Many hours of hard labor were required to put it in shape and it is hoped soon fine skating will reward them for their untiring efforts.

Mr. and Mrs. Grant McLaren and Jean and Mr. and Mrs. Jack McLaren and boys visited Mr. and Mrs. Carl Nielsen and family near Kingston on Sunday.

Rev. Mr. Scott spent the Sunday dinner hour with Mr. and Mrs. Wm. McMechan.

Mrs. Clare Weese conducted Mission Band at the school on Friday afternoon from 3:-0 o'clock until 4. An interesting study of Japan is in progress.

Friends are sorry to hear Percy Milligan has frozen his toe and will have to stay off it for a few days.

Township council met in the hall on Monday afternoon. Nomination will be held on the 12th for the purpose of filling the chair left vacant by the death of the late John S. Meagher.

The Farm Forum met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hagerman on Monday evening.

SMALL PROTECTORATE

The Swaziland protectorate north of the Union of South Africa has an area of 6,705 square miles.

MARMORA

Marmora — Miss Veronica Shannon, of Peterborough, spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Shannon.

Miss Mary E. Byrnes, of Notre Dame convent, Kingston, spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Paquet.

Michael Forestell, of Peterborough, spent the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Forestell.

Miss Dorothy Forestell Reg. N., of Kingston, spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Forestell.

Miss Vera Doyle, of Fenelon Falls, spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Doyle.

Norman Sopha, of Unionville, is visiting his mother, Mrs. C. Henderson.

Lenten services are being held at St. Paul's on Wednesday evenings, commencing on Ash Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. William Linton, of Barrie, spent the weekend with Mrs. Jacob Wilkes.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Phillips, of Peterborough, spent the weekend with relatives here.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Archer and daughter Linda, of Peterborough, spent the weekend with relatives here.

Mr. and Mrs. Eric Bedore and son Gary of Havelock, spent the weekend with relatives here.

Mrs. J. Clairmont visited her husband in St. Joseph's Hospital, Peterborough, on Saturday.

Miscellaneous Shower

A miscellaneous shower was tendered Mr. and Mrs. James M. Thompson (nee Theresa Lajoie) in Sacred Heart Hall on Friday evening. The evening was spent in dancing and refreshments were served. The young couple were the recipients of many useful and attractive gifts from their friends for which they expressed their appreciation and thanks.

ALLAN'S MILLS

Allan's Mill—Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Barlow were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Reg McGee, at Harold

Mr. and Mrs. Neil Payne and Brenda, of Trenton, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Bateman.

Mr. Lindsay Anderson attended the Holstein Friesian Association Convention in Toronto, this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. McKeown, of Sine, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Barnum.

Mr. and Mrs Sanford Meikle-john spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Roy Fry.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Barnum and family, visited Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Webb, on Sunday.

Miss Lenora Bateman of Belleville, spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Bateman.

Mrs. Charles Nobes and Mrs. Annie Fox are spending some time with Mr. and Mrs. Percy Bateman.

Mr. and Mrs. Don McKeown and Kenneth, of Foxboro, were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fred McKeown.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Case and Sharon, of Toronto, spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Barnum and on Saturday they motored to Kingston and spent the day with Dr. and Mrs. J. S. Loynes.

Mr. Elwood Irwin of Picton, spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Irwin.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Anderson, of Peterborough, were weekend guests of Mrs. Lillis Anderson and Eldon Anderson.

Miss Helen Poste of Stirling, was a recent guest of Margaret Spencer.

Mr. and Mrs. John Stewart spent last week with Mr. and Mrs. Bill Donaldson of Peterborough.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Fry, Connie, Shane and Bernie Fry, on Sunday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Craighead at Norham.

Mr. Lloyd Finch has accepted a position at General Motors, Oshawa, and left to take up his duties.

Mr. Charles Stewart underwent an operation in the Belleville General Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Spencer visited Mr. and Mrs. P. Mumby, of Springbrook.

On Thursday afternoon about 25 ladies of the Rylestone Women's Institute and community, met at the home of Mrs. Ernest Irwin to quilt a quilt to be sold later in aid of Campbellford Memorial Hospital. When the quilt was finished dainty refreshments were served by Mrs. Irwin.

Doug Morton has returned to work after being laid up with an injured ankle, when he was struck by part of the hay baler, while at work.

Born—On Saturday, February 3rd., to Mr. and Mrs. Gerald McFaul, a daughter.

On Wednesday evening, the ladies of St. Mark's W.A. served an oyster supper in the Parish Hall of St. Mark's Anglican Church to a record crowd from several districts. After a sumptuous supper 13 tables of progressive euchre were played.

Several from this vicinity attended the dancing on Friday evening in Springbrook hall, sponsored by the L.O.L. Mr. Don Reid won the clock and Mr. Wells held the lucky ticket on the comforter.

KEEPING PACE WITH ADVANCING U.N. TROOPS

This dramatic view of a jagged Korean mountainside—nature's roadblock in Korea—shows how the C-119 Flying Boxcars of the U.S. 315th Air Division are playing such an important part in the problem of supplying front line troops of the United Nations with food, ammunition and fuel. Over terrain like this, no other means of transport could keep pace with advancing United Nations troops, who are reported to be fighting within five miles of Seoul. — Central Press Canadian.

FEBRUARY SALE EXTRA!

It's Krochler!

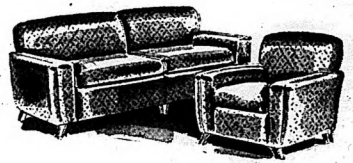
Smart

2 PC. MODERN SUITE

IN FINE FIGURED FRIEZE

229.00

A REAL BUY! Its superbly tailored by Kroehler —in figured Frieze, Full Kroehler "Cushionized" Construction. Double springs throughout, loose reversible cushion seats, generously proportioned. Here's a suite with years and years of comfort and good looks, at a low price now that will amaze you.



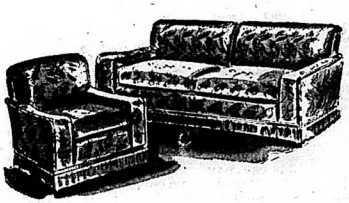
Sumptuous 2 Pc.

KROEHLER SOFA-BED

WITH DEEP FRINGE BASE

298.00

Built for luxurious living at a budget price. Transform your living room by day into a comfortable bedroom at night. The Kroehler sofa-bed opens out into a full size bed. "Cushionized" construction gives maximum comfort. Covered in a good wearing wine frieze sofa and lounge chair.



Many other living room suite values to choose from now!

3 PC. LUXURY SUITE

IN FINE LONG WEARING FLORAL DESIGNED VELOUR

229.00

A SUPER VALUE — covered in fine, good wearing velour — the aristocrat of upholstery materials. The pieces are long and luxurious with deep spring filled cushions, and wide arms. Careful tailoring and craftsmanship assure lasting beauty and the handsome styling will command admiration.

EASY CREDIT TERMS ON ANY PURCHASE.
WE INVITE YOU TO OPEN AN ACCOUNT.

380 FRONT ST.

PERCIVAL'S

380 FRONT ST.

Famous for Flavor

Tender Leaf Tea with the "little top leaves"

Millions prefer its tempting goodness . . . Its full "second-cup" strength.

Get Tender Leaf Tea today.

BEST OF THE LOT? - - - By Alan Mayer

Distributed by King Features Syndicate

Joe DiMaggio Signs Contract For $100,000

New York, Feb. [illegible] (CP)—Joe DiMaggio, the [illegible]-dollar centrefielder of the New York Yankees, and Billy Kell, left-handed first baseman for Detroit Tigers, have signed their 1951 contracts, but many of baseball's stars remain out of the fold.

DiMaggio yesterday accepted his third straight $100,000 contract via telephone from his San Francisco home. Kell, after turning down two proposals, came into the fold at Detroit for an estimated $40,000,* a $7,000 raise over his 1950 salary. Kell is the highest-paid Tiger player.

The capitulation of DiMaggio leaves only Ted Williams of Boston Red Sox and Stan Musial of St. Louis Cardinals among the upper-bracket players unsigned. Ralph Kiner of Pittsburgh is working on the last half of a two-year contract calling for $65,000 a season. Williams is expected to sign at the same terms he worked under last year, a reported $125,-000. Musial is said to be holding for $100,000.

Other stars in the gilt-edge brackets who have not signed include Johnny Sain of Boston, Preacher Roe of Brooklyn, Andy Pafko of Chicago, Larry Jansen of New York, Robin Roberts of Philadelphia, Wally Westlake of Pittsburgh and Howie Pollet of St. Louis in the Redbird camp.

Many Not Signed

In the American League, such stars as Dom DiMaggio of Boston, Bob Lemon of Cleveland, Virgil Trucks of Detroit, Yogi Berra of New York, Ferris Fain of Philadelphia, Ned Garver of St. Louis and Eddie Yost of Washington have not signed.

The Cardinals continue to encounter difficulties lining up their veteran crew. Ted Wilks, portly relief pitcher who pitched only 24 innings last year, balked at signing a conditional contract calling for $1.

Card owner Fred Saigh said he had offered to pay Wilks 75 per cent of his $17,500 salary provided Ted shows enough during spring training. Saigh also revealed that pitchers Red Munger and Howie Pollet are dissatisfied. Other Card regulars unsigned include Enos Slaughter and Red Schoendienst.

Other players signed yesterday include infielder Bob Ramazzotti, Chicago Cubs; pitchers Max Surkont and Bilx Donnelly, Philadelphia Phils; catcher Burris Hester, Boston; infielder Johnny Pesky, Boston Red Sox; and infielder Hank Adams and pitcher Bob Sanders, Cincinnati.

Pappas Bills Edge B.C.I. in Exhibition Tilt

By Don Dolan

In an abbreviated exhibition basketball game played before a large crowd in Memorial at B.C.I. gym, last night, the Pappas Billiards (who play Brockville at 8.30 tonight) edged "Red" Townsend's scrappy B.C.I. Seniors 35-34.

The game as a whole was very well played and it produced numerous basketball thrills. Neither had more than a five point lead at any one time in a game which saw first one team, then the other surge into the lead.

Despite suffering this setback, coach Townsend's team put on a real showing with their fast breaking style on offense and a tight man to man defence featuring their play. This was by far the best game played by B.C.I. seniors this season. The team has improved tremendously over the past two weeks and by the time March 17 rolls around it should be in tip-top shape to provide Belleville with a team that will be a strong contender for the C.O.S.S.A. title.

Come From Behind

The victorious Pappas crew put up a real battle in winning this game. They came from behind on numerous occasions and put on a great defensive display near the end of the game when B.C.I. threatened to tie the score.

Tonight in the B.C.I. gym at 8.30 this same Pappas Billiards team will play Brockville Intermediates in an O.B.A. Bridgedown fixture. This will be the second game in a home-and-home total points to count series. Last Monday night at Brockville, the locals were beaten by thirteen points. However the Pappas squad is confident that they can overcome this lead and emerge victorious.

Basketball interest has been revived all over Canada, so why not here in Belleville. Come out and show the players that you are solidly behind them and cheer them on in their drive toward the Ontario title.

In last night's game Bill Spafford turned in a great effort for the winners. Around this player is built the team's offensive and defensive strength. "Spaff" ably directing control of the ball, managed to score eight points. Kip Summers and Lloyd Fenner also contributed eight points for the Pappas team.

Keith Cameron and Harry led the B.C.I. scorers with eight points apiece. Davis scored two field goals and hit four consecutive times from the free throw line. Dowsett and McClay played well for the losing BCI quintet.

Pappas Billiard, 35—Ketcheson 1, Pappas, Massey 2, Faulkner 8, Scrymgeour 2, Spafford 8, Summers 8, Dudley 4, Watkins 2.

B. C. I. Seniors, 34—McClay 7, Soule 4, Muirhead 3, Dowsett, Doolan, Davis 8, Cameron 8, McBride 2, Barclay, McBrien, Gray 2, Kane.

B.C.I. Seconds Win First Game Of Season 28-23

By Don Dolan

It has finally happened.

Yesterday at the BCI gym, the BCI II won their first game of the season by downing OSD juniors 28-23.

Although they have dropped seven of the eight games in which they have played, this team deserves a tremendous amount of credit. It must be remembered that every one of these boys is under 16 years of age and for any of them, this is the first year which they have ever played basketball. The BCI II's were entered into a league in which the age limit is under seventeen. Also most of the players against whom they compete have had previous experience in organized basketball. Even with such a handicap, these youngsters have come through in fine fashion. True they have lost seven out of eight but in three of these games the margin of defeat was by only a few points. Yesterday's victory was just a reward for the persistence and many hours of practise.

Deadlocked at Half Time

As for the game itself, the play for the first half was close and at half time the score was deadlocked at 13 points apiece.

In the second half with the score tied, Soule, a BCI player made a play which nearly cost his team the game. Soule pilfered the ball, raced in toward the basket and scored what he thought was two points for his team. However, much to his dismay, he shot the ball into the wrong basket.

The BCI team recovered quickly from this mistake and went on to edge the visitors 28-23.

Jack Doig led the BCI scorers by dumping in seven points. Next in line with six points were Campbell and Gault. Batchelor, Campbell and Rowan played the major roles in BCI's controlling of the ball.

Two OSD players Klym and Wilson were outstanding both in their scoring and ball handling point of view. Elliott also was well for the losers.

BCI II—23: Doig 7, Wagar 2, Varcoe, Batchelor, Campbell 6, Yates, Annis, Rowan 2, Gault 6, Murray, Soule 1, Cornell 2.

OSD—23: Baskerville, De Rose, Eliott 4, Pelkey, Klym 9, Mahlapine, Munroe 1, Wilson 5, Harris.

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT

(By The Associated Press)

Miami, Fla.: Joe Louis, 200, Detroit, outpointed Omello Agramonte, 187, Havana (10).

New York: James CaTer, 135½, New York, outpointed Percy Bassett, Philadelphia (10).

Binghampton, N.Y.: Glen Hendershot, 154½, Endicott, N.Y., outpointed Shamus McCrea, 149, Cleveland (8).

Wichita, Kan.: Andy Anderson, 152, Indianapolis, outpointed Bill Sudduth, 150, Topeka, Kan. (10).

New York: Herbie McMullin, 137½, Halifax, decisioned George Tedesco, 139½, New York (4).

Louis Decisions Agramonte In Ten Rounds

Miami, Fla., Feb. 8 (AP) —Joe Louis, obviously pleased with his 10-round decision over Cuban heavyweight Omello Agramonte, leaves for San Francisco today to fight Andy Walker in what he hopes is the last stepping stone to a title fight.

The 36-year-old Brown Bomber, lacking the viciousness that earned him the world's championship over a decade ago, failed to stop the elusive Cuban with a knockout blow, but finished the active three-minute rounds in good physical condition. Louis weighed 209; Agramonte 187.

His disappointment of not, keeping the Cuban from either by the fact he was able to turn on full steam in the final round and still feel fresh.

Agramonte, figured to hit the canvas in four rounds or less, gave the ex-champion a surprisingly good fight and managed to bang on as Louis pounded Billiken in the fourth and 10th rounds in knockout attempts.

In the fourth Louis came out for the kill. He hit the dancing Cuban with rights and lefts and in mid-round the Cuban staggered under a vicious left to the head. When it appeared Louis had his victim, the bell ended the round and Agramonte came out in the fifth to strike back hard.

Louis Draws Blood

Louis tried again for the knockout in the eighth. His short lefts to the Cuban's mouth drew blood and Agramonte's right eye began to swell.

It was then that Agramonte took up his retreating tactics, running from Louis and when cornered throwing his arms about the Brown Bomber until separated by the referee.

Louis fully intended to kayo the Cuban in the 10th but was frustrating by Agramonte's clinch methods.

Later in the dressing room, Louis, admitting that his timing was a little off, insisted he was "just about ready" to meet champion Ezzard Charles in a title match.

Last night's fight was staged before 13,640 paid customers in Miami Stadium.

During a preliminary bout a section of the bleachers seating 60 persons collapsed. Seven persons suffered minor cuts and scratches. The gate was $33,332.50.

TWO SCORE HEAT WINS

Toronto, Feb. 8 — (CP) Soldier Boy, owned by Wells and Hess of Morrisburg, Ont., and driven by Percy Robillard and Tim Worthy, owned by S. F. Love of Milton, Ont., and driven by Keith Waples, scored heat victories in the featured fifth event at Dufferin Park Wednesday.

In the first heat Tim Worthy allowed to settle in back of the pace in the early stages came fast with the final quarter of a mile to edge Langhorne in a driving finish. The latter finished second, Scotty H. was third.

Soldier Boy made his back stretch war cry in the lead, drew clear and won driving over Scotty H. The latter reached the lead briefly but could not hold that position. Langhorne finished third.

Governors May Shorten Schedule To Sixty Games

Detroit, Feb. 8—(AP)—President Clarence Campbell of the National Hockey League disclosed Wednesday night that the league's board of governors, worried by a decline in attendance, is considering shortening the 70-game schedule.

Campbell, here for a Detroit-Chicago game Wednesday night, said a late survey showed Chicago is down 25 per cent over last year's turnout while Boston and New York each have declines of 15 per cent and Detroit eight per cent.

"We are not convinced that the 70-game season is the perfect answer for the schedule and we are still trying to find a solution," Campbell declared, "and action would not affect this year's schedule.

Campbell added that a full study is being made to find reasons for the box office decline. He said some critics feel the 70-game season should be shortened by 10 games.

Campbell headed for Chicago where he will confer Thursday with Bill Tobin, owner of Chicago Black Hawks. Subject of the discussion will be the conduct of coach Sloska Goodfellow in Saturday's game at Toronto.

"Referee Hugh McLean was reported to have been roughed up by some of the Chicago players and Campbell is conducting a personal investigation.

FAMOUS FAMILY

The first Earl of Derby was created in 1485 in the Stanley family which had been famous for centuries before that.

Hockey's Big Seven

(By The Canadian Press)

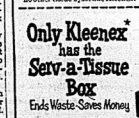
Detroit's Gord Howe scored two goals and assisted on another last night to take a 14-point lead in the National Hockey League's individual scoring race.

Howe's 27 goals, just four less than top goal-getter Maurice Richard of Montreal, and 34 assists —leading the league—give him 61 points. Team-mate Sid Abel and Toronto's Max Bentley are tied in second place with 47 points apiece.

The leaders	G	A	Pts
Howe, Detroit	27	34	61
Abel, Detroit	19	28	47
M. Bentley, Toronto	16	31	47
Richard, Montreal	15	15	46
Lindsay, Detroit	19	26	45
Sloan, Toronto	22	20	42
Schmidt, Boston	18	19	42
R. Conacher, Chicago	23	18	41

Timely Tips by Little Lulu

HOW DO YOU SCORE ON THESE HELPFUL WAYS TO SAVE?



When hanging pictures, what property will you use?
- ☐ Use cellophane tape
- ☐ Wear gloves

What helps keep cake from drying out?
- ☐ An apple
- ☐ The refrigerator
- ☐ Leave it in the kitchen

Protect your walls with a small square of cellophane tape, before hammering. Saves repair bills. And soft, strong Kleenex saves as it serves you, around the house. For dozens of uses—you'll find no other tissue's just like Kleenex!

Only Kleenex has the Serv-a-Tissue Box

Ends Waste-Saves Money

© Canadian Cellucotton Products Co. Ltd. ™T.M. Reg.

Test Shop A&P!

And See If You Don't Agree . . .

That Storewide Low Prices on Hundreds of Items Every Day Save You More Than Just A Few "Week-End Specials"!

Do as many other value-seeking shoppers are doing . . . just shop A&P and see the substantial savings you can make on your total food bill. Here's all you do: Buy a week's supply of food and household needs at A&P, add up your itemized cash register slips; compare the total with your usual weekly food bill. You'll agree that A&P's Price Policy is a marvelous money-saver!

All prices shown here, not merely grocery prices, are guaranteed—Thursday, February 8 thru Wednesday, February 14.

Customers' Corner

Did you ever hear of "quality control"?

At A&P this means that we set high quality standards for the food we sell . . . and then we stick to those standards through thick and thin.

You won't find us lowering our high quality standards because anything happens to be scarce, or because we want to put on a "bargain" sale.

That is why you can shop at A&P, day in and day out, with complete confidence that if, for any reason, you are not satisfied with any purchase, your money will be cheerfully refunded.

We will be grateful for any suggestions you may have that will help us maintain our high quality standards. Please write

Customer Relations Dept.
A&P Food Stores,
125 Langdon Ave., Toronto, Ontario.

A&P Fruits & Vegetables

Florida, Washed "Red Blush", No. 1

New Potatoes Imported New Crop Fresh, Full Pods, No. 1	3 lbs 25c
Green Peas Ontario Grown Cooking, Large No. 1	2 lbs 23c
Onions Ontario Grown, Washed and Waxed, No. 1	10-lb bag 29c
Turnips Imported, Fresh, Size 300, No. 1	4 lbs 4c
Lemons Native Grown, New Crop, No. 1	17c doz
Rhubarb	19c lb

A&P's Price Policy

- Storewide low prices on hundreds of items every day . . . instead of just a few "one-day" or "week-end" specials.
- All advertised prices are guaranteed for one week, even though market prices go up.
- We believe this policy helps our grocery sales move more money.
- With the correct price marked on every item, plus an itemized cash register slip . . . you know what you save at A&P.

"SUPER-RIGHT" MEATS

DESPITE RISING BEEF PRICES A&P WILL NOT DEVIATE FROM ITS PRESENT POLICY OF CARRYING ONLY THE HIGHEST GRADES OF GOVERNMENT BRAND BEEF, RED AND BLUE BRAND WILL BE OFFERED ONLY TO OUR CUSTOMERS.

A&P OFFERS YOU THE FOLLOWING TO HELP KEEP WITHIN A FOOD BUDGET AND STILL PROVIDE WHOLESOME, NOURISHING MEALS FOR YOUR FAMILY.

Stewing Beef Lean Boneless	lb 69c
Beef Kidneys	lb 31c
Pork Kidneys	lb 25c
Breakfast Bacon Smoked Sliced, lb 57c	Rindless, lb 63c
Pork Liver Sliced	lb 33c
Flat Rib Brisket Red or Blue Brand Beef	lb 43c
Minced Beef Extra Lean, Red or Blue Brand Beef	lb 63c
Eviscerated	lb 69c
Legs Thighs & Breasts	lb 89c

Pork Shoulders Smoked Shankless	lb 55c
Sausage Something New—Brookfield	Skinless 1-lb carton 55c
Wings Swift's Premium "Tender Grown" Chickens, Milk Fed Grade "A"	lb 59c
Necks and Backs	lb 19c

LENTEN FISH SUGGESTIONS

Fresh Cod Fillets	lb 35c
Canadian Kippers	lb 27c
Fresh Haddock Fillets lb. 49c	Smoked Fillets lb. 41c
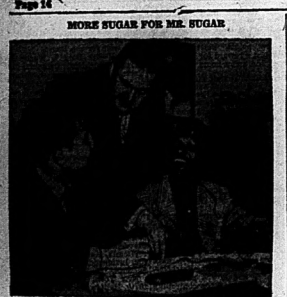
Kraft Dinner A meal for four	2 pkgs 27c
Beans Ann Page, Boston style	2 15-oz tins 21c
Fruit Cocktail Bulk	20-oz tin 32c
Old Cheese Fine Canadian white	lb 43c
Pink Salmon Fancy	Pt tin 41c
Tomato Juice Aylmer fancy	2 15-oz tins 21c
V-8 Vegetable Juices Campbell's	2 15-oz tins 19c
Clark's Soups Tomato or Vegetable	2 10-oz tins 17c
Brunswick Sardines	3 tins 25c
A & P Peas	2 20-oz tins 33c
McCormick's Saltines	10-oz pkg 29c

Test Shop

A&P Super Markets

THE GREAT ATLANTIC & PACIFIC TEA COMPANY LIMITED

MORE SUGAR FOR MR. SUGAR



Middleweight title bout between titleholder Jake LaMotta, left, and Sugar Ray Robinson, the welter champ, gets its official sanction in Chicago when the two sign as chairman Joe Triner of the Illinois Athletic Commission looks-on. The bout is set for Feb. 14, but the Robinson bout, who is at present overweight, is busy training down to the 160-pound limit required for that class. He has beaten Sugar Ray by a decision once, but Robinson is generally favored to win the bout. Ray's manager has talked of future bouts with Joey Maxim, light-heavy champ, and Ramon Charles, in the Valentine's Day match results in victory. — Central Press Canadian.

Mulvihill's Last-Second Goal Gives Redmen 5-4 Victory Over Nylons in Senior Game

By GEO. H. CARVER
(Sports Editor)

Hockey drama was enacted in a thrill-packed sixty seconds of the last stanza of play in the Jock Harty Arena, Kingston last night.

The Belleville Redmen and Kingston Nylons were locked in a tight struggle for supremacy in a senior OHA tilt.

The clock slowly ticked away the seconds in that final fateful minute as the teams drove at a withering pace up and down the ice. The redskinned Belleville team had gained a one-goal lead with the score standing at 4-3.

Fully seconds flit by. Coach George Pettapiece of the Nylons in a last desperate move withdrew goalie Udy Udall and sent six forwards out there in a strategic move to tie the score.

The strategy worked. Nearly 700 fans, tense with excitement, suddenly erupted with a tremendous roar as the Nylons' ace line of Twells, Catlin and Gerow swept in and drove the puck past Irvine in the Belleville nets for the tying goal.

Twenty-four seconds to play. The crowd settled down for what appeared to be an overtime period.

But they, with the Nylons, were not reckoning with the Reds. The scarlet-shirted crew from Belleville took into the attack, fought around the Nylons net, five seconds left. Then it happened.

Million Dollar Goal

Brian Mulvihill, diminutive winger of the Redmen's first line swept down the ice with Johnny Gyger. The dusky winger ripped across the goalmouth and dropped the puck behind him in a smart passing play. Mulvihill swooping in fast picked up the rubber with his stick and drove a blazing shot past Udall for the million dollar goal.

That gained Mulvihill as he dusted past a deflated Joey Catlin, "was what I call a picture goal."

Catlin scowled, disapolntment written all over his face, "Gwan you little punk", he managed to force out.

Referee Dick Oulmet faced the puck before a stunned crowd.

Two plays later the siren shrilled the end of a game that saw the Bellevilte team back the first defeat on their ancient rivals from Kingston in two years on their home ice.

The victory practically clinched fourth place and a playoff berth for the Redmen. It was the second defeat suffered by the Nylons in their last eight starts, and temporarily halted their determined effort to oust the Peterborough Eagles from second place in the group standing.

Won it the Hard Way

And the Redmen won it the hard way. They spotted the Nylons two goals in the first period and came back with a concerted offensive in the second bent to tie the score. They grabbed a 3-2 lead after five minutes of play in the third period only to have Nylons tie it up half way through the heat. They again forged to the front with just less than four minutes to go and held that slim margin to stalemate until that dramatic final sixty seconds. Then came Mulvihill's last-second goal and that was that.

It was lackadaisical hockey for the first half or the first period. The Reds missed several chances with Udy Udall playing brilliantly in the Nylons net. At the other end Jim Irvine thrust back all offensive efforts of the Nylons attacking divisions.

A fluke goal opened the scoring after eleven minutes of play. Johnny Green got in the way of a goal-mouth pass and the puck was deflected into the Redmen net with Kenny Partis getting the credit.

The Nylon's led by Potts, again raced to the attack and the crafty winger, who was one of the Nylon's stars of the night, blasted the rubber past Irvine from Harrison's assist with three minutes to go.

The "Nobber" Scores

The Reds took over in the second period, Halfway through the heat, Doug "Nobber" Day finally came into his own and on a neat passing play pushed the rubber past Udall from Doug Fyve's assist.

A minute later Doug Bastedo drove a hard high shot at the Nylons net, the light flashed on the other Guelph scorers. Gord Myles got two and Larry Lemon-Ball and Ron Ross one each for the Kroehlers.

Game Livened By Wild Scramble In Third Period

(By The Canadian Press)

As usual when Toronto St. Michael's and Hamilton Tigers meet, extra-curricular activities played a promiment part in last night's Ontario Hockey Association major game.

The final score was 4-4 but the game was livened by a wild scramble involving players, police and patrons.

In the third period one fan was ejected from the rink for brandishing the stick of Gord Hanigan and refusing to let go. Two burly policemen popped in before things broke loose.

Jack Muldrum scored three goals for St. Mike's, whose first-place margin was narrowed to five points. Bill McCracken got the fourth Murray Comfort, Harry Fraser, Tom Smellie and Ab Conick scored for the Tigers.

The Bengals were without centre Jim Conacher, who will be sidelined for five weeks with an injured shoulder.

St. Mikes led minus Peanuts O'Flaherty.

Referee Jack Sullivan battled the weather to get to games. In Waterloo, Dutchmen lost another thriller, 6-5, in overtime to Toronto Marlboros. Marlies rammed in four goals in the third period to triumph 5-3 in the OHA major event.

Al Buchanan with a pair, and Bob Hassard, Jack Mackenzie and Ed Stanlewicz delivered for Toronto, and Billy Dea and Dick Behling got through for the last-place Dutchmen.

In the Ontario Junior-A game, the fourth-place Guelph Biltmores scored a 6-3 victory over eighth-place Stratford Kroehlers in Stratford.

Bill Lashan of the Bilts moved into the league point leadership with a pair of goals.

Chuck Henderson with two, and Andy Bathgate and Herb Dickenson with one each were the other Guelph scorers. Gord Myles got two and Larry Lemon-Ball and Ron Ross one each for the Kroehlers.

CHIPS OFF THE SPORTS BLOCK

By GEO. H. CARVER, Sports Editor

WE "DOOD" IT!

We usually like sap-hockey dished up in more or less downwash style, but another case of what happened in the Jock Harty igloo down Kingston way last night — and we're due for a heart specialist.

There was more dramatic action packed in that final sixty seconds than in the latest sixty-minute whodunit. This Redmen team just refused to say "uncle" to the upspring Nylons and as a result did the Peterborough Eagles a large and fuley favor by racking up their first victory over Nylons on Kingston ice in two seasons.

* * *

If the mayor of our city has any of those gold keys left, he should make it a point to present one to diminutive Brian Mulvihill, flashy speedster of the Redmen's first line. He earned it last night with that million - dollar goal that left a partisan crowd of over 700 Kingston fans stunned in their seats after they had been hoisted to the heights by a goal that tied the score at four-all with but 24 seconds of play left.

* * *

The Redmen victory put a decided crimp in the Nylon concered drive for second place in the group standing. They had won six of their last eight starts which included a tie and seemed to be on a fair way to put the well-known wind up the Peterborough Eagles.

* * *

It was a dramatic finish to a close, hard-fought battle. The Reds' ill-luck still seemed to dog them in the first period when they slithered in to be met off Johnny Green's skate. Master Potts who potted another before the period ended did not add to the Red's frame of mind.

* * *

But it was different in the second heat. The redskirts far from being "amazed" surprisingly enough, showed up with their supposed lethal belted previous Nylon reports they had been "scalped", and not only tied the tilt but actually scored two additional goals which Hixsoner Referee Dick Oulmet of Peterborough decided should not go down on the records.

* * *

The goal-judge who flashed on the light when Doug Bastedo blasted a high shot at the net swore positively that the rubber had gone through the net. His Nibs, could not find a hole in the netlery and decided that the puck must have ricocheted. Later Gerry Meher slithered one over the goal line, quoth the goal-judge, but again the Umps said Nay. No soap.

* * *

And so it went on. Until came the third heat and the onrushing Reds took matters in their own hands and pumped home a slug to take the lead for the first time. The Nylons tied it up but the redskins banged home another to take a 4-3 lead. And it looked to be all over.

Coach George Patterson decided to gamble. He tossed over six forwards, yanked Udy Udall from his cage and the arena welkin rang as the crowd stood up and roared when Kenny Partis sided by his pals Joey Catlin and Walt. Gerow slashed home the tier-upper.

* * *

But, no hockey game is ever until the piccolos toot "Taps". The Reds were not through by any means and with the clock showing five seconds to go, Brian Mulvihill dipsy-doodled behind Johnny Green, picked up the puck just outside the unwelcome sign on Udy's doorstep and blasted the biscuit home for the winnah.

A great game to win and we imagine a disappointing one for the Nylons to lose. How now, Mr. Redden?

* * *

The Redmen meet the Peterborough Peies here on Friday night and the meekmen et meanieurs, should be one for the little ole archives.

* * *

ROCKS COME THROUGH!

While the Redmen were taking the measure of the Nylons in the Kingston city last night, the Rocks mix snapped out of it and stepped the Oshawa Bees 2-2 at Memorial Arena. The Bees, not exactly stiffarcticus, dealing couple of fluke to the hands of the Fort Hoss Panthers lately, made it a close one, but Ernie Rocks, playing his first game in the third period was enourh to give the Rocks the edge. The Oshawas pressed hard in the last minute or play, with five forwards on the ice and Danny Pallister pulled from the nets, but they couldn't get the equalizer.

The report we have is that the Rockets, after a disastrous week of five losses, now have pulled out of the cellar and could quite conceivably be on the trail back. They looked good in the first period, improved in the second and had enough in the third to break the game wide open.

New the locals only have two games left in this wacky junior schedule, and one of them is with the Bees at Oshawa next Monday night. The other is with the rejuvenated Fort Hope Panthers in Memorial Arena to wind up the season on the 16th of the month. At time of writing the score of the game between these same Panthers and Peterborough Lions last night wasn't known, so it's hard to say where the Rockets are in the standings. We'll in the paper elsewhere, though.

* * *

MINOR HOCKEY TONIGHT!

It is minor hockey night in Belleville tonight and all three divisions of the Belleville Hockey Association's young proteges will be seen in action. Starting at 6:30 in Memorial Arena the bantams go into action against the Napanee squad and immediately following the midgets will take the ice in battle against a similar crew also from Napanee. The last phase of the triple-header sees the Belleville juvenilles match strides with those of the Deseronto town in their first game of the season against an "outside" team.

The three Belleville squads will carry the hockey banner of the city down the minor league playdown trails, and hockey fans should make it a point to see these promising youngsters in action. They play for "keeps" and many stars of the future will go into hockey action tonight when these squads take the ice lanes.

* * *

HYAH FOP!

It's a bouncing bundle of baby girl joy at the Jack Devine's we are told, and that makes a "sherie" for the "champ". Father Devine is holding up very well under the strain, and is expected to be back to normalcy by the first of the week. By the way, Mamma and cute Nancy Elizabeth are doing very well, thank you. Congratulations Jack, m'lad.

St. Louis Flyers Moving Up At Rapid Clip

(By The Associated Press)

The St. Louis Flyers, rolling along at a rapid clip, still are in last place in the American Hockey League's western division. But they won't be for long at the rate their travelling.

Only two games separate the Flyers from second place after they bowled over the Pittsburgh Hornets last night at St. Louis 5-1. It was the sixth straight home victory, and seventh in their last eight starts.

Indianapolis, idle last night, and Pittsburgh are tied for second place, with the Cincinnati Mohawks in third place, a game ahead of St. Louis. Cincinnati snapped a five game losing streak, pouring in four goals in the closing period, and blasted the leading Cleveland Barons, 5-2.

Buffalo, leading the eastern division, defeated the Providence Reds, 5-3, while the Hershey Bears and Springfield Indians played a 2-2 overtime tie in other games.

Hugh Currie of Buffalo had three assists, bringing his total to 51 for a new league record for defencemen. Eddie Bush of Philadelphia set the mark of 46 three years ago. Buffalo's Les Hickey scored three goals.

Leafs and Wings Score Victories In N.H.L. Games

The form players had a field day in the National Hockey League Wednesday.

All six teams were in action and the results went according to a pattern closely outlined in previous games this season.

The league-leading Detroit Red Wings once again made life miserable for Harry Lumley, who used to tend goal for them until traded to Chicago Black Hawks this season. They buried Lumley under a barrage of goals as they blasted the last-place Hawks 11-3 for the highest-scoring game of the season.

In Toronto, the second-place Maple Leafs maintained their mastery over Montreal, handing the third-place Canadiens a 3-1 setback, their sixth in 11 games at the hands of the Leafs this season.

In Boston, it was another old story as the fifth-place New York Rangers and the fourth-place Bruins, two teams with the most idle games to their credit this season, wound up in a 2-2 deadlock.

About the only thing that might be described as unusual was the fact that Maurice (Rocket) Richard failed to score a goal.

Toronto's Ted Kennedy was given the job of shadowing the league-leading goal-scorer and did an effective job. That's more he got out of Toronto's three goals he was delight of 14,063 fans in Maple Leaf Gardens.

The forward line of Smith, Teeder Kennedy and Tod Sloan looked after the Toronto scoring. Sloan got the first Toronto goal before Normand Dussult tallied for Montreal in the first period. Kennedy assisted on Sloan's first-period goal and the one by Smith in the third.

Strictly Hockey

In Detroit, 10,183 fans saw the teams stick strictly to hockey, even if it was rather one-sided.

Referee George Gravel didn't hand out a single penalty in the high-scoring affair.

Gordon Howe, pace-setter in the league scoring race, accounted for two goals and assisted on another, while defenceman Red Kelly, rookie Glen Skov and Gaye Stewart got two each. Jimmy Peters, Metro Prystai and Ted Lindsay got the others. Roy Conacher, Ray Powell and Ernie Dickens scored for the Hawks.

Lumley, with virtually no defence in front of him, made 41 saves in a futile effort to stem the Detroit scoring tide. Terry Sawchuk in the Detroit nets had a comparatively easy time, handling 23 shots and Johnny Pearson got the Boston goals.

The 6,602 Boston fans were the smallest crowd viewed by the sextet tonight, as the sixth tie in 12 games between the two teams this year.

Alex Kaleta and Pentti Lund, the latter saving the day with his goal late in the third period, scored for New York. Veteran Woody Dumart and Johnny Peirson got the Boston goals.

Only one game is scheduled for tonight, the Red Wings visiting Chicago.

VACATE COTTAGE

Toronto, Feb. 7 — (CP) Three Irish immigrants have vacated their five-room cottage at nearby Scarborough Bluffs. Two falls of loose earth have left the dwelling within three feet of the 300-foot drop to Lake Ontario.

Hockey Results

NATIONAL HOCKEY LEAGUE

	Won.	Lost.	Tie.	Pts.
Detroit	29	11	7	65
Toronto	28	11	7	63
Montreal	26	13	7	59
Boston	16	22	13	45
New York	13	20	17	43
Chicago	13	27	10	36

Wednesday: Toronto 3, Montreal 1; Detroit 11, Chicago 3; New York 2, Boston 2.

Tonight: Detroit at Chicago.

AMERICAN HOCKEY LEAGUE

Western Division

Cleveland	35	14	5	75
Indianapolis	28	21	5	61
Pittsburgh	23	23	7	53
Cincinnati	22	24	7	51
St. Louis	23	26	3	49

Eastern Division

Buffalo	37	15	3	77
Hershey	25	21	4	54
Providence	18	27	4	40
Springfield	13	31	5	31
Wednesday: Cincinnati 5, Cleveland 3; Hershey 2, Springfield 2; Buffalo 6, Providence 5; St. Louis 5, Pittsburgh 1.

Tonight: Buffalo-Providence; Cincinnati-Indianapolis.

EASTERN INTERNATIONAL

Halifax 8, Moncton 6

Quebec Major

Ottawa 5, Quebec 5

Shawinigan Falls 3, Valleyfield 7

Ontario Junior A

Guelph 8, Stratford 4

Quebec Junior

Nationales 3, Canadiens 7

Three Rivers 7, Montreal Royals 4

Eastern Canada Hockey

North Bay 4, Sudbury 3

OHA Major

Toronto Marlboros 5, Kitchener Waterloo 3

Toronto St. Michael's 4, Hamilton 4

Ontario Junior B

Belleville 2, Oshawa 3

International

Detroit Auto Club 4, Detroit Hotchkiss 6

Porcupine Mines Senior

South Porcupine 3, McIntyre 3

Ottawa Army 6, Ottawa RCAF 3

Cape Breton Major

Sydney 3, Glace Bay 8

Western Canada Major

Calgary 3, Regina 4

Western Canada Junior

Lethbridge 5, Medicine Hat 2

Manitoba Junior

Brandon 3, Winnipeg Canadiens 0

OHA Intermediate B

Sundridge 1, Bracebridge 7

RUBBERS REPAIRED
BROWN'S CAMPBELL STREET
BRIAN HUMPHREYS
PHONE 1317
opposite the T.M.C.A.—BELLEVILLE

HOCKEY
SENIOR
BELLEVILLE MEMORIAL ARENA
PETERBORO PETES vs.
BELLEVILLE REDMEN
Friday, February 9th
8.30 P.M.
ADMISSION—Reserve Seats 75c
General Admission 50c; Children .. 25c
RESERVE SEATS ON SALE AT BILL COOK'S CIGAR STORE
Reserve Seat Tickets will not be held after 6 p.m. night of game.

NOW FOR EXTRA SHAVING CONVENIENCE
20 Gillette Blue Blades in Handy Dispenser with USED BLADE COMPARTMENT
ZIP! CUT OUTER NEW BLADE ON SIDE OLD BLADE
20 BLADES 40 SHAVING EDGES
$1.00
• From one side of Gillette's new 20-Blade Dispenser you slip out new Gillette Blue Blades, unwrapped and ready for use—turn the Dispenser over and there's a handy compartment for easy disposal of used blades.
10-Blade Conventional Dispenser 39¢ in Regular Package 5 Blades for 25¢

"EXPORT"
CANADA'S FINEST CIGARETTE

IS IT REAL HARMONY?

General manager of the Pittsburg Pirates, Branch Rickey, left, and baseball commissioner "Happy" Chandler are shown bleating their voices in harmony during National League's seventy-fifth anniversary celebration at a New York hotel. In addition to many celebrities of the world of baseball, fifteen of the twenty-three living members of baseball's hall of fame were on hand for the festivities. Chandler's future is still uncertain and many leading U.S. figures are being discussed as possible replacements on his job. — Central Press Canadian.

Opera Singer Traubel Takes Whirl at Ball

New York, ... (AP)—If Guy Sievers is in attendance at the plaza in Burbank, Calif., next month and a big blonde woman shuffles up and tells him to do it this way, Roy needn't get huffy.

That'll be Helen Traubel, the Wagnerian soprano, and she'll have a perfect right to say her piece.

She's part owner of Sievers and all other St. Louis Brownies, who will be at the Burbank camp working kinks out of Rusty joints.

"I'm going to visit the camp in March," the Metropolitan opera star said today, "and I'm going to watch the team in training. It'll be loads of fun."

Miss Traubel bought a part interest in the Browns, a team she used to root for as a girl, last fall. She did it "mostly to satisfy a sentimental urge."

She's never been sorry, she insists.

"I still am very optimistic about the Browns. I'm sure before the season is up there'll be a thrill division. And I think it will prove a good investment."

Mis Traubel wants to see her Browns in spring training because her husband and business manager, William Bass, puts a firm foot down on her attending many games.

"I jump up and down and yell something fierce," she said. "Bill is afraid I'll hurt my voice."

A few years ago, before she became a Browns stockholder but when her baseball enthusiasm was just as warm, she screeched herself hoarse at a game and had to cancel several concerts.

FLYERS OVERWHELMED

Ottawa, Feb. 8 (CP) — An Ottawa Army team overwhelmed the favored RCAF Flyers 8-3 Wednesday night in an Eastern Canada Hockey League contest at the auditorium.

The soldiers piled up three goals by Ab. Renaud, Pete Leichnitz and Ronnie Limoges before the airmen could reply. Orval Gravelle and Shep Myer made it 3-2 before the first frame ended.

Mickey Maguire extended the Army lead and the Army scored again in the third on goals by Jake Brunning and Maynard Harch. Bobby Dennison gave Air force the last word at 14:20 of the third frame.

Brahin, Degray, Death, Copeland, Wilson, O'Connor.

Belleville: Goal, Tripp; defence, Fallister, Rockefeller; centre, Houle; wings, Carey, Brown; alts., Desjardins, Doran, Strahan, Mason, Gilmour, Murphy, Martin, Turland.

Referee: Bill Reason, Kingston; head linesman, Bill Holway, Belleville.

The Summary:

1st period
Belleville, Strahan (Desjardins) 8.35
Oshawa, Death (Degray) 10.44
Oshawa, Degray (Brahin) 19.46
Penalties: Green, Hillman (minor and miscon.), Desjardins (minor and miscon.).

2nd period
Belleville, Strahan (Mason) 16.02
Penalty: Turland (major).

3rd period
Belleville, Trumble (Doran) 15.48
Penalties: Desjardins, Turland, Marshall.

Conny Smythe Denies Trade In the Offing

(By The Canadian Press)

Conn Smythe, president of Maple Leafs Gardens, Wednesday squelched what he described as "one of the most amazing rumors of a hockey trade" he had ever heard.

Reached in Florida where he is on vacation, Smythe said there was nothing at all to a story prevalent here Wednesday that Toronto goalie Al Rollins, defenceman Bill Barilko and forward Ray Timgren would be traded to Chicago Black Hawks for goalie Harry Lumley.

"Why, that's amazing," said Smythe. "I don't know how such a rumor could get started. None of those players have ever been mentioned by Tobin in talking to me. I wouldn't trade Al Rollins for Harry Lumley—and there's nobody that I know of that can take Ray Timgren's place."

A trust fund of $15,843 has been set up for the survivors of the late Sunny Boy West, the Washington Negro lightweight boxer who died after a fight in New York just before Christmas.

Most of the money, $12,304, came from a benefit bout here Jan. 6.

West died 22 hours after he was knocked out by Percy Bassett of Philadelphia.

Fresco Thompson, Brooklyn vice-president in charge of minor league operations, announced Wednesday signing of Bill Harris of Toronto to a full time scout for the Ontario area.

Harris, active in amateur and semi-pro ball in Toronto, has worked for the Dodgers on a part time basis for several years.

Fifty-nine of the original 73 entries remained in the Grand National steeplechase scheduled for Aintree, Liverpool, on April 7 after the first acceptance stage Wednesday.

The second and final acceptance for the race of four miles and 856 yards is March 20.

Kitchener Westmount Golf Club will be the scene of the Ontario Open golf championship during the week of June 25, it was learned here Wednesday.

The event, which offers a purse of $1,500 is expected to attract a field of outstanding Canadian and U.S. golfers.

Canada's Lethbridge Maple Leafs, Alpine ski team champions, Wednesday trounced the Young Sprinters Club of Neuchatel Switzerland 15-0. Five goals were scored in each period.

A crowd of 2,000 watched the one-sided game in which the Canadians showed overwhelming superiority all along the line.

A MAN-SIZE JOB IN OFF-SEASON

During the off-season, George Spencer, promising New York Giants' righthander, keeps in shape by working as a crane operator's assistant in Columbus, O. Spencer, former Ohio State gridder, pitched three-hitter over the Boston Braves last season. — Central Press Canadian.

Ray Famechon, of France, 3rd ranking featherweight, has been suspended indefinitely by the National Boxing Association.

The N.B.A. said Wednesday it took the action at the request of the Ohio Association of Boxing Commissioners. Famechon has had a virus infection and the suspension will run until he fulfills his contract to fight Eddie Burgin in Cincinnati.

At Providence, R.I., Ike Williams, world lightweight boxing champion, and Beau Jack, former title holder, will clash in a 10-rounder March 5, it was announced Wednesday by promoter Manny Almeida.

The Don River Valley in Toronto's East End may be the site of a municipal golf course.

At a board of control meeting Wednesday, Mayor Hiram McCallum agreed with Roy Cadwell of the Toronto Municipal Golf Association that the land in the valley should be acquired as the first step in a plan to develop a course there.

INHALATOR USED

Hamilton, Feb. 7 — (CP) Firemen treated their second coal gas victims in two days when they answered a call to the home of Thomas Keller yesterday. An inhalator was used on Keller, his wife and their three children.

Owners to Select Commissioner On March 12th

Cincinnati, Feb. 8 — (AP) — Major League club owners were called Wednesday to meet March 12 in Miami Beach, Fla., to select a commissioner of baseball.

A. B. Chandler, the present commissioner whose contract was not renewed last Dec. 12, issued the call at a request of Will Harridge and Ford Frick, presidents of the American and National Leagues, respectively.

Chandler's seven-year-term, for which he is being paid $65,000 annually, expires April 20, 1952.

He still plans to be a candidate to succeed himself, despite the setback late last December.

N.H.L. Leaders

(By The Canadian Press)

Standings—Detroit, won 30, lost 11, tied 10—70 points.

Points—Howe, Detroit, 61.

Goals—Richard, Montreal, 31.

Assists—Howe, Detroit, 34

Shutouts — Sawchuck, Detroit, seven.

Penalties—Ezinicki, Boston, 111 minutes.

Rockets Break Three-Game Losing Streak by Defeating Oshawa Bees by 3-2 Count

By JACK BROWN

The Belleville Rockets broke a three-game losing streak at Memorial Arena last night by tipping the Oshawa Bees 3-2. They looked to have regained some of their old form in knocking off the Motor City citizens, and made their third period rush pay off this time.

It was a 3-3 game going into the third, and Ernie Trumble's goal at the 15.48 mark broke it up. Duke Doran carried the puck over the Oshawa line, struggled with it behind the net, regained possession, and fired it out to Trumble at the blue line. He let go with a knee-high shot that was in the right while Denny Fallister was still looking for it out front.

Excitement Started

Then the excitement really started. Bill Turland took a penalty for holding the puck at the 17.48 mark. He dove on the disc in front of the Rocket net as the Oshawans pressed him, and referee Bill Reason thumbed him. Then, while the Bees organized a drive, Reason called out from centre. On his way in to the Oshawa net defenceman Jack Marshall draped himself over Mason's back and Reason penalized Oshawa.

The climax came when with 52 seconds left in the game, and both teams playing five a side, the Bees pulled Pallister out of the nets and put five forwards on the ice task for a faceoff in the Rocket end. Brahin, Death, Eicher, Lawrence and Degray put the pressure on, but the Rockets held until Bill Turland got back.

Strahan Get Two

Billy Strahan got the other two Rocket goals, one in the first period, and the other in the second. His first came at 8.35, when Desjardins, Doran and he were fighting to poke it in past Pallister. They had made the goalie jump three or four times, and then, with Pallister hugging the right post, Strahan poked it in.

The Bees roared back for a pair in the period, however, and went out of it leading 3-1. Gord Death and Ted Degray connected for them, even though the Rockets had the best of the territorial play. Then, at 16.03 of the second, Strahan tipped in Mason's goalmouth pass on a beautiful play. Just before that, Mason's slap shot had hit Jim Johnson on the head, and as he went off for repairs, the Bees were temporarily disorganized as the play went on around them.

Had Anxious Time

Rocket fans had an anxious time in that second too, when Bill Turland was given a major for clipping Jack-Marshall on the side of the head with his stick. The penalty was first assessed as a minor, but referee Reason changed it when he saw that Turland had drawn blood on the Oshawa player.

The Rockets seemed to have regained some of the drive that was carrying them along in fine style two or three weeks ago, and were once more jumping to get the puck.

Oshawa's first goal came from a faceoff in the Rocket end, with Gord Death batting a slap shot into the right hand corner of the net. On the next play, Mason set up Billy Strahan on a beautiful moves, but the Rocket couldn't beat Pallister.

Their second goal came with Jerry Desjardins serving a minor for high sticking and a misconduct for disagreeing with Reason. Six seconds before the Rocket sinner hit the ice, Degray picked up his second point of the night. Best for the Rockets were the goal-getters, Strahan and Trumble, while Houle and Carey tried hard. Ross Mason was outlucked on a couple of occasions and played a nice game all through. Tripp had a few tough ones to handle and came through in fine style when the chips were down.

The Rockets go to Oshawa Monday night in the last scheduled road game of the year.

The lineups:

Oshawa: Goal, Pallister; defence, Hillman, Marshall; centre, Eicher; wings, Lawrence, Chisoski; alts., Johnson, Edwards, Brahin, Degray, Death, Copeland, Wilson, O'Connor.

Belleville: Goal, Tripp; defence, Fallister, Rockefeller; centre, Houle; wings, Carey, Brown; alts., Desjardins, Doran, Strahan, Mason, Gilmour, Murphy, Martin, Turland.

Referee: Bill Reason, Kingston; head linesman, Bill Holway, Belleville.

The Summary:

1st period
Belleville, Strahan (Desjardins) 8.35
Oshawa, Death (Degray) 10.44
Oshawa, Degray (Brahin) 19.46
Penalties: Green, Hillman (minor and miscon.), Desjardins (minor and miscon.).

2nd period
Belleville, Strahan (Mason) 16.02
Penalty: Turland (major).

3rd period
Belleville, Trumble (Doran) 15.48
Penalties: Desjardins, Turland, Marshall.

POINTING THE WAY
TO THE
WINTER SPORTS GOODS SALE
February 9 - 17th. inclusive
NOW IS YOUR BIG CHANCE
20% OFF
ALL HOCKEY and SKI EQUIPMENT
HOCKEY STICKS—STOCKINGS—PADS—HELMETS
GLOVES—SKATES and BOOTS
SKIS — SKI POLES — SKI BOOTS — HARNESS
WAX — TOBOGGANS — BABY SLEDS
STEPHEN LICENCE LIMITED
200 FRONT STREET BELLEVILLE

Eighteen Teams Ready For First Leg of Dog Derby

Ottawa, Feb. 8—(CP)—Eighteen dog teams will race over 20 1/3 miles of the capital and suburban areas today in the first leg of Ottawa's 100-mile annual sled- dog derby.

Prime Minister St. Laurent was scheduled to start off the first of the teams at noon, with the others following at three minute intervals.

For the next three days, the teams will cover the same course, with the winner—the team with the same combined time—taking a $1,000 purse and a challenge trophy.

The course starts and finishes on the frozen Rideau Canal near Confederation Square in the heart of the capital. It stretches south of the canal, swings west onto country roads, then makes a wide loop in the southern and southwestern fringes of the city before swinging back to the canal.

Top rivalry in pre-race speculation is between Wilf Lepine of Quebec City, and Laird Quelette of The Pas, Man.

Lepine crossed the finish line first to capture the 1950 Ottawa derby event, while Ouellette placed first in the gruelling 144-mile, two-day open championship dog derby at The Pas last year. It is the first time they have met in sled-dog competition.

In a pre-race interview, Lepine was outspoken about his chances, while the 39-year-old C. N. R. fireman from The Pas, Man., confined himself to boasting.

"The best team will win and we'll be out to do just that," he said.

One of the most courageous drivers entered in the race is Cecil McCooey, 34, of Ottawa, one-legged musher who has been scrapping for three years to get enough money to get a team together.

He lost his right leg below the knee in an automobile accident at the age of seven. Because of this he must rest his artificial leg on the runner of the sled and pedal with the other.

An army wireless truck will be stationed at the starting point this year and coverage of the race while it is in progress will be given by two sending sets placed at strategic points along the course.

PHIL LOSOPHY

When these bills pile up — Don't wait another day — GET A CASH LOAN AT BELLVUE FINANCE Corp.
BELLEVILLE — TRENTON — TWEED
PHONE 3262

IT'S DRY THAT'S WHY!

CANADA DRY IS THE SECRET TO LASTING REFRESHMENT
"CANADA DRY"

THIS IS THE ORCHID

A Buick's AS LOVELY AS
NEW 1951 BUICKS AT YOUR DEALER'S SOON

BELLE Cleaners — Launderers
SHIRTS BEAUTIFULLY LAUNDERED
48-HOUR SERVICE
Phone 55-2655 BELLEVILLE 356-362 Coleman St.

HORSE SENSE BRIDGE

By SAM GORDON
The Kibitzer

Remember this about bridge: new suit takeout forces for one round, raise once for each additional trick; make one voluntary bid in no-trump for each additional high card.

Conclude discussion of this deal:

NORTH
♠A J 10
♥K 9 6 3
♦K 10 2
♣4 3
WEST	EAST
♠K Q 9 8 7	♠6 5 4
♥A 2	♥Q J 10 7
♦8 5 4 2	♦Q 8 7
♣8 5	♣J 10 9 7
SOUTH
♠3 2
♥Q 8 5 4
♦K J 6 3
♣A K Q 6 2

The bidding should go like this:

South	West	North	East
1 C (1)	1 S (2)	2 D (3)	Pass
2 C (4)	Pass	3 NT (5)	All Pass

This is what the bids meant:

1. (1C) Enough for an opening one bid with this hand, among other things, at least five tricks.

2. (1S) Enough for a simple defensive overcall. Not as good as an opening one bid or 1 would have chosen that bidout.

3. (2D) A biddable diamond suit; two high cards in more than two tricks; no other suit takeout that forces for one round.

4. (2C) A club suit that is rebiddable; at least one trick better than the original five promised (shown by a raise in answer.)

5. (3NT) No more biddable suits; lacking support for rebiddable clubs; two high cards at least one high card more than the two first promised.

When north bid two diamonds it was a takeout to a new suit. This was a slight one but the bidding should be kept alive for one round. But even if not forced, south had enough for a second bid.

His second bid was not a new suit and for this reason it did not force north to bid again. So, if north had nothing more to say he'd have passed three clubs and it would play there.

But north had something more. What was it? One high card more than the highs his first bid promised. With the additional high card he could make the voluntary no-trump bid. That does it.

Mrs. E. Diefenbaker Dies in Saskatoon

Saskatoon, Feb.8 — (CP) — Mrs. Edna Diefenbaker, 49, wife of J. G. Diefenbaker, Progressive Conservative Member of Parliament for Lake Centre, died Wednesday in a Saskatoon hospital.

She had been suffering for some months from leukemia, an incurable blood cancer, and Mr. Diefenbaker did not attend the opening of the new parliamentary session due to her illness.

Mrs. Diefenbaker was the former Edna M. Brower. She was born at Lanigan, 30 miles northwest of Saskatoon, and married Mr. Diefenbaker in 1929. The funeral is expected to be held in Saskatoon next Monday afternoon.

DEFECTION SPREADS

Bologna, Italy, Feb. 8.—(Reuters)—Defection in the Italian communist party spread today with the resignation of Sarri Vignoli, professor of sculpture at the Bologna Academy of Fine Art, and the mayor of two small towns. Vignoli, who was awarded a gold medal for sculpture at the 1936 Olympic Games in Berlin, resigned after a party meeting had criticized him. He had refused to endorse a resolution branding Aldo Cecchi, one of the two communist members of parliament who broke with the party recently, as a "traitor."

Itching Scalp

A Simple Home Treatment

If your scalp has become sore and ugly, suffer father or irritation, DON'T DIG with finger nails as that only serves to make it worse, and spreads it. Go to your druggist and get a bottle of Moone's Emerald Oil and use according to directions. Usually the very first application will astonish you; so is apply to the scalp with your finger pads, gently rubbing into the roots of the hair. Do this at least once a day and about every fourth day shampoo using a good mild soap. Until the trouble clears, don't change your hair dressing or heading. Continue the treatment until relieved and then if any dandruff scurf has disappeared.

Keep this up for weeks, and if then you are dissatisfied get your money back. Moone's Emerald Oil is offered to all Ontario Girls with this guarantee.

Doyle's Drug Store

Electrics Defeat Deacon Girls 16-6 In Hoop Game

Despite a slip up in schedule, eliminating the intermediate-business girls' game, the remaining Northern-Deacons match, kept the small crowd biting their fingernails to the very end when the electrified Northerns rallied up in 15-6 victory. These Northern sparkplugs, were hampered relentlessly by the hard-pressing, Deacons, who time and time again broke up the neat passing plays.

The first half, proved indisputably the theory that women have more strength and endurance than the male set. This, first period, displayed tactics that would make a man's till look like child's play. But despite the 12 foul total, the two teams showed definite improvement considering the fact, that less than one quarter of these girls have had any previous experience in the art of men's basketball. Thus, not counting the bruises, the Northern "novices" fought hard for their 6-2 lead.

The second half, saw the "Electrics" unleash their voltage, with easy-going Betty Reid, contributing some four, neatly placed baskets in the loop, while Barbara Young relaxed after her six goals spurting earlier. But Leola Putman, the tall fighting Deacon's feature, aided by her die-hard flock, maneuvered back with two well-won baskets. This inconsistent Deacons team certainly deserve roses for their obvious improvement over their dismal defeat at the hands of Northern Electric Girls, 16: J. Smith, B. Alcorn 8, B. Young 4, F. Eckenswiller 2, Total 16. M. Walsh, D. Taylor, H. Reeves, M. Tillson, Total 6. Referee, Ted Reeves.

Deacon Brothers Girls 6: L. Putman 4, L. Donaldson, M. Lloyd, D. Derrey, P. Rahn, B. Lewis, M. Walsh, D. Rossetti, B. Thrasher, J. Stewart.

Merchants Bury Frankford-Bata Under 18-3 Score

The Belleville Merchants ran roughshod over the Frankford - Bata Combines in a Provincial Hockey League game in Frankford last night deluging the sectional leaders under an 18-3 score.

The city team sparked by Earl Cousins' nine goal effort roared through to a 6-0 lead in the first period; piled up seven more in the second and scored in with another five in the last heat when the homesters got all their three goals.

Three flights marked a rugged contest with Yorke, Hurst and Howard drawing major penalties for scrapping. Perky Yorke drew three of the Merchants' six sentences, with Frankford getting four.

Earl Cousins was again the scoring hero of the piece for the winners, banging home four goals and getting as many assists. Huck Reeves got a like total. Homesters with Hatfield also scoring 3 times. Bone and Wardhaugh got two each. Graham and Delaney got the other pair.

Hanna, Cosgrave and Shaw were the snipers for the homesters who were never in the picture after the first period.

The teams:—

Belleville: goal, Green; defence, Hurst, Reeves; centre, Cousins; wings, Graham, Delaney; subs, Hatfield, Bone, Adams, Barrett, Wardhaugh, Storms, Yorke.

Frankford — Bata: goal, Davis; defence, Howard, Farmer; centre, Cooke; wings, Foster, Watson; subs, Rankin, Courtney, Cosgrave, Elder, Morse, Hanna, Hood, Shaw, Appleby.

Peterborough Links Edge Port Hope 5-3

The Peterborough Links cooled out the redhot Port Hope Panthers 5-3 last night at Peterborough, and thus jumped back into a first-place tie with the Lindsay Kinsmen. Belleville Rockets' win over Oshawa here last night puts them one point down on the top clubs. The Rockets now have 26 points, and Oshawa Greys dotted them with 20 markers in the win column. Lindsay was idle last night, and with Peterborough, has 27 points in the race.

LAST NIGHT'S STARS

(By The Canadian Press)

Gordie Howe, Gaye Stewart, Red Kelly and Rookie Glen Skov, all of Detroit, whose two goals apiece set Wings up for an 11-3 trouncing of Chicago.

Sid Smith of Toronto, who tallied twice as Leafs defeated Montreal 3-1.

Pentti Lund of New York whose last-minute goal in final frame saved Rangers a 2-2 tie for Rangers with Boston.

CJBQ VOICE OF THE BAY OF QUINTE

CJBQ (1230 Kc.)

THURSDAY

8:00—When a Girl Marries
8:15—Portia Faces Life
8:30—Who Am I?
8:45—Supper Music
9:15—Front Page Farrell
9:30—In the Spotlight
9:45—Music of the Masters
10:00—Dick Haymes Show
10:30—Shot and Shell
11:00—Music of Manhattan
11:45—Bob Eberly Show
12:00—Luncheon Music
12:30—Newscast
12:45—Behind the News
13:45—Rural Route 1230
14:00—Stirling Community Hour
1:30—Meet the Bay
1:45—Piano Capers
2:00—Around the Bay
2:30—Organ Melody Hour
2:45—Dinner Bell
3:00—Music and Weather
3:15—Melody Manor
3:30—Napanee Community Hour
4:00—When a Girl Marries
4:15—Portia Faces Life
4:30—Program of the Air
5:00—Kids Corner
5:30—National News Summary
10:45—Organ Time
11:45—Reverie
12:00—News and Sports
12:05—God Save the King.

FRIDAY

6:30—Mr. Farmer — Especially yours
7:00—Morning News
7:15—Up With the Sun
8:00—Newscast
8:15—Up With the Sun
8:45—Sports
9:00—Morning Devotions
9:15—Carnival by the Bay
9:30—Hymns of the Road; Say It With Music
9:45—Bargain Counter Shop
10:00—Homemaker Harmonies
10:15—Monarch Money Man
10:30—Piano and Organ Moods
10:45—Studio Chef
11:00—Cafe Music Show
11:15—Music in the Modern Manner
11:00—Stock Club
11:30—Music of Manhattan
12:00—Sports Review
12:15—Farm Forum
12:30—Newscast
12:45—Behind the News
13:45—Rural Route 1230
14:00—Stirling Community Hour
1:00—Meet the Bay
1:15—Piano Capers
1:30—Around the Bay
1:45—Organ Melody Hour
2:00—Yours Sincerely
2:15—Lorraine Marsh
2:15—The World in Print
2:30—Who Am I?
2:45—Supper Hints
3:15—Dinah Time
3:15—Newsreel
3:30—In the Spotlight
3:45—Melody Rhythm
7:00—Dick Haymes Show
7:30—Hollywood Headlines
8:00—Yours Sincerely
8:15—The World in Print
8:30—Front Page Farrell
9:00—Fred Waring Theatre
10:00—Organ Time
11:00—News Summary
11:45—Reverie
12:00—News and weather
12:05—God Save the King.

NETWORK PROGRAMS

THURSDAY EVENING

6:00—CBL, Melody Parade
6:00—CFRB, Bing Crosby
6:15—CBM, News: Farm Markets
6:30—CFRB, John Collingwood Reed
6:30—CBL, Commentary
6:30—CBM, Music in the Air
7:00—CBL, Sunshine Hour
7:00—CFRB, Beulah
7:00—CBM, Jack Smith Show
7:30—CBL, Radio Carousel
7:30—CFRB, Club 15
8:00—CBL, Jack Benny
8:00—WHEN, Aldrich Family
8:30—CFRB, Mr. and Mrs. North
8:30—CJBC, Cross Section
8:30—CBL, Strange Wills
8:30—WHEN, Father Knows Best
8:30—CBM, Tracer of Lost Persons
9:00—CBL, Amateur Hour
9:00—CBM, John and Judy
9:00—CFRB, Suspense
9:00—WHEN, Gangbusters
9:30—CJBC, Inner Sanctum
9:30—CBL, Wayne and Shuster
9:30—CJBC, Peggy and Lou
9:30—WHEN, We, the People
10:00—CBL, The Lineup
10:00—WHEN, Director's Playhouse
10:00—CBL, National News
10:30—CFRB, Hook, Line and Sinclair
10:30—CBL, Eventide
10:30—CBM, Sportsmen's Show
11:15—CBM, U.N. Today
11:30—CBL, Dreaming
11:30—CFRB, Wedding Drama
11:30—WHEN, Music to Remember
11:30—CBM, Man About Midnight

TODAY & FRIDAY

Paramount Presents

DARK CITY

RIPPED FROM THE HEART OF THE NEW UNDERWORLD!

INTRODUCING CHARLTON HESTON · AND STARRING LIZABETH SCOTT · VIVECA LINDFORS

DEAN JAGGER · DON DeFORE

WORLD NEWS · COLOR CARTOON · NOVELETTE

Belle Theatre

STARTING SATURDAY

JOHN FORD'S Technicolor Production

WAGONMASTER

starring BEN JOHNSON · HARRY CAREY, JR. · WARD BOND with KENNETH MacDONALD · JANE DARWELL · JAMES ARNESS
Directed by JOHN FORD

Produced by Argosy Pictures Corp. RKO Radio Pictures

SAY "HELLO!" ON VALENTINE DAY WITH B-E-L-L-E GIFT BOOKS

AT THE CAPITOL — High adventure! Errol Flynn has his rifle trained on the Indian enemy in a tense scene from Warner Bros. action film, "Rocky Mountain," which bows into the Capitol Theatre tonight for its first Belleville showing. On the same program Laurel and Hardy in their funniest comedy, "The Bullfighters."

BANCROFT

Father and Son Banquet Held By Lions Club

Bancroft — The accomplishments of Bancroft's Lions Club since its inception were reviews by Lion Art Tompsett at the club's first Father and Son banquet on Monday night in Hotel Bancroft.

Among the completed projects mentioned were the establishment and maintenance of the community swimming pool, the building of North Hastings Community Centre, the annual Santa Claus parade, the summer regattas at Baptist Lake, the Civic Holiday aquatic and sports day, purchasing for time for skating for school children, sponsoring of the Boy Scouts, establishing a home for the Davidson triplets, emergency relief, when unforeseen disasters to community families, and helping with all other work for the benefit of North Hastings.

The speaker showed his audience that the work of the club was not static by telling them that at the present time arrangements were being made to obtain both a Wagonsein apparatus for post-operative patients in North Hastings Red Cross Hospital and a precaltor for all cases where artificial respiration may be required.

A capacity crowd of Lions and their sons jammed the dining room for the banquet and entertainment that followed. On hand were sons of all ages from five to eighteen, and the members who did not have sons brought along the young boys from next door.

Lion George Thomson delighted the audience with his comparison of sports of years ago and today. Old, young and middle-aged listened as he told of how fruit baskets could be made into snowshoes, barrel staves into skis, any curved branch into a hockstick and any other piece of sporting equipment could be improvised from whatever could be found around the home. As an illustration he noted that only the well-to-do children could get tin cans for hockey pucks.

Conservation films shown by Doug Delaney of Peterborough, a field man for the Carling Conservation Club, completed the program.

Movie Column

By BOB THOMAS

Hollywood, Feb. 8—(AP)—This week a different kind of banquet was held in Hollywood.

Cocktails weren't served. No awards were given. In fact, nothing occurred that would evoke headlines in the newspapers.

The event was the second annual banquet of the Hollywood Christian group.

It was founded in July, 1949, by "certain Christian entertainers" with the purpose "to provide Christian fellowship for artists of the entertainment world and to unite them in witness to those of their profession who lack a vital relationship with the Lord and Saviour."

The group is non-sectarian and the ever-growing membership voted to adopt a scriptural attitude toward intoxication, profanity or immorality." Founders included Jane Russell, Connie Haines, Porter Hall and Colleen Townsend.

Guests were greeted by cowboy star Roy Rogers, who introduced Hall. The character actor offered a prayer in which he asked "God's help to avoid the pitfalls we face in our profession."

After dinner Ronald Reagan opened the program. Although not a member of the group, he expressed his interest, citing that "a generation ago, actors couldn't be buried in the churchyard." He scorned publicity which he said made actors appear "crazy, immoral and not like the rest of the world."

Rogers added that it's too bad people never hear the good things about actors." His quartet sang "Steal Away" and then he and his wife Dale Evans joined them in "It Is No Secret What God Can Do."

Singing star Connie Haines then sang "I'd Rather Have Jesus Than Anything."

Guests at the event included Marie Wilson, Gordon MacRae, Irene Dunne, Chill Wills, Scott Brady, Peggy Dow and other film industry officials.

One of the group's founders, Jane Russell, explained a purpose of the group: "every other group, including the communists, is organized, so why shouldn't we?"

In a speech at a meeting of the Canadian Retail Federation he paid tribute to the "women as the restraining element in our present spiraling inflation. He commended the bargain-hunting woman, explaining that one of the major causes of inflation was a public disregard of prices.

AT THE McCARTHY — Brian Donlevy, fourth man from the left, cast in the role of William Quantrill, infamous Civil War raider in Universal-International's Technicolor "Kansas Raiders," is shown surrounded by his raiders. The outlaw followers include, from left to right, James Best, Denny Martin, Audie Murphy, Richard Long and Anthony Curtis. Donlevy and Murphy are starred in the new action film with Marguerite Chapman and Scott Brady. "Kansas Raiders" is now on view at the Odeon McCarthy Theatre.

AT THE BELLE — Hal Wallis' Newell star discovery, Charlton Heston, is costarred with Lizbeth Scott in Paramount's exciting action thriller, "Dark City," now playing at the Belle Theatre.

HOUSEWIFE SECRET WEAPON

Montreal, Feb. 8. (CP)—Canada's secret weapon against inflation is the housewife, Donald Gordon, president of Canadian National Railways, and Wartime head of the Prices Board here Tuesday night.

In a speech at a meeting of the Canadian Retail Federation he paid tribute to the "women as the restraining element in our present spiraling inflation. He commended the bargain-hunting woman, explaining that one of the major causes of inflation was a public disregard of prices.

THEATRE FEATURE TIMES

AT THE BELLE — "Dark City" — Lizabeth Charlton Heston — with Lizabeth Scott, Viveca Lindfors — 1.45, 3.40, 5.35, 7.30, 9.25.

AT THE CAPITOL — "Rocky Mountain" —Errol Flynn, Patrice Wymore — 7.15, 10.06. "The Bullfighters" — Laurel and Hardy — 5.40.

AT THE McCARTHY — "Kansas Raiders"—in Technicolor — Audie Murphy, Brian Donlevy, Marguerite Chapman — 2.46, 7.44, 9.50.

AT TRENT THEATRE, Trenton—"It's a Great Feeling" — in Technicolor — Doris Day, Dennis Morgan — 2.00, 7.30. "Stars in My Crown" — Joel McCrea, Ellen Drew, Percy Kilbride, Eleanor Parker — 3.24, 8.54.

CAPITOL TONIGHT

FIRST BELLEVILLE SHOWING!

COMPLETE SHOWS 7.00 - 8.30

Men as rugged as the peaks they fought on!

ROCKY MOUNTAIN

STARRING ERROL FLYNN

FROM WARNER BROS.

AND STARDOM'S NEW LOVELY LADY... PATRICE WYMORE

with SCOTT FORBES

Plus: CARTOON SERIAL

HIT NO. 2

THEIR FUNNIEST

STARTS MONDAY— FIRST SHOWINGS! "DIAL 1119" "ROOKIE FIREMAN"

Stan Laurel Oliver Hardy THE BULLFIGHTERS

MANY WORKERS IDLE

Detroit, Mich., Feb. 8 (CP) — Ford Motor Co., said Wednesday 53,000 workers will be laid off Friday at two Detroit plants, bringing the total of Ford workers unemployed to over 63,000.

Del S. Harder, vice-president in charge of manufacturing, explained that freight cars are not available to ship parts from the Detroit plants to assembly lines across the nation.

A total of 108,000 workers will be idle in the auto industry by Friday.

General Motors Corp., has 72,000 idle at 28 plants including 17,900 at Flint and 7,400 at Pontiac.

Nash reported 14,000 idle. The Studebaker Corp. has laid off 12,750.

WITH ROARING GUNS THEY BLAZED THEIR NAMES IN HISTORY!

KANSAS RAIDERS

The James Boys · The Youngers · Col. Quantrill · Kit Dalton

COLOR BY TECHNICOLOR

starring Audie MURPHY · Brian DONLEVY

Marguerite CHAPMAN · Scott BRADY

NOW PLAYING

THE SHOW PLACE OF BELLEVILLE

McCARTHY

DAILY MATINEE at 2.00

TRENT

TRENTON

FRIDAY & SATURDAY

LAST TIMES TODAY—

"IT'S A GREAT FEELING"

in COLOR

DORIS DAY · DENNIS MORGAN

ALSO

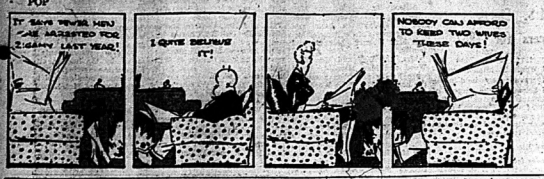
HUMPHREY BOGART in "CHAIN LIGHTNING"

STARS IN MY CROWN

JOEL McCREA

ELLEN DREW

POP



MR. AND MRS. — By Arthur Folwell and Ellison Hoover

PENNY — By Harry Haenigen

MARK TRAIL

TIPPIE AND "CAP" STUBBS — By Arthur Folwell and Ellison Hoover

LIL ABNER — By Al Capp

BLONDIE — By Chic Young

TILLIE THE TOILER — By Russ Westover

JOHNNY HAZARD — By Frank Robbins

BRINGING UP FATHER — By George McManus

RUSTY RILEY — By Frank Godwin

OZARK IKE — By Ray Gotto

Your Individual Horoscope

By FRANCES DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

For Friday, February 9

March 21 to April 20—(Aries)—Publishers, journalists, critics, copy writers, all those engaged in important social work highly favored now. But Mars and Sun aspects warn not to be overbearing or smug. Tact!

April 21 to May 20—(Taurus)—You can be encouraging, stimulating for your work new duties, advancement in study, research, much depending upon you. Discussions, teaching rate high. Venus favors personal interests.

May 21 to June 21—(Gemini)—No time to complain. Should be a go-getter day. If you are up to par and want to gain. Shut-ins could achieve much now with mental work. Planning. Studying. Plan ways.

June 22 to July 22—(Cancer)—If careful and conscientious about personal behavior, in associations, with loved ones and co-workers, you can have a good day, returning much for your best efforts. Up to you!

July 24 to August 22—(Leo)—Today says "Stop, Look and Listen", to learn all you can and avoid dangers resulting from carelessness or too-much haste. Thinker, good student and worker will attain.

August 23 to September 23 — (Virgo)—Heed advice to Gemini and do keep your innate practicality with you. Some extra encouraging aspects for mental work, research, making ready for future undertakings.

September 24 to October 23 — (Libra)—Benefic Venus—Mercury aspects now tend to heighten skill, dexterity, learning ability. Talents, occupational duties should prove fruitful, help this be so. Keep disposition even.

October 24 to November 22—(Scorpio)—Restraining influences (say Saturn and Mars) can be helpful if accepted and handled sensibly. Needless rushing, uneven spurts or effort taboo. Smooth action for best returns.

November 23 to December 22 — (Sagittarius)—Caution important in business, money matters. Don't undertake more than you can safely handle. Be agreeable, cooperative at work, at home, also stand by right principles.

December 23 to January 21 — (Capricorn) — Make no unnecessary changes in things running profitably, smoothly; don't let hasty judgment or worry enter day's schedule. Matters can be profitably managed with calmness.

January 22 to February 20 — (Aquarius)—No sudden decisions, useless travel, or changes just for sake or change. Mind spending. It is a promising day for study, improving one's education and quality of effort.

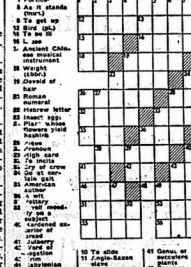
February 21 to March 20—(Pisces)—Be especially careful handling chemicals, liquids, travel, shipping, and confidential matters. Using your fine gray matter sensibly will pay well. Think, plan with forethought.

BORN TODAY: Much talent and ability reign in this Zodiacal sector. Literary men and women, artists of the stage, and religious leaders abound. Curb any unethical restlessness. Carelessness choosing associates. Lack of confidence an enemy to Aquarius. Application to right issues and system are needed side. Promising year ahead, work faithfully.

Birthdate: Wm. H. Harrison, 9th U.S. president; George Ade, author, slang fabulist; Sir Anthony Hope, novelist; Ronald Colman, actor.

(Copyright, 1951, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 8, 1951 (Released by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.



HORIZONTAL
1 Portico
5 An it stands (mus.)
8 To get up
12 Bird (pl.)
13 To be (L.)
14 L. sea
15 Ancient Celtic musical instrument
16 Weight (Siam)
19 Devoid of hair
20 Roman numeral
22 Hebrew letter
23 Insect egg
24 Flat-bottomed flowers yield hashish
26
28 Fish eggs
29 High note
31 Ireland
32 Cry of crow
34 Sun god
35 Iain gait
37 Measure of area
40 Judges' robes
41 Astronomical unit
43 Asiatic
44 "Arc of body
45 Bird's home
47 Sun god
48 Ancient 49 Sound
50 Self-mound
51 Fruit stone
52 Actual being
53 Ireland
54 Pronoun
55 Religious image

VERTICAL
1 To hit lightly
2 Lubricant
3 Travel agency
4 Sea
5 Registries
6 Talking dolphin amphibian
7 Bitch
8 Sun
9 Ere
10 Ale mar-ket measure
11 Breed
16 To slide
17 Japa-nese slave
18 To talk idly
21 It's every one of them
25 Ancient Greek writer
27 Sun god
30 Type of Africa
33 Ex-ample
36 City of France
38 Ancient
39 A formal dis-putation (pl.)
42 Lily-like plant
43 Genus of succulent plants
45 Ireland
46 The treetops
47 Hard
47 Consumed
47 Collection of facts
47 Form of money
47 Parts of flower

Answer to Yesterday's Puzzle

SIMPLE FLAG

Venezuela's national flag has three horizontal stripes of equal width—yellow, blue and red.

SHANNONVILLE

Rev. W. L. Scott Installs W.A. Officers

Shannonville — The monthly meeting of the W. A. of Shannonville United Church was held at the home of Mrs. Stanley Macdonald on Friday afternoon with 20 ladies and two children in attendance.

The president, Mrs. K. R. Vivian, welcomed members and visitors and the meeting was opened in the usual manner, Mrs. Frank Doxtator, group leader, presided over the worship period. The Scripture lesson was taken from Luke 18 and read by Mrs. Cryal Stratton, while Mrs. Charles Wood read a passage from Matthew 5, "Thoughts on the Lesson" were read by Mrs. Doxtator.

Tribute was paid to a beloved member, Mrs. Charles Boulerdge who was present at the last meeting and who passed away suddenly. Silence was observed in her memory, followed by one verse of "Made in the Arms of Jesus".

Correspondence was read, including several cards of thanks. $185. had been cleared at Scott's Sales. A letter from the district president, Mrs. C. Dobbs, of Belleville, was read by Mrs. Elliott, and a committee appointed to decide what line of overseas relief work should be undertaken, as well as plans for the same.

The president extended appreciative thanks to the hostess for her hospitality and after the close of the meeting, refreshments were served and a half hour of a social get-together enjoyed.

The January meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Raymond Clarke and was well attended.

The minister, the Reverend W. L. Scott, in an impressive ceremony, installed the officers for 1951 as follows: president, Mrs. K. R. Vivian; 1st. vice-president, Mrs. William Houston; 2nd. vice-president, Mrs. Sam Elliott; 3rd. vice-president, Mrs. Elmer Vivian; secretary, Mrs. Clarence Mason; treasurer, Mrs. Claude Clark; pianist, Mrs. L. W. Scott and Mrs. Damon Hinchey; secretary of card fund, Mrs. Sam Elliott; group leaders, Mrs. Elmer Vivian, Miss Sara Stickney, Mrs. Robert McFarlane, Mrs. Frank Doxtator, Mrs. Charles Kierl and Mrs. Ross Sheldrew; pareonage committee, Mrs. Stanley MacDonald and Mrs. Damon Hinchey.

READ

Read — Mr. Gerald Fowler, of Peterboro was a weekend guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Fowler.

Mr. Jack O'Hay, of Belleville, spent the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Pat O'Hay.

Mr. Leo McKenny, of Ardoch, spent the weekend at his home here.

Miss Ann Whalen, of Stoco, spent a few days last week with Mr. and Mrs. Bill Durkin.

Mr. James Mackey is ill at his home here suffering from a heavy cold.

Miss Jean Hopkins spent the weekend at her home in Erinsville.

Mrs. Vera McGorm spent last week in Tamworth with Mr. and Mrs. Clarence McGrath.

CANADA'S "INSURANCE FOR PEACE" WILL COST $5 BILLION

MORE SAILORS WILL BE NEEDED FOR NAVY

Defence Minister Claxton has presented to parliament the outline of a three-year $5,000,000,000 military program.

It called for increased premium to ensure peace," and which, will include an air force of 87 regular and auxiliary squadrons which will require 3,000 additional aircraft; a hundred-ship navy responsible for the protection of coastal sea planes and an airborne striking force, anti-aircraft artillery and other units for the defence of Canada against direct attack. The strength of all forces will be raised to a total of 115,000, and 142,000 if civilian personnel is included. Present strength, including civilians, is about 90,000.

MORE SOLDIERS WILL BE TRAINED IN ART OF DEFENCE

OF INDIAN ORIGIN

The term "Indian Summer" originated with the early settlers in New England, who got it from the Indian tribes.

MORE PLANES WILL BE BUILT FOR AIR FORCE

—Central Press Canadian Photos

BETHEL - ZION

W.M.S. Elects Officers for 1951

A meeting of the Zion and Bethel Women's Missionary Societies was recently held in the Bethel School for the purpose of the amalgamation of the two societies. Rev. A. Campbell opened the meeting. After a very brief worship period the election of officers took place.

Officers Elected

Officers for 1951 are as follows: president, Mrs. R. Robson; 1st vice president, Mrs. Ralph Sills; recording secretary, Mrs. R. Cranston; corresponding secretary, Mrs. M. Simmons; treasurer, Mrs. C. Ray; secretary of Christian Stewardship, Mrs. H. Ketcheson; Community Friendship secretary, Mrs. E. Sayers; associate members secretary, Mrs. Cecil Ketcheson; supply secretary, Mrs. B. Ketcheson; Temperance and Christian citizenship, Mrs. Percy Ray; Missionary Monthly secretary, Mrs. D. Rowe; press secretary, Mrs. F. White; finance committee, Mrs. R. Robson, Mrs. H. Ketcheson, Mrs. C. Ray, Mrs. Ralph Sills, Mrs. E. Sayers and Mrs. P. Ray; Baby Band secretary, Mrs. Floyd Ray; pianist, Mrs. Roy Sills, assistant, Mrs. G. Foster; nominating committee, Mrs. Roy Sills, Mrs. R. Cranston, and Mrs. G. Foster.

Mrs. R. Cranston invited the ladies to her home for the first meeting.

Mr. Campbell closed the meeting with prayer.

The regular meeting of the Bethel-Zion W.M.S. was held at the home of Mrs. R. Cranston recently, with 21 members present. The president, Mrs. R. Robson, opened the meeting.

Mrs. Ralph Sills conducted the installation of the officers, in the absence of Mr. Campbell.

After business items were discussed, Mrs. Ralph Sills, as leader for the month, took charge of the worship service as outlined in the Missionary Monthly. Helpful thoughts on a chapter of the study book were given by Mrs. Sills. She was assisted by Mrs. Percy Ray, and Mrs. Harry Ketcheson.

A quiz on Japan was conducted by Mrs. Sills.

After the meeting closed the hostess and her assistants served refreshments.

ALEISONVILLE

Alliisonville — Mr. and Mrs. Clare McPaul and family were last Wednesday tea hour and evening guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Warner McPaul and family.

Mrs. Ray Bird and Mrs. Ken. Wood and Mrs. Donald Wood were Friday afternoon guests at the home of Mrs. Eliza Wood and Mrs. George Wood.

Birthday Party

A birthday party on Saturday night was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Neil Wood to celebrate Neil's natal day, February 4th. Guests were as follows: Mr. and Mrs. Ray Bird, Ralph, Audrey, Elaine and Eldon; Mr. and Mrs. George Wood, Keith, Margaret and Sandra; Mr. and Mrs. Ken. Wood, Robert and Virginia; Mr. and Mrs. Donald Wood and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Kinnear and Murray, of Belleville.

Many useful gifts were received and delicious refreshments were served by Mrs. Neil Wood.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Kinnear and Murray, of Belleville, were weekend guests at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Wood.

Mrs. Percy Chase and Mrs. Arnold Chase and Vernon were recent guests at a party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Johnson Orams and Sherry, Belleville.

Bowerman's W. A. was held last Wednesday afternoon at the home of

BUSINESS DIRECTORY

SERVICE

OIL BURNER and STOKER SERVICE
Phone 2253M and 1503R
RADIO and APPLIANCE REPAIRS
VAN DUSEN BROS. LTD.
230 Front St. Phone 2253
F7-tf

REAL ESTATE

IF YOU WISH TO BUY A HOME OR SELL YOUR PROPERTY
CALL
R. O. KELLER
Phone 2
Member Ontario Association of Real Estate Boards
M34-tf

FARM MACHINERY

FOR QUALITY SEE
IVAN MAY
JOHN DEERE DeLAVAL
GEARETT and LUNDY PERCE
SALES and SERVICE
97 Chisholm Street Phone 2467
Belleville

SAND and GRAVEL

CINDERS - FILL - CRUSHED ROCK - SNOW REMOVAL - DRIVEWAY PLOWING
IVAN MAY
Phone 4263 or 2365M
F9-1y

ELECTRICAL CONTRACTING — REPAIR

BELL ELECTRIC REPAIR DEPOT
9 Foothridge — Belleville
Phone 1185J
SATISFIED CUSTOMERS OUR PRIDE
F9-1y

ACCOUNTANTS

KENNETH J. SODEN
PUBLIC ACCOUNTANT
Income Tax Consultant
BANK OF MONTREAL BLDG.
BELLEVILLE — PHONE 2-718-0
F-tf

W. S. STONE
CHARTERED ACCOUNTANT
209 Pinnacle Street
Telephone 3600
Belleville

GEO. A. WELCH & CO.
Chartered Accountants
BELLEVILLE OTTAWA
Phone 4306 344 Pinnacle St.

ARCHITECT

W. A. WATSON, Architect
Arch. Assn. Ont.
Formerly located at 366 Front Street now located at
344 FRONT STREET
(Next to Bower's Garage)
D7-1y

INSURANCE

The thought of fire loss half its terrors when you're protected with FIRE INSURANCE
SANDY BURROWS
and
HOWARD FROST
LIFE and FIRE INSURANCE
340½ FRONT ST. PHONE 4600

HALL & EARLE
ACCIDENT and SICKNESS
General Insurance, Fire, Automobile
278 FRONT ST. PHONE 1184-W

TYPEWRITER REPAIRS

THE JAMES TEXTS
LIMITED
Prompt and Efficient Repairs on
All MAKES OF MACHINES
Typewriters and Adding Machines for Rent
170 - 172 FRONT STREET
Phone 982

CONTRACTORS

PIT RUN SAND AND GRAVEL
Delivered to Your Farm
Or Order a Truck or More
CRUSHED STONE, CONCRETE SAND and CRUSHED GRAVEL
Estimates Cheerfully Given
POWER SHOVELS, BULLDOZERS and DUMPERS
PHONE 195, TRENTON
J. D. McNALTY CONSTRUCTION
A6-tf

VETERINARIAN

DR. PAUL FOSTER
VETERINARIAN
Office in
MacKENZIE FEED BUILDING
67 South Front St., Belleville
Day Phone 1423
Phone 1825-R before 9 a.m. and after 5.00 p.m.
F6-1y

ROOFING CONTRACTOR

QUINTE ROOFING
(B. L. QUINCEY, Prop.)
Smooth, Built-up Flat Roofing — Asphalt Shingling — Insulating — Weatherproofing — Tile Floors
PHONE 3600 BELLEVILLE
J31-tf

BUILDING CONTRACTOR

JOHN V. WHITE
GENERAL REPAIRS
LET US BUILD YOU A NEW HOME
Quotations Gladly Furnished
Expert Workmanship
58 Alexander Street
PHONE
Office 913 House 3230-J
J33-tf

FEED and GRAIN

CORN DISTILLERS DRIED GRAINS
are available at
WOODSON MILL LTD.
SUPPLIES ARE LIMITED. WE SHOULD HEAR YOU ORDERS NOW.
Phone 806 105 S. John St.

MIMEOGRAPHING RUBBER STAMPS

THE JAMES TEXTS LIMITED
Fast efficient service operating all needed Remote Control Letters, Circulars, etc. Prices are reasonable at all times. Also Addressing, Numbering Machines and Stencils.
176-178 Front St. Phone 982
F7-tf

WELL DRILLING

McMILLAN and GARTLEY
(Formerly W. R. Gartley)
WELL DRILLING
Gas and Oil Tests
BELLEVILLE, ONT.

B. A. K. SMILEY
Box 72 Phone 114-21
MADOC
ALL TYPES OF WELL DRILLING AND CASING
NEW EQUIPMENT
FREE ESTIMATES — PROMPT ATTENTION
A35-tf

FOOT SPECIALIST

H. W. ROBESON, M.N.
ALL FUNCTIONAL DISORDERS OF FEET
Fallen Arches, Bunions, Ankles, Rear-foot, Toes, Weak Feet, Corns, Callouses, Leg Weariness, such as Arthritis, Sciatica, Rheumatism, etc.
OFFICE HOURS: 9 to 12, 1 to 5, 7 to 9
Phone 2-1000 for Appointment
Belleville
Phone 425-W GLEN EVENINGS

CARETAKING CONTRACTORS

GORDON A. MacEACHERN
(G. FRED MAUND, Mgr.)
SPECIALISTS IN FLOOR FINISHING WINDOW CLEANING and WALL WASHING
Master Keepers of
FINE SANITARY PRODUCTS
FLOOR DRESSINGS and DISINFECTANTS
238 Pinnacle St. Phone 2-1000
F9-1y

FLOORS and WALLS

PIDUTTI — FABBRI
TILE and TERRAZZO CO.
GLAZED and CERAMIC FLOOR and WALL TILE
TERRAZZO FLOORS
Guarantees Satisfaction
Free Estimates
Phone 2-1000
51 NORTH FRONT ST.
M30-1y

BUILDERS' SUPPLIES

LUMBER

ROOFING — INSULATION SHINGLES — WALLBOARDS — MASONITE — PLYWOOD — SASH — DOORS — MOULDINGS — MILLWORK
E. D. MOTT
370 FRONT ST. — PHONE 1633
AS-1y

CHIROPRACTORS

ROGERS RIEDEL, D.C.
Doctor of Chiropractic
Consultations by Appointment
42½ Bridge St. East
Suite 4 at rear
Office Telephone 3591
Residence Telephone 4256
F-tf

R. A. WYATT, Ph.C.
Chiropractor and Drugless Therapist, Mineral Fume Baths with oil and alcohol rubs, Colonic irrigation of toxic elimination, manipulative stone treatment.
Chiropractic Clinic, Belleville, Phone 600
LADY ATTENDANT
A31-tf

REAL ESTATE

BUYING OR SELLING YOUR HOME?
Phone 4652
ERIC COOPER
General Insurance — Real Estate and Business Broker.
Life Insurance Consultant

UPHOLSTERING

OUR BUSINESS IS
UPHOLSTERING
RE-COVERING—RE-STYLING
1951 Materials
First Class Workmanship
Estimates — No Obligation
WRITE or PHONE
TOWNE UPHOLSTERERS
Reg.
262 Dundas St. E. TRENTON
P.O. Box 235 Phone 1008

AUCTION SALE

Thursday, February 22nd, at 1 o'clock, Possession 2 miles North of Stirling on Highway No. 14, 20 milch cows, pigs, tractor and farm machinery. The property of owner.
HANTON HAGGERTY
Auctioneer
Phone Stirling 2362
F9-1y

TENDERS

Tenders for wood and coal will be received up to February 24, 1951, for Bridge, Pinnacle and Dundas Streets and Shirts. Complete information may be obtained at the office of the Public Cemetery. Tenders to be submitted to the undersigned.
Belleville Cemetery Commission
Geo. Fox, Police Chief, Belleville, Ont. R. W. Probert, Chief Constable.
F9-1d-12-1

FOR SALE

GOVERNMENT APPROVED FAST Purebred Scotch and Horn Bulls 2 years and under. Also 2 Shorthorn Heifers. Phone 2614R2, Cherbourg R.D. 1 Box 1, Belleville at the 3rd Line. Can be seen Tuesday with cows. Stewart Hyland, Cherbourg, Ontario.
F9-2-1

FOUR REGISTERED BULL CALVES 7 months old, 2 eligible for registry. Apply Lot 10, Con. 2, Thurlow, Phone Corbyville, R. R. 1, Bloomfield.
F9-2t

LOT ON THOMAS STREET 3 feet location, one two bungalow. Phone 2664-J.
F9-2t

WELL MADE LOGGING TRACTOR 4" jaws, 4 speed, belt and disc attachments. Will sell or trade for cattle. Apply Lot 10, Con. 2, Thurlow, Phone Corbyville, R. R. 1, Bloomfield.
F9-2t

FARM TRACTOR, excellent condition, rubber tires, power take-off. Apply Lot 10, Con. 2, Thurlow, Phone Corbyville, R. R. 1, Bloomfield.
F9-2t

DRY SLAB WOOD, SEASONABLE price. Phone 3598-R after 5.
F9-2t

SQUARE BALED HAY, APPLY R. M. Reid, R. R. 2, Belleville.
F9-2-3-13

ONE PAIR FIRESTONE SNOW TIRES size 6.00 x 16, Apply Wallbridge, R. R. 1, Belleville, Phone 2-2-21.
F9-2t

SPRINGER COWS, A. E. LANGSTAFF 2½ Line East, R. R. 2, Belleville. Phone 3267-12.
F9-2t

BOILER, 60 HORSEPOWER BOILER with Superheater, 2 Drums, 250 lbs. Pressure, Steel, never been fired, one of a kind. Phone Picton 2611.
F9-2t

EXCELLENT BUILDING LOT, 66 x 132, Sewer and Water. Phone Trenton 7 Friend 3136.
F9-2t

GOOD PURE BRED HEREFORD bull, two bonus, new or used. Large stock of Pipe and Fittings. Apply Bill Dailey Ltd., 285 Coleman St. Phone 3211.
C30-tf

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE

ATTENTION! SEMI - DETACHED brick home with hardwood floors and bath. Suitable for two good tenants. Phone 2614R2 or call at 3rd Line. Asking $8,500. Apply 39 Murney or phone 2614R2.
F9-2t

FURNISHED, SEVEN - ROOMED bungalow, with modern conveniences, hydro, well with wind shop, built-in kitchen cupboards, oil furnace, good depth, well wooded, 1½ miles from Belleville, suitable for dog, hunting, skiing district, Phone 2614R2 or call at 3rd Line, Thurlow, Ont.
F9-2t

THREE BEDROOM BRICK BUNGALow, East Hill, large living room with fireplace, full basement, oil furnace, Phone 2614R2 or call at 3rd Line, Thurlow, Ont.
F9-2t

SEVEN, THREE BEDROOMS, LIVing and dining room, kitchen with eating space, 4 piece bath, full basement, oil furnace, East Hill, sewer connected, $13,000. Immediate possession.
NEW RANCH TYPE BRICK BUNGAlow with spacious rooms, never occupied.
TRENT RD. TWO BEDROOM NEW bungalow, full size living room and kitchen, full basement, low taxes, $8,500. Immediate possession.
NEW BRICK BUNGALOW, 3 BEDrooms, living room, kitchen, 4 piece bath, full basement, low taxes, $8,500. Immediate possession.
EAST HILL, MODERN 2 BEDROOM bungalow, fireplace, $8,000, $3,000 down.
EAST HILL, NEW, 3 BEDROOMS, full basement, large lot, $8,500. Immediate possession.
ANN STREET, 3 BEDROOM BUNGAlow, large living room, dining room, full basement, oil burner, garage, $9,500.
NORTH SIDE, 3 BEDROOM BRICK bungalow, $9,500.
HIGHLAND AVE. SOLID BRICK 4-roomed bungalow, $6,500. Immediate possession.
SOUTHEND AVE. RADIANT HEATED modern home, 3 bedrooms, $14,000.
VICTORIA AVE. DETACHED brick bungalow, 3 bedrooms, $11,500. Immediate possession.
HILL ST. EAST, 3 BEDROOM BRICK bungalow, $9,500. Immediate possession.
WEST HILL, MODERN 3-BEDROOM, semi-bungalow, $13,500. Immediate possession.
SMALL 4-ROOM BUNGALOW, on large lot, $4,000. Terms.
WE HAVE MANY OTHER EXCLUsive Listings.
N. J. SAUNDERS
Real Estate and Insurance
319 Front St.
East Phillipston Block
Phone 1944
D. J. Whalen, Salesman, 4081-J
F9-1y

$4,975. 6-ROOM STUCCO HOUSE. Same is clean and good state of repair.
$7,350. 6-ROOM MODERN BUNGAlow, fruit trees, garden, 1½ car garage. Down payment $2,500. Balance easy terms.
$8,500. GOOD 8-ROOM HOUSE, large living room, dining room, kitchen with built-in cupboards, 4 bedrooms, 4 piece bath, basement, laundry tubs. East Hill.
$11,500. VERY NICE BUNGALOW. Every modern convenience, hot-water heating, oil burner, fully landscaped.
ERIC COOPER
Real Estate — General Insurance
343 Bridge St. E. Phone 4652
F9-1y

FOR SALE BY TENDER

Tenders will be received up to March 1st, 1951, for the purchase of Lot 21, Plan 177 Front Street, Belleville, being the property of the late T. E. Gartley.
Offers of cash or tender not necessarily accepted.
Box 21, Ontario Intelligencer.
F26-31-1-6-15-22-28

NOTICE TO CREDITORS

IN THE ESTATE OF ANNIE TAUBman, Deceased.
NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that all creditors and others having claims against the Estate of Annie Taubman, late of the City of Belleville, in the County of Hastings, Widow, Deceased, who died on or about the 8th day of September, A.D., 1949, are requested to send particulars of their claims to the undersigned on or before the 26th day of February, A.D., 1951, after which date the assets of the Estate having regard only to the claims of which she shall then have notice.
DATED at Belleville, this 2nd day of January, A.D., 1951.
LOUIS MARASKAS,
Barrister, etc.,
Bridge St. East,
Belleville, Ont.
Solicitor for the Administrator.
J20-F1-8

WANTED — MALE

YOUNG MAN TO TRAIN AS driver-salesman with soft drink distributor in Belleville. Apply P.O. Box 161 Kingston.
F9-2t

DUE TO INCREASED BUSINESS, Fuller Brush Company requires additional help for this district, while training if you qualify. Phone 4240-W.
F9-2t

WANTED — FEMALE

YOUNG LADY OVER 20 YEARS OF age, for counter work, must be neat, clean with system and sales experience preferred. Apply in person to Gold Restaurant.
F9-2t

WOMAN OR GIRL FOR TAKING care of family and home while mother works. Phone 2-1000.
F7-2t

STENOGRAPHIC SINGLE, EXperienced Department in Hospital, Belleville. Permanent position with excellent working conditions and excellent pay employee eligible for pension plan. Apply in writing stating age, experience and salary desired to Box 2820, Ontario Intelligencer.
F9-2t

WOMAN WITH CAR TO DEMONstrate Avon Products. Phone Picton 2611.
F9-2t

WAITRESS, HIGHEST WAGES PAID Meals included, uniforms supplied, 5 day week. Apply Belmont Restaurant.
F9-2t

WANTED

TO BUY, ONE OLDER MODEL CAR or Pick-up Truck. Phone Frankford 2467-W.
F9-2t

INDUSTRIOUS, CONSCIENTIOUS young man, presently employed as casting in Belleville would be interested in entering into partnership or taking an employee with extensive knowledge of casting in Belleville or surrounding district. Replies and references submitted upon request. Box 21 Ontario Intelligencer.
F9-2t

THIRD CLASS ENGINEER WITH Second Class Certificate required. Apply Box 16 Ontario Intelligencer.
F9-2t

CHAUFFEUR AVAILABLE FOR Private Home, Reference required. Write Box 18 Ontario Intelligencer.
F9-2t

ATTENTION FARMERS: WE WILL buy diseased hogs, 25 cents for crippled farm animals and dog carcasses. Phone collect and we will mediate service Belleville, Bolton, Brighton, Campbellford, Phone 2358, Stirling 923.
F9-tu-th-tf

WANTED — A FARM ON SHARES which to erect a summer cottage. In reply give full particulars, location, services available, condition of farm, etc. Box 19 Ontario Intelligencer.
F7-tf

WILL BUY NEW OR USED FURNIture or exchange for spring mattress. Phone 2-1000.
F7-tf

BATTERY ELECTRIFIED SPRING mattress, six - inch coil, extra heavy 2 in. and 6 oz. fill. $12 Belleville, St. Phone 196.
F7-tf

TO BUY FOR CASH, WELL-BUILT, strictly modern 3 or 4 bedroom bungalow, large living room, dining room, kitchen, bath. Box 8, Ontario Intelligencer.
F7-3t

FURNITURE UPHOLSTERY AND repairing. Free estimates. Phone or day. Phone 3196-J. Gordon Hamilton.
F7-3t

FARM TO RENT WITHIN 8 OR 10 miles radius of Belleville, with option to buy preferably, good suitable dairy farm. Apply Box 17 Ontario Intelligencer.
F7-tf

SECRAP PAPER, RAGS, ETC. Highest prices paid. Phone 477, Belleville. Call and see us. "Always buying scrap."
F7-tf

SEND YOUR KODAK FILMS TO us for Developing or View Cards. Prompt service. Only the best of enamatic iron. For details watch Page 5, Van Dusen Bros. Ltd., 230 Front Street.
J18-tf

PIANO, WILL STORE PIANO IN your home. Write Box 1, Picton 2444R.
N26-tf

USED ELECTRIC MOTORS and hobby equipment. Phone 4122.
J18-tf

LIVE POULTRY HIGHEST CASH prices paid. Orders given promptly. Phone 2-1000 or write Box 2, James St., Belleville. Phone 3.
M10-tf

BUILDING CONTRACTORS

S. R. McCORY CONSTRUCTION Company, commercial and industrial repairs, alterations, water proofing, brickwork, concrete. Phone 2-1000, Front Street, Phone 3696.
J30-tf

WHITE LUMBER AND CONSTRUCtion Company for home building alterations and additions to industrial and commercial buildings. 14 Front North, Phone 3477.
J30-tf

PERSONALS

SKINNY MEN, WOMEN! GAIN 5 TO 15 lbs. New way with Ironized Yeast Tablets for new, healthy flesh; new pep. Special introductory size only 40c. Ask for IRONIZED YEAST at druggists.

CRESS DANDRUFF SALVE FOR amazing relief. Your druggist sells Cress.
F7-3t

ACCOM. WANTED

TO BUY HOUSE, 5 ROOMS OR more, Belleville or area. Apply Box 6, Ontario Intelligencer.
F7-2t

TWO OR THREE BEDROOM HOUSE with Garage, Private Home, Belleville or Trenton. Apply Box 12, Ontario Intelligencer.
F7-2t

CHRISTIAN COUPLE WITH MONTH-old child urgently require 2 or 3 bedroom unfurnished house by reasonably rent. Abstainers. Box 22, Ontario Intelligencer.
F7-2t

LOST

BLONDE SPANIEL, ANSWERS TO "Sandy". Finder please phone 2547-W. Reward.
F9-2t

NOTICE

All accounts owing to the late W. S. Gartley are to be paid at the office of Cameron and Sprague, Barristers, Dominion Bank Building on or before February 15, 1951.
J26-31-F1-8-15

DENTAL SOCIETY

The American Society of Dental Surgeons was established in 1840.

ARTICLES FOR SALE

HEAVY DUTY ELECTRIC RANGE White enamel, 4 burners, $75. Phone 2-1000.
F9-2t

GLASS SHOW CASES (3 MIRRORED) sliding doors) 8 ft. long x 2 ft. wide, 3 ft. high, 1 Coca-Cola Refrigerator, Phone Trenton, Tweed 704.
F9-2t

HAMILTON RAILROAD WATCH, 21 jewel, 16 size, Phone 1826-W or call at 24 Pinnacle St.
F9-2t

1 LARGE SIZE FINDLAY COAL burner, Regina, Burwash Grocery R. R. 4, Phone Stirling 2-r-4.
F9-2t

PRINCESS PAT COOK STOVE, high back, used in good condition. Phone 3713-J.
F7-3t

SEVEN-PC. DINING ROOM SUITE, buffet, chesterfield chairs, good condition, $25. 30 Wilkins St. Apt. 3.
F9-2t

BEATTY COPPER TUB WASHER, re-built like new. Excellent condition. Fitted with new Beatty clothes agitator washer clothes clean in 4 to 6 minutes. Sold for $80. Davis Electric Shop, 340 Front St.
F7-2t

1 REMINGTON TYPEWRITER, 18 inch carriage. Like new. Phone 2614R2 or call at 3rd Line.
F9-2t

TRADE IN YOUR OLD ELECTRIC iron on a new Sunbeam or Simplex at Van Dusen Bros. Ltd. Phone 2253 or 1503R. A new iron for you. Phone 2253 or 1503R.
F7-tf

NEW AND USED BATH TUBS bought, sold or exchanged. Also bundles of new and used plumbing fittings, pipe and pipe dies and threadings. Rockburn Plumbing & Heating, Ph. 2-1000.
F7-tf

SEE THE NEW BEATTY STAINLESS steel washers at Davis's Electric Shop, 340 Front St. Easy to clean, easy to operate.
F7-tf

TO LET

EIGHT-ROOM BRICK HOUSE, FULL basement, oil furnace, hot water heat. Insulated. Running well water. Apply 21 East Hill, Brantford, Phone 249, Joe Pennachetti.
F9-3t

ROOM, HOT AND COLD WATER. Apply 21 East Hill, Brantford. On 2 bus lines. Phone 3062-R.
F9

3 OR 5 FURNISHED ROOMS. HOT water. Private entrance. Phone 2697-J.
F9-3t

FURNISHED, HEATED, BEDROOM for rent. Phone 2-1000. Available now.
F9-2t

PUBLIC NOTICE

CLEANING, PLUGGING AND RE-laying of Sewer Laterals and CONNECTIONS AND NEW SEWER SERVICE IN THE CITY OF BELLEVILLE.
NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Engineering Committee of the Municipal Council of the City of Belleville intends to undertake:

THE CORPORATION OF THE CITY OF BELLEVILLE
BY-LAW NUMBER 6161

A BY-LAW TO PROVIDE FOR THE CLEANING, PLUGGING AND RE-LAYING OF SEWER LATERALS AND CONNECTIONS OR SEWERS IN THE CITY OF BELLEVILLE.

WHEREAS pursuant to Section 405, sub-section 11 of the Municipal Act, R.S.O. 1937, Chapter 266 and amendments thereto a Council of a local municipality may by by-law provide for the cleaning, plugging and re-laying of sewer laterals, house-connections or other sewers on private property and the collection or at the expenses of the property owners of the cost thereof and the charging against the lands in respect of which such work is done; and

NOW THEREFORE, THE MUNICIPAL COUNCIL OF THE CORPORATION OF THE CITY OF BELLEVILLE ENACTS AS FOLLOWS:

1. The Public Works Department of the City of Belleville or the City of Belleville will flush and rod all private sewer laterals, house connections or other sewers on private property of residents of the Corporation without charge to the property owners provided that this service will only be rendered in connection with a blockage in such sewer lateral.

2. Should it become necessary in the opinion of the Engineering Committee of sewer lateral to do further work than flushing and rodding and such work is to be performed at the request of the owner or occupant of the premises whether or not it is to be performed by the City of Belleville or by a contractor employed by the Corporation or upon lands not owned by the Corporation, the owner shall pay the entire sewer lateral rent.

3. When the Department of Public Works are satisfied that they are unable to clear the sewer lateral from a private drain connection by flushing and rodding, the owner shall be notified in writing by the Engineering Committee that it will be necessary to incur further expense in clearing such sewer lateral and before commencing any work, the owner or occupant shall deposit with the City Treasurer the sum of $25.00 as security for the payment of the cost of such work. In the event that the owner or occupant fail to make such deposit, the City of Belleville reserves the right to perform no further service until such deposit is made.

4. On receipt of the said deposit, the City of Belleville shall proceed to do so, will repair the said sewer lateral so that it is in good and sound repairs be less than $25.00, the owner or occupant shall be entitled to a refund of the balance of the said deposit. Should the cost of such work exceed $25.00 and the owner or occupant who ordered the said work will be notified in writing of the amount due between $25.00 and the cost of the said work and the owner or occupant shall be entitled to a refund of the balance of the said deposit. Should the cost of such work exceed $25.00 and the owner or occupant who ordered the said work will be notified in writing of the amount due between $25.00 and the cost of the said work and the owner or occupant shall be entitled to a refund of the balance of the said deposit. Should the said sum not be paid within one month after the completion of the said work, the Corporation may collect the said cost and assessment against the lands in respect of which such work was done as rendered in the Collector's Roll of the Corporation and may collected and recovered in like manner as Municipal Taxes.

5. Nothing in this by-law shall impose any obligation upon the Corporation of the City of Belleville or upon any officer or employee of the Corporation of the City of Belleville to perform any work with respect to which they are authorized by this by-law, but this by-law shall impose any liability on the said City of Belleville or upon any officer or employee of the Corporation of the City of Belleville for the performance of the said work.

6. All By-laws or parts of By-laws inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed.

7. This by-law shall come into force and take effect on the first time this 5th day of February, 1951.

Read a second time this 5th day of February, 1951.

Read a third time and finally passed this 5th day of February, 1951.

R. H. POTTER, M.D., Mayor.
J. WILFRID MORDEN, Clerk.
F9-1-2

DEFICIT INCURRED

Toronto, Feb. 8 — (CP) — A deficit of $5,695 was incurred by the University of Toronto in the year ending June 30, 1950, the Ontario Legislature was told yesterday.

HUMBLE START

Millard Fillmore, 13th president of the United States who died in 1874, was apprenticed to a dyer in his youth.

THOMASBURG

